ORGANIZE IS ADVICE GIVEN BUSINESS MEN

FUTURE HOLDS MUCH FOR THIS SECTION; DECLARE LEADERS

Nearly 100 Northville business men attended the banquet given last Thursday evening by the wholesale division of the Detroit Board of Commerce at the Mayflower Hotel in Plymouth. Some 250 were present at the affair.

It was the pleasure of the Northville group to hear Lee G. Macomber, a Northville product who is now in charge of the transportation division of the Detroit business organization and regarded as one of the leading traffic men in the country briefly tell something of his work.

When he was introduced to the group by Harvey Campbell, secretary of the Detroit Board of Commerce, Mr. Campbell declared that Northville had given Detroit the best traffic man in the United States, and that there was not the slightest question about the assertion he made.

It was Mr. Macomber who declared that he had often wondered if Northville really appreciated the favorable position it occupied.

"You have many excellent advantages, but I want to tell you that the business men of Northville and Plymouth have got to do the same thing as the business men of Detroit if they want to grow and develop," he said.

"I well recall the days when George Rayson's shoe shop and the old town pump were the prominent meeting places of Northville business men, but things have changed and the country's problems are different now than they were some years ago."

"Detroit wants you to have new industries just as bad as you want them, but there is one important thing that you must consider in the location of industries, and that is transportation. Do you realize that both Plymouth and Northville pay higher freight rates on coal than does the city of Detroit? You have problems to solve out we are always glad to help."

We looked at this entire territory around Detroit as a whole. If we progress our neighbors must necessarily do so and we'll look forward to a great future."

M. J. Murphy, secretary of the Globe Furniture Company of Northville, spoke briefly, pointing out benefits in that closer cooperation between Detroit and the surrounding communities bring just naturally when Mr. Murphy says he must tell some of his many Irish stories.

It was Carl Shear of Plymouth, who declared that Detroit wholesale dealers must come to the aid of their outside customers and that they have got to work together for their own good.

Mr. Campbell declared that Detroit had become a great city because it had developed a group of business men who wanted the town to make good.

"Your towns, Northville, Plymouth and Wayne have not advanced with the ratio of population for this area, but you can if you will. Your business men have got to organize and they have got to work together. It doesn't do any good to go out and tell the world that you live in the best town in America. That doesn't mean anything. Other towns make the same meaningless boast."

"We in Detroit have to benefit your town whether we try to or not. But we are there ready and willing to cooperate with you if you are organized to accept our help."

"You have faith in your town and in the future of your community and if you are organized as you should be we can all work together and make the future what it should be."

The local Knights did not enter into the competitive drilling that took place during the afternoon. Only four commanders contested.

MacDonald's Work
Lesson for Farmers
Two Fine Girls
Mr. Mellon Stays

Ramsay MacDonald's work in America is well done. The United States and Britain have solemnly pledged themselves against war as between the two countries and to the promotion of peace by all proper means everywhere.

What the future will bring forth what the British government following the present labor government, or what American public opinion may desire in the future, no one can say.

But at least war has been classed as barbarous. The two most powerful nations in the world have declared against it, and that is progress.

It took human beings thousands of centuries to abandon cannibalism. Often, undoubtedly, they resolved to eat men no longer. And over and over the resolution was broken, when hunger came and the edible man was easily caught.

But cannibalism has disappeared.

And war will disappear. Nevertheless, in days when the more civilized men were giving up cannibalism, they kept themselves ready to repel those that might come to eat them.

The United States, and Great Britain, denouncing and abandoning war as between Britain and America, should keep ready and able to repel others that might seek to enforce war upon them.

Farmers, crying for "relief," may learn from New York's striking truck drivers that real relief can be found in organization.

The drivers, haul farmers' produce and wanted an increase in pay representing as much as the average farmer earns. It was not difficult. The agreement was made that any farm produce hauled into New York must be unloaded from the farm truck and reloaded into a truck operated by a member of the Market Truckmen's Association before it could be delivered to a commission house.

Who pays for that reloading, for the second truck and the services of another truckman, all unnecessary?

The former part, of course.

There are some serious young women left in the world, thank the Lord. Therefore future Generations may hope for more Lincoln and Ediths.

Miss Isabel McDonald, daughter of the Labor Prime Minister, spent her time in New York investigating children's courts, as she does in England. She thinks if we give children good homes, sanitary conveniences, and generally good conditions, their bodies would take care of themselves.

That's one fine young woman. Another is the daughter of Mr. Morrow, ambassador to Mexico, and younger sister of Mrs. Lindbergh. When she reaches Mexico City, Miss Morrow will teach it a Mexican public school.

The fact that her father has millions does not concentrate her attention upon herself, or diminish her interest in the welfare of children.

French reorganization of army plans indicate that cavalry, now greatly reduced, will disappear from the French army in a few years.

The French know that horses have no possible chance against airplanes above and "tanks" rolling over the ground.

As well send rabbits to meet an onrushing express train.

President Hoover's announcement that Secretary Mellon has promised to remain in office until 1933 is good news. The public appreciates the willingness of Mr. Mellon, one of the two or three richest men in the world, to neglect his own business for the public business.

It requires not much intelligence to realize to what extent Mr. Mellon's work has contributed to national prosperity.

Himself a heavy taxpayer, directly or through corporation ownership, Mr. Mellon has paid off already many billions of the national debt. He continues the "pay as you go" policy, not shouldering war debts on future generations that may be less able to pay than today's prosperous generation.

Senator Sheppard of Texas, as dry as the deepest spot in Death Valley, suggests amending the Volstead act to make purchasers of liquor as guilty and criminal as bootleggers sellers.

Such an amendment, of course, would strengthen prohibition enormously. Respectable prosperity would refuse to buy, fearing jail and blackmail after buying.

But Senator Sheppard's amendment probably will not pass; many legislators are themselves bootleg customers and don't believe in taking prohibition too seriously.

The government planned a topographic and geological survey of the United States, plans calling for work to last eighty years. When the program was presented to President Hoover he cut the eighty years to eighteen years. This shows that an engineer, who knows how things should be done, can be useful in the White House.

NORTHVILLE, MICHIGAN. FRIDAY OCTOBER 1929

A CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Is a real live chamber of commerce, an organization composed of the business men of a community who are grouped together to work for the upbuilding of their community, and not to make meaningless boasts to the world about their town, of any benefit?

Northville business men had the opportunity to hear the answer at a banquet provided by the wholesale dealers of Detroit in Plymouth Pontiac, Flint, Lansing—not one of these places have the advantages of Northville, Plymouth or Wayne—but look what a development they have made. How did it happen? Just because a group of business men got together and determined to make their communities amount to something.

That is what Harvey Campbell, secretary of the Detroit Board of Commerce told about two hundred Northville and Plymouth business men who were present at the banquet.

Plymouth within the past few months has organized a chamber of commerce. The association is still in its infancy, but a start has been made.

Guided along the right lines and backed by the proper public spirit, there is not the slightest reason in the world why that organization could not do much for the community in which it exists.

Mr. Campbell made it quite clear to the business men of that community that the job was not entirely one for the secretary. He declared that the men of Plymouth are the ones who are responsible for the success of failure of the chamber of commerce.

And what about Northville? An ideal little city, a place that has an excellent reputation in every way about the state—it could be one of the oulest little industrial centers in Michigan.

The business men of this community have more than once demonstrated their ability to put something "big" over. But to create industrial expansion, it is necessary to organize specially for that purpose—and then work night and day—and cooperate with every agency which can be of benefit to us. Hasn't the time arrived to organize as we should and go to work as we never have before for a stable development of north-wide industries?

SHOPPING DRAWBACKS

More and more residents of our smaller towns and rural communities are coming to realize that even though the auto has provided them with a quick means of reaching the big city stores, there are still drawbacks to doing their shopping there.

The problem of parking is the most general one. With thousands of city car buyers clamoring for parking places the outsider finds it next to impossible to find a place for his car. If it is stored in a garage or parked let there is a charge of from 25c to 75c. Then, too, there is always the danger of violating a parking law or traffic ordinance and losing both temper and pipe, or perhaps paying as much out in the shape of a fine as you would have paid in shopping. Again, if you find a parking space the time is so limited that you have to keep fretting and worrying for fear you'll leave the car a few minutes overtime and find a tag on it when you do finally get back to it.

There are but a few of the many drawbacks faced by those who shop in the city. But they are unknown in Northville and will be for long years to come. For that reason the wise resident of small town or rural district steers clear of the big city as much as possible and does business with his home merchants. He has learned that in doing so he can save time, money, annoyance, possible arrest and fine—and still maintain the friendship of his neighbors who are engaged in business here at home.

MAYBE HE IS RIGHT

Readers of the Northville Record may not all agree with the assertion of Floyd L. Carlisle, prominent New York banker, that a college education makes a man lazy. He says: "From my experience the average college man enters business late. The most formative period of his life, from 18 to 22 or 23, is spent in a place where he acquires lazy habits of thinking."

A university cannot produce in men the drive that business gives them. They are not required to work rapidly and accurately and lie is easy and soft for them. The backbone of business today is the rapid absorption of details and there is nothing in college that trains a man to this ability.

Carlisle was graduated from Cornell in 1903.

For wine or beer or cocktails queer
I have no anxious thirst;
I never sigh for the brew you buy.
With pretzels or wienerwurst
The fountain of youth would hold, in truth,
No particular lure for me—
But I lick my lips for the juicy cups
That grow on the Laughter Tree.

I fill my glass with the smiles that pass
On the lips of happy folk,
I fill my heart with laughs that start
From a song or a merry joke
From the gay old earth a drink of mirth
Is all that I am after.
Dear Life, fill up my daily cup
With joy and a dash of laughter!

Idea of Correspondence

A Little Too Laconic

Reeves had engaged a substitute stenographer to take the place of his secretary while she was absent on vacation. The new typist was eager and did very well, though she made mistakes.

By the end of the first week Reeves became handicapped, asked the girl if she thought she could write business letters. She assured him that she had specialized in correspondence in business college. Reeves thereupon handed her a sheet of letters on which he had written short memoranda, such as "No" and "Yes," to indicate the nature of his reply.

DEBATE IS HELD IN HISTORY CLASS

Last Thursday, October 10, a debate was held in the eleventh grade, United States History class. The subject was: Resolved: That the American Colonies were justified in revolting from Britain.

The affirmative side was upheld by Francis Springer and George Greenlee, the latter debating twice. Alex Johnson, Ned Junor and Elmer Perkin supported the negative side.

Wilfred Stever acted as chairman and timekeeper. By popular vote the affirmative side won 10-1.

FIVE NEW MEMBERS ADDRESSED TO BAND

Seventeen students reported to Mr. Head, band director, Friday evening, October 11, to try out for the band. Of the 17 only five could be chosen. Certain tests involving the reading of music, tapping time and carrying tunes were given each candidate. Those rating highest in these tests were selected to fill the five vacancies.

The new members of the band are: Peggy Blake, Juanita and Mary Elizabeth Elmgton, Donald Ferguson, Donald Lansing and Shirley Preston.

N. H. S. Graduates Play Football on College Teams

Ted Watts, who played on Northville's football team during his four years in high school is a member of Albion College's Freshman team. According to authentic report, he is one of the best "punter-passers" on the team.

Robert McCrindle, who was a valuable backfield man on N. H. S.'s squad for several seasons, is now playing end on Jackson Junior College's team. In a letter from a member of last year's journalism staff, who attended a game in which Bob played, we read: "He was the star of the game. He caught the passes that gave the game and made a keen touchdown."

KEEP THIS IN MIND!
 On Friday evenings, October 13 at 8:00 o'clock the girls basketball squad is giving a fancy dance.

Everybody is invited. Admission 10¢. Refreshments will be served. Each dance will be 5¢.

WATCH FOR FREAK DAY
 Everybody is looking forward to Freak Day. The "Sophs" with the courageous character of them and the "Frosh" with rather timid uncertainty. Thursday, October 24, has been set aside for the great event. All Freshmen must be attired in costumes of a freakish nature and wear be on the "Frosh" who defies this custom. The "Sophs" for fun! In spite of all these drastic threats on the part of the "Sophs" we believe that everybody faculty and student body will enjoy them selves.

EDITORIAL
Sportsmanship

Remember that the student spectator represents his school as does the athlete.

This is a point that is being often overlooked by the student who does not realize poor sportsmanship on his part, detracts from the honor of the school.

When his team is winning, he is a strong supporter of his school, but when they are losing it is a different matter. In this latter case he invariably stops his support for the team. In this mood he is apt to make sarcastic remarks which does not help the situation. They only lower the standard of the school.

A student should respect the visitors and remember they are guests and should be treated as such.

The team that loses with good spirit is far superior in quality to the winning team who wins with a poor spirit.

Therefore, we should remember the student represents his school as does the athlete.

Teachers Have Dinner And Party At High School

On Wednesday evening, all the teachers of Northville High School met for dinner and a social hour in the cafeteria and gymnasium.

Miss Jarvis and her Home Economics class, the program took place in the gymnasium.

Mrs. Chapman, Miss Covell, Miss Difenderer and Miss Parks were on the entertainment committee. The evening was spent in games and seeing if it gives the same results.

Basketball Practice Advances To First Degree

The basketball aspirants have been practicing for a week and scrimmages have been held.

The candidates hope to be in shape when the official season comes around as all will try out for the varsity.

There have been about eight boys practicing but Coach Stephens hopes that more will attend the sessions held after school. So if you are interested in basketball, come out.

She has been very active in the introduction of milk in the Birmingham schools. She explained how the break that would give it the necessary points to win.

The game was very evenly played both teams having about equal strength and the break that gave Northville a touchdown did not come until the third quarter when Charles LeFever, the Northville center, and Dave Meininger, a tackle, blocked a Belleville punt which fell back of the goal line and Meininger fell on it for the only touchdown of the game. Northville tacked a line plunge for extra point which failed, but because of Belleville being offside Northville received the extra point.

Hinchman was a new man in the backfield for the game having always played on the line before. Brummitt took his place on line. Hinchman proved his ability as a player in the backfield making many gains through the Belleville line.

Credit should be given to LeFever who played center and made many blocks. The condition of the field and the rain-soaked plastic did not give anyone much chance to start but the entire team played plucky football, considering the nature of the day.

PARENT-TEACHER'S ASSOCIA-TION ADVISED TO ITS GENERAL AID

The meeting of the P. T. A. which was held last week was for parents and discuss our rather than for entertainment.

Reports of the various committees were heard. The program committee has gotten out a folder giving the dates of the meetings and the subjects for discussion for each month of the year.

The music was furnished by children from the grades. Sylvan Grosvenor and Patsy McLaughlin sang two songs. They were followed by some children from Miss Mac Donald's room, who also sang two songs.

The first subject for discussion was that of a milk lunch for the small children. Mrs. Thomas Navin from Birmingham came out to tell their experience with the milk lunch. The first year they served only to the kindergarten children. Such fine results were obtained that they extended the service to all the grade children. Mrs. Navin read a letter from their school nurse heartily commending the milk lunch especially for the smallest children.

Our association voted to save one mile and a graham cracker to each child in the kindergarten and to any in the first two grades whose parents wish them to have it.

Miss Cavel gave a most interesting talk on the training a child receives in Kindergarten. She outlined for us a day's work in the kindergarten, showing how the various activities there fit a child to cope with similar experiences in his home life and later school work.

The next meeting will be held November 14th, at eight o'clock. Miss H. S. Mallory, president of the Michigan Child Study Association, will talk that evening.

Men worry a lot about their hair when it's half gone.

We do know what we should do but most of us do as we please.

You do not know much to know more than most people.

The body goes to work a lot more readily than the mind.

You probably think we've made you last worthless investment but not so.

It's perfectly amazing how suddenly little boys will divert attention from an intellectual conversation.

By the time you're able to hold your head well your hand has you find that, verily, this we just are doing.

A lot of people are brandminded until they come up against a practical problem.

Tart underripe apples are best for making jelly or preserves for future jelly-making. Crab apples are especially good for jelly. Party green fruits usually make more jelly per pound of fruit than do ripe fruits.

The dairy cow will be less likely to get milk after calving time if she is given plenty of water and salt and fed a minimum quantity or concentrated feed for several days before and after calving.

Jongson grass meadows in the South are more productive if they are plowed up every third or fourth year. Unless the land is cultivated occasionally other grasses invade the meadows and reduce the yield so much that hay production becomes unprofitable.

The dairy cow will be less likely to get milk after calving time if she is given plenty of water and salt and fed a minimum quantity or concentrated feed for several days before and after calving.

As early as 1846 a record was made in England of 45 miles in 52 minutes. At one time the train was proceeding at the rate of one mile in 48 seconds, or at the average velocity of 75 miles an hour.

In the same year the American Railroad Journal said: "The other day, on the London & Birmingham, and on the Great North Western railway, a rate of travel at the speed of 60 miles an hour was accomplished. The express trains on these lines run at the rate of nearly 50 miles an hour, stoppage included."

During 1849 the Antelope engines on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad made a speed of 60 miles an hour.

Surprising Number of Uses for Sweet Potato

A cataloguing of the uses of the sweet potato sounds as though the writer had stolen a few of the glowing paragraphs used by efficient advertising writers.

To begin with, they are highly valuable in their regular form as human food, and the cattle will take any left over with a bovine thank you for the tasty dish.

They may be made into a syrup which is said to produce a very soft, taffy. When cut into small particles and properly toasted and thoroughly caramelized, they make a fine substitute for chocolate in the flavoring of ice cream and coverings of candies. Or if you are avoiding sugars, they will produce a very fine thing, and can be used as a source of starch.

Then, leaving food for a time, they can be used to produce a number of dies and hats, also been found successful in the production of a roofing paint. They have even been employed to mend rubber and have made good on the job.

They will yield up to 100 bushels an acre, and at the average price of 50 cents a bushel bring in $5, which is not so bad when compared with corn and wheat yield.

The 40 acres area was accepted as dedicated territory by the Conservation Commission during last regular meeting. Now the residents and land owners of the vicinity are attempting to influence their land to offer still further protection.

In Washington township, Macomb county, an area comprising about 1,000 acres of land, Stony Creek runs directly through the area which does not contain a single road.

Pheasants, partridge, squirrels and other wild life abound. In the center of the area is the 40 acres dedicated sanctuary in which the beaver are working.

So attractive are the beavers to nearby residents that a well defined path has been worn to their dam and home.

Smokers who forgot to break their matches of who passed away ignited cedar and cigarettes caused 506 fires in Michigan last year.

Whipped cream dressing is especially good with cabbage salad, but it may be used for any summer salad you like. To make it beat half pint of heavy whipping cream until stiff. Add 1-2 tablespoons lemon juice, 2 tablespoons fresh grated horseradish, a grating of onion, a few drops of tabasco, and salt to taste. A dash of cayenne pepper may be used instead of tabasco. If the horseradish is in vinegar use only 2 tablespoons of lemon.

Bible Washington Held

A Masonic Lodge of New York city, St. John's, has in its possession a highly prized memento of the first President. It is the Bible on which General Washington took the oath of office on the balcony of old Federal Hall, in Wall street.

On that momentous occasion, as the story goes, the Bible had been got out and it was necessary to find one short notice. Mr. Robert

Morton, the officer commanding the regiment of honor, was sent on the mission.

Being a member of St.

John's Masonic Lodge, Major Morton brought himself of the regiments and probably returned to his post with the book. It has been offered to either Presidents or for use of inaugural ceremonies.

Harding accepted the offer.

BEAVERS THRIVE
OVER NEAR ROME

Seemingly isolated from all their kind, and within 35 miles of Michigan's largest city, a colony of beaver believed to be eight in number has constructed a dam across a creek built a home and established themselves.

To protect this colony, 40 acres surrounding their dam and home has been dedicated to Howard J. Brown of Romeo, Macomb county, as a wild life sanctuary.

OVER 175,000 ARE VISITORS AT CASS BENTON THIS YEAR

ANNUAL REPORT OF COUNTY PARK OFFICIALS TELLS OF PARK GROWTH

OVER 175,000 people visited Cass Benton Park during the present summer according to the annual report just issued by the Wayne County Road Commission. Nearly 15,000 visitors came to see the beauties, bath and rest in Phoenix Park, another county recreation center in the Northville district, says the same report.

What the officials who have direct charge of all county parks have to say about those located in the western part of the county will be of interest to residents of this part of Wayne County. A part of the report follows:

PHOENIX PARK

Phoenix Park acquired in the same year as Huron River Park consists of about 4 acres at the junction of the Five-Mile Road and Northville Road. Located on the high bluffs overlooking Phoenix Lake it is one of our most beautiful and most used parks. It contains the usual park equipment of stoves, tables, benches, playground equipment, and lights, and is served by a modern comfort station.

At the present time more than 200 trees, 4500 shrubs, and 800 flowers have been planted and replacements are added each year as needed.

The usual program of spraying and trimming is consistently followed each year with the result that all natural growths within this area are both thrifty and attractive.

More playground apparatus will be added this coming year and the usual intensive park maintenance will continue.

Approximately 15,000 people have made use of Phoenix Park during the present season and 2000 persons have been received in a single day.

CASS BENTON PARK

Consisting of 16 acres, Cass Benton Park located on the Northville Road just south of the village of Northville was donated to the county in 1925 by Mrs. Cass R. Benton, containing field stoves, tables, benches, well lighted drives, and a modern comfort station and shelter it offers many opportunities for public recreation. A space has been reserved at the rear of this area for a children's playground and swings, slides, and teeter boards have been installed. More such equipment will be added during the coming seasons.

To date approximately 125 trees and shrubs have been planted and these as well as all existing growths have been sprayed and trimmed each year. More plant material will be added as needed or as our trees and shrubs die.

Some of the largest trees in this part of the state may be found in Cass Benton Park and the result is that this park is well shaded and has a moderate temperature at all times. This feature also has served to attract many people. Those using the park during the past season numbered more than 15,000, 2300 being recorded in a one day count.

VICTORY PARK

Victory Park is located to the County by the Belleville Park and Playground Association in 1925 and while it consists of only 3 acres it is located at the junction of three important roads: Huron River Drive, Sumpur Road, and Belleville Road.

This area has been developed into a roadside rest spot for motorists who stop en route to the surrounding community. A modern comfort station has been erected here and a few tables and benches placed in shade locations to accommodate those who wish to stop for lunch. The usual maintenance of trees, shrubs, and grass continues each year and to date the following have been planted: 75 trees, 350 shrubs and 725 flowers.

PLYMOUTH RIVERSIDE PARK

In January, 1929, an area of 58 acres known as Plymouth Riverside Park lying along the Huron River adjacent to the Plymouth Road and on the outskirts of the village of Plymouth, was turned over to this Board by Plymouth to be developed and maintained as a county park. Sufficient funds were immediately available through permission of the Board of County Auditors to start construction work at once.

As a result a gravel drive is being built through this area with one entrance on the Plymouth Road and another on the Ann Arbor Trail. Drains are being installed, weeds and grass cut, trees trimmed, and all inaccessible areas graded which will make them available for public use. Due to the rough nature of the ground it was necessary to do a considerable amount of grading and there remains much more yet to be done. It is expected that this will be completed during the coming year.

Eleven field stoves, twenty-eight tables, and thirty benches have been installed and the park is already serving many hundreds of people.

During the coming season it is planned to build additional drives and parking spaces, construct a modern fireproof comfort station, install a water system, and necessary lights. Several hundred trees and shrubs will also be planted and a complete set of playground equipment secured for the children.

Located in the Beuze River Valley and with an abundance of shade, this area promises to be one of Wayne County's most popular parks and located close to Plymouth Road which is heavily traveled it will serve many motorists who might otherwise search in vain for a suitable recreation spot. In view of the future possibilities which this park has for rendering a real service to the public the people of the village of Plymouth are highly complimented for their public-spiritedness. In turning this area over to the Board of County Park Trustees, Mississau as possible, nothing will be left undone to complete its development at the earliest possible date.

The only difficult phase of dahlia culture is successful storage of the dormant roots. As soon as the tops are killed, lift the plants and cut the tops off 8 to 12 inches above the crown. Let the tubers dry in the air for a few hours and store them in a frost-free cellar that is not too dry. If the cellar is too warm or too dry, it is apt to be the case, store the roots in barrels filled with dry sand or sawdust. Great care should be used not to injure the roots in digging as decay that starts in a wound will soon spread to healthy roots.

Both Had Good Reason

to Be Proud of "Jobs"

Lady Townsend, at one time headed the United Family League, a society which aimed for better living conditions for the working people and an interesting story is told of one of their social affairs.

"At a dance at which she was one of the hostesses, a working girl swagged up to her and said:

"I don't suppose you would dance with me?"

"I should like to very much," the marchioness replied.

During the dance the maid held her arm length looking over from head to foot and finally said:

"You are very proud of being a marchioness, isn't you?"

Lady Townsend confessed her self confused for a moment before she replied:

"What is your job?"

"The best seamstress in this part of England."

"You're proud of it then, because you are good at your own job."

"Of course."

"Well, my job is being a marchioness and I'm proud of it because I try to do good as a marchioness as I know how." — Joe Angeles Times.

Food Long Considered

Indigenous to America

There has been much controversy concerning the foods originally found in the Americas. It is generally agreed that in North America were tobacco, maize, a certain type of pear and a small variety of tomato. In Central America and the islands the early explorers also found tobacco and tomatoes. In South America particularly Brazil, wild species were found in abundance so much so that in about 1840 it was necessary to import thousands of these plants to develop in order to save the potato crop of the world. It was originally thought that bananas were first found in Central and South America and the islands, but later this theory was the subject of much debate, and it is generally believed today that while bananas were originally in that section of the world, they were also found in tropical sections of the eastern hemisphere at the same time.

Action Contracts

Written in Assyrian after 2000 B.C., thousands of clay tablets, that he wrapped in cotton in bundles throughout the world, show that the "Holted Ding" was freely used in Babylon and that in those ancient civilizations every sale of land had to be written to be legal. Before people knew how to write all contracts were necessarily oral and, for protection in case of dispute, witnesses were always present when a contract was made. After writing was invented, the written contract supplemented the word of witnesses, who were still considered very important legally; and their signatures always appear. The practice of having witnesses to legal papers prepared today comes down from this period.—Boston Herald.

Strike for the Goal

Whatever your goal may be, strike out for it. What if you do fail? What if you die in the attempt? Well, if you put every shred of yourself into the attempt, you will have had life's one great exhilarating and soul-satisfying experience!

And when you start out to pursue your dreams, be prepared for a great discovery. It's the effort itself that will give you peace. This peace goes with you as you grow older, becomes your choicest companion, never leaves you. Wrestling this peace from a troubled world is about all there is to the secret of happiness.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Charging It Up

An Aberdeen merchant called his son into his office the other day and unburdened himself as follows: "I haven't been feeling quite so well for a few days past, Weelum, and so I have just made my will, leaving everything to you."

"Oh, father," said the son, "I don't like to discuss these affairs with you at all. I hope you live for many years yet, I'm sure."

"So do I, Weelum; so do I; but I just called to tell you that the lawyer's fee for making out the will is 30 shillings, an' this sum will be kept off your next week's pay."

Shah's Parting Gesture

The Shah of Persia, on a visit to London, was being driven through the streets in an open carriage, bowing to the throngs that lined along the sidewalks to greet him, when he noticed a small boy who had climbed a lamp post thumbing his nose at him. He at once inquired into the meaning of this gesture and a confused lad replied that it was a signal of respect, says Living Age. The Shah remembered this quaint custom, and upon his departure, when the flavor of British diplomacy gathered on the platform to see him off, he enthusiastically thumbed his nose at the group.

Caucasian Tongue

David Belasco said in an interview on his seventeenth birthday: "Poor Ellen Terry had a caucasian tongue. I know a thousand stories about her. Here is one."

"Congratulate me, dear," an actress said to her. "Young Lord Lucan proposed to me yesterday afternoon, and I accepted him."

"And you congratulate me," said Miss Terry. "Young, Lord Lucan proposed to me yesterday morning and I refused him."

Improvements in Telephone Service

EVERY effort of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company is being made toward constantly improving telephone service with the result that:

1. During 1928, operating errors were materially reduced.
2. The average time for handling calls to out-of-town points has been reduced.
3. The great majority of all Long Distance calls are handled while the calling party "holds the line."
4. Clearness of voice transmission, over both local and long distance lines, is improving continually.

This company always will endeavor to provide for Michigan a more efficient telephone service and one more and more free from imperfections and delay.

Our policy—"To continue to furnish the best possible telephone service at the lowest cost consistent with financial safety".

THE NEW WAXFREE HAVOLINE

The greatest ANNOUNCEMENT ever made about OIL!

THIS is the announcement of the New Waxfree Havoline—made by the Govers Process.

The only paraffin base oil from which all wax has been removed.

For years, the oil industry has sought in vain to produce such an oil.

For months, the automobile industry has awaited this announcement.

Now the facts are published.

These facts are based upon definite figures—the specifications by which every oil expert judges oil, and these specifications are printed here.

What do these specifications prove?

They prove that the New Waxfree Havoline (Govers Process) has better heat resistance than any other oil of the same viscosity at 210° F. and above.

—has better cold weather lubricating value
than any other oil—

—remains "oily" at every temperature—

WAXFREE

Wax turns water-thin under heat. Wax turns candle-hard under cold. Now, for the first time, you can get a waxfree paraffin base oil for the best year-round lubrication.

Without a doubt, this is the greatest advance in oil refining since the automobile was invented.

The development of the New Waxfree Havoline has been long and dramatic. Scientists have been brought literally from the ends of the earth. A vast 400 acre refinery has been turned into a practical laboratory. Not with tiny retorts and test tubes—but with giant twin stills, built at a cost of $2,000,000, the new Govers Process was brought to perfection.

An important oil expert can tell you these specifications show that the New Waxfree Havoline fully meets previous standards of quality in oil.

Get the New Waxfree Havoline (Govers Process) wherever Havoline Oils are sold.
It retails at 35c a quart and is worth far more in engine protection.

Valuable Discovery in

Tuning Church Bells
A church bell made from the finest bell metal may live forth a harsh, unpleasant sound, due to the fact that it is out of tune with itself. The stroke of a single bell sounds to us like one note; and until very recently even the most expert bell tuners have not realized that the sound is really made up of five separate notes. The five notes must be in tune with one another in order that the bell may give forth a harmonious sound. What we then hear is a combination of what is known as the strike note, the nominal note, an octave above the strike note, the hum, which is an octave below, and the third and fifth.

This recent discovery regarding the harmonies of bells has made possible the new art of bell tuning, a revival of what for two centuries was considered a lost art. The large bells are inverted in a huge turntable and revolved while the metal is pared away from the inside until it is correctly shaped to produce the harmonious tones—Kansas City Star's Science Service.

Power of Calculation
in Infant's Instinct?

Andre Lenoir, "The Baby Boy," is stated to be able, at the age of two years, to multiply any two five-figure numbers accurately and without hesitation! Whether this is an exaggeration or not is difficult to say, but every now and then the phenomenon of the "calculating boy" comes up and astonishes the world. The fears of these wonder children appear to be done by a sort of instinct, and sometimes the apparently untaught power is lost soon as a real knowledge of mathematics is gained.

A well-known calculating boy was George Parker Bidder, who was born in 1806, and was exhibited in his childhood as an arithmetic marvel. He became an engineer and was associated with Robert Stephenson in the London and Birmingham—afterward the London and North-Western railway—and was a founder of the Electric Telegraph company and president of the Institution of Civil Engineers. Among his best-known works are the Victoria docks.

Profits in Marsh Lands

With proper care a bit of marshland, generally considered worthless, may be made to yield a profit. The tendency has been to drain such pieces of land and then cultivate it. Sometimes this works out, but often not. Instead of this, such wet areas may be more successfully utilized for the protection of fish, wild ducks and geese, and herons, and muskrats. Wet areas may also be made to produce vast quantities of food suitable for feeding and protecting millions of ducks, geese and other waterfowl, and certainly far more—annual life could add materially to our supplies of attractive food as well as afford recreation through hunting, with either gun or gun.

Almost Twins

He had only a dime. He knew that he was 12 years old and should pay full price to the picture show, but he longed to see the western thriller. So he stepped up to the ticket window and showed his dime under the wicket.

"Sorry, boy, old are you?" chattered the girl behind the glass.

"Eleven," he murmured, looking down at his brown leather toes.

Then how does it happen, that your younger brother, who just went in a while ago, is eleven, too?"

For a moment he was flustered, then inspiration came. He flashed a beguiling smile and said:

"Well I'm just a month older than he is.—Kansas City Star."

Towns With Historic Names
Names famous in British history and literature are found in a small district of southern Ontario, Canada. Here is the city of London, one of the most important of the province, located on the Thames river. Less than fifty miles away is the city of Stratford, which as in the Shakespearean tradition, is located on the Avon. Nearby is a town which bears the name of the great dramatist, while another community in the region is called Waterloo. Not far from Stratford is the city of Kitchener, which before the World war was called Berlin. —New York Times

Knew Mother's Habit

Betty Jones' mother had a reputation at the stores and among friends and neighbors for buying things and then returning, or exchanging them. One morning Betty Jane's father took her in to see her baby brother, who had arrived the night before. She was very much pleased with the baby and asked numerous questions about it, and then said: "I think he is lovely and wish we would keep him, but I know mother will send him back because they forgot to make him some teeth."

Cummen Needed in Church?
How the pastor talked to the high-spirited who sought the cash he did not have: "Ah, gentlemen I might, indeed, have something to give you if only I had such energetic fellows as you to pass the plate now and then."—The Churchman.

Why, of Course

The wife doesn't hold his arm because she loves him; she holds his arm because she knows it is the only way to stop him before an interesting shop window—Morristown, New Jerseyman.

COUNTY SPENDS
THOUSANDS HERE
ON IMPROVEMENTSREPORT OF ROAD COMMISSION
SHOWS COSTS OF ALL
HIGHWAY WORK

In taking out the two dangerous curves that existed in the Northville road, one at the Globe factory and the other at the Caterpillar Service Station, and in building the new road which goes away from all traffic hazards, the Wayne County road commission spent $22,820 according to the annual report of the commission just issued. This expenditure also includes the cost of widening the road from the curve to the Seven Mile road, and also widening the highway a short distance south of the Seven Mile road.

Because of the immense fill that had to be made, and the construction of a concrete runway for the St. Croix River, the expense of the improvement is much less than had been anticipated.

The report of the cost of widening the Seven Mile road from Grand River to Northville from a narrow 18-foot road to a 40-foot highway, was also shown in the report.

The Seven Mile road is now one of the best highways in Michigan and the improvement has already brought the road considerable traffic.

The itemized expense accounts of these two improvements follow:

WANT TO CHANGE NAME OF LAKE?
HERE'S THE WAY

Supervisors Have Authority to Try to End Similar Names

The name of any lake or stream in Michigan can be changed only with authority from the Board of Supervisors of the county in which the particular lake or stream is located and the State of Michigan intends to usurp authority in this according to the State Committee on changing Geographical Names.

This Committee was appointed recently by Governor Fred W. Green-to formulate a system by which names of lakes and streams could be changed, principally to avoid confusion if the committee is composed of George N. Fuller, of the State Historical Commission; charman, R. A. Smith, state geologist and L. R. Shoemaker, head of the Land Economic Survey of the Department of Conservation, and ac-advisory capacity are:

George E. Bishop, secretary of the Upper Peninsula Development

Bureau; Huron J. Gray, secretary of the Michigan Tourist and Resort

Bureau and T. F. Marston, secretary of the East Michigan Tourist and Resort Association. A complete system of routine by which names of lakes and streams can be changed has now been formulated and announced by the Board.

The state of Michigan has many lakes and streams which are duplicated in names, according to the Committee. There are numerous name changes as fitting climax to the new system.

A desire to change the name of a lake or stream must initiate with the people of the county in which the body of water is situated. By petition or request, the Board of Supervisors may be asked by the people to take some formal action towards changing a name. This petition presented to the supervisors must state the name of the lake or stream whose name it is desired to change, the reasons for desiring the change, and the preferred name.

If the board of supervisors agrees and adopts a formal resolution asking that the name of the lake or stream be changed, a copy of the resolution may be sent to the State Committee. The Committee will consider the petition. It will determine whether the preferred name is duplicated anywhere in the state and whether it is necessary or desirable. If the State Committee considers the name change favorably

the petition together with the recommendation will be sent to the National Board of Geographical Names. This board, in turn, will consider the petition. If the National Board approves the change they the name of the lake or stream will be formalized and the new name will be listed on all official maps and documents.

Since the State Committee was appointed some time ago, the public has obtained an e. r. o. b. a. inves-

igation to its object, and purpose,"

Chairman Fuller said in announcement of the formal name-change plan.

"The public has been under the impression that the Committee intends to change names of lakes and streams wholesale and without consult of the local residents. This is not true.

"We will change no names at our own initiative. The initiative must come from the county in which the lake or stream is located.

The only function of this Committee is to provide the machinery

by which names may be changed

PLAN MUCH WORK ON OUTER BELT IN 1930 SAYS HINES

BOULEVARD WILL BE ONE OF THE FINEST HIGHWAYS

One of the major items of road improvement for next year will be the construction of several sections of the Outer Drive, stated Road Commissioner Edward N. Hines, yesterday.

Nearly 14 miles of this great boulevard is paved and ornamental lights are being installed, trees planted and the parkways appropriately landscaped.

The Grand Boulevard to Detroit after which the Outer Drive is patterned is less than 3 miles in length, giving some conception of what has been accomplished to date.

The outer drive is a great circumferential highway encircling the city of Detroit from the Detroit River on the east side to the Detroit River on the west side at a distance of from 6 to 10 miles from the City Hall. It is being developed into one of the finest boulevards in the country.

The Outer Drive is particularly designed to relieve the congestion of pleasure traffic.

Traffic signs will be placed where needed, grade separations made, bridges built and with the wide stretches of smooth concrete pavement entirely completed thousands of motorists will be able to safely and conveniently enjoy, perhaps the most beautiful and serviceable pleasure drive ever designed for a congested area.

The Outer Drive will have an intimate width throughout its entire length of 150 feet which is the width of the Grand Boulevard and will consist when completed of two 36-foot concrete pavements with curbs and center roadway strip in some locations and a single 60-foot.

These two types of concrete pavement will be located respectively where they can be most economically constructed, considering topography as well as other factors and they will provide the most and best service to the public.

Various sections have already been built and all the above improvements immediately included in their proper order, thus providing a complete boulevard effect at once.

Approximately 14 miles have been completed to date including 3 1/2 miles lighted and landscaped, involving 510 lamp standards and fixtures, 1000 trees and 7000 shrubs. The entire length of the Outer Drive including both completed and finished sections is approximately 43 miles.

Beginning on the east side Jefferson Avenue and Wintier Avenue, the Outer Drive is planned to extend along Whittier Avenue to Elkhorn. At this point it extends northward along Elkhorn to Chandler Park and northward to the Seven Mile Road. The section between Elkhorn and Chandler Park consisting of two 36-foot concrete pavements will be completed next year, states Mr. Hines.

From Elkhorn Road to Five Mile Road, a distance of approximately one mile, two 30-foot concrete pavements are on the program for early completion.

Another section of the Outer Drive from Military to Michigan Street Highway and from Michigan to Southfield 204 foot superhighway is also budgeted for completion.

Two-grade separation projects are under construction at the present time on the Outer Drive, states Mr. Hines.

One is located at Outer Drive and Allen Roads with the Wabash Railroad and the other is with the Michigan Central Railroad in Dearborn.

A new bridge is also under construction over the River Rouge north of Michigan Avenue.

The total expenditure for 1930 budgeted by the Board of Supervisors at the annual September session including acquisition of right-of-way, paving, landscaping, grade separations, and bridges approximates $2,81,000.00.

The one mill county tax levied for 1930 approximates $4,765,535.00 over 62 per cent of which will be expended in developing the Outer Drive so that it may become a continuous boulevard completely serving the public.

Other sections of Outer Drive will also be developed, the section being dependent upon right-of-way dedications.

A contract has been let to the Midwest Lighting Corporation for installing underground street lighting on several sections of the Outer Drive, stated Road Commissioner Edward N. Hines.

Saturday.

The Outer Drive from Livernois Road to Seven Mile Road from Chalmers Avenue to Lemont and from Connor Road to Grand Avenue is the section to be lighted. These lights are handsome bollards large enough to accommodate the several sections previously installed. The total of the contracts amounts to $2,773,90.

A contract was also let to Bishop & Wolf for the construction of a reinforced arch concrete bridge on the Outer Drive crossing of the River Rouge just north of Michigan Avenue Road. This bridge will have a 50-foot clear roadway with sidewalks in addition thereto. The total cost of the bridge is approximately $1,000,000.00.

The Board of Supervisors at their annual session last month appropriated $2,000,000.00 with which to retire the last bonds outstanding of the $2,000,000.00 bond issue voted by the people in 1910, stated Edward N. Hines, County Road Commissioner Saturday.

Unlike many bond issues, however, the community had something to show for these bonds which will be retired early in 1930.

Most of the concrete roads built with the proceeds of this $2,000,000.00 issue are still in good condition and are every indication of man, more years of service.

Such roads as Seven Mile, Canton Center, Jefferson, Prairie, Mount Huron River Drive, Grand River, Michigan, Fort, Belleville, Eureka River, Warren, and West Roads were built out of the proceeds of the bond issue; nearly all of these roads have since been widened.

The old concrete in Grand River was torn up this summer to make way for two 40-ft concrete pavements on a 204 foot superhighway width of right of way. Some sections of Michigan Avenue road have been torn up due to changing the grade, widening the width of right of way from 66 to 204 feet, and building a double concrete roadway with a parking space in between for future development.

Very little of Fort Road remains as it has also been developed with two 40-foot concrete roads on a 194 foot width of right of way and the remaining sections on Fort, with the exception of one mile will be the same size for the same reason early spring.

River Road is now 40 feet of concrete on the old 16-foot road flanked on each side by a new 12-foot strip of concrete. Jefferson Road will be replaced next year with the 27-foot concrete roadways on an 18-foot width of right of way.

These old bond issue concrete roads were only 6 1/2 to 7 inches thick, stated Mr. Hines, whereas today we are building our concrete 10 inches thick.

Such men as Henry B. Joy, William Livingsstone, and Henry Ford, together with many of the smaller banks in Wyandotte and other cities and villages of the county responded liberally to our appeals, and eventually the entire issue was sold.

COMING ATTRACTIONS AT THE PENNIMAN-ALLEN

ACTRESS FINDS PLEASURE IN TALKING SCREEN PARTS

Talking films offer a unique attraction to Laura Hope Crews, famous stage actress who makes her debut on the audible screen in Paramount's picturization of "Some set Maugham's 'Charming Sinners,' which will open at the Penniman-Allen Theatre Saturday, October 19.

They eliminate the boredom which afflicts players identified with long stage successes, she says.

In "Mr. Pin Passes," say Miss Crews, I repeated the same lines more than 200 times during the two consecutive years of its run. The same was true of "The Phantom Lover" which enjoyed a similar success. After the first month in such cases, the business of the play set into well-defined routine.

In the talking picture version of "Charming Sinners," I have more than 2,000 words of dialog. They were spoken just once. I am sure this tends toward boyishness and freshness and eliminates the danger of staleness which monotony occasions."

RING LARDNER'S CHARACTER
WISE-CRACKS ON SCREEN

Elmer "E. Hurry" Kane lives on the screen.

The famous character of the "You Know Me All" series created by Ring Lardner is interpreted for the first time in "Fast Company" by Jack Oakie, popular young comedian of the smart-cracking type who was seen in "Close Harmony," "The Dummy," "The Wild Party" and other recent successful pictures.

Ring Lardner and George M. Cohan wrote the play from which "Fast Company" was adapted and the dialog sparked with Lardner's ready wisecrangs. Evelyn Brent spit-fire of many a crook melodrama, is seen here as the hard-boiled actress who succeeds to the wise-cracking small town hero after a series of mix-ups which provide a riot of fun. Billard Skeets Gallagher, who played with Oakie in "Close Harmony," provides a bit of fun in "Fast Company."

"Fast Company," which will show at the Penniman-Allen Theatre Sunday, October 20, is a new kind of boy and girl romance. It is fast-moving and sentimental and decidedly amusing.

EUROPEAN STAR CAST IN HUNGARIAN RHAPSODY

Lil Darövér, famous continental actress who appeared in a number of films with Emil Jannings before the great German actor came to America, will be seen in one of the two leading female roles in "Hungarian Rhapsody," a Paramount release which comes to the Penniman-Allen Theatre Wednesday October 23.

As the young and flirtatious wife of a nomadic old general she cuts a swath through the hearts of all the men who make her acquaintance.

The picture is provided with a full musical score prepared as a stylized companion for the picture by the Paramount musical staff. It is one of the most enjoyable and artistic musical arrangements ever produced for accompaniment of a screen story. The many sequences in which music plays a part—the dancing of the peasant folk, the wild serenades at the castle, the singing of the young Husar officers, the chants of the harvesters—all these scenes lend themselves readily to musical accomplishment.

In all it is a gorgeous panorama of love, youth, beauty and rugged peasant life, vibrant with human emotions and heart-interest.

appreciate this riding comfort

Long trips are easy when you drive a Ford

EASY RIDING comfort is one of the features of the new Ford. Somehow, it seems to just glide along, as if every road were a good road. Even rough stretches may be taken at a fast pace without hard jolts or bumps or the exaggerated bouncing, rebound which is the cause of most motoring fatigue.

Come in and arrange for a demonstration. You'll know then that the transverse springs and Houdaille shock absorbers make a big difference in riding comfort.
