$1.50 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE

BUSINESS IS STARTING ON UPWARD TREND

Survey of Past Year Reveals Problems Michigan Producers Face.

A year ago no one felt that severe depressions were no longer possible, but we know now that severe depressions are still possible, and that in spite of our greater knowledge of business cycles, a more flexible banking system, and our more complete statistical records, soft spots in the economic structure do develop, according to Ralph E. Bridger, vice-president and Carl F. Behrens, well-known economist of Michigan. While the corrective process seems extremely severe at present, it is necessary to sustained recovery.

Business during the first and part of the second quarters of 1930 was well in line with the forecasts of a year ago, as early as April, however, when commodity prices began their precipitous drop, the business picture again became clouded with uncertainties. In May and June farm prices, particularly those of cattle, wheat, and cotton, dropped further, weakness during all this period, persistent decreases were reported in department store sales, freight car loadings, and employment and payrolls. In the latter part of July, drought conditions developed in almost all sections of the country east of the Rocky Mountains. Continued unsettledness in Europe, without doubt played a large part in the unusual weakness exhibited in commodity prices, particularly the prices of raw materials such as cotton and wheat. This unsettledness still exists. Recent indecision in the number and importance of bank suspensions apparently is mostly link in the chain of events which has prolonged the depression.

In Michigan, the experience of last year as a whole, except that agricultural developments in the banking situation have not occurred, and we have little reason for believing that they will not occur again.

Recovery in the automobile industry was rapid during the first months of the year, from a low point of 120,000 units output for the United States in December, production advanced to 275,000 in January, to 349,000 in April. Subsequently an uninterrupted decline followed, reaching a low point of 100,000 units output in August.

A Community Loss

It is with more than a degree of sadness when citizens of Northville read the news of the deaths of such men as Louie A. Babbitt, Charles Filkins and others who recently have passed from this life. Death has not only taken from us good men and worthy husbands, but it has removed from the front ranks some of the real leaders of a community that needs leadership. It is needless to say that Louie A. Babbitt, founder of the Northville State Savings bank, has been a leader. A review of his life from early manhood shows an active citizen, a worker for the good of the community he loved so well. For 28 years a member of the school board, Mr. Babbitt devoted a very large portion of his time to the building of our splendid school system. There was nothing destructive about his nature. He wanted to build up—no one ever heard him say anything about cutting corners and going back. To his untiring energy is due the splendid new banking house of the Northville State Savings bank. Northville cannot afford to lose many men of the Babbitt kind—no community can. They are the type that lead in community progress, and to Mr. Babbitt's ability and energy Northville owes much. It is indeed with sorrow that we have been called upon to pay our final respects to one who gave a very great portion of his life and leadership to his fellow citizens.

SONS GIVE THEIR FATHER SURPRISE

Words That We Appreciate

(From the Eastman Stethoscope)

THE RIGHT KIND OF PEOPLE

Especially happy was the present Christmas holiday season for John Eaton of the William H. Harvey Sanatorium. He had as his guests over the week his two sons—one from California, the other from New York. The boys had apparently decided to give their father a happy surprise, and at noon just after Thanksgiving Mr. and Mrs. John Evans,Eight of Los Angeles California. The Pacific coast residents like all from that part of the country brought with him the cheering optimistic spirit that has made California what it is. He has been successful in the long development business of the west. David Bright of New York City, associated with one of the large eastern oil companies arrived the day after his brother from the west reached here at 15 o'clock to take over the Stethoscope and its renders. With several important jobs on his hands the father ordered his men Charles Sutton and Hugh C. Chapman to push the publication of the little paper so that the Eastmaners and others might enjoy it just as well as any other week. So diligently did the local organization assisted by the staff of the Plymouth MAID of which Mr. Eaton's son Sterling is owner and publisher, that nearly twenty five hours had passed before an expertly composed newspaper emerged from our press.

We must think through often the dawn of the New Year full of uncertain possibilities, but sorrow like twin shadows will go hand in hand with us let us go forward in hope trusting in God for the future.

Prayer meeting is the main cause of Wednesday evening at 7 p.m. All welcome.

The Ladies Auxiliary society will meet in the home of Mrs. Frank Biers in Siloam Thursday for dinner at 12 o'clock. In the afternoon there will be the annual business meeting with election of officers.

This is very important to all and all are urged to come to the meeting. Next Sunday's service at 10:30 a.m. Sunday school session at 11:45 a.m. THE GARDEN OF REMEMBRANCE We stand on the threshold of New Year.

Only unknown hours are coming to us. Many of them will come to us with their hands.

SCHOOL WINS IN NATIONAL HERD CONTEST

WAYNE CO. TRAINING SCHOOL HOLSTEIN HERD WINS HIGH HONOR

The Wayne County Training school of Northville, is one of 172 schools of privately Holstein-Friesian cattle in 31 states that has been recommended for national honors by the Holstein Friesian Association of America. These 172 herds have all averaged better than 300 pounds of butterfat per cow under the rules of the Holstein Herd Test and the Training school herd ranks 37 on this list with 251 cows averaging 26.0 pounds of butterfat in one year.

Honor Roll certificates are awarded for high average production by the National Dairy Association each year.

NOW—ALTOGETHER!

The new year is here—1930 with all its depression and hard times is a thing of the past. What we all do will have a great material bearing upon the new year. If we all work together to make it the best we have ever had; if we will look for the breaks in the clouds through which the rays of sunshine now and then break, finally spreading over all the land, you can bet it will have much to do with what the new year will be. It's the sunshine, the happy spirit, that counts. It has been gloomy, there is no question about that—but now lets begin looking for those little streaks of sunshine that glisten beautifully in the clouds in the sky. Have you ever noticed that these breaks in the clouds are generally followed by a flood of sunlight? True. Now, altogether for the happiest and very prosperous year of 1931!

THE NEW GOVERNOR

Amid more regal pomp than any other governor ever assumed office Hon. Wilbur M. Brucker Thursday took over control of Michigan's government. The grand display was not of Governor Brucker's doing—it was the outpouring of the friendly spirit of his host of admirers about the state. This young Saginaw man has the greatest opportunity ever offered to any man entering the executive office at Lansing. He is faced with problems that will tax the best minds of Michigan's leading citizens—and he has announced that it is his purpose to consult with them in trying to solve some of these difficulties. Michigan taxpayers are demanding reduced taxation, not new forms of taxation—and if Governor Brucker brings that about he will have won for himself the everlasting gratitude of a tax-burdened state.

ONE TO THINK ABOUT

Here is one to think about. A member of the independent staff had his attention called recently to the matter of collecting bills from a Detroit firm owing one of the finest buildings in that city. A creditor—an interior decorator, to whom this firm owed the neat little sum of three hundred and fifty thousand dollars, declared that it had been unable to get a cent on it for four months. This seemed incredible so the reporter checked it up with a well-informed acquaintance in the motor city who informed him that such was the regular practice of this much vaunted firm: that a friend of his had furnished one member of this firm with ninety thousand dollars worth of shucks for his country place last spring and had not been able to collect a cent as yet. When the multi-millionaire relying on the fact that their creditors cannot afford to incur their ill will by suing them, refuse to pay bills, what can we expect of common ordinary folk?—Grand Ledge Independent

OFFICIALS, NOT LAWS, ARE WEAK

President Hoover spoke with both firmness and wisdom when he informed the various states that he has no intention of proposing an extension of the federal criminal laws to cover gang rule and racketeering in the cities.

La vs dealing with these new developments in crime as a matter for state and city governments. Furthermore, they are not so much a matter of new laws as they are of the proper, honest enforcement of present statutes.

It is not the business of the federal government to protect residents of the large cities from murder and robbery. This is the work of city, county, and state officials. And when such men look elsewhere for assistance in what is set forth by law as their plain duty, then, it is time we overhaul our officials instead of looking for new laws.

NO TIME TO WASTE

After thirty, a man's foremost duty is to take care of himself and his family. He has no time to waste. Reform of the world can wait, but personal reform after thirty is urgent.

An advertisement of the Provident Mutual Life Insurance Company read:

"There is an old man ahead you ought to know.
He has your eyes, your nose, your walk. He talks like you, acts like you, thinks like you. And whether he hates you or loves you, respects you or despises you, depends on you.
For you made him. He is you."

It's a good thought.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

Help For Bandits and Hit-Rangers
Next to the question of "Who thinks up the foolish games of Pullman sleeping cars" comes the question: "Who thinks up the foolish color combination on Michigan license plates?"

The 1931 plates date red numbers on a black background, takes the eye about the poorest combination of colors on record.

Such a color combination is an aid to all the bandits and hit-and-run drivers in the state. It helps to defeat the purpose of license plates, this purpose being identification of cars. Numbers on this year's plates cannot be read by the person of average good eyesight.

In case my newspaper has sponsored an intensive campaign having to do with the election of a solid gold and platinum bust of Mr. Anton Krat, New York City, in this community in the United States they let us know and now apologize to this worthy gentleman.

It seems that John Stetson drove up in front of a Michigan residence just as the girl down was breaking a part of her car and proceeded to a work bench and taught this girl how to make up one particular sleeper. There were however other sleepers and one of them, Anton Krat, our hero, woke up, got a gun and shot Mr. Stetson in the big toe as a gentle hint that he found prodding him disagreeable.

Mr. Krat was arrested, but even in the present degenerate state of American civilization we do not believe the police will do more than grasp Anton warmly by the hand and pronounce his example one worthy to be followed by every honest citizen. George Welsh in The Grand Raids Chronicle

TELEPHONE SERVICE

MAKES A NEIGHBORHOOD OF MICHIGAN

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company is constantly improving the scope, speed and accuracy of its service, that it may continue to furnish the most telephone service, and the best, at the least cost to the public.

THROUGH slim wires etched against the sky... through cables carrying thousands of lines... hundreds of thousands of Michigan people keep in touch with each other... talking from house to house... city to city... peninsula to peninsula... distances that require much time for ordinary travel; but over which your voice is carried to its destination in a fraction of a second.

Over his telephone, a retailer in one city keeps in touch with wholesale buyers in another. A housewife calls friends who live nearby. A son at school in Ann Arbor enjoys weekly telephone visits with his parents. A state legislator in Lansing transacts business by telephone with an associate in the upper peninsula. No matter what the distance, Michigan's great telephone system will carry your voice to almost anyone anywhere, at any time you may choose.

Today most Long Distance telephone calls are completed while you hold the line. Today your telephone will connect you instantly with more than 800,000 other telephones in Michigan alone. Yet, telephone service is available to any one at remarkably low cost.

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company is constantly improving the scope, speed and accuracy of its service. Its work of contributing to the welfare and prosperity of the commonwealth goes on with increasing purpose and pace.

Coming Attractions at the Penniman Allen

"THE FLIRTING WIDOW"

The well known play "Green Stockings," by A. E. W. Mason, has been made by First National into an all-talking phonograph picture. Under the title "The Flirting Widow," it will appear at the Penniman Allen theatre Sunday, January 11, with Dorothy Mackail and Basil Rathbone in the leading roles.

This smart English comedy has been favorite with American drama goers for several years but remained for talkies to present its witty and humorous romance to screen goers. An unusual feature of the film is that practically the entire cast, as well as the author were born under the British flag.

"The Flirting Widow" is the tale of an unmarried oldest sister, who must wear green stockings as a sign of her unmarried status. Family brothers do not permit her younger sisters to get married until the elder one is engaged.

Miss Mackail appears in the title role, with Rathbone appearing as an army officer. The part is one of the best of the comedy characters the blonde actress has given, the screen

Prominent in the cast of "The Flirting Widow" are Leila Hyams, William Austin, Claude Gillingwater, Edmund Frazee, Florrie Bramley, Anthony Bushnell and Winifred Ney. William A. Seiter directed.

"NOTORIOUS AFFAIR"

The storied struggle of a Roman matron to regain her honor started the theme of "A Notorious Affair," a First National picture to be shown at the Penniman Allen theatre Wednesday, January 14. Billie Dove stars in the role of Patricia, a high-spirited English girl married to Paul Gherardi, a violinist played by Basil Rathbone.

Patricia's fight to make her husband famous and successful, then her subsequent battles to keep his loyalty is convincingly shown in this picture.

Billie Dove does some of the best acting of her career, expressing emotion without overacting.

She is ably supported by Basil Rathbone, one of the comparative newcomers to the screen. Rathbone makes Gherardi a living breathing man, with struggles like our own. A man who is strong enough to conquer the world, but who needs help in conquering himself. He uses his moments of great sarcasm of pert weakness of natural humor and genuine love.

Kay Francis, Margaret Lee and Kenneth Thompson are others of the cast who do outstanding work. Miss Lewis is the "other woman" who wins Gherardi because he is a genius and Francis' Matilda Love is. Patric's mother.

Kenneth Thompson has an rather odd part, but fits the work in it adds to the general excellence of the picture.

"LAST OF THE LONE WOLF"

Romance with a capital "R" is the theme of "Last of the Lone Wolf."

Others with whom we'll be seeing are the official cast of "The Lone Wolf," we last drama.

These things make the drama of the year full of interest especially for young women like twin sisters with good hair and with us let us go forward in hope, trusting in God for the future.

Bert Lytell's charm of the most popular oldest sister, who must wear green stockings as a sign of her unmarried status.

Family brothers do not permit her younger sisters to get married until the elder one is engaged.

This smart English comedy has been favorite with American drama goers for several years but remained for talkies to present its witty and humorous romance to screen goers. An unusual feature of the film is that practically the entire cast, as well as the author were born under the British flag.

"The Flirting Widow" is the tale of an unmarried oldest sister, who must wear green stockings as a sign of her unmarried status.

Miss Mackail appears in the title role, with Rathbone appearing as an army officer.

The plot of the story is that the story gets off to a quick start and moves without interruption to a stirring climax.

Things begin to happen when the Prime Minister of Saxonia engages Michael Labyard, an American gentleman crook to retrieve a ring that had been given away by the Queen to the Count von Rhine, a secret admirer.

When the King heard of it he was enraged with his spouse. Hence Labyard's mission. How by exercising his diplomatic ability, engaging personality andistic prowess he managed to accomplish his purpose and how incidentally he became involved in a romance with the Queen's pretty lady-in-waiting—supply action for the rest of the story.
