LISTEN TO MR. BABSON

Roger Babson, the noted financial authority, is the one expert that seems to have the respect of big business leaders when it comes to predictions.

What does he say? Just this: Last week he told President Hoover that "business had turned the corner" and that he would not be surprised to see a shortage of labor in some lines by Christmas. That "sounds good."

Nobody expects to see a quick come-back but certainly better times are not far off, even if they do come gradually. Let's go after the business here in Northville and remember this: "1931 will reward the fighters."

NOW IS THE TIME TO BUILD

Had you thought seriously about building that new home now? And do you realize how much cheaper it will be now than it would have been two years ago?

It would startle you if we told you what the contractor putting up the new Record building said. The structure would have cost in 1929. The difference between then and now runs into a lot of money.

The lumber dealers are advising you right when they say "Build now."

In the same way, now is a good time to buy a home. The time to buy is when people want to sell and surely a lot of folks want to sell their homes now. Just why, in some cases, we can't say. Anyway we are at the bottom of this depression and there will be some "smart" folks who will take advantage of it and come out of it with a home of their own.

COULD WE DO IT?

Just came by the corner where the old hotel burned. Saw the bricks and debris lying around. Noticed the fine site. Began to wonder how good it would be if Northville could have a modern hotel there. Not a big one, at least not too big. We helped boost for a hotel at Albion a few years ago and it has been "too good" for the town—too much hotel for the amount of patronage. In the same way we hear that Plymouth's hotel is too much investment for the size of the town.

Northville might profit by the experience of other towns and build a hotel that would be a credit to the village and yet not a liability to its owners. Here we have a number of institutions around us which are certainly going to bring people here all the year round. We can't compete with Detroit hotels in keeping traveling men here overnight but it does seem as though a modest hostelry that might not be big enough some times, yet that would be ample for everyday needs would be a wonderful community asset.

Should we do it? And if so, how can we go about it?

THE WHIPPING

A lot of people are shouting loudly for the adoption of the whipping post for hardened criminals. Personally we should have no objection about laying on the lash to some of these law breakers—the whip might be the only thing they would respect, since many of them are low-down cowards at heart.

But we wonder whether or not the whipping post law would be just another law. It still seems to us that what we need now is not more remedies but the use of those we have at hand. We need more respect for the law—on the part of everyone, starting at the top. We need quicker working out of justice. We need a stiffening of our jury system. We need in some quarters some new judges. We need sure penalties. We need some old-fashioned ideas about law observance. The whipping post wouldn't work any miracles in bringing about law observance. Rather than rush around to grab some new cure for crime, let us use those we have.

MRS. TY COBB GOES TO BAT

Mrs. Tyrus Cobb, wife of the much exploited "Ty" Cobb of baseball fame, braves the pitiless publicity that goes with public figures. To go to court, to ask for a divorce from her husband. She has no fault to find with the children, since she asks for the custody of the four smaller ones—one being of age. That's in her favor. She must have wanted the divorce very earnestly since she faced all the "grief" that accompanies "telling the world" of your family affairs.

From this long distance we should have to be on Mrs. Cobb's side.

Mrs. Cobb says her husband is cruel. That may mean a lot of things. One thing everyone who knows anything about baseball realizes is this, that Ty Cobb has a snappy temper. When he was managing the Detroit Tigers it was reported that he had such a disposition that some members of the club were hardly on speaking terms with him. Then Cobb was reported as having got into several fights—whether he was marketing or playing baseball. He seemed to have a faculty for getting into trouble—even though he was a baseball player of marvelous ability, whose like is seldom seen.

We are inclined to respect the man who loses his temper in a good cause once in a while but it is hard to respect the man whose temper gets him into trouble all the time. In Cobb's case it might be that he had some other bad traits besides losing his temper and getting into a fight. Many a wife bears with a husband who has a temper but who softens it with virtues to atone for his outbursts. Mrs. Cobb knows Ty very well and it must be that she thinks she has a real case—one that goes deeper than fits of temper. One thing is regrettable—another of our athletic idols gets the props knocked out from under him. We don't like to see that.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

What are Northville's five most pressing needs? (Answers solicited).

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

DYING AT THE RIGHT TIME

(M. E. DeFoe in The Charlotte Republican-Tribune)

It is not much consolation to be sure but how fortunate were both Rockne and Specker "kick" Longworth that they died at the peak of their respective successes. Had both lived another ten years would they have received the same acclaim? Most likely not. All of us know men who would have been happier could they have died during the years when their works were appreciated. The unusual sorrow occasioned by the Rockne and Longworth deaths must be accepted in the eternal sense. God knows best. It is more than likely that Rockne and Longworth have been favored. If we could look behind the curtain...

AIR SHOW IS GREAT

(The Delta Reporter, Gladstone)

The crowds at the air show did not indicate hard times. People jammed all the streets leading to the Detroit Municipal Airport on Sunday, the day of the formal opening. Nearly 20,000 people paid a 75-cent admission to go inside to view the exhibits of what is new in the flying field. Many times that number packed the streets, viewing the airplanes looking up. The greatest aviation display ever held. That is the expression used by the representatives of the Department of Commerce sent to Detroit to inspect the show. The Ford single motored steel plane attracted considerable attention; Stout's new "air car," displayed for the first time, was the object of much speculation; the complete display by Stinson's was praised highly by fliers who know the "game."

SOME SPRING QUESTIONS

(The LaGrange, Ind Standard)

"Is my property a discredit to the community?" At this time of the year it is particularly timely that property owners and occupants make critical surveys of their places and ask themselves the above question.

Do my neighbors wish that I would move but not let some one else move in that is not so slovenly?" Do my neighbors wish that my place would burn down?"

"When a stranger walks down my street and passes my house does he say, 'There lives a good citizen' or 'Some riff raff probably live in that house'?"

We repeat that the biggest factor in keeping homes neat is the desire of folks to maintain well painted, orderly properties, not their amount of wealth. Some of the humblest homes are the neatest and best kept. Grass and flowers do not cost anything. Paint for a small place is not such a large item and it represents money well spent.

THE REAL TOWN BUILDERS

(The Muncie News)

The man who spends his money at home is a community builder. He may not have a great deal to spend, but if his pay check is turned back into the business channels to pay other men and to keep the wheels of business turning, he is a community builder.

Such a man is worth a dozen others who with much more resource send it out of the community and away from home.

Often when community builders are spoken of, the thoughts turn to those of the community of means and resource. They are looked up to as the community builders.

Heard on the Street

Pedestrian: "Those yellow lines certainly are a great aid to motorists."

Northville Merchant: "My business has been better this past week than for many months past."

Northville school teacher: "It is really a pleasure to work with these children because they're so clean and decent. They're average kids and they raise as much rumpus as any other kids but in the main they're a fine bunch."

"The entrance into Northville at the point where the Rouge River crosses the road could be made such a beautiful asset to the town instead of the dumping ground that it is. A river is too beautiful a thing to waste in this way." Says an old resident who loves Northville.

Said a business man, "The King's Daughters do such a great amount of good in Northville that they should never have an anxiety about their finances. I feel sure that if their wants were made known to the village council an appropriation would be made for their work. There are no other towns that I know of where the welfare work is all taken care of by one organization as this does. They know so much better than men could know what the real needs of the town are."

METHODIST CHOR CONDUCTS SERVICES SUNDAY MORNING

A unique service of song was very well carried out under direction of the choir leader, Roy Clark, at the Methodist church last Sunday morning in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Wm. Richards who is taking a vacation in the South.

The choir rose to the occasion admirably and conducted the devotional as well as the musical part of the service. The scripture lesson was read by Leslie Fraser, the responsive reading by Miss Eleanor Grosvenor, with an opening prayer by Mrs. Leslie G. Lee. The whole audience joined in the chorus of a number of songs led by the choir and the program was varied with solos, trios, quartets and choruses. Special numbers were a trio by Miss Mary Louise Boykin, Miss Pauline Misters and Miss Bernice Clark; a trio by Miss Mable Johnson, Miss Eleanor Grosvenor and Mrs. Lee; a solo by Mrs. M. J. Koldyke, a quartet by Mrs. Koldyke, Mrs. Lee, Mr. Lee and Mr. Clark, and two numbers by a male chorus.

Interpersed throughout these music numbers were three brief talks. Mrs. Koldyke emphasized the importance of stressing the best in music. Mr. Clark reminded his hearers that the personal life of the choir remains practically as it has throughout the years and during the past two years the choir has not failed to respond with special music at the church services. In a brief review of the progress of music since its earliest origin, Mr. Lee gave his audience a deeper appreciation of the beauty of the devotional service.

"Do not despise the periods of waiting," said Rev. Harold G. Whitfield at the union service of the Presbyterian and Methodist churches at the latter church Sunday evening in a thoughtful sermon. "In this day of hurry and rush we need to stop and weigh things of greater and lesser importance." Mr. Whitfield regretted that folks could not find enough time to give two hours to church attendance in a week filled with duty and pleasure. Ray Van Valkenburg sang feelingly at the close of the sermon.

SENIORS—WHAT ARE YOUR FUTURE PLANS?

In just nine more weeks, the senior class of 1931 will be a member of the Alumni Association. What will you seniors do then? Most of you will answer that question without a question, no doubt.

If your answer to the above question is, "going to college," you should take the following steps immediately:

1. Go to the principal's office and secure an application blank from the institution you wish to attend.
2. Fill out this blank carefully and mail it promptly.
3. Secure all necessary information regarding tuition, board, etc.
4. Then complete your plans.

Too often students wait until July or August before making application for admission. At that time, it is difficult to obtain your credits and the principal's recommendation. Colleges usually have their full quota by that time and there is a strong chance that your application would be refused.

KATHLEEN RINCK WINS IN PIANO CONTEST

Competing against sixteen other picked pianists of ages twelve and thirteen from all parts of the state, the Stabler Hotel, Saturday, Kathleen Rinck, a pupil of Mrs. Martha Eynon, of Ann Arbor, forced three judges to debate one and one half hours before deciding the winner Miss Jean Wright of Sturgis was the other cause of the disagreement. These two girls were equally matched, that the judges said they both deserved first place, it was finally decided that Jean be given first place and Kathleen be given second place.

Northville will be proud of such a promising young pianist. She has practiced long and diligently and deserves this high honor. Her teacher also deserves much credit.

We are sure that next year there will be no question as to the winner.

MARY ELKINGTON IS RUNNER-UP IN CONTEST

Another championship almost came to Northville Friday when Mary Elkington represented Northville at the district spelling bee at Plymouth. There were nine champions of schools present to compete for the honor of representing this district in the Metropolitan spelling bee in Detroit.

On this group, Mary Elkington of the 8th grader of Waterford, was the victor. Mary Elkington was the runner-up going down on the word greenness. (She only forgot one of the 975).

Northville should be proud of the fine showing that its champion speller made at Plymouth. She spent hours and hours of study and this effort will be of great value to Mary Elizabeth.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB TO SING-IN CONTEST TODAY

Seventeen girls representing Northville high school will compete in the district Glee Club contest which will be held in Pease Auditorium, Ypsilanti this afternoon at 3 p. m.

Northville will enter as a class "C" school and will sing against other schools having an enrollment of less than three hundred pupils.

The schools in this district include those in Livingston, Oakland, Macomb, Jackson, Washtenaw, Wayne, Hillsdale, Lenawee and Monroe counties. The state is divided into six districts and the winner and runner-up in each class are eligible to enter the finals at Lansing, May 8 to decide the state champions in each class.

This is the first time that a Northville glee club has taken part in a state contest, so it should not be too great a disappointment if they fail to place this first time. The experience made the girls a great deal of good and should inspire them to do better next year. Of course there is always a chance to win and we hope they will. They will have the privilege of hearing some of the finest glee clubs in the state in classes "A" and "B".

The slogan of the contest shows fine sportsmanship and is worthy of contemplation: "Not to win a prize or defeat an opponent, but to pace each other on the road to excellence".

The girls will be graded by competent judges on the following points:

The members of the club are: Jewel Clark, Bernice Clark, Madeline Hayward, Marion Turnbull, Mary Boyden, Dorothy Lanning, Pauline Masters, Gertrude Deal, Eleanor Grosvenor, Myrtle Lemmon, Helen Murdoch, Helen Regula, Violet Johnson, Margaret Semmon, Hester Keller, Winifred McCarty and Florence Johnson. Avis Ferry has scarlet fever and will not be able to go.

The girls will all be dressed in a shade of light green which will add uniformity and dignity to their appearance.

Mr. Lee will direct the club at the performance.

Geraldine Ferguson, who has accompanied the girls during rehearsal will make the trip as will several of the parents and townspeople.

We all wish the girls the best of luck.

SOCIETY NEWS

Velma Blake and Helen Strachan spent Friday afternoon in Ypsilanti. Gertrude Sedan spent Saturday in Detroit.

Charles Sheppard is seriously ill in the Ann Arbor hospital.

The Gossip club will meet this week Wednesday, at the home of Isadore Keeley.

Miss Pauline Masters spent the week-end at Plymouth.

Miss Jane Lawrence went to the Aircraft show last Friday night.

Kenneth Wilcox, student of the University of Michigan visited school last week. He was having his spring vacation.

Geraldine Ware, who has been quarantined with scarlet fever, has returned to school.

Francis Alexander spent Sunday in Lansing.

The Misses Mae and Grace Kramer spent the week-end at Plymouth.

Hazel Cordukes spent Saturday and Sunday at St Clair Shores.

CAMP FIRE NOTES

The Nuskia Campfire group has been organized under the direction of Mrs. Cooke. The officers are as follows: Mrs. Cooke, guardian; Winifred McCarty, president; Leila Haystead, vice-president; Lila Simone, treasurer; Violet Johnson, secretary; Mary Louise Boyden, scribe.

There are 12 members in all. We have gone on one hike with Mrs. Walker as guardian.

We gave a chop-suey supper and had a good turn-out.

GLEE CLUB

"Oh boy! Have you heard the latest? Well, the members of the Senior High Girls' Glee club are making dresses. And can you guess what color they are? Green! Just think this summer some members of this singing group will trip gaily down the street in their green linen dresses. That is the kind of material it is (ahem!) cast upon her looking up, she will meet another member with a dress the same color, same material, and probably the same style. Before you know it you will see green hordes all over the town. Green! Green! Oh, spring! is that what you have done to us!"

Maybe I should state here why this sudden case of green dresses has come up. Friday, April 24, these girls are going to Ypsilanti to compete in a contest and you must admit that it would look funny if some girls wore party frocks, while others wore sport dresses, or some wore yellow and green while others wore other bright colors. Is this clear now?

CAMP FIRE GIRLS TO SERVE CAFETERIA LUNCHES

To be served in the lunch room, in the high school building every Tuesday and Thursday at 11:30.

Now if any pupils or teachers have time to go home or to town for their lunches on Tuesday and Thursday, they merely have to go down stairs to the lunch room. There you will obtain a very enjoyable meal. I am sure.

This is one of the Camp Fire Girls' projects and one they are depending on quite a bit. They have a few other plans, but they are not definite as yet.

HIGH SCHOOL ORCHESTRA PLAYS AT THEATRE HERE

The high school orchestra composed of twenty pieces made its second public appearance when it played for the American Legion.

Each evening the orchestra played a fifteen minute program before the show opened and also a number between shows.

The orchestra played in the pit and were therefore not visible to the public. One man said that he didn't realize that it was a real orchestra in flesh and blood and supposed that it was some professional orchestra coming over the telephone. This is a very fine compliment to the players.

The members are: Violinists, Ernest Race, Frances Cousins, Aileen Housinger, Gerald Teskha, Charles Strantz and Dorothy Meisner.

Clarinets, Mae Elkington, Catherine Dugud and Juanita Elkington.

Alto, Russell Knight and Roland Morris.

MR. KNAEP TALKS TO SENIOR REVIEW STUDENTS

Monday morning Mr. Knapp enlightened the Senior Review class regarding the purpose of the course.

He pointed out that there are two reasons for taking it, the first for college preparation, and the second for high school credit. Those who are not taking it for either reason may drop it, under certain conditions.

If those wishing to drop it, will bring a signed statement from their parents, saying they will not ask the principal for a recommendation when entering college they will be excused from the subject.

This does not mean that they can't enter college. It means that in order to do so they will be required to take entrance examinations.

SENIOR MAGAZINE

This year the senior class will publish a "Senior Magazine" in place of the customary "Annual".

It has not been definitely decided as to what pictures, etc. will be published but there will probably be the usual pictures of the faculty, four upper classes of the high school, athletic and others. The magazine will also contain articles and jokes.

Senior Girls To Canvas Town

Northville has been divided into four sections for the purpose of canvassing for the D. E. Yerkes Lumber company. A certain number of girls of the senior class will be put in each section. They will visit each home and ask for information that will take only a few minutes to give. The girls will greatly appreciate the cooperation of the townspeople in answering their questions.

LOCAL MERCHANDISE REPORT LARGER SEED SALES

Local merchants report that more flower and garden seeds are being sold this year than for several years past. Early spring and scarcity of water is said to be responsible for this condition.

While seeds for vegetable gardens are far in the lead as far as sales go, flower seed purchases are ahead of last year. Radishes, peppers, carrots and lettuce seem to be the favorites.

Along with increased seed sales there has been some advance in the sale of garden making implements and, according to the merchants, it is expected that there will be an increase in the sale of plant foods and fertilizers later.

Northville stores ordinarily sell about $800 worth of seeds a year for small gardens.

Mr. Mercer, in Lyke's Hardware, said that according to his observations there were many back yards and vacant lots being converted into gardens this spring that otherwise were weed patches.

In some of the stores it has been necessary to replenish the seed stock already, due to this unusual demand.

FORD RELIABILITY

Long, hard use shows the value of good materials and simplicity of design

EVERYWHERE you go you hear reports of the good performance and reliability of the Ford.

One owner writes—"The Ford Tudor Sedan I am driving has covered 59,300 miles through all kinds of weather. It is still giving perfect satisfaction."

Another owner describes a trip of 3217 miles in 95 hours over bad roads and through heavy rain and sleet in the mountains. "Throughout the entire trip," he writes, "the Ford performed excellently and no mechanical trouble of any kind was experienced. The shatter-proof glass undoubtedly saved us from serious injury when a prairie chicken struck the windshield while we were traveling at 65 miles an hour."

See the nearest dealer and have him give you a demonstration ride in the Ford. Then, from your own personal experience, you will know that it brings you everything you want or need in a motor car at an unusually low price.

LOW FORD PRICES $430 to $630

(F. o. b. Detroit, plus freight and delivery. Bumpers and spare tire extra at low cost. You can buy a Ford for a small down payment, on economical monthly terms, through the Authorized Ford Finance Plans of the Universal Credit Company.)

150 PEOPLE ENJOY CHURCH NIGHT AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH

Despite a day of heavy rain there was a large turnout to the Baptist church night which began promptly at 7:30 Tuesday evening.
A fellowship supper at 6:30 had made for friendship and a larger understanding of the task of the church.
The meeting began by hearty congregational singing and prayer led by two visiting pastors, Rev. Mr. Harvey of the Congregational church at Highland and Rev. Mr. Thompson, pastor of the Baptist church at Novi.
The preacher of the evening was Rev. E. W. Palmer, pastor of the Baptist church at Farmington.
In response to the preacher's invitation one young man came forward to express his faith in Christ.

MOTHERS' DAUGHTERS TO BANQUET TOGETHER

For the seventh consecutive year a Mothers' and Daughters' banquet will be given by the Presbyterian church on the evening of Thursday, May 7, in the church house dining room.
The mothers and daughters who initiated this pretty custom of honoring their mothers at this season of Mother's day, years ago, before the Nelle Yerkes Auxiliary was in existence one of the young women of the Guild suggested that the girls turn the tables and banquet their mothers.
Each year the program is more completely worked out and this year promises to be better than ever. Details will be announced later.

Here may be found an exact replica of Independence hall, Philadelphia. The first laboratory where Edison labored to bring light to the world has been brought here, restored to its original state. Whole buildings of interest, have been torn down and brought here, at great pains and rebuilt as before, by this collector of antiques. Within a few hours the visitor to this place may see as much as years of travel would afford. Many have wished to visit this place of great interest but according to the rules none may be admitted except in pre-arranged parties. Therefore it is with gratification that the people of Northville will be able to see behind the scenes. Full particulars will be published next week. In the meantime a cordial invitation is extended to any who wish to take advantage of this chance to see this remarkable village conducted by guides. A charge of 50 cents will be made for joining this touring party.

In The Springtime

If you think we deal only in money, you'll most likely ask, "What business have we with Spring?" But you're wrong if you do — for, in truth, we have a lot to do with Love and Romance. Young men are saving with us so that they can get married — young girls, wives-to-be, are saving for a hope chest — married folks are saving for a home. We have lots to do with Love and Romance and boast being one of the greatest allies of Dan Cupid, because we show lovers, young and old, the way to financial happiness.

HOMEMAKER'S CORNER

By MRS. EDITOR

MUSIC IN THE HOME

A number of Northville women are "invoking the muse", that is, scratching their heads for an idea of special interest to us women. Several of these ideas are being and will appear in due time. Some real treats are in store for us. These discussions do not pretend to be literary productions—that isn't what we want for daily fare. Remember, women readers, if you have an idea of "any kind worth passing on the rest of us" want it.

We heard the following discussion of the importance of giving our families the right music—as we do tonight—read by one of our fellow townswomen, Mrs. M. J. Koidyke and up we marched and boldly asked, "if we might have it for our woman's corner. So here it is:

"Music is the most expressive harmonizer of family existence. Nothing so relieves and expresses our various emotions as a burst of song. But music goes deeper than this; it brings us thoughts, feelings, and many elusive beauties and harmonies we would never understand through other mediums. The greatest inspiration of all life has sprung from the effect of beautiful music on human souls.

It is imperative that fathers and mothers the pilots of the ship called home be made sure that the waves wash up only the best for young minds. With the radio this is ridiculously easy. Music is practically forced upon us, all kinds, good and indifferent. It is up to us. We have only to turn the dial. It is foolish to expect the child to enjoy listening to good music knowing nothing of what it is, all about. Schools are helping libraries have much valuable information and the daily papers containing the programs, give descriptions of music. If this is explained to the little ones a story form will be surprised at their interest in the best music.

"You can judge one's character by the kind of music he likes. Let us share them for the best the world has to offer. It is near-primordial not to keep our musical minds alert for the kind of music that makes for a fuller and happier life. If through study and opportunities to hear the best we develop in our children a more intelligent appreciation of good music the desire for it will naturally follow—and we can feel that we have done our job well."

Note: Mrs. Editor wishes some fellow mother of teen-age youth would feel inspired to comment in our next issue on the rock of disaster in many a modern household, viz the regulation of the tuning-in on the radio. Does "music have charms to soothe the savage breast" or does it raise a row in the family because Bud glances in blarney jazz which jars on the nerves of the older members? Should mother suffer in silence? All Bud passes the savage stage and is fed up on this jargon or should she insist on the best in the same spirit that she crams spinach into his diet? Speak up, some mother!

The opening baseball game of the season will be on the West Point Park diamond between the Tool Shop team of Detroit and West Point Park's team on April 19, at three o'clock. They invite everyone to come and see a good game.

Robert Hunter and George Middlewood have returned from their trip to Washington, D. C. and other places. They will graduate from Farmington high school in June.

The Mother and Daughter banquet date is chosen for the fifteenth of May. The fathers and sons have charge of the banquet for that evening.

The sale, supper and games held in community hall Saturday were well attended. An enjoyable afternoon and evening was experienced by everyone who attended. A rug was sold through tickets and Mrs. Earl Wolfe was the fortunate one. Maurice Wolfe drew the cake. The card games were enjoyed by those present. Proceeds went to pay on the community church.

The Senior Bible class met Tuesday at the home of Lloyd Gulien. Election of officers and other business was transacted.

Perri Aldi, Jean Addis and Viola Wolfe accompanied Miss Edwards, the teacher in Pierson school to her home in Detroit Thursday, returning Friday morning. They all report a lovely time.

The community spirit was started up in this district Friday, it being the township contest of the News spelling bee in the community house. For two hours and a half three girls, Lucile Warner from Elstol school, Ruth Schmidt from Newburg school and Evelyn Haas from Fischer school who was the victorious one, winning on the word "accustomed". Mr. Johnson of Uterson high school pronounced the words. The judges were Joseph Koland and teacher of Stark school, Mr. Schoefeld from Fischer school, Miss Ruth Elden of Briggs school, Miss Sadie Claben and Mrs. Keeler from Redford school. There were three champions from schools who came foot late to enter the contest.

The one act play given by Pierson high school Friday evening was a decided success in every way, each one doing their part well for amateurs. The three plays in one, was acted out in a very pleasing manner and was appreciated by the large audience who applauded again and again. Mr. Johnson, our high school superintendent, introduced acting and public speaking in West Point Park. It has made a marked change in the attitude and bearing of the boys and girls under his care.

"THE LIGHTNING FLYER"

Thrills, thrills and then more thrills! "The Lightning Flyer," the Columbia picture which shows at the Penniman Allen theatre Wednesday, April 29, is an action picture from start to finish. It gets off at high speed and moves steadily towards a climax with a tremendous punch in it. Based upon a typically American theme—railroad knows and loves.

The story centers about Jimmie Neilson, son of a railroad president, who prefers night life to learning his dad's business. Turned out by his irate father, Jimmie gets a job in the C. G. & F. engine yards. He wins the affections of the yardmaster's daughter and their innocently enough, becomes involved in a horrible tragedy in which his best friend is killed. Jimmie, by his presence of mind, prevents a terrific train wreck.

James Hall, in the role of Jimmie, portrays the kind of wild youth that everybody sympathizes with. Dorothy Sebastian is a charming heroine who deserves special mention are Robert Homans, Walter Merrill, and Ethan Allen.

Director William Nigh has made a melodramatic and, at the same time, human story.

"A CONNECTICUT YANKEE"

More than 3,000 players have parts in the Fox production of "A Connecticut Yankee" starring William Rogers. Rogers, of course, has the role of "Hank," a Connecticut radio store proprietor, and "Sir Boss," when he becomes the Prime Minister of King Arthur's realm.

The story of "A Connecticut Yankee" deals with the modernization of King Arthur's Court by "Hank," the knights armed with machine guns, and his battle in Babo Austin, and dozens of other amusing innovations are seen as the plot unfolds.

Maureen O'Sullivan is "Alisande," the beautiful daughter of King Arthur. Frank Albertson is "Clarence," the page boy who dared to love Alisande, and whose suit is fostered by the omnipotent "Sir Boss" with such success.

The exotic Myrna Loy is "Queen Morgarr Le Fay," the wicked sister of King Arthur who imprisons "Alisande" in her castle, and William Fairbank, the great star of the silent screen, stages a sensational comeback in his second talkie picture as "King Arthur." Mitchell Harris is "Sagramor" and Brandon Hurst is the evil court magician, "Merlin," who almost accomplishes Rogers' undoing.

David Butler, who has such previous successes as "Sunny Side Up," "High Society Blues" and "Just Imagine"—to his credit, directed "A Connecticut Yankee."

Then hide it not, the music of thy soul. Dear sympathy expend with kindly voice. But let it like a shining river fall, to deserts dry, to hearts that would rejoice. Oh, let the symphony of kindly words sound for the poor and friendless and the weak. And He will bless you. He who struck the cords, will strike another when in turn you seek. Cast thy bread upon the waters and it shall return unto thee after many days. 'Tis only the great hearted who can be the true friends. The merciful, the cowardly can never know what true friendship means. Kingsley.

BAND GIVES FINAL WINTER PROGRAM

Northville's remarkable community band rose to new heights of achievement when it appeared last Friday evening at the Presbyterian church house for its final concert of the season, before the opening of the summer schedule. The entertainment was worthy of a packed house, instead of the small audience that was delighted by the program.

From the opening march, "Argandab" to the final selection, "Campus Memories," the program showed balance and great musical range. The thirty musicians showed an enthusiasm and musical appreciation that was reflected in their stirring numbers. Much additional charm was given to the evening's enjoyment by the appearance of Mrs. Harry Blake in violin numbers. She was enthusiastically applauded and responded to encores.

The appearance of the wood wind ensemble was one of the high spots of the program. The younger musicians in these numbers can certainly be proud of their work. Then the Fantasia, "Echoes of Scotland," arranged by E. Head, got hold of the emotions of the audience in a very real way.

The members of the band appeared in their white uniforms making a very beautiful sight. E. Head, the director of the band, called to his aid in leading the group two members of the band who also were very successful in drawing out splendid music from the young folks.

Director Head and Manager F. W. Lyke have one of the finest school and community bands of the entire state and Northville can well be proud of this remarkable group.

COVETED POSITION AWARDED WM. ELY

William A. Ely, Northville township supervisor, chairman of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors in 1927, has been appointed to the board's most important delegation—the ways and means committee. It was announced last week George B. Yerkes of Northville was placed on the County Library Board to succeed Bryant Walker.

In commenting upon his appointment, Mr. Ely declared that he was well pleased with his appointment and stated that he believed Mr. Walker will be an excellent chairman for the board.

"I have known Mr. Walker for many years," said Mr. Ely, "and Mrs. Walker, formerly Etelwyn Johnson of Northville, and I were very good friends years ago when she lived here in Northville. Mr. Walker is in every way a competent man and it is likely that the board will work harmoniously under him."

The only reason that the county supervisors attempted to elect Clyde Ford, mayor of Dearborn, as chairman was that it has been some years since we have had a chairman from our number and we thought that it was time that we had one.

"Both men are efficient and well liked and either of them is extremely capable of holding down the office of chairman. We expect to work with Mr. Walker and cooperate with him in every way."

The ways and means committee takes care of the financial interests of the board and passes on all of the bills. The members meet the last Thursday of each month and the first meeting will be held April 30.

Phoenicians Not Above "Soaking" the Gulf

Faking air works so as to make a cheap article appear rare and valuable is an old, old trade and was practiced by Phoenician traders to fool their Etruscan customers in Italy, more than 2500 years ago.

A vase which is now recognized as one of these ancient art treasures, was dug up recently in Italy, and for a time it has perplexed archaeologists at the Museum of the University of Pennsylvania. But the mystery now is solved.

The vase bears symbols which are apparently Egyptian hieroglyphics. But Egyptologists pronounced the markings meaningless. It appears that the Egyptians were famous as glass makers and workers in ceramics at the time this vase was made, about 700 B. C., and Egyptian ware was in demand among connoisseurs in Italy. Some Phoenician traders who sold such articles overseas, made cheaper vessels and covered them with designs and hieroglyphics to look like Egyptian, and so cheated the Etruscans—Kansas City Star's Science Service.
