

CARS DERAILED
AS TWO TRAINS
COLLIDE HERECrews Escape Injury In Crash on Sunday Morning

A rear-end collision between two south-bound freight trains Sunday morning at 6:35 between the Nine Mile road and the Base line road caused the derailling of five cars, three of which were totally destroyed. The engine crew of the second section was forced to jump from the train to save their lives, and the brakeman on the caboose of the first freight train was also forced to jump.

The second freight, consisting of 88 cars, was following the first south-bound section which consisted of 91 cars. The first section had stopped near the Nine Mile road so as to allow a north-bound train to enter the clearing switch at the Seven Mile road.

The second south-bound freight was proceeding slowly but because of the enormous weight of the 88 cars traveling down a slight grade, was unable to keep from hitting the first south-bound section. The north-bound train was not involved in the accident.

THORNTONS SEE WRECK

"For the first time in my life I saw a railroad wreck outside of a movie," said Charles Thornton, of the Nine Mile road, who had the unique experience of witnessing the crash Sunday about half a mile from his home.

Mr. Thornton was up before six o'clock and noticed that one train had stopped a little before 6:30 he heard the whistle of the other freight coming from the north. "I had heard that whistle before," said Mr. Thornton, "and knew that something was going to happen."

He called to Mrs. Thornton, who had not yet risen, and said, "Hurry, if you want to see a train wreck."

Sure enough, the crash came. "The noise was not as much as I expected to hear," related Mr. Thornton, "but it was a thrilling sight anyway, and we were greatly relieved to know what no one was hurt."

The locomotive was partially derailed, the pony trucks being thrown clear of the tracks and the drivers were destroyed. The caboose of the first freight was smashed under the car immediately preceding it and a ditch digger was derailed on its side.

Workmen for the railroad were busy during the first part of the week removing the wreckage and returning the freight cars to the tracks.

Charles Thornton, whose residence is located close to the scene of the accident, immediately telephoned Chief Wm. Safford who came to the scene of the accident within five minutes after it happened.

ROTARIANS ATTEND
DISTRICT CONFERENCE

A Northville delegation consisting of Don Yerkes, Sr., Edward Langheld, Father Jos G. Schuler, Edward Lapham, Ernest Miller, Edward Mills, John McCully, Harry Clark, Elton R. Eaton, and Charles Thornton was present at the 23rd annual district convention of Rotarians held Monday and Tuesday at Flint.

The convention was attended by a large number of members from Canadian Rotary clubs as part of Ontario belongs to the district along with Northville and other towns of lower Michigan.

Father Schuler, president-elect who will take office as head of the local Rotary club on July 1, succeeding Mr. Eaton, was the voting delegate of the party.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson C. Schrader

Surprised Saturday Evening on Their 25th Wedding Anniversary

Honoring the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson C. Schrader, Miss Beva Schrader and her brother, Junior, planned a surprise for them last Saturday evening at their home on West Main street. Twenty intimate friends, among them old-time acquaintances, were invited to celebrate this happy event. So skillfully was the affair planned that when Mr. and Mrs. Schrader returned to their home at dinner time they found the house full of these friends.

A buffet supper was served from a charming table centered with a large silver glass ball surrounded by green foliage and tall white tapered tied with silver tulle.

Following supper bridge occupied the evening merrily when Dr. Paul R. Alexander won first prize for men and Dayton Bunli second. Ladies' prizes were won by Mrs. Scott Lovewell and Mrs. Paul Alexander. The prizes were in silver.

Mr. and Mrs. Schrader were heartily congratulated by their friends on the twenty-five years of "wedded bliss" which they have passed. It will be recalled that Mrs. Schrader was Miss Jerusha Simpson, better known as "Jerry" by early friends, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Simpson who were old residents of Plymouth. Miss

NORTHVILLE SENIOR GIRLS'
GLEE CLUB TAKES FIRST
PLACE IN DISTRICT MEETHigh School Group, Directed by Leslie G. Lee,
Will Compete in State Finals in Lansing In May

Competing for the first time in the State Glee Club contest, the Senior Girls' Glee Club of the Northville high school brought high honors here by winning first place in the preliminaries of this district held in Pease Auditorium at Ypsilanti on Friday, April 29.

The song which was sung, carrying the girls to victory was "Lift Thine Eyes" by Mendelssohn. The Northville girls were also the only ones to sing unaccompanied, which, according to Leslie G. Lee, director, who was in charge, added glory to the victory.

Mr. Lee went on to say that some of the groups competing were considerably larger than the local group which has 17 members. "At first," said Mr. Lee, "the girls were somewhat discouraged when they heard some of the other clubs perform, but gradually gained confidence as the contest progressed and by the time their turn came they were perfectly at ease."

"Now that the girls have taken first in the district competition they will be sent to Lansing for the finals on May 8 and 9."

The glee club contest was sponsored by the State Board of Education. For purposes of organization, the state is divided into six districts, and in each district the schools are graded to size, the graduations being A class, B class and C class. Northville is in the sixth district, and is one of the C class groups. First the preliminaries are run off in the districts, and then the winners and runners-up in each class go to Lansing for the final competition. Three judges preside in the districts to choose the winners.

Besides Mr. Lee the other members of the school staff to go to Ypsilanti were Mrs. Ray and Superintendent T. J. Knapp.

The townspeople attending were Mrs. Turnbull, Mrs. Clark, Lillian Cassie, Roy Clark and Richard Shipley.

All Northville is very proud of this splendid achievement by our high school.

METHODIST MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS WILL BANQUET TUESDAY

One of the pleasant occasions of the year at the Methodist church will be the annual mothers and daughters banquet to be held in the church house on the evening of Tuesday, May 5. Last year there were 200 mothers and daughters present and it is hoped that this year even more will enjoy a chance to have a happy time together.

At the season of Mother's Day a deeper appreciation of the close tie between mother and daughter is emphasized and it is certain that with the splendid program planned for this event this tie will be strengthened.

The banquet itself will be in charge of Mrs. Jas. Lapham which insures a fine menu. The toastmistress for the occasion will be Mrs. Gladys Ballard and the speaker will be Mrs. John Martin, wife of the district superintendent, of Ann Arbor. Other features of interest will also be on the program.

The price per plate will be 75 cents. For further particulars please phone either Mrs. Wm. Richards or Mrs. Bertha Neal.

ROYAL ANN LIMERICK

Limericks are competing with crossword puzzles for a place in the sun today. Frederick A. Fry, general proprietor of the Royal Ann cafe has placed an unfinished limerick in this week's issue of The Record and the person supplying the best last line to it will be rewarded with two regular dinners free. Second prize will be a regular dinner free and the third prize will be a sandwich with coffee, tea or milk. Answers are to be handed in or mailed to the Cafe. All limerick fans are hereby invited to put on their "thinking caps" and go to work.

Simpson was married to Nelson C. Schrader at Redford and their first two years of married life were spent in Plymouth.

In his youth Mr. Schrader was nicknamed on the "Dinky line" which ran between Wayne and Northville. Marvelous are the tales he tells of the days when he was "champion wood cutter and thresher" in a wide territory in these parts when he was a boy.

Since 1908 Mr. and Mrs. Schrader have made Northville their home where they have a wide circle of friends who wish them continued years of contentment together.

They were presented with several lovely silver articles as tokens of the love of their friends. A silver water pitcher was a gift from their daughter and son.

On Sunday a joint celebration of this event and the birthday of their son, Junior, which occurred Monday, was participated in by a small company at the Schrader home. The table was festive with white tapers and foliage of green and a delightful menu was served. Those enjoying this hospitality were Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Cavell, son Ted and daughter Marilyn, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Eaton and Miss Ruth Mary Baldwin.

ALBERT EBERSOLE
SINKS WELL TWICE
IN PAST 4 YEARS

After having lowered his well twice in the past four years, Albert Ebersole, well known farmer living southeast of Northville, thinks that the drought we have had for the past nine months, really began four years ago.

In 1927 Mr. Ebersole found that the water in his well was getting low and he had it dug seven feet deeper. This spring he had difficulty in pumping water, with only a two foot level at the bottom, and put the well down another ten feet. Now he has twelve feet of water from which to draw.

Reports of lowered well levels are common throughout the lower peninsula. During the past winter some farmers have even had to draw water from their stock.

WITH POLICE AS HIS
GUIDE, JOE BLAKE
IS ROBBED IN CITY

When Joseph Blake was in Detroit Monday he was in the company of several police officers of the Detroit police force who are friends of his. He spent the day with them and Tuesday morning when he reached in his pocket for his wallet, it came as a distinct surprise to him to know some pocket had been lifted.

The wallet contained approximately $25.00, Joe said, and whoever did it did a good job because I didn't know anything about it until the next morning.

"And," said Joe mournfully, "here I was 'safe' under the protection of the police all day."

LOCAL COUPLE
HELD UP ON
RIDGE ROADStephen Bubalos and Miss Denvers are Victims

While returning from a recent Thursday night, April 23, at 10:45 p. m., Stephen Bubalos, Northville barber, and Virginia Denvers, waitress, were held up and robbed by two men on Ridge road about one and a half miles east of Northville.

Mr. Bubalos lost a two dollar gold piece, about five dollars in bills, and a watch chain. The thugs took nothing from Miss Denvers.

"I wasn't a bit afraid," said Miss Denvers, "because I could see that, in spite of the fact that they had saved off shot guns, they were only youngsters. One of them wore smoked glasses, had his hat jammed down tight on his head, and his coat collar turned up but I could see enough of his face to be sure that he wasn't more than 21 or 22 years old. The other one was about five feet, seven inches tall and wore a light cap and a grey coat."

According to Miss Denvers, the bandits followed them down the Ridge road; forced them into a ditch and then made them get out of the car.

After relieving Mr. Bubalos of his money and watch chain, they made him turn his car around and in the process the car became stuck in the opposite ditch. The bandits then obviously attempted to push the Bubalos car out with their own but were unable to do so. In consideration of the fact that the Northville pair were some distance from town, the youthful hold-up men decided to take them to the corner of the Plymouth road and the Seven Mile road which they did.

The license number of the bandits' car was obtained and it was found that the car belonged to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kinney, 15044 Greyfield avenue, Detroit. Questioning by Detroit police brought out the fact that the car had been reported stolen from Mr. Kinney's son who declared that he had been out riding with a girl and another couple.

The car, the younger Kinney said, (Continued on last page)

BUDGET OF $56,000 FOR VILLAGE OF NORTHVILLE
ADOPTED BY COMMISSIONUnanimous Action Is Taken at Special Meeting of the Council Monday Evening,
April 27

Northville's budget for 1931, which calls for a $3,000 reduction over last year's budget, has been approved and passed by members of the village commission and the president.

The budget this year plans for the expenditure of $56,000 as compared with the expenditure of $59,000 last year. Budgets for the past few years have run as high as $72,000, and $69,000. The present budget has not been as low as it is for quite a few years, officials say.

Reductions in salaries of village officials, the light expenses, water expenses, highway fund, and the miscellaneous fund has resulted in the highly acceptable $3,000 cut.

ALL INVITED TO SEE THE FORD VILLAGE

Great interest is being shown in the anticipated tour of Henry Ford's unique village which is being planned by the Kings Daughters of Northville on the afternoon of Tuesday, May 12. The present plan is for all who wish to take advantage of this opportunity to see "Greenfield Village" to meet at the village hall at 11:30 a. m. when autos will be provided for transport to Dearborn. It will be recalled that the only change given to individuals to see this place is with parties pre-arranged. Guides will be provided and it will be well worth the effort made.

It will be like turning back the pages of time and seeing exactly how folks lived in the early days of American history. Old buildings are standing there just as they stood generations ago and within them one can see all the accustomed furnishings which show how our forefathers lived.

Here stands an old railway station with the very first locomotive made to run by steam, here is the old-time post office and there the little photographic gallery where tin-types are still taken. It is said that many of the Northville Kings Daughters are planning to bring home tin types of their present likenesses.

Unforgettable relics of great interest to lovers of romance and history will be seen in this place where Henry Ford realized his great hobby in assembling antiques.

Mrs. L. C. Stewart has charge of the sale of tickets, 50 cents, and the members of the organization are eager to sell as many as possible. Everyone, whether a member or not, is welcome to take this trip. Anyone is missed in the solicitation for the sale of tickets he may call Mrs. L. C. Stewart (phone 325) and she will see that a ticket is provided.

PRESBYTERIANS PLAN
MOTHER-DAUGHTER
BANQUET FOR MAY 4

Over ninety reservations have already been made for the Mothers and Daughters' banquet at the Presbyterian church which is always one of the most attractive events of the year. The banquet will occur on Monday evening, May 4, instead of May 7 as announced in our previous issue.

This will be the seventh year that the mothers and daughters of the Presbyterian church have sat down in this pleasant social way together. Not limiting the pleasure of attending to members of their own denomination the invitation is extended to all mothers and daughters who wish to join in participating. A program that is distinctly different from previous years will come as a pleasant surprise to the party. Those participating will be Mrs. Nellie Yerkes, Mrs. Elizabeth Chapman, Mrs. Catherine Johnston, Mrs. Genevieve Vogtin, Mrs. Grace Dusenbury and Miss Frances Alexander.

Reservations may be made at Ponsford's store. The price per plate is 75 cents.

CHAS. SHEPPARD IMPROVES

Chas. Sheppard, who is at the University hospital, Ann Arbor, is reported to be improving rapidly and will be brought home in a few weeks. Charles has been ill with a streptococcus throat and last week was considered to be in a very critical condition.

HAMILTON AIDS
IN RESCINDING
COVERT ROADSNovi Supervisor Leads In Oakland-Board's Action

Oakland county supervisors last week voted to rescind the board's former approval of all projected Covert road building in the county for which bonds have not been sold.

Supervisor Chas. W. Hamilton of Novi township, in his fourth term, introduced the resolution to this effect which was adopted by the board. Mr. Hamilton, a vigorous opponent of the Covert law, is chairman of the road committee of the board and had a large influence in this action taken. The Novi supervisors feels that the Covert law works a great injustice on the property owner who has to bear half the cost of new roads under provisions of this law.

Action of the board stops new construction for the present.

OPPOSES LAW

Superior Hamilton said to The Record in failing of the action of the Oakland county supervisors. "Even though it would rob me of part of my political platform, I should like to see the Covert road law repealed as I believe it is unjust to the property owners. If necessary to raise more road funds, should possibly favor raising the gas tax to four cents. This is the most equitable way pay. The people who use the roads help pay for them. That certainly is fair."

Approval was rescinded of 14 roads which were awaiting construction under the Covert road act and which had been petitioned and at some previous time given for local approval. Leon V. Belknap, engineer-manager for the County Road Commission, estimated that the cost of the road work affected by this action would be $2,577,000, based on present day figures.

The resolution of the supervisors rescinding the road authorizations was accompanied by a letter signed by all road commissioners approving and recommending the action.

Road officials stated that because of current economic conditions work had been stopped on all roads some time ago and none had been contemplated until some definite instructions had been received from the supervisors.

The roads removed from the construction program are: Laverne, Auburn to West Rochester Shawassaw in City of Farmington; Sunset boulevard; David road, in Waterford Township; Eleven Mile road west, Lasher to Orchard Lake road; Eleven Mile road west, Lasher to Southfield road; Stephenson super-highway; Clarkson road, Dixie to Clarkson; Lathrop road, South Lyon road to Grand River; Franklin road, Pontiac limits to Telegraph; Garland avenue in Silver Lake village; Scott Lake road; West Commerce road Commerce to Wyand road; Orchard Lake road east side of lake.

The resolution by a blanket clause revokes approval of any other roads proposed which were not specifically listed.

Frederick J. Moffitt, Trainer,
Says Dogs Have the Same Kind of Temperaments as Human Beings

Many dog lovers would gladly take the job of Frederick J. Moffitt in exchange for their humdrum office position or city-bound task. For Moffitt has the enviable job of training dogs.

"The ultimate test of a bird dog is to take him into the field trials and run him. This brings out all of the qualities of a dog. To win, or even place, he must have speed, endurance and intelligence. The judges give points on the range of ground covered, the speed with which a dog moves, the style with which he handles himself and points, and the number of birds the dog can find."

"Now there's Ferguson's Connie Mack. Started four times and won two firsts and two seconds. There's Leggett's Cuckoo Baw Billy. He won first in the All Age State trials in Ohio a few weeks ago. Over in that kennel is as fine a hunting dog as you'll ever want to see. Placed seven times—four firsts and three second place prizes. That's Peggy P."

"Just before fall when the department of conservation announces the opening of the season I take all these dogs out into the field, run them and harden them up so that when their owners come to get them they're in first class condition for a good season of hunting."

"They're a pack of good prize dogs and while it takes a lot of work to keep them in condition and to train them, it's worth all the trouble when you see one of these long legged, raw boned pups grow into maturity, enter into the field trials, and then come to a beautiful point before covey after covey of birds. To a hunter, no picture has more charm than that of a bird dog, nose in the air, eyes half closed, tail out straight, one foreleg bent, pointing at a covey of birds. It's a silhouette that isn't soon forgotten."

"Some of them are pretty bad but I treat a dog just as he treats me. If he gets mean tempered then it is up to me to show him that I am the master and that he is the pupil and must

Training School Has State Dairy Queen

At the Wayne County Training school living contentedly within two miles of Northville is the prize dairy queen of Michigan.

She is Ionia Aaggie Pauline, a junior four year old Holstein cow which has broken all state records for milk production in her class.

Although Ionia Aaggie Pauline reigns supreme among the bovine royalty of Michigan, our readers will be surprised to know that she was originally purchased for the modest sum of $125.00.

"Full credit," says Dr. Robert H. Haskell, superintendent of the training school, "for the record of Ionia Aaggie Pauline goes to Joe Cook, our herdsman, who was responsible for her breeding at the Ionia State hospital in the first place, later purchased her for us at the price of $125.00 and now has developed her into this wonderful cow, only yet at the beginning of her ultimate records."

"This champion cow," says James G. Hays of East Lansing, secretary of the Michigan Holstein Breeders' association, "tops the list by reason of her producing in the past twelve months 29,425.3 pounds of milk, rising to a new point of distinction."

This new record is 481 pounds greater than the previous record in this class of 28,944 pounds of milk made by the cow, Fayne Aaggie Hengerveld Pontiac 465936, in February, 1922.

This record has been made under the official rules of the National Holstein Friesian association and supervised throughout the year by official testers from the Department of Advanced Registry Testing at the Michigan State College, East Lansing.

"Such a record," says Mr. Hays, "is no accident. It is the combination of good breeding plus good care." In the year preceding this record this same cow as a junior three-year-old produced 22,149 pounds of milk; so, with less than two months dry period between these two lactation periods this new champion has produced in the last two years the stupendous amount of 51,574 pounds of milk—practically 26 tons of milk in two years.

Figures like these are strange to the ordinary man in the street and require other (Continued on last page)

"Believe it or not," the drys get a break in the great metropolitan papers who can and do "color" prohibition news for the wet side in very approved style.

Here it is—Last week's Detroit papers carried stories from Lansing to the effect that the use of liquor by the students at the university is decreasing and that conditions are "materially better than they were five years ago." These statements of conditions at Ann Arbor came from the special legislative committee that spent weeks investigating conditions at the University. It is encouraging to have this committee report: "Drinking is not a common practice among the students."

CHEERIO!

The dawn is breaking! Charles M. Schwab, great steel man, told the American Publishers association last week that "Ten golden years of prosperity are just ahead."

He predicted: "The next 10 years are going to see the rehabilitation and improvement of properties. Electrification will receive new impetus. Prices will become better stabilized. Home industries will gain. The automobile will reach new high levels. Advertising will make increased strides."

We believe Charles is pretty close to the truth—even in that part about advertising.

THE UNIVERSITY AND THE MILL TAX

The lower house of the legislature passes the bill to reduce the amount of mill tax for the University of Michigan and Michigan State college.

Up-state legislators seem extravagant and unfair in their claims that the university has gotten to be a "rich young man's school" and that a poor boy has no chance there any more. We don't believe that—we know too many middle-class young folks who go to Ann Arbor. Yet some of the "rich" surroundings at the university undoubtedly made votes for the cutting down of the university's tax, even though the university itself has little to do with bringing in some of this luxury.

Although the university is doing a great public service in its many departments, it does seem fair for the institution to take its share of the deflation along with everyone else. With the tax situation as serious as it is, it is only right to cut the corners everywhere and the university can hardly expect to be made an exception. The way to reduce budgets is to reduce them. Business men are on "half rations"; farmers can hardly pay their taxes; many home owners are in a sorry plight. Great as is the University of Michigan, it should take its loss along with everyone else. That seems right and fair.

GANDHI AND TAMMANY

At Detroit last Thursday evening we heard Dr. Frederic B. Fisher, Methodist preacher at Ann Arbor, talk for one solid hour and a half on Gandhi, the great statesman of India. Dr. Fisher, for 27 years a resident of India, called Gandhi not only the greatest statesman in the world but also its greatest politician. His talk was a marvelous description and interpretation of the "little man" (he weighs 94 pounds) who is idolized by the 320 millions of India and who brought the British empire to its knees with his policy of fasting, silence and refusal to take the sword or to let his followers take it.

Dr. Fisher, a personal friend of the great Indian (he was educated for the law in London and talks several languages—English perfectly), said that Gandhi lives on eleven cents a day and that although he could, by reason of his marvelous influence, have made millions, "not a penny ever stuck to his fingers." Ridiculed and hated by many, no man even spoke a whisper against the character of Gandhi. "Not a penny ever stuck to his fingers." We thought of Tammany and of some of our great American cities where corruption runs wild. Not pennies but millions stick to the fingers of some of the contemptible grafters.

If this great United States could raise up a Gandhi—even though he went around in "B. V. D.'s" and cotton coat—we might not be so afraid of the Al Capones and the Tammanys.

THE BUCKLEY TRIAL

The other day one of the Detroit daily newspapers ran on its front page a picture of three well-dressed Italian boys, looking as though they were being entertained in one of our best homes.

"They were the three men charged with the murder of Gerald Buckley."

A Detroit grand jury cost $50,000 to uncover part of the evidence that went into this trial of several weeks. Another $15,000, not to mention the cost of the judge and other officials, was spent for the trial.

The Detroit papers filled their pages to the point of nausea with detailed testimony of the trial. (Who read it all?) Then a jury of men and women after 33 hours of deliberation freed the trio. When the verdict was announced cheers broke out in the court room.

All of the above makes a fine picture for our Detroit civilization doesn't it?

A radio announcer and a public hero—who, from reports wasn't a hero at all but just another partner in "rackets"—is killed in a Detroit hotel and nobody can be found who killed him.

Thousands and thousands of dollars spent in vain to convict a trio of so-called gangsters.

Cheers for the prisoners when they are acquitted.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

How many homes will be built in and around Northville in 1931?

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

EASTERN TIME

By Jos. A. Sturgeon in the Detroit Reporter, Gladstone

The Upper Peninsula gets the short end of the legislation setting up Eastern Time as the official time for Michigan. Particularly in the western half of the state where the railroad and other services are run in from Wisconsin the inconvenience is easily to be understood. The eastern side of the peninsula is already divided and during the summer months most of the cities have adopted the fast time for one or more seasons, evidencing the demand that exists for the advance clocks. So that if the fast time were to be adopted generally during the winter months, this will be partly offset by the possible advantage during the other months, and doing away with the periodic changes.

Steps have been taken in the legislature to have the railroad place Michigan in the Eastern Time area so that railroad schedules would be changed. Time schedules would show Eastern Time throughout Michigan. The cities refusing to adopt the time would be inconvenienced by the need to explain their adherence to other time.

Most of the lower peninsula is expected to take rather kindly to the change. It will make possible a uniform time, something the state has never had, as Detroit and the cities in the eastern side of the state have used the Eastern time.

Michigan as a state is so spread out and divided that the adoption of a time schedule is a difficult problem. Some sections are bound to suffer, regardless of the time adopted. The accommodation of the largest number is the thing to be sought and this seems to be accomplished through the adoption of the change, which now seems assured. "Those inconvenience must feel that the sacrifice is made in this spirit."

BOTE ARE AT FAULT

(George R. Averill in Birmingham Eclectic)

Seldom do you find a boy or a girl grow into an adult state of moral being which is very far superior to the example set by his or her parents. There is nothing that has a stronger influence upon people than the human example. Take the present-day criticism of public officials—especially law enforcing agencies elected and supported by the people. Most of them manifest about as much respect for law and order as the ordinary citizens—which is probably why certain laws are so loosely enforced.

Speaking to an audience in Raleigh, North Carolina, Smedley D. Butler, frey U S Marine, stated "The people, themselves, are responsible for lack of law enforcement. There's not a police force in existence that can't clean up a town in a week when the mayor orders it, and the mayor will order it when the voters order him, and then see that their orders are carried out."

This applies, generally, to counties, states and municipalities. All the people of a given area have to do is to back up public officials in carrying out what the voters want. When citizens permit, or acquiesce, in conditions anywhere they have no right to complain. They are, as Gen. Butler says, "responsible."

THE BOY'S WATCH

(Schuyler Marshall in The Clinton County Republican)

The youngest member of the family was given an ancient watch by a friend. How he did strut! No greater compliment could be paid him than to be called a "watch dog." How much would you give to be a seven-year-old again? That ancient watch affords him more real pleasure and pride than will the most expensive thing a man in later life. Where in this world is there anything finer than a clear-eyed, healthy little lad who reflects his joys and his sorrows honestly and frankly—no deceit, no selfish arrangement of other acquired worldly traits which later make murky the refreshing transparency with which God endows childhood.

GREAT AND TEACHERS' SALARIES

(Emerson O. Gildart in The Utica Sentinel)

Our great cities, reduced to poverty by graft, must cut teachers' salaries to balance budgets. We cannot think of anything more dumb.

It is a pitiful commentary upon our vaunted democracy. There is this in extenuation, however, that the distribution of state primary funds, which go to help pay the teachers' salaries, will be less this year due to the slump in business. But that slump again was in a measure started going by the insupportable tariff tinkers. Their work turned out to be inspired by greedy capitalists—who jacked up the tariff and killed the goose that did her golden stuff. So it comes back to the same thing after all—graft.

What we need to do is to put the Bible back into the hands of those same teachers whose incomes we have trimmed, to teach our children that righteousness exalteth a nation.

Some of these "radio" broadcasting stations are at their best too, when they are off the air.

Women horse-shoe pitchers have the stakes set closer together, but if the stories about rolling-pin tossing are true there shouldn't be any necessity for this handicap. The stories may not be true, but no short courts have been provided for the Northville ladies.

Jobs I'd like to have—
Tester in a mattress factory
Admiral in the Swiss Navy
Elevator operator in the new Record office
Vice President of the Union Trust Co.
Fireman on an oil burner.
Nightwatchman in a girls' school.

We are reminded of the elderly lady who attended the funeral of an old friend with several old cronies. On the way back from the occasion the ladies were so happily occupied in talking over old times that when the dear old lady got home her answers to inquiries about the funeral was "I had an awfully good time."

In the early '90's an easterner was visiting a western ranch and upon noticing the fact of prosperity asked his host how they made a living. The host replied, "Do you see that man down there? Well I can't pay him anything so after he works two more years he will own the ranch, then I'll work for him a couple of years and have it back."

"You Should Worry"

Even though you do not own your own home, you have a considerable amount at stake in its contents. And probably more value than you realize until you make an inventory.

If they are badly damaged by fire, you will wish you had done your worrying beforehand to the extent of taking out adequate insurance.

Our business is wiping out worry.

Someone about 2000 years ago said, "If the character of the people be good, laws are unnecessary, but if the character of the people be bad, laws are unavailing." This was the great Greek statesman, Aristotle.

Northville has laws, but they are unnecessary.

I like to look toward the east at night. From Northville's hills so high. And see the Motor, Mecca's light In the clouds of an amber sky.

I know the hustle and bustle there In the city's crowded streets. I know the worry, I know the care And know of the many defeats.

I'd rather live in this quiet town. Where homes and families thrive. Than hope in vain for a golden crown In the sweat of the city's drive.

Tim leads a dog's life, mostly because he is a dog.

Tim is the watch dog in The Men's Shop, he watches his master, Orlow Owen.

To show how smart Tim is Orlow had him do a few tricks.

The pup can roll over, sit up, speak, walk on his front legs, and jump through his master's arms when the command is given.

Of course I didn't see him do all this, but Orlow explained that this was because the dog's hearing is poor and couldn't get all the commands. According to the best information Tim's mother was a Boston Bull and his father was a traveling salesman, probably a Fox terrier. Tim is pretty foxy anyway.

Orlow tells me that one time Tim got into an accounting book and learned so much that now he keeps all the customers accounts. If Tim doesn't bark a welcome when a customer comes in it is quite evident that the customer owes the store a bill. The dog has almost forgotten how to bark.

When Tim was asked what he thought was Northville's most pressing need he indicated that there should be more cats to chase.

We are amused when the big-shot city salesman comes to town.

Before he leaves we know how much he paid for his suit, his shoes, his hat. We are astonished that he should pay so much, but he explains that it is an investment for him, the same as the goods we should buy from him will be an investment that will pay us back in profits many times the original cost.

We also learn some new jokes from the big-shot, not that they bear repetition, but we hear them anyway.

Sometimes we are entertained with a little sales sight-of-hand, too, and we politely act mystified.

We know that the big-shot thinks we are a bunch of small-town saps that he can twist around his finger. We know what his higher-ups have told him in sales conferences, but it is impolite to disclose another's ignorance.

Furthermore, if the big-shot ever got wise to himself he wouldn't be nearly so entertaining.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

There were twelve schools represented in that particular contest at Ypsilanti and some of them were very, very good. It was just too much to hope that the judges would think Northville was the best. But they did.

Northville's schools are glad that the Glee Club brought so much honor on itself, on Mr. Lee and on Northville.

NORTHVILLE TO PLAY DEARBORN HERE TODAY

Northville will meet Dearborn today for the first home game of the season. It will be a good game. Northville was defeated by one point by Lincoln Park in the first game and Park is favored to win the league championship.

Alex Johnson, veteran pitcher, will be in the box. He tossed a one hit game at Lincoln Park.

The game will start at four o'clock and the boys hope for good support.

NORTHVILLE LOSES FIRST GAME

Northville lost the opening game of the season to Lincoln Park Friday by a score of two to one despite the fact that Alex Johnson pitched a one hit game. The Lincoln Park boys allowed Northville four hits but Johnson was the only player to cross home plate for a marker.

Lincoln Park, by reason of the four years' experience of their battery, is favored to win the league championship. Northville has not had as much practice as other teams in the league as yet but the ability of the boys to hit the ball bodes ill for teams that run up against Northville in the future. The diamond on which the game was played was covered with soft sod and numerous wheel tracks which made playing difficult.

SENIOR WHO'S WHO

Isabel Crosse was born in Detroit and attended the Pierson School near West Point Park during her freshman and sophomore years. Isabel came to Northville high in her junior year and has taken a commercial course. She plans to attend business college next year.

Lottie Damm was born in Waukegan, Michigan and has attended all four of her high school years at good old N. H. S. She has taken a commercial course and expects to continue that line of study at Cleary college, Ypsilanti.

Ivan Ely was born in Farmington and he also had all of his high school years at Northville. Ivan has been a member of the T. M. B. club and the "N" club. His junior year he was boys' athletic manager and this year he is senior representative for the student council. His senior year he was one of the football squad and has been quite active in sports. Ivan plans to attend the University of Indiana at Urbana and take up a course in business administration.

Esther Fischer was born in Detroit and attended N. H. S. her freshman year and Novi the sophomore year and then back again to Northville her junior year. She is also taking a commercial course and hopes to attend Ypsilanti to continue in that line of study.

Dorothy Gerge was also born in Detroit and her freshman and sophomore years were spent at the Pierson school near West Point Park, coming to N. H. S. her junior year. She was one of the cast for the Junior play, "Happiness For Six." She has taken a general and commercial course but plans to continue the commercial line at business college.

George Greenlee, one of our finest athletes, was born in Atlanta, Indiana and he also has had all his four years at N. H. S. He has been very much interested in sports, being one of the basketball squad for four years and captain of the team his fourth year. He also has made the football team and the track team for one year. This year he is chief of police of the student council. George is going to take up law at the University of Michigan. We'll grant George has very convincing ways.

NORTHVILLE AWAILS BASE-BALL SEASON

For the last few weeks coach Ray has been working hard with a large squad of candidates for the 1931 base-ball team. There is ample material in most places and the coming season is quite promising. The pitchers spent some time in the "mound" while it was still too cold for outside practice. Candidates and the position they are working for follow:

For pitcher: Johnson and Westfall. Johnson will probably do the greater part of the pitching, having tossed in most of the major games last season. The baseball season ends Johnson's competition in high school sports. He has been an all-around athlete during most of his years as an upper classman. Westfall is also a senior and is developing a nice wing.

For first base: Preston, Neil and Cavell. All three have had some experience though Cavell saw more action last season.

For second base: Ray Westfall, the only candidate for the position.

For shortstop: Dusenbury and Robinson. Dusenbury has had more experience at the position.

For third base: Berend and Bulmon. Berend, this year's captain, will probably be at third most of the time.

For catcher: Kohler, Meininger and Chrysler. Kohler saw the first team last year and will probably see the start of the league games this season.

For fielders: Lemmon, Tibble, Dickenson and Fry. All four should handle a glove in play before the season is over.

BOHEMIAN GLASS BLOWERS ENTERTAIN

Thursday afternoon an exhibition of glass blowing was given before the pupils of both the grade and high school of Northville. This novel entertainment was equally enjoyed by both representations.

Glass blowing is an ancient art and has existed in this particular family of glass blowers for many generations. An admission of ten cents was charged to cover the expense of bringing their apparatus, which consisted of many peculiar appearing instruments, here.

Among the articles molded were Christmas tree ornaments, cotton cloth made of glass thread, and a bird. A glass pen was given to each student attending and the remainder of the ornaments were presented to Mr. Knapp.

SOCIETY NEWS

Hester Keller was a Salem visitor over the week-end.

Charles Sheppard, a student of the Northville high school, is ill at Ann Arbor hospital, but is recovering rapidly.

Marvin Tibble was ill last week with the flu.

Helen Strachan spent Saturday afternoon in Detroit.

Demetra Mills was in Redford visiting friends Saturday afternoon.

Avis Perry has been absent from school for two weeks with scarlet fever.

CLASS PROJECTS

The long themes of the English literature classes are due May 13. The themes are to consist of one thousand words on subjects connected with English literature.

The seniors are taking a review of fundamental subjects. At present they are deeply engrossed in the subject of algebra. English and history will follow soon.

The twelfth grade girls are working on their graduation dresses. They must be done by June 5.

GRADE NOTES

Louise Alexander of Miss Eldon's room sold the most P. T. A. tickets for her room.

Patsy McLoughlin and Junior Van Atta of Miss McDonald's room have returned to school after being quarantined with scarlet fever.

Nancy McLoughlin of Miss Reinke's room has returned to school.

Keith Schaefele and Eva Lester are two new students in Miss Reinke's room.

Miss Reinke's room sold the most P. T. A. tickets. Pearl Willis has first honors.

Miss Jarvis pupils had a tea for their mothers last Wednesday but only eight mothers were present. The people of that room were very disappointed that such a small number of mothers turned out.

The following people of Miss Leonardson's room were neither absent nor tardy last month: Donald Butler, Eudora Eshart, Lane Elting, Herschel Hill, Karen King, Ralph Hay, Junior Shepard, Lulu Stahl, Royal Keller.

Grace Burton is a new pupil in Miss Babbitt's room.

Lakel Garet has been absent for a period of time with rheumatic fever. Miss Hawkins' room was fortunate to receive 25 new books from the Wayne County library.

June Latta is a new pupil in the 6th grade.

SENIOR BAKE SALE

What's the wind blown round town this time? Sure enough it's the odor of the senior bake sale. Of course everyone wants to come and patronize this.

We'll take it for granted that everyone knows how hard the seniors are working for their Washington trip and by buying something good to eat from them we'll be helping them and incidentally helping ourselves.

The fame of the senior "looks" is far spread from the last bake sale. Fame will be spread farther after this sale.

We know you can hardly wait for Saturday to come since you've just heard about what's happening soor. Skip down to Balden's meat market and buy some of your Sunday dinner.

Don't forget Senior Bake Sale, Saturday, at Balden's Meat Market.

Nation Christian Only

As it is understood

The assumption that the United States is a Protestant country is correct only in the sense that the great majority of its inhabitants belong to the Protestant religion. The Federal Constitution does not state that the United States is a Protestant nation, or even a Christian nation. Article VI says in part that "No religious test shall ever be required as a qualification to any office or public trust under the United States" and the First amendment says in part that "congress shall make no laws respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof." In a treaty signed with Tripoli, a Mohammedan country, in 1796, Article XI begins "As the government of the United States of America is not in any sense founded on the Christian religion." However, in a Supreme court decision rendered in 1892, it was declared incidentally by Justice Brewer who rendered the decision, that "This is a Christian nation." This, it should be remembered, was not the point at issue in the suit before the court.—Detroit News.

Comprehensive Map

A "Mercator map" is a map constructed on the principle of Mercator's projection. The meridians are drawn parallel to each other, and the parallels of latitude are straight lines, whose distance from each other increases with their distance from the equator, so that in all places the degrees of latitude and longitude have to each other the same ratio as on the sphere itself. This produces an apparent enlargement of the polar regions, which when translated into distance is approximately accurate.

Rewarded

The papers recently carried the story of a pair of negroes, one of whom was arrested on the charge of stealing water-melons. It seems that two ladies were concerned in the theft, so the prisoner was asked what had become of his companion.

"He done died from eatin' too much watermelon," the prisoner explained. Then he added:

"Yes, suh, he was favored by de Lord. Providence sometimes puts us in paradise afore we goes to heaven."

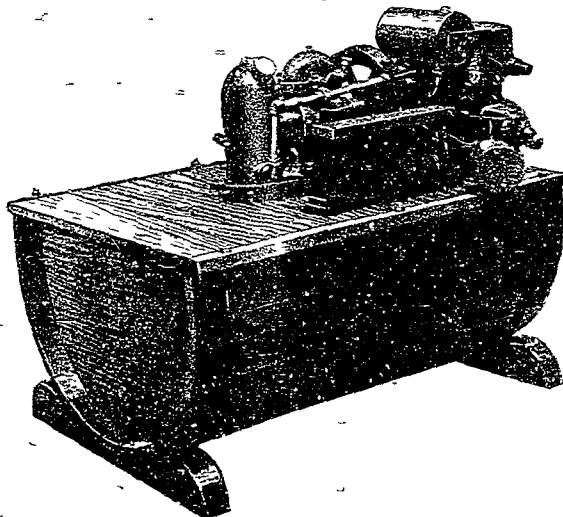

CAPTAIN CRIGER

COACH OLDS

Eugene Beatty, dusky sophomore hurdles ace of Michigan Normal College, Ypsilanti, Mich., looms as a strong candidate for the 1932 Olympic games at Los Angeles in the 400-meter hops. After a brilliant indoor season, he stepped out in the annual Penn-Relays at Philadelphia to win the event by a full ten yards ahead of his nearest rival, with Kenneth "Red" Simmons, another Huron, bringing up in fourth place. Lloyd W. Olds is in his eighth year as coach of the Green and White squad which is bent on regaining the Michigan Collegiate Conference crown in the titular meet at Ypsilanti May 23. Val Criger, middle distance star, is the captain.

Entertains Detroit Friends

Mrs. Margaret Yerkes was hostess to a group of twelve Detroit friends at the Meadowbrook golf club house last Tuesday afternoon. The dainty one o'clock luncheon was followed by bridge.

Blooms Are Hosts

Thirty-four young married people who are members of the Pass-Thru club, embracing quite an area in this community, met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bloom on Center street and enjoyed a pot-luck dinner before going to Ann Arbor Wednesday evening where they attended a dancing party at Harris Hall.

Bridge Luncheon at Meadowbrook

Last Tuesday afternoon five tables of Northville women joined with a large party from various places in this vicinity in a bridge luncheon served at Meadowbrook. The attraction of the event was a talk by Mrs. Bealman of Detroit who demonstrated to these bridge players the latest features of Contract bridge. The afternoon following the lesson was passed in playing bridge.

Mrs. D. B. Bunn Entertains

Mrs. Dayton B. Bunn very delightfully entertained the Thursday bridge club on the day previous to its usual meeting to accommodate some of its members at the Meadowbrook Golf club. Sweet peas and dainty place cards, later used as tally cards, made the tables attractive. First honors were won by Mrs. Don P. Yerkes, Jr., and second by Mrs. Dayton Bunn. Guests substituting at this event were Mrs. Ernest Miller and Mrs. L. I. Condit.

Mrs. Eva Johnson Is Hostess

The Fleur de Lis club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Eva Johnson Monday afternoon at her home on Wing street when the usual very pleasant time was enjoyed by this group of long association. Two tables of bridge were played with substituting guests, Mrs. Georgia Yerkes and Mrs. Archie Motus. The high honors went to Mrs. Frank Thompson and the consolation to Mrs. Marvin Sloan.

Mrs. Clark Is Hostess

The Nellie Yerkes Auxiliary held a very pleasant and profitable meeting at the home of Mrs. Harry Clark last Tuesday evening. The feature of the evening program was a Bible quiz conducted by Mrs. Arthur Steele. At the conclusion of the program a social time with delicious refreshments followed. A new member was welcomed by the auxiliary. Mrs. Robert Lee, a teacher at the Wayne County Training school.

Boyden's Entertain Home Talent Cast

After the play given at the high school last Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Boyden invited to their home the entire cast of characters and those taking part on the program in the first feature, together with the committee having the affair in charge with their wives or husbands. A very delightful social time was spent at the Boyden home with a fine lunch served by the hostess who is president of the Parent-Teachers' association and wished to show her appreciation to those who made the play so successful.

Mrs. Filkins Entertains Club

One of Northville's "good old fashioned" clubs which has been meeting for many years just for the pure pleasure of enjoying each other's friendship, is the "Merry-Go-Round Girls," so-called because they go the rounds of each other's homes. Last Wednesday Mrs. B. G. Filkins was hostess to this congenial group. A delicious dinner was served sociably at one long table where twelve members and one guest sat down and had a merry time in spite of the fateful number of thirteen. A large mass of daffodils added a note of spring cheer to the occasion. Mrs. Thad Knapp was a guest from town and the three Detroit members who were present were Mrs. Lucy Filkins, Mrs. A. W. Olde and Mrs. Ada Ambler. The afternoon was spent in sewing and visiting.

Winning Team Banqueted

The losing team of the women's basketball team, the winning team at a delicious supper at the Methodist church house Monday evening. Nine teen women sat at the long table which was decorated with the colors of both teams, yellow and white. Daffodils were used in vases to brighten the table.

Intermingling with a fine friendly spirit at the close of their winter of rivalry in sport the two teams enjoyed this social time together. Mrs. Mayme Fry was captain of the winning team and Mrs. Pearl Stark of the team which lost by a narrow margin. For the making of arrangements for the next season's tournament Mrs. Virginia Palmer was appointed.

Dinner For Girls' Glee Club

In honor of their success in the recent Glee club contest in which they took first place in the district, the Northville high school Senior Girls' Glee club was given a dinner at the home of Mrs. C. H. Turnbull who is the mother of Miss Marion, one of the members Tuesday evening.

There were twenty girls present at this happy occasion, beside Mr. and Mrs. Leslie G. Lee, Mr. Lee being their director. One long table and an additional small one were set bountifully with the dinner. Masses of blooming forsythia, a gift from Miss Inez Bryan and tall green tapers made the tables very lovely. Two courses were served by Mrs. Turnbull and several other mothers who joined her as hostesses. Mrs. H. A. Boyden, Mrs. Roy G. Clark, Mrs. H. Johnson and Mrs. Ida Clark of Novi.

After dinner the merriest kind of a time was passed in by these girls with music, games and dancing. Several of the parents of the girls dropped in during the evening to join in the good time.

REV. WM. RICHARDS AND WIFE CHARMED BY SOUTHERN TRIP

Although "Rev. Wilham" ("Bill") Richards, Northville Methodist pastor, and his wife are expected home from Florida today, the letter below will be read with much interest by their many friends. Mr. and Mrs. Richards have been at Scottsboro, where the pastor has a small "ranch" for the past three weeks taking part of their annual vacation. The "domine" writes:

Scottsboro, Fla. Monday, April 26th

Dear Editor Baldwin: You will be glad to know Mrs. Richards and I arrived the latter part of last week on the Colonial Stage, a very fine bus line with an exceedingly low return rate. We took some stop-overs and found the utmost courtesy. The drivers have never been known to have an accident. For this they are awarded medals. For 25,000 miles a bronze, over 50,000 a gold, and for 100,000 a diamond.

The young man that drove us from Detroit to Cincinnati had a diamond. The driver from Cincinnati to Knoxville and Atlanta had driven 80,000 having the two medals and looking

"The Best in Drug Store Goods—The Best in Drug Store Service"

Welcome to May.

School year waning fast.

Miss Dorothy Card and her brother, John, are confined to their home by illness.

Mrs. Albert Stockman visited Mr. and Mrs. Harvey White and family of Pontiac over the week-end.

Plan to join the company going to see the Ford village Tuesday, May 5, sponsored by the King's Daughters.

Mrs. Marion Blackwell, formerly Miss Marion White of Northville, and her husband are now residents of Detroit.

The Misses Grace and Ruth Aigell are making good recovery from scarlet fever at their home on West-Cady street.

Mrs. S. E. Walls of High Point, North Carolina, is visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Walls.

George Westfall, twelve-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Westfall, High street, is quarantined at his home with scarlet fever.

Mrs. Walter Ware and daughters, Maxine and Geraldine, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Lanning in Detroit Sunday.

Mrs. Ada Bond, W. H. P. of Trinity Shrine No. 44 is in Toronto, Canada, this week attending the meeting of the Supreme Shrine.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Blackwell of Detroit were week-end guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey White of Scott Lake, Pontiac.

Dinner guests at the home of Mrs. W. G. Yerkes and Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Larson Saturday evening were Mr. and Mrs. John Bartlett of Detroit.

Kalin, the five-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. Waldo Johnson, of Redford is the latest victim of scarlet fever. He attends kindergarten in Northville.

Mrs. Eaton and Mrs. Ray are having a tea for the mothers of the kindergarten people next Wednesday, May 6th, at 3 p. m. in the cafeteria.

Mrs. H. S. Walls entertained at an informal tea at her home at 44 Main street in honor of her father and mother-in-law who are visiting here.

There will be a regular meeting of the King's Daughters at the home of Mrs. C. B. Turnbull, Fairbrook Ave., next Tuesday afternoon, May 5, at 3 o'clock.

Guests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Burkart Sunday were Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Wood of Ann Arbor. Dr. Wood was a roommate of Dr. Burkart in college days.

The next regular meeting of Trinity Shrine No. 44 will be held in the Presbyterian church house, Thursday evening, May 7. All officers are requested to be present.

Northville is responding to the call of the village health officer to clean up the junk on the cellar and back yard. Nearly every house has stacked before it a pile of junk.

Miss Marion Spagnuolo, daughter of Jas. Spagnuolo, will celebrate her 18th birthday Sunday with a large party of relatives and friends present from Lansing, Detroit and Northville.

Mrs. Beatrice Lanning has made a remarkable recovery from her recent operation for the removal of goitre at Harper hospital and was able to return to her home here Tuesday.

Regular meeting of Mystic Temple No. 153, Tuesday evening, May 5th. The officers and several members of Mystic Temple attended the district association held at Chelsea, Thursday.

Mrs. Margaret Yerkes was a Detroit visitor Tuesday and attended a dinner at Ingleside club Tuesday evening. Supt. and Mrs. Thad Knapp also are members of this club and attended the dinner.

This evening at 7:45 will occur the annual installation of officers of the Eastern Star lodge. Each member is allowed to bring one guest and a pleasant time is anticipated. Refreshments will be served.

The house on South Wing street belonging to Mrs. Lizze Orvis of California, is being completely redecorated and made ready for occupancy by Mr. and Mrs. Orvis, G. Owen who expect to move in today.

Mrs. Chas. Filkins and son, Guy, of Detroit were Northville visitors two days last week. Mrs. Filkins and daughter, June, who is a teacher in Detroit, expect to return to their home here and spend the summer months.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sanford and two sons of Elba, Mrs. Mina Albright, Mrs. Mildred Cronck and son of Peach Orchard, Ark., Mrs. Isa Carpenter and Mrs. Delia Dennis of Capeer spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kidd.

Frank Raymond, Northville's National Indian War veteran, has returned from Ann Arbor where he was a patient at the University hospital for several weeks. Mr. Raymond is 81 years of age and seems to be in fair health.

Doctors Paul R. Alexander, J. H. Todd and H. H. Burkart went to Detroit Tuesday, April 28 to be present at a meeting of the Michigan State Dental Association convention which was held at the Book-Cadillac hotel, Detroit.

After serving their "sentence" of quarantine while the little daughter familiarly known as "Tom" was ill with scarlet fever, the J. N. McLoughlin family is again happily restored to its home. "Tom" suffered quite serious complications with her ear during her illness, having been threatened with mastoiditis, but is now fully recovered and able to be back in school again.

Frank L. Schaefele, Randolph street, was taken to the University hospital at Ann Arbor, where he will undergo his third operation for the removal of goitre.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Corrin are back at their South Center street home after a sojourn at Palm Harbor, Florida, since last November. It was their ninth season in the Southland. They came back by way of Route No. 25, after leaving Knoxville, Tenn.

Mrs. L. M. Eaton has shown constant improvement since her return from St. Joseph's hospital in Ann Arbor. Mrs. Eaton's mother, Mrs. Conlony, of Toledo, has been staying with her here during her convalescence. Mrs. Eaton goes to Ann Arbor twice a week for treatments.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meriner were guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Lindner at their new home in Rushon Sunday. Guests Tuesday evening at the Lindner home were Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Boyer and daughter Grace and Mr. and Mrs. Win Butterfield and family of Detroit.

Mrs. W. Roscoe Barbour and daughter, Mary Ellen, were gratified when they called Sunday afternoon upon Miss Alice Barbour, a patient in the University hospital in Ann Arbor, to find her much improved. She is able to sit up in a wheel chair and is often on the sun porch.

The high wind during the week damaged the roof of the north porch on Dr. Randall Schuyler and blew out a window above the Northville Electric shop. Except for a few cinders in various eyes, bats rolling down the street, and similar mishaps, there was no other damage reported.

Putting into one of the trustiest winds of the spring, Mr. and Mrs. John Kaibiesch came into Northville Tuesday afternoon from their home of nearly three months in Florida. They made their headquarters at St. Peter's but, but, did considerable running around and report a very pleasant trip.

James Shaw returned to Northville last Thursday from Wauchula, Florida where he had been since the middle of December. His friends will be sorry to hear that he was recently stricken with deafness, that came on over night. It is hoped that specialists may be able to restore his hearing soon.

Miss Ella Clark has received word that her brother, Wilmer, in Montana is failing in health. Another brother, W. L. B. Clark, was called to Montana some weeks ago. It will be recalled that their father, Wm. S. Clark, was an early resident of Northville, having made his home on the Seven Mile road. He came here with his parents in 1836.

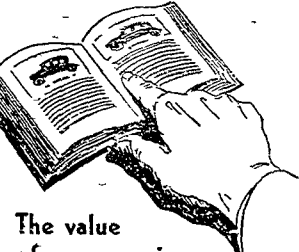

Despite the set-back by rainy and cold weather, Contractor Alex H. Johnson is making good progress on construction of the new building for The Record. Brick walls are now up and steel girders for the roof were placed yesterday. Another ten days should see the building completely enclosed.

Mrs. O. P. Reng, better known to her pupils in the first grade as "Miss Aldrich," is making good recovery since her return from Harper hospital where she underwent a surgical operation recently, and hopes soon to return to her school room to finish the year's work. Mr. and Mrs. Reng spent last Sunday with relatives in Royal Oak.

The hardware store of Walter Ware has had an unusually attractive window display this last week. During a business visit here a representative of the Standard Brothers Hardware company of Detroit volunteered to decorate the window and the result is very pleasing with a fine display of bright aluminum ware against a background of green.

Russell Atchison gave a most interesting and forceful address at the union service of the Methodist and Presbyterian churches, at the latter, Sunday evening. Mr. Atchison, a student at the University of Michigan, took the business depression as the basis of his talk and worked out the thought that Christians should "liquidate" their religion just as business men are endeavoring to recover from the effects of the depression.

Heard on the Street

Northville young lady: "I believe I'll learn to smoke cigarettes."

Business man who heard the above: "What will this girl do in ten years when cigarette smoking by women is out of style and she wants to quit? Will she be able to do it?"

Mr. Stewart at the Northville Drug Store said: "When the weather is nice, people buy more. They find it easier to get to the shopping district, and when they get there they see the fine values offered."

S. W. Ambler: "I wish that the conservation authorities would keep fire fishermen from getting into the woods until the rains had moistened the underbrush enough to prevent fires. Every year there are hundreds of fires started through plain carelessness. 100,000 men going into the woods, most of them smokers, constitute an immense fire hazard when the brush and the forests are as dry as they are now."

LEGION AUXILIARY CARD-PARTY AIDS GOOD-CHEER FUND

A large number responded very heartily to the invitation of the American Legion Auxiliary at their card party Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Fred Simmons on Main street. Seventeen tables played either bridge or five hundred, and enjoyed the pleasant occasion. The members were gratified to find that the affair was a success financially as well as socially, and a generous sum was added to the funds of this worthy organization which brightens the lives of the disabled heroes of the late war as only women can do.

Among the sisterly charities performed by this band of loyal members is the custom they have of remembering the birthday of each ex-service man in the Washburn Sanatorium and Maybury Sanatorium. By keeping careful record the day is remembered and on his birthday each "boy" a veteran is really a boy at heart as he is glad by a large home-made birthday cake just like mother makes, daintily wrapped and festively decorated with plenty of luscious icing. The nurses who are present when this surprise is brought to his bedside or wheel chair and witness the joyous demonstration when the cake is uncovered and shared with his "buddies," say it was well worth the effort.

The committee who so ably handled the affair Monday evening were Mrs. Harry Bolton, Mrs. Harold Todd, Mrs. John Schoulz and Mrs. R. H. Saley.

"A BIG STORE IN A GOOD TOWN"
NORTHVILLE MICHIGAN

HOMEMAKER'S CORNER

By MRS. EDITOR

Northville boys "big brother," Scout-master Orlow Owen, disagrees with our attorney friend whom we quoted, two weeks ago as thinking that boys demand too much attention from their fathers. (Confidentially, we knew some would not agree and like a little attention.)

O'low admits that some fathers are too busy (or too old) to get out and really play with their boys but he thinks this would be good for many of them. "B'r," he declares, "it is all in the attitude of the Dad. A boy likes to feel that Dad is genuinely interested in his sports and he can tell by the sparkle of understanding in his father's eyes whether he really cares about what his boy is telling him at the close of the day when they are having their chat. It is the understanding that makes companionship between father and son and, if father is too engrossed in his own affairs, trying to accumulate material wealth and for his sons he is robbing them of the very thing they long for most—Dad's companionship. If Dad is too busy or if he ridicules the confidence of his son the time will not be far off when the boy will not bring his affairs to him. Go, now and then, Dad, to see your boy play," says Owen, "he will care more for what Dad thinks than for all the cheering on the side line."

This reminds us that Dr. M. S. Rice, of the Metropolitan church, Detroit, refused last summer the use of the luxuriously equipped yacht offered by a wealthy parishioner for his vacation to tramp with his boys in the wilds of the north woods, wearing a khaki shirt and looking on a camp fire.

WHAT DOES PEANUT DO?

Why not, play now and then? Here's a thought we ran across in our reading. It keeps the body healthy. It starts us up and makes the heart beat faster and warmer—and sends the blood tingling joyfully to the toes and finger tips. It shakes the ashes out of our dull routine and gives the fires of the spirit a chance to burn up brightly. It re-creates makes new, both "pep" and physical fibre. It is the oil of good humor to lubricate our social machinery. With whom we play we cannot quarrel—so bitter. A big together and a laugh in common will heal a social breach. Community play will sweeten a whole city. It teaches far-mindedness and consideration for the other fellow. "Peanut play" is the essence of gaming, and jollity shared will obliterate lines of

Statesmen Not Always Masters of Foresight

It is curious how great things befall. Chancellor Livingston, at the time our minister to France, closed with Napoleon's offer of the Louisiana territory without authority from government and to the dismay, so one reads, of Jefferson.

In the war with Mexico, Calhoun, who was secretary of state, sent Nicholas P. Trist, chief clerk of the State department and husband of a granddaughter of Jefferson to confer with Santa Anna about ending the war. Santa Anna offered Trist the treaty of Guadalupe, which gave us New Mexico, Arizona, upper California, and the Rio Grande as the southern boundary of Texas.

He gave Trist two days to take it or leave it. Trist lacked authority to accept it, but did so and carried it back to Washington, where it gave great dissatisfaction and got Trist into trouble, but it stood.

Mr. Seward, who had a vision of the destiny of the United States, bought Alaska and fairly earned credit for that. He had imagination and large ideas. The Philippines we got because it was not convenient to dodge them. They were left on our doorstep and are not a popular acquisition even now—Edward S. Martin in Harper's Magazine.

Earliest Use of Horse Probably for Warfare

In Babylonia the first domesticated horse appeared about 2000 B. C. It was introduced into Egypt by the Hyksos, or shepherd kings, who came from the north and east of Syria, and conquered lower Egypt in the Seventeenth century B. C. In both these cases it is to be noted that the horse was preceded by man centuries before the war and the ass. From these facts and a few other scraps of evidence one may picture the first domestication of the horse as occurring in central Asia. Probably it was accomplished by a people of nomadic habits to whom the convenience of riding would be obvious. Sooner or later the mounted nomad came to realize the measure of his advantage over the man who traveled and fought on foot and was encouraged to wander farther afield, conquering as he went. In any case, the horse (either as a charger or yoked to a chariot) became in very early times an important factor in war. The use of the horse for the worldwide purpose of transport and tillage is comparatively a modern development. In Britain, for example, oxen were the common plow animals until the end of the Eighteenth century.

Early English Glassmaking

In Old England the glass making industry was concentrated in the county of Sussex, where, at ancient glass works was dug up recently. James I issued a proclamation forbidding the making of glass "with timber or wood or fuel made of the same" fearing, no doubt, that the forests were being depleted too rapidly. But, in spite of this order, glass works increased. Later on in 1533 the import of foreign glass was prohibited by government order, although an exception was made in favor of Venetian ware. The most important glass factory was at Chiddingfold, which dates back to 1240. It provided Henry II with white and colored glass for his abbeys of Westminster.

Famous Japanese Trees

Among extraordinary trees of Japan is the goba-sakura at the base of Fuji-yama, whose branches begin less than a yard from the ground. The trunk measures 26 feet around and the leaves are reddish, the flowers white. Four big trunks with a total circumference of 34 feet grow from the same root of the Ishido kaba-sakura. The resary hanging cherry tree of Dango temple, has seven trunks growing from the same root, while the main trunk stands dead and rotting. The stone-splitting cherry tree has its roots buried in the cracks of a great granite rock in the grounds of the law courts in Morioka. It is one of the famous cherry trees protected by law.

AT THE THEATRE

"DRUMS OF JEOPARDY"

The Drums of Jeopardy, the Tiffany production showing Sunday, May 3 at the Penniman Allen theatre, is a picture of the famous MacGrath's popular novel of the same title. Warner Oland, June Collyer and Lloyd Hughes head a large cast which includes Wallace MacDonald, George Fawcett, Mischa Auer, Clara Blainchick, Florence Lake, Ann Brown and others. Florence Ryerson did the adaptation and dialogue and George B. Seitz directed.

The story is of the time that Harold MacGrath has proved a master at conducting it concerns the efforts of the four remaining members of the royal Petroff family to avoid the vengeance of Boris Petroff, a criminal with the diabolical cleverness of a demon.

From Russia, after the revolution, they flee to America to enlist the services of a friend in the U. S. Secret Service. Try as they will to outwit the cunning of Karlov, one by one they fall prey to his foibles, until there is only one Petroff left and that is fine, splendid young Prince Nicholas, who is loved by an American girl who shares many of his terrors.

How Nicholas escapes Karlov's vengeance and the avenger becomes the victim of his own demagogic cunning is told in "The Drums of Jeopardy," a thrill picture from the opening scene to the end.

"THE TEXAS RANGER"

A screen star has to be extremely versatile to play in a western. In addition to the usual accomplishments required of a feminine screen player—such as swimming, dancing and singing, she very often has to ride magnificently and must handle a gun with all the assurance of a female Buffalo Bill.

Carmelina Geraghty can fill the above order—and how! She has had of the two

"CRACKED NUTS"

For the first time in film history three full-fledged stars play featured roles in the same production.

"Cracked Nuts," a Radio Pictures comedy which will show Saturday May 9 at the Penniman Allen theatre is the film.

Bert Wheeler, Robert Woolsey and Dorothy Lee are the stars.

Just before the start of their latest fun film, "Cracked Nuts," Radio Pictures executives decided to appoint their stars in their own right. But because they had one more picture on their schedule, they were required to appear as featured players once more.

Wheeler, Woolsey and Miss Lee made their first screen hit in "Rio Rita." There followed other hits—"The Crooks," "Dixiana," "Half Shot at Sunrise," "Hook, Line and Sniker" and "Assorted Nuts."

Before joining pictures the two comedians were featured in Ziegfeld's "Follies."

Miss Lee grew up in Hollywood, but never secured a "break" until Radio Pictures signed her up on a long-term contract in 1929.

"Cracked Nuts" is a spectacular thrill-comedy dealing with a revolution in Latin-America. It provides

THE NEW FORD CONVERTIBLE CABRIOLET

$595 (F. O. B. Detroit, plus freight and delivery. Bumpers and spare tire extra at low cost.)

Proudly you will drive the new Ford Convertible Cabriolet because of its grace of line and alert performance. It has the further advantage of being a most practical car. On clear, bright days the blue sky overhead, you can enjoy the airy freedom of a roadster. When dark clouds come, it takes but a few moments to raise the top and command the snug comfort of a coupe. It is thus a splendid car for all the year, for every changing mood of mind or weather.

Ease of control, comfort, the safety of fully enclosed four-wheel brakes and a Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, reliability, economy and long life are among the other outstanding features of the Ford Cabriolet. Rumble seat and cowl lights are standard equipment. Upholstery is rich Bedford cord.

*A study of one thousand families using the ELECTROCHEF electric range showed a cooking cost of less than one cent a meal a person

"Exact oven temperature is as important to perfect baking as correct measurements and proper ingredients. Every good cook knows that a successful cake is impossible without even baking heat, accurately maintained."

"My Electrocchef automatic oven makes baking and roasting easy. I never have to guess at the right temperature, because I know every minute exactly how hot the oven is. The mirror-like inner walls of the oven distribute the heat evenly, and the accurate heat control maintains just the right temperature. No wonder my cakes are light and fine-grained, every time I bake!"

Habit as strong on some Northville folks. "Give me a special delivery, please," said a caller at The Record office Monday as she fished in her hand bag for the dime to give for the stamp that Postmaster T. R. Carrington and his crowd sell. The woman had forgotten that the old post office quarters are now the temporary ones of the home newspaper.

Mrs. Floyd Dietloff of Plymouth will entertain the Ladies' Auxiliary society Thursday, May 14, in the afternoon and for supper. All are cordially invited. Everyone ought to go to church in order to get closer to folks and to God. We are crowded together physically through the week, but after all we remain far apart. We touch one another on commercial or social grounds, but not on the ground of our common humanity. On six days of the week we are drawn together by our work or our ambitions or our social obligations and desires.

On Sunday we ought to come together solely because we are human beings. In the house of God we are no longer members of a class, we are members of humanity needy creatures in the presence of God. We bow before our Maker. We meditate on His goodness and mercy. That widens the mind. We think of our fellow travelers, our companions in the pilgrimage from the cradle to the grave. This gives new breath to the heart. No man, no woman, no matter what he thinks, and no matter how he feels can afford to stay away habitually from the place of praise and prayer. Public worship humanizes us. It quickens the brain, it sweetens the heart. It lightens the load. It smooths the way. It brightens the sky. Jesus is our comforter and our burden-bearer.

Church News

Methodist Church Notes.

The pastor, Rev. Wm. Richards, will occupy the pulpit next Sunday morning at 10:30 and will preach on the inspiration gained from his trip south on "God's Garden." A hearty welcome to all.

Remember the Sabbath school for all at 12 noon.

The Epworth League will meet at 5:30.

In the evening at 7:30 the united service will be held in this church. Rev. H. Gladstone Whitfield will preach, bringing his choir to assist in the music. Let us keep up our attendance.

Novi Methodist Church

The pastor, Rev. Wm. Richards, will preach at the usual hour, 2:30, with a hearty welcome to all.

St. Paul's Lutheran

Divine service is held every Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

Every first Sunday in the month is German worship.

All other Sundays, English worship. Sunday school convenes every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock in the church hall.

"Choir" board meeting the week before the voters assembly. The voters meetings are held quarterly.

The Lutheran church of the Mission Synod broadcasts twice each week over station WXYZ. Every Sunday afternoon from 2 to 2:15 and every Thursday evening from 10 to 10:30 over the Columbia network.

A hearty invitation is extended to all to worship with us. We preach Christ and Him crucified.

Our Lady of Victory Church

May Devotions will be opened this evening at 8 o'clock and will be continued every Friday night during May. It will last just 30 minutes.

May is a shortened form of Mary. Catholics do NOT worship the mother of Jesus. God ONLY can be worshipped. I wonder if Jesus is jealous of any other attention we give her? Rather I think He is proud of His Mother, and as is natural in any son. He Himself is honored whenever she is. A normal son recognizes any deliberate ignoring of his mother.

The fourth of a series of sermons to our young people will be given next Sunday at both services. The subject is "Respect for and Obedience to Authority."

Our Catechism classes each Saturday at 9:45 a. m. are an emergency method of educating our children in the knowledge of God and the consequent obligations to Him. Catholics believe that the subject, "God" is as important as reading, writing, arithmetic.

RUNAWAY AUTO CRASHES PORCH AT GUS REGULA HOME

A junk dealer who parked his car on the top of the hill at the corner of Dubuque and North Rogers gave Gus Regula and his family quite a scare Friday afternoon.

It all happened like this. The dealer parked his car and went into a house nearby. The brakes of the car in some way became released and it decided to take a little stroll for itself. It meandered down the hill with increasing speed until it could be said that it was rushing at a high rate of speed, instead of merely meandering.

The car, kept gathering momentum until it decided to call on the Regula household. Members of the family were not quite ready for callers but that merely added interest to the "surprise party."

The first intimation the Regulas had that they were to receive a caller was a resounding crash on their front porch. On opening their front door they found that the car had wound its radiator affectionately around a post on the veranda.

etc., whose author He actually is. Catholics respect the necessary neutrality of our public school system in this regard. Hence, whenever possible, they maintain under state supervision their own schools out of their own pockets. There is no other reason for their existence.

Baptist Church Notes

May 3, first Sunday in the month, brings again the Communion season. At the morning hour of service, 10:30 o'clock, the pastor, Rev. Wm. Richards, will preach on the theme, "Prayer as a Means of Communion."

Bible school at 11:45. Our school is well graded and is growing. We invite young or old not attending elsewhere.

Evening service at 7:30, an hour of song, sermon and fellowship. There will be a baptismal service completing the day. The sermon topic at this service is, "The Gospel Abiding in Us." You will find a cordial welcome.

Presbyterian Church

On Sunday morning, May 3rd at 10:30 services will be held in the First Presbyterian church. The minister will preach. We sincerely hope that the members will not allow the fine weather to rob them of a service they owe to God and of a blessing they themselves need. Be present in the house and worship with glad and thankful hearts. A cordial invitation is extended to strangers.

The union service in the evening will be held in the Methodist Episcopal church at the hour of 7:30. A large congregation is indicative of spiritual prosperity.

On Monday afternoon the Junior Christian Endeavor will meet with Mrs. P. A. Hauser in charge, assisted by Miss Reza Schrader. The hour is 3:30.

Tuesday evening, May 5, at 7:45 snail the Nellie Yerkes Auxiliary will hold its regular meeting at which the members of the Woman's Union will be guests. The hostesses will be Mrs. Helen Hefack and Mrs. Catherine Johnston. The speaker will be Miss Jeannette Dupuis, a teacher from the Jeannette Dupuis Mission Rev. H. G. Whitfield will conduct the devotional exercises. A large attendance is urged.

Thursday evening the Young People's society will meet. The hour is 7:30. Let every member endeavor to be present.

Be sure you read the full announcements in this issue of "The Mother and Daughter Banquet" to be held on Monday evening, May 4 in the church house, and the Fashion Show to be held Wednesday afternoon, May 5 in the same place.

NORTHVILLE IZAAK WALTONS PLANNING ON TRIP TO NORTH

Northville fishermen are bringing out their fishing rods, oiling up the reels, repairing gaffs and flies, all in preparation for the opening of the trout season today. It is estimated that there will be 100,000 sport enthusiasts in the woods next week, eager to stand on the edges of swirling streams, wade into rolling rapids to cast their lines on the waters and return them with lightning trout.

A party of Northville fishermen, including Dr. P. R. Alexander, Dr. E. B. Cavell, E. L. Mills, Elton R. Eaton, C. Stewart and Dayton Bunn will leave later in the month to go north for their annual trip. N. C. Schrader has been brushing up on his casting technique in his backyard and is said to be in perfect form for the season.

standards for comparison. The ordinary farmer's cow, far and wide in the United States, is estimated to produce 4,000 pounds of milk in the year and in that year's production of the average farmer's cow is 200 pounds of butter. This one cow, Ionia Aaggie Pauline, produced in this past year actually 10453 pounds butter or five times more than the average cow and over seven times the amount of milk given by the average cow. Every day during this year this cow produced, to state it in common terms, a ten-gallon can of milk with a big glass over for good measure.

At the beginning of this year's work, Aaggie Pauline weighed about 1750 pounds. Today she has dropped only to 1610 pounds. Following her freshening on April 5, 1930, she was given a full official test for seven days during which she made a record of 10453 pounds of 3.5 per cent milk containing 3512 pounds butter, the biggest seven-day official record made by any 16-year-old cow in Michigan in 1930. She maintained an average of 100 pounds milk daily for the first 108 days of this lactation period. The day following the termination of her year she produced, again, under strict official supervision, 621 pounds of milk testing 2.94 per cent fat and containing 2524 pounds butter. "Such remarkable persistency over a long period of time is what makes a cow really valuable," says her mentor, Joe Cook, the herdsman.

To make this fifteen tons of milk this cow has eaten during the past twelve months three and a half tons of silage, a ton and a half of beets, a half ton of dried beet pulp, two and a half tons of hay and a little more.

P. T. A. PROGRAM AND PLAY FRIDAY NIGHT IS SUCCESS

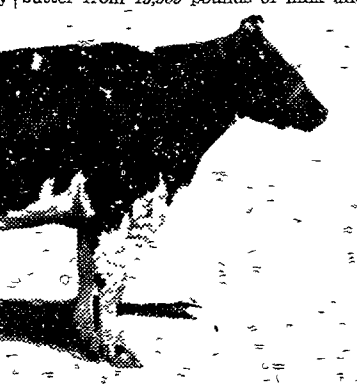

A cast of Northville characters made a hit in a pleasing little one-act comedy at the high school auditorium last Friday evening for the benefit of the Parent-Teachers' association. It was evident from the first that these amateur players were enjoying thoroughly their part in the play as much as the audience. Especially amusing was the situation when Dr. Paul R. Alexander was introduced to his own wife to whom he referred as "the little old lady."

The acting was unusually good and natural and the play was carried out with spirit and action. The situation grew quite tense when the unexpected arrival of an old aunt brought about the distressing fact that the ornate vases she had given the young couple for a wedding gift had been sold at a rummage sale. Those comprising the cast of characters were Orlof Owen, Mrs. Adah Bloom, Mrs. Mary Alexander and Mrs. Leckla Owen. Mrs. Owen was especially clever as a blundering maid.

Preceding the play the following program arranged by Mrs. E. L. Mills, was well carried out. Solo, Miss Evelyn Ambler; Duets, Misses Helen Johnson and Evelyn Ambler; Reading, Mrs. Dorothy McKinney; Violin solo, Mrs.

than three and a half tons of grain ration.

The dairy herd of the Wayne County Training school at Northville, although less than four years old, bids fairly to make its name as a herd of outstanding excellence. On the 1930 Honor Roll of Michigan Holsteins, the names of fifty-six cows appear, of which number five were taken from the Wayne herd, Ionia Aaggie Pauline produced 4,759.6 pounds of milk more than the high cow in the same age class among these 1930 Roll of Honor cows and 99.05 pounds more butter. The National Dairy Association has twice listed this Wayne herd on its National Honor Roll. Last year, under half its milking animals, merely heifers with their first calf, this herd averaged 532.5 pounds of butter from 13,303 pounds of milk and was given thirty-seventh place on the National Honor Roll to which only one hundred and seventy-two breeders of pure bred Holstein-Friesian cattle in thirty-seven states were admitted upon recommendation of the National Holsteins Friesian Association. To be admitted to this National Honor Roll the entire herd must average over 300 pounds of butter per cow. Four Michigan herds only that competed in the same class exceeded this head's record.

Ordinarily cows are given milked for such records are given the quiet and privacy of a separate stall at least, if not indeed kept apart from the regular herd in a remote testing barn. "The best part of this cow's record," according to Dr. Haskell, "is that she was milked in the regular milking barn at her regular stanchion in the noisy end of the barn and curried and cared for in every other way by the boys assigned to the dairy barn as a regular part of their training."

LOCAL COUPLE HELD UP ON RIDGE ROAD

had been stolen from them at 10:15 of the same evening by two thugs of a similar description to that of those who had held up Miss Denvers and Mr. Bubalos. As the hold-up occurred at 10:45 and the theft of the car occurred at 10:15, the bandits must have come directly from Detroit, police officials said.

The delay in reporting the hold-up by Mr. Bubalos and Miss Denvers seriously hampered the police in their efforts to catch the thieves, declared Chief Wm. Safford.

The sequel occurred Friday night, at about 9 o'clock when Emory Mapes and his cousin, Elmo went to the Waterford pond to go swimming and the same two men drove over the tracks down beside the Mapes' car and traded their car, the one they had stolen in Redford, for the one the Mapes boys were using.

In the rear seat of the stolen car a pair of smoked glasses were found which had been used by one of the men to disguise his appearance.

The Mapes car was found abandoned in Detroit Saturday on the corners of Hamilton and Belvedere streets by a Wayne county deputy sheriff. Mrs. Wm. Kinney, and her son from whom the car had been stolen, came to Northville Saturday to get their car.

The Kinney boy and his friend who was with him when their car was stolen say that they were able to identify the thieves and police are now looking for the two suspects.

For Sale--

Having disposed of my business in Northville, I have decided to sell my home. This place is one of the most sightly in Wayne county and occupies a hill which provides a view to the north, east and south that cannot be excelled anywhere in southeastern Michigan.

The house when erected three years ago was not built with any idea of a sale and as a result it is one of the best constructed residences in this section. It has every modern convenience and a deep well automatic water supply that provides an ideal and abundant amount of water. The place is surrounded by a grove of native trees and flowers.

The property while located outside the village limits, is just two or three minutes from the business center of Northville and but two blocks from the Detroit bus line. For information see
