38 SENIORS GET DIPLOMAS ON THURSDAY

Largest Class Ever is Heard in New Type of Program

The largest class ever to be graduated from Northville high school received diplomas at commencement held Thursday evening, June 18, in the Wayne County Training School auditorium. Thirty-eight received diplomas.

The program for the evening was entirely different from any other that has been previously used in Northville commencement exercises. The presentation of diplomas was the only part that was not in complete charge of the students themselves. After the graduates had filed into the auditorium and taken their places, Albert Root, one of their number, conducted the opening services.

A musical sketch, "Revolts," was presented first in English then in French by several students. The various aspects of the "vitalized" commencement, in which they were taking part, were discussed. At first the group was inclined to scoff at the idea but Supr. T. J. Knapp appeared and decided the matter for them. Maryellen Barbour, Eleanor Westphall, Velma Blake, Martin Sommer and Wayne Preston were the students. Howard Christensen played Mr. Knapp's part.

An alto solo "Song is Sweet," by Hester Keller, was the second feature of the program.

The athletic department was represented by several seniors who were outstanding in the various sports. Each student, attached in the uniform of his favorite sport, gave a brief talk concerning it. All brought out the fact that sportsmanship, mental development and the ability to cooperate are distinct benefits to be derived from high school sports. Ted Gavett represented football, George Clemens basketball, Lillian Castele, girls' basketball, Elmer Perrin, track, Alex Johnson, baseball, Florence Balko, girls' baseball, Fred Kerr, golf.

Following a piano solo by Eunice Cousins, the physics class gave a demonstration meant to picture a day's work without the instructor. Principal R. H. Amerman. Reports on light were given and Elmer Perrin performed an experiment proving certain theories regarding cosmic light rays. He stated that this form of lighting is being used for modern signboards. Wilfred Sterner acted as teacher and Robert Latsinger, Jay Thompson, Elmer Westphall, Albert Root, Mable Bryan and Elmer Perrin were students.

Alex Johnson sang a tenor solo, "Lassie O Mine."

The commercial department presented a one-act play which illustrated the requirements of a perfect secretary. The part of the boss was taken by Ned Junod, Frances Bacon, Velma Blake, Hazel Cordukes and Mable Bryan composed the office workers. Lottie Damm, Esther Fischer, Mary Modes and Margaret Norton were the prospective secretaries. In this play a short interview between Miriam Richards (Continued on last page)

BURGESS HOME IS OPEN FOR SUMMER

Northville is glad to see the old Burgess' homestead on Main street opened again as of old when Dr. J. M. Burgess' office adjoining used to be lighted constantly as he administered to the physical ailments of at least two generations. Dr. Burgess, now 30 years of age, is still "going strong" in his medicine practice in Detroit, associated with his son, Dr. Claud Burgess. Mrs. Burgess is back for the summer in Northville at the old home which she says she loves better than any spot on earth. She would like to stay here forever. Keeping her company is her sister, Mrs. Katherine Humman who has come from her home in Bozeman, Montana to stay with Mrs. Burgess. The Burgess house is one of Northville's landmarks having been built over fifty years ago by the doctor.

PEACE PAGEANT IS VERY IMPRESSIVE

A very beautiful pageant, the Peace, was carried out at the Baptist church last Sunday evening. Many said that it was one of the finest programs ever put on by this church. In the opening of the program a collect, a prayer for peace, led by the pastor, Rev. W. Roscoe Barbour, was thoughtfully read by the audience.

As the curtain rose a typical family scene was depicted upon the platform with Don Miller and his son, Roger, representing a father and son tuning in the radio. As they turned the dial, to their great amazement, various distant stations responded as Spain, Germany, Japan, France and England appeared before the father and son. From behind the scene a quartet composed of Mrs. W. Roscoe Barbour, Wm. Corrin, E. H. Amerman and Mrs. Wm. Horsfall with Mrs. Leona MacRae accompanying, sang softly the songs suggesting the country to be depicted.

A group of children from these nations appeared in turn glad in the part of the country to be represented. Various colored spotlights were thrown upon them producing charming effects. Spain was represented by Ruth Fall of Detroit, Fred Van Valkenburg, and Marion Turnbull in their mantillas and bright shawls; Little German "Gretchen" were Joan Montgomery, Barbara Fall, Lillian Fritz, Margaret Nagy and Jack McCrumb; dainty Japanese were Theda Fritz, Leona May White and Lewis Digm, dashing Frenchmen and ladies were represented by Lowry Snipes, Betty and Mary Hollis, Dorothy Van Valkenburg, Cyrene Carman and Jean Robinson. Each did his part well in songs or verses.

In the closing tableau all the children from far and near circled around "Peace," impersonated by Miss Mary Ellen Barbour wearing white and bearing a white cross while the choir sang "From Greenland's icy mountains, to India's coral strand."

The costumes were ingeniously gotten up by Mrs. Earl Montgomery who had the program in charge, assisted by Mrs. Phoebe Biery and Mrs. Don Miller and Mrs. Horsfall. A full house enjoyed this well-worked-out program which left a deep impression upon all who saw it.

SALEM RURAL ROUTE GIVEN NORTHVILLE

J. B. Cook to Be Followed Here by Robert E. Geraghty

In conformance with the government's present economic policy of consolidating rural routes when a vacancy occurs on the staff, the Northville post office will take over the Salem rural route beginning July 1, announces T. B. Carrington, Northville postmaster.

After 20 years of faithful service, J. B. Cook, Northville carrier for rural route number one will retire as he has reached the age limit and Robert E. Geraghty who has served on the Salem route for 2 years, will be transferred to Northville.

The Salem route serves 120 patrons and covers a distance of 24 miles. The route will be split between Roy Clark, Northville carrier for route two and Mr. Geraghty, who will now serve route one. The two Northville routes will each be 44 and a half miles long with the addition of the Salem route.

The policy of consolidating rural routes, declared Mr. Carrington, is being successfully carried out all over the country and has resulted in an annual saving to the government of approximately $1,000 for each route.

LADIES ARE GUESTS OF ROTARY CLUB

The Rotary Anns and their "boy friends" dined together at the Presbyterian church last Monday evening. "Ladies' night" the delectable three-course menu was served by the Woman's Union and was featured by two large chocolate layer cakes which "made a hit" with the Rotarians.

Following the dinner President Elton R. Eaton called the roll of guests to which each responded by announcing her maiden name, the place of her birth and a promise made by the man she married. No little interest was aroused by these revelations. The party then adjourned to Redford where they saw "Trader Horn."

QUEEN BEE WINS OVER MR. JONES

About two o'clock Sunday afternoon a swarm of bees decided that a tree in front of the Jones Greenhouses was the ideal place for a location.

About three o'clock of the same afternoon, Wm. Ely of Novi came over with a baited sack, cut the branch of the tree off where the bees were located, placed it in the bag and took the insects back home.

Mr. Ely made the mistake of forgetting to take along the Queen Bee and thereby hangs a tale. Mr. Jones was plaidly fixing his lawn Tuesday morning, thinking that the bees were far, far away. A sudden humming noise warned him but before he had any chance to defend himself, he was stung on the left hand.

Mr. Jones had steps taken immediately to destroy the remaining bees but his mired hand is swollen to about twice normal size and the Queen Bee is still at large, lurking back the male bees. Anyone caring for a Queen Bee may have the same by catching it in front of the Jones Greenhouses and no questions asked.

GASOLINE MILEAGE TESTS TO BE HELD BY MARZ SALES CO.

Model A Ford owners will get a chance to see how well their cars are operating and at the same time will get an opportunity to win a cash prize of $15.00, an expensive spotlight, or a motor-mower during today's gasoline mileage test at the Marz Motor Sales.

Ford mechanics will be on hand at the garage to ascertain by accurate tests how many miles each motorist is getting per gallon.

Mr. Marz declares that on any car coming into the garage, for $1.00 mechanics will clean the sediment bulb, clean and adjust the carburetor, check and adjust spark plugs, and check the brakes.

If, after that work has been completed, the motorist does not get 20 miles on a gallon of gas, says Mr. Marz, no charge will be made for the work done.

Many Ford drivers have told their friends they were getting 24, 25 and 26 miles per gallon of gasoline and now they will have a chance to prove their boasts. If their mileages are real good, they'll have a chance to make a real profit on the contest.

Who Wants a Toy Factory?

Northville has real possibilities of a toy factory if only men of vision and courage would back it. Would not that be encouraging a factory without smoke stack or much noise—just a busy, bustling place where they make pretty things for thousands of kiddies all around the world.

Here's the situation: Edward McCandish, Northville's distinguished author and illustrator, has not only entered the new field of toy designing but right now is actually having these toys manufactured for him both in the United States and foreign countries. A year ago Mr. McCandish had the dream of planning and making these toys. Today they are actually being made and sold by the thousand gross.

Unique toys that thrill the hearts of children and which keen buyers of metropolitan stores are eager to get are now being manufactured from Mr. McCandish's designs in all these places: Kobi, Japan; New-Rainberg, Germany; Milwaukee, Wis.; New York City; Fort Wayne, Ind.; and Benton Harbor, Michigan.

These toys could just as well be made in Northville as in all these scattered places. We are near the center of the Middle West which takes vast quantities of these products. Using Mr. McCandish's models which he first makes in clay, all that would be required would be wood working tools and similar equipment. It would seem to be an ideal factory for such a home town as Northville.

Included in Mr. McCandish's repertoire of designs which are now being made elsewhere are: Celluloid and bisque dolls, composition and wooden toys, games, puzzles, cut-outs and window sets for advertising. Northville people have known for some time that he is an author and illustrator of a number of children's books but it will be news to many to know that the McCandish genius has followed an original branch by designing Mr. McCandish's stories and "stuffed" have been syndicated and run in papers throughout the United States.

It would be a splendid thing for Northville if a toy factory here could be the culmination of this outstanding work of Mr. McCandish.

DETROITER GOES TO JAIL AFTER CAR CRASH HERE

Hugh McDowell of 3562 Springwells avenue, Detroit was fined $30 and costs with the alternative of thirty days in jail by Justice Joseph Blake Wednesday night following a collision between McDowell's car and that of D. B. Packard of Plymouth.

McDowell admitted to the police that he and his companion, Don McDowell of 2341 Oakdale avenue, Detroit, had been drinking and that they had failed to stop at Rogers street, a stop street, coming out of Thayer boulevard. They swerved in front of Packard's car and he, not being able to stop, sideswiped their car.

A man and a woman were in the car with McDowell and McDowell had disappeared immediately after the accident explaining that the man had received a cut forehead. McDowell was unable to pay the fine and Wednesday morning was taken to the Detroit House of Correction to serve the sentence of thirty days.

ELLIOTT'S TO CLOSE BAKERY HERE AND MOVE TO TRENTON

Closing out their grocery business on 112 East Main, Wm. H. Elliott and his son, Waldo, will move to Trenton and open a bakery there.

Elliott's Bakery has long been known as one of the "older" businesses in town. Mr. Elliott having been in business here for over 14 years.

Elliott & Son formerly were located where the Penniman Allen theatre is now located but a disastrous fire in April 1925 almost completely destroyed the store. Following the fire, they moved to their present location.

Mr. Elliott assigns as a reason for moving to Trenton that the town doesn't have a bakery and that he believes his business there will have an increased opportunity to prosper.

Mr. Elliott and Waldo have long been known in Northville as honest, conscientious merchants, hard working and by their sincere willingness to lend their efforts to any community project, have won for themselves an enviable place in the hearts of their fellow townspeople.

Mr. Elliott's entire stock of grocery goods will be sold at greatly reduced prices at a Closing Out Sale beginning July 1. All of the merchandise will be sold on strictly cash terms.

NUTRITION CLASS

The second lesson of the nutrition class will be given Tuesday, June 30, at 1:30 p. m. at the high school cafeteria. The lesson will be based on meal planning and will be followed by demonstration of fruit and vegetable salads.

LEGION PICNIC IS HAPPY EVENT

A merry party of over eighty sat down to a picnic supper in Cass Benton Park Tuesday evening. The occasion was the annual picnic of the Lloyd Green post of the Legion and Legion auxiliary when their families joined with them in the happy occasion. The table groaned with good things and after supper the Legionnaires groaned. Mrs. Chas. Murphy was the coffee chef and hit upon a clever idea to make its serving easy. Every fifth man served those near him and the scheme worked well. Ball games, quiet pitching and visiting continued until darkness sent the crowd home.

JULY 4TH TO BE QUIET IN NORTHVILLE

National Holiday Will Be Observed in Various Ways Here

There will be no formal celebration of July 4 in Northville. "You'd hardly know it's the Fourth of July any more around here," declared a resident of Northville. "In the last couple of years it seems to have died right out and only a few of the stores handle fireworks."

It is believed that the national holiday this year will be increasingly quiet, partly because enthusiasm has been suppressed for so long, but mostly because money is too scarce to be thrown away in smoke.

There will be the usual amount of scattered children lighting firecrackers but the old time Fourth of July when it was dangerous to drive a car for fear some one would drop a giant "bush" in your town is a thing of the past.

The usual emergency precautions will be taken, the medical profession laying aside ointments, cotton and gauze for those who are a trifle careless and police officials will be on hand to see that any fireworks used will be of a legal size. Most celebrants today are in favor of going to the lakes, playing golf or indulging in some other form of harmless recreation and it is expected that there will be a large exodus of vacation goers over the week-end.

BOY SCOUTS WIELD BEATERS AT NOVI

Six Boy Scouts armed themselves with carpet beaters and other instruments of warfare against dirt and volunteered their services to the women of the Novi Methodist church in their annual cleaning on Tuesday. The boys' services were invaluable in the job and the women feel grateful to them and certain that they deserve the merits which they earn for Community service. The boys who did this good turn were Sidney, Moose, Franklin Knight, Ward Van Atta, Mac Garnet, Ward Van Atta, Jack Moffitt and Warner Neal.

LYKE REUNION HELD AT BURR LYKE HOME

The twentieth annual Lyke reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Burr Lyke on West Eight Mile road, June 21, 1931. There were about fifty guests present from Canton, Ohio, Detroit, Manchester, Tpsanika, Plymouth, Novi, Salem and Northville.

After a bounteous pot-luck dinner there was an exciting baseball game in which both big and little Lykes partook. At the business meeting the following officers were elected:

Norma Switzer, president; Alex Lyke, vice president; Lillian Rakestraw, secretary and treasurer.

The 1932 place of meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lyke at Manchester.

HAROLD BALKO DIES SUNDAY AFTERNOON AFTER SHORT ILLNESS

Harold Balko, fifteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Balko on the Base Line road, passed away at the Sessions hospital last Sunday afternoon, June 21, at five o'clock following an illness of only one week. Harold was taken ill suddenly with an attack of appendicitis on the previous Monday and although an operation was performed as soon as it was thought advisable it was impossible to save this young life.

Harold was born in Clarencville April 18, 1916. He was the oldest son in the family being survived, besides his parents, by an older sister, Florence, who just last Thursday received her diploma from Northville high school, and by two younger brothers, Harley and Elmer. He had just finished the eighth grade with a fine record of scholarship. All of his school mates liked Harold. He was friendly, a real gentleman and a genuine boy. He was his father's "right hand man." He was a loyal member of the Methodist Sunday school class taught by Roy Clark.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at the home with Rev. Wm. Richards officiating. Evidence of the high regard in which Harold was held by his young friends was shown in the fact that all of his class mates in both school and Sunday school attended the funeral service bringing beautiful flowers as their last token of love. Interment was made in Rural Hill.

PENNIMAN ALLEN SHOW TO CLOSE ON WEDNESDAYS

Beginning July 1 the Penniman Allen theatres in Northville and Plymouth will be open on Saturday and Sunday nights only.

Two shows will be held nightly one beginning at 7 o'clock p. m. and one at 9 o'clock p. m.

"CHERRY QUEEN" HAS LONG PLANE TRIP

To be whirled away on a 1500 mile trip by airplane dispensing messages and "cherry pies" to mayors, governors and finally to President Hoover, was the joyous experience of Maxine Weaver, the "Cherry Queen" of Traversa City, who was born in Northville 17 years ago. On this unique trip through the East many stops were made including Philadelphia, New York City and Washington. At each the plane was met by a large delegation with a battery of cameras in the front to catch the picture of the lovely "queen."

Returning to Detroit Tuesday Maxine was met by her mother, Mrs. Harry L. Weaver and her aunt, Mrs. Don P. Yerkes Sr., of Northville, who were glad to learn from the companion of her trip, Jeanne Jidson, newspaper woman of Chicago, that through out the entire journey Maxine kept her head and remained the same joyous, unspoiled child which was the secret of her hearty reception everywhere. At the Receiving Hospital she was hosted to 30 children at Farmington, the home of her parents, she was greeted by the band and a large crowd. At Lansing she was greeted by the "Cherry Men's club" and at Grand Rapids by the Rotary club, which comes her.

GOVERNOR TALKS TO STATE EDITORS

Country editors of the state met twice a year for an exchange of ideas and to get a holiday. The summer outing held June 18, 19 and 20 in Muskegon Heights was made memorable by three days of swimming, living under the sun, speeches and a banquet at which Governor Wilbur M. Brucker told the gentlemen of the press what had occurred at the recent governors' conference, and spoke on Michigan's plans for the future.

Richard T. Baldwin, an editor of The Record attended the conference leaving Northville at 10 o'clock Thursday morning and reaching Paul Rader's Conference grounds in Muskegon Heights late in the afternoon.

A soft ball game held Thursday afternoon brought out the fact that there are many editors who, if the newspaper profession ever fails them, will be able to get jobs in the big leagues.

The evening of the first day found approximately 100 editors and their wives at the banquet where, following a pleasant meal, Governor Brucker told the editors that there were three problems which the editors had recently discussed.

The problems were, he said, those of taxation, unemployment and state planning. Other states, declared the governor, are engaged in trying to reduce the heavy burden of taxes and their problems are the same as Michigan's. The solution to the unemployment problem is still being sought for, he said and pertaining to state planning, industry is finding that the small town is the ideal site for a location by reason of the many advantages it has over the large town. Manufacturers are leaning more and more toward the small metropolis as against the large metropolis, he said.

Governor Brucker discussed reforestation, the building of new roads for the state in order to bring tourists and summer resorters to Michigan. He urged that (Continued on Page Five)

PAST HEADS OF EXCHANGE CLUB FETED

Spirit of Friendship Eulogized at Splendid Gathering on Wednesday

"The only way to have a friend," said Ralph Waldo Emerson, "is to be one."

A group of friends that meet regularly each Wednesday for a period of fellowship and discussion called the Exchange Club, paid tribute to their past presidents on the occasion of the tenth anniversary of the founding of the club.

Following a pleasant dinner, roll call of the past presidents was called and those who were present answered to their name.

The past presidents present were asked to say a few words. Each man, although most of the speeches were extemporaneous, dwelt strongly on the beneficial results of the friendships gained through membership in the club.

Chas. A. Dolph read a group of headlines he has collected containing names of prominent members of the club and of Northville. Such startling information as "Brown Accused of Murder," "Smith Asks for Voting Guard," and so on, was conveyed to interested listeners. All of which, however, was given and taken in a "jocose vein."

E. E. Brown, now living at Ann Arbor, reviewed the history of the club, traced its growth to the present proportions and declared: "As we reach the evening of life, some of us have passed the summit, the most pleasant things to look back upon are not the stocks and bonds we have accumulated, but the kindnesses we have been able to do for those who have been in need of assistance."

"I feel," he said, "that the Exchange club was a real pioneer in the field of luncheon clubs about this section and that we have every reason to feel proud of the organization."

Charles A. Ponsford, past president, said, "I have long appreciated the friendship gained through meetings with the members of the club."

Elmer Smith, past president, declared, "I quote from something that Dr. Spence of Hillsdale once said: 'Nothing can be compared to friendship. If that table were to be piled high with silver and jewels, no one of us would trade it for the loyal friendship we receive from one another.'"

Dr. P. R. Alexander said "It is a pleasure to tell all how I appreciate friendship. We don't speak of friendship perhaps as often as we should but my appreciation is as great as it should be and I hope it will continue to be so."

"More friendship," declared John Kalbfleisch, "doesn't mean anything but real friendship is beyond evaluation. I have thoroughly enjoyed the real friendships that I have made with the members of this club."

"I was a little bit frightened at first as president of the club," stated L. C. Stewart, "but soon got over that and I certainly enjoyed my term of office."

"I congratulate the Exchange club on the high standard of its membership," declared M. J. Murphy, "I hope for a continuance of the display of good will and I feel more than repaid by the friendship that I have received from the club."

On commencement night the prizes were awarded by Mrs. B. H. Douglas, who made very fitting remarks as she announced them. First prize ($5) was awarded to Miss Hazel Cordukes, second ($3) to Miss Eunice Cousins; third ($2) to Miss Velma Blake. Special honorable mention was given to Miss Hester Keller. The judges appointed by the Woman's club were Mrs. Douglas, Mrs. Frank Harmon, Mrs. C. S. Beard, Mrs. Chas. Dolph and Mrs. Chas. Murphy. This is the first year that the club has offered this prize but it is thought that it will become an annual institution to encourage the domestic tastes of our girls.

High School Seniors Win Prizes For Prettiest and Best Made Gowns Worn On Their Graduation Day

Twenty-one white dresses made by twenty-one girl graduates of the Northville high school were held up for the inspection of judges the other day. Which was the most beautifully made?

Stitches were examined, the dresses were turned inside out and carefully studied by these five women who represented the Woman's club in presenting the prizes. Laid out to five dollars for the cost of the material each girl planned carefully the dress she was to wear on the great occasion of her graduation. Some were of soft silk crepe, some of crisp organdie, some of sheer voile; all were white as becomes simple purity. The dresses were made of styles suitable for wearing throughout the coming summer.

The judges said that the dresses were all so well made with such careful hand finishing that it was not easy to decide which was best. They also said that many an older woman could have been proud to

IT COMES TO ALL

"Never morning wore to evening but some heart did break."

How eternally true it is! Death takes one of Northville's fine young men, Harold Balko, a member of our high school. A crushing tragedy like this must overwhelm the parents and family. We never knew this lad but Sunday afternoon when we heard of his death a wave of sorrow swept over us as though we had lost one of our close friends. Life holds out so much for youth now that when one of our boys and girls is snatched away to eternity, destiny seems to be baffled and all wrong! Certainly in such hours as these the deepest sympathy goes to the stricken family.

"RECKLESS DRIVING"

A Northville pastor preached Sunday on "Reckless Driving" and drew out some spiritual lessons entirely apart from motoring and its tragedies.

Two bad accidents here last week and the tragedy in Detroit where ten children were involved in one crash, one dying as the result, ought to make us all preachers about "Reckless Driving."

What are we going to do to save our own lives and limbs and stop the "slaughter of the innocents?" Here are two things that cause many of our accidents:

"Too fast driving at intersections."

"Cutting in" around another car on hills or curves. No amount of time saved by speeding at an intersection can be worth while if one goes to the hospital afterward. No human or divine law is going to prevent an accident if two cars going at say, 35 miles an hour, try to pass the same spot at the same time. For years we have been saying jokingly to our friends as they leave us in their cars: "Watch the intersections." We are not going to joke about it any more. Too many are being maimed and killed at intersections. Let's say it grimly:

"Watch the intersections."

If you do, you'll have a better chance to live longer.

"BREAK AWAY"

After weeks of work getting into the new Record home, "Ad" Schwenger, our advertising man, and the writer, "broke away" last Thursday for a couple of days at the Michigan Press association summer meeting at Muskegon Heights.

That, we believe, was a wise thing to do.

We all need the inspiration that comes from meeting the "other fellow" and we all need to get away from home once in a while to look at ourselves. We have always thought that the man who boasts that he never had a vacation was robbing himself and his associates of something big and worth while.

One of the by-products of dropping your work for a few days is the discovery that you are not indispensable. Work moves along just about the same when you are gone. Well that takes the "wind out of your sails" very nicely. It is a good thing that no one person is the only capable one around. Give the others a chance and you will find they are just as "smart" as you are.

We recommend to every man (and woman) who has any kind of a responsible job that he or she "bust away" once in a while. You'll come back refreshed and ready to get into harness again.

DO MEN-LIKE BRIDGE?

Four or five of the best known weekly editors of Michigan sat around a Muskegon hotel last Friday night a little after midnight, waiting for their wives to end their bridge games. They were tired and eager to "hit the hay."

Finally the prizes were awarded and one up-state editor got ready to leave. He looked for his hat and couldn't find it. The irritation that develops often in good men when the physical frame is worn and weary broke out. He became impatient at himself and those around him.

Someone passed him a good editorial Panama. "That's not my hat; mine is a genuine Panama and cost ten dollars," he retorted, none too pleasantly. After minutes of searching for that hat, the editor grew wearier and more expressive. "I didn't want to come to this bridge party anyway," he finally blurted out. Well the hat soon turned up and all was lovely.

But all the way home we wondered whether men like bridge as well as the women.

A GOOD GOVERNOR

We heard Governor Wilbur M. Brucker address a large number of Michigan editors last week at Muskegon Heights. We were impressed at the thing we had noticed in hearing him before, viz., his sincerity and seeming desire to serve his state to the limit of his ability.

These are trying times to be a governor. Problems are many and serious. Some seem almost incapable of solution at this time. The taxation question looms like a mountain. Yet Governor Brucker meets the challenge of the hard situation and with his eager sincerity, his abundant good health, his ambition to be a good public servant and his character and ability, he should go far toward solving some of these vexing matters that affect us all.

Some of the papers are talking about conspiracies against the governor. Now is a poor time for politics. There are too many worries that need our best brains and effort. Let's back our governor and everyone else in public office in keeping the boat "right side up" in these rough waters.

SUCCESS WITHOUT MONEY

Dr. A. S. Warthin, who was one of Michigan's great medical research workers and did a vast amount of good in his work, died the other day at Ann Arbor.

The papers of a few days ago stated that he left an estate of only $25,000. That is more than most of us have but after all, not much money when you consider what some men, who go after money making, possess.

Dr. Warthin did work worth millions. And he leaves $25,000. Success is still not all counted in money. It is a good thing that it is not.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

Who has the finest flowers in Northville?

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

IT MIGHT HELP

(Charlotte Republican)

The first thing to do to restore Michigan to financial sanity is to wipe out the administrative board. We never heard of these appalling annual deficits until this super government was created.

WHY DID HE DO IT?

(Tribute to) Cramer Smith, president of the Pontiac Commercial Savings Bank, by J. E. McMullen in the Linden Leader.

He was a square minded man throughout life and in his death though he had handled millions in money, not the faint of unwarlike penny behind his memory. It seems a pity that such a heroic soul should carry on so long and so bravely, and then by his own hand open the door to eternity, while wife and children are left to face not only their own responsibilities but that something which haunts the mind of all living.

WISE BUYING

(Washtenaw Co. Tribune)
When you buy only oil prices, you can never be sure. It's unwise to pay too much, but it is worse to pay too little. When you pay too much, you lose a little money—that's all. But when you pay too little, you sometimes lose everything, because the thing you bought was incapable of doing the thing it was bought to do.

A SANE AND RE-

ASSURING ADDRESS

(La Grange, Ind., Standard)

President Hoover sold himself to Indiana and to the nation with his address at Indianapolis on Monday evening as a safe and solid leader. There was no resort to narrow party considerations, only a straightforward statement of where we stand and whether we are going. He declared against all forms of the dole and other unsound panaceas and declared that the government is seeking earnestly to encourage and lead the people back by sound methods.

"The underlying forces of recovery are asserting themselves," he declared. "There is no sudden stroke of either governmental or private action that can dissolve these world difficulties; patient, constructive action in a multitude of directions is the strategy of success. This battle is upon a thousand fronts."

"We have come out of each previous depression into a period of prosperity greater than ever before. We shall do so this time."

President Hoover has rendered a service to the nation in exerting a steady influence and stimulating stronger endeavor and renewed confidence in the future.

As Governor Leslie said fittingly in a talk this week, there is no reason in blaming the captain of the ship when a storm arises. If some other man than Hoover had been occupying the presidential chair when this crisis arose, who would probably have been sought as a great emergency leader? No other than Herbert Hoover.

AFTER THE DE-

PRESSION—WHAT?

(Fred D. Kaister in Ionia Co. News)

We are indebted to Rockwell Smith, a real estate man of Van Nuys, California, for the collection of certain facts about financial depressions in the past, which should be valuable in predicting the future. Mr. Smith went through a file of newspapers back to the 1850's and finds these facts:

There was a business depression in 1857 lasting twelve months.

There was a business depression in 1869 lasting eight months.

There was a business depression in 1873 lasting thirty months.

There was a business depression in 1884 lasting twenty-two months.

There was a business depression in 1887 lasting ten months.

There was a business depression in 1893 lasting twenty-five months.

There was a business depression in 1903 lasting twenty-five months.

There was a business depression in 1907 lasting nearly twelve months.

HOMEMAKER'S CORNER

BY MRS. EDITOR

The following is from the pen of our sister, Florence Kiddick-Bays who has raised five children and "knows whereof she speaks":

BIGGER RESULTS

—LESS EFFORT—

If it be a virtue to make two blades of grass grow where one grew before, it is similar beneficence to invent short cuts in housecleaning. The agricultural division of the University of Minnesota is directing the women of that state into investigations which shall double their accomplishments and split their toil.

They have put especial effort into Waseca county where they have five groups of women asking themselves, "How long does it take to prepare three meals a day, set the table, clear it, wash the dishes and clean up? Are the cooking utensils near to where they are used, are the dining dishes most conveniently located, is my kitchen arranged to save steps, have I a plan of work, and if so, is it the most practical and labor saving plan?"

These women are soon going to be able to keep house as well or better with fewer hours in the kitchen, and, incidentally, fewer pains in the back, and they will not have to "acknowledge and bewail" that they "have left undone those things which they ought to have done" either.

Efficiency, as applied to business has become a title and a threat. "Efficiency" is the most exclusive word in the vocabulary of business men. It is now keeping "bosses" and "big game" hunters, who have always prided themselves on their superiority to rules and regulations, is beginning to succumb to an efficiency regime. Women's work may yet be subject to "hours," just like any mere, mundane, materialistic profession. In that day women's work will not last "from sun to sun," nor the old adage apply: "Women's work is never done." We will lose our joy in posing as martyrs and no longer regard "Poor Mother" as an appellation of endearment. When Betsy Junior asks, "Where's Mother?" the answer will come naturally, "Out motoring" or "Gone swimming with her bunch." And why not?

As there is any reason why that charming creature, just because she has the honor to be the maternal ancestor, to delightful sons and daughters, should assume the mad, mad career of a patient, dazed horse? She might at least show "horse sense" and lighten her load or get out from under it once or twice in a while. Then we shall not be at so great pains to teach our children the courtesy of "respecting gray hairs." Not having exhausted all her strength and spirit in the overstrain of endlessly

There was a business depression in 1914 lasting eight months.

There was a business depression in 1921 lasting fourteen months.

The important thing about these past panics, however, is that every one of them has been followed by flush times, and the longer the depression lasted, the longer and more active the "boom."

The present depression has now lasted nearly twenty months. We can hardly say that the "boom" which will surely follow it has begun, but it is clearly on its way. And when it comes—oh, boy!

long hours and the discouragement of "never getting through." Mother's "gray hairs" will be so outshone by the "gray matter" underneath those hairs that she will command respect spontaneously and not from duty.

When our babies are small there are months during which we must keep our noses pretty close to the grindstone, the hearth-stone. But even these strenuous years may be lightened by management. There is no reason why our tots should creep all over floors in white dresses, nor is it needful that they should wear white socks nor always be on dress parade. The beautiful expression of mother's face is as important a matter to husband as baby's waddles, and a "golden" mean should be struck between the hours devoted to each.

The danger is that, blessing the ties that bind, as every mother is likely to do, we let ourselves get into unnecessary habits of "staying by" and "shutting up" and all too contentedly into household drudgery rather than intelligent household managers, public spirited citizens, inspiring club and social leaders, and the joyous chum of husband and children. We have accepted so completely the old idea that "we must be always at it" that a few hours of freedom gives us "that guinea feeling" and a few miles from home puts us completely outside of our sphere of conscientious comfort. This new way of keeping better with less effort and fewer hours will remake woman's world and outlook and add infinitely to her charm and pep.

Perhaps no man ever worked harder or accomplished more than Theodore Roosevelt and yet how magnificently he played! If we would be great workers, we, too, must be great players. How beautiful the well-planned, intellectual program of wholesome hours spent skillfully at work bringing the utmost of results, relieving these, the tug and strain of contrasting play; the dreamless sleep which "knuts up" the ravaged sleeve of care; and the awakening with joy.

A Printer Gives Vent—

By HUGH C. CHAPIN

For the past seven or eight years I have been posing as a printer-operator and in that time I have actually worked in several print shops, try as I might to get out of it. During that time I have acquired a few of the discrepancies of the trade, and now manage to recognize a printing office when I see one. Now there is something vaguely familiar about the new Record office that reminds me of a newspaper plant. True the resemblance is slight and might easily be effaced, making it a delightful place in which to work—and letting me out.

Copy!
Generally the first thing to greet your eye as you enter our place of business, is the smiling countenance of the advertising manager. He always smiles—says it makes it easier to accept refusals, and rebuffs for errors in ads for which the operator never gets blamed. Smile on Mr. Schwenger and be glad that you aren't an operator.

Proofs!
I really should overlook the remainder of the front office staff—Mr. and Mrs. Editor—for they never do anything but gather news and heads and read proofs and try to keep it a secret from the back shop. We practically implore them to allow us to print it in the paper. Yes, we really have an editor. People do say that a newspaper must have one but I never could see why our shop must suffer so.

Heads!
If you are quick enough you will catch a glimpse of Miss Jane Lawrence, just going out to face the scandal-mongers—brave girl. Miss Lawrence is always just going out—no one ever saw her coming in.

Proofs!
Then, if you are big enough, you pass through swinging doors into the back shop. Watch your step! Here is the linotype, some five or six thousand separate pieces and not one in motion—not even the operator. But sometimes when the boss is away we sneak up and run it for awhile. They call the linotype the heart of the newspaper plant but for the life of me I can't see how anything without a soul can have a heart.

Copy!
And if you look back of you you might see our make-up tables, but remember, let's wife looked back and turned into a pillar of salt so go easy or you might look back and turn into a printer—Heaven forbid!

Heads!
If you can find your way through you'll next come to the type cases, but it's your own fault if you do. This is where our own Mr. Masters hangs out although he really should be hung out somewhere else.

Copy!
From here on the going is a little easier for the big crowd of employees—already behind you—up in front where they can loaf and watch out for the boss. If you haven't given up and turned back you have probably arrived at the job presses which Casimir-Kardas is supposed to run but by now one ever caught him at it yet.

Proofs!
Next is the Kelly automatic which we all try to run—but never success. Fact is it is supposed to run itself. We hope it will anyway.

Heads!
Then there is the big news press with which the town would be much better off if we didn't have it. Clarence Teeple runs it—poor devil.

Copy! Proofs! Heads!
You might think these ejaculations were quite unnecessary in this article. At that it would be easier for us to do away with our paper without them, nevertheless that is the main part of my job. They keep me quite busy calling for copy, proofs and heads, although I must admit that I do run the linotype once in a while.

Every Thursday Night

This scribe, with an ear to the ground, has heard talk of a new factory coming to Northville. The industry has an established payroll of $15,000 per month of which the major part COULD be spent in town if the factory is brought here.

What is the name of the factory? Well—until a more careful investigation has been made, verifying the claims of the sponsors, we can't say anything more. The president is a man with a national reputation and you've all heard of him and his exploits before. The factory will produce—Whoops, almost let it slip then.

Gee, but it's hard to hang onto a good secret.

Apropos of nothing at all, some people holler because their names are in the paper and others feel miffed because they don't get enough attention.

When an Muskogean attending the conference of state editors (that still makes me an advertising man and not an editor) we were taken on a trip through the finest playlets in the world. There were orange, orange, orange, 24 foot snakes, lions, tigers and lots of other animals that the average person sees in the movies or in dreams. All the monkeys weren't in cages though. Some on the outside put their hands between the bars and then quickly withdrew them thinking to tease the animals.

Some day some monkey will have an extra meal and one of the "teasers" will be minus a couple of fingers. All in all, the animals probably get as much "lick" out of watching the humans as the latter do watching the animals.

Northville's streets have been treated with a special preparation (cadmium sulphide to you technical people) which lays the dust. The elimination of a cloud of uncomfortable dust raised by automobiles filled with bacteria (I mean the dust, nimbust) is certainly worth while. All in favor of the dust elimination signify by saying "aye." Motion carried unanimously.

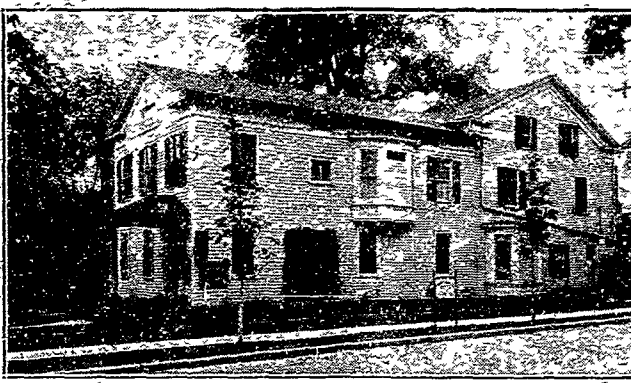

These are the days that try men's souls. Think of swimming all day golfing all day, or indulging in any of your favorite summer sports during the nice weather. Which brings to mind the old moss-eaten gag, "Sometimes I sit and think—and sometimes I just sit."

The Northville Record received a brief letter of thanks from the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce regarding the story carried last week by this paper, "Our Neighbor, Plymouth."

We thank you, Plymouth. The Twin Cities of Northville and Plymouth will show the world how to battle a way out of this depression yet. The secret lies in not sitting back on your haunches and crying "quits."

Miss Grace Angell, who has been ill with arthritis, is now able to sit up.

Northville's City Hall

Located on the corner of Main and Wing streets, the Northville city hall houses the various departments of the village. Here are the mayor's office, the council room, the city clerk's office and police headquarters.

The building was formerly the home of W. G. Lapham and previous to that, was the home of S. Lapham, Northville's first banker.

Swarms of Locusts Are Predicted Late in May

Buckhannon, W. Va.—Swarms of 17-year locusts will invade central and northern West Virginia, eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania beginning May 20, 1931, according to a prediction by Fred R. Brooks, associate editor, journal of the United States Department of Agriculture. Brooks' prediction is based on the fact that the insects have appeared regularly every 17 years since 1795.

Fireworks Dislodge Birds

Providence—Thousands of starlings which nightly inhabited the exterior of a downtown bank building became such a nuisance that authorities resorted to fireworks to get rid of them.

Heard on the Street

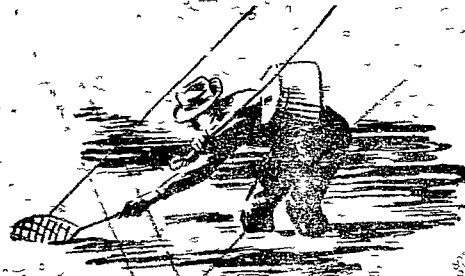

(In Farmington)—"Traffic is handled efficiently in Northville. We hardly ever hear of accidents or traffic trouble in that town."

Fassberg: "Those new curbs—will certainly be an improvement to the town."

"One man you missed in your special edition" who should have been seen is W. H. Mayberry. He has done more for Northville than any other one man," said a local merchant.

FOUR CHURCHES TO SPONSOR RELIGIOUS SCHOOL HERE JULY 6

For a number of years in many cities, towns and villages in the U. S. there has been set up, sometimes by one church, sometimes by a group of churches, a school of religion to run from 2 to 6 weeks. Dayton, Ohio has been a pioneer in this work. The Baptist church of Northville had such a school for 2 weeks last summer with gratifying results. This summer it seemed wise to have a school sponsored by the four churches accustomed to unite in a community project, viz. Presbyterian, Methodist and Baptist and the Baptist church of Novi. The organization for the school has been effected with Rev. W. Roscoe Barbour as dean or director and Mrs. E. S. Board as superintendent of the primary department; Mrs. E. O. Thompson has the junior department; Mrs. Leslie Lee the intermediate department and Rev. H. G. Whitfield the senior department. These officers with a secretary and treasurer to be named by the dean, will constitute an executive committee. The school will be held 2 weeks in the Presbyterian church house, beginning Monday, July 6, at 9 a. m. Sessions will close at 11:30. Parents of all school people whether in grades or high school are urged to encourage their children to attend.

The executive committee requests that the superintendents of the four schools secure, as far as possible, in the next two sessions of the regular Sunday schools, the enrollment of the vacation school.

Mr. Car Owner! YOU BE THE JUDGE

READ the comparison of construction and prices outlined below and judge for yourself. Why should anyone take chances with special brand tires of unknown manufacture when you can buy Firestone quality tires at no extra cost?

We save you money and serve you better because of Firestone's direct buying of rubber and cotton—undivided interest in building tires—owning their own factories, the most efficient in the world—and their great economical distributing and standardized service system.

Come in today—we will give you more value for your dollar.

OUTDOOR CURE FOR DEPRESSION SAYS GAME HEAD

Washington—"Take a vacation, relieve the high tension caused by the harrowing circumstances of the depression; preserve your health, and, at the same time, help preserve the forests, birds and streams for the health of others."

This advice is addressed to everyone by Seth Gordon, president of the American Game Association, in a bulletin just issued, in which he urges all to be careful of fire, garbage disposal, and possibly polluted waters, during their vacations. There were more than 45,000,000 people who took vacations in the out-of-doors last year, compilations show, and millions of these camped out. There were also thousands of forest, grass and brush fires started by some of these campers. These fires destroyed an incalculable number of wild birds, fowl, animals, fish and property estimated at millions of dollars.

Many of the careless campers, and others, too, were burned to death by these fires—all avoidable loss. Only one per cent of such fires are from natural cause—lightning. Be careful of cigarettes, pipes and camp fires.

Pollution, too, took toll of life through typhoid and poisoning, principally because of the thoughtlessness of campers in dumping refuse in streams and lakes. Bury all garbage and refuse; do not dump it in water.

Others were hurt by falling trees and limbs. Mr. Gordon urges one to exercise much care in selecting the camp site, and by all means do not pitch camp among big trees or in dry stream beds, as thousands did last year. A high wind or sudden rain may play havoc with human life to say nothing of destruction of camp equipment.

By observing these and other common sense cautions every vacationist may enjoy the healing of the Great Outdoors and return a new person, and also may help to preserve the same benefits for others he points out.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. G. Maywood of Albion were guests of the R. T. Baldwin family Friday.

MUSICAL TRAVELOGUE IS GIVEN BY PUPILS OF MISS HALVERSON

A program of music of many nations was given at the Presbyterian church last Friday evening by the piano pupils of Miss Grace Halverson. Representative types of music were demonstrated by these rising young musicians who made their playing more realistic by wearing the costumes of the nations whose music they rendered.

Accurate technique and expressive feeling were evident throughout the program showing the skill of their training. The ages of the pupils range from the early grades to the latter high school years. In two opening numbers appeared Patsy McLoughlin and Gwendolyn Jones, sitting wistfully on the front seat was little Louise Alexander with her broken arm in a sling, unable to take part in her first recital.

Following is the outline of the program: United States selections, Evelyn Ambler and "Tommy" McLoughlin, with Mae Hess Tendinger two vocal numbers; Norway, Marjorie Chase, Frances Alexander and "Tommy" McLoughlin; Holland, Mable Douglas; France, Mary Jane Denne; Spain, Janet Stewart; Japan, Frances Hamilton; Finland, Lexy Murray; Russia and Poland, Mae Hess; England, Ruth Mary Baldwin.

The program concluded with the audience singing "America" in unison after which Miss Halverson and her pupils were heartily congratulated by the auditors. Congratulatory gifts and flowers were showered upon the young musicians by relatives and friends.

BRAE BURN CLUB TO GIVE PRIZES

Mrs. Tom McLoughlin and Dave Kennedy won the two ball foursome match at Brae Burn golf club last week-end with a low 101. Mrs. L. J. Newcomb and J. E. Terrill turned in 104 to take second place.

Starting July 1, the club will give a prize for the low score made on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of each week. A special golf program will be held every Saturday and Sunday which is open to all members of the club and visitors.

Farmington Friends Entertained

Twenty friends of Miss Grace Tremper, High street, were her guests Monday afternoon. Each brought a contribution to the bountiful dinner spread upon the tables and a very pleasant afternoon was passed. Miss Tremper was a former resident of Farmington.

Girls Club Honors Miss Ponsford

Eleven high school girls of the J. U. G. club met at the home of Miss Arlene Richardson, Monday afternoon to show their love for their former French teacher, Miss Beth Ponsford, whose classes these girls especially enjoyed. The party was held on the spacious lawn around the Richardson home where a dainty luncheon culminated a pleasant afternoon. Miss Ponsford was presented with a lovely gift of amber glass vase for her new home.

Detroit Guests of Mrs. Hammelet

Last Thursday evening Mrs. H. Hammelet was hostess to a party of 26 members of the Kings Daughters and their husbands at a four course dinner at the Hammelet grill. Garden flowers in bowls with lighted tapers graced the long table where the delicious menu was served. The hostess had been a member of this organization for a number of years and this occasion was given at the conclusion of the season's activities before the summer vacation period.

Mrs. Cassie Honored

Honoring their Past Worthy Matron, Mrs. Mary Cassie, the officers of last year and of the previous year surprised her at a pleasant gathering at Cass Benton Park last Thursday. A delicious picnic dinner was served under the beautiful trees and the happiest kind of an afternoon was spent by these friends. The occasion was a farewell gathering before Mrs. Cassie leaves for her home in Detroit, where she will be greatly missed especially by this circle. In parting Mrs. Cassie was presented with a lovely luncheon set as a token of their esteem.

Honoring Miss Ponsford

Miss Beth Ponsford was honored by a group of Ann Arbor and Northville friends when Miss Geraldine Huff was hostess to a company of twelve young women at the Woman's League building in Ann Arbor last Saturday. A beautifully appointed long table was laid in one of the private dining rooms and following luncheon the ladies retired to the lounge and spent the afternoon playing bridge. The guest of honor received the guest prize a lovely crystal piece.

Lapham-Ponsford Wedding

Beautiful in its simplicity was the June wedding which occurred at four o'clock yesterday afternoon, June 25, when Miss Mary Beth Ponsford became the bride of Maurice James Lapham. Miss Ponsford is the daughter of Chas. A. Ponsford and Mrs. Lapham the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Lapham.

The ceremony was solemnized in the Presbyterian church, house which had been made lovely with palms and flowers. Jas. A. Frye, brother-in-law of Mr. Lapham and Herbert Neely of Detroit acted as ushers.

While the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march were softly played on the organ by Miss Thomas the bridal party entered the room. Down the aisle, on the arm of her father, passed the bride, wearing a flowing gown of white satin and lace and white picture hat, carrying a corsage of white roses and ribbons. Following came the maid of honor, Miss Myrtle Waters of Covent, Mich., a college friend of the bride who wore a blue net gown and carried pink roses. The two bridesmaids, Miss Marian Bower of Port Huron and Mrs. C. M. Young of Detroit followed wearing gowns of green and peach respectively and carrying talisman roses.

At the altar waited the groom, with his attendant, Carlisle C. Lovewell, an old school friend, and the officiating clergyman, Rev. H. G. Whitfield, who performed the impressive rite ceremony which united the happy couple.

During the reception following the ceremony the bride and groom were felicitated by their friends and a dainty buffet luncheon was served by the Nellie Yerkes auxiliary.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Lapham are well and favorably known in Northville having lived here most of their lives. They were classmates in high school. Mrs. Lapham took a four-year course in Hillsdale college, graduating in 1930. The past year she has taught French in the local high school where she made a warm place for herself in the hearts of her students. Mr. Lapham took a business course at the Ferris Institute, Big Rapids, after which he became associated with the Harvey A. Neely Funeral Home of Detroit which position he now occupies.

Mr. and Mrs. Lapham left immediately for a brief wedding trip and will be at home after July 6 at their newly furnished home in the Norwest apartments at 2615 Nebraska Ave., Detroit.

The best wishes of a large circle of friends follow them to their new home.

Martin-Bingham Nuptials

A very pretty wedding surprised the guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Granzow at their Walled Lake cottage Monday evening, who had assembled to congratulate Dr. W. S. Martin on his graduation from Ann Arbor. At ten o'clock the strains of the wedding march were faintly heard and the guests gathered on the porch which was a bower of flowers where the Rev. R. O. Thompson of Novi awaited. The bride, Sylvia P. Bingham of Pontiac, was attired in orchid net over flowered taffeta and carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. She entered on the arm of Dr. Martin and was attended by her sister, Mrs. Daniel T. Patterson of Walled Lake who was escorted in lilac chiffon. Mr. Mahlon Bradley of Detroit was best man.

Due to the illness of the bride's father, Mr. and Mrs. Bingham were unable to attend the wedding.

The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. Daniel T. Patterson of Walled Lake, Pauline Bingham and Charlie E. Bingham, Jr. of Pontiac, Mr. and Mrs. Forest Green of Walled Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Bradley of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnson of Pontiac, Mr. and Mrs. Scott and Keith Douglas of Clarkston, Mr. and Mrs. John Patterson of Plymouth, Dr. and Mrs. A. T. Holcomb of Northville, Dr. and Mrs. Ellwood Chapman of Ann Arbor, Miss Jane Baron of Ann Arbor, Mr. and Mrs. Wanda Drouillard, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Leavenworth, Mrs. Jennie Durr and Mrs. Rose Schmitt of Novi, Elmer Miller of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Speck and Fred Egan of Chicago, Illinois and Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Granzow.

Following the ceremony, supper was served after which Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Martin departed for a brief honeymoon. After June 30 they will make their home at Saginaw, Mich. where Dr. Martin will be connected with Saginaw General Hospital.

I make new furniture and re-upholster old furniture. Prices will never be lower than they are today. Why wait?

METHODISTS GET CLOCK

Certainly, there will be no more "ahhs" for long sermons at the local Methodist church—if a clock has anything to do with it. Anyway, Rev. Wm. Richards never did preach long sermons but he is nevertheless much blessed at the gift of an electric clock to the church by Edward L. Mills.

DUGUID'S ROSE GARDEN NOW IN FULL BLOOM

One of Northville's beauty spots is at the home of Wm. Duguid on Grace Ave., in the North end. Mr. Duguid's back garden is laid out in an English style rustic rose garden and right now is a picture, as there is a mass of roses of various kinds and colors. This garden has many visitors and they all admire the lay-out of the garden. It is the only one of its kind in town; not only the rose garden but all the ground around the home is beautiful. Mr. Duguid spends many hours beautifying his place.

NOTABLE PEONY HERE

In the flower garden of Dean F. Griswold, Dunlap street, is a beautiful red peony which has quite a history.

His grandmother, Lydia Bradner Dean, brought the root from her home at Wayne Co., N. Y. to Nankin, Wayne Co., Michigan when they moved there in November, 1830.

When her daughter, Fanny, married Clark Griswold and came to the Griswold farm east of town in 1840, she was given a root of this peony for her new home here and two years ago when Dean Griswold left the farm where he was born and which had been his father's since 1829, he carefully removed and brought to his present home, roots of this ancient plant now over 101 years old.

Last Monday evening a man and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Aniva from Oklahoma City, in driving through Northville, stopped for dinner by chance at the Hammelef's grill and to their great surprise learned that here were the old friends, the Hammelefs, whom they had last track of eight years ago and had tried to locate. Mr. Aniva was an old school friend of Mrs. Hammelef 25 years ago. The guests were persuaded to stay over night and the evening was spent in visiting about old times.

EARLY PAPER NEXT WEEK

Mindful of the fact that Saturday, July 4, is a holiday and that all the stores will be closed on the week day when they do the most business, The Northville Record will be printed on Wednesday, July 1 and be in the hands of subscribers on Thursday morning instead of on Friday as customary.

This will give merchants an opportunity to place their usual list of bargains in the paper through the advertising columns and will enable customers to see what is on sale so that they may make Friday, July 3 the big shopping day of the week.

Mrs. Walter Ware and son Irvin, and Robert Strachan drove to Caro Thursday to attend the graduation of Miss Mildred Stewart who is a niece of Mrs. Ware. They returned home Friday bringing Mrs. Lavina Spaulding who is 87 years old and is a grandmother of Mrs. Ware, to spend a few weeks with them.

Northville Commandery No. 39 Knight Templars met Tuesday night at the Masonic hall to accord the Knight Templar degree to Charles and James Smith. After an excellent dinner, general work was held. The Knight Templars agreed that the meeting was among the most pleasant held this year.

A large party of Rotarians were guests of Ray Richardson at an outing held at the latter's home on Wednesday, June 17. The feature of the party was a miniature golf tournament in which Superintendent Thad J. Knapp proved his superiority over his fellow Rotarians. A pleasant dinner was served.

Mrs. Lillie Angell, Wing street, attended a gathering of the alumni of the Farmington schools last Friday. The speaker of the occasion was W. H. Wicand of Coldwater, who was a teacher when Mrs. Angell attended there. Mr. Wicand taught for 37 years in this school and was warmly greeted by many old pupils.

In the write-up of the Kings' Daughters in the recent special edition by some mistake the names of the following women were left off the list of members of the state organization: Mrs. Ed Sessions, Mrs. Chas. Bristol and Mrs. V. E. Long (now Mrs. Tinham). For this error we apologize.

Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Richards, accompanied by their children, Annie, Miriam, Alice and Billy, and Ruth Mary Baldwin, left for Albion Monday morning where Miriam and Ruth Mary are attending Epworth League Institute this week. Enroute they stopped in Ann Arbor and watched the procession of 2,000 and more seniors marching in caps and gowns to their graduation. The Richards family also visited friends in Jackson.

There is a family of four children in the North End that has quite a nice school record. These children have just finished another school year, making three consecutive years that this family has had a perfect attendance record in school. Three of the children have had six perfect years so far. The proud parents of this family are Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Duguid on Grace avenue. The children are Catherine, Billy, Jack and Benn.

A. Abrams, instructor of printing in the Wayne County Training school, leaves today for New York City where he will attend a four days session of the Printing Teachers' conference at New York University where there will be present leading printers of the country. On his return Mr. and Mrs. Abrams will leave for the West where Mrs. Abrams will spend a month as instructor in special education in the Wyoming State Training school.

Michigan citizens spend their vacations within the state instead of going out of the state to spend their money.

The following day the editors were taken to the Challenge factory to see how newspaper machinery is manufactured. Luncheon was held at the Spring Lake country club where the editors were guests of the Challenge officials.

Other high spots of the conference were a trip through the state park just north of Muskegon, an inspection of the Hardy dam, and a visit to the famous Getz farm.

The farm is considered to be the finest private zoo in the world and the personally conducted tour of the premises by Mr. Getz was highly interesting to the editors.

From among the state editors attending the conference were: George Averill, of Birmingham; Fred Keister, of Ionia; Thomas Huckle of Cadillac; Muri DeFoe of Charlotte, Elton R. Eaton of Plymouth, and W. H. Berkey of Cassopolis.

Moving pictures of the conference will be shown at the next meeting, which will be held in January.

IT'S SENSIBLE To Dine Out In Hot Weather

Worrying over a hot stove in a hot kitchen in summer time is an old-fashioned thing to do. Here's the place for the family to come for delicious meals, inexpensive meals and beautifully served meals that will impress you as just the right thing all through the summer. It's the modern way to do!

"THE BLACK CAMEL"

In common with so many others, this reviewer rated "Charlie Chan Carries On" as the best mystery picture of the year when it was shown here. There seemed no occasion to change that opinion, but the advent of "The Black Camel" to be shown at the Penniman Allen theatre, Sunday, June 28, alters matters.

Here is a thriller with the blend Warner Olan again investing the role of Charlie with a conviction, that unquestionably surpasses the previous offering in entertainment. Once more Charlie makes his calm, unhurried way through a tangled mass of conflicting evidence and false clues to a brilliant conclusion, but a greater degree of unity and speed is maintained in the new picture—due, probably, to the fact that all the action takes place within two or three days and in one locale, instead of being scattered halfway around the world, as in "Charlie Chan Carries On." Many genuine glimpses of Hawaii's romantic shores and breath-taking beauty spots feature "The Black Camel," most of which was actually filmed in the Islands, and these alone make the picture well worth seeing. Olan's work is even finer than in the earlier film, fine as that was. Bela Lugosi is outstanding as the sinister fortune-teller; Sally Eilers and Robert Young make a lovable pair in the juvenile leads, and Dorothy Reyer, Victor Varconi, William Post and many other screen notables round out an exceptional supporting cast. Hamilton MacFadden, who made the former film, has again given a flawless piece of direction on this latest Earl Derr Biggers' story to reach the talkies, as do Barry Connors and Philip Klen, who also dialogued "Charlie Chan Carries On."

GERMAN'S CHIEFS LOSE TIGHT GAME

Walter Kirschner's sharp single-to-centerfield sending Elmer Frank over the plate in the last half of the ninth broke up a tight ball game and gave the Monroe Merchants a 4 to 3 victory over Pa. German and his Northville Chiefs. The winning run came after the Northville club had tied the score in the first half of the ninth. Frank singled with one down in the last of the ninth when Harold Rammiller drew a base on balls and raced home when Kuschner met the ball squarely.

Pa. German worked seven innings of the game and pitched fine ball, keeping Monroe hits well scattered and receiving great support by his teammates. The visitors held up the game more than a half hour because of a misunderstanding over the time of play.

Allan Kronbach pitched for the Merchants and worked a good game although the hard hitting Northville team kept him in trouble through much of the time. He left the game at the end of the eighth inning and Harold Rammiller went out to pitch the ninth. Rammiller allowed Northville to tie the score and then took credit for the victory when Kirschner came through with his hit.

Northville was the last to score and the run was a gift. It came in the second inning when Kronbach fumbled Hammond's dinky roller. Hammond stole second but Loyland, the third baseman, threw out the runner. Hammond's ground ball to second was thrown out by Munson. Kronbach hit Moffatt and Munson missed. E. Wood's ground ball to second was thrown out by Rowland. Rowland and Moffatt's double to right field with no one out scored another for Northville in the fourth. An unassisted double play by Kirschner off Harry German's line hit had ended the inning.

Monroe's first score came on Elmer Frank's long home run drive to deep center field in the last of the fifth. Andrews singled in the sixth and Pat Munson got hold of a pitch and drove it far over the Northville left fielders' heads. The gardener failing to chase the ball when he saw that it was an easy home run. The blow put Monroe in the lead by 3 to 2.

There was no further scoring until the ninth when Rammiller went out to pitch for Monroe. Rammiller got Harry German, Sr., in the hole and then sent him a slow ball which German promptly hit into left field for a single, going to second base when Carl Mentel allowed the ball to get away from him. Harry German, Jr., then struck out. Jaska hit to Munson who tried for the play on Pa. German at third, both run-

FIVE STATE PARKS TO HAVE LIFE GUARDS FOR SUMMER SEASON

Lansing—Inspected water, life guards, roped off dangerous areas and regularly cleaned beaches. These are some of the ways the state protects the hundreds of thousands who use the bathing beaches at the state parks.

By using these simple precautions the number of accidents at the parks beaches has been kept unusually low despite the fact that these beaches are used by millions of people annually.

The cooperation of the State Department of Health has been asked by the Parks Division of the Conservation Department in inspecting the water at the beaches of all state parks, to make certain that the water and beach are in a sanitary condition. If it should be found that conditions at any particular beach are injurious to health, the beach will be immediately closed until the conditions are remedied.

Life guards will be employed regularly during the summer at the beaches of five of the state parks: Island Lake at Brighton, Bay City Park at Bay City, Grand Haven Park at Grand Haven, Holland Park at Holland and Walter J. Hayes in the Irish Hills.

Park superintendents at other parks have been authorized to employ life guards when there are large crowds at the beaches. The life guards this year will wear uniform suits provided by the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wadsworth enjoyed a rest at Upper Straits Lake Sunday.

ATTEND SCHOOL BANQUET

Mrs. Lillian Angell, Ida Williams, and Lillian Cook last Friday evening, June 19, attended the banquet given the graduating class of this year at Farmington, and also again met their former teacher, Harvey Wileand.

A fine program was given and speeches made by former teachers, as well as former pupils and splendid music consisting of songs given by pupils and other music given by Miss Pierce who was accompanist.

Altogether it was a very enjoyable occasion. The banquet served by the Lutheran ladies' society left nothing to be desired, while the decorations of the loveliest roses grown in the fine old village of Farmington, were also all that could be desired.

ATTENTION AT LAST

Here is a story too good not to be true. A man was seen to enter a certain church and sit down with his hat on. When the stewards came in and noticed the phenomenon, they held a whispered conversation together. At last one of them approached the stranger and politely said, "Excuse me, sir, but are you aware that you have your hat on?"

"Ah," said the man, "I thought that would do it. I have been coming to this church for weeks, and not a soul took the slightest notice of me, or spoke to me. I am glad you have condescended to speak to me at last."—Methodist Times.

I'm delighted

with my Electrochef's LOW COOKING COST

"Radiant reflectors FOCUS the heat on the cooking utensils"

"No wonder my new ELECTROCHEF electric range costs so little to operate! Polished radiant reflectors FOCUS the heat on the cooking utensils. The heat cannot escape into the kitchen air—all of it is used for cooking. Three different heat intensities—high, medium and low—provide just the right heat for every purpose, without waste. In the oven, double air-space insulation prevents heat loss. I used to think electric cooking was expensive until I bought my ELECTROCHEF!"

*A study of one thousand families using the ELECTROCHEF electric range showed a cooking cost of less than one cent a meal a person.

10 YEARS AGO

Mrs. E. J. Tremper passed her 84th birthday at her home here Monday.

The King's Daughters of Michigan will meet in Northville this year.

A class of twenty-one received diplomas at the Northville high school commencement. Miss Elizabeth Lapham was valedictorian. Miss Mildred Baldwin gave the

West Point Park

Children's Day was observed in the school here Sunday. The Sunday school boys and girls gave the program of recitations and singing. The choir sang an anthem. Rev. John Adams gave a short address on "The Kingdom of Heaven." The program was enjoyed by all present.

Claud Dwight, former student and athlete in the school here, was at the picnic Friday. He is living in Brighton.

Gerald Taggart has moved to the Seven Mile road in this district and they are sending their daughter, Kathleen, to school.

Everything is quiet on the school grounds until September.

Barbara Whipple was a visitor for a week with Miss Ruckler at her home in Brighton.

The Fredo club has their games Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Andy Mann being host and hostess. Prizes were won by the following ladies: Mrs. A. Dayton, second, Etta Kilgester, third; Mrs. Geo. Martin, winning were, first, Ralph Myers, second, Anton Schweizer, third, Bobby Terrill. The house prize was won by Mrs. Dale Lissum.

The Firemen and West Point Park league teams played a game of baseball on the diamond here on the twenty-first. West Point regained their good name by their hitting and fast running, making double plays three times. The score was eight to one in favor of West Point Park. Risdon Creamery will be here on the twenty-eighth.

Friday afternoon at the school picnic on Pierson school diamond an interesting baseball game between Northville six-graders and Pierson six-graders. A very close game was played with Carl Taylor and Maurice Wolfe as the battery for West Point Park. The score was nine to ten in favor of West Point.

Mrs. Charlotte Wolfe received a number of invitations from her grandchildren. Miss Lillian Bond from Seattle university, Floyd Bond from Pontiac high school, Miss Olive Hudson from New Hudson high school and Harry Wolfe from Pierson school in West Point Park, from the eighth grade.

Miss Lena McCully of Farmington was a dinner guest of Miss Shirley Zwahlen.

Miss Helen Tuck, a former resident of this place and now from Northville, accompanied by Mrs. Moss, were visitors of Mrs. John Mercer Saturday.

Nearby Notes

Plymouth high school graduated a class of 75 this year, the largest in its history.

Brighton's tax rate for this year will be fifteen mills on the dollar, a reduction of three mills from last year's rate.

Plymouth has a valuation reduction this year amounting to $1,100,000. The village tax rate for this year will be $2.50 as compared with $3.50 per thousand last year.

The First Congregational Church of Ann Arbor finds itself on the verge of bankruptcy. It has obligations amounting to more than $27,200. The church has served the city eighty-five years.

Clinton, Michigan, holds the distinction of being one town in Michigan where no summer taxes are levied. A balance of $30,000 in the municipal lighting and water fund makes additional funds unnecessary this year.

Wayne claims to have the oldest blacksmith shop in the state still in operation. It was established 100 years ago by Fred Merker, a German immigrant. All the original tools forged by him with his name on them are still in use.

Construction of a tunnel under Grand River in Farmington to insure protection to the lives of school children who cross that thoroughfare on their way to school, which has been under consideration by the city commission for some time, is not likely to be accomplished. It is thought a signal light and a capable watchman would be a cheaper method.

History was given by Harry Wolfe, class prophecy by Barbara Middlewood and a reading, "The Last Tree," by George Carlan. The address for the evening was given by Mr. Knapp, superintendent of Northville high school. Gifts were given by Vera Lewis. Presentation of the flag was made by Vivian Agdis and the acceptance by Dorothy Pierpont. Edwin Johnson presented the diplomas.

The teachers and five grades of boys and girls had a picnic at Island Lake Thursday where they enjoyed swimming and all kinds of fun.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Ziegler and son, Gerald, are spending a few days at Houghton lake.

A vacation church school will commence June 29. All children are eligible from six years old and up. Rev. Adams will take charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Coolman, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Rivers and daughter, Lucille, were invited guests at a banquet given by a Detroit baking company Wednesday.

Mrs. Painter of Westmore street is quite ill at this time.

SCHOOL BOARD GIVES QUARTERS TO SCOUTS

In response to the plea for a place for the Boy Scouts to "hold forth," the Northville school board offered generously the use of the little green building which was formerly used by the high school band.

"The boys have been comfortably settled here for two weeks and have already begun making a work bench to use in working out their original projects. They have also started a library made up of the kind of things which appeal to boys of their age. They are glad to receive the copies of the Geographic, any back the American Boy, and Magazine, and Mrs. Harry S. or any other appropriate reading matter to add to their stock. They could use, nicely any tools which anyone can spare."

W. H. M. S. OFFICERS

At a meeting of the W. H. M. S. of the Methodist church on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Jas. Tiffin on Grace street the following officers were elected for the coming year: president, Mrs. E. J. Cobb; vice president, Mrs. Hulda Stalter; secretary, Mrs. Otis Tewkesbury; cor. secretary, Mrs. Christian Norgaard; treasurer, Mrs. Earl A. Hamilton; assistant treasurer, Mrs. Edward Fuller. This meeting closed the program for the season. The members were happy to have with them again their president, Mrs. Ohas Fikins, who has been spending the winter in Detroit.

heard tonight (Friday) from 7:30 to 9 o'clock.

Father, Valentin, a Franciscan monk from the monastery at the Nine Mile and Eyegreen roads, read the two Masses here last Sunday at 7:30 and 10 o'clock. He is a very interesting speaker.

The ladies of the Altar society had their June meeting at the home of the Misses Kohler on Beal Ave., last Tuesday noon. The pot-luck luncheon was of an immense and tasty variety.

Do not forget the Card Party that is being given tomorrow night at the chapel at Walley Lake. Individual table prizes, 10 door prizes and refreshments are the attractions. It will be for the benefit of the Northville church.

Mrs. Guenzler is in charge of the bake sale that will be held at the Palace meat market this Saturday morning, June 27.

Presbyterian Church

On Sunday, June 28, at 10:30 all services will be held in the First Presbyterian church. You are asked to bear in mind that this is the only service of public worship held on Sunday, the evening services being withdrawn during summer months. Please treat the matter of attendance seriously.

Parents and children don't overlook the Sunday school session at 12:30 noon on Sunday.

The boys and girls will be given their first opportunity for registration in the Daily Vacation Bible school commencing July 6 at 9 a.m. and continuing until July 17. The hours are from 9:00 to 11:30 for four days each week. See full announcement elsewhere in this issue.

FIRST ELECTRIC SHOP

Geo. Dixon, the "pop corn merchant" of Northville, dropped into The Record office and told us the interesting fact that he had an interest in the first electric shop started in Northville in 1912. Associated with his cousin, "Bill" Ainge, who operated an electric shop formerly in Pontiac, the business made a modest beginning in the location of the present Northville Electric shop. Clifford Turnbull, an employee of Ainge in Pontiac, was persuaded to come to Northville and later in 1915 took over the business, purchasing the entire building and enlarging the enterprise to its present proportions. Assisting Mr. Turnbull in his work has been Clifford Sinden who, for the past nine years, has been a "power behind the throne." It would be interesting to compare the meager equipment of the early electric shop with the manifold articles of electrical appliances on display in the present shop.

38 SENIORS GET THEIR DIPLOMAS

Mrs. B. H. Douglas, chairman of a committee of judges, selected from the Northville Woman's club, presented prizes to the girls making the best graduation dress.

Mrs. Douglas said that the points considered in judging were workmanship, neatness of appearance, style and cost. The first prize of five dollars went to Hazel Cordukes; second and third prizes of three dollars each went to Eunice Cousins and Velma Blake respectively. Hester Keifer placed fourth and received an honorable mention.

After the presentation of the senior class by R. H. Amerman, this requirement, and Mr. Knapp congratulated Mr. Amerman and all the faculty for the work they had accomplished. Then the students, each passing across the stage as his name was called, were handed their diplomas.

The remainder of the program was a little out of the ordinary. Mr. Knapp explained that in previous years one of the requirements for graduation had been the preparation and delivery of an oration.

Three men were refused their diplomas because they failed to meet this requirement, and Mr. Knapp presented at this time their diplomas. The men were Donald P. Yerkes, '34; Edward H. Lapham, '31, and George H. Gibson, '34.

The graduates were: Wayne Preston, Wilfred Steinger, Hazel Archibald, Mary Ellen Barbour, Howard Christensen, Miriam Richards, Florence Balko, Velma L. Blake, Ned Junod, Fred Kerr, Mary Modes, Elmer Ferrin, Hester Keifer, Robert Latsenberger, Margaret Norton, Albert Rooth, Martin Somer, Helen Strachan, Elmer Westphal, Francis Sprenger, Joy Thompson, Eleanor Westphal, Floyd Darling, Esther Fisher, Dorothy Gerge.

Frank Hinchman, Ivan Ely, Odith Fosgate, George Greenlee, Alex Johnson, Mable Bryan, Ted Cavell, Hazel Cordukes, Isabella Cross, Lilian Cassie, Rose Chargo, Eunice Cousins, Lottie Damm.
