F. S. HARMON DIES MONDAY AT HIS HOME

Business and Civic Leader of Northville Passes at Age of 69

Frank S. Harmon, one of the men who has helped make Northville what it is today, passed away at his home on North Wing street at 11:45 a. m. Monday, July 13. The whole community grieves in the loss of a man who was a true friend to the town.

Mr. Harmon, the son of John V. and Susan Harmon, was born May 13, 1862 in Northville and spent the larger part of his life here. In his boyhood he attended school in Northville where he made good use of his time and left the hands of the schoolmaster with a good equipment for life.

His first public duty was in the office of the United States Fish Commission, which position he held until 1884. A series of changes in business enterprises followed. For a time he was secretary of the Greenville Wood & Sons company, manufacturers of pipe organs; later he engaged in retail business and was afterward in the employ of the Globe Furniture company when he served as salesman in Pittsburgh, Pa., and in Baltimore, Md.

He was married in 1887 to Miss Kitty Symonds, also of Northville, and they had three children. He followed with this faithful life partner who survives him. One brother, Chas. of Greenville, also survives.

In 1896 he formed a partnership with W. C. Yerkes in the hardware business in Northville, and two years later he organized the American Bell and Foundry company of which he was chosen president. He was also vice-president of the Globe Furniture company and was named president of the Lapham State Savings bank when it was organized in 1907. This last office he held continuously for 24 years, until the time of his death.

Active in politics, Mr. Harmon had served the village and township in various offices of responsibility, among them as village president for two years and as village trustee. He was the first clerk of Northville township and the last of Plymouth before the township was divided. For twelve years he served as a member of the local Board of Education. Rendering good and satisfactory service in all of these capacities, Mr. Harmon proved himself a real benefactor to the community having its best interests at heart.

A man of literary taste and intelligence, he travelled widely and desired to see more of the world, had his health permit. Mr. Harmon was an asset to the social life of Northville and especially enjoyed his relation to a choice literary club which congenial group he founded. He referred only recently to his keen enjoyment in the "association of men like Chas. Dubuay, Cass Benton, Elder Jerome, C. C. Chadwick and Robert Yerkes."

Frank Harmon was a loyal Mason and the only office it is said he aspired to was his for twenty years, the presidency of the Masonic Association. When he pressed his resignation on account of ill health he was made an honorary member for the remainder of his life, being the only man given this honor by the Masonic Association.

The Rotary club was another of Mr. Harmon's great interests. He was instrumental in its formation and was elected its treasurer which office he held until compelled to relinquish the activity. By unanimous vote he was made an honorary member, because of his long relation to the club.

During his active years Mr. Harmon was a loyal attendant of the Presbyterian church, he and Mrs. Harmon singing in the choir for years. He was proud of his warm friendship for his pastors during his attendance, among them the beloved Rev. W. T. Jacques and Rev. Henry W. Gelston. Late friendship with the present pastor, Rev. H. G. Whitfield was also prized by Mr. Harmon.

Having no children of his own he was a friend to all little ones and greeted them always on the street. Since 1917 he has been gradually failing in health until in 1930 complications compelled him to place himself under a physician's care. Hospitals, X-ray, in fact everything known to medical science, was tried but to no avail. Through months of illness he was a patient sufferer and was always gratified to know of his friends' interest in his welfare.

Devoted to his town, he is known to have gone without that it might prosper. He longed to live to make

BELOVED BY ALL

Frank S. Harmon

It better for his having lived in it. His friends have heard him often exclaim, "I wish I might do something for Northville." Did he succeed? Years may come and go but the name of this man will live on. On the streets men anxiously inquired about his condition and very often has it been said, "Oh that Northville had more men like Frank Harmon!" His every word, a jewel and every thought a flower, says one who knew him most intimately.

As became the nature of this true man a funeral service of simple dignity was held at the home Wednesday afternoon, without pomp or ostentation.

The impressive service was in charge of Rev. H. G. Whitfield, who as a personal friend during Mr. Harmon's long illness came to know him intimately. With deep feeling Mr. Whitfield spoke of Mr. Harmon's outstanding qualities of service and devotion to public service. Interested in all things, devoted to his community he gave unstintingly of his time and energy. For the finer things of life he had the greatest, deepest reverence and in his outlook on life he weighed values rightly. The whole community has suffered greatly in the loss of such a man in the town.

Performing their last reverent service to a loyal friend these who loved him most dearly acted as pall bearers: H. D. Dean, Mark R. Seeley, Chas. L. Dubuay, Frank Bradley, Edward H. Lapham and Fred J. Cochran.

Interment was made in the Mausoleum in Rural Hill cemetery.

SCHOOL PROGRAM TONIGHT

The period of the Daily Vacation Bible school closes Friday of this week at noon but there will be a public program tonight, Friday, to which all are cordially invited.

This program under direction of Mrs. Earl Montgomery will consist of an exhibition of memory work and the presentation of a pageant in costume. There will be bright and beautiful songs showing the children's grasp of church music. The program will begin at 7:30 and will be held in the auditorium of the Presbyterian church. Each pastor will have a brief part in the program. An offering will be taken to help defray the expense of the school.

The schools' offering will be given to a mission cause and certification of perfect attendance given the pupils who have earned it.

A pleasant trip of 1300 miles, enjoying the finest of weather, the party made the journey in four days and arrived at their destination, a spot within 30 miles of the "Summer Whitehouse."

NORTHVILLE FAIR PLANS TAKE SHAPE

Northville Fair Date Set For Aug. 25-29: New Road Arouses Interest

It'll be the finest fair in the state. What fair?

Why, the "Northville Wayne County fair," of course.

When a group of determined men such as N. C. Schrader, Floyd Norstrom, Fred W. Lyke, A. E. Fuller, Elmer Smith, Harry Clark, Marvin Sloan and other fair association members get together and decide that despite alleged "hard times" bank closings, European national failures and all other obstacles to the contrary they intend to have a fair that will be a notable credit and contribution to the community, they take the bit in their teeth and have a fair.

And all indications pointing to a fair time, promise that the quality of Northville's fair will not be lowered one iota.

The fair has had the solid backing of the business men of the community. Every man, woman and child living in Northville and environs has been anxiously counting the days until August 25, the date set for the fair opening.

Preliminary preparations include the building of a new road by the Wayne County Roads commission which will lead from the southeast part of the grounds to Center street. Grading of the road was completed this week, the county having put 15 trucks to work on the job hauling dirt.

Entries are being received for the live stock division of the fair and as the county is filled with banded crops and the fruits and vegetables are having a wonderful year, there promises to be some keen competition when the judges get into a huddle to decide to whom to hand out the prizes.

BANK COMMITTEE NAMED TUESDAY

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Lapham State Savings bank, held Tuesday evening, it was unanimously voted to undertake liquidation of the bank's assets by a committee selected by the stockholders.

Following this expression of confidence in the bank's officials, the following committee was named: E. H. Lapham, Milo N. Johnson and Alex. Christensen.

On July 23, the date set for appointment of a permanent receiver, it will be decided whether or not the local committee will be given authority to commence liquidation of the bank's assets.

CIGARETTE LIGHTER CAUSES MINOR BURNS

Donald Keeney received minor burns on his hands Wednesday afternoon as he ignited a cigarette lighter after filling it with gasoline.

While filling the lighter, young Keeney had spilled gasoline on his hands and neglecting to wash his hands before snipping the lighter, caused the gasoline to catch fire. The flames were put out quickly and fortunately the only resulting damage was a pair of blistered hands suffered by Donald.

Band Concert Draws Crowd

The band was heard again on the streets of Northville last Saturday evening. Folks were glad to hear it and showed their appreciation by turning out in large numbers to listen to such good music, incidentally to greet their friends (and, as a natural consequence of being "down town" to spend a little cash with local merchants). The number of people far surpassed the usual Saturday night crowd and business men say that there is no doubt that it gave not a little impetus to local trade.

John C. Schrader, president of the Northville business district, said that it is to the community far beyond commercial value. Very few communities can boast of a band which plays music of such superior quality—so "jazz-band" this, or with such unity of expression, having played together with almost the same personnel for the past four years.

Starting at the school house, the band, led by its spirited drum major, Lillian Cassie, who came out from Detroit for the occasion, marched down to the center of the business district where they played one number and then took their customary places in front of the vacant lot where once stood the hotel.

Some say that last Saturday night's concert showed marked improvement over last year and Manager Fred W. Lyke says that "listening in" on the rehearsals he can promise the public some more tracks in the coming Saturday nights. Especially appreciated in this first concert was the final number, "Goin' Home."

Northville is to be congratulated on having a leader like Mr. Lyke who demands the best of his pupils. Of the forty young musicians it is of interest to know that four are from the Head family, two boys and two girls, two of whom play trombones, one the cornet and one the "sax."

AMERICAN LEGION GIVES CHANDLER A MILITARY FUNERAL

The funeral of Lawrence Chandler, porter at the Maybury sanatorium, who was fatally burned in his car near Saline last Monday, was held at the Schrader funeral parlors yesterday (Thursday) afternoon.

Chandler was a member of the Lloyd H. Green American Legion, having joined only two months ago. As his death, his immediate family being located in Danville, Va., were unable to care for his remains and it fell to the Legion boys to do this for their comrade as the customary loyalty of soldier to soldier duty.

Principles of the body to the Schrader funeral home, they assumed the entire expense in giving their "Buddy" a military funeral. Beautiful flowers surrounded the casket draped with the stars and stripes. The Legion and the Auxiliary attended, a body and though not a relative, relative was present. The funeral was most impressive. Rev. Wm. Richards officiated. Burial was made in the Legion lot at Rural Hill. One member of the Legion says, "A soldier is always a soldier to us and there is a fraternal feeling between us that always lasts."

As a final touch of kindness the Legion had pictures taken of the interior of the chapel and of the funeral train at the cemetery to send as a comfort to the distant family.

Among the relatives and friends from out of town who came to attend the funeral service of Frank S. Harmon were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Harmon and Mr. and Mrs. Huch McLean of Greenville, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Adams of Farmington, Mrs. A. D. Noble of Orchard Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bogart of Lansing.

Mac Rae Talks at Exchange

A vivid account of the program of activities carried out by the Children's Fund of Michigan created April 1, 1929 by the gift of ten million dollars by Senator James Couzens of Detroit, was given members of the Exchange club and guests at their Wednesday luncheon by Robert H. Mac Rae, a former member of the executive staff of the fund. Mr. Mac Rae, the son of Rev. and Mrs. A. K. Mac Rae of Walpole Lake, is a former Northville boy and his many friends were delighted to hear him in such an unusually fine and comprehensive talk.

Senator Couzens' gift was unique in three respects. Mr. Mac Rae said in opening his talk: "First, there is no mention of the donor's name in the gift; second, the fund is not perpetual but at the end of 25 years both principal and interest will all be spent. The desire of the donor is to limit the fund after necessity for its use may have gone, also to create in society the ability to care for the problems of each generation. In the third place, there are no restrictions to the gift which is to be used solely to promote the health, welfare and prosperity of children."

Mr. Mac Rae outlined some of the ways in which the fund spends over $700,000 a year in the counties of Michigan. There are several branches of activity.

In the child health division a vast amount of good has been done, both in co-operation with the state health authorities and in individual projects. In the preventive medicine program the one item of diphtheria prevention alone has been immensely valuable. The speaker said the elimination of this once dreaded disease is being brought about by the work of the various agencies.

In the county dental program, especially in the more sparsely settled counties of the northern

FUNERAL OF R. C. YERKES WILL BE HERE

Remains of Former Resident Will Be Brought From New Mexico

The remains of Robert C. Yerkes, for a number of years one of the outstanding business men of Northville, whose death occurred in Albuquerque, New Mexico, June 25, will be brought back here for final services.

William H. Yerkes, brother of the deceased, who was called to the bedside some weeks ago, accompanied by Mrs. Robert C. Yerkes, will leave for Northville with the body on Saturday, July 25.

The funeral services for one of Northville's most esteemed men will be held here among Mr. Yerkes' old friends, neighbors, and business associates and interment will be made in the family crypt in the Mausoleum in Rural Hill cemetery.

A sketch of the useful life of Mr. Yerkes will be given later in The Record.

WILL PAY 3%

In keeping with present banking conditions and for the greater protection of its depositors, the Northville State Savings bank has decided to offer three per cent per annum on savings.

The bank will pay interest on savings on the first Tuesday of June and December of each year. The action was taken at the regular monthly meeting of the board of directors held July 1.

PHOENIX THIEVES TO PAY PENALTY

Albert Durst, 16, John Jeffries, 18, and Stanley Cobra, 16, all of Detroit, will not steal any more money from cars belonging to bathers in Phoenix Park.

Frederick Wilson, 3869 Dunbar road, Detroit, coming back to his car after a swim in the lake saw Jeffries and Durst as they were leaving his car with $23 taken from the clothes Wilson had left in the car.

Wilson attempted to catch the boys but failed. Calling to Cobra, who was standing nearby to watch the thieves, he jumped in his car and came to Northville to report the theft.

Chief of Police Wm. S. Safford came back to Phoenix and reasoning that the boys would immediately make for the Seven Mile road, headed for there and found Cobra.

On questioning Cobra, Chief Safford, could elicit no more information than that the boys had disappeared. Safford continued down the Seven Mile road until his car had rounded a curve, turned around and drove back to find young Cobra legging it for the Cass Benton woods.

Chief Safford made a running catch of the culprit, accused him of knowing the whereabouts of the other two boys, and finally found them hiding in large wooden culverts.

Arraigned before Justice of Peace Wellington Roberts, Jeffries was given 30 days in the Detroit House of Correction and Durst and Cobra were taken to the Juvenile Court in Detroit.

Wilson complimented Chief Safford on the efficiency and promptness with which he had performed the capture.

There is one man in Northville, who, although long past his school days, is still eligible for membership in the local Scout troop if the boys themselves have anything to say about it.

Although there is no way of telling whether or not this man has performed his "good deed" every day, the Boy Scouts are willing to swear that there are several deeds that he has performed which will stand out over many days.

Whenever the Scouts have needed a means of transportation this philanthropist has come forward quietly and unostentatiously to offer a truck to them that is used extensively in his business. Whenever the Scouts have needed anything that was in his power to give them, he has reached into his bag of tricks and pulled forth some seem-

CLOSES GOOD YEAR

This is Thad J. Knapp, superintendent of the Northville schools, whose first year has been marked by real progress. The account of the annual school meeting elsewhere gives some of the details.

MOEREN, HOLMES NAMED TRUSTEES

At the annual school meeting of North District No. 8 Monday evening M. J. Moeren and C. E. Holmes were re-elected as trustees for three years to succeed themselves. About 50 were present and the meeting was a harmonious one.

After a discussion of the amount of tuition to be paid by the district to other schools, it was decided by a vote of 26 to 13, to make the maximum amount $90.

By reducing teachers' salaries and eliminating one teacher the next year's budget was placed at $12,500, a decrease of $1,000. Miss Mabel Chamberlain, who has taught the 6th, 7th and 8th grades will be the instructor at the Hazen school next year. The sum of $850 was transferred from the building to the general fund. The fact that there is $6,000 of delinquent taxes in the district has made it necessary to "cut the corners."

CIVIC GOOD TIME PLANS SUGGESTED

Plans for a free twilight celebration to take place in two weeks will be laid before members of the village council Monday night.

Events scheduled are a street dance, two horse races to be run at the fair grounds, entries to include 15 horses that are getting into shape for the fair to be held Aug. 25-29, a baseball game between Harry German's Northville Chiefs and an Arm Arbor team which features several former University players.

The celebration is planned to take place at twilight and will, if plans are followed through, be entirely free to all who desire to come. More definite details of the project will be announced following the council meeting Monday night.

HEALTH OFFICER STARTS ACTION

"Some folks are going to be awfully surprised," said Dr. Wilbur H. Johnston, village health officer, "when I come around and tap them on the shoulder for keeping outside toilets contrary to the village ordinance."

Dr. Johnston says he has repeatedly told offenders that they are going contrary to the law but now is the time for action and he intends to invoke the aid of the police to help him enforce the ordinances pertaining to sewage disposal.

There isn't much more to say about this man, say the Scouts and their Scoutmaster, Orlov G. Owen but that when they are in a pinch this man "comes through in a big way."

Every Scout in the village of Northville, to make a long story short, is willing to swear life-long fealty to one they know is their friend, one who can be depended upon—Sherrill W. Ambler.

The Scouts are at a loss to let him know how much they appreciate his efforts in their behalf, but the loyalty and thanks of a troop of American Boy Scouts are things to be prized higher than any material wealth that this country has to offer.

KALBFLEISCH IS NAMED ON SCHOOL BOARD

Reports at Annual Meeting Show Large Saving In Past Year

Election of John Kalbfleisch as trustee for three years, to succeed Wellington Roberts; announcement of a saving of $4,878 in salaries the past year; the retiring of $8,500 of bonds and the statement that the balance of money due over money owing for the year would be $3,632—these were high lights of the annual meeting of the Northville school district, fractional No. 2, Monday evening at the school auditorium.

Fewer than 50 people attended the meeting which was presided over by Dr. E. B. Cavell, president of the school board. The summarized financial report prepared by the treasurer, Dr. Paul E. Alexander, and the secretary, Sherrill Ambler, was read by Mr. Ambler. The items reported will be published in the Record of next week.

The report for the year was most encouraging. It showed that under the administration of Superintendent Thad J. Knapp, a saving of $4,878 in salaries had been effected during the year. The exact figures are:

Teachers	1929-30	$46,475.50
Clerk		350.00
		(plus)
Janitors, approx.		4,800.00

Teachers	1930-31	$51,628.00
Clerk		$39,850.43
Contact Teacher and Librarian		1,700.00
Nurse		500.00
Janitors		3,900.00

Mr. Ambler, speaking for the school board, explained that the "capital" outlay for the year 1930-31 was $11,119.79, including the $8,500 of bonds that were retired. He also stated that the bonded indebtedness is now only $66,000, which is unusually small for a district of this size.

FINANCIAL CONDITION OF THE NORTHVILLE SCHOOL DISTRICT JULY 9, 1931

Assessed valuation of district 1929-30	$3,757,715.96
Taxes assessed	48,000.00
Rate of tax—$13.06 per thousand
Assessed valuation of district 1930-31	$3,742,235.00
Taxes assessed	48,000.00
Rate of tax—$13.06 per thousand

Total value of buildings and contents	$200,000.00
Total value of grounds	55,000.00
Total valuation of property	$255,000.00
Total bonded indebtedness	66,000.00

this size. The strong financial standing of the district was shown recently when bonds, which were refunded, brought a premium as well as low interest. The exact figures for the capital outlay are: Alteration of old buildings $12,493; General Equipment $44.93; Furniture, Apparatus, etc. $50.23.

Bonds retired $2,619.79

John Kalbfleisch was the only candidate nominated to succeed Wellington Roberts, who has been a valuable member of the board for the past five years. However, a written ballot was taken with T. R. Carrington and Carm Benton as tellers, which showed that Mr. Kalbfleisch received 41 votes out of 45 cast. On motion of M. J. Murphy a unanimous vote of appreciation was given to Mr. Roberts for the conscientious and outstanding work he has done for the district.

The meeting was a most harmonious one and showed that the Northville schools are in exceptionally fine condition and face another year of great success.

ROBERTS OBJECTS

Wellington Roberts says that the news item in The Detroit News of Tuesday, that he was "defeated" for school trustee at the annual school meeting Monday evening is incorrect.

Mr. Roberts tells The Record that he was not even placed in nomination and that there had been no campaign at all for him, hence is entirely incorrect to state that he was defeated. He also says that the News erred in saying he had been a member of the board for six years since he had served only five years.

Legion Notes

By Lisle Alexander in The American Legion News.

Just a word of explanation about this column last week. It has been a long time since we have missed and I made arrangements for a word of greeting to all Michigan buddies in the last issue, but the pressure of work at the office stepped in and the worthy editor failed me. However, no one is blamed and the readers of my notes were given a much needed rest.

Now that the department convention is over, we can settle down to normal and to preparation for the national convention in September. I managed to check in at Pontiac on each one of the convention days never failed to find some Green men whenever I went. I was expected to go. But, I was not represented as strong as we should have been, especially on Saturday and in the parade. It seems to me that, with a Legion show as big as this one was, only 40 minutes drive from your fireside, that a Post of 115 members should have been represented by at least 75 per cent of its membership. We were not. We did not have five percent in the line of march. A lot of you fellows need a bomb filled with Legion spirit, touched off right under your feet. You don't know what you miss when you skip anything of this kind and if at all possible you should be there. Just go once and you will be sold on the future.

The real story of this convention will be told in other columns of this issue and I will not attempt to duplicate them here. I will just make a few comments about some of our members who were there and some of the things they did. You should have seen Joe Blake fighting for votes on the convention floor while the scrap for commander was on and Harold White trying to fix things on that same floor at the same time. Miss Mary Greene slapping a colored buddy on the back for some reason or other and Chas. Murphy and Al Peters carrying the colors in the parade and Frank Heintz and Walter Fox giving impersonations of the Siamese twins by removing their caps and—Oh you should have seen it all, but you all didn't, so what in H— are we going to do about it? I'll tell you. Just get next to yourself and get out when the next call comes.

ITALIAN PRIDE
FIRED BY RELICSExcavation of Ruins Stirs
Patriotism Throughout the Nation.

Rome—Mussolini is carrying out extensive excavation of Roman empire ruins in Italy to reawaken the pride of Italians in the marvelous achievements of their ancestors and to stir their patriotism.

The explorations are only one angle of the campaign to revive the glories of ancient Rome and arouse interest in its accomplishments.

Important finds of priceless art objects were made in Pompeii and Herculaneum within the last few weeks. They will arouse the wonder and admiration of the world.

The most important discovery of its kind in the history of archaeology has been made in Pompeii. It is a complete service of 115 pieces of solid silver tableware of amazingly beautiful workmanship.

The excavations are the perfect state of preservation. Many of the pieces were actually as bright and polished as the day they were buried—1,851 years ago.

Among the many gems is a solid silver vase about eight inches in diameter, four inches deep and more than a quarter of an inch thick with a wide handle, upon which is portrayed hunting scenes in heavy relief. It was as brilliant as the day it was carefully wrapped in red wax fabric in the year 47.

The weight was surprising. Modern designs from past centuries are being used in the excavations.

Another piece which will astonish archaeologists is a large silver chalice with the bust of a goddess in solid gold on the center. There is a large cake knife about six inches long with a handle of silver like modern cake knives in design.

In a jewelry shop window today it would pass for modern manufactures.

In the cellar of a house in Pompeii was found a silver set in a large box. Near the box was found a skeleton—perhaps a servant on guard of one of the family who rushed to save the silverware on that morning of August 24, in the year 79, when Vesuvius started to erupt and finally buried Pompeii and Herculaneum.

New excavations are in progress in Pompeii. Streets are being uncovered which show the vivid marks of carts and chariots worn into the stone blocks of paving, conjuring up a picture of the busy life of the dead city nearly 2,000 years ago.

On the outside walls of some of the houses are scrawled the names of ancient Roman politicians appealing for votes in the elections which probably never occurred.

Extensive new sections of the nearby ancient city of Herculaneum buried more than 1,600 years on the same day in 79, are being uncovered. Officials declared they are now convinced Herculaneum was a very large city and hitherto only the barest fringe of the outskirts of Herculaneum have been revealed.

The fresh diggings have unearthed more than 4,000 square yards of the city—about four times more than the world has previously seen. As the excavation proceeds it is expected magnificent public buildings will be discovered. Seventy houses of the modern city of Herculaneum, which is built over the buried town, have been demolished to make way for excavation.

"Galloping Dominoes." Judging by a set of surgical instruments it is inferred a house just uncovered was a doctor's and two dice indicate he toyed with the "galloping dominoes." Partially unearthed at the edge of the excavation was a bed. An official was handed a bit of carbonized fabric of the bed clothes—the first time it had been touched since the occupant arose the day of the disaster.

Mussolini is uncovering the massive theater of Marcellus in Rome. It was begun by Julius Caesar and inaugurated in 13 B. C. The huge forum of Augustus in the center of the city is rapidly being revealed. Another forum is nearly excavated opposite the Teatro Argentina.

M. E. CHURCH CHOIR
VISITS FORD VILLAGE

A whole bevy of young folks of the Methodist church choir were escorted to the famous Ford Village at Dearborn last Thursday where these youngsters gazed with wide-eyed wonder at the things of great interest displayed there.

Most of them the trip through the village was like traveling through distant places and like a glimpse into past centuries.

Those in charge were astonished at the background of intelligence manifested by the children in things of historical significance. Especially were they enthralled by the laboratory where the great inventor, Edison, labored so many hours.

They were privileged to have Edison's assistant, Mr. Jehl, explain to them the steps in the discovery and development of the incandescent light. Photograph records were made for the delight of the young visitors. One of their proud boasts is that they met Henry Ford himself as he left the old colonial church.

It is doubtful if more enthusiastic visitors ever rode in the old hacks and stage coaches which gave the youngsters as much of a thrill as would the modern auto have given the child of yesterday. A full half-day it was of sight-seeing and a tired but happy bunch of children returned home in the evening.

Those taking the children in their cars were Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Spalding, Mrs. Ina Castner, Mrs. A. T. Holcomb, Lucius Blake, Mrs. C. H. Eberole and W. A. Edmister.

Ancient Weather Vane

Its use on famous old structures in England shows that the weather-vane was invented at a very early date. On towers, castles and secular buildings its usual form was that of a banner, but on churches it usually took the form of the rooster. The large tail of the cock was well-adapted to turn with the wind.

Many churches have for a vane the emblem of the saints to whom they are dedicated. St. Peter's, London, is topped by a large key, and St. Laurence's, a gridiron. St. Sepulchre's church has four pinacles, each having a vane, leading to the saying: "Unreasonable people are as hard to reconcile as the vanes of St. Sepulchre's tower."

LOCAL NEWS

Mrs. Lucille Blake of Detroit and Northville her granddaughter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Blake Rogers street, will accompany Joseph Blake to Niagara Falls. The party will leave Tuesday, will motor all the way and expect to be gone about a week.

Albert Poeth, who had a serious operation for the removal of appendix at the St. Joseph's hospital at Pontiac a few days after his graduation from high school here was able to return home Saturday. The operation was not only a critical one but was followed by complications that were very trying. Albert however came through it all with his usual good nature and bubbling optimism. His Northville friends are glad indeed to have him home after a few weeks' convalescence he hopes to find work in Detroit this fall.

Forest ranger's station. He stays there all the time and commands a view that takes in part of four states, Nebraska, Wyoming, North Dakota and South Dakota. In the event of a forest fire, he locates it by means of maps and instruments which he keeps on his desk constantly and gives the alarm.

During the torrid hot spell from which Northville and the entire Middle West suffered, the Schnutes were trying to keep warm during the cold nights out in the West. There was a frost every night they were there, said Mr. Schnute, and blankets were at a premium.

Among the high spots during the trip for the vacationers was their attendance in Bellefonte at a real western rodeo, the swim that the party took in Evans Plunge at Hot Springs where the pool is fed by hot water springs, maintaining a constant temperature of 90 degrees; and a visit to the Wind Caves.

The party left for home Thursday, July 9 and arrived in Northville Sunday evening. The vacation, members of the party say, was one of the most successful that any of them have ever taken.

Canada Has Many Vacation Attractions

Where to spend the annual vacation is a question which necessitates much careful consideration, before an ideal location can be selected. Canada has much to offer to the prospective visitor, through its natural beauty, good roads and outstanding sports attractions. Rivers and lakes well stocked with fish, bathing resorts and comfortable modern hostels are only a few of the attractive features of the various provinces.

The National Development Bureau, Department of the Interior, at Ottawa has prepared for free distribution a series of automobile road maps consisting of four sections, also a number of booklets which deal with the country's numerous attractions.

A small scale sketch of one of the sections of the map referred to is reproduced above. Copies of the full sized map in color can be obtained free of charge from the aforementioned Bureau.

In 20 Years on Route No. One J. B. Cook Sees Parcel Post Come and Horse and Buggy Go

Through the kindness of J. B. Cook, The Record is able to give below some of the experiences of a rural mail carrier during two decades. Mr. Cook retired June 30 after 20 years of faithful service on route No. 1 out of Northville. He entered the service on March 1, 1911 and saw the passing of the horse and buggy in the serving of Uncle Sam's patrons and also the many changes of the past 20 years.

Interviewed by The Record Mr. Cook reminisces as follows:

"Some enter the service with flying colors and continue thru, through their career but I make claim to nothing remarkable.

Going back to those early days, back in 1911, I have a picture of a little mare my first horse on the mail route and although she was not very well broken at the time I bought her (in 1911) she proved to be quite a little favorite. I remember I bought her of Floyd Northrop for $135.00. I made a record of the number of miles she traveled each day on the mail route. The total of miles was 23,784 miles. She died in less than six years. I then sold her to Leslie Jones for $150.00 and she did not have so much as a wind puff, so there.

"I drove horses for about 15 years and during that time I never turned back but once. That was the day known as the day of the big blizzard, when everything stopped. I was always a good horse driver, tried to use them right and somehow they always got through. The latest I ever got back to the post office after serving my route was 5:45 p. m. That was the day the department asked all carriers to solicit for the Ohio flood sufferers. I did not get in until 5:45 p. m. and I still have a record of what every patron on my route gave.

"I have had to walk ahead of my horse for several roads, and break the ice so it would not cut the horse's legs, and sometimes drive through fields when roads were blocked but they all got there. I well remember once during a spring thaw, I was using a road cart at the time. The road was blocked but the fields were under water so I put my feet upon the crossbar, got the mail sack in my lap with the blankets on top of that, and drove across the fields with the water up to the horse's sides. Next day I got through on the road and one trip I will remember it was in the spring when the deep snow began to melt. I got my horse down five times. Three times I had to unblock him so he could get up.

"Of course parcel post was not established until after I had been in the service about two years and the mail has grown until the Ford is pretty well filled at times. So one could not use the old horse and cart now.

"I served under several postmaster generals and three local postmasters and I think all carriers will agree with me when I say that Burleson was, well, in a class by himself. Thank goodness there was no more like him, but, speaking of local postmasters, our own Milo Johnson was a prince but don't tell him I said so. I enjoyed the work very much and always felt it a pleasure to go out of my way to serve them for no carrier ever served a better lot of patrons than those on old Route 1. The old saying is that in every flock there is a black sheep and of course my flock had the one proverbial black sheep but only one.

"As for June 30 I served them for the last time and also finished my labors for the best government in the world and I want to thank my patrons for the many, many expressions of appreciation which I received."

WEST POINT TO MEET LAUS West Point Park and the Skyline met at Northwestern field Thursday to determine which shall meet the Laus in the Detroit Baseball federation's amateur day feature at Navin field Sunday afternoon.

As this paper goes to press the game has not been completed but West Point wins, fans will be assured of a hard battle, Sunday when the Pointers meet the Laus.

Twenty sunburned little children from the House of the Good Shepherd in Detroit were going through the village Tuesday in a large bus returning regrettably to the city after a week spent in picking cherries in the country near here. They were in charge of several Sisters who stopped at the Wadsworth bakery and treated the kiddies to some homemade cookies to enjoy on their trip homeward. Even picking cherries had been a glorious vacation to these pavement-bound little ones.

Before Elmer could draw in the line a large bass seized upon the little perch and was hooked.

"EVERYTHING'S ROSIE"

Romance, as it lives and flourishes in the grimy sawdust of the show-biz, is the patchwork, poverty-ridden mosaic of a meagre man's home of wheels.

And laughs as they come in the supreme essence of humor—sublime laughs from pathos' depths—endless laughs from sheer ridiculousness—booming laughs from hilarious situations.

That, in spirit, is Radio Pictures' "Everything's Rosie" to be shown at the Penniman Allen theatre on Sunday, July 19, starring Robert Woolsey.

Woolsey soars to far higher comedy in this production even than he did with Bert Wheeler in their string of successes, "The Cuckoos," "Half Shot at Sunrise," "Hook, Line and Sinkie," and "Cracked Nuts."

As the faker who sells "Dreks" which cure everything from love to rheumatism, as the petty crook with the great heart who adopts a helpless, abused girl and raises her to a creature of grace and beauty, as the auctioneer who sells "Big Bens" for "27 Jewel Swiss Movements," Woolsey spills wisecracks with more than his accustomed speed, yet finds opportunity to give some excellent sympathetic acting that lends a depth of pathos as effective as his humor.

Radio Pictures has found a new Robert Woolsey in this production, one whose fame should exceed that of the former Woolsey.

The excellent cast includes Anita Louise, Johnny Darrow, Florence Roert and Alfred P. James.

"STEPPING OUT"

"Stepping Out" Metro-Goldwyn Mayer's filmization of the Broadway stage hit, will create joy unconfined by the Penniman Allen theatre Saturday, July 25, with Charlotte Greenwood, Lela Hyams, Reginald Denny, Lillian Bond and Cliff Edwards, at the head of a battery of mirth makers whose antics rock the rafters.

It's a hitting romance of Hollywood and Agua Caliente, with gold diggers, angry wives and errant husbands, all woven into an amazing structure of mirth.

Miss Greenwood, elongated heroine of "So Long Letty," is teamed with the stout Harry Stubbs as husband and wife, and Denny with the blonde Miss Hyams.

The play rich old men who try to back a moving picture and fall into the clutches of gold diggers from Caliente to Hollywood.

Miss Bond is an attractive neophyte to the screen and gives an effective portrayal of the gang role she did on the stage as Cleo the vamp. Merz Kennedy also scores as her companion in lifting the innocent millionaires from more or less tranquil domestic life.

Cliff Edwards is a riot as the college boy who gets enmeshed in the plot of jealousy and misunderstanding, and Richard Tucker is the suave lawyer who eventually straightens it all out.

Hollywood and its famous swarming pools, Caliente and its tinseled pleasures, form a spectacular and colorful background for the comical story of errant husbands and jealous wives.

COUNTY WILL GET TOWNSHIP ROADS

The McNitt Bill which provides for the incorporation of all township roads into the county road system at the rate of 20 per cent of the mileage per year over a five year period is one of the outstanding measures enacted into law at the recent legislative session, states Road Commissioner Edward N. Hines.

For many years upwards of $8,000,000 has annually been levied by the township of Michigan for road improvement and road repair. Much of this vast sum has been frittered away and wasted by placing the control of roads either with the county or the state highway department, this situation will be largely corrected in addition to relieving real estate of the tax burden.

The McNitt Bill becomes operative next April and to carry out its provisions, $2,000,000.00 has been appropriated for the first year to be divided among the townships on the basis of township road mileage. This appropriation is increased annually until the fifth year when all township roads will have become county roads, at which time and thereafter $4,000,000.00 will be appropriated annually from the proceeds of the gasoline tax, states Mr. Hines.

In the sixth year the counties are required to take over as county roads all the subdivision streets and alleys in recorded plats and outside of incorporated cities and villages.

A study of the township roads of Wayne county has been made and there are 643 miles in the system which will eventually become county roads. There are 65 bridges with a span of 20 feet or upwards and 334 bridges and culverts from 20 feet down to pipe culverts which are not included in the above figures. Practically all of these bridges are in need of replacement at the earliest possible date. During the past year the townships have levied highway improvement and road repair taxes amounting to $301,784.27 which averages about a mill tax on the assessed valuations of the combined townships.

Wayne County's allotment of cash for the first year will approximate about $23,000.00, says Mr. Hines. Gratiot county has the smallest mileage of township roads, with only 1/6 of a mile followed by Redford Township with 123 miles; Sumpter Township with 80.1 miles has the greatest mileage; Van Buren Township this past year raised $5,000.00 the smallest amount levied for road purposes. Brownstown Township is the leader among the townships in the amounts raised for road purposes with a total of $49,848.97.

HUCKLEBERRIES SCARCE

Huckleberry pie will come high this season. At least Mrs. Wm. Zay, northwest of town, who was in to give The Record a huckleberry ad this week, says that the crop is very light—less than a third of one.

The dry weather of last fall and winter is said to be to blame.

Jennie—Your fiance stutters quite a bit doesn't he?

Lydia—Yes but it doesn't matter. After we are married he won't have a chance to say anything, anyway.

Our School

By SCHOOL PATRON

Someone has said that A log with Mark Hopkins on one end and a student on the other was a university.

While this may be an exaggeration, it emphasizes the fact that a school is not merely a building with a corps of teachers provided with an elaborate equipment and offering an imposing list of subjects. Unless there are teachers with the genius for arousing the interest of the students, such as Mark Hopkins possessed, there is no school. Perfunctory teachers produce uninterested pupils.

Education has been popular in this country since its foundation. Money has been lavished on it.

Magnificent buildings have been erected, elaborate equipment installed, a bewildering choice of subjects offered and specialists hired to give instruction. No expense has been spared on the external features of our educational system and yet there is dissatisfaction in the results. With all our expensive equipment are we producing either in quantity or in quality any better results than were produced twenty-five years ago? Are we so intent on the goals that we overlook the artist? Have we fallen into the same habit that we show in making laws and ordinances and are disappointed because they are not self-acting?

Back of all the equipment stands the teacher. On him rests the responsibility of making a school and on him alone after all, the most solid and enduring influence of the school as character building. A large part of the subject matter sought is speedily forgotten, but the influence of a strong, inspiring teacher remains with us for life.

Have we made our school system so machine-like? Have we become obsessed with the externals and forgotten the essentials? Have we spent our money at the wrong end by lavishing it on buildings and equipment and spending it too meagerly on competent, enthusiastic and inspiring teachers? I fear we have. In how many of our schools do you find men and women of mature minds, of broad culture, of wide experience and contact with life? The great majority of our teachers are too young to have acquired the above essentials to fit them to be inspiring teachers. They have acquired a method and in this method they put their trust and hope for an increase of salary. Pupils pass before them in review in lock step like so many numbered convicts. System, rules and schedules are given the main consideration; the individual John or Susie is lost in the maze of educational belts and pulleys of our educational machine.

One reason for Mark Hopkins' success as a teacher was his personality and an opportunity to make that personality effective. Nothing kills personality so effectively as an oversystemized institution. Nothing is so effective and invigorating in a school as a strong personality and an opportunity to use it. The Ferris Institute was built around the personality of Ferris. No one coming under his influence ever forgot its effects. That personality of Ferris was the best and most enduring item in the whole institution. If we could secure teachers like Ferris or Hopkins and leave them unfettered by hampering systems there is scarcely any salary that would be too high to retain them. The problem of the school is to find such teachers and pay them a salary in keeping with their worth. No school ever saved money in the final reckoning by hiring cheap or mediocre teachers. Cheap teachers, like cheap help of any kind are a delusion.

Freshmen at Ohio U.

to Be Given New Deal

Athens Ohio—The freshmen—traditionally the "underdogs" at Ohio university—has been elevated to the social position held by upper classmen. A new ruling passed by the junior-senior governing board gives the freshman privileges equal to those of his big brothers, the sophomores, the juniors, and the seniors.

No longer will first year students be forced to wear little green caps and be subjected to the maltreatment of Sophomore Night at the "cafeteria." These were outlawed by the new rules.

The junior-senior board, in order to promote on the Ohio university campus a co-operative spirit among students, and to accord with the progressive institutions throughout the country, withdraws the freshman rules made and authorized by them and recommends that the sophomore vigilance committee be disbanded, the new resolution stated.

For many years freshmen have been forced to wear green, short billed caps and obey certain rules of conduct on the campus.

British Census Takers to Hear True Ages

London—The ever delicate question of a woman's age will be one of the principal features in the census of Britain's population, to be taken April 26. All women will be compelled to tell their ages.

Their usual statement will not be public, however, for the authorities have undertaken to inflict severe penalties on anyone who unlawfully gives away the secret.

It is believed in many quarters that a number of women members of parliament were partly responsible for the decision to withhold the knowledge from the curious and inquisitive. The reluctance of the women of Westminster to reveal their ages is most noticeable in the reference books which almost invariably omit the date of their birth.

Least Brainy Girls Can Manage Mates

Cambridge, England—The boy who got 50 per cent in an examination "should" never marry the girl who got 30 per cent. They would be far too clever for each other, according to Prof. Ernest Barker, professor of political science at the University of Cambridge. The professor, however, would marry the boy who got 30 per cent to the girl who got 40 per cent, and she would manage him.

The public may know where you are—but do they know what wars you have to offer? Keep them informed by means of intelligent advertising.

"LEMON meringue pie is difficult to bake successfully. The pastry shell requires a comparatively high heat, and the delicately browned meringue a much lower heat. To get both temperatures equally well with the same oven demands extremely accurate heat control. That is where my Electrochef electric oven proves its superiority.

"My Electrochef electric range makes possible exact temperature control—either high or low. Mirror-like inner walls distribute a gentle heat evenly throughout the oven. There is no intense dry heat to scorch pastry and make baking difficult. The accurate Electrochef oven control maintains uniform heat from start to finish. I'm simply in love with this modern range!"

ADVERTISING DRAWS 30,000 ON JULY FOURTH TO EDGEWATER PARK

That more than 30,000 people entered the gates of Edgewater Park on July 4th is ample evidence of the pulling power of advertising placed in community newspapers.

Practically all of Edgewater Park's newspaper advertising appropriation is spent with community newspapers. Forty weekly and foreign language newspapers carried the message of fun, entertainment and fireworks at Edgewater Park on July 4th.

In addition to the 30,000 enjoying wholesome amusement in this beautiful pleasure capital of North-west Detroit, it is estimated that fully 20,000 people parked outside Edgewater Park's gates viewed the spectacular display of fireworks.

Edgewater Park's management is thoroughly sold on the value of community newspapers as advertising media and backs its judgment by placing orders for thousands of inches of display advertising space each season.

Edgewater Park, located on Seven Mile road near Grand River, is one of the most beautiful amusement parks in the central states and has been to a place of prominence because of the high standard of its amusements.

Its ballroom, operated by Jean Goldkette, always features orchestras of national repute. This year "The Okeanos," an orchestra made up entirely of college boys, is making a great hit with the younger set.

Every Wednesday afternoon, from 1 to 6, Edgewater Park sponsors a nickel day when 5c prices prevail throughout the park.

The visitors won four stores in the first inning and were held scoreless for seven more. Rev. John Adams will leave on the first week in August for his vacation and will be gone for a month.

What might have been a terrible experience, happened at the home of Mrs. Schewtzer as she was filling a tank with gasoline. The gasoline exploded. Her son Anton and his wife were in the kitchen. He—Sure! That's all right. I saved $22 while we weren't on speaking terms.

FARMERS' DAY TO BE HOME TALENT EVENT

East Lansing—Farmers' Day at Michigan State College, Friday, July 31, will provide a homelike atmosphere for visitors as the economy which has been the farmer's household companion for several years will be apparent on the day's program which will use home talent for the afternoon talks and an inspection of the College herds and fields for the morning's entertainment.

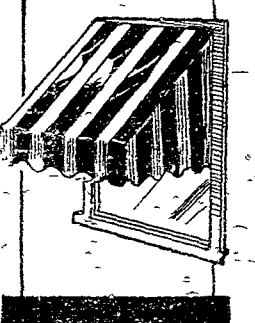

Doubtless this year's program will be remembered long after some of the more pretentious ones preceding it have been forgotten because the College now has so many things of interest that anyone interested in agriculture can profitably employ more than one day in examining the work which is being done with crops and livestock.

Regates will be laid out and marked over the campus and the College farms so the visitors can select the particular work of study which they wish to see. Full directions and an explanation of the numbered routes will be handed to each visitor as they enter the College grounds.

Each of the College departments will have members of their staffs stationed at the College buildings or at the experimental plots to explain how each experiment is being performed and the results which have been obtained. Some of the experiments have been carried on for a series of years and some have been recently started as new problems in farming have arisen.

St. Paul's Lutheran bids all a hearty welcome!

Baptist Church
Services at this church are maintained about the same in summer as in winter. Last Sunday evening a good congregation was present to hear the Rev. P. D. Shipes of Bojone, Congo, Belgian Africa. Rev. Shipes left Tuesday, the home of his brother, E. I. Shipes, in order to sail Friday for his field. The journey will take between six and seven weeks. Rev. and Mrs. Shipes' little son and daughter go with our ardent prayers of God's speed.
Next Sabbath at 10:30 the pastor preaches on the subject, "Separation Unto God" and at 7:30 p. m. on "Repentance." Until the first Sabbath in September there will be no B. Y. P. U. services.

If God did not make the world and provide for it, who did? If He did then every one of us is under obligation to Him. Are we honest about it in fulfilling them? Public acknowledgment of this must be made on the official day, in the official way, and in the official place. Our Sunday services are at 7:30 and 10 a. m.

Service of worship in the First Presbyterian church Sunday, July 19 at 10:30. All our summer attendance has kept up remarkably. Let each member endeavor to do his part in maintaining the high standard.
The more I look at that on paper, the more it seems.
I don't feel extra humorous this a. m. anyhow. Being afflicted with a summer cold sort of takes all the joy out of life. In the winter one might expect a cold, it's a human thing that comes with the chilly season. But in summer when the thermometer is way up, sun shining etc., it's fierce.
Conversation goes something like this:
"Good morning, Basger Domains. It's zerdently a ture day 'adn't it?"
Mr. Tompkins will then inquire solicitously whether or not I have a cold and I will tearfully, between a couple of hale and hearty sneezes agree that "BY goodness, I think I've got double daboma."
"Anyhow you'll agree that a cold in the head is a pain in the neck. Streaming eyes, stuffed up nose and noises in the head. I think I'm getting old."

Probably the worst of the recent crop of jokes concerning the heavy-weight title, bout was heard the morning after.

"Hev Tom, they say that Stribling is packed in ice."
"What for?"
"To keep him from schreeing."

"The more I look at that on paper, the more it seems."

Friends Enjoy Supper

At the end of a perfect summer day Sunday evening a group of friends enjoyed a delightful informal supper served on the porch of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Haver, High street. A group of friends of Mr. and Mrs. Thad J. Knapp were invited to join with them in a "bacon bat" at Phoenix Park last Friday evening. Around a jolly fire the bacon was cooked and served hot at the table set with a typical picnic supper. The affair was very happy and the friends enjoyed the opportunity to become acquainted with former friends of the Knapps from New Jersey. Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Albee, who have been their guests.

Out-Door Steak Roast
Held at Country Home

Thessapacious lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Richardson was the scene of a merry party last Friday evening when a group of friends and neighbors came together for a jolly steak roast around the out-door fireplace. It was surprising how much good steak was "moved away" by the appetites gained by a few rounds of golf or games of croquet played on the Richardson "green." Those who enjoyed this pleasant occasion with the host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Blackburn, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Murphy and Mrs. and Mrs. Floyd Northrup.

Canadian Guests
Honored at Picnic

In honor of Mrs. W. Turnbull of Delhi, Ont., who is a guest at the home of her son, C. B. Turnbull, a family picnic was held at Riverside park near Plymouth Sunday. A bountiful dinner in the beautiful grove was the central feature of the occasion, followed by a fine visit by these friends and relatives. Those comprising the party were Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Turnbull and daughter, Marion, Mrs. Agnes Turnbull, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kelly of Plymouth, Mrs. Eunice Lind and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Martin and family of Detroit, Mrs. D. Lomer of Delhi, Ont., and the Misses Goldie and Floy Jackson and Clifford Sinden of Northville.

We'd just got nicely started when he sneezed and then I let go of a "kackoo" that sent the figures on the wall to quivering. He looked at me in surprise and said, "Do you get golds in the wonder, doo?"

I told him that my cold usually started in November and let up in June and he told me how he suffered. Pretty soon we were swapping cures that ranged from the application of a left front leg of a female rabbit caught in a graveyard when the moon was full by an Assyrian with a mole on his left shoulder to the well known four fingers of nectar to be taken at frequent intervals.

The cold remedy he gave in earnest though is to buy a dozen large grapefruit and a box of bicarbonate of soda. Every three hours eat a half of grapefruit and follow it with a heaping teaspoon of soda dissolved in water and don't eat anything else.

The remedy sounds good but I've never had enough water. Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Turnbull and daughter, Marion, Mrs. Agnes Turnbull, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kelly of Plymouth, Mrs. Eunice Lind and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Martin and family of Detroit, Mrs. D. Lomer of Delhi, Ont., and the Misses Goldie and Floy Jackson and Clifford Sinden of Northville.

While Waiting
For the Stork

Most women suffer needlessly before their baby is born due to constipation, gas and sour stomach. Every expectant mother will be glad to know how Mrs. P. J. Booker of 2782 Grand Ave., Detroit, Mich., overcame this trouble. Mrs. Booker writes as follows: "Before my baby was born I suffered greatly with constipation and stomach distress until I began taking Mul-Sol-Lax. It helped me wonderfully. In fact my obstetrician told me I owed my easy time when my baby was born to its use. I found it pleasant to take, even when I felt sick to my stomach, and I am glad to recommend it to any woman."

Mul-Sol-Lax is good for the whole family. Take no substitute. Take a bottle of Mul-Sol-Lax home with you. For sale by Northville Drug Co.

ROTARIANS FORM "CLEAN-UP" CREW

At the suggestion of E. L. Mills, members of the Northville Rotary club at their weekly meeting Monday at the Presbyterian church house, voted to organize a "clean-up" brigade to improve the appearance of the Pere Marquette spring where so many people stop for water. A detachment will report each day for awhile and will see that weeds are cut and debris cleaned up in general.

The session Monday was given over to a round table discussion of various matters and the informal program was much enjoyed. Plans were announced for ladies' night next Monday at the home of Ray Richardson. Basket picnic will be the feature of the evening.

Rev. Walter Nichol, pastor of the Plymouth Presbyterian church and Sheriff W. Ambler were guests at the request of the president, Father Jos. G. Schuler. Mr. Ambler spoke briefly of the annual school meeting and of the great progress the school has shown the past year under the leadership of Superintendent Thad J. Knapp.

MISS EUNICE COUSINS GIVES FIRST ORGAN RECITAL WEDNESDAY

Attendees of the inter-denominational vacation Bible school over 140 in number had a very pleasant surprise Wednesday morning when they heard Miss Eunice Cousins in her first pipe organ recital at the Presbyterian church house. Miss Cousins, a pupil of Guy Fink, appeared in her initial program and her numbers were artistically given and won much praise from her hearers. The recital took the time from 9 to 9:30.

We talked and had a great time when I left I didn't have much of a story on roads but I could beat anyone in the world in a catch-as-catch-can discussion of colds.

ON R. F. D. 20 YEARS

J. B. COOK
To have carried R. F. D. mail for Uncle Sam 20 years on one route is the record of J. B. Cook, who retired June 30. The Record has an interview with him in this issue.

GRADING STARTED ON FAIR-GROUND ROAD

Preliminary progress on the new cut-off to the Fish Hatchery road which will go through the Fair Grounds is proceeding satisfactorily.

The new road has a grade 40 feet wide and the road, in all probability, will be 20 feet wide leaving a shoulder on each side of 10 feet.

Should traffic eventually become so heavy that a 20 foot road would be inadequate for getting on it, the road may be widened 10 feet.

A steam shovel, five trucks, seven men, a large dirt-grader, and a tractor are the equipment and the labor now busily employed on the job and it is expected that the road will be finished by fall.

The paving of the Six Mile road clear through to Detroit has been completed and the new-paved road will greatly enhance the transportation facilities of Northville.

ATTEMPT IS MADE TO ENTER THE FORMER POST OFFICE ROOMS

James Savage, janitor of the Latham State Savings bank building discovered Tuesday morning that someone had apparently tried to break into the former post office quarters by prying at the lock of the door nearest the bank. Several screws had been pulled out of the lock shield which was bent but the miscreants had been unsuccessful in breaking into the lock proper. The room into which the door leads has been vacant since the removal of The Record plant from it and it is hard to understand just why anyone should attempt to break into the room.

NORTHVILLE FAIR PLANS TAKE SHAPE

A sparkling new group of free attractions have been secured for the benefit of fair patrons and every device of plan that it is possible to obtain for amusement purposes has been tracked down and pinned to a contract for the Northville fair.

Horse racing for those who thrive on the thrill and excitement of seeing thoroughbreds test their skill, endurance and speed against one another.

There will be some hard fought baseball games for those who never tire of the American national sport and a multitude of side attractions that will hold the interest of the vast crowds are expected.

About 100 entries have been received in the poultry department, says A. E. Fuller, and the 1931 display will be bigger and better than ever before.

The judging staff for the show will be as follows: Winnie Wise of California and Glen Ellis of Ontario will judge the poultry. Judge Stoddell of California and C. L. Call of Lansing will judge the rabbits. John R. Vivier of Detroit will judge the pigeons. The same judges will also officiate at the Michigan State Fair.

About 60 new stalls are being built at the southeast corner of the grounds and 25 old stalls will be added onto the saddle-horse barns giving the fair all of the room needed for any future requirements.

All in all, a more determined display of courage in the face of obstacles, by sponsors of the fair, could not easily be found. Credit, too, should be given to the many business men who have so heartily cooperated with fair officials.

No finer indication of the spirit and optimism of a community can be demonstrated than that by bending every effort to make our fair a successful one.
