DR. KESTELL DIES AFTER LONG CAREER

Former Well Known Detroit Physician Passes Sunday

John B. Kestell, M. D., Ph. C., a well known figure in Northville, died Sunday, July 19, at the University hospital in Ann Arbor after a long illness.

Coming to this village late in life after having rounded out his years of greatest usefulness, Dr. Kestell was not known to many in Northville. He was a resident of Detroit and had practiced the forty-three years of his professional life in his practice when he stood high among his fellow physicians in Detroit.

John B. Kestell was born in 1860 in Simco, Ont., where he passed his boyhood graduating as valedictorian of his high school class at the age of fifteen. Later he graduated from the Hamilton Business college and followed this with a course in pharmacy in the University of Toronto.

A few years of business life followed when he owned drug stores in Simco and Waterford, Ont. At the age of 25 years he came with his parents to Detroit and began his study on the Detroit College of Medicine from which he graduated with honor in 1891. His internship was spent in St. Mary's hospital and during his subsequent practice he was associated with such doctors as Dr. J. B. Kennedy, Dr. E. B. Smith, Dr. Vaughn and Dr. Emil Amberg. From this last friend, who is a widely known authority on nose and throat, came a beautifully expressed personal note of sympathy recently to the family which said: "I always enjoyed his company. He always had something to tell in a very interesting way. He will always be remembered by me on account of his amiable character and his independent way of thinking."

Dr. Kestell loved his medical practice and in the years of his health threw himself heartily into the interests of his patients. Although handicapped by deafness resulting from scarlet fever in his youth, he was very successful in his profession, specializing in internal medicine and tuberculosis. In his experimental work in curing diseases of the digestion he introduced the use of whole wheat in the bread making process and was a pioneer in recognizing correct diet as a factor in baffling disease. Among the speeches of Dr. Kestell which have been published by the American Medical association is one widely spread on the "Cause and Cure of Tuberculosis."

One patient, Mrs. Rorick of Detroit, came recently to express her appreciation for his skill in saving her life which was despaired of thirty years ago.

In 1893 Dr. Kestell was married to Miss Kate McDougall, daughter of Capt. R. McDougall of Detroit. To them three children were born of whom two sons survive: Lyle, of Detroit, who is associated with the Detroit Edison Company and Stanley of Chicago, a U. S. inspector of the Treasury department. Both sons spent their boyhood in Northville, graduating from the high school. Mrs. Kestell also survives. Two grandchildren are in Detroit, Marie Annette and Edward Radwell.

The funeral services were held at the home on Fairbrook avenue Wednesday afternoon and were attended by a representation of Detroit friends. Rev. Wm. Richards, one of the few men in Northville who really understood Dr. Kestell, spoke feelingly of his appreciation of his personal friendship. "He was a real friend to man and loved to minister to others," said Mr. Richards. Perhaps the highest tribute which could be paid a man came from his son who says, "My father was morally the clearest man I ever knew."

Interment was made in Woodlawn cemetery, Detroit beside his father and mother.

OLD TIME DANCE CLUB ENJOYS OUTING AT ED. BENCH COTTAGE

Members of the Old Time Dance club, with their families—a merry company of 60—enjoyed a picnic Friday afternoon and evening, July 17, at the cottage of Ed. Bench at Round Lake, near Brighton.

An informal program of sports and games made the time pass all too quickly. The swimming was also greatly enjoyed. Basket dinner and supper took care of the "eats" end of the day's festivities.

If the horse shoes are touring and the base balls are soaring and the crowd is roaring it will be next Thursday night at the Fair grounds.

TWILIGHT CELEBRATION WILL BE FREE TO ALL ON THURSDAY, JULY 30

Band Music, Horse Races, Baseball Game and Huge Street Dance Will Be Among Attractions

Old Man Depression is going to "take it on the chin" Thursday, July 30, 1931, when Northville's Twilight Hummer will treat everyone to three solid hours of entertainment without any cost to those participating or to the businessmen, declared Mayor Harry S. German before the village council Monday night.

Events scheduled are: horse racing, both trotting and pacing, at the Fair Grounds; a baseball game between those natural rivals, Harry German's Chiefs, a team which has built an enviable reputation as a hard-hitting, sure-fielding aggregation, and Harry Wolfe's West Point Park team which was barely nosed out of the Class AAA sandlot championship in Detroit.

The High School band will furnish the crowd with music at the Fair Grounds and there will be a Horse Shoe Pitching tournament with contestants entering from Northville, Wayne, Plymouth, Milford and Ann Arbor.

The entertainment will wind up with a modern and old time street dance to be held on North Center street between Dunlap and Main streets.

The entire celebration will be free and a good time is guaranteed to the entire family.

Merchants have declared that they are willing to take a crack at Depression by awarding prizes in their windows.

All Northville and the Fair Grounds will be given over that Thursday night to the celebration to demonstrate just a sample of what the Northville Wayne County Fair, to be held from August 25 through the 28th, will be like.

Some of the race horse owners who will be representatives at the Twilight Hummer which will begin at 5:30 will be John Dunham, E. Starkweather, Horace Markham, Mose Du Panie, Don Tryon, George Ratenbury, Will Rattenbury, H. S. German, George Greps, Lou Coe, and J. T. Hammond.

There are 3,000 people in Northville and it would seem likely that at least 2,000 of them will be present to take a look at Old Man Depression by participating in the huge, free celebration. There will be large representations from South Lyon, Plymouth, Milford, Novi, Salem, West Point and other communities surrounding Northville, as the announcement made by Mayor Harry S. German.

The entertainment committee consists of the following members: Mayor Harry S. German, Commissioners Merrill Sweet, George Hicks, Dr. L. W. Snow, Dr. H. H. Burkart and Ross K. Dusenbury.

EAST NOVI SCHOOL REUNION AUGUST 1st

All former pupils, teachers and patrons of the East Novi school are invited to the eighth annual reunion on Saturday, August 1, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Lapham on the Ingersoll farm. Potluck dinner will be served.

From the opening of the game to the end, the hard-riding Santa Paula quartet outplayed the Detroit team. The Argentines displayed superior horsemanship, experience at play and coolness that bodes ill for the Roslyn Long Island team which will oppose the Argentines in a series of games starting Sunday.

"Blue Heaven," Colossal Stage Production, Will Be Attraction At Northville Fair Aug. 25-29

The Northville Wayne County Fair this year will present to the public the greatest array of talent ever seen in front of their grandstand. Fair dates are August 25-29.

Henry H. Luaders, prominent Detroit and New York theatrical producer, is bringing to Northville this year an elaborate, spectacular presentation, which will be shown on the big platform.

The attraction is entitled "Blue Heaven" and is made up of thirty-five people, with entertainers brought from over the entire world. Artistic dancing features by the "Twelve Dainty Dimples" is a portion of the presentation that will always be remembered. These ladies are not only known for their clever dancing, but are exceptionally good to look at, possess a world of personality, and make numerous elaborate costume changes.

Erma Barlow and Company, in her own novelty creation, present dogs, goats and monkeys, as well as Tommy, the little pony, is another feature, while the famous Rex Family, world-famous juvenile acrobats and aerial artists, will keep you on your toes from start to finish.

Other members of the cast are as follows: The Two Funnibones, comedy acrobats; The Rowe Sisters, in their own original novelty dances; Miss Corinne Castel, that snappy red-headed blues singer who sings to beat the band; Latacha, doing Spanish and Egyptian dances; The Rhythm Romancers, that 10-piece entertaining girls' band with a national reputation, who have played all the leading cities in the United States, as well as other countries. These artists, in conjunction with other prominent performers, lavish scenery and beautiful color and lighting effects, will make up the Henry H. Luaders' Blue Heaven presentation—the most colossal stage attraction ever offered at a county fair.

Jack Pigaro, prominent and nationally known performer, direct from the "Silver Slipper," New York City, will act as the master of ceremonies.

COUPLE WEDDED AT NORTHVILLE FAIR TO GET FINE START

Some happy Northville couple intending to get married soon will have the opportunity of receiving a flying start through the courtesy of Northville merchants and the Northville Fair association.

Plans have been laid to perform a public wedding ceremony Wednesday evening, August 26, during the Fair at the Fair grounds.

The wedding will be dignified and impressive, declared E. L. Smith, representative of the Fair association, and everything will be done to make the couple feel that their marriage is a happy affair.

The couple has not been secured as yet and the promoters would like to have the entries received as early as possible. Any couple planning to be married is eligible but it is desired that they be a Northville pair. If, however, Northville has no couple to be married that week, a pair will have to be secured elsewhere.

Inducements in the form of practical household articles will be offered by every Northville merchant, says Mr. Smith, and the Grand Prize will be either a dining room or a living room suite, valued at $200, donated by the Schrader Furniture store.

Any couple desiring to take advantage of the opportunity offered by the Fair association may receive details and make entry with E. L. Smith or may reach him by phoning 470 or 288.

ARGENTINES WHIP ALL DETROIT TEAM

Two members of Phil Grenman's Northville Polo team, Earl Shaw and young Bobby Nichols, playing on the all Detroit fair, showed themselves to be polo players of outstanding merit when they went down to defeat with colors flying before the powerful Santa Paula international team, 22 to 4, Wednesday afternoon in a game played at the Nine Mile road and Southfield.

Early in the seventh period Earl Shaw, playing No. 3, suffered a broken shoulder when his horse lost its footing, and plunged to the ground "silva," riding into a play with Manuel Andreada, six foot Argentine star, fought desperately for the ball Andreada forced the player striking the ball which bounded and struck the toe of Shaw's mount, sending it to the ground.

Youthful Bobby Nichols, playing a brilliant No. 2, was the outstanding player for the losers. He is considered by polo experts to be the brightest prospect seen on the polo horizon for a long time. The boy is only 15 years old and with the proper training and handling, should be a sensation by the time he matures.

Charlie Palm, of the Grospe Point polo team, playing No. 1, and Lacey, of the Detroit Polo team playing No. 4, both showed steadiness and ability in tight places as did Fred Hammond, of the Hammond Brothers' team, who substituted for Shaw when the latter was injured.

From the opening of the game to the end, the hard-riding Santa Paula quartet outplayed the Detroit team. The Argentines displayed superior horsemanship, experience at play and coolness that bodes ill for the Roslyn Long Island team which will oppose the Argentines in a series of games starting Sunday.

Members of the team were presented with beautiful silver loving cups which each of them will treasure for many years as being emblematic of an international championship.

"It was a terribly warm day and we were all in when the tournament was ended but it gave us much pleasure to know that we had competed and won against some of the best teams that are playing the game," said Mr. Kalbfleisch.

BANK RECEIVERSHIP HEARING AT DETROIT POSTPONED A WEEK

The time of hearing of the matter of receivership for the Lapham State Savings bank, set for yesterday, July 23, has been postponed for one week, to Thursday, July 30. The hearing will be at circuit court at Detroit. As stated in last week's issue, it is hoped that a local committee will be given authority to liquidate the bank's assets.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Ferolin Lyons, on the West Seven Mile road on Monday, a son.

Mrs. R. M. Terrill and Miss Permelia C. Kohler spent Wednesday in Detroit.

LIFE OF A TOWN

(American Banker's Magazine)

"No business man in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to go without his name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns. The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and the town. The life of a town depends upon the live wide-awake and liberal advertising business man."

WHO REMEMBERS THESE FOLKS?

In getting settled in the new Record home the office force has found a number of "cuts" of people, well known at the time they were published to newcomers to town, however, they are strangers and for the sake of our records, we should like to know their identity.

So, we wonder who can name the half dozen people above. Perhaps no one person can identify them, but with the help of several, the whole group can be properly listed. The Record will be glad to hear from any of its readers the names of one or more of those shown in the pictures, with just a word or two about them. We have a suspicion as to the identity of one or two of the number but the others are complete strangers to us. The pictures are numbered for the purpose of checking them. We hope to have more to say about these folks next week.

NORTHVILLE HAS BOWLING CHAMPION

Few suspect the ability of John Kalbfleisch as lawn bowler par excellence but the fact remains that a team composed of Northville's Rev. Walter Nichol of Plymouth, John Clark and Wm. Simmons of Detroit, won first prize at the International Bowling. Green Tournament held at Detroit last Thursday.

Competing against 20 teams from different countries, Mr. Kalbfleisch's team started playing on Thursday morning, played against four teams, winning all of the games with a score of 22 plus to the runner-up's score of 17 plus.

Members of the team were presented with beautiful silver loving cups which each of them will treasure for many years as being emblematic of an international championship.

"It was a terribly warm day and we were all in when the tournament was ended but it gave us much pleasure to know that we had competed and won against some of the best teams that are playing the game," said Mr. Kalbfleisch.

BATHER DIES AFTER SHALLOW LAKE DIVE

Diving in shallow water at Waller Lake Sunday afternoon and breaking his neck, Melvin Cohen, 17 years old, of Royal Oak was taken to Pontiac General hospital where he died Monday.

Cohen was unable to gauge the depth of the water because it was muddy and he jumped from a spring board into three feet of water.

Other bathers off the beach saw him struggling after he had jumped, pulled him from the water and put him in an automobile sending him to the hospital where he lived for over 24 hours following the accident.

RUSTIC CLUB HOUSE TO OPEN MONDAY

The new Plymouth Country club house, located six miles west of Plymouth on the North Territorial road (Plymouth avenue), will be formally opened the week of July 27 to August 2.

The luxurious clubhouse was built at an expense of $12,000 and its rustic splendor was built with lumber obtained from the towering tamaracs that surround the 18 hole golf course.

A large main lobby, a spacious dining room, a modernly equipped kitchen, a dining room, service room, a men's locker room and a women's locker room, both with showers and a complete water system offer all the facilities for entertainment that any golf club can possibly have.

Officers of the Plymouth Country club are, Dr. B. E. Champ, president, J. E. Kasar, vice president, I. T. Pierce, secretary, R. A. Fisher, treasurer.

During the opening week, from next Monday to the following Sunday inclusive, free prizes will be given to all-day players and free luncheon will be given to players and visitors alike.

Mrs. Lavina Simmons, Oldest Resident of Northville, Reaches 94th Milestone, Sunday, July 19

Mrs. Lavina Simmons probably the oldest resident of Northville, reached her 94th milestone in life last Sunday, July 19.

Honoring her on this occasion, three friends, Mrs. Cass Benton, whose husband was a nephew of Mrs. Simmons, Mrs. Florence Sackett and Mrs. Col McCullough, spent Saturday afternoon at her home on Church street. On Sunday Mr and Mrs. Chas Smock of the Seven Mile road came in and brought a birthday dinner which they spread upon Mrs. Simmons' table and enjoyed with her. These attentions were greatly appreciated by her. She was also remembered with greetings and flowers.

Mrs. Simmons was a pioneer child of the early days of Michigan history having been born in the little log cabin built by her father, who took up a piece of uncleared lumber land from the government. Her schooling was received in a log school house. One of her clear recollections is of attending the old-time square dances where her father "iddled" the stirring melodies of "Money Musk" and "Old Dan Tucker."

She married a cousin, Col. Gardner Simmons, and thus kept her maiden name. He was a miller in Livonia for many years and after his death Mrs. Simmons came to Northville and during these years of advanced age has lived quietly in her home just back of the Presbyterian church where the only pilgrimage she makes from her rocking chair is along a row of chairs placed here and there for supports. "This is my road" she explains as she leads the visitor to the framed portrait of her only child, a little eight-year-old daughter, who died many years ago. Though much of the past is hazy in her memory, dimmed by time, this one link to the past remains strong and undimmed. "I often dream of my brothers too," says this aged woman. These thoughts and the visits of friends are the only comforts to Mrs. Simmons who feels

"How strange it is with so much gone. Of life and love, to still live on." With the exception of a few distant relatives she alone is left of her family. The best wishes of Northville friends are extended to its oldest resident.

GOV. BRUCKER WILL SPEAK AT SALEM

Church Night at the Salem Federated church on Tuesday evening, July 28 will be an event attended by large crowds because of the fact that Governor Willbur M. Brucker will be the speaker of the evening.

A special musical program and a sumptuous chicken pie dinner have been planned to entertain the visitors to the church that evening and as Governor Brucker has not spoken in this part of the state recently, it is expected that there will be a large attendance.

The program will start promptly at 8:15 o'clock in the evening.

BABY CLINIC

The baby clinic will be held next Wednesday afternoon, July 29 at 2 o'clock in the village hall.

Mrs. Milne Cowan of Detroit is a guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Murdock, Church street.

FREE EVENT IS APPROVED BY COUNCIL

Residents of Nearby Places Are Invited to Join in Big Event

At the meeting of the Village Council, Monday evening it was decided to promote an entirely free celebration to be known as the "Twilight Hummer" and invite all the residents of Northville and surrounding towns to be present.

The move, declared Mayor Harry S. German, was to be taken to fulfill two purposes—to give people a chance to see what good times they might expect to have at the annual Northville Wayne County Fair, which is to be held August 25-29, and to give people a chance to take the edge off the depression.

The move, declared Mayor Harry S. German, was to be taken to fulfill two purposes—to give people a chance to see what good times they might expect to have at the annual Northville Wayne County Fair, which is to be held August 25-29, and to give people a chance to take the edge off the depression.

Those who come to the Twilight celebration, which will begin at 5:30 in the afternoon, are urged to leave all glumness, gloom and cares behind, says Mayor German, and if necessary leave the dishes in the sink and come to have a good time under the auspices of the town of Northville.

The entire celebration will be free, including all the events: horse racing, horse shoe pitching, band concert, baseball game and the huge street dance.

The motion was approved by a unanimous vote of the council.

It was moved by Commissioner Dr. L. W. Snow that tax payers be refunded the difference between the present assessed value of bank stocks and the new amount under the new laws on bank stocks. The average difference between Northville bank stocks, say authorities, will be approximately $80.

Another important decision reached by the council was to extend the time for paying taxes from August 1 to September 1 without penalty.

An appropriation of $100 was made by the council toward the construction of a tennis court to be known as the Northville Community Tennis court. Plans were laid before the commissioners by Edward S. Horton and Wm. E. White, Jr.

The site for the tennis court has not yet been selected but upon the formation of a tennis club and the raising of more money, actual construction will begin.

SNIPES TALKS AT EXCHANGE CLUB

Interesting sidelights on Alaska, gained from a seven years' residence there, were given to members of the Exchange club at their luncheon Wednesday by Frank L. Snipes, superintendent of the Northville fish hatchery. Those who never saw this far-off Northland have the wrong idea in thinking that it is just a bleak land of ice and snow said Mr. Snipes.

Alaska is a vast territory, with much diversity of scenery and crops, said the speaker as he told of his work there with the government fish hatcheries. Especially in the summer time Alaska is a beautiful country. Thriving towns are found in certain parts of the country and progressive people and farmers with big herds of live stock.

Mr. Snipes told the Exchange club something of the methods of the salmon industry, gained from his experience in this work for Uncle Sam.

After a year's residence here, Mr. Snipes said that he found Northville an ideal residence town and he hoped that he could be commended indefinitely here in his work for the federal government.

At the business session, in charge of President Clifford B. Turnbull, plans were made for the "Sunshine Special," which will take kiddies from the Maybury sanatorium to Waller Lake Friday. Because of the rain this was postponed from Monday. L. C. Stewart and M. J. Murphy are the committee which will secure cars to take out the children for the annual outing.

VALUABLE HORSE KILLED BY BOLT

William Banks of West Point Park, noted for owning good fast horses was horrified when one of his prize marcs was instantly killed by lightning during an electrical storm at three o'clock Sunday. The horse was the pride of the Banks family for six years, having been raised from a colt. She was standing by a wire fence near the stable when struck and died at once after the shock.

THE RACKETEER

A contemptible creature is the "racketeer." He is a parasite who steals from the work of others.

The latest kind of racketeer to develop in Michigan is the mean thief who has been holding up truck drivers of fruit on the roads from the Michigan fruit belt into Chicago, taking their loads of fruit and making prisoners of the drivers.

Our civilization will have to develop some method of dealing with this new criminal, the racketeer. He is a vile creature.

JUST A NUISANCE TAX

Most of the thoughtful people of Michigan who have looked into the workings of the new law requiring re-registration of automobile drivers agree that it is just another nuisance tax.

What does the new law do? It takes a small fee from the driver. It gives the state another two or three millions of dollars—which is the big reason why the law was passed.

What the state of Michigan needs is a registration law that will really thin out some of the morons on the road and make a registration license mean something.

TROUBLE IS PASSED AROUND

Has the depression hit you? Have the hard times taken a wallop at you?

Yes? Well, if there is any cheer to the thought, you have plenty of company. The best of men haven't been able to figure out this world adjustment, in which we have been having our part, and the most successful have found the foundations shaky under them.

In Detroit are men worth hundreds of thousands of dollars who now are worth tens of thousands or less. In the city 25 miles away from us are men now getting $25 a week who once drew ten thousand a year.

The plain facts are that we have been re-adjusting. The process has been hard and costly but there are many indications that it will be over in a few months.

Trouble has been passed around pretty freely in the past two years; in the years ahead good times, prosperity and content will likewise be shared by all who will enter into life in the right spirit.

NINETY IN THE SHADE

Michigan is a grand old state. It can give us twenty below zero or ninety in the shade (and no shade at times) and "in between" some of the finest weather the world ever saw.

We like to write our editorials on Friday, to get them ready for the linotype operator's incessant cry of "copy" the first of the week. So here we sit on Friday, July 17.

ready to spread some noble ideas on this column.

Well, one writes about what is on his mind and heart. So today we start writing on what everyone has been thinking about—the hot weather, the second hot blast that we have had this summer.

Well, what does 90 in the shade mean? In Northville it means some discomfort and it also means that the corn is growing until it crackles. In Detroit this hot weather means stifling pavements, cramped apartments, hot brick walls where there is not a breath of fresh air.

OPPOSITION FOR GOVERNOR

It is a tradition among Michigan Republicans that with the governor, "one good term deserves another."

Now however, the indications are that our youthful governor, Wilbur M. Brucker, is facing what looks like real opposition in 1932 when he seeks re-nomination.

Two of the potential candidates against Brucker are said to be State Treasurer Howard C. Lawrence and Secretary of State Frank Fitzgerald.

In the meantime, the wise politicians are not forgetting that former governor Fred W. Green of Tonia has his weather eye out for the United States senatorship.

Heard on the Streets

Business Man: I had the best day one day this week I've had for the past eighteen months.

Detroit Resident: Do you know where I can get a house to rent in Northville? I am getting tired of living in the big city and I like the looks of your town and your people seem friendly and glad to help a stranger.

Parent: I am about convinced that just about twice too many folks are going to college. With some of them, it is just four years wasted.

Employee: I am getting less than I was a year ago but my dollar is buying more so I am better off than I was.

Business Man: I believe the twilight celebration will increase interest in our fair. Sort of gives folks a taste of what the big things will be.

Northville Man: I have been a consistent advertiser for years and I guess it must pay. I have seen several in my line come and go.

High School Girl: I like Northville better right along.

FLOP HOUSE VOTES

Elton R. Eaton in Plymouth Mail

To the outsider looking in, it begins to appear that Mayor Murphy of Detroit is not going to be successful in keeping a few thousand votes carried in the flop houses of Detroit at the expense of the city's charity fund.

The Record is especially grateful to a few staunch friends who recognize the newness of the reporter staff in this field and voluntarily bring in a few news items each week.

They said they didn't want to lose their vote in the fall election, and the mayor said it wasn't right to disfranchise them.

VILLAGE OF LOWELL IS HUNDRED YEARS OLD

According to chronology, in the year 1831 a trader penetrated the wilds of the Grand River valley to Flat River near where the two join and established a trading post and bartered with the Indians for furs.

Shortly other white settlers were attracted to the spot and erected places, very crude, which they called home, lured to the spot by the favorable location.

One hundred years have passed and Lowell has long since passed the pioneer stage. It is quite fitting that we should invite all to this, the centennial to help them make merry on this occasion.

Especially are former residents asked to return to Lowell on August 6, 7 and 8, renew old acquaintances and form new ones and share the joys of music, song, parades, pageants, games, barbecues, and varied attractions.

Self-Defense I bought a new car and traded in my player piano as the first payment.

So? I didn't suppose they took in pianos on new cars.

ANOTHER DROWNED IN PHOENIX LAKE

Juan Cimentis, 26, of 3008 Maybury Grand Ave., Detroit was drowned while swimming at Phoenix lake about four o'clock Saturday afternoon. The body was not recovered until five o'clock Sunday afternoon when a woman bather stepped on the body and it arose to the surface.

Plymouth authorities dragged the lake Saturday night and Sunday but were unable to locate the body until it was accidentally stirred from where it had come to rest.

Cimentis had left the friends with whom he was swimming and attempted to cross the lake. Although there were no witnesses to the actual drowning, it is believed that he became exhausted and went down before he could cry for help.

This is the fourth drowning that has occurred at Phoenix lake this year.

RAINS KEEP CROPS GROWING STEADILY

Rains, the last of the week and again on Monday have given crops another fine boost. Corn in this part of the state has made a remarkable growth and many fields are tasseling out. Grain has turned out well although prices are at rock bottom. Potatoes also promise well. A year ago at this time a good part of Southern Michigan was held in the clutches of one of the worst droughts of years. From present indications farmers will have considerable to sell this fall, even though prices will be very low.

NORTHVILLE APPLE CROP WILL BE LARGE

Northville fruit men state that the apple crop this fall promises to be unusually large. Trees are hanging heavy with the fruit. The prospect is for low prices state, the growers, although conditions in other sections may influence the market. One orchardist tells The Record that he has already sprayed his trees, seven times. The outlook is also good for a fine peach crop in the state, many trees already being held up by props.

The annual financial report of the Northville school district will be found in this issue.

WEST POINT LOSES LAST GAME TO LAUS

Harry Wolfe West Pointers lost a heart-breaking game to the Helman-Laus leading team of the Detroit Baseball federation in an amateur day program at Navin field, Sunday, by the score of 6 to 2. A four-run rally in the fifth inning drove Goers from the West Point box, broke the tie and finally won the game. Goers got along fine during the first two innings but began to slip up during the third and fourth and blew up altogether in the fifth. Errors by Kenny and Ray Wagner, Duff Millross on second in the next frame and the latter counted when Hammeschild and Halvory hit successive singles. The Laus scored one in the third, one in the fourth and broke the existing tie with four runs in the fifth. The line-up for the game Halvory, 2b; Hobbs, 1b; C. Wron, m; R. Obituary

James Milton Higgins

The death of youthful James Milton Higgins, 13 year old son of Thomas Higgins, of Salem, brought sorrow to the many friends that the boy had made while attending grade school here. James was born April 23, 1918 at Bruce, South Dakota, and his family moved here while he was yet of an early age. The boy was educated in the Northville grade school and was well known among the younger lads of the town. Four months ago the family moved onto a farm near Salem. The boy's mother preceded him in death a year ago and four sisters two brothers, and his father, Thomas Higgins survive him. James was only 11 for a short time but the nature of his illness, pneumonia, was so threatening that it was thought advisable to move him to the University of Michigan hospital at Ann Arbor where he died finally on Sunday, July 19. Burial was at Rural Hill cemetery Tuesday, at 2 o'clock. Rev. Wm. Richards officiating.

STOLEN MONEY IS QUICKLY RECOVERED

Wm. Kydr, 16 years old, of Tawonia township, confessed to Chief Wm. S. Safford, after he had been apprehended, that he stole $25 on Wednesday from a car belonging to a Detroit couple which was parked on the grounds of the Northville Golf club. As the car drove onto the grounds the woman held her purse up to the air and called to her husband asking him what she should do with it. He replied that it would be safe under the cushion in the back seat. Young Kydr, hearing the conversation, waited until the couple had departed and unlocked the door of the car and took the money from the purse. Safford saw him entering the car and when the theft was discovered he was suspected. Thursday morning Chief Safford drove to the Kydr home and accused the boy of the theft. He confessed immediately and gave up the money. No action was taken against the boy and he was left in the charge of his father.

VACATION PROGRAM ATTRACTS CROWD

Evidence of the great success of the Vacation Bible school was given at the close of its two weeks' session last Friday evening at the Presbyterian church.

The church was filled, in spite of the heat, with interested auditors who were amazed at the demonstration of work accomplished by the children in so short a time. Great credit is due those who had the courage in charge and it is quite certain that a greater spirit of unity between the churches was brought about by the study together.

Miss Eunice Cousins opened the evening's program with a pleasing organ prelude which was followed by remarks by Rev. W. Roscoe Barbour, head of the school, and prayer by Rev. Wm. Richards. A large part of the work of the primary department had been hand work which the leaders correlated in their study. The children proudly brought home to their parents the work of their hands.

Following is the program of demonstration of the things learned: Beginners and Primary Dept. Songs: "Praise Him, Praise Him," "Be Ye Kind," and "He Loves Us" in unison. Junior Dept. "Books of the New Testament, eleven year boys; "The 23rd Psalm," eleven year girls; "The 121st Psalm," ten year girls; "John 3:16," eight to ten year boys; "The Beatitudes," nine year girls; Song: "I Came to Jesus," in unison; Poem: "Others" in unison. Intermediate Dept. "The Great Commandments," Petrol Keller; Recitation: "Be Strong," Therza Lester; "The Books of the Bible," Old Testament, Mary Louise Boyden; "New Testament," Betty Haystead; Duet, "In My Heart There Rings a Melody," Evelyn Ambler, Helen Johnson, Recitation, "I Enjoy," Mabel Douglas; "The Ten Commandments," Evelyn Ambler, Jane Grosvenor, Helen Johnson, Jean Robinson; Recitation, "Not in Vain," Theda Fite, "Ist Cor 13," Leola Coe; "Pledge" in unison; Song, "Blest Be the Tie," in unison; The pageant, "Children in Many Lands" in costume.

The second part of the program, a pageant, "Children in Many Lands" was originally worked out under direction of Mrs. Earl Montgomery. In this pageant three American children were represented as sitting beneath a tree bewailing the fact that they must attend school when before them appear in tableaux, groups of children from other lands who were dressed in their native costumes and told their story until in the final act the young Americans were convinced that after all their lot was most happy. The program in detail was carried out as follows: Prologue, "Children On Way to Vacation Bible School," Fred Van Valkenburg, Frederick Johnston, Juanita Elkington. "America," Jean Robinson. Siam, Petrol Keller, Leila Haystead, Catherine Stevenson, Alice Richards. India, Lenora Coe, Alice Masters, Jane Grosvenor, Jessie Hanna. Japan, Theda Fritz, Constance Burgess, Mary Hollis, Marie Eckles, Betty Jane Lay. Korea, Adeline Plant, Margaret Bratt, Betty Lou Hollis, Catherine Ellis. China, Lillian Fritz, Marjorie Hills, Betty Lou Haystead. Solo: "The World Children for Jesus," Evelyn Ambler. American Children, Joan Montgomery, Vivian Grosvenor, Pearl Willis, Lenora Mae White, Margaret Nagy. Songs, "We've a Story to Tell to the Nations," "Greenland's Icy Mountains," chorus. Pianist, Mrs. E. S. Beard. Benediction, Rev. H. G. Whitfield. Organ Postlude, Miss Eunice Cousins.

If you miss one of the children after 5:30 o'clock Thursday night, next, better look first down at the Twilight Hummer. It's a free entertainment.

STOMACH TROUBLE ENDED AFTER TWENTY YEARS

Mrs. Mary Avery of 2700, Trobridge St., Detroit, Michigan, says: "I suffered with constipation and stomach trouble for years, and took many kinds of pills and cathartics with little benefit. One day I read a Mul-Sol-Lax ad and bought a bottle. I began to feel better after I had taken it for one week, and after taking a few bottles I was feeling fine again. For twenty years I had been enduring stomach trouble and am now well and happy again, thanks to Mul-Sol-Lax."

"Tempting, flaky biscuits bake perfectly in my ELECTROCHEF semi-sealed oven!"
CASH PRICE $105
It's the moist flakiness of biscuits that make them so good to the taste, and one of the chief features of my Electrochef is its gentle, moist heat. I simply make the dough as moist as possible, and then set my Electrochef heat control at the proper temperature. The moist atmosphere of the semi-sealed Electrochef oven bakes the biscuits to a fine-textured flakiness. Mirror-like oven walls reflect the heat gently and uniformly to all parts of the oven. There is no severe drying out to burn some of the biscuits and underbake others. In my Electrochef oven, all are delicately browned, and all rise properly to a light, tempting flakiness.

HOMEMAKER'S CORNER

BY MRS. EDITOR

ON VISITORS AND VISITING

Isn't it lucky in this hot weather when our thoughts seem to run like melted butter that we have a smart sister to fall back upon? This sister, Florence Riddick-Boys, edits a woman's page which is syndicated and she gives us the permission to use any of it we choose. In times like these it is like an oasis in a dry desert and is so much better than anything we could write. Isn't it appropriate for this season of visitors?

My Quaker grandmother used to say, "I always welcome comers and goers, but not comers and stayers." Which reminds me that the Good Book says, "Remove thy foot from thy neighbor's house, lest he weary of thee."

In the old days, when a journey was a rare event, the guest would come with a Saratoga trunk and stay for months. There was the big spare room and hospitality to match, and it was a sort of a favor to "mine host" to stop and retail to him the news and the atmosphere of the outer world.

A visit was anticipated for months by both visitor and visited, and the most elaborate preparations were made on both sides. The house was indeed spick-and-span from attic to cellar and the enormous trunk was crammed with new changes of garment for every occasion.

Now that the flower defies the passage, the rise and set are not enough Sundays in the calendar to get children dinner with all the folks; nor to extend the teaching to all the round of friends; visits have of necessity become "short and snappy."

In these busy days, visits of "convenience" should be taboo. Love between host and guest is the only justifiable motive for a visit, except in the case of children. In Holland they have a system of arranged visits such that city children may spend some time each year in the country and country children in the city. It is a treat for any child and broadening, to change environment and see how other people live. While this may be also true of adults, they can earn and pay for it and not "sponge" it from a friend. It is desirable to go visiting for a vacation, or a rest or a change, or to get help of any kind.

The summer city exodus to the country, where are cool breezes, green fields and running brooks, is of all impositions the most excusable. The rural household is, at this season of the year, overburdened with extra and necessary work. For the city cousins to come in the rush season and expect to be waited upon and gorged with the delicacies of the farm is the height of inconsiderateness. Of course, if they come with sleeves rolled up to help, that is another matter.

If relations are to be as cordial at the close of the visit as at the beginning, a certain well defined code on the part of both hostess and guest should be adhered to.

As to the hostess, she should provide in every way to make the stay of her guest pleasant. Much depends on the physical comfort of one away from home. If the guest cannot sleep on account of the heat or the stuffiness of the bed-room, or suffers from indigestion, or lack of bathing facilities, or other comforts, she is sure not to be her happiest. The ideal hostess understands personal tastes and habits of her guest and tries to arrange to have these as nearly normal as possible. For entertainment, that which is most unlike the ordinary home routine is likely to be the most interesting. City folk love to "litter" in the lane "where the quail whistles loud to the wheat fields which are yellow with ripening grain," and the country folk will delight to crane their necks awfully at the sky scrapers or watch the electric signs do things in the downtown district.

But the visit should not be such a mad chase after entertainment as to wear everybody out. Hours of it should be left to the guest to dispose of as she pleases. The guest will appreciate the compliment of being taken into your home life "as one of the family" and to live your life with you for a time, and will not demand "dress parade" affairs at every turn.

As much as possible of the ordinary work should be side-tracked to give the hostess time to devote herself to her guest and it will be her pleasure to show her any points of interest which the vicinity may possess or to do with and for her such things, as would make her visit a real "red letter" event.

Equally important are the responsibilities of the guest. The hostess doubts has burdens of her own and the thoughtful guest will take care not to add more than necessary to these. She will try to fit into the household regimen with as little upsetting of arrangements or schedule as may be. If the hostess does her own work, she will help and will try not to make extra work. If her hostess is popular and has a succession of visitors, the result of a summer's hospitality may mean a serious drain upon her time, strength and purse.

But the spiritual upsetting which a guest accomplishes may be more far-reaching than the material. The little housewife who displays proudly to her guest her nest of a home, her perfectly good husband and her adorable children will be rebuffed to have the guest point out numerous ways all the aforesaid might be made over to advantage. If your hostess thinks the blue bird of happiness nestles in the bosom of her family, why prick the bubble of her felicity by putting your finger on all the "nots" which might be "improved?" Suggestions should be made very carefully.

Have you ever had a guest who came to you from the rooms of other homes and who confidently exposed to you the seams side of each? You think, "A dog which brings a bone will carry one," and you wonder what she will tell the next hostess about the skeletons in your closets, of which you possibly are not aware.

The aim of a visit, for both hostess and guest, is to get nearer to understanding and to enjoy basking in one another's presence, and as such, visits are a large part of the sweetness of life.

Getting a Break "All right, what do you want to work at?" asked the warden of the new convict.

"Do you mean to say I can work at my old trade?" "Sure, if you're good at it. What is it?" "Long-distance taxi driver."

BOY SCOUTS HOLD OVERNIGHT JOURNEY
 Individual members of the Northville Boy Scouts left Wednesday afternoon on an overnight test-passing hike and returned Thursday afternoon.

Conditions regulating the hike were that the Scouts left at intervals, each member of the four patrols following the trail, assigned to his patrol. The trail, as marked with bent sticks piled stones and signs that are significant only to Boy Scouts and those versed in woodmanship.
 The destination to which the trail led was known only to the patrol leaders and each trail ends at the same destination where the Scouts will pitch their tents for the night. Each Scout must undertake to pass one or more tests for advancement while on the hike.
 Another project which the local troop has undertaken is the establishment of a Scout library at their headquarters on the school grounds.
 Each Scout has donated books, magazines and pamphlets to the library and as time goes on and the treasury becomes more filled new books will be purchased. If Northville citizens have boys' books for which they have no further use, it would help increase the Scout library rapidly if they would donate them.

McLEOD SCORES K. O. OVER LOU FERRIS
 A large delegation of Northville boxing fans went up to Traverse City today to see Don McLeod, Northville lightweight score a technical knock-out over Lou Ferris of Milwaukee on the eighth round.
 Ferris' second round a knock-out into the ring, ending the battle, to see their boy from taking a severe beating. The kid came after McLeod had sent the Milwaukeean down for two successive nine counts with left to the jaw.
 McLeod was the aggressor throughout the battle, pushing the fight along and keeping Ferris backing up most of the time.

ARE WEDDINGS PROFITABLE?
 All preachers' heads rejoice when they see their fathers making for the little black book which contains the rituals of the church. That means a wedding is in store and that means the children get a share of the fee. This is the one bit of "elvet" which comes the way of the parsonage folks. The other day a Northville minister had a wedding and at the close of the ceremony received without looking at it, a folded bill which he put in his pocket. Making out the beautiful certificate (which cost him $1.25) he sent the happy couple on their way with his blessing. When the children demanded their share the bill proved to be one dollar.

Every Thursday Night

By "AD" SCHWENGER
 The short staccato sentences of the radio announcer describing the Sharkey Walker fight were pretty tiresome. The facts were there but fight fans, despite the sound of the bell at the end of each round knew that something was missing.

The fight, which was carried over telegraph wires to the composing room of a metropolitan newspaper, and from there radiocast to the world, was not entertaining.

Somehow, the average fight fan has been educated so that unless he is listening to the roaring roar of the announcer's mistakes and corrections over the air, unless he can faintly hear the leather-lunged Joe Humphries announcing the fighters and their weights, unless it is a bona-fide announcement direct from the ringside, he feels that the scrap is not all that it should be.

But then, we radio fight fans don't pay a red cent to hear the program so what right have we to criticize?

Loud chorus of voices, "None whatever, shut up."

All right, all right. We'll subside but we insist, something was lacking.

Also our whole night's sleep was spoiled. We lay awake for hours wondering if the fighters were asked to say a few words over the telegraph wire about how tough the fight was and "Mat Heaton bless my opponent, the big tramp."

We wonder too that would happen to us if we had to tell all this to one of the contestants instead of tapping it out on a typewriter 500 miles away.

One of those "light lefts to the chin" would probably lay this scribble away for a period of six months.

Last week it was a cold in the head, this week it's all about the prize fight, and if we have any more beefs during the coming week, we'll let you know about it.

We're going on a glorious two weeks' vacation to northern Michigan beginning bright and early next Sunday morning. They say that up there they have no typewriter operators billering "soppy" in poor reporters' ears all day long; no advertisers looking up the advertising man with blood in their eye because a small letter was used instead of a capital; no editors to say, "McLeod man, you forgot to say where the accident happened," no one hawking you out because his or her name was or was not in the paper.

Allah be praised, it must be Paradise.

GERMAN'S CHIEFS BEAT DUCK LAKE

A large crowd of fans saw Harry German's Chiefs whip Duck Lake nine by the larruping score of 12 to 5 in a game there Sunday afternoon.

The game was brought to a sudden close at the end of the eighth inning by a downpour that made further play impossible.

Harry German, redoubtable sayer of Northville, who has been on the mound for one team or another for more years than most of us can remember back, hurled for the Chiefs for five innings after which Rowland was sent in to hold the Duck Lake boys scoreless for the remainder of the game.

Hammond, L. German and Vern Smith garnered most of the hits for Northville and formed a "killer row" that will cause the Big Beaver nine quite a bit of trouble next Sunday when the Chiefs play there. The game will be played on Sunday and Big Beaver is five miles northeast of Birmingham for the benefit of those fans who would like to accompany the Chiefs on some of their out of town trips.

The Chiefs are gaining a reputation for being a formidable nine and large crowds are showing up for the games in which they play.

The Chiefs merit the honor of being represented in the ball games at both the Northville and Milford Pairs, which has been accorded to them.

Spencers Congregate In Cass Benton Park

The annual reunion of the Spencer family was held in Cass Benton Park Saturday afternoon, July 18, with about thirty members present. It was a pleasant group of Spencer children, grandchildren and "in-laws" who surrounded the long picnic table for "park and enjoy" day together. The afternoon was filled with fishing and sports among the relatives from Northville were Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Healey, Ugal Clark and William Spencer. Others in the group were Rev. and Mrs. Chauncey Green of Concord, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. OUR MAYOR EXPLAINS MEANING OF "HUMMER"

When the Village Commission announced the name for their big evening celebration as the "Twilight Hummer," ye editor and several of his immediate reporters made quick inquiry, "Just what is a 'Hummer'?"

The mayor readily explained that it was entirely a new word and only found in the latest dictionaries and the latest would not be out until 1932. That Northville Commission was fortunate in getting the new word in advance and putting it into use by a celebration at the same time by adding the Twilight to it. He further explained that it really was an Egyptian word used by the Israel in Northern France after they had driven the Huns from Germany. That the humming bird was a hummer in a small way and that the expression of "Oh-Hum-Hum" after a sleepless night has been used for years and will be again late next Thursday night after one takes in the horse races, ball game and dances on the pavement until 12 o'clock at night.

"I do not see why it is necessary," said the executive "during this hot weather and times of depression that one has to explain everything in detail to reporters, but it is just like the Twilight Hummer, the explanation is free."
