FINAL RITES ARE HELD FOR R. C. YERKES

Former Resident Had Long
And Honored Career
In Business

In the death of Robert C. Yerkes at his home in Albuquerque, New Mexico June 25, another Northville man goes to join that list of worthy men who have passed away in the last year.

In this group were four men intimately associated in business life of Northville and, by strange coincidence, all associated as directors of the "Ball Security Company." These were: L. A. Babcock, Frank S. Hamilton and now Robert C. Yerkes.

Mr. Yerkes was the son of the late Robert and Sarah Holmes Yerkes. He was born in Northtown, February 28, 1869 of pioneer stock. As a graduate of the Northville high school, and the Ypsilanti State Normal he was well equipped to enter into business and professional life.

While in the Normal college Mr. Yerkes was a classmate and friend of the well-known cartoonist, Windsor McKay, now of the staff of the Detroit Times.

Before actually getting down to the hard drum affairs of milling and manufacturing he spent two or three years in Oregon and other parts of the West as ranchman and in lumbering.

It is said that his youthful training among the quiet hills of Northville and his ranching experience in Oregon had left their impression upon the character of Mr. Yerkes. "People sometimes wonder," Mr. Yerkes once said to a friend, "why I prefer the quiet life of Northville to the bustle and excitement of the city and the only reason I can conjure is that I don't like to be crowded. There are times when I feel that there are too many people right here in Northville."

The flour mill business engaged his attention for a number of years as he at various times was in partnership with his brothers, Donald and Will H. and his cousin, Will G. Yerkes.

When the existing portions of the old Globe Furniture Co. were sold in 1902 he and his friends organized the Globe Furniture Co., Ltd., and took over the refrigerator property opposite the Pere Marquette railway.

Robert C. Yerkes

The business continued under his management until November, 1923 when ill health compelled him to seek a more satisfactory climate.

While attending to his company affairs he was a director in the Northville State Savings bank and vice president until his removal to New Mexico. He was also a director of the American Bell & Foundry Co.

Mr. Yerkes leaves his widow, Mrs. Mary Summons Yerkes and three brothers, George B., Donald P., and Will H. and many friends in and out of Northville. The funeral services were held at the Schrader parlors Tuesday afternoon and interment was made in the Rural Hill mausoleum. Rev. H. G. Whitfield conducted the service.

Expressions as to the character of Mr. Yerkes are cordial and reveal how large a place he occupied in the hearts of his fellow townsmen. He was a royal host, an enthusiastic sportsman, a genial companion and enjoyed his fellowmen right well.

Old friends acted as pall bearers: Benj. Gilbert of Plymouth, C. W. Wilber, Edward H. Lapham, Edward Brown, E. S. Beard and Chas. A. Dolph.

WOMAN'S CLUB PICNIC

Members of the Woman's Club were reminded to remember the annual picnic to be held this (Friday) afternoon at Cass Benton park. Supper at six. Families included.

GOV. WILBUR M. BRUCKER ADDRESSES LARGE CROWD AT SALEM TUESDAY NIGHT

Executive Discusses Taxation, Unemployment and Traffic Problem at the Federated Church

"Every day there are matters that come across my desk that make me want to ask for higher strength," Governor Wilbur M. Brucker told a large audience at the Salem Federated church Tuesday evening as he figuratively drew back the curtains of the governor's office and told in a frank, intimate way some of the great problems that are now facing the state administration.

Will Preach in N. J.

Rev. H. G. Whitfield, Jersey City, N. J., will hear a Northville minister preach on Sunday, August 2. On that date, the Rev. H. G. Whitfield, pastor of the Presbyterian church here, will occupy the pulpit of one of the oldest churches of that denomination in that city. The Whitfields left this week on their vacation.

INVENTION WILL PRESERVE MILK

Now you can leave your milk on the back step without worrying about it getting sour or freezing. A new receptacle has been designed to keep the milk left on your back door step at a sanitary temperature, to prevent it from getting so warm that it sours or so cold that it breaks the bottle, according to E. Werve, manager of the Werve Creamery of Northville.

"I believe this little invention is going to revolutionize milk delivery," declared Mr. Werve. "Not only will this receptacle, called the 'Thermodore,' keep the milk left on the back door step at practically the same temperature as it is left by the milk man for many hours, but it will also prevent that very disagreeable practice of 'sniffing' the bottles by stray cats and dogs."

"According to Mr. Werve, the Thermodore is made of cork, mineral wool and asbestos, and it is large enough to hold two quarts. Its great value lies in its use in preserving milk so that it will be fresh and appetizing when the housewife takes it off her porch in the morning."

The Thermodore is furnished by the Werve Creamery without cost, but does not become the property of the customer. He is responsible for the proper care of it, but must return it to Mr. Werve should he discontinue his patronage.

The State Police Will Assist in Preventing all Gambling at the Northville Wayne County Fair

Gambling absolutely will not be tolerated this year at the Northville Wayne County fair, Floyd A. Northrop, secretary, told members of the Northville Rotary club Monday noon in a very interesting talk on the beginnings and growth of the fair. Co-operation of the local and state police has been secured and any attempt at gambling enterprises—apart from innocent features—will be summarily dealt with.

In spite of the depression, said Secretary Northrop, the premiums for the big exhibit will be as large as ever and from present indications the exhibits will be fully as numerous as in other years. Northville will have more free acts than any other fair of its size in the state and $3,250 will be spent for these and the ball games.

The fair does a business of from $20,000 to $25,000 a year said Mr. Northrop and the biggest part of this money finds its way back into local business channels. Its great success is due to the fact that it is a "community project, backed by all of our citizens."

Mr. Northrop traced the growth of the fair back 23 years when a group of citizens built a race track and ran this for eight years and then finally had to sell part of the land to pay taxes. Back at the beginning there was not even a building or a fence while today there is a fine group of buildings and a $25,000 grandstand with only a small debt on the whole enterprise. He told of the new county road that cuts off .78 of an acre at the southwest corner and of the building of 60 new barns to replace those that were torn down to make way for the new road. The county road commission has shown a very fine spirit of co-operation in this work said the fair secretary.

Father Jos. G. Schuler, president, was in charge of the Rotary session and Mr. Northrop was introduced by Don Yerkes, Sr.

HIGHLAND PARK BAND HEARD IN CONCERT HERE

Northville was given a splendid concert last Saturday night when the Methodist Episcopal Band of Highland Park came to this city. In the absence of Edward Head, leader of the Northville High School band, Mr. Head was attending the wedding of his daughter in Detroit.

The Highland Park band played some very fine numbers. A feature of the evening was the soloist who rendered several concert numbers for the audience.

A large crowd attended the concert, and it was fully evident that the music rendered by the musicians was greatly appreciated by Northville citizens.

HORSE SHOW AT FAIR TO DRAW CROWD

Harvey McNair, of Chicago
Picked as Judge of Event

One of the finest features of the Fifteenth Annual Fair is the Horse Show, which has been conducted under the auspices of the Northville Wayne County Fair Association for the past twelve years and which will be held this year for three days August 27, 28, 29.

It is expected that the events on the program this year will prove exceptionally thrilling to the spectators who attend the fair. Some of the best saddle horses in this state will be put on parade, and the numerous running and jumping events promise to be unusually good.

The Northville Fair has the distinction of staging the first Infant Class in any horse show and which was put on last year for the first time in the Infant Class, children at the tender age of six years and under are contestants.

The Junior Class at the Horse Show have some very interesting features on their program, such as the Steeplechase, Quarter Mile Race and Pony Jump.

In the senior class there are more severe contests in running and jumping. Besides the "serious" contests are the games, which are always a source of great amusement to the spectators. One of these is the Wheel Barrow Race. In this game a man and woman ride down the field, dismount and then the man must take the woman back in a wheelbarrow to the point from which they started, at the same time leading the two horses.

The Horse Show is particularly fortunate this year in securing as a judge the noted Harry McNair of Chicago who is one of the best known authorities on horses in the country.

Horses from Detroit and environs, namely Bloomfield Hills and Grosse Pointe, Flint, Lansing and Jackson will be entered at the Show. Last year there were 132 entries but this year there is expected to be an even greater number. Twenty-five more stalls have been erected at the Fair Grounds to accommodate the great possible number of horses to be entered at the Horse Show this year.

Harry G. Clark, president of the Horse Show, expressed confidence that the Fifteenth Horse Show would be one of the best ever given in Northville.

FISH CULTURIST COMES
E. J. Douglas is the new apprentice fish culturist at the Northville fish hatchery. He comes from Columbia, Mo., and succeeds Harlan E. Johnson, who has been transferred to Saratoga, Wyoming after a year's work here.

In Memory of Frank S. Harmon
By Village Commission

Resolution passed by Village Commissioners:
On this date of July 20th, 1931, that death has taken from our community the highly respected and much loved citizen, the late Frank S. Harmon, former president of our Village.

That we fully appreciate during his administration and his great work as a business man and citizen, that Northville has lost a valuable cog from the wheel of this municipality.

That we, as a commission representing the citizens of this Village, do with all others condole with the family and hereby request that this resolution be printed in the Northville Record and a copy be sent to his bereaved wife, Kitty Harmon.

FREDERICK HEDGE,
Village Clerk.

WELL! WELL! WHO ARE THEY?

Yes, yes, how styles do change! The "picture hat" shown above is a former well known resident of this community who would be fine to keep off the sun during the hot days we have been having but the young ladies just don't wear them any more. Close, clinging things are correct now.

BANK HEARING AT DETROIT THURSDAY

In circuit court at Detroit yesterday the adjourned hearing in the receivership matter of the Lapham State Savings bank was held. Directors of the bank asked that a local liquidating committee be appointed and largely signed petitions of depositors made the same request.

It was to be settled Thursday whether this request would be granted or a permanent receiver be appointed. The record went to press too early yesterday to learn the outcome.

John D. Morton of Detroit the temporary receiver, has been in charge of the bank.

MAYOR OF LANSING ISSUES CHALLENGE TO MAYOR GERMAN

Mayor James Grey of Lansing has challenged Mayor Harry S. German of Northville for a base ball game Saturday August 1st. A game will be played at Lansing between the chief executives of the Police team and the Northville Chiefs.

The game is widely advertised in the capital city, and a large attendance is expected.

Dr. and Mrs. Mark Gardner of Detroit were guests at the Harry Clark home on the Base Line road Wednesday.

LAST WEEK'S NOTABLES

Now we know who they are. Answers have been received to the call sent out last week to identify the six folks pictured on the front page of last week's Record, so that now we know just who is who.

Among the first to come in was Sherrill W. Ambler, general manager of the Ambler Foundry. He identified the stalwart gentleman member in the center of the group as his great-grandfather, William H. Ambler. According to Mr. Ambler his great-grandfather came to Northville from New York over 90 years ago. It was he who built the hotel that once stood on the corner of Main and Center streets and which burned down in 1929. He also ran a tanning mill factory near Salem at one time. For several years he conducted a stage coach service in Detroit. Returning to Northville he built a feed mill at Ambler's Pond near Farmington avenue.

The second identification was made by Mrs. William Mairs of Novi and several others and the picture she identified was none other than herself! The picture was taken at the time of her graduation from the Northville high school in 1912. Mrs. Mairs' maiden name was Susan Dickinson. She said that her picture appeared in The Northville Record at the time of her marriage when she and her husband went to

TWILIGHT HUMMER HITS DEPRESSION

The Record goes to press before the Twilight Hummer, which was to be held last night (Thursday), takes place. Everything pointed to a gay time for the people of Northville. There was a hint of rain in the air but it was hoped that the skies might be clear when the celebration got under way at 8 o'clock.

The committee in charge of this unusual event have gone to a lot of trouble to see that everyone within a radius of 25 miles from Northville knew about it. Handbills were passed out in Novi, Farmington, Farmington, Cass, South Lyon, Waterford and other neighboring communities.

In next week's issue there will be a complete account of this Twilight Hummer, a celebration whose sole purpose was to give the depression depressed citizens of this vicinity a chance to shake off the blues without any cost to themselves. It promises to be an event that will long be remembered in this community.

DETROITERS GET THEIR WATER AT CRYSTAL SPRING

One of the main carries of the village says that two families in Detroit that he knows come out to Northville every week to carry back their water supply from our famous Crystal Spring near the Pere Marquette station. There's no telling how many more have the same habit. You can never pass this spring, day or night without seeing folks getting water here.

One man was seen carrying away 16 jugs full at one time and still there's plenty flowing. This is said to be the purest water possible and cold as ice. "Like medicine," says one man. Only one mineral is found in the Silver Springs.

MRS. GRENNAN DIES AT HOME NEAR VILLAGE

Beloved Resident Passes On Saturday at Age of 42 Years

Mrs. Paul H. Grennan passed away at the country home "Farmcrest," near Northville, Saturday July 25 at the age of 42 years.

The whole vicinity has been touched by the death of this woman who while not an active resident of this village, had endeared herself to a wide circle of friends because of her largeness of character. With spontaneous enthusiasm she threw herself into the interests of her husband, her home and her community. It is said that through the industry of her early years is due much of the success of the beginning of the baking business of Mr. Grennan which has reached such large proportions.

In our own village a monument to her memory is the fine Presbyterian church house which owes the possibility of its undertaking to her generous contribution. As long as people will assemble in this beautiful place which encourages fraternal sociability, so long will the memory of this woman who championed wholesome good times be remembered with appreciation.

To her husband she was a real partner, one who could enter with equal enthusiasm into his business affairs and into his favorite sport, polo. An intimate friend of the family says, "Something will be gone out of the game at the Detroit polo field this afternoon. A familiar voice will be still a hand raised countless times to wave encouragement. It will be a heart-breaking sight to see a team win a trophy that will have vanished."

When the Argentines and the Roslynites met on the polo field the flag was raised at half mast and flags were sounded at the conclusion of the game all rose in reverence for the memory of Mrs. Grennan.

One of the faithful employees at "Farmcrest" says, "She was like a sister to us all—we all loved her. It was her joy to go about the farm with great interest in everything."

A friend who visited Mrs. Grennan often, says, "There was about her a winsome loveliness. She was democratic accessible to people of all classes. Her home was a hospitable place and she shared with her husband a justifiable pride in the model cojany, some friends were always welcome at Farmcrest. It was especially hard for her to forego her customary activities and remain quiet through months of illness yet through it all she remained a patient sufferer."

A father of two children, Evelyn 15 and Paul Wilbur 8, her motherhood extended to fifteen less fortunate children.

Mrs. Grennan came to Detroit 17 years ago from Chicago. Much of her life since has been spent at the country home near Northville where for years she was an active member of the Presbyterian church.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Detroit home on Boston boulevard and from the Visitation Catholic church.

At the church the Capuchin monks were celebrant of the solemn funeral high mass and was assisted by Fr. Jos. G. Schuler of Our Lady of Victory church in Northville.

The pall bearers were close friends of Mr. and Mrs. Grennan, Harry B. Clark, H. W. Nicholas, P. J. Traylor, I. G. Palmer, Ralph Scott, S. L. A. Marshall, W. B. McCullough and C. A. Bray. Interment was made in Grand Lawn cemetery, Redford.

THE FAIR IS COMING

It makes one forget his troubles to look over the Northville Wayne County fair book and to see what a big line-up of activities is waiting for the folks on August 25 to 29.

The big program that has been lined up by the officials is one that will appeal to all—from the young to the old. No wonder the Northville fair is known as one of the best in the whole state. The attractions are there to make it such. The work of many men and women goes into the fair to make it the outstanding success that it is.

Get ready for the crowd the last week in August.

IN PRISON AT LAST

Albert B. Fall, who sold out his friend, the president of the United States, who exploited his government, who betrayed his trust as a cabinet officer, has finally gone to prison for a year and a day.

After trying every conceivable way to escape justice and after using every plan of sympathy to gain a pardon, the man who was just a common thief must go to prison. The end is long delayed but at last right wins. Just why a member of the cabinet should get any more sympathy than any other thief is hard to figure out—in fact he should be punished all the more for taking advantage of his position.

Mr. Fall is now where he should have been some time ago. Those in high places tempted to make some "easy money" may well contemplate the disgrace with which he closed a life that might have been one of high renown.

"HERE'S A CHECK"

Running a business these days is a challenge—if you like a good scrap, "come on in, the water's fine."

Every day as we start, the Record going we say: "Well, where is the money coming from today to keep the old ship going?" Checks are not as thick as they have been and yet the office folks need their wages and the other expenses go merrily on.

So came Saturday morning with the pay roll only a few hours away. And in walked Mayor Harry S. German, cheerful as usual.

"Would you mind if I say something frankly to you?" asked our energetic mayor. "Well—what have we done now?" we thought as we got up from our desks to face the music. We looked the Northville executive in the eye and here is about what he said:

"How does this look to you?" There it lay—coy, inviting, yes, alluring, a check for the sizeable sum of $22.75.

Now why do we write this? Well just to emphasize that we are all in the same boat these days and all need all the money we can get to keep things moving, and to say that everyone who keeps a little money moving is making it just a bit easier for the folks who are bearing the burden.

The dollar you start moving will very likely swing around back to you.

And if you can't pay a lot, pay a little.

And don't forget that better days are sure to come, not so far off.

THE WORLD

It is hard to keep your eyes off the world these summer days of 1931. History is in the making. The recent conference of the nations was the biggest event since the war.

They say not much was accomplished at the meeting started by President Hoover to keep Germany from collapse. Yet a lot was done. This much was achieved: There is a different spirit among the leaders. It has finally percolated through the heads of some of the diplomats that this old world simply will have to use some good will, a lot of toleration and patience, some real Christianity if we are to keep from another world war, which they all agree will wreck our civilization so badly that no one dares predict what will happen.

If Germany and France can get together in some sort of an understanding, then the prospects for a better world spirit are very good. And as this is written, it does look as though Paris and Berlin are really getting together on a more friendly basis than since the war. If they do that, the old hatreds can be more or less buried and the world start back on the long road to rehabilitation. What a strange commentary on human nature it is that we have made our own troubles when we set out to hate each other and to tear down. When we find that the only way to rise is to rise together, then indeed we shall have the dawn of a new day. Hasten the time when animosities will be less and less.

WHAT IS LIFE?

Of course, you have sometimes asked yourself the question: "Well what do I get out of life?"

Certainly our ideas that money is about all have been badly upset the past few months. Material values have slipped away so much that what we thought was solid ground has proved to be shifting sand. No, we'll have to tie to something besides material values.

To us, friends and family are the biggest thing we have. The other night our old college roommate, now living in Baltimore, drove up to the house, with his wife and a whole carful of healthy-looking boys. Well, what an hour of real happiness we had! Then as the automobile rolled away into the night, toward Detroit, our good friend called out: "Remember we always think lots of you." We walked into the house, cheered at heart because scattered here and there throughout this good old United States we have a few such friends as these who run out of the way once in a while to come and see you.

What is life? Well one of the greatest things in life is friends. Stick to them—they will do more for you than your money. Do for them and they will stay by you.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

Did you ever see anyone who gained real happiness by trying to injure someone else?

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

MINER FOR GOVERNOR

(Rae Collins in The Farmer)

If we were going to name the man who we believe could poll the largest Democratic vote in the state for governor and come the nearest to carrying off honors for his party we'd say John W. Miner of Jackson. Mr. Miner usually scoffs at men. Min of his name for the executive office. Nevertheless, the fact remains that he is one of the strongest leaders of the party in the state today, and his judgment is respected on state matters by men and women of both parties.

THEY DON'T WANT WORK

(Holly Herald)

Perhaps Holly hadn't better poke too much fun at the welfare situation in Detroit, Pontiac, Flint and other suburbs. A Rose township man was in desperate need of some help in the harvest field this week. He came to a Holly pool room which is the hangout of a good part of the local unemployed, and stated his case. A few of them did condescend to look up from their cards game long enough to find out there was a job in sight but others did not even do that. Work was not in their line. The Rose man had to look elsewhere for help.

SUBSTITUTE FOR PROHIBITION

(By Muri H. DeFoe in The Charlotte Republican Tribune)

Congressman Person up his speech at the Rotary Luncheon, made the usual argument against prohibition—that it doesn't work.

But what is the substitute? That's what the people want to know. The voters are not going to change unless they can see a chance to improve present conditions. We read very carefully the confounding Wickensham report very carefully. It is all that the Lansing congressman says about it. But that isn't the answer to the admitted problem.

Months ago this writer suggested the government delegate the distribution of good beer and liquor in reasonable quantities to the householder as parcel post; any person caught illegally transporting it to get a straight prison term. This would cover the present major type of violation. Have it handled by the present postal organization and do away with the hundreds of prob-blem agents and the tragic cost of the present pathetic gesture toward enforcement. This machinery is all set up. The public would get a good quantity of liquor in modest portions. The delivery would be public and the government would get a profit from the transportation.

You will say this is a fine myth but myth or no myth it is a substitute plan. It is easy enough to know prohibition but that doesn't improve the situation.

The next time you hear a wet ill-kumming his stuff ask him what plan he has in mind to better conditions.

"MA"—"MA"—BLAH, BLAH

(Birmingham Eclectic)

"Ma" Kennedy Hudson, mother of California's superlative "evangelist," Alice, Semple McPherson, got herself a man the other day—a Rev. G. Edward Hudson. They were hardly tangled up in the matrimonial knot when three women publicly declared that "Ma's" new soul-mate was either married, or engaged to them. Whereupon "Ma" promptly uttered these divine, womanly, wifely words:

"What, only three women after him? Why, there should be 3,000! I don't care how many women there are after him! I wouldn't have anything to do with him if there weren't."

"Ma" is brave—even if she sounds brutal. We suppose that now "Ma" will turn Girl Scout and write a book entitled, "Knots I have tied and some I have not." Last reports, however, reveal that "Ma" will lose her new "Daddy."

GIVE HIM A CHANCE

(Major E. R. Eaton in the Plymouth Mail)

For one who has been in office such a short time, Governor Wilbur Brucker has won for himself more than an ordinary amount of criticism. As to the substance of it, one finds it difficult to answer. But in all fairness to the governor, he should be given more time to bring about the improvements and economies in the state government that he promised. He has served but a little over a quarter of his term, and that is not a very long time for one to do all the things the Governor told the voters he had in mind last fall. We will be much more able to judge his work near the end of his first year in office than we are at the present time. So why wouldn't it be better if some of the adept harpoon throwers try their skill on something else for a little while and give the Governor more of an opportunity to do at least some of the things he said he had in mind for the good of the people of Michigan.

WAYNE PAPER CALLS OUR MAYOR "ORIGINAL"

(Wayne County Review, Wayne, Mich.)

Harry S. German, baseball pitcher-mayor of Northville, has shown his originality on more than one occasion. In a letter calling attention to the Twilight Hummer to be staged there next Thursday, he says: "It is strictly a donation affair whereby our council is not only entertaining our citizens but the surrounding community as well, and all can come without bringing a pocketbook. The idea is to help kill off Old Man Depression and drive our Crepe Hangers."

Quite An Offer

The professor who has announced his intention of presenting 30,000 moths to a museum can add our last year's overcoat as a companion piece, if he but says the word.

Wonderful

Modern progress is indeed wonderful. It has made it possible for a man to get indigestion and a remedy for it at the same drug store.

HOMEMAKER'S CORNER

BY MRS. EDITOR

What Mother does not have times when she indulges in that most despicable state of mind—self-pity? Nobody appreciates what we do! (Just run away for a few days and we'll see that they do.)

We were enjoying (9), this selfish feeling the other day when we ran across the following from another editor's wife: "I rather waked us up. This writer, however, has no children and we wonder if she would feel quite so secure in her theories if she had been 'through the mill'."

DOES IT PAY?

A couple of weeks ago we went to Detroit. While waiting in the lobby for friend husband to return from a business engagement, I noticed two women sitting near and could not fail to hear the high pitched voice of one of the women.

"Discouragement was written on every line in her face. 'I think sometimes that I will just quit,' she said. 'I work and slave for my family and it doesn't seem to me that there is a word of thanks and they do not do a thing to make my work any lighter.'"

"And the other woman went on to console her."

"Soon she was talking again and waiting about a sister of hers that was so indolent and lazy, but her children and husband just catered around to her every whim."

"I could not help but rub her again. One could see that she was high strung, a person who did not care especially how she looked (although I could not help but feel that financially she was well-fixed and could afford to have help.) How easy it was to imagine here in her home, perhaps working herself to death. And the evening meal—it was the story of how much she had done that day and how tired she was. Perhaps the children annoyed her and she was too tired to play when the dishes were done. No wonder she was not appreciated."

And the sister. Maybe she wasn't digging every minute, without a doubt she tested a bit during the day and did not fuss so about her work that she had only unpleasant things to talk about at meal times. It would be a happy time in the family as they sat about the table for the evening meal. While she was washing the dishes, maybe she suggested that the family do something that all or them took a great delight in.

"There's more to this world than working and digging every minute. Let's forget for a few minutes each day, and have a little fun, and then perhaps we will not be wondering why we are not appreciated."

"Mrs. Editor."

Why does everybody talk depression these days? Look at your blessings; look at your joys.

Look at your herds and crops, your girls and your boys; Look at your friends over the world far and near; Your neighbors and townsmen whom you hold dear; Look at their houses, their cars, or their clothes.

But don't be caught grousing. Looking down at your nose!

PORTER RECALLS SILK HAT DAY

Editor Northville Record,
Northville, Mich.
Dear Sir:

In looking over your special edition of June 10th, for which you staff deserves great credit, I was greatly pleased to find the picture of the gentleman who had at one time sported silk hats, and since I still remember some of the bits of humor connected with the craze that hit the town that summer of 1885, I have been asked to give the Record the opportunity to bring a remembrance to some of those who were living in Northville at that time.

Just how the fad started I never knew but all at once, especially on Sundays wherever we chanced to look we seemed to see young men, topped with stove pipe hats, and when they passed the town en masse, folks just had to stop, look and listen.

One Sunday, feeling quite religious, they went in a body to the Methodist church. The good Methodist folks hardly knew just how to be impressed. They wanted young men to come to church but with the young men seated in a body with a five gallon hat in his lap perhaps didn't seem so truly reverent. Some wondered if it were not more theatrical than worshipful.

Then after Sunday dinner the natural thing to do was to parade the residence sections of the town. And the boys ran true to form.

There were six young fellows, floating over the Kellogg block, now the movie house five of whom were factory hands and the sixth, Emerick Nicols, worked in Asa Randolph's drug store which stood on the south of what is now Schrad's Brothers Furniture Store. With one exception these young men did not have silk hats. I presume we did not have the price.

It seems that Asa Randolph's boyhood and young manhood dated back to the time when men really did wear plug hats and he had three of very ancient vintage which which to prove it. One of these was black, not so very tall but exceedingly wide across the top. I believe they were called "Bell Crown." This had a nap on it about the hair on a Persian cat. The second was of about the same description except that it was a sort of French Grey. The third was quite small in diameter but was tremendously tall. He also had a clay or soap dish hat that was not more than an inch and a half in height but other use was a perfect good little hat.

As Randolph observed the silk hat parade as it started off, and seeing our crying men, he kindly offered us the use of his assortment and suggested that we fall in line and march up the road of the process. Go forth to do or die. We did go and I can't understand to this day why we didn't die, for while we marched along in a solemn and dignified manner it seemed to us that the addition of our number to the procession was not received with the cordiality and glad acclaim that should have been extended to us. However, I think the parade must have been about over anyway for it ended very shortly after we joined it.

Frank Macomber was a cabinet maker at the Globe factory and did not buy a silk hat. He didn't need to as you will learn.

The other boys in the factory urged Frank to get one of the new hats and thus he was one of the boys. But Frank said, "Nay, Nay. Then some one at the factory suggested that they get up a subscription among the boys for a silk hat for Frank. This idea met with approval and a subscription was circulated among the bunch at about five to ten cents a throw. One of our roommates and the only one that had failed for the craze who had a considerable regard for ten cents, subscribed that amount. After the list had passed him some one very carelessly and thoughtlessly dropped it after his one and added another cent. When the necessary amount had been raised and the above named boy of carelessness speeded it up quite perceptibly, the paper was laid on Frank's bench while he was at lunch. On his return every one was anxiously watching out of the northeast corner of his eye to see the excitement, for of course Frank would get rip-raving mad, would tear the paper into bits, and stamp on them and would want to lick every mother's son that had signed the paper, singly or in mass formation. But Frank didn't seem to have on his fighting shoes or something that day. Anyway, he picked up the paper, read it carefully, very carefully, folded it. Still more carefully he tucked it in his wallet.

When the day's work was done the paper was taken up town, handed with proper seriousness to T. G. and he was asked if it was good for a silk hat. T. G. also carefully read the paper.

Be it known that back in '85 T. G. had a mighty keen sense of humor and had a liking for real fun in any language and he thought he scented some in this. "Yes," said he, "that is perfectly good for a silk hat. Go pick out your size."

I don't know whether Frank's shop cap or hat or whatever he may chanced to have been wearing had begun to show too much wear or not, but at any rate he appeared at the shop next day clad in the proper garments for work and wearing his new silk hat. Perhaps this was

EDITOR W. H. CANFIELD OF HOWELL PRAISES NORTHVILLE SPIRIT

The letter below from William H. Canfield, editor of the Livingston County Republican-Press is a personal one to the publisher of The Northville Record, but we are going to take the liberty of publishing it, since it carries a message of encouragement to our whole community. Here is what Mr. Canfield says:

Howell, Mich.
July 24, 1931

Richard Baldwin, Editor
Northville Record,
Northville, Michigan
Dear Sir:

After reading your vacation "Ramblings" or rather pre-vacation meditations of July 16th I venture to write you a word of commendation.

Of recent dates several exchanges from towns where misfortune has camped in the form of bank failures have come to my desk and personal attention. Most of them reflect the situation as it was without optimism. Funeral garb and grave hanging seemed to even saturate the white space between the lines of type. But not so Northville Record. And my congratulations, sincere and shall I say, profuse. Dick, I think one of the finest things you have done for your new town is "the business as usual" atmosphere that permeates your paper. We would never have known from your newspaper dress that troubles had come to Northville. The spirit of Northville is splendid. Again congratulations. A real duty and responsibility has been rendered your community. Keep it up.

I feel that you feel much as I do, and as we of our paper do. Carry on for your town and its business. In depression carry the part of cheerfulness, dress up even if you have no place to go. Tell the world that business is up the gam as far as the size and quality of your paper is concerned. We may lose some money but it will pay us in good dividends in the end. I have told the boys here that the worst thing we could do for Howell and Livingston county would be to drop town to eight pages—Sloan, I. C. 25, 26, 27, 28 and 29 and 30 possible.

Again Dick, allow me to offer my congratulations.
Sincerely yours
W. H. (Bill) Canfield

ESCAPES INJURY WHEN AUTO OVERTURNS

James T. Near of 1447 Phingree Avenue, Lincoln Park, in rowy escapade, escaped injury when his 1924 Ford Buick over a collision with a car driven by Harry Anderson of 70135 Western Avenue, Chicago, last Thursday evening at six thirty, a clock p.m.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Seven Mile road and Plymouth Avenue in front of the restaurant stand owned by L. W. Parme. Although the top was completely demolished no one was injured. According to Chief Safford, both drivers got away on their signals and in the attempt to avoid a collision Mr. Near gave such a short left hand turn that his car upset.

A bit thoughtless on Frank's part for it seemed to cheapen the other silk hats when they were worn on what was presumed to be real dress-up occasions.

And how rare it with our roommates who had had his ten cent donation raised to a whole dollar. Well he paid it, but his roommates had to keep cloths wrung out of ice water or his head for some time at least there was need to do this just and act.

Those of the present day will have a better understanding of what a dollar at that time meant when it is explained that for ten hours of strenuous labor the workmen received the comfortable sum of one and one-quarter dollars. The contribution was nearly a day's pay.

Legion Notes

(By Lisle Alexander in the American Legion News)

Again the Post was called upon to pay the last rites for a dead comrade. On Thursday, July 16, the Post conducted a military funeral for Comrade Lawrence Changler, 7, Schrad's funeral home, and laid the body to rest in the Legion lot. About 30 members, a score of the Auxiliary and many friends from the Maybury Sanatorium were in attendance and the many flowers reflected the love borne him by his many friends. This man was far from his home and family. Funds were not available for a soldier's burial and the Potter's field was called when the Legion stepped in and did its bit. Again we serve, and do not forget that when a thing like this falls to our lot, there must be lots of work done. Foremost in the truck of such service, stands your Commander Schultz and Welfare Officer Blake. Do not fail to appreciate this.

CANNERS WILL HAVE PLENTY OF PEACHES

Prospects of a good peach crop, both in Michigan and the rest of the peach growing states, lead the department of horticulture at Michigan State College to advise housewives to prepare to add a large supply of this fruit to the families winter stores.

Peaches will be on the market in quantities from July 15 until late September and it is impossible to tell just when they will be cheapest. The Michigan crop usually starts on the market the middle of August and this state will have three times the number of peaches it had last year.

Locally grown, free-pitted fruit usually has the best flavor and makes the best canned product. The price of sugar is low this year so housekeepers have an excellent opportunity to preserve a year around supply of peaches.

Varieties recommended for home canning are Rochester, South Haven, Kalamazoo, Engle, J. H. Hale, Gold Drop and Elberta. Many home canners will be surprised to find that several varieties of peaches have better qualities for the pantry shelves than Elberta, but any of the varieties named can be used with the assurance that they will be satisfactory.

OPEN NEW LINK OF 6-MILE ROAD

The concreting of the Six Mile road west four and one-half miles from Farmington road has been completed and opened to traffic, stated Road Commissioner Edward N. Hines.

The half mile section of Six Mile road connecting with the Northville road has been stoned and oiled while studies are being made for a grade separation agreement with the P. M. & R. The property owners dedicated without cost to Wayne county, 27 feet of right-of-way on each side of the old 66 foot right-of-way bringing Six Mile road up to the Master Plan standard width of right-of-way of 120 feet for section line roads. The new roadway is concrete, 20 feet wide, 40 feet over all crest, 20 feet wide, 40 feet over all crest.

The improvement of Airport drive has been completed from Oakwood boulevard to Outer Drive and will be opened to traffic as soon as the concrete has been properly cured. Airport drive has also been widened to a 120 foot width of right-of-way. The grade separation over the Michigan Central R. R. tracks on Airport drive and on Miller road has also been opened to traffic although it will be some little time before this structure is completed in its entirety, stated Mr. Hines.

Five separate crews are hard at work finishing up the Base-Line Super-highway on the north side to provide a double roadway over this 22 mile stretch of concrete. Practically all right-of-way has been acquired on this important superhighway, which is the east and west backbone to our superhighway system. One section of concrete on the north side near your bank superhighway to Van Dyke road. This section, over six miles in length, will be opened in its entirety at an early date.

The concreting of the three mile section west from Livonia to Greenfield road is completed and the construction of the shoulders is proceeding at a rapid rate. This section will be opened to traffic in a few days. The grade separation on Base Line road with the Grand Trunk R. R. just back of the State Fair grounds is going forward at a rapid rate and will be completed late this year. Traffic is taken care of by a short detour, stated Mr. Hines.

West from Lahser road to Telegraph superhighway, the south side is all graded and the new concrete road is being poured, grading is under way on the north side. The grade separation between Base Line and Telegraph superhighways is nearly completed with the exception of the ramp and haul rail.

The same is true of the two bridges which carry Base Line superhighway over the River Rouge.

Due to large cuts and fills, it may become necessary to postpone concreting a couple of sections until next year. If this is found desirable, traffic will not be detoured, but will be routed through on a graveled surface, said Mr. Hines. Preparations are being made to open the free bridge to Grosses on Labor Day.

The work of acquiring the wider width of right-of-way through the Record bottle neck on Grand River road is being pushed vigorously. The right-of-way on the north side has largely been acquired. When this is completed, Grand River avenue will be 120 feet wide west from Six Mile road to the existing 204 foot superhighway.

NORTHVILLE BOY WEBS SOUTH DAKOTA GIRL

Early Saturday morning the wedding of Miss Lucetta McKenzie and John S. Marburger was solemnized at Our Lady of Victory Catholic church in the presence of a company of near friends and relatives.

Preceding the ceremony high mass was sung by a quartet and following this the bridal party took its place before the altar to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin rendered by Miss Norma Melton.

The bride was charming in peach colored embroidered organza and white picture hat and carried butterfly pins mingled with gypsophylla. Her bridesmaid, Miss Angela Byrns of Farmington, wore turquoise chiffon and white picture hat and carried roses. The groom was attended by his brother Edward Marburger, a son of Northville. Fr. Joseph G. Schuler performed the impressive religious ceremony.

Following the ceremony the bridal party made its way to the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Marburger, parents of the groom, on East Main street, where a delicious wedding breakfast was served and the newlyweds were sent happily on their way. After a few days' outing at Houghton lake they returned to Northville and will within the near future continue their wedding trip to a longer journey, this time going to Jefferson S. Dakota, to visit the "bride's home."

Attending the wedding breakfast beside the immediate family was a guest, Fr. Schuler.

The bride came from S. Dakota, some time ago to visit her sister in Detroit and met John Marburger. At this time began the romance which was culminated in their marriage.

For the past year and a half she has been employed at the Phoenix Ford Motor company, while making her home with Mrs. Geo. Grinnell on W. 1/2 street.

Mr. Marburger is a well-known Northville boy having attended high school here. He is an employee of the Ford Company at River Rouge. The newly married couple have established their new home in an apartment in Detroit and have already begun housekeeping there. The best wishes of the community go with them.

Through the generosity of the Exchange Club 99 children from the Exchange Club Camp had a single day of romping and picnicking at Walker Lake last Thursday.

Nearly twenty cars were necessary to transport the boys and girls.

The Children's Sunshine Special, as the trip was called, proved to be a very happy affair for the "kids" and they returned from their excursion "over the top" happy as the top of Walker Lake.

They enjoyed a hearty dinner in the State Park near the lake and were given enough "change" to make the rounds of the various features at the amusement park.

Obituary

Mrs. Rudolph Witt

Mrs. Rudolph Witt, a long-time resident of Northville, passed away quietly Friday morning, July 24 at her home on Rayson avenue at the age of 76 years. Mrs. Witt was of sturdy German stock having been born in the "old country" and coming to Michigan when a young married woman with her husband and three children. With the exception of three years spent in Illinois, her entire life was spent in Northville, where she was a devoted housewife and mother.

Her husband, Rudolph Witt, was a well-known resident of Northville, where he was a member of the Northville Association, to the effect that this year's Fair will be a "Better Fair" than ever before. It will last the usual five days and there will be horse races, ball games, fireworks, the Horse Show, a Baby Show and many attractions that will make you "pop" your eyes. Now, if that isn't incentive enough to make anyone enter his exhibits as well as attend the Fair, then nothing will stir his enthusiasm.

Oh, yes, and did you know about the price of admission. Just thirty-five cents in the daytime and twenty-five cents at night for the older folks, and children under 12 come in free. So a man can bring his whole family without being afraid of spending all his wages just to get into the Fair grounds. Of course, if you like something extra, take a seat in the grandstand for fifty cents.

Turn some more pages of the Fifteenth Annual Fair Book and you will find out all about the officers of the Association. There's the president, Nelson C. Schrader, the vice president, Thomas E. Murch, the secretary, Floyd A. Northrop, the treasurer, Ernest Miller, all a heapful of fellows. You'll no doubt see them at the Fair Grounds handing out prizes and one thing and another. There are twenty directors on the Association, including the above mentioned officers, so if anything goes wrong these fellows will put their heads together and straighten things out all time and dandy.

Keep on turning the pages and you will see the prizes offered for cows, horses, chickens, ducks, anything that walks around your farm or back yard every day of the week. Big prizes, they are, the kind that make folks feel that it's worth their time and trouble to put them on exhibit at the Northville Annual Fair.

There's the Horse Show. Don't miss that for any money. The "ad" in the Fair Book says it's going to last for three days. Cash prizes and trophies are going to be awarded.

Wonder how it would seem to be a preacher sitting in a pew listening to his wife expounding from the pulpit. This was the experience of Rev. Wm. Richards last Sunday evening when he acted as chauffeur for his wife taking her to Farmington and sitting quietly in the pew while she very efficiently spoke at the evening service in the Methodist church during the absence of the pastor, Rev. Floyd Johnson, on his vacation. Mrs. Richards took as her subject, "The Model Prayer," the Lord's prayer and her husband very graciously admits that he couldn't have done better himself. He says that although his ministry his wife has stood ready for any emergency from "entertaining angels unwares" to taking his place in the pulpit.

All About the Big Fair!

One important feature in the preparations for the Fifteenth Annual Northville Wayne County Fair, which is to be held from August 25 to August 29, is completed.

The Fair Book is finished, orange colored cover and all. To say the least it's a humdinger, from the big "punkin" on the front page to the blank back cover. Just shuffle the pages as you hold it loosely in your hands, and catch a glimpse of the pictures, programs, prizes, advertisements and everything. You can tell the Fair is going to be a splendid one by looking through its "representative," the Fifteenth Annual Fair Book.

Open the book. The first thing you see is the entry blank for contestants for exhibits and contests. Fowl, animals, needlework, and the other heterogeneous articles that go to make up a real honest-to-goodness Fair. Maybe you're going to be one of the lucky winners of a blue, red or white ribbon, or a cash prize of some sort.

Flip a few more pages, and you will notice the big announcement of the Northville Association, to the effect that this year's Fair will be a "Better Fair" than ever before. It will last the usual five days and there will be horse races, ball games, fireworks, the Horse Show, a Baby Show and many attractions that will make you "pop" your eyes. Rev. J. J. Halliday, who has been pastor of the Federated church at Salem for nearly ten years, has resigned, effective Sept. 1, and will be succeeded by Mrs. Cora Pennell, who has been assistant pastor of the Friends' church at the corner of Grand River avenue and Joy road. Mrs. Pennell is the husband of the farm manager at the House of Correction.

Mr. Halliday, whose home is at Delaware, Ohio, has been "commuting" (according to Gov. Brucker in his speech at Salem Tuesday evening) 165 miles each week to care for the services at the church and the long ride has made it advisable to discontinue the work. The pastor has been greatly beloved by his congregation—it will be just like a funeral, a member told The Record, "when he leaves us." Mr. Halliday introduced his successor to the Salem people Tuesday evening on the occasion of Governor Brucker's address.

Charming Garden Party.
At The Douglas Home

A very charming social affair was the "garden party" given by Mrs. B. H. Douglas at her country home west of town Wednesday afternoon. The interior of the home, which was cooler than the out doors, was profusely decorated with cut flowers—simulating a garden and throughout the daintily appointed luncheon the garden motif was carried out. At each place lay small bouquets, the salad was cut like flowers and the final course was ice cream colonial bouquets.

A HOLY TERROR

Outdoor romances, in a sense, have been shown on the screen since the Peckham Allen theater, but a Holy Terror, showing a story of death and terror, is a treat in this class of film entertainment.

Most popular of the young generation, George O'Brien, portrays the leading role and Sally Eilers, vibrant and beautiful, plays the featured feminine role.

The story concerns a "holy" creature of a young man, a young man who has been abandoned, and who is the subject of a "holy" creature.

O'Brien performs all sorts of hazardous feats in air, and an airborne, makes a thrilling escape from a band of men, and a room with his airplane in the end, he finds his man, only to discover that the man who was killed in a fight, kidnapped the hero when he was a child.

O'Brien, it is declared, excels in his previous efforts in this picture, even the roles he so successfully played in "Lone Star Ranger" and "The Good Bad Girl."

The cast supporting the principals includes such favorites as Rita La Roy, Humphrey Bogart, James Kirkwood, Stanley Fields, Robert Warwick and Richard Tucker.

The picture was directed by Irving Cummings and the story is based on Max Brand's outdoor thriller, "Trail."

24 MILES OF OUTER DRIVE ARE NOW OPEN

More than 24 miles of Outer Drive have been opened to traffic, stated Road Commissioner Edward W. Hines yesterday. This is more than double the length of the Grand Boulevard in Detroit.

Over seven miles of the Outer Drive are under construction. All of this mileage will be completed and opened to traffic this fall. Grading and concreting crews are at work on the Outer Drive between Dequindre street and Van Dyke road, between Five Mile and Grand River roads, between Six and Seven Mile roads east of Van Dyke road, and between Alter and Mack roads. When the concreting is completed on these various sections boulevard lights will be installed, trees planted and the parkways seeded and landscaped.

The work of widening and reconstructing six miles of old roadway on Michigan 204 foot super-highway between Dearborn and Wayne will be started at an early date and opened to traffic late this fall, stated Mr. Hines. Michigan Super-highway is a trunk line road and the entire cost of the project will be borne by the State Highway Department. When completed, this will provide a modern, double boulevard highway from Detroit to the Washtenaw county line.

"Gentle, Moist ELECTRIC HEAT bakes perfect cup cakes in my ELECTROCHEF!"

CUP cakes that rise properly have a better flavor. Baking demands even heat—and even heat, of course, means electric heat. The mirror-like inner walls of my Electrochef electric range reflect the heat evenly to all parts of the oven. Only then will cup cakes rise properly. Instead of the intense dry heat of the ordinary oven, my Electrochef electric range maintains gentle, moist heat from a glowing element, uniform and at just the right temperature from start to finish.

"Now I never have baking disappointments. I simply set the oven dial to the correct temperature, and cakes turn out perfectly. There is no guesswork with my Electrochef!"

GOV. W. M. BRUCKER SPEAKS AT SALEM

traffic "You will all notice the horror of this thing... when the deaths come into your family relationships or on your street," exclaimed the governor. "If I have any disgust for any living man it is for the one who will get behind the wheel of an automobile when filled with liquor. He made a telling plea for an increase of State police. "For the safety of our people we should have more State police on the road. Ever notice when one of these blue uniformed men comes along the highway that motorists for a mile each way all get in line and drive carefully. We are going to go after these violators of traffic laws and do some revoking of licenses."

Turning aside briefly Governor Brucker touched on the tourist situation, calling this the largest industry in the state, next to the automobile business. Over three hundred millions of dollars are brought into the state each year by the tourists, said the chief executive. The revenue is "good clean money and there will be more of it this year than there was last year."

Closing his very effective address the governor said "The battle of public service is between right and wrong and it never ends. With me the governorship is a matter of the thrill of service. I'll stick for the duration of the war."

Scott A. Lovewell has closed a deal for the sale of his beautiful residence property at 215 Hill street in Oakwood subdivision to Dr. H. S. Walrus of the staff of the Maybury sanatorium who has been residing in the Turner home at 404 West Main street. Possession will be given Sept. 1. The Lovewells will move to 250 South Wing street.

HOW TRUE IS IT

That we often make our own misfortunes, create our own disasters; or else permit the attitude of others who are in distress to sweep us from our feet. Business must go on, in safety.

The stockholders and officers of the Northville State Savings bank wish to express to the people of Northville and vicinity their appreciation of the confidence of the people as expressed by the opening of about 150 new commercial and savings accounts in the last three weeks.

Every Thursday Night

By "AD" SCHWENGER

Petoskey—and if I could can this breeze that's sweeping through the trees and take it back to Northville and Detroit I could sell it for a million gulden.

Thus town takes care of 35,000 summer resorters in a summer season and a large part of them are histed among our weatherwise people.

The merchants are right on their toes taking advantage of this summer trade. Merchandise featured is all 3rd Avenue, Hobbs, Peck and Peck, Rheinhertz and they get enormous prices.

Three of us are living in a private home at the very reasonable sum of $1200 per week. Last year hotels were getting around $25 a day for their rooms but this present season the prices are down to $8, $10 and $15—a fact which speaks for itself.

Petoskey offers everything to the summer vacationers—golfing, swimming, dancing, boating, fishing, are all highly developed sports up here. Or if you want to be real lazy, you can just sit around and enjoy the breeze.

The town is very hilly and is located on a high bluff across the bay from Harbor Springs. In winter they have a huge carnival of tobogganing, tobogganing and skiing. Some of the boys, so they tell me, attain a speed of 81 miles per hour going down these three and four mile hills.

"Thanks, I'll walk even if I haven't got McMaill's rubber heels on my shoes."

The town is lousy with dogs—huge species of police dogs predominating. Yesterday I was lying on my back at the beach enjoying the warmth of the sun when a gargantuan police dog started to lick my ear. A wolf-like creature that I had been petting leaped over my prostate body and started a snarling, throat growling fight not two inches from my nose. And every mongrel within two miles came yipping and yowling to join in the free-for-all.

Whoa, did I remove my carcass from there quickly!

"And what big teeth you have Grandma dear."

Sombody quieted the fracas down but it was somebody else, not me. Well, the letter-writing period is practically over so I'll call it a day.

And if the Petoskey Chamber of Commerce doesn't offer me a key to the city after the nice big boost I gave their town, I'm going to burst into tears.

EXCHANGEITES HEAR DR. A. A. HOLCOMB

Dr. A. A. Holcomb had members of the Northville Exchange club sitting on the edges of their chairs at their Wednesday luncheon as he told hair raising details of a canoe trip he took with some friends up in Canada, a long distance above the Soo—and far removed from all signs of civilization.

Fifteen lakes were covered, said the doctor and some fine trout fishing was enjoyed, a good mess being available whenever wanted. A thrilling experience was that when a whole canoeful of the fishermen were overturned in a rapid. It took a couple of hours to fish out the frying pans and other paraphernalia that had sunk in eight feet of water. The men were able to get to shore by alternately swimming and hanging onto the canoe. Dr. Holcomb told of seeing four bears along the water's edge, two of them young cubs at play. He also saw a magnificent buck a short distance away. The doctor returned home on Monday after 1,400 miles of auto, mobile driving in addition to paddling and carrying canoes around portages.

Sam Wilkinson at the business session explained details of the trip the members will take to the General Motors Proving grounds at Milford on August 12. Next Monday the club will meet with the Rotary club when Capt. Dennison of the House of Correction will be the speaker. In the absence of President C. B. Turnbull, Vice President Orlow G. Owen presided.

A company of nearly sixteen ladies gathered, each bringing very interesting looking parcels which were heaped upon the bride-elect who was obliged to guess what each package contained before opening it. Much merriment was caused by the process and the gifts for the new home were most acceptable.

A dainty luncheon was served and the evening was pleasantly spent in a social way. On Thursday afternoon Miss McKenzie was a guest of honor at a similar affair when her friend, Mrs. Al King of Dearborn, was hostess to a group of ladies at a miscellaneous shower for her.
