BABIES WILL HAVE BIG DAY AT THE FAIR

Health Clinic and the Show
Will Attract Many Youngsters

No feature of the Northville Fair will have more real personal interest than the Baby Health Clinic and Baby Show. All the world loves a baby and each mother her own is of course the most beautiful baby in the world. It is expected that a great galaxy of plump, pink, squealing, squawking infants, scrubbed, powdered and perfumed for the occasion will be brought for exhibition to this Baby event.

Not only babies from this county but from all over the state will come. Always there is a good representation of city babies from Detroit who, in spite of the argument for rural raising of infants, have at times carried off blue ribbons. One year a pair of healthy twins from the northern part of the state were entered in this contest.

Ever since the year 1900 this annual Baby event has been held under the successful supervision of Mrs. Flora Larkins who has succeeded Mrs. Berna Neal, who is returning on the fair day. Mrs. Larkins says that no doubt many of these babies of the early contests now grown to manhood will be present with babies of their own in their arms for exhibition.

And the fine thing about it all is that in the healthiest of babies the child with the curliest hair, the prettiest dimples who will win out, not yet the fattest baby, but the one who, by its soundness of health and normal development is proof of good care and proper feeding, that have been given.

Attention of mothers is called to the fact that for the health clinic, all children under six years of age must be vaccinated and presented as each number is called. These blanks may be obtained at the office of the secretary beginning Monday, August 24, or they can be secured by addressing Mrs. Berna Neal, Northville, phone 100.

Marking the babies' scores will be left in charge of a corps of physicians chosen from outside the village. Prizes ranging from $10 to $1 will be awarded.

For the Baby Show there will be no blanks required. Just bring your babies and line them up.

In this part of the contest, babies will be judged for physical attractiveness, bluest eyes, curliest hair, deepest dimples and such traits as Mother Nature has lavished impartially upon them. Many prizes, gifts from Northville business men will be bestowed as awards.

According to authorities a baby is a baby from six months to three years and children under three must be entered.

COOL WEATHER HELPS

Northville residents welcomed the cool weather of the past week as a relief from the torrid heat of the summer. Rains have aided crops considerably.

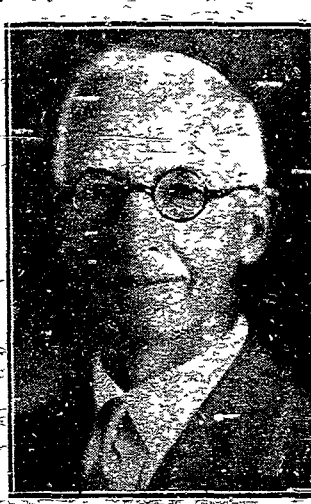

Fifty-Two Years As Constable, Frank Perrin Is Still Active And Wearing Badge of Office

Sixty years in Northville! That's a long vista year to look down as August 7 rolls round and Frank Perrin recalls the day he first "landed" in the little hamlet. He chuckles as he remarks, "I hadn't a tag to my back then and now I'm all rags."

A young man of nineteen, "as green as a squash," so he says, he wandered up the short stretch of board side walk along the business street with only 75 cents left in his pockets. He should worry—all the world lay before him—so he sauntered into the town's "emporium," the J. C. Lapham Co., a general store, which sold everything and was even the village bank, and bought a cap. Another leading store was the apothecary of Asa Ransom, who sold medicines and did anything concocting mixtures could do anything from playing a violin to preaching the gospel.

About the streets of the village wandered, at will stray cattle and pigs. No speeding cars or traffic lights arrested their leisurely progress as they browsed along the edges of the rail fenced homesteads. On beautiful Dunlap street there were only two houses when young Frank Perrin first came to Northville and in one of these, the McCanton house, just off Center street, he stayed his first night in the town where he was destined to

Saw Detroit Grow

John Kalbfleisch

Fifty years ago, John Kalbfleisch came from Canada to Detroit, made a splendid business success there and now lives in Northville. His family celebrated the big event on Saturday.

NORTHVILLE CHIEFS DEFEAT ROSEVILLE BEFORE BIG CROWD

The mayor of Roseville welcomed the Northville Chiefs to Roseville in their game of ball Sunday and told our local mayor, who was pitching, that he could have anything but the game.

The game then started and for five minutes neither side scored. In the sixth Northville scored four runs. Our local twirler, Mayor Germain, then took on with a fast one and a faster one, then a slow one and a slower one and was never in danger. R. Wood, Trevell J. Germain and Hammond were there with the bat and the large crowd near Mr. Clemens saw Roseville get the first defeat of the season, the score being six to three.

Northville Chiefs play at Milford this today (Friday) and will have Pontiac as their opponent.

L. M. EATON FAMILY MOVE TO ROCHESTER

The community will learn with regret of the plan of Mr. and Mrs. M. Eaton with their three children, Alice, Louis and Frank, to leave our village for Rochester, N. Y., where the former has made his business headquarters for some time past. Washing to have his family near Mr. Eaton has decided to make this move.

During their long residence in Northville both Mr. and Mrs. Eaton have made many friends having taken an active part in local church and social life. Mr. Eaton was a Northville boy and Mrs. Eaton came here as a bride twelve years ago and, having become especially attached to her home here, regrets the necessary move. They expect to leave in the near future for Rochester and their beautiful residence on Eaton drive will be occupied by the new receiver of the Lapham State Savings bank, Hoyt Woodman, who with his wife, will come to Northville to make their home.

The best wishes of many friends follow the Eatons to their new home.

FARMERS GET LARGE YIELDS, LOW PRICES

General Crops Are Good and Fruit Outlook Is Exceptional

Northville farmers are in a much better situation now than a year ago when a severe drought held this section in its grip.

Even though the price of grain is lower than farmers could wish still they have the satisfaction of gathering in heavier crops than for a number of years. "One prominent farmer here," said a farmer, "when there has been so much of anything for a number of years."

In spite of the lower prices of course, any farmer feels better, have an abundance rather than a small supply, though the price would be higher. This means that no farmers' families will go hungry this winter and with plenty of feed on hand they can keep more stock. Though the price of milk is low now it promises to be raised and has already gone up one cent a quart in Detroit.

Not much wheat is raised in this section because of the low price but the crop was very good. Oats and barley are exceptionally good and corn looks the best it has for years. Potatoes and other vegetables need more rain to develop them to their best but the recent showers helped considerably.

Apple trees are heavy with fruit and the peach crop promises to be bumper. One with the low price of such "housewives" will "thrilly" say away an abundance of this favorite fruit for next winter. The recent rains have helped the fruit. It has been suggested by a man who remembers that he is his "brother's keeper" that those who have more apples or produce than they need will hand them on to the families who right now are being denied enough to eat on account of unemployment. This is a good time to practice the golden rule.

"The 'fly in the ointment' is that cash is so scarce. The renter has a hard time to keep up his cash rent and the owner to raise his taxes."

ROTARIANS ATTEND CHATHAM MEETING

Northville was represented at the annual conference of the Rotary clubs of the 52nd district held on Monday and Tuesday at Chatham, Ont., by Father Jos. G. Schuler, president, Roy Van Valkenburg, secretary and E. L. Mills, treasurer of the local club.

The chief subject of discussion at the conference, said Father Schuler, "centered around the important problem of forming a firm friendship with other nations for the sake of international peace and understanding. And the way the Rotarians propose to do this is to create a friendly attitude toward the people from foreign countries, especially those who are receiving their education in both American and Canadian schools and colleges, and who will some day go back to their native lands to assume the responsibilities of taking part in the management of those nations. What a fine thing it will be if these people can be shown friendliness and helpfulness while they are here so that when they return they will tell the people what fine folks the Americans and the Canadians are."

"It seems to me," said Father Schuler, "that the nations could be more influential toward creating international understanding than this great plan that the Rotarians are going to carry out to the best of their abilities. We know that one of the great causes of dispute among nations is lack of understanding."

Father Schuler was appointed a place on the speakers committee, which makes a survey of all available speakers for the meetings of the Rotary clubs in the 52nd district. As far as can be ascertained Father "Joe" is the first Northville Rotarian to have been named as an officer of the 52nd district.

A former Northville resident, Robert Brown, formerly district manager for the Detroit Edison company, is the chairman of this committee.

There has been a general increase in the number of Rotary clubs throughout the country and the world. There has been an increase of 140 clubs in the 57 countries having clubs and a 40 club increase in the United States. There has been only a decrease of 12 clubs in all the 57 countries.

Fruit Wanted for Fair

"Bring on your fruit" is the exhortation that Ralph Foreman, member in charge of the horticulture exhibit at the Northville Wayne County fair, makes to fruit growers of this locality.

"We have some of the finest orchards in the state," says Mr. Foreman, "and the fair gives us the chance to show other localities just what we can do in the way of fruit raising."

Cash prizes of $50, $40, $30, $20, $15, $10 and $5 are offered for the best displays of one or more kinds of fruit and in the various classes cash awards of $1.00, $.50 and $.25 are offered.

All displays have to be in place by 6 p. m. Wednesday, August 26.

Loren Flint is the superintendent in charge.

With the fine fruit now hanging on the trees, the horticulture exhibit at the big fair should be one of the finest shown in the state this season. One well known grower tells us that there will be no finer peaches in the state this fall than those grown around Northville.

PUBLIC WEDDING WILL BE COLORFUL

Some time ago the Record carried an advertisement for a Northville fair association, announcing that at any Northville couple wanted to get married they could be joined with all of the pomp and ceremony attendant to a church wedding and in addition, Northville merchants would see that the happy couple received the right start to their married life by heaping a shower of practical household gifts upon them.

Mr. C. Schuler of the Schuler Furniture company has declared that he will donate a $200 over-stuffed living room suite to the couple as the grand prize and he will place the suite in his windows Saturday morning.

A prominent Northville couple, as yet unnamed, have signified their intention of taking advantage of the offer.

The event will be a legal marriage and the ceremony will be performed by a serious and dignified, yet beautiful and colorful minister. Bridesmaids, maid of honor and flower girls—all beautiful ladies of the Revue, given in elaborate costumes will attend the bride and groom.

An augmented orchestra will play wedding music, a local clergyman will read the ceremony and the marriage will be the witness.

QUOITS TOURNAMENT HELD MONDAY NIGHT

The quots tournament Monday evening at the grounds next to the Penman Allen theatre, supervised by John Nelson, "went over big." A crowd was on hand before 7 o'clock, the time set for the play and a series of interesting games was played before the real tournament got under way.

The only runaway games of the evening were those in which Don Yerkes, Sr., and Wendell Mercer ran wild against Lanning and Boyden.

Scores of the tournament games were: Miller and Johnson defeated May or H. S. German and Ulrich, two out of three, 23-9, 21-21, 21-7. Riley and Forney defeated Mitchell and McCardie, two out of three, 22-20, 21-21, 21-18. Don Yerkes, Sr., and Mercer defeated Lanning and Boyden, 23-9, 23-1.

Le Fevre and Baldwin defeated Streich and Heatley, 23-16, 22-14.

FOUND: LOVE LETTERS OWNER CAN RECOVER MISSIVES FROM POLICE

Bundles of love letters, telegrams, $100 worth of books including fiction, educational books, scientific treatises, a snap-shot album and some clothes were found on the George Rattenbury farm Wednesday morning evidently having been discarded some time during the night.

Chief of Police Wm. S. Safford received a telephone call from Mr. Rattenbury who was at a loss to know how to dispose of the library which had been deposited on his grounds.

FARMER RESCUES GIRL FROM ATTACK

Local officers have been investigating a case of alleged criminal assault on an eighteen-year-old girl which occurred west of Northville about six o'clock Sunday morning.

Screams of the young woman resounded from a residence near the scene of the attempted attack and a farmer, dressed only in slippers and night clothes, made his way to a parked car and rescued the girl who was in a hysterical condition, from a young man, described as considerably larger than himself.

The fellow tried to push the girl into the car but drove away hurriedly when the farmer dug a big stone out of the road and threatened to throw it at the assailant.

The girl stated that she did not know the man but was introduced to him by a girl friend and that all three were riding before leaving the latter at her home. Then she was taken into the country and the attempted assault followed. The farmer took the young lady to her home and she is now recovering from the hair-raising experience.

MRS. GRENNAN'S WILL FILED FOR PROBATE

The will of Mrs. Estelle Johnson Grennan, who died July 23, was filed for probate in Detroit Saturday.

The estate, which is in excess of $100,000, according to the petition, is left to her husband, Philip H. Grennan, president of the Farm Crest Baking company.

Mrs. Grennan's jewelry clothing and other personal effects are left to her daughter, Evelyn Ruth. The Union Guardian Trust company was named as executor.

Mrs. Grennan was one of the most enthusiastic sponsors of polo in Detroit, and last year organized a number of polo matches for the benefit of the Michigan Home for Crippled Children. Mrs. Grennan is a member of the polo team at the Detroit Riding and Hunt club.

NEW GROCERY STORE WILL OPEN SATURDAY

That dynamic personality whirling in and out of Northville streets with breath taking speed is E. M. Bogart who will open a new grocery at 104 E. Main street on Saturday, August 15.

Mr. Bogart has a wide background of experience having had his own store in Northville for a number of years and having been associated with a national chain of grocery stores for the past 12 years occupying the position of district supervisor for ten years.

The new store at 104 E. Main street was formerly occupied by the Royal Inn Cafe but has been completely redecorated and equipped as a modern grocery.

All nationally advertised goods will be handled, declared Mr. Bogart, besides a large quantity of home-grown staple goods. Prices, asserted Mr. Bogart, will be reasonable and customers will be furnished with prompt delivery service.

Marie Schoof will be associated with Mr. Bogart in the new E. M. B. store which will be open from 7 o'clock a. m. to 6 o'clock p. m. daily and open on Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

Mr. and Mrs. Bogart have rented a new residence on the corner of Rogers and Dunlap streets and expect to make Northville their permanent residence. The Bogarts have three boys, Ralph 13 years old, Warren, 10 years old and Lawrence, aged eight.

Northville will be glad to receive Mr. Bogart back in town as he carries with him the reputation of being a straightforward, progressive merchant interested in the growth of the community and loyal to any community enterprise that will further the interests of the town.

AUGUST 25 TO 29 WILL SEE BIG THROGS HERE FOR NORTHVILLE FAIR

Large Array of Exhibits and Unusual Program of Entertainment Will Be Ready for Opening

As the Northville Wayne County Fair approaches, August 25 to 29, excitement increases and officials are scurrying around to complete the final preparations.

No finer exhibition of planning, no better exhibits on show, no higher quality of entertainment will be shown in any other fair in the state. The dates of August 25 to 29 represent the sum total of an entire year of hard work, tireless effort on the part of the fair officials and the need this year for a show, bigger and on a higher plane than has ever before reached has been filled beyond expectations.

The poultry show this year, although improved with larger quarters, will be crowded for room, in which to take care of the large number of entries. Poultrymen all over the state are bringing their finest specimens to the Northville Wayne County Fair to compete for prizes.

All outstanding features of the show is the selection of the judge, the staff who will also judge the entries at the Michigan State Fair. They are: Win. Wise of California and Glenn Ellis of Pontiac; poultry judges: Judge Stoddell of California and C. L. Calver of Lansing; rabbit judge: John R. Vivier of Detroit, pigeon judge.

The Horse Show preparations, Junior, Adult and Infant classes are all ready for the three big days and they have some real acts for horse-lovers who will attend.

The distinction of staging the first infant class in any Horse Show belongs to the Northville Fair and was put on with great success last year in this class, children 15 years and under compete for honors.

The Junior class will demonstrate their skill in events such as the Steeplechase, Quarter Mile race and the Pony Jump.

The Senior class will have its customary interesting features and horses have been entered from Detroit, Bloomfield Hills, Grosse Pointe, Lansing, Jackson and many small towns throughout the state for the show.

Harry G. Clark, president of the show, expressed his belief that the show was the ultimate in securing the service of Harry McNair, a noted horse authority from Chicago.

The opening day of the fair, August 25, will see thousands of people from all over the state, arrive in Northville for Fair week. The Northville Fair has, through hard work and strict regulation of exhibits, won an enviable reputation which brings a multitude of people here every year.

Cattle exhibits, baseball games, daily changes for the tree acts, horse races and horse show, they're all awaiting the approval of Fair patrons. When the gates swing open on Tuesday, August 25, Northville will be the center of attention throughout the state by reason of the thousands who are even now planning to attend with their families, this great spectacle that comes once a year.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Joyce have taken the upper flat in the Van Duyn house on South Center street.

SPLENDID PROGRAM FOR BAND CONCERT

The Northville High School and Community band will play again on Saturday evening on the corner of Main and North Center streets.

The band attracts hundreds of people, who still favor band music as opposed to the strains of popular music that are pouring over the radio every day. The Northville band has won honors all over the state for its outstanding merit and will continue to please townspeople and those coming from the rural districts.

The band was to have played a concert at the Maybury sanatorium for the patients there Saturday afternoon but this has been postponed to the afternoon of Saturday, August 22.

EXCHANGEITES SEE MILFORD TEST GROUNDS

Northville Men Are Guests of General Motors Wednesday

Northville Exchange club members, 27 in all, visited the General Motors proving ground, west of Milford, Wednesday noon and afternoon where they learned the inside details of the exhaustive automobile tests that are conducted by the General Motors corporation on the various makes of cars which it and its competitors place on the market.

The visitors enjoyed a plentiful luncheon in the company's cafeteria and, then, through a lecture in the auditorium of the plant and a tour of inspection of the grounds learned much concerning the 163 tests through which all cars are put at the proving grounds.

Many of the visitors marveled at how this plant, which covers less than two square miles, has been developed in seven short years. It was in 1924 that the proving grounds idea was born in the minds of General Motors executives. The Milford site was picked because it is centrally located between General Motors plants at Lansing, Flint, Pontiac and Detroit. No more ideal site could have been chosen for there are a multitude of hills and a sharp contrast a great flat section of land all within the 1300-acre plot, and many more facts were told the Exchangeites by the lecturer.

Leaving the auditorium, the club members were bunched into two buses and taken over gravel roads, bumpy brick roads, cement straight-aways, and greatest of all, the great testing oval, 3.8 miles around. Over hills with such steep grades that they nearly made the group wobble. Then they were given a chance to stand on the brink of the banked curves of the speed oval. The speedway is constructed so that it is safe for a car to travel 80 miles per hour on the curves and set of hills and that is the Northville men watched.

An inspection of the track and testing plants closed the trip.

A group of men, over 300, are employed at the proving grounds. Each month cars are driven over the many and varied roads of the grounds over 651,000 miles. In seven years, General Motors has spent about two and one-half million dollars on the proving grounds. And the grounds now operate day and night, summer and winter, all for one purpose—to produce better cars.

For many of the club men, it was their first trip to the proving grounds, although it is located only 20 miles from Northville. To use the language of one of the General Motors men it is better known in South Africa and South America than in Michigan.

SEE THEM AT THE FAIR

You'll see all your friends at the Northville Wayne County Fair, August 25-29. Be there!

Family Gathering Celebrates 50th Anniversary of Arrival Of John Kalbfleisch in U. S.

"It was the happiest day of my life," said John Kalbfleisch as a Record representative asked him regarding a family gathering on Sunday that marked the 50th anniversary of his coming to Detroit from his former home at Elmira, Ontario. Just fifty years ago Monday, August 10 the well known Northville resident came from Canada to Detroit—then a city of horse cars and from the humblest of beginnings, built an unusually successful business career.

It was a complete family circle that commemorated the rare event. From Detroit came the three sons and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kalbfleisch, Russell, Harold and Mark and Mrs. C. H. (Ive K.) Barker—and, to make the joy of the day complete, eight grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Crawford of Wyandotte and Miss Margarette White of Detroit.

The large, hospitable Kalbfleisch home on the Fishery road was the scene of the memorable gathering and a complete dinner served as a background for the time of reminiscence and felicitations for the guests of honor.

"I could write books about it," said Mr. Kalbfleisch as he recalled the half-century that has passed over his head since he came into Detroit from the Dominion. He saw Detroit grow from a city of 225,000 to one of the greatest in the United States, with a teeming population of a million and a half. He saw it change from a sleepy city into one of the world's most dynamic industrial centers and saw the horse cars disappear and the marvels of electricity come to transform the city. He witnessed the passing of the open fields and the arising of great buildings upon them.

Possessed of high character, great industry and a genius for business, Mr. Kalbfleisch started with only his hands and a very small and untrendy personality, and achieved great success. Once he saw his earnings all wiped out but, with rare determination he fought his way back. Up mornings at three o'clock, during part of his earlier years he gave himself with great energy to his tasks and was rewarded by substantial success.

After working for other men in various capacities, the young Canadian decided to enter the candy business and here his first success was registered. Ten years were spent in this and then when one day there came a chance to go into the wholesale grocery business, he was quick to see the opportunity. He located at the Western Market on Eighteenth street and for 20 years he continued in this branch of business and his name became a synonym.

WHEN THE MIND BREAKS

As he preyed upon the way he felt that some of those he trusted had betrayed him, Judge Alfred J. Murphy of Detroit took a revolver and killed himself. The victim of broken health and of a tormenting grief that would not be assuaged by the comfort of his friends, something in his mind snapped and he did a thing that in other days he could not possibly have committed.

Judge Murphy was a man of such fine sensibilities, such refinement, such outstanding character, that not a word of condemnation has been raised against his act of self-destruction. Yet we often look on suicide as a cowardly thing. The legacy left to family and friends is a sorrowful thing. Yet we who have never known the burden that has caused some men to "end it all" and have never suffered as some sensitive souls have suffered, should not sit in judgment on others when they lose their grip and pull down the curtain that shuts them forever from their friends and loved ones. Rather should we so order our lives and our daily dealings that men would want to live longer.

OTHERS ARE WORSE OFF

Michigan farmers think they have their troubles. Northville men or the soil think they have theirs. They do. Prices of grain are low—too low by far. Eggs are down—way down. It is hard to pay taxes. Machinery for the farm is high and all in all, the farmer seems to get it "coming and going."

With all their troubles our Salem, Novi and Northville farmers have missed a lot that other farmers are getting. We haven't yet had the army worm that has devastated everything in sight, as it has in some states. Great hordes of grasshoppers that have almost eaten up the fence posts in Kansas and other western states haven't invaded our farms.

Our local farms have not been covered up with several inches of sand as happened during sand storms in Saskatchewan, Canada.

Blistering, withering winds that seemed to come off great ovens haven't moved down our crops as they have in some parts of California. Even Southern Californians are said to have had to go to the mountains and ocean beaches on account of the worst period of heat in 15 years.

We have had no floods to drown out our crops. (As a matter of fact our lake levels are the lowest in years.) No, we all have our troubles but there are so many who are worse off that it behooves us not to be too critical. Our lot might be a great deal worse.

HOW CAN WE STOP IT?

When this writer and his family lived at Jonesville, on highway U. S. 112, we had as our neighbor on one side, Mrs. Jennie Reed, a very estimable and kindly woman, nearly 85 years old. A good neighbor she was. While we were there she occasionally had visits from her son, Fred and family, of Jackson—just 30 miles away.

It grieves us to say that these visits will never be the same to her. Just last week her son, Fred, with his wife and other members of the family, set out from Jackson to go to Jonesville to see Mrs. Reed. The party was just four or so miles from Fred's mother's when something terrible happened. A wild driver—yet every day there are many just like him on the highways of Michigan—came down a hill at 50 miles an hour and "cut in" on two cars. Then he kept on his wild ride—as you have seen many fool drivers do, on hills and curves—and tried to pass a third car. Just as he did so the Reed car came around a curve on its own side of the road and crashed head-on with the auto of the driver who was "cutting in." Both cars were wrecks. Mrs. Reed died instantly with a fractured skull and others of the passengers were badly hurt and rushed to the hospital at Hillsdale.

Our former neighbor will never again have a visit from her daughter-in-law. She is dead. And to blame for her death is a reckless driver—like whom there are far too many—who "cut in" on a curve or a hill to snuff out her life and injure others. He did not have the brains to realize that there is always a car coming and that no power in heaven or earth can stop two cars from smashing together if they are going fifty miles an hour and meet at the same place at the same time.

What are we going to do about this criminal "cutting in" that is menacing the lives of motorists every hour of the day on almost every paved road of the state? Gov. Brucker favors more state police on the road, to throw the fear of the law into some of these morons. That might help some.

Certainly we cannot go on, having our lives menaced by these speed-drunk drivers who break every law of safety and sense when they get behind the wheel of a high powered car that can scatter sorrow and even death on our curves and hills. Such drivers are potential murderers and it won't be many years before they will be treated as such. Society will not continue indefinitely to tolerate this slaughter of the innocents on our highways.

CHEERFUL THOUGHTS

There is plenty of gloom on tap. But we can turn on the spigot of cheerfulness by just looking around—right here in Northville.

Did you notice that story that "Andy" had about the kid's motor(less) vehicle in last week's Record? Well that made us laugh out loud when it came to our desk and we said to the office folks: "Well we ought to have more stories like that."

Wish you had been in the office Friday afternoon when Attorney Fred J. Cochran got to reminiscing and told us of some of the legal battles in the "old days" between "hard-boiled" Detroit lawyers. Well these stories made us laugh out loud.

Then in came a husky looking young lady from South Lyon who breezed up to the editor and said: "Have you got a girls' ball team in this town?" and we did our best to steer her and two girls with her to the place where they could find some baseball competition. Would like to see a good game ourselves—no, we haven't been in to see the Detroit Tigers lose. No one likes a loser—funny too, there must be a loser for every winner.

And then opened the screen door and in came John Kalbfleisch and invited us out to do a little lawn bowling. Well what better for a man's soul and mind and body? So that made us smile.

Then we heard a boy go whistling down the street. Well it's a good world after all. Plenty of trouble but a lot of good things to balance it.

And don't forget that a life without troubles would be pretty flat. "Too much sunshine makes the desert" who that lives in Michigan wants to live among the cacti and who that lives in Michigan wants to live among the cacti and sand?

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

How many miles do you walk every day?

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

THIRSTY BULLETS

(Birmingham Eclectic)

A number of New York City people, including children, were shot down by beer gangsters the other day. The Hearst newspaper's blame the prohibition law. But, may we ask, what about the food folks who buy illicit liquor thus creating the bootlegger? And what of the sleepy public that allows its police department and judicial system to wink at the crime in liquor? We have great respect for those who "drink the prohibition law" work for its repeal along orderly lines at the same time obeying it—thus intelligently outlawing the bootlegger. Back of every beer gangster's activities there are human thirsts. Please remember that when you criticize the effects of the prohibition law.

MAKING STRONG MEN

(E. J. Hanna in the Enquirer, County Graphic)

There was a day when fathers told their sons to get out and hustle on the theory that hardships make a strong man. The idea of molly-coddling was frowned upon sternly just as a person must experience a bit of illness to fully appreciate the value of health, so must a young man be placed upon his own resources to properly whet his ambitions. We do not contend that young people reared in luxury are necessarily worthless or doomed to failure. That view would contradict the teachings of both the sociologists, who place their faith in environment, and the biologists, who rely upon good inheritance. Our position is that a young man who encounters a few of the rough edges of life's other things being equal, gains a larger sense of value than the youth subjected to plenty of the path of plenty and the path of hardships were elective, it is probable that nine out of ten would take the course of least resistance. But, possibly not wisely.

Talk with the typical American who started out with one suit of clothes and one pair of shoes and made good. He will tell you that his troubles started when he began to get rich. He never fails to derive satisfaction from retrospection of his early struggles before he accumulated wealth.

So the young man working his way through a university with a definite aim in life, or pushing along when money is scarce; need not be pitted. The chances are that a decade hence will find that person a leader in some business or profession with an established place in the community.

The best metals are forged in the hottest fires.

BRIDGE ACROSS STRAITS

(Cheboygan Observer)

The editor of the Marquette Mining Journal who writes a lot of good things for his paper, will be excused for this bad break in which he says: "The state it appears needs a bridge across the straits as much as it needs two capitals." That's fine from an old fashioned viewpoint, but that neighbor will live long enough to see either a bridge or a tube across the straits, and he will then tell how wonderfully necessary it was to bring Michigan all under one capital, and to take care of traffic across the great waterway. A lot of things have come to pass in the past dozen years that we scoffed at before, and it will be the same with that Straits crossing project. Good Roads Earl has been a lot of jumps ahead of the times ever since he first began to howl good roads, but swiftly and surely the procession is catching up with his old time visionary proposals.

JUDGE MURPHY

It is not difficult to sermonize or philosophize on the facts made apparent by the suicide of so noted, accomplished and sincere a man as Judge Alfred Murphy, dean of the Wayne county circuit court, says the Dowagiac News.

The facts do, however, emphasize a publicity tendency in American life which is costly. That is the capitalization of men's names and reputations to give the appearance of stability to financial institutions.

In almost every community, it is the custom to name to the boards of establishments dealing in money or securities the leading business figures or the outstanding professional men, somehow accentuating in the public mind that a good judge ought of necessity to be a good financier, or a good grocer might also be a good director of a bank or a good newspaperman might serve well on some other similar board.

Placing these outstanding figures—men of sincerity, probity and honor—at the head of such institutions has always been figured as good publicity. There has evidently been little thought of the other side—

HOMEMAKER'S CORNER

BY MRS. EDITOR

Another mother makes the following fine contribution to this column. We welcome the exchange of ideas—that is what this department is for and we wish other women would feel "moved" to send in their thoughts, the more original the better.

Saying "No" To The Children. Mothers have had one delightful benefit from the enforced economy of the present business conditions. It has been much easier and simpler to say "no" to their children.

It is amazing how huge that two-lettered word can grow and how beneficial its correct use can be.

When the wild orgy of easily earned and easily spent money was prevailing, most mothers and fathers had found many outside interests that carried them away from the close supervision of their children which was so necessary. The children, in turn, were enjoying a dangerous freedom.

Today when we have time to stop and think, we can say "no" intelligently to a dangerous demand for freedom.

Of course, we meet the phrase, "But other mothers let their children do it."

That is the time to smile and explain that often the pleasure granted too soon is the pleasure lost, in one is too young to know how to conduct oneself with too much freedom.

The loveliest thing in the world is enthusiasm. But the girl and boy who can stay out as late as they the responsibility that a man must accept and face when he assumes to take such a position in an institution dealing with other people's money.

For such a man to accept honor and perhaps a modest stipend for the use of his name without recognizing the responsibility he assumes for correct conduct of its affairs is a one-sided contract which only too often produces the sad results of the present case.

The actual conduct of the business is usually Greek to the individual. He passes on statements submitted to him by trusted subordinates and certainly is not in any position to question their accuracy. He is a figurehead.

And when the day comes—rare indeed but nevertheless always impending—when he must render an accounting of this stewardship, he cannot plead ignorance. A man of honor, he is broken beneath the ignominy of his betrayal and finds relief from his shattered nerves by death.

The answer is that men should leave alone those services to which they cannot devote sufficient time to master the detail and to give adequate direction. The business of finance ought to be left to the professionals. Judge Murphy is the latest and one of the most unhappy victims of a bad system.

wish, soon lose the joy of going. They continue to go, but not with pleasure, but with that dreadful restlessness of discontent.

Over-indulgence in food or fun will bring on physical and spiritual indigestion and the mother who cares for the future of her child's growth and happiness will be strong enough to say "no" with a smile for the day will come when her children will thank her. I know because I have been thankful, and I have been thankful.

"I made something good for dinner today," Mrs. R. B. Dusenbury said to us the other day and immediately our pencil was busy taking down this recipe which will be easy to make this season of bountiful peaches.

TIPSIDE-DOWN PEACH CAKE. Cream 4 tablespoonsful of fat and 1/2 cup of sugar. Add two well beaten eggs, mix thoroughly.

Mix and sift 1 1/2 cup flour, 2 1/2 teaspoonsful baking powder and 1/2 teaspoonful salt. Add alternately with one third cup of milk. Beat well between each addition in an iron skillet (or heavy cake tin) melt 3 tablespoonsful butter and add 1/2 cup brown sugar. Spread with a layer of fresh or well-drained canned peach halves. Pour batter over carefully and bake in an oven 325 degrees for 45 minutes or until thoroughly done. Turn out on a plate, cool and spread with whipped cream.

Other fruit may be added. Instead of the milk the peach juice may be used.

Salad weather! What are your latest tricks in salads, "fellowwomen"? Send 'em in please.

Here's one we make when we don't have time to fuss the last minute cutting up things for the salad. It may be made the day before and served quickly on lettuce leaves with dressing.

PINEAPPLE AND CUCUMBER SALAD

Make a dish of ordinary lemon jello and when cool add 1 can of grated pineapple and 1 medium cucumber run through grinder. You'd be surprised how good it is.

TIME FOR LOYALTY

While farmers are passing through a period of stringency, their neighbors, the merchants in the home town, are having an equally trying time. If ever the spirit of loyalty to the merchant in the home town should be evidenced it is at this difficult period. The home man pays taxes and otherwise upholds the prized institutions of the home community. He has always been ready to help in a hundred ways. By all the rules of fair play he is deserving of the first consideration when a purchase is to be made.

Turn about is fair play. Whenever a purchase can be made of a neighbor farmer the town man should strain a point to favor his friend.

Let's be loyal and helpful to our friends in this time of emergency.

Car Owners Bought More
Firestone Tires

During June and July
than in any like period in History

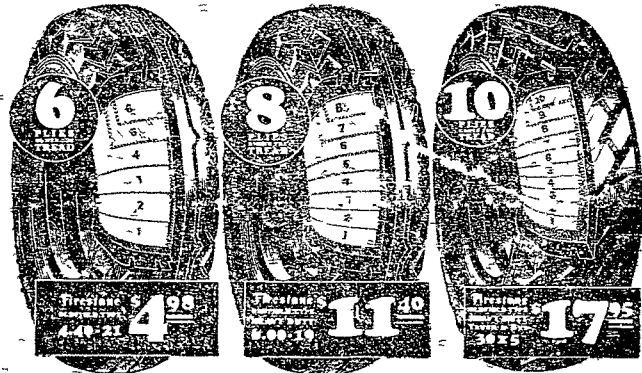

THERE are reasons for this—Firestone is now building the Greatest Tire Values in history, with the result that Firestone factories are operating 24 hours a day, 6 days a week, to meet public preference.

This is the year everybody is scrutinizing his purchases. This is particularly true in tire buying because of the many confusing and misleading statements made about tires.

To give car owners the facts, Firestone published comparisons showing quality, construction and prices. Then the public came in—made their own comparisons with cross-sections cut from Firestone tires—and from special brand mail order tires and others.

When they saw the facts, they bought more Firestone tires during April, May and June than in any like period in Firestone history.

Drive in today and let us show you these Firestone-Extra Values and have your car equipped for Safe, Trouble-Free Summer Motoring. We can save you money and serve you better.

GORDON BAKING CO. BUYS CONDENSERY AT LA GRANGE, IND.

The Gordon Baking Co., which has a condensed milk plant at Northville, has added to its properties the milk condensery at La Grange, Ind. and W. F. Colbert, South Wing street of this place, who has been associated with the plant, will go to La Grange to take charge. Details of the expansion are given as follows in the La Grange Standard:

"The Gordon Baking company of Detroit and Chicago took over the La Grange condensery on Saturday from the Van Camp Milk company of Indianapolis and the La Grange men who owned the real estate. W. F. Colbert, assistant superintendent of the condensery owned by the Gordon company at Northville, Michigan, is now in charge of the local institution and the milk is being placed in Gordon trucks for use in the bakeries of that company.

"An encouraging phase of the matter is that, in the course of time, the La Grange institution will be depended upon to supply all the milk for the Chicago and Detroit bakeries, approximately 88,000 to 100,000 pounds per day. A consideration that is not encouraging immediately is that the building of the La Grange plant and the La Grange production is to be quite gradual and that there will not be a big intensive drive to build up an enormous volume at once, as local people expected.

"A well trained dairy expert will be put into the field and will keep in close touch with the dairymen of the country, coaching them to carry on their dairying successfully and profitably and working all the time to build up La Grange country as a greater dairying locality. This leaves of dairying progress is alone believed to be worth an inestimable amount to the country."

FOR SALE—Leading Detroit Music company has in the vicinity of Northville a beautiful player piano which is almost paid for. Miss June Filkins Weds

Eberle M. Smith-Saturday

A very charming wedding in the presence of the relatives and a few intimate friends occurred at the home of Mrs. Lucy Filkins Dunlap street, when her daughter, June, became the bride of Eberle M. Smith of Detroit last Saturday afternoon at four o'clock.

Preceding the ceremony two beautiful solos, "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly," were sung by Mrs. P. C. Evans of Waterbury, Conn., with Mrs. Chas. A. Dolph as accompanist. At the conclusion of these songs P. C. Evans of Waterbury played the "Wedding March" from Lohegrin on the violin accompanied by Mrs. Dolph, as the bride and groom came down the stairs and took their places before the improvised altar on the east side of the large living room of the Filkins home. Here, amid a profusion of green and white floral decorations with evocations of white garden, white hand lilies and Erysophelia against a background of ferns and palms the wedding vows were spoken with Rev. Wm. Richards using the impressive ring ceremony. Her brother, Guy Filkins, gave the bride away.

The bride was beautiful in a white satin gown of simple graceful lines and flowing veil of tulle. With fitting sentiment she wore the dainty lace cap worn by her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Chambers, as a bride 700 years ago last June and carried the wedding handkerchief of her aunt, Mrs. M. J. Murphy. The bridesmaid carried a shower bouquet of white roses.

Miss Thelma Bulaska of Toledo, a cousin, was bridesmaid and wore pale green chiffon and carried tulle roses. Bobby Evans of Waterbury was usher.

Following the greetings and congratulations, bestowed upon the newlyweds a wedding luncheon was served in the dining room. The large bridal table was lovely with lace, cloth and centerpiece of white flowers mingled with green. Small tables were also used for seating the guests throughout the rooms. The color scheme of green and white.

The guests at the Methodist church on a group of close friends and neighbors assisted in the serving of the menu. Mrs. Bertha Neal, Mrs. J. J. Cobb, Mrs. R. E. Atchison and Mrs. Otto Westbury.

The gifts to the bride were many and varied and will be cherished in the new home which Mr. Smith has built for his young wife on Forest avenue, Detroit, which they will occupy when they return from a short wedding trip in the East.

Miss Filkins is a native of Northville, the daughter of the late Chas. S. Filkins and Mrs. Lucy A. Filkins. She is a graduate of the Northville high school and later of the Michigan State Normal. For the past six years she has taught music in the Langeman school of Detroit where she has won many friends by her friendly spirit and willingness to give to others the pleasure of learning her song. Five of the teachers associated with the bride during the wedding of their friend Mrs. Mary Ehlers, Miss Dorothy Zeng, Mrs. Wm. Durance, Mrs. Gene Swann and Miss Vivian Schwarz.

Mr. Smith is a proficient young architect with Gold & Company and his friends predict a rising place for him in his profession.

Northville friends join with the Record in extending best wishes for a happy future to this young couple.

Celebrates 32nd Birthday Mrs. F. L. Thompson entertained Tuesday, August 11, for her father, David Gage, the occasion being his 32nd birthday. Owing to circumstances the sons and their families were unable to be present but an old neighbor, Marvin Bogart and relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer Phelps and son, James and Miss Elizabeth Moore passed a pleasant afternoon and friends dropped in to congratulate him, bringing beautiful many cards which he read easily.

flowers and other gifts. He received without his glasses.

A bountiful repast was served at 6 o'clock and the friends departed wishing him many more happy returns of the day. Mr. Bogart is one year younger than Mr. Gage and both are enjoying good health.

Record Family Grooms

Mr. and Mrs. Chapin

To introduce the bride of Hugh Chapin, mototype operator at the Northville Record office, to the friends of the "Record" family, Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Baldwin entertained this group at dinner Tuesday evening at their home on South Wing street. A large wedding cake, made by Mrs. Bertha Neal, was the feature of the dinner. Those present to greet Mr. and Mrs. Chapin were Ad. Schwinger, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Anderson, Robert Masters and Miss Genevieve Gee, of Ypsilanti. The newlyweds have established housekeeping at the residence of Mrs. Sommer on the corner of Church street and Beal avenue.

Mrs. Alice Eaton Bids

Farewell to Auxiliary

Wishing once more to meet with the Nellie Verkes' auxiliary with which she has been connected since its beginning, Mrs. Alice Eaton of Northville, women to her home on Eaton drive on Tuesday evening. After the necessary business was attended to the president, Mrs. Ada Blohm, announced to the members with deep regret that they were to lose a valued member, their hostess, who was to leave soon for her new home in Rochester, N. Y.

Mrs. Eaton was a member of the Woman's Guild of the Presbyterian church even before the Nellie Verkes' auxiliary was formed and was active in the early organization of the latter society. She will be greatly missed.

A pleasant period of social time was concluded by light refreshments served by the hostess.

PASTOR PROPHECIES BETTER CONDITIONS

The audience at the Methodist church last Sunday morning was refreshed to hear the pastor, Rev. Wm. Richards speak in optimistic strain of the future. With a prophetic vision he predicted great things in the years to come but he warned men to be unselfish in their contribution to the future generations and not measure their efforts by the good it would do them personally. In spite of the prevalent spirit of depression, the preacher said, "I believe there were never so many good people in the world as today."

The service was further helped by special musical numbers. Miss Florence Johnson and Miss Madeleine Haystead sang the selections, "He Shall Feed His Flock" and "Come Unto Me" from Hagd's Messiah. Both of these young singers have promising voices.

A quartet composed of Roy Clark, Merle Frasier, Leslie G. Lee and Alex Johnson also sang a pleasing number.

Dazzling Array of Free Acts Are Secured for Northville Fair

A host of fine entertainment has been obtained for the fair, announced Elmer L. Smith, manager of the free acts for the approaching grand exhibition.

The free acts this year will be larger and better than any previous ones owing to the fact that so many of the exhibitors are finding it difficult to procure employment. Excellent acts that before this time would have been too deeply indebted to budgets are available this year and daily changes will occur so that patrons of the fair who visit during all five days will be assured of a constantly changing show.

Featuring the free acts exhibition this year will be Jack Figaro who will be the master of ceremonies of the Blue Heaven show. Mr. Figaro comes to the fair directly from the Slinger Slipper in New York where through the medium of his clever personality he has won many friends. It will be a real treat to have a performer and entertainer of Mr. Figaro's reputation and ability at the fair this year.

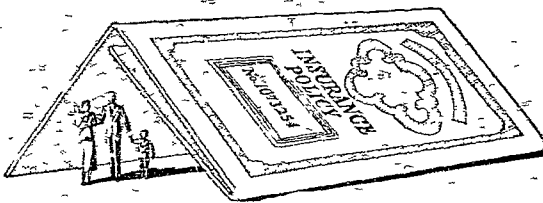

Also on the list of Henry H. Tueder's Blue Heaven presentation at the Northville fair will be those "Twelve Dainty Dimples," a world-famous artistic group of dancers. These ladies have appeared in the larger theaters throughout the United States and are not only exceptionally good to look at but possess rare talent and ability. They make numerous changes of excellent costumes and they will appear nightly at the fair.

The Francis Sisters, European dancing artists, are making their first appearance in the United States with the Blue Heaven presentation. These two blonde girls come from Stockholm, Sweden, and they tell us, "We hope you like us as we like your country very much." These little ladies are guaranteed to keep you spell-bound.

group numbers, individual songs and solos. The Rhythm Roamers have been playing at the Miami Beach hotel ballroom and have a number of outstanding features. They are in a class of their own when it comes to ladies' bands.

Erma Barlow and company in her own novelty creations, with dogs, goats, monkeys and her world-famous little pony, called "Tommy" is another feature that will be presented with the Blue Heaven stage show. Little Tommy, the pony, is an educated one, and is known far and wide having appeared throughout the various hippodromes of both the United States and Europe. This attraction will have special interest for children. However, the older folks will get more than their share of enjoyment from it.

Miss Verne Bowles, a clever acrobat and Spanish dancer, has just arrived from the Pacific coast in a number of pictures in Hollywood. She is graceful, possesses a world of personality along with her beautiful costumes and ability. She will long be remembered as an outstanding feature of the Blue Heaven Revue.

All of the acts have been selected so as to present the most amusing and entertaining days and nights for fair visitors during the five days between August 25 and 29.

SCHOOLS TO OPEN ON SEPTEMBER 8

Although the postponement of the opening of the Northville schools until late in September would add greatly to the pleasure of youngsters of the town, such will not be the case declared Superintendent T. J. Knappp.

School will start promptly on September 8, said the superintendent, and despite rumors to the contrary, the educational system of the town will not lack funds to run the institutions with all the efficiency and high standards of scholarship that have been maintained in past years.

"LOVER COME BACK"

"UP FOR MURDER"

It has been said that for women love is a career—while for men it is merely a pastime. Except for slight emotional flutters, women remain pretty constant to a man after they have fallen in love with him—he is their whole life. Men to the contrary evince, to a great degree, an entirely different action. A man may be in love with a woman and at the same time become unattached with passing fancies. For a time his real love will be pushed aside until the intense but temporary affair has run its course. After its consummation, he returns to his true love with all sorts of resolutions never to let anything like that upset his balance again; but nevertheless, he is apt to repeat such a procedure several times in his life.

The havoc that such an affair plays on the lives of three people is the plot-motivation of "Lover Come Back," a Columbia picture to show Sunday, August 16 at the Fenniman Allen theatre. Jack Mulhall is the susceptible young man, Betty Bronson, the bit of femininity that temporarily steers him away from his true love, Constance Cummings. About these three principals a story of modern love and marriage is unfolded. Sumptuous settings on Park Avenue and Long Island form the background.

The supporting cast includes Jameson Thomas, Jack Mack, Susan Fleming, and Loretta Sayers. Eric C. Kenton directed.

NEW HUDSON

Mrs. Byron Rogers of Howell spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Templeton.

Mrs. O. E. Gooding were called to the home of her father who passed away.

Saturday, August 22 marks the showing of "Up For Murder" the Universal love drama which has been described as one of the outstanding pictures of the current season, and which shows on that date at the Fenniman Allen theatre. Two of the most popular of the screen's never players, appear in this production, which is a powerful love drama, told against the seething activities of a great newspaper office. The story is a constant succession of dramatic situations brought about by the existence of the eternal triangle, in which the cub reporter and the society editor are unmarried, but the publisher is not.

It is when the young reporter, having fallen desperately in love with the conductor of the society column, discovers the existing situation that he takes matters into his own hands, and brings about a tragedy that seriously affects each one of the three principal characters.

Mostra Bell, who was for many years a newspaper man, directed "Up For Murder," and has brought to the screen what is said to be a perfect picture of a great metropolitan publishing plant. Several of the scenes introduce some of the west coast's most famous newspaper writers and for other scenes many workers in various departments of Los Angeles dailies were secured as extras.

In addition to Ayres and Miss Tobin prominent roles in "Up For Murder" are played by Dorothy Peterson, Frank McHugh, and Richard Tucker.

Mrs. Frank Knapp and daughter, Mrs. Ford Parker spent Friday in Detroit shopping.

Mrs. Fred Swift of Keego Harbor visited Mr. and Mrs. Claude Swift Monday.

The Epworth League held their devotional meeting Sunday evening at the home of Lilian Foster.

Mrs. Bert Tapp and Mr. and Mrs. W. Tapp of South Lyon visited relatives in Romeo Sunday.

Lee Gaines and family of Flint are callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Gaines.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Pettigall visited their niece, Mrs. Fieda Wells in Detroit Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Gilbert and 146 daughters and Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Norton and daughter were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Pettigall.

Miss Lorraine Pettigall returned home Friday from a week's visit at the home of her cousin Earl Gray, Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Phillips and family of Pontiac, Mr. and Mrs. John Norton and Mr. and Mrs. Long of Birmingham gave a surprise party in honor of Mrs. Fanny Phillips at the home of Mrs. Emma Taylor.

Miss Nettie Sadunek visited her brother at Williams Lake over the week-end.

Mrs. Ne'he Nicholson and daughter spent the week-end in Detroit at the bed-side of her sister in a Detroit hospital.

GRADUATES AT NORMAL

Miss Edna Kieger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Kieger, graduated from the Michigan State Normal college at Ypsilanti last week Thursday.

105 PARTICIPATE IN THE TOURNAMENT AT BRAG BURN COURSE

One hundred and five members and guests participated in the two ball foursome and tournament held at the Brag Burn Golf club Saturday, August 3. A barbecue dinner was served in the evening.

Gordon Moffatt and Mrs. D. H. Soley scored a 52 for first place in the tournament. J. B. Terrill and Mrs. Tom Ritchie won second place with a 53. L. W. Rickett and Mrs. Frank Bevelley tied for third place with a 54.

The ladies' putting contest was won by Mrs. L. H. Cranston, first; Mrs. Frank Johnson, second, and Mrs. Tom Ritchie, and Mrs. L. Balch tied for third.

HIS ONE MISTAKE

Two druggists were talking about one of their confreres who had just died.

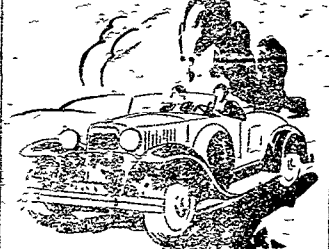

"He was a great druggist," said one.

"He was," admitted the other. "But don't you think he made his chicken salad sandwiches a little too salty?"

PASSES BAR EXAMS

Richard T. Baldwin has received word from Washington, D. C., that his brother, Jos. A. Baldwin, formerly associated with him in daily newspaper work at Albion, was successful in passing the bar examinations in the national capital and will be eligible for admission to the bar in October. A graduate of Albion college, he has been attending George Washington university for the past three years, taking the law course.

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS

5 YEARS AGO

Work of remodeling the front of the Northville Drug company was started Tuesday morning.

Northville friends will regret to learn that Mrs. W. G. Lapham and son, Jared S. Lapham, have decided to move from Northville. The Laphams homestead has recently been purchased by the village and will be taken over soon.

The Northville Rotary club has recently placed some very attractive welcome signs leading into Northville.

H. B. and F. E. Hills attended a trap shooting tournament at Birmingham recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Tapp will leave on an extended trip west stopping in Albuquerque enroute to California.

Fire was discovered in an accident on the Bell Furnace and Manufacturing company last night last week but the loss was working well and little damage was done.

Water mains have been laid to the fair grounds.

Northville is to have its first A. K. C. dog show at the fair this fall. This will be under the direction of Dr. E. B. Cavel.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wagenschultz have been touring Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois and Indiana.

10 YEARS AGO

The apple crop will be short this year and the price will be high. Alexander L. Hay, an esteemed and loved friend of Northville, died July 23.

Little Warner Neal gave a birthday supper last Thursday the occasion being his 6th birthday. Richard Shipley, Merrill Fraser, Junior Schrader and Jason Lyke were his guests.

Mrs. Carl Bryan received a birthday gift of a thoroughbred Russian wolfhound from her husband Tuesday.

Miss Mary Louise Boyden entertained eight little boys and girls Monday in honor of her eighth birthday.

Northville's new flour mill is now ready to grind feed.

By special request the city will give a program of old songs at its program Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Taft have rented the Chas. Hill bungalow on Wing street and have moved to Northville from Detroit.

Elmer Fern is building an addition to his residence on Center street.

Chas. Gamble, a Detroit man, was killed here Saturday in an accident on the D. U. R.

Dr. and Mrs. Henry and baby have gone to Canada where the doctor will rest and recover from his recent injury.

Editor H. K. Bryan of the Alpena News and Mrs. Bryan spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Tisham.

Mrs. Fred Fry who has been very ill is better.

Will Tammings' house on Center street is almost rapidly approaching completion. When completed it will be one of the noblest and most up-to-date houses in town.

There are at least three things that Northville ought to have to substantiate her claim as an up-to-date progressive little city and those are a new high school building, all night electric light service and a fountain in the public park.

Fred van Sickle broke all records Tuesday in the local sale of gasoline, delivering in Northville 1524 gallons of that fluid.

Robert Graham returned home to his wife and family Thursday. He has been in Ohio and Illinois for three months working and hunting a steady job. He is about to move to Ohio.

Rev. W. O. Winkler of the Presbyterian church, Detroit, gave a very good illustration of the ministry of the apostles in the service here Sunday morning. Sunday school will be held next Sunday morning at 10:30.

Due Drops

This will help you to remember—Some pay their dues when due. Some do before they're due. Some never do.

How do you do, when your dues are due?

Mrs. Robert Hall, daughter, Margaret and son, Robert, from Hartford, Connecticut, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Denley from Jackson, were visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Charles I. Pierpont and family on Wednesday. They will spend some time with her mother in Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. Silas Galmot, former residents of this district have moved to Detroit.

Mrs. Earl Rausier was hostess and entertained the Base Line Pedro club Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. William Thornton and son, Harold, were callers at the home of their daughter, Mrs. William Dowsett, near Salem.

The Women's Community club met at the home of Mrs. Thelma Gillespie Friday. On account of the hot weather there was not a large attendance, there being only ten ladies present. Mrs. Jennie Ash, president of the club, opened the meeting and the business for a month was transacted. Mrs. Albert Heichman presented the club with a lace coverlid to be sold at the bazaar in the fall. The hostess served a dainty lunch with lemonade. Everyone had a pleasant time.

Mr. and Mrs. James Eastman have returned from visiting the former brother, Ammon Eastman, of Muskegon Heights, who is being treated in an Ann Arbor hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Bergen and Mrs. Bergen, Sr., were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Adus of Howell.

Mrs. C. Wolfe was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Gulen of Farmington and found their oldest daughter, Betty, some better than she has been and she is able to sit up some.

Yola Dowsett of Flint is spending a few days of her holidays with her aunt, Mrs. Rose Gunn, and children.

A large number of people went to Navin field, Detroit, to see their team play the first of the week.

The extreme heat is doing damage to the gardens in this district.

Joseph A. Brown has rented a farm belonging to Mr. Berchem, on McKenny road.

Miss Anna Thayer is spending her holidays with her sister, Mrs. Eastman and family.

Mrs. McFetridge, sister of Mrs. Berchem, accompanied by her two daughters, are taking a trip through Europe. She was in Paris, France, and saw the beautiful castle built by Napoleon for his wife, Josephine. She will then see England, Ireland and Switzerland. They will return home the first of September.

Mr. Heller of Edmonton, British Columbia, has been a welcome visitor with his son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Heller.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Coolman and four children were week-end visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stanton of Lincoln Park and brought Fred and Junior Stanton home with them for a week's vacation.

SALEM NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Legg of Farmington visited in the J. A. Clark home Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Smith and son of Plymouth were Sunday evening visitors in the L. J. Viet home.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Groth enjoyed the band concert in South Lyon Thursday evening and their grandson, Charles Groth, returned home with them until Friday evening.

Mrs. Edith Crane and son of Kingston, Pennsylvania, are since last week house guests of their mother and grandfather, Mrs. Amelia Fetters.

Mrs. Roy Clement spent Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Dale Buttermore.

Mrs. Fred Everett of South Lyon was a Friday afternoon visitor of Mrs. Eliza Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Bingel and son, Dwight, of Wayne, were Sunday guests of the Fred Riders.

Miss Helen Norton of Cohoctah is house guest of her aunt, Mrs. W. H. Tousey, since last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wilson and sons motored to Whitmore Lake Sunday and spent the day in the Frank Galtin home.

Mrs. Gladys Lawrence and Miss Griffin of Charlotte were Sunday supper guests in the Congregational parsonage.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kimberly and family of Wagoner, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Warbourn of Defiance, Ohio were Sunday evening callers at the Dale Buttermore home.

Mrs. Henry Whittaker returned home Sunday from a two weeks visit with her daughter and family in Lansing.

Though the weather was not the Sunday school picnic of the Congregational church held Thursday at Island Lake park was an enjoyable affair. About 80 partook of a delicious dinner. There was a large crowd at the bathing beach as three churches, the Baptist, Presbyterian and Methodist, of Northville all had their outing the same day. In the afternoon there were races of all kinds and the winners received useful and pretty gifts. Bathing was very attractive for most of the crowd.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Groth entertained Saturday Mr. and Mrs. C. Reuter and children of Grand Rapids and Sunday their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Will Groth of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. W. Block and children of Lansing.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ringel of Farmington visited their son, Helmut, and family Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Birch and daughter of Detroit were Thursday afternoon callers at the Van-Kahler home.

Mrs. John Litsenberger and Miss Ruth Gulls of Northville were Saturday afternoon callers and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Groth and son, Valbert of Plymouth were Sunday callers of Miss Della Stoffer.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Ringel visited the latter's sister, Mrs. Myrtle Shipley in Pontiac Monday.

Mrs. Leon Holmes and family are enjoying a visit from her sister of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

George Leach, uncle of Charles Payne, died Monday morning in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Jake Beck at Ottawa lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Merritt and daughter, Hazel, are enjoying a motor tour to Chicago. They then through part of Wisconsin after which they will visit Mrs. Merritt's sister in Canada.

Salem Congregational Church. Rev. Lucia M. Stroh, minister.

Rev. W. Roscoe Barbour of the Northville Baptist church is exchanging pulpits with the pastor and will preach here this coming Sunday at 10:30 a. m. followed by Sunday school at 11:45. Everybody is cordially invited to come and hear Rev. Barbour who is a very splendid speaker and minister. His subject will be "Sound Doctrine in Religion to the Times."

Prayer meeting Wednesday evening in the church and practice for the choir Friday evening in the church.

Mrs. James and Harry Clark will entertain the ladies auxiliary society at Riverside park, Plymouth, Thursday afternoon for supper. All are urged to come.

Even the thoughts of a true friend will often make us strong to resist temptation and brave enough to apply ourselves with new zeal and energy to the tasks before us.

Jesus is the friend of sinners. "A friend that sticketh closer than a brother." "Ye," He said, "I am with you always and I will never leave thee nor forsake thee."

Let us come to church and learn more of Jesus and worship Him.

Try A Record Larger.

WOMAN'S CLUB TO STUDY TRAVEL

Looking forward to its thirty-ninth year of study, the Woman's Club of Northville has published very attractive year books bound in "old Spanish" (incidentally the Record office did the job). The study for the year in general will be travel and throughout the course various countries will be visited in study when speakers well versed, each in the country assigned to him, will address the club. Among them are such authorities as Prof. Robert G. Hall of the University of Michigan, Mrs. Frederick B. Fisher, wife of Bishop Fisher, formerly of India, now of Ann Arbor, Mrs. Garret Diekema, widow of ex-minister to Holland, Benjamin March, an artist of note and several local speakers. Dr. H. S. Willis, Dr. H. Handorf, Dr. B. H. Douglas and Dr. F. G. Hegg. Northville is fortunate in having available talent of this quality. An unusually fine year is anticipated.

MILFORD FAIR THIS WEEK

The annual Oakland County Fair, the fifty-first on the Milford grounds, is to be held next week August 15 to 19. Besides the usual display of livestock, farm produce and 4-H club projects, the program will feature a three-day racing program, a three-day base ball tournament and a full program of free platform acts each afternoon and evening.

The Rainbow Girls Band of ten pieces will be on duty during the fair and the evening program will feature the Blue Heaven Girl Quartet presented by Henry H. Lueters, Detroit theatrical producer and master of ceremonies.

Thursday will be children's day and the fair will close Saturday night with an impressive and legal wedding in front of the grandstand.

"ORDERS IS ORDERS"

Here's something to make you smile—for you want to smile often, don't you?

At a fancy dress ball for children a policeman stationed at the door was instructed not to admit any adults.

An excited woman came running to the door and demanded admission.

"I'm sorry, mum," replied the policeman, "but I can't let anyone in but children."

"But my child is dressed as a butterfly," exclaimed the woman, "and has forgotten her wings."

"Can't help it," replied the policeman, "orders is orders; you'll have to let her go as a caterpillar."

Stone School Reunion TO BE HELD AUGUST 21

Cards are out announcing the Stone school reunion, which is to be held at the old school grounds Friday, August 21, 1931. Pupils and teachers, both former and present, are invited to come and bring their families. Pot luck dinner at noon. Please bring fork and cup. Spoons and paper plates will be furnished.

Mrs. Wilson Lane, South Lyon, will be glad of any greetings or correspondence from those unable to attend.

Church News

St. Paul's Lutheran

Divine service is held every Sunday morning at the usual hour, 11 o'clock.

The meeting of the voters of the congregation is held quarterly.

The church officers meet the week before the voters' assembly. Ladies' Aid meets every second Thursday afternoon of every month at 2 o'clock in the church hall.

The Lutheran church of the Missouri Synod broadcasts every Sunday afternoon over Station WXYZ from 2 to 2.15. Everyone is cordially invited to tune in on these broadcasts.

St. Paul's Lutheran bids all a hearty welcome!

Methodist Church Notes

These cool days should relieve us from any excuse in not attending the worship of Almighty God. Encourage your young people to be present at these services. It was a pleasure to see an equal number of young folk in the congregation with the older people last Sabbath. It is good to listen to the youthful soloists who are having in the Sabbath services through August. Come along friends and give them encouragement by your presence. There are twelve months in a year and yet there are people who are not worshipping on an average of one week. I looked at a soul in a hospital awhile ago who said, "When I get up from this I am sure coming to church." It is easy to say that when handicapped and the death shadows are hovering. It ought to be more easy to say it in health and find our place in the House of God, thankful for His great blessing. Don't forget next Sabbath at 10:30.

The church school will meet at 12:00 noon. We have had a larger attendance this summer than last year. Keep it up young folks. This branch of God's work will help you and free you from the tragedies involving many young people these days, the horrors of which are stunning.

Remember folks to bring up your cycle licenses to close the year young folks by the end of the month. Our departmental conference is September 16. Mrs. Est. our local church conference is at Dr. Martin's residence, September 1. All the reports from the heads of departments are requested to be made by then.

Novi Methodist Church

Services next Sabbath at 9:00 in the morning with Rev. Wm. Richards preaching.

Baptist Church

Next Sunday morning, August 16, the pastor of the Salem Congregational church, Mrs. Lucia M. Stroh, will occupy the pulpit of this church. The morning hour of worship is 10:30 o'clock and the Sunday school meets at 11:45 a. m.

At the evening hour, the pastor will be in his pulpit as usual. The subject of the sermon will be, "The Good Shepherd."

Sunday, August 23 Dr. Carlton H. Sashall of the Northern Baptist Seminary located in Chicago, will occupy the pulpit as the pastor takes this Sunday off.

Our Lady of Victory Church

Tomorrow, August 15, is a Catholic "Holy day of Obligation." There will be two Masses here at 6 and 9 a. m. (The Sunday Masses are as usual at 7:30 and 10 o'clock).

The August meeting of the ladies will be held at the home of Mrs. J. L. Taylor at Walled Lake next Tuesday, August 18. For lack of time, at 12:30. Autos will leave the Northville post office at 12 noon.

Young people should have good times and enjoy themselves. Remember however, the advice of the old folks is a sinner bet. "The true times have changed but so have the results of it. Can you ever forget the tragedy of last Monday night near Ypsilanti?"

FALL FROM TOWER - FATAL TO WORKER

A tragic accident occurred Tuesday afternoon at the Detroit House of Correction when Cecil B. Osborne, aged 32, of Detroit, fell 96 feet from a water tower while being hauled on the grounds.

Osborne, a riveter for Pittsburgh and Des Moines Steel Company, was riding in a small car used on construction work around the tower when the front two wheels slipped from the track and he was thrown to the ground.

Osborne leaves a wife and three children residing on Coventry avenue in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Ver Duyn have returned from their trip of a few days near Lake Michigan.

Every Thursday Night

By "AD" SCHWENGER

The Heavyweight golf championship of Greater Northville was held Tuesday morning at the Brae Burn golf club and after nine rounds of torrid mulling and putting "Butch" Le Fevre came through to victory with a score of 56 to 62 for "Battler" Cromwell. Both boys were "in the pink," not to mention "the red."

The old adage of a "good big man can always beat a good little man" did not hold good in this instance for Cromwell weighed in at 294 pounds with his opponent only tipping the scales at a measly 283.

Game to the bitter end, the "Battler," although exhausted and panting heavily, shook his hands over his head in the ancient ritual signifying God luck at the end of the ninth round while his opponent spoke a few words over the microphone to the thousands who were sitting tensely in their homes awaiting the verdict.

A large gallery composed of a caddy out of a job and a mongrel dog followed the players over the course.

"Butch" Le Fevre came from his bench on the first tee to start the hostilities with a long slice that completely unseated "Battler" Cromwell. In an effort to avoid his opponent's mistake, "Battler" swung a vicious drive that hit a couple of rocks, three trees and stopped a full 125 feet from the hole and was measured by a representative of the U. S. Bureau of Standard Weights and Measures who was there on a vacation.

The "Battler" threw every ounce of effort into a right mull that drew howls of anguish from a lady player in the foursome ahead who unfortunately bent over to examine her ball six and seven-eighths of seconds after the "Battler" had struck "Butch" Le Fevre saw an opening and shot a wicked midiron to the ribs which finally landed in a trap the other side of the green.

In response to questions regarding the sprays of sand flying from the trap "Butch" declared that a rattlesnake had wrapped itself around his ball and he was earnestly endeavoring to kill it to protect future players. "Battler" Cromwell raised a dirty eyebrow and muttered something about certain golfers being "cock-eyed lars" but the contest was resumed with both boys mulling it furiously in the middle of the green.

In the second, third, fourth and fifth rounds both adherents of the "sour science" tried to heel, but otherwise foul one another but the tactics only served to enrage the pugs instead of diminishing their efforts.

Early in the sixth round "Butch" lost his ball and was caught red-handed attempting to drop another sphere. For the trifling detail of forgetting to penalize himself a stroke "Butch" was given 10 demerits and forfeited his gold star for the week. "Battler" Cromwell evened the penalties in the eighth session when he was spied subtly kicking his ball out of the tall grass.

By the time the ninth chukker was reached the gallery had been heavily depleted, the caddy being busily engaged in pursuit of a new ball that had not yet stopped rolling and the mongrel dog was inspecting the roots of various sundry trees off of the beaten path.

It was clearly evident that both contestants had suffered cruelly from the grueling engagement. As the "Battler" and "Butch" shook hands and kicked each other in the shins going into the last frame "Butch" panted leg came down with a detonation that shook the birds from nearby trees and "Battler's" shirt tail flowed on the ground for a distance of three feet looking like a bride's trailing gown.

Both balls lay on the green, their owners possessing equal scores of 55. "Battler" Cromwell's ball was seized by the mongrel who had ceased his investigational activities feeling playful. The "Battler" had six clubs in his bag and threw five at the dog scoring a direct hit at each shot.

Field judges Bob Lee and Orlov G. Owen ruled that each of the clubs thrown must count a stroke. The "Battler" put up a mighty squawk claiming that "Butch" had subdivided the dog but the officials stood firm. The score then stood at 60 for "Battler" Cromwell and 55 for "Butch" Le Fevre. The latter sunk a 20 foot putt for a 56 and the "Battler" took two strokes ending up with a 62.

As the roar of the multitude died the "Battler" and "Butch" placed their quivering arms around each other's shoulders and went off in search of "a glass of ginger ale."

This epic scrap will go down in the annals of Northville's history as one of the greatest catches as each can go games ever played. The "catch as catch can" part of the game was interpreted as meaning each of the athletes tried to catch the other cheating as much as he could and "get away" with as much as possible himself.

Crowds flock to Northville Dance

Northville's huge Street Dance, held Saturday night as a sequel to the Twilight Hummer, was a unanimous success attracting approximately 2,000 people to this town.

Scott Montgomery's orchestra again poured forth strains of me-ever since the year 1876 the office of constable of the township. For 52 years has he worn the badge with honor. Thirty of these years has he also been a deputy sheriff. "I never had any trouble," says Mr. Perrin. "One time I shot at an escaped thief three times and missed him. I have always been glad I didn't kill him, though after he was caught and sentenced for ten years he admitted that the bullets which had pretty close."

During his years in Northville Mr. Perrin has added a number of buildings which will stand as monuments to his industry. He has built four houses, the Hull shop, the Ford garage building and the "Perrin block."

Not one of the strong blacksmiths, wagon makers or painters in either shop, active when Mr. Perrin came to town, is living. He alone remains hale and hearty and still actively engaged in his office of saving papers and conducting a taxi business. He facetiously remarks that he would like to live all everyone's sons and be the boss and controller of the whole affair. Who knows?

MRS. YERKES HONORED AT D. A. R. CEREMONY

Northville is proud of another honor which comes to her when Mrs. Don B. Yerkes will have an important part in the traveling of a statue at Mackinac Island next Saturday. State president of the D. A. R., Mrs. Randall, who is chairman of the committee on the preservation of historical spots, those Mrs. Yerkes to lead, conventionals at this ceremony. Since the state chairman was unable to be present, Mrs. Randall of Plymouth said, "Let us have the champion of our own Sarah Ann Cochran chapter."

Representatives of the D. A. R. and officers from all over the state will be present at this significant occasion at beautiful Mackinac.

Mrs. Yerkes left Northville Monday evening for Traverse City where she attended a formal dinner given to the state officers on Tuesday. While in the city she was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Weaver, and accompanied the Weavers to Mackinac.

And old time dance music to the great pleasure of the crowd.

The streets of the town were jammed with merry makers intent on combining their Saturday shopping with pleasure and finding facilities for both occupations more than ample.

JOHN KALBFLEISCH HONORED SUNDAY

nym for honesty and outstanding ability. Many are the tales he could tell of his experiences with all classes of people who flowed in great eddies of humanity around him. In these two decades he saw Detroit lay the foundation for its great growth as an automobile center which astounded the world.

Twelve years ago Mr. Kalbfleisch had the opportunity to start a laundry business and the keen decision which he had shown all along did not fail him and the success gained in other fields rewarded him. With his three sons and son-in-law, the enterprise of a dozen years ago, the Pioneer Laundry, has expanded year by year until now it is one of Detroit's best known institutions at its kind, five years ago Mr. Kalbfleisch wisely decided to retire from active business and with his wife he came to Northville where two-acre property just on the western outskirts of the village has been transformed into one of the most attractive country homes in the suburban section.

Too active to sit down in idleness, Mr. Kalbfleisch cares for his garden and grounds and for his hobby he goes in for lawn bowling, one of the favorite outdoor sports of his boyhood Dominion of Canada. He puts the same energy that he displayed in business into bowling with the result that he is a great winner at the game. He has his home "all cluttered up" his friends say, with the cups he has won in competition at Detroit where he goes each Saturday during the summer for play with other members of his club. In fact, the other day at Detroit, a team composed of Mr. Kalbfleisch, Rev. Walter Nichol of Plymouth and John Clark and Wm. Simmons of Detroit won first honors at the International Bowling Green Tournament, held at the Michigan metropolis.

Associated with Detroit so long, Mr. Kalbfleisch still maintains his Masonic and church connections there. He has held high offices in Detroit Masonic circles. He and Mrs. Kalbfleisch have been members of the Brewster-Peigrove Congregational church for 30 years and drive into Detroit nearly every Sunday morning to attend service.

Mr. Kalbfleisch is an active member of the Northville Exchange club and was honored by being elected a member of the Northville school board a few weeks ago.

Northville is glad that Mr. and Mrs. Kalbfleisch, after a life time in the big city, have come here to spend their sunset days.

MAN WHO CHASES WOMEN CAPTURED BY CHIEF SAFFORD

As a Mrs. Brown of Walled Lake and her sister, Mrs. La Tour, were driving down the Mop road toward Northville Wednesday afternoon, Howard Wilson, address unknown, according to police, drove alongside the car driven by the two ladies and attempted to stop them by edging them toward the ditch.

The women avoided Wilson's car and sped past him. Wilson pursued them again and succeeded in crowding Mrs. Brown's car to the ditch, jumped out of his own car and frightened the women.

The two women drove to Northville and reported the affair to Chief of Police Wm. S. Safford who immediately set out in pursuit of Wilson in the scout car. The latter

NOVI TEAM WINS SECOND ALLEN GAME

The Novi Blossoms won their second game from the Allen Ice base ball team on Sunday, August 9 at Novi by a score of 6 to 2.

Batteries for the Blossoms were H. German, Jr., and F. McCully and for the Allen team; Washburn and Stanley Potts.

German allowed the visitors only five hits, all of which were long drives but were easily handled by Gardner, Hothorn and Cox in the outfield.

Next Sunday the Novi Blossoms play the Detroit Metropolitans at Novi. The game will begin promptly at 2:30 p. m.

was caught on the Base Lane road and turned over to Oakland county authorities by Chief Safford where he will await arraignment.

Consider Your Baby's Shoe

Remarkable, isn't it, how much happiness there is in just looking at Junior's little foot. Really, your heart is in your eyes as you study its size and wrinkled contour. Isn't it odd the way a baby's shoe has a tendency to curl?

While you're looking at the tiny toes of it, the chances are your mind unconsciously visions the day when this shoe will be hidden in the toe of the young man whose foot it once fit so easily. What will baby be when he grows up? Your first thought is for his safety, his security. But he will need a start. Why not begin this very day to put a little away in our vaults week by week, or month by month? We will keep it safe for him and for you until the day when he will need it to give him a real advantage.
