

NORTHVILLE WAYNE COUNTY FAIR OPENS TUESDAY, AUGUST 25

THIEF TAKEN HERE AFTER FOUR YEARS

H. R. Custer, P. O. Robber
Is Taken Back to Prison

A story which graphically demonstrates the relentless pursuit of federal law violators by government secret service men was unfolded last week following the capture of Homer R. Custer, for the last four years a resident in and around Northville, living under an assumed name, for breaking jail at Elkins, West Virginia in 1927.

Custer, along with two companions, had robbed the post office in Pierce, W. Va., had been caught and was awaiting sentence at Elkins when he escaped, coming straight to a farm near Northville.

Chief of Police Wm. H. Safford, together with an agent from the United States Department of Justice, captured Custer in Northville Thursday afternoon. Custer at first declared that he was not the man wanted, but his identity was quickly established when Chief Safford seized his right arm, rolled up the sleeve, disclosing the initials "H. R. C." tattooed in letters one quarter inch high while Custer was serving an enlistment in the army. Other scars and marks were a tight web around Custer's neck, conclusively showing he was the criminal for whom a four year nation-wide search was held.

It was disclosed by department officials that several thousands of dollars had been spent by the government to bring this man to justice—to force him to pay the penalty for his crime against society.

The story of the pursuit, unyielding and vigilant, dated from a few hours following the jail-break. Secret service men closely watched relatives of Custer in the states of Maryland, West Virginia, North and South Carolina and in Michigan, knowing all the time that eventually the man would endeavor to get into communication with his relatives for the purpose of receiving help, because of loneliness, or some other reason—but it was a foregone conclusion that he would give himself away by writing.

The department operators thought they had him, one time. A faint clue sent them to an automobile factory in Detroit where their quarry had been working but when they arrived Custer was gone and again Uncle Sam's men resumed their policy of eternal vigilance.

Another tip sent detectives into the coal mines of Pennsylvania but the story was not yet ended—Custer had once more eluded the arm of the law, disappearing into obscurity, while the detectives waited for the least sign of where their man had gone.

Their efforts were rewarded when a letter to a relative, mailed in Detroit, was intercepted, disclosing the fact that Custer was in hiding under an assumed name in and around Northville. The officers closed in, caught Custer, and before U. S. Marshal Quinn of Detroit, he confessed that he had at last arrived at the end of his trail—he was the man who had robbed the post office, he it was who had escaped from jail four long years ago.

Operators for the government learned from Custer that they had missed the object of their search a few weeks ago by a narrow margin. Custer, believing that the hunt for him had died down, visited his relatives in Maryland. The detective assigned to watch the relatives there had been taken off the chase for the short period of four days, the exact duration of Custer's visit home. When the detective returned to the case he had stuck to, for close to four years, his man had gone.

But finally the law caught up to Homer R. Custer and by now the

NORTHVILLE CHIEFS TRIMMED BY PONTIAC AT MILFORD FAIR

The Northville Chiefs were defeated at Milford fair in base ball last Friday by Pontiac, but the Chiefs made a record.

They admit that they made more errors and "bonehead" plays in that one game than any game played—hence a record for them.

Came ended Pontiac 8; Northville 5, with no abbas to offer except poor base ball playing.

"Sunday an exceptionally fast colored team, the Colored Travelers, plays the Chiefs at Northville."

MRS. ADELLA BROOKS FALLS FROM PORCH

Mrs. Adella Brooks, who is 37 years of age, had the misfortune to fall from her back porch Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Brooks had stepped out to empty a bit of refuse when she missed the steps and fell, landing down five steps. Fortunately Mrs. P. S. Harmon, her next door neighbor, was within call and came to her rescue promptly and called Dr. A. A. Holcomb who was just driving out of his yard across the road. Prompt treatment was given Mrs. Brooks and it was found that no fractures or other serious injuries had been caused by the fall.

Mrs. Brooks lives alone except for having as a roomer, Miss Cecil Elford, who is in the office of the Detroit Edison company. Miss Elford remained with Mrs. Brooks for the remainder of the day and a nurse was put in charge. Aside from the shock and a few minor cuts on the face Mrs. Brooks has been fortunate to have escaped more serious results and her friends are hoping for a speedy recovery.

NOTED SINGER COMING

Syver Thingstad of Pontiac, a classmate of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie G. Lee at Albion college, will be their guest Sunday and will sing a solo at the morning service at the Methodist church here. Mr. Thingstad is a bass singer of remarkable ability and prominence and has been studying in Philadelphia.

THIEVES AFTER TRACTOR

Someone is going to go to jail if they keep on fooling with the township tractor, Highway Commissioner Herman Kreger tells The Record. About ten days ago a mysterious fire at Pettit's corners did damage of $100 to the machine and thieves have been taking gas from the tank and also parts. Steps have been taken so that the next miscreant who comes around is very apt to get into trouble.

SUPT. KNAPP GIVES STORY OF HIS LIFE

School Head Is Speaker at The Exchange Club
Wednesday

Every year I have a better time than the year before, said Superintendent Thad J. Knapp to members of the Exchange club and guests Wednesday noon as he gave his autobiography. Telling the stories of their lives is the part occasionally allotted to members on the club program.

Injecting bits of humor and philosophy into his talk, Supt. Knapp modestly and very interestingly took his hearers from his boyhood days in Northville, where he was born, through the various stages of his life, down to the present where he is back in his old home town, head of its schools. He touched very lightly on his career in the educational world, but the high place he has won in his profession is well known to all of Northville.

It was the inspiration of a friend who started him studying Latin for four hours every forenoon so that he could pass the entrance examinations at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor. At the close of each college year he thought he would not return but go into business but again the inspiration of friends took him back to the campus and when he came back from college one day to do substitute teaching in Northville, he gained the thrill that "made me want to teach school."

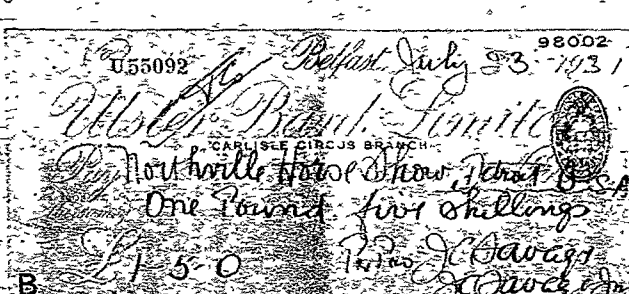

Mr. Knapp's reminiscences of his boyhood days, of selling newspapers, trading rabbits and goats, working in stores and on the farm, and of his care-free school days held the keenest attention of the company. Ralph Horton and Mayor Harry S. German were two of the boys with whom he carried on his trades and at one time the former was his only competitor in daily newspaper distributing in Northville.

After teaching in Reed City, Mich., Joliet, Ill., and long periods in Kennerly, N. J., and Highland Park, Mich., Supt. Knapp said he was glad to be back in Northville, with "the nicest job I ever had."

President C. B. Turnbull presided and stated that there would be no meeting next week due to fair activities.

The Baby Clinic will be held next Wednesday afternoon, August 26, at 2:00 o'clock, in the Village Hall.

Fair Gets Irish Check

Ever get a check for one pound and five shillings from Belfast, Ireland?

No.

Well the Northville Horse show gets that honor then. Russell Walker, chairman of the committee for the event, recently wrote to J. C. Savage, 419 Donnegall street, Belfast, regarding running an advertisement in the program which is gotten out in connection with the horse show. The savage firm is tailoring concern whose specialty is the making of breeches and riding suits. In answer to this letter, Mr. Walker was much pleased to receive a reply, but an order for an ad in the program and a check for one pound and five shillings. It goes without saying that it was keenly appreciated.

The above picture shows how the check looked and this is what the letter said.

119 Donnegall Street,
Belfast, Ireland,
July 23rd, 1931.

Russell Walker, Esq.,
Detroit Mich., U. S. A.
Dear Sir,

We have your letter for which many thanks in ref. to the Horse Show and your program for same.

Please find enclosed our cheque for the amount of £1-5-0 being about $6.00 in your coinage for half-page in the program.

We have no check of the exact copy as used by the Detroit Hunt Club, but you may use that copy for your issue, although prices of our goods have been eased a little or late, but this will not matter much.

If we had had time we would have suggested some such means as offering a pair of breeches or jodhpurs as a consolation prize in some class, as by this means we can give a garment which we reckon at cost price while the buyer gets retail price value, and so raising the value of the prize list to the Club, but perhaps the Advertiser will be the best for us and suggest you carry out this occasion.

We are glad to note the goods we made for you are O. K. and thank you for bringing the Show to our notice.

Hoping this will find you well. Yours very faithfully,

J. C. Savage

FIVE DAYS OF UNUSUAL ATTRACTIONS ARE READY FOR VISITING THRONGS

All Kinds of Exhibits, Horse Show, Poultry Display, Free Acts, Ball Games, Baby Show, Wedding and Fireworks

Fair week, August 25 to 29—a synonym for a tensing aside of all cares for the pleasure of seeing hundreds of exhibits, to enjoy the horse races, the ball game, the multitudinous devices designed to add to the enjoyment of old and young alike.

As in olden days, "all roads lead to Rome," bright and early Tuesday morning all roads will lead to the Northville Wayne County Fair.

So much has been crammed into the five days of Fair that it is impossible, so officials, to adequately describe it.

Among the features to be presented will be the huge poultry show, the usual live stock exhibition, a splendid horse show, full four nights' theatrical fireworks, the finest theatrical talent obtainable in the free acts, an impressive, regal public wedding, a baby show of unusual merit, and other high lights, common to fairs all over the country.

Bulls, window cards, newspaper advertisements, and a broadcasting automobile have spread the news of the mammoth celebration far and wide. Northville will put on its "best clothes" for the Fair and plans have been completed to take care of the thousands that will attend. No detail has been neglected to make the 1931 Northville Fair one that will long be remembered in the minds of those who will visit it.

"All of the officials," declared Nelson C. Schrader, president of the Fair, "and those connected with the enterprise have worked hard to make it the most picturesque and colorful fair in the state."

Wayne County Fair, has, through 14 successful years won an enviable reputation for excellence and this year more than any other, we desire to keep up this high standard.

"The Northville Wayne County Fair cordially extends greetings and a hearty invitation to strangers, townpeople and their families throughout the state to come to Northville during Fair week and join in the festivities."

For the second time, the case of Frank B. Ainger, of the Red Rose Farms dairy, charged with failure to comply with public health regulations regarding the handling of milk, was postponed Tuesday evening before Justice Wellington Roberts. Next Tuesday, August 25, was set as the date for further hearing.

Dr. W. H. Johnston, health officer, called in Fred M. Slater, state inspector, and the latter was present and made a short statement to the court. "We feel that we can run out this trouble," said Mr. Slater and on the motion of Fred J. Cochran, village attorney, the case was adjourned. Justice Roberts said, "I am willing to postpone the case with the distinct understanding that Mr. Ainger, either plead not guilty and stand trial or else plead guilty."

Mr. Cochran stated that Mr. Ainger had applied for a license. The other item in dispute is the matter of screening runways and doors at the Red Rose milk station on South Center street.

Speaking in general, Mr. Slater said, "The Northville milk supply is above the average."

AINGER HEARING AGAIN POSTPONED

For the second time, the case of Frank B. COLORED TEAM TO MEET THE CHIEFS

The Colored Travelers will cross bats with the local Northville Chiefs at the fair grounds here Sunday at 3 o'clock.

This colored team defeated Wayne last week and come to Northville from up the state where they have won most of their games. They come highly recommended as men and players and will interest many in their skill and comical antics. This game should put the Chiefs on edge for their game in the fair tournament.

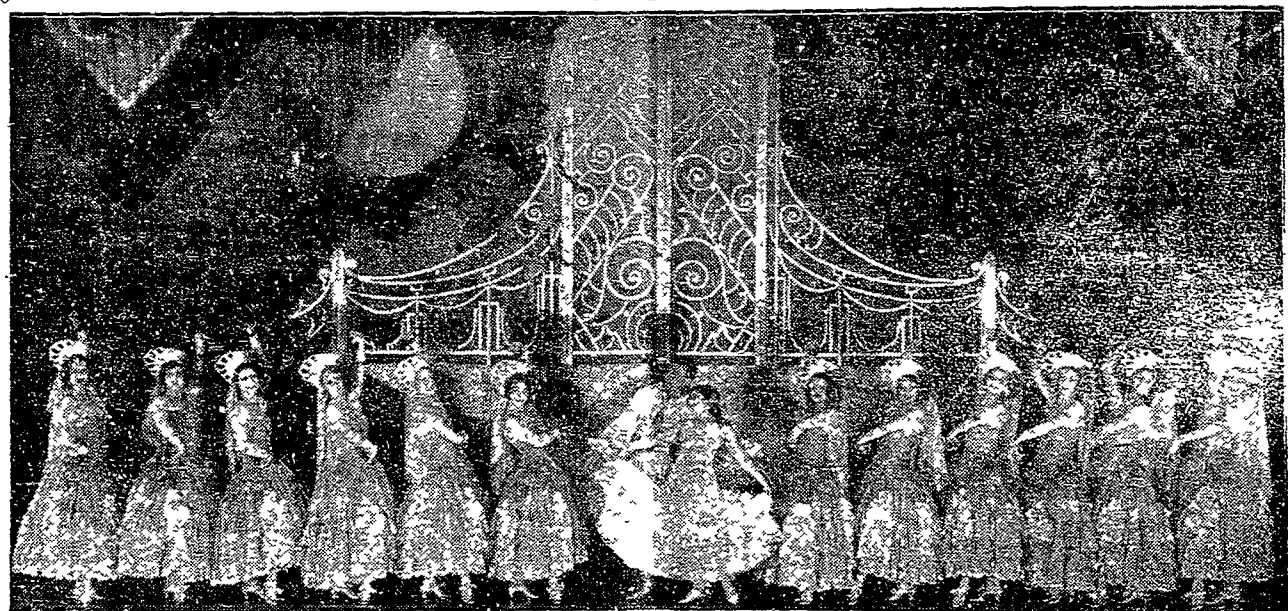

Speaking in general, Mr. Slater said, "The Northville milk supply is above the average."

TAX HOURS

John Litsberger, village treasurer is at the Lapham State Savings bank every day, including Saturday, from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. to receive taxes.

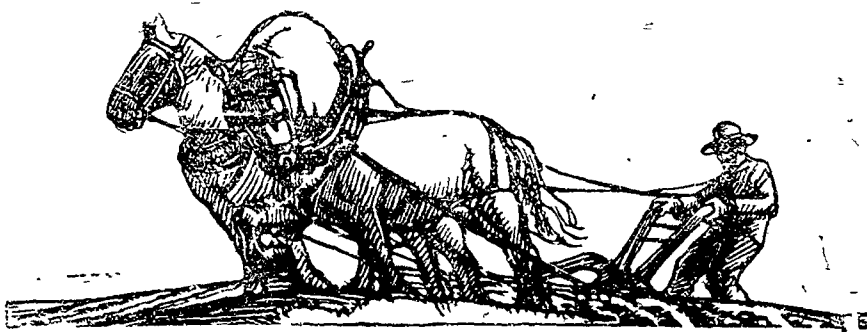

As The Record goes to press news is received of the capture of Paul Samuels who escaped from the DeRoCo prison some time Thursday morning. Samuels wearing prison clothes was found strung in a car on the old Winick farm by some Northville residents who called Chief of Police Wm. Safford and Officer Robt. Pickett. Samuels' absence had not yet been discovered when the Northville authorities brought him to the House of Correction.

Fair Presents Group of Beauties in Blue Heaven Revue

Those Twelve Dainty Dimples, world-famous artistic group of dancers who appear with Henry H. Luaders' Blue Heaven presentation at the Northville Wayne County Fair are an outstanding feature. These ladies have appeared in the larger theatres throughout the United States and are not only exceptionally good to look at but possess rare talent and ability. They make numerous changes of excellent costumes and they will appear right at the Fair with Mr. Jack Figaro as master of ceremonies coming direct from New York.

CHEERFUL THOUGHTS

The good name of Northville is made "gooder"—as our little "red head" might say—by the fine concerts given by the Northville band. All who hear it are amazed at such fine music. We ought to maintain some gold medals for Director Head, Manager Fred W. Lyke and all those faithful musicians.

It comes next week. We dump all our worries that week and set out to enjoy the "big show." Anyway, it is more fun than just watching folks at a fair.

At the do you find any town like ours with as few buses to "places to rent? What'll it be next summer when the folks are humming full blast?

We are to please us, take a turn around the country some and see how the fruit trees hang heavy with the peaches, pears, and—yes, we're right—plums. A with a pan of apples every night, the radio on—and a of papers and magazines—well isn't that a cheerful thought?

Ever take a walk—yes, we know it isn't done any more—around town and pat yourself on the back that Northville people take so much pride in their homes? No wonder folks are coming out from Detroit to live here.

People are talking more optimistically. Often "dark" before dawn. Business is getting better—no foolin'. Traveling men say so.

Appreciate the fact that you can go any direction from Northville and hit a golf ball any old way you want to.

A WOMAN'S HONOR

A woman has one priceless possession—her virtue. Some hold their honor high while there are others who sell it cheaply. Many women would die rather than give up the priceless pearl of honor.

It is not customary nor easy to speak of sex matters in the editorial columns of newspapers. Yet we sometimes think that we should speak more plainly about it.

In this community the other day there was a happening that brought home sharply the dangers to women in the keeping of their honor. A girl met a strange man and afterward permitted him to take her and another girl friend riding. Then the friend was taken home and the girl was left alone to continue the automobile ride with the man who proved to be a moral leper. He attempted criminally to assault the girl, while the car was parked by the roadside, and would probably have succeeded had not the screams of the girl brought about her rescue by a nearby farmer.

Here was a case where a woman held her honor high. Yet there are farmers around Northville—and every other town—who will tell you that nightly parked cars in woods and lonely roads tell of "petting parties." Does any one who knows anything at all of human nature think for a minute that all of this is innocent stuff—to be smiled at as the sweet romancing of young folks? No, woman's honor is bartered, often willingly, in these meetings in the dark, in the automobile. Virtue is sometimes even brazenly sneered at by some of the participants in these clandestine revels.

What can be done about the protection of a woman's honor in these days when so many of the old-fashioned ideals seem to be subjects of attack?

Nothing much can be done for the young woman who will lightly prostitute her virtue—she will find plenty of young men who will debauch her and afterward discard her like an old shoe, and in the end she will have plenty of remorse.

For the woman who has not been taught the biological make-up of young men and the physical passions that are stirred in them by certain contacts, a lot should be done. If the parents can't make this girl realize to what dangers she subjects her virtue when she spends hours in parked cars, then the family physician should be called in to give some warnings of what may happen.

If parents don't realize how easy automobiles and night riding—with the subsequent parking—make it for a young woman to lose her honor, let them talk to our police officers who know some sordid stories that don't get into the newspapers. In fact, we are told that this attempt at rape is not the first that has happened right in this locality the past few months. (There are some things that it is hard to put into the newspapers.) Then if parents let their children have cars in which to run around at all hours of the night, and if they don't care where their girls are until long after midnight, they need not be surprised if they wake up late to find their daughter's honor gone. That is a sad hour for any parent.

As for the girl who "picks up" with any young fellow on the street or at a dance at night and then expects to be treated honorably, well she is just fooling with what may be worse than dynamite.

AT LAST—GOLF

After having threatened for years to play golf, we have tried it out. Friday, August 14, was the day.

Harry Newman, University of Michigan quarterback, came over from Ann Arbor to visit his former roommate, "Ad" Schwenger, advertising and news expert of The Record, and these two renowned golfers lured us out to a course where we played nine holes. They are patient, kindly young men and we could not have fallen into better hands to learn the first we ever knew about golf in actual practice.

Newman showed us how to hold the left arm stiff while making the wild swipe at the little white ball (bought in Northville at three for a dollar) and "Ad" said: "Now, Mr. Baldwin, if you keep your eye on the ball you might hit it—most beginners can't even hit it." Outside of gouging a dozen holes in the turf and swishing vainly through thin air another twelve times, we hit the ball every time, and twice just as far down the fairway as those Ann Arbor chaps did. "You really did better than I thought you would," said Harry when we sipped ginger ale in the clubhouse afterward.

That was the most outdoor exercise we have had for weeks and if we ever do go in for golfing, it will be for the purpose of walking out the kinks in our physical frame and of getting next to the open air, the birds, the trees, and the little lakes, and man-made sand holes they scatter here and there to try out your golf patience.

P. S. We should say this is "depression" year and our clubs were borrowed of one of the boys. Next year we buy our own clubs.

And the next time we play golf we are going to take along Mrs. Baldwin—she would make a real golfer.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

At what age should a man retire from active work?

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

TRAGIC WARNINGS

(A D Gallery in The Caro Advertiser)

Stories have been heard steadily of recent years about bandits (and worse) who have made it a practice to come upon parked couples in cars at night, and rob and attack the occupants.

This week the deaths of four young people, 16 and 17 years of age, furnish a tragic warning to parents that they had better know where their children are, and what they are doing if they wish to keep the youngsters safe.

These young people were out in a car until very early in the morning. The apparently had parked on a side road when they were set upon and killed, and their bodies burned beyond recognition in the car.

Without wishing to say that there was anything wrong in the trip of the two couples, it is a fact that they would have been much better off in many ways if they had been home and in bed at around three o'clock in the morning instead of riding around the country in a car.

Parents of course want their children to have fun, and to enjoy privileges that they, the parents, never had, but that kind of liberty can be given too freely to children.

IT CAN'T BE DONE

(Albion Evening Recorder)

There is one born every minute! This time a young man in New Jersey decided to try out the old theory that a lighted match would be extinguished if quickly plunged into gasoline. Result: life is now in the hospital in a critical condition, his body badly burned.

Theoretically a "lighted" match could be plunged through pure air into the liquid. Unfortunately, it is impossible to fulfill these requirements, as wherever there is gasoline there is also gasoline vapor immediately above it. This vapor mixed with air forms a powerful explosive, the same as that which propels motor cars. In the foregoing experiment the lighted match had to pass through a layer of vapor mixed with air, which immediately exploded and covered the victim with flaming gasoline.

As an interesting sidelight to this experiment, the National Board of Fire Underwriters reported a 1929 loss of $15,500,000 caused by petroleum and its products and listed under the heading "Strictly Preventable." It also points out that people who attempt to do dry cleaning in their homes with gasoline are courting disaster.

Whenever anyone feels inclined to take liberties with a gasoline he should remember that potentially it is nothing less than a death-dealing explosive. The vapor from one gallon of gasoline mixed in proper portions with air, has explosive possibilities equal to 83 pounds of dynamite.

THE TOWN IS THE FARMER'S

A Monticello, Minnesota, farmer has pictured his idea of the home town in such a unique manner that his words are being copied throughout America. It is the best thesis we have read and it sets a standard for the town merchant to live up to here it is:

If we choose, we can truck our grain and stock to a city, and we can go to the city for our clothes, food and entertainment. We hold the power of life and death over the little local town. If we neglect it, it must surely starve to death, for it has no means of self-support. A few small towns have so died, but that most of them remain show we still want them. We may pretend to think lightly of that town, but still we want a location for our churches, lodges and high schools. We still want a place close at hand where we can find a doctor, druggist, a veterinarian, a ball of twine or a plowshare. The sort of merchants we find in our town are the sort we support with our patronage. If we make a policy of dealing only with the man who carries a goodly assortment of dependable articles he will stay in business and prosper, and as he prospers he will naturally offer better assortments and better service. So with the kind of lawyers, doctors and dentists in a city farmers may not have much influence on the character of business and professional men, but in the little town patronage is the controlling influence. The little town is more than a convenience for buying every-day supplies. It is more than a first-aid station in case of a broken leg or a broken binder. It is the community center where social life of the farm people finds its most natural and most potent expression. The casual contacts of people mingling with one another as they go about their errands are what bind a community with a character all its own. Quite apart from any formal organization, the community spirit that centers in the farmers' town is the fundamental unit in agricultural life of our country. Our little town represents us as do our red barns and tall silos. It is our responsibility and

HOMEMAKER'S CORNER

BY MRS. EDITOR

"HOORAY (?)—HERE COMES A LOT OF COMPANY"

Let's run out to Aunt Mary's to dinner, glibly say the city cousins and away they go. Here's the other side of their "surprise."

"Honk, honk" sounds a car as it drives into the farm yard. "Run, children and see who's there." Mother lays down her iron, and wipes her forehead with her apron as she peeps out from behind the curtain.

"Why, it's John and Aunt— and all the children—and oh—dear, it's a quarter to 11." Thus last was followed by a panicky remembrance that on this hot ironing day lunch was to have been sandwiches, iced cocoa, and left-over cherry pudding. But to the curb rushes mother (like a soldier to battle) before the last of the seven passengers cheerfully emerged from the car.

"Well, well Aunt Mary, we just thought we'd run out and surprise you. What you got to have for dinner—chicken, I suppose?" Like all Aunt Marys she smiles outwardly, and groans inwardly as she bravely lies, "My, but we're glad to see you all. Dinner'll be ready in no time." While the cousins dispose themselves comfortably upon the shady porch mother's brain meets the emergency as she has many times before.

If Aunt Mary lives in the city she dispatches the fleetest footed child to the market for beefsteak and if she is in the country the nearest meat is raised for city cousins all ways think why it's no trouble at all—chickens run all over the place. The table is stretched to its limit and the long table cloth (so long to iron and so short to suit) is smoothed over, its hospitable length and all kinds of good things are loaded upon it while mother keeps up a brave front. "Pooh, it's nothing to have company, I'm tickled to death to do it" and she dodges in and out among chattering fat aunts and squirming nephews, back and forth from stove to the table till finally, red-faced and panting (yet smiling) she seats all the "dear-kindred" while "bell-rings" cousin John beams jovially. "Well, Aunt Mary, you do beat the Dutch. I never saw anyone who could get up a good meal so easily in such short order."

So it has always been and always will be as long as big-hearted Aunt Marys will stand over kitchen stoves and cook for relatives. One of our opportunities. We can select its business and professional people almost as we will, our flocks and herds, retaining those we want and eliminating those who do not measure up to our standards. We can influence its citizenship by choosing the doorways we enter and the counters over which we buy our goods. The little town is ours and it will be what we make it.

Northville country wife said to us the other day, "No, I don't expect to take any vacation this summer—I'm taking care of others who are taking it." Reminds us of the epitaph on a New England tombstone: "Mary Ann has gone to rest."

With her head on Abram's breast, A waggish Harvard student came by and added with chalk on the stone: "It's mighty nice for Mary Ann. But pretty hard on Abraham." Hospitality is fine when you're ready for it and when folks come for friendship—hot for food. We have found that in this day of short distances on account of automobiles it is a good thing to have some things high on a top shelf of the pantry to be used only in case of "emergency."

Very timely comes the following clipping from another woman who gives suggestions for this "Emergency Shelf."

THE EMERGENCY SHELF

The "meat indeed" is the emergency shelf because it serves so readily in a time of sudden and dire need. The abundance of its supply depends on one's accessibility to the store or the delicatessen, but every home needs a few well selected cans of food stored away for the unexpected guests on a Sunday evening or the late arrival dropped in near times when you are persuaded to remain and break bread with you.

Only one can of a kind, but a well chosen variety makes the ideal emergency shelf. It might contain such as this:

A can for two of soup: beef extract, for soup, tea or gelatin jelly. A can of salmon or chicken to heat and cover with white sauce or use in salad. Potted meat for sandwiches, shrimp for salad, ham, bacon, dried beef for breakfast or luncheon.

Beans, asparagus, tomatoes, peas, corn for soup, salad or sauce. Noodles or macaroni to cook with tomato sauce or cheese.

Canned cheese which will keep fresh, and pimientos.

There are all sorts of crackers, cakes and even plum pudding which will keep fresh indefinitely in their patent wrappers. The same may be said of fruits.

Powdered sugar, cocoa, chocolate, coconut, candied fruits and lady fingers help in making a quick dessert—such as, a Charlotte Russe, Gelatin, corn starch, eggs, lemons, olives and sauces for cold meat should be on hand—and above all two cans of condensed milk, for puddings, sweet fishes or chocolate, when fresh milk is not available.

With such a "young grocery" to fall back upon the unforgotten housewife can surprise her guests and her husband with as delicious a meal as if she had spent the whole week in preparation.

NORTHVILLE Wayne County FAIR

Every Thursday Night

By "AD" SCHWENGER

In keeping with this column's policy of staying abreast of the times, we herewith announce the addition of a new member to the column's staff of undercover operators.

Gus, the photographer is not particularly intelligent, but, as Gus himself declared under severe grilling, "Even the 'smat' boys aren't any better off today than I am."

Gus has had a wide background of experience covering everything from washing dishes, cutting lawns, to running for senator. He is particularly apt at disguises and alleges that he can get in many places, take pictures and get out without being discovered. (Editor's note: Gus spent a year and a half as a star boarder of the state for getting in to someone's home at night and not getting out in time. The state successfully caught Gus's activities for a short while resulting in a severe blow to Gus's pride. Please don't mention the visit to him as he is extremely sensitive.)

Starting right but with unusual vim and vigor, Gus secured two "scoops" for the column. The pictures may be a little squaged because, as Gus explains, he was hiding in a street cleaner's push wagon when he snapped the camera for his first shot and on the second illustration, Gus was doing some fancy dancing, too.

Below we present one of the greatest "scoops" on metropolitan papers in journalistic history. The picture was taken in Detroit in front of the city hall and shows some real, actual money. Believe me, citizens, there's a picture!

How Gus did it, we don't know but the fact remains that he is one of the immortal few who has, within the past year, glimpsed some hard cash.

Bravo, Gus, Bravo!

Gus did some more snooping and caught up with a prominent Northville citizen (name disclosed on receipt of a stamped envelope) out dancing in the early dawn. Yeah, aesthetic dancing, too!

On further reflection, we believe that it would be unwise to inform folks as to who this yper in the shape of a doughnut is. (Think of the disgrace and humiliation his family would suffer. Nevertheless, we think it only fitting and proper that the public be warned. Have nothing to do with him. He's like the eggs you read about in that mouthwash ad—he'll fear you down socially.

They do say that the affliction can be cured after patient years of effort but the stigma once placed on a man is lasting. Beware!

Gus has done very well in his first ventures and it would seem that some applause would be fitting. He needs encouragement and if any of you readers (if any) would care to drop him a little note he would appreciate it immensely. Bulky parcels looking like bombs will positively not be accepted. Life is almost too difficult as it is.

Don't forget the dates for the Fair, August 25-29. We'll be seeing you there.

VICTIM OF EPILEPSY STRICKEN ON ROAD

Chief of Police Wm. S. Safford was called to the Taska farm four miles west of town on the Base Line road at 7:15 p. m. Tuesday evening by a report that a man had been struck by a car and left lying in the road.

Chief Safford found Edward Blake, approximately 35, of Plymouth, lying in the middle of the road suffering from epileptic fits. The sick man was rushed to the Sessions hospital in Northville where it was found necessary to strap him to the bed in order to keep him quiet.

Plymouth authorities called at 10 o'clock Tuesday evening and took Blake to his home in Plymouth.

Legion Notes

By Lisle Alexander
(In Legion News of Detroit)

There is hot news for every member who intends to go to Detroit for the National convention. Through good friends, I have a line on room accommodations for 20 men, located only a few blocks from downtown, clean and large, all under one roof, and can be reserved at a nominal rental for the week. Those who have attended National conventions know that this is a real find; because at that time the room does not seek the man, but the man seeks the room. These accommodations must be reserved at once, if we are going to take them, so please get in touch with me now and state your pleasure. Many more selling features are connected with this opportunity which I cannot mention here, so let me hear from you at once.

Be ready to help the Post fair week. Lots of things are planned with the hopes of making some money. Help the good cause along. It will soon be election time again. Do a bit of thinking and pick your officers for next year. You elect the officers, they outline the work, and then come back to you for your help in putting the things across. If one part of the wheel is weak, the whole thing wobbles and things do not run smooth and true. Let's make it a strong wheel and a true running wheel.

The editor has asked me along with all other correspondents, to cut this column to 200 words, at the most and to miss a week now and then. So if we are short or out entirely, you will know the reason.

Next regular meeting Tuesday, August 25, unless notified otherwise. See you soon.

Society Notes

Mrs. Yerkes Entertains Bridge Club Tuesday Afternoon

Mrs. Edith Yerkes was hostess to her bridge club Tuesday afternoon at her home. Two tables played during the afternoon and light refreshments concluded the delightful affair.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clark Entertain at Dinner

The hospitable country home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clark was the scene of a pleasant neighborhood gathering last Sunday evening when a company was entertained at a fine dinner. The usual good time was enjoyed.

Mrs. C. J. Kysor Honored at Family Reunion

A family reunion, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Karl D. Kysor, in honor of Mrs. C. J. Kysor, was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Kysor and daughter of Chicago, Ill.; Miss Dana Kysor of New York, Mrs. M. C. Cross and daughter of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Kysor of Detroit.

Four Northville Women Guests in Detroit

Mrs. Jennie Fitzgerald of Detroit delightfully entertained at lunch a group of old friends from Northville last Thursday afternoon when the time was spent happily in visiting. Those enjoying this hospitality were Mrs. Edith Yerkes, Mrs. Georgia Lovewell, Mrs. Belle Tatham and Mrs. Ida Hendryx.

Wayne Women Play Bridge at Lovewell Home

A party of Wayne women were delightfully entertained at the beautiful home of Mrs. Scott Lovewell in "Oakwood" Tuesday afternoon. This party was made up of a bridge club of Mrs. Wm. Janer, a niece of Mrs. Lovewell, who were invited to come over and enjoy the spacious recreation room in the basement. Following a dainty dessert luncheon the afternoon was pleasantly spent with bridge.

Surprise Shower Given to Miss Doris Teska

Surprising their old school friend, Miss Doris Teska, who is to become the bride of Aubrey Gates of Plymouth early in September, a merry group of a dozen girls went to the home of Miss Teska's grandmother, Mrs. Fred Foss, on Walnut street, where she makes her home, last Thursday evening. The surprise was very complete and the whole occasion was very happy and informal. At the close of a series of games of bridge and bistro a dainty lunch was served to the party. A basket of green and white was carried in and laid before the bride-elect. It contained many packages which were opened with interest and found to contain miscellaneous articles for the new home.

Miss Teska is a graduate of the Northville high school class of '29. For the past few months she has been sales-lady in the Sally Bell bakery.

Altar Society of Catholic Church Honors Father Schuler

The altar society of Our Lady of Victory church motored Tuesday to the hospitable home of one of their number, Mrs. J. R. Taylor, on the shores of Walley Lake. Here, on the broad porch overlooking the lake, a bountiful pot-luck dinner was spread and thirty guests partook of the meal happily together. Fr. Joseph Schuler was the guest of honor on this occasion and at the conclusion of the dinner Mrs. Pamela Kohler rose and in very fitting words bespoke the sentiments of the ladies when she presented Fr. Schuler with a generous purse as token of their high regard. This token was made in recognition of the fifteenth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood. Very greatly surprised that the ladies were aware of the anniversary, Fr. Schuler responded with gratitude for the gift which, as he said, was doubly acceptable in these "depression days". The afternoon hours were happily spent in playing informal games for which luscious prizes, wrapped in decorative boxes, caused much merriment.

Sixteen Merry-Go-Round "Girls" Gather with Mrs. Babbitt

One of the very pleasant social affairs of the summer was the porch party given by Mrs. Clara Babbitt at her home on Cady street Wednesday afternoon. The tables were set on the spacious, cool porch and were charming in their bowls of gay garden flowers. A delicious three-course menu was served by the hostess.

No formal married the pleasant social intercourse of these genuine friends who began their acquaintance back in school days. For years this group has met quite regularly to foster this warm friendship. No amusement is necessary to provide for these women who enjoy nothing better than to visit together as they play their needles happily. An unusual surprise was provided by the ingenious hostess on this occasion when instead of their sewing a pile of napkins to be used at the coming fair "Green Lantern" were folded, most of the members being members of the woman's union.

Guests from Detroit were Mrs. Ada Ambler and Mrs. A. W. Olde, Mrs. Bron Hewitt of Greenville and a sister of Mrs. Babbitt, Mrs. F. W. Woodworth of Detroit were also present.

Miss Eaton Is Showered at Meadowbrook

Honoring her sister-in-law, Miss Dolores Eaton, who is to become a bride early next month, Mrs. Sterling Eaton entertained a group of young women at a very charming bridge luncheon last Saturday afternoon at the Meadowbrook Golf club house.

A long table in the dining room seated sixteen guests. At each place were dainty place cards and tallies in the pastel shades used in the bowls of mixed garden flowers which graced the table. Crystal candelabra also added to the beauty of the tables.

Following the luncheon the guests retired to the lounge where the afternoon was passed with bridge resulting in first prize being won by Miss Reva Schrader, second prize, Miss Vance Masters and consolation, Miss Barbara Blackburn.

The mother of the bride-elect, Mrs. E. B. Eaton and the mother of the hostess, Mrs. E. B. Cavell, were honored guests at this occasion. From out of town guests were Miss Isabel Gelbeck of Lansing, Miss Frances Sonnevill of Kalamazoo and Mrs. Bernice Henry of Detroit.

A table in the lounge room Miss Eaton found piled high with lovely gifts of linen for the new home.

The dining room of the "Don P. Yerkes" home on Base Line road was lovely in its setting for the unique breakfast party given by Miss Ruth Yerkes, honoring Miss Dolores Eaton, a bride-to-be, yesterday.

The long table was centered with a low bowl of white filled with gay garden flowers of pastel shades and each of the thirteen places was marked with a dainty, silken cloth of black with tallies, cards attached. The guests were seated at eleven o'clock and in spite of the "unlucky number," the affair was most happy.

throughout. From the honey dew melon balls in grape juice which began this appetizing menu, the breakfast was perfect.

Returning to the living room following breakfast the bride-elect was led to an improvised "parlor," a small book case lined with green on whose shelves were all kinds of dainties which a bride will find most acceptable in her early days of housekeeping. Attached to each of these appetizing gifts was a menu contrived by the donor in which the article was to be used and the recipe for its use. Much interest was manifested in the survey of these gifts.

Guests from out of town were Miss Rose Mary Kerston of Detroit and the Misses Isabel Nadeau and Frances Sonnevill, house guests of Mrs. Eaton.

J. H. Cline, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cline and son Jack of Orlando, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Church of Cleveland, Ohio and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Barron of Detroit were the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Griswold.

MOTION PICTURE PROGRAMS

"BAD SISTER"

Marking the screen debut of two actresses from the New York stage, and another strong role in the hands of one of the most popular leading men in motion pictures, "Bad Sister," a sparkling comedy-drama produced by Universal, will show Sunday, August 23, at the Penniman Allen theatre.

Sidney Fox and Bertie Davis are the two girls in question and both give promise for successful screen careers. Miss Fox plays the leading feminine role of Marianne, a spoiled, selfish daughter of small-town parents, and Miss Davis is seen as her far more worthy sister. The man in the case is Conrad Nagel, who can always be depended upon for a pleasing, capable performance and it may be said that he has never appeared to better advantage than in "Bad Sister."

Zasu Pitts, as a combative servant in the household of the Madison family, is a positive delight in a characterization which is at the same time funny and very true to life, and Slim Summerville also adds greatly to the entertainment value of the picture. Indeed, the cast is remarkable since it also includes such favorites as Bert Roach, Charles Winninger, Emma Dunn and Humphrey Bogart.

Robert H. Bailey directed "Bad Sister."

POST OFFICE FIGHT DEVELOPS IN WAYNE

A political fight centering around Congressman Seymour H. Person of the sixth congressional district over the recommendation of a postmaster for the Wayne post office was in the offing today when acting Postmaster Charles C. Proctor announced that he would fight to the finish for the appointment. Proctor was named as temporary head of the post office by former Congressman Grant M. Hudson last December to fill out the unexpired term of Harry Ziegler who resigned.

Two weeks ago it was announced by Congressman Person that he had recommended Mrs. Louise Harper of the United States Senate and to Postmaster General Walter E. Brown for the appointment. The recommendation of the congressman, which practically assures the official appointment, is a political controversy attended in a permit them to name the appointee for any governmental vacancies in their district from among the three highest ranking the civil service examination.

At the time of his appointment as acting postmaster, Proctor said he was assured of the position for at least a four-year term, and that he resigned a position as operations manager at the Wayne County airport for that purpose. In the civil service examination, held for the position Proctor received the highest grade with Morris S. Harris receiving the second highest and Mrs. Harper the third highest.

The general unrest over the recommendation of Mrs. Harper for the post by Congressman Person is evidenced in the petition that has been circulating in the village for the past week. The petition which is signed by more than 90 per cent of the business and professional men of the village is directed to Postmaster General Walter E. Brown.

It seems that a sea serpent sighted by a returning fisherman off the coast of Massachusetts was only 50 feet long. In the days of real drinking the boys used to throw those small ones back in.

ter and he has turned out a picture which is in every way good entertainment. The original story was written by Booth Tarkington with screen adaptation by Tom Reed and Raymond L. Schrock.

"THE MIRACLE WOMAN"

A drama of how a girl finds her own salvation only after she has lost it—of how she falls from the heights to the depths and climbs back again only through her great love for a boy whose faith in her is as blind as his eyes—whose love for her is so self-sacrificing and beautiful that it puts her own hypocrisy to shame—that is the story told in "The Miracle Woman," the Columbia picture in which Barbara Stanwyck is starred, at the Penniman Allen theatre Saturday, August 22.

Adapted from a famous stage play by John Meehan and Robert Riskin, "The Miracle Woman" provides Miss Stanwyck with one of her greatest roles. It also provides for a spectacular production, a tremendous fire bringing to the story a thrilling that will be as awesome to the agent as to the emotions. It's a Frank Capra Production, directed by him. He will be remembered as the director of "My Sister Sam" and "Ladies of Leisure."

Robert H. Bailey directed "Bad Sister."

RUNAWAY AUTO CRASHES WINDOW AT MARZ GARAGE

"Look out, here comes a car!" With that warning cry ringing in their ears, Arthur R. Marx, Glenn Charter and Allen Potter leaped for cover today to avoid being hit by a large car that was driven recklessly straight for the two large plate glass windows of the Marx Motor Sales and Service company last Friday forenoon.

The three men were standing behind a Ford Victoria model, that was on display in the show room when Charter spied the car and cried a warning.

The driverless car belonged to Victor Edwards, tool salesman of Omaha, Nebraska who had parked it on a grade slightly ahead of the Northville Electric Shop. The car, weighted down with samples of tools could not be held by the emergency brake and the down-side gave it just enough momentum to roll away from the curb. The car struck backwards in a half-circle and completely demolished two large windows, 114 inches by 39 inches in the show room and damaged the Ford Victoria on display.

NORTHVILLE NEEDS SLOGAN, ROTARIANS ARE TOLD MONDAY

To broadcast to the outside world just where it is and what it is, Northville should have some town slogan, as such as, "Northville, Detroit's most picturesque suburb," Richard T. Baldwin, Record editor, told members of the Rotary club and guests at their luncheon Monday noon at the Presbyterian church house. He spoke on the topic, "Attracting Residents to Northville."

The speaker gave three ways in which he thought residents could be drawn to this ideal locality. First, Northville people should cultivate more civic pride in the consciousness of having an unusual community. Few places, said the speaker, so well combine the advantages of both city and country. Northville is only one hour away by automobile and the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor half an hour distant. We should also appreciate more our picturesque setting of hills and dunes which is attractive more and more people who desire suburban homes. Another big asset is that the institutions around Northville provide much employment which continues constantly through good times and bad; summer and winter.

In the second place, said Mr. Baldwin, Northville should imitate California's sublime confidence in telling the outside world about ourselves. The fact that we are not on a through-highway makes it all the more important to let people out in the state know about our town and its peculiar advantages.

A third method of gaining residents is to show a better spirit of friendship, and co-operation among the residents we now have and if they continue to live here the future is certain.

Northville in the decade from 1920 to 1930, according to the United States census, made a population gain of 48 per cent—a 50 per cent gain by five places anywhere. Father, Joe G. Schuler, presided and the club welcomed back Percy Angove, who has been away for weeks, first in study at Detroit City college and later on vacation. Among the guests were Dr. Robert H. Haskell of the Wayne County Training school and C. F. Rogers, north of the village and Hoyt Woodman.

HEARD ON STREET

Said an old Northville man who ought to know "A young man never goes down to business life unless he takes upon himself the responsibility of a wife and home."

Another said "Yes, women are a lot smarter than men. I have always noticed when I tell a funny story that it is the women who 'catch on' quicker than the men."

FOR health's sake, meat should be eaten once a day, even in summer, according to dietitians, because it belongs to the protein or muscle building family. Ham Loaf makes an ideal, economical summer dish. It may be sliced cold for picnic sandwiches, or served as the principal dish for dinner. And of course, to have it at its best, it should be baked in an Electrochef oven. Electrochef's mild, penetrating moist heat retains the delicious natural flavor of ham, and seals in all the beneficial juices that are lost through "drying out" in an ordinary oven.

Has Your Kitchen Stove These ELECTROCHEF Features?

1. A clean kitchen, a clean stove—no soot, no fumes.
2. Cool cooking—summer and winter. 3. Full flavor cooking—sealed in healthful food values. 4. Exact oven control—no baking disappointments.

Never been more than one kind of trouble at a time. Some people bear three—all they have now, all they ever had and all they expect to have! Jesus is our burden-bearer—come to Him with your load. He says, "Come unto Me all ye who are heavy laden and I will give you rest. Learn of Me. My yoke is easy and My burden light."

David knew the secret of a victorious, happy life, he said, "I go to the Lord who daily beareth my burdens."

Come to Jesus now!

St. Paul's Lutheran

Divine service is held every Sunday morning at the usual hour, 11 o'clock.

The meeting of the voters of the congregation is held quarterly. The church officers meet the week before the voters' assembly. Ladies Aid meets every second Thursday afternoon of every month at 2 o'clock in the church hall.

The Lutheran church of the Missouri Synod broadcasts every Sunday afternoon over Station WXYZ from 2 to 2:15. Everyone is cordially invited to tune in on these broadcasts.

St. Paul's Lutheran bids all a hearty welcome!

Presbyterian Church
Service of worship in First Presbyterian church Sunday, August 23rd at 10:30. The minister, Rev. H. G. Whitfield, will preach.

Our Lady of Victory Church
The ladies of the parish had a most enjoyable picnic at the home of Mrs. J. L. Taylor on the north bank of Waikiki lake last Tuesday afternoon. The pastor was given a most enjoyable surprise in the form of a practical gift for his fifteen-anniversary.

Next Sunday is Communion day for the ladies and girls. A "bake sale" will be held at the Palace meat market tomorrow morning (Saturday, August 22). In the matter of worship, if God is the object of that worship then it seems logical that He shall decide what it will be. All neighbors of worship contrary to His decision are out of place. It is not what we want, it is what He wants.

Methodist Church Notes
Services next Sunday morning at 10:30.

Sunday school at 12 noon. Rev. Wm. Richards, pastor, will preach. Come and worship.

Novi Methodist Church
Rev. Wm. Richards will preach at 9 a.m. Everybody welcome.

Baptist Church
Next Sunday, August 23rd, in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Carlton H. Snashall, field secretary of the Northern Baptist seminary of Chicago, will occupy the pulpit. We are able to give Dr. Snashall's sermon subject but we suggest that it will be most profitable to hear this prominent man. The Northern Baptist Seminary has had a wonderful growth for the 15 years of its existence and has already a large body of alumni.

Hours of worship, 10:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.
Bible school at 11:45 a.m.

Novi Baptist Church
Morning worship 10:30
Sunday school at 12 noon
Prayer meeting on Wednesday evening. The Bible study is the life of Moses.

The Mission Band met for a short session following the W. C. T. U. meeting at Mrs. Root's cottage on Thursday. Plans were made for a little venture by the Mission circle in the near future. Be ready for an invitation. Mrs. Flint is the committee in charge.

The Devotional commission of the B. Y. P. U. led the meeting Sunday night is the second in the series of eight meetings held by the 4 groups. In point of originality it was unique, taking the form of an old-fashioned school, each pupil appearing when the bell rang, attired in school boy and girl costumes of at least 25 years ago, carrying dinner pails and books (Bibles). The ridiculous soon became serious when they entered heartily into the lesson before them. "Sunday" its amusements and observances was the assignment. A lively discussion followed bringing prominent many ideas and serious convictions of those present. About 40 attended this meeting. Miss Rowena Root was the school mistress.

Mr. Farmer—

During the approaching week you will enjoy a hard-earned and well deserved vacation from the cares and worries of your farm. You will see what other farmers are doing in the way of raising better crops and live stock—the entire Fair will be interesting and educational to you.

Why not stop in and visit us? Renew old acquaintanceships, make new ones, or possibly we can best be of service to you in discussing financial matters. In any case, we'll be glad to see you.
