

NORTHVILLE FAIR ATTRACTS UNUSUAL NUMBER OF ENTRIES

P. M. SPRING WILL BECOME BEAUTY SPOT

Rotary Club Plans A Well House, Flowers and Shrubbery

The widely known P. M. Spring, near the railroad station on the Northville-Plymouth road, is to be made one of the town's beauty spots.

For some time the Northville Rotary Club has been working on plans for improving this remarkable spring which weekly draws hundreds of people to Northville from Detroit and other nearby places. Permission has been secured from the P. M. Spring railroad for beautifying the spot and with this secured, work has been started this week on the actual construction.

Plans developed by the Rotarians call for enclosing the spring with a unique building, eight feet square constructed to resemble the old-time well house with its "old, oaken bucket," and this will be surrounded by lawn, shrubbery and flowers. The water will emerge from the building in a fountain such as one used to see in the olden days of wells and buckets with their chains. A walk will lead to the highway.

The gulley that lies between the spring and the pavement will be filled so as to make level ground all around the well house and the place will become a park-like one of which the community will be very proud. Before the new building can go up it will be necessary to tear down the old platform that covers part of the spring. Then to make the picture complete, the bank back of the spring will be cut down. All in all, the project is one that will make the P. M. Spring more than a gathering place for people who seek pure water—it will be a beauty spot, surrounding the "old oaken bucket" and the charm of green grass, flowers and shrubbery.

Some Detroit people make pilgrimages to the spring every week and each takes home a dozen or so containers of the sparkling water.

THE NOVI BLOSSOMS DEFEAT SOUTH LYON

The Novi Blossoms came through with another victory Sunday, August 23, when they walloped the South Lyons Daisies 14 to 6.

Lack of pitchers cost the Daisies any chance to win. Manager Charles Smith had only one moundman, Harold Slayball, who had pitched a game on the previous Thursday and he showed the results of too much work when he met the Blossoms. Smith had no one to replace him, and he had to go the whole route.

The Novi Blossoms' old friend, Mat Mauren, proprietor of the general store at Novi, was not there but his yearly gift was on hand. This three-ball gift was more than appreciated.

Efficiency and Not Marriage Is Issue of Women Teachers Declares Supt. T. J. Knapp

"The question whether a married woman, whose husband has work and is able to support her, should be dismissed as a teacher in the public schools is a question too big for any of us to decide," said Supt. T. J. Knapp in an address before the Northville Rotary Club Monday.

"The question to decide," Supt. Knapp went on to say, "is whether or not a certain individual is the best person for a particular task."

The action in Detroit in the dismissing of married teachers was not in the interest of the children, stated Supt. Knapp. The selection of teachers, he stated, should always be in the interest of the pupils and not for any kind of exploitation, no matter how worthy it seems.

Supt. Knapp analyzed the work of the Northville schools the past year and showed how a large savings had been effected. In spite of the fact that the average enrollment increased from 600 in 1929-30 to 659.9 in 1930-31, and also that the administrative staff was increased by a clerk, a part time nurse and a personnel worker, a savings of $4,800 in teaching costs was brought about last year. This was done by means of reducing the teaching staff without any impairment of the

RESULTS OF FIRST DAY'S RACES

In the opening races of the Northville Wayne County Fair Wednesday afternoon The Great Belle Dewey, well driven by the owner-driver, Wm. Lavey of Howell, Mich., won her race in the 2-18 trot without trouble, the field being unable to make her trot faster than 2:12 1/2.

The 2-24 race was a hot contest between Mr. Piper's Bunker Worthing and Helen McKillop, well driven by Tommy Wynn. The four year old, Bunker Worthing, was best in the field and leading heat.

Results:
2-18 Trot, Three Heat Plan, Purse $300.00.
Great Belle Dewey (Lavey) 1-1 1/2
Diamond Dewey (Roche) 2-3 3/4
Brisco Girl (Vancut) 3-4 2
Brisco (Wilson) 4-5 4
Great Banco (Pratt) 5-6 5
The times for the three heats were 2:15, 2:12 1/2 and 2:13 1/2.
2-24 Pace, Three Heat Plan, Purse $300.00.
Bunker Worthing (Piper) 3-1 1/2
Helen McKillop (Wynn) 1-2 2
Don Seymour (Cripps) 2-3 5
Ullian Dillard (Oce) 4-5 2
Patricia Bladen (Burns) 5-6 4
Royal R. Grubbs (Hart) 6-7 6
Time: 2:18 1/2, 2:14 and 2:15 1/2.

REV. W. R. BARBOUR ENJOYS HILLSDALE VACATION SOJOURN

Rev. W. R. Barbour has returned from Hillsdale where he spent six days renewing old friendships and making new ones. Among the former friends at the meet was Dr. Wm. G. Spencer, president of Hillsdale, college and one of the most widely known speakers of the Middle West. R. H. Anierman, principal of the Northville High School, who with his family, is spending the vacation at Hillsdale, also entertained Mr. Barbour and both enjoyed the big ball game between Hillsdale and Pioneer which was won by the former, 10 to 6.

Mr. Barbour worshipped Sunday at the First (College) Baptist church and attended the county ministers' meet Tuesday at the home of Dr. James E. Bell. Especially delightful was his sojourn at a local fraternity. Several of the boys were spending the summer at the campus and made the Northville pastor feel that he "belonged."

HOME ECONOMICS RALLY DAY

The Home Economics Extension groups will start their work for the year with a Rally Day to be held in the Dearborn City Library, Thursday, September 3. The day's program will open with a pot-luck luncheon at 12 o'clock. From 1:30 to 2:30 there will be a business meeting at which time the Home Demonstration program will be outlined for the year. Mrs. Edith Wager of Monroe county will give the "high lights" of the Farm Women's Institute which she attended at Michigan State college the last week in July.

At 3 o'clock the women will have the opportunity to go through Henry Ford's Early American village.

This meeting is opened to all Home Economics Extension members. Information regarding the Rally Day may be secured from Emma Dabord, County Home Demonstration Agent at Dearborn Michigan.

2,500 ATTEND WEDDING AT LOCAL FAIR

Miss Gertrude B. Parmenter and Donald E. Starr are Participants

Before a crowd estimated at 2,500, Donald E. Starr and Gertrude B. Parmenter, prominent Northville couple, were married at the Northville Wayne County Fair grounds Wednesday evening, August 26.

The Rev. H. G. Whitfield, officiated, using the ring ceremony.

The public wedding ceremony following the Blue Heaven Revue, attracted a large crowd of people. As the event had been extensively advertised, who were "curious" to learn the identity of the happy couple, and to view the impressive service.

To the strains of Lobengrin's "Wedding March," the bride and groom walked onto the platform followed by the maid of honor, Miss Ellen La Cleir, of Pontiac, and the best man, Walter Grieg, also of Pontiac. Seven members of the revue, beautifully gowned, were bridesmaids.

The bride was attired in a white silk tulle gown and she carried a wedding bouquet of white Kildare roses. Miss La Cleir was beautiful in a shell-pink satin gown and carried a bouquet of rose colored, Dane Elmer Helen roses.

The flower girl was Mary Ellen Babbitt, dressed in a peach colored gown, and she carried a basket of Johanna Hill roses and Delphinium.

Immediately following the strains of "O Promise Me," sung by a member of the revue, the service was begun and every word was carried clearly and distinctly to the audience by means of amplifiers.

The ceremony carried many of those present back to the day of their own wedding ceremony and they sat quietly enjoying the solemnity of the occasion. At the conclusion of the wedding the happy couple was given a hearty cheer and the best wishes of the grandstand full of spectators was easily ascertained.

At the reception, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Babbitt on Rogers street, immediately following the ceremony, about 75 guests congratulated the bride and groom.

Felicitations were extended to the bride's father, Clarence Parmenter, and to Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Starr, the groom's parents. A luncheon was served and everyone partook of the beautiful 3-tier wedding cake.

Mrs. Starr was formerly in the employ of Mr. and Mrs. Babbitt and has lived at their home for several years. Mr. Starr is associated with the Thompson Aeronautical company of Detroit.

ADVERTISED LETTERS

The following letters are uncalled for at the Northville post office:
Geo. Viviano.
Lee Steel.
Mrs. R. Blake.
Miss S. E. Burl.
R. C. Restor.
Miss Dr. Marie Sahitsky.
Alex. Funke.
D. A. Calk.

NELSON SCHRADER, JR. WINS CULVER "TUXIS"

What father's heart would not swell with pride to receive a letter like the following which the Lieutenant Colonel of the Infantry at Culver Military academy wrote to Nelson C. Schrader concerning his son who has been a student in the academy this summer:

My dear Mr. Schrader:

Since the monthly reports were mailed you recently Nelson has qualified for his Bronze Tuxis. The boy is to be congratulated for winning this honor. It is entirely voluntary on his part and requires a wide range of activities in order to win it.

With kindest regards, I remain
Very sincerely,
W. R. Kennedy.

Junior returned home Wednesday in company with his sister, Miss Reva, and Mrs. Orlov Owen, who motored to Culver after him. During his two-months' stay at the academy Junior has entered heartily into the various activities. Making the varsity crew is one matter of pride. He will continue his work in the local high school this fall.

David Gage 92 Years Old

Four Generations—David Gage, his son, Stephen C., grandson, David, Jr., and great-grandson, Howard, Jr.

David Gage reached his ninety-second birthday on August 11. After a long and active life he is living quietly at the home of his daughter, Miss F. L. Thompson on Dunlap street.

Asked about his life history, Mr. Gage facetiously remarked, "I began life early on a farm in Novi township, three miles west of Grand River road. Within a radius of not many miles from this home his long life has been spent. 'I loved my home,' says Mr. Gage, 'and never wanted to go very far from it.'"

Born of sturdy parents, he possessed their traits of staunch adherence to his convictions which have made him a man of influence for good. His youth was unostentatiously spent on his father's farm in Novi where he attended the district school until at the age of 17 years he felt the urge to study further. At the State Normal college at Ypsilanti he studied until ready to start out on a teaching career which he engaged throughout the following 30 years.

Fifty years of standing behind the desk is a long time and during these years at least two generations passed through his tutelage. From starting his pupils in the fundamental "ABC's" and on through "Reading" and "Arithmetic" he led them on as far as he could encourage them to follow. The more ambitious he taught higher mathematics. "Of all the pupils I have taught," says Mr. Gage, "it is the very brightest and the very dull whom I recall—the mediocre have faded from my memory."

If it was in the rural schools that Mr. Gage taught, among them New Hudson, Wixom and Pleasant Valley. Many a man and woman have felt throughout life the urge of this teacher of their early years.

Through all his teaching Mr. Gage says, "I never used a whip and never had serious trouble. Problems were solved but they were solved without physical punishment." Asked his candid opinion of modern

Horse Show Is Colorful

Every box for the Northville Horse Show which began yesterday was sold by late Tuesday afternoon, announced Harry S. Clark, superintendent of the Horse Show. The complete list contained some of the most prominent of the state's equestrians.

Among those who have reserved boxes are Miss Peggy Answorth, Captain Tareff, J. W. Brussel, C. Crittenden, C. W. Pierce, F. H. Grennan, Harry Nicholids, W. R. Brown, L. Davis, Dr. Howard Burdett, F. F. Ingram, Chas. Newkirk, H. B. Clark, Russel Walker, Mrs. Blanch Forsythe, C. W. Hill, John Hettche, G. Power, D. J. Crowley, G. H. Brodie, J. W. Burton, C. H. Harrington, John Dyer, Betty Staheln, L. Bullen, Mrs. Dee Feury Mott, L. Droeger, F. J. Navin, F. Bailey, Mrs. H. M. Smith, Mrs. A. F. Reuben and a number of other prominent horsemen and women who have won championships in Michigan.

Junior and Infant classes of the Horse Show will see approximately 75 youngsters competing for hon-

60 COMPETE IN BABY SHOW AT THE FAIR

Youngsters are Also Judged at Clinic Held in Connection

With sixty babies under three years of age crammed together in their close quarters, the twenty-third annual "Baby Show" at the Northville fair was a "howling success." It was the most popular corner in the whole fair.

Babies of all complexions and temperaments were proudly held in maternal arms awaiting the decision of the judges. With such a varied array of "furniture," unimpaired sweetness and joy were sorely puzzled in making their decisions.

For the first time in "all these years" a single pair of twins was in the number. The youngest mother was Mrs. Earl May, 16 years of age, who brought her child from her home in Battle Creek. Mrs. Ralph White, 17 years of age, with her two babies from Pontiac, was the second youngest. Ralph White was a Northville boy.

The babies were judged by Mrs. Frank Bradley of Farmington and Mrs. Mahlon Bradley of Detroit, who looked them over impartially and gave the decisions as follows:

- (Class I—Age 6 months to 1 year).
Youngest baby, Jacqueline White, 6 months.
Child with the most hair, Delores Second, 11 months.
Fattest child, Harold Cochrane, 6 months and 2 weeks.
Child with darkest hair, Corahe Pickard, 9 months.
Child with lightest hair, Lucille Stols, 10 months.
Child with largest blue eyes, Robert Gehman, 7 months.
Child with blackest eyes, Warren James, 10 1/2 months.
Fastest creeping child, Harriet Lefler, 5 months.
Prettiest girl, Jacqueline White, 6 months.
Child coming longest distance, Jacqueline White, 6 months.
(Class 2—1 year, under 2 years).
Girl with bluest eyes and deepest dimple, Shirley Young, 1 year and 6 months.
Prettiest girl, Joanne Miller, 17 months.
Prettiest boy, Orville Meinung, 23 months.
Brownest eyes and darkest hair, Lucille Bongiovanni, 17 months.
Girl with reddest hair, Geraldine West, 1 year.
Smallest foot, Vivian Harrison, 1 year.
Best behaved girl, Geraldine Densmore, 16 months.
Boy with lightest, curliest hair and bluest eyes, Mickey Nagy, 15 months.
Girl with best smile, Barbara Carr, 21 months.
Child with fewest teeth, Raymond Doobin, 1 year.
(Class 3—2 years, under 3 years).
Girl with blackest eyes and darkest hair, Corinne Rathbun, 2 years and 1 month.
Girl with bluest eyes and brown hair, Mary Henderson, 2 years and 9 months.
Boy with best smile, Arthur Gisson, 2 years and 2 months.
Tallest girl, Lois Marie Musloff, 2 years and 10 months.
Tallest boy, Hugh Lockhart, 2 years and 6 months.

REV. J. J. HALLIDAY WILL GIVE FAREWELL SERMON AT SALEM

To Northville people

I am asking the Record to announce to his many close friends at Northville that Rev. J. J. Halliday will preach his farewell sermon at the Federated church at Salem next Sunday morning August 30 at 10:30 o'clock.

For three years Mr. Halliday has driven from Delaware. Over every week, a total of 350 miles, impairing somewhat his health. He has been pastor of that church for many years and during that time has made many friends by his comforting words, his example, his kindness, his words of encouragement and sermons that inspire you to want to live a better life.

So it is with regret and sadness that we must next Sunday bid farewell to a real man, a real friend and a good pastor.

So won't you buddies and friends of Northville just come up next Sunday morning and say good bye.

—A Friend.

FEED STORE MOVES

The Northville Feed Store will move Monday, announced Dean F. Saxton, proprietor, from its present site on Cady and Center street to 144 E. Main street.

The store will continue with its present line of feeds including Laro feeds and Farm Bureau feeds.

SIDELIGHTS ON THE FAIR

Two of Detroit's best detectives mingled in the crowds yesterday and today, keeping a look-out for pickpockets. They were in plain clothes, including the Northville officers, a dozen men were on the grounds. Some of these were from the House of Correction.

"Washington or Bust" is the motto that hangs over the lunch stand of the Northville high school seniors of next June. The proceeds of their stand will help finance their trip to the national capital next summer. There are 54 in the class and practically all helped in the work of the booth.

Seven of the magnificent Percherons of the Detroit Creamery all with colored electric lights on their harness drove a wagon through the business section Tuesday evening. The lights, each 30 watts, remained one of a well-lighted Christmas tree.

"Isn't this a wonderful exhibit," said a visitor as he stood in front of the booth of the Wayne County Training school.

The concession man who gave you a box of candy if he failed to guess within three pounds of your weight, handed out four boxes in succession Tuesday evening as he guessed too far astray. Then up stepped a great big football type. The expert guesser "thumped his back, punched his biceps, then said "212 pounds." On the scales he went. They read "210 pounds. No candy that time."

A bull calf reputed to be worth over $12,000 is on view at the Cattle building and is owned and exhibited by F. H. Gremgum. The calf shows much promise and farmers are admiring the animal.

Horsemen know that the Northville horse show and races are among the best in the state. The best evidence of this is the fact that officials of another fair sent a man to Northville to try to entice some of the entries to their fair. Needless to say, the "chaser" was given scant attention by horsemen and a one-way ticket out of the grounds.

Following the opening races on Tuesday, a stock saddle race was held with these results: Wm. Clarke on Tango, first; Hugh Horton on Poppy Lou, second; Wm. Stage on Edna, third in a tie with Chas. Sanders on Speed; Lloyd Croft on June, fourth. Bob Johnson on Midge, Helms Johns on Peanuts, Bud Davis on Flossie and Paul Baldwin on Playboy also ran.

Ann Nelson, aged three granddaughters of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rawley Brown of Arrowhead Farms, is the youngest entry in the Infant Class of the Horse Show.

Police officials say that the crowds during the first few days of the fair are the most orderly they have seen in many years. The direct result of ousting of the many gambling games that ran in previous years is a decrease in the number of complaints and disturbances. It is claimed. A force of officers from the House of Correction and Sheriff's office are aiding local officers.

Mrs. Harriet MacPherson Teaches Indians at the Most Northerly School in the United States

At the first signs of waning summer shortening days and sounds of Katydids, one Northville woman begins to feel the call of the north in her soul. Early in September Mrs. Harriet MacPherson will pack her furs and woollens and with her two children, Cameron, 12 and Jean, 9 years of age will head her car northward to the most northerly point in the United States, the Lake of the Woods in northern Minnesota. Here Mrs. MacPherson will continue her work as teacher of the only American school in this section where she answered the call of the government for a teacher last year while she was working among the Indians on Lake Huron.

For eight years Mrs. MacPherson has come back to Northville summers, where she is well known and where her husband, Roderick MacPherson is the popular Scotch caddy master of the Meadowbrook Country Club.

Since early girlhood Mrs. MacPherson has felt a keen interest in the Indians and always said "If I ever get a chance to work with the Indians I'll do it." A graduate of the Queens University and of the Otava Teachers' college, this unusual woman has had a remarkable training and to the casual observer it

NEW RECORDS ARE MADE AT ANNUAL EVENT

Horse, Cattle and Poultry Shows are Crowded to Capacity

FRIDAY, AUGUST 28, 1931
Continued judging of all exhibits. Senior Horse Show starting 1:30 p. m.

Ten classes competing in the afternoon.
Two classes competing at 7:30 p. m. 20 entries.

Horse Races, three.
Extra Free Attractions—Jules Jacobs, famous Bucking Horse Rider and the Rex Family of Acrobats. Ball game between West Point Park and Garden City at 5 o'clock p. m.
Fireworks following the Free Attractions.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 29, 1931
Final judging of all exhibits. Senior Horse Show starting at 1:00 p. m.

Eight classes competing.
Horse Races, two.
Final game of base ball tournament between winner of Thursday game and winner of Friday game. Cash prizes.
Free Acts, windup and Spectacular Display of Fireworks.

Fair time is here.
Bustling activity, horses, cattle, poultry, fine exhibits all were being placed Tuesday, opening day, but Wednesday and Thursday despite cloudy weather, large crowds came to view the show.

Humanity in an endless stream gathered by and about the grounds of the fair grounds, children with cones and candied apples viewing the exhibits with wide-open eyes. The elders scanned the exhibits with much more critical glances, commenting on the good points, discussing the faults and weighing all the evidence with the authority of seasoned judges.

President Nelson C. Schrader and Secretary Floyd Northrop stated that every department of the fair is crowded to capacity and never in past years has it been necessary to turn away so many who desire to enter.

The Poultry show, under the capable direction of A. E. Fuller, is crowded to the doors with a huge number of entries. According to officials there are about 1,300 "regulair" birds entered including some rare specimens of poultry not usually seen in this country, from South America and Australia.

Approximately 150 bantams are entered and about 50 different kinds of fowl are to be seen including White Rocks, Barred Rocks, Leghorns, Wyandottes, Minorcas, Buff Orpingtons, Andalusians, Jersey Giants, Brahmas, etc.

Spectators viewed the 300 rabbit entries and 400 pigeons with considerable interest. Another section of the poultry show was filled with (Continued on last page)

NO DEFENSE NEEDED

As life moves along we are more and more impressed by this: The man or woman who does the right thing day in and day out—regardless of the mistakes he or she makes—doesn't need to answer any gossip or rumors about himself or herself. "The most sticks are beneath the best apple tree" and truth has a strange way of being vindicated. If you have a conscience and it is clear, you can leave your vindication to time and truth.

WHY NOT A HOME NOW?

Now is one of the grandest times in all recent history to get a home—if you have any chance in the world for a "toehold" on a down payment.

It is a "buyer's market" and there are bargains for all tastes. He who hesitates too long will find that before long it will be a "seller's market" and then prices will be higher.

A home in Northville is one of the finest assets in Michigan. We were glad to notice that one of our good citizens bought a residence here last week. He won't be sorry, we predict.

EXPENSES

Sat at the breakfast table Friday morning and looked over the family budget. Some of the items: Table, rent, lights, automobile, clothes, incidentals and so on and so on. Told the children that if they would figure out what their expenses would be for the school year we would divide it up and give them a weekly allowance that would give them a chance to learn the value of money and how to spend.

Footed it all up and when we saw the total were glad that we have oatmeal for breakfast, that we wore a pair of patched trousers down town one day last week and no one said a word of protest, and that the family car still hits sweetly along the concrete after its 45,000 miles of travel from coast to coast. And wondered what the total would be if we had to support a family bootlegger, move in "high society," or buy as many clothes as some folks think they have to have.

"BACK TO THE PEOPUL"

Someone gives us a political card: "McKeighan for governor." At the top is this bit of "appealance": "Give the government back to the people."

To read that is to laugh. And this also makes you smile: "He can lower the state taxes."

Our state tax, as thoughtful people know, is about one-tenth of our average tax, the other nine-tenths being for school tax, local improvements and so on. Flint's four-time mayor could lower state taxes but even if he could cut off one-quarter—which he wouldn't—what effect would it have on you?

The primary campaign for governor of Michigan is a year away. One wonders who is paying Mayor McKeighan's printing bills so many months before the campaign. And who the candidate will really be that will try to unseat Governor Brucker—surely it can't be Mr. McKeighan. He looks just like a "feeler."

YOU CAN'T BEAT IT

As we write this—on Friday, August 21,—the Northville Wayne County fair is on the eve of its fifteenth annual exhibition. So we can't say whether "Old-Man Depression" hit the fair pretty hard or whether a better showing was made than was expected.

One thing we can say—and are very glad to say—is that Northville has a marvelous spirit of co-operation in putting over this fair. We have been impressed by it. A whole community figuratively takes off its coat and works together in harmony and effective co-operation. In the whole town not a single one holds back.

While many other fairs have "thrown up their hands" in the past year or two, the Northville Wayne County fair has "carried on" pretty much because of this spirit of "Never say die" and this united community enthusiasm for a common cause. You simply can't stop that spirit of optimism, of courage and loyalty.

The spirit that won out this year against discouraging conditions, in the face of a historic depression—now on its last legs, we hope and believe—will do greater things in the years ahead, when conditions are bound to be better.

Just watch the Northville Wayne County fair in 1932.

COMMUTE TO NORTHVILLE

"Write an editorial on the high cost of student living at Ann Arbor," says one of our readers, who knows the university city well.

He tells us that although the value of the dollar has dropped very much, yet room and board at Ann Arbor are as high as ever. In only one other city in the United States, says our informant, is cost of board and room any higher. That place is Washington, D. C.

Here is the editorial comment we make:

Let the student buy a used car—cheap right now—and commute back and forth to Ann Arbor from Northville. One could save enough money to buy a car and further, he would be able to study nights here, without the distractions of a college town. We have dozens and dozens of commuters to Detroit so why not a few to Ann Arbor? Welcome to Northville!

BATTling FOR THE DOLLARS

Took a thirty-mile automobile drive the other day and was surprised at the amazing number of wayside stands that were scattered along the pavement. Well built ones, wobbly ones just thrown together, big ones and little fellows with a few scraggly exhibits on top—anything and everything loaded down with fruit and vegetables.

Some of them tell a pathetic story of how a family in these times of stress is fighting for a livelihood. Some of them tell how a widowed mother is struggling to keep the home going and still others give indications of how some folks, already prosperous, wish to add more dollars to the family chest.

Like the gasoline stations, these wayside markets are too many and the proprietors have to take their chance on getting patronage from the fast flying cars. Yet they are doing their part to bring in a few more dollars at a time when dollars are hard to grab. And one must always respect the person who is ingenious enough to try to find a way out of a discouraging situation. If you can't make money one way, try it another. You can always do that in America.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

What can Northville do to make it easier during the coming winter for those families that have been hit by unemployment?

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

"WHITE MULE"

(Pontiac Daily Press)
"White mule" properly is to be banished with its share of the responsibility for the Washington horror. But it would be ridiculous to imagine that the present widespread condition of lawlessness is due solely to that cause. It is merely one of the contributing factors. We had cruel and ruthless murders back in the dear old days when there was a saloon on every corner and when the "very best" brands of whiskey could be purchased in every village at a small cost.

WHAT IS THE MATTER?

(V. J. Brown in Ingham County News, Mason)
A lot has been said about the crime wave being due to the aftermath of the late world war, a lot of hokey. Most of the men being brought into our courts today were less than ten years of age when the war was brought to a close.

What is the matter?
Too much mud on the stage
Too much smut on the screen
Too many blind pigs
Too many gambling dens
Too many hells of prostitution
Too much glorification of the racketeer
Too many judges hob-nobbing with bootleggers
Too many weak-kneed parole officers
Too much politics in and around the court and the prison
Too much attention to inconsequential rags and too little to the sources of crime
Too many newspapers who commercialize crime as the miller does his grist. One Detroit newspaper offered $5000 last week, not to discuss the criminal, but for "exclusive information" so they could scoop their competitors.

The newspapers picture the gangster in glowing terms, they conjure his wealth and magnify the power he exerts over underworld denizens. There is nothing to it. Judge Arthur J. Tuttle several years ago offered $1000 for the name of a single rich bootlegger and he has never yet been called upon to pay the reward.

The influence of whiskey and the power of ruin is rampant today as ever. It has always worked injury to the younger generations, under all conditions, at all times, in every land. It became so bad under the saloon system that an outraged public outlawed it—and then went to sleep thinking the war was over. The fact is the fight had just begun. Like a great fire ravaging a forest the flames died away but the fire still smoldered underneath the soil of society, undermining the very roots and eating into the vitals of the soul itself.

GREEN HAS A HEART

(Clinton Co. News, St. Johns)
Discussing economic conditions at the Clinton County fair here, Fred W. Green, former governor said "I hate to think of next winter. It just makes me sick to consider the plight of thousands of good, honest workmen who are powerless to help themselves. Our farmers are having enough trouble but they are reasonably sure of three meals a day. It's the people who are actually hungry and have been for months—the little kiddies who are suffering from malnutrition that breaks my heart."

While he has never publicly said a word concerning it, it is a well known fact that Mr. Green has kept his factory running for months at a heavy financial loss in order to take care of the families dependent upon it.

LINDBERGH AND LIQUOR

(Charlotte Republican-Tribune)
The best way to enforce prohibition is to observe it as the Lindberghs did at Petropavlovsk. They gave a practical demonstration of their personal attitude on this question as well as upheld the official policy of their home land and government they honor. Senator Harry W. Whiteley writing in his paper, the Dowsag Daily News, makes this pungent observation:

When the Lindberghs appeared at a banquet in their honor at Petropavlovsk, the newspaper story told how they raised the brimming glasses of vodka to their lips, in courtesy to their hosts and then replaced them on the table untouched, for as the story said vividly and simply "the Lindberghs are teetotalers." That is a lesson in temperance that need bring up no arguments about prohibition. And it is a bright and shining example for our young people who rightly regard "Slim" Lindbergh as the apostrophe of right living. His private life is on a par with his life in public; there is no sham nor play to the galleries.

HOMEMAKER'S CORNER

BY MRS. EDITOR

SCHOOL VACATION

School vacation days are waning. Not many more days of care-free joy before our children will be answering the call of the school bell. Has it been a real vacation for the youngsters and do they start back sturdier and stronger? How is their health—their teeth, tonsils and general resistance against the closer contact of indoors? Now is the time to fortify them for this:

HAS YOUR CHILD THESE?

In his book, "The Training of the Human Plant," Luther Burbank says:

"Every child should have mud pies, grasshoppers, water bugs, tadpoles, frogs, mud turtles, elderberries, wild strawberries, chestnuts, trees to climb, brooks to wade in, waterfowl, various animals to pet, hayfields, pine cones, rocks to roll, sand, snakes, nuckleberries and horsets; and any child who has been deprived of these has been deprived of the best part of his education."

Most of us adults can look back to the summers spent on grandfathers' farms, or on some back by a lake, side or country retreat and these wonder-times form the happiest part of our childhood. We cannot estimate how large a part this close touch of Nature played in our development, how much sweetness and poetry it put into our lives, how much independence of thought and resourcefulness of action, how much common sense and sympathy with the real workers of the world it put into our beings.

How many of our grandchildren and great minds came up to maturity without an acquaintance with and feeling for the country? We are still animals, human animals, and it is the call of Nature which stirs the great emotions. Back to Nature we must go to answer the call, if we would keep our souls mellow and swing free the child who spends all his days of all his years, on brick and cement run-ways, whose only gain stories told you by strangers, excitement is a "fire" or a ride in the patrol wagon, who does not know the feel of the cool grass on bare feet, the glory of making a fire in the open, the long blue vistas from a hill-top, nor the odor of wild roses.

Oh, you who have in your keeping the welfare of children, cannot you contrive a way to get them into the country for the summer—or at least a part of it? It is something to strive for. Happy the child who approaches Whittier's "Barefoot Boy."

With thy red lips redder still,
Kissed by strawberries on the hill,
Hearts that mock at doctors' rules,
Knowledge never learned in schools,
Of the wild bee's morning chase,
Of the wild flower's time and place,
Flight of fowl and haughtiness
Of the tenants of the wood;
How the tortoise bears his shell—
How the woodchuck digs his well;
How the Robin feeds her young,
How the oriole's nest is hung;
Where the whistling lilies blow
Where the richest berries grow
Where the groundnut trails its vine,
Where the wood-grape's clusters shine.

Of the black wasp's cunning way,
Mason of his walls of clay,
And the architectural plans
Of gray hornet artisans.

"INFALLIBLE" RECIPE TO PRESERVE CHILDREN

"Take one large grassy field; one half dozen children, two or three small dogs, a bunch of pebbles and some pebbles. Mix the children and dogs well together and put them in the field, stirring constantly. Pour the brook over the pebbles. Sprinkle the field with flowers. Spread over all a deep, blue sky, and bake in the hot sun. When brown remove and set away to cool in a bathtub—Michigan Health Bulletin"

A BOY'S VACATION

By Nixon Waterman

Little Tommy Doodle and his mother spent a week at Granpa Doodle's farm, where Tommy climbed in the creek. And got his lungs so full of wet he couldn't get his breath.

Till poor old Granpa Doodle had been frightened most to death. He ate some poison berries that he found along the lane. It took a doctor half the night to soothe away the pain. He tried to ride a "kicky" colt—a risky thing to do. "Twas a little while before they really brought him to

He stuck a stick into a hive of bees—oh sorry day!
He couldn't see a thing until the swelling went away.
He teased the goat to see if it was gross as he had heard.
They had to work with him awhile before he spoke a word.

And then he climbed a cherry tree—just like a boy—and fell.
And broke his arm, and-sakes alive!—you oughtn't heard him yell!

Forty Windows Will Display Designs of Northville Artist

A gay fair scene in the big Mary Lee candy store on the corner of Washington boulevard and State streets in Detroit is attracting many passers by. A merry-go-round, gay with a dozen dashing dolls especially modelled in plaster and painted bright colors stands against the background of a realistic village scene in cut-outs. In the foreground are dancing figures. No wonder the folks go and look and the one who made all this is our Northville artist, Edward McCandlish, commercial artist for the Detroit Free Press.

AUTO TITLE FORM WILL BE CHANGED

Lansing, Mich.—The automobile title division of the department of state, within a few weeks, is to change the form of automobile titles in order to give a greater security to the purchaser and the holder of the mortgage.

The new titles are to be a dark buff color while the present titles are green. In addition to the title, each application will have a perforated slip attached to the bottom.

This slip will contain all facts relative to the mortgage and after the title has been approved by the department, this slip is to be detached and sent to the mortgagee. This will eliminate the possibility of two or more liens being imposed on the same car.

On the back of the title, space is provided to allow a record to be made when a mortgage has been completely paid. Thus the new titles will be able to give the complete financial history of every automobile sold in the future. To protect the state in issuing yearly license plates the weight of all pleasure cars is to be perforated in the upper left hand corners of all new titles.

Young Scribbler and his bride were alone for the first time in their new home "Darling," she cried, "I must make a terrible confession to you—I can't cook."

"Aw, that's all right dear. I've a confession to make too. I'm a poet and there won't be anything to cook."

There are neighbors—and neighbors. But probably the most of all people who live next door are those that live in Northville. For neighbors, our own little village can't be beat.

It isn't necessary that two families dwelling side by side be bosom companions in order to reciprocate friendship. Ofttimes people who would not otherwise be close to one another make a mutual acquaintance solely on the basis of a borrowed cup of sugar.

Wives will run across the few yards between the two houses, visit in the kitchen for a few minutes unburdening themselves of sacred secrets and then rush back home to complete the morning's housework. In such a manner are lasting friendships made.

To the menfolk sitting on the front porch after a hard day's work, swapping home-brew recipes, discussing Dempsey's chances for a comeback, or—relating, at great length, "that's what I'd do if I were president," are among the most pleasant of relaxations from the humdrum routine of the world.

The time just after the evening meal, before darkness has fallen, represents the highest peak of satisfaction, comfort and neighborliness.

The cheerful, half-o-o-p echoing down a "neighborhood" street has a warm familiarity that is missing in large cities except possibly in apartment houses where folks do their hollering down a dumb-waiter chute.

Again, in a small town where staunch friendships are amplified to a higher degree than anywhere else, families grow to know each other more intimately. It often happens that two or three elderly town-folks can trace the entire noble lineage of any of the family-trees in the community.

There is, of course, the gossip type of neighbor with sharp eyes and a "nose for news" that does not concern him or her. That particular specimen of busybody is always with us; however, in some shape, form or manner.

Here's a prayer that their tribe may decrease.

We propose a whopping big toast with Kipling to "friends who make salt sweet and blackness bright," and with George Elliott who described her neighbors thusly, "friends more divine than all divinities."

Think of some of the famous friendships of history and fiction: Damon and Pythias, Achilles and Patroclus, David and Jonathan, Soldiers Three, The Three Musketeers. Think of your own little circle and of what they mean to you.

While we were tapping out some of these famous friendships, a cynical soul leaned over our shoulder and muttered, "Yeah, Marc Anthony."

and Cleopatra—there was a friendship for you."

We refuse to be discouraged however and apropos of the subject of neighbors we are going to print a bit of verse by Jessie E. Roe of West Cady which she wrote as a tribute to her friends on that street.

OUR NEIGHBORS

By Jessie Roe

I'm not much on rhyming,
But I just want to say,
You can look the town over
For many a day.

And finer neighbors
You never will meet
Than the ones who live
On West Cady street.

They all seem to know
Such nice things to do,
To make you feel good,
When you're been feeling blue.

And when one is sick
And their appetite's thin,
You should see all the dainties
Those neighbors bring in.

And it sometimes happens
A chop plate they fill
Instead of a taste
For the one who is ill.

We exchange flowers and cooking
And it's surely a treat,
To live by such cooks
As we have on that street.

It would be a dull place
With no comfort or cheer
If we had to exist
Where no neighbors were near.

They all keep their yards
So clean and so neat
And not much traffic
Is seen on the street.

No drunken parties
To pollute the night air
Not even a saxophone
Players there.

So no jealous wrangling
Or strife can there be
Up there on that street
For the neighbors agree.

There are lots of neighbors
But I know they can't beat
The ones I refer to
On West Cady street.

1933 AUTO PLATES MAY BE OF COPPER

Lansing, Mich.—Michigan's 1933 automobile license plates may be made of copper.

The Department of State feels that Michigan's copper mining industry might be benefited if automobile plates could be made of state-mined copper. This matter will be given careful study and consideration in connection with the 1933 plates, which will be ordered early in 1932. The cost of using copper as compared with 24-gauge steel now in use will have a direct bearing on the final decision.

The 1932 plates now being manufactured will carry a color combination of a dark blue background with white block numerals.

The family of Richard T. Baldwin spent the week-end at the summer cottage of Benj. A. Baldwin, a brother, at Whitmore lake.

Mrs. Bruno Freyd, accompanied by Mrs. Frank Freyd and baby daughter, returned the first of the week from a vacation at the cottage of the parents of Mrs. Freyd, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Joan W. Dolph left for their home in Los Angeles, Calif., Saturday morning. They have been visiting relatives here for two months.

Wm. C. Colbert was at home with his family from LaGrange, Ind., over Sunday and in returning Monday took his son, Kenneth, for a few days' visit.

Miss K. B. Higgins of Rochester, N. Y., is a guest of her brother, Wm. Higgins, West street, and the two have gone to Chicago and other places in Illinois for a two week's visit.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Stark and son, John, expect to leave today (Friday) for a vacation motor trip through the East, going through Canada and stopping at various points of interest enroute.

Attorney Fred J. Cochran is nicely located in his newly equipped offices in the lower floor of the Latham State Bank building. Partitions have been put in to make a private office.

Word has been received from Roy Clark who has been visiting in California that he is headed homeward and was expected to arrive in Northville Thursday. He has had a wonderful trip.

Robert Masters, foreman of the job department of the Northville Record office, will leave Friday for a week's vacation at his home in Muncie, Michigan, in the upper peninsula. John W. Perkins is taking his place in the office.

Martin J. Koltyke returned Sunday from a week's visit with his parents in Indianapolis, Ind., bringing back with him his wife and little daughter, Joan, who had been spending a month with Mrs. Koltyke's parents there.

In renewing her subscription to The Record, Mrs. Chas. Cadwell writes from her home at Pasadena, Calif.:

"I enjoy the paper very much. It seems just like having a friend come in from the old home where I spent 35 years of my young life in 1901 before coming to California."

Chas. Ely, the father of Carl Ely and Mrs. Jennie E. Melow, is very ill at his home in Farmington, Mrs. Melow and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ely spent Sunday with him.

Mrs. D. M. Bloss of Cadillac is a guest at the home of her nephew, Clyde Putnam. Although a resident of Cadillac for many years, Mrs. Bloss returns to Northville for a visit every year. She spends her summers at her cottage on a Cadillac lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherrill Ambler returned Tuesday from a few days' vacationing at Catawba Island, near Put-In-Bay. Sherrill got to thinking about his business the last of the week and motored here to care for some details and then returned Saturday.

Walter F. Stimpson of Detroit was severely injured last Saturday evening in the city by a reckless motorist who ran him down as he was crossing Woodward Ave. Mr.

Stimpson was at the head of the former Stimpson Scale & Mfg. Co. of Northville and lived on East Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. Dayton S. Bunn left last Sunday morning for an extended motor trip to the Canadian Rockies. They will go to Banff and Lake Louise, returning in about a month by way of Glacier National park and Yellowstone park.

Ladies are stopping to observe with interest the attractively set luncheon tables in the windows of Babbitt and McCarthy, Green glass is effectively used in these model "covers for four." We have a suspicion that the little lady associated in the business is responsible for this touch of artistry.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Van Bonn and little daughter, Clara, are enjoying a vacation tour of the east stopping at Niagara Falls, Cleveland and making a longer visit at Mr. Bonn's parental home in Ridgeway, Penn.

Mr. Bonn is the manager of the grocery department of the Kroger store in Northville.

Mrs. Jennie White makes a suggestion worth considering by public spirited citizens. She calls attention to the fact that the "prickly lettuce" weed is scattering far and wide with its seed which spread like this down. Last spring she spent $10 to get rid of this pest and now has about as much as ever growing on her premises blown from other lots.

Mrs. White suggests that if the children of the village were paid a small bounty for basketful of this pesky weed it might be gotten rid of in time. Anyone anything to add to this idea?

Society Notes

Miss McCully and Carl Hunt. Wedded at Lansing.

Northville friends are greeting Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hunt who returned last Friday from an extended wedding trip through the West.

Mrs. Hunt was Miss H. Alene McCully and the wedding ceremony occurred at Lansing on August 1. Rev. R. H. Owen of the Franklin Ave. Presbyterian church officiated. Following the ceremony the newly weds set out on their long journey, taking with them as far as Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada, the bride's mother, Mrs. Catherine McCully, and two aunts, Mrs. Agnes Elbes of Saginaw and Mrs. Wm. Hepburn, who was returning to her home in Canada.

After a short visit in Winnipeg Mr. and Mrs. Hunt started alone on a trip to Yellowstone Park with stops at various points of interest enroute. Returning by way of Winnipeg they were joined by Mrs. McCully and Mrs. Elbes who returned to Northville with them.

After the long wedding trip of 6000 miles Mr. and Mrs. Hunt are ready to settle down and begin housekeeping in earnest. They will make their home with the bride's mother, Mrs. McCully, on North Center street and Mrs. Hunt will continue her position as manager of the Northside Grocery.

Mrs. Hunt has a responsible position with the Murray Company of America which he has held for the past eleven years. Both bride and groom attended school in Northville and are well and favorably known by many friends. Mrs. Hunt was a graduate in the class of 1915.

The best wishes of a large circle of friends are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Hunt.

SESSIONS-HOSPITAL

Mrs. E. Parke of Seven Mile road is a patient at the hospital. Miss Penell has returned to the hospital and says there's no place like Northville after all.

Mr. and Mrs. Barker Lazar of Detroit were hurt Sunday evening when their car overturned near the high hatching. Mrs. Lazar had her nose almost cut off.

"I want to buy some gloves for my girl friend."

"Some kid?"

"You bet she is—but I don't see that it's any business of yours."

The Misses Hacking Entertain in Honor of Detroit Cousin.

Honoring the birthday of their cousin, Kenneth Eichen, of Detroit who was their guest, the Misses Hazel and Helen Hacking were hostesses to a group of 16 friends at their home on Fairbrook avenue last Monday evening.

A pleasant evening at bridge was spent and at its conclusion a dainty luncheon was served, concluding with a birthday cake.

Guests from Detroit were Mrs. Chas. Eichen, Miss Shirley Warner and Harry Herli and Tom Plymou, Philp Clucus, Francis Pierce and Mrs. Jas Wood. Among the Northville guests were Mr. and Mrs. Alton Peters.

Joint Birthday Celebration
At B. C. Stark's Home.

The birthdays of two friends falling on the same date a joint celebration was enjoyed at the home of Mrs. B. C. Stark yesterday afternoon (Thursday). Mrs. B. C. Stark and Mrs. B. E. Rye of Kenosha, O., were honored at a dinner party at the former's home when a happy group of good friends enjoyed a delicious dinner at six o'clock. A birthday cake, made by a guest, Mrs. L. E. Van Dorn of Rochester, N. Y., was the feature of the dinner.

The occasion was especially pleasant because a number of old acquaintances from a distance were present to render their friendship. These present guests the host and hostess were Mrs. and Mr. R. P. Grandy and Miss Mary Deana of Detroit. Mrs. Rye of Kenosha, O., Mrs. L. E. Van Dorn of Rochester, N. Y., Mrs. Cora M. Clark of Colorado Springs and Mrs. Maude Bennett of Northville.

NOVI NEWS

On August 15th the Novi 500 club met at the home of Mrs. Steve Hicks. A beautiful pot-luck dinner was served at noon after which 10 games were played. First prize was won by Mrs. Frank Martin, second by Mrs. Leroy Granzo, and consolation to Miss Lazen Leavonworth. The next meeting will be on September 22nd at the home of Mrs. Frank Martin.

DELANO BABIES ARE PRIZE WINNERS

Talk about the buxom babies that appeared at the Baby clinic! Never saw such a healthy bunch of kiddies. Among the number was a Delano baby. Last year there were two young Delanos but the elder brother, Kenneth, has now outgrown the age limit, three years. Well it was about time, for he had for three successive years carried off the blue ribbon which meant that he was altogether the "farest and fastest" of them all. Not only the blue ribbon, but a special honor was attached to him. He was labeled as "grand champion" with a standing of 99.5 per cent (none ever gets 100). The younger child, Leonard, stood 96 per cent last year and is the last in a line of seven husky young Delanos who have never been sick in their lives. Funny thing is that Father Delano knows over all of our modern get theories on child-rearing, which he announces that they have always eaten whatever they wanted whenever they wanted it. Both Mr. and Mrs. Delano were born in old Ireland and perhaps this sturdy stock accounts for these husky young Irishmen.

COMING FROM GERMANY
Dr. H. Handorf is expecting word any day that his wife and two children, who have been spending several weeks at Hamburg, Germany, have sailed for home. When he gets a cablegram to that effect he will go to New York by motor to accompany his family home.

SAVAGE SEES ALL FAIRS
James Savage went by the Record office Thursday all dressed up for the fair.

"How many fairs have you attended?" asked the Record reporter. "I have seen everyone of them," said "Jim," and I remember the time when I used to show horses at Plymouth. Once I had a colt only 16 months old and after he won a race in 2 3/4 I was offered $600 for him but turned it down. Afterward I traded him for a Clydesdale and gave $500 to boot. Then in a year or so I sold the Clydesdale for $100. Figure out that deal, will you?"

GERMAN REMEDY STOPS 30-YEAR CONSTIPATION
"For 30 years I had a bad stomach and constipation. Souring foods from stomach choked me. Since taking Adlerka I am a new woman. Constipation is thing of the past." Alice Burns.

Most remedies reach only lower bowel. That is why you must take them often. But this simple German remedy Adlerka washes out BOTH upper and lower bowel. It brings out all gas and rids you of poison you would never believe was in your system. Even the FIRST dose will surprise you.—Northville Drug Co.

After a vacation during the summer months the King's Daughters are again resuming their activities and will hold their first meeting of the new year next Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Carl Bryan.

In spite of the fact that this organization has not held meetings during the hot weather it has by no means discontinued its philanthropy which has meant so much to the needy and sorrowing. Plans for the coming year will be discussed at this first meeting and a good attendance is desired.

HARRY B. CLARK GIVEN BOOST FOR HORSE SHOW-AID

(By S. L. A. Marshall in "The Detroit News")

That there will be at least one more renewal of the most spectacular rivalry of the Detroit horse show season was assured when Mrs. E. E. Reuben's entries were received by the Northville horse show committee.

In the Reuben stable is the thoroughbred Toledo hunter, Darlington, winner of a dozen championship ribbons in the past year, and best hunter this season at the Lansing and Detroit Riding and Hunt Club shows.

In the Charles H. Ausworth stable already entered in the Northville show is Igleton, a lightweight Canadian half-bred whose conformation, quality and performance have made him a natural rival of Darlington since his first appearance under the elder Thomas Smith at the State Fair show two years ago.

Among the hunter and jumper events on this year's program, which opens Aug. 27 with a junior horse show, are lightweight hunters, ladies' hunters, the open jump, midweight and heavyweight hunters, pairs of jumpers, green hunters, touch-and-out, jumpers' stake and hunters' and jumpers' time course.

There are 10 saddle horse and combination classes and the junior show will have 15 events, including a number of dashes and gymkhana competitions.

That the Northville show has proved itself worthy of a high rating in the Michigan horse show calendar is due principally to the efforts of Harry B. Clark, who has organized and directed the show for the past 12 years. It is a labor of love on Mr. Clark's part and his efforts are so well known about the community that "As nervous as Harry Clark at show time" has become a household name in Northville.

The show is held in connection with the Northville Wayne County Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Brown of Ann Arbor were in town Thursday attending the fair.

The family of Chas. Conklin has moved into the Lovell house on South Wing street.

Mrs. Cass Benton has returned from a pleasant two-weeks' visit with her brother, Wm. Lausser, at Sparta.

Guests over the week-end at the home of Mrs. Cass Benton will be Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hutchison of Detroit.

Gordon Allan is substituting on police duty in the business district of Northville while Chief of Police Safford is on duty at the fair grounds.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Don P. Yerkes, Jr. last week were Richard Thirby and their cousin, Robert Weaver, who is a brother of Maxine, the Cherry Queen of Traverse City.

The Rotary club will meet as usual at 12 o'clock next Monday instead of in the evening as planned. E. L. Mills will have charge of the program.

Clifford Sinden received word Wednesday that the barn of his brother, Le Veru Sinden in Delhi, Ont., had burned. He had just finished threshing and the barn was filled with grain and hay.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kirby and Mr. and Mrs. Edith Blakeley of Lansing were guests of Mrs. Maude Parks of the Maybury sanatorium Saturday and together the party enjoyed a picnic dinner at Cass Benton park.

Harold Turner is expected to arrive from Chicago Saturday and will accompany home his wife and daughter, Dorothy, who have been spending a few weeks with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Barnum on Rayson street.

Mrs. Cora A. M. Clark of Colorado Springs is in Northville greeting old friends in her visit which she makes back at the old home town every two years. At present she is the house guest of Mrs. B. C. Stark.

Mrs. L. E. Van Dorn is also a guest at the Stark home.

Richard Shipley returned from Ypsilanti where he has been employed for the summer and in company with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Shipley, and Warner Neal expects to leave Saturday evening on a motor tour of northern Michigan.

Stops will be made at the "Soo" and at the Straits. They expect to be gone for a week.

Don P. Yerkes Sr. and his daughter, Ruth, left Saturday for a week's visit in Traverse City where they will join Mrs. Yerkes who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. H. L. Weaver, since August 10. To add to this family gathering Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Holden (the latter a daughter of the Yerkes family) of Rosedale Park, with their three children have also gone to Traverse City for a visit.

LEADING CONCERNS RAISE GAS PRICES

Northville gasoline prices, along with gasoline prices all over the country, took a sudden jump Tuesday from 12 cents a gallon on regular gas to 14 cents. Ethyl gasoline, formerly 15 cents a gallon is now 17 cents per gallon.

The raise will benefit all of the Northville merchants, local gasoline men say, as formerly gas was cheaper in Detroit and people went there to purchase gas and also to do their shopping. Now that fuel is just as cheap here there will no longer be an incentive to go to Detroit to shop.

According to metropolitan papers, the raise in gasoline prices was started by the Shell company which gave as the reason the increased cost of crude oil.

The seven different gasoline sold in Northville are: Sinclair, Phillips 66, Texaco, White Star, Standard Oil, Shell and Indian.

NORTHVILLE SCOUTS ASSIST COUNTY FAIR

Northville Boy Scouts are closely following their traditions in aiding officials and patrons of the Northville Wayne County Fair.

Under the leadership of Scoutmaster Orlov G. Owen, the Scouts have erected a "rest tent" where weary walkers may sit and watch the crowds passing by. The Scouts have on exhibition some of their handcraft pieces including a model airplane, a miniature spinning wheel leather belt, etc.

Some of the boards on which are displayed various kinds of knots were entered in a rope-tying contest have attracted the interest of visitors.

First aid is rendered to the injured the Scouts having taken care of seven patients on the first day of the fair. Out fingers, disordered stomachs, anything in the way of human ills that can be relieved is taken care of by the Scouts and according to Franklin Knight, assistant Scoutmaster and Warner Neal, Patrol Leader, the Scouts have had plenty to keep them busy.

Two boys are on duty every night during the fair for the purpose of seeing that nothing is disturbed. Each official of the fair is supplied with trustworthy errand boys, eager to be of service in any way they can.

"I wish to be put on record," declared Floyd Northrop, secretary of the fair, "as saying that the fair owes a vote of thanks to each and every Scout. The work they are doing is mighty helpful and they are deserving of more praise than I and the rest of the fair officials can give them."

The show is held in connection with the Northville Wayne County Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Brown of Ann Arbor were in town Thursday attending the fair.

The family of Chas. Conklin has moved into the Lovell house on South Wing street.

Mrs. Cass Benton has returned from a pleasant two-weeks' visit with her brother, Wm. Lausser, at Sparta.

Guests over the week-end at the home of Mrs. Cass Benton will be Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hutchison of Detroit.

Obituary

Charles E. Brodie

Chas. E. Brodie died at the home of his nephew, Harry B. Clark, on the Base Line road, Friday, August 21, following a brief illness. He was 78 years old.

He was the son of Joseph and Mary Brodie and was born in 1853 at Pittsfield, Mass. Of a family of seven children, only one sister, Mrs. Wm. Noble of Pittsfield, survives.

For the past 37 years he has made his home with his mother, Mrs. Geo. Clark, until her death, and with his nephew, Harry B. Clark.

Of a very retiring nature, Mr. Brodie lived a quiet, uneventful life known well only to those most closely associated with him. To him these pay tribute to his untiring, faithful industry in the work he loved in the out-of-doors. Always to be depended upon, Chas. Brodie was a thoroughly honest man. Says one: "I believe he never had an unkind thought." Friendly in his quiet way he especially loved children.

Eight nephews and nieces survive him, among them Harry B. Clark of this place and Harold and Joseph Brodie of Detroit. The funeral was held at the Clark home Monday afternoon at two o'clock with Rev. H. G. Whitfield officiating. Interment was made in Rural Hill cemetery.

Chas. C. Cornet of Detroit, presiding judge at the Northville Wayne County fair, is certainly loyal to the local institution. He had very flattering offers to go to other fairs held the same week as ours but came here because he had been here for the past six years and felt that this was more or less "his" fair. Northville people certainly appreciate this.

Richard Shipley returned from Ypsilanti where he has been employed for the summer and in company with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Shipley, and Warner Neal expects to leave Saturday evening on a motor tour of northern Michigan.

Stops will be made at the "Soo" and at the Straits. They expect to be gone for a week.

"THREE WHO LOVED"

"Three Who Loved" Radio Picture to be shown at the Penman Allen theatre, Saturday, September 5, will present to local fans a production of high dramatic interest, graced by three of the screen's finest players, Betty Compson, Conrad Nagel and Robert Ames.

It is a thoroughly thrilling tale, modern to the minute yet as ageless as the theme of love. Striking emotional highlights throughout, it touches on the ever-interesting and stirring problems of man against man for the love of woman.

"Three Who Loved" tells the story of a young Swedish immigrant girl, coming to this country to marry her fiancé. While there she is thrown into the company of another man, a trifle who finds her interesting and amusing. Both he and her fiancé work as tellers in a bank, and it is the latter who embelishes to give the girl the things she desires in order to forestall the advances of his friend. The friend is suspected and convicted while the embelisher holds his silence, marries Helga the girl and tries to forget his past.

From this begins "Three Who Loved" rises to swift human drama in delineating the lives of the couple. The ultimate exposure of the husband's secret, the escape of the convicted though innocent man and his dramatic entry into the home of the two he believes wronged him. With a flourish of splendid playing and direction "Three Who Loved" comes to its dramatic conclusion in an ending that will surprise many by its bravery and unusualness.

High praise is due Betty Compson for her portrayal of a difficult character role. Her playing in "Three Who Loved" is as different and versatile as any her memorable performance in "The Case of Sergeant Grischka" and "Street Girl". Conrad Nagel was never better, and Robert Ames as the innocent "railroad" victim is splendid. Others in the cast are Robert Emmett O'Connor, Bogdan Rosing and a youngster named Dickie Moore who is an appealing and clever little player. "Three Who Loved" was directed by George Archambault for Radio Pictures.

PICNIC AT EDGEWATER

This is the season of the year when a picnic is at its best, and a picnic is always at its best at Edgewater Park, Seven Mile near Grand River, Detroit.

At Edgewater Park excellent facilities await you—hundreds of tables under shady trees and everything to make your outdoor meal most enjoyable.

Drive right out to Edgewater Park tonight. There's no admission charge. Drive right in. There's no parking charge and there's room for more than 5,000 cars.

Another advantage in picnicking at Edgewater Park is that you can spend the evening in the rides and at the shows at a very nominal cost.

HEARD ON STREET

"This town is altogether too darn healthy," says a local physician.

One of Northville's oldest residents makes this remark. "Yes, we all make mistakes and the longer I live the more I see that the folks who do the most make the most mistakes."

Says one Northville business man: "I have learned that it is the best policy to say only good things of your competitor. It does not pay to knock him."

"A good point in my job," says a hustling young merchant in Northville, "is that it keeps me so busy that I never have time to get into mischief. I believe this is the best way to live after all."

"Yes, we are fixing our windows up especially for the fall week. Not much trade comes to us this week but it pays to have them look well for lots of folks see them then and come back later," remarks a business man that believes in keeping "on its toes."

MRS. DELLA HARMON WRITTS THE RECORD

Northville friends will be interested in the following letter from Mrs. Della Harmon who still remains a keen interest in the old home town.

"I want to congratulate you on the splendid paper you are making and the enterprise you showed under the misfortune that came so soon. I feel that I am privileged to judge the merits of a country newspaper since one of my varied tasks during twenty years work as assistant editor, reporter, proof reader, feature writer, poet, or what have you?—was the going over of the exchanges to make by comment or quotation, the Record's 'Suburban column' naturally the paper must always have special interest for me and as the pleasantest part of my life was those years spent in Northville, I am interested in all that pertains thereto. Although many of my most valued friends and associates there are gone, I still have many left there. I was made an honorary member of the Woman's club, also of the library board. I am not always able to attend the events to which I am invited but appreciate reading of them. A warm personal friendship existed between Mr. Neal and myself that had its beginning when I was for six years his Nov. correspondent before moving to Northville."

She concludes by saying, "I am still quite active in spite of my accumulation of birthdays but seem to be rather averse to society as the years pass."

"With kindest regards,"
"Della E. Harmon."

West Point Park

Holly and West Point Park have been playing for a game on the home diamond Sunday. The game ended in a tie in favor of West Point Park.

Mrs. Charlotte Wolfe is vacationing with her family at Lake Umbagog, N. H. and granddaughters, Mrs. Charlie Wilson and family, both of North Farmington.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Goodman and family, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stanton of Litchfield Park are spending the week-end at crooked lake.

One of our prominent farmers went in to Detroit to market and returned with the load of fruit and vegetables. He said there was no money to buy and rather than throw it away he is distributing it to those he is acquainted with.

Sunday school was well attended Sunday morning. The superintendent, Mrs. Fredericks, is always present. There was no church last Sunday but Rev. Adams is expected to be with us next Sunday.

Mrs. C. Wolfe spent a few days with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Hudson, near Milford and called on her granddaughter, Mrs. Otto Eschman, of Northville.

A number from West Point Park attended the gala day at South Lyon Thursday and two of them won prizes at a contest there.

Ed Millard and son, Russel, and Russel Wheeler, former residents were visitors among friends here and attended a ball game in their old home town.

The Community club will meet Thursday, September 3, at the Riverside park near Plymouth. A pot-luck dinner will be served by the ladies of the church.

The high school base ball team of Redford high school and Pierson high school boys met Monday on the school diamond here. Both teams were determined to win.

Rene Ash was umpire for half of the innings and a Redford man the other half. Both teams were very closely matched and the final score was 12 to 13 in favor of Pierson. There will be a return game Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Coon were visitors with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bradley, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joy Alderman and daughter have returned to their home at Stark, Florida, after an extended visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bradley. Mrs. Alderman was a former teacher in our school here for a number of years.

Mrs. Lloyd Douglas and daughter, Marion, just home from a trip to Quebec, Canada, spent some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gillespie Friday.

Mrs. Homer Goodman accompanied by her four children had a pleasant visit with her mother, Mrs. Sheets, at Fort Wayne, Indiana.

The Middle Belt Pedro club was entertained at the home of Mrs. George Farmer Thursday. A pleasant afternoon was spent by all present.

Mr. and Mrs. James Eastman on Zaida avenue are frequent visitors in Ann Arbor where the former's brother is very ill in a hospital.

Albert Henneman was brought to his home Thursday evening from Harper hospital where he has been under observation by a number of doctors. He is not improving as his relatives and friends would like to see him, being confined to his room most of the time.

Miss Laura Foote, sister of Mrs. Morrow, is one of the winners of a nationwide tour, which is a prize for her exhibit in the home styling contest sponsored by the National Home Furnishings programme of Chicago. In addition to the tour of the nation she will receive a prize of one hundred and fifty dollars. Miss Foote won the twenty-first place. She will enjoy visiting many famous homes on her trip through the country and will be one of a large number of young ladies who have won similar honors.

ALONG THE CONCRETE

By Chas. A. Dolph

When the cool of the evening arrives and you have a good supply of gasoline and you speed along the highway what do you see?

Boys trudging along after a good swim—a park with many picnicers—a new roadway in process of building—an old broken down car—cattle following their leader to the barn—a big field of corn heading out beautifully—freshly cut bundles of oats—a thrasher busily getting ready to go to market—a dead sparrow that did not get out of the way soon enough—a workman at his door reading the evening paper—various roadside markets—the swish of passing cars—a home owner at work on the new building—fishermen on a lake—tourists making the last round before dusk—vacant avenues of an abandoned subdivision—unhappy country homes—gaunt chimney left where fire had burned a home—the infatuated fad of the day—the "ole swimming hole"—now on the avenue—now and then the odors of French landing kids contentedly dissolving all day suckers—an airplane settling lazily to the landing field—a long freight train noisily running its course—an old time Ford—chugging—along—a man changing a tire—a man driving a horse to town—a family party under the shade of a roadside tree—a school house that will soon come to life—an old cemetery with its dates of long ago—a quick witted rabbit that made the crossing in two jumps—the slow moving motorist that keeps you from getting ahead—the one arm driver and his spoozy girl friend.

These and much more make the panorama that flies past. So it's home again and safety.

MY GIRLHOOD DAYS
By B. M. Bloss of Cadillac

Novi, Oakland Co., Mich., September 1893.

I was merry and happy as a girl could be.

I had a fine saddle horse. I called her Kate.

And we were out riding both early and late.

I rode down to North Farmington one day to see

If I could get a picture of Kate and me.

I saw in big letters over a farmer's door.

Pictures taken here, one of more.

Picture galleries were then unknown. As the seeds of knowledge had not been sown.

So I alighted at the farmer's gate. And found I had not long to wait.

A man came out with a queer covered rig.

Which frightened Kate and she was dancing a jig.

I said to Kate, come here to me. This is for our pictures don't you see.

In a very short time the battle was won.

I mounted my steed and started home.

And I was happy as happy could be. Thinking of the pictures of Kate and me.

ture, parks and residences. Then, true to herself, she launched into the facts, folks and opinions connected with that great world convention where 2000 were registered and many nations represented. She gave intimate and interesting glimpses into the lives and struggles of people of other nations, who are crusading for a saloonless nation; also authentic reports of important people and countries as to their stand on this vital question. She gave many evidences of the fact that "government control" is not as popular and appreciated in our neighbor dominion as many would have us think. The afternoon was closed by a rousing song, "Prohibition, Law Enforcement—Not Repeal," sung to the tune of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Following the dinner Mrs. Susan Maurs, the local president, presided over the meeting. The hostess, Mrs. Root, was invited to give a word of welcome and in her characteristic manner made all feel the genuine hospitality which her words conveyed. She then introduced several important personages, among them Rev. Sherman of Detroit and Rev. Blake of Dundee, the presidents of the organizations represented, the youngest one present, little Myrlene Bower and two ladies, Mrs. Hattie Sims who is 82 and Mrs. Esther Webster of Madison, Wisconsin, who is 85 years of age.

A short business session was held and officers elected for this year.

Duets were sung by Walled Lake and Novi ladies, and two readings given by Mrs. Alice Challis of Ypsilanti, "The House by the Side of the Road" and "Bridge Builders." Mrs. Hattie Sims also gave a reading and a poem written by herself which was received with deep, silent appreciation.

The "big talk" of the afternoon was given by Mrs. Myrtle Lockwood and instructive report of the of Holly who gave a very interesting World's W. C. T. U. convention held in Toronto in June. In graphic style she told of the city itself, its government buildings, centers of culture, parks and residences. ## CONTAGIOUS DISEASE WARNING SOUNDED

A warning by Dr. Wilbur H. Johnston, village health officer to the effect that several cases of infantile paralysis have been noted in neighborhoods surrounding Northville was announced this week.

Up to August 18, stated Dr. Johnston, three cases of the highly infectious disease have been discovered in Washtenaw county, one in Oakland county and ten in the city of Detroit.

If the usual precautionary measures taken against any disease are adhered to, declared Dr. Johnston, there will be no cause for alarm. If any mother finds that her child is running even the slightest fever, a physician should be called at once, he said, in order to determine the probable cause and results.

Mothers should take care to keep the children's hands and faces clean, he said, and above all, children should not be allowed to place hands, even though they appear to be clean, in their mouths.

Infantile paralysis is a highly contagious disease, the germ of which has not yet been isolated by science. There is no serum for the prevention of the disease, stated Dr. Johnston, but there is a serum for the treatment.

No cases of infantile paralysis have been discovered in Northville as yet, and if, according to Dr. Johnston, the ordinary rules of sanitation are observed, there is little likelihood that there will be.

DRIVERS WILL LOSE RIGHT TO DRIVE CARS

Information received in Lansing announces that over a half-million drivers will be unable to drive after Nov. 1 unless they secure a new license before January 1, 1925.

With about 10 weeks remaining before Nov. 1, drivers are apparently planning to wait until the last minute before applying for the new license. Every driver whose old license was issued before January 1, 1925 must obtain a new one by November first and Department of State records indicate that 500,000 is a conservative estimate of the number who may be prevented from driving, if applications continue to be made at the present rate.

Chief of Police Wm. S. Safford is at the village hall every Monday from 7 to 9 o'clock p. m. and on Thursday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock.

SUGGESTS SLOGAN

Mrs. J. B. Cook suggests that a good slogan for Northville would be: "The Switzerland of Michigan."

Some visitors who have admired our beautiful hills and valleys call it that, she says.

Business is not a surprise to those who advertise.

RICHMOND P. BENTON SENDS GREETINGS TO NORTHVILLE FRIENDS

Richmond P. Benton, former Northvillian, now an appraiser at Los Angeles, Calif., still keeps alive a very warm affection for his old friends here who will be much interested in the following letter he sends to The Record:

August 18 1931

Dear Editor:

Enclosed herewith please find my check for $150 for one year for renewal of my subscription to the "Record". I enjoy reading it and especially all articles that appear occasionally relative to the old times.

Your issue of the Record, recently published, when you moved into your new building brought back to me remembrances of my boyhood days. Especially the picture of the boys in the silk "toppers". Well do I remember a number of them, especially Horace Cray, Charlie and Ben Fulkens, Ed. Simonds and others, all marching in to the Methodist church on Sunday morning and taking seats reserved for them well down in front.

In another article you speak of an old timer as "one" who could remember when Kern Babbut returned from Washington. My remembrance of Kern is when he used to ride his Grandfather's saddle horse, "Doc", from his home to school in Waterford, and turning him loose, and letting him return home, which is now owned by Phil Grennell.

I notice in this week's issue the article relative to Frank Perrin having held the office of constable for 32 years. No wonder Northville has been so well protected, having had two such men for constable as Frank Perrin and "Red" Green and along with Bill Safford, chief of police and the able leadership of Harry German as mayor, it should be well protected and prosper accordingly.

Your articles relative to the Fair at this time brings to my memory some of my dear friends, such as Harry Clark, who was always a fond lover of horses and Floyd Northrop, Milo Johnson, Ed. Starkweather and others.

Trusting that you have a large attendance at the Fair and with best wishes to all of my old friends, I am,

Yours very truly,

R. P. Benton

Church News

Presbyterian Church

On Sunday morning, August 30, at 10:30 the services of public worship will be held in the First Presbyterian church, with the minister in charge.

There will be no Sunday school exercises. These will be resumed the first Sunday in September.

Rapist Church

Next Sunday, August 30th, the pastor, Rev. W. Roscoe Barbour, who returned Tuesday evening from a week's sojourn at Hillsdale, will occupy the pulpit morning and evening as usual. The topic at 10:30 a. m. will be, "The Shoot From the Stock of Jesus." At 7:30 the subject will be, "A Name, But Dead." We are happy to note the fine services held last Sunday by the Rev. C. H. Snashall, D. D., of the Northern Baptist Seminary of Chicago.

St. Paul's Lutheran

Divine service is held every Sunday morning at the usual hour, 11 o'clock.

The meeting of the voters of the congregation is held quarterly.

The church officers meet the week before the voters' assembly.

Ladies Aid meets every second Thursday afternoon of every month at 2 o'clock in the church hall.

The Lutheran church of the Mississippi Synod broadcasts every Sunday afternoon over Station WXYZ from 2 to 2:15. Everyone is cordially invited to tune in on these broadcasts.

St. Paul's Lutheran bids all a hearty welcome!

Methodist Church Notes

Next Sabbath closes our church year. The first Sunday in September is the new church year. We are all anxious that the year shall close as well as possible under prevailing conditions. To those who have done their part may God add His special blessing. If anything is to be made up to complete the year will those who can kindly do so by the next Sabbath.

The new cartons will be given out by the treasurer next Sunday morning and we trust our people will be there to receive them.

The pastor will preach on "The Divine Call" at 10:30 when our choir which has been a blessing all through the summer months will render special music.

There will be reception of members in the morning service.

The Sabbath school under the superintendents will meet at 12:00 noon with a welcome to everybody.

Next Tuesday is our church conference when the reports from all the various departments are given. Dr. Martin, our District Superintendent, will preside. Let everybody be present. We will have our conference in the church house when we will meet for a pot-luck supper at 6:30. All our church folks are invited and a small charge of 25 cents will be asked to cover the nominal expense.

The Detroit Annual Conference is held at Old Central church, Grand Circus Park, Detroit, commencing Tuesday, September 15 when Bishop Thomas Nicholson will preside. This conference decides the pastor's coming or going at the request of our next Tuesday's conference.

The General Conference of the United States is held at Atlantic City. This is the Quadrennial Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church.

The Ecumenical Conference is held every ten years. This will be in the United States this time after four years. The place of meeting is Atlanta, Georgia on October 18, when the president of the British Methodist church of England will give the opening sermon. The pastor hopes to be present and renew his associations of the men in his early ministry who are attending as delegates that great conference representing the teeming millions of Methodists, the largest Protestant body in the world Asia, Africa, Europe and the continent of America will be represented.

Let us all pray for God's blessing on His Great work.

NOVI BLOSSOMS TRIM ALLEN ICE

In an exciting fair game as has been seen here in many years, the Novi Blossoms defeated the Allen Ice team after ten innings of fighting baseball Wednesday.

The Allen Ice team has previously been beaten by the Novi team but they evidently came out on the field before the large crowd fired with determination to hand their conquerors a fine licking.

The Novi Blossoms were extended to their utmost and some heavy hitting, excellent fielding, and general all-round good ball-playing kept the spectators on edge all through the game.

Going into the tenth inning Cox relieved Fraser. Starnes, for the Blossoms. Starnes had pitched a beautiful game but was tiring and rather than take any chances a new hurler was substituted.

Reeve substituted for Shears in the patching box for the Allen team in the Blossom half of the tenth with two out. Leavenworth doubled and Bob Utley came to bat with a one drive that brought in the winning run.

Both teams played nice ball and the remaining fair game will have to be on a high plane to compete with the excellence of these two clubs.

2,500 ATTEND WEDDING AT FAIR

The couple left for their new home in the Chelsea apartments on Chelsea avenue in Detroit.

Out of town guests at the reception were Mr. and Mrs. Farrell Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Arthur Miss Helen Arthur, W. E. McCarthy, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Woodman, all of Detroit, Mrs. Ida Putnam Williamston Mrs. Grace Stangle, Rochester, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Arnold Wayne Carlton Starr of Ypsilanti, the groom's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. D. Parmenter, the bride's aunt and uncle Mrs. A. T. Holcomb, of Novi, besides a host of friends and relatives from Northville and surrounding communities.

Northville merchants announced in advance of the occasion that they would donate gifts to the couple. N. C. Schrader leading the way with a grand prize consisting of a three-piece overstuffed furniture suite.

JAPANESE MAGIC LILIES ARE GROWN BY A. K. DOLPH

By H. E. B.

A few weeks ago A. K. Dolph took the writer to a corner of his garden over on Randolph and pointed to a bare spot and said, "Would you ever think that within a very short time stalks of lilies will spring out of this spot?" Well, we didn't and, not having had a very long acquaintance with this estimable gentleman, were inclined to doubt his assertion that there would soon be flowers blooming here. Fortunately, we kept silent and it is a good thing we did for within an unbelievably short time into the office walked the aforesaid Mr. Dolph with a bunch of beautiful Japanese magic lilies of delicate pink which were on display for several days and caused quite a bit of curiosity.

BOY'S ACCIDENT DELAYS GOING OF MRS. MACPHERSON

The departure of Mrs. Harriet MacPherson for the North where she is to continue her teaching in the school in the Lake in the Woods, will be delayed by an unfortunate accident which occurred to her son, Cameron, while playing in Detroit. Cameron, thirteen years of age, was swinging on a trapeze in the back yard of friends when he fell backward on a trapdoor in the back of Grace hospital in an ambulance. It was discovered that he had dislocated his shoulder and broken his right arm at the elbow and shoulder joint. By an X-ray examination the bone was found to be so splintered that it may be necessary to graft the bone. It was found necessary to place the boy in a cast extending from shoulder to his waist and it is thought he will have to remain quiet for three months. Cameron is suffering much pain. Dr. Curran, a bone specialist, is in charge of the case assisted by Dr. Gordon of Detroit. Mrs. MacPherson's sister is a special nurse in Grace hospital.

It is hoped that Mrs. MacPherson may be able before long to leave her son making good recovery in case of his grandmother, Mrs. MacDougal, of Detroit, until he is able to make the trip north by train.

GOOD WEATHER FOR THE FAIR

Although the weatherman predicted a day or so of rain for the Northville Wayne County Fair and officials took out rain insurance in anticipation of dewey weather, the sun remained clear and bright and the wet weather stayed away.

NEW RECORDS MADE AT ANNUAL EVENT

pets—owls, hawks, Japanese dancing mice, squirrels, prairie dogs, raccoons, monkeys and a number of queer creatures.

In the Sheep and Swine show, exhibitors showed Rambouettes, American Marinos, Hampshires, Lincolls, Oxfords, Shropshires and De Laines.

A flock of Black Turkeys, shown by W. C. Hendee and son of Pinckney, which won the premium for being the best shown, by a Michigan breeder at the state fair last year, was a feature of the show. Calvin Benton is the capable executive in charge.

The Cattle show, declared Joseph Cook, superintendent, is full to capacity with close to 200 entries. Unable to take care of the numerous exhibits that came in after space had been all taken up, many of the entries were turned away.

Farm Crest, owned by P. H. Greenman, has entered several prize Jerseys. F. B. Anger of the Red Rose Farms Dairy, with several fine Holsteins and Guernseys, has a fine exhibit. His prize entry, however, is Sir Hengford Perseus, a three-year-old bull which won All-American Honors at the National Dairy show held at St. Louis last year.

Julius Porath and sons, of Detroit, are featuring some beautiful Brown Swiss cows. Other exhibitors are W. E. Martin of Ann Arbor, the Van Hoesen farms of Rochester, Edmund Shuart of Ypsilanti, J. H. Wakefield and the Wayne County Training school of Northville.

In the Fruit and Vegetable show, officials Eren Flint, Ralph B. Carr and Ralph Foreman, declare that despite a poor season for crops and fruit the entries are of an unusually high quality.

Plate entries and basket entries fill the long tables and the judges, G. W. Woodbury and C. H. Mahoney, are busy checking over the exhibits preparatory to awarding the ribbons.

The Northwestern Garden club, Dearborn Garden club, and Belleville high school all have attractive exhibits. Flowers are profuse and the heavy scent of plants fills the air.

Attendance at the fair has been medium heavy, officials expecting large crowds today and tomorrow.

Daughter "When did you first get acquainted with dad?"

Mother "About three weeks after we were married."

60 COMPETE IN BABY SHOW HELD AT THE NORTHVILLE FAIR

Shortest girl, Daphne Shoebridge, 2 years and 2 months.

Shortest boy, Lyster Wick, 2 years. Heaviest and darkest eyebrows, Myrtle Lanney, 2 years.

Child with heaviest hair, Duane Manley, 2 years and 3 months.

Youngest mother, Mrs. Ivan Mayo, 16 years.

Child with birthday nearest August 26, Juanita Harrison 2 years.

Mother bringing a child the longest distance, Mrs. Ivan Mayo, Battle Creek.

The Baby clinic was really the more important part of the Baby show and mothers were glad to have expert judgment on their babies' physical condition. Dr. B. H. Douglas and Dr. Richard H. Saley of the Maybury sanatorium, with two trained nurses assisting, were the competent judges. Babies were stripped and examined carefully, weighed and measured. Their final scoring is not yet completed for publication but will appear in the next issue of the Record.

The only "fly" in the ointment of this very successful Baby show was a misunderstanding between the authorities and the judges as to the time of their coming and no little inconvenience was caused by the waiting mothers with squirming infants in arms. Not one, however, regretted the long wait when the contest was concluded.

The management feels that on account of the numbers attending this part of the fair program they have outgrown their present congested quarters and are hoping in another year to have a room larger and more worthy of this interesting enterprise. This is the first year of Mrs. Bertha Neal's management following Mrs. Flora Markins who began the Baby show back in 1908.

MRS. MACPHERSON TEACHES INDIANS AT MOST NORTHERN SCHOOL IN UNITED STATES

all the children of the school are her descendants.

One of the very few white women in this section, Mrs. MacPherson glides in the land of winter-loves skating, skiing, is not afraid of anything, a gun, Indians, tipping over in a canoe or any of the things that most women shrink from. Throwing her heart into her chosen work she enters into the life with zest and is proud of the rapid response she observes in the advancement of the race she loves.

BUT THEY DON'T—BECAUSE ...

Hustling, enterprising competitors use the recognized medium for selling their products—community newspaper advertising. They are shrewd enough to realize the value of presenting their goods in a newspaper which has the respect of the community, a paper which censors its advertising columns carefully, a paper that is read from cover to cover by at least three members of every family.

Race Meet at Grennan's

Boots and saddles will be sounded Saturday September 5, at the P. H. Grennan estate on the Six Mile road when a picturesque meeting will be held under the auspices of the Detroit Riding and Hunt club. The meeting will be an inter-club event in which the following riding clubs will take part, Grosse Pointe club, Bloomfield Hills club, Metamora club and the Detroit Riding and Hunt club.

The first race meeting was held Saturday, August 22 at the Grosse Pointe club and was declared so successful by the participants and spectators alike that it has been decided to continue the meetings, one to be held at each club. The events to which single entries may make application are varied, offering a wide range of choice to the enthusiastic horseman.

The School Plate, consisting of one and a half miles over brush will be held at catch weights for junior riders under 16 years of age. The Players Dash, a quarter mile race for regularly played polo ponies, to be held at catch weights, will undoubtedly see the cream of Detroit polo ponies entered. A trophy will be given to the winner of the dash.

Steeplechase racing still holds the exciting thrill for average racing fans. That it always did, mainly, horsemen say, because it is a dangerous, hard-riding sport in which anything may happen and usually does. The race is to be over a mile and a half course and horses, other than thoroughbreds and riders must be acceptable to the committee in charge before their entries will be acknowledged. The purpose of the selection is to keep the event for amateurs and to keep out professionals.

Weight will be at 165 pounds and a purse will be offered.

The Estelle F. Grennan Memorial trophy will be contested for by many on a one and three-quarter mile course and will be open to all horses and riders acceptable to the committee.

The trophy will become the outright property of the owner winning this race three times, not necessarily with the same horse, the winner to have his name engraved on the trophy which will be in his possession until the next running of the race. Weight will be at 165 pounds.

The Detroit Riding and Hunt club's Flat Race is a three-quarter mile event open to all horses and riders acceptable to the committee and the weight is 160 pounds. A purse is offered.

The Timber Race is a two mile open race over post and rails open to horses and riders acceptable to the committee. The weight is 170 pounds but non-winners of any previous cross country race of record August 24 will be given an allowance of five pounds. A purse is offered for the winning of this event.

The University race open to riders at schools or colleges, will be one and a half miles over brush, weight 150 pounds, and a handsome trophy will be awarded the winner. The vicinity of Northville is known to enthusiasts as real horse country, there being more riding horses within eight miles of this town than in any other section of the state. For this reason it is expected that there will be a large number of entries.

MOON FLOWERS AT DR. JOHNSTON HOME OPEN IN A FLASH

Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Johnston at their home on High street have a strangely performing vine, the moon flower, which comes out from a closely folded bud into a widespread flower in just a few short minutes while one stands and watches it. The seeds came from Mrs. Johnston's former home in Arkansas. The flower is popular in the south.

The moon flower is on a long stem and the unfolding process is very rapid unless the petals catch on each other. A slight opening appears at the top of the bud, then almost with a crackle, the bud opens out flat and shows five beautiful markings like a five-pointed star.

The flowers come out in the evening, this week between 6:30 and 7 o'clock. They last about 12 hours before wilting. They started to unfold last week and will continue until frost cuts them down. As T. G. Richardson, a neighbor, stood watching one of five come out on Tuesday night he said: "Well that is marvelous; I never saw anything like it before."

GROSSE ILE BRIDGE DEDICATION SEPT. 3

The new Grosse Ile bridge, which utilizes the old railroad bridge and right of way from Elizabeth Park at Trenton to Grosse Ile, is nearing completion.

Dedication ceremonies will be held at the bridge, which is located one mile south of Trenton, Thursday, September 3 at 2:30 p. m. Preceding this ceremony there will be speed boat racing opposite Elizabeth Park, starting at about 12:00 o'clock noon.

At 3 p. m. addresses will be given by: Honorable Walter M. Brucker, governor; Honorable Grover C. Dillman, State Highway Commissioner. This bridge will open Grosse Ile Township to the man, land and joins it with the Wayne County Highway system without the necessity of paying toll.

At 3:30 p. m. an airplane will cut the ribbon and the opening gun will be fired which will immediately be followed by an official ride across the bridge. Following the bridge opening there will be an exhibition of all activities at the Grosse Ile airport.
