CLOSING H. S. PARTIES AT 11 IS PROPOSED

Physicians Give Views On Question Raised At P. T. A.

At what hour should high school parties close?
This was one of the questions discussed at the Parent-Teachers association last Friday evening. It is the very place it should be "aired" being of vital importance to just these two, the parent and the teacher. The candid opinion of the members seemed to be that high school parties should begin earlier and close earlier. "Why not begin at 8 o'clock and end at 11?" some said. "Why not begin at 8 o'clock and end at 11?" some said. "Why not begin at 8 o'clock and end at 11?" some said.

No child lives to be the only one to have to go home before the rest go. It is a question for which we compromise when the whole matter might be avoided by mutual agreement between parents.

Physicians are pretty smart and know a lot of things we don't. Here are the candid opinions of Northville physicians.

Dr. L. W. Snow: "For their moral and health welfare, high school students should conclude their parties at 11 o'clock."

Dr. Irene and Dr. H. Sparling: "At all up-to-date hospitals the hour of 11 o'clock is the absolute limit for evening parties with a severe penalty for violation. It seems to me that the same rule should apply to growing boys and girls in high school. From a physician's standpoint, much trouble would be averted if parents could control the hours of their children through this period."

Dr. Walter H. Johnston: "I would advocate no parties during the school week at all. The saying is true, 'You may sleep till you are wakened by a hammer.'"

Dr. R. E. Atchison: "High school parties should begin earlier and close earlier. Eleven o'clock is late enough. Keeping late hours lowers the resistance of young folks making them more subject to infections which, in turn, are the cause of much of the heart trouble. If parents were more solicitous of their children's welfare they would be glad if the school authorities made this rule."

Dr. A. A. Holcomb: "During the pre-high school years 10 to 10:30 is late enough for parties. In high school I would have their parties all over at 12 o'clock with very rare exceptions at their special 'prom' at 1 o'clock. (This does not mean another party after that!)"

Dr. A. A. Holcomb: "During the pre-high school years 10 to 10:30 is late enough for parties. In high school I would have their parties all over at 12 o'clock with very rare exceptions at their special 'prom' at 1 o'clock. (This does not mean another party after that!)"

DON'T MISS THIS

With the first hint of coming winter the King's Daughters, who have borne the brunt of Northville's philanthropy, are scheming every way to replenish their depleted treasury.

Remembering that everyone must eat and that autumn winds give a tang to hearty appetites, they have hit upon the suggestion of one practical member to serve a hot hash supper in the church house on the evening of Tuesday, October 20. The price for supper will be only 35 cents—but of course no one will be denied if he insists on paying more for such a good supper.

No ordinary hash this! (Not like mother serves on Monday or left-overs from Sunday dinner.) Good corned beef, chopped up fine, and mixed with potatoes and just the right amount of seasoning by Northville's best cooks, baked brown in the oven and served piping hot. Some other good things will go along with this, popular dish ending with home made pie and coffee. Save the date and take the whole family.

SUPERVISORS SEE TRAINING SCHOOL WORK

Visitors Are Impressed by Splendid Exhibits of The Pupils

This is really a marvelous exhibition of what the children can do," said one of the Wayne county board of supervisors, Tuesday afternoon as these men, with a number of others, looked over an exhibit of many branches of work prepared by the boys and girls at the Wayne County Training school. This exhibit was one of the high lights of the annual trip of inspection made by the supervisors.

The visit of the board opened with a dinner served in the teachers' building. The Wayne county officials had been held up because of the press of business on the closing day of the session and it was not until 1 o'clock that the meal got under way. Milton Alexander, of Detroit, a member of the administrative board of the school, presided and spoke with deep sincerity of the fine achievements of the institution.

Called upon by Mr. Alexander, Dr. Robert H. Haskell said that the visit of the Wayne county law makers was one of the "big days" of the school. He welcomed the visitors and told them that the entire meal served the guests had been prepared and served by the children themselves, under the direction of their instructors Mrs. Robert Beattie, also a member of the administrative board, spoke very briefly. She too emphasized the great work that the Wayne County Training school is doing to send these handicapped children out to take their place in society. In many ways, she said, the school is the finest thing of its kind in the world and the results secured are amazing. Dr. John H. Hall, superintendent of the school, also spoke in high praise of its work.

Mrs. Haskell was presented to the company and pleasantly added her word of welcome.

Following the dinner, the company adjourned to the school building where all kinds of exhibits—an actual demonstration of the work done by the children—were on display. The supervisors and the other visitors were literally amazed at the big room full of handiwork of the boys and girls of the school who are taught may trades. All of this exhibit was the product of the labor and genius of the children. The exhibits ranged from farm products to baked goods, covering many lines of endeavor. From the flowers and plants from the school greenhouses to shoes prepared by the boys—the whole exhibit was an astounding revelation of the practical skill that is being developed among these boys and girls.

Dr. Haskell stood before an exhibit of plumbing that would have done credit to a big shop. "That was all set by the boys in just a few hours," he said, then turning to an electrical exhibit, he told the group that an expert had looked over the wiring and its many complications and said that it was all of the finest possible workmanship and that after hours of study of every minute part, he could not find a single thing to criticize.

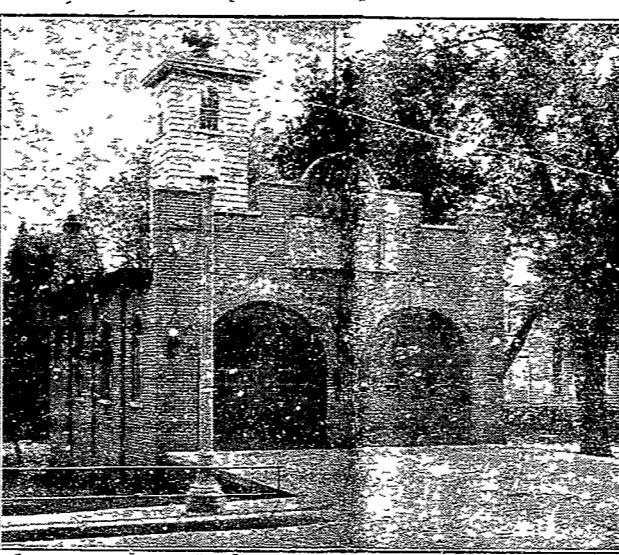

The wives of a few of the supervisors were present and they exclaimed with delight at the showing of dresses, all made by the girls, the canned goods and hand-made rugs and the perfect laundry work that had been turned out. Articles of furniture that looked as though they came straight from Grand Rapids factories, fine specimens of basketry, well-done tailoring jobs and a big array of printed matter that was very creditable—all the individual work of the boys and girls—and again spoke with great enthusiasm of the results that are being accomplished.

From the exhibit the visitors journeyed to the various buildings and gained a comprehensive idea of the great range of activities at the school. All were enthusiastic in praise of the splendid spirit shown by both pupils and teachers and of the great maternal progress that is being shown all around the school. The great work of character building that is stressed a great deal also drew much praise. The big regret of the visitors was that there was not sufficient time to see in detail more of the school.

Mr. Bush, commissioner of parks of Detroit, was among those who mentioned the splendid development of the grounds that has been steadily going on since the school was started five years ago.

Fire Truck Has Birthday

Home of Northville Fire Department

October 15 marked a very important event in Northville history. Just five years ago on this day the town of Northville purchased a new fire truck, an important step when she purchased the fire Ahrens-Rox fire truck which shrieks merrily through the streets of our village, saluting proud citizens who swell with satisfaction that our town has so fine an equipment and that our property is so well protected from fire hazard.

This fire truck has been the special pride of Reinhold Kikien who is also celebrating the fifth anniversary of his appointment as caretaker and driver of Northville's fire department. During these years Kikien's faithfulness and loyalty have been remarkable. No detail of duty has been neglected. Those who were in authority at that time say, "Kikien has always been more than faithful to his task—always on the job."

During these five years Mr. Kikien and his wife have made their home in the village hall which also was purchased at this time. She is always ready to answer the call of the siren and to leap to his place at the wheel of that mighty engine. In all these five years Mr. Kikien has missed only 4 calls and these were during vacation or "re-leaf."

Answering the call as volunteers during these five years have been Fred Hicks, fire chief; Gary Deal, assistant fire chief; Clayton Walker, captain; John Raymond, lieutenant; H. Van Valkenburg, 2nd lieutenant; Herman Kreeger, Loyde German, Reinhold Kikien; Arthur Mitchell, Ed Masters, Alf Lyke, and the purchase of the new fire truck and 15,000 feet of new hose, the purchase of the village hall with its park adjoining, other notable features of this administration were the paving of all of Northville's main streets and the placing of most of the boulevard lights.

It is interesting to recall who were at the helm of our village affairs at that time. Elmer Smith was serving his two-term as mayor and under him sat the following councilmen: Roy Van Valkenburg, Stewart Montgomery, Chas. Elkens, John Walker, C. E. Laifield and Carl R. Ely.

LEGION PLANS CAMPAIGN TO AID WORTHY

Lloyd Green Post Asks Help In Storing Food and Clothing

The Lloyd Green post of the American Legion is going to undertake a campaign for the storage of food and clothing during the fall months which will be distributed to the needy in Northville during winter.

Any farmer or resident of Northville who has anything at all to give in the way of food, clothing, fuel—anything at all that would help some poor family through the winter is asked to call Northville 73-J or 69 and a representative of the Legion will call to pick up the material which will be stored and distributed later. Those in immediate charge of the project are Commander Joseph Blake and Chas. A. Schoutz, welfare worker for the post.

"We're asking those who can give old clothes, vegetables, kindling, or anything at all, to give now because poor people are going to need help this winter more than at any other time," said Commander Blake. "We'll pick up the things they want to give if they have potatoes to dig, fruit to pick, or kindling to gather, we'll do it. If they'll call me at 69 or Schoutz at 173 J we will take care of all of the details and work."

Announcement was made by the Legion that their annual Armistice Day Dance will be held at the Northville high school gymnasium on November 11.

Merrill Sweet is the chairman in charge of preparations for the dance and details concerning the decorations and orchestra are being withheld until all of the plans are completed.

The decorations committee is designing a particularly novel motif for the dance and the members in charge say that they will attempt to make this dance superior to any ever before held in Northville in the way of good music, large crowds and beautiful decorations.

Lack of ability to snare passes cost the Northville football team the game in their contest with Lincoln Park held at the Fair Grounds here Friday.

Before a meager crowd the Northville team showed that they needed a better serial offense. Robinson demonstrated some nice blocking and Menzinger threw his passes accurately but most of them were dropped by the backs and ends.

The last half was marked by the injuries of Bender, Campbell and Menzinger. Bier was the only veteran left in the backfield, but Shipley and Neal, who got into the game for the first time in their careers gave a good account of themselves.

The Northville band gave a very nice concert between halves in an effort to cheer the team on victory. The line-up:

Northville—Ware, L. E., Beach, I. t.; Reed, I. G., Robinson, C.; Kohler, R. G., Schrader, R. T., Tibble, R. E., Menzinger, G., McCardie, I. H.; Bier, R. H., Bender, F. B.; Lincoln Park—Frits, I. Substitutors: Campbell, Fry, Neal, Shipley, Dickinson, Weston, Knight.

BARBOUR ATTENDS DENISON CENTENNIAL

This famous school whose graduates are to be found all over the world as preachers, missionaries, doctors, jurists, teachers and administrators, was 100 years old last spring. The formal celebration occurs Friday and Saturday of this week and a special service Sunday will be addressed by Dr. Chas. W. Gilkey of Chicago.

The class reunions come Saturday morning and Saturday afternoon the football game between Ohio Wesleyan and Denison will be held.

Rev. Wm. Roscoe Barbour of the class of '97, leaves Toledo Friday morning for Granville, the seat of Denison University and will be present throughout the celebration.

Col. Ed. A. Deeds, a classmate, is the inventor of the Delco system and was chairman of the National Board of Defense during the war. He is now an engineer and financier of New York. Col. Deeds will speak Saturday afternoon on the subject, "The Denison Man of Tomorrow."

SESSIONS HOSPITAL

Sessions hospital rings with the music (?) of three babies.

A son, Jas. Edwin, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harold White October 5.

A nine-pound daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Simmons October 12. Mrs. Simmons was Miss Amy Sessions, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sessions.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Norton Howarth of Detroit, October 12. The child lived only two days.

Mrs. Howarth is the sister of Wm. Zayni on the Base Line road.

BAND MAKES HIT

The Northville High School and Community band won new laurels at the Plymouth Kiwanis Carnival last Friday night when they played before a large crowd composed of Plymouth and Northville townspeople.

The band, under the leadership of Edwin Head, was in full uniform and presented a varied program of favorite numbers which were enthusiastically received by the audience.

So large was the attendance at the concert that it was with difficulty that many of the spectators found standing room in the rear of the hall. Expressions of praise were heard on all sides, complimenting the band on their skillful playing and the general poise with which they went through their repertoire.

No announcement has been made as yet of the entry into any band contests by the Northville High School and Community band but the enviable reputation held by the organization promises that the youthful musicians will acquire themselves well in any company.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT P. T. A. MEETING

The association held their first meeting last Thursday evening at the high school. Mrs. Paul Alexander, the new president, announced Mrs. Shepard as the new vice-president to fill the vacancy of Mrs. Paul Regula. Mrs. H. A. Boyden, returning president and chairman of the program committee, had charge of the meeting.

Opportunity was given to ask any questions concerning school matters that the parents wish explained. Various questions of interest were discussed.

An invitation was previously extended to taxpayers and parents who were not association members. Very few people other than members took advantage of the opportunity. The meeting proved to be one of the most beneficial in the history of the association.

Mr. Knapp gave a talk on the "Ambitions of the Northville Schools." Programs for the year's work were completed and are available to anyone interested in the association. Some very interesting meetings have been scheduled. It is hoped that parents in Northville will prove their interest in their child's school life, which composes the largest part of his waking day, by coming to the meetings that follow.

REPORTS ABOUT BANK SALARIES ARE UNTRUE

Contrary to local gossip that the receiver of the Lapham State Savings bank is receiving a salary at the rate of $10,000 a year, the Northville Record has reliable information that the amount is under $5,000.

Moreover all of Mr. Woodman's assistants are receiving much less than they formerly drew as employees of the bank.

Bloomfield Hills and Birmingham Are Northville's Only Rivals as Home Center, Says L. G. Palmer

"Sell the gospel of Northville as place to live and your town will have a great future," was the plea that Louis G. Palmer of Detroit, past president of the Detroit Real Estate board, carried to a joint meeting of the Exchange and Rotary clubs at the Presbyterian church house, Monday noon.

Rotarians were hosts to the members of the Exchange club and Father Jos G. Schuler, president of the former group, was in charge. The speaker was presented by Harry B. Clark.

Northville has a great opportunity, said Mr. Palmer, if it will capitalize its wonderful rolling section and its easy access to Detroit. Only two other sections compare with it as a place of homes, said the Detroitier. These are Bloomfield Hills and Birmingham—and Northville has some advantages that they do not have.

"Phil Gremman has set you a good example of what can be done," said Mr. Palmer, and "if you will all sell yourself on Northville you have wonderful possibilities. Improve your main street and get people out here on five-acre plots and you will soon have a great company of people boosting for you."

"What more could money buy than a home on five acres of land here, with the beauty of the outdoors and the attractions of the hills, with the city in easy reach?" asked Mr. Palmer, as he painted a picture of the time when people will be trying to find ways to get out of the crowded city. Not only will

DETROIT MAN IS KILLED BY TRAIN HERE

Julius E. Allen Drives His Auto in Front of Freight

Julius E. Allen, 65, of Detroit, was instantly killed Wednesday afternoon when the car he was driving was struck by a south-bound train at the railroad crossing located on the Seven Mile road near Plymouth avenue.

Allen's car was carried along the railroad tracks for a distance of approximately 150 feet before it was tossed by the train into the 15 foot deep culvert that runs parallel to the tracks. Allen was struck in the head by the driving bar of the train which entered the window by the side of the driver's seat.

His body, the head crushed in on one side, was tossed into the back seat of the car by the impact of the collision.

Witnesses, Lee Palmer and Christian Nogaard who operate business places near the scene of the accident, say that Allen evidently did not see or hear the warning lights and bells signaling the approach of the train and drove onto the tracks apparently intent on his driving.

Engineer Arthur Dawson of Saginaw stated that he blew the locomotive whistle several times but had no chance to stop his train, which was pulling 60 freight cars, from hitting Allen's car.

Allen had been picking walnuts in the vicinity of Northville and the appearance of several sacks full gave evidence that he was taking them to his home at 1526 Bavass avenue in Detroit.

The car he was driving was comparatively new having been driven only 85 miles but when he had in the garage was almost totally demolished.

The train which struck Allen's car was bound for Toledo and had been checked going through the Northville station at approximately 2:30 p. m.

COMING TO NORTHVILLE

The city has already started to come to Northville. More of it will be out later. Here is the authority for it. We quote from a Detroit newspaper:

That the very men who have designed the skyscrapers and so built up our great cities would really like to tear them down again or move to the country, was demonstrated Tuesday evening at the fifth annual traveling meeting of the American Civic Association, when Wirt C. Rowland, Detroit architect and specialist in skyscraper design, told visiting delegates and guests that he did not believe in cities.

Science, said Mr. Rowland in discussing the dispersion of the cities, must master the traffic problem and bring about the movement of the cities out into the smaller communities as a means of increasing the joy of living.

Yea, Northville, what a chance for you! Keep your eye on Northville. The city is coming to it and the city is going to like Northville.

AUTUMN GLORY

The glory of God is more manifest in the autumn, says Muri H. DeFoe in the Charlotte Republican-Tribune as he tells of a trip to the upper peninsula. The pictures are close to sublime, he says.

DeFoe is right. You can no more paint or describe the grandeur of a Michigan autumn scene than you can adequately tell of your sensations in Death Valley or on the rim of the Grand Canyon of the Colorado.

We have had no vacation yet this year—too busy keeping two steps ahead of Old Man Depression and his rattling chariot. But it wouldn't take much to send us off for a few days through Michigan, just to see God painting the woods and the hillsides in marvelous tints of sublimity, just to catch the glory of the sun going down as a thousand colors from a thousand trees, dressed in glory, call out "good night."

California has its majesty, its romance, its sub-tropical charm of fruit and flower, but it never has had and never can have anything that will thrill the soul like the matchless panorama of a Michigan landscape, with its sublime coloring and far flung witchery.

The fall-painted trees and woods are around Northville. Go out and see them now and come back, bathed in a new thrill of life.

HENRY B. JOY AND NATIONAL DEFENSE

Henry B. Joy buys advertising space in the Detroit papers to re-print a tirade from some New York paper against the churches because of their attitude toward national defense.

Because the churches oppose various forms of military training they are abused in this article from New York, which M. Joy apparently endorses. The church leaders are sneered at as pacifists who are following a "sedition course."

After reading such an outburst as this one wonders what strange motives are back of Mr. Joy's great zeal for national defense. Does any thinking person have the first idea that the United States is in any danger from attack from any source for many years to come? With the world literally staggering in woe and sorry as the result of the World war, with the lands overseas literally bled white as the result of war, what business has any New York man in sneering at honest and sincere men who are fighting for the world's greatest need—peace and good will? What defense can Mr. Joy make for upholding such an attitude of mind?

Armaments and militarists have brought the world to the cross roads right now. To talk about self defense when the world is agonizing as the result of militarism run mad seems tragic. If the burdens of armies and navies could be taken from the backs of broken nations, men could live together in peace and prosperity. Any one who would continue these burdens is no friend to his fellow man. If our church leaders can bring in a new era of peace the world will be on a new road to lasting happiness.

If the United States would cut in two what it spends for its army and navy it would be one of the finest things that ever happened. And the country would be just as safe as it is now.

What the United States needs and what the world tragically needs right now is more "pacifists" and fewer pompous militarists.

HELPING IN A HARD TIME

Do you want to do your little part in bringing about a return to prosperity to the workers of our little community? Do you want to put the smiles on the faces of little children?

Here is a simple, sane and helpful way you can do it: Do some building, repairing or painting that you know you really should do. There are carpenters around here—good men and true—who have been out of work for weeks and months. There are painters who have families to support and who are eager to work.

We may have missed some, but right now we know of only one new house that is being built in Northville. The way prices are down, it would be a great opportunity for some folks if a dozen new homes were going up. We know of scores of houses where there is a porch to be repaired, where windows need touching-up for the winter, where there are small jobs of painting to be done.

If one hundred men and women around Northville would let out some building and repair work in the next two or three weeks it would do a lot to ease the winter for members of our local families. We do know of one business man who has been doing this very thing the past month and he has brought good cheer to one family. We know another man who did a small amount of building and brought the happiest days another man has had for months.

Build, paint, repair NOW and hit Old Man Depression another good wallop. Enough of these wallops will put him out for good. He has been around here too long now.

NORTHVILLE FROM HORSEBACK

Dad, I want you to go horseback riding with me tonight, our son Paul said to us the other day. When we protested that we had no horse, he said that he would borrow one and bring him around at 5:30 p. m., all saddled and ready to go. That sort of touched us.

Paul was as good as his word. At 5:30 he had the horse kicking the gravel out in front of our home and his dad hustling to get into some old clothes. Then we were off—just a little cautiously for that was our first time on horseback since the days when we used to gallop back from taking cows to pasture, down on the big Hathaway farm near Addison. It gives you a funny feeling, to be perched on top of a horse and not back of a steering wheel. For a little while you are perfectly content to let the nag walk—it looks alike a long ways to the ground.

Down past the fair grounds we went—right into one of the biggest thrills we have had since coming to Northville. Splashed through the stream and then clambered up the side of a hill only to have our mount stop half way up, compelling us to jump off and lead him the rest of the way. Then at the top of the hill we came out into the new park that will be part of the boulevard system—and here we were literally amazed at the beautiful view spread out before us. We had lived in Northville eight months and had never seen it. Then we dashed through underbrush and into a woodland beauty spot that again thrilled us. It was a revelation of what this new park system is going to mean to Northville. Following a trail through the trees we finally dropped down onto the new roadway that runs south and back of the Cass Benton park and returned to the fair grounds.

Our horseback jaunt had opened to us a new Northville chapter of charm. The discovery so charmed us that the very next day we gathered a little party and walked through the wonderland—and the others were just as much excited over it as we were.

When this new roadway and park are completed and open to the public, Northville is going to have another wonderful asset.

See Northville first.

Do you walk two miles a day?

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

TURNING NIGHT INTO DAY

(Ray Corliss in Parma News) Men are turning nights into days and in many cases mauling clay that should become decent and law-abiding into human night-hawks. We made that observation mentally while visiting in Detroit several days last week.

Spending Thursday evening with State Editor Leslie N. Hildebrand of the Free Press until the "five star" edition (the one sent to Parma) came out, we walked through Grand Circus park about 2 a. m.

There is nothing remarkable about Grand Circus park as viewed two hours past midnight. The surprising thing was the dozens of ragged children, some of them not even in the teen age, playing there at such an hour of the day. Some were climbing a monument, others playing marbles, while a few appeared to be playing some sort of a chalk game, probably hop scotch.

Park benches were crowded with people, many asleep and others apparently having no place to go. We were told that if we should visit some of the all-night 10c movie houses we would find them crowded with people asleep in the seats, having no other place to go. Truly, one half of the world doesn't know how the other half lives.

parently having no place to go. We were told that if we should visit some of the all-night 10c movie houses we would find them crowded with people asleep in the seats, having no other place to go. Truly, one half of the world doesn't know how the other half lives.

HE HAD A HEART

(By Fred D. Keister in the Tonia County News) As Earl Norton, rural mail carrier out of Eaton Rapids, drew up to deposit a notice of a mortgage foreclosure in a farmer's mail box on his route he noticed a couple of the farmer's kids running and screaming in terror towards him. Investigation revealed a rattlesnake (not the one who traded the farmer out of his bonds but a real snake curled up near the end of the porch ready to strike). After dispatching the reptile the carrier tore up the notice and drove on, thus proving that a fellow doesn't have to shoulder a gun and shoot folks in order to become a hero.

GROESBECK AND THE GOVERNORSHIP

(Maurice D'Arve in Charlotte Republican-Tribune) A Lansing dispatch says that prominent Lansing, Mr. Groesbeck in nomination for governor are in circulation in Eaton county. We doubt the accuracy of the report.

Mr. Groesbeck is tremendously able though he is that served his last term as governor. He lacks the keen something that St. Louis had in a generous degree in the world series against Cincinnati. It is that inherent quality that appeals the high sportsmanship in good losers. The late Sir Thomas Lipton and his numerous attempts to win for England the American Yacht-racing honors affords a perfect illustration of our point.

One of the favorites is sometimes a wholesome thing for the popularity of the sport involved. Most people, regardless of their league bias, have come to feel that a St. Louis victory would be a good thing for baseball.

So, Groesbeck has had enough and wisely lacks that fundamental quality so essential to popularity whether the game is politics, golf or baseball—he doesn't know how to lose gracefully. Personally we wish he did. He could be so useful and much happier if he had this inherent aptitude so essential in public leaders.

THE GRANGER SPEAKS

(Clinton County Republican News, St. Johns) The National Grange, Wednesday, came out flatly with a statement that sounds like common sense. It says that the brewing of four per cent beer will not work any great benefit to the farmer. This claim has been forwarded by the exponents of a change in the Volstead act and one of the principal arguments of late months is that it is an important move in the direction of farm relief.

In order for brewers to make beer and use large quantities of grain, there must be beer consumed. That is simple and easily understood. The man who spends his money for beer will buy less of other things. He cannot spend the same money for food.

Routine

(By Dorothy Heatley) "Oh, dear, it's the same old thing every day." How often we hear this hackneyed phrase from none other than our dear classmates? Nearly every day we hear someone say, "If they only had something to change the monotony of this tiresome school life. Really, 'tis getting on my nerves." Does one ever do anything exciting? Yes, if one can consider rising early in the morning more tired than when retiring and going through the day that is no different than the day before, except that it might contain a few more hardships and penalties from our teachers.

But do we ever think why we are going through all this routine? I don't suppose we do, but the answer is quite easy—we are training our characters. When we leave here we shall go out into a world that holds more trouble and hardships for us than all the penalties of N. H. S.

No doubt the students who take positions will find it a great help when they are given orders and told that it is not so difficult to fulfill them, because they had been accustomed to doing this in school. We can compare ourselves to the brave soldiers whose lives are made up of routine, and when they are called to act in battle, they realize how this routine life helps them to conquer.

We are forming our habits now which will surely make up our later life, and we should make these habits as good as possible. Everyone will agree that habits can be formed in no better way than through routine life. So, when we get disgruntled and start to complain about "ole school life," think not of the present, but of the future for which we are now making preparations. And if we are asked, "How can you ever stand such a monotonous life?" we can surely answer, "We enjoy a routine life so much because it strengthens our characters and that is what really counts."

and for beer. It is the contention of the Grange that beer will come into direct competition with dairy products. Briefly, more beer means less milk consumed in the home. Beer, as we understand it, is not a food. It will not keep people from starving. Beer is not a substitute for fibrous fuel. It is not an economic necessity. It is a luxury. Therefore we cannot see that the manufacture and consumption of beer can by any stretch of imagination, figure in the solution of our economic ills. This is simply an argument, which is plausible at this time.

What Does A Football Score Mean?

When a large school defeats a small one at football or any similar game, what does it mean? Does it mean that the players on the team from the larger school are better players, or that the larger school has a better team? Maybe that, and maybe something else. Have you read Brenna's football story in the November Ladies' Home Journal?

There are Class B schools, with enrollments of 300 or more, while Class C schools have 299 or less. Northville has 208. In the Suburban League Farmington and Northville are the only Class C schools. Playing with Class B schools puts them at a disadvantage. If we play any Class B schools during the season, we cannot reasonably expect to win even half of the game in the long run.

It is like the Normal or Albion trying to beat the University. The experience may be desirable, but some of the followers are bound to be disappointed. If our boys play well and with good sportsmanship, we ought to be satisfied. But that is not all the coaches want.

Something ought to be done about it. Something is going to be done about it.

Let's All Buy a Season Ticket

The football season is with us again. If a passerby should hear yells and hurrahs, "Eighteen, eighteen, eighteen," almost any time on Friday, he should realize that there is a game scheduled and the cheer leaders are working on the loyalty and spirit of the high school to encourage the team.

The band plays, the boys and girls cheer, but bands and cheers will not support a football team. "Let's all buy a ticket," Wayne Dearborn, Lincoln Park and others have their only contact with Northville through the high school sports. Then isn't it up to everyone in Northville to stand back of the football team? Why not everybody buy a ticket?

New System Being Used in Typing Class

Mrs. Taylor's typing class, which consists of twenty pupils, are trying out a new system. The Direct Method, the material being furnished by Pontiac high school, because the head of their commercial department is one of the authors of the system. By this method the students are able to type a letter after three days. This system is much quicker than the old method. The schedule for this year is much different. The pupils type two periods, instead of one, and work on outside work.

At the end of the year the amount of words that a student should type are forty per minute. In assessing accuracy, credit is given by quantity and quality.

This system is being successfully worked out in a room much better suited to this type of work because it is larger, better lighted and better ventilated.

There is a great demand for typing this semester, in fact so great that few students have brought their own machines.

Do You See What is Around You?

If someone were to ask you what pictures hang in the assembly room, could you tell them? I doubt it. You have probably looked at them a hundred times, but you weren't noticing the pictures. You were thinking of that date tonight or the big football game.

Two landscapes hold the places of honor in our assembly. One is the picture of an old mill; the other is a wooded sketch.

In Mr. Zimmerman's are two paintings of famous artists. One of them is the well known American landscape artist, the other of Giotto, the famous French painter.

Mrs. Ray also has famous paintings in her office. These of "The Flower Girl" and "The Madonna and Child."

As you sit in the history room the pictures of Abraham Lincoln and George Washington hang in Mrs. Cobb's room. There is also "The Signing of the Declaration of Independence."

English students have probably noticed the pictures of Emerson and Whitman. Miss Chapman's room.

Then in the hall are the pictures, which are undoubtedly considered the best and most appreciated by the student of Northville, those of the Seniors of former years. Then there is another picture among these most popular pictures, which I am sure is not neglected altogether. It is that of Lincoln.

Faculty Members Spend Vacation in Various Points of Compass

The teachers divided their time this summer between the lakes, study and travel.

Mrs. Chapman took a month's trip with her husband, and returning to their home in Northville, on July 15.

Mr. Jacobson divided his time traveling in the north and east.

Mrs. Taylor was in the north for two weeks. The remainder of the time she was at her home in Plymouth.

Mr. Knapp spent the summer in Northville, but took a five days' trip to New York on September 19.

Miss Jarvis spent the summer in the east.

Mrs. Owen was in the north for a week. She also visited friends and relatives week-ends.

Mrs. Ruggles found the wilds of Michigan an ideal place for the summer. He was at Oden, 300 miles north of here.

Miss VanVleet was in Muskoka Lake region in Canada for two weeks, and in the north.

Miss Rencke divided her time between Hemlock Lake, Detroit and Jonesville.

Mrs. Congo was at her home in Northville, with the exception of five weeks which were spent in the Muskoka Lake region in Canada.

Mr. American returned to Hillsdale for the summer.

Mrs. Zimmerman spent a month at Duck Lake.

Mrs. Cobb enjoyed the summer at Long Lake, Mich.

Miss Leonardson and Miss MacDonald studied at Madison, Wis.

Mrs. Ray and Mrs. Cooke were at their homes in Highland Park and Northville, taking care of all matters.

Mrs. Bay was at her home on Bass Lake Road.

Mr. Thompson worked with the Spicers, Wilmington, company of Jackson.

Mr. Lee started work on his master's degree at the University of Michigan.

Miss Eaton traveled in Canada, visiting Niagara Falls. She spent part of the summer looking up old school friends in the east. She also visited Houghton Lake.

Miss Hawkins was at Bass Lake and Dearborn during the summer.

Miss Wilson spent the summer in Michigan.

All of the teachers reported a very enjoyable summer.

Did You Notice

That some of these high school girls can't seem to decide whether to have long or short hair?

It seems to me that if they don't like the same way two days in succession they'd be more recognizable.

That the past week Coote Kerr has been in pretty bad shape? Somebody said something about his falling down I wonder if that could be possible?

The field run that Richard Ship made at the Lincoln Park game? It was marvelous.

How fast the Hot Dogs went Friday at the game? The Seniors feel more egotistical than ever (if that's possible).

Yes? you couldn't help it. The fine bunch of cheer leaders that lead the cheering for dear ol' Northville??

How "super" happy Charles Merringer is? No, it isn't some sweet country girl from Northville, but a sure-nut city girl from New Hudson.

The handsome new boy from Cooley High, who has decided to pursue learning in the halls of Northville? In case you haven't seen him, he's tall, blond, and—oh, my, oh, my.

What an attractive town Plymouth is? It isn't the ride, it isn't the walk, it isn't the atmosphere—it's the boys. I can't see why the hard-hearted girl would desert the fat, blushing fellow from here (not all the girls, just a few).

How efficiently Mrs. Ray has organized the library this year? There seems to be no place at all this year for those who wish to loaf. As is the wish of all faculty members, maybe a little studying will be done this year.

The artistic designs created by the signs that someone painted on the sidewalks last Friday. Remember where art thou?

A lot can happen between Wednesday and Friday nights.

There was a real exciting game after the main event. N. H. S. should get some real material from the grade school. Oh, what takers.

Classes Elect Officers for Coming Year

The Freshmen are pleased with the officers and hope to accomplish much in the coming year. The officers are: President, Spencer VanVleet; Vice-president, Donald Ferguson; Secretary, Day-Don Deal; Treasurer, Kenneth Wood; Steward, Edna Bender; Sponsors, Mrs. Cooke and Miss McDowell.

The Sophomores elected: President, Merle Fraser; Vice-president, Katherine McKenna; Secretary, Edna Bender; Treasurer, Eleanor Grosvenor; Alderman, Evelyn Kimball.

The Juniors have all boys for their officers: President, Bob Christensen; Vice-president, Bob Powers; Secretary and Treasurer, Melvin Sterner; Alderman, Louis Campbell; Sponsors, Mrs. Cobb and Miss McDowell.

The Seniors have all the special privileges this year, as they are planning to go to Washington, and they are sure their officers will get them there: President, Ward Van Atta; Vice-president, Frances Bacon; Secretary, Ella Tibble; Treasurer, Ruth Mary Baldwin; Alderman, Thelma Nirder; Sponsors, Mr. American and Mrs. Chapman.

English Students Write Compositions.

From time to time the Orange and Black will publish compositions and stories written by the pupils in Miss McDowell's English classes.

Below is one written by Maurice Giles.

A Peaceful Night and Sandy Spinnach.

At five o'clock on the morning of July 4, 1931, A. D. The Boy Scouts of Northville troop one, left for East Tawas, on the shore of Lake Huron.

We arrived at our destination about eleven o'clock. Hurriedly we got into our bathing suits and went in swimming. Brrr, that water was as cold as it contained a million tons of ice. I'll bet a dollar to a doughnut that it was colder than the Behring Straits.

That night most of the boys pitched tents, but I decided to sleep in the hammock. What a hammock that was, or rather I should say what a night that was.

Every few minutes someone would give the hammock a swing that it would turn completely over, leaving me on the ground. Well, finally all this subsided (about 12:30) and I got a little sleep.

Next day we ate our dinner about two miles up the shore. I had just opened a can of spinach, warmed it up, and was about to eat it when someone kicked nearly a half can of sand into it.

I told Mr. Owen, the Scoutmaster, about this, but he said that a little sand wouldn't hurt me and that I should eat it. Well, I ate it, but a quart and a half of milk had to wash it down.

Junior Class Holds Meeting

The Juniors had their first class meeting, called by Robert Christensen, the class president, for the purpose of choosing a new secretary for the class, as Jack Hill, the secretary of the previous year, has moved away. The class also chose two advisors. When the ballots were counted, it was found that Warner

Neal was to be the new secretary, and Mrs. Cobb and Miss McDowell were the advisors.

High School Geography Proves Popular

One of the most popular subjects this year in the high school is high school geography. There are so many students enrolled in the class there are hardly enough seats for them, and many have to sit two in a seat.

The teacher, Mrs. Wright, is trying out a new plan for the class to make it more interesting. Each student is allowed to progress as fast as he or she wants to.

Student Council Holds First Meeting

The members of the Student Council were called together Thursday for a first business meeting. It was the first meeting of the year and the new officers were told their duties.

The council transacts all the school business, being chiefly concerned with the athletic department.

Various points were brought before the members, among these being the discussion of an annual and ways of increasing the athletic fund.

The members of the Student Council are:

Mayor—Howard Beach

Secretary—Gerard Ferguson

Treasurer—Gertrude Deal

Faculty Advisors—Mr. American, Mrs. Taylor (Managerial).

Who Backs N. H. S. the Team and All?

Can't you see that the team needs year support, and can't overcome defeat without it? How many townspeople offer their support?

We admit that some are not able to pay the admission fee of 35c to see every game, but even some of you who can don't have the right of school spirit to have? No—most of you would answer. Well, then why don't you get out and cheer them to victory?

Instead of staying home and listening to someone else tell you about it, then the team is on the field playing, they don't know who is on the side lines, but a good lusty cheer is heard for them they know and feel as if they were being supported by classmates and townspeople. Think of the boy you used to have on the team—how he would come home and tell how glad he was to spy you in the crowd. He is probably out of school and games (except the game of life) now, but can't you still go to games and help cheer another boy on to victory? Why, of course you can, your cheers. Remember we play as a will. Help our boys to win by your cheers. Remember we play Plymouth on Friday and we must be victors. So come and yell, yell, yell. It won't hurt you, but it will help N. H. S.

Boys' Glee Club Organized

Due to the fact that three members of the boys' quartet were graduated last year, it was deemed advisable to start a boys' glee club for this year.

There has been a very good turnout, with excellent material, and under the guidance of Mr. Lee, some interesting and pleasing programs have been planned. The boys turning out for the glee club work are: First tenors—Alfred Parmenter, Robert Lyke, Tom Carrington, Alex Johnson, Don Keeney and Jack McLean; second tenors—Henry Hoffman, Dayton Deal, George Richardson, Howard Latta, Cloyce Meyers, Howard Meyers and Leo Coffey; baritone—Ernest Race; Maurice Giles, Paul Bear, Ward Clark, Junior Schrader and Ous Tewksbury; basses—Merle Fraser, Warner Neal, John Steenchen and Don Lanning. They are accompanied on the piano by Richard Shipley. Their initial performance will take place sometime in November.

Junior Girls' Glee Club Promising

If a good beginning means anything, it looks as if the Junior Girls' Glee club will be very successful this year. The girls who have joined this year are: Marjorie Chase, Lucille Simmons, Norene Kreger, Margaret McCandish, Florine Shoebridge, Anna Simmons, Dorothy Schweitzer, Thyra Lester and Flora May Conklin.

The girls who were in it before are Betty Haystead, Evelyn Anderson, Jean Robinson, Francis Alexander, Lella Haystead, Alice Masters, Dorothy Vroman, Isabelle Tibble, Norene Blake, Rata Heatley, Margaret Norton, Helen Johnson, Jane Grosvenor, Isabelle Tewksbury, Rose Knight, Rita Springer, Juanita Elkington, Katherine Shoebridge, Barbara Simmons and Kathleen Ranck, the accompanist.

Domestic Science Notes

The Domestic Science classes have been organized and are under the capable direction of Mrs. Zimmerman.

The seventh grade girls have completed their towels, and are ready to make aprons and caps for cooking.

The eighth grade girls plan to serve lunches once a week to the teachers for the purpose of raising a fund. This fund is open to any pupil in the eighth grade who does not have the ready money with which to buy supplies. They can borrow the amount of money needed and then pay it back within a specified time. This fund is also for the purpose of buying articles for the domestic science room.

The ninth grade girls are working on pajamas, and the Senior girls are working on under garments.

Ella Tibble entertained the Jug club, with a picnic at Cass Benton's park, Monday night.

Geraldine Ferguson and Ruth Mary Baldwin spent Saturday in Detroit.

Frances and Esther Bacon spent the week-end with Mr. Bacon in Coldwater.

Eleanor Eaton will spend the week-end at Galesburg.

Trophies in Northville High School

Northville high school has had her share in the winning of trophies as any other high school, and has also recognized the achievements of her students. Proof of this lies in the trophy cases in the west end of the upper hall in the high school.

The various cups which are placed in the trophy cases were won at one time or another in the various sports over the doors in the west end of the hall are other winning trophies.

The cups displayed signify activities in various lines of work and sports. Most outstanding among them is the honorary Citizenship of students, whom the student body has elected as representatives of the ideals of good citizenship. For 1927 and the two years following from two to four names appear. Near this is the scholarship cup, with the names of the valedictorians of the classes for 1924, 1925 and 1930. The honor cup in the natural sports represents the efforts of teams which have won the right to play basketball, football, and baseball.

There is a large loving cup presented to N. H. S. in 1927 for winning the Detroit Suburban High School basketball championship. A similar silver cup was won in the Suburban High School League by the girls' track team of 1925.

Only a few intramural sports activities are represented. Among these are three small cups. One won by the junior class of 1927, by a stunt night program; another, by a certain track team; the third, was won by the Orange and Black team at the girls' gymnasium meet in 1928.

Several athletic teams have left cups during their school time. Bearing them away is which to be remembered. Prize winning exhibits of the work of the art, manual, training and domestic science classes have brought home cups from the Northville Wayne County fair since 1926.

A tall loving cup bears the names of the winners of the past three years. Down the hall are three bronze plaques presented for excellence in high school debating. Although not included in the trophy display, the prizes won by the Northville Community band should be mentioned. A large silver cup was brought home from the 1930 Christmas Festival in Detroit, and a second, from a suburban league contest in May of this year.

This collection represents wholehearted effort on the part of the students, and Northville high school has a right to be proud of it.

More genuine satisfaction than any car I ever owned

THE FORD is good-looking. It is safe. Comfortable. Speedy. Reliable. Long-lived. Economical. Everything a good car should be.

There is, too, an added something about it that brings enthusiastic comments from every one who has ever driven a Ford . . . the joy it puts in motoring.

"I have been a car owner continuously for nearly 20 years," writes a motorist connected with a leading university. "During this period I have bought eleven new automobiles. Eight of the eleven were in the middle-price field, one cost three thousand dollars, and the last is a Ford I purchased thirteen months ago.

"In the light of this experience I can say in all sincerity that I have derived more genuine satisfaction from the Ford than any car I ever owned. In saying this, I am thinking in terms of comfort, safety, driving pleasure, ease of control and economy. My next car will also be a Ford because it will give me what I want at a price I can afford to pay."

When you get behind the wheel of the Ford and drive it yourself you will know it is a truly remarkable car at a low price. You will like it when you first buy it. You will become more and more enthusiastic the longer you drive it.

After thousands of miles of driving you will say "it's a great car." Its economy will save you many dollars.

Let's have a SHOWDOWN on this matter of TIRE COMPARISONS

WITH all the conflicting claims published about tires, it is obvious that misleading statements are being made. The only conclusion that you as a tire buyer can draw is that either we as Firestone Dealers, are misrepresenting Firestone products, or that a certain mail order house is not telling the truth about theirs. Both can't be right—one or the other is misleading the public by their comparisons.

get the facts yourself, makes it unnecessary for Mr. Firestone to make affidavits on the truth of his statements or to file any complaint with the Federal Trade Commission, and then advertise it, in an attempt to lead the public to believe his statements were true.

Mr. Firestone doesn't ask you to accept comparisons about Firestone Tires and special brand mail order tires until you see the facts yourself. Neither do we. All we ask is that you make your own comparison.

We have cross sections cut from special brand mail order tires purchased from stocks of mail order house and from Firestone Tires—no "tricky" or misleading comparisons—come in today and make your own comparisons for Quality, Construction, and Prices. YOU and YOU ALONE be the judge!

The community regrets greatly the fact that the family of Edward McCandish have moved from our town to Clarkston. Mr. McCandish was one of the men to whom Northville pointed with pride as accomplishing outstanding things, being an artist of note. Four of the McCandish children were attending our public schools where they all made enviable records. Mrs. McCandish will be missed in the Parent-Teachers Association where she was a leader.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Freydl will move to Northville from their farm on the Seven Mile road soon.

Liddell on Princeton Ave. Mrs. Simmons' friends will be interested to know that she maintains a very active interest in affairs especially in Northville and has a vivid memory of her favorite pastimes now as of old.

The librarian, Mrs. Jenny Cousins, says that there never were so many books out from the library over time. Many of them have been due for some time and some of these are needed by students in school. Please make an effort to return them as soon as possible. Because of possible stress in circumstances now, the librarian very generously offers to cancel all fines when the books are returned.

MOTION PICTURE PROGRAMS

"SILENCE" An intensely interesting human story is the background for the exciting melodrama, "Silence," which will be shown at the Fenimian Allen theatre in Plymouth Sunday and Monday, October 18 and 19, with Olive Brook, the charming Marjorie Rameau and the flaming-haired Peggy Shauman in the leading roles.

"Silence" gives Brook an opportunity to portray a great human character, and the suave and polished star takes every advantage of the opportunity. Supported by two capable and beautiful actresses, Brook sounds the depths of a man's soul in a series of adventures, escapades, trials and disillusionments that bring him finally to the supreme sacrifice to save his own daughter's reputation.

Peggy Shauman displays a new acting flare in "Silence," which bears out the promise of versatility contained in her role in "The Secret Call." She is dramatic, emotional, and withal, interestingly gay and alive. Playing two roles in this picture, that of the wife, and, later, the daughter of Brook, she manages by sheer talent to keep the two characters separate and distinct and interesting.

Theatre-goers will be particularly intrigued by the presence of glamorous Marjorie Rameau in the excellent part of the girl who saw "Fast and Loose" means and shared his dark handsome beauty. She welcomes the return to the screen of Charles Starrett in the juvenile role of "Silence." Other parts are capably filled by Willard Robertson, Joan Wray and Frank Sheppard.

The action of the picture takes place over a period of twenty or more years, and the early sequences give vivid and interesting life to the "good old days" before the war. The latter scenes, taking place in a modern Middle West City, concentrate all the force of the drama in terse and thrilling cinematic incidents.

"Silence" is a drama taken from life, real feeling, being only portrayed.

"PERSONAL MAID" The personal maid, to be at the top of her profession today, must master a vocation requiring almost as much versatility and range of information as that of a motion picture star, says Nancy Carroll, actress making an exhaustive research into the required equipment of personal maids for her starring role in "Personal Maid" which will be shown Wednesday and Thursday, October 21 and 22 at the Fenimian Allen theatre in Plymouth.

Having had a number of efficient maids in the "Empire," the flapper actress considered herself well acquainted with the duties of the women who attend the intimate needs of modern society leaders. But, as she delved into her character, she was amazed at the wide range of work in which a maid must be proficient.

HOMEMAKER'S CORNER

We dropped into a cozy church kitchen the other day where all kinds of interesting operations were going on and through it all such jolly, familiar friendliness. Right off we would have been glad to drop our pencil for a parking knite and sit down gingham-approved in that group who were "Ida," "Nell," "Grace," "Lida" and "Bertha" to each other.

What a lot of fun tann osk-aches the men miss? They think they are "fraternizing" when they assemble from shop and office to sit down jovially to a "ready-made" meal served by these Dorcases. But honestly the real fraternizing is going on behind the scenes in the kitchen where for several hours a team of women has worked out each detail of the meal which these men hastily devour.

During all those hours of paring potatoes, roasting meat and rolling out pies a cheery exchange of jokes and gay bantering has gone on. Here in a kitchen real character is shown up. Drones and winners are soon found out and the woman who does her best at any task set by the chairman and doesn't get a "peeve" because she can't do the ornament-tal job has passed muster in this army of toilers. Two old soldiers once met after long separation and in excitement one slapped the other on the shoulder and said, "Well, comrade, we fought, bled and died together, didn't we?" Fighting to clear a set amount for church debts, fighting to feed their families, as were expected, fighting to keep a cool head when the potatoes are not done and the mob is filling the tables—fighting on with that mountain of unwashed dishes until finally the last dish pan is hung up and the battle is over! Fighting together in a common kitchen cement real friendships. These women can qualify in that definition for friendship: "My friend is one who knows all about me and loves me just the same."

Does any new-comer complain that "Northville is cold—hard to get acquainted?" Whose fault is it? Once let her "soothe" her hands in the warm wash water of some busy kitchen and join in the bustling whirl of the women who "do things" and presto! she's a stranger no more.

Every Monday Morning

By "AD" SCHWENGER

Story of the week: Business conditions being what what they are, five Northville merchants were sitting around the radio in the back room of one of their stores, listening to the World Series game.

It was a tense moment of play, three men being on bases or some one was about to hit a home run, when the five, hanging breathless on the announcer's every word, heard the front door open and a customer walked into the store.

The five, sitting behind a curtain, looked at the owner without saying a word, until one of their number leaned over toward him and in a quiet whisper said, "Shhh, maybe he'll go away."

Different people have different crosses to bear in this weary world. Some anxious moments are spent by those individuals carrying a large load of stocks. Others have children that worry them, or matters of the heart that keep them awake, anyhow. We all have some load of care to bear.

But take Earl Montgomery, you see him walking the streets these days with a white, ghostly face, despondent of worry, in his face you can see your bottom dollar that the water fountain on the corner of Main and Center is plugged up again, or the kids have in some way "pinned" it up.

The other day when the sun was shining, birds singing and all the world was happy, Earl had a plunger over the fountain, together with two or three wires attached to it, and a "water faucet."

Nice old ladies heard real human language on that red letter day. Men folks thought of calling Earl Stafford and telling him that a maniac was a large, but on closer inspection it proved to be Earl, and knowing his trouble with the fountain they heaved sympathetic sighs and passed on.

At one time, Earl, England will continue to have trouble with the gold standard. Germany will strive mightily with her reparations debt. France will worry about armament expenses, nations that have withstood the ravages of the years will fall but when Gabriel blows mess call on his bugle, Earl, you'll be left behind because you'll still be fishing with wires down that "so-and-so" water faucet on the corner of Main and Center streets.

A line filled with worries keeps one alert, but let me tell you, it wears on you after a while.

At the largest and important business sessions was held by the LaAuxiliary society in the home of Mrs. Wilbur Waterman. Much business was transacted and new objectives for the society to be carried out were discussed. A sumptuous dinner was served to over forty guests in the beautiful dining room.

Monday school is planning so-soave a rally day, so we urge all ps to bring their children to bring service and remain for ay school. New teachers have provided and a fine spirit of team and cooperation is maintained.

Why only this morning for instance I walked into my garage, and there was "Bucephalus," my pet flyer, suffering from the dreaded "deflation of air" in the right hind tire.

"My heart bled" for Bucephalus so I rummaged around for my trusty jack and went to work.

I got her up on the jack, took off the offending tire and was tugging on the spare tire in the back of the car, when Bucephalus gave a shriek and toppled to the ground smack on her brake drum.

To make a sad story even sadder, the spare tire was no good either, and the garage man had trusted me to the extent of $1.65 for a repair. I proceeded on my way.

Truthfully it is said in the Bible that "man is born into trouble as the sparks fly upwards"

Perhaps I feel depressed because a very determined lady walked into the office the other noon, and when I asked her what I could do for her, she told me that I "wasn't worth a hoot-all."

"Now I've never come face to face with a "hoot-all," but if they're anything like that lady's accents I surmised, then I'm doomed to eternal damnation.

"Whoopie" as George Bungle says, what session that was. Anyhow, when I see my alarm clock for the last sleep, they can make my epitaph read, "Here lies Ad. Schwenger, who faced a hoot-all with all his faults, his courage did not fail."

There's something wrong with the metre of that epitaph, but by that time it won't make any difference to me, anyhow.

A fine and a half pound soil was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. White on October 3. He has been named James Edwin.

 Authorities have urged upon the churches to do their part in the present crisis. In accordance with that we have started to organize the St. Vincent de Paul society among our men. Larger communities know what this society has accomplished. Only men are eligible to active membership. Honorary membership is open to all. This society cooperates with other agencies. Mutual progress results. We shall ask for active memberships at church next Sunday.
 From 25 to 40 are attending the daily morning October services at 7 o'clock. The natural mother refuses her son very little and thus applying the human instinct to higher things we ask the Mother of Jesus Christ this month to intercede to her son in our behalf during these hard times. Can that method be impractical or far-fetched? More results have been brought

 The Sunday school is receiving a little extra attention and plans are being made to boost out attendance and increase the enthusiasm. Do not forget boys and girls that you promised last Sunday to bring someone with you. That means that we are to have a crowd on the 18th. We're counting on you so do not fail us.

George Pearsall
 Geo. Pearsall, former resident of Northville, died Tuesday morning at the Eloise hospital at the advanced age of 90 years.
 Mr. Pearsall was born near Hudson, but for the past 40 years had lived in and around Northville and for the past 10 years had made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Jones on Dubuay street.
 Mr. Pearsall's wife, Fanny, died in 1926 and there were no children from their union. A nephew in Walled Lake survives Mr. Pearsall. For the past few years Mr. Pearsall was crippled and he did not come down town or venture out of his home often. He lived very quietly and was not a member of any clubs or organizations. Most of his friends were early pioneers of Northville who had preceded him in death. Recently his mind was affected and it was thought best in view of his failing health to place him in the hospital in Eloise.
 The services were held Thursday afternoon from the Schrader funeral parlors. Interment was made in Rural Hill cemetery.

Will the insurance Company Pay?
 That is the question automobile owners should satisfy themselves on when they buy automobile insurance.
 NOT—how much do it cost?
 Because there are but a few cents in a dollar and because losses must be paid and equitably, is the reason why good, reliable insurance costs more than cheap insurance.
 Cheap insurance generally means that you are expecting something when reality you are not going to get.
 You know enough about business to know why.
 We have made thousands of lasting friendships through out fair and speedy settlement of claims.
