COMMUNITY DINNER WILL BE BIG EVENT

Good Cheer Will Reign on Thursday Evening,
Oct. 29

Northville business men and friends are going to gather around the dinner table next Thursday evening, October 29, for an old-fashioned get-together. The banquet will be held at the Presbyterian church house at 6:30 o'clock. Tickets will be 75 cents and all are invited to be present. There will be a number of guests at the gathering, feeling that a community dinner would be a stimulus to everyone and would provide a chance for better fellowship among everyone. A committee got together and has worked out the details of the unique event. Everyone feels that it is about time to quit talking about "depression" and bank closings and to start doing something to cheer things up. "All we need is just an old-time love feast," said one of the business men, "and if we get together we'll find that we still have left one of the best towns in the whole United States."

So the community is going to eat together, enjoy a varied program and renew friendships in a fine way. There will be nothing informal about the affair. In fact it promises to be free from everything except a rousing good time.

The program committee is now working on this feature of the evening. There will be no stilted addresses and if there is any talking it will be of a high calibre and right to the point. However, something unusually good in the way of entertainment is promised. Another thing the committee is assured of. There will be some "peppy" music, probably both vocal and instrumental. The "big idea" of the dinner is just to have a rousing, friendly time together, to be neighborly and forget what few troubles we have.

While the affair is being boosted primarily by the business people, anyone who is a lover of his home town will be very welcome.

PORT HURON EDITOR TELLS OF ROTARIAN WORK IN 23RD DIST

Community work done by the 52 Rotary clubs of the 23rd district ranges from the aid given to crippled children to raising student loan funds, E. J. Ottaway, of Port Huron, district governor, told the Northville Rotarians on the occasion of his annual visit to the club Monday.

In one town the work of the Rotary club was largely responsible even in the building of a hospital and a hotel.

Mr. Ottaway, who is the editor of The Port Huron Times-Herald, is a widely known newspaper man and the district of which he is the governor includes the eastern half of Michigan and part of the provinces of Ontario and Canada.

"The Rotary wheel certainly is not wobbling," said Mr. Ottaway as he told of some of the work of the officers of the district. Even in these times of depression there is a great and enthusiastic spirit of service to the community found in the clubs. "Rotary doesn't do something that it may brag about it," he continued, "but purely from the motive of doing some good to someone else."

The bird's eye view that Mr. Ottaway gave the members of the work in this part of the state was very inspiring to those present.

Mr. Ottaway concluded his address with a brief description of his trip to Rotary International convention at Vienna, Austria last year. The visit of 4,000 Rotarians did a vast amount of good to cement international good will and the complete hospitality of the hosts was shown to the delegates when they opened palaces and government buildings for their entertainment. Touching on the many races who are found in Rotary clubs all around the world, Mr. Ottaway said: "The black and brown men overseas are just as good Rotarians as we are."

President Jos. G. Schuler was in charge of the meeting and C. R. Van Valkenburgh led in some spirited singing by the group. A. D. Gallery of Caro, Edwin Denby of Auburndale, Mass., and W. H. Yerkes of this place were guests.

SEES WORLD'S SERIES GAME

Mrs. J. L. Calkins, North Center street, returned Sunday from a ten days' visit at St. Louis, Mo. While there Mrs. Calkins enjoyed seeing one of the World's series games and states that it was a remarkable experience which she greatly enjoyed.

HEADS THE LIST

Place the name of Frank Durfee among those at the top of the list of people who are thinking of others during these hard times.

Mr. Durfee responded to the request of the American Legion last week for things which could be stored and distributed to the needy during the coming winter by donating his potato patch to the Legion boys if they would consent to dig up the "spuds."

The Legion held a digging bee Monday night at which four or five of the boys turned up with a will. There were a few aching backs in Northville Tuesday but also there were 15 full bushels of potatoes stored in a cellar.

The Legion is still looking for anything in the way of food, clothing and shelter and will be glad to call for the things to be stored. Donors are asked to phone Commander Jos. Blake at 69 or Chas. Scholitz at 173-J and a representative will call in a short time to pick up what ever they have to offer.

KING'S DAUGHTERS "HASH" BRINGS $100

Hash!

It is surprising how good it can be and how folks like it.

Nobody in Northville will laugh again at the thought of "hash." It was hash that restored the spirits and courage of the King's Daughters, and gave them that "I-Real-Like-Goin'-On" spirit.

With funds swelled to over $100 as the result of a day of hard work, chopping, peeling, slicing and mixing, the King's Daughters, having the satisfaction Tuesday evening of "singing hash," as college boarding houses say to a large crowd of people who came, moved either by their spirit of loyalty to the cause or by the savory smell of onions wafted out from the kitchen of the Presbyterian church house.

At long tables, made alluring with plates of polished snow apples, autumn flowers and the colors of the society, plates of steaming hash were set down—hash, browned on top and garnished with sliced potatoes and a sprig of parsley. And still they came, those hungry folks. And still the coffers swelled in funds which will do more than those who ate hash realize to ease the pinch of poverty during the coming winter.

It will be of additional interest to know that when the King's Daughters were struggling at their last meeting over some means of raising immediate funds, this hash-idea was born in the practical heart of a little woman, Mrs. B. C. Stark, who was straightaway appointed chairman of this enterprise. Unselfishly foregoing an attractive social invitation, Mrs. Stark, with an efficient corps of workers toiled all day to bring about these gratifying results.

TRINITY SHRINE CARD PARTY

Trinity Shrine, No. 44, will give a card party at the Grange hall in Belleville Wednesday evening, October 28 at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Garlich will be hostesses. Everyone invited.

CHICKEN THIEF IS POOR BUSINESS MAN SAYS A. E. FULLER

"The second raid within two months on A. E. Fuller's prize chickens was reported by Mr. Fuller to have occurred last Saturday night when a thief stole two Silver Seabright hens and a White Plymouth Rock from his hen house on the Fishery road.

The first theft occurred two months ago when Mr. Fuller's prize Red Pie Game Bantam hen was stolen. All of the chickens stolen were prize winners having won ribbons in shows in Detroit, Northville and Chicago. "The three chickens would not mean much to anyone for meat but to a fancier," declared Mr. Fuller, "it's wouldn't pay the bill. The penalty for stealing chickens varies from seven to fifteen years and the penalty for stealing money from a bank is from 18 months to two years in prison. It looks like poor business to me on the part of the fellow who stole my chickens."

PASTIME CLUB TO HOLD DANCE OCTOBER 28

The Pastime club officers have announced that they will hold their first dance of the winter season on Wednesday, October 28 in the high school gymnasium.

It will be a Halloween Hoedown dance beginning at 9 o'clock in the evening and lasting until 12 o'clock. Members of the club will receive cards informing them of the dates for other dances during the winter.

SHOW OPENING HERE TONIGHT HELPS TOWN

Splendid Attractions Planned for Entertainment of Movie Fans.

Tonight, with pennants flying and the full power of the brilliant electric lights turned on, the Northville Penniman Allen theatre will reopen its doors.

The long-awaited opening will bring a large number of moving picture fans to Northville to view the much talked about feature, "Merely Mary Ann." In this picture the charming Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell portray the progress of romance between a servant girl and a temperamental, but none the less likable, pianist. The two are at the opposite ends of the pole socially but they finally solve their difficulties and the way in which they do it is highly interesting.

Members of the exchange club will take their wives and sweethearts to the theatre as a part of the Ladies' Night program.

The opening of the theatre again brings to hundreds of people in Northville and vicinity the opportunity of attending one of the finest theatres in the state. Luxurious equipment with the finest equipment obtainable, showing "first run" pictures, many of which are shown in Northville along with their appearance in Detroit, the Northville Penniman Allen theatre offers cinema fans here an opportunity to avail themselves of the best in the way of movie entertainment.

With the beginning of the Great Movie Season the management of the theatre has obtained several splendid attractions for Northville patrons which will be announced in the theatre advertisement in the columns of the Record each week.

LEGION DANCE ON ARMISTICE DAY TO BE GAY OCCASION

The American Legion has plans well under way for its annual Armistice day dance the evening of Wednesday, November 11 at the high school. Like other years, the event will be something of a fiasco in its originality. The setting for the big party will be a "Scene in a side walk cafe in Paris" and it goes without saying that this will be realistic to an unusual degree. Merrill Sweet as general chairman will be aided by Fred Rieger, Raymond Des Autels, Chas. E. Murphy and Martin Kalafsky.

LEGION AUXILIARY CHEERS ITS BOYS

Another evidence of the fine spirit of big-sisterhood of the American Legion auxiliary is the big "birthday party" given Wednesday at the American Legion hospital at Camp Custer, Battle Creek. At this time the birthdays of all the boys whose natal day falls in the month of October is celebrated. Several Legion auxiliaries join in preparing for this party, among them Northville this time.

A regular birthday party it is too, with a huge cake decked out with lighted candles which delight the heart of these men with boy-hearts. All the party lunched together, the "big sisters" with the boys and each auxiliary furnished one number on the program which followed. Northville auxiliary was represented by Mrs. Chas. Murphy (someone says that just her laugh would cheer these sick boys).

Those from Northville attending this Sixth District birthday party were Mrs. J. H. Bolton, Mrs. Chas. Murphy, Mrs. Paul R. Alexander and Mrs. J. H. Todd.

Council Seeks Information from Well Drivers on Locating New Sites for Town Water Supply

The village council Monday night learned many facts about wells and well driving from a group of men who attended the meeting in response to letters sent out last week by the village clerk seeking bids on test wells.

They learned that the old "peach twig" method of finding water is based on the twitching muscles in the arms and wrists of the person holding the stick.

They found that while some of the drillers recommended boring in high places for water, the majority favored the valleys because it is not necessary to go down so far to find water and the expense of maintaining the wells sunk in valleys is less.

No one of the five or six well drivers present recommended anything less than a 4 inch test well and most of them believed that the best results would be obtained from a six inch test well which would allow the driver to procure larger samples for a more accurate record.

The questions propounded by the councilmen were answered deliberately by each of the well drivers following a few minutes of consideration. These men were thoroughly acquainted with their subject and its ramifications and they made no hasty answers.

Prices per foot for sinking of the test wells varied and the councilmen, with a watchful eye on the village purse strings, took accurate notes of what prices each well-dr ver offered and calculated his probable capability.

Mayor Harry S. German, in a short introductory speech, made it plain to the well-drivers and spectators who had gathered in the council room that there would be no discussion of the water situation.

"We do not know whether or not we will have a new source of water. That is a decision for the people of this community to decide. We do want, however, to be able to place the facts before the people. What are our chances for obtaining good water? What will it cost us? How do we go about seeking new water sites and what steps do we take after we have located them?"

"These are some of the things we are interested in finding out tonight about wells and we are not gathered for a period of discussion by anybody but members of the council and the president."

The well-drivers were brought in from an adjoining room to the council chamber in alphabetical order, seated at the president's left and each was told to relate his experience in drilling wells in the state. Following this each councilman and the president asked the questions which he particularly wished to know.

When the councilmen had questioned all of the well drivers present it was late in the evening and they voted to continue the investigation at their next meeting on Monday, Nov. 2.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN CONGRATULATED ON REACHING AGE OF 88

Until George Goodell reached his 88th birthday last Friday, October 16 he never realized that he had so many friends. From early morning when his little three-year-old grandson, Albert George, Jr., toddled to his bedside calling "Happy birthday, Grandpa!" all through the day, Mr. Goodell kept being reminded by cards of greetings, postcards, flowers and other gifts that he was now reaping the fruits of a long and kindly life.

Lying comfortably in bed where he has "no pain at all," Geo. Goodell kept "open-house" all day Friday. Among those who remembered that this was the birthday of their friend were Mr. and Mrs. John Schaefer of Detroit, the latter's father being an old Civil War comrade of Mr. Goodell. From Keep, O. came his grandson and his wife Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Dreger. Faithful through the years since they together suffered the tortures of a cruel southern prison, his comrade, Marvin Bogart, now 91 years of age, made the trip from Wisconsin to express his love for a friend.

Among the pile of greetings was one from Mr. Goodell's great-grandson, Lewis Sperry, Jr., of Grand Rapids. No one could have appreciated these tokens more than this aged man and one who witnessed his eyes glowing with pride in the love of those who remembered him is glad that these expressions did not delay too long.

Having borne throughout many years the wounds of warfare when for fourteen months in Andersonville prison one blanket was his sole shelter from all kinds of weather he is now resting comfortably under the tender care of his daughter, Mrs. Geo. Biery. She made her father's birthday more festive for him by making a large birthday cake on which the figures "88" were outlined in candles. This she served with ice cream to visitors who gathered in the honored one's room for the "birthday party."

Mr. Goodell was especially pleased when songs for his pleasure were sung over W. J. R.

Northville has been having matchless October weather for a week.

EDISON'S DEATH IS PERSONAL LOSS TO WORLD'S HUMANITY

The death of Thomas A. Edison brings to every thinking person in the world a sense of personal loss and sorrow. It is truly sad that we are privileged to have been able to live during the same era in which the famous inventor brought to the world the greatest discovery since time began—the invention of the incandescent light.

His list of useful inventions stretched over a period of 50 years and brought joy and comfort to millions of people. National services were held in his honor and every Edison unit belonging to the great organization which he made possible was decorated in some color of his death. The Northville Edison building is but a sample of the beautiful pieces of architecture which are the monuments to service that Mr. Edison spread throughout the world.

Mr. Edison's last public utterance was a personal message to every man, woman and child in the country. It was, and still is, a splendid example of the courageous pioneering spirit with which Mr. Edison met all problems and which he wished to transmit to the humanity he so faithfully served. He said:

"My message to you is—Be courageous! I have lived a long time. I have seen history repeat itself again and again. I have seen many depressions in business. Always America has emerged from these stronger and more prosperous."

"Be brave as your fathers were before you."

"Go forward!"

In order to give everyone a chance to get their driver's license before the dead line of November 1, Chief of Police Wm. Safford will receive applications the first five nights of next week, from Monday to Friday inclusive, October 26 to 30. He will be at the city hall from 7 to 9 o'clock each evening as mentioned. Those who secured their old licenses between 1919 and 1925 must get new ones before November 1 states Chief Safford.

The annual home-coming of the Orange and Black is the occasion of all the excitement. Headliners of the two-day celebration will be the carnival Saturday evening and the football game with Belleville high school this afternoon at four o'clock.

"The Five and Ten" carnival will hold the boards Saturday evening when merriment is expected to run riot. There will be booths with all kinds of entertainment, vaudeville program and dancing for those who care for this.

The biggest single feature of both days will be the appearance of the Northville band which will be cut in full uniform and will parade between halves of the football game.

MR. LIDDELL TO CONTINUE AS RECEIVER

He Will Liquidate Assets of Northville State Bank

Announcement was made last Friday by the Wayne County Circuit court of the appointment of Sidney Liddell, formerly of Milford and Detroit, as permanent receiver in charge of the affairs of the Northville State Savings bank.

Mr. Liddell has been acting as temporary receiver since his appointment September 25.

Mr. Liddell, who has made many friends during the short time he has been in Northville, comes from a family of bankers and he himself possesses a wealth of banking experience.

Asked for information regarding his background in the banking business and that of his father who is well known in this part of the country, Mr. Liddell made the following statement:

"In 1892, Volney E. Lacy, an uncle of Judge Lacy, and Mark B. Liddell, my father, established a private bank in Milford under the firm name of Lacy and Liddell, Bankers."

"I worked for this institution for several years and in 1911 when Lacy and Liddell, Incorporated as the First State Bank, I became the cashier and one of its five directors. I held these positions for several years until I voluntarily resigned and moved to Detroit to engage in the real estate business. For some time prior to coming to Northville I have been actively identified with the Detroit agency of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance agency."

Mr. Liddell was instrumental in the savings of the Milford bank early this summer when many of the smaller banks in the state were cracking under the strain of steady withdrawal of deposits. His part is accurately described in an editorial taken from the "Detroit Saturday Night."

"No ordinary expedients would avail. Sid Liddell well knew. The one chance was to change the whole trend of mob psychology—to come absolutely to clean with the whole story—to sell Milford into standing by its bank instead of heedlessly wrecking it."

Just preceding the mass meeting of all Milford at the school house the stockholders unanimously voted to assess the respective stockholders $100 a share for each share of stock held by them. The assessment to be paid in cash as a voluntary contribution to the bank's capital structure and was not to be construed as a credit against the stockholders' liability under the statute.

All Milford gathered at a mass meeting. The bank's situation was plainly stated. Did Milford want a bank or a receivership? The answer was never in doubt. Depositors owning 90 per cent of the bank's obligations accepted a cut in interest from 4 per cent to 3 per cent, and signed agreements—acrossing their deposits in the bank for two years. The bank was saved."

Fresh from its Milford victory the Liddell plan was tried out in Rochester, with apparently equal success. "It was all a grand object lesson in how to drive away the panic," sometimes unreasoning fear that his communities in times of depression and makes them throw away the last sound resources they have. Mr. Sid Liddell has but upon a new profession—doctor of economic psychology."

BACK FROM EAST

Mrs. Wm. E. Forney has returned from a week's visit with relatives in Pittsburgh, Pa.

FREE HAIRCUTS

If the Northville high school football team beats its traditional rival, Plymouth high school next Thursday, Charles Conklin, local barber, states that he will give each member of the team participating in the game a free hair cut.

Each player, scoring a touchdown for Northville, if they win, will receive a hair tonic and rub free, said Mr. Conklin and any player blocking a Plymouth punt will receive a similar award. Intercepting a Plymouth pass, kicking a field goal or making a run of 50 yards or more, he said, are also feats that will win the free hair tonic and rub.

But no matter what individual plays the members of the team make, they must win the game to receive the free haircuts and any of the conditional awards.

So here's your chance football players—either win that game or come to school the following day "in shaven and unshorn."

NEW HAY RESIDENCE HAS SPLENDID VIEW

Standing high on one of Northville's highest hills the impressive new home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hay rears itself like a Norman castle in sturdy dignity.

At the extreme upper end of Rogers street is this site where the Hay family has long dreamed of building this home where the view is unobscured by the trees below, almost hidden by the church spire here and there penetrating the foliage.

Beyond the tree surrounding hills, to the north as Eastlawn's wooded hill and farther off to the south may be seen the roofs of the Wayne County Training school. Far off on the blue horizon can be seen distinctly the "sky scrapers" of Detroit, clustered together like a "toy village."

So overwhelming is the view that the house itself seems at first of secondary importance—but let us look within—for everyone is interested in a new home in the making.

Appropriate to the location where it must defy every winter blast, the house is built of brick and is of strong lines. Its style of architecture is Norman.

Within, a vestibule with convenient coat closet and seat opens into a reception hall from which to the left a stairway leads to the upper floor and to the right, through an arched doorway the living room lies with wide window across the front where the view is like a marvelous picture. Mrs. Hay declares this is to be unspoiled by curtains except as a soft outline or the frame. The windows throughout are "Pentecost" windows with steel frames and open outward with sills of marble. A fireplace of unusual design is made of natural "Brnar hill" stone in soft tones. Over it will be placed a heavy shelf of walnut in which wood the lower floor is to be finished.

The walls are of plaster brushed antique finish. A spacious dining room, breakfast room, kitchen, with all modern conveniences and a lavatory complete the first floor. Upstairs are three large bedrooms, tiled bath and cedar closet and linen closet.

The basement is high and well lighted. A large oil heater will warm the house. A recreation room, well equipped laundry and cold storage room make the basement complete.

The grounds surrounding the house are to be landscaped with a rock garden and a summer house in the rear. The front lawn will be terraced. On the ten acres belonging to Mr. Hay he vineyards and orchards.

At present the interior is being finished and the Hay family, consisting of three children, Margaret, Ralph, Jr., and Robert, hope to have it completed so that they may enjoy their Thanksgiving dinner in the new home.

Mr. Hay is manager of the Commonwealth Loan Co., of Highland Park.

MONTGOMERY CLOSES CADDY STREET

Caddy street, between Church street and Plymouth avenue, has been closed by order of Earl Montgomery, street commissioner, because of the fact that the overhead tramway connecting the Northville Laundry and the old Stinson building has been found to be slowly breaking up.

Both of the buildings are owned by Harry Graham, of Detroit.

Mr. Montgomery and a crew of men cleaned out the reservoir last Saturday and reported that the huge container is in good shape to withstand the ravages of winter.

NORTHVILLE H. S. HOLDS HOME-COMING

Belleville Game Today and Carnival Saturday
Will Thrill

Northville high school will hold its annual home-coming celebration today and tomorrow with the Belleville game at the fair grounds today and the "5 and 10" Saturday night—as the main attractions.

The Carnival will feature various entertainment booths, dancing and a vaudeville program all put on by the pupils of the high school and nothing will be priced more than ten cents. The Carnival will get under way at 3:30 p. m. Saturday night and it is expected, the sponsors say, that a large crowd composed of alumni, students and townspeople will attend.

Over 200 invitations to alumni have been sent out according to Coach Harold H. Ruggles, and the football team is keyed up to the point of playing the best football of which it is capable against "the scrag" Belleville eleven. Despite the fact, said Coach Ruggles, that Northville, a class C school, has been beaten by three Class B schools, the team has not lost confidence but on the contrary is fighting harder with each successive game.

Last Friday the Northville boys lost to Dearborn by a score of 14 to 0, nothing on the latter's home grounds but distinguished themselves by holding their hosts on practically even terms for the major part of the game.

In the second quarter a Dearborn back returned a punt 35 yards to score the first touchdown and in the third quarter a 30 yard pass followed by a series of line smashes by Dearborn scored their second touchdown for them. They kicked successfully for the point after each score.

Menzinger, Bender, Schrader, and Captain Tibble excelled for Northville and are expected to prove stumbling stones in Belleville's path today. The line-up for the game today will be the same as last week's except that Biery will replace Ware at left end.

The band will be out in full uniform and will parade between the halves. The seniors will sell refreshments throughout the game.

Coach Ruggles made the announcement that the Plymouth game, originally scheduled for next Friday there, has been changed to next Thursday on account of the teachers' convention in Detroit.

SENIORS TO STAGE HALLOWEEN DANCE ON OCTOBER 30th

The first dance of the season is to be held Friday, October 30, under the auspices of the senior class. The committee has been busy the past two weeks and this Halloween dance will be well worth attending.

The "Blue Serenaders" are to furnish the music. No need to be said for them—they're good! Admission is 75 cents a couple. Dancing from 8 till 12. Help the seniors go to Washington.

EXCHANGEMEN GIVE DINNER AND THEATRE PARTY FOR LADIES

Ladies' night for the Exchange club will be a "double header" this evening. First comes a dinner at the Methodist church house, at 6:30 o'clock, followed by an informal program for the special benefit of the wives and sweethearts of members. Wives to make it a "real night" the group will adjourn to the Penman Allen theatre to join with the community in the re-opening of the theatre. Just about 100 per cent attendance is expected for the big occasion.

WALLED LAKE RESIDENT DIES AT AGE OF 75

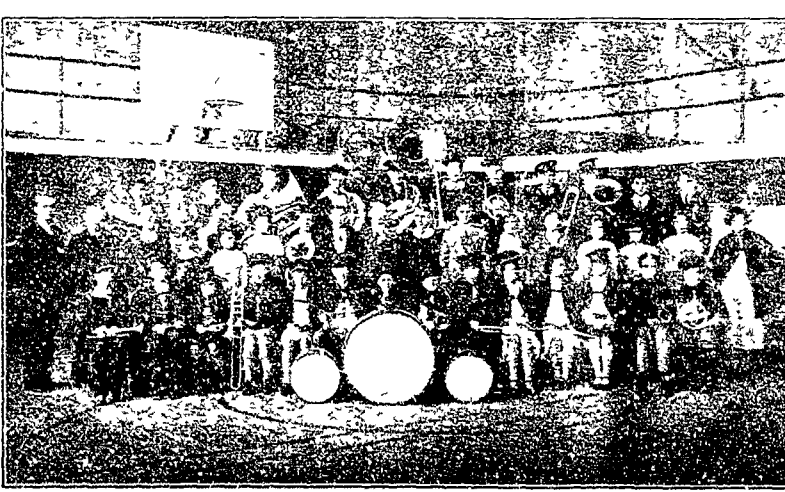

Mrs. Hannah Brishois of Wallied Lake died at the advanced age of 75 years at her home at Wallied Lake on Saturday, October 17. Mrs. Brishois was the center of a large circle of friends in Wallied Lake during her life time and her passing occasioned much sorrow.

Services were held from the Schrader Funeral Parlors on Tuesday and interment was made in Rural Hill cemetery.

The Rev. A. K. MacRae officiated.

W. H. M. S. GROUP MEETING

There will be a district group meeting of the W. H. M. S. at the Methodist church next Thursday, October 29. Dinner will be served at noon followed by a program.

A GOOD INVESTMENT

Anyone who buys stocks on margins, and hopes to make some easy money overnight is just foolish, that's all. He is at the mercy of Wall street wolves.

Anyone who buys good, sound stocks and lays them away is a good investor and often gets fine returns.

Right now it seems as though stocks have hit bottom. It should be a good time to buy some of the best ones and put them away in the bank box. Then in two or three years you can realize on their advance—for, unless all signs fail, there is going to be a saving-back before long.

LEAVING TOWN

A Northville man, who has had to take some losses lately—and who hasn't?—said to us: "I'm going to leave town. There is no spirit of co-operation here."

"Well, where are you going, California?" we asked him.

"I don't know where I'm going but I'm telling you I'm going somewhere," he came back at us.

"Then, since we think we know a little about towns (having lived in a dozen or so) and something of human nature (having met a few thousands of the race) we told this man frankly that he wouldn't leave town but that if he did, he would just jump into some other kind of trouble—maybe worse than he had here.

Northville is hard hit right now but we are a Garden of Eden as compared to some towns and we have a great future if we will only look ahead and do a little battling.

We have our days when we think peoples' fall down on this newspaper—and we'd like to leave town—but we have had those same discouraging days in every other town in which we have done business.

No, friends, leaving town doesn't solve our worries. Northville isn't perfect but neither is Plymouth or Ann Arbor or Los Angeles. We have just as fine folks as live anywhere. The thing for us to do is to quit this business of being "down in the dumps," to get up smiling, tighten up the belt and get out and battle the gloom. Do that and you will stay in Northville until you are called home to the pearly gates. Leaving town will just get you into more kinds of trouble.

Stay by Northville—and it will stay by you.

WHERE THE MONEY WENT

"Well, where has all the money of the country gone?" you will hear someone ask every once-in-a-while. Millions of dollars have gone from the small towns and the cities to the East—the contribution of thousands of "suckers," to the stock market sharks who leave you with little except the clothes on your back.

Take the case of one Michigan town, Albion, where the writer once lived. In that little city of about 8,000 people, people eager to make some quick money invested $200,000 in muskrat farm stocks. That two hundred thousand and "berries" is all gone—lost to the promoters and the gamblers in other people's money. In that same city of Albion probably another $200,000 was lost by folks who bought high priced stocks—stock that are now worth one-quarter or one-half of what they were back in 1927 and 1928. That fifth of a million dollars now lines the pockets of Wall street sharks. So Albion alone has probably given away $400,000 to the stock gentry. And of course that amount of money taken from any town hits the town hard.

We know just enough about Northville to realize that this little city made its contribution to the stock market shysters. How much this town turned over to them we don't know but it probably was plenty. It is gone forever from Northville and is down East working for someone who knows the stock game better than we do. And this money has gone for good and is not available to build houses here or to do constructive work for our town. What a pity!

When you consider what all the Albions, Northvilles, Plymouths, Lansings and all the other cities dumped into the maw of the stock gamblers, the total must be appalling. No wonder depression hit us.

The lesson would seem to be to leave the stock market "get rich" game to those who know how to play it. You have just about one chance in a hundred to beat those speculators. It's fine to buy stocks and pay for them but to speculate on them is what has ruined a host of people. That is going to be one of the indelible lessons of the depression of 1929-1931.

THE WATER QUESTION

Since our coming to Northville, Fred P. Simmons, well known orchardist, has been one of the best friends we have had. He has gone out of his way several times to do us a kindness. We respect him.

Now our good friend and the writer are on opposite sides of this Northville water business. Fred thinks it is all wrong to spend any money to improve our water supply since he feels that it is good enough. The Record editor just as sincerely believes that the water supply is dangerous and should be corrected. We "go" by the various reports that have come from Lansing and Ann Arbor which indicate that our water is contaminated from surface drainage and has to be chlorinated to be safe. Mr. Simmons says that these reports are "political" and don't mean anything.

This may be a good time to state our position on the water issue. Here is how we feel about it.

The question of the health of our people—now and in the years to come—is more important than any question of taxes. Every parent with growing children will especially be concerned about the water his children drink. This newspaper must face the health problem honestly and squarely and then tell the people the situation as it sees it.

When we came to Northville in February we had the impression that Northville's water was above reproach. So it was a shock to find later that reports from Lansing and Ann Arbor indicated that the water was under suspicion. The trouble, we are told, is that we get our water from springs close to the ground and that, therefore, contamination creeps in. At the present time the water is made safe by the use of a chlorinator borrowed from the state. There is no immediate danger. But here we come to this point: No question is ever settled until it is settled right. If these reports from laboratories show the presence of "bugs" that shouldn't be there in such large numbers, we ought to be wise enough to face the problem squarely and see what can be done about it.

The bright side of the picture is that it looks as though we could have a wonderful and absolutely safe water supply for the expense of a few thousand dollars. We have abundant water right under us by drilling down 50 or 60 feet, we are told. To get away from surface contamination all we have to do is to sink wells and hook up with mains or use a reservoir. That shouldn't be anything to worry about. Wouldn't it be wiser to bond for ten thousand dollars and know that our water is right than to sit on top of this volcano of uncertainty all the time?

Plymouth went down from 60 to 80 feet, we heard, and got a safe water supply that would take care of a city of 25,000 people. We should be as wise and progressive as Plymouth.

Let's get the facts on this water issue and then settle it right.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

Should Northville have a Chamber of Commerce?

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

POOR JUDGMENT

(Fred Keister in Ionia Co. News)

Times are certainly getting tough down in Eaton county where two youths of more than tender years were sent to Jackson prison for stealing seventeen rabbits out of a farmer's barn where he was having them fattened for chicken sandwiches. What the boys should have done was to have looked up a Rasin Brook rabbit grower and got a couple thousand for the asking.

SPECIAL SESSION?

(M. H. De Poe in Charlotte Republican-Tribune)

Speaking of Lansing affairs, Governor Bruker, in our opinion, is getting ready to call a special session. That he is laying the ground work for such action was clearly indicated in his speech to his unemployment commission. If the governor would call a special session and adopt precisely the same policy the Eaton county supervisors did in salary reductions, he would be unbeatable in 1932. The state officer who would oppose the salary slashes would be definitely out of public life at the end of his term.

POSTAL SAVINGS

(Clinton County Republican News)

In some parts of the country people are withdrawing their savings from banks and putting the money into postal savings. The government pays them 2% instead of the 3% or 4% the bank is paying them. They lose one or two per cent, as the case may be. The funny thing about it all is that the government deposits the money again with a bank—many times the same one they withdrew the money from. The banker pays the government 2% for the use of the money and saves the 3% or 4%. Many people think that when they deposit money in postal savings the money is sent down to Washington and put in the treasury vaults. Uncle Sam is too smart to be a party to hamstringing the banks throughout the country.

YOU MUST RECKON WITH THE THORNS

(Eaton Rapids Journal)

The trouble with a lot of us is that we want to accomplish many things but aren't willing to pay the price.

If life were a game in which the rewards were handed out on a silver platter to anyone who happened to ask for them, lots of folks would sleep in rose beds.

But, unfortunately, you've got to reckon with the thorns. "He who would climb a tree," said Thackeray

"must grasp its branches—not the blossoms." Which means that you've got to pull yourself up over the rough places and not simply to coast down hill all the time.

We get pretty much what we go after—if we go after it hard enough and persistently enough.

About the only thing that has ever come into our life without being worked for or sought after is trouble.

And a lot of that could be traced back to a desire to take hold of the blossoms instead of grasping the branches.

Thorns serve a purpose. They teach us the lesson that, even in plucking roses, one must go about it with care and skill and practical knowledge—or get stung.

LIQUOR CONTROL

(Vern J. Brown in Ingham County News)

A well known editor of one of Michigan's leading weekly newspapers is out with a new plan for controlling the liquor business. He would take the profits for private interests out of the liquor business and turn whatever profit there is in the manufacture, sale and distribution of intoxicants over to the dry forces to be used in the teaching of temperance.

We have a better plan. Place a small tax on beer and wine; ginger ale and cracked ice; a slightly heavier tax on whiskey and liquors; remove all restrictions on manufacture and sale; and let drunkenness and debauchery and poverty and broken homes and crushed hopes and abandoned careers and diseased and crying children and drunken mothers and brutal fathers and a cursed society teach its own lesson of temperance. Sell it in every grocery and gas station same as Coca Cola. Let competition set the price. Let there be no control except that exercised by the individual. Tax it for revenue, not to control. It never has been controlled. It will not be controlled in this generation or the next.

THE DEACON AND THE FROG

(Midland Republican)

A great many people we know remind us of the frog that Charles F. Kettering, chief research engineer of General Motors, told about the other day.

"A deacon was on his way to church one Sunday morning, dressed in his best and with his shoes nicely polished, when he heard his name called from a mud-hole near the roadside. Down in the hole was a big bullfrog."

"I have been in here three days," said the frog, "without anything to eat, and I wish you would help me out."

"The deacon looked at the mud and looked at his shiny shoes and remembered that he had to pass the collection plate in church, so he replied, 'I'm sorry, old man, I can't help you now, but on my way back from church I'll give you a lit out of the hole.'"

As he came back from church, the deacon was surprised to find the frog sitting in the middle of the road, contentedly snapping at flies.

"I thought you said you couldn't get out of that hole," said the deacon.

"I thought I couldn't either, until a snake came along and I just had to get out," replied the frog. "Lots of people are discovering these days that they can do things they didn't think they could do. Under pressure of necessity every one of us can accomplish the impossible. In good times nobody uses more than a fraction of his ability and resourcefulness. But when the snake of hard times comes along we just have to get out of a hole, and like the frog in Mr. Kettering's story, we find some way to do what we didn't believe we could do."

It is a good thing for humanity that life is not always pleasant and easy. Intelligence, ability and character are only developed to their best in the face of adversity. And the harder the struggle, the more fun there is in looking back on it after the peak has been passed.

AT THE THEATRE

"SKYLARK"

In keeping with his policy of technical perfection for "Skylark," the Fox picture he directed and which is to be shown Sunday and Monday, October 25 and 26 at the Penniman Allen theatre, Sam Taylor insisted on real and experienced laborers, members of a union, for one of the construction scenes of the production.

Twenty of them reported on the set after 100 or more applicants had been sifted for types, but the scene was shot with only 19. Believe it or not one of the men, a brassy chap of 25 or 30, held up proceedings by insisting he had to put on makeup.

"If I'm going to be in this picture I want to look just as good as Tommy Meighan, or Hardie Albright," he announced. "I gotta lot of friends back East who'll see me in the picture and—"

He didn't get a chance to finish. Neither did he get his makeup. Assistant directors hustled him off the set, gave him a day's pay and advised him to beat it.

"There may be nothing new under the sun," but that's a new one on me," declared Director Taylor as he picked up the megaphone and shouted "Turn 'em on."

The featured players are Thomas Meighan and Hardie Albright.

"TRANSATLANTIC"

Replete with romance and crammed with action, and unique "Transatlantic," new Fox film production, will be shown Wednesday and Thursday, October 28 and 29 at the Penniman Allen theatre.

Edmund Lowe, who heads the all-star cast, has the role of "Monty Green," a gambler anxiously sought by the district attorney as star witness in a graft trial. His adventures, both amatory and otherwise, aboard this ocean greyhound prove amusing and interesting.

Prominent in the supporting cast are Lois Moran as "Judy Kramer," Jean Hersholt plays her father, an old German lens grinder, making his first luxury trip abroad; John Halliday, an absconding banker; Myrna Loy, his wife; Grete Nissen, a Swedish dancer and sweetheart of Halliday; and Earle Foxe, one who has designs on Halliday's stolen millions.

William K. Howard directed.

"YOUNG AS YOU FEEL"

No man can be a hero to his valet!

Whoever originated that saying never knew Will Rogers, or realized that Terrance Ray would have the distinction of being the first man Rogers ever permitted to advise him on his choice of neckties.

In "Young As You Feel," Will's latest starring Fox comedy which will be shown Saturday, October 31 at the Penniman Allen theatre, Terrance proves invaluable assistance to Rogers, who is seen for the first time in a complete, ultra-modern wardrobe.

Due to Ray's sound advice, Rogers is said to present a striking figure in his newly acquired finery—handling stocks, gloves and other accessories which Rogers has heretofore scorned, with all the aplomb of Edmund Lowe, Jimmy Walker or the Prince of Wales.

Edited by Northville High School

EDITORIAL

Finding it difficult to offer Northville High School students the best educational advantages under the old eight period day, the present system was inaugurated.

At this time we have a music class meeting during this extra period, called the fifth. Very shortly two more classes will be organized and inserted in the program at this same hour. Next semester more may be started.

This system does not require the student body to spend more than the required eight periods in classes each day. The lunch periods are simply staggered. Some teachers and students go the fourth period for lunch, most of them go the fifth, and some leave the sixth. This arrangement eliminates all waste time, bringing more advantages at no increase in expense.

R. H. AMERMAN,
Principal.

HIGH SCHOOL CLUBS MEET FOR THE FIRST TIME

It has been the plan of the Northville high school to organize clubs for the students. A vote was taken to see which clubs were the most popular. The plans have been completed and the clubs held their first meeting Wednesday, October 14. The purpose was to organize and make plans for the year.

The Priscilla club held its meeting with its sponsor, Mrs. Zimmerman. This club is for girls who wish to learn hand sewing, appreciate and recognize works of domestic art.

Some of the plans are to learn Italian hemstitching, cut-work, embroidery, fine handwork and crocheting.

The following girls have signed up for the club: Mary Elizabeth Elkington, Leila Haystead, Violet Johnson, Evelyn Kimmel, Winifred McCordle and Jennie Bengel.

The girls anticipate a very enjoyable year.

DRAMATIC CLUB MEETING

The first meeting of the "Dramatic club" was held Wednesday, October 14. The sponsors are Mrs. Wright and Miss McDowell. Mrs. Wright took charge of the election of officers with the following results: president, Ward Schultz; vice-president, Eleanor Eaton; secretary, treasurer, Eddie Bender. Miss McDowell then took charge of the meeting and explained the divisions of dramatics. Each member is requested to prepare a pantomime for the next meeting. The club members are as follows: Beverly Sloman, Arthur Cook, Peggy Blake, Catherine McKenna, Esther Bacon, Catherine Duguid, Sally Richardson, Jane Lester, Eleanor Eaton, Eleanor Grosvenor, Otis Tewkesbury, Dorothy Richardson, Edith Clark, Dorothy Meisner, Marie Humphries, Margaret Hay, Marion Turnbull, John Stenchen, Helen Christensen, Eddie Bender, Robert Cousins, Alice Boelens, Ruth Broad, Betty Randall, George Harper, Verma Upthegrove, Don Keeney, Albert Lowry, Donna Ferguson, Catherine Bongiovanni, Ward Schultz, Don Robinson, Altha Hagermeister, Audrey Taylor, Marguerite Norton, Eva Banfield, Mary Jane Denne, Monrose Weston, Paul Baldwin, Doris Sears, Mary Louise Boyden, Warner Neal, Richard Shipley, Ronald Beasley, Lerna Cog, Rose May Cardie, Clarence Bolton, Harold McCordle, William Springer, Donald McCader, Francis Cousins, Junior Dundas and Dorothy Ash.

COMMERCIAL CLUB

The Commercial club met with its sponsor, Mrs. Taylor. The sponsor, acting as chairman, appointed the following committees: Publicity, Margaret Hay, Gertrude Deal and Florence Johnson; constitution, Ruth Corey; program, Dorothy Heatley and Madeline Haystead.

All the committees are to have a up an unusually fine educational system at Highland Park and having advanced the cause of teachers' salaries in Michigan.

Mr. Knapp married Miss Adahne Spalding, who was born and raised in Northville but who was living in Cadillac, Michigan at the time of her marriage.

The book, "Educational Insurance," written by Mr. Knapp, is one of exceptional value and has gained much recognition in Michigan and all over the country.

Northville high school should be proud of having a superintendent like Mr. Knapp.

DID YOU NOTICE?

When reading the "Barrel of Clams" that you're reading the book that you're reading?

The Empress Eugenie hat is going out! It always did look as if it had only half arrived.

Monroe Weston, whistling while walking home in the dark? On being questioned he replied, "I was only whistling to keep myself from being afraid." Perhaps it's best, one can never tell who you're apt to meet on these dark nights. Keep up the good work.

The wide, wide smile on the face of Olan Brooks? If you haven't you must look so attractive on the top of his mainly physique.

How busy the varsity club seems to be? It's rumored around that there's to be a carnival. Come on, girls, if the white males don't suit, all the niggers from nigger town are going to be there.

How "hulish" and "goatish" the seniors have become? It does seem too bad that such a cheery, inspiring class should make such a change. Doctors, nurses, physiologists, psychologists, psychoneurologists, please don't rush! They'll recover. It's just a magazine contest.

Our little Leo Kohler, "Touched by her fair tendance gladder grew?"

How indignant the junior and senior girls were Friday morning? It has been talked about, you know what that means, closing the school parties at eleven o'clock. But then "Why Dance" when our patrons wish we wouldn't?

"Anything Wrong Anything Right?" With a little boy who wouldn't fight.

They said he was inflicted with cancer. As a poet I'd make a better tap dancer!

Isn't this sad? Dry your tears, there isn't any point.

GRADE NOTES

The first edition of the Kindergarten Record, a newspaper, was published last Thursday. It shall be published every two weeks.

Miss Wilson's second graders are beginning the study of Indian life. They have a wigwam, canoes, etc., on their exhibit shelf. They are making a basket of fruit for this week's work in drawing. Marilyn Cavell had charge of the opening exercises this week. She had stories, songs and a play.

SENIORS WORKING ON MAGAZINE CAMPAIGN

A senior meeting was called by Ward Van Atta, class president Wednesday at 3:15 to hear Mr. Powell from the Crowell Publishing company talk over a proposition about selling magazines with a commission to help raise money for the Washington trip. The seniors thought the plan which Mr. Powell outlined would be successful, so they are going to try their luck. To make the campaign a little more exciting, there is a new plan. The contest is divided into two teams. One the Navy and the other the Army. Ruth Mary Baldwin is the leader of the Navy and Herbert Berend the leader of the Army. Jane Lawrence was appointed business manager, and Robert Cousins renewal manager. It was decided that the losing side would give a weeney roast to the winning side. All the seniors are urging people to buy a magazine. Everybody buy and help the seniors. They need it.

Those who were unable to attend the Dearborn-Northville game, did not lose out on seeing a regular football game if they happened to be down on the fair grounds last Friday afternoon. At this time the boys of the eighth grade tore through the Freshman line to win a close game, 12 to 6.

The suits worn by the contestants were not exactly the regulation regalia but more closely resembled Halloween costumes. However, clothes or uniforms do not make a football team.

It was a game not lacking in thrills for many times the flashy backfield men of both teams dashed around the ends for fifteen or twenty yards, or made the vast throng of spectators, who crowded the field, gasp when a long pass was completed—or almost completed.

For the eighth graders Riley and Corey were the big ground gainers, while the splendid passing of Ninder was one of the features of the game.

Huffman, Deal and Marburger tried hard to stare off defeat, but in vain.

Among the notables to witness this game were Mr. Amerman, Mrs. Cooke, Miss McDowell and Mr. Lee.

Apples were served between halves by members of the eighth grade team.

HOMEMAKER'S CORNER

BY MRS. EDITOR

THE WOMAN'S CLUB

Vacation is over, preserving time is past. Northville women are energetically throwing themselves again into club activities. Isn't it fine that Northville boasts of one strong Woman's club? So many towns of this size are split up into smaller groups which mar the spirit of unity.

In our village the Woman's club stands for the intellectual impetus and civic mothering of the community. Each week these women meet in the public library, a most appropriate and central location and "touch shoulders" with congenial minds in the study of affairs which take their minds out of the household "rut".

Right here it would be of interest to the younger members to turn back the pages of local history to the days when Mrs. Lucy Dowd (mother of Mrs. W. G. Lapham) called together a few women to read and study together. In this group were Dr. Mary Lapham, Mrs. Minerva Smith, Mrs. Eleanor Thompson, Miss Nettie Yerkes, Mrs. Jennie Johnson and Mrs. Mary Amherst. Mrs. Camilla Dubuair, Mrs. Sarah Parsons and Mrs. Arabella Tinham were also among these Woman's club "pioneers".

In those days these women studied hard and real literary productions appeared on their programs.

With the passing of years and the growth in numbers the club has allied itself with the Detroit federation and a radical change has come in its policy. Broader outlook, perhaps, but less intensive study. Authorities on world themes have addressed the club and women have preferred to "drink at the fountains of knowledge" rather than to pour over heavy volumes.

Along with their study the Northville Woman's club has been the instigator of a number of civic reforms, among them the public rest rooms, the drinking fountain, the placing of waste baskets to keep the streets clean. In national affairs too, they have had a hand in signing petitions brought to their attention through federated clubs.

No woman's club lives unto itself. The real purpose is outlined in the following from the pen of our sister, Florence Riddick-Boys:

WHAT WOMEN'S CLUBS HAVE DONE

Schools, lectures and libraries have taught women to think. Women's Clubs have taught them to do. What they have done has been mothering—public and collective mothering.

The first clubs were organized with no intention of this activity. Their purpose was to spur one another on to study. They were content for a time with Browning and Shakespeare, introspective thought, and self culture. But the clubs soon evolved beyond the state of selfish thought into an interest in those things which were going on in the world about them. Especially were women interested in the concerns of childhood and of their sister women in all their various walks of life. Unconsciously, have the Women's Clubs led women to take an active part in municipal affairs, in community enterprises, in social betterment, in educational welfare and in each and every improvement which was to be put through in their locality. Their civic activities have been developed to the stage that women's federated clubs have maintained Legislative Councils which operated at state and national capitals and kept the women back home informed through their clubs, of legislative progress along lines of women's interests.

All of this has happened in a very brief time. Only fifty years ago, a woman who used her brain, noticeably, was labeled—and labeled—a "blue stocking." Women were so afraid of appearing mannish that it was not unheard of for one to faint when she arose to read her paper in club meeting. However, courage came from numbers, and by associating in common things were attempted. A little organization, and women came to realize their power.

Many an official has sat uneasily in his chair of authority because the Woman's Club were investigating the matters he had in hand and were making certain mandatory requests.

To the credit of Women's Clubs, it must be acknowledged that most of their enterprises have been well advised and well executed. Investigation has been the forerunner of every reform. In fact, it was the Women's Clubs who inaugurated this great era now upon us—the Era of Investigation. Women's club committees are inquiring into all that concerns the welfare of humanity.

Motherliness has followed childhood out into the world and is insuring what are the conditions in school, shop, street, theatre, playground, tenement, factory, hospital, court and prison. Woman is a natural altruist and there is not an injustice or evil or wrong system but cries out to her for correction as soon as her committee has made its discovery.

We may look for humaneness, conserving of health and life and beauty, progress in education, and carefulness for the welfare of childhood to accompany woman's franchise. These are the things which the Women's Clubs have agitated; these are the "Woman Planks" they have had adopted into the political platforms.

All of the husbands of the married teachers especially enjoyed the ice-box cookies that were served at the teachers' party and some of them whispered that they would like their wives to know how they were made. Here is Mrs. Edith L. Mills' recipe:

Butterscotch Ice-Box Cookies:
1 1/2 cup butter, 1 cup brown sugar, 1 egg, 2 cups flour, 1/2 teaspoonful each of cream of tartar, soda and vanilla, 1/2 cup walnut meats. Mix several hours before baking. Roll in round loaf and slice thin. Bake.

Here is Mrs. Ida Hendry's rule for pumpkin pie-filling. (Mrs. H. is one of Northville's famous cooks.)
2 eggs, 1 pint milk, 1/2 cup sugar, 4 heaping teaspoonful pumpkin, salt an aspic to taste.

Old School Friends Get Together At Vradenburg Home

Fifteen erstwhile school girls enjoyed a happy reunion last Wednesday at the home of one of their number, Mrs. L. Vradenburg, on Eaton drive. These women have been friends since old school days in Detroit. After a beautiful dinner the afternoon hours were filled with the glad wild ways of their school-girl days.

With a good attendance and a beautiful pot-luck dinner the ladies of the Methodist church met Thursday at the parsonage to enjoy the first hospitality of their new pastor's wife, Mrs. Frank N. Miner. Not alone pleasure was the occasion of this gathering for needles flew with sewing for the coming Christmas bazaar while a social time was enjoyed.

Nellie Yerkes Auxiliary Meets With Mrs. Angove

The Nellie Yerkes Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church held an interesting meeting at the country home of Mrs. Percy Angove, one of their number at the Warren County Training school. Mrs. T. P. Brennan assisted Mrs. Angove as hostess. Following a study hour conducted by Mrs. Frances Larson and Mrs. Dorothy McKinney, the group enjoyed social time with refreshments served by the hostesses.

Mrs. Babbitt Hostess to Friends Honoring Guests

Honoring Mrs. E. J. Frost of Boston, Mass., Mrs. Chas. Allen of Columbus, O., Mrs. Clarence Elliott of Detroit and Mrs. A. D. Gallery of Caro, Mrs. L. A. Babbitt welcomed a group of intimate friends at her home on Clay street last Monday evening. Two tables of bridge were played and the evening was concluded with dainty refreshments and a good visit by these old friends. Four Northville members of the Yerkes family also comprised the party: Mrs. W. H. Mrs. Margaret, Mrs. Robert and Mrs. W. G. Yerkes, and also Mrs. P. J. Cochran and Mrs. E. S. Beard.

Detroit and Northville Friends Dine Together at Stark Home

Wishing for another good time together before Mrs. Cora Macomber-Clark returns to her home in Colorado Springs, a group of Detroit women secretly arranged to meet their Northville friends at the home of Mrs. B. C. Stark and carry out a surprise upon Mrs. Clark, a guest at the Stark home. Arriving before noon with well filled baskets, a sumptuous dinner was enjoyed together and the afternoon was pleasantly spent. Those from Detroit were Mrs. Geo. Stanley, Mrs. Robert Cameron, Mrs. Angie Tucker and Mrs. Harry Simpson.

The "Lady From Boston" is Feted At the Knapp Home

Among the pleasant events honoring Mrs. E. J. Frost of Boston, was the dinner given by Mrs. Thad J. Knapp and Mrs. Ross B. Dusenbury at the former's home Wednesday evening. Autumn leaves and chrysanthemums were artistically used in decoration and the small tables placed throughout the rooms were centered with lighted tapers. Dainty place cards indicated the covers laid for the party of twenty when a buffet dinner was served.

At the conclusion of dinner bridge occupied the remainder of the evening. Other guests from out of town beside the one honored were Mrs. A. D. Gallery of Caro and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Elliott of Plymouth.

Forty Friends Feast Together At Home of Mr. and Mrs. Beard

The country home of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Beard on the Base Line road was the scene of a happy gathering of forty friends who came together last Saturday evening to honor Mrs. E. J. Frost of Boston, the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. H. Yerkes, and Mrs. C. L. Allen of Columbus, the guest of Mrs. Margaret Yerkes, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Elliott of Plymouth and Mrs. Margaret Yerkes joined with Mr. and Mrs. Beard in the hospitality as hosts and hostesses. Like an old-time family reunion the long table was stretched to its capacity, even extending into the living room, when these forty friends sat down to the wonderful dinner together. The table was made festive with autumn flowers.

Following the dinner the guests continued their pleasure at the home of Mrs. Yerkes where the evening was spent with bridge. Guests from out of town were Judge and Mrs. John A. Boyne of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton W. Wilber of Farmington, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Carmichael of Plymouth and Editor and Mrs. A. D. Gallery of Caro.

After concluding their round of entertaining the Worth-While club carried out their custom of treating themselves to a dinner out. A fine chicken pie-feast was served to these eleven couples at the Royal Ann cafe last Friday evening. Following the dinner the company made its way to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chrysler on Beal avenue where the evening was spent happily with progressive pedro. As the result of the games, the following won honors: First prize for ladies, Mrs. Chrysler; second, Mrs. Dalton Avey; first prize for men, Claude Hinchman; second, Harold Parmenter. Attending from Northville besides Mrs. Holcomb were associate worthy matron, Mrs. Katherine Johnson, past patron and matron, Mr. and Mrs. Claude B. Babbitt, past associate patron and matron, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Boyden, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kohler, Mrs. Vance Masters and Mrs. Helen Hammond.

Teachers of Public Schools Are Guests of Woman's Club

To show their appreciation of the teachers' work among our young folks the Woman's club extended to them their hospitality, as is their annual custom, Friday evening at the public library. A cheery blaze in the fireplace added a touch of homeliness to the scene with sprays of colorful autumn leaves to brighten the room.

In a welcome to the teachers, the president of the club, Mrs. Bruno Freydl, expressed the pleasure of the company in having the teachers back among them again. A program followed opening with a piano solo beautifully rendered by Mrs. T. P. Brennan who responded to an encore.

A representative of the Canadian Pacific railroad was introduced by Mrs. B. H. Douglas who took the audience on a moving picture trip through the Canadian Rockies along the "steel highway" of the Canadian Pacific. The pictures were very realistic and were greatly enjoyed. The operator of the machine was accompanied by W. F. Duckworth, traveling passenger agent of the railway, who, with his wife, was also a guest of the evening. In conversation Mr. and Mrs. Duckworth expressed themselves as favorably impressed with Northville as a residence town.

The social committee, Mrs. E. L. Mills, Mrs. Richard Saley and Mrs. Harold Bloom, conducted the social hour, introducing a clever guessing contest which "broke the ice" and fostered a good fellowship between teachers and townspeople. Refreshments concluded the happy occasion.

Luncheon Given at Meadowbrook By Mrs. Yerkes and Mrs. Frost

One of the loveliest social events of the season was the luncheon given Tuesday afternoon at the Meadowbrook club house by Mrs. E. J. Frost of Boston, Mass., and her sister, Mrs. W. H. Yerkes, of Northville.

On this ideal autumn afternoon Meadowbrook wore her gayest garb and each guest paused at the dignified entrance to enjoy the glory of the rolling hills surrounding the club house. Within the lounge the hostesses greeted their guests with characteristic friendliness giving to the occasion its true charm of delightful informality.

In the spacious dining room, covers were laid for fifty-eight, the guests being seated at eight tables, each presided over by individual hostesses: Mrs. W. H. Yerkes, Mrs. E. J. Frost, Mrs. Margaret Yerkes, Mrs. Don P. Yerkes, Jr., Mrs. Scott Lovewell, Mrs. Dayton Bunn, Mrs. Harry Clark and Mrs. Sumner Power.

The Halloween motif was carried out in the table decorations, in the center of each table stood a bowl of tallman roses whose deep yellow blended with the gold and black tapers at each side. Over the gay cloth were scattered figures of things familiar at this season and at each cover was a place card and napkin decorated with black cats and "jack-o'-lanterns." A delicious four-course menu was served concluding with ice cream in such attractive molds of fruits and cunning figures that seemed too pretty to eat.

Reading to the lounge the guests found their place at small tables where contract bridge and two series of auction bridge were played. Those who were not "bridge fans" found pleasant amusement with their hostesses at other games. Prizes were won by the following at the close of the games: In contract bridge, first prize, Mrs. C. G. Frost; second, Mrs. Sherman Hall; in the first series of auction bridge, first prize, Mrs. Archie Morris; second, Mrs. May Fulkner; in the second series, first prize, Mrs. Edward L. Mills; second, Mrs. P. B. Dusenbury. In the other games Mrs. H. G. Whitfield carried off first prize and Mrs. Clinton W. Wilber the second.

In the party were both old friends and newer acquaintances. Guests from out of town were Mrs. J. Parker Paske, of Boston, Mass.; Mrs. Chas. Allen of Columbus, O.; Mrs. A. D. Gallery of Caro and those from Detroit were Mrs. Donald Williams, Mrs. C. K. Robson, Miss Jennie Westlake, Miss Elizabeth Smith, Miss Adella Richardson, Mrs. O. C. Frost, Mrs. Winfield Holden, Mrs. Harold Smith and Mrs. John H. Boyne; from Plymouth, Mrs. Clarence E. Elliott, Mrs. Luther Peck and Mrs. Chas. H. Carmichael; and Mrs. Stanley Buddiman of Dearborn.

This Week

By H. R. White

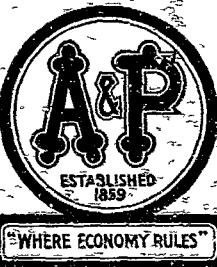

We are wondering if anyone in these times of economic depression has succeeded in taking the last inch or so of a lighted match from a friend's hand?

Today when we need so much sound thinking to get the right view of the universe, let us remember there are no barriers of provincialism in the great forces of science, art, music, literature or religion. In order to think soundly, one should have a clear view of history, an unbiased conception of the underlying principles of the progress of civilization and, lastly, a grasp of the end of the final outcome toward which mankind is moving. If we are to understand the first two we must see the last, or ask ourselves, whether is mankind going? And the answer is: Toward world unity.

Recently I finished reading, "The Rise of American Civilization," by Charles and Mary Beard, and in this book these two authors picture for the reader a fine panoramic view of America from its early beginnings of continental Europe down to the present time. It is like a great historical pageant moving before the reader's mental eye, with all the throbbing, bustle and bustle of our great American life. It is entirely without bias, though there is plenty of humor that is sardonic, and piercing discernment. This is on our local library shelves, and to every student of contemporary history who wants a broad liberal view of American history, this book is recommended.

... SAID LOUIS K. LIGGETT

C. R. Horton, the local Rexall druggist, has just received a personal letter from Louis K. Liggett, leading figure in the drug world, old friend of former President Coolidge and a keen student of modern business. The message sent from Boston headquarters of this outstanding pacemaker in successful merchandising is as full of good news as an English Walnut is of meat. Mr. Liggett throws some mighty interesting sidelights on current business affairs and has crowded much unanswerable logic into the document.

Referring to one of his conversations with former President Calvin Coolidge, he tells that after an hour's discussion of business problems, Mr. Coolidge declared: "Supply and demand will make the price. It always has and always will. You cannot control what God produces."

Mr. Coolidge was referring to the English attempt that failed, to regulate production and price of rubber, and Mr. Liggett's comment is, "No special legislation, no national legislation, no world intercourse or world courts can establish a value that will turn the flow of business. Calvin Coolidge was right when he said that price can be regulated only by supply and demand."

The fact that at this particular time of business stress there is listed the largest number of Rexall drug stores in Druggist's history, was received with no little satisfaction, because it proved to him the wisdom of becoming the Rexall druggist in this particular locality where the profit and good will assured by the Rexall plan to both the one who sells and the one who buys has been a community affair of mutual benefit.

"I think the biggest merchandising idea that has ever been promulgated in America is the fall one cent sale," continued Mr. Liggett, and he gives this bit of history: "I brought this sale to you in the fall of 1914, after war had been declared between the European countries. Everything was at a standstill. Stock markets were closed. Everything was going to hell in a hack, and the one-cent sale put your business over then and will do the same thing this fall."

This Rexall One Cent Sale will be run the first week in November and the people of this community will share in this greatest festival of buying opportunity of the current strenuous year.

Seven of Northville's enthusiastic hunters invaded the north woods last week for the season's opening. They made their headquarters at Cummings and report that the shooting was just fair. The fact that the leaves were still on the trees made the birds unusually hard to get. These made the trip checking in home on Sunday: Sherrill Ambler, Dayton B. Bunn, Dr. E. B. Cavell, E. L. Millis, Elmer Smith, N. C. Schraeder and L. C. Stewart.

Julius E. Allen of Detroit, who was killed instantly here October 14, when he drove his automobile in front of a Pere Marquette freight train at the Seven Mile road crossing, was a cousin of Mrs. Helmut Ringel of this place. Mr. Allen had, in fact, left the Ringel home just an hour before he met his tragic death. Mr. and Mrs. Ringel went to Detroit to stay with Mrs. Allen until after the funeral which was held Saturday afternoon at the J. Sifton and Son funeral home, with burial in Grand Lawn cemetery.

D. A. R. MEETS AT PLYMOUTH

The regular monthly meeting of the Sarah Ann Cochran chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was held Monday, October 19 at the home of Mrs. Walker Nichols in Plymouth. A most interesting program was enjoyed as reports of the state convention held in Detroit the week of October 5th were given by the delegates and others in attendance.

The report of Mrs. Roger Vaughn upon the address by the Hon. Hamilton Fish of New York upon "Gothicism" was most enlightening. Plans were discussed for the American History contest to be conducted this year in the 8th and 12th grades of the Northville and Plymouth schools. There was much enthusiasm aroused by this contest last year in the Plymouth school as cash prizes were awarded and some very good papers written. Those in charge are hopeful that Northville students will turn in some excellent essays this year. There will be a more complete announcement later as the papers are not due until May, 1932.

The Plymouth meeting was attended by Mrs. Chas. Duhnar, Mrs. Susan Eaton and Mrs. Carl Bryan. Mrs. Bryan's report of the state conference was among those given at this program.

CROOKS BILK PEOPLE OUT OF TAX MONEY

The collection of taxes under false pretenses by a number of smooth talking crooks has been reported to the office of the Wayne County Treasurer, Herman R. Lau, who has communicated with Mrs. Archie (Helen) Morris, Northville township treasurer, asking her to warn tax payers.

"Township taxes," said Mrs. Morris, "are payable only at my office or the office of Frank R. Lau, Wayne County Treasurer. Those who pay their taxes to house to house canvassers or people not officially connected with the county treasury will find that they have been defrauded and will have to pay taxes to the county again."

Those few minutes just previous

Every Monday Morning

By "AD" SCHWENGER

The saddest words of tongue or pen are, "Michigan—7, Ohio—20."

However, I'd hate to be in the shoes of any Illinois player tomorrow. Our Wolverines are showing their teeth in earnest. They've had their respective broken noses rubbed in the mud and they want vindication.

Capt. Sol Hudson showed himself to be possessed of a good sense of humor last Saturday, despite the defeat.

Hudson went down in a particularly hard tackle in the third quarter and he didn't get up right away.

The trapper rushed out on the field with his little black bag and fearful that Hudson had been knocked-cuckoo, he began rubbing Hudson's big bull neck and asking him questions.

"Which way is your team going? What team are you playing for?" he queried breathlessly.

Hudson fumbled with his headgear for a minute and then in a clearly disgusted voice he said, "Ohio State, Doc, Ohio State."

Newman, battered and bruised, called the turn after the game when he said, "Well, that game is history. We'll profit by our mistakes but we've got a pretty tough team to beat in Illinois. If the dopesters said that they were the weakest team in the conference I'd still be afraid of them."

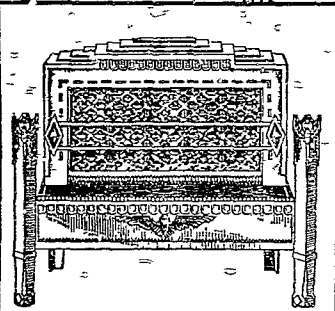

I took a trip down to Champaign, Ill., three years ago to see a Michigan team take a licking and I'd like to go down again to see them win this year.

I'll always remember that game as sort of a foggy one.

Three of us ran 20 blocks to get to the stadium just in time to miss the kick-off. And we ran on full stomachs, minus any sleep on the train the night before. As they say in Old Ireland, "I pretty near ate my cookies."

Our Lady of Victory Church

Forty Hours Devotion.—The three days of prayer and devotion called the Forty Hours Devotion begins in the local church tomorrow morning, Saturday, October 24, and lasts throughout Sunday and Monday. The Sacrament of the Eucharist is exposed on the altar from an open gold vessel from 6 o'clock in the morning until 9 at night during each day. Believing as we do in the real presence of Christ in the Eucharist, we sense an intimate personal and individual contact with Him as we lay open our life and its events in those precious moments before the altar. It is an acceptance of that fatherly invitation, "Come to me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest." Math. 11:28.

The schedule for Forty Hours.—Confessions, tonight from 7:30 to 9, before and after each Mass. Saturday afternoon from 3:30 to 5, and after each evening service. Masses, Saturday and Monday at 6 and 7:30. Sunday at 8 and 10 o'clock. Evening service daily at 8 o'clock. Solemn Closing Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Many visiting priests will attend.

Next Tuesday evening, October 27, from 7:30 to 9 o'clock will be the first of a series of conferences of the program and organization of the church school. These are discussion meetings led by Mr. Munger and open to the teachers and officers of the church school and others interested in the work of the church for children and youths. Preaching service in the evening at 7:30. The dispensational character of the service and the subject, "The Ascension of Christ," will be the theme of the evening.

Our services are well attended, increasing annually and in a deepening interest in Bible study.

Come and bring your friends, note books and bibles and learn these important Bible truths. There is a scriptural reason and remedy for these things that are happening in the world today. For the children of God there is a solution to the vexing problems that are puzzling the people at large.

Prayer meeting Wednesday evening in the church studies in the Book of Acts are considered. Practice for the choir, Thursday evening in the church. Come to church and be happy.
