Northville, Michigan, Friday, November 6, 1931

$1.50 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE

EXTENSION ON TAXES DENIED BY COUNCIL

Action Is Taken at Meeting Held on Monday Evening

Reports on samples of water taken on October 23 from mill springs and the reservoir, both of which contribute to the water supply of Northville, have been returned, Dr. Wilbur H. Johnston, health officer, told President Harry S. Getman and members of the village council Monday night at their first meeting of the month.

The report was delivered by Dr. Johnston in connection with the investigation now being made by the council relative to the establishment of a new source of water supply.

While letters were still being received by the clerk from well owners who sent in prices for putting down test wells, the specifications forwarded by each of the men were different. It will probably be necessary, one of the councilmen said, to obtain a set of standard specifications from an authority on wells before this bid is let for the reason that the councilmen cannot become sufficiently acquainted with the sinking of wells within a period of a few weeks.

Chief of Police Wm. Safford made his report for the month of October in which he declared that this year's Halloween was the quietest that he had ever seen. Two drunks who had been loitering in the park said Chief Safford, burned their blankets and did damage to the roll block to the amount of $11.20 which they were forced to pay. A total of 832 new licenses for automobile drivers were obtained, Chief said, and the village receives 15 cents for each that is sent to Lansing and approved there.

The council refused to extend the time for the payment of taxes any longer and a two per cent penalty will be attached to late taxes.

"However much we should like to extend the time limit," said President Getman, "we cannot do it. The limit has been changed four times and we feel that to extend it any longer would be setting a bad precedent and would also be unfair to those who paid their taxes during the period set aside for that purpose."

The Detroit Edison company, said Councilman Merrill Sweet, has offered to trim the village trees without cost to the town in order to provide better lighting. Foliage in some places, he said, is so thick that street lights are completely hidden. The council voted to accept the kind offer and thanked Councilman Sweet as a representative of the company.

Frederick Strautz, 413 Randolph street, asked and received permission from the council to cut down two dead trees on village property in front of his house. The council stipulated that Mr. Strautz must replace the trees as much as any other resident who cuts down trees situated on village property. Permission to cut the trees must first be obtained from the council.

The councilmen discussed lighting the rustic well built under the auspices of the Rotary club. It was thought that some sort of an old-fashioned light suitable to the appearance of the well would be appropriate. Dr. Johnston announced that the water flowing from the well had been tested and found to be excellent and a brass plate stating that fact was attached to the side of the well.

The next meeting of the council will be held November 15.

ROTARIANS WILL VISIT WINDSOR CLUB MONDAY

Members of the Northville Rotary club will be guests of the Rotarians at Windsor, Ontario next Monday, November 9 at an inter-city meeting. An armistice day program will be given. Practically every member of the local club plans to attend. Automobiles will leave here at 10:45 a. m.

SPENCER CLARK IS 83 YEARS OLD

Spencer Clark, who holds the honor of having belonged to the local Masonic lodge for more years than any other member, celebrated his 83rd birthday Sunday. A quiet family celebration marked the milestone. Mr. Clark is in good health and spirits and is proud of the progress of Northville. He was born a quarter of a mile north of the Base Line road and has a vast fund of knowledge connected with this community.

PROF. BRUMM SPEAKER AT COMMUNITY BANQUET FOR INSTITUTION HEADS

Dr. Robert H. Haskell Is Toastmaster at Unusual Event Attended by 275 People Thursday Evening

"The depression has taken nothing from our lives that is really worth while," declared Prof. John L. Brumm, head of the Department of Journalism of the University of Michigan, before Northville residents, business men and heads of the Wayne County Training school, the Maybury sanatorium, Eastlawn sanatorium, and the Detroit House of Correction, gathered at the Presbyterian church house Thursday evening.

The banquet was held in honor of the heads and their associates of the institutions in and around Northville who were the guests of the community.

"The real values of life," said Prof. Brumm, "remain to be discovered. The trouble with most of us is that our routine lives have been disturbed from their usual paths and we have not learned to break away from habit. We should break away from restricting impulses and accept the challenge of adventure. We have not lost love, hope, faith and the things that lift life up."

"We slave for material benefits. We seek achievements in our professions, in our various businesses, throughout all our lives we fight for material benefits that do not make our lives any better. I find that the outstanding aspect of our lives is boredom. Boredom, plain routine that does not bring a satisfaction worth having. The desperate effort we put forth results in frustration and we are beginning to realize that more attention must be given to an effort to escape from routine. We turn to the world of play and I predict that some day there will be established recreation centers for adults where they may escape into an imaginative world from dead routine and boredom."

Prof. Brumm divided the world of imagination into four divisions: the day dream, the world of play, the world of art, and the world of religion. The day dream, he stated, is a common escape for man from the world of reality but it is not wholly satisfying because man realizes that after all it is merely phantasy and he must inevitably return to reality. The world of play, he said, "makes use of environment. A man defeated in life's battle can go out on the golf course and by virtue of his skill at the game, win a victory that is as real to him as a victory won on the battle field of every day life. In his play world, Prof. Brumm declared, man suffers no penalty if he loses and gains immense satisfaction if he wins."

In the realm of art, declared Prof. Brumm, we all have experiences which to us, may seem beautiful or horrible as the case may be but the beautiful visions do not stay with us because we have no means of making them permanent. The horrible, he said, reveals us because it is utterly devoid of meaning and we can see no occasion for it. The artist, he affirmed, is a "sensitive soul who has the skill and ability necessary to make a permanent record of his beautiful vision." The artist, he said, leaves out all irrelevant material and his product represents some personal experience for the individual who views the work of art.

Prof. Brumm briefly reviewed the world of religion saying that it too, was a world of imagination full of purpose and significance.

In contrasting the realistic and the imaginative worlds, Prof. Brumm deplored the "tragedy of losing" in the world of realism.

ELMER PERKIN MAKES M. S. C. DEBATING SQUAD

An unusual honor has come to one of the sons of Northville when Elmer Perkin, a graduate of last June from Northville high school son of E. E. Perkin, was chosen as one of the debating squad of Michigan State college. This honor is the more appreciated when it is known that a large number of freshmen tried out for a place on the squad and only eight of the whole class made the grade. Perkin's name appears third on the list and it is of additional interest to note that another member of the squad is Harold Stevens from our neighboring town, Plymouth.

The college paper says, "With the large number of last year's men returning and the unusually fine material from the freshman class, the prospects for this season are considered especially bright." Elmer has the enviable record of having been a member of the Northville high school debating team each year of his high school course and his friends will be watching his college record with continued interest.

GEO. GOODSELL DIES AT THE AGE OF 88

Final taps were sounded for George Goodsell, one of Northville's two remaining Civil War veterans, on Tuesday evening at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Geo. Biery, and this brave old soldier passed on to the Grand Review.

Mr. Goodsell had been gradually failing in strength for several weeks, though not ill, until the end came peacefully at the age of 88 years. Northville especially honors the memory of this man who since the days of service for his country bore patiently the wounds of warfare.

Geo. Goodsell was born October 16, 1843 in New York state. At an early age he came with pioneer parents to Michigan, traveling in an ox cart. Friendship for the old Dutch family drew them to Novi where, it is said, the only trail blazed through this uncharted forest was from the Goodsell's to the Flint's home. When the Civil War broke out, Geo. Goodsell volunteered on August 9, 1862 from Pontiac in Co. I, Michigan Volunteer Infantry. Among the engagements in which he was active were the battles of Antietam, Gettysburg, and the capture of Vicksburg. A time he was on guard at Nashville, Tenn., and at another time at Bridgeport, Ala. In the famous battle of Chickamauga he received a deep wound in the leg on September 20, 1863 and was thrown into Libby prison, Richmond, Va., where without medical care, or even dressings he was obliged to care for his injury by bathing it in the sluggish stream which chafed to flow near and to wrap it in strips torn from the shirts of his dead comrades.

Transferred to Andersonville, he suffered in this rude stockade for 14 months under the heat of the sun and the cold and rain with only a blanket for shelter.

Surviving the rigors of warfare, Geo. Goodsell returned home at the close of the war and in due time was married to Miss Ann Haney. Two daughters were born to them both of whom have preceded their father in death.

In the succeeding years the activities of Mr. Goodsell were very varied, assisting his father as blacksmith, serving as fireman in Grand Rapids where he broke horses for the department, being the first full paid fireman of that city. An interesting chapter in his life was when he drove a stage coach over the old Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Trails in Colorado. One of the stories his grandchildren have especially thrilled to hear was of his meeting with Jesse James and his gang as they were on their way to raid a bank.

Following the death of his wife in Colorado, Mr. Goodsell returned to the home of his youth in Novi. Here he met and married Kate Hugger who lived until three years ago. One daughter, Mrs. Geo. Biery, has lived to bless and comfort her father's declining years.

Also surviving are one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Forbes, Santa Monica, Calif., six grandchildren, Fred Draper of Keego Harbor, Mrs. Flora Speary, Grand Rapids, Mrs. Ruth Stage, Mrs. Grace Wilks, Eldon and Catherine Biery, all of Northville.

Mr. Goodsell was a loyal member of the Methodist church, a true soldier and a kind and respected citizen. Little did his friends realize when they showered greetings and flowers upon him at his 88th birthday so recently that it was well they did not delay their acts of love. It will be a deep satisfaction to them to know that he enjoyed these so thoroughly and that his last days were brightened by these messages which he fingered often fondly.

The funeral services will be held this afternoon (Friday) at the home with Rev. Frank N. Miner officiating, assisted by Rev. W. Roscoe Barbour. The Masonic lodge and the American Legion will also pay respects to an honored Mason and soldier. At the grave appropriate military rites will be observed with the sounding of taps as the flag is placed over the resting place.

Last Grid Game Today

Unless a post season game is added, Northville high school will play its last game today, Friday, November 6, at 4 p. m. against Farmington on the Northville fair grounds.

Over half the team will be in their last football game for Northville, being lost through the coming graduation. The following players graduate in June: Capt. Tibble, Howard Beach, Charles Meininger, Don Robinson, Wendell Dickinson, Elden Biery and Duncan Fry.

Let's have everyone turn out for the game. Come one! Come all!

"Give and Serve" and You Will Find Happiness and Success, Exchange Officer Tells Club

The Northville Exchange club has something of which to be proud. George Bickford, secretary of national club relations, told members of the local organization at the luncheon program Wednesday.

"Your spirit and achievements have made you widely known. You cannot sell membership in Exchange," said Mr. Bickford as he told of the aims of the national organization and of its spirit of creative service. "Rather it is a privilege to belong to Exchange."

Stressing the importance of the local clubs to the national exchange, the secretary pointed out the great advantages that come from the association with other clubs. The federal government has cited the organization for its constructive work and Calvin Coolidge, former president, is a member of Exchange. For example, the National club, said Mr. Bickford, is now sponsoring a service to agriculture in the way of a program that is receiving co-operation from several schools, including Michigan State college.

Exchange has been especially valuable during the days of the depression, said the speaker, and the fellowship of the clubs has been a great factor in lifting gloom and in encouraging discouraged men. "We have weathered the worst of the storm," he pointed out, "and a continuation of the spirit of constructive service will bring happiness and success. If we put something in we shall get something out. When you give, you succeed and you find happiness."

President Clifford B. Turnbull presided and the attendance was large and enthusiastic. The message of the national officer was very encouraging to the club. Among the guests were Gordon C. Gage of Detroit Exchange and Chas. Hodgman, also of Detroit.

KING'S DAUGHTERS HEAR GOOD REPORT OF THEIR VOCATIONS

The feature of the meeting of the King's Daughters at the home of the leader, Mrs. E. B. Cavell, last Tuesday afternoon was the stirring report brought by Mrs. Ida Hendryx from the State convention recently held in Flint. In her inimitable way Mrs. Hendryx brought to the women a bit of the spirit of that gathering of women who are doing for others "In His Name."

"Do nothing that is not done 'In His Name,'" said Mrs. Hendryx. It is the spirit of the King's Daughters which gives real merit to their deeds. This sentence seems to be the key note of the convention. "Charity without compassion is cold."

After listening to this report each member left the meeting proud to belong to an organization with a great purpose.

At the business meeting a "Hunters Charity Ball" to be given sometime in January, was decided upon. Mrs. Scott Lovell and Mrs. Harry Blake were appointed chairmen of arrangements.

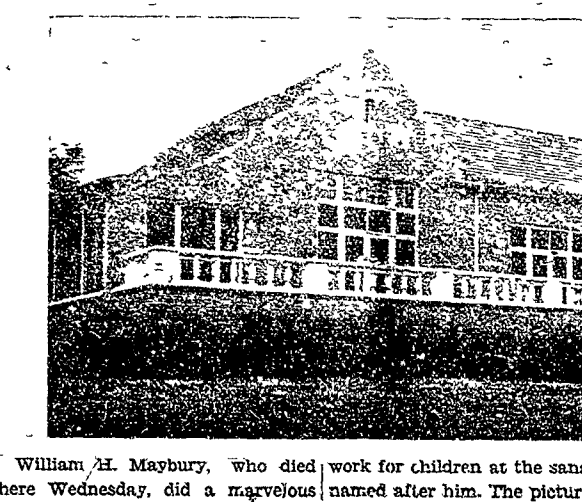

CHAS. A. SESSIONS ILL AT ANN ARBOR

The many friends of Chas. A. Sessions will regret to learn of his very critical illness in the University hospital, Ann Arbor. Mr. Sessions had never before been sick in bed a day in his life. On October 12 he submitted to an operation for the removal of a cataract from one eye.

While in the hospital a condition developed making another operation necessary and on Sunday, November 1, it was found necessary to undergo a very delicate surgical operation for the removal of the prostate gland. At present writing Mr. Sessions is in a very critical condition.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Clark celebrated their twenty-second wedding anniversary Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Willert of Detroit. A fine dinner was followed by a tea-party in the evening.

MAYBURY LOVED CHILDREN

William H. Maybury, who died here Wednesday, did a marvelous work for children at the sanatorium named after him. The picture above shows one building of the children's unit.

WILLIAM H. MAYBURY, BUILDER OF SANATORIUM, DIES HERE AT AGE OF 72

Founder of Institution to Fight Tuberculosis Succumbs Wednesday After Remarkable Life

Northville, together with the entire state, mourned the passing Wednesday afternoon of one of humanity's greatest benefactors—Wm. H. Maybury, for whom the tuberculosis sanatorium located just west of Northville is named.

Mr. Maybury died Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock on the sanatorium farm from the effects of the disease against which he had devoted the greater part of his life. He was 72 years old.

Mr. Maybury was born in 1859 in Detroit and his father, Henry Maybury, was one of the early Irish settlers of Detroit. He was educated in Detroit public schools and was graduated from what was then the Michigan Military Academy located at Orchard Lake.

A man of more or less independent means, Mr. Maybury spent the major part of his life in public service and philanthropic work. During the term of his cousin, Wm. C. Maybury, as mayor of the city of Detroit, Mr. Maybury was appointed superintendent of public works, held an important post on the jury commission and was also one of the arbitrators when the city purchased the Detroit United Railway.

At the time of his death Mr. Maybury was a member of the Detroit Board of Health, a post he has held for the past 13 years. He was originally appointed by Senator Jas. Couzens when the latter was mayor of Detroit and he has been reappointed since that time. During his tenure as deputy health commissioner, Mr. Maybury devoted practically all of his time to the advancement of the Wm. H. Maybury sanatorium.

At the time of his appointment to the health board, the city had already decided to appropriate a million dollars toward the construction of the sanatorium. The site which had been chosen by Couzens wanted a man to take charge of the construction of the sanatorium who could in no way be bribed or corrupted and who was aggressive, to present building facts to the council and secure additional appropriations from them as the situation demanded. In Wm. H. Maybury he found this man. The building was started in 1919 and in 1922 was formally dedicated. In 1926 reconstruction was given Mr. Maybury as the dominating factor in the construction of the sanatorium and the institution was named after him.

His reputation for sterling honesty and for ability to get things accomplished won Mr. Maybury state wide commendation and he was given the job also of supervising the construction of the Wayne County Training school.

It is said of him that he had little use for architects or engineers. He employed them merely to follow out his building ideas and to give him advice regarding stresses and strains.

In his later years he took great pride in the institution which bore his name and his delight in showing visitors around the sanatorium pointing out its modern features was unbounded. He took pleasure in telling of his loyalty to the City of Detroit, but he talked incessantly about the advantages that the vicinity of Northville and the sanatorium offered to the victims of tuberculosis.

Mr. Maybury had been ill for some time but he was only notified last December that he had a tuberculous patient, an ironic tragedy inasmuch as he had devoted the major part of his life and efforts toward suppressing the disease which caused his death.

He took the news in a characteristic courageous manner and believed to the end that he would win the greatest fight of his life—he was determined to win.

Surviving him are his sister, Mrs. Mary Maybury Berkery, and his niece, Miss Winifred Berkery, of Detroit.

The funeral will be held from the Holy Rose church at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. Burial will be in Mr. Elliott cemetery.

Anecdotes about concerning the powerful aggressiveness of Mr. Maybury in imposing his ideas and will upon those whom he needed to complete his purposes. He brooked no opposition, it is said, and would resort to any honorable means at hand to attain his ends. He was a man of great resourcefulness and was at times impatient with the inevitable red tape and discussion which would arise in connection with the building of the sanatorium.

Dr. B. H. Douglas, superintendent of the Maybury sanatorium, who knew the great philanthropist intimately for the past decade, relates (Continued on last page)

ANNIVERSARY OF THE O. E. S. IS OBSERVED

Guests Are Past Matrons And Past Patrons of Order

Orient Chapter No. 77 celebrated its fortieth anniversary on Friday, October 30 with a chicken dinner and minatory work. The Past Matrons and Past Patrons were honored guests of the chapter and exemplified the work later in the evening. When the group was seated at the table worthy Matron Dawn Holcomb asked the guests to rise. Each Past Matron was then presented with a corsage made of candy, covered with cellophane and tied with pink tulle. Each Past Patron was presented with a boutonniere.

At the close of the dinner a large birthday cake was placed before Past Matron Ruth Gillis. She in turn passed it to two charter members, Mrs. Wm. Stark and Mrs. Barton Wheeler, who cut the cake.

The Past Matrons and Past Patrons exemplifying the work were: First lecturer, Ruth Gillis; second lecturer, Nellie Freydt; Patrons, Ray Bogart and Past Grand Patron Blaine Coleman; Asst. Patron, Mollie Lawrence; Asst. Patron, Ed. Polier, secretary, Lydella Ely; treasurer, Maude Parmenter; conductress, Mary Casse; Asst. conductress, Lida Murphy; marshal, Georgia Lovell; chaplain, Celeste Kohler; organist, Grace Odell; Ada, Carrie Bogart; Ruth, Hazel Bygden; Esther, May Babblir; Martha, Stella Starr; Electa, Bell Shumons; Warner, Mildred Huff; sentinel, Dean Griswold.

Sisters Ruth Dennis and Mary Hodge with their committee served the delicious dinner. The tables were decorated in Halloween motif, each table being centered with a large pumpkin basket filled with fruit.

BRILLIANT PLAYING BY TED WATTS HELPS ALBION TRIM ALMA

Ted Watts, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Watts, Dunlap street, won more football fame Saturday at Albion when his brilliant work enabled Albion college to upset "the coze bucket" and defeat Alma college, 13 to 2 in a game that aroused a home coming crowd to wild bursts of enthusiasm.

Watts gave Albion its first touchdown when he took a long pass from Zeller at his finger tips and dove over the line for the marker. His second touchdown came on a smash off right tackle after which he raced 32 yards for the counter, shaking off several tacklers on his way.

NORTHVILLE FAIR TO GET COUNTY GRANT

News that the Northville Wayne County Fair has received its annual grant of $5,000 from the Wayne County Board of Supervisors was acknowledged by fair officials with much satisfaction.

The money, said Supervisor Willard A. Ely, will be placed to the credit of the fair approximately on January 1.

The fact that the board of supervisors continues to contribute toward the maintenance of the fair indicates, it is said, that they realize the immense amount of good work the annual exhibition does for agriculture in Wayne county.

The grant was passed by a unanimous vote of the supervisors at their October meeting.

ARMISTICE DANCE TO BE BIG EVENT

In celebration of Armistice day, the Lloyd Green post of the Northville American Legion will hold its annual dance at the high school gymnasium November 11.

Merrill Sweet, chairman in charge of the preparations, announced that the advance sale of tickets is succeeding beyond expectations and the affair promises to be one of the sparkling social events of the year.

Elaborate decorations are being planned, the nature of which will not be disclosed until the evening of the dance. Substantial refreshments will be one of the features of the evening and music by Sergeant "Chick" Miller's orchestra is expected to amply satisfy the demands of the dancers. Tickets can be secured from any Legionnaire.

NORTHVILLE SPIRIT

The big community banquet demonstrated that Northville spirit is "up and doing." It showed that we have just been a little bit asleep and needed waking up. Our leadership is now on the job, alert, keen and progressive. "Let's go, Northville!"

PREACHER'S SONS VINDICATED

Preacher's children were never half as bad as the critics painted them. In fact, the sons and daughters of the manse and parsonages have made good in life, much above the proportion due to their numbers. There is something about the atmosphere of self-sacrifice and service that hangs around the minister's home that sends these children out to be pretty good citizens.

For example, Prof. John L. Brumm, who captivated a big crowd at the community banquet here Thursday night, is a preacher's kid and no one who heard him will ever doubt that he is doing a vast bit of service to a world that needs friendship, hope and loyalty.

WE ARE HUNGRY FOR IT

The community banquet last week was more evidence of the fact that we are all hungry for friendship and co-operation. Some of the best dressed folks in this town are eager for good friends and just wishing that they had more time for the finer things of life.

"I want to thank you for inviting me to this banquet," said one man on Main street. "You know I sometimes feel that maybe I am not wanted at these affairs but I just want to tell you that I always feel flattered to be taken in on community events. We all are pretty busy but we should take more time to know each other."

As Dr. Brumm pointed out last week at the banquet, a lot of the real values of life don't cost much. Take friendship. If we all do our part we can have friends and life will double in value. With real friends to stand by you, it doesn't matter whether you have much money or not.

A PAT ON THE BACK

This is Friday morning and down the street are some folks criticizing the Record for something it said last issue. We knew they could criticize it. It will be a sad day for this newspaper when everyone agrees that everything in the paper is just right.

Yet sometimes we get just a little weary of the unkind and unfair criticisms of the home newspaper when we are doing "our darndest" to get out a wholesome, fair and friendly sheet.

So as we dig into the morning's work it makes us feel good inside when the phone rings and a man's voice says: "Let me thank you for that article in the Record. I just want you to know that we appreciate it."

A "pat on the back" may be a Pollyanna sort of a thing but right here is one man who likes a little of it once in a while and is perfectly frank to say so.

CAPT. DENNISTON'S WOOD PILE

Capt. Edward Denniston of the House of Correction told a very effective little story over at the community banquet last Thursday evening. He was pleading for friendship and making the point that if we are to have friends we must give something to them.

Back in the old Klondike days, he said, the hardy adventurers would be out in vast wastes and woods making their way along. Along the route would be houses for protection where the weary traveler could stop in, build his fire and rest. In the rude shack would be a big pile of wood, ready for the fire to cheer the weary man. But, said the captain, the rule of the trail was this: Everyone who came must leave the wood pile as high as he found it. He must give as well as take. There you are: Some men wonder why they do not have friends, why they are left out. The reason lies in the wood pile of their lives. They did not leave it as high as they found it. On the other hand there are men who have their friends who would sacrifice all for them. What is the reason? Just this: They kept the wood pile higher than they found it. They gave more than they took. They never lacked for friends. What a lesson for us all. Keep the wood pile high.

HOOVER "TELLS THEM"

The paper says that President Hoover politely but very firmly told some of the officers of the Navy League that they just weren't telling the truth when they ballyhooed to the country that it would be a terrible thing to cut down some of the costs of the navy. The president not only told them they lied but said that he would look for an apology.

The country will back Mr. Hoover. This idea of spending millions to keep up the gold braid on some of these lordly navy officials is outrageous when half of the world is just about bankrupt. We could reduce our navy costs in half and the United States would be just as safe as it is now. The president is bending every energy to reduce government costs and all that he has met from some of these Navy League advocates is antagonism of an unfair and even unscrupulous nature. It is a fine idea to see the president "show-up" some of this tricky work. If Hoover can save the country sixty-one millions by cutting the navy budget he will be doing us all a big favor. More power to his "big stick!"

SEEING NORTHVILLE'S WATER

Did you ever see the springs where Northville gets its water?

Probably not. Through the kindness of the health officer, Dr. W. H. Johnston, we went out the other day and looked over the whole system and some system it is. This little story will have little to say about the safety of the water—we'll have more to say of that later. It will just describe briefly where our village water comes from.

Northville's water comes entirely from springs, three of them. Two of them, the Hill and the Barnhart, are between two and three miles northwest of town, right out in the open country. The third is the Fairbrook, in the village, just off the Fishery road.

In addition to the springs, the village has a reservoir which takes the water from the Hill and the Barnhart springs and a pumping outfit at the Fairbrook spring. The reservoir is on a beautiful high spot, just a little north of the Eastlawn sanatorium.

After seeing our water system in detail, this writer is more convinced than ever that Northville will simply have to give up these springs and put down wells for our water. It looks to us, as though the system is just outgrown—is antiquated and ready to be abandoned just as we have given up kerosene lights. Go out and look at the reservoir and springs and if you have an open mind we think you will agree with us.

One spring is right out in the open and the other has a house over it—but if the village doesn't hurry to repair it it is going to fall into pieces just like the "one hoss shay" one of these days. The springs are about a quarter of a mile apart and pipes take the water to a central point another quarter of a mile away out in a field where it then goes to the reservoir through a main. Both springs are running much lower than before—the water lines show that. It is a question whether they will be adequate in just a few years even.

The reservoir is right out in the open, with a cement bottom and sides but the water has to be run above the cement now to give an adequate supply.

The Fairbrook spring is out under the open sky and exposed to the possible contamination of passing automobile traffic, just a few feet away. Contrary to what some say, water is taken right from the open reservoir and pumped into the mains for use.

Just to confirm for ourselves the absolute facts about the safety of the water, we had samples taken from four places, the reservoir and the three springs. At the Fairbrook spring we took the water before it reached the chlorinator which is now making our water safe. These samples were sent to Lansing for examination by the health officials.

Undoubtedly the "old timers" did a splendid piece of work for their community in using these open springs and calling on gravity to give Northville its water. But we are profoundly convinced that it would be a calamity for the future growth of our remarkable town to fool much longer with this outgrown and unsafe system. As we have said before, we are very fortunate that right under our feet, down fifty or a hundred feet lie great basins of healthful, safe water. All we need to give us one of the finest water supplies of the state, say the experts, is to sink wells and hook up with the present mains. It will cost some money. But the present system is outlawed by health authorities right now and even if allowed to stand it will cost money to keep it going.

We believe our village officials will meet the situation as rapidly and wisely as possible.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

What do you do for your home town?

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

ENGLE FOR GOVERNOR

(Thomas Conlin in The Diamond Drill of Crystal Falls, Michigan)

I notice that the name of Senator Albert J. Engle is being mentioned as a possible candidate for governor next year. I happen to know this senator and believe me he knows what it's all about, isn't afraid to tell what he thinks and generally thinks conservatively. It is intimated that Sen. Engle is mentioned to split the Bruce vote. With that phase of the situation, I have no concern. What I do know of Senator Engle is that he would make a splendid governor in his own right.

DETROIT AND RE-APPORTIONMENT

(Joe Shurman in The Detroit Reporter, Gladstone)

Detroit is proposing another re-apportionment plan for Michigan. The proposal now planned for submission would allow the State Senate to remain as now constituted but Detroit would gain in the House of Representatives with 45 of the 100 members. I have always advocated fair play for the state metropolis but the 1930 census is not now a correct basis for representation. Thousands of Detroit's citizens have returned to their home towns for a living, in and out of Michigan. The majority of them will not return. They have had their fill of metropolitan life. Detroit is not entitled to representation for its fallen away population.

FIRE SECURITIES COMMISSION

(M. H. DeRoe in Charlotte Republican-Tribune)

Hub M. George, alleged state affairs writer on the Detroit Free Press, is running a series of articles on the abysmal failure of the so-called state securities commission.

Up to now it has served merely as a come along for fast working high pressure salesmen who have used their "securities" license as an official okay of the stock or bond issue they happen to be selling. Instead of being a protection to the machinery and authority of the commission have been twisted to aid the purchaser. Mr. George and the Free Press are making a valuable contribution to future investors in exposing past practices.

As present constituted the securities commission is more than an official joke. It is a tragedy and the quicker it is dismantled and thrown in the ash can the better off the state will be. It is possible, based on past experience, that protective legislation of some sort can be devised but we doubt it. Any gesture by the state, even to issuing a license which gives the customer the slightest idea of official security or safety, is not sound. No one person or set of persons is to blame. The law very likely has been administered as well as the provisions permitted, but it is our point that the whole theory of state approval for any privately operated investment is hopelessly wrong in principle.

OUR BROTHER'S KEEPER

(Los Angeles Times)

This period through which the world is struggling is more than an economic crisis. It involves more than a study of strategic plans to ambuscade the dollars which fled.

Humanity is on trial. The civilization which we have evolved is undergoing the supreme test.

If there is such a thing as brotherhood among men, now is the time to show it.

Drunk with wealth, we have strayed a long way from the fundamental and eternal truth. We have been living in a house stuck upon golden stilts and it has crashed.

In our agony and suffering we have discovered that Jesus Christ meant what he said. The Golden Rule was not a pleasant homily intended for reward-of-merit cards.

with silk fringe on the edges and diamond dust shining on the snow scenes. It was a simple statement of the eternal law, the same law that keeps the stars in the skies and the world turning on its axis.

We speak of breaking the law and commandments. You can break them; but they break you. "Love one another" was more than an admonition to light the path of virtue. It was the statement of an eternal principle upon which all law, all philosophy, all business, all ethics, all civilization rests. Like all the doctrines left by the Christ, this was the sublimity of common sense—the finality of practicality—the only sure foundation upon which civilization can rest.

During these money-glutted years we have tried each to go our way alone. Years of greed and money lust have ended with this terrible lesson: That wealth evaporates and leaves them stark and with naked hearts.

It is for us to see that this terrible rebuke has not been in vain. For us to see that we rebuild the fallen structure on the rock of brotherhood.

This winter will be a period that calls for all men to have fortitude, strength and sympathy. It is, for once, clear to the dullest mind that we can only help ourselves by helping others.

Out of this period of re-adjustment we can regain our souls. It can be a "better world" because of this period of hunger and sorrow; a stronger America and a sounder civilization if it brings to us a realization we are given the privilege of being our brothers' keeper.

The remedy for our financial crisis lies not in laws, federal commissions, in panacea of financial errors.

The sound and practical answer was told two thousand years ago in a sermon spoken on a mountain in Palestine.

Edited by Northville High School

THE NINTH PERIOD

In order to make the nine period-day function properly, the following requirements must be followed by all:

1. Students leaving or returning during any one of the fourth, fifth or sixth periods must be extremely quiet in the halls.
2. Upon returning to school you must go directly to the assembly room to study, or to your class.
3. Remember that classes are in session and should not be disturbed.
4. Students finding forty-five minutes too short for their lunch hour, can make satisfactory arrangements at the Principal's office.

Observance of the above statements will do much toward improving the educational advantages of Northville students.

R. H. AMERMAN.

SOPHOMORES WILL ENTERTAIN FRESHMEN

The sophomore class will entertain the freshmen at a masquerade party this evening in the gymnasium. Members of the sophomore class have been planning during the past week. The following committees have been appointed: Entertainment, Jane Lester; Refreshment, Catherine Duguid; Beverly Staman; Mary Jane Dennis; Decoration, Evelyn Kimmell; Alfred Parmenter and Mary Harper.

The party will start at 7:30 and the evening will be spent in dancing.

STUDENT COUNCIL HOLDS IMPORTANT MEETING

The members of the Student Council held two important meetings during the past three weeks. The chief subject for Council discussion was the question of withdrawing from the Suburban League providing another office formed. It passed with a majority vote of the members and was put before the student body where it also was passed. The question will now be left to the faculty to decide.

There has been much discussion concerning an annual so this was presented to the student body. Everyone was in favor of it so the following Annual Committee was appointed: chairman, Geraldine Ferguson; Evelyn Kimmell; Eddie Bender and Herbert Berend.

The following money-making committee was also appointed by the mayor: chairman, Thelma Nirsder; Gertrude Deal; and Duncan Fry.

SENIOR WHO'S WHO

Every week the Senior Who's Who will be published in the Orange and Black. One person will be taken each week (this will be done alphabetically) and the dates and places of birth will be given, where he attended school besides Northville, if any, his part in school activities and future plans.

The first senior on the list is Luella Ash. Luella was born just outside of Northville in 1914. She attended through the seventh grade at the Wilcox school in Detroit and from the seventh to the eleventh grade at Pierson. From there she came to Northville for her junior and senior years. She has obtained two pins for typing and one for shorthand and is a member of the travel club. After completing her high school course Luella intends to attend a business college in Detroit.

FACULTY WHO'S WHO

Mrs. Martha G. Ray, known to the pupils of the school as "Mrs. Ray" and not having the other names attached is the next in line for the "Who's Who."

Mrs. Ray was born in Ridgeway, Lenawee county. Her father, a hardware merchant, was of English ancestry and her mother of Holland Dutch and Irish ancestry. The family tree dates back to soon after the landing of the pilgrims. The family name is "Lawton".

Martha Corvill Lawton worked her way through high school, a task we would think out of the "Mahatma Gandhi" given by Dr. F. B. Fisher of Ann Arbor. Only a few of the teachers attended this talk because some of them had heard the same talk last year.

Before the talk a very interesting program of music was given. The music was furnished by the "All Down River band". On Friday evening, October 30, 1931 another general meeting was held and music was furnished by the Hamtramck orchestra. Immediately following this the president's greeting was given by Fred A. Jeffers, president of the Michigan Education Association. The main address was then given by Henry T. Bailey, artist of Cleve-land. Following the general meeting there were various special meetings which the teachers attended. Some of the special meetings included art, biology, commercial, English, home economics, mathematics, etc.

CAMP FIRE NEWS

Monday night the Camp Fire Girls met at the home of Margaret Hay. Everyone had not arrived as yet. It was quiet and peaceful until, well, all of a sudden, a scream rent the air and much scrambling could be heard. Then the door opened and in came Rev. Schrader (guardian) and Mrs. Owen, running and all out of breath. When words came to them they related what had happened. It seems that they stumbled over some white rats, which were pets belonging to the younger members of the household. Naturally, according to the female tradition, they were very much frightened.

Camp Fire plans were discussed and argued over in their full course. Then Monday night, November 16, was set for the initiation of the new girls, which will take place at the home of Madeline Haystead. Saturday, November 14, the girls will hike to Phoenix Park, following scouts who will blaze a trail, and there they will hold a winter roast. Then they will hike the rest of the way to Plymouth and attend the matinee there.

Cider and doughnuts were served and the girls separated in different directions for home.

PLYMOUTH DEFEATS NORTHVILLE 7 TO 0

Northville's losing streak continued Friday, October 30, when she lost to her traditional rival, Plymouth, in a thrilling game 7 to 0. The game took place at Plymouth before the largest crowd of the season. Part of the game was played in a drizzle.

Northville's main trouble was Dudek, the Plymouth fullback, who gamed almost at will. In the final seconds of the third quarter Plymouth put the ball on Northville's three yard line when the whistle blew. Both teams changed goals and on the first play Dudek went through the line for a touchdown. Williams added the extra point from placement.

The Northville team was much improved and Northville undoubtedly played her best game of the season.

The line-up:
Northville: R.E. Wagner, R.T. Carr, R.G. Bannerman, C. Bassett, L.G. Amrheun, L.T. Bassett, Bery Blunk, Menzinger Q. Gillis, McCardle R.H. Williams, Dickinson L.H. Wagenschutz, Bender F.B. Dudek.
Substitutions: Northville, Campbell, Kohler; Plymouth, Horton.

HALLOWEEN

Halloween is sometimes pronounced Halloween, the evening of October 31, for young people a time for gayety and pranks, a night to play at being witches, ghosts and fairies. That evening is so-called however, because it is the eve of Christian festival of "All Saints", which falls on November 1. It means Holy Eve, and is a time which was set apart, as Lowell expresses it in his poem, All Saints, to honor the memory of: All Saints, the unknown good that rest.

In God's still memory folded deep The bravely dumb who did their deed.

And scorned to blot it with a name: Men of the plain heroic breed, That loved Heaven's silence more than fame.

The building of bonfires, cracking of nuts, bobbing for apples floating in tubs of water, and telling fortunes and ghost stories, which are now Halloween customs, are all relics of paganism. About thirteen centuries ago pagans celebrated November 1 as All Saints Day, when spirits, both good and evil, were believed to be on earth. The Druids also celebrated their harvest festival after the pagan adopted Christianity. They still observed many of their old customs, and so the Halloween diversions of today are ones which originated centuries ago. In past years the ceremonies peculiar to the occasion in Scotland were of a highly superstitious nature, and Burns humorously describes them in his poem, "Halloween".

There is less of historical and educational interest in connection with this holiday than with most of the special days that are observed in schools, but the children find a peculiar fascination in its weird legends and in its time-honored symbols. Since there are so many of these symbols, the day lends itself especially to excellent "busy work."

DID YOU NOTICE

The turnout of the N. H. S. students at the Plymouth game last Friday? Must be that they would rather give Plymouth the support than Northville judging from the attendance at the home games. That some of the high school hopefuls are attending classes without shirts? Maybe it's old-man depression but it seems to me that he's blamed for enough as it is, so we'll give the credit to individuality. The floor at the senior dance? Someone must have gotten down on his hands and knees and given it a thorough waxing. Oh well, people will have something to crab about, don't cha know?

That the senior girls are giving the Mercurochrome a rushing business? It's the sewing class that seems to bother them, not that they can't sew well, they can. But boys, they can't make shirts.

The Jug club in the garage business? Something, it seems, caused a car not to start, so the ever helping girls did a little pushing up and down the Fishery road. It wasn't serious and the girls were all at home in time to attend school the next morning.

How popular the check room was at the senior dance? Of course it wasn't the boys in charge, but people don't like to dance with their coats on.

The football playing that Lewis Campbell displayed in the Plymouth game? It's been rumored around that several spectators actually were stricken dead. Can you believe that? If you can you'll be a very busy person.

That some of our supposedly dignified students went Halloweening? Not to a party, but soaping windows and doing things that were positively childish. (Some of the well known members of the football team were present.)

That the column must be dedicated this week? To Arthur Hills, sole owner and operator of the cleaning establishment that so ably cleaned the gym after the senior dance, Saturday morning, this column is humbly dedicated "Art Hills, may his tribe increase."

FOOTBALL SPIRIT

When our football boys come running out onto the field at the beginning of the game, or at the half, let's give them the most rousing cheer that they have ever before experienced. They can't be victorious without proper backing and we are the ones to supply that necessity.

During the games the cheering is sadly lacking, only one or two feeble attempts being made at a yell.

Is that all the spirit that is left in Northville?

Don't let the opposing team get the impression that we are indifferent or even disloyal, but give them to understand that we are for Northville first, last and always. When we play Farmington Friday, let's have a turn out that will require six cheer leaders.

SOCIETY NOTES

A football game was held at South Lyon last Friday afternoon. Many students attended this game from Northville. Among them were all the second team boys, Winifred McCordle, Donna and Geraldine Ferguson.

Frances and Esther Bacon spent an enjoyable week-end at Olivet, a small place near Lansing.

Geraldine Ferguson attended a party in South Lyon Saturday night. Mary Jane Deane had a lovely party at her home. She had ten guests who spent a very enjoyable evening playing games.

Many students patronized the senior class last Friday night when they attended the dance.

Many students attended the Masonic temple dance given at Plymouth Saturday night.

Saturday was a busy day for these people. Gertrude Deal, Florence Johnson, Wilma Rattenbury, Dorothy Richardson, Helen Christensen and Harry Rattenbury who attended a matinee at the show in Plymouth. The picture, "Monkey Business" was showing.

Monday evening the Camp Fire Girls met at Margaret Hay's home and discussed further plans for the coming year. A very good time was enjoyed by all and after refreshments (cider and doughnuts) were served the guests went home.

The Navy won the magazine contest. Their leader was Ruth Mary Baldwin. The Army gave a weeble roast at Blooms hills Thursday night after school. The sponsors of the party were Mr. Amerman and Mrs. Chapman, class advisors.

The H. S. S. club held their club meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Mary Louise Boyden. They enjoyed the evening by playing games and later refreshments were served.

A masquerade party was held last Friday evening at the home of Helen Christensen. A good time was enjoyed by all which ended up by the serving of refreshments.

Jolly Halloween Party At Marz Home

A delightful Halloween party held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Marz Saturday was attended by a large number of Detroit guests.

Following a Grand March, traditional Halloween pastimes and games were indulged in and the opinion was unanimous that everyone enjoyed a good time.

The following guests were present: Major M. B. Hanz, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mueller and daughter, Kathryn, Thomas Castleton, Mrs. Kathryn O'Toole and daughter, Glenn, Charles, Margaret Hanz, Richard, Hanz, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Farrell, Miss Christine Hanz, Mr. and Mrs. H. Blessinger. All of the guests except Mr. Charter were from Detroit.

The Misses Catherine, Christine and Margaret Hanz remained over the week-end at the Marz home.

Woman's Club Listens to Authority On Manchurian Situation

An intensely interested audience of members of the Woman's Club and some guests listened attentively to an enlightening talk on Manchuria given by Prof. Robert G. Hall of the University of Michigan. Prof. Hall is an instructor in the Department of Geography and has made several trips to China having spent considerable time in that country so that he may be considered an authority on the subject. Of special interest to his hearers was Prof. Hall's interpretation of the present critical situation in Manchuria. In brief, he does not anticipate war between Japan and China. Maps were used by the speaker to further illustrate his talk.

The women were especially impressed by the delightful delivery of this speech. Prof. Hall was introduced to the audience by Mrs. B. E. Larson, a member of the program committee.

Thus afternoon (Friday) the program which was to have been given on November 13 will be given and Mrs. C. C. Walker will be heard next week on "Life in Siam."

WORK WORTH $15 FOR $4.95 SAYS MARZ

"We're going to give car owners in Northville," declared A. R. Marz, owner of the Marz Ford Sales and Service garage here, "a real bargain offer if they want to have their cars fixed up to meet winter. We'll give them approximately $15 worth of work for $4.95.

"We will do all of the following operations, including labor and material: Remove, space and clean breaker points; remove, space and clean spark plugs; clean out gas line; clean out carburetor jets; clean out sediment bulb; adjust and line up front wheels; adjust brakes; check and inflate tires; clean battery terminals; fill and check condition of battery; change to winter grease in transmission; change to winter grease in steering column; change to winter grease in rear axle; change oil; alumite and spray complete—all work to be done for $4.95."

Mr. Marz has recently become affiliated with the Goodyear Rubber company and handles a complete line of Goodyear tires.

NIGHT COUGHING QUICKLY STOPPED

Night coughing is almost always caused by an irritated, inflamed throat, so is almost all coughing. Ordinary cough syrup does not reach these conditions, but Thoxine, a prescription exclusively for throat troubles, does it. It relieves the irritation and the cough stops within 15 minutes. And Thoxine goes still further—it eliminates the internal cause which many times develops into serious illness.

A swallow of Thoxine before retiring absolutely prevents night coughing and insures a good night's sleep. It gives the same speedy relief.

Decorations for this year's Armistice Day dance will be unusually elaborate announced Harold White, chairman of the decorations committee for the annual Legion affair. The dance will be held at the high school on November 11 and tickets may be secured from any Legionnaire.

On Thursday of last week a group of sixteen ladies held a luncheon at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Burgess in honor of Mrs. Eva Johnson, the occasion being her birthday anniversary. Guests were present from Detroit, Farmington and Northville. The pleasant affair was arranged as a surprise for Mrs. Johnson and was greatly enjoyed by those present.

Northville was well represented at the Albion-Alma football game played last Saturday. This game was the big feature of the annual Homecoming of hundreds of alumni of the college. Among those attending the game from this place were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Watts, Raymond Watts, Thos. Carrington, Paul Thompson, Mrs. Thos. McCordie, Miss Hazel Wood and Edward and Leo Wood.

Our Northville folks who have winter homes in Florida are making plans to leave for the south within the next few weeks. Ed Lockwood and daughter, Ella, are already on their way down to the land of sunshine and orange trees, to be followed shortly by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Simmons, Mrs. Annie Montgomery and son and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Potts. T. G. Richardson expects to go down later in the season.

Russell F. Gale, whose herd of purebred Holstein dairy cattle is well known in Northville, has recently chosen a trade mark to identify his herd, according to the Holstein-Friesian Association of America which registered the name for the breeder. The name chosen as a part of the name of each individual animal in this herd is, "Rugal". All registered Holsteins have a name and number, the name usually indicating the ancestral blood lines.

"Prnce", the faithful old colt with whom the childhood of many a Northville child is associated, died Monday at the age of 13 or 14 years. He has belonged to Warner Neal since Warner was a small boy but he also belonged in play to lots of other children who hitched him to their wagons and sometimes made him pull them on their roller skates. Small wonder then if boys and girls, now grown, pause to regret the passing of an old, true friend, a dog.

The Northville football team lost to Plymouth; 7 to 0, and also lost a chance for free hair cuts. The game was hard fought and close—one might, if he was low enough, call it a close shave.

That's enough of that. This sort of thing can't go on forever.

Speaking of inotype operators; speaking in tones of indignation, we particularly abhor the ones who stand over your desk and glow-dry on their lips of "Copy, ye gods, gimme some copy. How 'ja speef' me tuh get a paper out if o don't git any copy."

The trouble usually lies in the fact that all of the news pours in Wednesday night and Thursday morning just when we're ready to go to press.

Some time if you want a little amusement, try to crowd 130 inches of solid lead type into 90 inches of space. It's an after dinner trick that can't be done.

If you're on one side or the other of the Prohibition fence, listen to Father Coughlin (I hope I spelled it right) from Station WJR on Sunday afternoon.

The good father takes government facts out of government publications and gives some startling results. If you're for prohibition, or against it, you'll find plenty of "food" for thought.

Halloween (the business men love it) has come and gone. The window washers' union has decided to ask Congress if they can't do something about having two of the same kind of holidays a year. Two of them with their celebrating a week beforehand would just about cause an A-I revolution. Razor blades are good to take the paraffin and soap off of plate glass windows and if you douse the windows with kerosene before the soapsters come around, they'll have a hard time making any headway.

The banquet was a huge success and it is rumored that it will be followed by other occasions equally joyous.

And if I catch the kid that let the air out of my two front tires last Saturday night, I'll warn him rear elevation plenty.

The same goes for the guy that relieved my fluffer of all the tools it possessed—both the tire iron and busted jack.

It Makes Them All Lay Eggs!

Good feed knows no breed. Larro Egg Mash makes them all lay eggs—more eggs all the year around than you get with any other ration you can feed. It is a complete ration, too! No "extras" to buy and mix with it. Feed it just as it comes from the bag and watch your profits grow.

Maybury Sanatorium

Sanatorium Wins Prize

Dr. Henry F. Vaughn, commissioner of health, awarded prizes to the divisions of the Department of Health whose members showed the greatest percentage increase in their Community Fund pledges over last year.

The sanatorium increased its total pledge 28 per cent over last year. This is the greatest gain of any branch of the Public Health Department.

The sanatorium was awarded a prize in the form of a trying pan inscribed with the words "Wm H Maybury, Sanatorium, Detroit's Dept. of Health, Commendation for increased total Contribution, Community Fund, 1931."

Dr. Bruce H. Douglas accepted the prize and it is on display in Miss Hogan's office.

Miss Harriette Lombard, a former recreation teacher here, visited the sanatorium Saturday.

The Rev. R. E. Randall, hospital chaplain at the Detroit Episcopal City Mission, will fill the vacancy left by the Rev Otto Sletz of Plymouth.

Mrs. Edna Forsyth, owing to the recent illness of her daughter, has taken a two weeks' leave of absence.

Mrs. Grace Mechling of Detroit will fill the vacancy left by Mrs. James Pearl in the recreation department.

The Misses Sutherland, Lietz, Elzinga and Waters, attended the Annual Institute of the First District of the Michigan Educational Association, held in Detroit Friday and Saturday of last week.

A number from here motored to Detroit last Tuesday to hear Hughes McGarney speak on "Creative Education" at the Highland Park high school auditorium. Mr. McGarney is director of the department of creative education at New York University. He came to Detroit under the auspices of the Children's Fund of Detroit.

Miss Lottie Bjor has returned from Jackson. She spent the week-end with friends there.

The Detroit Nurses' Ass'n will hold an open forum tonight (Friday) at 8 p. m. in the auditorium of the Herman Kleier hospital, to discuss "The Changing Order in Nursing." Miss Emilie Sargent, director of the Visiting Nurses' Ass'n, will speak on "Functions of the Joint Council on Community Nursing."

Miss Lydia W. Sanderson has chosen as her topic, "The Function of the Community Nursing Bureau," and Miss Winifred Rand will tell of the "advantages of the system of 'Holly Nursing'."

Mrs. Ruth Seeger, honoring Mrs. Wm. McKillop (nee Rachel Russell), entertained at a breakfast shower in her home at Bedford Tuesday morning.

Dr. C. C. Berkelow, X-ray technician has partially resumed his duties at the hospital.

Miss Anna Green is spending a week at "Aunt Mary's Health Cottage," Pontiac.

Miss Mary Rhoades has returned from her home in Baltimore, Md.

The marriage of Miss Helen Chalmers to Edward Austin took place at the Methodist parsonage October 24. Rev. Frank N. Miner performed the ceremony.

Halloween Parties

The annual Halloween party given by the patients at the main building, was a very gay affair. A very colorful "Grand March" ushered in the evening's program. Music was furnished by the Detroit Police band with Carl Spie as soloist. "Nosey" the cop was on hand to furnish the necessary "clowning". Prizes were awarded to the following: women's most beautiful costume, Bernice Ryan; men's most beautiful costume, Henry Kukinski; women's most original costume, Helen Selby; men's most original costume, Adam Boide; women's funniest costume, Alice DePotte; men's funniest costume, Jack Heitel.

No jollier time has ever been had by the children of the unit, than that of the annual Halloween party sponsored by the recreation department on Friday evening. The 130 happy kiddies were ushered into the beautifully decorated auditorium which proved a regular haunt for all the witches, elves and goblins of fairyland. Following the program and songs, refreshments were served in the form of doughnuts and cider.

Minstrel Show Enjoyed

On Thursday evening, October 29, about two hundred parents of the Maybury sanatorium were entertained by a minstrel show, presented by members of Union Lodge of Strict Observance, No. 3, F. & A. M.

Leading roles were played by Gerald Powell, worshipful master of the lodge; Alexander E. Gage, junior warden, James Bjendall, Robert G. Brown, John L. Buckler, who was Interlocutor and Charles W. Becker, star and director.

It was mainly through the courtesy and cooperation of Charles W. Becker that the patients were privileged to see this delightful entertainment and every person who attended was loathe to see the curtain draw to a final close at 10:15 p. m.

On behalf of the patients, the Goodfellows club wish to express deep appreciation and sincere thanks to every man participating in the show and especially to Mr. Becker.

CHICKEN PIE SUPPER

Attention is called to the chicken pie supper to be held in the Methodist church house on the evening of Tuesday, November 10. This annual event has gained great popularity and many are looking forward to a chance to take their families or friends out to a real meal for half a dollar. The women will also have on sale a supply of useful aprons for gifts and home made candy.

In the issue of the Literary Digest of October, 31st instant, in the "Letters and Art" department, much space is devoted to the Frick collection of paintings which has now been turned over to the public under a foundation arrangement. Recently the writer was in New York City and had the privilege of seeing this exhibition with Mrs. John Sloan, who is the wife of John Sloan, president of the Society of Independent Artists. In discussing art as we went about looking at pictures I asked her for a definition of art and she gave me one that she used some time ago in a competition which is "Art is that beauty which the imagination has created and which awakens in the observer an emotion of pleasure similar to that of the creator."

I carried this idea away with me and have thought about it often and also that man, however dark his spirit or cramped his emotions or senses, forever yearns for a wider horizon and a purer outlet of his expressions. In his supremely happy moments earth seems to hold the promise of better things, and then suddenly everything closes in again, and we are and we feel as before. But some men are endowed with a vision and insight that is more penetrating and towards the world and its beauty their liberator spirit unfolds to them moments of illumination that are lasting, and such as poets and painters portray in song and on the canvas, have end during poems and forms.

While viewing the Frick collection with Mrs. Sloan I thought how well Rembrandt, the Dutch painter and Goya, the Spanish artist have exemplified this in their work. As for instance, Rembrandt understood as no other artist did, the architectural value of dark and light masses and his world as reflected on his canvas must have been a synthesis of forms in a sea of marvelous tone. And the great work of his later years are symbols only, in pure and simple form.

Goya, who was the forerunner of the new freedom in modern painting, is quite genuine and profound in his work as one could notice in one picture in the Frick collection in that of his "Landlady". Here he portrays a true picture of strength, virility and composure as was his wont in anything he did.

Surely these two artists had inspired moods, inspired moments and have crystallized them as an enduring heritage for the progress of beauty and culture in our everyday world and Mr. Frick has given to the public a very fine contribution and a superb collection.

PROGRAM GIVEN IN HONOR OF EDISON

Wednesday afternoon the student body was entertained by a program in honor of the great genius who has just left this world.

The first number was a song, "I'll Take You Home Again, Kathleen," sung by Gertrude Deal and Florence Johnson, who were accompanied by the high school string orchestra. This was Edison's favorite and was sung at his funeral.

The next was a short character sketch from Edison's life at the height of his career, showing the marvelous perseverance of the inventor. The part of Edison was taken by John Stenchen and his two friends were Richard Shipley and Warner Neal.

The last number was another song by Gertrude and Florence, again accompanied by four violins. The song was, "A Perfect Day."

We hope to have many more good programs put on Wednesday afternoons.

Adams in Redford Thursday evening with the expectation of forming a church society.

Thursday there will be a wedding reception in the hall for a young married couple from Southfield.

Saturday evening the Pedro Club will be held in the hall. Mr. and Mrs. Gullen have charge.

The spelling contest Friday evening will be held in the community hall. A prize will be given to the winner. Bunko will be enjoyed by those who would prefer that to spelling and a lunch will be served after ten cents.

Mrs. White attended the Strathmore White Shrine Friday evening.

Base Line Pedro Club held their meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Wagner. Mrs. Charles Finch, Mrs. Lee and Mrs. Karl Banser won prizes.

Mrs. William Thornton and daughter Gladys and family, visited the 200 in Detroit Thursday.

Mrs. Burl Thomas and friend, Mrs. Carl Smith, spent Wednesday in Pontiac.

Mr. and Mrs. Searl Rosenthal of Detroit were Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gillespie.

The Wayne County School Teachers' convention was held in Detroit Friday. Mr. Johnson, Miss Edwards and Miss Lillian Holter, teachers, represented Person school.

Mrs. Painter and Miss Betty Randall spent Friday in Detroit.

Miss Lenia McCully, formerly a pupil in Person school, was a guest of Shirley Zwahlen and attended church Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson and family moved from Farmington road to Lincoln Park Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Eastman and Miss Addie Beach motored from Muskegon Heights. The former is a brother of James Eastman. They all enjoyed the week-end together.

AT THE THEATRE

"RIDERS OF THE PURPLE SAGE"

The great Balanced Rock in the Verde Valley of Arizona is Balanced no longer. Like Humpty Dumpty it had a great fall, started an avalanche and came to rest in the diary of Yvonne Pelletier, almost unbalanced the fair diarist thereby.

It all happened during the filming of the Fox talking version of Zane Grey's famous Western romance, "Riders of the Purple Sage," featuring George O'Brien and coming to the Penniman Allen theatre Saturday, November 7. Miss Pelletier, who plays a featured role, tired after an exciting sequence, was resting under the shadow of a hill, to record the events of the morning in her diary.

Above her head, the climactic scene of the drama, in which O'Brien rolls the great Balanced Rock down to shut off the pursuit of his enemies, was being shot.

Miss Pelletier heard shouts and saw the rock rushing down. Just in time she threw herself from its path. As soon as she had collected her vocabulary she told her diary all about it.

Marquette, Churchill and Noah Beery are also featured with O'Brien and Miss Pelletier under Hamilton MacFadden's direction.

"EAST OF BORNEO"

Thirty thousand miles for atmosphere!

Nothing better illustrates the care and expense involved in the making of a motion picture than the recent location trip by a sound unit from Universal studios for the purpose of filming exterior scenes for "East of Borneo," the strange Far Eastern drama which will be shown Wednesday, November 11, at the Penniman Allen theatre.

Starting from Hollywood on a romantic adventure, the company steamed across the Pacific to Singapore where a yacht had been chartered for the use of the travelers.

In this vessel they thoroughly covered the Far Eastern countries, visiting Sumatra, the Straits Settlements, Borneo and the Malay Peninsula. Many of the scenes were obtained far in the interior of the Malay country, the company journeying for more than 400 miles up the Rajah River in the Malay state of Penang.

As a result of the company's remarkable location trip, extending over six months, many unusual scenes were secured for incorporation in the picture, which has been hailed as the outstanding example of technical perfection in a motion picture filmed literally at the other side of the world.

HOMEMAKER'S CORNER

BY MRS. EDITOR

WORKING WIVES

This name of a serial running in one of our Detroit dailies strikes our eye each morning, and we haven't time to read it though our curiosity is piqued. —"Working Wives"—all of us are that in one way or another and right now many of us are "putting our shoulder to wheel" and helping outside of the home. Going up and down the business streets of Northville we are surprised to observe how many wives are their husbands' "right hand man."

Remember the old song—
"For men must work and women must weep—
And there's little to earn and many to keep."

No longer do women wave farewell and then sit and "weep." Many a woman has learned through the stress of necessity that she has a latent talent that might have been drowned in dish water never having been reared its head above the suds.

Home is of course the nicest place in the world to work, and secretly these "Let's wives" cast a backward glance at a full mending basket and a waiting ironing before they close the door on things domestic and hasten forth to the "cold world." But even this going out has its advantages for one, just can't slouch forth to business in bungalow apron and curl papers and the larking grouch that sometimes hides in the heart is soon dispelled by the greetings of friends.

And then what fun it is to get back into work dress again and shake rugs and beat up cakes! No "working wife" complains of the monotony of house work.

Now and then someone expresses sympathy for us. Spare it! We're having a new adventure on the sea of business and (if our little brains does not capsize) we'll come to port some day with a lot of rich experiences to sort over when we retire to the chimney corner of age.

There are lessons we are learning in this school of experience and we understand our life-partner as we never could have otherwise. We see how why he likes to drop into an easy chair and not be bothered with the details of domestic machinery. He wants to "just rest his head."

We know now why it helps to have good nourishing meals on time served with a sauce of happy harmony.

We have learned how hard money comes and how quickly it goes. We have deeper respect for that big dollar. Never more will we phone to Mr. Business Man to "bring home a loaf of bread." Of course he'll forget it—and we understand why now.

We solemnly swear we will not "bawl him out" any more (a. e. unless we forget). He has so much of that from irate customers. Home shall be a haven of rest.

With throngs of mere comers, and goers in the course of a day we can see that he naturally longs for a few real friends. I shall be our job to see that he has a chance to cultivate these in his home. He shall feel free to bring home a friend at any time —for a real friend will not be critical of simple hospitality.

P. S.—As we read this over it looks like a big order. Wonder if we'll forget it all when we have gone again back into domesticity.

Ted Cavell of Michigan State college, accompanied by his room mate, Don Anderson, whose home is in Mjo, spent Sunday with his parents and with his wife and baby daughter.

WM. H. MAYBURY DIES AT AGE OF 72

an incident which graphically portrays the independent spirit which was instrumental in accomplishing so many worthy things.

"When Mr. Maybury was first appointed to the health board," said Dr. Douglas, "Dr. Vaughn, who was then the head of the board, took him out to the site of the sanatorium. The ground was rough and hilly and it gave no sign of the great institution which was one day to stand forth majestically as a monument to science.

"Dr. Vaughn, who was a few years younger than the greying and elderly Mr. Maybury, raised the wires on a barbed wire fence which blocked the tour of inspection and was promptly informed by Mr. Maybury that 'no one need help me, I am still able to help myself.'"

He would allow no one, related Dr. Douglas, the privilege of helping him on with his overcoat and on one occasion made the emphatic statement that any time he became too feeble to put on his coat, he'd ask for assistance.

His world on matters pertaining to tuberculosis was law around the city hall and when he came before members of the council to ask for additional millions to pour into the buildings, he came prepared with facts and figures that brooked no argument. He himself, on occasions, took off his coat and went around with the laborers, making cement, laying bricks, and critically examining every phase of the construction work.

His friends remember the vigorous manner in which he pounded on the council table ramming facts home with gestures that betrayed the immense driving force behind his activities.

When he first learned that he was a tuberculosis patient, he submitted to the regime of rest and quiet prescribed for all of the patients in both the children's and adults' wings of the sanatorium. His June protest that nurses appeared too early in the morning resulted in the moving of the breakfast hour from 7 o'clock in the morning to eight o'clock.

Up until just a few weeks before his death Mr. Maybury was able to be up and he mingled extensively with the sufferers for whom he always had a sympathetic and optimistic word.

"He obtained the greatest delight from his visits to the children's unit and he sought to make every child believe that he would some day go home, cured of the disease, and able to enjoy the same activities as other youngsters of the neighborhood. He maintained firmly that hopeless cases should not be sent to the children's unit because they tended to reduce the optimism and cheerfulness that was the sole hope of the 'kids'."

Mr. Maybury was instrumental in the building of the $3,000,000 addition to the Herman Kiefer hospital which many thought would be an addition to the general hospital. At the formal opening Mr. Maybury sprang a surprise when he notified officials that the addition had been built for the express purpose of caring for tuberculosis patients. Formerly patients who were about to die were taken to the Kiefer hospital but today, although many of the advanced cases are sent there, a large percentage are sent on the road to recovery and returned to the Northville Maybury sanatorium where they are eventually restored to health.

Mr. Maybury was a member of the Knights of Columbus, the Detroit Light Infantry and the Michigan State troops.

Mr. Maybury believed that municipal progress should keep pace with private enterprise. He deplored wasteful extravagance and his code was based on the thought that service was a duty of good citizenship.

W. H. M. S. GROUP MEETS

The Northville auxiliary of the Woman's Home Missionary Society was hostess last Thursday to the annual group meeting which convenes just previous to the State conference meeting to be held in Detroit this week. Matters of information were discussed by leaders of the society.

Representatives from Detroit, Pontiac, Farmington, Plymouth and Northville were present and a luncheon at noon gave opportunity for a closer social acquaintance of these women interested in this cause. The afternoon session was opened by a devotional service led by Mrs. Frank N. Miner, the local church hostess.

Mrs. Geo. R. Lockwood of Ypsilanti, president of the district, was the presiding officer and Mrs. Geo. Palmer of Detroit, the conference corresponding secretary, gave a very enlightening report of the work done during the past year and answered informally many questions. Very evident from the report is the gratifying condition of the finances of this organization which has, throughout the unfavorable times, maintained its high efficiency in a business like manner. Schools, orphanages, deaconess work and frontier work are among its achievements.

The committee planning the chicken pie supper next Tuesday evening at the Methodist church requests those furnishing chickens to bring them to Wadsworth's bakery by one o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Don't forget your aprons and candy for the bazaar.

JOHNSTON SPEAKS BEFORE PHYSICIANS

Dr. Wilbur H. Johnston, Northville village health officer, spoke at the annual convention of the Michigan Osteopathic Association of Physicians and Surgeons gathered at Battle Creek October 27, 28 and 29.

Dr. Johnston spoke on the opening day of the convention and his topic was, "Public Health Problems." The various problems that physicians meet which could be remedied and which need investigation were exhaustively treated by Dr. Johnston.

OLD ECCLES HOME DESTROYED BY FIRE

Fire, the origin of which was not discovered, completely destroyed the old Eccles farm house and barn, corner of Five Mile and Ridge roads Saturday night about 8:30 o'clock. The house was empty, the family, whose name was not ascertained, having moved Friday, the day previous to the fire. The house, a fairly modern one, and the barn, which was also in good condition, are owned by a Detroit real estate concern. The Northville fire department responded to the call which came too late to save either of the buildings.

SHERIFF SCHRAM AND JUDGE DOTY COMMENDED FOR SWIFT JUSTICE

The swift capture of Dorrell Benton and his son, Chauncey, of Novi by Sheriff Frank Schram of Pontiac and the prompt manner in which they were sentenced by Judge F. L. Doty, also of Pontiac, aroused favorable comment in the Northville and Novi section of Oakland county.

Benton and his son robbed a woman who had been killed in an automobile accident of $50. The dead woman's purse was found in the Benton home and the arrest of the thieves occurred Tuesday, the subsequent sentence and trip to Jackson following on Wednesday.

"Such speedy dispensation of justice by Sheriff Schram and Judge Doty deserves a large measure of credit," declared a Novi visitor to the Record office.

CHICKEN PIE SUPPER

With a frosty tang of autumn to give zest to the appetite who can resist the appeal of hot chicken pie? For a number of years the women of the Methodist church have had this annual custom of serving chicken pie to large numbers just before the holiday rush begins. So well known is the fine quality of this supper that folks do not need to be told that the cooking is par excellence and the service all that can be desired. When the menu is read it will be a wonder that a dollar dinner can be had for the small sum of fifty cents.

The chicken pies, by the way, are all baked by one of Northville's best cooks right in the church ovens. Flaky brown crust covering tender, juicy deliciousness. Doesn't the very thought of it make your mouth water?

The date is Tuesday evening, November 10. Dinner will be served from five o'clock until all the chicken pie is gone. Here's a fine chance to pay a social debt and incidentally help a bunch of worthy women do their bit.

VIOLETS IN NOVEMBER

The sun shone cheerily on Wednesday, November 4 and Miss Lynn Kusanovic and Miss Bessie Canter of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. office went walking out West Main street and picked some violets just as nice as any you find in the spring time. The Record office had a look at them and knows the story is true. Great is Michigan in the fall of the year.

METHODIST CHORUS SINGS AT NEW BOSTON

The Methodist chorus, directed by Roy G. Clark, went to New Boston Sunday evening, November 1 and gave a musical program to a very appreciative audience. The church was filled to capacity and the Northville singers renewed acquaintance with their former pastor and wife, Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Richards.

HOW ONE WOMAN LOST 20 POUNDS OF FAT

Lost Her Prominent Hips—
Double Chin—Sluggishness

Gained Physical Vigor—
A Shapely Figure

If you're fat—first remove the cause.

Take one-half teaspoonful of KRUSCHEN SALTS in a glass of hot water every morning—in 3 weeks get on the scales and not how many pounds of fat have vanished.

Notice also that you have gained in energy—your skin is clearer—you feel younger in body—KRUSCHEN will give any fat person a joyous surprise.

Get an 85c bottle of KRUSCHEN SALTS from C. R. Horton or any leading druggist anywhere in America (lasts 4 weeks). If this first bottle doesn't convince you this is the easiest and surest way to lose fat—your money gladly returned.

BRUMM SPEAKS AT COMMUNITY BANQUET

which must come despite worthy effort sometimes on the part of the individual who loses.

He illustrated graphically how several people with whom he came in contact during his wide experience had made the best use of their talents.

"I know of a ragged artist," he said, "who speaks of a mighty mountain as 'his mountain' despite the fact that it is owned by real estate men. And he does own it more than do the real estate men because the pictures he paints of the mountain are records of his adventures. The mountain belongs to his artist friend by right of appreciation."

"I once lectured way in the backwoods district, two miles from a railroad. My guide was a young Bohemian who had arrived in this isolated community two months before the school in which he was to teach began because he wanted to get acquainted with the people. The boy was enthusiastic about his 'humble work' and scorned my suggestions that he was better fitted for the outside world where rewards were higher for leadership and ability."

That boy was a glorious example of one who accepted the challenge that life set before him.

"Real ability as displayed in moments where we are forced to make choices, where a new set-up comes along to disturb our routine lives."

Dr. Brumm's speech was well received by the following members of his staff to rise: Dr. D. H. Soley, Dr. H. S. Willis, Dr. Chas. Smith, Dr. Jas. F. Busbee, Dr. John Koolbant, Dr. Loren Busbee, Dr. Rachael Stevens, Dr. Edna Jones, Dr. Teckla Rosenbush, Dr. John Appel, Dr. W. L. Van Sickle, Dr. J. Landstra, Dr. J. A. Todd, Miss Sarah Halsey, Miss Clara Sharp, Miss Ciel Hogan, Mrs. Ruby Kelley and Bart Connors.

Dr. A. B. Wickham of the East-lawn sanatorium, located in Northville, called on Miss Ida Sullivan, Dr. Royce Shafter and Dr. Paul McQuiggan of his organization and commented on the fine friendship existing between the institutions and the village of Northville.

The program of entertainment included several vocal numbers by the Rotary male quartet and two dances by the Galm sisters, Shirley and Jocelyn, of Plymouth.
