Mr. Thingstad has a powerful voice with a wide range and wonderful control. He has studied with some of the best teachers in America and has done a great deal of radio work, especially in the East.

Pilgrim Fathers and Indians Ate Wild Turkey Together at The First Thanksgiving Feast

(By Rev. Leo Eickstedt, Pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church)

Our Thanksgiving Day is a commemoration of the first Thanksgiving proclamation issued in America by Governor William Bradford, November 19, 1621. When we think of the Pilgrim Fathers who came to America—that they might be free to worship God aright—we are not surprised at their spirit of gratitude. Then, too, in framing their constitution before leaving the Mayflower they began at this: "In the name of God, Amen!"

The time appointed for the festivities was December 13 to 16. Shortly before this, four men were appointed to go forward that they might provide an appropriate feast. And these men did their part well, for at the great feast held on Saturday, there was abundance of wild turkeys to feed the whole company of fifty-five white people and Chief Massasoit and his ninety redskins as well. They were glad to share God's blessings with their Red brothers.

In November, 1623, another Thanksgiving was proclaimed because the crop had been unexpectedly saved. February 22, 1631, was set as a day of fasting and prayer because of a crop failure, but the

VILLAGE COUNCIL SENDS GOOD CHEER TO C. A. SESSIONS

Our "city fathers" do not forget people when they are in trouble. Monday evening at council meeting the commissioners authorized Mayor Harry S. Germain to send a letter of sympathy and cheer to C. A. Sessions, village assessor, who has been having a long struggle at the St. Joseph's Mercy hospital at Ann Arbor. This is the letter that certainly must have cheered Mr. Sessions:

Northville, Michigan
November 16th, 1931

Charles A. Sessions, Assessor
Ann Arbor, Michigan
Our Dear Charles:

As fathers of the Village, we commissioners have indignantly been informed of the news of your condition since your stay at the hospital. We certainly are pleased to learn of your steady improvement and believe it will not be long when you will be back on the job.

The best we can say is that things about town are normal and that you must mind your nurse like a good little boy and return to our city much improved in health.

This is the sincere wish of all the commissioners at our meeting of November 16th, 1931 and with the best of regards from all of us, we remain

Yours sincerely,
Harry S. Germain,
Village President.

QUESTION BOX IS FEATURE AT JOINT SESSION

Exchange Club Entertains Rotarians at Luncheon Wednesday

The Northville Rotary club met as guests of the Exchange club Wednesday noon in the Methodist church house, a feature of the meeting being a reply by an Exchange Rotarian to each of the questions. This week's questions have appeared for many issues of the Record on the editorial page.

Following a hearty dinner, the Exchange and their guests joined in a period of song singing and then listened to a pleasing program of popular and semi-classical music played by Scott Montgomery.

Olow G. Owen, vice-president of the Exchange club, presided in the absence of Clifford B. Turnbull, president, who is on a hunting trip.

Following is a list of the questions and answers by those who received the slips. One minute was allowed for each answer which accounts for their brevity.

Q: What are Northville's five most pressing needs?

A: Ray Richardson: Northville's five most pressing needs are combined in the need for a bank.

Q: What is your pet peeve?

A: Dr. P. R. Alexander: I haven't any peevish; I haven't any fault-finding that I can "crab" about. The only possible thing would be that I went on a hunting trip for a good time with some ruffians who insisted on taking along guns and horses.

Q: What signs can be erected on roads leading into town which will tell most concerning the nature of the town?

A: M. J. Murphy: Signs telling about the springs we have here.

Q: How many years before we will be commuting to Detroit by airplane?

A: Dr. A. A. Holcomb: Detroit is too close for airplane travel! Time taken up by landing and waiting for the plane would make it long and I believe that airplane travel between Detroit and Northville is not for many years.

Q: Should there be an insurance for his children?

A: Elmer Smith: Insurance should be taken out for children just as much as we take out insurance for adults. A purely personal opinion.

Q: Are there too many people attending colleges and universities?

A: Ray Van Valkenburg: The question can be answered either yes or no. However, judging by the results obtained with those who are now coming from our colleges and universities we have too many people attending them.

Q: Are there too many social events connected with schools and colleges?

A: E. M. Bogart: The decision should rest with the instructors if the marks are set up to a certain level or if they take a sudden drop downward then the instructors should cut down on the number of parties I would leave the decision with the teachers.

Q: Which part of Northville will grow the fastest in the next ten years?

A: C. A. Dolph: The part of Northville that I think will grow most quickly is Orchard Heights and the area surrounding the fish hatchery.

Q: Who had the finest flowers in Northville last summer?

A: Chas. F. Murphy: We had many fine flower beds in Northville last summer. I would say that the honors for having the finest goes to Mrs. Wm. Dugard of Oakland subdivision.

Q: What is the best kind of vacation?

A: Superintendent T. J. Knapp: The way a person spends his vacation often lets you know the way in which he spends the rest of his time. Popular belief has it that patrolmen go for a walk on their vacations, teachers instruct Sunday school classes and take care of day nurseries. I would say everyone to his own taste.

Q: How can we best aid those families who are in need over the winter?

A: Dr. E. B. Cavell: We can help these families, not by any method of giving but by extending a "helping hand." There are different ways of giving aid to the unemployed through charity organizations but we can best be of assistance by being sympathetic and giving whatever we can.

Q: At what age should a man retire?

A: Carl Ely: I'm quite a young fellow myself so I haven't thought about retiring.

Depositors May Be Called

There is little definite news to report regarding the bank situation in Northville but the Record is glad to say that a plan for a new bank for the community is making some headway.

There is now a movement under way that has in view a possible reorganization of both of the local banks in one new institution. This out in other places, notably Caro and Ypsilanti. The Record understands that it is hoped to call a meeting of depositors in the near future.

There is a definite and growing sentiment that a reorganization which will give Northville a banking institution of real financial stability is a decided possibility.

The whole situation looks the most favorable it has since the closing of the two banks.

KNAPP SPEAKS ON 'WISER SELFISHNESS'

At the Sunday evening service, November 15, at the Presbyterian church, Thad J. Knapp, superintendent of Northville schools, was the speaker.

In explanation of his occupying the pulpit he related wittily that someone had asked him that day, "When were you called to the ministry?" to which he had answered, "I was not called to but by the ministry," referring to the fact that Rev. H. G. Whitfield had invited him.

The speaker took as his subject, "The Wiser Selfishness" and gave a very interesting talk and exposition of the psychology of the mind of the individual arriving at decisions. Human nature is prone to be first essentially selfish, but in time the individual may come to realize that self is not always best served by denying for self. He who does not allow the element of pure selfishness to rule his decisions, but who when such decisions, bring him hardship, sacrifice and acceptance of the existing role, yet, after all, he will so decide, knowing that in so doing he will have peace of mind and satisfaction of conscience. This the speaker characterized as "The Wiser Selfishness."

That the appeal for the wiser selfishness has often been made through speaking plans the benefits accruing to self the speaker said.

The past and very frequently by Jesus Himself, as witness the declaration promises set forth in His sermon on the mountain and in many other instances related to the Book of Books.

The audience present followed to speak very attentively and many declared that the evening service had been one of uplift and profit.

Next Sunday evening, November 22, the speaker will be Dr. T. P. Brennan of the Wayne County Training school.

BANK PLAN HAS APPROVAL OF BUSINESS MEN

Interested in securing every possible angle to the banking situation in Northville, the Record has secured the following opinions from those in close touch with banking authorities.

The plan of action established in this article is not any one person's idea but is rather the result of an investigation by business men and others in Northville interested in the establishment of a bank for the town.

Perhaps the most stunning thing that has happened to Northville in many years was the closing of our banks. It has not only caused great inconvenience but a tremendous business loss, adding to the already depressed condition.

It is natural, when making a deposit of money in a bank away from home to do some trading in the neighborhood of that depository and business done away from home never returns.

Our merchants, farmers and all others need an institution where they can establish credit. They need the backing of a town with all the facilities for business progress. Our people can establish and maintain the necessary institutions to make out that sort of town, reasoning from the fact that other towns just as hard hit as Northville have come through and re-established their business institutions.

The Ypsilanti Savings bank was obliged to close some time ago but it is being out. It has again been demonstrated that no project, no great effort in a good cause ever fails.

It is safe to say that plans here can be worked out which will result in establishing in Northville a sound banking institution, and there are no grounds for considering the details of such plans.

Much study has been given to the plan followed by Ypsilanti. For two reasons first, that the plan is feasible and second that it is a saving of time. The reason is so closely related to the fact that it is not necessary to save

GLOBE CO. PUT ON AUCTION BY RECEIVERS

The dismal sound of the auctioneer's hammer sounded a hollow note yesterday afternoon in the offices of the Globe Furniture company, at one time nationally famous for making school and church furniture.

The Union Guardian Trust company, receivers for the Globe Furniture company held the auction, and although this article was written just previous to the holding of the sale at 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, it is believed that approximately $8,000 worth of machinery and other permanent fixtures would go under the hammer.

An official list of the articles to be sold was not available and it is believed that unless this statement was forthcoming from the Union Guardian Trust company, the creditors of the Globe Furniture would take court action to prevent the auction sale.

Begun as a foundry early in the 60's by Charles G. Harmon, the Globe Furniture company was first organized in 1879 as the Michigan School Furniture company under the management of F. R. Beale with Charles Booth as chief assistant. The concern became the largest manufacturer of school furniture in the world in 1844 it was re-organized under the name of Globe Furniture company and in 1889 it was sold to the American School Furniture company and in 1897 a fire wiped out the whole plant.

The old Globe owners bought back the ruins and rebuilt the foundry and portions of the factory.

The factory passed through the hands of different companies manufacturing different merchandise and in 1926 the new Globe company was organized. C. O. Yerkes acting as manager until 1931, when he disposed of his interests to C. Dolph. The factory continued operations until just a short time ago when the plant was sold to the receivers.

A complete report of the auction will be given in another issue.

HISTORY CONTEST PLANNED BY D. A. R.

The Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter, D. A. R., which last year conducted an essay contest in American history in the Plymouth school, is this year continuing the work there and is in addition sponsoring a similar contest here in the Northville school in the 7th and 11th grades.

The response to the first contest was gratifying and the chapter feels that to some extent they accomplished their aim, to arouse interest in American history. It is hoped that a large number of Northville students will participate in the contest this year.

The subjects chosen are especially timely, as this is the bicentennial of Washington's birth. The three subjects for both grades are "Washington, the Statesman," "Washington, an War" and "Washington at Home."

The conditions of the contest are as follows:

1. Any student in either the 7th or 11th grade in American history classes, who is doing B work at the end of the first semester and maintaining that grade through the second semester is eligible.

2. Those eligible are to do original research work on any of the subject's presented.

3. The essays in the 7th grade are to be from 500 to 1000 words and in the 11th grade, from 1,000 to 2,000 words and both must be submitted by May 1.

4. The essays are to be judged for historical material, originality, composition and neatness; historical material scoring 50 per cent, originality 25 per cent and composition and neatness 25 per cent.

5. The contest is to end May 15 but an acceptable and completed bibliography must be in by April 1, and complete outline for the essays are to be submitted by May 1.

6. Failure to comply with these two requirements will automatically disqualify contestants.

7. The three judges are not to be D. A. R. members nor teachers.

8. The prizes for the contest are as follows: In the 11th grade, first $5.00, second $3.00 in the 7th grade, first $3.00, second $2.00.

9. The essays are to be identified by numbers not names and all papers must be copied exactly and contestants are responsible for errors in typing.

GIRL HERE GROWS COTTON BLOSSOMS

Miss Estha Alger, 156 Griswold road, following three years of perseverance, has at last succeeded in raising cotton in the garden behind her house.

The cotton blossom, apple proof that the cotton was raised first here in Northville, rests in a vase on the counter of the Record office and many people coming in who have ever spent any time in the south eye it in a ruminant manner as though it brought a host of memories to mind.

The seed for the cotton was planted, said Miss Alger, around the middle of last April and the blossoms burst into bloom on approximately the first of November.

DEBATERS DISCUSS LEAGUE OF NATIONS

The United States SHOULD enter the League of Nations, that is, this decision reached by a debate at the Presbyterian church last Thursday evening carries as much weight.

In this verbal tilt conducted as a feature of a very enjoyable evening of "eats, movies and talk," some very interesting points regarding the League of Nations were brought out with particular stress as to whether or not the United States should become a member of this international body. With Wellington Roberts and Dr. J. H. Todd on the affirmative side of the fence and Postmaster Tom Carrington and Ray Van Valkenburg carrying the negative viewpoint, the debate kept the audience on its ear for the better part of the evening.

The decision of the three judges, Richard Chase, Dr. W. Johnston and Will Yerkes, was based almost completely on Mr. Roberts' rebuttal to the rebuttal. Tom Carrington, who was acting as chairman, "rebutted" for the negative end of the scale, regarding his former assertion that the decision of Congress is the great cause of success.

The success of an plan depends upon the people. This is especially true of the stockholders and depositors of the two old banks. Mr. Ypsilanti it was thought to use all or the best assets of the old banks in the new after a careful examination by a committee working with the Banking Department of the State to determine what assets should not be used in the new institution.

The assets not used in the new institution will be left out, not because they are uncollectible or bad, but because they are slow under the depressed conditions. Such slow properties or assets (mortgages, notes and real estate) were turned over to a Trust Fund to be liquidated as rapidly as possible and the proceeds used to pay depositors.

The depositors consented to have seventy-five per cent of their accounts credited to them in the new institution and twenty-five per cent left on the books of the old bank to be paid from the slow assets as they are collected.

It is the law in Michigan that stockholders in banks are liable for the face of their stock. This liability was used up to $75,000.00 and that which has either been paid up by the stockholders or their stock "pooled" with a committee to be sold, and at last reports nearly all of this money has been used in this method. This sum is then used in the financial structure of the new institution.

In addition to this depositors have entered into an agreement not to draw all of their money at one time but have surrendered their right and agreed to draw only a certain percentage each year over a 5-year period except in urgent cases where it may be necessary that a larger percentage be granted as in the case of sickness or other unforeseen conditions making more money necessary.

All new deposits are payable on demand as in the regular course of banking.

This, I think, gives a general idea of the possibilities for Northville. Of course there are some details which have to be worked out as progress is made.

The Ypsilanti plan has the approval of the Banking Department at Lansing and also the attorney general, both of whom have signified a willingness to do all in their power to forward the success of such a movement here if it is desired.

COUNCIL APPOINTS PLYMOUTH MAN AS INVESTIGATOR

At the meeting of the village council Monday it was decided to appoint F. P. Farrell, civil engineer of Plymouth, as a one-man committee to investigate the feasibility of increasing and safeguarding the water supply at Hill Springs. Bills presented to the village for the past two weeks were read and approved and Raymond Kuleva was appointed a "legal" poleman by the council. No other business was taken up by the council.

GYM WORK NOT WASTE OF TIME, SAYS F. T. A.

The December meeting of the P. T. A. will take the form of a demonstration or social class work in physical education as each day by day in our school's Mrs. Wright and Mr. Ruggles will have charge of the girls' and boys' division. This demonstration was prepared to refute the argument so often heard even in this enlightened day, that gymnasium work is merely a waste of time and money. This will be an evening affair in order that the parents may attend and it is hoped a large number will be present, each parent to support their boy and girl as well as their mind.

Wm. H. Maybury Levees Estate of Over $50,000 to His Sister, Mrs. Mary Maybury Berkery

His sister, Mrs. Mary Maybury Berkery, 65 years old, of 635 W. Ferry Ave., Detroit, is sole beneficiary in the will of Wm. H. Maybury. It was revealed Tuesday with the filing of a petition to probate a hearing on the petition was set for December 16 before Probate Judge Edward Command, Detroit.

Mr. Maybury, humanitarian and founder of the Maybury sanatorium for treatment of tuberculosis, died here November 4 of the disease he had fought for decades.

His estate was listed as $50,000 and upwards in real estate and $3,000 in personal property. According to the provisions of the will upon Mrs. Berkery's death the estate will be divided equally in two portions.

One share will be held in trust for Mrs. Berkery's daughter, Winifred, the will stipulates, and upon her death go to the Catholic Church Extension society.

The second portion was bequeathed to St. Mary's college and Academy at Monroe to be used for the development of Marygrove college in Detroit.

According to the stipulations of the will, the latter bequest will be in the nature of a memorial to the late Elizabeth Maybury, who became Sister Imelda. She also was a sister of Mr. Maybury.

A GOOD WAY TO LEARN

Presbyterian men were debating the League of Nations one night last week. We had planned to go but got held up. These discussions are a good thing. Men can disagree better than women, we think, and a lot of good points are brought out in these debates. There are a lot of topics that could be given a good airing.

SCOTCH BARBERS.

There has been some talk in a neighboring paper about our "Scotch" barbers here in Northville. All we have to say is that our barbers are not "Scotch" enough. We have just had a haircut and it cost us a measly 25 cents. That is not enough for the kind of a haircut that we expect from a barber. We felt guilty to take a quarter from a half dollar we gave the barber but as we have a little Scotch in us—on our mother's side—we took the change and paid at the going rate. Everyone is entitled to a profit and there is no profit in twenty-five cent haircuts—when you think of all the non-productive time the barbers have.

A TURN FOR THE BETTER.

If the automobile industry is a barometer of business—and without question it is—the "crisis is over" and conditions are due for an upturn. The automobile leaders feel that the change for better business is here and that not only the automobile business but business in general is due to go ahead. Here are some of the signs of the times.

Buick announced a new car last week and Ford is expected to do the same in the near future. Other concerns will bring out new models at the New York show in January. This means that at least 200,000 cars will have to be ready just as sample cars to show people on the floors of the dealers. It means that all these companies with new models will go into production. Before, the companies have announced their models from time to time. This year we shall get the announcements within two months. This means that the automobile concerns are all going into high gear at about the same time.

With the auto concerns employing thousands and thousands of men, business conditions are bound to get better. We have been a long while getting to the "corner" but we seem to be there at last.

RIGHT IN THE ONE PARTICULAR.

As is usually the case when a report from a metropolitan newspaper comes out to such a town as Northville to get a special item—getting the "meat" in a couple of hours—there are a number of serious errors in their stories. This was so in the Detroit News article of the social ed. college and about the closing of the high school parties.

However, these feature writers do say some true things. For example, Garner Wolfe, who gave Northville some publicity in the Detroit News, had on the head when she saw a hearse parked up at Northville's younger generation has been red-dirted at the greatest supporters of its behavior are the parents.

"Right!" Most of the young people of Northville have a good time when they stay up until midnight and after. Most of the village doctors agree that this is too late for growing children. Many mothers will say it is too late. But the mothers who settle the matter, do so by a vote of 12 to 2. Not much argument there. The children were in their parents' approval. Miss Wolfe is right, whether the children or their mothers are or not.

NORTHVILLE'S RETAIL SECTION.

One of the problems of Northville in the months and years ahead is to brighten, enlarge and make more progressive our retail section. There has been a great advance in the past few years, with the addition of new fronts, building of new buildings and the coming of new business people. But we have much to do yet.

We talked the other day to a woman who has come out here from Detroit. We asked her how she liked Northville. "Oh, it's fine," she replied. "But I would like it better if your retail stores had more variety and if the merchants would get the things I want."

In talking to many people, we find that the average person feels his obligation to the home community and is usually inclined to give the home store the first chance. But in this new day of rapid transportation and keen competition, some of the old loyalties—to trade at home just because it is home—have gone and the buyer insists on buying where he can get the most for his money. Northville will have to meet this new day with progressive and outstanding merchandising.

Northville has a splendid trading area and we are convinced that if we all pull together for a bigger and better retail section it can be accomplished in the not-distant future. Many of our business people are doing their part and if all can get in line we shall brighten up Main street so the old-timers won't know it.

THE REVOLT IN THE EIGHTH DISTRICT.

A special writer for the Detroit News, who interviewed hundreds of people in the eighth congressional district, which recently elected a Democrat congressman in a rock-ribbed Republican district, confirms the opinion given in this column last week that the election simply means a revolt against present conditions.

The correspondent says that although Michael J. Hall, the winner against Boss O. Eldred, was wet, the wet and dry issue had little to do with the result of the election. Men who had never before voted a Democratic ticket did so because they felt that "things couldn't be any worse." (Of course they could be.) Farmers who can't pay their taxes turned in revolt against the Republicans because they blame them for the farmer's troubles—which are very real. Hundreds of voters in Ionia, Montcalm, Clinton, Saginaw and Genesee counties felt, according to the News writer, that their political leaders have deceived them, have caused their mounting taxes and have done nothing to help bring better prices. That's why they turned against the Republican ticket. They wanted to strike out at something they blamed for their troubles and the thing to hit was the party in power. So the Republicans took the worst beating they have in decades in the Eighth district.

What the further outcome of this spirit of political revolt will be, remains to be seen. The voters have set out to "clean house" and they may keep on ousting everyone that has anything to do with the present order. If the revolt brings lower taxes and cleans out some of the grafters on the body politic, it will be a good thing.

In the meantime, the wet and dry question is not going to settle elections as much as the bread and butter issue will.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION.

One would think to lead the crowd, as they do in the congressional election that the voters are going to the Republican candidate. It will not do any good to further "waste the drug" as you might just as well see it take root in the soil and grow to a full size.

WHY THEY FAIL

(Tuscola County Advertiser)

One of the leading bankers of the Northwest attributes many of the failures in his section to a lack of experience in the handling of capital. A check-up of these who had been unsuccessful as farmers in the agricultural community shows the following: Two such men, a paper-maker and a sugar grower, were not successful because they were not experienced in the handling of capital.

MAKING THE GRADE

(Ionia Co News)

No less an authority than Dr. Shuflex W. Wynne, Health Commissioner of New York City, in his outline of requirements for school children says "Keeping your youngsters in health is not an arduous proposition, but it requires a little care on your part. He should have a filling luncheon such as soup or salad, sandwiches, macaroni and cheese, or some other easily prepared dish, and with whatever he eats he should always have a glass of milk. When he returns home from school in the afternoon, he should have a bite, such as a sandwich and a glass of milk, as well as an apple or some other fruit. For his evening meal he should be able to eat the same dishes as the rest of the family, plus a glass of milk. His diet as well as ours should include plenty of fresh vegetables, particularly of the leafy variety; such as cabbage, lettuce, kale and spinach. Tomatoes, too, are important.

HELLO NEIGHBOR

(Burt County Herald, Tekamah, Nebraska)

You never realize how much that simple, staunch greeting you hear so often means unless you go away and hear it not at all—"Hello Neighbor" you hear it on your way to work. It starts the day off right, gives you confidence, sends you forth with added zest, with fresh courage and a determination to remain worthy.

"Hello, Neighbor"—you hear it when you go to lunch. Somehow it makes the food taste better, makes you forget your worries makes you spend with a glow of inward satisfaction.

"Hello, Neighbor"—you're greeted as you journey homeward. And all the rancor leaves you, you catch that sense of well-being, your troubles and perplexities leave you, life seems truly sweet.

This Week

By R. H. White

There are two contrasting books I wish to discuss this week that have come to my desk for review, one being "A History of Peace" by A. C. F. Beales and the other "A Buried Treasure" by Elizabeth Madox Roberts. In the "History of Peace," the author divides the book into three periods: first before 1815 second between 1815 and 1867, and the third from 1867 to 1914. In this book the author makes peace as interesting as any written of war. The writer is not an especially brilliant weaver of facts but his style is soberly scholarly, and his clarity is evident as you peruse the pages. One is impressed with the fact that the peace movement of the nineteenth century was a far more significant growth than is generally realized and that despite the setbacks the peace movement has occurred from time to time. It has exercised a growing influence on the thought and action of mankind and civilizations.

Now if you care for mystic and romance and a story written in a poetical fantasy of style then you should read Mrs. Roberts' book "A Buried Treasure" an evocative evocative story of the sea. As you will find suspense and a narrative which drifts from reality to misty dream and back again to reality. It is a story of the East Indies where an old treasure map and some buried treasure under an old lamp. And in this writer's capable hands there is created a legend, a character, and a rural myth that represents the Kantaky pioneer who has come back to haunt the chosen fields and who plays the part of a guardian spirit. The fact that the literary Guild has chosen this book as one of their monthly selections is in itself a sufficient recommendation.

The Orange and Black

Edited by Northville High School

School Board Write Editorials

A new feature in the Orange and Black is an editorial written by the various members of the Board of Education. We will continue this series of editorials until each member of the Board has contributed an article. We hope you will enjoy this variation.

Our first article is written by Dr. Cavell, President of the Board of Education. It is as follows:

1. "All meetings of the Board of Education are public. We cordially invite any taxpayer or parent to attend."

2. "Our aim is to cut the cost of operating without lowering the standard."

"We have installed a new book-keeping system which gives an itemized account of all money spent. When, where and what for under proper headings, all in one large ledger. Any item that you might wish to look up is easily accessible and we invite you to investigate at any time."

"All members of the Board give their time and services without pay."

"Visit the different rooms. It will please the students to have you show your interest."

"Visit the office. It will please the Board of Education and the Superintendent."

SENIORS HOLD FIRST BAKE SALE

The senior class held a bake sale Saturday, November 13, at the Palace meat market. A good supply of baked goods were brought in and sold.

The two senior girls who sold their goods were Frances Bacon and Isadore Keeney. Over twelve dollars were cleared on this sale.

The seniors wish to thank all those who cooperated in any way in the bringing in or the buying.

The sponsors who helped plan this sale were Mrs. Chapman and Mr. Amerman.

PROGRAM IN LATIN CLASS PROVES VERY INTERESTING

A program was given in Latin II class Wednesday afternoon. Eleanor Grosvenor and Jane Lester had charge of it.

The first event was pencil golf, a game that is to be played with paper and pencil. Fifteen English words have fifteen blank spaces beside them that are to be filled in with Latin words. Par was 59.

A parody was read by Bob Power on Mark Anthony's Death of Julius Caesar.

"COME, ALL YE HUNGRY"

"Too many cooks spoil the broth," I should say not and you'd agree with me, too, if you had partaken of the "scrumptious" lunch that we did last Thursday. There were 43 of us and if you don't believe me, ask the other 42. Twenty-two of them were teachers, and ought to know what they were talking about. Ummmm Macaroni and cheese, head lettuce (with 1000 is dressing) salad, fruit, jello (we all like that) bread and butter, and tea, coffee, milk or what have you?

Oh, yes, and speaking of service: Who would dream that Frances Alexander, Alice Masters and Mabel Douglas were born waitresses? No hot soup or coffee spilling either. This is most assuredly the place for the nervous business man to eat. He need never worry about being drenched at the least opportune moment. You see, the entire eighth grade girls' cooking class prepares the meals and groups of three take their turns at serving, but I think they can all manage to keep your lunch right side up.

Frankly, now, I'll tell you just what this "Thursday noon lunch" business is for. The money obtained is put into a fund from which the less fortunate pupils may borrow occasionally when in need of supplies. Don't you think Mrs. Zimmerman and her eighth grade deserve high praise for their work? We do, so let's show them we do, by patronizing their lunch room on Thursdays. Students! If only costs 25 cents, a quarter of a dollar and where else can you get such meals as these for that price?

We're not asking for patrons, but we just want you to know that we're going to make this project successful and a benefit to all.

TRAVEL CLUB

A meeting of the Travel club was called to order Wednesday afternoon, November 11 at 3:15 o'clock by the club president, Miriam Dundas.

Mrs. Chapman, the sponsor of the club, served cookies and apples.

The committee for the forming of the constitution, reported that it was completed. Geraldine Ferguson read the constitution to the members.

The committee for the new name of the club said that it would be selected by the next meeting.

A vote was called to see if the club would have pins. The answer was in the affirmative.

Meetings of the club will be twice a month. One meeting after school and the other in the evening.

It was decided that each person should pay a small fee to be used for entertainment. Then the meeting adjourned.

LET'S GET BEHIND OUR BASKET BALL TEAM

At the current writing little or nothing is known about what kind of a basket ball team we will have this year. The outcome depends entirely upon the students. There will be some familiar faces on the floor this year but there will be some too that are unfamiliar.

The boys who will play will be out there in body and spirit but they must have the entire student body behind them if they are to be successful.

Some of the familiar faces we will see are: Chas. Meininger, Forest Lemmon, Chas. Dusenbury, Howard Beech, Wendell Dickinson and others whom this writer does not know.

Remember, the team is out fighting for you. Will you be there to cheer them on?

CANDY SALES, MAGAZINE SUBSCRIPTIONS HELP SENIORS

The seniors are now holding two campaigns in which their wish success. They were both started on the Wednesday of November 11th. The first candy sale was in progress on that date after school. Shirley Preston, in charge of the selling, had a very good business by the number of customers crowding the hall.

If the sale of candy continues as it did the first day we know the seniors will go to Washington. So, students of Northville high, buy your candy from the seniors.

Another magazine campaign has started. The magazines which are for sale are: Home Journal, Saturday Evening Post and Country Gentleman. The class is divided into two sides and each was given a pin, red or green. Frances Bacon is the great emcee. Charles Meininger and Catherine Stalter are the two helpers. Catherine or Charles is to win a pound box of candy when the contest is over. The contest is to last six days and then the losing side has to give the winning side a big "pow wow."

Magazines make lovely Christmas presents. So help the seniors toward their trip to Washington.

SENIOR DANCE

The seniors held the second dance of a series they intend to give Friday, November 13, 1931 in the gymnasium of Northville high school.

The dance committee of the senior class appointed Thelma Nivder and Frances Bacon to sell tickets. Wendell Dickinson and Ducaan Fry had charge of the checkroom. Howard Beach sold candy in the upper hall opposite the checkroom. Music was furnished by the Blue Serenaders.

The decorations were flags and bunting in red, white and blue in remembrance of Armistice Day. A happy time was had by all. Let's hope so anyway.

JUNIOR HIGH GIVES ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

For the past three weeks junior assembly programs have been given by members of the Junior high school. On the first program Eugene Carman played an accordion solo. He was followed by Charles Strautz who played a violin solo. Next came a song by five girls. Jane Grosvenor, Flora Mae Conklin, Betty Fry, Helen Johnson and Norene Kregor. Frances German delighted the assembly by reciting a group of Longfellow's poems.

The second program consisted of piano and violin solos, recitations and songs. Kathleen Runk and Ralph Bogart offered piano solos. Eugene Carman played a violin solo. A recitation was given by Dorothy Vroman and last of all came a group of old songs led by Mr. Lee.

The third program offers something new and interesting. Do you know that there is a genius in our midst? There is, and he is a member of the junior high school. Roland Morris is the name (don't you like he way he blushes?) Roland performed very interesting experiments with chemicals and slight-of-hand tricks. He was assisted by Roger Christensen. Next we find Robert Lyke tied in a fifty foot rope, but presto! He untied himself in three seconds, believe it or not! Jack Harper played a solo on the harmonica. Then the whole assembly broke into a chorus of yells led by Jack Duguid, who is the yell leader for the junior high.

Northville teachers are making little creamery men and women out of their pupils. Mrs. Congo's third grade made butter last week. It was served on crackers.

The girls in the Junior Camp Fire group are making dresses, with the help of Mrs. Amrhein for the poor. A very clever globe of the world has been made in Miss McDonald's room. Katherine Pino mixed plaster and water color paints and it turned out to be a very successful globe.

The following people will take part in a play. The play was taken from a story and written by the pupils. The director is Miss Rencke. Janet Stewart, Clara Christensen, Tom Martno, Louise Alexander and Billy Schuitz.

In the 8A civics class a play was given, called: "Heroes and Heroines." Another was given, called: "The Naturalization of Mr. Johnson."

SOCIETY

Marian Dundas spent the weekend with Dorothy Shoeridge. Florence McGee had a party last Friday evening. The evening was spent playing Buick and dancing. Later refreshments were served. Mary Bennett spent Friday evening with Jewel Clark.

David Mattin of the ninth grade is in the University hospital at Ann Arbor with appendicitis. He is improving.

Mary Louise Boyden entertained a group of girls at her home last Saturday evening. It was very enjoyable for everyone there.

Sally Richardson and Shirley Preston liked over to Plymouth on Saturday afternoon.

The Jug club will meet this week at the home of Bernice Clark. Merle Frazer has been confined to his home for the past few days with an attack of appendicitis.

GRADE NOTES

The first and second graders are making some very interesting posters all about Indians, wigwags, canoes and rabbits. Indian costumes made of gummy sacks with hand paintings on them will be made and worn by these pupils. Mrs. Reng is planning on teaching them an Indian dance.

Miss Wilson's second graders have a very interesting club called "The Activity club." Philip Balowin was in charge of the club this week. Their Thanksgiving posters will soon be finished.

Many of us are well acquainted with this famous character from our Modern History. For those who have not had an opportunity to hear about her I will give a short sketch of her life as this is the month in which she was born. She was the wife of Louis XVI of France and the youngest daughter of Francis I, emperor of Germany.

THE LIFE OF MARIE ANTOINETTE

She was born at Vienna in 1755. Soon after the ascension of Louis XVI she was circulated by her enemies, accusing her of constant intrigues, not one of which has ever been proved. From the first hour of the revolution she was an object of fanatical hatred to the mob of Paris. At last she resolved on flight. Her husband long refused to abandon his country, and she would not go without him. A dim sense of kindly duty and honor was not wanting in Louis but after the mob stopped his coach in 1791 and would not let him go to St. Cloud, he consented. The flight took place on the night of June 20. Unfortunately the royal fugitives were recognized and captured at Varennes. From this time her attitude became heroic, but the French people could not rid themselves of the suspicion that she was secretly plotting with enemies for the invasion of the country. On August 1793, she was removed to the conciergerie by order of the convention, condemned by the revolutionary tribunal on October 16 and guillotined the next day.

From this brief sketch of Marie Antoinette's life we are better able to recognize her and to see what mere suspicion without proof really leads to.

These girls were voted upon for membership. Notch Blake, Thyza Lester, Juanita Edington, Evelyn Amber and Kathleen Runk. Several of the old members have agreed to coach the new members in their Camp Fire duties. On November 27 these new members and several others who have belonged before and have not been initiated, will be initiated.

Each school has four preliminary debates (two affirmative and two negative) and if three out of four debates are won the team enters the elimination series where they stay until they are defeated.

CHRISTMAS SEALS

Facing the threat of greatly increased tuberculosis arising from the hardships of the past two years the twenty-fifth annual sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals will begin on Thanksgiving Day November 26. At that time sixty-six million seals will be released throughout the state 30,000,000 of them going to Wayne county residents. With the state and county sanatoriums filled and long waiting lists at most of them the threatened increase in tuberculosis must be met at once by greater preventive work, according to the Michigan Tuberculosis Association. Christmas seals are the only support for anti-tuberculosis organizations in Michigan.

Refreshments and a social time concluded the evening.

Two-Year-Old Jean Ann Wright

Celebrates Birthday. Little Jean Ann Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Wright on the Base Line road, celebrated her second birthday gaily with five young friends who came to have a happy time together. Games appropriate to their tender years were played and gaily enjoyed by Jean Ann's mother, who is a teacher in the public schools. A birthday cake with two lighted candles decorating it was served before the little ones went home.

Summer Fusion Married

In Lansing Sunday. The marriage of Miss Grace Bassler of Lansing and Summer Fusion of this place occurred in Lansing on Sunday, November 15. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Callahan, the pastor of the Baptist church of which Mrs. Fusion was a member. The bride has been a resident of Lansing for many years and has many friends there. Mr. Fusion is associated with Lee Shiple as a barber and by his genial good nature has made many friends in Northville. He extends his congratulations and best wishes. Mr. Fusion hopes soon to bring his bride to this village and make the new home here.

Jonesville Friends Make Visit

To Northville. Last Friday five Jonesville friends were guests of Mrs. Richard T. Baldwin at her home on "South Wing" street. With due consideration these women brought baskets generously packed with good things to eat. The Baldwin family was fed on the rat of the land and the cap-board was left much better supplied than when these guests arrived. The afternoon was very pleasantly passed by visiting and by taking a tour around the village and its surroundings. "Showing off" beautiful Northville to these friends of former days. The guests were Mrs. Harry Godfrey, Mrs. Andrew Mack, Mrs. Frank Howland, Mrs. C. C. Rodman and Mrs. Lawrence Towce.

Peter Perkins Greets

Miss Schuman-Heinek. When Madame Schuman-Heinek stepped off the train at the Michigan Central station in Detroit last Sunday she was greeted by five bugle corps who played as she made her way to her car. Among the Northville drum sergeants was a Northville man, Peter L. Perkins, drum sergeant of the 23rd Engineers Drum and Bugle corps. As she walked along, this great singer, beloved by everyone, stopped and greeted graciously each drum major and those who stood near said that she showed her emotion by tears in her eyes. Mrs. Perkins and daughter, Mixie, and Miss Mariar Cousins, accompanied Mr. Perkins to witness this ceremony.

Engagement of Miss Donna Bassett

To Mr. Wallace Basset. The home of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Basset of Novi was the scene of a very attractive dinner party on Saturday evening, November 14 at which the engagement of their daughter, Donna, to Chester Wallace of Eaton Rapids was announced.

The table was laid for sixteen with pink roses, white baby mums and delft blue tapers.

The guests included Misses Marcia Ward, Ruth Johnson, Lucille Ketcham, Dorothy Repkapf, Ruth Lang and Rogna Anderson, Messames Wade McDonald and Christoperson all of Detroit and members of the Visiting Housekeepers association of which Miss Bassett is also a member and Mrs. Grace Case and Master Billy McDonald, also of Detroit.

Methodist Young People

Have Pleasant Evening. Over 30 young people of the Methodist church had a number of their pleasant gatherings at the church Monday evening. A co-operative supper at which Miss Jane Lawrence, Miss Gladys Eckburg, Miss Frances Bacon and Miss Thelma Ninder were "chefs" of the Irish stew to which the hearty young appetites did ample justice.

Following the supper came a study period of one-half hour when Miss Ruth-Mary Baldwin led a devotional service in which the theme was Thanksgiving.

Appropriate songs were sung. Miss Bernice Clark gave an interesting outline of the work of Miss Kuan, the leading woman educator of China.

At the business meeting plans were made and it was decided that the boys would be the cooks at the next supper. Games in charge of Herbert Berendt concluded the very pleasant affair and the young folks adjourned for home at 8:15. Rev. and Mrs. Miner, who were the "silent partners" in the management of this social evening express themselves as very much gratified with the fine manner in which the young people are developing leadership.

MOTION PICTURE PROGRAMS

(CAUGHT PLASTERED)

It's a Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey comedy, this Radio Pictures' "Caught Plastered," which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre Sunday, November 22.

It is a "hit" said those who have seen this "laughable" picture, but it is funny in an altogether refreshing way.

It combines new laughs and dramatic intensity in certain scenes, and extremes are little gaglets, gags, and neat scenes.

There is even some slapstick and plenty of giddy patter.

Opposite Wheeler is Dorothy Lee, a combination of a "bit" called the "Romance and Juliet of the Comedy World." Wheeler's whimsical love-making and Dorothy's charm are very much in evidence all through the picture.

Action plunges into an absorbing story, strange as that may seem in connection with comedy.

Tommy Tanner (Wheeler) and Robert Huggins (Woolsey) enter a midwestern town on their backs. They meet Ms. Talley (Lucy Beaumont), who is about to lose her drug store because of the machinations of a villain, (Jason Roberts).

They take over the store to save her from the poorhouse, and are about ready to play the "heavy" when he speaks their "soda" with humor and says the words "When things are darkest, Dorothy, I feel I'm your man."

William Steter, who was MacLean's director when MacLean was himself a comedy star and leading man held the megaphone.

"SOB SISTER"

Three people who played prominent parts in making the recent Fox production, "Bad Girl," the phenomenal success it has had, contributed their talents to another dramatic photoplay, "Sob Sister," and judging from advance reports on the picture, which incidentally will be shown Wednesday, November 25, at the Penniman Allen theatre, they have all repeated, if not exceeded their work in the previous film.

They are James Dunn, Minna Gombell and Edwin Burns. James Dunn, who went to Hollywood an unknown, and became an overnight sensation with his performance in "Eed Gill" plays the part of Eddie in "Sob Sister."

West Point Park

The young people of West Point Park church attended the Young People's Christmas Eve service Sunday evening at the First Street Presbyterian church and were pleased to hear a sermon from one of the leasers of the St. College boys came to be planned for the coming year.

The high school students who just had their test in history, William Owen, the youngest one in the class, recited the richest part.

Mr. and Mrs. James Eastman attended the funeral of a cousin in Grand Lodge Sunday.

Mrs. Berchen was a welcome visitor with her daughter, Mrs. Stogerson in Northville.

Mrs. Robert Rivers and daughter, Lucile, accompanied Mrs. Kovac and daughter, Elizabeth, Mrs. O'Brien and daughter, Virginia, to the home of Mrs. Rivers, who has been a patient at the Ann Arbor hospital Saturday.

The P. O. Section's cup was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Eastman and had a polo dinner Thursday.

Mrs. William Thornton and Mrs. James McFarland spent Wednesday with friends in Rosedale Park.

Robert Turner, formerly a school boy and resident of this district, surprised his friends here when he heard of his wedding to Miss Helen Banks. The wedding took place in Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Benton of Northville spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bradley.

Miss Betty Guillen, one of the members of the Young People's class here, returned from Canada where she has been on account of ill health.

Miss Ernestine Wolfe was a visitor at the home of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Baughman, Saturday and Sunday.

Northville Mich.

the leading male role, that of an ace reporter for a large conservative metropolitan newspaper, opposite Linda Watkins, who makes her screen debut in the title role.

Myra Gombell, who played Edna, the girl friend, is again cast in a sophisticated wise-cracking role and adds much of the comedy relief to the tense dramatic pitch of the picture.

Edwin Burns who wrote the dialogue for "Bad Girl" and who received the praise of the country's leading critics and a new Fox contract as a reward for his brilliant work performed the same task on "Sob Sister."

Alfred Sanfill, whose last Fox production, "Daddy Long Legs," received a record-breaking run, directed the picture which is based on the best selling novel of the same name by Mildred Gilman.

Other important players are Molly O'Day, Howard Phillips, Sarah Padden, Harry Beresford, Eddie Dillon, and Neal Burns.

"LASCA OF THE RIO GRANDE"

How would you like to see a real motion picture—one that moves with all of the romance and action of the old-quest shooting, Spanish-flavored Boyer days?

Well, we have it for you. It is Universal's grand eye-liner "Lasca of the Rio Grande," and we have the best cast of favorites in it for you in the bargain.

Remember Leo Carrillo of "Master Antonio," "Lombardi Ltd.," and "Red Blood"? You should see him in the "politely murderous" half-breed battle owner with an eye for an eye, in this one! And Dorothy Burgess, the seductive fiery little temptress who played the menace to Warner Baxter in "In Old Arizona." She will give you the season's chills—est thrill as the dance-hall girl Lasca. She's better than she was in "Arizona."

John Mack Brown, erstwhile All-American football star and handsome hero of our dancing days, "Billy the Kid" and "Cigarette" plays a big, strapping Texas Ranger in "Lasca of the Rio Grande." Slim Summerville, the lanky comedian, and the southerly Frank Campeau engaged in a laugh-out that you will remember for a long time.

The story, based upon the romantic Frank D'Espres poem, "Lasca," retains all of the romance, action and color of the poetic creation and Edward Lee, under the director's eye, has done an all-around excellent job of the picture.

"Lasca of the Rio Grande" will be shown at the Penniman Allen theatre Sunday, November 28.

Mrs. William Thornton accompanied by Mrs. James McFarland, visited "Winged" visitors with friends at Rosedale Park.

Neighbors and friends helped to assist in the eleven-odd arrangements of J. M. and his children, at the home of Mrs. S. J. Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Benton of Northville spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bradley.

Miss Josephine Miburn of Rosedale was a Sunday visitor with Ruth Taylor.

Sunday school scholars were in their places Sunday morning, a program having received testimonials for regular attendance.

Presbyterian Harvest Dinner The community hall of West Point Park Presbyterian church was the scene of a delightful party for members and friends of the congregation on last Friday evening, November 13 at seven o'clock. The entertainment took the form of a Harvest Dinner followed by a bazaar.

The decoration of the dining hall was tastefully carried out in rich colors. Chrysanthemums and colored candles gave a festive air to the tables. Mrs. Marjorie Pierson was chairman of the decoration committee and was ably assisted by the young ladies and young men.

During the dinner music was furnished by radio interspersed with violin selections played by Harold Guillen. Miss Ernestine Wolfe was guest hostess. Mrs. Robert Frederick presided over the kitchen.

As soon as dinner was over those in former costume formed a column for the Grand March Prizes were awarded to Miss Mabel Hubbard from Fort St. Presbyterian church for the prettiest maid, (to Bob Hunter) of West Point Park for the best farmer boy and to Mr. and Mrs. Ed Tamm and their daughters, Leona and Edna May, from Farmington for the most realistic farmer family. The judges were Dr. and Mrs. Alex Mackay from Fort Street church who impersonated the "village physician and his wife," Earl Wolfe who impersonated "the village schoolmaster," Mrs. Earl Wolfe who impersonated "the village singer" and Mr. and Mrs. Ed H. Pence who substituted for "the village preacher and his wife."

The music for the dancing was furnished by members of the Rainier-Dodge orchestra from radio station WJXL in Royal Oak. Miss Fern Hill was chairman of the ticket committee. The proceeds which amounted to a creditable sum, were turned over to the treasurer of the church.

The young people wish to express their gratitude to the friends who made donations of supplies and who assisted so kindly to make the event such a success.

SCHOOL DAYS

By DWIG

Every Monday Morning

By "AD" SCHWENGER

This column will be dedicated to His Majesty—King Turkey.

Some of you amateur carvers will earn your dinners when the woman of the house calls upon you to do your duty for your God, Country and 19 or 20 hungry guests. As usual, the elusive bird will probably leap from your slight grasp and land in your mother-in-law's lap. But then you must expect that on Thanksgiving Day.

Sitting here and working on that old theory, anticipation is greater than realization. I can just see a groaning table sagging under an ambrosia of good things.

Starting out with an elaborate fruit cocktail filled with slices of grapefruit, maraschino cherries, oranges, apples and bananas, I'd switch to launching a few of the assorted walnuts, almonds, hickory nuts and other varieties in that little paper dish before my plates.

Possibly I'll indulge in a conchoma. You know, oyster chowder, mock turtle, ox-tail or perhaps venicelli. Not too much, understand, not too highly seasoned because it's filling and I'll want to conserve space.

An appetizer of sturgeon roe, or caviar is hardly indicated because my appetite is large enough and a stomach would be superfluous. I might tear a herring or two but I'm not counting on it.

And how for the "big shot" bring him on. Bring him on covered with thick, cooling gravy and have him browned to a delicate fall color. Carry in a heaping platter of caudied sweet potatoes, swimming in sticky molasses and herald the approach of a platter of creamy mashed potatoes, spotted with a pool of rich, yellow butter. Cranberries, currant jelly, all home-made of course, all the trimmings to be partaken of sparingly in order to make room for the white meat on the turkey and a slice of the thigh—a refill order for each portion for as long as it lasts.

The B. Y. P. U. meeting was led by the cabinet last Sunday evening. Necessary demanded an impromptu service be given on account of a misunderstanding of commissions Donald Munro, the president, presided.

The Sunday evening service will be a "union service" with Walled Lake held there. The Nov-Walled Lake orchestra will be present with their leader, Rev. MacRae. A short talk will be given. A cordial welcome is extended to all.

Lemon pie—with a heavy layer of genuine, honest-to-goodness egg trusting on top; an inch and a half of lemon flavored filling and a flaky, crisp crust—the entirety to be mounted with a ball of rich, ice cream.

And if I eat all of that I'll either be satisfied or a permanent dyspeptic.

Well, the bubble broke and the charm is dissolved. The vision has faded away but it will arise with new life and joy around two o'clock next Thursday afternoon.

This is National Book Week and it behooves all of us to go to the library, pick out one good book, take it home and seated in the most comfortable chair in the house, read it from cover to cover.

There is more personal satisfaction and real contentment to be found in a good book than can be had anywhere else.

And if anyone doesn't think that the Michigan State game last Saturday was considerably most, refer them to me. I'll tell them.

At the end of the first quarter, we were wet—2nd quarter, sopping wet—3rd quarter, wet-clear through—and at the end of the game we were going down for the third time.

It didn't start to rain until the minutes before the kick-off and after that the heavens opened up and poured forth buckets of water down the necks of 50,000 people, very few of whom got up to leave before the end of the game.

Tomorrow the Wolverines play Minnesota, the Great Danes of the North, and if there aren't a few bones broken somewhere on that field then I miss my guess.

A legend at Minnesota concerns Joesting, the pile-driving fullback of a few years ago, who used to smash into the line so hard that he'd leave a dent after each play. On one plunge off tackle Joesting's one man interference hit the line ahead of Joesting who was coming with the speed of an express train.

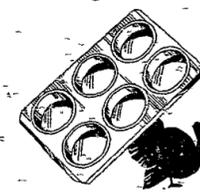

The interference was stopped dead at the line of scrimmage, Joesting kept right on coming but the interferer in the back with such force that the fellow had three broken ribs when they pulled him out of the bottom of the pile.

I've always thought I'd like to play football but it's stories like that, that make basketball players out of fellows like me.

My one and only experience at attempting to play on a team occurred in high school. Fired with ambition at the beginning of the season, I timidly

$240 per month

Already many families here have accepted it. Why don't you change over? Just think of having hot water automatically, any time of the day or night, for only $2.40 per month! That is all it costs an average family of 4.

If you now heat your winter's supply of hot water with a furnace coil, consider the new statement of science that a furnace coil wastes one shovelful of fuel out of every 5 you put into your furnace.

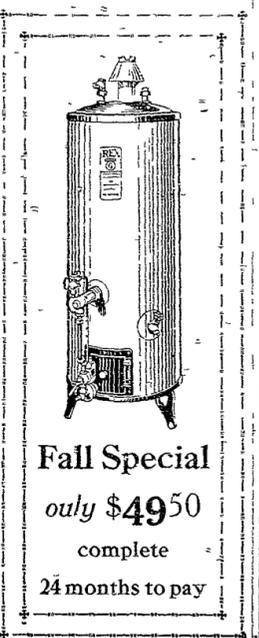

Replace the old, wasteful, costly methods. Take advantage of the low rate. And there is another opportunity in the low cost and easy terms on this new, automatic model at the right. Come in and see it today!

NORTHVILLE SCOUTS ARE GIVEN AWARDS AT COURT OF HONOR

At the Court of Honor for the Plymouth district last Friday evening, held at the Wayne County Training school, approximately 800 friends and relatives of the Scouts attended the proceedings.

Awards were made to all of the Scouts from Northville, Plymouth, Rosedale Gardens, Newburg and the Wayne County Training school, who have passed their tests in whatever branch of Scouting they received their awards.

Members of the local Boy Scout troops who received honors are: Alfred Parmentier, Lawrence Parmentier, Sidney Moore, Robert Lyke, Richard Morris and Thomas Carrington Jr. were made First Class Scouts. Jack Stubbenvall, Newport Dickinson Junior Cole, Chas. Shepard and Herman Toussant, Second Class Scouts.

Merit badges were won by the following: Warner Neal, eight; Ward Van Atta, ten; Franklin King, assistant scoutmaster, 9; Orlov G. Owen, scoutmaster, 6.

A headquarters troop consisting of all First Class Scouts holding five or more merit badges was formed with the idea in mind, said Scoutmaster Owen, of having the members of the troop act as examiners in all branches of Scouting. Members of the local troop who were elected to this troop were Warner Neal, Ward Van Atta, Franklin King, and Orlov G. Owen.

Announcement was made at the meeting of the opening of the Training School swimming pool to all Scouts in the Plymouth district on the first and third Fridays of each month. Scouts will be trained by two life guards in the requisites of their life saving tests. This is the first night that the pool will be opened.

Dr. Robert Haskell, superintendent of the Wayne County Training school, spoke Tuesday before the Wayne County Medical society in Detroit.

FIRST THANKSGIVING

High was made, and it seems there was not another until April 10, 1862, when Abraham Lincoln set aside a day of Thanksgiving for Union victories. A number of such proclamations were made by President Lincoln and finally, on October 20, 1864, he issued for the second time a proclamation setting aside the last Thursday of November as a day of Thanksgiving. This repetition of the last Thursday selected by Lincoln, and before the close of 1864 Congress passed an act permanently setting the last Thursday of November as a national day of Thanksgiving.

Of course we still consider it a good custom, as did these early forefathers. But do we give as much heed to the real meaning of the day as they did? Indeed, we have much for which to thank God. Indeed, "O give thanks unto the Lord; for he is good, because his mercy endureth forever" Psalm 118.

QUESTION BOX

Q: How do you behave at home?
A: Sherrill Ambler: Well, I have been married for 16 years and my wife and I have never had a cross word yet.

Q: When will Northville have a bank?
A: Percy G. Angove: When Northville's Rotary and Exchange clubs will it, so want it, and get together then we'll have a bank.

Q: Should children have a budget allowance?
A: Dr. Bruce H. Douglas: When my brother and I were very young our father gave us money, not too much, and we had to keep a budget which we showed to him at the end of each month. If we were out on our balance we had to pay him. Such a plan I believe, is helpful to both children and adults. It allows us to plan our coming expenses. If we all had followed a budget system, most of us would not find ourselves in the present dilemma.

Q: What do you do when a friend asks you to loan him $5.00?
A: John Kahleisch: This question may seem funny to you but when a good friend comes to you, one who has been prosperous, and asks you for five, ten, a hundred, or five hundred dollars—it's the hardest thing in the world to turn him down under present conditions.

Q: Do you walk two miles every day?
A: C. Stewart: My wife has urged me to walk back and forth to the store for some time but I haven't done it as yet. It's a good thing to do plenty of walking even if it does take up quite a bit of time.

Q: What would you do if you were to meet Mahatma Gandhi?
A: Dayton Bunn: Well, I wouldn't ask him for a drink.

Q: Wouldn't it be a fine thing if all the people who talk about loyalty to Northville would practice it?
A: Don Yerkes, Sr.: If we would give the same amount of loyalty to Northville that we give to our clubs, our churches, and other organizations, what an immense amount of good we could do. We receive in proportion to the amount that we give. Judging by present conditions Northville is not bothered by too much loyalty.

Q: Who is your real boss?
A: Chas. Schoutz: Well, Ray Richardson is my boss part of the time and the rest of the time, the Mrs. is.

Q: Why should Northville have a chamber of commerce?
A: Major E. R. Eaton: Northville should have a chamber of commerce because it provides a way to do things that need to be done.

Q: Has Northville too many churches?
A: C. R. Horton: I won't answer that question by either a "yes" or "no." There's an opportunity for too much discussion. However, I believe that none of us take as much of an interest in our churches as we should. I'll leave it to you.

Q: Did you ever see anyone who gained real happiness by trying to injure someone else?
A: Harry Clark: I have at times seen people who appeared to be gaining by injuring someone else but I don't believe they got much by doing it. People who do injure someone else usually aren't very busy.

An announcement that the Rotary club will hold Ladies' Night next Monday was made and the meeting was closed. All present agreed that the meeting was one of the best of the year and expressed a belief that the questions asked had brought forth some basic opinions.

Do you knock on wood every time you get out for an airing in the car? Is your hair in your mouth when you swing into a curve at a little more speed than the law allows? There's nothing like a set of junky old tires to take the joy out of driving. Why worry about blowouts as you can buy sturdy Goodyear Pathfinders at present levels? Never in the history of the automobile has tire mileage been priced so low. Supertwist cord, Goodyear craftsmanship, long life, safe riding.
