H. S. PUPILS PLEASE WITH FINE CONCERT

Entertainment Directed By Leslie G. Lee Draws Crowd

(By Orange and Black Reporter)
The high school auditorium was packed last Friday evening when the Northville glee club and girls chorus presented their first concert of the year under the direction of Leslie G. Lee.

The singing was good throughout the program. There were a few cases of fainting due to the warm and stuffy condition of the stage and when the singers occasionally could not hear the piano.

The senior girls glee club was the most polished group despite the fact that the girls memorized fifteen songs for the occasion. The pronunciation of the junior girls glee club was especially good. Although six members of the boys glee club were absent, the club made a good showing for the first attempt and some fine work is expected from this group in the near future.

The large girls' chorus was a colorful sight. The entire stage was a solid bank of girls (one hundred in all). Their singing was beautiful.

All of the groups were very good in deportment. They kept their eyes steadily on the director and followed very well. Encouragements and exits were orderly and smooth. Mr. Lee's to be congratulated on this.

Syver-Thingstad, a fine baritone, pleased the large audience with a group of three classic songs.

After the program was over Mr. Thingstad, Mr. Greene and Mr. Braman of Detroit, and Pierre Kenyon of Northville sang several songs for the pupils and parents who cared to stay.

A new stage elevation and conductor's platform, built by the manual training department under Mr. Thompson's direction, proved a fine addition to the stage equipment.

SCHRAEDER ENDORSES "CALL OF THE WILD"

N. C. Schraeder, one of Northville's enthusiastic "Nimrods," hands in this description of the "call of the wild" which comes to every man with hunting instincts along about November. Nels says it is true to life.

When the Woods Begin to Call (By Henry Dodge)

Along about this time of year the woods begin to call; It's when the frost is on the fence and the leaves begin to fall; It's then a man will find his nerves all frazzled to the quick, And tells his wife he almost knows that he is mighty sick.

He tells about his aching bones and says they fairly hurt, And thinks he'd better see the Doc and find out what is trumf. His wife don't worry to see him act so queer, She knows he always has it bad - about this time of year.

The Doc he is a wise old bird and knows just what to say; He tells him he is mighty bad and getting worse each day; And if he does not want the light to glimmer in his lamp, He'd better get a hunt permit and hike away to camp.

That settles it! He tells his wife how bad he hates to go, (She knows that he is lying but does not tell him so.) And soon he finds himself in camp upon a stormy day, With three or four good friends of his who lied to get away.

He has a coming appetite; eats everything in sight; And snores so the owls around can't hear themselves at night. He'll chase a deer out thro' the swamp and over the hills all day, Come home at night and tell the boys just how he got away.

He'll spend two weeks up in the woods, come home all tan and dirt, He was so busy all the time he did not change his shirt. But he has had a dandy time; deny it if you can. Those hunting lies, so often told, are mighty good for man.

To those who never took the trip and camped out in the woods, Who never saw the beauties there stored up as nature's goods, If you will try and take one trip you'll never count the cost. But get someone to kick your pants for all the fun you've lost.

MAN INJURED BY RUN AWAY TEAM

A team of horses belonging to a Mr. Appleton, manager of the A. J. Smith farm near Wixom, ran away Monday morning a half mile west of Novi when the wagon to which they were hitched was struck in the rear by an automobile.

The driver of the team, whose name was not learned, was thrown from his seat on the wagon but suffered only a sprained shoulder and bruises on his body. The driver was taking the team to a point just east of Novi where road improvements were under way.

Both the car and the wagon suffered slight damage.

UNION SERVICE ON THANKSGIVING DAY

Expressing the feeling of gratitude for many mercies, members and friends of the Baptist, Presbyterian and Methodist churches will gather for the annual Thanksgiving services Thursday forenoon at 10 o'clock at the Methodist church. The message will be given by Rev. Frank H. Miner, pastor of the Methodist church.

There will be special music in charge of the choir, directed by Roy C. Clark.

The offering of Thanksgiving which will be taken will go entirely to the King's Daughters for their welfare work in the community.

The service will begin promptly at 10 o'clock and will continue for about an hour which will give wives the opportunity to prepare the holiday dinner with little interruption.

BEEES ARE HOBBY OF BOB COUSINS

Bob Cousins, a senior in our local high school, has a hobby which has proved profitable as well as an object of interest to him. It is bees that Bob is especially interested in, not only now and he reads everything within reach on the care and management of these creatures. He has a few hives and he has become quite an authority on the subject.

As a tangible result of his summer's work Bob has sold 100 pounds of fine honey for which he has received around $25.

100 MASONS ENJOY DINNER, DEGREE WORK

One hundred fraternal members were served by the Eastern Star ladies on Monday evening at a dinner between the afternoon and evening work.

This final degree work for the current Masonic year was witnessed by representatives from Belleville, Detroit, Farmington and Plymouth lodges. Four candidates were made Masons in due and ancient form.

Worshipful Master Sinden called in a number of past masters to aid him in exemplifying the degree.

CHAS. SESSIONS RETURNS

Chas Sessions is back again in his old home after a six-weeks' siege of illness in St. Joseph's Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor. His many friends are glad to greet him again. Due to an unusually strong constitution and a long record of good health, Mr. Sessions surprised the Ann Arbor physicians by recovering ten days sooner than any previous patient taking the same treatment in the history of the hospital.

DR. HASKELL SPEAKS

Due to the fact that the Record is getting out two days early, we are not able to report the Fellowship supper at the Methodist church Wednesday evening. Dr. Robt. H. Haskell was to be the speaker.

SESSIONS HOSPITAL

Raymond Watts underwent an operation for acute appendicitis at the hospital Friday evening and is making good recovery.

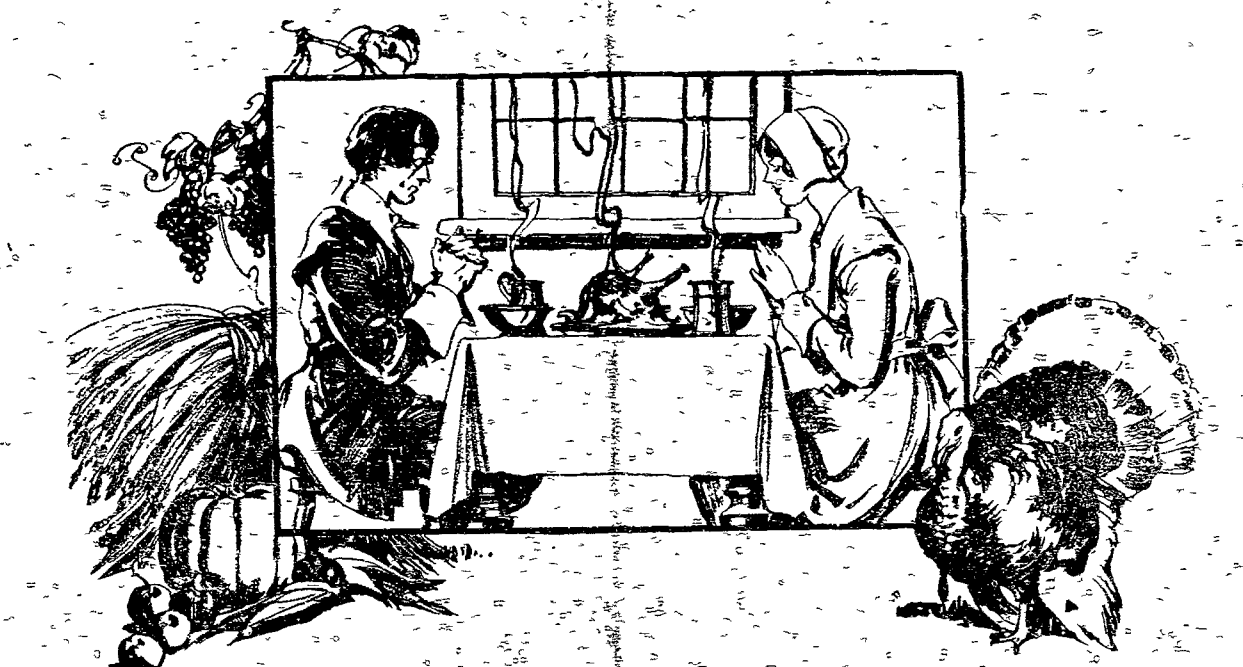

An emergency operation for acute appendicitis was performed Sunday night upon Leeland Smith. His condition at present is encouraging.

"IT PAYS TO"

Mrs. Budd of 217 Church street cannot help but believe in advertising. She inserted a small ad in the classified column, got immediate results and then came back with another ad.

"I got such quick results on my first ad," said Mrs. Budd, "that I thought I might as well try again."

Let's Be Thankful

"Thanksgiving day! Thanksgiving day!
'Tis then our nation tries to pay
Its heavy debt of gratitude
For bountiful supplies of food
And richest blessings that extend
To cover all our freedom's land."

Although beset by material losses and inconveniences, Northville has many reasons to be grateful on Thanksgiving day. Health, home and the blessings of children and friends are the portion of our people. When one has these he has all that life can hold.

Northville can be grateful that its losses have been purely material. No calamity, no epidemic, no great sorrow has come to our community. Our lives have been spared; our children fill our homes with laughter and love. Friends have not failed; loyalty surrounds us on every side. Life is rich, even though banks have closed for a time. The spiritual values of life are still ours to claim.

Northville is grateful that a brighter day is dawning. All authorities agree that the return to prosperity seems near. The time of chastening has been hard but its end is not far off. Some day we shall have a bank again; soon men will be at work again; soon good cheer will be on every hand.

So we welcome the Thanksgiving of 1931 with gratitude for the blessings that have not been taken from us, with thanks even for the benefits that have come from material losses and with the certainty that the "best is yet to be."

DR. BRENNAN TALKS ON "ADOLESCENCE"

At the Sunday morning service, November 22, at the Presbyterian church, Pastor Harold G. Whitfield continued his interpretation of the memorable meeting by night of the Jewish leader, Nicodemus, with Jesus. He brought into clear perspective the unusual colloquy between the two. Centering attention upon the declaration of Jesus that, "Except one be born anew, he cannot see the Kingdom of God," he stressed the vital necessity of this new birth in our religious life.

In the evening the audience was favored in having an opportunity to hear Dr. T. P. Brennan of the Wayne County Training school, upon the subject, "Problems of Adolescence." The speaker summarized the many problems which develop at that most critical period in the life of youth and emphasized the need of these being handled with utmost tact and discrimination as this falls so largely upon the parents. The speaker stressed on their part the most sympathetic cooperation with their children in meeting these problems at all stages.

Attention was called to the important fact that in the struggles to solve the problems of adolescence youth turns for help to religion.

Next Sunday evening, November 29, the Woman's union will have charge of this service. Miss Ernestine Fisher of Pontiac, a missionary whose field is in India, will talk upon the work there.

SPECIAL MEETINGS CONTINUE AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. R. O. Thompson began the series of sermons Monday night on the thought "God reconciling the World unto Himself in Christ." Rev. A. K. MacRae and an excellent orchestra furnished a musical prelude. Tuesday night Rev. R. M. Traver of Mt. Clemens spoke and tonight (Wednesday) Rev. J. W. Tolley of Wixom will preach. Thanksgiving evening Rev. F. A. Burnett of Holly will preach.

Plans are being made for the Rev. H. R. Morrison to preach each week night except Saturday, next week.

The Monday night service was largely attended.

Ted Watts Is Albion Star

WATTS - HALFBACK

Ted Watts, a product of Northville high school, has proved to be one of the most outstanding football players at Albion college in recent years. He has played a sterling game at halfback all season, and has been able to make substantial gains against all opposition.

Watts was the outstanding star on either team against almost all of Albion's opponents. Against the strong Alma team he made both of the touchdowns and against Detroit city college he ran thirty-five yards for a touchdown for the only score of the game.

A Chance to Help

Responding to the appealing account of a Northville child in need of milk a number of folks have called up to learn who need help. Not alone this child went without milk on his oatmeal. Upon closer investigation it has been found that there are others equally needy and worthy. Supt. Thad J. Knapp will be glad to give information as to cases in real need.

It is indeed gratifying to learn by the ready response that beneath the world's cold surface beats a heart full of sympathy for the cry of a needy child.

ROTARIANS ENTERTAIN LADIES AT DINNER

The Rotarians were hosts to their wives Monday evening at a fine six o'clock dinner at the Presbyterian church. The usual good dinner was served by the Woman's Union and was followed by a brief business session of the men.

Then, reverting to the days of their youth, the entire company entered heartily into the games planned by the committee. Mrs. Percy Angove, Mrs. Ray Richardson, Mrs. Thad J. Knapp and Mrs. Edward L. Mills. Gene we troubles and cares as the fun went on and the affair was pronounced one of the most informally delightful in the history of the club.

CHICKEN THIEVES RAID BOOTH FARM

Chicken thieves raided the poultry hodge at the Booth Country Club the Seven Mile road Saturday night and made away with 45 chickens. In spite of the fact that the house was securely locked and a large dog guarded the premises the thieves were evidently onto their job, cutting the wire fence and entering by the rear when they carefully removed a whole window pane to make their entrance to the hen house. The hens were not missed until Sunday noon.

Chief of Police Safford says their is no absolute precaution against theft of poultry or stock and that no doubt many losses will occur during the coming winter on account of man's desperate want. The only way to avoid this, says the Chief, is to sell everything that might be stolen and not run the risk of loss.

COURT WILL SETTLE CASE OF GLOBE CO.

Outcome of the Auction Sale Held Here is Still Uncertain

Ultimate disposition of the property of the Globe Furniture company, bankrupt, rests with the referee in bankruptcy it was learned this week.

Bids were received on the company's assets by the Union Guardian Trust company of Detroit, receivers for the furniture company, at the auction sale held Thursday at the offices of the Globe Furniture company.

The bids received were held subject to confirmation by the federal court.

The auction sale was held as the first step in the liquidation of the assets of the Globe Furniture company but strictly speaking, observers say, there was no sale as no money changed hands nor were any of the furniture company's assets taken from the building.

There were several bidders from Detroit and surrounding towns present when the auction opened on Thursday afternoon beside a large crowd which came because of the fame the furniture company possessed at one time as manufacturers of school and church furniture.

Circumstances surrounding the liquidation of the Globe property attracted many interested onlookers.

The question which will be decided by the referee in bankruptcy is whether the mortgage held against the Globe Furniture company or the amount of money due to workmen takes priority. The amount of the labor claim is said to approximate $3000 while the mortgage, upon which several payments have been made, cannot be accurately determined until the case reaches the federal court in Detroit.

ALEXANDER SANISLOW HAS FLOWER DISPLAY

Alexander Sanislow, the florist, has placed a very attractive display of Thanksgiving flowers in the window of the Palace market. Many large and small, of various shades some growing in pots, some cut for the table, snapdragons, carnations, cyclamens and primroses are all arranged effectively to tempt folks to adorn their festive dinner tables.

Mr. Sanislow says he has spoken for this same location for Christmas time when a different variety of flowers and plants will be on display.

AQUARIUM-FOUNTAIN BUILT BY ROY REW

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rew of Dunlap street have exclaimed over the beauty of a combined fountain and aquarium which Mr. Roy Rew constructed during odd moments of his leisure time.

The fountain, which stands approximately five feet high, is made in three tiers of stone and shells gathered from all parts of the country. Two fountains of water displayed to the best advantage by colored lights keep the aquarium which contains different kinds of fish, supplied with fresh water.

The construction of the piece of architecture represents many hours of work which Mr. Rew put into it. Started as merely a hobby, the fountain-aquarium has become a show place worthy of all the admiration which spectators have bestowed upon it.

LOYALTY AND COOPERATION NEEDED

The Board of Education of the Northville schools has realized the necessity of operating the school as economically as possible, and with the valuable assistance of our superintendent, has been able to reduce the total annual pay-roll approximately $5,000.00 per year, and has reduced other expenditures whenever possible. When you consider, however, that we have a attendance of nearly 700 students, you will readily understand that with a program of frugal economy, a lot of money is still required to run our schools. This money is available from only one source and that is taxes, and in order to pay them it is necessary that our people have work which in turn is provided only by business.

Business must be provided by loyalty and cooperation, the lack of which has resulted in the closing of our banks, and the exceptionally serious conditions prevailing in Northville today. It is our failure to constructively work together that is presenting our most difficult problem, and at this particular time of the year we are reminded of the courage and cooperation that was necessary in order to make the first Thanksgiving Day possible, and unless we are able to overcome our present difficulties by adequately providing for our unemployed, and re-establishing the necessary business, we had better give this country back to the Indians, who at least were willing to fight for the welfare of their respective tribes.

SHERILL W. AMBLER
Secretary of the Board of Education

BASKETBALL SCHEDULE IS ANNOUNCED

A very fine turn out was the response given to Mr. Ruggles' call for basketball candidates. There were big boys and little boys, fat boys and skinny boys, good players and some well, not so good. The teams are rounding up well, however, and the outlook is very pleasing according to all reports received by this hopeful young writer. There are several teams who will again be seen on the floor this winter. To some it is the last season they will play for Northville and for others the beginning of an athletic career. The spirit for football was fine this season. Let's see if we can't make this the most successful year in basketball we have ever had. The boys are putting forth every effort but they will have to obtain your backing to make it a real success.

Here is the schedule of the games at home and away:

THE LAW OF SPORTSMANSHIP

Good Americans try to become strong and useful, worthy of their nation, that our country may become ever greater and better. Therefore, they obey the laws of right living which the best Americans have always obeyed. Good Americans play fair. Strong play increases and trains one's strength and courage. Sportsmanship helps one to be a gentleman, a lady. Therefore:

(1) I will not cheat. I will keep the rules but I will play the game hard, for the fun of the game, to win by strength and skill. If I should not play fair the loser would lose the fun of the game, and the winner would lose his self-respect, and the game itself would become a mean and often cruel business.

(2) I will treat my opponents with courtesy and trust them if they deserve it. I will be friendly.

(3) If I play in a group game I will play, not for my own glory, but for the success of my team.

(4) I will be a good loser or a generous winner.

(5) In my work as well as in my play I will be sportsmanlike—generous, fair, honorable.

(From the Prize Morality Code widely used in schools.)

BOY SCOUTS BEGIN WINTER ACTIVITIES

New members of the Boy Scout committee recently appointed are Rev. Frank N. Miner, Ad Schwenger and the commander of the American Legion, Joe Blake. Other members who have been serving previously are E. H. Lapham, Chas. Murphy, Chubb Smith and Harold G. White. This committee will get together on the evening of December 1 when plans for the coming winter will be discussed.

A lively bunch of Scouts had their first swim at the Wayne County Training school swimming pool last Friday evening when their Scout leader, Orlov G. Owen, gave them their first instruction in life saving.

The boys are now busy painting the interior of their building on the school grounds getting it snug and ready for winter.

READ THIS

Everyone interested in the future of Northville will find something to think about in a statement by Sherill W. Ambler, secretary of the board of education, in the school news in this issue.

By the way—did you notice the seniors Tuesday? They were all dressed up to have their picture taken. It's the "old depression". The seniors are having their pictures taken now so they will serve as Christmas gifts and graduation pictures.

Some very interesting lantern slides were shown, including pictures of famous places in Paris and pictures of the time of Louis XIV.

Obituary

James Pearl

James Pearl, for the past four years a guard at the House of Correction, died at his home at 249 Rayson avenue, Sunday, November 22, after falling ill during a period of several years. He has been confined to home with illness since October 16.

Mr. Pearl was born in Grayson Springs, Ky., November 2, 1880, coming to Northville four years ago. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Beulah Pearl, and by two brothers, D. H. Pearl of Louisville, Ky., and Chas. of Chicago.

The funeral services were held from the Wayne funeral home in Plymouth and the remains were taken to his birthplace in Grayson Springs, Ky., for burial.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS INITIATE NEW MEMBERS

Did you notice some little Camp Fire girls in our high school running around with red and white sashes and aprons, smeared all over their foreheads? (You'll have to excuse the smearing—that was supposed to be an emblem of the Camp Fire.)

That was merely part of their initiation. The new members are Peggy Blake, Eleanor Eaton, Eleanor Grosvenor, Jane Lester and Charlotte Lester. They were initiated and had to go through all sorts of crazy stunts such as crawling under chairs and tables, holding their noses, blowing flour, jumping over a rope, walking on beams and ice, getting branded and being taken for a walk to the cemetery.

Following this ceremony, each member for the purpose of telling their secrets and views of the Camp Fire.

Then a very delightful luncheon was served at the home of Madeline Haystead. The girls went gayly on their way in spite of dirty faces.

In school the new members had to act as slaves to the older members. They accompanied the girls to school, carried their books and even went as far as taking their coats off for them. They also had to do anything that the older members requested.

You should have seen those girls make brooms talk Wednesday night after school. They were requested to sweep the assembly, and well, just ask the janitor what kind of a job they did.

Business is not a surprise to those who advertise.

MOTION PICTURE PROGRAMS

"FIFTY FATHOMS DEEP"

How on earth—or under the earth—did the sound staff of Columbia Pictures record the underwater scenes in "Fifty Fathoms Deep"? This is the question that can't help but puzzle you after seeing this corking melodrama at the Penniman Allen theatre Sunday, November 22, with Jack Holt playing a particularly daring diver and Loretta Sayes and Richard Cromwell giving excellent support.

In the days of the silent drama cameras were devised that would photograph scenes under water at considerable depth, but it is Columbia who first demonstrates that sound under water can also be recorded. Just how this was done for "Fifty Fathoms Deep" remains a deep secret, buried among the members of the recording crew. The swish of the divers sliding down to deep water... the hiss of escaping air from the exhaust in the diving helmets... the slapping sound of fish as they collide with the divers in the efforts to escape this new monster of the deep, man!

Then there is the crackling of the electric torch used to free the diver imprisoned in the wreck—the voices coming down through the phone from the tender anchored on the surface three hundred feet above. All these and more make up the personification of realism!

"Fifty Fathoms Deep" is a thrilling story of the adventures on land and under the sea of two divers of widely differing temperaments. They get into a jam when they both fall in love with the same girl and both nearly die at the highly dangerous depth of three hundred feet before they learn the truth. Dorothy Howell and Roy Chanslor are its authors and Roy William Neill directed.

Car Owners Bought More Firestone Tires

THERE are reasons for this—Firestone is now building the Greatest Tire Values in history, with the result that Firestone factories are operating 24 hours a day, 6 days a week, to meet public preference.

This is the year everybody is scrutinizing his purchases. This is particularly true in tire buying because of the many confusing and misleading statements made about tires.

To give car owners the facts, Firestone published comparisons showing quality, construction and prices. Then the public came in—made their own comparisons with cross-sections cut from Firestone tires—and from special brand mail order tires and others.

When they saw the facts, they bought more Firestone tires during April, May and June than in any like period in Firestone history.

Drive in today and let us show you these Firestone Extra Values and have your car equipped for Safe, Trouble-Free Summer Motoring. We can save you money and serve you better.

"BLOSSOM TIME" COMES TO

CASS THEATRE, DETROIT

Not in the history of light musical plays—or, for that matter, lyric productions of any kind—has there been a production that has enjoyed the undiminished approbation that has been showered upon the Franz Schubert operetta "Blossom Time" which comes to the Cass theatre next Sunday night for an engagement of one week, with a matinee on Wednesday and Saturday. Season after season this charming creation has been sent on tour, yet it is still provided with all the essentials of cast, costumes and scenery to sustain its reputation of being the most perfect and most beautiful of its kind ever known to the stage.

The foundation for the story of "Blossom Time" is the romance of the great composer, Franz Schubert. His struggles for recognition, the great longing of his life, as development in his love for "Mizzi," the daughter of "Kranz," the court jeweler, and the misunderstanding by which this affair of the heart is moved into different channels are set forth in most absorbing manner in the book of the operetta. With such a basis, it is natural to suppose that a fitting musical score can be given with some of the hundred genius more than a score of Schubert's most beautiful themes are embraced in the score of "Blossom Time" giving it the highest place melodically, ever achieved by a light musical production.

Wellington Roberts Tells of Vast Ice Sheet That Covered Northville Many Years Ago

In presenting Wellington Roberts, well known Northville resident and author of the following article, the Stethoscope places itself in the happy position of introducing a writer who has the knack of treating scientific matters in a sprightly manner, an entertaining instruction, if you please.

Born in Canada sixty years ago, Mr. Roberts migrated to the northern peninsula at the age of twelve. Here in his growth to maturity, he took a very active part in the pioneer development of that portion of Michigan. In 1889 he graduated from the University of Michigan, and then began a series of wanderings that carried him close to the equator on the south and to the Hudson Bay region on the north. For four years he was with the United States-Lake Survey, followed by seven years with the Canadian Bridge company, and then acted as professor of civil engineering at the University of Detroit for six years. Although a resident of Northville for the past twelve years, Mr. Roberts has engaged in private practice as a surveyor for only a few years.

Mr. Roberts has written descriptions of his field experiences both for Detroit and Ann Arbor papers. And if the readers of the Stethoscope "like his stuff" he promises to contribute further articles about that parcel of land including Northville and Eastlawn.

As we look from childhood to old age at the hills and valleys around Northville we may be easily persuaded that since they have not changed perceptibly during all that time that they were always there. Just as we see them now. We may be excused for thinking that the years created and that way in the beginning along with other created things and handed down, a little weather worn to be sure, but essentially the same old hills and valleys, everlasting and unchangeable.

But a study of geology shows us that seventy years is but as the tick of a clock in geological time. The firm earth beneath our feet is not so fixed as we would believe. That place where this sanatorium stands is now approximately one thousand feet above sea level. But it is not remaining fixed at that elevation. The whole Great Lakes Basin is gradually tilting, rising in the Northwest and sinking in the Southwest. This movement is but a part of the continual accommodation of a cooling and contracting crust of the whole surface of the earth. In other words, the crust of the earth is shrinking and wrinkling like the surface of a drying apple.

The various ups and downs of the earth's crust, the gradually changing amount of carbonic acid gas and other gases in the air, together with enormous variations of the distance of the earth from the sun from the changing ellipticity of the earth's orbit and the shifting of the direction of the earth's axis, all had tremendous influences in modifying the climate of the earth. The only thing that was constant was change.

It would require volumes to describe the effect of all these changes and volumes have been written on the subject. I will only sketch some of the more recent changes and trust that my readers may be sufficiently interested to read more deeply into this fascinating subject.

At one time, estimated at 240,000 years ago, this whole region was covered by an ice sheet about a mile in thickness, just as Greenland and the Antarctic continent are now covered. It extended from the North pole almost to the Ohio River. This condition lasted, with some interruptions, about 160,000 years.

This ice sheet was not deposited layer upon layer like snow, but swept down upon this region from the higher lands north of us, which were much higher then than now. When I say "swept" I do not mean a sudden inundation, for it required thousands of years to creep down the long slope. But it swept everything before it, except the solid bed rock. Everything above bed rock was ploughed, scraped and pushed before it or incorporated with it. Where the rock was soft it gouged out enormous holes that afterwards were filled with water and formed the many lakes for which Michigan is famous. When it encountered hard rock it scraped over the surface leaving long parallel scratches and grooves with the rocks embedded into its bottom. It was a gigantic planing machine, an enormous rock mover and crusher.

As this ice sheet flowed down the valleys and up the inclines or around bed rock obstacles, great fissures would open on the surface into which would fall enormous quantities of materials it had been carrying on the surface. This would be rolled and ground as if in the guard of a gigantic mill, until the softer rocks were reduced to powder and the harder rocks ground to sand and gravel.

The ignorant, half human, half beast like things who chased the wild ox fought the cave bear or took refuge from the saber-toothed tiger became dimly aware of a gradual change in the climate as the ice sheet crept slowly towards them from the north. The character of the game changed and the oldest patriarch could truthfully tell how he pursued game in his youth that no longer could be found. The trees and vegetation also changed from that of a tropical to that of the temperate and finally to that of the arctic species. Each succeeding generation of people were compelled to dress more warily and find such shelter as they could find in caves. Finally the last remnants of the inhabitants could see the reflection of the sun on the ice peaks away to the north and were compelled to move south and make way for the glacier.

This ice sheet covered the region for thousands of years and if the old hunters who fled south had any memory or prophetic tendencies they would have been justified in thinking that the ice had come to stay. But as gradually as the ice crept on, just as gradually did it finally retreat. The summers grew longer and warmer while the winters became shorter and milder. The southern front of the glacier began to melt and crumble. The warm rains and sun started the ice to disintegrate.

NOVEMBER
(By Grace Sprenger)
November, and the leaves are down
To cover up the flower beds,
Their dazzling colors catch the eye,
In nature's best of yellow and reds.
November days are crystal clear
They chase the pallor from the face
The ivy clings upon the walls,
And climbs about our dwelling place
November days are serene and brown,
The trees have scattered all their leaves,
At early morn the frost comes down
To dress in diamonds, all the trees

This Week

By H. H. White

Probably as fine and as authentic a biography as has ever been written about Mary Baker Eddy has been compiled by Dr. Lyman F. Powell, one of the most prominent Episcopal clergymen in the United States. Dr. Powell, within and without the ministry has touched life at many points, as educator, lecturer, and as a writer for various magazines, such as the "Atlantic Monthly," "Review of Reviews," and the "Outlook," and therefore is well qualified with his literary attainments to write this most interesting book.

For twenty-five years he was preparing material for the book, with study and research firsthand into the archives, files and records assembled by the authorities of the Christian Science Church which included 8,000 documents and letters left by this most prodigious and amazing woman, who without doubt was as great, if not the greatest religious leader and founder of a cosmic movement which has not been equaled or paralleled since the time of the Christ.

The book is written entirely without bias, with a warm sympathy, such as pervades any one searching after the truth and facts. Dr. Powell had no intellectual barriers or moneyed handicaps, and thus his biography he could use his flair for writing which gives anything he does an interesting and intimate touch.

It is a book which impresses one as they read it of the greatness, extreme fineness, and exquisite spiritual life that Mrs. Eddy must have lead to have reached the heights in the religious life which she did, and leave to posterity a contribution to civilization and mankind for the betterment of it, which is as far-reaching as in its influence and scope as anything since the founding of Christianity.

This biography is in our local library for those who care to read it.

CELEBRATE REDFORD STREET WIDENING

The old Village of Redford staged a mammoth fest recently to celebrate the elimination of the traffic bottle neck through the business section of the village. Road Commissioner Edward N. Hughes gave the following interesting facts at the dedication ceremonies.

Grand River Road, Grand River Avenue and Grand River Superhighway as it has been known at various times and various places in Wayne County is replete with romance and history.

It is the longest radial thoroughfare within the Detroit city limits being 13 1/2 miles long. While Grand River Avenue is 9 miles long, and Michigan Avenue 5 1/2 miles long. Grand River Avenue serves as extensions of each other and may be regarded as a single cross-town thoroughfare that has been built in the middle. Together they are only 1 mile longer than Grand River.

Grand River on the other hand has no counterpart on the opposite side of the city, nor is there any likelihood of one ever being created. Consequently "Grand River" stands alone as a single great artery serving the northwest section of the city and forming its only direct route to and from the business district.

When Grand River Road was first surveyed it had a right-of-way of 100 feet but it was encroached upon from time to time creating bottle necks through Redford and elsewhere along its route.

Grand River Avenue serves a greater area of territory nearly 60 square miles than any street in Detroit and in eliminating the Redford bottle neck by bringing it up to its Master Plan width of right-of-way of 120 feet, we are only making a good start Redford as a township, as a village, as a part of the great city of Detroit has always been a progressive community with a able leadership and loyal followers.

KING'S DAUGHTERS GIVE AID TO NEEDY

Northville has no definite community fund for the assistance of the needy and the philanthropy of the village has been largely delegated to the King's Daughters who have for many years covered this community quite thoroughly.

A bazaar is being planned which will be held in the post office in back of the bank building for the 5th of December when fruits, vegetables, jellies, jams, aprons and other useful articles will be on sale. Those wishing to make contributions toward this bazaar will please call Mrs. E. B. Cavell or Mrs. Ed Starkweather who will call for them if you can not bring them. Let everyone make a special effort this year as winter is just round the corner with all its attendant suffering by the poor.

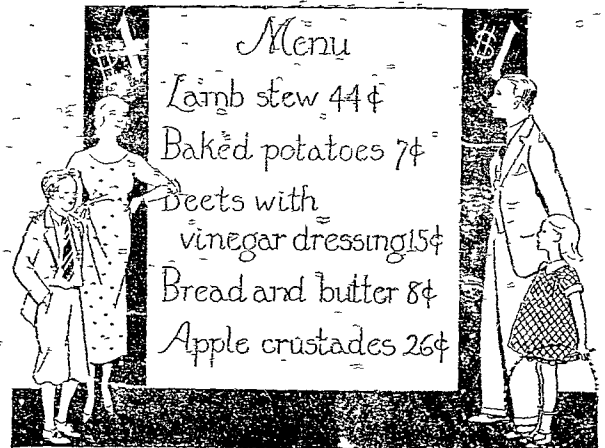

Another outlet of their charity is the gifts which they send to the University hospital. Your contributions of used books, toys, cards, in fact anything which will bring cheer to the sick, are solicited.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Mary Stewart on December 1, at which time all members are urged to bring their aprons, articles for a grab bag and anything in the line of toys or books for the Christmas bazaar and for the hospital donation.

TWO ARRESTED FOR DISORDERLY CONDUCT

Two men were arrested last Thursday night on a drink and disorderly charge, one of them being sent to the House of Correction for 30 days and the other receiving a $5 fine and $3 costs. Ernest Nestor of Northville road received the sentence and John Doe of Northville paid the fine.

A $1 Dinner for 4

THIS is the day of the dollar—you go a long way to get one, but a dollar goes a long way once you get it. The above model dollar dinner combines fresh and canned foods, and incidentally, canned food prices have not yet advanced, but they no doubt will by the first of the year.

Tested Recipes

Beets with Vinegar Dressing: Heat the contents of one No. 2 can of sliced beets, drain and keep hot. Mix together four tablespoons sugar and one teaspoon cornstarch and add with one tablespoon butter. Three tablespoons of vinegar and a few grains of salt to the beet juice. Cook until creamy and pour over the hot beets.

Apple Crustades: Cut four square or oblong blocks of bread, without crusts, and scoop out the centers, making bowls. Brush on all sides with melted butter, and dip in brown sugar (using one-fourth cup of butter and one-half cup of brown sugar in all) coating both inside and outside with the butter and sugar. Fill with apple sauce (use the contents of one 3-ounce can of apple sauce). Top with another piece of bread also dipped in butter and sugar and bake in a hot oven—400 degrees—until brown, or from ten to fifteen minutes. Serve warm with one-half cup of thin cream. This serves four persons. If desired, small molds may be lined with bread dipped in butter and sugar instead of making the crustades.

Woman's Club Banquet Will Be Held December 4

The members of the Northville Women's club, together with their husbands and guests will banquet together at the Presbyterian church house on the evening of December 4. A most happy occasion is anticipated when the speaker of the evening will be Mrs. Frederick Fisher, wife of Dr. Fisher of Ann Arbor, pastor of the first Methodist church, who spent 29 years as bishop in India and has the distinction of being the only Methodist bishop to resign his office for the pastorate of a church. Mrs. Fisher is said to be equal to her husband as a speaker and will talk on "India." Having had so many years residence in this foreign land Mrs. Fisher is an authority on conditions there.

For ten years Mrs. Fisher lived in China doing educational missionary work, building and directing the first school for girls in the interior of China. The past ten years of her life, previous to coming to Ann Arbor, were spent in India, where Dr. Fisher was Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church, Calcutta, area. She is a world traveler, having visited practically every country on the globe with the exception of Russia, Alaska and the countries of South America. She is a lecturer of note, having appeared at the Town Hall in New York City, and following experience in France throughout the World War. Having spoken on the Atlantic coast as a Chautauqua lecturer. She is also a writer of no little fame. Some of the books to her credit are "Top of the World," a description of her travels among the Himalayan mountains in India, "Beyond the Moon Gate," a fascinating tale of China, and "A String of Chinese Pearls."

When Dr. Fisher resigned the episcopacy in May, 1930 to accept the pastorate of the Ann Arbor First church, he and Mrs. Fisher took up their residence in this University center. The price of the banquet is 35 cents per plate and tickets will be on sale at the Freydl dry goods store and also by members.

Northville Women Visit Art Institute

About twenty-five members of the Woman's club and guests spent a most delightful afternoon at the Detroit Institute of Art last Friday. After luncheon at the Wardell, the ladies assembled in the foyer of the Institute where Benjamin March, a connoisseur of Japanese art, joined our party as conductor.

We visited three different rooms where the most choice and interesting examples of Japanese art were exhibited. Mr. March was master of his subject and explained in detail the varying moods of the art of this Oriental people.

A fascinating account of a tea master in that country and the tea service, involving so much culture and refinement, was an outstanding feature of his talk.

A full account of this glimpse of their customs and art is quite impossible here but was most thoroughly enjoyed by all who were present.

An exhibition of Dutch paintings proved also to be an attraction to our club ladies, as the afternoon was quite a red letter day of the year's program, which has been so carefully arranged by our capable committee.

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS

5 YEARS AGO

Northville's new Aherns-Pox fire truck arrived in the village, Tuesday forenoon, direct from the factory in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Next Thursday will be Thanksgiving, and the people of this section have a great many blessings to be thankful for. The past year has been a prosperous one for this community, men have been well employed at good wages, and we have no labor disturbances, and no calamity has befallen us in anyway. Surely our lives have fallen in pleasant places during the past year.

Plymouth and Wayne high school football teams will meet, this afternoon to decide a tie. On Wednesday afternoon next, Northville will play the winner of today's game on some neutral field, the time and place to be announced later. Our team should be accompanied by a good crowd of rooters.

The American Legion ball last Friday night proved a very enjoyable affair.

10 YEARS AGO

The finishing touches are being put on the Detroit Tuberculosis sanatorium and it is expected to open the institution about January 1st. In this week's installment Mr. Maybury tells about the drives and the amphitheatre to be constructed.

Learning on the social horizon and exciting considerable interest is the Pastime Dancing parties.

Mrs. H. S. Shier will speak before the N. W. C. on Friday, the 25th.

NORTHVILLE CAN NOW TALK TO ROUMANIA

Any Northville telephone can now be connected with any telephone in Roumania, according to Roy E. Crowe, manager here for the Michigan Bell Telephone company. Telephone service between the United States and Roumania was opened Monday, November 9, following a telephone conversation between representatives of the United States Department of State and ministers of the Roumanian government.

Calls to Roumania are placed by calling the Northville long-distance operator. The rate from any Michigan phone is $4.40 for a three minute conversation over the 6,000 miles transatlantic connection, and $14 for each additional minute.

Service is handled over land lines from here to New York, and thence to London by the radio channels which now connect North America with practically all of Europe. From London, calls go over wire lines under the English channel and across Europe.

Mr. Crowe says an average of one telephone call a day is made between Michigan and European points.

T. B. DRIVE WILL BEGIN DAY AFTER THANKSGIVING

The drive for the sale of anti-tuberculosis seals will be begun in Northville on the day following Thanksgiving. The boys and girls of the public schools in the grades are beginning with the kindergarten up through the sixth grades will sell these seals. To stimulate the interest in this sale a competition has been arranged for these children and a prize will be awarded to the one selling the largest number.

The Globe Furniture company is up to its ears in orders.

To be exact, Northville township will get primary school money to the amount of $6,867.00, beating Plymouth by just $77.00. At eleven dollars per each, school children are worth something extra this year.

The idea of running the electric lights until 1:00 o'clock a.m. is proving very pleasing to Northville people.

Will Stark and his party of deer hunters will arrive home Saturday. Will has two to his credit at last, accounts and Charlie Sessions and Glen Richardson each have one.

CHILDREN'S BOOKS

Children's Book Week

Much is made of this movement throughout the nation and folks are realizing that good books owned and loved by children are big factors in their training. Each year books more beautiful are published for children—city book store windows are full of these attractive volumes and even the University library has a wonderful display of children's books this week. We wish that we could look them over that some big-hearted person would bequest a quantity of these to our local library for little Northville kiddies.

By the way, Northville is fortunate in having as librarian a mother of several children who knows how to direct children in their selection of reading. An authority said the other day, "There is much among children's books that is worthless if not positively harmful."

We are glad for the response of several mothers to the question, "What my children have liked to read."

Mrs. H. E. Willis says her children have enjoyed the volumes of My Book House and The Book of Knowledge from earliest childhood and are still pouring over them. The boy of eight years gets down one of the latter books every evening. Little four-year-old's favorite now is Robert Louis Stevenson's "A Child's Garden of Verses." A. A. Milne's stories of Christopher Robin and others have been among their favorites.

Mothers of growing boys will be interested in some of the books the Dunsbury boys have delved in. Here are a few recalled off hand by them. Deep Wood and Holdfast's Stories, Robinson Crusoe, Gulliver's Travels, Alice in Wonderland, Hunting of the Unicorn, Treasure Island, Count Dracula, The Devil Sop the Chief of Police Dog, Buckleberry Finn, Tom Sawyer, Penrod, Penrod and Sam the Wonderful Adventures of Nils (Selma Lagerlof), Gnomes' Fairy Tales, Anderson's Fairy Tales, Ben Hur, Arabian Nights, Homer's Iliad and Odyssey, Swiss Family Robinson and two boys' stories, Omoo and Typee.

Mrs. Jenny Cousins' children have preferred historical fiction—and stories of travel. Among the number of children in her family she has found quite a variety of taste for reading but fortunately, in her position as librarian has been able to guide them. "There is a great difference," Mrs. Cousins says, between a good wholesome romance and a good wholesome romance. The latter type which is not good for young folks. She has observed that children who have been led to read the better type naturally choose the best when old enough to pick their own reading. If they take none the inferior kind of book they invariably come back disgusted with it. Taste can be trained, she believes.

Two very good new stories recommended by Mrs. Cousins are "A Lantern in the Hand" and "The Run of the Plaque" both by Bee Steiner Alonah.

Asked what type of stories are most demanded by young folks, Mrs. Cousins replied, "Mystery stories are an great demand, many of them with features which are not good for young children. They are too exciting and lead them to a warped idea of life."

The Northville library is especially well equipped with fine books for young children, thanks to the careful discrimination of Mrs. Harmon, for years president of the library board.

Mrs. J. N. McLoughlin's children seem to be great readers judging by the following list of books which are their favorites. They are especially interested in out-of-door stories: The Burgess Animal Books, The Oz Books, Bird's Christmas Carol, Black Beauty, The Secret Garden, Dr. Doolittle's stories, The Twin Books, (of various nations), Hawthorne's Wonder Book, King Arthur of the Round Table, Little Women, Little Men, Old Fashioned Girl, Heidi, Bambi, Eweles Comes Home, Kipling's Jungle Book, Greyfriar's Bobby, Lamb's Tales from Shakespeare, Ernest Thos. Seton's Animal Books, Peter Pan and Wendy, My Robins, Just David, Dick's Stories for Children, Tom Sawyer, Huckleberry Finn, Pinocchio, Treasure Island, Swiss Family Robinson, Kidnapped, Tanglewood Tales, Smokey, Patches, Palomine Lad and other of Terhune's, The Little Colonel Stories, Robin Hood and Penrod and Sam.

HERE AND NOW

Our best cause for Thanksgiving is that we are living here and now. In no land under the sun is woman freer, better treated, and more respected than in America; and never did she have larger opportunities, more equal rewards, or rosier prospects than in ours today.

Legion Notes

(By Lida Alexander in the American Legion News)

"Oh, what a daisy. A big success, financially and socially. The committee is entitled to a big hand, with the thanks of the post. We thank Mrs. Todd the Auxiliary and the high school girls who so generously helped. If you missed it, you just didn't celebrate Annuitate Day." The annual Thanksgiving party was held Monday evening November 23.

I have a lot of membership cards to sell, not many paid up as yet. Please hurry that three bucks along. We are far below our average of other years. And your discharge must be inspected and recorded.

Several of the men were invited to attend the meeting of the Exchange club at noon on Annuitate Day, where they enjoyed a delicious dinner and heard a very inspiring talk from Judge "Joe" Gillis.

A large turnout of members attended the funeral of the late Commodore Goodell. The last of the active G. A. R. members in Northville is now at rest and our firing squad paid him the last honors of a soldier.

A life club and the bowling team for our own enjoyment and relief work for the comfort of our fellow-men is the program for the near future. Attend the meetings and help on these activities.

Good news

The Plymouth avenue road up to the Seven Mile road will be made into a beautiful boulevard by the middle of next summer.

The announcement was made some time ago by the Wayne County Road commission but until it was confirmed, the fact was not published.

Another road between the railroad tracks and the trees lining the existing road will be constructed and it is thought likely that the town will decorate the ground between the two roads with flower beds.

The entire boulevard will be a beautiful thoroughfare and will be distinctly an asset to Northville.

Every Monday Morning

By "AD" SCHWENGER

What is so rare as a day in June in November?

With all of these hunters coming back from the north, their cars loaded down with bear, deer, moose and playing cards no one has any idea of how the stock market is or what the latest is on the banking situation.

Happened over in Ann Arbor Friday and while visiting friends in one of the clothing stores I saw a long-legged freshman with the label "corned" written all over his honest face walk in hesitatingly. The clerk met him pleasantly and tried to put the shaking first-year man at ease.

"Good morning, what can I do for you?"

The boy stumbled and faltered finally bursting out desperately, "Have ya got any tuxedos for a decent fellow?"

The clerk started and then realizing that the "fellow" had mixed his adjectives, buried his nose in a pile of garments to avoid unseemly hilarity.

I have on my desk an ash tray. No ordinary ash tray I assure you. A porcelain statue on the tray of a little fox, terrace gazing appreciatively at the fly which has alighted on the sub of the dog's tail, is, me, good for a laugh, or anyhow the gummyness of a smile, any time during the day.

I'm going to buy myself a flock of ash trays and contribute them to anybody with a long, grim face that I see during the day.

Just for fun I went through my desk and cleaned it out. Not results. One diary that I started a year ago, wrote five pages in and then forgot all about it. One perfectly priceless five-cent pencil sharpener, an order book (don't ask me what it is used for), a radio log book; six negatives reminiscent of last summer's vacation, a book containing 372 familiar quotations, not a one have I ever seen before, a pamphlet advising me that I can earn $10,000 in six months, dated 1928, a football schedule, three bills marked in red ink, twelve paper clips, parts of a typewriter, and a copy of that rollicking magazine which all advertising men should read regularly, "Ballyho."

All of this in one drawer, mind you.

In other drawers I have programs sections of newspapers, mats, envelopes a scrapbook, and from the curious conglomeration of material I have gathered enough material to spend a nice, lazy afternoon in sorting it out.

Also, if you see a young fellow running screaming from the Record office with his hair standing on end, you'll know that those scolarling sounds are what I've long suspected them to be—rats.

Michigan won from Minnesota but the team was not impressive in its victory.

Without Newman in the line-up the Wolverines are a team without a threat.

The opposition knowing that Hewitt cannot pass accurately condensed their defense and put seven men on the line.

In every game in which Newman has played or entered, the opposition has spread-eagled their defense retaining only six men on the line. He holds those passes of his over their heads as constant a threat as the sword of Damocles and they so concentrate attention on passes and running attack, they forget to watch for the trick plays.

Old "83", the Statue of Liberty play, the famous "talking" play and a host of others have been worked continuously by Newman during the last year and this. But since he has been left out of the line-up, not a single fake play has been successfully worked.

I'm not speaking from prejudice—at least I'm trying hard not to—but from logical facts reduced from watching every one of Michigan's home games.

Every team that loses a game or does not have what the fans call a successful season must have a "goat."

Notre Dame has probably had a goat during the past week on account of their loss to St. California. The same applies to Michigan State, Purdue and many other teams.

Newman has been made the goat for this year's Michigan team.

Everything that went wrong was conveniently placed on his shoulders the same holding true for Truslow when he led Michigan teams into defeat.

Michigan wins the majority of their games, true, but they don't play real football. They play a safe, conservative game—uninteresting to watch.

"Get six points and then hold" is their slogan which I claim is unworthy of Heston, Meehan and those worthies of other days.

Did anybody see a soap-box that I missed?

MILK AND AUTOMOBILES

E. O. Gildart, editor of the Unica Sentinel makes the following comment on a recent article in the Northville Record.

"A kiddie in Northville" was taken ill at school. "What did you eat for breakfast?" asked the teacher. Oatmeal, said the child. With milk and sugar? asked the teacher. "No no-thing you see" explained the child. "papa's been out of work so long."

The farmers of this part of the state are told that there is an overproduction of milk. No such thing! It's an underproduction of husky, happy childhood. No milk, no milk sold! No milk sold to replace the one wearing out. No, no, no job for the father of the child that needs the milk.

A vicious circle, to be broken only when the owners of worn-out cars dig into the old sock and buy the things that will start the wheels turning again.

NEW FORD IS DUE JAN. 1, IS REPORT

Further reports assuring that production of the new model of the Ford Motor Company will be started within a few days was made last week in an announcement of the Dow-Jones Service which stated that the Ford Motor Company had informed its dealers that the new car would not be available before the end of December.

"The Ford Motor Company," the announcement "read," has told its dealers that new Ford cars will not be available before the end of the year. This gives Ford dealers six or seven weeks to clean up inventories on present models. Stocks in dealers' hands and in transit are said to total less than 50,000 cars and trucks. The company has about 10,000 more units of the present model to make up.

"The Ford Motor Company will recall approximately 4,000 of its former employees, including the unemployed in Dearborn who have been promised jobs. During the last ten days the company has been taking on approximately 1,000 former employees daily.

"By December first it is expected that manufacturing operations will have attained somewhat more normal proportions. Production of parts for the new car has started on a limited scale, but will be stepped up at a progressive rate from now on. This gives Ford dealers six or seven weeks to clean up inventories on present models. Stocks in dealers' hands and in transit are said to total less than 50,000 cars and trucks. The company has about 10,000 more units of the present model to make up."

Pumpkin Preparedness

DID you ever prepare a pumpkin? If you did, you'll remember it. First you had to open it and remove the seeds; then you cut it in sections and pared it; and then you steamed it and then you mashed it. Finally, with a sigh, you realized that you and it were all ready to start.

Now it's Different

Nowadays, however, the fluffy pumpkin pulp is put in gold enamel lined cans which preserve its rich color, and all you have to do is to open the can and begin. So here is a suggestion for an easily made pumpkin pie, now that all that arduous work of preparing the pumpkin has been eliminated.

Individual Coconut Pumpkin Pies: Add one teaspoon ginger, three-fourths teaspoon cinnamon and one-half teaspoon salt to three-fourths cup sugar, and stir into one and one-half cups canned pumpkin. Add two tablespoons molasses and two tablespoons melted butter. Add two beaten eggs and two cups scalded milk. Heat mixture in double boiler until just hot, then pour into individual pastry-lined pie tins. Bake until set, having the oven 425° for the first five minutes, then 325° for the remaining time.

Cool. Cover with sweetened whipped cream, and sprinkle top thickly with coconut which has been lightly browned in the oven.

This recipe will serve eight people unless (which is very probable) some of them want two pies.

Positive Proof of FORD ECONOMY

City of Detroit purchases 137 new Ford cars
Hundreds now in use prove low cost of operation

THESE 137 new Ford cars represent one of the largest deliveries ever made to a municipality at one time.

21 radio-equipped Ford scout cars were traded in on this purchase. They had been operated day and night for two years in heavy traffic and all kinds of weather.

Their individual records ranged from 78,434 miles to 143,723 miles with a grand total of 2,233,097 miles. The operating cost of the 21 cars was 2.284 cents a mile—less than 2 1/3 cents. This cost included all fuel, oil, tires, repairs and every other item except depreciation and insurance.

Of 577 Ford cars in Detroit City service, the 300 in the Police Department traveled a total of 6,591,937 miles during the past fiscal year, at an average cost of 2.9 cents a mile.

Many claims have been made on operating costs, but here in the carefully kept motor car records of the City of Detroit is positive proof of Ford economy.

In the paragraphs above, it is seen that 21 Ford scout cars averaged less than 2 1/3 cents a mile and 300 Ford cars in all branches of Detroit Police work averaged 2.9 cents a mile!

Day and night, twenty-four hours a day, these Ford cars are in operation. Few branches of transportation demand such grueling service. The records show that low fuel and oil consumption is but one of the Ford's many economies. Ford materials, simplicity of design and accuracy in manufacturing provide unusual strength, stamina and freedom from replacements and repairs.

The individual car buyer as well as the purchasing department of a city or a business cannot afford to ignore the proved economy of the Ford car.

THE ADVENT SEASON

Beginning this Sunday we are entering the festival in the church year known as Advent. The season of Advent continues from Sunday until Christmas, included in which are the four Sundays in Advent. Where does this season get its name? It comes from the Latin word, "Advenere" which means "to come." The word Advent, therefore, means "a coming," and in the religious sense it has to do with the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. Before the Savior made His public appearance as the Redeemer, His forerunner John the Baptist served forth the message "Prepare ye the way of the Lord."

We celebrate the birth of Christ at Christmas, and during this Advent season we prepare ourselves to that there might be a glorious coming of Christ into our hearts. It is therefore a season of earnest preparation on the part of the Christian church. Christ is coming to us now in a gracious manner through His holy Word and Sacraments. He comes seeking admission into every heart. So during the Advent season, the Christian turns with new devotion to His Savior, His Word, His Church and looks forward with joy to the second coming of Christ, when He will gather His true believers unto Himself in that kingdom of eternal glory.

What then, dear friend, will this season of Advent mean to you? Will there be a gracious coming of Christ into your heart and life? May it be a season of repentance, of faith, of godly service; and then will Christmas be a season of joy and blessing as you celebrate His coming into the world to be our Savior. Let this then be your Advent prayer:

"Come into my heart Lord Jesus, Come into my heart, Lord Jesus. Divine service and Sunday school this Sunday morning this being the first Sunday in Advent at the usual time, 10 o'clock.

All the children of the Sunday school, who expect to participate in the Christmas Eve service are hereby asked to be present at the church this Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for the first rehearsal. Confirmation instruction every Saturday morning from 9 to 11 at the church hall.

The finance committee will have their regular meeting this Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the parsonage.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to worship with us!

CAMP FIRE

Saturday morning the Nonisimaha Camp Fire group opened their eyes in dismay, for it was raining. A cold and drizzly rain!

But they were soon feeling gay again for their erstwhile guardian, Rev. Schrader, did not tarry long, but hit upon the brilliant idea of having the planned wienie roast (to be held at Phoenix Park) in their front room, so the girls one by one went to the butchers and the bakers and got their wienies and their rolls, then parked themselves in Schrader's home.

They gazed with much amusement at albums of people who are supposedly very dignified now, in the most ridiculous costumes and positions imaginable.

Then music was heard from many quarters of the room—and the room. The victrola, radio, and piano Gertrude Deal and Florence Johnson gave then version of a Hawaiian dance and likewise, some of the other girls.

Then—ah then, came the refreshment! Wienies and rolls! Miss
