BANK ACTION AWAITS MOVE BY THE STATE

Local Plans Must First Be Approved by Commr. Reichert

Reorganization plans for the Northville banks are being pushed by a depositors' committee as soon as possible. Some delay has been caused by the excessive amount of work crowded upon the state banking department at this time. As soon as the plans, as worked out by the local committee can be carefully gone over by Banking Commissioner Reichert all the details will be fully explained to the depositors and the community at large. The banking department has signified its readiness to give every possible aid to this community to reorganize its banking service. The feeling shown by those approached, as to the plan, is that it will be pushed to success, and unity of spirit and action seems assured. In reason, these efforts should succeed for even a casual quarter is convincing that the three-quarters of a million dollars' worth of good clean assets in our banks should not be liquidated but should be handled in a manner to realize full value and assist the community in the present depression.

DON C. BLISS, JR., OF CHINA IS A NATIVE SON OF NORTHVILLE

An interview with Don C. Bliss, Jr., trade commissioner to Singapore, appeared in the Detroit News Monday evening. This interview is of special interest to quite a number of Northville folks who recall his parents, Don C. Bliss and Frances M. Bliss. Mr. Bliss came to this place in 1892 to have charge of the public school, and remained until 1898. Son Don was born here but his parents went to Kearney, N. J., while he was still a child. After his high school and college career he entered the consular service and has been to China and other Eastern countries for a number of years.

FORMER NORTHVILLE GIRL INJURED IN CALIFORNIA

The many friends of Mrs. Ross Ball, who resides at Redondo Beach, California, will be glad to know that she is slowly recovering from a serious automobile accident which happened near Pomona, California, when two cars collided, last October. Mr. and Mrs. Ball were riding with another couple and the other three were badly bruised and shaken, but Mrs. Ball was the only one who was seriously hurt. She was in a plaster cast for eight weeks with a crushed vertebra and also suffered from a deep gash in her head. Mrs. Ball will be remembered as Miss Louise Joslin.

CHRISTMAS BASKETS WILL BE DISTRIBUTED

The King's Daughters held a profitable meeting at the home of Mrs. E. C. Hineley Tuesday evening and completed their plans for the usual Christmas baskets to be distributed. An unusually large number will be given out this year and the committee, headed by Mrs. Wm. Safford and Mrs. Harry Blake, will be glad for any contributions from the public. Baskets will be packed at the village hall on the afternoon before Christmas. Provisions may be left there on Thursday morning if possible.

ATCHISON HOSPITAL

Woodworth was able to return home Sunday being sufficiently recovered from a major operation. Mrs. Chet Shoebright has returned to her home on South Wing street after a minor operation in the hospital. Horace Green of Yerkes avenue is patient in the hospital having suffered a stroke Monday evening. Mr. Green is 81 years of age. His daughter has been called from Owosso to be near her father. Mr. Wain of Grace street was taken to Pontiac General hospital being seriously ill with pneumonia.

COMMUNITY WILL GATHER AROUND CHRISTMAS TREE AS BAND PLAYS CAROLS

Village Council, Exchange Club and Business Men Co-operate to Provide Yuletide Event of Rejoicing

The "kids" of Northville are going to have a community Christmas tree. The holiday spirit of "peace on earth, good will to men," is going to be exemplified around a thirty-foot Yule tree which has been bought and will be decorated by the village council. Lights will be furnished free by the Detroit Edison Co. As in other years candy will be given to the boys and girls. And as a feature of remarkable interest and charm, the community high school band will render Christmas carols as only the Northville band can play them. The Exchange Club is sponsoring the giving of the candy and with the help of the business people, probably several hundred boys and girls will have an additional bit of Christmas joy brought into their lives—for some it may be one of the brightest spots of the whole holiday season. Even though the financial situation is tight, the feeling of the sponsors and the business people is that there should be no backward step in the way of expression of Christmas good will. The tree has been erected at the band stand, corner of Main and Center streets, and this will be a hallowed spot on Christmas eve when the festivities will be held. The band will march (probably at 7:30 o'clock) from the high school to the town section and proceed with its program of Christmas music, led by the band's director, Edward Head. This music alone would be worth traveling miles to hear. With favorable weather next Thursday evening will be a time of great rejoicing in Northville.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE NETS $150

The 25th annual tuberculosis Christmas Seal sale has been practically completed in Northville for this year with a total of approximately $150.00 raised. The sale was conducted through the schools as usual with the first six grades in Northville and the surrounding country schools competing for the First Aid kits offered to the room which sold the most seals and each child trying to win the boxes of candy offered by H. J. Hammelef, James Spagnuolo, C. R. Horton and L. C. Stewart, to the child selling the most seals. Louis Babbitt, second grade, won the box of candy in Northville by selling 360 seals. The third grade, Mrs. Congo teacher, won the First Aid kit, with a total of $18.61. Sincere appreciation and thanks is extended to all who helped to make this drive a success.

MORE QUESTIONS ON MILK ORDINANCE

An inquiry from Los Angeles, California concerning Northville's new milk ordinance is further evidence that Village Health Officer Dr. Wilbur H. Johnston and Village Attorney Fred J. Cochran did an excellent piece of work when they drew up the decree. The latest inquiry is but one of many received from municipalities all over the country which are seeking information as to how to construct an effective dairy statute.

RAY CASTERLINE HURT IN FALL FROM TRUCK

While climbing on the back of the Schrader truck Tuesday Ray Casterline fell to the ground when the truck started up unexpectedly throwing him to the ground. A deep wound was made in his leg just below the knee and his physician gave him two injections of anti-tetanic serum to prevent serious results. The injured member has been placed in splints and Mr. Casterline will be obliged to celebrate a very quiet Christmas. His many friends deeply regret this incident.

Centennial of Baptist Unit of Salem Federated Church Will Be Observed Sunday, Dec. 27

One hundred years of community service of the Baptist unit of the Salem Federated church will be appropriately observed Sunday, December 27, with two special programs, one beginning at 10:30 a. m. and the other at 2 p. m. It will be an occasion of historic interest. Mrs. Ruth Burnham, chairman of the centennial committee, and Mrs. Cora M. Pennell, pastor of the church, have arranged an outstanding program which will include addresses and songs very fine musical numbers. Rev. Frederick A. Burnett, pastor of the Holy Baptist church, will speak at the forenoon session and in the afternoon Capt. Edward Denniston of the Detroit House of Correction will speak. At the first service Mrs. Sarah Stanbro, now in her 85th year, who served the church as organist from the age of 16 until she was 78, will give a history of the Baptist unit. She will also officiate as organist while Mrs. Cora Gale will be the pianist, Carl Haray the violinist and Bert Stanbro the chorister. The first church was erected on the farm of Mrs. Sarah Stanbro's parents, about three-quarters of a mile west of Salem. Years later it was moved to Salem, to the site the church now occupies. Finally, it was decided to erect a new building, the old one was moved to where it now houses the village blacksmith shop. In 1920 the Lapham Methodist church members decided to combine with the Baptists. Their union has been a success, and the church continues to thrive in every field of endeavor. A history of the Methodist unit will be given at the afternoon gathering by Mrs. Jennie Smith.

At noon a dinner will be served by the Ladies Aid society and this will afford a time of reminiscence for the former pastors and friends of the church who are expected to be present for the unusual event. The complete program of the centennial—the event of a life time for many—follows:

LUNCHEON CLUBS AID GOOD WILL, BOGART TELLS ROTARIANS

The Yuletide spirit of good will pervaded the weekly meeting of the Northville Rotary club held Monday noon at the Presbyterian church house and the session was an unusually enjoyable one. "Spirited singing" led by C. R. Van Valkenburg, with Leslie G. Lee as the accompanist at the piano, furnished a fine background for some informal talks by members. E. M. Bogart, the latest to join the club emphasized the great value that luncheon clubs have in developing friendship and good will among the business and professional people. Greetings were sent to Chas. Scholtz, who, with his father, John Scholtz, is at Clermont, Florida, and sympathy to Harry B. Clark, who underwent an operation this week.

REV. JOHN M. SHANK ONCE PASTOR HERE DIES IN NEW YORK

The Rev. John M. Shank, pastor of the local Methodist church for the year 1902-04, died at home in New York, N. Y., December 9 as the result of a series of strokes. He was 76 years old and the burial was at Victor, N. Y. Rev. Mr. Shank was a specialist in work with young people in his earlier ministry and always an adept in programs for promoting the work of the church. After his pastorate in Northville he was appointed chaplain of Jackson prison. Following this he was sent to Boothbay Harbor, Maine, Cuba, Friendship and Belfast, N. Y. At the latter place he requested to be placed on the retired list and chose that city as his future home. Rev. Mr. Shank was a member of Northville Commandery No. 39. He held the office of Prelate His last visit to Northville was in 1918 when the Commandery knighted its one hundredth living member. Drivers of commercial vehicles may secure the certificate of weight which is required by the state before automobile licenses for 1932 will be granted.

The Between-Ourselves club was entertained at the home of Mrs. LeRoy Stewart Monday afternoon when a dessert luncheon preceded the playing of bridge. Each member brought a gift for some poor child who will be remembered at Christmas time.

Pre-Christmas Dinner At Stewart Home
A pretty social affair of the Christmas season was the turkey dinner of the Thursday club at the home of Mrs. LeRoy Stewart on Thursday. The large table was attractive with its centerpiece of pine and the place cards were in Christmas design. Instead of the usual presenting of gifts to each other the ladies changed their plan and brought gifts to be used in making up a Christmas basket for a needy family.

New Era Club Guests At Neal Home
The club, newly named The New Era club, eight in number, enjoyed a fine Christmas dinner at the home of Mrs. Bertha Neal Wednesday evening. Each member had a "finger in the pie" and the affair was most pleasant.

Past Matrons of O. E. S. Dine Together
The Past Matrons' club of Orient Chapter of O. E. S. enjoyed together a cooperative luncheon at the home of Mrs. Jas. Huff with Mrs. E. H. Kohler as assistant hostess on Wednesday. High School Girls Dress Dolls For Little Patients
Miss Ruth Mary Baldwin was hostess to a group of girls of the senior class of the high school on an informal tea at her home on South Wing street last Saturday afternoon. Since it was just before Christmas the girls pled their need in dressing dolls which will brighten Christmas for some little girls in the Children's ward of the University hospital. Music and plenty of visiting was happily mixed with the sewing.

Tea was served from the dining room table made "Christmasy" with polka-dot and red candles. Miss Violet Sheppard poured. Miss Ruth Roberts of this place and Miss Evelyn Dawson of Andersonville, Ind., were additional guests.

VILLAGE COUNCIL TAKES ACTION TO IMPROVE THE LOCAL SUPPLY OF WATER

Hill Spring To Be Developed in Accordance With Engineer's Plans Approved by State Board of Health

Following a careful survey, the village council on Thursday evening, December 10, took definite action looking toward the improvement of the water supply of Northville. This will be the development of the Hill spring, which is one of the three that now supply the community with water. The plan for the development has been approved by the state board of health. In response to the opinion held by many that the existing springs northwest of the village could be made to yield a sufficient and pure supply, the council recently authorized Herald F. Hamill, registered civil engineer of Plymouth, to investigate these possibilities in compliance with this action. Mr. Hamill, assisted by Earl Montgomery of the water department, made borings and other investigations. His findings were then incorporated into a report and this was submitted to the state department of health at Lansing last Thursday, December 10. Dr. L. W. Sneyd and Merrill Sweet, members of the village commission, Dr. W. H. Johnston, village health officer and Mr. Hamill, went to Lansing and showed the plans to officials of the state department of health who gave the opinion that these would solve the problem. With the approval of the state board of health the council lost no time and last week on Thursday evening, December 10, voted unanimously to go ahead with the plans as outlined by Mr. Hamill. The development, according to Mr. Hamill's report should not cost more than $1,500 and the output of the Hill spring would be increased ten times, from less than 30 gallons per minute to 300 per minute. In view of the great importance of our water supply to everyone in the community, we are giving below the report submitted by Engineer Hamill. The Hill Spring is one of the three springs from which Northville gets its present supply of water and is located about 400 feet East of the Rock road, and about half way between the Nine and Ten Mile roads. It consists of an open excavation in the top of a gravel ridge. The excavation is approximately 15 feet wide by 80 feet long and 8 feet deep from which the water is conducted toward the Village by an 8" gravity Main. The bottom half of the sides of the spring are crisscrossed with stone. This investigation covers only a report on the Hill Spring and not a comparison of costs with developments elsewhere. Certain facts were observed from visual inspection, from borings and from levels taken in the vicinity of the spring. These facts and observations will be tabulated and discussed under the following heads: (1) Can a pure supply be developed, (2) What quantity can be developed, (3) How much would it cost to develop this amount.

Description of Observations
Borings made in the bottom of the present spring disclosed that the gravel extended at least four feet below the present spring. This was as deep as we could go with our equipment as the water bearing gravel filled the hole as fast as we could dig it and we could not get below that point. The probability is that it extends much deeper. A small deposit of clay was found in the south east corner but seemed to be only a clay pocket. Borings made from the top of the ground surrounding the spring indicate that on the west end of the property which the Village has fenced in that the ordinary bank run gravel which is found in the vicinity of Northville, extends up to the surface of the ground. The top two feet however are cemented together into a hard red mass by some form of iron compound. This deposit also extends over a considerable area west of the spring. The last end consists of about three feet of muck, two feet of blue clay and below that the same bank run gravel water appears in the test holes at the same elevation that it does in the open spring. About 500 feet to the north of the spring the surface of the ground is about one foot above the level of the water in the spring. A test hole 8 feet deep was put down here. Clay was found all the way down and no ground water encountered at all. About 500 feet to the West there is a depression in the ground such that the surface of the ground at this point is only one foot above the water level in the spring. Borings here disclosed about two feet of muck and six feet of clay. The water level at this hole is about ten inches below the level of the water in the spring. Because of lack of space this story will be continued next week.

GOOD WILL SAVED THE MILFORD BANK SAYS S. M. LIDDELL

In the magazine section of the Detroit News of Sunday, December 13 there appeared an article headed "A Doctor for Sick Michigan Banks". Having heard that Sidney M. Liddell, receiver for the Northville State Savings bank, was responsible for the plan that made such a story possible, The Record asked him for a statement, which is as follows: "There is a lot of personal satisfaction in learning that the same moratorium plan which I first outlined to Judge Arthur Lacy in the case of the First State bank in Milford is preventing bank closings in other parts of the state. "Last June when the Milford bank needed a doctor, at a time when my father Mark B. Liddell, who is president and one of the founders was ill and knowing the confidence that the customers had in their bank, I proposed the moratorium plan. In order to work out the legal technicalities, I suggested employing Arthur Lacy a Detroit lawyer and gave him the plan in my home in Detroit. Several newspaper interviews including the one mentioned above seem to leave the impression that the Milford bank was saved by fine speeches and legal documents. This is only partly correct. The real underlying reason the Milford bank was saved was because of its good will and the confidence the customers had in their bank. "The bank had been founded by my father, and for almost 40 years served the public well under his active direction and guidance. It had a deserved reputation for fair dealing and its customers were not blind sheep when they subscribed to my plan of deferring withdrawal. After all, the good will of any institution is its most valuable asset. The First State bank in Milford had that asset. "All the credit for the success of the plan rightfully belongs to the loyal people of Milford who wisely stood by their bank during the darkest hours of the depression."

NORTHVILLE POULTRY MEN TAKE PRIZES

Jas. B. Tucker and A. E. Fuller Win at Detroit International

At the Detroit International Poultry, Pigeon and Rabbit show staged at the Michigan State Fair grounds, December 9 to 14, 1931 were found some outstanding birds from our best shows in this country and Canada. A fine string of Rhode Island Reds from the Chicago show was shown by Jas. B. Tucker of Northville. Burred Plymouth Rocks were another good class, the lion's share of ribbons going to Mr. Patton of Plymouth. But the hot class was the White Plymouth Rocks, where two old timers clashed. They were Fred A. Andrews of London, Ont., and A. E. Fuller of Northville. Mr. Andrews had his fine string of winners from the Canadian Royal Toronto show, where he won 1, 2, 3, 4-cocks, 1, 2, 3, 4 hens, 1, 2 cockerels, 1, 2 pullets and 1 pen, and at Detroit Andrews won 1, 3 rock, Fuller 2 cock; Fuller 1 hen; Andrews 2 hen, Andrews 1, 3 cockerel; Fuller 2 cockerel, Andrews 1 pullet, Fuller 2 pullet; Fuller 1 old pen; Andrews 1 young pen, Fuller 2 young pen; Fuller Grand Champion pen of the show, and Andrews Grand Champion pullet of the show. Fred and Ed have bred White Plymouth Rocks over 35 years and a bout like this makes life worth living. There were also three Memorial Trophies given in memory of Judges James A. Tucker, Henry P. Schwab and John H. Drevestadt. The James A. Tucker Trophy was won by A. E. Fuller for Grand Champion pen in the show White Plymouth Rocks. The Henry P. Schwab Trophy was won by Fred A. Andrews for Grand Champion Pullet of the show White Plymouth Rock. The John H. Drevestadt Trophy was won by James B. Tucker for Grand Champion cockerel of the show (Rhode Island Red). These are records to be proud of and the next battle will be staged at the Northville Wayne County fair to be held the last week in August 1932.

PARENTS TURN OUT TO WATCH YOUNGSTERS PERFORM GYM FEATS

The physical education department of the upper grades of the Northville school was on exhibition at the gym last Thursday evening. Very proudly did a large number of parents watch their blyoam, happy youngsters come onto the scene of action eager to do their part. The Parent-Teachers' association had arranged this kind of a program so that parents might see an actual demonstration of the kind of work done in these classes. Coach Harold L. Ruggles is director of the boys and Mrs. Elizabeth Wright of the girls. After a few explanatory remarks by Mr. Ruggles the fun began as one after another of the groups bounded elastically out upon the gym floor. It was very apparent that the work in the gym is heartily enjoyed. The boys' and girls' classes alternated in their appearance on the program with exhibitions, races, Newcomb by the girls and more vigorous contests by the boys. The climax of the evening was the exhibition of the recently-formed tumbling class of nearly a dozen litle-limbed boys who surprised the audience with their feats of suppleness. Great credit is due the directors of this department in our schools. A special meeting of the Village Commission held Thursday evening, December 10, 1931. Present: Pres German, Comm. Burkart, Dusenbury, Hicks, Snow and Sweet. Moved by Snow, supported by Hicks that we make the first step toward improving our water in the village as planned and outlined by Engineer and approved by State Board of Health. Carried unanimously. Moved by Dusenbury, supported by Sweet that $9,500.00 be transferred from the General Fund to the Paving Fund and $10,900.00 from the General Fund to the Sinking Fund. Carried unanimously. On motion meeting adjourned. FRED K. HEDGES, Village Clerk. See and hear the Marshall radio with built-in electric clock, complete with the new Penioid and Multi-mu tubes, $59.95.—Lucius Blake, Jeweler.

A BANK FOR NORTHVILLE

Northville is now in the presence of one of the greatest opportunities of years. If we all pull together, have patience, work out a very hard problem, sink our personal grievances and differences and have faith in each other and in the future of our town, then we can have a bank in a few weeks.

The strategic time for getting the new bank has come. It won't come quickly nor easily, but the big thing is: it can and will come, if the community agrees that we want it.

No one can deny the suffering that has come through these weeks of a bankless town, when folks couldn't get their own money to pay taxes, insurance and in some cases, even fuel to keep warm. But there will be vastly more inconvenience and suffering if we wait for the two banks to liquidate and if we don't get a new bank in the meantime.

All interests are represented on the committee that is now working out plans for the new institution. The community has faith in these men that they seek only the highest good of us all. They are not looking for any trouble to happen—they realize that there is a long, hard road ahead. But they are confident that this new plan can work—if we want it to work.

To go without a bank longer means a loss—in one way or another—to every last man, woman and child in this community. In the same way, a new bank means brighter days for every single person of the area. Is there anything we can do but go ahead? Northville can and will.

YOU CAN'T TELL

We are feeling better, thank you. Just read this from Albert D. Wiggam, noted author: "A man who has nothing to do with his face."

EDISON AND FUTURE LIFE?

Henry Ford was one of the intimate friends of Thomas Edison. He should have some real insight, not given to other men, about the great scientist's views on many things. We were interested in learning what conclusions Ford had about the inventor's belief on immortality. This quotation from Mr. Ford gives us comfort: "I remember several years ago someone asking what, in my opinion, was the greatest thing that had occurred in the last 50 years. I replied, 'Mr. Edison's conclusion that there is a future life for all of us.'"

THE BATTLE OF THE CENTURY

A contest in bridge playing between two sets of players is heralded as "the battle of the century." Bridge as a diversion is a good thing for a lot of people, very likely and undoubtedly the host of folks who "go in for it" get a lot of pleasure out of it, even though some tempers get frayed in the playing. But to make the emphasis that bridge players are fighting real battles when unemployment, distress, and hunger and cold are awaiting some earnest battling, is to be blind to conditions around us.

LAND AHEAD!

A man of wide experience, holding a responsible place in Detroit, was in the Record office a few days ago and gave us much good cheer about the future.

We told him some of the troubles our community had been having, due to the double cause of depression and bank closings, and to our surprise, he said: "Your town is far better off than most places. Northville, to my notion, is one of the very finest places in the state and has a great future. It is very beautiful around here and in every way it is a favored spot. You have nothing to worry about."

There you are! The way to find content is to sit down and count your opportunities. Outsiders who come into Northville are visibly impressed with this place. Dozens of them have told us that we have a community of unusual possibilities.

We have come through some dark days—no one knows it any better than this newspaper. But Columbus, the good old hero, charted an unknown sea to find his way to India, sailed for days when his men were ready to pitch him overboard and then one afternoon there came the startling cry: "Land Ahead!" Then America was discovered and look what has happened since. "Land is ahead" for this community if we shall all stick to the ship, and the crew and have faith and loyalty.

THE SPIRIT OF CHRISTMAS

The Record office finished writing 20,000 Christmas cards one day last week. Then these cards were sent out by the customer to many cities from coast to coast.

There's another sign of the Christmas spirit. Busy men are taking time to send these greetings of cheer and "peace on earth, good will" to other busy men. We are taking time from our business to be sentimental, to forget our worries and our rivalries. Take away sentiment from life and the going would be pretty hard.

HERE'S YOUR CHANCE

Whoever spends Christmas money in Northville in the few days left before the Yuletide holiday will do something definite and worth while for his own home town. Our business people have as good values as you can find anywhere and they will give you courtesy and service of a high order. It is these business folks, who make the backbone of a town. If we can help them and at the same time help ourselves we are doing a double good deed. There is no finer time than right now to help each other. Money spent at home goes to make a still better town.

WHO ARE PATRIOTS?

Dr. Bert R. Shurley of the Detroit board of education has raised the issue as to who is a patriot and who is guilty of "sedition." It is a question which requires just a little clear thinking.

The other day at Detroit Dr. Shurley tried to have Dr. Bergman removed from his position as teacher in the City College of Detroit because, the professor, had opposed the establishment of military training at the college. He stated that the teacher had been guilty of teaching sedition and that he was disloyal to the government—and therefore he should be punished by being "fired."

This looks to a lot of people who are just as loyal to the United States and just as patriotic (in the real sense) as Dr. Shurley, as an outrageous piece of disloyal coercion. Who set up Dr. Shurley as Supreme Court on the definition of patriots any way? Who are patriots and who are the traitors? Are we going to call Dr. Shurley guilty of sedition because he happens to oppose the prohibition law? Suppose those people who are "drvs" sit in judgment on him as he has on Dr. Bergman, and say that he is a seditionist because he opposes the 13th amendment.

It is time that the name "pacifist" is taken as a title of honor and not of ridicule as men like Dr. Shurley like to use it. The world is "sick unto death" because of sabre rattlers and jingoists. We had a host of "patriots" during the World War who are now pacifists and if we are all going to lose our jobs because we dare express our opinion on war, military training and such issues, the streets and highways will be crowded.

Fortunately Detroit has not yet been annexed as part of Russia—where you are sent to Siberia for expressing opinion against the Soviets—and Dr. Shurley did not lose his job. If he did, there would be plenty of other places waiting for him.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

To whom are you going to be "Santa Claus" this Christmas?

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

A SAFE SPOT (Rae Corbiss in The Parma News) A Sunday school may not afford many thrills but you never heard of a girl being strangled and left dead in one.

FIGURE THIS OUT (Fred D. Keister in Tonia Co. News) Each week Richard T. Baldwin publisher of The Northville Record, asks a single question of his readers. Last week he propounded this one: "Who is the most favored person in Northville?"

An hour after the paper had been put in the mails the scribe received a visit from a lady subscriber, who angrily inquired what he meant by trying to air her marital troubles in his newspaper. The editor was nonplussed, dumfounded, flabbergasted, until the lady explained that just the night before her husband had walked into a rolling pin while trying to explain his presence with another woman—and wasn't she the fair-minded person to be sitting up with him night and day, trying to nurse him back to consciousness?

HIRAM JOHNSON (Hastings Banner) Hiram Johnson has voluntarily offered to solve the troubles of this country. In characteristically modest manner, he offers himself as Republican presidential number during the election next year. We hardly believe, however, that the California senator is taken seriously outside of his own state. In official life he has won the unenviable reputation of being a perpetual grouser with a propensity for causing useless strife and dissension. Republicans haven't forgotten, either, that Hiram deserted his party for no good reason to defeat Hughes for the presidency. Senator Johnson has no more right to expect support from Republicans of this country than Alex Groesbeck has from Republicans of Michigan.

WAR MONEY (The Munising News) Even one small bad habit will sink a man morally, physically and financially. In the case of the nations of the world the small bad habit of war. It is at present a millstone about every nation's neck that no nation seems to know how to get rid of. Billions of dollars are spent every year by the nations of the world for war and the preparation of war. It is all wasted, but until we learn better how to live it all seems necessary waste. If the money spent in war and preparation for war were used in a constructive way, the whole world would be revolutionized in ten years. During the past fiscal year the United States has spent on arms $707,425,000. This would have built 18,000 miles of hard surfaced roads this past year and would have employed enough labor to have ended the depression. It would have built four million-dollar hospitals in every state in the Union and provided each with a two-and-a-half-million-dollar endowment. It would have built a $50,000 library in every county in every state in the Union and would have provided each with an endowment of $50,000.

A "SMOOTH GAME"

(W. H. Berkey in The Cassopolis Vigilant)

Have you met the "write-up" man? He's back here in our sector again, so be prepared to give him the glassy eye and request him to kindly close your door from the outside. He goes to the newspaper office and if he can arrange to have the publisher fold into one edition of his paper a four to six page supplement containing write-ups of the various business places, if he can't get the local publisher to do it he usually makes arrangements with some neighboring publisher.

Having made his distribution arrangements he sits down somewhere in front of a telephone and proceeds to call up the "merchants" about as follows: "Hello! This is the Cassopolis Vigilant. We are planning to issue a business edition of your town and want all the best business houses in it, and of course that includes yours. We have prepared a write-up of your store, and I would like to read it to you."

He then reads a stock write-up with only the name of the store and town changed from his last one in the same line, and asks the merchant to authorize its publication at $10.00. Sometimes they have asked as low as $7.50, and we have known them to get as low as $5.00, but it is easy money for the write-up man at either price. Our advice to merchants is to decline to fall for the write-up, but if you feel yourself slipping don't fall for over $5.00.

We refused an offer of fifty dollars a few days ago to merely fill in the supplement. We needed the fifty, but we couldn't be a party to taking the money from our merchants when we were convinced it would not benefit them.

THE DONKEY IN CONTROL

(A. D. Gifford in The Tuscola Co. Advertiser, Caro)

Congressman Hart newly elected to Congress from the Eighth District of Michigan, just to our west has been given a place on the Appropriations Committee. First-term members of the House rarely land on such an important body as this one and political observers generally credit the action with a desire of the Democrats to break into Michigan still more strongly and possibly to lend this state in the Democratic column in the Presidential election next year.

The Republicans have had the lunning of the country through two very trying years, while the Democrats have been living "the life of Riley." The latter have been able to sit back and criticize President Hoover and all the rest of the Administration right down the line without much fear of a comeback. If anybody asked the Democrats why they did not do something about the situation they would simply say "We are not strong enough."

But now they have a clear-cut majority in the House of Representatives, and therefore will have to assume considerable responsibility.

responsibility which we are not too sure they will welcome. Even Democrats make some mistakes, and it's just too bad in these times for anyone who makes a mistake.

It is to be hoped that the Democrats have a plan whereby the Depression may be conquered instantly. If they fail to bring prosperity quickly, after all the criticisms they have made of the Republicans, someone with a long memory is going to kid the Followers of the Donkey unmercifully—and ridicule never yet did a political party much good.

THE SMALLER THE MAN THE MORE CUSS WORDS

(Robt. D. Gifford in the Eaton Rapids Journal)

In business the biggest men rarely show irritation. If something goes wrong in the day's program, they are not surprised. They expect things to go wrong constantly. Their salaries are based on the premise that when everything is topsy-turvy and subordinates are flustered, the big man at the top will keep calm and will reason a way out of the disorder.

Little men cuss, and swear because they think it increases their standing to show impatience. The smaller the man, the larger the cuss words.

Bad temper and angry outbursts in an executive are really an expensive dissipation. They waste energy and sour the point of view. There is no accident in the fact that most executives have cultivated a calm and detached attitude toward their jobs. Keeping calm and unworried permits them to handle big work.

NEW CLASSES ASSEMBLE DURING THE NOON HOUR AT NORTHVILLE H. S.

New classes in citizenship, English, penmanship and spelling are being held during the fifth hour (noon hour) at the Northville high school. The purpose of these classes is to help the students to become better citizens, so they will speak better English, become better penmen or better spellers. The instructors of these classes are: citizenship, Mrs. Cobb; English, Mrs. Wright; penmanship and spelling, Mrs. Cook.

A student is checked up in every class. If he is a poor speller in one class a slip is turned in recommending him to the special spelling class. Then if two or three slips are turned in he is sure to be asked to join the class. The same is true for the other classes.

When a student enters the class it does not mean he is to remain all year but he remains only until he has improved. There is still some hope for the students that take the class that may be they won't be there all year. I hope not!

JUNIOR HIGH PUPILS GIVE CHARITY DANCE

The seventh, eighth and ninth grades under the leadership of Miss Cooke gave a Charity dance last Saturday, December 12, in the high school gymnasium. Those desiring admission were requested to bring articles of food rather than money for their tickets. The food thus obtained is to be distributed among the less fortunate families in Northville.

Many of the students were present. The evening was spent in dancing.

NORTHVILLE BOYS DEFEAT WALLED LAKE 31 TO 26

A basket ball game was played between the Northville freshman class and the Walled Lake second team Tuesday evening, December 8. Many of the students attended as well as a few adults. The Walled Lake first team backed up their second team.

Hoffman starred for Northville scoring 23 points. Deal and Marburger made the other two baskets. Bender played a good game at center.

Following is the freshman line-up:

Hoffman, R. F.
Deal, L. F.
Bender, C.
Marburger, R. G.
Bray, L. G.
Substitutes: Moase and Duguid
Referee: Alex Johnson

GRADE NOTES

Miss Leonardson's first grade children are bringing their old toys to be redecorated in free time. They are doing this so that the poor children may be made happy at Christmas. They have also planned to fill a basket with food and send it to some needy family.

A pupil in Miss McDonald's room is building a colonial house equipped with colonial turniture. The pupils also are making posters of transportation, furniture and clothing. Clayton Meyers has been promoted from the 4B to 4A.

Mr. Congo's pupils won the kit for selling red cross stamps. They wrote a play and presented it for the other rooms in the grade building. The name of the play was "Which Month is Best?"

NOMAD CLUB

The Nomad club met last Wednesday and had a very successful meeting.

Mrs. Chapman had a large basket of pop corn for the girls to eat, which they all enjoyed.

An interesting talk was given by Gladys Edgerton, a new student this year to Northville. The talk was about her trip to New York. She told of many interesting places such as Broadway, the Metropolitan Museum, the Stums and last but not least she told of the famous fashion stores.

The Nomad club's next speaker is Mrs. Eaton, who will tell about her trip to Washington.

SENIOR WHO'S WHO

This week we have in our "Lives of great men," Ward Clark and Robert Cousins.

Ward Clark was born west of Worden on December 17, 1912. His first years of school were spent at the Base Line school where he played football and baseball. Then one day a great change came into Ward's life—he started school at Northville in the ninth grade. Ward is now a member of the Boys' Glee club.

After graduating Ward intends to go on to college though he has not decided definitely what he will take up. (We hope for the best.)

Robert or "Bob" Cousins was born January 25, 1915 in the great metropolis of Detroit. His first grade was spent at Wingard school and then he decided to honor Northville by coming to school here for the rest of his life (?) Bob is a member of the Hi-Y and of the Debate team.

After graduating Robert plans to go to the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor and take a course in engineering.

JUNIOR ASSEMBLY ENTER-TAINS AT ASSEMBLY MEET

The junior assembly members are practicing a new method of proceeding for the weekly assembly meetings each Wednesday. They are providing their own amusement from the various resources of amateur talent among the students.

Last Wednesday the meeting was honored by a talk offered by Mrs. Ray. Following that, Mary Anita Condit gave "Butterfly" as a piano solo.

Then Roland Morris and Nelson Haver deceived and amused the gathering with several magic tricks. (Must have someone to fill Houdini's vacancy, you know?)

The program was concluded by a "Sales Talk" on the "Charity Dance" by Essie Brider.

The program lasted from 3:15 till 4:00.

AIRPLANE CLUB

Mr. Thompson's Airplane Club sent away to the Michigan Normal Airplane Supply Company in Detroit for Airplane Sites. They started to make the airplanes the night that the material came. They took the airplanes home and finished them. Some of them flew and some did not.

For every dollar's worth of material they received a pin. They received three pins. The boys gave the pins to Alfred Parmenter, president, Kenneth Coe, vice president, Earnest Racz secretary and treasurer.

SHORTHAND CLASS

Mrs. Taylor's first year shorthand class is changing from the usual year of learning shorthand. This year the student's knowledge of the subject is found out by tests called Prognostic. After each unit in the book has been covered a test of this type is given. It has been found to be a great help as it finds out all the difficulties and faults the student is having. This plan has only been in effect for about four weeks.

Some of the honored shorthand students in the first year are Wilma Rattenbury, Dorothy Ash and Marie Humphries.

"MORE AMBITIOUS PEOPLE"

Mrs. Cobb's bulletin board again boasts many interesting and worthy of mentioning features.

On the black board are books on education. These were made by the citizenship class who have prepared "guide" posts on the road to success achieved through education. Also, lives of America's successful men are depicted.

Charts showing the progress of transportation and dress were made by Evelyn Kimball. The results of this enterprising young miss certainly were successful. She also made a map of British possessions of the world presenting a study of these British colonial possessions and how they have affected England's progress.

If any of you would like to come in and see these the latch string is always out and you're to consider yourself welcome.

SENIOR WHO'S WHO

Adorning our column this week is Jewel Clark and Ruth Corey.

Jewel Clark was born four miles from Northville, on a farm and she is still living there. She started in school at Northville in the first grade. In the eighth grade she belonged to the Camp Fire Girls. During the freshman, junior and senior years she belonged to the Girls' Glee club and is now a member of the Travel club.

Jewel hasn't decided definitely as to her future plans though she would like to train for nursing or take a business course.

Ruth Corey was born in Detroit in 1915. She came from the Harms school to Northville and entered the seventh grade. She is a member of the Girls' Glee club. Ruth is taking a commercial course in high school and after graduating she plans to take a two year auditing course. It is her aim to receive a C. P. A. certificate.

NORTHVILLE H. S. LOSES TO LINCOLN CONSOLIDATED AT YPSILANTI FRIDAY

Northville high school's basketball team bowed to the experienced Lincoln Consolidated team at Ypsilanti last Friday at the Normal town of a score of 21 to 13.

The eyes of Coach Ruggles were opened to certain weak spots on his offense. The defense, though good, was not strong enough to stop the fast offensive tactics of the opposition.

The first half which ended 10-4, was characterized by much work by Hoffman, who, playing his first game, replaced Dusenbury when the latter hurt his ankle, and that of the two guards, Capt. Beach and Menzinger.

The Lincoln Consolidated offense was fast and flashy, eluding the Northville men except toward the last, when our defense tightened noticeably.

In the second half, Lincoln consolidated, getting the tip-off scored twice immediately. Dusenbury and Robinson made two points of four shots each, and Robinson, who went to guard when Dusenbury, who came back in, replacing Menzinger, who hurt his leg, played a tight, snappy game of defense.

Northville tried hard but could not prevent Lincoln Consolidated from scoring three long shots and one four on Robinson's sweatshirt and Kotler came in toward the close of the game, for Beach and Robinson and just before the final whistle, Robinson went back in time to sink a nice long shot making the final score 21-13.

Lincoln Consolidated has been playing basket ball all year and are more experienced than our boys, so their defeat was not so bad as it might have been.

Coach Ruggles expects to correct the faults of the team so that every one may expect to see different and more experienced team on the court tonight when the Orange and Black meets the Wayne County Training school.

FOOTBALL

This game, the proceeds of which went to charity, was preceded by a second team game, also won by Lincoln Consolidated, 29 to 13. This team is composed mostly of freshmen, with the exception of Thompson and Dickerson. These boys, also inexperienced, will undoubtedly profit from the game as much as the first team.

GLEE CLUBS TO GO CAROLING THIS CHRISTMAS

This year as in previous years the Glee clubs will go about the town singing Christmas Carols. There will be three glee clubs participating this Christmas instead of two, the junior and senior high, Girls' Glee club and the high school Boys' Glee club. The caroling will take place Wednesday evening, December 23, beginning at 7:30 p. m.

These songs are being sung to remind us of the great day on December 25 when our Savior was born to redeem mankind. Last year the two Girls' Glee clubs took different sections of the town. They walked and were strung so far apart that it made it very hard for them to sing and keep together. This year they are planning for each group to be together on a sled if possible. They would appreciate it if a kind farmer would let them borrow a sled and team for the occasion. It is requested that everyone who would wish to have the singers carol in front of their doors, call the school and let them know or place a lighted candle in their window. If anyone knows of a sick or shut-in person kindly call or let the school know. Remember, everyone listen for our singers the night preceding Christmas Eve!

SENIOR WHO'S WHO

Philip Grennan, Jr., of Redford, visited Raymond Denton during the past week-end.

Record Liners bring quick results.

"FACULTY WHO'S WHO"

Mr. Jacobson, our "math" teacher, places next in our biographies.

He was born in the huge town of Watton, Michigan. (Mr. Jacobson really admits its size!) There he attended school throughout the grades. For five years after this he stayed out of school and then began his work at Ferris Institute.

Having graduated from Ferris Institute, Mr. Jacobson entered the University of Michigan from here. He received his degree of Bachelor of Science and Education during his years at the university. Mr. Jacobson was elected to two honorary scholastic fraternities.

Three years ago Mr. Jacobson came to Northville to teach (his first position upon graduating from college).

He met his wife, then Miss S. A. Hanna, while she was teaching in Monroe.

Students of Northville "high" will admit Mr. Jacobson is a good "math" teacher. We wish him all kinds of success during the remainder of his teaching years.

JUNIOR DANCE

The juniors held their first dance of the year on Friday, December 4. Although the juniors were given only a short notice the dance was well attended. A group of players from the "Billie Serenaders" comprised the orchestra. To add to the excitement of the evening a number of prominent pupils tried to "crash the gate," but were refused and had to buy admission in order to get in. Each junior was supposed to bring at least one guest.

The dance lasted from 8 o'clock until 11:30. Mrs. Wright, the class advisor, acted as chaperon and Robert Christensen, the class president was in charge of the entertainment with Melvin Sterner, class secretary and treasurer assisting. A second junior dance will be announced soon.

Greet good St. Nick with toast and tea

SHOULD Santa Claus show his jovial face in your fireplace Christmas morning, don't appear astonished. Carry it off with a sang froid and nonchalance, remembering your duty as a hostess:—Serve him toast and tea.

Oh yes—he's very fond of tea, with two lumps of sugar: His smile will broaden appreciably. And be sure the toast is made electrically. He's accustomed to the best. Of course, you too will want to share these crisp, golden slices, with the butter melting in. It's a treat you can't take our word for. Put an electric toaster in your Christmas stocking, and try it for yourself!

Bring Frankincense and Myrrh— But also bring an ELECTRIC IRONER!

THE greatest gifts in days of old were rare frankincense and myrrh. You see, even in those ancient times, women had a weakness for perfumes. But to-day, women are also more practical. In this enlightened age, they display a strong penchant for labor-saving gifts: They are as likely as not to demand an electric ironer. And who can deny that this attitude is most sensible? For here is an appliance that cuts ironing time in half—and costs no more than one or two ounces of some of the exotic and expensive parfum enchanteurs.
ELECTRIC IRONERS $54.50 up
Cost of operation 6c per hour
Guaranteed Electrical Gifts are sold by your neighborhood electrical dealer, hardware dealer and department store.

Penniman Allen Theatre Northville Mich. MOTION PICTURE PROGRAMS

"HIGH STAKES" Listen, Lowell Sherman, you act this thing the way I tell you to and no back talk!

Such an experience actually happened, recently, to Alexander Kahle, Will Rogers' pit cameraman during the filming of one of the sequences of the latter's latest Fox starring picture, "Ambassador Bill" which will be shown at the Penniman Allen Theatre Saturday, December 26.

Such incidents are by no means rare in Hollywood. It is veritably a refuge for the "once-great", of all the nations of the earth. An ex-president of Mexico, for instance, now teaches singing to the waiters of the screen. An ex-barrister who once ranked among with the "big boys" of the law, now is glad for occasional but parts and extra work. An ex-Austrian ambassador is a "director of quack" pictures and so it goes.

"Ambassador Bill" for instance, many of those who attend the court reception would actually have graced such an assemblage fifteen years ago.

Imagine having a big, husky giant saunter up to you leisurely and say, "I guess you don't remember me, but

From far-away California come the following lines from Miss Anna Vanderhoof, who used to live in Northville and is well known here. Her sister, Jean Buckley, is with her and her health is much better, she writes, and plans to come home in the spring to show her loyalty to old Michigan. Miss Vanderhoof writes these verses:

OUR STATES There's a state of sunshine and flowers Where I have found health in the Sun. I have learned to love it sincerely— A place in my heart it has won, Its mountains and lakes, its sea breezes make— Its climate a mighty fine one.

But yet in the stillness of evening When my thoughts go scoping around, Then they hark themselves back to the old home— And the many glad days there, I find, There are memories of friends true, and loyal— Treasures rare, because they are love-owned.

I think of the gladness of spring— The grass with its fresh tender green, Blue violet, white snowdrop and crocus— Each promise of summer is seen, Autumn brings an abundant fulfillment— And winter much pleasure I ween.

God gave every state some rare beauty, In each one something that is new, So when you come to our California— Give love and respect that is due. We remember always, far game we play— We're loving our Michigan too.

Wm. Colbert, who has been in La Grange, Ind. for some weeks with the Gordon Baking Co., expects to move his family to that Hoosier village before Christmas. Two children, Kenneth and Ellen, have been in our public schools and there are two others who are younger, Jimmie and Baby Joan. The Colbert family will be missed from Northville.

Little Emma Williams, eight-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Williams "South Wing Street," is the first Northville victim of scarlet fever this winter. In reality the case is so light that it is called scarletina. The family is, however, to protect the public, quarantined for 21 days. There are several other children in the family who are rather chaffing under the exile from Christmas activities.

HOMEMAKER'S CORNER

BY MRS. EDITOR.

A sweet voice was singing over the radio and we lingered just a little longer till the song was finished. "Whenever they leave toward 'They better return again'."

Thoughtfully we stepped over a scattered track and trans left on the floor by a sleepy little boy, and made our way up the stairs to the rooms of the family.

How they are growing! Yesterday that child who had been at school for a few weeks, today would make them surprised happy, now, because his little body is "puffed" to a coil when we were supposed to have grown, too big for day things. At that glorious Sunday school, Christmas day, the little girl was taken down and handed by Santa Claus to other little girls—not one for us! But not for worlds would we exchange that were not entirely happy with the "practical" gifts—mittens and handkerchiefs that generosity came our way. But oh, we did want a doll!

Yes, we must all count the parties this year but Christmas is the time for some frivolities and childhood can "never return again."

Thinking this over I recalled an article in the November Good Housekeeping by Emily Newell Blair on "Books for Growing Children" from which we clip this interesting comment.

"So often parents tell me that they want books for their children, but they are 'so expensive'—I have thought of this sometimes when I have found myself in toy departments of the shops at Christmas time. I love to see the little girls stand in awe before great dolls, and the little boys run frantically around the fire engines they hope a kind Santa Claus will bring them. But I love more to see the fond look of indulgence on the faces of the parents that says as plainly as words, must be warmly and properly clothed, they must have the right environment. And why? Because the parent knows even though subconsciously that childhood can't wait for prosperous times. By the time they are even though it is soon, the child will have grown older, and something will have been a success was necessary so his development some year will have been left that may land on him later in life. He must have at the present his eye cast for the things that are good for him.

It is interesting to note that during the depression of 1930 the toy industry reported an actual increase of 10 per cent. This is a small gain but it is a gain. The toy industry is a good business. It is a business that is not affected by the depression. It is a business that is not affected by the depression. It is a business that is not affected by the depression.

Printers use glycerine which they apply to the tips of their fingers when "feeding press" so that they may grasp the large paper sheets easily.

While strolling through the print shop of the Record a visitor stopped the small 6 ounce bottle of glycerine and, seized with the sudden impulse that grips practical jokers, added with the help of his fountain pen the one word "Nitro-"

The next printer who happened to need a little of the flange-rub was busily shaking the bottle when the jokerster called his attention to the fact that the bottle was labeled Nitro-glycerine.

"Do you mean to tell me, he inquired with profound amazement, 'Do you mean to tell me that they let you use NITRO-GLYCERINE around here?'"

The printer let out a horrified yelp.

"Holy Smokes that's an explosive," he chattered, "forgoodness sake don't drop!" The druggist must have made a mistake.

Other worthy disciples of Gutenberg clustered around but when they found out what was causing the agitation began hastily hunting for open windows and doors.

The force was brought to something like a normal condition of existence when the gag was explained to them but I know several printers and apprentices who'll never attain their full growths.

The customary, "Aw, I knew it all the time," was forthcoming from several of the victims but I know better.

In any civilization or age the essential features of progress and advance are the acquisition of knowledge, and the application of such knowledge, and the stability of that civilization and the fruits thereof have their value only in so far as that knowledge continues to exist.

25 YEARS AGO

Jas A. Dubuar has been head of the oldest factory in Northville for the past twenty-five years.

The Allen M. Harmon Post of G. A. R. had its election of officers as follows: Commander, Thos. Cahoon; S. V. Geo. Goodell; J. V. John Morse; Chaplain, E. W. Summons; O. D. H. O. Wald; Surgeon, M. S. Nichols; Quartermaster, Henry M. White; S. G. Geo. Smither-ton; Guard, S. J. Lawrence.

Our educational systems in our schools, colleges and universities ought long ago to have had an influence of liberalization on our American public.

Yet there is a thrill and adventure in every day's work that takes away the edge of gloom and pessimism you too frequently meet during these times.

And if the casual reader of these lines doesn't believe that newspaper work is good training for accuracy, let him face an irate individual who has a grievance because his name has been misspelled or because his name was put in the paper or because his name wasn't put in the paper or because the paper's policy differs with his, or because—

Well, fill in your own grievance of "after ver—com" in an ard let's talk it over.

 Sunday morning, December 20, Mr. Miner will preach on the theme, "God's Eternal Quest," and the choir, under the direction of Roy G. Clark, will furnish special Christmas music. This is the last Sunday before the Christmas day and all of our people should be finding their way to the church worship and the singing of the beautiful Christmas songs.

Sunday evening at 7:30 there will be a most appropriate Christmas service. Besides the congregational singing of Christmas carols, Mrs. Miner will read Henry Van Dyke's "The Other Wise Man." The Junior choir will sing and the senior high school girls will participate in a candle light procession.

The Sunday school Christmas tree and party for the children will be conducted by Santa Claus on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock at the church house. The necessary committees have been named for the program, treats, tree and Santa, so that a most delightful time is assured for all the children of our church and Sunday school families.

The pastor, for himself personally and for our church, would like to send individual Christmas greetings to all the members and friends of our church. This we can not do this year, but we would like to take advantage of this privilege to convey to each and all our warmest and most friendly Christmas greetings and best wishes for a happy New Year.

Our Lady of Victory Church
 The ladies of the altar society had a real enjoyable Christmas party last Tuesday with a Christmas tree presents and everything. The proceeds of the party will go towards giving all the children a genuine Santa Claus visit at their party this Saturday morning, December 19.

The children's party will take place in the regular Catechism room tomorrow morning. This is their party. Next Friday, the birthday of the Christ-child. On that day they will give Him his birthday party.

The added feature of our Christmas services will be the Midnight Mass. The other Masses will be held as usual, at 8 and 10 o'clock. The choir is practicing new music, and a soul-stirring rendition of Christmas Masses and melodies or promises of Confessions will be heard on

St. Nick sneaks a snack from the ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR

YOU think old Santa doesn't need an electric refrigerator in his home up north? Be that as it may, the smart old gentleman has one—it's the first thing Mrs. Santa demanded after the honeymoon. Hardly a night goes by that he doesn't sneak down into the kitchen and help himself. And—(here's a secret he wouldn't want known!)—he never starts out on one of his long annual jaunts without first partaking of liquid refreshment, poured sparkling-clear in a tall frosty glass tinkling with ice cubes.

"Holy Night Silent Night," was written by the Rev. Jos. Mohr, assistant pastor of the church at Amsdorf in Austria in 1818. He wrote it under the spell of that Christmas eve whilst visiting the organist of the parish, Franz Gruber. Gruber immediately caught the spirit of the simple poem, and created without effort the heart-appealing melody that accompanies it. On December 23, 1817, the school at Amsdorf erected a tablet commemorating this hymn.

Baptist Church
 The series of special services came to a climax Sunday night when four adults and one child were buried with Christ in baptism. Two others await the ordinance, being detained by serious illness. The story of Lazarus the leper as told by eight young people of the Plymouth Baptist church was an effective evangelistic message. This followed the baptismal service.

The advisory board met Tuesday evening of this week and made plans for the January Church Night.

Next Sunday being the one just before Christmas, will be observed with appropriate sermon and song. The pastor, Rev. W. Roscoe Barbour, will preach on the theme, "A Shining Star and a Singing Angel," at 10:30, and at 7:30 he will preach the sermon announced for last Sunday evening "The Father's House and the Father's Country."

St. Paul's Lutheran
 HOSANNA TO THE SON OF DAVID

Hosanna is a foreign word it was used as a formula of congratulation or expression of good wishes. Literally it means "Help, Lord!" It was a prayer by which they prayed upon the blessings of heaven upon the Prince of Peace, the Messiah, who was presenting Himself to His people on Palm Sunday at Jerusalem in a spectacular demonstration.

"Hosanna was a prayer that God would bless Him, that He might ride prosperously in His majesty."

"Again the world rings with shouts of Hosanna. We are in the midst of the season of Advent and everywhere the churches sing Hosanna to the Son of David. And again it becomes the youth of Zion to take up and prolong the glad refrain. Our youth knows who Jesus Christ is. He established a throne in heaven. He brought light to the world. He brought peace to the oppressor but to the love of our Lord and Saviour He established peace with God and brought the prospect that comes by His coming.

Praying for the welfare and prosperity of Christ's kingdom, our youth will learn to be helpful in the various departments of the church's work. They will not only sing, but also help to feed the lambs of Christ's fold, to strengthen the weak lest they fall, to raise those who are fallen to speak lovingly about the great Christ and for Him to the unchurched. And God will bless their efforts and cause His name to be hallowed, His kingdom to come and His will to be done that the earth may be covered with the Savior's glory as the water covers the sea. May our Lutheran young people learn ever better to sing Hosannas to the Son of David!

Divine service and Sunday school on Sunday morning the 20th Sunday in Advent beginning at 10 o'clock. Text: John 1:9-28. Theme: "Our course." The Christian's Confession Concerning Jesus.

Sunday afternoon from 1:30 to 2 o'clock, the 11th hour of faith and fellowship broadcast by the Methodist Lutheran churches of greater Detroit over Station WXYZ.

At 2:30 o'clock this Sunday afternoon the Sunday school children will have their final rehearsal for their Christmas program.

Confirmation instruction Saturday morning from 9 to 11 a. m. in the church.

On December 24th next week, Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock, the Christmas eve service will be held. In this service the Sunday school children will present the program. And it came to pass.

The regular Christmas Day service will be held on December 25th at 10 o'clock a. m.

St. Paul's Lutheran extends a cordial invitation to you your family and friends to worship with us.

Supervisor Willard A. Ely had a good looking picture of him appear in Tuesday night's issue of the Detroit News. He was one of a group of rural supervisors who met in Detroit to ask Governor Vesper M. Brucker to call a special session of the legislature to consider relief for counties burdened with Covert road assessments. Many of our Oakland county neighbors are in dire straits because of the almost confiscatory taxes that have come from Covert roads. Twenty-three supervisors attended the meeting which passed a resolution favoring the session.
