NEW WELLS UP TO VOTERS NEXT MARCH

Northville to Vote on New Water System at Spring
Election

Northville voters will have an opportunity to pass at the spring election next March on the advisability of sinking new water wells or keeping the present improved water supply if tentative plans made by President Harry S. German and members of the village council do not go away.

Two additional lines have been laid to Hill Springs which bring in a doubled supply of water, an improvement which will, in approximately a year's time, it is estimated, pay for itself in elimination of a large part of the expense of pumping water from Fairbrook Springs.

The cost of this work as roughly estimated by Water Commissioner Earl Montgomery has been about $700. To put in two more lines, said Mr. Montgomery, will cost approximately $800. If this is done it is believed that Fairbrook Springs, believed to be the chief source of contamination, will be eliminated as a source of water supply.

In conference with H. F. Hamill, Plymouth engineer in charge of the plans, the village council thoroughly discussed the feasibility of the improvements. It was Mr. Hamill's opinion that the Hill Springs could be made to supply 250 gallons of water per minute and possibly 300.

He also declared that the pipes now carrying the water from the Hill Springs to the reservoir could stand a flow of 300 gallons per minute if the proper suction could be maintained. A test was made and workmen found that 200 gallons of water per minute, all that Hill Springs is capable of producing at present, could easily be carried to the reservoir.

The advisability of placing this for bids on contract was discussed and the decision reached by the council was that there was not sufficient time before the spring election and that the work could be done at less expense by Water Commissioner Earl Montgomery and his men.

The decision finally reached by the council was to have the work started on one more line, have the suction tested and then to have a special meeting of the council called before additional work was begun.

A petition by Roy C. and Earl J. Hallis to start another poolroom in Northville was denied by the council as being contrary to a village ordinance which allows for only one of these recreational centers for each one thousand inhabitants of Northville. There are three poolrooms in this town at present.

RECITALIST CHARMS MUSIC LOVERS HERE

Miss Beatrice Griffin has visited Northville and captivated her audience. Showing their appreciation of the best music, Northville turned out well and filled the Presbyterian church Wednesday evening. Seldom has the opportunity been given to this community to listen to a musician with such ability.

Miss Griffin is a real artist who plays with remarkable power. Utterly forgetful of her audience, she played with the soul of one who loves her art. The program was of wide variation. Perhaps especially enjoyed were Handel's Sonata in A, Schubert's Ave Maria and Kreisler's Caprice Viennois. Miss Griffin graciously responded to an encore.

It is of further interest to know that the violin which she played was a rare Stradivarius 210 years old, owned by Henry Ford and valued at $30,000.

In praising Miss Griffin's performance it is only just to include Mrs. T. P. Brennan who accompanied Miss Griffin with such perfect sympathetic feeling that the artist declared that it was "a real joy" to play with her.

Supplementing this violin recital were two groups of vocal numbers sung unusually well by Pierre Kenyon, tenor. Mr. Kenyon is "not without honor" in his own home town. He was accompanied by Mrs. O'Connor of Plymouth.

Through the generous courtesy of the musicians Northville is to be able to continue its Baby Clinic which meant so much in the conservation of our little ones. The proceeds of the concert amounted to approximately $75.00.

As a token of appreciation, Mrs. B. Freydl presented Miss Griffin

There will be no relief from the present crisis of taxation that faces Michigan until the people who pay the bills organize a crusade to cut the costs of government to the bone. Judge Arthur J. Lacy told Northville Rotarians and their guests at the regular luncheon meeting Monday at the Presbyterian church house.

Judge Lacy is the president of the National Property Owners association and has made a profound study of the whole tax situation. His talk at Rotary followed the one he gave before depositors of the two closed Northville banks.

The present crisis as it relates to taxation and the cost of government is one of major proportions, said the Detroit jurist, and it transcends all other issues. It was not a cheerful picture that the speaker presented of the condition of bankruptcy and near-collapse that threatens many utilities of state government. Judge Lacy gave some alarming figures on tax delinquency on lands which have been returned to the state. In 1928 nine million

McCulloughs Married 64 Years

Last Saturday, January 16, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. McCullough passed another milestone in their long journey through life together. It is 64 years since stalwart young "Alex" McCullough, recently over from Withby, Ont., wooed and won his bride in Lyons, Ohio.

Mr. McCullough was a skilled workman with tools and chose carriage making as his occupation. After being employed for a number of years in Ohio and later in Cass City he was sought by John Hersh of Northville to occupy a place as old stone shop which stood as a landmark in the village for years on the corner adjoining the house now occupied by Dr. H. I. Sparling.

It is 44 years since together Mr. and Mrs. McCullough came to the sons and their families planned a happy surprise to celebrate the occasion of their wedding anniversary. Sunday, the day following the real date, was chosen as the time to invite them to have dinner with their son, Cell, and his wife, next door. Unsuspecting of anything more than an ordinary family dinner Mr. and Mrs. McCullough waited in the front room of their son's home while at the rear door entered William and his family and other near relatives.

When called to dinner they were asked to follow their hostess and to their surprise were led over to their own cozy home where a bountiful dinner was spread upon their table stretched to its limit to accommodate the guests from the top shelves of their mother's cupboard, the daughter ville of Northville where they were charmed by the beauty of its situation among the hills. "Here is where we will stay and make our home," they decided. No other place has ever seemed so much like home, they declare, and over Northville's growth, progress and all its vicissitudes of fortune they have brooded with the love of parent for child and their faith has remained unshaken. "We have seen many depressions," they say, "but they always come out alright in the end."

MR. AND MRS. A. B. MCCULLOUGH

In the life of the village both Mr. and Mrs. McCullough have taken an active interest throughout their earlier years. Mr. McCullough had been honored as past master of the Masonic lodge in a former home and has held the office of high priest of the Royal Arch Masons in Northville and for years was a regular attendant.

Mrs. McCullough is an ardent member of the Lady Maccabees of which order she was for a number of years commander. She is also a member of the O. E. S. and W. R. C.

Two sons blessed this union, Cell of this place and William of Plymouth. To the wives of these sons Mr. and Mrs. McCullough have been a real father and mother and the utmost harmony of relation has existed.

Honoring their parents these two sons had hunted out the old fashioned treasured dishes and had laid the table with a regular old-time chicken dinner. In the center stood a lovely pyramid cake elaborately decorated with flowers in icing and bearing the dates 1868-1932. This cake was the gift of Mrs. Lily Appel, a close friend of years.

Around the table were gathered beside the honored ones, their two sons, Cell and William and their wives, their nine-year-old granddaughter, Dorothy, of Plymouth, a niece, Mrs. Norman Hearn and her husband, and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. De Vault and daughter, Joan, of Minneapolis, Minnesota.

The occasion was a happy one and evidenced the love for this pair who proudly bear the record of never having wasted time in discord. "We both try to be fair," said the wife of 64 years, "this is the secret of not squabbling." Many greetings and gifts added to the pleasure of the day.

With advancing years Mr. and Mrs. McCullough are retiring to the quiet of their home where they still retain their touch with the outside world, through reading and the radio. Both will have birthdays in March when Mr. McCullough will be 88 and his wife 80 years of age. Northville friends extend hearty good wishes.

Northville Recognized
An editorial from The Northville Record was published on the editorial page of The Detroit News one day last week. Half a dozen of the best known country weeklies of Michigan also re-printed Record editorials in their last issues.

Mrs. Ida Hendryx is ill at her home on Cady street.

All Northville Fair officers went to Detroit Tuesday to attend the annual meeting of the Michigan county fair association. Those interested will find the secretary's report for the 1931 Northville Wayne County Fair on page six of this week's Record.

scres were "bid on" by the state—about one-quarter of the area of the state. Two years later this figure had risen to 11,500,000 acres or one-third of the area of Michigan. This was not worthless land since this last mentioned area was assessed at two billions of dollars.

Judge Lacy continued: "I cannot overstate the tragedy that these statistics imply. It means the loss of farms and homes and the ruin of businesses and of villages, school districts, townships and other units of government which cannot function without funds. In May, 1931, there were sold for unpaid taxes more than 450,000 parcels of property, most of which were bid in by the state for want of private buyers. The property is not merely confiscated from the private owners; it becomes the property of the state and is removed from the tax roll and ceases to contribute to the maintenance of government. This throws the burden back on the shoulders of the rest of the already overburdened taxpayers, and results in an ever increasing tax delinquency year after year. In 1930, the delinquency in tax payments was nearly double that for the year 1928. Such an increase is alarming. The situation is critical and rapidly growing worse. If this state should continue in that direction at the same pace we have gone during the past ten years, we would have state socialism in less than two decades from now, because the state would own the state and there would be no such thing as the private ownership of property. This excessive cost of government is not merely confiscating property from private owners; it is also taxing the commercial value out of the rest of the property which has not yet been confiscated. It is safe to assert that there is scarcely a parcel of property anywhere within this state the value of which has not been very substantially reduced by excessive tax burdens."

"How can the costs of government be cut? We may often to advantage read a page from history, Benjamin Franklin, that great apostle of common sense and the

LACY PRESENTS PLANS FOR NEW BANK AT MEETING OF NORTHVILLE DEPOSITORS

VILLAGE TREASURER MAKES TAX REPORT

Approximately 24 per cent of the village tax roll for 1931 will be returned to the county treasurer's office for collection, announced John Lisenberger, Northville Village treasurer, this week.

The exact total of 1931 unpaid taxes is $13,638.83 as compared with $5,656.57 for 1930. The entire tax roll, not counting special assessments for 1930 was $39,000 and the entire tax roll also without special assessments for 1931 was $56,000.

In view of prevailing conditions, Northville people have made an exceptional effort to pay their taxes, declared Mr. Lisenberger, and Northville's tax income compares favorably with the incomes of other communities of the same size throughout the state.

KING'S DAUGHTERS SHOW GOOD REPORT

Marking another milestone in their history, the King's Daughters held their annual meeting at the home of Mrs. Chas. Murphy Tuesday evening. NEED FOR SPIRITUAL WORLD SAYS MINER

Men and women today have lost their grip on the fundamental realities of life, declared the Rev. F. N. Miner in a speech Wednesday noon before members of the Northville Exchange club and their guests.

Rev. Miner urged that the proper place to commence the recognition of a spiritual world: begin in the homes, the schools and the newspapers. The time has passed, he said, when it is considered unmanly to speak of religion and love. The time has arrived, he declared, to get rid of our hesitancy in speaking of these things.

"Real religion, not piety," he said, "must carry three messages: It must carry cheer and courage to those who are slaves of our mechanical system. It must proclaim the existence of a higher, spiritual order. It must carry a message of law of obedience to the ethical and spiritual laws."

"All sound financial trade," he proclaimed, "is built on the basis of solid character and a good spiritual foundation."

R. E. Boyes of the Redford Exchange club was a visitor of the Northville unit of the organization.

CHARITY FIGHT PLANS INCLUDE 40 ROUNDS AT 50c ADMISSION

A committee is working steadily on plans for Northville's Charity boxing exhibition which will be held some time within the next few weeks.

No plans, members of the committee stated, will be divulged until all arrangements have been completed. It was learned, however, that there will be approximately 40 rounds of boxing that some of the most prominent of the state's "pugs" will be on the card, and that the admission charge, in all probability, will be fifty cents.

The proceeds committee members say, over and above all expenses, will be given to local charity. The charge for admission, although the quality of the entertainment will be high, has been placed at a low figure so as to enable all who want to "do their bit" to come. Any contributions plus the fifty cents admission charge will be acceptable.

MISS ANNA SMITH DIES IN PLYMOUTH

Miss Anna M. Smith, teacher extraordinary, died suddenly at the home of C. G. Draper in Plymouth Tuesday morning, as she was getting ready to go to her work at the public school. She was 85 years old. The end came to this wonderful woman as a fitting close to 68 years of active teaching and breeding youth. The list of pupils who bear the imprint of this calm, patient and attractive teacher amounts to hundreds.

Miss Smith was the daughter of Charles and Ann Sherman Smith and was born on the old homestead in Redford township, December 5, 1846.

The first school in which Miss Smith taught was the Briggs school west of Redford. In 1868 she came to Northville and taught here for five years. In 1873 she began work in Plymouth and kept at that task through the intervening years. The job was lightened somewhat in 1920 by transferring her to the juvenile library work.

Beloved by all the pupils in the Plymouth schools for more than half a century Miss Smith continued her kindly influence in the lives of the elementary pupils by directing them in paths of good reading. Keeping pace with new methods in teaching and deep sympathy with her pupils were the secrets of her great success. Pleasantest of all her experiences was the teaching of nature study.

Miss Smith was honored by the College Woman's club as "one of Michigan's outstanding women."

Miss Smith leaves one sister, Mrs. Marcia Dubur of this city and one brother, John G. Smith, of Manteca, California.

The funeral will be held this afternoon (Friday) at two o'clock at the Presbyterian church in Northville when her former pastor, Rev. F. A. Lendrum, now pastor of the Adrian Methodist church, will officiate. Interment will be made in Oakwood cemetery on Cady street.

NEW CAR AGENCY TO OPEN HERE SOON

Announcement was made this week of the closing of the Deal and Gardner garage located on 126 W. Main street.

Equipment, tools and other paraphernalia are being sold piecemeal but plans are now being formed for the installation of a new automobile sales and service room soon.

Mr. Deal stated that his plans for the future are uncertain, and that he will either be affiliated with the new organization or he will start a garage near his home on 219 W. Main street. Mr. Gardner had no definite idea of what his future plans would be.

The game starts at 7 o'clock and there will be a small admission charge.

COMMITTEE NAMED BY ASSEMBLY

Judge Urges That Trustee
Take Over Frozen Assets
of Banks

Northville took new courage Monday when Judge Arthur J. Lacy, widely known banking authority from Detroit, presented two plans for the formation of a bank to approximately 500 depositors of the Northville State Savings bank and the Lapham State Savings bank at a mass meeting held in the Permian Allen theatre here.

The meeting was called by business men and leaders of the town. Judge Lacy prefaced his remarks concerning the two plans with a brief survey of the present economic situation and an explanation of the causes leading to the numerous bank failures throughout the country. He took occasion to explain banking and bank terms to his audience, many of whom had not previously understood the technical terms employed in speaking of the situation.

"Your banks here," he said, "are no worse off than many others. Big banks in metropolitan areas are liquid and strong but this makes it harder for the little country banks to stay open. The little banks can't take their mortgages, their frozen assets to the big city banks, and ask for cash in trade because the latter must keep their cash in their own vaults in order to remain in a constant state of liquidity."

Approximately 86 per cent of the banks in this country that have reopened, said Judge Lacy, have had to close their doors.

"You must reopen," he affirmed, "on a rock firm basis. Those who have hurried the reopening of banks have not always gone the best service to their community."

Suggests Depositors' Committee
Judge Lacy urged that the depositors be represented by a committee which should actively participate in the formulation of plans for a new bank or the reopening of

The following six were named from the floor as members of the Depositors' Committee: Elmer L. Smith, Lewis S. Vradenberg, Harry R. Richardson, John W. Kaibfleisch, Thad J. Knapp and W. H. Yerkes. None of the men named are stockholders in the closed banks but all were chosen as representative depositors who will act for the best interests of the community.

The old ones. He scored the forced liquidation as the "dumping of good mortgages, bonds and stocks on an unfair market at 'knock-down' prices." The greatest suffering falls not on the stockholders or depositors, he declared, but on those who owe money to the bank. Under forced liquidation, he continued, neither of Northville's two banks would realize more than 60 per cent on their deposits.

In the first plan presented by Judge Lacy, he suggested that a 100 per cent assessment be placed on the stockholders of the banks payable to a trust fund as a nucleus for the reformation of the bank.

Take out all of the questionable assets, he said, and place them in another fund to be liquidated over a period of time. Assuming that 30 per cent of the bank's assets are questionable, he explained, this would leave 70 per cent of healthy assets which are solid and also the stockholders' money with which to carry on business. He further suggested that no dividends be given out during the early growth of the bank because of the fact that all of the funds would be withdrawn and the bank could not carry on its work.

New Plan Evolved by Cochran
The second plan which had Judge Lacy's unqualified approval and which is new to banking circles is an adaptation of several plans and was drawn up by the Northville Village attorney, Fred J. Cochran. The plan was approved by Banking Commissioner Rudolph E. Reichert and its salient features are that it requires no moratorium and also it is in the nature of a revolving fund which will allow for the liquidation of the frozen assets of the two closed banks.

The plan, as outlined by Judge Lacy, calls for a stock subscription of $25,000 from depositors after they have received a ten per cent dividend from both of the closed banks. Also $25,000 would have to be raised, he said, by subscription alone. (Continued on last page)

WORTH HAVING

A young man in Northville that we happen to know passed a life insurance examination the other day and we saw him smile Friday when he told someone he had gotten his policy. He had a right to be happy. Insurance is one of the few assets of the nation that has come through the fires of the depression untouched. It is still worth a hundred cents on the dollar. It is a wise man or woman who gets all the insurance he or she can safely carry.

FRIENDS

If you have friends—and you have, if you are willing to pay the price of friendship—hang onto them for life. Let nothing mar a friendship—life is too short.

Acquaintances are many; friends are few. A few acquaintances more or fewer don't mean much—one friend often means everything, the difference between trouble and happiness. A real friend takes you for what you are, with all your frailties and handicaps—but he is loyal to you through thick and thin. To keep such a friend one can make most any sacrifice.

Right now, with money values blown into bits all around us, our friendships still endure the winds of adversity, the cold of misfortune and the darkness of depression. What else counts? "Stay by" your friends as would a brother. You need each other more than anything in life, next to your family.

JUMPING ON HOOVER

The popular indoor sport right now among some people seems to be lambasting President Herbert Hoover. Blame Hoover for unemployment, world unrest, for the troubles of Northville and the state of Michigan, for closed banks and poor business—sure, hit him hard, the president is in power and why doesn't he change everything anyway?

The folks who are bombarding our president for all the ills of mankind, at home and abroad, ought to take to heart what Charles G. Dawes, former vice president, has to say about his and your president. No one in the whole world, says Dawes, is doing more than Hoover to bring conditions back to normal. When the history of this depression is written no name will stand higher than that of Herbert Hoover. Personally, we'll take the word of a man like Dawes, who knows the world situation as few do, rather than the unthinking criticisms of people who know absolutely nothing of what they are talking about.

Let's be fair to Hoover. Neither you nor our president can sweep back the ocean with a broom. Let's be fair to the man whose heart is heavy with the world's grief. Let's do a little straight thinking.

UNSUNG HEROES

Here and there on every street in Northville are some folks, before whom we want to plant right now some blue flowers of gratitude. We can't call them by name because we don't know them all. Yet one of them was in the office just today. But we can tell what they are doing and of "what stuff" they are made. Listen.

Their income has been cut—maybe in two, maybe it's only a memory. But they refuse to be conquered by trouble about money and income and have adjusted their living to conditions as they are. They don't whine or complain. They "cut the corners" some way, yet they still carry on with community activities. They don't try to keep up with the Joneses—most of us have had the good sense to quit doing that. They deny themselves things that some of their neighbors demand; they pay their bills on the spot and make the Northville merchants happy. They have a less income than some of their friends who are always heavily in debt and who have sleepless nights. We don't know how they do it but they do.

No one need pity these heroes of ours. They know that some day the sun will shine again and when it does they will be out there, cheery and content, ready for the new "break" that may not be far off. "Hats off" to these Northville heroes. They cheer our hearts. They will help bring Northville back in the new era just ahead.

UNITED, WE CAN DO ANYTHING

This is an old story but it is a good time to tell it now in Northville.

Hearing his seven sons quarreling, a father called them to him. "Bring me seven sticks, boys," he said, "and tie them all together in one tight bundle." He turned to the oldest and said, "Now John, just break that for me, will you?" John took the bundle across his knee and tried to snap the sticks but failed. "Now you try, Paul," he said to another boy. Paul was big and strong but he failed to break the sticks. Then each of the other boys, in turn, tried to break the bundle. None could.

Then the wise father turned to the youngest son, Joseph and said, "Joe, cut the strings from the bundle and then break the seven sticks." The stripping of a boy did as he was asked and snapped the seven sticks in a minute.

"Boys," said the father, "if you stick together, you will never be broken; if you disagree and separate, you all will be broken."

If Northville folks stick together, they can "lick the world." If they fail to cooperate and fail to be loyal to each other, we shall be defeated and driven back. If ever we needed to pull together that time is now.

BE GLAD IT'S IN THE BANK

A lot of people are beginning to see that it may be a good thing for them that their money is locked up in closed banks—right here in Northville. So far no real money, except of course, lack of interest. Payments since the banks closed—has been lost and if there is any loss later it certainly shouldn't be very great.

Why do we say this? Just because of this fact: That almost one and a half millions on deposit in the Lapham and Northville State Savings banks might have been spent for stocks or bonds which might have proved to be a complete or a partial loss. It could easily have been put into real estate and depreciated, as much real estate has, fifty per cent or more. It might have gone for other bad investments and all of it or at least a good part of it, be gone forever. The only loss so far on this million and a half is the stopping of interest (since last June and September) and the inconvenience (and in some cases hardship) of not being able to use the money. But the big thing to remember—and for which we may be very grateful later when the skies clear, is that this vast sum of money hasn't gone into the rat-hole of hopeless investment and of "get rich quick" schemes of stocks and bonds.

Here is just one mild case of where one Northville man wishes he hadn't taken $200 from one of the banks with which to buy some stock that looked unusually good. He told us yesterday that he put in $200 and now today the stock is worth just $45. Another man, who knows both the banking and the stock market situations, jotted down a list of only six stock companies which took money from people in this and nearby places to the tune of half a million dollars. If it wouldn't call up unpleasant memories, we would just enumerate those six companies but no good would come of it—those who invested in them say: "Never again."

Wouldn't it be a wonderful thing if the money Northville folks put into these worthless stocks were safe in the two banks here?

Yes, as bad as bank closings have been—and no business realizes more than this newspaper how serious they are—we may yet be glad that our money is still safe there and not invested in places where it might shrink one half or more. Like the prodigal son, our million and a half is going to come home one of these days, safe and sound and ready to take off its coat and go to work. Help speed that day.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

You say you are tolerant and fair. Are you?

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

WOMEN AND CASH

(Rae Corliss in the Parma News)

The women of the country may, many of them, be short of cash, but they will enjoy contemplating, from the viewpoint of womanly pride, that 41 per cent of the individual wealth of this country belongs to women, that out of every 70 estates left by men, fifty go to women; that more women leave their money to women than to men; that more than half the stockholders in many large corporations are women, that almost as many women as men pay income taxes; and that there are more women in this country than men with incomes over a million. The shrewd advertisers write their copy largely for the woman's eye, because they know the women control the major part of the buying. The men may think they are running things but the women just let them think it.

"SNEAKING" MORALITY

(Muriel H. De Foe in Charlotte Republican-Tribune)

Offered a cigarette in a public place in Lansing a local woman replied, "Supposing some one from home should come in?" This woman has a young son who may some day exemplify this "sneaking" morality in a way that shall make her shudder. If a thing is disgraceful its moral effect and influence on yourself and others is not changed by measurement or location.

Incidentally this particular woman is one who cannot publicly afford to have a "double standard of morals." If a girl or woman isn't willing to smoke openly it is not a good habit to adopt. Your conscience "goes places" with you. Remember that, young lady.

SUM WINTER

(Chet H. Howell in The Chesaning Argus)

Winter ice spearing through the ice is allowable this month and February—but so far there "ain't" no ice.

Folks that hev been going to Florida and California can stay home and enjoy all the comforts of the south and west coasts.

Michigan winter resorts that are planning winter sports are waiting for winter.

SEN. CHAS. A. SINK MAY BE CANDIDATE FOR LIEUT. GOV.

(By Lisle Alexander in the Legion News)

There are now only 52 members of this post receiving this paper and the Legion Monthly. Why? Because only 1032 dues and the publications are discontinued the first of the year. What are we going to do to remedy that?

The commander and myself have tickets for the big mid-winter Snow Ball and Mardi-Gras to be sponsored by the Wayne County Council and held at the Masonic Temple, Detroit, the night of January 23. The tickets are only 75 cents a copy and a great bargain in good times. Don't miss it.

Are you trying to get a new member or bring an old one back in the fold? Please do.

Are you working hard if placed on a committee? You should.

Are you going to attend that next meeting Tuesday, January 26? You will? Good!

Rev. and Mrs. Frank N. Purdy of Newburg were in Northville calling on their daughter, Mrs. Elton Morley, who is a patient in Atchison hospital.

Lightning, or better the snow strikes them, and winter culls.

But it'll have to cum within a month or two and in the meantime lots of folks is satisfied like, that the weather is good.

GRAFT IN MACOMB

(Utica Sentinel)

Macomb county officials must now accept their pay in scrip Governor Brucker specified that the proceeds from the purchase of $315,000 in Macomb county bonds must be spent for welfare relief. Had there been less graft in Macomb officialdom a few years since, there might be less scrip now. And if the voters had taken their franchise more seriously, there would have been less graft.

RESIDENT UPHOLDS SCHOOL BOARD ON PRIZE FIGHT ISSUE

Editor Record

The sentiment of the community will approve the decision of the school board in not allowing a prize fight to be held in the gym of the school building.

There are varying opinions on the question as compared with other like items but we have no wish or purpose to argue with anyone about it.

The board did the right thing and the citizens agree.

"AND, Mr. Schwenger, I can practically assure you a handsome profit with only a small outlay of say, a hundred or a hundred and a quarter dollars. We have definite information from the RIGHT source that Whittier Consolidated is due for a nice rise of 10 or 15 points. By the way, not meaning to be offensive or too personal, HAVE you a hundred dollars?"

Thusly in honeyed accents did a stock and bonds salesman waste perfectly good money to call me on the phone from Chicago and give me a sales talk that was really good.

My how that boy did work! And all the time he had as much chance of getting a hundred simoleans from me as I have of flying to the moon in a water bucket.

Caught this bon mot in the columns of the Detroit Free Press Sunday.

One of those plaques in the neck we presume.

And as this piece of copy goes in to the waiting arms of the linotype operator, we're about to attend the meeting which will tell us how to form a new bank. Attendees, vote? And tell you I want to, that's good news!

Looking at the horoscope, Neise Seifrieder, born on August 29—you guess the year.

A child of this date is a routine worker with efforts organized and an ambition to excel. Be careful to select your main interest, because it may be your great interest. You are inclined to a study of nature.

We think that a study of deer and fish in their natural habitat is Neise's nature study.

Now take Doc Alexander. Oh very well, we'll take him if you insist. He celebrated his birthday on January 24. For him the stars say, "You have faith in your fellow-workers, but do not seek an advancement and you will avoid this appointment. Your best work will come from judicious or military enterprises. You are possessed of natural wisdom and are particularly brilliant at repartee."

P. T. A. NOTES

As a result of a membership drive by various "room mothers" the January meeting of the association was the biggest of the year. The program was in charge of Mrs. P. A. Hauser and the theme, "Health."

Mrs. Pierce of Detroit reviewed the value and efficiency of visual piano and demonstrated a little of the method used.

Dr. Johnson, village health officer, gave a survey of the milk phase of the health work in the school. This was compiled by use of definite figures of monthly weights and reports by teachers as to the progress of children taking milk. Dr. Johnson also answered questions concerning the toxin anti-toxin project.

Mrs. Theimer of the Detroit Dairy and Food Council presented her talk on "Spending the Food Dollar Wisely," and "A Low Cost Budget" very delightfully. For this sum of $6.80 she had on exhibit the food she has purchased for the week's supply for a family of five. Her sincerity in her task, her travels and her experiences were interestingly told and association members left the meeting not at all bored with another health program.

Mrs. Reed's room received the first prize picture for the largest attendance of parents and Mrs. Eaton's room the second.

West Point Park

The Sunday school is increasing in numbers, the church being almost full Sunday. The superintendent, officers and teachers have a responsibility in helping to educate these boys and girls so that they will make good men and women.

Ernestine Wolfe spent Sunday with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Phelps.

Mrs. Mansfield is very poorly this winter.

The dance Saturday evening was sponsored by Elmer Heichman and Clyde Hobbs. They report a good time and nice crowd.

The child care and training class was held at the home of Mrs. Thomas Gillespie Monday afternoon. Miss Dubord, home demonstration agent, gave a very fine talk on child training.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Millum and children, Josephine, Raymond, Jr., and Earl, and Mrs. Millum's mother, Mrs. Harris, all living in Redford, and Mrs. C. Wolfe spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wolfe and enjoyed a chicken dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Lorien, formerly of this district and now living in Novi, welcomed a newcomer. It is a boy. Congratulations from friends here.

West Point Park residents are fortunate in having the Detroit Library Commission provide books through the county service plan. All residents in Wayne county can have the use of this library. These books can be found in Homer Coleman's store on the corner of Seven Mile and Farmington roads.

Mrs. Frank Bradley, Mrs. Charles Pettibone, Mrs. Walter Coon and Mrs. Mahlon Bradley were guests and enjoyed a lunch Tuesday with Mrs. W. F. Lapham of Royal Oak. Mr. and Mrs. James Eastman, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gerge and Mrs. Berchem attended the funeral of their former neighbor, Mrs. Elizabeth McDermott, Sunday in Farmington.

Mrs. Rose Gunn is chosen on the jury this month.

Mrs. Ted Cavell and daughter, Lillian Joan, were visitors for a few days with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Phelps.

A birthday party was given by Mrs. L. B. Gilbert in honor of her daughter, Doris. The invited guests were Verna and Fern Woodley, Marie and Lucile Carter, Geraldine Oulette, Mildred Bolyard, Dorothy Smith. Games were played and the mother of the hostess served a delicious lunch. Each one wished many more birthdays for Doris.

Miss Dorothy Gerge has chosen her profession, having commenced training for nursing in Grace hospital.

The spelling contest Friday evening in the community hall was given by the young people's class. The champions, Miss Fern Ault and Miss Betty Randall, chose sides. Mr. Johnson, high school teacher, pronounced the words. There were many good spellers on both sides. Marjory Heichman won the prize. Games were enjoyed by young and old and a lunch of cake and cocoa was served to those present.

The intermediate class of girls in Mrs. A. Hamps class in school held their business meeting with Marjory Heichman, at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Heichman. They elected officers for the ensuing year, as follows: president, Viola Wolfe; vice president, June Ault; secretary, Marjory Heichman; treasurer, Jane Adams. A dainty lunch was served by the hostess.

Mrs. M. A. Bourne has been a Detroit visitor all week. Claude Raley has been laid up for a week with a sprained ankle.

"CUT TAXES" - LACY

for a word to the wise is sufficient. He then counselled them against extravagance, waste, and excessive borrowing. He urged economy, thrift and industry. He advised them against buying things they did not need and against incurring obligations beyond their ability to pay.

May I commend to your serious consideration and application to the present high costs of government the sayings of Poor Richard which Father Abraham quoted to them:

"Waste makes want."

"He that goes a-borrowing goes a-sorrowing."

"Is hard for an empty bag to stand upright."

"When the wells dry, they know the worth of water."

"Silks and satins put out the kitchen fire."

"The artificial wants of mankind become more numerous than the natural."

"But what thou hast no need of, and art long thou shalt sell thy necessities."

"When you run into debt, you give another power over your liberties."

"Be frugal and be free."

"In all units of government, from the lowest to the highest, we have violated these truths. We have indulged in a sort of extravagance. We have been on a spending and borrowing debauch. We have indulged in waste, ornamental expense, excessive borrowings and government by deficit. We have gone beyond our ability to pay. We have treated the public purse as bottomless and the public credit and resources as inexhaustible. Everywhere, the people have demanded and applauded costly public service. The abstract desire of everybody for economy has been nullified by specific demands for great expense. We have neglected to modernize the structure of state and local government. In a large measure we have retained the archaic structure of government which we inherited from the horse and buggy age, and confining the enormous administrative and overhead expense of a needless multiplicity of undersized, underpopulation and underfinanced inefficient units of local government. We have neglected to stabilize public employment, improvements and expenditures. We have mortgaged the future to enrich the present, and Time, in its relentless march, has brought us to the day of reckoning."

The extravagance of the people has brought many small units of government near the point of collapse, stated Judge Lacy. "We are apt to see receivers in Michigan communities in the next twelve months," he said as he told of the "saturnalia of spending."

Judge Lacy attacked the present system of government by small units such as townships and school districts as antiquated and outworn. There are over 8,100 of these small units and there are 43,000 officers that govern them. There is one elective officer to about every 13 voters. This system of small units was fitted for the horse and buggy age," the taxation student said but it is utterly wrong for the automobile age when the motorist can cross the entire county in about half an hour. This system has come near the point of collapse and we find the spectacle of township passing its burden to the county, the county handing it to the state or the federal government. "The people are losing self government today faster than ever and if we keep on we shall soon have a governmental bread line."

Judge Lacy gave three definite suggestions for cutting the cost of

"SECRET SERVICE"

Set in a background of grand drama—the Civil War, days when thousands of spies filtered through opposing lines—RKO-Radio Pictures "Secret Service" will be shown Sunday, January 24 at the Penniman Allen theatre with Richard Dix in another glamorous role.

Dix, who set the fashion in virile drama with "Cimarron," and again with "Young Donovan's Kid," will be seen as the adventure-loving Union spy who volunteers to join with death in an heroic effort to stem the Confederate advance.

A romance in old Virginia with a daughter of a Southern general, the constant menace of discovery, suspicion, tragedy and a dramatic conclusion, featuring this film based on the more famous play by William Gillette.

Dix is again seen with Shirley Grey who supported him in "The Public Defender." Others cast are Gavin Gordon, William Post, Jr., Nance O'Neill and Fred Warren.

The film is a faithful reproduction of the play, authentically created with reference to historical phases of the great conflict between the North and the South.

Walter Ruppen directed.

"A HOUSE DIVIDED"

Strikingly dramatic action characterizes "A House Divided." Universal's powerful story which is to be shown at the Penniman Allen theatre Saturday January 30 with Walter Huston, Kent Douglas and Helen Chandler in the featured roles.

The story is laid on the storm-tossed Northwestern coast of the United States, where a thin veneer of civilization covers the elemental passions of both men and women.

A situation fraught with possibilities is brought about when a wife through an advertisement in a matrimonial magazine, and the bride promptly falls in love with this son. This boy has a sensitive nature and is the very antithesis of his father. The struggle between these two brings into play all the moral, psychological and physical force of both.

Walter Huston is the father, Kent Douglas is his son and Helen Chandler is the "mail-order bride," and these three players bring unique talents to the depiction of these remarkable characters who become involved in this decided variation of the eternal triangle. Other important roles are played by Vivian Oakland and Frank Hagney. The picture was directed by William Wyler from a magazine story by Olive Edens.

Miss Jean MacNicol visited over the week-end at the home of her sister, Mrs. Hugh C. Chaplin, Fairbrook street, being returned to the school where she teaches, on Sunday afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. Chaplin.

government. Abolishment of the tax on land for state purposes; revision of the state constitution to meet modern conditions; and a halt in road building.

Father Jos. G. Schuler, president of the club, was in charge of the meeting and Judge Lacy was presented by his friend, Supt. Thad J. Knapp. Among the guests present were Boyez Denard, Monroe banker; Robert Brown of Mt. Clemens, former Detroit Edison manager here; E. E. Brown of Ann Arbor; Paul Hayward and Paul Weidman of Plymouth; and Fred J. Cochran, Clinton Wilber, Carl Schoultz, E. H. Lapham, Elmer Smith, N. C. Schrader and Sidney Liddell of Northville.

STRING ORCHESTRA PLAYS AT SENIOR PLAY

The string section of the orchestra, which has been practicing separately for the last few weeks, made its first appearance at the senior play Saturday night. This section of the orchestra has grown considerably both in numbers and in quality of work. There were only seven violins last year and this year there are eleven in the orchestra and five beginners who will be promoted to the orchestra in a few weeks. In addition three cellos have made their appearance, where there was none last year. Mr. Lee, the director, hopes to have a string section of at least twenty-five pieces by the end of the year. School credit is given for this work.

The present members of the string orchestra are: pianist, Kathleen Rink; first violins, Ernest Rasc, Frances Cousins, Dorothy Meener, Wendell Dickinson; second violins, Marie Humphries, Evelyn Ambler, Juana Elkington; third violins, Charles Strantz, Matilda Hill, Eugene Carmen; Verna Upthegrove; cellos, Violet Johnson, Isabelle Tibble and Nathan Kirby. The beginners who are hoping to enter the orchestra soon are violinists, Marguerite Daugherty, Kathleen Runk, Geraldine Ware, Barbara Simola and Benny Zayta.

HIGH SCHOOL TO PUBLISH ANNUAL AGAIN THIS YEAR

The annual is going to be put out with full force this spring despite the depression. The student council held a meeting last week and officers were elected to take charge of each department.

The editor-in-chief is Herbert Berendt, who we know will do his duty in accomplishing the difficult task. He also has a very good helper, Bob Christenson.

There were two chosen for the place of business manager: Jane Lawrence of the twelfth grade and Warner Neal of the eleventh grade. We have two athletic editors, Shirley Preston for the girls activities and Charles Menzinger for the boys.

The art editor is Demetra Mills, and the joke editor is Eddie Bender. Each of the high school classes has one person to write its happenings for the year. They are:

Freshman—Winifred McCordie
Junior—Gertrude Deal
Senior—Doris Leavenworth.

With this group of willing workers we are sure to have a good annual. Each class voted that if they were to have their pictures put in the annual, they were to give ten cents.

The thing now that we can do in helping the school is to buy the magazine when it is published. It will be full of interesting pictures, jokes and events.

So let's pull together and cooperate.

GRADE NOTES

Both of the kindergarten classes are working on a circus project, while with it the afternoon section is having a book store project.

The first grade made tooth brushes to remind them to brush their teeth. They also made book marks.

The P. T. A. picture was awarded to Mrs. Congo's second grade this month. They are studying the life of the Eskimos, reading stories concerning them and making posters.

The fifth graders are making note books on Europe.

Mrs. Lewis Carmen was a sixth grade visitor Friday afternoon. In geography they are making projects on the California products, etc. Some made flour and salt maps.

NORTHVILLE DEBATES YPSILANTI, THERE, TODAY

Northville is holding its next league debate with Lincoln Consolidated at Ypsilanti. The question is: Resolved, "That the state of Michigan should enact legislation providing for a system of compulsory unemployment insurance." Northville will again uphold the affirmative.

There will be three judges and the speakers for Northville are Catherine Stalter, Wilma Rattenbury and Robert Cousins. Catherine Stalter will give the rebuttal, which she has done in the last two debates. The standing of Northville is: won two and lost one. For Ypsilanti the standing is: won two and lost one. This debate will determine which team is the one to remain in the series.

This is an operetta for mixed voices; the music is written by Geoffrey O'Hara and the libretto by Geoffrey F. Morgan. There are two casts of girls and one cast of boys. The casts consist of the following Glee club members:

McDonald, a running expert, Henry Hoffman; Joshua Scroggins, the deck hand on the airplane, Alfred Parmehor; Don Pedro De Garvaha, president of Santa Delmonica, Merle Fraser; Carmelita, his young and charming daughter, (soprano lead), Madeline Haystead and Bernice Clark, Pepita, her friend and companion, Gertrude Deal and Pauline Masters; Rosa Escondido, a matronly duennita, Marian Turnbull and Mary Louise Boyden; Don Jose Del Malillo, an elderly suitor, Maurice Gales; Francisco Bonadio, a revolutionary conspirator, Ernest Rasc; Maria Bonadio, his wife, Eleanor Grosvenor and Florence Johnson; Sgt. NORTHVILLE BREAKS EVEN WITH PLYMOUTH

Northville alternately won and lost to Plymouth here last Friday evening. The second team won, 17-15, and the first team lost 34-19. Both games were the finest exhibitions of basket ball seen here this year and were played before the largest crowd in years, about 500 people.

In the first team game Northville thought out-played by Plymouth, put up a fine and commendable battle. Although Plymouth had the breaks and their shooting was very accurate, the score would not indicate the quality of basket ball played.

The first half ended 19-11 in favor of Plymouth and it was not until the second period that Northville managed to score. In the first quarter Northville committed four personal fouls and was very slow getting under way. Plymouth, with a nice offensive, battered them unmercifully.

In the second quarter, Northville finally got under way, scoring eleven points. Of these, Dusenbury, who had not started the game on account of a very bad ankle, and who came in at the close of the first quarter, made several. Throughout the whole game, in fact, Dusenbury gave an excellent account of himself, in spite of his handicap sinking five out of five foul shots, for a total of 13 points.

In this second quarter, which was undoubtedly the fastest period of the game, Northville, while staging her rally, committed seven personal fouls, all of which resulted in a score for the opposing team. The passing was accurate on both sides, the dribbling fast and both teams fought gallantly.

Both sides started the same line-ups in the second half, Plymouth opening with two baskets. This, coupled with our boys' shooting being erratic as was Plymouth's accuracy, the Blue and White array overwhelmingly took the quarter 30-15.

The fourth period was no more helpful than the others. With everyone fighting for all he was worth, Northville tried hard, but Plymouth held. The stream and agony was ended with the timer's whistle, the final score being 34-19 in favor of Plymouth.

The second team game was just as interesting and more enjoyable to the Orange and Black supporters, than was the first. Kerr played outstandingly and received splendid support and team work.

The second team boys have had a far more successful season than the first team, only losing their first game. Maybe they should get their chance at a big game—who knows?

SENIOR WHO'S WHO

Next on the Senior Who's Who list are Duncan Fry and Arthur Hills.

Duncan Fry was born in Detroit in January, 1914. His first school year was spent at Eastbrook school in Detroit. Then he moved to Northville and attended Northville school up to the sixth grade. At this time he, with his parents, moved to Florida. In Florida he spent three years at the West Palm Beach grade school. Continuing his journey, he returned to Northville and is completing high school here. Duncan has been active in all types of sports having been on the basketball, basket ball and foot ball teams. He is now the manager of the boys' basket ball team. He is a member of the H-Y, N-club and of the Student Council.

After graduating, Duncan has not definitely decided what he will do. Arthur Hills was born in Northville October 20, 1914. Arthur has found Northville a real place in which to live and has lived here all his life (so far).

He was on the golf team in his freshman year and took a major part in the senior play.

When Arthur graduates he intends to enter the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor.

BAND CONCERT COMING

The Northville Community band is working hard in preparation for its annual winter concert to be given on the evening of Wednesday, February 12, in the high school gymnasium. Fifty musical instruments will lead forth their fine music and a good crowd is anticipated. Half of the proceeds will be donated to the high school seniors for their Washington trip. An additional feature of interest will be violin solos by Mrs. Harry Blake.

The book I wish to review this week is the third volume of the Jalpa saga by Mazo de la Roche, a novel which is as completely absorbing as her earlier stories of the Whiteoaks. This book is a first rate novel singularly rich in lore, intensely fascinating. It has strength, good style, a richness that is wholesome; the technique is firm and sound and the story is vividly told.

The story deals with one of the Whiteoaks, who on his twenty-first birthday, is faced with the difficulty of how best to manage a small amount of money that has come to him by inheritance. This young Finch, for that is his name, has a career ahead of him and needs the small fortune to realize his ambition. He also has brothers, sisters and other relatives, of whose claim

A large party of her school friends gathered at the home of Winifred McCordie to celebrate her birthday. Dancing and games were enjoyed by all.

While delivering advertisements for the senior play Ruth Mary Baldwin had the misfortune to fall and tear a ligament in her foot. She will be absent from school for some time. Here's hoping she will recover soon.

Sally Richardson and eighteen friends enjoyed the former's fifteenth birthday at her home. A good time was had by all.

At the evening service, the minister will conduct a series on "The Moral and Religious Worth of Shakespeare." His talk on Sunday evening will center around the characters set forth in "King Lear," "Othello" and "Hamlet." These talks should prove quite beneficial to the individuals contemplating a study of the plays.

St. Paul's Lutheran

DOING THE SERMON

It has been correctly said that pulpit and pew must cooperate, otherwise it is impossible to do effective church-work. A pastor's sermon may be ever so good; if the members sitting in the pews do not go out and apply the sermon to their lives, it is lost. Therefore the apostle says: "Be ye doers of the Word and not hearers only."

This brings to mind the story of an old lady. As she came out of the church one Sunday at the close of the service, a friend, passing by, asked her, "Why is the sermon done already?"

"No," she replied "it isn't done. It's only preached. I'm going out to do some of it myself as soon as I can."

A congregation, though ever so small, made-up of such people, cannot help being productive of much good.

It is indeed a pleasure to be greeted by such a large attendance as we have had during the past few weeks. Let us all continue our faithfulness to the Word of God.

Blessed are all they that hear the Word of God and keep it.

At the church and Sunday school this Sunday morning at the 10:30 a. m. service, the pastor will preach the sermon.

SENIOR CLASS PRESENTS "SEVENTEEN"

The senior class of the high school presented "Seventeen," under the direction of Coraline McDowell on Saturday, January 16. It will be presented by another cast this evening.

The members of the first cast did exceptionally well in portraying the parts of this well known play by Booth Tarkington. Credit is due Arthur Hills, who took the part of "Willie Baxter," a boy of seventeen. Playing opposite him was Violet Sheppard, taking the part of "Lois Pratt," the baby-talk lady. A humorous negro part was taken by Don Robinson. His negro dialect was very entertaining. Isadore Keeney as "Jane Baxter," amused the audience with her childish ways.

Following are the casts of characters, the first one named being the one who played last Saturday night and the other one being the one who will take part this evening: Mr. Baxter, Charles Ruffenburg; Duncan Fry; Jane Baxter, Isadore Keeney; Jane Lawrence, Mrs. Baxter; Arline Richardson; Doris Leavenworth; Willie Baxter, Arthur Hills; Charles Menzinger; Johnnie Watson; Wayne Thompson, Robert Cousins; May Parcher; Frances Bacon; Gladys Eckburg; Lola Pratt; Violet Sheppard; Ruth Mary Baldwin; Gessis; Don Robinson; Alex Johnson; Joe Bullitt; Charles Carington; Martin Sommers; Mr. Parcher; Ward Van Atta; Olan Brooks; George Cropper; Elden Biery; Ethel Bole; Catherine Stalter; Geraldine Ferguson; Walthe Banks; Marvin Tibble; Mary Brooks; Demetra Mills; Shirley Preston.

Producing Staff: Prompter, Ella Tibble; Properties, Marvin Tibble; Tickets, Jane Lawrence; Programs, Helen Fleischman, Geraldine Ferguson; Publicity, Ward Van Atta; Ushers, Shirley Preston.

Appreciations: Tuxedo, Orlov G. Owen; Schrader Bros., Properties; Orchestra, directed by Leslie G. Lee, Music.

Produced by special arrangement with the Samuel French publishing company.

The play is being put on to earn money toward the proposed Washington trip. A large audience witnessed the play Saturday night. Everyone turn out tonight as it will be presented by a different cast. Help the seniors to Washington.

Obituary

Mrs. S. F. Dimmock

The deaths of last week reported the death at New Haven, Michigan of Mrs. S. F. Dimmock, wife of Rev. Sidney F. Dimmock, former pastor of the Baptist church.

Dr. Fred Henry

The death of Dr. Fred Henry in Grace hospital, Detroit, last week Friday, removes the last of a trio of brothers who were well known in Northville.

Dr. Tom and Dr. Dan as they were affectionately known to hundreds of people practiced medicine in this section for a number of years. Each had a great following and Dr. Tom was president of the village for two terms.

The three brothers were in frequent conference when medical or surgical cases called for a better diagnosis than either could make alone.

Mrs. T. B. Henry is a sister-in-law of Dr. Fred.

ATCHISON HOSPITAL

Mrs. Van Tassel, who is a medical patient in the hospital, is making good recovery.

A daughter, Margaret Jean, was born January 13 to Mr. and Mrs. Elton Moyer. Mrs. Moyer is a daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Frank Purdy of Newburg.

It is hoped that every member of the D. A. R. and all other patriotic citizens of Northville will put out their flags in celebration of Michigan Day, Tuesday, January 26.

Bible school at 11:45 a. m. Cottage prayer meeting on Wednesday evening at 7:30.

On Thursday, January 28, Mrs. Rosa Haray will entertain the Ladies' Aid society of the Federated church at her home on the Seven Mile road. Dinner will be served at noon.

LACY PRESENTS PLANS FOR BANK

This would give the new bank $50,000 working capital, he explained, and together with the new deposits would be sufficient with which to start the new bank.

The new bank, continued Judge Lacy, would begin to function without any frozen assets and would have approximately $50,000 with which to do business. He suggested that it be named the "Depositors State Savings Bank."

Revolving Fund and Thaw Assets

Although 50 per cent of that money would have to be kept liquid in order to accommodate the immediate needs of the community, he asserted, the rest of the money could be used to buy up the assets of the old banks, a little bit at a time. The receivers, he said, could get cash as a result of the sale of their frozen assets and they would then declare additional dividends.

The dividends would be deposited in the new bank, the money could be used to buy more assets, he explained, thus creating more dividends. In this way, the banking authorities continued, there would be created a revolving fund that could make the banks liquid and save the depositors a large part of their money instead of throwing the assets on a forced market. Another angle proposed by Judge Lacy was the election of a trustee to take over the frozen assets and eliminating the receivers.

The advantages of this, explained Judge Lacy, are that it would cut out a large item of expense for the banks and would allow them to liquidate over a longer period of time.

In response to a question as to whether or not one receiver could be appointed for the two banks, Judge Lacy was particularly emphatic.

"I don't know if it's some new form of a racket," he declared, "but there has arisen a new class of 'professional receivers.' They're carpet-bagged into Michigan from other states. I know of one receiver in the western part of the state who has been appointed receiver for five banks. To my mind, it's nothing more than political banditry. These men are circuit receivers traveling from town to town while the clerks of the banks do all the work."

CARMAN ELECTED AS SECRETARY BY BAPTIST LAYMEN

A large group of Northville people attended the meeting of the Wayne Baptist association held Tuesday at Howell. At the close of the evening session the men in attendance formed a laymen's organization of which Mr. Greenfield of Howell and L. Q. Carman of Northville are president and secretary respectively.

The Northville church received the prize for the largest mileage at the dinner hour and also the recognition for the largest delegation of young people.

Following are the names of those who attended the meeting: Rev. and Mrs. Wm. B. Barbour; Mrs. Roy Matheson; Mrs. Jessie Mahlberg; Leon Safford; Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Pettys; Mr. and Mrs. L. Q. Carman; Mrs. Don Miller; Miss Eleanor Westphal; Miss Charlotte Kidd; Miss Eva Banfield; Miss Vera Herstall; Miss Alice Barbour; Elden Biery; Emory Mapes; Miss Katherine McKenna and Eugene Carman.

The September meeting will be held in Northville.

TIRE VALUES versus TIRE DEFINITIONS

WE KNOW that car owners are interested in real TIRE VALUES, but are not particularly interested in tire definitions which manufacturers and distributors of special-brand mail-order tires had the National Better Business Bureau adopt that they could use to their advantage in their advertising.

When the National Better Business Bureau realized that the public was being misled—and an attempt was being made to keep the truth about real tire values from car owners—they issued a bulletin July 10th which in substance restricted their sponsorship of tire definitions.

Firestone extra values are the result of great savings in buying—great savings in efficient and economical manufacturing and distributing, plus the patented process of Gum-Dipping—the patented two extra cord plies under the tread—and a more efficient non-skid tread, which makes them safer than any other tire.

We have sections cut from Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires and Special-Brand Mail-Order Tires, and invite you to come in and judge for yourself the extra values we give you—values that you can see and understand instead of "definitions." Then we know you too will buy Firestone Tires as thousands of other car owners have done to the extent that during May, June and July they bought more Firestone Tires than during any like period in history—Drive in today!
