MANY PAY TRIBUTE TO C. A. PONSFORD

Community Has Suffered Loss, Says Rev. H. G. Whitfield

Paying tribute of affection to their friend, Chas. A. Ponsford, a large number of people from Northville and other towns filled the Presbyterian church to its capacity last Saturday morning when the last rites were solemnized.

His death has placed a heavy responsibility on every one of us, said Rev. Harold G. Whitfield, as he concluded his funeral sermon Saturday morning at the Presbyterian church over the body of Charles A. Ponsford.

"The community has suffered a loss from which we shall not soon recover," said Mr. Whitfield at the opening of his sermon. He pictured the good fight which the veteran St. Paul had fought and then pointed out those qualities which were so admirably typified in the career of Mr. Ponsford.

Floral tributes were in abundance and were beautifully and effectively arranged.

Those acting as pall bearers were Edward H. Lapham, James A. Huff, Roy M. Terrill, Roy Woodman, Floyd Northon and Bert C. Stark.

During the assembling of the audience and as they left the church Mrs. Thomas played softly on the pipe organ. The funeral cortege made its way, directly following the service, to Flint, where interment was made in the family lot.

Among the friends and relatives from out of town attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Piper, Mrs. Laura Teaver, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Richardson, Wm. Taylor and Mrs. Amy Bettisworth, an aunt of Mr. Ponsford, of Flint; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ballantyne, Chas. Hubbard, Mr. McKnight, Mr. Hazleton, Mr. Hughes and Mr. Sailer of Detroit.

BAPTISTS TO HOLD FEB. CHURCH NIGHT

The second church night of the Baptist church will be held next Wednesday evening, February 23.

The usual fellowship supper will be served at 6:30 o'clock. At the January meeting we were greatly privileged to hear Dr. Wm. D. Eaton, professor of mathematics at Ann Arbor. Next Wednesday evening we shall also be greatly privileged to hear Dr. Howard R. Chapman who for the last twelve years has been director of the Baptist Students' Guild of the University of Ann Arbor.

Dr. Chapman will speak on the theme, "Frontiers and Pioneers of Yesterday and Today." The general public is most cordially invited to hear Dr. Chapman at 8 o'clock.

Members of the Exchange Club Have Varied Ideas on the Way To Make a Better Community

President Orlow G. Owen called on members of the Northville Exchange Club Wednesday, at their weekly luncheon at the Methodist church house, to give brief suggestions for the betterment of the community. Some very interesting and thought-provoking ideas were given.

Dr. Paul E. Alexander opened the forum with the idea that it would be a lot better community if every one in it actually tried to live up to an ideal of service. Chas. F. Murphy suggested that a closer cooperation between the two luncheon clubs here and the community would help while Sherrill W. Ambler said: "I still have lots of confidence in Northville."

In the rapid fire of ideas, Dr. Arthur H. Steele hit a good note when he stated: "Northville needs more publicity. If people knew what a really fine community we have here, we would get a fine reputation all around the state." Mr. J. Murphy's contribution was short but to the point: "We need more harmony in this town."

"We should find some new topic of discussion besides appreciation banks," was Dr. B. H. Douglas's offering. "Let's do us good," he added, "if we just changed our whole psychology. Northville is no different than any other place in the country—we have all talked depression too much. Let's talk about something else for our own good."

As A. Dolph added: "Let's do our utmost to give all the business

GIRLS GLEE CLUB SINGS AT PONTIAC

Last Sunday evening the Girls Glee Club of the local high school accepted the invitation to come to Pontiac and sing at the West Methodist church. Twenty of these young singers made up the chorus and they were accompanied by their leader, Leslie G. Lee and his wife, Mrs. Ida Cook and several of the parents.

Their program was made up of sacred songs and favorite old numbers and those who heard them said the girls acquitted themselves very creditably.

The invitation came from Edwin Collins, an Albion college classmate of Mr. Lee, who is the teacher of a young men's class in the Pontiac church, whose turn it was to provide the program for that evening. Miss Geraldine Ferguson accompanied the glee club on the piano.

Following the concert the young women were given a luncheon in the church parlors as evidence of the appreciation of their audience.

BAND SCORES AGAIN IN FINE PROGRAM

The final number on a happily arranged program, put the Northville School band in the front rank.

Those who heard the playing of this fine organization, trained and directed by Edwin Head, must have realized that the money for this feature of school life is a dividend paying proposition.

Every piece that the band played was a gem, and the variety gave ample opportunity for a display of fine playing ability.

When it came to the final selection of the evening as arranged by Director Head the latest prowess of his 49 members made the gymnasium ring with melody.

The Fantasia was a musical picture of a soldier's life. There was the call to arms, the going away, the camp, a storm of huge proportions, a hymn prayer, a battle scene, a hymn of praise, and home sweet home.

Words fail to describe the thrill of this performance. The varied instruments that told the story, pictured the soldier boy and his life with a vividness that was splendid indeed.

Pierre Kenyon, accompanied by Mrs. O'Connor, sang three selections that met the hearty approval of the large audience.

A fine feature was the brass ensemble rendering that old favorite, "In the Gloaming." It was splendidly done.

Mrs. Harry Blake, who was to have furnished violin solos, was unable to give them because of the illness of her accompanist.

IRVING J. ULRICH WILL BE CANDIDATE FOR TOWNSHIP CLERK

Irving J. Ulrich, well known local insurance man, authorizes the Record to state that he will be a candidate for the position of clerk of Northville township, at the annual caucus.

Village Fathers Near End of Harmonious Year

Northville's village council and president, pictured above, are nearing the completion of a year's work. Entering their offices under trying circumstances and beset by several major emergencies throughout the year, the commissioners and President Harry S. German have acted together in a spirit of complete harmony and cooperation.

Inevitable differences of opinion on matters pertaining to the government of the village have arisen, but by intelligent discussion and attention to the problems at hand, a satisfactory solution has always been found.

The offices of two of the commissioners, Ross B. Dusenbury and Merrill S. Sweet, elected to fill one year terms on the council, and the office of president, now held by Harry S. German, will again be open this year.

As election day, Monday, March 14, draws near, the two commissioners are considering whether they will again be candidates for the offices they now hold.

President Harry S. German, when asked if he intended to be a candidate for re-election stated that he would unless some friend of his whom he could sincerely support believing him to be a capable man would enter the presidential lists.

"Rumors that I intend to move from Northville," declared Mr. German, "are absolutely false and unfounded. I have filled the office of president to the best of my ability and unless some one of my friends in whom I have the greatest faith and believe as sincere and capable man signifies that he intends to run, I will be a candidate for re-election. Should any friend of mine whom I regard as sincere and capable, should like to see him carry on the projects and plans that are a part of my program."

Commissioners Sweet and Dusenbury have not decided whether they will be candidates for re-election. Mr. Dusenbury did state in response to an inquiry that unless another candidate for his position appeared on the political horizon he would himself file a petition as a commissioner. He feels, he said, that personal business matters may force him to resign after he is in office and that his way, feeling this responsibility, he is reluctant at this time to state definitely whether he will be a candidate.

ROTARIANS' STUNT PROGRAM AT MONDAY LUNCHEON

Northville Rotarians forgot their troubles, big and little, and turned their weekly luncheon Monday noon into a gymnasium class. With Ray Richardson and John McCully as masters of ceremonies, the whole group was called upon in turn to do "stunts" and the like. It really was as good as a one-ring circus.

The first "exercise" required each one to "chum" himself three times on a horizontal bar that had been arranged on a couple of step ladders. To the surprise of some, everyone who tried the stunt was able to make the grade—although with a good deal of puffing and panting.

Prof. Percy Angove, who must make a specialty of his "daily dozen" went through some exercises that were too complicated for the others to attempt to duplicate.

The climax of the gathering came when Don Yerkes, Sr., and Wm. E. Forney staged a boxing exhibition of a couple of rounds. Yerkes, the former intercollegiate pitcher star, had the advantage of weight and reach but Forney showed pep and skill in holding off his opponent.

President Joe G. Schuler announced that next Monday there will be a meeting of George Washington's cabinet, with local members appropriately dressed, filling the role of members.

REMEMBER LEADERS WHO HAVE PASSED ON, SAYS PASTOR

One of the final statements of Rev. H. G. Whitfield at the Ponsford funeral last Saturday reminds us that this community is under many obligations to remember the life and services of men who have passed on during the last few years.

On the near horizon are Frank S. Harmon, Beech A. Northrop, Robert C. Yerkes, Louis A. Babbitt, Walter M. Stryfing, Charles S. Filkins, Frank S. Neal and Will L. Tinham.

These men were leaders. They tried to serve their day and generation. They gave their time and talent to promote public welfare.

This service places a responsibility upon every other person in the town to do as well or better than they did. Heed the demand as voiced by Rev. Mr. Whitfield.

VILLAGE ASKS FOR GAS RATE REDUCTION

In view of contemplated reductions in the rates of public utilities of other villages and cities surrounding Northville the Michigan Federated Utilities company which supplies this town with gas will be asked for a substantial cut in its rates announced Village President Harry S. German.

The president said Village Attorney F. J. Cochran has made a thorough investigation, they state, of the situation and in line with the reductions of other communities the gas company will be asked to come down also.

Every three years, according to the village's agreement with the gas company, a reduction of the rates is in order and since the franchise runs out in March, that being the end of the third year, Northville residents will in all probability receive their usual reduction.

The next regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary will be held at the home of Mrs. D. H. Saley, 108 Dubuay street, Tuesday evening, February 23, at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Harry Bolton will assist Mrs. Saley.

Notice To Bank Depositors

The Depositors' Committee appointed at the last meeting of the depositors of both Northville banks has learned from the Banking Department that several recent decisions have been made by the Attorney General dealing with moratorium agreements. The committee finds that it will be unable to make a draft of any agreement in conformance with these opinions in time for Tuesday's meeting, and therefore the depositors' meeting, which was called for Tuesday, February 23, 1932, will be postponed until further notice.

The committee hopes that next week's issue of The Record will bear notice of a definite date for the next depositors' meeting.

INDEPENDENT TEAMS CONQUER OPPONENTS

Independent basket ball teams of Northville are in the midst of a successful season. The Girls' Alumni team played the Farmington girls Thursday, February 11 and defeated them 10 to 7. They go to Belleville Saturday to play the girls team of the Methodist church of which Rev. Wm. Richards, former pastor here, is the head.

The boys' team defeated Wayne here on the same date at the high school gymnasium by the close score of 28 to 25.

The line-up for the girls' team is as follows: Helen Hacking, Luella Hammond, Margaret Young, Virginia Palmer and Ernestine Wolfe. For the boys: Carl Hall, Chas. LeFevre, Leo Wood, Bud Young and Robert McCordle.

The games are sponsored by the senior class of the high school which is collecting money for their annual trip to Washington.

Northville was treated to a sudden drop in temperature Wednesday evening which brought with it a light snowfall again together home the fact that we are enjoying an unusual "winter."

BENEFIT SHOW WILL BE HELD WEDNESDAY

Proceeds to Be Distributed By Northville Welfare Association

That not one needy person in Northville shall lack food, clothing, or shelter is the determined goal which the Northville Welfare Association has set for itself, and to this end they are holding a benefit show at the Penniman Allen theatre Wednesday evening, February 24, the entire proceeds of which will be donated to organized charity.

The feature picture will be "The Rainbow Trail" starring George O'Brien. This picture has received favorable mention by eastern critics as being one of the finest produced this year.

In addition to the regular entertainment there will be music by the Northville High School and Community band and the association has promised that further features not yet announced will be presented.

Tickets for the show will be on sale at the Penniman Allen theatre, at either the Northville Drug Store, the C. R. Horton Drug Store, or they may be obtained from Samuel Strenich, manager of the theatre.

Progress is being made, members of the association state, regarding the distribution of the funds. The association has requested that Northville's organized charities, which include the King's Daughters, St. Vincent De Paul's, the American Legion, the Red Cross, and the Parent-Teachers' association, present budgets to the Northville Welfare association outlining their proposed expenditures for the next 60 days, or more definitely the period between March 1 and May 1.

Distribution of the funds collected by the Northville Welfare Association will be based on these reports which are to be handed in on or before Saturday, February 20, members of the association say.

The show to be held Wednesday is for a worthy cause and it is hoped, members of the association declared, that the event will enjoy the same fine support as did the boxing card which was held recently for the same purpose.

TWO MORE HELD FOR THEFTS HERE

Pleading guilty before Judge Chenot, of the Wayne County Circuit court Monday morning the two boys who confessed to robbing the Catherine gasoline station were remanded to jail without bond. Following grilling by county sheriffs the two implicated two more boys' brothers of one of them.

John Weaver, of Plymouth and Glenn King of Plymouth and Six Mile roads gasoline station attendants, identified the boys as being the same group that held them up at the point of a gun during January. The amount of money taken from both places was small, totalling not more than $20.

Following the arraignment on Monday morning the first two boys and the securing by county sheriffs of the other two boys implicated, the four were placed in the county jail in default of $5,000 bond.

PLYMOUTH BANK OPENED MONDAY

The First National Bank of Plymouth has been established upon a very firm foundation by the prompt and vigorous action of the management and the hearty cooperation of the depositors and the stockholders.

The result of this cooperation puts the bank in the position of having no questionable assets in its files. All values are now high class investments.

Those slow items are in a trust fund together with a contribution of 40 per cent of par by the stockholders and a 30 per cent of depositors balances as of February 13 set aside to protect the bank from forced liquidation. As a further aid to throw out the slow accounts, the bank itself will deposit its net earnings into the trust fund.

This trust fund will be administered by trustees and it will be ended just as fast as possible.

As this is the first attempt in Michigan to put a plan of this kind into operation the officials and committees are to be congratulated. The bank opened Monday for the usual items of business.

OUR SINCERE THANKS TO MRS. SACKETT

Mrs. Florence Sackett doesn't know what she would do without the Northville Record. She declares she has been taking it ever since it was first issued and that was when Sam Little was the editor and the Record office was on the first floor of the old Opera House. At that time the Record was a small page paper, she said.

Mrs. Sarah Parsons many friends will be interested to know that she is confined to her bed most of the time now, with gradually failing strength. Miss Stillwell, a nurse from Novi, is now caring for her.

Washington Bicentennial Stirs Patriotism In Hearts of Pupils; Two Plays Given at High School

That the teaching of patriotism is a large part of the education of our children is very evident to one who makes the rounds of the school rooms of our village. From the walls everywhere the faces of the two great national heroes, George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, look down upon growing youth and inspire devotion to native land.

To even the littles ones are stories of the boyhood and later lives of these great men being told by the teachers until they take hold upon the ideals of these children unconsciously.

One grade teacher admits frankly that to her little folks the flaming glories of St. Valentine's far outshone the enthusiasm for Lincoln because of the chance it gave them to exchange tokens in a sort of gala day. Now that this is over it is George Washington who looms upon the horizon of their young vision. Daily they are dutifully repeating, "I pledge allegiance to my flag" as they salute the stars and stripes. All honor to the teachers who are planting love of country in the hearts of the rising generation.

In the high school Washington is honored by two plays of one act each, given last evening before an appreciative audience of parents at the Parent-Teachers' association. These plays were sponsored by the Washington Bicentennial committee and were directed by Mrs. Wright, with Miss McDowell as stage manager. The young actors entered heartily into these historical plays.

In the first, "The Indian's Prophecy," Washington met a band of Indians in his exploring the Ohio

COUNCIL ASKS VOTERS' VIEW ON NEW WATER

Amendment to Be Placed On Ballots at March Election

Northville voters will have an opportunity on Monday, March 14, election day, to signify whether they are in favor of the continued improvement of the Hill Springs as a method of obtaining new and purer water or whether they favor abandoning this project and sinking wells for the new water supply.

The amendment to the ballot will be worded as follows: "Are you in favor of increasing water supply by continuing the improvement of Hill and Barnhardt Springs according to plans approved by the State Board of Health?"

Yes. No. "Are you in favor of sinking deep wells for our water supply at an approximate cost of $15,000?" Yes. No.

Plans for the improvement of Hill Springs include the laying of five new pipe lines to secure approximately 200 gallons of water per minute which will enable the village to do away with Fairbrook Spring, believed to be the source of contamination, and the expensive pumping well connected with it. The cost of this project, if plans outlined are carried out, will be slightly in excess of $1,500, engineers state.

Col. E. D. Rich of the state health department, Mayor German revealed, has been invited to come to Northville and make a thorough investigation of the work already completed and advise the council as to the feasibility of the project.

The council and President Harry S. German appointed Harry Blake, Herbert Deane, together with Frederick Hedge, village clerk, as the registration board which will function on Saturday, March 12.

It was unanimously passed by the council that the village attorney, F. J. Cochran be authorized to petition the receivers of the local banks to release approximately $20,000 of the village money which is held on deposit. The reply of the receivers will be based on recent decisions handed down by the state supreme court.

CHURCH SCHOOL HOLDS INTEREST

The School of Religious Education held another successful session at its third gathering last Monday evening with a good attendance of deeply interested members. In the absence of Mrs. Leonard, whose mother's recent illness and death occurred in Detroit, the class in St. James' Telling was ably conducted by Mrs. T. P. Brennan who continued the outlined course as usual, the interval of recreation in the middle of the class period was pleasantly spent in social intercourse.

MRS. M. LAPHAM IS MANAGER OF PONSFORD'S STORE

Continuation of Ponsford's store formerly run by the late C. A. Ponsford, under the management of his daughter, Mrs. Maurice Lapham, will enable Northville patrons to secure now the same nationally advertised merchandise at the store as they have since the establishment was first opened.

Mrs. Lapham is thoroughly familiar with her father's business policies and assures customers that they will receive the same prompt attention and courtesy which they have received there for the past 22 years.

The store will remain open from 9:30 a. m. to 6 o'clock p. m. on week days and on Saturdays will be open from the hours of 9:30 a. m. to 9:30 p. m.

One grade teacher admits frankly that to her little folks the flaming glories of St. Valentine's far outshone the enthusiasm for Lincoln because of the chance it gave them to exchange tokens in a sort of gala day. Now that this is over it is George Washington who looms upon the horizon of their young vision. These plays were sponsored by the Washington Bicentennial committee and were directed by Mrs. Wright, with Miss McDowell as stage manager. The young actors entered heartily into these historical plays.

In the first, "The Indian's Prophecy," Washington met a band of Indians in his exploring the Ohio valley in pre-revolutionary days. To him the chief prophesied that some day the Indian race would vanish and that he (Washington) would become the leader of a great nation.

Taking the part of Washington was John Steichen while other characters, including frontiersmen and Indians were Richard Shipley, Warner Neal, Arthur Cook, Monroe Weston, Devton Deal, Ward Schultz, George Richardson, Eddie Bender, Junior Gschader, Edward Latta, Ronald Beachley and John Sprenger.

The second play, "George and Martha Return," was of very different character, light and imaginary. Down from their frames hung upon the wall stepped the living portraits of George and Martha, into a modern room of the year 1932. About the room they made their way led by curiosity in the modern inventions which they cannot understand. Radio, electric lights, vacuum cleaner, telephone—all these and others are as miracles to them.

The stately mimet comes in with its touch of old-time grace in this playlet. George and Martha Washington were represented by Kenneth Kerr and Eleanor Eaton.

To many sources goes the credit for the success of these plays, for which the mothers worked hard making costumes, said helping to gather properties. C. B. Turnbull generously supplied the electrical appliances which surprised the "Father of his Country."

A rehearsal was given on Wednesday afternoon in the assembly room of the high school for the pleasure of the students.

THOUGHTFUL PEOPLE
We have been touched personally the past few days, as our boy Paul lay in the hospital, convalescing from an operation for removal of appendix, at the many kindly expressions of good will shown to him and the family. We have always said that it is a good world and now we believe it more than ever. From the pie that a neighbor sent to the flowers and fruit sent by friends and the telephone calls, there was a kindly lot of sympathy shown that certainly helps in a trying time. It is these little acts of kindness that brighten the days and make life worth living.

WE'RE PROUD OF THEM
We say it again: Northville feels pretty jubilant about its fine community school band. You would travel a long way to hear as enjoyable and really artistic concert staged by boys and girls, as was given here last Friday evening.

A number of people are entitled to credit for the splendid music that captivated the audience at the high school. From the leader, Edwin Head, and manager, Fred W. Lyke, right down the line to the last youngest performer, a lot of folks should be sincerely lauded for maintaining this really remarkable community enterprise. Every one of them is doing a great deal to cultivate a fine community spirit in Northville—and right now we need a lot of it. So, play on, you musicians and keep our spirits up.

WILL GROESBECK RUN?
Some of the state weeklies are suggesting the possibility of Alex J. Groesbeck running against Governor Brucker in the Republican primaries. What do you think? This is one political year when you have to "knock on wood." When the Republicans get through nominating their candidate, they will have to meet their peppy Democratic rivals at the November election. Judge Arthur J. Lacy, who is now well known to our Northville people on account of his able connection with our bank affairs, is a potential candidate and certainly will be a strong one. A good many of our people are in a resentful, rebellious mood and anyone who runs for office this year is going to need all the Christian grace he has to stand the pace. Personally we would not even run for dog warden.

THE NEW FORD
With the Ford factories that we have in and around Northville our people are naturally very happy that after all the suspense that was going to have the "new Ford." Who can tell but that this might put a million (count 'em) men to work? What a time to have a new Ford when all these men get to work again?

HARMONIZING YOUR DIFFERENCES
Over at Birmingham the other evening, there was a big mass meeting of people, part of whom favored keeping the superintendent of schools and another group that wanted to oust him. There was the finest chance in the world for a "big scrap" and for mean and cutting things to be said. And yet the Birmingham Eccentric, the home newspaper there, came out and stated that not a bitter word was spoken on either side.

THE HOARDED DOLLAR
One thing that is holding back the return of prosperity right now is the "hoarded dollar." There is no use in scolding anyone about it but the plain fact is that as long as dollars are hidden away in cupboards, under the mattress and in safety deposit boxes they are not only losing interest but robbing someone somewhere of some business he needs, maybe to help the very person who is doing the hoarding.

WE have just to get to spending these dollars and putting them where they will do some good. Just suppose you go into one of the Northville banks and buy a mortgage—that may mean a dividend or a new bank all the quicker—who knows?
We just read in the Ionia, Michigan paper that bankers estimate that the people of that county alone have hoarded a million dollars. What a beautiful way to sink your country deeper in the depression from which we have been suffering. The strange thing is that the man who hoards must have some strange belief that he can hide his money and yet expect good business to give him a job again. The time has passed when any one group can have prosperity and the rest have depression? We all have depression and we must all pull the old wagon out of the mud. Anyone who does not do his part will have to answer to his conscience—there is no court for traitor dollars.

A hoarded dollar never did anyone any good—and it has done harm to many. Let's quit robbing ourselves and pull them out of hiding and get them to working again. Then we can all go to work.

CHARLES A. PONSFORD
We cannot think that Charles A. Ponsford, our good Northville business man and friend, is gone forever from our streets and our town. Just the other day he called us on the telephone to give us a word of encouragement. Just like yesterday it seems he came into the office with that winsome smile he had and the office folks had a nice visit with him. Yet he is stricken down, as so many good men have been, in the midst of their life work, with apparently much yet for him to achieve. In the prime of life to "Charley" Ponsford has come "Sunset and evening star and one clear call for me." How much we shall miss him none can tell.

THE LESSONS of a good life are many and certainly we have heard nothing but good of this man. Such citizens build the foundations of the city and build them well. We can all spare such stalwart souls in these times of stress and need. Not many men are conscientious as he. He was told in the Exchange club last week how he reluctantly gave up his membership, feeling that he could not afford it, yet he continued each week to give his offering to each of two local churches. He would sacrifice for others but at the expense of his own pleasure. In another case that we happen to know about, he gave a needy family at Christmas time a bunch of toys and clothing—but only on condition that no one knew they came from him. He sought not honor for himself but did serve his fellow men with a real affection.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION
What will be for you, a new Ford, Chevrolet, Hudson or Essex or Buick?

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT IS NATION MORALLY BANKRUPT?
(Editor DeFoe in the Charlotte Republican)
Mr. Durant, the man who transferred the discussion of philosophy from the drawing room to the street curb, gave a most illuminating radio talk Sunday evening on somebody's cigar hour. He said world conditions but dismissed our own distress in a sentence. According to the distinguished savant our financial bankruptcy must eventually pass with our national moral bankruptcy that he is concerned that there is occasion for meditation. It is not actual alarm on the subject, one has but to observe the quality of the magazines that draw the largest crowds, notice the number of our nation's mothers who have taken up cigarette smoking, who criticize a tongue in many of our so-called best homes where hard labor in some form is now accepted as standard social equipment. Up to now there is no substitute for moral decency and as things are moving it is not at all surprising that Professor Durant is concerned with the trend of our financial distress but the apparent hopelessly steady decline in the standard of our moral code.

ARE YOU DISCOURAGED?
(Easy Lansing Press)
When Abraham Lincoln was a young man he ran for the legislature in Illinois and was badly swamped. He next entered business failed and spent seventeen years of his life paying off the debts of a worthless partner. He was in love with a beautiful woman to whom he became engaged—then she died. Entering politics again he ran for congress and again suffered defeat. He then tried to get an appointment to the United States land office but failed. He became a candidate for United States senate and was badly defeated. In 1856 he became a candidate for vice president and accepted defeat once more. In 1858 he was defeated by Douglas. One failure after another—and yet he never gave up. He eventually became one of the country's greatest men, if not the greatest.

When you think of a series of setbacks like this, doesn't it make you feel rather small to be discouraged, just because you think you are going through a "repression," as Andy calls it? So let's put ourselves to our jobs and make up for lost time in the first five months of the new year.

"THEY SAY"
(W H. Benkey in Cassopolis Vanguard)
"They say!" Just two simple words that have wrought more havoc than all the other words in the dictionary. "They say!" Two words that always precede a scandal without definitely fixing its origin. "They say!" Say those words, and then tell some tale rumormongering about the best woman in your community and there will always be people willing to believe it is true; she can never entirely live it down. "They say!" Use those two words and then hint that a bank may not be safe and you can start a run on the soundest bank in America. "They say!" Those two words in front of a rumor that your leading merchant was party to a shady transaction, and a lot of people will be ready to believe that he is a crook. "They say!" Fasten those two words in front of some fool suspicion that a trusted public official has done something wrong and the current story will soon be that he is a greater and a thief and ought to be in prison.

"They say!" When anyone comes to you with a "they say" story, just pin them down to WHO says, then pin "who says" down to WHY says and you'll find that "they say" is usually based on malice and is used as a weapon to assassinate someone's reputation.

EASILY MISLED
(Clinton Co. Republican News)
Amusing was the statement of a not well-informed man one day recently. He said he would vote for Roosevelt if he were nominated on the democratic ticket. His father made just the same of president we need now, and the boy is just like his father. He evidently did not know that Governor Franklin Roosevelt is of a different family than the famous Teddy. This simple emphasis of the political value and importance of a name in Detroit some strange people have been elected to office, simply because their name was Murphy, Nagel or other names which have had a popular vogue in office. Several years ago a big leader in a Detroit blind big came within a few votes of being nominated for state representative because he bore a popular name.

HOW ONE WOMEN LOST 10 LBS. IN A WEEK
Mrs. Betty Lusecke of Dayton writes: "I am using Kruschen to reduce weight. I lost 10 pounds in one week and cannot say too much to recommend it."

To take off fat easily, SAFELY and HARMLESSLY—take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it is the safe way to lose unsightly fat and one bottle the last weeks costs but a trifle. Get it at C. R. Horton's or any drug store in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you this is the safest way to lose fat—money back.

But be sure and get Kruschen Salts—imitations are numerous and you must safeguard your health.

The ways vary from, "hitch hiking" to driving their cars through the 2700 miles. Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Beard were among a party of friends who were guests recently of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Fales, of Seattle, Washington, who are making a month's stay at that very attractive hostelry known as Dearborn Inn. Mr. Fales is a cousin of Mrs. Beard. Paul Baldwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Baldwin, underwent an emergency operation for appendicitis at Sessions hospital last Friday at midnight. He is reported as in excellent condition at present. His seven-year-old brother, Philip, is having whooping cough at his home on South Wing street. Mrs. Fred J. Broad was called last week to Duluth, Minnesota, by the death of her father who has been ill for some time. Unusually sad is this experience of Mrs. Broad owing to the fact that her brother died only three weeks previously due to apoplexy while working on his car in his garage. Mrs. Broad has the sympathy of her Northville friends. The man of the Methodist church conducted the service Sunday evening. Phases of the Lord's Prayer were presented, following the series which Rev. F. N. Miner started at the morning service. Chubb Smith, Edward M. Bogart and Rev. F. N. Miner presented various views of the first two words of the prayer, "Our Father." The experiment was satisfactory enough to warrant another trial of the plan in three weeks. C. A. Dolph was chairman of the meeting.

Junior Schrader is ill at his home. Gen. Wallenmaier of Rushton is enlarging his housing for his rabbits. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Holman are now occupying their new home on the Beck road. Miss Lillian Cassis of Detroit attended the Northville high school senior dance Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kohler and son, Edward Leo, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Healey last Sunday. Christ Norkaard and wife motored to New York state Thursday for a few weeks' visit, stopping at Niagara falls for a few days. Mrs. John Walker left Wednesday for Milwaukee, Wisconsin, where she will join in celebrating the birthday of her mother. Miss Martha Staman, sister of Fraser Staman, was an assistant trades in the fish of Saturday trade of the A. & P. grocery. Friends of "Aunt Ida" Hendryx will be glad to know that after a long siege with the flu she is at last showing some improvement. John Engden, Garfield of Detroit spent the week-end with his cousin, Edward Leo Kohler, and attended the senior dance Saturday evening. Oren Albert Kohler of Union Lake and his father, E. A. Kohler, are attending the White Star gas station while the proprietor, Christ Norkaard, is in New York state. Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Weaver and daughter, Maxine, of Traverse City, who is attending the Greenberg college of Louisiana, West Virginia, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Yerkes. Mrs. Anna Stever of Plymouth and Mrs. E. A. Kohler attended a meeting of the Lizzie Shafer club at the beautiful spacious home of Mrs. Annabelle Connellan at Birmingham on Friday. Announcement from Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Huston nee Luella A. Hoyt, by Mr. Kohler, tells they are nicely located at the Hotel Beverly Terrace, Biscayne Boulevard, Miami, Florida, for a few months. Mrs. Clar Ruggles returned Friday from the Highland Park hospital where she underwent a surgical operation. She is making good recovery at her home. Mr. Ruggles, of Oren, Michigan, are here caring for the family during her convalescence. Mrs. Louise Reed Stowell, a sister of E. Roscoe Reed, former proprietor of the Northville Record, died at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ruggles of Oren, Michigan, on Saturday. A check will receive $10,000.00 among other bequests named in her will. Mrs. Stowell was a daughter of Rev. Seth Reed. The old fashioned box social held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Alexander at Plymouth was very much enjoyed by all some members of the Plymouth unit and Leo, who attended and were very glad to be able to get better acquainted with the members at Plymouth. Dr. Jas. M. Stavely of Los Angeles, Calif., was a caller at the Richard T. Baldwin home Saturday. Dr. Stavely was pastor of the First Methodist church in Upland, Calif., while the Baldwin's lived there. He was accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Wright, wife of the pastor of the Birmingham Presbyterian church. Leslie Fraser was home from Albion college to spend Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fraser. He was accompanied by a friend, Harold Brown, a student of the U. of M., who is the son of medical missionaries in China. Mr. Brown, a native of China, plans to go back and do Y. M. C. A. work in Shanghai. Mrs. L. B. Holmes art class now numbers twenty-five members and is still growing in popularity. Luckily these women do not all come at once or Mrs. Holmes would have to have larger quarters. Some very nice work is being done. In this class are two women from Redford, three from the Maybury sanatorium, one from Eastlawn sanatorium and five girls from the local telephone office who find this painting a pleasant diversion from their work. Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Dolph are looking forward to the coming of spring as both have been more or less shut in all winter at their home on Randolph street. They were greaved to receive word of the serious illness of Harry Barker, son of Mrs. Nellie Thomas, who is a niece of Mr. Dolph and Mrs. Whitehead. Mr. Barker is manager of the mechanical department of the Detroit Free Press and he and his mother, who was a Northville girl, are well known here. Mr. Barker is in a sanatorium in Mt. Clemens.

Otto Loomis of Detroit, former jeweler here, was a Northville visitor Saturday. Glenn Charter, formerly of Northville, and now a resident of Ann Arbor, was a visitor here Wednesday. Wm. Ellhoff, former Northville grocer and now of Trenton, was a business visitor here Tuesday and Wednesday. The Methodist Women's Missionary society will have a pot luck dinner at the home of Mrs. Bertha Neal Tuesday noon. Everyone is requested to bring their own dishes. The meeting will be in charge of Mrs. Lockheart and the speaker will be the former pastor's wife, Mrs. Wm. Richards, now of Belleville. All ladies of the church are welcome. Fifteen boys of the high school basketball squad were given a big treat sponsored by Dr. Snow, Dr. Johnston, Orlov Owen and Coach Ruggles last Monday evening when they were taken to Ann Arbor to witness a lively encounter between the U. of M. and the U. of Iowa basketball teams. On the previous week the boys saw Spilant play Alma college at the former place. Northville will be glad to see signs of life again in the big red brick house recently owned by Mrs. Hunter. From Royal Oak Wm. E. Yarnall is bringing his family soon to occupy this home which is now being redecorated and put in readiness. Two young sons will soon be making this long-silent walls resound. Mr. Yarnall will be remembered as the son of Dr. W. H. Yarnall who for a long time made Northville famous as the seat of the Yarnall Gold Cure.

Young Women are Guests Of Miss Schrader

Covers were laid for eight at the pretty bridge dessert luncheon given by Miss Reva Schrader at her home Tuesday afternoon. The table was lovely with its lace cloth and centerpiece of ivory roses with tall ivory taper at each side. Places were indicated with cards in pastel shades, later used as tallies. Strawberry short cake was the piece de resistance. In the games which followed Mrs. Sterling Eaton and Miss Schrader won high honors.

Baptist Sunday School Children Guests at Party

Thirty beginners and primary children of the Baptist Sunday school were guests of the teachers and officers of that department at a Valentine party, Thursday afternoon in the church parlors. The party was planned with a two-fold purpose in view—to give the children an enjoyable time, and also teach them the joy of sharing with those less fortunate. Tables were provided with Valentine materials—scissors, crayons and paste, and each child made a Valentine for one of the kiddies in the Children's Unit at the Maybury sanatorium, and the results were finished works of art. After all the Valentines for the sanatorium were made and collected each child received a Valentine from the department. Games were also enjoyed—a grab-bag afforded a great deal of amusement, when the mysterious contents (Valentines) were drawn by each one. The Valentine idea was further carried out, when dainty heart shaped refreshments were served. Those responsible for the success of the party were Mrs. R. H. Amerman, Mrs. Geo. Biery, Mrs. Mike Nagy and Mrs. Earl Montgomery. Sailing from New York City last Friday, Mr. and Mrs. Sherwin A. Hill have started on a five weeks' cruise which will include the coast countries of the Mediterranean. They were accompanied by another couple, friends of Detroit.

BABY CLINIC

Attention is called to the fact that the Baby Clinic will be held on the morning of Wednesday, February 24 at the village hall when all mothers of children of pre-school age will be welcome to bring them for advice given by a child specialist, Dr. M. J. Brady, of Detroit. The women in charge of this form of public benefit have chosen the morning because it is more convenient for Dr. Brady to come at this time. The mothers seem to be glad to come at this time so as to let babies have their afternoon naps as usual. Last time the appreciation of Northville mothers was manifested by the presence of 19 or 11 mothers with their children. Some families are being helped who otherwise could not afford medical care. Miss Bybee, a trained nurse, is giving her services also gratis. The hours of the clinic will be from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. Mothers are asked to come promptly.

Roll the remainder of wafers, and mix with melted butter. Add beaten yolks of eggs lemon juice and rind.

A KITCHEN HYMN This prayer hymn was written by a nineteen year old servant girl. Lord of pots and pans and things, since I've no time to be a saint by doing lovely things, or watching late with Thee. Or dreaming in the dawnlight of storming heaven's gates. Make me a saint by getting meals and washing up the plates.

Several requests have come to me to publish a list of books suitable for any youngster to read before they come to the age of 16, and the below named list is considered by eminent authorities and library boards one of high standard as to literary merit and good reading interest.

The list, of course cannot be considered a complete one, but it is representative of what may be safely and profitably read to the education and enjoyment of any boy or girl.

It must be that these forty named books rank high, since the public libraries are not considered complete in their children's department unless these books are found on their shelves.

These books, no doubt, are on our own library shelves, but in the event that they are not, they can be requested from the Wayne County Library service through our librarian, Miss Mae Alcott, "Little Men" and "Little Women".

Robert L. Stevenson, "Treasure Island," "The Garden of Verse," "Rudyard Kipling," "The Jungle Book," "Just So Stories," and "Captains Courageous."

MOTION PICTURE PROGRAMS

"CHARLIE CHAN'S CHANCE" Thrillingly dramatic, romantically interesting and vividly acted by a brilliant cast, "Charlie Chan's Chance," the Fox mystery screen play, will be shown at the Penniman Allen theatre Sunday, February 21.

Earl Derr Biggers, famed for his mystery stories with Oriental backgrounds, wrote the novel on which the play is based and which depicts the newest adventures of Charlie Chan, the celebrated Chinese detective, in solving a murder of unusually inexplicable elements, one so intricate that both the New York police and Scotland Yard detectives are at a loss to disentangle it.

"Charlie Chan," however, pursues clues that eventually drive the murderer into the open in an unexpected climax.

Warner Oland, as the suave and self-asserting Chan, gives one of the most polished performances of his career. His gentility and his subtle wit are among the best studies of a great actor.

Alexander Kirkland, as the lover, scores another personal triumph and Marian Nixon, with her radiant charm, plays her role with simplicity and intelligence. In fact, the cast is excellent with particular reference to H. B. Warner, Linda Walden, James Kirkwood and Ralph Morgan.

Altogether, "Charlie Chan's Chance" is a superior mystery.

MEMBER OF MERRILL PALMER STAFF WILL TALK TO MOTHERS A very pleasant and profitable afternoon is being planned for the mothers of children of nursery school age, next Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The meeting, which will take place in the play room of the Joint Nursery school at 190 N. Main street, Plymouth, will be addressed by Mrs. Byron M. Murray, a member of the staff of the well known Merrill Palmer school of Detroit.

There will be two musical numbers, a lullaby sung by Mrs. Maxwell Moon and Mrs. Roderick Cassidy, and a trio, "Mighty Lak a Rose" sung by Mrs. John Okaver, Mrs. Maxwell Moon and Mrs. Roderick Cassidy. Tea will be served.

SECOND DIPHTHERIA PREVENTION TREATMENTS WILL BE GIVEN AT THE SCHOOLS Dr. W. H. Johnston, village health officer, announces that the second of a series of diphtheria immunization will be given at the Board of Education building February 24, which will begin at 9:00 a. m. Dr. Johnston will be assisted in giving the treatments by Mrs. Florence Bray, school nurse, and Miss Georgina Reed, county nurse.

Any children who missed the first treatment on February 4, may have it at this time.

Postmaster and Mrs. Baker of South Lyon were guests at the W. H. White home on Monday.

Following his recent mapor operation, Harry B. Clark enjoyed his ride on horseback, Sunday February 14, for his first time on the bridge path since December 13.

BULLETIN TO PATRONS

SPECIAL REMEDIAL INSTRUCTION—A LUXURY OR AN ECONOMY?

Here and there, throughout the Northville schools, are found individuals who cannot read. They are not necessarily sub-normal mentally, for they can learn geography, history, or arithmetic if their lessons are read to them. Now, unless something different is done for them, they will grow up illiterate.

In the primary grades, a few children are now not learning to read. We know that several of these are not inferior in other respects. And, under ordinary school conditions, they will remain illiterate.

Now, the treatment of these children has not greatly differed from the treatment of others. They have not been learning to read in the ordinary rooms. The teachers are too busy with the rest. And, generally, the usual teachers are not prepared to diagnose the individual reading difficulty and then apply the proper treatment. A specialist is needed. It is clear to anyone that these pupils do not learn to read with ordinary methods and amount of instruction, and it is reasonably certain that they will never learn that way. They must start over some other way. And the new way will not do for all.

But is not this expensive? It takes part of the time of an extra teacher, and this teacher must have a smaller number of pupils than the other teachers have.

The greatest extravagance in school is unnecessary repeating of grades. Every time a pupil repeats a year in the same grade, it costs the taxpayers ninety to one hundred dollars. If, by the employment of a special teacher, thirteen to fifteen pupils could each be saved from one year of repetition, the special teacher would be no extra expense.

Every time a special pupil is removed from a regular room, all the other pupils in that room receive increased time and attention and instruction from the teacher. It is not known how to calculate the money value of this extra service for the rest, but it will be admitted that it is a good deal.

Every time a pupil, who would not otherwise learn to read, learns to read, a literate person is gained for the community in the place of an illiterate one, to say nothing of the big difference it makes in his own life.

From the above, it should be clear that a special teacher is not an extravagance, but a saving. Failure to provide one produces the situation that we have now: a number of non-readers all through the grades. It is simply failing to meet current needs and letting costs pile up later. Besides, it is being deliberately inefficient.

(Reading only has been mentioned above. Sometimes remedial work is needed in other subjects, but the same arguments apply.)

SENIOR GIRLS' GLEE CLUB GIVES FINE PROGRAM IN PONTIAC

Before a large and very appreciative audience in the First Methodist church, Pontiac, the Northville Senior Girls' Glee Club gave a very pleasing concert last Sunday evening.

The club was given a splendid welcome by the Pontiac folks, and also much praise for its singing by Pontiac musicians, including the supervisor of music of the Pontiac schools.

The program was sponsored by the Young Men's Bible class of the church and was arranged by Mr. Edwin Collins, an old college chum of Mr. Lee's.

After the concert a tasty lunch was served by the young ladies of the church.

The program presented was as follows:

- "To a Wild Rose" - MacDowell.
- "Homeing" - Del Rio.
- "Lullabye" - Brahms.
- "Lift Thine Eyes" - Mendelssohn.
- "Lo, How a Rose-Er Blooming" - Frescobaldi.
- "Fraser Quaver" - Spang.
- "River, River" - Gilean Folk Song.

SENIOR WHO'S WHO

The next two martyrs to Northville High are Demetra Mills and Elizabeth Miner.

Demetra was born in Highland Park, Michigan, September 3, 1915. She attended Henry Ford school for two years, and spent the winter of 1923 in Biloxi, Mississippi. Then on returning to Michigan she went to Pierson school on the Seven Mile road. In 1928 she went back to Biloxi for the winter, returning to the Pierson school where she graduated from the eighth grade. She started high school at Redford and then moved out on the Seven Mile road and started in the Northville school in the tenth grade (they all end up in Northville).

She belongs to the "Travel club" and was a member of the cast of the senior play, "Seventeen."

When she graduates she intends to go to a business college and continue her commercial course.

Elizabeth Miner was born in Detroit, Michigan. After living in Detroit, Midland and Crosswell, she moved to Belleville for five years, and then to Northville (Senior or later they find their mistake and come to Northville).

In Belleville Elizabeth had a major part in the junior play, was in declamatory and oratorical contests, literary editor of the school paper and was in the high school orchestra. In Northville she belongs to the "Travel Club."

After graduating she intends to take some course in specialized training.

SPECIAL MEETING

Thursday, February 11, a special meeting of the senior class was called by the class president, Ward Van Arta.

The committees for the activities, dance, license, razor blade sharpening, vanilla, gift box, wonder box and dominoes gave their reports.

Mr. Amerman urged the seniors to get busy and make money if they intend to go to Washington.

It was announced that the Hull Family is coming to Northville high school March 25 to give a musical program. They have played over several radio broadcasting stations and are rated very highly.

A candy sale will be given in the high school halls Wednesday, and a bake sale at the Palace meat market on Saturday, February 21.

BASKET BALL GAME

Northville was beaten by Farmington last Friday by a score of 51 to 14, in the inconveniently small gymnasium at Farmington.

Both of the teams started the game playing evenly. However, Farmington quickly forged ahead and stayed in rather a safe position throughout the game. Although Northville tried hard to stem the Farmington tide, her defense did not equal the task. The half ended with the score 15 to 6 in favor of Farmington, the ball being in Farmington's possession.

Northville entered the second half with renewed vigor, but it was in vain. Farmington swept on, making three uninterrupted baskets before Northville called time out. When play was resumed Robinson scored a basket which seemed to renew the Orange and Black hope. Still Farmington scored, while Northville was very busy making more points to bring their score to 14. Farmington had a scoring spree making 16 points to increase their total to 31.

The second team continued to lose this time by a score of 8 to 5, the game being very close and exciting, and the boys set up a gallant fight.

These games were played under the most adverse conditions. The Farmington gym being the chief hindrance. It was extraordinarily small and the ceiling was so low that several otherwise perfect shots were spoiled by hitting it.

The team takes on the Detroit Country Day school, northeast of Farmington, tonight. This team is not in the league, but as it is reported to have an excellent team, the game promises to be very interesting.

COOPERATION

Where would we be today if there had been no cooperation since the world began? Cooperation is one of the basic principles of life and we're going to mention some acts of cooperation going on in this school of ours.

Probably everyone knows or at least should know about the opera which is being given under the leadership of Mr. Lee. Cooperating with him are many different teachers and departments, for instance, the sewing department. The aid this department is giving is that of making and fixing costumes. When you see all these dark Spanish beauties on the stage before your eyes just stop and think for a minute if you would be seeing such a spectacle if there had been no cooperation from Mrs. Zimmerman and her sewing classes.

Then when you are listening to someone hit a high "C" stop to think, also, "Would I be hearing this lovely music if there were no cooperation?" It's worth a thought anyway, isn't it?

Mrs. Chapman's art class will paint all the scenery for the opera, so if you see any Spanish scenes you can think of students bent over their desks painting.

Mr. Thompson will make all repairs on scenery which has been damaged. Also, he will fix the frames for the scenery. Mr. Thompson made the platform for the public speaking class, too. Besides this he is helping Mrs. Chapman in fixing the desks in her room which have been badly damaged by people putting down their "John Hancock" for students to read in years to come.

This is only a small bit of the cooperation going on around our school and we hope you'll notice and appreciate it.

FACULTY WHO'S WHO

Mr. Harold Ruggles is the next member of the faculty to become famous by having his name and history appear in our "Who's Who" each, as the fellows call him.

He was born in Petosky, Michigan. He attended grammar school and high school there. While in high school he spent much time in athletics, especially foot ball, basket ball, base ball and track (he showed his leanings early; don't you think so?).

Upon graduating from Petosky high school "Coach" Ruggles attended the Michigan State Normal college. Here he participated in the same types of athletics. He belonged to the "A. O. H." (Arm of Honor) fraternity, the Varsity club and the Sigma Delta Psi, a national athletic fraternity. Oh, we almost forgot - at was here he met Mrs. Ruggles (couldn't possibly leave that out). Having graduated from college M.

TWO ONE ACT PLAYS GIVEN AT THE ASSEMBLY

Two one-act plays were presented in the high school assembly Wednesday afternoon in honor of the two hundredth anniversary of Washington's birthday.

The first play was an "Indian Prophecy"—an incident taken from the life of Washington before the revolution. The people taking part were:

Colonel Rogers—Richard Shubley
Doctor Craik—Warner Neal
Crawford—Arthur Cook
Ames—Monroe Weston
Hare—Howard Latta
Anusdaha—Harold McCardle
George Washington—John Steenchen

Grand Sachem—Junior Schrader.
Frontiersmen and Indians—Ward Schultz, Ronald Beasley, George Richard and Don Keensv.

The second play was a fantasy. The scene was 1932 and "When Martha and George Returned," they found many new and startling inventions which seemed very strange to the visitors from the past. The cast of characters are:

Martha Washington—Peggy Blake
George Washington—Charles Ruffenburg.
Man—Kenneth Kerr.
Wife—Eleanor Eaton.

The music between acts was directed by Mr. Lee. The plays were sponsored by the Dramatic club and were directed by Mrs. Wright and Miss McDowell.

TRAVEL CLUB

A meeting of the Travel club was called to order by the club president Miriam Dundas Wednesday, February 10.

Refreshments were served. Several committees were appointed by the club president.

Program committee: Violet Sheppard.
Ring committee: Mary Jane Junod and Frances Bacon.
Refreshments committee: Elizabeth Miner and Ruth Angell.
Mrs. Chapman urged the girls to get busy on their scrap books.

Arline Richardson gave a very interesting talk about Florida and the meetings adjourned.

DID YOU NOTICE

Mr. Lee's new suit and shoes? Better watch out Mrs. Lee.

The favored blazer? Where did you get it, Mr. Jackson?

Mrs. Chapman's new dress? Fess up now, Mrs. Chapman. What's the secret of your success?

Those new white sweaters running around with a couple of freshmen? The smiling face of Junior Schrader? Maybe it's love.

The loud socks of Bob Christenson? Two energetic typists? Meet Miss Neal and Miss Kohler.

A few high school girls wearing ribbons on their hair? Aren't they cunning?

GIRLS' INTER-CLASS BASKET BALL TOURNAMENT

The final game of the tournament was held Thursday, February 11th. The two remaining teams, freshmen and juniors, participated. Both girls led a hard and exciting battle.

The freshmen won by a close margin. The final score was 19 to 12.

In the first three quarters the freshmen held the score but in the fourth, after much tumbling and hard fighting the juniors tied with the freshmen. Then who was it that caught a pass but a junior forward.

Quick as a flash into the basket it was tossed by Gertrude Deal. Time out was called by the juniors. Two minutes to play and the fighting began, freshmen trying to make a basket and the juniors trying to prevent it.

All played a hard fought game. Special mention must be given to the junior guards, especially in the last two minutes. Congratulations to Madeline and Florence. The freshmen team should likewise be congratulated for the good spirit they showed after having lost a game that meant so much to them. There are still three more years to them to show their skill and whoever gets up against them is going to have a hard battle to fight.

The trophy which is to be presented to the junior class soon, in the assembly, is made of silver. The statue of a girl shooting for a basket is on a base of black with a tablet which bears the inscription, "N. H. S. Interclass Women's — 1932."

Knowing the general wavering tendencies and weak spots of the human race, there are only a few men to whom you would trust your pocketbook, your life, a dear one or anything which you treasure...

Oh, woe is me I'm in the throes of a cold again. Streaming eyes, stuffy head and shaking hands—I fear that I'm aging rapidly...

Tough luck is my lot. Other people have all sorts of fearful operations to talk about at parties where conversation lags but me, the best I can do, in my tongue-tied manner, is to speak of the time it took a dentist an hour and a quarter to pull one of my wisdom teeth...

When I get rich I'm going to pay some famous M.D. to take out my vermiform appendix and swear to an affidavit saying that it was positively the worst that he had ever seen...

One Northville citizen has a peach of a story along the above-mentioned lines, which makes all his hearers sit back in envy...

He was on the table for a rather serious operation and had been given a local anesthetic. After about an hour and three quarters of slicing, stitching and cutting, none of which he had felt, he experimentally moved his right big toe and lo! behold!

"Oh doctor," he squeaked, "I'm beginning to feel things." "Say," declared one of the white-robed medics, "we've got to hurry up or else..."

"And do you know," concluded the story teller as his audience shivered and shuddered at the thought of feeling the knife, "that remark of the doctor's gave me the funniest feeling..."

And with all of these splendid ailments, agma pectoris, pertussis, cachexia, calentura, why can't I edge in somewhere so I can speak of my "delicate health..."

Bear with me friends, bear with me. Northville 2 won fourth place in this contest with a total of 377 points...

In the Proficiency contest points were given for all advancement in the troop during the year, for hikes and community service, and the monthly rating of each troop was also included.

NORTHVILLE WOMEN JOIN THE WORLD PRAYER SERVICE

It was a very thoughtful gathering of representative women from the various churches of Northville who gathered in the library last Friday afternoon to join with women all over the world in a day of prayer. The program for the day which was supposed to be uniformly carried out throughout the whole world, was arranged by Miss Tupper of the Isabella Thoburn college of Lucknow, India, and was designed to enlarge the interest in prayer in the other nations far away.

With the three pastors wives Mrs. H. G. Whitfield, Mrs. W. R. Barbour and Mrs. F. N. Miner in charge of the afternoon, Mrs. Miner acted as leader of the program. Prayers for the various nations were made, interspersed by appropriate verses and songs, all forming a unity of thought in this prayer service.
