

The Orange and Black

Edited by Northville High School

NORTHVILLE WINS LAST GAME OF YEAR

Northville defeated the Detroit Country Day school Monday afternoon in the latter's gymnasium on the Seven Mile road. The final score was 25-22 in favor of Northville.

The Orange and Black team went into the lead early in the game and held it throughout. Only twice did her opponents even threaten. The fight shown by Northville was very fine but lacked great vitality on account of the hard game in which the team participated last week. The first half which ended 12-10, was full of excitement and good plays. Northville kept possession of the ball most of the time and both her offense and defense were good. The Dr. C. D. S. fouled many times and thus too resulted in points for our boys.

The second half was somewhat slower. There were several fouls on both teams. The Dr. C. D. S. tried hard but was not equal to the task of defeating a vastly superior team. They did, however, come close enough to make Northville worry.

It was Northville's day. The reserve team also won 21-2. This was all Orange and Black scoring, passing and everything except fouling which was won by the Dr. C. D. S. boys.

Here's to Northville, long may she dominate the basketball courts. Starts Thursday at Kalamazoo. It is hoped and strongly believed that our hard fighting boys will survive at least two games and perhaps more. At any rate, we wish them the best of luck and urge everyone to support them.

SENIOR WHO'S WHO

Two more seniors present their life story to the world, Esther Patterson and Shirley Preston.
Esther was born in Detroit, Michigan, March 21. She moved to Northville at an early age and has attended 41st school here all her life.
She belongs to the Travel club, the "Jug" club, and was formerly a member of the Orange and Black of Northville. She was also in the cast of the "Bats of Blarney." (She Jander has no weaknesses).
After graduating, Esther wishes to attend some art institute and take course in designing.
Shirley was born in Northville, November 6, 1914. She has attended 41st school here all her life.
While in the sixth grade she won the school and district spelling bee. She is a member of the Girls' Glee club and the Band. She was in the cast of the senior play, and is on the senior prom committee and is also a member of the "Bats of Blarney." (She Jander has no weaknesses).
After graduating, she expects to attend some Normal school.

NORTHVILLE LOSES TO TRENTON

Last Friday the Orange and Black quintet was beaten by the Trenton quintet here. The game was real close until the last quarter when Trenton forged ahead to a victory of 21-14. The game was characterized by much shooting, much missing and many fouls and both teams fighting with the grim determination to win.

In the first quarter both teams were passing nicely and playing a fast game. Both teams had many fouls. Little shooting was done and the quarter ended with the score 5 to 4 in Northville's favor.

The second quarter passed with little shooting and little scoring by either team. Trenton seemed to have possession of the ball most of the time, although Northville played good basket ball. The score ended 9 to 8 again in Northville's favor.

All baskets made in the third quarter were fouls. Fouling seemed to be a disease, everyone catching it. Campbell and Beach were put out on fouls and two more men supplanted them. At the end of the quarter 13 and 10 was the score in Trenton's favor.

The fouling disease seemed to remain contagious during the last quarter, although it abated somewhat. Both teams fought real hard but Trenton seemed to be either more accurate, or more "lucky" in shooting. The game ended 21 to 14 in Trenton's favor.

The second team also lost to Trenton by a score of 21 to 17. The game was played with much spirit, and contained much inaccurate shooting.

AMERICAN LEGION

(By Lisle Alexander in Legion News)

The Auxiliary box social was a success. A congenial crowd assembled and all entered into the spirit of the thing and enjoyed the fun. The boxes were filled with good things to eat and the sale of them conducted by Comrade Kalesky netted the ladies a nice little sum. The only thing lacking was more participants and a larger crowd can be anticipated next time.

Comrade Dr. H. I. Sparling has consented to accept the office of Child Welfare officer for the post. This means that any children coming under our care will receive the best due to the doctor's ability and experience.

The latest comrade, to kick in with his check and receive the coveted membership card is Carl Byron. We hope more can see their way clear to follow suit in the near future and get this part of the job finished.

I do not know whether Comrade Blake is able to be around yet or not. I haven't seen him since he was wrecked into the 40 and 40 society last Tuesday night. But I assume that he stood the test as well as the rest of us did and know that he is damn glad it is over with and he is in the outfit.

To date the post has not publicly done much on the Legion job drive but there is a reason for this. Northville is in a peculiar position, and we feel that no matter how much the citizens would be willing and want to help, the majority of them are temporarily in a position where they could not. The matter is being studied and it is felt that some good may be done in this respect before the drive is finished.

All about the last feed and meeting next week. In the mean time, save March 8 for the next meeting. Did you read the very excellent tribute to Jack Cann in the last issue? It was very timely and well written and expressed the sentiments of all who know Jack and appreciate his every effort. Every good thing that O. Z. said goes for this past and writer, one hundred percent.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kohler attended a bridge party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stever in Plymouth Wednesday evening.

Girls in their high school career and is still their coach.

The team is scheduled to play Farmington Monday, March 7. The following girls are members of the team: Geraldine Hopkins, Margaret Young, Ernestine Wolfe, Marjorie Coulman, Dorothy McKunney, Luella Hammond and Virginia Palmer.

Although Peggy Blake and Gertrude Dial are not alumni, they are helping the team.

HOMEMAKER'S CORNER

By MRS. EDITOR

ONE YEAR IN NORTHVILLE

A whole cycle of seasons has rolled round since we came to Northville. A great year it has been, with more real living crammed in than in several times twelve ordinary months.

Last February a hopeful bunch of five weary and begrimed with the toil of packing (and carefully carrying the family clock in their laps) rolled over the hills of Northville and gazed first upon their "Promised land."

After a year of vainly trying to make distant California seem home, and another year of trying to buy a paper back in old Michigan, they were ready to say, "This shall be our home forever—no more moves."

Just at the outskirts they were nappily surprised to find a beautiful park-bidding them welcome to enjoy its benefits (and this park, Cass-Benton park, has been one of the bright spots of the year). Here they washed their faces, straightened their hats and prepared to enter the office using from the rhinos and in the suburbs of this strange village they saw friends—new friends—old friends, but soon to be real friends.

Setting their simple household "Peasies" in their small cottages on wing street, they were at home. The work of getting acquainted was not hard for they blithely asked folks their names—no time for formalities—and wrote them down in their note book (being very careful of initials). No small task has it been to become familiar with names like Van Valkenburg, Vradenburg, Wegenschultz, Manzinger, Revitzer, Spagnolo, Litzberger, Dusenbury, Kalbfleisch, Freydl—try it yourself!

nor has it been easy to segregate the various branches of the Yonkers and Hills families nor to classify the Johnstons and Johnsons. No little amusement has been given to the natives by our blunders but we've lived through it and are everlastingly grateful to those who have been our "bureaus of information" in our uncharted path.

Did ever a town have so many clubs and organizations to master? Well, they're as clear as mud, now.

Yes, a year has rolled round with its stern discipline of disappointment in banks closing one by one, its sorrow for the loss of friends, the withering heat of last summer, sickness in the family circle, times of laughter and joy—and though it all never losing faith in the home of our adoption nor in the new friends who have proved true throughout. Yes, we're glad we came to Northville.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Richardson honored on anniversary.

When the "Quality club" arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Murphy Wednesday evening a surprise was in store for two of its members, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Richardson had reached the twenty-second anniversary of their marriage and in celebration of this event the hosts had arranged the decorations of the dining room to remind them of this fact.

To the central crystal chandelier were draped festoons of white with small wedding bells suspended over a simulated white pyramid wedding cake upon which stood a miniature bride and groom. At each corner were placed white nut cups with sprays of lilacs of the valley while small engravings of brides and grooms marked each place. To the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march played on the violin by Chas. Straus, the honored guests were escorted to their places at the table and congratulations of their friends. After a delicious three-course dinner the evening was spent in playing bridge.

Snaring the duties of hosts with Mr. and Mrs. Murphy were Prof. and Mrs. Percy Angott. Other guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Blackburn and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Northrop.

Woman's Club Hears Russian Program at Phillips Country Home.

Mrs. T. Glean Phillips opened her home, Hillare, Friday afternoon to the members of the Northville Women's club. The program was devoted to Russian in the club series of their meetings.

The Rev. W. Hamilton Aulenbaen of Christ church, Chatham, gave an interesting talk on Russian life and many incidents of his travels in that country, which were enthusiastically received by the audience.

Mrs. Clara Schmitt and Mrs. J. J. Schmitt, both of Milford sang Russian duets accompanied by Mrs. Elmer Schmitt, all of Detroit. Alexander Schmitt, head of the cello department of Michigan State college at Lansing and who is internationally known as a soloist, played a group of Russian songs of which "The Flight of the Bumblebee" by Pinsky-Konsakoff was a favorite by the artist. Mr. Black, a student at Michigan State college accompanied by Mr. Schuster.

Tea was served following the program, the Russian motif predominating in the decorations of the table. Mrs. T. Glean Phillips presided at the banquet from which the guests were served tea in true Russian fashion.

Assisting Mrs. Phillips on this occasion were Mrs. B. H. Douglas, Mrs. Brennan, Mrs. H. S. Willis and Mrs. B. E. Larson.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Richardson entertained at dinner Mr. and Mrs. John Schoultz, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Fuller, last Friday evening, the occasion being Mrs. Fuller's, Mr. Schoultz's and Mr. Richardson's birthdays. This has been the custom for a number of years among these friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rawie Brown of Arrowhead Farm who are wintering in Daytona Beach, Florida, are rejoicing over the birth of their second grandchild, a nine pound baby girl, born February 22nd to their daughter, Mrs. Earl B. Nelson, of Detroit. Both mother and baby are reported doing well.

Captain and Mrs. Edward L. Mills were guests of the Signal Corps of Ypsilanti at their formal military ball held on the evening of February 22. There were present at this brilliant affair many old friends whom Mr. Mills had known when he was in the officers training camp and others he knew while in the service.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Stewart were called to Davison by the death of the former's mother, Mrs. Alexander Stewart, who passed away last Thursday, February 25. The funeral occurred Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Stewart also attended. Mr. Stewart's mother had been in poor health for several years. She had visited here and was known to Northville friends. His father and two sisters survive.

Chas. Shipley is making good recovery at his home.

R. Y. Masters of the Record staff spent the week-end in Ypsilanti.

Frederic Staman was welcomed as a new member of the Exchange club Wednesday.

Save the date, March 17, for one of those good suppers at the Baptist church.

Jerry Nelson, a first grade pupil is enjoying a very mild attack of chicken pox this week.

Clarence J. Walters of Jackson spent several days at the John K. Nelson home this week.

Obadiah Langfield returned Wednesday from a week's business trip through Ohio. He reports business conditions on the up-grade.

Friends of Nightwatchman Wm. Wain are missing his cheerful face on our village streets. He is confined to his home by serious illness.

Miss Jessie Nelson returned to her home from Detroit, the latter part of last week, suffering with a severe cold.

The Northville golf course out on Seven Mile road is open to those who wish to play this national game. They are among the first to start the season.

Don't forget the American Legion Auxiliary card party to be held at the home of Nellie Barry, 110 S. Rogers street, Monday evening, March 7, at 8 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Miller, Mrs. Kyle Miller and Mrs. Alice MacKay of Dearborn visited J. W. Perkins last Friday. Mrs. Andrew Miller is a sister of Mr. Perkins.

Fred J. Coolman was recently at Traverse City on some business for the National High School Orchestra association, of which he has been the attorney for a number of years.

Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Perkins attended the American Legion Testimonial dinner in honor of Colonel Frederick M. Alger at the Masonic Temple in Detroit Saturday evening.

Word has been received by Northville friends that Edward Lockwood, who has been spending the winter in Jimmieola, Florida, was very ill. As we go to press he defies further word has been received.

The sympathy of the community goes out to Mrs. P. A. Hanyer who received word Thursday of the sudden death of her mother at her home in Northern Minnesota. Two years ago she suffered a stroke from which she never fully recovered. In addition to this bereavement Mr. Hanyer is informed that, due to shock, her father's condition is very critical and his death is anticipated. Her father and mother had only recently celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary.

High school seniors are learning their figures all over again—to their sorrow. They're learning that a trip to Washington is an expensive proposition even securing the cheapest rates. Two plus two may equal four in the class room but putting two dollars together with another two dollars these days is a practical feat requiring some mental agility. Ask Treasurer Ruth Baldwin.

The Seniors are also going to put out a volume that is so dear to the heart of every high school alumnus—the annual They're working hard. No financial reward is theirs, just satisfaction of a good job well done.

Jane Lawrence, Herbert Berenut, Warner Neal and other youthful scribes are at it hammer and tongs and they deserve all of the help that will be coming their way.

Spring is on the way. You can feel it in the air. Warm zephyrs, a breaking up of "winter" and all of the usual signs that presage the coming of the best season of all.

The ladies will be perusing the style magazines, merchants are looking over their stocks with an eye to cleaning up the old and replacing it with new. Buyers are more critical than ever and the old waltz sits in on any purchasing conference.

The women like fine clothes and it'll take more than a measly depression to change human nature. Remember that Mr. Merchant and be prepared to do some business during the next few months.

You'll do it if you're prepared for it!

Speaking of absent mindedness—we're all afflicted with it—I heard a peach of an example today.

A very good friend of mine was told by his wife to be sure and water a precious plant of her's while she was away for a period of two weeks. She also had a wax artificial plant which looked somewhat like the live plant.

For two solid weeks this friend of mine watered the artificial plant daily while the live plant drooped and withered in to a mournful demise.

And did he catch it when the wife came home? I'll say he did. He's still hearing about the incident and it happened a month ago.

SEE NORTHVILLE FIRST

One of the delightful spots of last Friday's experience was a two-mile walk around Northville. We thought that was something to brag about, until we met a friend who said that he had just walked four miles. Hats off to that kind of a man in this automobile age when a lot of people seem half ashamed to walk a few blocks!

This little walk may be a simple thing to write about—but yet it is? What counts anyway? What are we all striving for if it is not happiness, health and content? The person who walks has a good chance of keeping, or of getting, good health and without good health what else amounts to anything? So he who goes walking is helping himself, his family and his friends.

Then in addition to the health angle, he who leaves the car in the garage and goes out for a hike learns as he can in no other way, about his own town. Who except a few of your "native sons" know Northville anyway? Have you walked out the Base Line, can you find your way about to the fish hatchery, have you ever walked up those matchless hills at Eastlawn, and have you tramped out to that superb spot, Cass Benton park? It just doesn't mean a thing that you go to all these spots with an automobile. That's too soft. That's too come-like. To see your town and to know it you must walk through it—see the front yards and the kids playing marbles by the curb—yes, even the washings hanging on the line. When you walk around Northville you will be surprised to find out how well kept many of our homes are and you will have a new spirit of loyalty to it.

See your Northville—on foot as Our Creator expected us to go a part of the time. Invite the editor out for a stroll down some trail he never took.

THE GOVERNOR AND THE LEGISLATURE

Thoughtful students of the state tax situation are pretty much agreed that Governor Brucker's future depends pretty much on the program that he presents to the state legislature at the special session which he has called. According to Editor Vernon J. Brown of the Ingham County (Mason) News, also a member of the lower house, the governor is "on the spot." He will be "made" or broken by what he does in the crisis.

Two things must be done, says Mr. Brown. The cost of government must be reduced and the heavy tax burden must be taken from real estate. He is right—this tax burden has gotten to the point where it is simply intolerable.

Highway and school taxes are two overwhelming burdens, says the Mason legislator. He suggests that three millions of dollars might be taken from our present university and college budget and applied on the task of leveling school rates. This is a fair plan. As valuable as state educational institutions are, they will have to "take the cut" along with everyone else. A good many people are beginning to think that these institutions could eliminate some of their "frills" in such times as we are going through.

A retail sales tax is a possibility says Editor Brown, although he does not commit himself to it. Then there must be drastic reductions in every department of public expenditure. This reduction, he goes on to say, will "disturb some very powerful interests." But if these interests are not defeated there will be little use in trying to cut down state costs.

One encouraging feature of the whole tax situation is that the weekly publishers of the state have set out to find a program that will be workable. We have faith that they will be able to help the legislature find a way out.

In the meantime Governor Brucker has the limelight and he may fool his critics yet.

THE BANK PLANS

Northville will have a bank in the not distant future that is what we have been saying and that is what we are "sticking to."

And when we get a bank we shall be in better shape in many of the towns of Michigan—that is something we are also willing to go on record as saying.

The plain facts are that this whole bank business, here and elsewhere, is a deep problem and not to be solved overnight or even over a long period. A lot of us have forgotten that and have expected the banks to re-open in some miraculous way. It just can't be done, that's all, any more than a patient can convalesce from the typhoid fever in three or four days. When the whole structure of the world is wobbling we can hardly expect things to be as they have been.

It may be for the best that we have to take our time to get a bank—the result may be better than if we had rushed into something in a hurry. We have maintained for a time, and we think time has vindicated our stand, the "big bankers" have been just as much baffled by banking situation as the little fellows. In other words, the whole situation has been a completely new one, an unprecedented one—there just never was anything like it before. Time has had to be the great healer.

Now we seem to be approaching the time when something definite will be done about the bank. We all hope so. At the meeting of depositors on Wednesday, March 9, those who are concerned will have the chance to express their opinion and to vote as their conscience dictates. Now the time for calm and judicial—and fair minded judgment.

We should all approach the problem of the two plans with an open mind. We see not the slightest reason for ill temper or personalities to enter into the discussion of these two plans. Northville, in spite of some rumors to the contrary, is ready to settle this bank business in a kindly, reasonable sort of way. The great majority of our people are fine folks, level headed and willing to do the right thing when they have both plans laid before them in clear way. That there will be much questioning is to be expected. The whole matter is a deep subject and it has months been baffling the minds of some of the so-called experts. You can hardly expect 500 people to get in the afternoon and settle the matter without a discussion. There is too much at stake for that.

We are glad to notice that the crop of rumors and stories without foundation that flourished here some time back is dying down. It was a pity they ever had to be started. If we are to get anywhere as a community we simply must have faith in each other and give others as much credit as ourselves for having the right motive. Calmer judgment is now coming to the top, as it always does in the long run, and the people can be counted on to do the right thing. This newspaper is sponsoring no particular plan—that is for the depositors to do. But we do feel that Northville will find some way out of its present "bankless" days. If it doesn't come next week it won't be long delayed. The bank isn't far off.

WHAT SHALL WE SAY?

The linotype operator has been bombarding us for two hours to finish this column so he can get it into type. The nerve of him! We have about eighteen other things to do and in the next place we haven't an idea in our head right now for an editorial.

So we ask you: About what should a Northville editor write in his column of comment? We often wish we knew what people would like to have discussed. Here it is Wednesday morning and the biggest thing of the day so far is the kidnapping of the Lindbergh baby. Really, that is terrible. Any kidnaper, to our notion, is little short of a fiend. There are a lot of things wrong with this country but nothing is more serious than the tyranny of gangsters, criminals and racketeers. The reign of crime is something to make us all wonder what is wrong with our courts, our schools, our churches and all the best of the institutions of civilization. Frankly, it seems to us that we are reaping the whirlwind of the World War, with its blood lusts, its horrors, its hatreds. Those four years of destruction ruined more than billions of wealth—they wrecked ideals, faiths and hopes. We sowed the wind and we are reaping the whirlwind.

What to write? We could write of a lot of things if we had the time to read, to think and to "smell over" the ideas. But the days seem so full of details and rush that little time is left for calm deliberation. For example, here it is only ten o'clock and we presume that so far we have already had a dozen callers and the same number of telephone calls. They all mean business and we would be sorry if no one called and the telephone were silent.

We should like to write about the new Northville bank and when it is going to open but the sad thing is that neither we nor anyone else knows just when that happy day will be. As we have said before, you can't sweep back the ocean with a broom and we shall have to wait until conditions are right for the bank. However, we do feel that the time when we shall have one is drawing near. The whole business situation, banking structure and the economic foundations of the whole country and of the world, have been undergoing changes. We have had to suffer along with everyone else—there has just been no other way.

What to write? Right now we wish we could give you all a formula for peace and contentment and health and prosperity. That would be something to write about. What do you say about it?

Here comes that wild-eyed Missouri operator. Well we hope this crazy copy fills that space. As one of our associates back on the Albion daily paper used to say: "It's a gay life if you don't weaken." But we love it still.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

NOT MANY DO IT

(Jonesville Independent)
Have your neighbors ever dropped into your home to borrow the weekly collection of circular letters, hand bills, etc., that the users think are as good as advertising in your favorite country newspaper?

THE NEWSPAPER CRITIC

(Royalton, Minn., Banner)
When you hear a man finding fault with the local newspaper, open it up and ten to one you'll find he hasn't an advertisement in it, five to one he never gives it a job of printing, three to one that he does not take the paper, two to one that if he is a subscriber he is a delinquent one, even odds he never does anything to help the publisher to run a good paper, and 49 to one he is the most eager to see the paper when it comes out and borrows it from his neighbors before they get time to read it.

LOYALTY

(Hastings Banner)
When it comes to real loyalty one has difficulty in finding a more devoted friend than a dog. This was beautifully illustrated by a little incident that recently happened right here in our own city.

Joe, a big Newfoundland, was adopted into a family living here to be the household pet and the guardian-playmate of the children. And Joe was alive to his job. The best of the children was taken to the hospital for some minor ailment. Joe seemed dejected when he noted the absence and apparently decided to find what was wrong. In some manner he managed to trace the child to the hospital and once there demanded admittance by rearing up on his hind legs and scratching against the door with his large front paws. When admitted he rushed up to the room occupied by his young friend and seemed supremely happy as he curled up on the floor by her bed to keep guard or to render any assistance possible.

And yet some people never seem to understand why other people can stand having these "creatures" around!

DEMOCRATS ARE HUSTLING

(Clinton Co. Republican News)
Not since Roosevelt upset the Republican apple cart in 1912 has there been as much activity among the Democrats of the state and country where that party had to draft a single candidate for governor during the past decade there are now several potential candidates. Judge Arthur Lacy, John W. Miner and Edmund Shields, all lawyers, have received liberal mention in the last few weeks. More recently Mayor Frank Murphy of Detroit is on the lips of those who love to discuss possibilities. A prominent state official told us one day last week that in Detroit he saw Ed. Barnard, the Republican state central committee man and political associate of John Gillespie, in conference with Mayor Murphy. Soon afterward this same Barnard with Mrs. Woodhouse, another prominent Republican politician, in conference with George Murphy, the Democratic Detroit mayor's brother. Immediately afterward newspaper announcements said that Mayor Murphy might be willing to become the Democratic standard bearer in Michigan. Just what does all this mean—these conferences between Detroit Republican leaders and Detroit Democratic leaders? Our guess is that a shift of power in state politics would find many of the now prominent Detroit Republican politicians shifting to the other party—that or secretly having a hand in the game.

Human Ostrich

Lady: But didn't I give you a cake last week?
Beggar: Yes, ma'am.
Lady: And you are here again.
Beggar: Yes, ma'am, your cake was nothing to me. I used to be a sword swallower.

Among the whooping cough victims are Max Coe and Phyllis Jones. Gladys Clark's case is still doubtful.
