YERKES GETS SUGGESTIONS FROM PUBLIC

Northville Candidate for Congress Speaks at Rotary

Northville Rotarians and guests heard a unique political speech at their luncheon Monday noon when Robert G. Yerkes of Northville, candidate for congress in the 17th district, said: "I have no platform yet but am receiving suggestions from people in the district."

Yerkes, who makes his home at "Braeside" on the Base Line road, went on to make a political speech at their luncheon Monday noon when Robert G. Yerkes of Northville, candidate for congress in the 17th district, said: "I have no platform yet but am receiving suggestions from people in the district."

NORTHVILLE SHIVERS IN WINTER'S GRASP

For the first time this winter Northville is shivering with near-zero temperature. Wednesday is said to have been the coldest March day since 1912. With a cold Northville shivers and shivers of snow. It is as if Old Man Winter would have his last fling before the robins and blue birds, reported to have been seen here last week, have their welcome day.

CONTESTS IN SIGHT AT NOV. CAUCUS

With keen competition for at least two offices in sight, the Republican caucus of Northville township tomorrow afternoon, March 12, at 2 p. m. promises to be full of excitement.

Contests are expected in nominations for treasurer and highway commissioner. Frank D. Clark, George R. Simmons and Wm. Harrison seek the position of treasurer and an active campaign is being waged. Wm. Mahts and Henry Barnhart are out for highway commissioner.

DETROIT MOTORISTS HURT AS CAR SKIDS

While returning Sunday to their home in Detroit from their cottage at Buck Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Zachman were thrown into the ditch when their car, driven by their son, skidded on the icy pavement.

Mr. Zachman received a severe scalp wound and his wife a broken arm but neither the son nor the friend riding with him were seriously hurt.

The accident occurred near Maybury sanatorium. Three young men, in passing, one of them Will Foreman, picked up the injured Mr. Zachman and the rest directly to the Atchison hospital. Mr. Zachman was brought by ambulance to the hospital where he and his wife are under care. The boys were found to have only minor hurts and returned to Detroit. A special nurse, Miss Morryna, is caring for Zachman and Mrs. S. E. Stalter has his wife's case. Both are making good recovery. Their home is 956 Perry street, Detroit.

R. P. BENTON SENDS GREETINGS TO FORMER NORTHVILLE FRIENDS

After a 34-year absence from Northville, Richmond P. Benton of Los Angeles, where he is an appraiser and real estate broker, still retains keen interest in the old home town. In sending his check for The Record for another year he makes the following personal comment which will be of interest to our readers:

"I send my congratulations to Will and Bert Stark moving in their new building. They and Bruno Freydl are, I believe, the only two merchants in business now that were in business when I left there thirty-four (34) years ago."

"I hope Northville is successful in getting their new bank; for a town without a bank is like a ship without a rudder."

VOTE "NO" ON WELLS URGES DR. BURKHART

Member of Village Council
Discusses Local Water Situation

By Dr. H. H. Burkart, member of village commission.

For several years the state department of health has advised and requested our various councils to take action on our village water supply which upon examination had been found to be potentially dangerous.

Each council has expressed their selves as having confidence in the purity of our water and felt little need to improve same. The state department of health, dissatisfied with what appeared to them to be a lack of cooperation, wrote our village clerk on July 31, 1931, ordering the present council "to take action within six months, and to proceed without unnecessary delay, to permanent correction of water works system."

Reasons given were that "said water works system is now securing water from three springs, which are not protected from surface contamination; because the present method of securing water is fundamentally wrong, since the water comes from such a shallow depth and because of the existence of an old reservoir."

Such was the problem which confronted the new council four months after they were elected. Fundamentally the accusations were true, yet the village has been supplied by this system for many years and not once has a disease been traceable to the water. However there are some on the council or in the community who would vote to retain our present system if there was the slightest doubt about it not being possible to render it safe and adequate.

Most of the present council believe that the present system can be made pure and adequate, without the village assuming an indebtedness of approximately $30,000, but realizing fully the importance of the matter have decided not to assume the entire responsibility of solving this vital question and hence on Monday the electors will be called upon to vote "yes" or "no" on a questionnaire regarding the advisability of sinking deep wells for the supply of the village of Northville.

Every resident, particularly the taxpayers should carefully consider the question before voting. There is no doubt that many residents and consumers have been unduly alarmed by some previous articles relative to our water, and in order to improve same would vote for a drastic change in the system, without first carefully considering the possibilities of developing a pure and adequate water supply from our present Hill and Barnhart springs as compared to the many objections to the sinking of deep wells.

The source of our water supply and conditions as reported by the state department of health was clearly covered by Dr. L. W. Snow in a recent article, but it may be well to repeat that the Barnhart springs, which are covered, have

TOWNSHIP REPUBLICANS AND DEMOCRATS BOTH WILL HOLD CAUCUSES

Voters of Northville township are today "getting set" for two caucuses — both Republican and Democratic — which will be held this evening and tomorrow. The Republican meet in particular promises to be a lively affair.

The Democrats of the township will meet this (Friday) evening at the village hall at 7:30 o'clock. Chas. A. Sessions and Thos. Murdock are among the leading spirits in the move to give the Republicans a little opposition this year.

The contest for clerk between Elmer L. Smith, who now holds the office, and Irving J. Ulrich, who seeks the place, is expected to draw a crowd to the Republican gathering at the village hall Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. As far as The Record could learn yesterday, the only other contest will be for highway commissioner between the incumbent, Herman Kreeger, and Guy N. Martin, who decided this week to make the race. Martin has been overseer for the past year.

Supervisor Willard A. Ely, and treasurer, Mrs. Helen A. Morris, who is completing her first term, have no opposition in sight at present.

BANK DEVELOPMENTS

Up until the middle of yesterday afternoon, the following is as accurate and complete a record of the local bank situation as this newspaper can ascertain:

1—No date has yet been set for the depositors' meeting.

2—According to John A. Boyce, chairman of the second depositors' committee, the state banking department is now at work on a moratorium plan which they feel will meet the Northville problem of two closed banks. It will be, according to Deputy Commissioner Taylor, the department, the middle of next week before the plan is completed and ready to be submitted to the committee.

(The statement in last week's Record that a plan had been tentatively approved by state authorities was based on direct information from the banking department and apparently it has been found necessary to make new changes in the plan, with more difficulties to overcome than had been anticipated.)

3—Steps leading to a 100% assessment of stockholders of the Lapham State Savings bank were taken in circuit court at Detroit Wednesday, March 9, when Judge Joseph A. Moynihan signed an order permitting Hoyt Woodman, receiver, to collect this one hundred per cent from the stockholders. This will call for the payment of the entire amount of the capital stock, $50,000. Up until yesterday afternoon the assessment had not been made by the receiver. (Assessment of the stockholders of the Northville State Savings bank, made by the receiver, Sidney M. Liddell, has been held up by court proceeding which was to have been settled today, March 11, but was postponed until next week because of the absence of Judge De Witt Merriam, presiding officer.)

4—Twenty-five business men have signed a petition to the depositors' committee, asking that a meeting of the depositors be called within ten days for the purpose of "reaching some decision for the establishment of banking facilities in Northville." This petition, with the signatures, will be found in this issue.

NOTICE TO COMMITTEE

Northville, Mich., March 9th, 1932

To the Committees of Northville Banks:

The undersigned request that the meeting of the depositors of both Northville banks be called within ten days from this date, for the purpose of reaching some decision for the establishment of banking facilities in Northville and that there be no further delay in the matter so vital to the welfare of our community.

LAPHAM BANK TO CASH 5-DAY CHECKS

The Lapham State Savings bank, although closed, will accommodate Dollar Day customers next Tuesday and Wednesday, March 15-16, by keeping a sufficient amount of money on hand to cash all checks.

Hoyt Woodman, receiver for the bank, has assured merchants that he will have enough money on hand and he and his assistants will be able to take care of the crowds.

SPANISH OPERETTA AT H. S. TONIGHT

A real treat is in store for Northville students and townspeople tonight in the high school auditorium when "Riding Down the Sky," an operetta by Geoffrey F. Morgan and Geoffrey O'Hara, is to be presented by members of the Senior Boys' and Girls' Glee clubs. This operetta is a sparkling comedy full of good humor, interesting situations, and singing love songs. The scene is laid in South America on the plaza in Hemerosa, capital city of Santa Delmonica.

The costumes for the majority of the principals will be rented from a costume house in Detroit while the costumes for the members of the chorus will be made by Mrs. Zimmerman and her sewing classes.

The scenery has been redecorated by Mrs. Chapman and her art class, who are completely in charge of that particular part of the operetta. The cast for tonight consists of the following: Ben Baker, a young American aviator; Alex Johnson (tenor lead); George McDonald, a mining expert; Henry Hoffman; Joshua Scroggins the "deckhand" on the airplane; Alfred Parmenter; Don Pedro De Garzonza, president of Santa Delmonica; Merle Praser; Carmela, his young and charming daughter; Bernice Clark (soprano lead); Pepita, her friend and companion; Gertrude Deal; Rosa Escobedo, a matronly duenna; Marion Turnbull; Don Jose Del Malmo, an elderly suitor; Maurice Giles; Francisco Bandino, a revolutionary conspirator; Ernest Racz; Maria Bandino, his wife; Florence Johnson; Sgt. Timothy Riley of the U. S. Marines; Howard Latta; Fernando Gonzales, the presidents bodyguard; Martin Sommers; Leslie G. Lee will direct the performance and Geraldine Ferguson will play the accompaniment.

The choruses of soldiers and ladies consists of the following: Arlene Richardson; Margaret Ray; Ruth Corey; Jewel Clark; Mary Jane Denne; Mary Elizabeth Elkington; Audrey Taylor; Helen Murdock; Myrtle Lemmon; Avis Perry; Violet Johnson; Frances Cousins; Winifred McCord; Jane Lester; Shirley Preston; Marie Lemmon; Don Keeney; George Richardson; Dayton Deal; Leo Kohler; Charles Strautz; John Stenchen and Paul Beard.

The music between acts will be presented by the Junior Girls' Glee club.

SCHOOL FLU CHECKED REPORTS NURSE BRAY

In spite of the sudden severe cold weather health conditions in the public schools, reports the school nurse, Mrs. Florence Bray, are better than for a few weeks previous. There are fewer absences in school and the epidemic of flu seems to have died down. The maladies now are merely simple colds.

Whooping cough is not spreading. Beside one uncertain case the following five children are in quarantine. Melvin Camp, Virginia Moss, Norman Hickow, Chas Nelson and Max Coe. Cases are not severe.

NORTHVILLE PLANS BIG BARGAIN CELEBRATION

NORTHVILLE GOES TO POLLS MONDAY

Northville voters will cast their ballots Monday morning, election day, for virtually a straight ticket, only one office being contested for, that of village assessor.

Chas. A. Sessions, assessor for 40 years, will oppose Floyd R. Lanning for the position.

Other village officers who will run without any competition are: Dr. Linwood W. Snow, former commissioner who resigned to run for the office of president last vacant by Harry S. German, Ross B. Dusebury and Merrill Sweet who will be candidates for re-election for four year terms as commissioners. Wm. T. Gregory, who will be a candidate to fill an unexpired two year term as commissioner (Dr. Snow's; Frederick Hodge will again be a candidate for the office of village clerk; and the office of village assessor which will be filled by either Floyd R. Lanning or the present incumbent, Chas. A. Sessions.

A questionnaire stated, "That the Village of Northville, Michigan shall dig deep wells at an approximate cost of $15,000 and abandon the present water supply, which will be voted on by the voters as either 'yes' or 'no'."

Whether to improve the present water system or to place the village on bond for approximately $15,000 in order to sink wells and construct a new supply is a question that will allow the commissioners to learn the sentiment of the voters in regard to the situation.

The last day for registration will be tomorrow at the village hall and election will be held Monday. Voters in the first precinct will cast their ballots at the village hall, 102 South Main street, corner of West Main; voters of the second precinct will visit the polls located at 103 South Center street under Horton's drug store.

The polls will be open from 8 o'clock a. m. to 8 o'clock p. m.

Members of the registration board are as follows: first precinct, M. J. Murphy, Ruth Gillis, Earl Stanbrough, Joseph Vroman, Earl Cobb, Edward Keeney, second precinct, Mrs. Leo Lawrence, Mrs. Jas. Huff, Herman Blooms, Gus Wagner and Joe Simpson.

NORTHVILLE MEN HEAR VOORHIES AT PLYMOUTH MEETING

Men from the Methodist churches of Northville, Sheldon, Denton, Cherry Hill and Plymouth were entertained at a dinner at the Plymouth Methodist church last Friday evening. Those attending from the local society were Rev. F. N. Miner, Hoyt Woodman, Roy G. Clark, E. A. Fuller, E. J. Cobb, C. A. Dolph and Richard T. Baldwin.

The address of the evening was made by Paul W. Voorhies, attorney general of Michigan, in which he presented clearly many of the problems of taxation of the state. The multiplied taxes by local taxing powers were declared to be one of the causes of the fall of money demanded at various treasures.

The justly famous Redford Exchange quartet, directed by Ray Burgess, gave some rollicking numbers. A double quartet from Denton also gave several selections which were heartily received.

The meeting was presided over by Rev. P. Ray Norton and the Methodist ladies served the dinner to the 150 men who filled the places.

A REMINDER!!

Contained in the columns of The Record is a large memorandum sheet on which the bargain hunter may jot down his or her particular money saving items.

Use this memorandum and don't forget that you have TWO days in which to take advantage of this event—Tuesday and Wednesday—March 15 and 16.

Two big Dollar Days for Northville will be held next Tuesday and Wednesday, March 15 and 16.

Every thrifty man and woman of Northville and vicinity will take advantage of the opportunity to effect real savings on these two days when the merchants are throwing their entire stocks on sale at bargain prices.

Dollar Days at the present time will provide the public with hundreds of values enabling people to make their money go much farther and buy a better quality of goods than at any other time in business history.

At a time when the Dollar must be stretched to its utmost, Northville merchants have stepped in and combined to put forth a value demonstration that will make similar events held before pale in comparison.

The Dollar Days to be held next Tuesday and Wednesday are the first that Northville has held in a period of three years. After much intense preparation and effort the merchants are opening their stores to people inviting them to join the great National Anti-Inflation campaign by spending the dollars that are now reposing in hiding places, freeing the credit of the entire nation.

Prices on staple articles, household items, furniture, gifts, clothing have been lowered to spot point and in many instances, even below.

Approximately 5,000 copies of the Record will be distributed in Northville, and towns surrounding and if the weather is fair the Northville High School and Community band will tour the countryside advertising this popular event.

Two big Dollar Days—Tuesday and Wednesday—March 15 and 16 will attract large crowds of thrifty shoppers here next week. Northville merchants await them with the largest stock of values ever before offered in the history of the town.

Come to Northville to do your spring and Easter shopping where your dollar will do twice the work and will give you higher values for your money.

ORVILLE LEWIS DIES TUESDAY

Orville M. Lewis, 60, many years a resident of Northville passed away at South Lyon at the home of his daughter Tuesday evening. The funeral will be held in the Presbyterian church on Saturday afternoon with the pastor, Rev. H. G. Whitfield officiating. It will be recalled that Mrs. Lewis died a year ago last December. The Lewis home was on Randolph street.

LEGION AIDS UNEMPLOYED

The American Legion has made a real progress in aiding the unemployed, according to the chairman, Irving Ulrich, "The American Legion Employment Committee has given work to six men in Northville. The jobs are small but every one counts."

"We have men who are willing to do anything so if you have a job large or small, phone the committee at 373."

S. O. S. TO THE UNDERWORLD

Did it strike you Sunday morning as a terrible thing when the radio announced that the Lindberghs had consented to use a couple of eastern gangsters as "go-betweens" to have their child brought back? After four days the whole force of the law—local, state and national—seemed to be beaten and lost and so an S. O. S. went out to the underworld to find the kidnapers. What a commentary on civilization that we have to consort with desperadoes to catch desperadoes! We write this Sunday morning, as the thing is hot in our mind and the outcome unknown. Badly as the Lindberghs want their child—and we should all very likely do as they have done—we hope that no gangster has any part in bringing that priceless baby home.

NO MORE HOOVER HANDSHAKES

President Hoover has announced that he has given up the practice of shaking hands—a certain time of the day with the visitors who come to the White House. A lot of curious folks will miss the glory of shaking hands with their president but the executive of this great nation, with a thousand burdens on his shoulders, will be spared energy to carry on his great work. Hoover needs every ounce of his strength and every minute of his time to tackle the big problems before him.

Handshaking as a daily pastime wouldn't be tolerated by a big corporation. The Northville school board wouldn't let their superintendent spend an hour of each day shaking hands with folks just to be friendly. Even the publisher of this newspaper would hate to take an hour of his time every day or so to stand in line with subscribers just to shake hands with them.

No, the Hoover ban of handshaking is based on good sense—not to mention all the germs he might pick up in grasping the hand of the nation.

A DOZEN MEN CAN DO IT

We have sometimes called ourselves a "Pollyanna" newspaper—and of course we have been called that by the cynical. And in spite of some happenings around this town that are not very much on the "Pollyanna" attitude, we still hold to the faith that in the long run, good will, loyalty and friendliness will win the battle, whether it is in business, in town building or anything else.

However, at this particular time we feel like saying one blunt thing. That plain statement is this: We shall not get anywhere in our community life if we can not scrap our differences and pull together. There is enough power in this town to do wonders if it can only be harnessed but it can never be utilized if a dozen men insist on putting personal differences ahead of the community's welfare.

The trouble with Northville—if our trouble is any worse than any other town's—is not that our people in general are differing and going into personalities. Our difficulty is that a very small minority cannot "get together." If this little group could all be impregnated with good will and if they could start a clean sheet we should literally start a new era of progress and prosperity. Wouldn't it be great if we could do that?

Northville has splendid possibilities but it will not go ahead without leadership. We are right now on the verge of a new day and new possibilities if we only realize it. Our leaders have their chance. What happens to this town in the next ten years depends a good deal on what our leaders do in the next few months. We are going to have faith that the era of good will will soon be starting. What do you say?

WE ARE ALL POOR BUT RICH

It followed us all the way to work Friday afternoon and bobbed up in our mind for a couple of days. Here is what it was: We are all poor if we are judged by material standards these days. It came over the radio in a bit of Lenten message that we caught just as we were putting on our coat to return to the office. Everybody poor? How true it is, with everyone footing up his losses, big and little. But the speaker went on to say that we were not all failures just because most of us have lost all or half or part of what we had three years ago. In other words, the money standard is not the only gauge of success. Well it is fine to think that although most of us are just about "broke" there are a lot of us that are still rich. It doesn't take money to have good friends, although the tragedy is that when some men have gotten money they have turned their back on their friends. It doesn't take money to sit with the family around the fireside and thank God that no kidnapper has come into the circle to snatch one away. It doesn't take money to take one of your children—as we did the other afternoon—and go for an hour's walk down by the river and dam and by the willows. The poorest man in Northville can get a lot of the richest things if he only knows it.

Yes, we are all pretty poor, in the "mop-up" of the biggest depression that ever came down the pike of time, but as the speaker said, we can all be rich some other way. Some day we'll get some of our money back, then we shall be able to enjoy life more than he who has depended on money alone to bring happiness.

NORTHVILLE THOUGHTS

A Northville man stood surveying some repairing he had done and then he said: "And every bit of the material was bought in Northville and all of the work was done by Northville men."

He had a right to be proud. The man who stands by the town that makes life worth while for him is the man who reaps the fine fruits of loyalty. No town gets very far without a lot of such folks.

We owe this suggestion to Walter S. Kennedy of The Albion Evening Recorder. The folks who try to make 1932 a better year for their town will make it a better year for themselves. Just the old story of "cast your bread upon the waters" and it comes back to you, if not in a few days, after many days.

Here are some home town ideas:

Wouldn't it be fine if everyone tried the home store first before going to Detroit or Ann Arbor or Plymouth?

Wouldn't it be great if every man in business would appreciate (like the Detroit stores do) what advertising will do for him and then go ahead and plan out an advertising budget, not to help the home newspaper but to help himself?

How would it be to have a lawn and garden contest this spring and summer and thus encourage some of the folks who are doing their best to improve their street?

Wouldn't it be great if we had a "moratorium" on saying mean and little things about some of the folks of your town—and if we had a revival of good old-fashioned kindness and faith in each other.

This is our Northville—there is none like it in the United States. Let's give it its right place in the sun.

(P. S. We had a letter the other day about a little factory that might be interested in coming to our town. Maybe the eyes of the outside world are on us more than we realize.)

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

Who raises the best roses in Northville?

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

CONFIDENCE COMING BACK

(Eaton Rapids Journal)

One man walked into the bank the other day and paid off a $5,000 mortgage in cash, and with old style bills taken from the woodpile or the chimney corner. Just another proof that many people are regaining confidence in their country and the world in general. No, this did not happen in Eaton Rapids—it happened in Detroit, however.

AN OLD LADY AND A PIANO

(Schuyler Marshall in Clinton Co. (St. John's) Republican News)

An anonymous letter writer asks the Republican-News why an old lady with a few hundred dollars hid in a crock should use it to buy a piano and thus "help business." Also, this writer asks why a farmer with his savings buried by a "hickory tree in the pasture" should dig it up for a new automobile that is not needed.

There are a few people not many who take such an absurd view and make such crazy illustrations. The answer is: They should not buy a piano or an unneeded auto. They should, however, take their money out of the crock and from the pasture by the hickory tree, and deposit it in a good bank. There the money would be working—performing the service for which money is intended, and it would be safe at attitude of the people. The government cannot make people stop hiding money. It can only advise and urge that this paralyzing practice be stopped, that, and guarantee safe depositories and safe investments. All of which emphasizes a very pertinent fact, viz., the government is not government officials, but the people themselves.

STICK TO THE LAND

(Harry Izor in the Durand Express)

Have you heard the story of the farmer who sold his farm at the peak in 1929 and had ten thousand dollars at his command. He invested it in "git edge" stock to the tune of two thousand each in General Motors, National Dairies, U. S. Steel, New York Central, and Montgomery Ward & Co. His investment today would be worth exactly $1,807. The sequel is so wonderfully obvious, that land is the basic value of the nation. Or stick to the land rather than to seek distant riches that generally prove to be fleeting.

SPUTTERING

(Vern J. Brown in Ingham Co. News)

We like Bruce Barton's prayer. For one thing we understand what he is praying for better than we do when the ordinary orthodox prayer is offered and somehow we are of the opinion the Lord is able to do the same. In fact, we have often wondered if the Lord waited to hear some prayers through.

At any rate, Mr. Barton released himself of the recently that struck his square on the chin. He prayed: "Lord, help me to enjoy the human race, its follies as well as its wisdom, its annoying habit of doing things wrong as well as its noble capacity for standing more punishment than it deserves, and hoping in spite of experience. Help me to lose any idea that it is up to me to change people or correct them or point out to them how much better off they would be if they had done something else, or to say, 'I told you so.' Lord keep me from sputtering."

And what a lot of sputtering we do.

Northville

Michigan

(By Lisle Alexander in Legion News)

The last feed and meeting was a great success but not as well attended as it should have been. This is to be regretted but when Comrade William Jones and Dick Soley were reported on the sick list, we realized that many more of the comrades or their families were ailing and thus accounted for the small attendance.

Comrade Irving Ulrich was appointed chairman of the Employment committee and has established headquarters in his office in Northville. He has a trio of able workers to help on this job but also must receive the help of every member. Although Comrade Ulrich is a member of Plymouth Post, he gladly took the assignment and is working hard to find jobs for men who need and talked about by business men everywhere. With a business mind that fitted him to become a merchant in a large city, he prefers to live in a small town and apply in his more limited community the same business principles that made Wm. Wingley a multimillionaire. Here is what Fred says about his business success:

"I have no sympathy for the merchant who sleeps between advertising blankets on bed springs that are nationally advertised sleeps in advertised pajamas, who rides to work in an advertised car and who, when he gets to work, refuses to advertise. He ought to go broke and he probably will. If I were to start in business again I would invest five per cent of my gross sales in advertising. It pays."

them. Get a job for a man and report to headquarters they will find a man for the job.

It was voted to hold our annual community banquet on the evening of Army Day, April 6. The committee chosen to arrange for this big event consists of Comrades Alexander, Schultze, and H. G. White. This is a big job and you will be asked to work and work hard. Plans will be laid in the near future and we will get busy to make this night remembered as the banquet of last year was and should be.

Four or five cases of whooping cough are reported in the local school. The malady does not seem to be spreading.

Sure and St. Patrick should come back to life and he'd have himself a fine job driving the snakes out of these "free" and "liberty loving" United States.

Knappers, racketeers, et al are the scum of the earth and to think that we have to turn to gangland to get back our most precious possessions arouses a feeling of nausea. Pharaoh? They're worse than pirates. The latter never harmed children.

George Rattenbury and Fraser Staman would have me believe the following outlandish story when they swear it true.

A farmer, named H. H. Hamilton, living on the outskirts of Northville hung his vest on a fence post while plowing eight years ago. A calf nibbled the watch out of the pocket and just the other day when the cow was butchered and cut open the watch was found inside.

Because the watch had been held firmly between the lungs and because each time the cow drew a breath she wound the stem, the watch was still running and had only lost four minutes.

The story makes George and Fraser charter members in the newly formed Ananias club. If there are any other "half-story tellers" let me hear from them immediately and they'll be taken into the club as soon as they can relate a story as good as that one or better.

Dollar Days in Northville next Tuesday and Wednesday. Because Northville hasn't gone hysterical in running "sales" that aren't really sales, at all, people in this and the surrounding towns will realize that these two days will be chuck-full of Dollar Bargains.

Come to Northville. Your money will buy MORE here and what you buy will be QUALITY merchandise.

Speaking of nickle-pitching, we saw Councilman Merrill Sweet, trying to put a jute, into the slot of a pay-station phone the other night. It stuck in the groove and after some difficulty, it was taken out and examined. Someone had squeezed it, so hard in the center that it had bulged right out at the edges. Merrill is trying to match the finger-prints on the nickle with those of Commissioner Ross B. Dusenbury.

who keeps a tight hold on the purse strings of the village exchequer.

Right now I am in as much of a jam as anyone could possibly be. Dollar Days coming along, job work to go to Detroit, copy to be written, an endless number of things to do and only a short time to do it in. (There, I ended it with a preposition.) Everyone in the Record office is just as busy if not more so and I've found that if you don't get panicky—just keep right on plugging—things work themselves out.

I want to see Northville become a real shopping center. We've the merchants, the location, and if we had a bank we'd be a real shopping center.

That's elementary. The thing to do now is to get a plan, any plan, and put it into effect. It's my theory, I may be wrong, but I maintain that any plan with the confidence and support of the community behind it, will succeed.

Northville citizens and merchants will get together and support any reasonable plan if those responsible will only decide, UNANIMOUSLY, on what the best plan obtainable today is. Let's all get into the same step.

If I'm wrong you can either write or sue me. If you do the former you may get satisfaction, if you decide on the latter—all you'll get is a headache. And if you're interested in banking you've probably got one already.

Wake Up Your Liver Bile Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in pimples. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

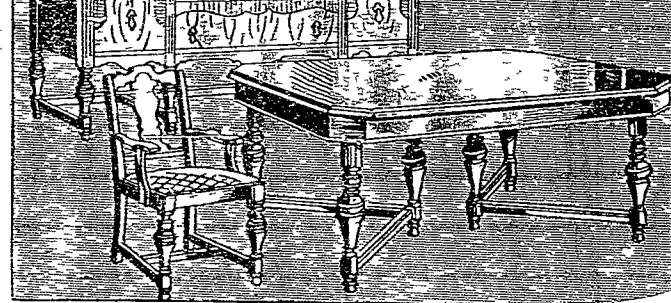

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. 25c at all stores. ©1931, C. M. Co.

PLYMOUTH MAN TO GET CREDIT FOR INVENTION OF METAL WINDMILL

(From the Plymouth Mail)
During a recent radio talk from the University of Michigan, Professor Felix W. Pawlowski, Aeronautical Research Engineer, made a statement that the first metal windmill invented to this country was credited to Thomas O. Perry in 1883. E. C. Hough, hearing this statement, wrote to Professor Pawlowski and sent a copy of the original patent on a non-tax paying mayor of Detroit, Hamilton, of Plymouth, in 1899, thus bringing without question that Hamilton's invention was prior to that of Perry.

In replying to Mr. Hough's letter, Professor Pawlowski stated that he gained his information through the Encyclopedia Britannica, and that all three of the leading encyclopedias gave Thomas O. Perry credit for the invention. He stated further that he had taken a photostatic copy of Hamilton's patent and would write to the publishers of the three encyclopedias and see that the error would be corrected in future editions.

Oldtimers in Plymouth will recall that the Plymouth Iron Works Company was incorporated in 1882, and that Hamilton's windmill was manufactured and sold until Hamilton's invention of the Daisy Air Rifle in 1888, and shortly after the manufacture of the windmill was dropped and the entire attention of the company was devoted to the Daisy Air Rifle, and in 1899, the name of the company was changed to Daisy Manufacturing Company, and has continued with but few changes in management since that time.

C. T. Hamilton was factory superintendent until 1899, when he disposed of his interest and started a new company to manufacture the Hamilton 22-caliber firearm, under the style of C. T. Hamilton & Son, which business is still carried on under the same style by his son, Coffie Hamilton.

Rev. and Mrs. F. N. Miner attended a dinner meeting of the Methodist ministers of the Ann Arbor district and their wives at the home of the district superintendent, Dr. A. Halmhuber, at Ypsilanti Monday.

QUESTIONABLE POLITICS

(E. R. Edson in the Plymouth Mail)
The political minded mayor of Detroit is just now making a lot of fuss about the electrical rates that are charged in that city by the Detroit Edison company. Apparently he figures that a great public utility is something that can be "jumped on" these days with perfect impunity.

But we fear in this case the assault on the non-tax paying mayor of Detroit has made a mistake. True his assault on the Detroit Edison might find favor among the hordes of non-working doers of Detroit who are opposed to everything except free "cats" and free "flops" and who never paid a cent for electrical service of any kind. But with the rank and file of substantial citizens, among some of them the largest customers of the Detroit Edison company, it is doubtful if a complaint has ever been raised as to Edison rates.

Buyers of electrical power in Detroit and vicinity have for years enjoyed an exceedingly moderate rate. Not only have we of the metropolitan district as well as of the city proper purchased electrical service at a sum much lower than is charged in most every other great city in America, but we have enjoyed electrical service that is absolutely ideal. And SERVICE is what is something in these days. The efforts put forth by the Detroit Edison company to give satisfaction to its customers are nothing less than amazing.

It should not be forgotten that its rapid development, was made possible by the foresight of Alex Dow and his ability to accomplish things. If Mayor Murphy was an electrical consumer, if he had to pay bills every month for electrical power, or light he might have a right to kick. But the mayor has always been an office holder and the only electrical service he has ever enjoyed is the electrical service paid for by the public.

If Mayor Murphy was giving Detroit the same kind of service the Detroit Edison company has always given that city, if he had been as alert to its welfare and progress as Alex Dow, the power consumers of Detroit might look upon his complaint as one of merit as it is every one realizes that the action taken by him is for political purposes only and not because he sincerely believes Detroit electrical rates are too high.

At a time when harvest was being made on other commodities sold at exorbitant prices, electrical power rates in the Detroit area were not skyrocketed and during prosperous times power rates were consistently low. This fact to a very great extent sustains the present position of the Detroit Edison company.

Everyone is anxious to save every cent that can be saved and we firmly believe that a company which has given the public such a wonderful service at such a low cost as has the Detroit Edison company, would voluntarily reduce its rate if such a thing were possible without curtailment of the ideal kind of service the public now gets from the Detroit Edison.

Yes, Mr. Mayor, there are hundreds of other ways you can save dollars in Detroit, but necessarily in order to do so it might result in the beheading of a lot of political hangers-on. That's where the nitch comes.

Senior-Highs Hold Social And Worship Program.

Thirty-five young folks of the senior high department of the Methodist church braved the storm and cold last Monday evening to meet at the church house for their regular supper-meeting. An excellent supper was served by the ninth grade Sunday school class of Mrs. F. N. Miner. When all were in excellent spirits the study hour followed, opening with the worship period when Duncan Fry led the scripture study. A duet was sung by Misses Madeline Haystead and Eleanor Grosvenor. In keeping with the theme which was missionary, seven girls, the Misses Wilma Rattenbury, Frances Bacon, Katherine Stalter, Thelma Ninder, Dorothy Richardson, Gladys Eckberg and Elizabeth Miner, enacted a very effective operetta.

Herbert Berendt proved a successful leader of the games which followed when the young folks entered in healthy Mrs. Miner directed the evening's activities in the background.

Obituary.

Flossie Conklin Buttermore.

Flossie Conklin was born in Lowell, Michigan, on December 17, 1885. She married Dale Buttermore on August 26, 1914. The seven children are: Charles, Alvin, Francis, Ralph, Victor, Betty, June and Dorothy May, are left to comfort their father. For many years the family resided at the Baptist church in Lowell, and since moving to Salem, have made the Federated church their church home. Mrs. Buttermore's father, Fred Conklin, of Lowell, and one brother, Claude, of Iowa, and three sisters, Mrs. Eva Leonard of Elkhart, Indiana; Mrs. Josephine Moray and Ruth of Grand Rapids also survive.

Mrs. Buttermore's parents Mr. and Mrs. Charles Buttermore of Worden will assist the bereaved father with the care of his family.

Mrs. Buttermore was stricken very suddenly with pneumonia, and on Saturday, March 5, was taken to St. Joseph's hospital in Ann Arbor and her spirit was freed from her earthly body on Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock. Services were held in the Federated church on Wednesday afternoon, March 9, when Forrest Phillips of South Lyon and Rev. Cora Pennell officiated. The singers were Mrs. Frank Biers, Mrs. George Foreman, accompanied by Mrs. Wood Curtis. Interment was made in Worden.

Mary S. Palmer.

Mary S. Palmer died March 1, 1932 at 10:00 a. m. She was born on the Seven Mile road at the place known as the Smock home, August 3, 1851. When a few years old, her family moved to a farm in Clinton county near St. Johns, where she lived for four years, coming back to Northville where the remainder of her life has been spent. On July 3, 1871 she was united in marriage to Jervis Palmer who preceded her in death less than five days. To this happy union were born one daughter, Grace, and one son, Philip, who are left to mourn the loss of a beloved mother and companion, as well as the father, gone so few days before.

She was one of a family of four children who have all gone before, with the aged parents, except one brother who lives in Detroit.

Mrs. Palmer was of a quiet retiring nature, yet her home and heart were open to all who came, or needed her. Somewhat invalided for years by rheumatism, she was a busy, happy wife and mother. A real mother and home maker in the truest sense of the word, beloved by all who knew her. She will be missed and mourned by many friends, besides relatives.

Funeral services were held from the home on Thursday afternoon, March 3, 1932, at 3:30. Rev. Lucia M. Stroh, pastor of Congregational church of Salem, officiated and used as her text: St. John's chapter 10, "Jesus, the Good Shepherd."

Ray Van Valkenburg sang two beautiful comforting hymns. Mr. Casterhne was in charge and interment was made in the Northville cemetery.

ESTHER S. THAYER.

Esther S. Thayer, beloved daughter of Mrs. Wm. W. Thayer and dear sister of Mrs. Carl H. Bryan.

passed away the morning of March 5, 1932, following a three weeks illness with pneumonia.

Miss Thayer was born on the old Thayer homestead five miles west of Northville on July 29, 1889, and had lived the greater part of her life in this vicinity. She is survived by her mother and sister, her father having preceded her in death by nearly two years.

Funeral services were held from the home of her sister Sunday afternoon, Rev. H. G. Whitfield officiating.

ERWIN SEYFANG

NUPTIALS MARCH 5

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kidder announce the marriage of their daughter, Ruth M. Seyfang, to James N. Erwin of Farmington, Michigan, on Saturday, March 5. Mr. and Mrs. Erwin are at home on the Ten Mile road. Mrs. Erwin will continue as local manager of the Redford Lumber company.

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin were married at Belleville, Saturday, March 5, at the Methodist parsonage by Rev. Wm. Richards. They were attended by their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gibson, who dined with them at the Mayflower hotel in Plymouth, when Mr. and Mrs. Erwin left for Detroit for the week-end.

Both bride and groom are well known in Northville where they have many friends who join in extending very best wishes.

taken full count of their returns for the evening but are quite confident that a goodly sum will be handed over to charity. They are grateful to all those who braved the storm to give their patronage and especially to the Training school for the generous use of their auditorium with an electrician at their service. The Boy Scouts of troop N 2 were very gallant in offering their services in parking cars.

street, at 7 p. m. March 15. The date for the public supper has been postponed until further notice.In spite of contrary weather conditions at present, Mr. and Mrs.
Scott Lovewell announce that spring has come. Four blue birds were seen last Saturday in the woods adjoining their home in Oakwood subdivision.Word received from John Nollar, well known former resident of Northville, now of Dearborn, states that in his recent stay in "Sunny California," he awoke one morning recently to see three inches of snow in his yard.George Simmons tells The Record that he fears the zero weather of Tuesday night and Wednesday may have damaged the fruit buds. These are especially susceptible now, due to the fact that the recent warm weather caused them to swell somewhat. What damage was done will not be known until a more careful examination of buds can be made.Monday morning as Mrs. Francis Wilkinson looked out the window where she feeds the birds, she saw a robin with all of the other birds, so spring must be coming even if it has felt more like winter these last few days.A daughter was born to Mr. and Brown is a son of Frank E. Brown of this village.Mrs. L. A. Babbitt returned last Sunday from an extended visit in Rochester, Michigan, Detroit, and Plymouth. Her friends in Northville welcome her home. While in Rochester she enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. A. E. Stanley, a music teacher, who will be remembered as a former resident here when her husband owned and operated the Northville Drug store. Mrs. Stanley recently put on a successful operetta, "When Betsy Ross Made Old Glory."Mr. and Mrs. Fred Foreman picked Tuesday—just about the worst day of the whole winter—to land in Northville after their winter stay at Minneapolis, Florida. "We had nine weeks of perfect weather," Mr.

Foreman told The Record, and "didn't see any sign of winter" on coming home until we hit Athens, Tenn." He stated that he was glad to bring news of the improved health of Edward Lockwood, also of this place, who is still in the South Although he had been quite ill. Mr.
Lockwood is now around again and able to drive his car. "I saw him the day before we started North and he is coming fine," said Mr. Foreman.Dr. L. W. Snow is confined to his home with a slight attack of flu.

summoned. Miss Barbara will be able to be back in school in a few days.Mrs. P. A. Hauver was called Sunday night to Clairbrook, Mich.,
by the death of her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson. Mrs.
Nelson passed away on Tuesday, March 1, and her husband's death occurred on the following Sunday.They were aged 85 and 79 years respectively and had only recently passed the 55th anniversary of their wedding. A double funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon with interment in Providence, the old homestead Mrs. Hauver will doubtless be away for over a week. She has the sincere sympathy of Northville friends.In courtesy to the Baptist ladies who had set the date for their St.
Patrick's supper for March 17, the King's Daughters have postponed their supper as announced and the date will be announced later.Mrs. F. L. Thompson attended the Republican Woman's Federation of Michigan luncheon at the Book Cadillac hotel Wednesday and had the pleasure of hearing Dolly Gans.
She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. S. C. Gage, of Saginaw.Confusing the date of Good Friday, it was announced at the Woman's club last Friday that there would be no regular meeting on March 18. The club will meet as usual on that date when a visit will be made at the Detroit House of Correction on invitation of Capt.
Denniston. On Good Friday the meeting will be postponed until after the church services. Mrs. Die-man, wife of the ex-minister to Holland, will be the speaker.

SALEM NEWS

A little daughter, Leona Louise, was born to Mr. and Mrs. George Montague Sunday, February 28th, 1932. Burial took place in the Plymouth cemetery Wednesday at 10 a.
m. Rev. Lucia M. Stroh, pastor of the Congregational church in Salem, officiated. Fred Schrader of Plymouth was in charge.

R. W. Kehrl motored Sunday afternoon to Redford and took supper
in the home of his daughter Mrs.
O. Dudley, and family. Miss Irma Kehrl returned home with him in the evening.

Miss Margaret Dugoy was a Sunday dinner guest of her cousin, Miss Marian Schroeder on Seven Mile road.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kahler of Corunna were dinner and supper guests of their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Speers, Sunday.

Mrs. John Latsenberger and Miss Ruth Gullis of Northville visited Miss Dora Stoffer Saturday.

R. W. Kehrl and son, Lester, motored to Ann Arbor on business Friday.

Mrs. Jay Clark, Miss Harry Clark,
Miss Ralph Wilson and Mrs. Wilber
Westerman called Sunday afternoon on Miss Gladys Clark whose health is improving.

The whole community was shocked to hear of the sudden passing away, after only a few days' illness, of Mrs. Dale Buttermore Sunday afternoon in St. Joseph hospital, Ann Arbor where she had been taken Saturday afternoon. Everyone feels deep sympathy with the bereaved husband and seven children. The youngest, Dorothy, who is only about 20 months old. Kind neighbors and friends are eagerly helping in every way they can.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kehrl and baby Dorothy Lou, of Northville were supper guests in the R. W. Kehrl home Saturday.

Several from here attended the funeral of Mrs. Will Winans held in the Methodist church in Whitmore Lake Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Lyke and daughter, Doris, were Sunday dinner guests of William Lyke in Manchester.

Charles Mankin is moving his family this week to Wyandotte where he has had employment for some time.

Miss Ruth Foreman of Detroit and Howard Meak of Ypsilanti were Sunday afternoon callers at the patential home of the former.

Glad to report that Mrs. Geo. C.
Foreman was able to return home Sunday after a few weeks' stay with her daughter, Mrs. James Dickie, in South Lyon.

Evening service at 7:30 Song service. Continuation of the prophetic chart.

In these days of sudden death throughout our nation and community it behooves us to exhort all to prepare and be ready for the great and final summons to "the Great Call" in eternity. Let us be answers to Heaven's call. God so loves the world that whoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life. I am the resurrection and the life. He that believeth in Me, though he were dead, yet shall he live, and whosoever liveth and believeth in Me shall never die.

Come to church and hear about Christ, who blesses and keeps His children and died that all might be saved.

Miss Anne Richards, of Belleville, formerly of Northville, is chairman of arrangements for the fourth annual birthday party given in recognition of the coming of age of women students of the Michigan State Normal college. The first two were given by the local chapter of the League of Women Voters, the last by the College League.

The Home Economics class will meet with Mrs. L. L. Vradenburg, 209 Eaton drive, on Monday afternoon, March 14th, at 2:00 o'clock.
Sharp inasmuch as there is quite a bit of business to transact and this is the last lesson in the series, it is hoped that all members will be present. Mrs. Arthur Schmutz will present the lesson, "Cooking for the Convalescent." Members are requested to bring pencil and paper.
There will be a surprise in store.

Mrs. Coolman Entertains Double Four.

Mrs. Robert Coolman was hostess to the Double Four bridge club on Tuesday afternoon when dessert luncheon was followed by the usual games.

Dr. and Mrs. Cavell Hosts To Party of Friends.

The "Covered Bridge" club enjoyed one of their good times at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Cavell Monday evening. A substantial cooperative dinner was served at six o'clock and the evening was spent with bridge. Sixteen were present.

Wednesday Bridge Club Guests of Mrs. McLoughlin.

Mrs. J. N. McLoughlin extended hospitality to her bridge club on Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. E. L. Mills was a substitute guest. The club was glad to welcome back Mrs. H. H. Burkhardt, after her long illness.

Barbara Class Guests at Black Home.

Eleven men of the Barbara class of the Baptist church were royally entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Black, Sr., on the Fishery road, Tuesday evening. A delicious supper was served by the hostess with an evening of social time and business following.

Philathea Class Holds Meeting With Miss Clark.

The Philathea class of the Baptist church had a profitable and pleasant meeting with Miss Ella Clark Tuesday evening at her home on High street. A discussion of plans and a business meeting were followed by a social hour and refreshments.

Between Ourselves Club Guests at Vanatta Home.

Mrs. Fred Vanatta was hostess to the Between Ourselves club at her home at Eaton drive last Monday afternoon. Following the daily dessert luncheon the guests played bridge. Mrs. M. J. Murphy and Mrs. Fred Lyke were the regular substitutes. The club has now made the rounds of the members and will continue through the winter with two hostesses.

Northville Ladies Entertained By Detroit Friend.

Renewing their friendship with Mrs. Frank W. Hartshorn, who was at one time a resident of this place, the following were included in a company of Detroit friends entertained at a delightful bridge-luncheon at the Hartshorn home on Tuxedo avenue, Detroit, Wednesday. Mrs. Chas. E. Murphy, Mrs. Geo. E. Ellis, Mrs. Agnes Shafer and Mrs. LeRoy Stewart.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Taylor Feled On Wedding Anniversary.

In honor of the thirtieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Taylor, their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Oliver, entertained a group of intimate friends at their home in New Hudson last Saturday, March 5. Included in this company were their son R. D. Taylor with his wife and little daughter, Yvonne, a brother, Frank and his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kleinschmidt and children of Plymouth and another brother, M. D. Taylor and his wife, of Alma.

It was a happy gathering which assembled around the table laden with a fine chicken dinner. A wedding cake decorated in pink and white concluded the menu. The bride and groom of thirty years were given hearty congratulations and lovely gifts among them a bouquet of roses as a token of the love of their son and china from their daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor were married in Pontiac in 1902 and came at once to their little home in Waterford where they lived until coming to Northville to their present home on Yerkes avenue where they have lived for 13 years. The good wishes of the community are extended.

Woman's Union Holds Annual Meeting and Elects Officers.

The Woman's Union of the Presbyterian church gathered for their annual meeting at the church house Wednesday. At the appetizing luncheon a novel feature was introduced when the fascinating mystery was solved which has been puzzling the members. Each woman learned who was her "capsule friend" (meaning the name drawn in a capsule some months ago). Throughout these months pleasing little acts of good cheer have come unexpectedly to these women with no intimation of the source except the signature, "Your capsule friend." Greetings on birthdays, valentines and various pleasant favors have made life a bit brighter so it was a pleasure for each to be introduced to this friend. So well has this plan worked out that the women decided to continue it another year and new names were drawn.

A very encouraging annual report was made showing that all obligations, both local and for missionary work, have been met in full. Election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. E. A.

Kohler, vice-president of missions, Mrs. S. A. Lovewell, vice president in industrial work, Miss Jessie Clark, vice-president of national and overseas missionary sewing, Mrs. Jas. A. Heene, corresponding secretary, Mrs. D. P. Yerkes, Sr., secretary, Mrs. C. C. Yerkes, treasurer, Mrs. C. M. Chase, secretary of literature, Mrs. E. A. Babbitt, secretary of stewardship, Mrs. H. G. Whitfield, young people's counselor, Rev. H. G. Whitfield.

Norway Is Presented To Woman's Club.

In their study of Norway at their meeting last Friday afternoon the Woman's club was fortunate in having two who were natives of Norway right in their midst to call upon for talks on that land. Dr. and Mrs. T. G. Hegge, the former a psychiatrist at the Wayne County Training school, brought this isolated land very vividly to the minds of their hearers.

Mrs. Hegge, naturally, gave the women a more intimate picture of Norwegian life, illustrating her talk with a collection of choice weaving, carving and needlework done by the people of this country. Here they were shut away for years by their geographical location and through-out the long months of frozen cold had ample time to develop their individual arts. For want of something to do the men plied their knives in carving and the women their looms and needles and in their ardor for art, even the smallest details of their household effects were decorated elaborately. It was with interest that the women looked at the intricate patterns worked out by Norwegian skill.

Following, his wife, Dr. Hegge, treated his country from a man's viewpoint, discussing it geographically, socially and historically. He described very graphically that cold peninsula, shut away from the rest of the world during its long winters, when the chief characteristics, individualism, is developed, due to its location. Skiing is the great national sport, begun in early childhood.

By contact with the world new Norway has gradually adopted education, equal suffrage and holds its place among nations, having the most modern mercantile fleet in the world. Both Dr. and Mrs. Hegge's talks were greatly enjoyed.

This Week

By H. H. White

Here are some suggestions to think about regarding liberty, and that ever perplexing question, prohibition.

Personally I am opposed to our present prohibition, because I am in favor of and believe in temperance, morality, liberty and in law and order, and while prohibition may keep a person from drunkenness, it has never been known to give anyone self-control.

I rather imagine there is more rejoicing in heaven when a free moral act is committed than any number of acts which are the results of prohibition.

In this fair land of ours we are always busy passing laws to prohibit, "Mr. Citizen," but no one ever heard of a legislative body passing or enacting laws for his liberty.

I think it rather unfortunate that we find in our world today we live so much on the principle of negatives, and age when so many well intentioned people hold the idea that mankind can be made virtuous by padlocking them away from temptation. This has been largely due to the biased puritanical negativisms that our forefathers adopted as precepts for their standard of living.

Here is a little thought on education as I see it today. Both in Europe and our own fair land it seems to me that this business of education is striving for four goals: namely, first, the measurement of mind; secondly, measurement of progress; thirdly, the adjustment of men and women in industry; and lastly, the measurement and education of moral character.

With the above idea in mind about education there is the pertinent one of eugenics and one is led to wonder whether science will enable men to build a civilization that by its social, educational, religious and ethical adjustments and its economic adjustments and political procedure, will tend to push and force civilization upward, or will science be only a terrible instrument in forcing mankind and civilization downward?

Recently I read an interesting and able book by Mr. John Carter, entitled, "Man Is War," in which the author gives a rather remarkable summing up of those composite biological trends in human nature which makes one think it is evident that war is just as natural to man as his desire for peace. He also tells us that if we ever expect to have a world ruled by the government and methods of peace, we must either change human nature or we must give an unlimited power of influence and prerogative to trained technical intelligence, in the conduct of government and legislation, which we have never accorded to science before.

NORTHVILLE TO ENTER REGIONAL TOURNAMENT

In spite of the fact that Northville lost the first game in the district tournament at Ypsilanti last Thursday, the team entered the regional tournament at Ypsilanti last night. The reason for this is that certain players of the Redford Union team, our opponents, had been declared ineligible. This, however, is no more than proper because of the new ruling for scoring tie games used in the game Northville lost, in which the team was not versed. The score at the end of the fourth quarter was tied at 18-18. With both teams expecting overtime periods, the officials awarded the game to Redford Union, 22-21. To do this they counted four points for the great number of field goals, three for the team making least fouls and three for most fouls scored. As Redford Union won the first two, the 25-21 score was the result.

In the game, Northville gave a fine exhibition of basket ball putting up a nice offensive as well as defense coupled by accurate shooting. Both teams fouled a lot. Ruffenbury who played very nicely throughout the game was put out on personal fouls in the last quarter, although Northville was behind six points at the half, the boys came back very strongly. With about three minutes to go and the score 18-17, in favor of Redford Union, Robinson sank a foul shot tying the score 18-18. After this with the tension seemed to be relaxed somewhat, Northville relying on the overtime period slowly and was not able to score before the final whistle.

Everyone was much surprised and disappointed when the game was awarded to Redford Union. However this loss was compensated by the declaring of Redford Union ineligible and by our playing in the tournament last night, where our opponent was University High.

Line-up:
Northville: RF, Redford; LF, Oslard; CF, Whitehead; SG, Bishop; PG, Wellwood; SG, Fox; PG, Ruffenbury.

HOME FURNISHING PROBLEMS

"The Boy's Room"

One of the problems which the commercial field has almost entirely overlooked is the boy's room. Not that he is critical of the room side of his accommodations. He will obligingly "wind himself" between the bumpy of an impossible mattress and offer few complaints. But any normal boy of ten or twelve certainly likes a place where he can "work" unimpeded on any of his important enterprises such as building a radio or making a telephone line.

Thinking of the characteristics of a real boy should give the clue to his requirements. He needs good light, both by day and by night. He should have a comfortable bed, easy to make, and possible to "roll" on. A work table suited to his needs is nearly a necessity unless he has one elsewhere. Plenty of electric outlets should be included for lights and experiments.

If your boy runs true to form he will be hard on the floor. Well-furnished carpet is sometimes used, also heavy linoleum. Painted pine is not bad, and can be furnished by the boy himself at slight expense. Whatever the material, have it as nearly dirt-proof and dust-proof as possible. If a rug is used, it must be from a good source. Since rugs are the best for the boy's room, this may be perfectly satisfactory in color. If it is desired, it should be done so that it will be to the boy's room, with a blue stripe. After drying thoroughly, it will be ready to lay on the floor.

As to curtains, the thing to avoid is girlishness. But be it from any boy to endure ruffled swags! Simple, sturdy side drapes will furnish the desired color and be out of his way. He can very well omit glass curtains. The walls should be able to stand racks, as some of the treasures will be used as decorations. Schoolroom masterpieces will find their temporary home here. Other possessions will need to be looked up in a chest. This piece of useful furniture may save several heart-breaks if there are younger, investigative members of the family. The more it looks like a pirate's chest, the better it will be liked by the boys of ten or so.

A liberal supply of book-shelves or cubbyholes will help take care of his miscellaneous, but indispensable junk. Even then, if a boy loves his room, parking space will be at a premium.

If the old Morris chair has graduated from the living room, it may have possibilities for the boy. Comfortable cushions, a fresh staining, and an extra tuck cushion may help him to study. A drawing board or improvised table to fit across the arms will fill many a need. A simple reading lamp of the bridge type is not beyond the abilities of many boys. The shade, itself, is an absorbing subject. Plain wrapping paper with a map shellacked onto one side is manifold enough and easy to make. Another possibility is to copy favorite funny paper friends in India ink directly on the foundation paper.

After all, our grown-up ideas may not suit him, so let him work out his own plans under guidance. If he has earned the money to fix up his room, he will make fewer mistakes than he otherwise would, and will feel bound to like the results. Since

NORTHVILLE TOWNSHIPFor Annual Township Election
Monday, April 4th, A. D. 1932.

To the qualified electors of the township of Northville, County of Wayne, State of Michigan.

Notice is hereby given that in conformity with the Michigan Election Law, I, the undersigned Township Clerk, will upon any day, except Sunday and a legal holiday, the day of any regular or special election or primary election, receive for registration the name of any legal voter in said township not already registered who may Apply To Me Personally for such registration. Provided, however, that I can receive no names for registration during the time intervening between the Second Saturday before any regular, special, or official primary election and the day of such election.

The last day for General Registration does not apply to persons who vote under the Absent Voters Law. (See Registration by Absent Voters.)

Notice is hereby given that I will be at My Office on West Main Street, on March 12, March 13 and March 14, from 8 o'clock a. m. until 8 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of receiving the registration and registering such of the qualified electors in said township as shall properly apply therefor as provided by Sec. 3, Chapter 3, Part II, P. A. 206, Session of 1929.

In any township or city in which the clerk does not maintain regular daily office hours, the township board or legislative body of such township or city may require that the clerk of such township or city shall be at his office or other designated place for the purpose of receiving applications for registration, on such other days as it shall designate prior to the last day for registration, not exceeding five days in all.

Notice is hereby further given that I will be at My Office on West Main Street, from 8 o'clock a. m. until 8 o'clock p. m.

Saturday, March 26, 1932, Last Day for General Registration by Personal Application for said Election.

The name of no person but an actual resident of the precinct at the time of said registration, and entitled under the Constitution, if remaining such resident, to vote at the next election, shall be entered in the registration book.

Dated, March 1, A. D. 1932.
ELMER L. SMITH,
Township Clerk.

NOVI NEWS

Sunday afternoon the Misses Ruby and Gertrude Adience of Lansing visited Miss Joy Thompson who is slowly improving from an attack of pleurisy.

John Trumble of Northville called on his sister, Mrs. W. D. Benton. Mrs. Judd Hammond has been on the sick list for the last week.

Mrs. F. J. Bladt of Almont visited her mother, Mrs. Andrews, last week, Tuesday.

Mrs. Earl Tyler and Mrs. Earl Bowman are ill in bed with the flu.

Mrs. J. O. Munro and Mrs. Vern Hardy went to Milford Tuesday to receive the instructions for Home Economics class.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Holmes, announce the marriage of their son, Elmer, to Miss Harriet Thompson. The ceremony was performed in Detroit last Saturday evening.

R. O. Thompson was very proud when he received word from Portland, Oregon that he was the great-grandfather of a 15-14-12 baby boy.

This news has enabled Mr. Thompson to go without a hat during the recent cold weather.

Last week the Novis fare department was called out for several grass fires and a false alarm which should have been sent to the Salem fire department. Our local department was also called out Monday morning to keep a chimney fire under control in the F. C. Rice house occupied by the Johnson family.

The flu seems to be the most popular thing in Novi at present. More than half the pupils have been absent from school the past week.

How dismayed must be Mr. Robin Red Breast, that harbinger of spring, who called on C. C. Rix last week, and also the men who plowed the gardens for spring planting, when the weatherman from the Northland

NORTHVILLE HOLDS ANNUAL PLAY DAY WITH PLYMOUTH

The girls of Northville "held their own" with Plymouth when they met Wednesday, for their annual Play day. The whole thing was a tie. Last day who remembers the old-made his unceremonious advent but like the depression and flu, "this too, shall pass."

Novi Baptist Church Morning worship at 10:30. Sunday school at 12 noon. B. Y. P. U. at 7:15 p. m. Prayer meeting on Wednesday evening.

Ronald J. Burton had charge of the Sunday morning worship services. He gave a very helpful talk on "The Transforming Power of the Gospel" using as his text, 1 John 3:2. "Beloved, now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be, but we know that when he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is."

Frederick Johnston, a member of the service commission, lead B. Y. P. U. services.

The half-hour of faith and fellowship was held in the auditorium on Sunday evening. Donald Munro had charge, as Mr. and Mrs. Warren Rice were both ill with the flu. The usual refreshments were dispensed with.

The hash supper given by the Mission circle was not as well attended as was expected on account of so much illness in the community.

March 20th, during B. Y. P. U. service Rev. George F. Sturtevant, Director of Christian Education and Evangelism, will speak "The Stewardship Commission is urging everyone to remember this date and plan to be present."

ENGINEER HAMILL
REPORTS ON WATER

The following report was brought into The Record office by F. W. Hamill, engineer employed by the village commissioner to improve Northville's present water system.

On February 17, Mr. McGuire, an engineer from the state health department, made an inspection of the work at the Hill Springs and reported to Commissioners Snow and Sweet, who were present, that the work completed to date met with the approval of their department. Inasmuch as the development has worked so satisfactorily on the Hill Springs (The spring is now yielding in excess of 120 gallons per minute) Mr. McGuire recommended that the Barnhart Springs be developed in the same manner.

With a similar development at the Barnhart Springs, Northville should have no trouble getting its entire supply from these two springs and eliminate pumping and chlorinating expense altogether.

Every precaution is being taken to insure a pure supply of water at the Hill Springs. Before the water from the spring is turned into the reservoir, the same and the installed in the recent construction will be sterilized with chlorine.

Friends of the good-natured night watchman, Wm. Wain, will be glad to learn that the latest report of his condition is encouraging. He is able to sit up a part of the day. It is hoped that he will be back at his post before long. Gordon Allen is acting as Mr. Wain's substitute.

always been approved by the state board of health; that the Hill Springs, which formerly were uncovered, were approved about half the time samples were examined, and that the Fairbrook Springs, which are uncovered and would be impossible to cover are constantly contaminated.

Members of the council have spent much time considering the possible projects. Consultations with department of health officials, state geologists, trips to Lansing, interviews with many well drillers and careful consideration of costs, with the thoughts of a pure and adequate water supply always uppermost in their minds. Acting upon the advice of an engineer and information received from authoritative sources, the council decided to endeavor to improve and develop the supply from the Hill Springs.

Plans which were submitted to the state board of health, were approved and the work was started under the supervision of our water commissioner, Earl Montgomery.

Before construction was started, the Hill Springs were shallow and unprotected from surface contamination, yielding only about thirty gallons a minute. The springs were dug out to a depth of twelve feet where an abundance of bubbling springs were found. Three tile pipe lines were laid and all were connected to one main outlet.

These pipe lines were covered with crushed stone and washed gravel and then with chemically treated top soil. The yield of the spring at present is 120 gallons per minute, which coupled with the supply from the Barnhart Springs, has made it unnecessary to pump any water from the Fairbrook Springs for two weeks, and yet as I write this the water is eighteen inches higher in the reservoir than at any previous time, all having come by gravity from the springs to the reservoir, at no expense to the village.

Providing the people of the community who expressed their confidence in the councilmen by electing them last year, still retain that confidence and vote "No" to the questionaire on Monday, it is our intention to develop the Barnhart Springs similar to the Hill Springs, thus eliminating the Fairbrook spring, its possible contamination and its pumping expense.

Before construction was begun tests made at both Barnhart and Hill Springs, revealed that any given area of the former would yield three times as much water as the latter. Hence we are justified in assuming that the Barnhart Springs if developed will yield at least 360 gallons per minute, which with the Hill Springs field of 120 gallons per minute will give our village a water supply far in excess of its demand for some time to come. At present our demand is 178 gallons per minute, and in case of fire or in consideration of an exceptionally large amount being used in the summer months the demand would not exceed 350 gallons per minute.

Hence one will readily see that with these two springs developed, rendering a supply of more than 400 gallons per minute, we can permit ourselves to discontinue the Fairbrook Springs, which this last year cost the village $1,211.54 for electricity used in pumping water to the reservoir.

We cannot overlook the fact that with our source of supply, situated as it is with a gravity flow to the reservoir we are endowed with a natural blessing, which any community would gladly welcome. In a very short time the money spent in developing these springs will be saved by eliminating the pumping expense.

Let us now consider the deep well proposition. First it would be necessary to procure a site for drilling. The state geologist has suggested as a possible location, a place in the village park, to the rear of the fire hall. This would mean tearing up our paved streets in order to make connections with the water mains. If village property were not used it would necessarily mean the purchase of property. The wells would have to be drilled, pump houses erected and connections made with mains. Before the consumers had a drop of water. There would be an expense of approximately $3,500 to $4,000 per year for electricity used in pumping. The wear and tear on the pumps from the work of forcing the water to the reservoir and the back pressure encountered would mean constant attention and repairs. The possibilities of the wells going dry in the course of a few years must also be considered.

Northville can profit by the experience of other communities. Milford drilled wells and has spent considerable money in drilling new ones. Plymouth drilled wells, which they have capped up and at present have a system similar to the one the council proposes to develop.

I trust the above makes it clear, that although there has been some propaganda for deep wells, it is really unnecessary, and to vote "NO" to the questionaire is in reality a vote of confidence in the president and members of the council who are endeavoring to best serve the community.

BAPTIST YOUNG FOLKS
FILL VACANT PULPIT

Stepping into the emergency caused by the illness of the pastor of the Baptist church in Walled Lake, Rev. A. K. McKee, the B. Y. F. U. of the Northville church very ably handled the morning service last Sunday. L. Q. Carman presided over this meeting, calling upon Miss Eleanor Westfall to read the scripture lesson. Miss Alice Barbour proved herself a true minister's daughter in her handling of the theme, "Love Never Fails."

This program was planned by Mrs. Don Miller who also brought to this service a chorus of about fourteen members of the Junior Crusaders who sang very acceptably. Others attending from the local church were Mrs. Clarence Pettys, superintendent of the Crusaders, Mrs. M. Nagy, Mrs. L. Q. Carman and Miss Grace Angell.

EXCHANGEITES HEAR
SPLENDID SPEECHES

Northville Exchangeites heard quite a group of speakers at their Wednesday luncheon. Atty. John A. Boyce of Redford, chairman of the depositors' committee was introduced by President Orlow G. Owen and said that the bank committee was making progress on a new plan which it is expected that the state department will approve. R. G. McConnell of Redford, secretary-treasurer of the Metropolitan Council of Exchange clubs, gave a splendid talk on the aims and achievements of exchange. Then Mr. Owen called on Dr. R. R. Alexander, Dr. E. B. Cavell, N. C. Schrader and L. C. Stewart to tell how it happened they came to Northville.

The depression has weeded out the undesirable type of Exchange members. Mr. McConnell said in his talk and the result is that the clubs of the Detroit area—25 in number—and of the state are all doing a high grade of community work. Especially in the field of aviation development and in service to agriculture. The national Exchange has been of great service.

Dr. Alexander opened the talks on "Why I came to Northville." It was purely accidental, he said, since he came here first to take an office on which his university roommate had paid a month's rent. And I have always been glad I came," he added. "I like the life of a small town and

NORTHVILLE SONS
HONORED AT M. S. C.

Northville is proud of two of her boys, Foster Vanatta and Charles Golden Noble, who have made outstanding records at the Michigan State college at East Lansing. Both of these boys have lately received recognition for scholarship. The former is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vanatta of this place and the latter is the grandson of that well-known citizen of Northville, for many years, the late Chas. Golden, who served the village for two terms as its president.

The younger Chas. made his home here with his grandparents since early boyhood when he lost his parents. He attended Northville public schools until following the death of his grandfather, he went with his grandmother to Lansing where he finished high school, and entered college last year. To Charles have come two honors. The first is a $50 prize which is given to the sophomore student who, in his freshman year, has made the highest grades in applied science. In addition to this honor he won one of the two silver cups awarded by the Tau Sigma Fraternity, of which he is a member, to two sophomore students who, during their freshman year have made the best record in applied science and liberal arts.

Foster Vanatta is a sophomore in his course in Civil Engineering and is on the honor roll, having a record of all A's. In a printed booklet recently issued a list of these honor students is graded according to scholarship and Foster's name is one of the two heading the list. Be it said further to his credit, Foster is practically making his way through college.

No wonder Northville is proud of these boys.

the advantage of being near the big city." Dr. Cavell gave the same sentiment and predicted that better days are ahead for Northville.

"You won't know in two years that Northville ever had a depression," opined Mr. Schrader as he told of how he came to this town 25 years ago. "I had worked on the D. P. & N. and came here on my work and got to liking the place and then after I went into business with my brother, Fred, at Plymouth, we got the chance to come here. Then my wife was a Northville girl and was glad to come here—so we have been here ever since. Well right now we are taking the bitter with the sweet but things are going to get better and we shall forget that we have been having all this trouble."

If took L. C. Stewart just 15 minutes to buy his drug store in Northville, he said as he told of having worked in Detroit and then of his decision to go in business for himself. He paid a fine tribute to his business associates in Northville and added that he was glad for the move that brought him here.

Announcement was made that on April 4 the club members and wives will be the guests of Rotary at ladies' night.
