NORTHVILLE WILL MERGE CLOSED BANKS INTO NEW ONE

NORTHVILLE CELEBRATION DRAWS CROWD

Fair Association Promotes Successful July 4th Event

It's all over, even the shouting. Reference is here made to the 4th of July celebration held in Northville under the auspices of the Northville Wayne County Fair Association.

Starting with a parade to the fair grounds by the Northville Community band and ending with the street dance held at the corner of Main and Wing streets, the national holiday proved one of immense enjoyment for the 1200 who gathered to view the day's events.

In spite of the wetness of the track, the horse races got under way for an early start and some fast paces were run during the course of the afternoon.

Owing to the condition of the track, caused by the heavy rains, the races were an hour late getting started, but in view of this handicap the times of the races were unusually fast according to the judges, who stated that the track was undoubtedly 3 to 4 seconds slow.

An exceptionally good line of horses was brought out by L. K. Bullen, well known Detroit horse man and packing house owner. Mr. Bullen is the owner of Juno Frisco, Dicks Signal, and David McElwain, horses that raced through the Bay State circuit, and were shipped from here to the Grand Circuit races at Toledo.

Following is the program of races as they appeared:

- 1-1 Marble Lee, driver, Rattenbury
- 2-2 Frisco, Bell, Markham
- 3-3 Baby V, Harris
- 4-4 Ulan C, Schaefer
- 5-5 Second race, 2:22, 2:22 1/2
- 1-1 David McElwain, driver, Harvey
- 2-2 Eddie Moore, Thomas
- 3-3 Sadie Seymour, McLam
- 4-4 Rose Napoleon, Winn
- 5-4 Queen Philo, Dupval
- 6-6 Ulan H, Verster, Grant
- Time 2:16, 2:16, 2:19
- Third race 2:24, 2:24
- 1-1 Miss Helen Czar, Rattenbury
- 2-2 Royal Peter, Croughan
- 3-3 Bud Ulan, Tunham
- 4-4 Peter Reed, Winn
- 5-4 Ulan Bars, Coe
- Time 2:17 1/2, 2:17 1/2, 2:19, 2:25
- Fourth race 2:16, 2:16
- 1-1 Dora Signal, driver, Winn
- 2-2 Juno Frisco, Harvey
- 3-3 Iola Gratten, Harris
- 4-4 Comet Todd, McGinnis
- 5-4 Mary J, Hamilton
- Time 2:23 1/2, 2:21 1/2, 2:15

Race officials were George Rattenbury, starter; Charles Cornette of Detroit, presiding judge; D. W. Tryon, of Plymouth, judge; H. H. Hamilton of Northville, judge; M. A. Sloane, timer; Fred Van Atta, timer; Dr. Armstrong, of Detroit, timer.

The one disappointment of the day was the cancellation of the field events, because of the wet track. Youngsters who hoped for at least one of the numerous prizes offered in the potato, egg-and sack races and the 100 yard dashes, pocketed a trifle perhaps when these events were called off, but they found ample compensation in the base ball game between Brighton and Northville which ended with a score of 12 to 7 in favor of Northville.

During the game, the Northville Chets kept a lead throughout most of the game. They scored one run in the first, three in the third, three in the fifth, and then two more to make their total of 12 to the 7 of the Brighton Merchants.

Harry German Sr. pitched for Northville the first five innings and allowed two runs. Harry German Jr. replaced him, and he allowed five runs, all of which were made in the sixth inning, in which the younger German started.

The game was full of spectacular plays because of the soggy condition of the diamond, making the game interesting to watch.

The street dance began at 9:00 o'clock and lasted until midnight. Instead of dropping off the area between Main street and the post office, as has been done in the past, the dance was held at the corner of Main and Wing streets. Chief of Police Safford reported a quiet day. There were no ac-

NORTHVILLE SHOWS OF HIGH QUALITY

Despite the increasingly difficult matter of getting good pictures from the Detroit booking offices, Manager Harry Lush, in charge of the Feniman-Allen theatres of Northville and Plymouth, has succeeded in holding high the standard of cinema attractions.

A large crowd viewed the thriller "Behind the Mask" at the Merchant's show held Wednesday evening and tomorrow night, Saturday, many will see Joan Bennett in "Week-Ends Only," a picture which has received high praise by movie critics everywhere.

"LOOK AT FACTS" SAYS DRY LEADER

Personal observations from the Republican and Democratic conventions were reflected by the address given by Rev. E. N. Holsapple at the Methodist church Sunday morning when the liquor question was presented in its various phases.

Some of the silly statements made by the wets at Chicago regarding the repeal of the 18th Amendment were reported for the information of the audience.

The method of repealing any constitutional amendment was fully explained by the speaker so that the audience might know what to expect.

Many of the absurd estimates by wets as to the amount of revenue to be obtained, the material to be used and the number of employees that it would take were also fully explained.

If the hopes of the wets were to be realized, said the speaker, each individual in the wet territory would have to drink thirty six gallons of beer or other intoxicant daily to produce the revenue which the wets claimed would be forthcoming.

Although the meeting was very uninformative and confirmed the introductory remarks of Rev. Mr. Miner that there was a lot of dust in the air about the liquor question, it threw there by the wet enthusiasts.

EXCHANGITES PLAN SERIES OF PROGRAMS

The remaining programs of July at the Exchange promise to be full of interest.

Dr. Bruce Douglas is chairman of the program committee and in his report to the club he specified some Wednesdays as Hobby days and some as My Work days and others for special addresses.

To start off with next week will be a medical meeting with six doctors of the club outlining any remedies they may have for the club members.

The following week Supt. Frank L. Snipes will discuss on fishing as a hobby and will undoubtedly be called on to check against some of the very sealy yarns which the local Nimrods bring to the club.

For the final July meeting, Dr. Robert H. Haskell will present the work of the Trammung school.

Dr. Arthur H. Steele was in charge of the meeting and handled the items of business quickly.

YERKES PLAYS 'NERO' AS NEW CAR BURNS

"Somebody's car is on fire!" "It's not my car," yawned "Bob" Yerkes, Republican candidate for congress from the 17th district, as he continued playing bridge or whatever he was doing during his three-hour stay at the Grosse Pointe Yacht club on the Fourth of July.

However, when he came to drive home in his new Ford, he found the rear seat upholstering a mass of charred, smoking ruin. Someone had flicked a lighted cigarette in the wrong direction and Bob had to drive home with the exorbitant amount of burned horse hair perfuming the car.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING TO BE HELD JULY 11

Two Trustees Terms Conclude at Annual Session Monday

The annual meeting of the school district No. 2 fractional of the townships of Northville and Novi will be held at the high school auditorium on Monday evening, July 11, at 7:30.

Two trustees will be elected to replace Sherrill W. Ambler, secretary, and Dr. E. B. Cavell, president of the school board, whose terms of office are concluded at this time.

At the school meeting each year new members are elected, the schedule calling for two new members one year and one new member the next. Terms of office are of three years duration.

According to Sherrill W. Ambler, secretary of the board, the business of the meeting this year will be to read the financial report of the year just concluded and to close the books for 1931-2.

There will be a discussion of the school's financial situation and all other necessary business to be transacted before the school board will occur at this meeting.

Members of the school board are Dr. E. B. Cavell, president; Dr. P. R. Alexander, treasurer; S. W. Ambler, secretary; Fred W. Lytle, trustee; and John K. Hiltunen, trustee. Following the election of the trustees, the board will select its own officers. An itemized financial statement of the board's expenditures will be published in The Record shortly after the school board meeting, next Monday.

FOUR INJURED AS CAR CRASHES TREE

Four people were injured Monday afternoon about 5:50 o'clock on the Eighth Mile Road when the car in which they were riding ran off the road and crashed into a tree.

The injured were Peter Mariscott, who received a large cut on his forehead requiring three stitches, his wife, who suffered a badly bruised back, a small daughter, Mary, who received numerous cuts on the face, and a boarder at the home of the Marisco family, Lou Caffo, who suffered a cut across the eyelid which required several stitches.

After receiving treatment at the Sessions hospital the four injured people returned to their home in Highland Park.

NORTHVILLE BOYS IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Two Northville youths narrowly escaped death last Friday at 10:30 A. M. when the model A Ford in which they were riding down N. Center street crashed into the Dr. Soto building.

The following week Supt. Frank L. Snipes will discuss on fishing as a hobby and will undoubtedly be called on to check against some of the very sealy yarns which the local Nimrods bring to the club.

For the final July meeting, Dr. Robert H. Haskell will present the work of the Trammung school.

Dr. Arthur H. Steele was in charge of the meeting and handled the items of business quickly.

Anderson Gets Thrill in Seeing Detroit from Penobscot Tower

Michigan avenue seemed to grow tired of its straight and narrow course some distance out, and began to get wobbly; Gratiot avenue, a little more determined on its duty as a thoroughfare and leading far out to what seemed to be another city at its termination. I noticed too the numerous squares or blocks, so neatly bounded by tree-decorated streets, and speaking of trees reminds me of the abundance of them. Detroit can be proud of its arboreal side.

Changes at Two Local Springs Improve the Water Supply 100% Says R. J. Faust, Field Engineer

R. J. Faust, field engineer for the state department of public health, paid Northville a visit Tuesday afternoon and made an inspection of the recent improvements at the Hill and Bernhard Springs.

The village officials were interested in learning Mr. Faust's comments, as he was the one who originally condemned the supply and advocated wells.

According to Dr. L. W. Snow and Commissioner George Hicks who accompanied Mr. Faust on his inspection trip, he praised the work very highly and said:

"The Northville water supply is now 100 per cent better than it was. The way the springs were designed and constructed makes it practically impossible for any surface contamination to enter your supply at the source. Tests of the recent samples submitted by Dr. Johnston, your health officer, show some bacteria but they are types usually found near the surface of the ground and are not dangerous. No evidence of the presence of sewage or other dangerous contamination has been found in any sample."

I expect that in a short time your water will come back to normal and will test absolutely O. K. In the meantime there is nothing to worry about."

COUPLE SAVED BY MORRIS AFTER BOAT CUTS CANOE IN TWO

A fatal accident was narrowly averted at Walled Lake on the Fourth of July when a canoe was cut in two by a passing speed boat.

Horace Nelson, familiarly known as "Nellie" by his Northville friends, and Miss Margaret Turner of Farmington were canoeing on the lake when a speed boat, failing to see them, collided violently with the small craft, splitting it in two and throwing the occupants into deep water.

Miss Turner frantically grasped young Nelson who, though a good swimmer, was unable to help either himself or his companion. Fortunately on board the speed boat was Frank Morris of Meadowbrook, a friend of Nelson, who, pulling off his shoes and coat, hastily leaped into the water and broke the hold of the struggling girl. Both were helped aboard the boat and taken at once to the Turner home where after being restored to dry clothing, neither seemed the worse for the near-tragedy. Nelson is an employee in the Northville Chemical company.

TWO MURPHYS CONFUSED IN EXCHANGE ELECTION

It was erroneously stated last week that M. J. Murphy, democratic congressional candidate, was elected as first vice president of the Northville Exchange club when the report should have placed Chas. Murphy employed in the office of the Detroit Edison company here, as first vice president.

M. J. Murphy, when informed of the error declared that while "some are born great, some achieve greatness, still others have it thrust upon them"

The Ford was driven by Tony Bender, aged 14, who suffered a severe cut across the forehead, which took 14 stitches to close. Tony was knocked unconscious and remained in a daze for two days at the Sessions hospital. The boy with him, Al. Vekosky, received a laceration across the chin, 12 stitches being used to close the wound.

Mr. Chapman, driver of the De Soto was not injured, although his car was badly damaged. The Ford was also badly damaged.

HOLIDAY CRASH IS FATAL TO MRS. ROY COLE

Northville Woman Is Killed Near Holly as Car Overturns

Mrs. Roy Cole, 57 years old, resident of Northville, was killed almost instantly Monday afternoon when the car in which she was riding, driven by her husband, was struck by an automobile at an intersection seven miles east of Holly, Michigan.

The Cole car had almost crossed a gravel road intersection when an automobile, driven by E. Rosenberg of Detroit coming up a steep grade, struck the Cole car in the rear right and side, turning it over.

Mrs. Cole, riding in the rear left hand seat, was thrown part way out of the open window and the roof of the car, as it overturned, crushed the upper part of her body and head.

Other passengers in the car were Miss Frank Shafer, Detroit, suffered severe bruises; Mrs. Irene Broegman, Mrs. Cole's daughter, her husband, Roy Cole, and Cole's brother, Robert DeHon, of Detroit, were unhurt.

The party was headed for Lapeer and had just left the Broegman farm which is located near Holly. The fatal accident occurred at approximately three o'clock in the afternoon Mrs. Cole immediately following the accident, was taken to the nearest farm house, where a physician was summoned who stated that because of the seriousness of her injuries she must have died almost immediately. She suffered a fractured skull, broken collar bone and neck, and her chest was crushed.

The funeral was held Thursday afternoon at two o'clock from the Schroeder funeral home, Rev. Frank N. Miner officiating. Interment was held at Riverside cemetery.

Mrs. Cole was 57 years old and had lived all but a very few years of her life in and around Northville. She was a member of the Methodist church and was well known among a large circle of friends in Northville.

For the past two summers, Mr. and Mrs. Cole have been visiting their daughter, Mrs. Broegman, on the latter's farm near Holly, and during the winter they resided in Florida. Mrs. Cole's husband, Roy Cole, owned a shock among her many friends who mourn the passing of one of Northville's gentlewomen.

She is survived by her husband Roy Cole, her daughter, Mrs. Broegman, and a son by a previous marriage, Chas. Hayner, of Pontiac.

MARVIN BOGART IN PARADE AT MILFORD

Marvin Bogart, Civil war veteran of whom the grandfather of Edward M. Bogart of Northville, who is 82 years old, was an active participant in the centennial celebration at Milford Monday. His picture appeared in The Detroit News, showing him riding in an old fashioned carriage, loaned by Henry Ford Mr. Bogart had the honor place in the parade along with Mrs. Lovisa South of Milford, 102 years old, who is well known in Northville.

Michigan avenue seemed to grow tired of its straight and narrow course some distance out, and began to get wobbly; Gratiot avenue, a little more determined on its duty as a thoroughfare and leading far out to what seemed to be another city at its termination. I noticed too the numerous squares or blocks, so neatly bounded by tree-decorated streets, and speaking of trees reminds me of the abundance of them. Detroit can be proud of its arboreal side.

Of course, I could not help studying the "lay of the land" of that famous island, Belle Isle. There it squatted up the Detroit river as though it had every intention of remaining in its place for some time to come, its head as pointed as a broad arrowhead.

In the opposite direction, down the river I observed the Ambassador bridge that great span which serves duty as friendly negotiator between two of the most civilized nations in the world. Beyond the tall towers of the bridge lay the smoking giants of industry, particularly at River Rouge. I had to stamp that smoking area so greatly minimized by the distance and height of my point of observation, as one of the ugly spots of the scene that spread so vastity before me.

Out Michigan avenue stood the Michigan Central depot, not a competitor for size for miles around, standing alone like some jealous ogre who wants to be left alone. And of course, to the North I spotted without any eyestrain the majestic tower of the Fisher building, a truly modern piece of architecture. I had hoped to see greater traffic on the river. Only a few ferry boats, a couple of speed boats, a car ferry and a few excursion vessels were to be seen. Far out on Lake St. Clair I could see lake steamers.

Across the river and extending for many miles lay Canada and it appeared just as peaceful and harmless as it has a reputation for being. I felt sorry that its greatest cities, at least one of them, could not be seen from this high altitude. Windsor lay spread out in the sun as harmless as a sprawling infant.

In studying the smaller and older buildings right under my nose (high up though it was) I sensed their humility in the presence of such august, imposing structures as the Bank building, the Dime Bank building, the Union Guardian Trust building, the National Bank building, the Penobscot building and others equally great. As I looked down at the scrubby appearing City Hall it seemed as though I could reach

STREET DANCE IS DISCONTINUED

Northville's street dance which has been held each Friday night under the auspices of the Northville village council, will be discontinued, temporarily at least, was announced at the meeting of the commissioners Tuesday evening at the village hall.

Northville's high school and community band will begin its series of summer concerts on the corner of Main and Center streets on Saturday evening beginning at 7:30.

COUNCIL DISCUSSES WELFARE PROGRESS

Those on Northville's welfare list are making themselves self-supporting.

This was brought out during a discussion of the welfare problem at the village commissioners' first meeting of the month, held Tuesday evening at the village hall. Because the first Monday of the month, the regular date, fell on a holiday, the meeting was postponed one night.

Approximately 25 men are now working on the Groswood farm south of the base line road, where about half of the farm has been planted with potatoes and it is planned to plant the remainder of the farm soon with beans. Other groups of men whose families have been supported during the past winter and spring by Northville charitable organizations are working for the village under the direction of Street Commissioner Earl Montgomery.

Farming equipment has been loaned to the welfare association through the courtesy of Ralph Pickard and Ralph Van Sickle, Carl Schoutz, Howard Whipple and Carin Benton, farmers who live in the vicinity of Northville.

According to Commissioner Merrill Sweet, head of the association those who apply for aid on the days the association has set for this purpose, Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays, between the hours of one and four in the afternoon, at the headquarters located underneath the Carnegie hardware on the corner of Main and N. Center streets, are met by a representative of the welfare association who has listed the men asking for aid and amount of work they have done. Anyone who has asked for aid and has refused work, either for the village or on the farm, is immediately dropped from the list and will be unable to obtain aid from any of Northville's charitable organizations. Similarly anyone requesting aid who drives a car will be dropped unless he can show he uses the car to go out of town for work.

As long as Commissioner Sweet, as the men who ask for aid, are willing to work, at least one day (Continued on Last Pg.)

DR. SCHUYLER HERE FROM MISSISSIPPI

Dr. Randall Schuyler former village health officer and practicing physician of Northville, who for the last two years has been living in Mississippi, returned here for one or two days Wednesday Dr. Schuyler is here to see about putting a new floor in his building where the post office is now located.

When interviewed, Dr. Schuyler said that he sees many changes in Northville, mostly for the better, since he went away in 1930. Among the newest and most marked, said the doctor, is the new Neal Building, the home of The Record.

Dr. Schuyler expects to leave as soon as his business is taken care of and probably before the end of the week, for his home in Long Beach, Mississippi, where he has a large residence.

LOCAL BOYS ORGANIZE FAST BASE BALL TEAM

The base ball team, the Northville Juniors, organized by Alex Johnson, team's playing manager, is progressing rapidly in the local amateur base ball field.

They have won their first six games by definite scores and will play on Sunday, July 10, at New Hudson.

The team is composed of the following boys, all of whom are batting high averages: Alex Johnson, Ray Westphal, Filmer Westphal, Kohler, Cavell, Keller, Noble, Bulmon, Deal, Sessions, and Berendt.

STATE PLAN FOR OPENING IS ENDORSED

85% of Depositors Sign the Moratorium Agreement for Two Banks

Northville will have a new bank in the near future.

This was made certain yesterday with the announcement that the plan for a merger of the closed Lapham and the Northville State Savings banks had been successfully achieved.

The goal of the new bank was reached Thursday when sufficient signatures for the moratorium plan, drawn up by the state banking department, were secured by the Lapham bank. The required 85 per cent of deposits was reached with the signing of $30,000 in the past three days. The final $20,000 came in yesterday. The necessary 85 per cent for the Northville State Savings bank was secured last week. Thus, with both banks "signed up," the path was cleared for merging the two institutions into one new one.

The success of the moratorium plan follows weeks and months of effort to give Northville a bank to replace the two that closed last year. The Lapham State bank failed to open on June 30, 1931, and the Northville State on September 25. Northville was unfortunate enough to be among the very first towns in Michigan that had closed banks and hence it was a number of months before any plan could be worked out for the reopening of the institutions.

State Recommends Plan Early this year the state banking department worked out a moratorium plan for a period of five years that was put into effect in a number of Michigan towns and which has proven to be very successful. This plan is one that is finally recommended for Northville by the state banking department. The details are very well known to all our readers as they have been fully explained from time to time in this paper. Briefly, the plan calls for a trust fund of 30 per cent which will take over the doubtful assets of the bank and for a 60 per cent fund of absolutely good assets. Ten per cent will be given to depositors the first year 15 per cent, the second, 20 per cent, the third 25 per cent the fourth, and 30 per cent the fifth year.

The dividends may be passed out in larger amounts, officials say, and more rapidly to all of the depositors, in so far as the circumstances permit.

Department in Charge With the many details necessary to merge two closed institutions, obviously it will take some time to work out all the complications. This will be done by the state banking department and we understand that auditors will start work on the books the first of the week. Banking Commissioner R. E. Reichert and the assistant commissioner, M. C. Taylor, have offered every assistance, as has also the office of the attorney general, Paul W. Voorhies.

Securing of the 85 per cent needed for both banks has been a tremendous task and a large number of people have cooperated most loyally and courageously to make it possible to reach the goal of the new bank. It was necessary to contact over 4,000 depositors, some of whom live as far distant as California and the Atlantic coast. The loyalty of depositors to Northville has been remarkable. Only this united spirit made possible the success of the moratorium plan.

An intensive campaign carried on by the depositors' committee made possible the securing of the 85 per cent. John A. Boyce, chairman, Oliver Goldsmith, C. R. Horton, Oliver Hamilton, have given practically all of their time the past two weeks to attain the necessary signatures. They traveled hundreds of miles and literally worked night and day to reach the goal. The help of small depositors in the final days was one of the big factors in the success of the plan.

New Day for Northville While no one expects, in view of the present economic conditions, that the success of the moratorium plan will bring the millennium in Northville, yet there is every reason to believe that the opening of the new bank will start a new era of good will and prosperity for this community.

HE KEPT HIS WORD

He met us on the street and said: "I'll send you a check on Tuesday."

With some folks that would be just another "tomorrow" which never comes. But we knew our man and made plans for using that sizeable check.

Came Tuesday. Returning from down town, we came to the office and the bookkeeper looked up with a grin and said: "Maybe this will make you feel better." Sure enough; there was the check promised for Tuesday. Just that one check made the whole day different.

In these times anyone who can say: "I'll send you a check," and then does it, helps more than he realizes.

HOLD STEADY

The newspaper office is a clearing house of community events and some days after we have heard reams and reams about this and that and the other trouble, we go home at night thinking that things look pretty bad.

Yet, in the face of knowing a lot of things that are discouraging, we are hopeful of the future. Northville has been humped pretty hard. Yet it might have been vastly worse. We shall survive a lot of things that look very distressing now and some day we shall look back and wonder just why we got so excited about it all.

It is our sincere belief that if we "hold steady" now for awhile, we shall come out into calmer waters.

THE HOME STANDS

We talked to a young chap whose father had gone back to work after months of idleness. "Well, how did you get by?" we asked him.

"Just did the best we could," he answered, "You see we own our home and that helps some."

We have been doing a lot of talking about our troubles—and there has been enough to talk about. Yet take this home owning business and we are miles ahead of many others. It is the dream of every good citizen some day to own his own home and to take his place in the community as one of its builders. Here in Northville we have many streets on which a large part of the residences are owned by the occupants. That makes for a wonderful community.

Only two out of every ten people in Great Britain own their own home; in the United States 50 out of every 100 own their own residences. How would you like to go over to England and give up the chance for the home that you have here?

Home owning has been tough going the past few months and is yet. But the sun will come out from behind the clouds before many months and business conditions will return to something like normal. It will be a wise man then who plans to join the army of home owners.

And what better place to own a home than Northville?

THE BATTLE IS ON!

Hoover and Curtis. Roosevelt and Garner.

Two candidates for president and the same number for vice president. Take your choice next November.

Our two great parties have met in convention, listened to many speeches, gone through all the antics of college students, adopted platforms that will mean little or much and named their candidates for the presidency and vice presidency. For the first time in years the Democrats are conceded a chance to win the great prize. Four months of campaigning are ahead and with everything at stake, it will be a spectacular struggle.

It is well for the United States that we have two great parties and that neither can continue to have a monopoly of the affairs of government. The Republicans have had the fortune or misfortune to be in control during the most trying and critical period since the Civil war and they face a situation of unrest that may cost them control at Washington. However, it is not at all a certainty that the Democrats will be swept into power on the crest of this tide of anxiety and desire for change. Much can happen in the next four months and much will depend on the outcome of the economic situation, as the winter months approach. The kinds of campaign waged will also affect the outcome in many states.

The candidates for the presidency are men of ability and character. President Hoover, never popular or spectacular, is stronger than the unthinking believe, while Roosevelt, the sixth cousin of the famous Teddy, has a background of worth, even though at times he has been somewhat hesitant and erratic. The vice presidential nominees do not stand out as possible great presidents, should the changes of fortunes place them in the executive chair. Curtis is too old while the record of Garner in Congress in the opinion of many, stamps him as a politician, and not as a statesman.

The issues will—or should be—economic and not prohibition. With an unemployed army of millions facing a dread winter, the talk of "we want our beer" is very apt to be eclipsed by a surging cry of "we want bread for our children" as the campaign progresses. Not all men and women live along the "belt line." It would be pitiful if the smoke screen of the liquor issue should hide the greater issues that face not only the United States, but civilization. "The mirage of the beer mug" will not lead all the voters out into a desert of hope that all the affairs of men will be nobly settled when the 18th amendment is no more. The issues of home, of stability of government, of a continued faith in our institutions, of some way to meet the new machine age, far surpass that of whether men shall or shall not have four per cent beer. The farther we get from the national conventions of June and the nearer we approach the November election, the more these issues will come to the front and demand solution.

It is well for the nation that we are so near a national election. Thoughtful men believe that with a new president chosen we shall come out from a period of great difficulty into a new era of hope and of prosperity and national growth. Whether it will be President Hoover or President Franklin D. Roosevelt, the United States, beyond any peradventure of doubt, faces the mightiest and most significant four years in its history.

WANDERING THOUGHTS

Spent the past half of the week in and around Alpena attending the summer session of the Michigan Press associations. "See Michigan First" should be the motto of every true Wolverine. The great open spaces around Alpena make one realize what a mighty empire is ours. More and more tourists will come from every state to find out the truth of the statement: "If you seek a great peninsula, look around you."

Alpena literally sits on great ledges of limestone, in some places with only a few inches of soil over them. Its cement factory and great quarries use this limestone to send products to all corners of the nation.

Rode for one delightful afternoon through "deer country" with one of the "biggest men" of Alpena. We asked him on what basis he picked his employees: "Just for two things," he answered. "I ask them whether they will work and whether they will leave liquor entirely alone." In this connection we were frankly surprised to find the strength of dry sentiment among the country editors. Those who are strong for beer are outnumbered by those who remember the old saloon days and who feel that the present condition is far better, even with all its failings.

Heard Governor Wilbur M. Brucker talk outdoors at a fish dinner Saturday. In spite of the fact that he has several sharp critics among the editors of the weekly press, the great majority in private conversation will tell you that he will be re-nominated and re-elected. He makes a very convincing talk.

The writer's wife and Editor A. L. Anderson of the Stethoscope (Eastlawn Sanatorium) were both born in Alpena—a number of years apart. Mrs. Baldwin left there as a baby of six months. We were surprised to find it an industrial city of 13,000. The old lumbering days are gone forever, but their tradition is seen here and there in old buildings and along the streams. What a tragedy that none was wise enough to save even a few acres of the virgin pine that was slaughtered and burned with such pitiful prodigality. All the trees you see are "second growth." The selfishness of the lumber baron is one of the national disgraces.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

Who is Northville's most unselfish citizen?

On the spot, the postmaster ejected gulped, stammered and felt a hollow sinking feeling in his tummy and said "thank you" as best he could. While postmaster might inwardly revel at the apparent embarrassment of his predecessor.

After nine years of official association with the bunch, there are a lot of things that will linger long as pleasant memories—those that were not pleasant have long been forgotten. We have always called each other by our first names. Rather unqualified some may say, but we would rather be hailed by a cheerful, sincere "Hello, Bill" or "Morning, Bill" than any other salutation in the world, barring none.

Printing that pleases at the Northville Record office.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

SALOON-LESS BEER

(Birmingham Eclectic)

Steadily and unceasingly, from all sections of the United States, there is revealed a growing disgust with prohibition, and a desire for something or other to supplant it. Nobody wants the old saloon back, many, however, want what the old saloon sold back. Question: how can you restore strong drink without bringing back the old saloon? There is a feeling about the matter that is asked of both Republicans and Democrats.

WORDS OF A WISE MAN

(Mun H. DeFoe in the Charlotte Republican-Tribune)

The bass fishing season opens Saturday. There is a kind of a decadence about fishing men. The only wickedness has to do with the measurements of the pool fish, which after all is better conversation than to be talking about the depression. A fellow isn't plotting schemes. Out fishin'. He's only busy with his dreams. Out fishin'. His livery is a coat of tan. His creed, to do the best he can. A fellow's almost always man. Out fishin'.

SMALL TOWN'S BEST

(William Berkeley in the Cassopolis Vigilant)

Big towns like big men, loomed large during the boom era and people thronged to the cities because of the lure of large wages and bright lights, but in these times of stress it is quite apparent that the small towns are in much better condition and the people in them have suffered much less than in the big ones. While the big town mayors are assing for reelection, the Cassopolis has met every bond when it came due, paid its interest on time, paid its school teachers regularly, extended its water works, improved its streets, and reduced its tax rate. We might lose Mayor Shurte and our village council to Detroit or Chicago long enough to straighten out their tangled affairs, but not unless they can be guaranteed immunity from political interference.

ON THE SPOT

(Editor Wm. Cansfield in Livingston County Republican-Press. Howell)

The phone rang furiously, "Tell Bill he is wanted at the post office at once," called a voice, and hung up. Over rushed the writer thinking urgent duties demanded his immediate presence. As we rushed in the employees crowded the newcomer to the curb, so to speak, and put him "on the spot" while Carrier Robt. Chapel chuckled, and pleasantly presented the arriving postmaster with a beautiful leather brief case, desk scissors, and letter opener. The gift is to be a constant reminder of nearly nine years of service with the employees of the Howell post office.

 Malcolm Forsythe and George Ford of Detroit together with Miss Jessie Nelson of Northville, were guests of the latter's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Merton Simpson, at their home near London Canada, last week end.
 Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wolfe and children Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Taggart and daughter, Kathleen, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Whipple, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Hanna and Ernestine Wolfe spent an enjoyable week end at Sudden lake.
 J. Heckle of Detroit is substituting for Geo. Rattenbury in the meat department of the local A. & P. store. Mr. Heckle says he is greatly impressed with the beauty of Northville and wishes he could move his family out here.
 Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Humphries and family, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Willis and daughter, Pearl, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Strubing and family of Redford, spent the week end camping at Wampiers lake in the Irish Hills.
 Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sparkey of Saginaw, the latter a sister of Mrs. E. B. Grosvenor, were visitors in her home over the week end. Mrs. Eleanor Grosvenor accompanied them to their home Tuesday to spend the summer there.
 Both the Royal Ann and Mother's Lunch feel encouraged with the rise in their business lately. Large numbers of tourists stopped for meals at both places. The Royal Ann served 82 guests after four o'clock on the Fourth of July.

TIMES TRY MEN'S SOULS AND SOLES SAYS SHOE MAN

"These are the times that try men's souls" and Joe Reytzer, the man who repairs shoes, adds, "and try men's soles, too."
 Never in the history of his work in Northville has he been called upon to restore to good condition shoes so badly worn. "Folks are wearing their shoes to the very limit," says Reytzer, "in fact, they wear them too long before bringing them in for repairs."
 In their effort to economize they often lose a chance to have them fixed. Perhaps, no man in town sees the pinch of the pennies more plainly than this mender of soles.
 "Oh, yes," says a Northville barber, "and folks are cutting down on shaves and haircuts, too. That's one way men can save without really suffering."
 Many an old razor has come out from hiding and has been whetted for service again. It's nice to be in ambition proved to be the downfall of Mrs. Fred Wendt Tuesday when she chose to rise very early in the morning at her home on River street to begin her work. Starting down the cellar steps she missed her footing in some way and fell to the bottom of the steps where she was severely bruised. A cut on the head was dressed by a physician. Mrs. Wendt is resting a few days from her work in the Maybury Sanitarium where she is a seamstress. Mr. Wendt is a real-estate carrier at the Sanitarium.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Masters, who were married in Ypsilanti, Saturday, June 25, have returned from their honeymoon, which took them on an extensive trip east. They visited points in Canada, Niagara Falls, places of interest in Pennsylvania, New York city and Washington, D. C. They will reside at 228 Thayer boulevard where they have begun house-keeping. Mr. Masters who is known as "Bob" in the composing room of the Record office and his wife are welcomed to Northville and best wishes are theirs.

“SINCE I bought my new Electrochef, I never have to worry about getting home early to begin dinner. The automatic Time-Clock Oven Control attends to that. I simply put the whole meal in the oven before I leave, and set the clock for the correct cooking time. Then I forget all about it. The oven turns itself on and off automatically. When I come home dinner is waiting, perfectly cooked and ready for the table.”

“Now that I’ve discovered in my kitchen freedom, I wonder how I ever got along without it. I enjoy many added hours of leisure and find time for many things I could never do before. Thanks to my new electric range, I can spend the whole afternoon out-of-doors. It gives me the best part of the day to myself. And one of the things I like best about my new Electrochef is that it never overheats the kitchen!”

Probably it would be impossible to roll down the comment on addresses and discourses...

But should such a composite be arrived at the final average would be most illuminating.

The professors' ministers and others who have given these warnings and suggestions to the leaders of tomorrow's social order...

Perhaps the youth will ponder long at least it is hoped they will over the things that they are told...

We grant without little argument that, perhaps, civilization, social democracy, and the social order...

But wouldn't it be better and more constructive to say that the nation and society as a whole are working...

It is easy to understand the apprehensive fear that educators of institutions have for graduates of...

their schools of learning for which they are soon to be exposed. But there is a danger that specialists in pointing out the evils of the times are too apt to minimize the good.

Still another hazard lies in encouraging imaginative and impressionable youths to form temperaments which will tend to magnify the evil and dangers which might lie in the future.

Why not say to the leaders of social order and democracy of the great tomorrow, "We have done well and will do better and are holding out to you the lighted torch of civilization for you to carry on?"

Youth is always hopeful, and they can and should rightly prepared, face the future in high hope, and if strong and courageous, be confident of well-rewarded lives, thereby benefiting and building a greater and better society in the future to tomorrow, and God helping them, they can do no other.

HOMEMAKER'S CORNER

By MRS. EDITOR

OUR "PLANK" STILL STANDS

"After all the tumult and the shoutings cease, and the delegates to the national party-conventions have scattered, we homemakers turn back to our cooking and our cradles rocking with a deep-down sense of our advantage over pompous politicians for we know that, after all even miles of busy tin-pail brigades cannot have the force that our quiet teaching of virtue and clean living gives to the up-coming generation.

Bedtime stories and songs sink in deeper than we know in tender hearts and we have faith in their future. Only we must be "on the job."

WHAT ABOUT A VACATION?
Are you planning what you will do to relax your forces for a season? The bow which is always strung loses its elasticity. You cannot maintain pep and top-notch efficiency without an occasional let-up.

A vacation is "freedom from duty or service; leisure." It implies that you are a worker, and that you must release yourself from the strain for a time. The only thorough way to accomplish this is to go clear away from the sight of your work. It rests you to have a change of scene, to do the exact opposite of your regular employment, to use a different set of muscles, and to round out your program of life.

In the ruralist makes his while the sun shines or his wife stacks by the berries, the cherries, and the peaches, in season, and she should know. They themselves a rich two weeks of city advantages when the frosts is on the pumpkin and the fiddlers in the shock.

These are the months for town workers to take their vacation. Business is most lax and the call of the wild is most alluring. Hot, stuffy indoors becomes unbearable and the urge to be in the open is irresistible.

Time to go hiking on heavy shoes and sport clothes, following some trail to its mysterious end. Then to go fishing, go swimming, go boating, go auting, go anywhere. Pal it with your pal.

Listen to the birds, the tinkle of cow bells, on the croak of the frogs, smell the roses and the earth; gaze at the sparkle of waves or the moonlight on quiet waters. Feel the cool winds, and breathe deep—the filling and turning oxygen. Drink in the beauty with eyes, ears, and soul.

A vacation makes you bigger, and better, and more enthusiastic. If it not merely a luxury, but a duty you owe yourself and those who must associate with you.

But the housewife? How is she to manage it? Ringer comes to her family with three-times-a-day regularity, and stinks them wherever they may lie themselves. As the dispenser of daily bread, she has a steady job. But unless she is to become a muddle, she, too, must have time off.

With a little resourceful thought and a willingness on the part of all to adapt themselves, it can be arranged. If she cannot encompass a regular vacation with one grand vacation, she can, at least, approach vacation benefits for a long-drawn-out period, until she has had a rest. Perhaps she will have to fake it, like the clock, between beats.

It is her right and bounden duty, however, to see that she does get real freedom from duty and service, leisure, at times when it is needed.

Here are methods for the vacation. Simplify the menu in hot weather. (It is a good-health stunt, as well as a labor saver.) Clear the house of fanciness; put away bra-abrac, sacetrack or postpone-all duties and responsibilities except those which absolutely must be attended to. Lave "cut-doors" work; sew sleep, play and ear in the open as much as possible.

Use oil-cloth for the table, and paper plates at times. Send the washing and the ironing to the laundry for a while. Employ extra labor in the house when needed.

Take at a boarding house or rest-aunt some means to save labor at home. Use more prepared foods. Patronize the bakery and cooked food shop. Enlist male help from the family. Determine to run-away and swim, rump, and forget care whenever opportunity offers.

LINCOLN'S RECIPE FOR HAPPINESS

Do not worry; eat three square meals a day; say your prayers; be courteous to your creditors; keep your digestion good; steer clear of biliousness, exercise, go slow and go easy. Maybe there are other things that your special case requires to make you happy; but, my friend, these I reckon will give you a good lift.

Butter Scotch Sauce

Mrs. L. B. Holmes makes the following delicious sauce to be poured over ice cream: 1/2 cup Kalo Syrup, 4 tablespoons butter. Boil until it forms a soft ball when dropped in cold water. (Watch carefully—only a short time.) Remove from fire and beat until it slowly 1/2 cup thin cream Vanilla.

Society Notes

Camp Fire-Girls Enjoy Picnic At Whitmore Lake

Fifteen Junior Camp Fire girls enjoyed an afternoon's outing at Whitmore lake Wednesday. A good time swimming and boating was followed by a picnic dinner served on a long table in the park near the village. The girls were accompanied by their guardian, Mrs. O. F. Reag, and Mr. Reag, Dr. and Mrs. P. R. Alexander and Mrs. J. N. McLoughlin.

Birthday of Frank Lauray Celebrated by Family

Frank Lauray was honored on the occasion of his seventy-ninth birthday last Tuesday evening when a family dinner was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Preston on the Severn Mile road. Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Casterline, the latter being another daughter of the guest of honor, were also present on this occasion. The dinner was featured with a birthday cake fittingly decorated.

Boaters and Families Picnic On Douglas Farm

"On the Fourth of July the lawn of the Dr. B. H. Douglas home swarmed with a company of thirty friends who brought with them well-filled lunch baskets. A beautiful picnic dinner was spread on long tables on the lawn and a most enjoyable day was spent. In the party beaded Northville friends there were present a number of physicians from the Maybury Sanatorium and several Detroit friends."

Nichoalds Country Home is Scene Of Young Folks' Party

About 75 young people from Northville and the surrounding territory gathered at the Nichoalds home on Ridge road, last Thursday to attend a delightful lawn party. The main attraction of the evening was dancing, and light refreshments were served later in the evening.

Fraser Staman Honored At Surprise Party

Fraser Staman, manager of the local A. & P. store, was led into the hands of a surprise party on himself at Riverside park on Tuesday evening. Miss Irene Moeren did the "leading" while Mr. Staman's two sisters, Martha and Nettie, and the clerks of the A. & P. store did the surprising. The latter were Alfred Sibley, Oscar Dann, Duncan Fry, Duane Stear and Harry Sedan. Broiled steak made a delicious out-of-door menu, and the group enjoyed themselves playing games, particularly baseball.

Worth While Club Has Chicken Dinner at Close of Season

At the close of an active social season with a round of pleasant events, the members of the Worth While club celebrated their annual dinner-together with a fine chicken dinner at "Mother's lunch" last Friday evening. Husbands of the ladies were guests on this occasion and were guests equally.

Two Northville Girls Fly Home in Plane

Little Betty and Mary Hollis had a thrilling experience Monday when they flew high over their home in an airplane on their return from a visit in Grand Rapids at the home of their uncle, Donald Starr. Mr. Starr is a pilot for the Kohler company whose route runs from Milwaukee to Detroit and after the little girls had stayed two weeks, "Uncle Don" bundled them into a plane with another pilot and Mrs. Starr to care for them when they made the trip to Detroit where to the surprise of the young amateur they were in Grand Rapids at the end of the trip. The girls were dropped down into the Detroit river where they glided on pontoons to the landing. Mrs. Hollis says it was a strange sensation to look up at a plane sailing through the clouds and realize that her two little girls were up there.

REUNION OF LYKES HELD ON JUNE 26

The twenty-first annual Lykes reunion was held on June 26 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lyke three miles west of Manchester.

There were sixty seven present, the largest crowd yet assembled. Among those present were two New York Lykes, Miss Belle Lyke and Mr. Henry Lyke of Oswego.

Others were present from Novi, Salem, Northville, Plymouth, Dearborn and Ypsilanti.

After the beautiful pot luck dinner, the time was spent visiting playing ball and barn yard golf.

At the business meeting the following officers were elected: Harry Lyke, president; Roy Lyke, secretary; Opal Brooks, vice president and treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Lyke and Mr. and Mrs. Harley Cole were appointed for the program committee.

The invitation to meet with Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Rakestraw for 1932 was accepted.

CASTERLINE USES ELECTRIC GREASING EQUIPMENT ON CARS

Cheap grease will "cake" on the moving parts of a car," declared Casterline, proprietor of the One Stop service station located at the foot of Main street directly across from the Ford factory. Casterline's station is the only one in Northville which uses a powerful electric grease gun in lubricating automobiles. This means a more complete greasing job.

"If a man brings his car into my place," he said, "before he goes on a long trip, he can rest assured he won't get 100 miles from nowhere and have his car break down on account of poor greasing or cheap grease."

"My grease is absolutely the highest priced grease on the market; it costs me 17 cents per pound to buy and when you consider that each universal in a car takes nearly a pound of grease outside of the other greasing points and the labor it takes to apply the lubrication, it can be easily seen that a thorough job is worth every penny that the average motorist puts into it."

Mr. Casterline personally inspects every car that comes into his station for greasing following the completion of the job and supervises the work while it is in progress. Louis Tiffin, a mechanic of many years' experience in garages and gasoline stations is his very capable assistant.

FAREWELL, TEACHERS!

The following tribute to the high school teachers of Northville was paid by a member of the recent graduating class, Miss Dorothy Heatley, who has the distinction of having finished her high school career in three years:

Four years ago we stood at your doors; little freshmen, a bit timid, yet eager to begin and see what life at Northville high had in store for us. The months and years have sped merrily on, until now we stand again at your doors; this time, to go forth in the great battle of life. The days spent under your kind roof have been: fleeting things, filled with the carefree joy of girlhood and boyhood, and, above all, we have often yearned for the end of our high school days, now that they are over, our joy is not untangled with sorrow.

These are most valuable lessons you have taught us, dear teachers, and ones which we hope always to retain: are citizenship, loyalty, and bravery. At times they were hard to learn, but we realize their value now and we shall never forget them.

To Supt. T. J. Kapp, Principal R. H. Amerman and all our teachers, we, the graduates of '32, extend our heartfelt thanks and our deep appreciation for the many kindnesses conferred upon us and for the great patience shown us. To each and everyone of these we say a sincere, "Thank you!"

Church News

Northville First Baptist Church

Rev. William Roscoe Barbour Services for Sunday, July 10, will be held at 10 a. m. and 11:15 a. m. for the morning worship and the Bible school, respectively, but at 7:30 the evening service will be held in order to participate in the public program given by the Daily Vacation school at the Presbyterian church.

The Baraca class will meet next Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Nancy on Gady street. After the business session, refreshments will be served. The chief item of church concern, concerning which a good start financing has been made.

St. Paul's Lutheran

Leo C. Eckstaedt, Pastor 220 Elm street Sunday worship at the usual time. 10 o'clock. The pastor will preach. The voters of the congregation will meet on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Church Hall.

The Ladies Aid of the congregation will meet on Thursday afternoon of next week in the Church Hall.

The half hour of faith and fellowship is broadcast every Sunday afternoon by the Lutheran church over station WXYZ from 1:30 to 2:00 o'clock.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to worship with us.

Methodist Episcopal Church

The Rev. Frank N. Miner Sunday morning, July 10, at 10 A. M. is public worship and the sacrament of the Lord's Supper or Holy Communion.

Also there will be a brief sermon by the pastor. The entire church membership is earnestly requested to attend and all others are welcome and invited.

The church school convenes each Sunday at 11:15 A. M. A large attendance is desired each week. Come as often and as regularly as possible.

CIVIL SERVICE COURSES INDICATED BY POST OFFICE

The following statement is made by the United States Civil Service Commission, through the local postmaster, T. R. Carrington:

"The Commission warns the public against paying money for 'coaching' courses in preparation for federal civil service examinations.

"Schools which sell such courses under present conditions accept money under false pretenses. A purveyor of civil service courses is now under indictment in Iowa for false representation. It is expected that other such cases of prosecution will follow.

"Comparatively few appointments are being made in the federal civil service. Vacancies which must be filled by the transfer of those in the service or the reinstatement of those who have been in the service, wherever practicable.

"It is seldom necessary to announce an examination. In most cases large registers of eligibles exist as a result of examinations held during the past year. When an examination is announced, the applicants are usually hundreds of times in excess of the need.

"Money paid for civil service coaching courses at this time might almost as well be thrown to the four winds."

Presbyterian Church Notes

On Sunday, July 10, at ten o'clock a service of worship will be held in the First Presbyterian church, commencing the following Sunday, July 17, and continuing for four Sundays; the Presbyterian and the Methodist churches will combine for worship, meeting in the Methodist church with the Rev. Whitfield preaching.

The church school meets at 11:15. We desire that all the pupils endeavor to attend as this will be the last meeting in this church for four weeks. During the period when the services are in the Methodist church, the pupils of the Presbyterian church school will be taught by the regular teachers of the host school.

The Sunday school picnic will be held in the Plymouth park, July 12. A program of events is being arranged. It is the intention of those in charge that the families should meet and have dinner together, which will be followed by games, contests, etc.

Plan to attend the service in the Presbyterian church Sunday evening at 7:30. See fuller announcement in this issue.

Our Lady of Victory

Next Sunday, July 10, will be Holy Name Sunday and all who either reside here in Northville or who happen to be passing through town and desire a place of worship, are urged to attend the services which will be held at 7:30 a. m. and 10:00 a. m. Sunday morning.

DUNLAP LANDMARK PLANTED IN 1850

In the yard of Mrs. Bertha Neal, on the corner of Center and Dunlap streets, stands a very beautiful tree, commonly called "fir tree" although its scientific name is not known. Besides being exquisitely beautiful at this time of the year, the tree has quite a history behind it.

It was planted in 1850 by Capt. William Dunlap the father of Mrs. Jennie White, who built the house where Mrs. Neal lives. Capt. Dunlap moved to Michigan in 1831, from Ovid, New York, and built the house, the first frame building in Northville, in 1832.

Mrs. White of Randolph street from whom this information was secured, was born in the Neal home, and remembers distinctly when the tree was planted.

The tree, in summer a beautiful golden red, blooms forth annually beautifying the lawn and surrounding grounds. Several tree experts have been asked its technical name but each has failed to give the answer.

MANY PAX VISIT TO IRIS EXHIBIT

The iris season has closed with a greater evidence of interest than usual in these lovely flowers. says

Harvey Whipple, Northville's "iris specialist"

Several hundred visitors came to see the sight when the blossoms were at their prime during the first half of June. Besides the usual visitors who come each year from Mt. Clemens, Pontiac and even from more distant cities, there came a large number of enthusiasts who had never been here before.

WORLD'S Fastest Freezing WITH KELVINATOR

No lengthy waiting for ice or desserts to freeze with the 4-Way Cold Kelvinator. Its Automatic Super-Fast Freezing shows an average of 80 minutes for ice in 49 tests made throughout the United States—and freezing ice cream, sherbets, mousses, etc., requires only a little longer.

FOUR-LITTLE COLD GIVES YOU

- Greater Ice Capacity—In one compartment—a degree of cold for freezing ice in generous quantities.
- Super-Fast Freezing—In a second compartment—a very low cold for super-fast freezing of ice and desserts.
- Cold Storage—In de luxe models, a third compartment—with below-freezing cold for cold storage of meats, game, fish, ice cream, etc.
- Scientific Refrigeration—In the big food compartment—a 40 to 50-degree constant cold—just the right temperature, science says, to keep foods fresh and pure.

*All of these degrees of cold are in constant service, doing the work you want done without thought or effort on your part, because all are automatic.

The model Kelvinator you require may be purchased on easy terms through Kelvinator's attractive ReDisCo monthly budget plan.
