Athletic Events, Concerts by

High Lights

The firemen of Northville, Plymouth, Wayne and Farmington performed heroic efforts to aid charity in their respective towns when they held the first four square firemen's field day last Friday afternoon at the Northville fair grounds.

The proceeds taken in from the celebration were divided among the four communities according to the number of points each team won at the meet.

Wayne with 49 points, garnered the lion's share of the receipts, Northville took second with 33 points and Plymouth and Farmington were tied for third place with 29 points each.

Wayne received $18.50, Northville received $17.30 and Plymouth and Farmington each $15.00. Total receipts were $65.80.

The receipts were small owing to the disappointing support given the event. Following is a summary of the results: Four points were given for first place, three points for second place, two for third place, and one for fourth place.

In the preliminary sale of tickets, Wayne 4; Plymouth, 3; Northville, 2; Farmington, 1.

Fifty Yard Dash—Wayne, 6; Farmington, 3; Northville, 1; Plymouth, 0.

One Hundred Yard Dash—Wayne, 7; Plymouth, 14; Northville, 14; Farmington, 0.

One hundred twenty yard dash—Wayne, 5; Northville, 4; Plymouth, 1; Farmington, 0.

Base ball throw—Farmington, 6; Wayne, 3; Northville, 1; Plymouth, 0.

Hammer throw—Wayne, 6; Plymouth, 4; Farmington, Northville, 0.

Cane Spree—Northville, 4; Plymouth, 4; Farmington, 2; Wayne, 0.

Water Battle, each team was awarded 24 points.

High Jump—Wayne, 5; Farmington, 4; Northville, 1; Plymouth, 0.

The tug of war in which Northville outplayed the other contestants and the water battle, the latter event taking place in front of the village hall, held the most interest for the crowd.

Two bands, representing in their uniforms, entertained with music. The Farmington band in attractive blue and white uniforms and the Northville High School and Community band with the customary red and white capes added immeasurably to enjoyment of the day.

Dr. L. W. Snow expressed his appreciation at the conclusion of the meet to the bands, the firemen, those who attended the field day meet and to all those who assisted in making the day a success.

Charity Bouts Hand Fought—At the Charity Boxing show given at the local fair grounds in connection with the four-square firemen's field day last Friday Eddie Kopp, Michigan, hardest hitting lightweight, at 134½ fought a draw with Don McLeod who fought at 135 lbs.

McLeod, nat-footed and deliberate took considerable punishment from Kopp who worked on his toes. Exhibiting remarkable stamina McLeod staged a rally in the sixth round drawing blood from Kopp's nose.

The seventh, only to be badly wounded himself as an old wound above an eye was opened. All in all the bout of ten rounds satisfied the crowd as an exhibition of all both boys had in them.

At Henderson at 134 bested Bailey, a local product who was attempting a comeback, in a four round scrap that was both fast and furious. Henderson who hails from Detroit fought a cool fight not leading much, but improving every opportunity.

The only other bout of the evening was staged between Jack Holcomb, 6 yrs., and Rex Dye, 6 yrs., who exhibited skill and ability beyond their years.

Officials of the match were Mayor L. W. Snow of this city, sponsor.

To be at Fair August 24-27

One of the most brilliant of the many free acts to be presented at the Northville Wayne County Fair, August 24, 25, 26, 27, will be that of La Temple and company, European illusionists.

The entertainment of this foreign importation is of an unusually high order featuring beautiful costumes and novelty tricks which have delighted audiences both in this country and in Europe.

The free acts are under the direction of Elmer L. Smith who has booked the Henry H. Lueders production for this year's fair.

GERMAN PRINCES VISIT NORTHVILLE

Royalty visits Northville! Prince Louis Ferdinand and Prince Friedrich of Germany, sons of Crown Prince Wilhelm and grandsons of Kaiser Wilhelm, came to Northville Wednesday to inspect the local Ford plant and to call upon Frederick Hoffman, who some years ago trained the fine horses of the Emperor's stables over in "the old country."

No special "princey" appearance marked these two young heirs to an empire. Just two fine looking youths of athletic bearing they were dressed as ordinary citizens.

Nor did they "high hat" our village but expressed themselves as being Northville, saying that it was "a fine looking town and an excellent location for factories."

Recalling that Frederick Hoffman lived here, a hero of their youthful days when they loved to ride the blooded steeds of their emperor grandfather, trained by this expert horseman, they looked him up at his home on River street and had a good visit with their fellow countryman. Before leaving they promised to return to Northville later when they will ride with him.

Prince Louis Ferdinand, who came to Dearborn a year ago, is a natural mechanic being especially interested in airplanes and automobiles and paid special attention to the valve department of the local Ford factory. Prince Frederick came to Dearborn from Germany one week ago. Both are guests at the Ford estate in Dearborn.

Mr. Hoffman promises to let the Record know when these princes return for their carter with him over Northville hills.

RICHWINE ENTERS RACE FOR CONGRESS

Plymouth's entrant in the congressional race for nomination in the newly formed seventh district is Perry W. Richwine, prominent attorney now practicing there.

Mr. Richwine was born in Plymouth and has lived there during his entire life. He is a graduate of the Plymouth high school, being president of the class with which he graduated.

After receiving his high school diploma, Mr. Richwine went to Detroit and worked his way through the Business Institute. After starting business school the advantages of legal training became apparent. He then enrolled in the Detroit College of Law and was successful in graduating with the degree of bachelor of laws.

During the years 1924, 1925, and 1926 he was employed in tax work for the Union Title and Guaranty company of Detroit.

He served two years as a member of the board of directors of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce and during 1929 and 1930 was president of that organization.

He was elected president of the Kiwanis club this year but resigned two weeks ago because he believed that the club and his political activities should be kept separate.

For the past two years he has been vice president and counsel and on the board of directors of the Ford Motor Company of Detroit. He is also secretary and attorney for the Plymouth Savings and Loan Association as well as being a member of the board of directors of this organization.

"There's Always A Way Out" Asserts Janitor Wm. Horsfall As He Stirs Up His Own Paint

"How can I paint these school-house steps?" Janitor Wm. B. Horsfall scratched his puzzled head and pondered when shortage of funds had compelled the school board to deny the one gallon of paint necessary to do this job.

Those stairways must have their annual coat of paint after the wear and tear of a year's shuffling feet. The school must be kept up in its customary fine condition, thought this loyal janitor who has held this position for nearly six years, for said he, a community is judged by its school house.

Undaunted by the problem, he began to look about to see how he might "make bricks without straw." In the store room were a few odds and ends of left-over paint of various colors, old battered buckets with dried paint sticking to their sides. Into these Mr. Horsfall poured a quantity of turpentine and patiently waited. Next day he scraped and scraped until he had poured into one pail a surprising supply. Hope rose. Ah, here in a corner was a remnant of "penetrol," left after treating the gym floor. It mixed and the result was very satisfactory—all but the odd color. Burnt umber he added to this until the mass turned into a rich nut-brown color, with a glossy finish given by the "floor seal."

Enthusiastically Mr. Horsfall attacked his job, holding his breath lest the supply run out before the last step was painted. But it lasted. Not only both stairways, but the steps leading from the main entrance are now shining like new.

Fortunately, soap and water and "elbow grease" are very cheap so in spite of fund-shortage Mr. Horsfall and his assistant, Chas. Boelker, are planning to give the entire school buildings their usual thorough housecleaning. Not only the inside, but the grounds about the buildings will be cleaned during the summer.

So loyal are both of these men to their task that although each has been granted two weeks' vacation without pay, much of this "time off" has been spent on work about the school.

COUNCIL GIVES TAX EXTENSION TO SEPT. 1ST

This Will be the Final Time of Grace, States Dr.
Snow

At the first meeting of the month Monday evening, the Northville village council voted to extend the time for payment of taxes to Thursday, September 1. This extension will be final, declared Dr. Linwood W. Snow, village president.

The council passed a motion to pay the ninety-day note held by the First National Bank of Plymouth for $6000.00 principal and $71.00 interest, which falls due on August 17, 1932.

The reports of the treasurer, John Liesenberger, Chief of Police Wm. Safford, Dr. Wilbur H. Johnston, health officer, and Street Commissioner Earl Montgomery were heard by the commissioners and were approved.

Wm. Wain, night watchman, who has been ill for several months, will resume his duties beginning next Monday night. Mr. Wain assured the councilmen that he is fully recovered in health and that he is anxious to get "back in the harness."

ROTARIANS FIND
CHEER IN VIEWING
OLD TIME PANICS

Guided by Arthur R. Marx, Northville Rotarians, at their weekly luncheon Tuesday, took a look at panics of the past and then decided that the nuttiest of the depression of 1929-1932 would soon be over and followed by a time of great prosperity.

Chairman Marx called on various members of the club to read articles that described conditions of distress during the nation's outstanding periods of "hard times" and then told how each one had been followed by years of prosperity.

After looking at the panics of 1837, 1841, 1857, 1873, 1893 and 1921, and seeing that the "end of the world" did not come in those years, as many a pessimist had predicted, but rather great times of prosperity followed, the company all took new hope that the best times the country has yet seen are not far distant.

The program was not only a unique one but a cheering and encouraging one. "Remove fear and we will be on the road to recovery," said the chairman as the meeting closed.

Father Frank C. LeFevre of Plymouth was a guest.

BAND IS ENJOYED
AT CELEBRATION
AND AT EASTLAWN

The Northville Community School band will give another one of their popular weekly concerts tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock.

The band last week had a full schedule, playing at the firemen's field day on Friday, and on Saturday, both downtown in the evening and at the Eastlawn Sanatorium in the afternoon. They serenaded the patients and the large number of townspeople and visitors during visiting hours, and were rewarded by refreshments of ice cream and lemonade.

Although the program for Saturday has not been announced, it is assured that all music lovers have a treat in store for them.

GALA DAY AUG. 6 AT WEST POINT PARK

West Point Park will put on a Gala Day this Saturday, August 6. Two base ball games will start off the day's activities, one being played by the "old timers" and later in the day West Point Park players and the Redford high school team will cross bats.

Among other features will be races, horse-shoe pitching, and dinner which will be served at the Community hall between five and eight p. m. at a small fee. This will be followed by an entertainment and dancing will conclude the affair.

As this is a community affair, those in charge hope that all former residents who live in the neighborhood will come and enjoy the good time.

Exchangites Listen to Splendid Talks About Drug Store Changes By Ralph Horton and L. C. Stewart

Pharmacists' Day at the Exchange club luncheon Wednesday noon brought forth two interesting talks on the subject of pharmacy, one given by Ralph Horton, proprietor of Horton's Rexall Drug Store and the other by L. C. Stewart, owner of the Northville Drug company.

Following an appetizing luncheon, a song fest, led by Orlow G. Owen, song leader, was enjoyed, several duets were heard and the meeting was called to order by Charles F. Murphy, first vice president, who swung the gavel in the absence of Dr. Arthur H. Steele, president, who is vacationing in northern Michigan.

"In the study of pharmacy," stated Mr. Horton, "are included the subjects of botany, zoology, zoology, physics, chemistry, as main subjects, together with toxicology, bacteriology, bacteriology and pharmacology. Much time and preparation must be undertaken before one is ready to practice as a registered pharmacist."

Mr. Horton laid the exchanges that there are comparatively few strictly prescription pharmacies such as are considered ideal from a scientific pharmacist's standpoint. Many are the jokes, he said, which are aimed at the drug stores of today, some of which are deserved.

Mr. Horton followed through on the evolution of drug stores from the days when they carried their drugs in bottles in the front of the store and did not have so many departments as the drug stores of today.

"Because of the high rents and other heavy expenses," he said, "it became necessary to add many side lines until it is one of the drug store jokes trying to find the drug department of some city drug stores."

"Personally I have enjoyed my business in Northville. I have made many friends and acquaintances and I have made contacts in my business with many people who help me to keep reasonably contented."

Mr. Stewart discussed the business of pharmacy from a practical standpoint.

"Conditions have changed very much even in my short time," he said, "in the drug business from the store with the shelf bottles to the modern merchandising store, but the atmosphere is generally the same. Every pharmacist prides himself on his prescription department and his knowledge of drugs, their uses and his ability to answer questions about them which often come up."

"A few figures will show that even with the apparent greater number of drug stores that the proportion is today about the same. In 1880 there was one drug store for each 1,800 people; in 1900 there was one store for each 2,000 people; and today there is one store for 1,967 people."

"General business is different in most stores today being a merchandizing area, whereas formerly business consisted merely of taking care of wants."

"We are all proud of our professions even with its long hours and large investments and we all feel that by doing our best and working hard we can be of real service to our communities."

Next week, announced Dr. Bruce H. Douglas, head of the program committee, Exchangite John Kalbfleisch will speak on his hobby, lawn bowling.

The final steps in establishing a new bank in Northville—merged from the Northville State Savings Bank and the Lapham State Savings Bank—now await the action of the state banking department, which will send their staff of examiners here to care for the large amount of detail work that will be necessary.

As stated briefly in last week's Record, Judge Joseph A. Moynihan, in circuit court at Detroit last Thursday, July 28, vacated, set aside and held for naught, an order issued on July 1, directing a payment of ten per cent to creditors of the Lapham bank. Judge Moynihan did this after hearing testimony of a number of witnesses and listening to the arguments of counsel and then stated in his order: "It appears to this court that the interests of the creditors and depositors of said bank would be best served by vacating said order."

This ends any possible legal action to stop the merger at this time unless an effort should be made to test the constitutionality of the act of the legislature of 1932 which made legal the moratorium plan which is now in operation in many Michigan villages and cities. Even if this should be attempted it would be months before a decision would be made and it will not stop the establishment of the new bank.

The state banking department has a special staff of experts now working in Michigan communities that have gone under the moratorium plan. Due to the many bank reopenings under this moratorium plan, this staff is very busy and there may be some delay in their coming to Northville. In the meantime the subscription raising for the new stock goes on. The stock for the Northville State has been oversubscribed and the Lapham State yesterday lacked only about $8,000 of its needed $50,000. Stock can be secured in as small amounts as $20, the par value, and numbers of small subscriptions are being taken and others will be appreciated.

The clearing away of the many difficulties that have followed the bank situation has brought about a new feeling of confidence in the whole community.

RECOVERING FROM SERIOUS ILLNESS

Mrs. Ray Casterline is recovering from a serious intestinal infection at her home on Dunlap St. For a few days her condition was thought quite critical but her friends will be glad to know that she is improving.

WEST POINT PARK will hold Gala Day tomorrow, August 6. Old time ball players will hold a game at one p. m.

SCHOOL BOARD CUTS $8,000 FROM BUDGET FOR THE COMING YEAR

Secretary S. W. Ambler Explains Action
Taken at Meeting at H. S. on Monday Evening

Acquiescing to the demands of taxpayers, the school board at its meeting Monday evening held in the high school, reduced the 1932-33 budget to $40,000.

This action was taken against the advice of Detroit bankers who stated that they would loan the Northville schools no more money, according to S. W. Ambler, secretary of the board, unless the same amount was requested this year from the township, as was requested last year, viz., $48,000. The cut of $8,000 is a sixteen and two-thirds percent reduction and according to Mr. Ambler, represents only half of the money saved in the schools as a result of a strict economy program.

A further reduction in the budget is impossible, he states, because of the large amount of delinquent taxes, $28,000, which are still outstanding.

Action of the school board followed a public mass meeting and a public hearing at the annual school district meeting in July, in which many taxpayers declared that they would be unable to pay their taxes if the budget was not reduced. The taxpayers promised to aid and support a campaign to bring in school taxes if the budget was cut and on the strength of this promise, the school board decided to reduce the budget, said Mr. Ambler.

Only 67 percent of last year's school taxes were collected, he states and if Northville schools, even by opening late, reducing salaries and other economies, are to be kept open next year, at least 85 per cent of the school tax must be collected.

School salaries were paid Monday, August 1, with money borrowed from some of the larger taxpayers of the township, announces Mr. Ambler and the payroll is now up to date.

NORTHVILLE BOYS'
BUSINESS PROJECT HAS NO DEPRESSION

"No depression here," say Northville's two youngest business men, the Ware brothers, Irwin and Herbert. Throughout the month since last March these boys have thrived and shined operating their "pop corn and ice cream stand on the corner of Main and Center where the hungry and thirsty have stopped for refreshment. The demand for their goods has kept up well.

Growing out of a modest beginning a year ago when these boys popped corn in front of the Ware hardware store, came the need for this little building which Walter Ware had built for his sons. With many independence these boys have paid their father from their profits and have been proud to estimate that they have not only met their expenses but will realize a neat amount to buy their clothes and the other necessities of growing boys.

Equal partners, the boys divide the labor, taking turns at cooking for the stand. At other times they help their father in his store.

They find pop corn the largest profit and Saturday nights are their big nights when crowds are in town. During the school year the stand is open only after school hours. Not alone financially has this small business paid off but it has taught these boys frugality and trained them in business tact. Both Irwin and Herbert will be seniors in the local high school next year.

YERKES' ANCESTORS
HAVE LONG RECORD OF PUBLIC SERVICE

Robert C. Yerkes, Republican candidate for congress, fifth district in the primary election September 13, comes from a long line of ancestors who have always worked for the welfare of the communities in which they lived.

Mr. Yerkes' great-grandfather, William Yerkes, was a member of the first territorial legislature of Michigan. His grandfather, Robert Yerkes, was county treasurer of Oakland county in the 1860's. His great uncle, George Yerkes, was a member of the state legislature in 1878. His father, George B. Yerkes, was prosecuting attorney of Wayne county, president of the Detroit Board of Health, president of the Detroit Bar Association, and has held many other honorary and elective offices.

Mr. Yerkes always was and always will be a republican. "The phrase 'political expediency' has no meaning to him whatsoever."

Unusual Rock Garden Evolved
By Willard Ely Who Believes
Better Keep Busy Than Idle

Just because you have been laid off your job, you don't have to sit and mope. So thought Willard Ely, son of Peter Ely, when he was among a large number to be temporarily suspended from his position with the Ford Airplane factory in Detroit some months ago.

Remembering that a wise man once said "Better far to roll a stone up hill and then roll it down again than to sit idly," Willard turned his attention to "rolling stones" during his period of impatient waiting. The back yard of his father on the corner of Yerkes and Gardner was transformed into an elaborate rock garden of quite unusual design. Lovers of rock gardens would enjoy seeing this one that is very different.

Down over a rocky ledge runs a miniature cataract (i. e. it runs when the water is turned on) into a cool pool below where gold fish play among aquatic plants. The stones comprising the ledge were assembled from twelve states on a tour by a geologist friend of the university. Two more stones are on their way from Pike's Peak, sent by another friend. Another was brought from Watkins Glen by his brother, Claude.

To the casual observer these stones are not at all unusual, but are prized by the young builder as souvenirs as are the variety of plants which grow luxuriantly about the pool and up the rocky sides.

A cactus, sent by mail by Miss Margaret Murdoch from the far-away arid desert of Arizona, has made itself at home in its well-watered place beside the plants presented by next-door neighbors and friends who were glad to contribute to the beauty of this spot. One hundred varieties of plants are to be found in this garden.

An interesting feature of this garden is the sun dial made of small pieces of split rock set with cement. On the top of this form sets the dial with the sentiment engraved, "Grow old along with me, the best is yet to be."

All about this garden Mr. Ely and his brother, Joe Vroman, who also lives here, have built a lattice fence and about it they have set crimson ramblers which will grow over the fence as the years pass. All varieties of perennials and annuals have been planted along its border and it is hard to believe that this thrifty garden is the result of only one summer's labor.

Willard is a graduate of Northville high school in the class of 1924, and has always been mechanically inclined having been employed first at the Stinson airplane factory and later at the Ford airport. This work among his rocks and plants has been a life saver to Willard during the period of inactivity.

BUSINESS IS BETTER

Hundreds and thousands of men went back to work in the East last week.

Millions of dollars, on paper at least, were added to the wealth of farmers the past few weeks by the advance in stock and grain prices.

The stock market last week was the best in the whole year. Prices of stocks and bonds are stiffening.

These are all signs of the break of the new day. If all of us get the spirit of the turning tide and do our part it won't be long until more men go to work, more folks are able to buy new things and there will be more business for everyone.

"Business is better." Help keep it moving.

MR. BOELEN'S AMBITION

We liked the spirit of M. J. Boelen in his letter in last week's Record in which he said that his biggest ambition right now is to "go to work every day" so that he can provide for his family.

This worthy Northville man asks no "dole" and therein he shows his spirit of independence and ambition. What man of pride wants someone else to buy his food and take care of his family? There are times when the very worthy have to have this done but they would infinitely rather work for their own support. We happen to know a worthy man, without a job for months, for the first time in his life, who finally had to take to the road, to "hitch-hiking" and to knocking at doors for food and he told us this: "I went for a week almost without food, before I could bring myself to asking for something to eat."

This United States is big enough and smart enough to find work for the worthy men who want it. Hasten the day when they can all be back at work once more.

"OH YEAH!"

Recently we have met two or three people and said something like this: "Well, I believe business is better and things in general more encouraging."

Then they would laugh derisively and say: "Do you believe that? Business better—well, you'll have to show me. Business going to be better? Oh yeah!"

This "Oh Yeah!" spirit, to drop into street vernacular, "gives us a pain in the neck!" This sneering spirit never built anything, never opened a new bank, never built a new house or lifted a human being out of discouragement. The cynic has had his day in the past three years—but his day is over. The "Oh Yeah!" boys have made a lot of noise but they are due to fade out of the picture. The builders, the boosters, the pushers, the progressives are coming over the horizon and they are going to take the stage.

The world is ready to start going ahead after its three-year time of depression and doubt and discouragement.

Get onto the band wagon of the new prosperity that is coming.

NORTHVILLE'S NEW DAY

Unless all signs fail, when the history of Northville is written a few years later, 1932 will go down as the time when the "new bank" opened and another milestone in the history of this community was established.

Two splendid banks served this community for many years; the changing times will make it advisable to have only one strong community bank now. Around this new institution may rally all the elements of Northville and environs. One outstanding bank will give us a fine opportunity to express community loyalty and progress. It will make for a new prosperity that may rival all the good years of the past. The spirit of the new Northville will be reflected in the new bank and there should be no limit to our future.

Whoever takes out stock in the new bank takes stock in his own welfare and prosperity. While the financial returns may be limited for the next few years, there will be other returns that will be worth far more than dividends.

Northville's new day is near.

OUR COUNTRY'S PRESIDENT

"What kind of a man is President Hoover and what is he doing during these troublesome times?" we asked of a man who has been in Washington for years and in close touch with national affairs.

He answered earnestly and quickly:

"Hoover is giving his very life for the United States and for the world. Some day he will be written as one of the greatest of our presidents. Six months ago when he was shown in the movies at Washington, he was often 'booed' by the crowd but today when his face appears on the screen he is cheered. People are beginning to realize that he is the one man who has done more than anyone else, in almost the whole world, to bring back prosperity for everyone."

Sooner or later, the great mass of the American people pass a fair judgment on their national leaders. They separate the chaff from the wheat, the false from the true. They will do so in the case of our president. Hoover has been the target for a terrific crop of abuse and vitriolic criticism. He has been blamed for everything, from the poor crops to the troubles of Europe and Asia. Just why one man, even though president of the United States, should be blamed for all the troubles of the millions of our country is hard to figure out but it is a fact that the unthinking have heaped on the back of our self-sacrificing president unmeasured abuse and unfounded condemnation. Time has a way of righting all things and the man who has been unjustly abused will at last be given the tribute due him.

President Hoover has his faults but no man in our nation could have done more for us in the past four years than he has done. We are beginning to realize that the quiet Quaker is a mighty world figure.

WANDERING THOUGHTS

Should Northville consider changing from a village to a city form of government as Plymouth and South Lyon have done?

Prospects are bright for the Northville Wayne County fair. Certainly no fair in Michigan has a finer or more loyal bunch of boosters. August 24 to 27 are the red letter days.

Went up for the week-end to Marlette. When we published The Leader there, from 1911 to 1917, we carried this slogan, "The Best Town in the Thumb of Michigan" on our front page. And it was. Some of the best friends we ever had or expect to have, lived in Marlette in those far-off days before the World war transformed a nation and a world.

No one should give much sympathy and aid to these travelling magazine solicitors—bold men and "vampy" women—who invade our town with the worn-out plea of needing help for their college education. Our own town has plenty of worthy young folk who need help to go to college. Let's aid them first before handing out money to "nervy" and persistent out-of-town solicitors who are overworking the sympathy racket.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

GOVERNORSHIP PREDICTION

(M. H. DeFoe in Charlotte Republican-Tribune)

Here is our only prediction on the governorship finals. If the name of the republican nominee does not start with a "B", the name of the next governor will start with a "C", which is only another way of restating what we said in this column sixty days ago. If the republicans can't win with Brucker, they can't win without him. As we view the present "set up" Brucker is hopelessly ahead.

(Senator Chet Howell in Chesapeake Argus)

We've heard many depression stories but here's one we believe is unique. Before the depression, a Grand Rapids business man went to the bank and borrowed $280,000, putting up securities worth $400,000 to secure the loan. When prices began to shoot downward, the bank sold the securities for $330,000, cancelled the loan, and gave the man credit for the balance of $50,000. But a little later the bank collapsed and the value of this credit shrunk to $35,000. With $30,000 the man bought back all of the securities he originally put up to secure the $280,000 loan, and he has $50,000 left.

Has this particular man made money or lost by the depression? Try and figure it out for yourself!

ETERNAL APPEAL OF THE CHURCH

(Albion Evening Recorder)

Despite the speed of the times and the apparent falling off in church attendance, U. S. religious institutions continue to forge ahead in membership and importance of the work they are doing.

There were almost a half million more members of U. S. churches during 1931 than at the end of 1930, a survey reveals, indicating that the subtle lure of the pleasurable side of life have not been so attractive as supposed; that people have not and in all probability will not, forget the rock and the foundation on which the faith of their fathers were founded and on which the beginnings of our own country were established.

Some have called the churches and all religions a mental anesthetic; others regard them as a tradition or a habit. In the light of history and the current growth of the churches, neither are they soporific to mental anguish nor places to go merely because one's fathers went or one's neighbors go.

It becomes increasingly apparent that, while it may seem intangible and obscure to many, there is something to the church, something inherent about its clutch on people of all the world, that not only holds most of those who once come to it, but constantly reaches out and brings others to its fold.

Dr. L. W. Snow, our capable mayor, and the village commissioners should be given a lot of credit for the splendid four-town celebration of last Friday. We need more of this inter-town co-operation. We have broken down the township lines and when one town prospers we all get the benefit. With the big city battling for our business the towns of this Northville-Plymouth-Farmington-Wayne area need to hang together. "Keep your eye" on the western suburbs of Detroit.

The spirit of God is there. Here we find just a suggestion of the Infinite Creator. Here we see God represented as a deeper, finer thing, something more noble than hands or feet or ears or eyes.

In other words does God have ears, hands, eyes? No, I do not believe or think so. God, or rather his image lies deep within us, for it is his image that makes us what we are. He is that noble purpose, that earnest endeavor to help our fellow men, that desire to be better today than we were yesterday. That impulse to support and strengthen and better life about us.

So when we read in Holy Writ that we are "made in the image of God," this to my way of thinking is what is implied. And thus through our noble impulses do we reflect the "image of God." It is thus which links us with the Immortal and the Infinite God. Thus we are made, all in us that is highest and noblest, in the image of our Maker.

A NATURAL PLANT LAXATIVE PSYLLIUM

This harmless, non-habit forming natural laxative supplies bulk and lubrication to the intestines and may be used over long periods without injury. It is chemically inert, but due to its mucilaginous consistency when moistened with water, it softens the bowel content and is highly efficient in producing normal intestinal activities. Psyllium is an accessory food, vegetable laxative, not a drug. Psyllium is sold at the C. R. Horton store for 49 cents per pound.

SMALL RENTAL FOR NEW BOOKS

Attention of the public is called to the fact that the library board has decided to place a small rental on the latest books in the library.

This has been suggested by a few patrons that this charge is unfair to the taxpayers in that they support the library. An explanation of the matter will be sure to satisfy those in doubt.

At present the township is unable to buy any new books for the library and these are in constant demand by readers. The plan to charge two cents per copy for the very latest books, those purchased since March 19, has been suggested as a feasible plan to raise a small amount for the further purchase of books. This two-cent rental means a payment of this amount for one library period, i. e., from the day the library is open until the next time.

For the great bulk of books there will, as usual, be no charge. The plan of rental of newest books has been in practice successfully in many cities, including Detroit.

The library board, eager to serve its patrons in the best possible way, wishes to learn the opinion of the public and will welcome suggestions.

THEY ATTENDED CULVER MILITARY.

Culver Military academy, the famous Indiana school, is the Alma Mater of several well known screen actors, who received their education at this magnificent institution on the shores of Lake Maxinkuckee.

This famous military school is seen as the background of the Universal drama, "Tom Brown of Culver." The Universal drama which will be shown at the Pannuman Allen theatre on Saturday, August 6, with Tom Brown, H. B. Warner, and Slim Summerville in the featured roles.

Much of the picture was actually filmed at Culver, whither a production unit traveled from Hollywood. William Wyler directed "Tom Brown of Culver," and the cast includes such screen favorites as Richard Cromwell, Ben Alexander, Sidney Toler, Willard Robertson, Andy Devine, Russell Hopton and Dick Winslow.

The revival of common sense courage, of a truly human type of faith and fortitude, is all to the good. Reliance upon the false magic of a perverted optimism, with its employment of a sort of hypnotic slogan-worship, and a blind faith that realities and facts can be changed by mere word juggling, which certain types of moral, social and industrial agencies have been using, can only lead to disaster.

Wake Up Your Liver Bile - Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes these good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up."

They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, smacking when it comes to making the bile-flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's.

This Week

By H. R. White

Several years ago when I was living in Boston, the eminent artist John Sargent was doing a beautiful lunette in the public library, which stands in Copley Square. My place of business was just across the square behind famous Trinity church where Phillip Bopoks preached so many years. Thus I would often go over to the library and watch this renowned artist execute his work, which he placed above his well known frieze of "The Prophets". The lunette is a representation of "Jehovah confounding the gods of the nations."

supplant Israel standing before an altar of unburnt stones, on which burns a sacrifice. The smoke ascends towards Heaven. On one side stands the formidable figure of Assyria with uplifted mace ready to strike its awful blow upon the helpless shoulder of Israel. While on the other side we see the subtle form of Egypt, clasping the knout, watching its chance to bring its treacherous thong upon the drooping Israel also. Jehovah does not appear, but is seen as a kind of glory, a shekinah glory. Behind a cloud of smoke shrouded by a winged cherubim. From one side of the cloud comes a mighty hand meeting with power the force of Assyria. While from the other side, a like and snaky hand thwarts the subtlety of Egypt. But Jehovah is behind the cloud.

The spirit of God is there. Here we find just a suggestion of the Infinite Creator. Here we see God represented as a deeper, finer thing; something more noble than hands or feet or ears or eyes.

In other words does God have ears, hands, eyes? No, I do not believe or think so. God, or rather his image that makes us for it is He. He is that noble purpose, that earnest endeavor to help our fellow men, that desire to be better today than we were yesterday. That impulse to support and strengthen and better life about us.

So, when we read in Holy Writ that we are "made in the image of God," this to my way of thinking is what is implied. And thus through our noble impulses do we reflect the "image of God." It is this which makes us with the immortal and infinite God. Thus we are made all in us that is highest and noblest, in the image of our Maker.

This is what I believe is meant by the story of man's creation as recorded in Genesis. According to this we must read Genesis in its own terms. We must also read science in its own terms.

There is no difference between God's revelation of Himself, as we have it in the Bible, and his revelation of Himself as we find it in Nature. The better we know the Bible, the better we know nature, will the fusing of these two conceptions be clearer to us.

HOMEMAKER'S CORNER

By MRS. EDITOR

On Visitors

"We're getting ready for company." What a difference in the kinds of feeling we have about this pending crisis! Some folks are "company" and some are just "visitors" who fall into the ways of the household without making a ripple on the sea of domestic serenity.

This is the season for visiting and having visitors. We ran across the following valuable hints for visitors which are timely to quote here:

The Guest

It is a nice courtesy to take your hostess some little gift, candy or a book. Conform to her plans for entertaining you.

Be prompt for meals and in keeping appointments. When you arrive announce the date of your departure and hold to that date even if she politely urges you to stay longer.

As though you are having a good time and are cordial with the hostess, who is introducing you. Make as little noise as possible and adapt yourself to the customs of the family. Entertain yourself a part of the time to relieve your hostess of a feeling of strain.

Respect the property of the household and do not set medicine or a wet tumbler on a polished dresser, put your feet on the counterpane, nor use towels for cleaning shoes.

If your hostess has no household help, assist her with the housework unless you are sure that she prefers to do it alone.

Pay scrupulously all telephone or laundry bills you have incurred. When you have left, write within twenty-four hours, thanking your hostess for her hospitality.

We might add a few more personal observations in the art of being a desirable guest.

Leave the hostess alone at intervals. Go off for a nap, a walk or to write some letters. Give her a chance to "collect herself."

Don't demand constant entertainment. Get interested in a book. Amuse yourself.

Don't stand to press your dress in the middle of the kitchen when the hostess is baking or preparing a meal.

Don't follow her around constantly. She may wish a little time to relax.

Make your hostess understand that you did not come to be fed. Simple meals with hospitality are better than a drooping spirit at an elaborate meal.

Mrs. Fred Simmons' Ice Box Cookies

At the American Legion opening a variety of dainty cookies were served with iced tea. These were unusually good:

- 2 cups brown sugar.
- 1 cup shortening.
- 2 or 3 eggs—according to size.
- 3 cups flour.
- 1 teaspoon soda.
- 1 cup nut meats.
- Make in three small rolls. Wrap in oiled paper and leave in refrigerator. Next morning slice and bake. Will keep a week or more before baking.

WALLED LAKE PARK HOLDS KIDDIES' DAY ON TUESDAY, AUG. 16

Kiddies Day at Walled Lake. All the children of the community are looking forward with eagerness to Tuesday, August 16, when they will be the guests of the Walled Lake park, in keeping with a national park movement for the children of the entire country. Not only kiddies from Northville, but from Pontiac, Birmingham, Farmington and other neighboring towns will gather on this day to make merry. All the amusements of the park will be wide open to the children on this day and every effort will be made to give them the time of their life.

Mother's need not be solicitous about their children's safety for a physician will be present to attend to any emergencies that may arise and extra police and guards will be on guard. The management says the children will be safer than in your own back yard. Parents too will be welcome on this day. For those who have no other means of transportation trucks will pick them up in front of the Record office at 9:30 a. m., August 16. It is estimated that there will be over 10,000 children present on this day.

NEWBURG TEAM DOWNS NORTHVILLE BRAVES 7-2

The Northville Braves were defeated by Newburg here Sunday by a score of 7 to 2.

Johnson for the Braves pitched a good game but due to the loose fielding of the Northville team, the Braves lost their scalp to their opponents. Keller R. Westphal and Byrion getting two hits out of four times up, were the batting stars.

Next Sunday the Braves go to South Lyon where they will attempt to again win from the team which they defeated two weeks ago.

OLD OAK TREE FALLS TO SPARE CHILDREN

During the severe storm on Saturday afternoon, July 23, a large limb was broken from an old oak tree standing in front of the Northville high school.

So large was the limb that it reached almost across the road and barely missed a car standing at the curb. Mrs. Chas. L. Dubuar was sitting on her porch at the time of the fall and Mr. Dubuar who was within the house, rushed to the door to learn the cause of the loud crash.

Upon investigation it is found that the other limbs of this huge tree are badly rotted and unsafe to remain standing. Much as authorities feel inclined to say "Woodmen, spare that tree," they believe it far better to destroy a tree than to run the risk of having children on the school grounds injured by an ever falling limb.

Looking up the history of this old tree it is thought probable that it was an old resident of the Walled Lake community, and has been ill for several months prior to her death. She was a sister-in-law of Dr. E. A. Chapman, deceased, formerly a director in the Northville State Savings Bank.

was standing here when this spot now occupied by the school grounds was once the old Hiram Robinson farm, back when the century was young.
