DRIVE STARTS SEPT. 26 FOR FOOD, CLOTHES

Welfare Authorities Prepare To Care for 90 Needy Families

The Northville Welfare department is determined that no worthy person shall go hungry or freeze during the coming winter months, and every effort is being made to stock the shelves and bins of the welfare store in order to have a bountiful supply on hand.

Next Monday and Tuesday, October 26th and 27th, welfare workers will "charter" a truck and make a house-to-house canvass in search of old and discarded clothing. It is the intention of the welfare department to have all garments cleaned and repaired, ready for use before winter sets in. Women will be asked to work on their clothes on certain days. Citizens are urged to cooperate in this earnest attempt to provide clothing for the needy this winter, and to have their own "clothes truck" comes around on Monday and Tuesday.

Farmers in this vicinity are being asked by welfare workers to turn over all surplus fruit and vegetables, particularly the perishable items such as potatoes, turnips, cabbages, etc. The potatoes need not be dug and sacked, says the welfare department, all that is required is the permission to "come and get them," even though they may be still in the ground.

Some families will have to be provided with fuel, authorities declare, and every able-bodied man in a needy family is urged to begin at once to seek permission to cut wood on the lands of farmers who have expressed their willingness to furnish this item, provided the men cut it themselves and find a means of hauling the wood to the village. A means will be provided for hauling, welfare workers assure them.

At the present time there is an appreciable amount of food on hand at the welfare store in the basement of the Babitt hardware. This store space has, incidentally, been donated free by Hugh Babitt, since early last spring. At the present time the supply consists of beans, dried peas, potatoes, coffee, tea, soap, soap chips, matches, flour, vinegar, canned milk, oatmeal, corn and baked goods. Of the latter there are cookies, cakes, fried cakes, buns and breakfast rolls. The store is open on Wednesday, Friday and Saturday.

Baked goods have this far been supplied by the Grennan Bakeries in Detroit, sufficient quantities having been provided to take care of the demands for this item. Much credit must be given to Fred Crumm, who has driven into the city to get loads of baked goods, a (Continued on Pg. 5)

NAME DELEGATES TO CO. CONVENTION

Northville delegates chosen at the September 13 primaries to attend the county convention of their respective political parties were: Loye German, Republican (73 votes), and M. J. Murphy, Democrat (77 votes). Those who were chosen at Nov: Charles Hamilton, Republican (83 votes) and Steve Hicks, Democrat (8 votes).

Frank Clark, the other Republican candidate at Nov. received 18 votes.

BIBLICAL PLAY IS HUGE SUCCESS

A well filled house and appreciative audience witnessed the Omsted Players in their presentation of the Biblical drama by Marshall N. Gould, "St. Claudius," at the Baptist church Tuesday night.

The play written about the sacred text of Matthew 27: 15-26, is historically and biblically correct, and in blank verse, similar to Shakespeare and the English is exquisitely perfect.

The characters were Pontius Pilate, governor of Judea; Claudia, his wife; Sergius, Pilate's counselor; Mary of Magdala; Petronia, Claudia's handmaiden; and Marcus, censor of the Palace Guard.

The first three scenes were laid in Pilate's official chamber, and the fourth and final scene, in the garden of Gethsemane, early the first Easter morning.

The story deals with the last week of Our Lord, His Trial before Pilate, and His crucifixion and resurrection.

Historically it was a fine production and the lighting effects were very well done. A silhouette of Christ on the cross was one of the highlights. The players all gave an excellent performance and the climax which came in the scene between Pilate and Claudia, his wife, when Claudia casts aside her crown in spite of her love for Pilate in vindication of the wrong which Pilate has done in washing his hands of the decree that Christ should die, was highly dramatic and nothing short of perfection.

The spiritual atmosphere that was created and got over the footlights was beautifully done and exquisite, leaving a most reverent attitude with the audience.

Surely this was one of the finest spiritual messages in the light of drama that has ever come to a Northville audience for a long time.

WIXOM TEAM DEFEATS BRIVES IN GAME SUNDAY

The Braves went down in defeat Sunday after a barrage of hits and errors among them when they played Wixom here. The final score was Wixom 6, Northville 3. The battery for the Braves was Keller and Kohler, while Potts pitched for Wixom.

Keller pitched a steady game and his defeat was largely due to the failure of his infield to give him support. Next Sunday they play the Plymouth Pirates here at the fairgrounds.

Plucky Little Northville Widow Beautifies and Remodels Home Contributing to Village Appearance

Folks are saying as they pass down south Wing street and look with surprise at a certain little white cottage, transformed from a very ugly little brown house. "Well, who would have thought that such a change could take place!"

When Mrs. Lyla Hunter, south Wing street, was left a widow not two years ago with no means and a family of three little boys all under seven years of age, she did not sit down and moan while waiting for charity. Made of "sterner stuff," she hustled out for a job.

Desirable "ladylike" jobs just were not to be found. "Well, everyone needs house work done," said she, "and I can do that." Early each morning this apparently frail little woman may be seen walking, sometimes long distances, to do the scrubbing and hardest work of those more fortunate. At the end of the day's work to keep her boys, Bobbie, Frank and George, well fed and clean. The only cry of her heart is that she must leave these little boys alone during the day.

Like Solomon's ideal woman "her candle goeth not out by night" and a peep into her cellar would put to shame many a woman who yawns with boredom at life and seeks for something to "kill time."

With thrift she has canned and stored away every bit of surplus fruit and vegetables given her until now "she is not afraid of the snow." Even the scraps of wood left from the repairing were gathered up by the little boys and piled to the ceiling for kindling.

And then Mrs. Hunter said one day, "This little brown house is too cheerless and ugly to bring my boys up in. I will fix it up." Whenever a worthy person is seen struggling to accomplish something folks rally to help as did Alex Johnson, both senior and junior—Fred Peat, Mrs. H. R. Burkhardt, Mrs. H. S. Willis and good neighbors and friends. One spring day even the Presbyterian minister doffed his dignity with his coat and marshaled a number of men who used their spades and soon had the little widow's garden ready for planting. On this garden she has raised much of her summer living and has stored away enough potatoes to last all winter.

In reforming the little house, first the cellar was attacked and now a 7-foot deep cellar with laundry tubs and place for a future furnace is the reward. In the process such a pile of stones were thrown out! The place looked like a stone win.

PRO FOOTBALL TO BEGIN HERE ON OCTOBER 2

Team Composed of Former Northville, Plymouth Players

A football stimulus is anticipated in Northville this season with the inauguration of a new professional league, of which Northville is a part. Final arrangements for this league, which will consist of twelve teams, were made in Detroit on Wednesday night. The first game of the Northville unit will probably be played here on Sunday, October 2nd, and scheduled to be announced soon.

The local team is being sponsored by Drs. L. W. Shaw and A. A. Holscomb. The league, however, is the idea of a Detroit business man.

During the summer season of players have been signed up for the local unit. The roster consists of four from Northville, Plymouth Farmington, and neighboring towns.

The league is divided into two divisions. Six of the teams are considered as "road teams" inasmuch as they have no home gridiron, and they will travel from one town to the other. The home teams will play all, or nearly all of their games on home territory.

The new rules adopted by the National Intercollegiate Athletic Association have been selected by the league. All games will be judged by Detroit officials. A small charge of admission will be made for each game.

At the end of the season trophies will be awarded to the winner of each division. The winners of the division contest will have a final play-off to determine the league champions. A trophy will be given to the winner.

The first division of the league consists of Woodmere, Lawndale, Drexler, River Rouge, Ramblers (A. C.) and Northville. The second division consists of Northwestern, Grant, Wayne, Roseville, Wyandotte and St. Georges (all A. C. teams).

FARMER RECEIVES 90 DAY SENTENCE

Russell O'Neal, farmer in Livonia township, was sentenced Wednesday to the House of Correction for 90 days by Justice W. Roberts, on a charge of assault and battery entered by his wife, Lucinda. Deputy Orrin Casterline made the arrest.

SEVENTY-SEVENTH METHODIST MEET AT MT. CLEMENS

The seventy-seventh session of the Detroit Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church opened Tuesday, September 20 at the Methodist church at Mount Clemens, and will continue until the morning of Monday, September 26.

This Detroit conference is composed of the churches of the eastern half of the Lower Peninsula and the entire Upper Peninsula.

Rev. Frank N. Miner, the local Methodist pastor, left Wednesday to attend the conference and a number of laymen of the church, also were present yesterday. They were at the second conference session, and in the evening heard Sergt. York, who spoke there after his address here in the afternoon. Mrs. Miner will join her husband during the latter part of the week.

FIRST FOOTBALL PRACTICE HELD AT FIELD WEDNESDAY

The first football practice of the year in Northville was held Wednesday morning at the fairgrounds at 9:30 o'clock under the supervision of Captain Harold (Mickey) McCordie.

The practice and those during the week consisted of light work-outs. These will gradually grow harder until the grind becomes as "tough" as a game. McCordie gave those present, consisting of last year's team and other promising candidates, a pep talk and said that he expects to captain a winning team this year.

Word has come from Coach Bugles that he will be unable to be here until September 26 and that the team should start its conditioning before he arrives.

All those wishing to come out for football, says the captain, should be at the school at nine sharp, Monday morning, and it is expected that equipment will be given out.

Candidates who were present at the field Wednesday morning included Captain McCordie, Schrader, Reed, Bender, Ware, Shipley, Steenchen, Bray, Neal, Deal, Dundas, Nivder, Strautz, Gregory, Kerr, Dickinson, Vradenburg, and Baldwin.

EIGHT LEAVE FOR COLLEGE

Of the 44 members of the Senior class that graduated from Northville high school last June, eight have already left for various colleges and higher institutions of learning, and four more are expected to go soon.

Those who are now "collegians" are: Herbert Berendt, Catherine Stalter, Frances Clark, Charles Carrington, Geraldine Ferguson, Ruth Mary Baldwin, Elizabeth Miller and Ruth Corey. The others who will leave shortly are Dorothy Healey, Isadore Keeney, Charles Riffert, Billy and Luella Ash.

The choice of institutions and courses of these "ex-collegians" who for many years attended the same school had the same instructors and studied the same subjects differing widely, as follows: Herbert Berendt, engineering at Michigan State; Catherine Stalter, nursing at Mount Sinai Hospital and Western Reserve University; Ber-

EXCHANGE CLUB HEARS YOU'RE A MUSICIAN PLAY

Exchanges were accorded a delightful privilege Wednesday afternoon at their weekly meeting when they listened to a short program by Ernest Ratz, Northville's premier boy violinist, who has recently returned from a vacation spent at Camp Interlochen, where the students of music throughout the country gather for summer conferences.

Ernest was ably accompanied on the piano in the two numbers and the encore he played on the cello, by Miss Eudice Cousins, herself a talented musician.

Following this musical program, Ernest gave a short talk to the exchanges describing the daily routine during his stay at Interlochen, from the time the students arose at seven o'clock in the morning until the evening had died away and they retired to their cottages for the night.

Aside from the enjoyment of the musical concert, the exchanges did not perform many formal functions of the day. A report on the rump golf tournament of Wednesday, Sept. 14, at Brae-Burn Golf club was made by Dr. H. J. Sparring.

Guests included E. B. Brown, former editor of The Record, and John A. Boyce, member of the Northville Bank Depositors' committee.

LEGION OFFICERS TO BE ELECTED ON SEPTEMBER 27

Alexander, for chaplain, Luther Lapham and Raymond DesAutels; for historian, Merrill Sweet, Claude Ely and Raymond DesAutels; for sergeant of arms, Francis Wilkinson, for welfare officer, Floyd Lanning; for trustee, Joseph Blake, for house committee, Claude Ely and Luther Lapham.

YOUNGSTERS WIN CHARITY CONTEST

Under a cloudy sky, the charity baseball game between the Oldtimers and the Northville Braves resulted in a 6-4 victory for the "youngsters."

The "fifty-year-olds" included such notables as Dr. Fisher of Dearborn, state representative from this district, pitching; Russ Dusenbury, catching; Roy Burgess of Redford, on first base; Fred Moffitt on second; Harry German, Sr., shortstop; Franz of Redford, third. Also there were Charles Hamilton, supervisor of Nov. township in left field; Earl Simpson, who used to play with the old "Circle-N" team here, and later was with the London, Ontario team and with the St. Louis Browns in the American League, played center field; Halcy of Carlton, right field; Williams replacing Dusenbury; Hood replacing Fisher; Fred Hicks for Hamilton, and Wolf for Moffitt.

The Braves were made up of Alex Johnson, Jr., pitching and Kohler, catching; Eddie Wood, shortstop; Keller, right field; Ray Westphall, second; Arthur Miller, third; Bulmon and Menzinger, Wood, Elmer Westphall did not appear on the diamond as the result of a broken nose, occurring in practice. The umpire, Williams of Carlton, was criticized (unjustly?) by both sides.

There were about 75 spectators present, and the King's Daughters, who sponsored the game took in a profit which will go to the Northville Welfare Fund.

ROTARIANS HEAR SPLENDID ACCOUNT OF HAWAIIAN ISLANDS IN NOON TALK BY H. H. WHITE, WHO RESIDED THERE

With only two of their members absent, Rotarians were given a rare treat at their regular Tuesday noon meeting with E. M. Bogart in charge, when H. H. White, member of the Record Staff, gave an interesting account of the early history of the Hawaiian Islands, their native customs, educational, religious, social and business activities, facts with which he became familiar during his three-year stay on the Islands several years ago. Two facts that Mr. White brought to light, which forced a yearning look in the eyes of the listening Rotarians was his mention of the ideal climate to be found on the Hawaiian Islands, and the exceedingly low cost of living.

Starting his talk with the Hawaiian "Aloha Oe, Kama Iani," which interpreted means, "Love to all and greetings from Aloha land," Mr. White informed his listeners that the islands were "discovered" by Capt. Cook in 1778.

"As the Captain and his party were the first white people to visit the islands," he said, "they were worshipped as gods, but when one of the party died the natives realized that they were but human after all and in their rage at being 'fooled' they killed Captain Cook and devoured his body."

ROTARIANS HEAR SPLENDID ACCOUNT OF HAWAIIAN ISLANDS IN NOON TALK BY H. H. WHITE, WHO RESIDED THERE

"In 1819 missionaries came to the islands," went on Mr. White, "and there soon followed a change in educational and religious instruction."

Mr. White revealed the primitive customs that then prevailed, particularly the custom of separate residences for man and wife, separate of individual dishes, stoves, etc. He showed also how closely interwoven are the social and the religious customs of the natives, even today, in spite of the modern training and culture that is being fostered by incoming nations.

According to Mr. White the population of the Hawaiian Islands consists of a polyglot of all nations, particularly Japanese, Chinese, Portuguese, French, English, every race in the world; every creed being represented there. Japanese, however, predominate in population. In spite of the differences in social, racial and religious peoples there is no finer community spirit to be found anywhere, he said.

One thing that Mr. White said from upon said Mr. White is the intermarriage of natives and foreigners. Festivals, both religious and social are frequently to be seen, and flower parades are of common occurrence, according to (Continued on Pg. 4)

TEUTON PRINCE REVISITS HILLS OF NORTHVILLE

Royalty Likes People Here and Scenery; Is Guest of Hoffman

The prince came again. Attracted to the friendly hills of Northville, Prince Ferdinand-Louis von Hohenzollern, son of the Crown Prince Frederick Wilhelm of Germany, who is spending some time in this country studying industrial conditions, again paid a visit to the village last Sunday. He was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. Ed Hoffman.

Mr. Hoffman, it will be recalled, at one time trained the fine horses of Emperor Wilhelm in the royal stables in Germany and Prince Ferdinand and his brother, Frederick, then small boys, used to come to their grandfather's stables and beg to mount the spirited horses. Mr. Hoffman promised "His Highness" that when he was "growing up" he would take him for a ride.

Small wonder then that while engaged in making observations at the Ford plant in Detroit, Prince Ferdinand likes to run out here now and then to enjoy with his old countrymen and enjoy the hospitality of his home.

The prince is an excellent horseman and in company with William Dones, son of a wealthy settler, now in Detroit, and Fred Williamson, of Switzerland, and his fellow countrymen, Hoffman and his son, Henry, they cantered gaily around the beautiful hills of these parts Sunday morning returning some hours later with keen appetites for one of Mrs. Hoffman's good German dinners.

Dressed like any other young horseman, no one would have guessed that the prince was of royal blood except for his fine bearing and his warm Teutonic cordiality. He is a tall, fine-looking fellow, very unrefined and pleasant to meet.

The prince says he likes Northville, he likes the people, and "likes the girls." He is especially interested in the Greenleaf estate and in the Ford plant here, expressing himself as impressed with the excellent management of it by the superintendent, H. G. Marburg.

Too modest to let his identity be known he forbade the Hoffmans to tell anyone of his coming.

ONE MORE WEEK TO TEST BRAKES

One more week to "test" your brakes! The great brake testing campaign that has been under way since September first is drawing to a close. The closing day is October first, and Chief of Police William Safford issues this final warning to Northville motorists.

Drivers in this town have been very responsive to the brake test declared Chief Safford, but there are still some who have failed to do so. It is to this group that this final plea, and warning is made.

The object of this campaign is not only to protect the lives of the motorists but also the pedestrians, the men, the women and the children whose lives continually depend upon a good pair of brakes.

Don't fail to have your brakes tested! Northville motorists!

RECORD EDITOR VISITS HOOVER

The editor of The Record, F. A. Baldwin, returned to Northville Wednesday morning from a personal conference with President Hoover, in company with twenty Michigan editors. The conference was unusual in that it was held in the evening, a privilege seldom accorded at the White House.

The trip to Washington, which was planned by George R. Averill, editor of the Birmingham Evening Post, included many highlights, some of which were: Sunday, a trip to Harper's Ferry, the famous "Civil War landmark"; Monday, a complimentary dinner at the Hotel Willard, Tuesday, at 6:30, a dinner given by Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan with Secretary of Commerce, Roy D. Chapin, as the speaker, and later in the evening the conference with the President.

The editors made a tour of the capital city, and visited such famous historic spots as Mt. Vernon, Monticello, Ashbelle (the home of the 6th president, James Monroe), the Lincoln Memorial and other scenic spots equally interesting.

A special car on the B & O railroad was chartered for the trip.

Immediately upon his return Mr. Baldwin motored to Albion, accompanied by Mrs. Baldwin, where they will enroll their daughter, Ruth Mary, in college. Further details of the Washington trip will be given by the editor in next week's Record.

STATION WJR TO BROADCAST HERE TUESDAY

Northville will get its glimpse of radio entertainers broadcast before a "real microphone" Tuesday evening, September 27th, in the auditorium of the Presbyterian church. And the program that this group of entertainers who have become famous over station WJR, Detroit, will give their audience will not soon be forgotten. Personalities which thus far have been only voices and music coming over the air will be "visible" at last, and at the same time that the "visible" audience witnesses the program, listeners of WJR everywhere will hear it too.

Such well-known entertainers as Wayne VanDyne, the tenor, Pauline Barmore, pianist, and Muriel Kyle, soprano, will appear on the program given at the Northville broadcast. Those who will take part in the broadcast are: Muriel Kyle, Detroit's most popular soprano; Elaine and T. J. Pruitt, brother and sister known as the Southern Day Dreamers; Billy Roosevelt, the fifteen year old boy soprano, who has been heard frequently on the United Near programs conducted over station WJR; The Golden Tower quartette which boasts of Wayne VanDyne as its first tenor, Bob Macomber, baritone, and John Renison, bass; the quartette is accompanied at the piano by Miss Grace Berman, popular entertainer heard regularly over station WJR; Frances Butterfield, staff accompanist, and Ann Lorenger, sweet voiced soprano, (those two artists forming the team of "Ann and Pruddy," famous for their old time songs); Irving Butterfield, the comic character of the "Tom and Shas" team skit heard regularly over WJR, Joachim Chassman, WJR's concert violinist and arranger of programs, and last but not least Ralph Patt, well-known and well-liked radio announcer of WJR. Ann Lorenger, writer of the skit "Sleepy Time Gai," and Wayne VanDyne form the team of "Jack and Jerry" heard over WJR every morning.

A large crowd is expected to attend the broadcast.

YERKES GRATEFUL TO SUPPORTERS

The following communication was received from Robert G. Yerkes, Republican candidate for Congress in the seventeenth district:

To my Friends in the 17th District:

I want to thank you for your wonderful support in my recent campaign. I did the very best I knew how. I fought a clean, hard battle for the nomination, based on my own qualifications, not the disqualifications of other candidates.

I believe I made a host of friendships, friendships that I will not allow to die simply because I was defeated. These friends and the knowledge that I fought a good fight, are my compensations—and I feel more than repaid for the time and the energy that I expended in the race.

I hope you will support George Dondero. His honesty and reputation are above reproach. His sincerity is unquestioned. He is sane and progressive and in these troubled times it is well worth any effort we may put forth to have men like Mr. Dondero in Congress. We must make our stand against those who would break our government to pieces.

I have offered my services also to the Republican Party. I believe in the soundness of its national program and in the ability of its leaders to better our conditions. Their program is based upon, sanity and common sense and not upon empty promises and vote catching plank. The Republican Party needs your loyalty and I urge you to support it now as you have in the past.

Again—many thanks to you all. I have no regrets—and I hope you, too, are satisfied that your vote was not wasted.

Yours sincerely,
Robert G. Yerkes

CHIEFS DEFEATED AT WALKERVILLE SUNDAY

The Northville Chiefs were defeated 9-7 when they played Walkerville, Ontario, Sunday.

Sunday the Chiefs go to Durand and play the Grand Trunk team.

NORTHVILLE SCOUTS START YEAR RIGHT AT FIRST MEETING

After a summer of semi-activity, troop No. 1 of the Northville Boy Scouts met Monday night in the scout room for its first meeting of the year. N-7, the other local troop held their meeting Thursday.

The Scouts have been invited to attend the opening football game at Lansing tomorrow when Michigan State plays Alma. It is hoped that transportation will be available.

The boys were also notified that on the week end of October 8 and 9, the Plymouth District will camp at Camp Brady.

Everyone, says Scoutmaster Orlow G. Owen, has started the year right by working hard on advancement and it is expected that Northville will put up a good show at the Court of Honor, which occurs soon.

The Boy Scouts are in search of a suitable place where they may build themselves a cabin or shack. If anyone knows of such a place, it would be greatly appreciated if they would get in touch with Scoutmasters Orlow Owen or Franklin Knight.

CAR COMPLETELY DESTROYED BY FIRE

A Hupmobile sedan owned and driven by Chet Shoebridge, was completely destroyed by fire at 2:30 Friday morning as Mr. Shoebridge was driving along the Washtenaw County line road between the Six and Seventh mile roads. A shorted wire in the top is believed to have caused the damage. The car was insured.

A TRIP TO WASHINGTON

We'll take back what we said in this column the other day about having had no vacation ever since we have been battling both depression and the conditions of a bankless town. We have borrowed the money for an unusual trip to Washington, D. C. with a bunch of editors, and if the plans don't miscarry, will have arrived home the day before this issue is printed—too late to say much about our experiences.

It has been our privilege twice to see our national capital, and each time we came away with this profound conviction: Every good American citizen should some time during his life see Washington, the capital of his own country, and one of the world's most renowned places.

In many ways this week will have been the most eventful in our whole life. When we return from our trip we shall get into the family car and go to Albion to see our daughter Ruth. Mary started in Albion college—the alma mater of both of us—and Mrs. Baldwin. This business of picking your college is strange. We had a very close friend in Port Huron just as our high school days were ending and he and the writer had plans all set for going to Northwestern university. Then some good advisors convinced our parents that it would be better for us to go to the smaller institution at Albion. So there we went and we have never been sorry. There we found the finest life's companion that any man could possibly have and some of the choicest friends that one could know.

If we were in the lecture business, we would get up a talk on "Continental Divides of Life" and would show how a little circumstance will change one's whole career and send it east instead of west, just as that ridge out in the Rockies sends on one side the water flowing to the Atlantic and on the other to the Pacific. What would have happened had we gone to Evanston, and not to Albion college? No one can ever know. We wouldn't be running The Northville Record today if years ago a telegram had not turned us from teaching school to doing newspaper work.

Well, enough of philosophizing about life. We hope to come back safely and next week tell you more of our trip to Washington.

WHAT IS THE MATTER WITH THE LEGION?

At the national convention of the American Legion last week the service men voted overwhelmingly in favor of the immediate cash payment of the soldier bonus.

We utterly fail to understand how the Legionnaires can, in view of all the conditions, take such a stand.

What are the facts?

President Hoover journeyed last year to Detroit to tell the Legionnaires of the disaster that would happen if the bonus were paid in cash. He was heeded and no action was taken, yet a lot of weak-kneed congressmen gave encouragement to the bonus advocates during the last session of Congress and we had the spectacle of 15,000 men camping around the capital, endeavoring to use this show of force to gain their ends. Communists and anarchists joined the motley array—many of whom of course were very worthy and fine men, but misguided by their leaders—and finally force had to be used to evict the men who might easily have brought about a great loss of life.

Again this year, at Portland, the president met the challenge of the bonus advocates. He pointed out that the country would face a grave disaster and that prosperity would be delayed perhaps for years if the Legionnaires insisted on being paid two billions of dollars now. Hoover did not mince words. He warned of the tragedy that would happen to the country. Yet in the face of this the Legionnaires in session at Portland "booted down" the men who honestly oppose the bonus and the delegates voted, as said above, overwhelmingly for the bonus.

If only Hoover alone opposed the bonus, one might say it were a case of politics. Here is the amazing thing for the Legionnaires to ponder. Former Governor Alfred E. Smith, the democratic nominee for president in 1928, joins the side of Hoover and is just as plain spoken in his warning that to pay the bonus would be tragedy. Every student of public events knows by this time the sensation that Smith created in his recent article in The Saturday Evening Post in which he denounced the attempts to secure the bonus and called upon the presidential candidates to declare their stand. The arguments that Smith rolls up are simply unanswerable. He stands with Hoover that one class of this country cannot threaten the rest of the country by their unreasonable demands. As Walter Lippman, the noted correspondent, who never hesitates to criticize Hoover, says in praising the stand of the president:

"Now that the truth has been set down, those who continue to demand cash payment of the face value of the certificates fall into two classes: those who are incapable of understanding what they are doing and those who are unashamed to ask for money that does not belong to them."

Paying the price of being abused and criticized, President Hoover spoke last year at Detroit and he has spoken again in words that none can misunderstand. Let Governor Roosevelt follow the advice of his own party leader, Smith, and tell us whether we shall give in to the unjust claims of one group of our people. If Roosevelt "sidesteps" this grave issue he should, on that basis alone, be defeated for the presidency. We all want good times to return but they cannot come now if a selfish group of the American Legion attempts to raid the treasury of two billions of dollars—when they already are receiving a billion dollars a year for relief.

WANDERING THOUGHTS

Sad thought: How's the coal bin?

Come into the Record office and we'll tell you confidentially what beside money we had to borrow to make the trip to Washington with well dressed newspaper men.

The millennium is near. We tied Hoyt Woodman in eleven holes of golf the other afternoon. Incidentally you can play "twilight golf" now at a very reasonable rate. We never start until after 3:30.

We are going to be brash enough to say that "As Maine goes so goes the nation" may be less than half a truth this year. There are a lot of things that should settle this campaign beside just plain, unthinking discontent.

We voted for Robert G. Yerkes for the republican nomination for congress. We have always liked "Rob". And we are going to vote for George A. Dondero for congressman from the 17th district. He will make a good congressman.

After seeing the tragedy of the last primary when 595 sought office in Wayne county, is there anyone left who will say "let the people rule" by this primary system that tolerates candidates for office who wouldn't "get to first base" under the old convention plan?

This question of soldier bonus will have to be settled. Five per cent of the people are asking for sums that will stagger the financial standing of the country. They demand that payment. Al Smith says: "The American people have a right to know where the candidates stand. Let us have pretty plain talk—the American people are entitled to hear it."

Our prediction that our good friend Chas. A. Sink would defeat Luren D. Dickinson for the place of lieutenant-governor was all "wet". Incidentally our Crusader friends who foolishly tried to make the election issue dependent on the wet and dry question certainly "took it on the chin". They refused to endorse Brucker and he won by a landslide. They came out for Sink and the plain farmer, Dickinson, known for his character and his bone dry stand, won, two to one. But keep your eye on Sink. He is too big a man to stay in Ann Arbor all the time.

WHAT'S WRONG AT STATE COLLEGE?

(Schuyler Marshall in Clinton County Republican News)

News that a grand jury investigation has been asked for Michigan State College is disquieting. It may be an indication of the critical disposition of people or it may have a political significance. Or again, there may be justification for it. There have been rumors for the past two years which were not becoming an old and honorable educational institution.

We have been of the opinion for some time that there were influences inside the organization that would be better out of it. No public institution seems immune from people who consider public trust as a private privilege. Sometimes a private party this is discouraging. We cannot suggest how to remedy it. We cannot, unless people and political parties take a keener interest in the men they select.

It will be a shame if the affairs of the State College are dragged into court. It should not be necessary. While there is no reason why there should be a compromise with any form of irregularity, there are things which can be effectively and quietly settled. There are departments of government which can do this. We believe the governor's office has power and prestige sufficient to accomplish this. If irregularities exist, certain resignations should be demanded; and with the proper evidence they would be forthcoming without delay. If there is no occasion for criticism, that too should be established without delay.

Michigan for many years has been contributing to the upbuilding of this college. They have thought of it as a home school where their boys and girls might attend without attending extravagant fees. But like all small colleges, it aspired to become a big college. A few years ago under Groesbeck's administration, a number of large and beautiful buildings were added. Since then it has been gradually "putting on airs". Even the old and honorable name of Michigan Agricultural College was discarded. Under the guise of cultural advantages, a music school was added. It has been the unusual conduct of this school which has been the starting point of the criticism which is being agitated now.

Two years ago the writer had considerable interest in the selection of (Please turn to page 5)

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

ALL GOOD MEN AND TRUE

(Wm. H. Canfield in the Livingston County Republican News-Press)

The primaries are over. Good men have been nominated. Good men have been defeated. The matter of defeat in the primary is no just criterion of goodness, greatness, honesty or ability. The situation does develop a test of character. The way men accept defeat or victory speaks louder for the worthiness of the individual than a plurality of votes. The defeated candidate who forgets his personal defeat and swings in line with this influence for the good of this opponent in the election, is the man who can come back again. The poor loser seals his fate forever. To all positions, ambitions and desires terminal facilities are essential. How we use these facilities often determines future successes.

BACK TO NATURE

It seems to us that one of the beneficial results of this long period of depression and industrial unemployment has been to force upon large numbers of people, who had never realized it before, that there is no safety or security for most folks if they get too far away from the soil and the sea.

We were reminded of this by reading that the State of New York has decided to grant fishing licenses free to the unemployed so that they may at least have the chance of catching part of their food from the rivers and lakes, bays and ponds of the state. We think it would be a good plan to adopt everywhere.

Then we read about the various places all over the country where thousands of unemployed are being encouraged to pan out gold from the soil. There is gold almost everywhere in the United States. Most of it doesn't run enough gold to the ton of earth or rock to pay for the expense of setting up regular mining equipment, but we understand that a good many thousands and people are making good wages panning our placer gold all the way from the Pacific Coast to the Atlantic.

Hundreds of communities gave help and encouragement during the past summer to the unemployed who were willing and able to work small garden patches and so help to feed themselves and their families.

All such projects are, of course, merely temporary expedients, but out of them it is reasonable to expect that a great many Americans, who have been so brought up that they did not know how to take care of themselves unless they were attached to a payroll, will have learned that it is possible for a man to make a living without much equipment beyond his two hands, if he will stick close enough to nature's sources of wealth, and seize them for himself instead of buying them through a chain of middlemen.

The house has changed its dingy brown dress to ivory with neat green trim. Mr. Fear, doing the work almost gratuitously.

In the meantime Mrs. Burkhart has been assembling in her own garden a variety of perennials and shrubs ready to be planted when the painting is completed, and another summer will see roses and other flowers blooming around the little white cottage.

ROTARIANS HEAR ABOUT HAWAII

The speaker. But the holidays of all nations are celebrated without prejudice for any one particular nation. The Hawaiians seem to be able to imbibe all nationalities, he said. "The Hawaiians are gracious, charming, hospitable," declared Mr. White.

The music of the islanders is especially compelling, said Mr. White, their songs and instrumental music being plaintive, haunting. "They sing as naturally and as easily as the Negro," he declared, "and their voices are natural, uncultivated."

"One mistake that the Americans make in judging the Hula-hula dance of the Hawaiians," said the speaker, "is to consider it as a travesty, when in reality it is a folk dance."

He commented upon the harmony of spirit among the polytropic business interests on the Hawaiian Islands, particularly at Honolulu, the largest city. Honolulu, he said, was as modern in many respects as New York. Overlooking the city is the now extinct volcano, called the Punch-Bowl.

Of industries there are chiefly pineapple growing and sugar refining. The Hawaiians eat much fish, some of which is salted as pork.

The Rotarians discussed much club business at this meeting. Announcement of the coming of Gov. Brucker as guest on Oct. 24 was made. Presiding Officer, Percy Angove, who has been absent because of illness, was officially welcomed back into the fold in a short speech by E. C. Langfield. A visit by club members to the Trenton Edison plant was discussed and Rotarians urged to attend.

Y., and has set up the "Sunshine Market" in the place meat market Mr. Knowlton came back because, as he says, he liked this village.

It will be of interest to Northville friends of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Brown, former residents here, to know that their little three-year-old granddaughter recently won distinction in broadcasting over the radio. On September 3rd little Miss Jean Maye competed with a whole regiment of boys and girls, boys who sang at the Crowley hour over WWJ in Detroit and sang "When it's Springtime in the Rockies" and "The Little Girl Who Sold a Pig" and other songs. task which requires much work and five hours of time. Mr. McCrumm has made all trips gratis. At the present time, say welfare authorities, Northville is the only organization outside of those conducting "soup kitchens" which receive baked goods from the Grennan bakers.

On Monday of each week the local A. & P. store turns over its Saturday's surplus of bread, which ranges from 12 to 16 loaves.

The twelve acres of land on the Griswold farm which late this summer was converted into gardens for welfare use is expected to furnish much garden stuff according to welfare authorities. Six acres of this piece of land are planted in potatoes, and the entire yield is as favorable as the few hills which have been dug thus far will be many bushels of this item, workers predict. Turnips, carrots and cabbage have also been grown here.

An entire garden was given to the welfare department earlier in the year by a resident whose name is not known. This man had started his garden in the summer but because of acquired work or moved away, which has not been determined, he turned the garden over to the welfare department. Potatoes are being used out of this plot of land at the present time, say welfare officials.

Approximately 90 families will be under the care of the welfare department in Northville this winter, authorities estimate. At the present time there are about thirty, but this number is expected to increase rapidly during the next several weeks.

Four of Northville's charitable organizations have combined into a central welfare association to ensure united efforts in caring for the needy. Members of the St. Vincent de Paul, King's Daughters, Legion Auxiliary and a member of the village commission comprise this centralized organization. Merrill Sweet, the commissioner, is the chairman of the department.

Beginning last week a new system was inaugurated by the welfare department whereby both the individual and the village benefited. Each able-bodied man of the aged family is required to work in proportion to the amount of help received. If his family is composed of two people he was expected to work two days a week on village work; if there were three or four members in the family he should work three days, and if four or more he must work a total of 32 hours a week. Through the use of this "system" numerous "city jobs" were accomplished without cost to the village, which will eventually mean a saving of funds for other purposes, welfare officials declare. With all these "plans and purposes" being carried out Northville's needy won't have to shiver in the cold because of lack of fuel or clothing, or suffer because of lack of food.

New River Rouge Parkway System Will Soon Be Ready for Traffic; Pavement to Northville Finished

The building of this great, highway has been a great task. The building of bridges, the structure of a viaduct under the Pere Marquette railroad at Plymouth and the excavation of marshes and "soft spots" along the chosen course have en-

PIONEER MOVIE THRILLS AUDIENCE WEDNESDAY EVE

In the story written into the talkie "The Vanishing Frontier," which was the feature Wednesday night at the Penman-Allyn theatre, under the auspices of the local merchants, one was reminded of the days when Roosevelt made the west famous with his rough riding cowboys.

Undaunted, still was displayed in horse-back riding and the riding in formation at terrific speed through precipitous canyons, across rock-strewn valleys, was nothing short of breath-taking.

The leading man, Johnny Mack Brown, played the role of a native of California before the days of organized civil government, who being infuriated by the rule of force law organized a Robin Hood band to prey upon the rich for the benefit of the poor.

With Mack Brown is starred Evelyn Knapp and Zazu Pitts, Raymond Hatton, and J. Farrell MacDonald making up an excellent supporting cast.

The Saturday night show feature will be "The Man From Yesterday" with Claudette Colbert and Cive Brook taking the leading roles.

MRS. GILBERT VAN ZILE

Friends and neighbors of Mrs. Gilbert Van Zile, life long resident of Northville, were saddened to hear of her death at her home in Detroit Tuesday noon.

Mrs. Van Zile was born in Northville and lived the major part of her life here during which time she was an active worker in the Baptist church. She taught the Sunday school classes and organized clubs and societies for the church.

This Week

By H. H. WHITE

So often we hear the average man and woman make the remark that they would give all their money and position, for the health, vitality and happiness of youth, and further assert that they would follow anyone who could show them "the way." But while the statement might be as emphatic as one of mature years could make, while they might be sincere in making such statements, yet they are conversely untrue.

The way back to youth, good health and vitality is very simple and direct, but few are actually willing to take it. It first of all requires that one throw off the masquerade of sophistication, release the patterns of the multitude, and return to the honest attitude and actual interpretation of life as manifested by the integrity and thought of the younger generation.

Human nature was never intended to be stereotyped, and human emotions were never intended to function under compromise. For these are the perversions which cut down the flow within the physical body, and those who would regain the flame of youth, must release the yearnings which lie within the soul despite the sophistication already acquired that is a barrier to the thought and progress of anyone desiring to retain their youthful vigor.

There is no substitute way that leads back to joy and reality; for one must get away from the narrow circle already acquired in order that mental, emotional and physical vigor may be renewed, and this release can only come from actual desire.

There is no minister, metaphysician or psychologist that can point the way for the human being with such intent except the actual effort of the individual himself. It is the individual and he himself only that must throw aside the mantle of his negative identity and return to the actualities of life.

This requires courage and a real confession of what he is, which at best, in the most progressive of any of us, is a difficult thing to do; and it must be accomplished without fear or compromise. Granted that modern thought may guide, in fact it may immeasurably assist, but this is no guarantee of success except as the individual insures the success of transition by the part which he actually takes himself in his release.

I can only conclude this with that profound and philosophic saying, that "as a man thinks, so is he."

Gabriel blowing his horn on Main street could put no more energy and vim into his work than did George Nolan last Friday. George has his own ideas as to how a bugle should be blown—and melody isn't a part of them.

Well, fall is sneaking up on us and it won't be long before the garages will be thawing out frozen automobiles radiators while the bemused drivers stand around and pour anathema on the inventors of the contraptions.

The Department of Suppression of Different Things is now laboring over this remark heard on the street corner. "Booting whiskey is harmful to our health. Look how it has weakened Uncle Sam's constitution."

While eavesdropping we also heard a Northville mother admonishing her young son: "If you don't behave yourself you'll be president when you grow up."

About this time every year we get a particular hankering to get back to school. That's where the short hour day prevails, where crazy things one wants to do and do, and we are excited on the grounds that were only going once, and where everything has a rosy hue.

That's where graduation seems a long way off, where a sizable check comes in the mail each Monday, where you don't have to pay three dollars for a good seat at the football games.

It's the time when one always has a healthy appetite and is never even conscious of it, when the urge to put on a rough-house always finds someone equally willing to wreck a little furniture.

Well—it's great while it lasts, but it's gone all too soon.

Staid business men are afraid of employing boys just out of college—ask me how I know—but the feeling that college graduates are a new species of fool is all wrong.

I'll cut off this dissertation in its early youth but it all things to mind the ancient saying, "Young men think old men fools, and old men know young men to be so."

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Towner of Detroit, who are spending their summer at their cottage at White Lake, attended the Methodist church last Sunday morning and greeted old friends. Now that the smoke of the primary battle has cleared away we'll only have to listen to half as much campaign blarney as we did prior to Sept. 13.

Experts say that a good deal of the warm weather we suffered from this summer originated in the hot air of campaign speakers.

I went horseback riding last week and this morning I feel like I've been the winner of an endurance contest for sitting astride a barrel.

HOMEMAKER'S CORNER

By MRS. EDITOR

Who said Northville wasn't a friendly town? Why, we actually had several callers—and one of them really left her card in the otherwise ornamental but not very useful card tray on the hall table.

And not only callers but along comes a basket of the loveliest peaches we ever saw—too beautiful to eat alone. A loaf of homemade bread comes in from a neighbor and as the evening a kind man on a brand new bicycle drops in with a big basket of vegetables from his Ford garden. And this is not all. A huge bouquet of flowers is sent in too. All these since our frank question last week—"Is Northville friendly?"—Of course she is. It's just a matter of getting acquainted, new folks. Your turn is coming.

Getting Father Off to Washington.

The housewife, the baby swallowing a button, the preacher, to supper—all these are nothing compared to the excitement at our house getting "Dad" off to Washington to call on the President.

With Owen's "spitty" top coat over one arm, White's leather traveling bag on the other, he dashes breathlessly into the house, from the office, to get a minute before time to start. At the office, he said he had been madly dictating letters, writing out pay checks and giving final orders. (An editor's paper is a serious matter). One breathing spell in the barber's chair for a final "once over" while the office "devils" dashes after that just pressed. (No doubt about it. He's going to see the President!)

At the house he calls out, "Are my BVDs ready and my pajamas—and have I enough handkerchiefs?" "Yes, yes," we reply, assuming

(calmness) "Plenty of handkerchiefs to mop your perspiring brow after you have shaken hands with 'His Honor'."

Upstairs we follow ready to grab the tooth brush after the final scrub to be sure its packed. To his ears we give careful scrutiny, to his new natty tie a jerk and, heartily approving of his general appearance we give him a hasty smack as he adjusts his new hat carefully on his lately barbered head.

While one of the family straps his suitcase another gives him a final polish to his shoes and another backs out the car and opens the door. He's off to see the President! As we turn back into the house to pick up the heels of the battle, what is that little time that runs in our head? Something we once heard on a photograph long ago. "When father laid the carpet on the stairs." He sent "one to get the gimlet and one to the axe" and, after pounding his finger and sliding down the stairs on the roll of carpet the song ends. "So mother laid the carpet on the stairs."

If Mrs. Lester makes as good a president of the P. T. A. as she makes out bread, there's no doubt about the success of this worthy cause next year. At a meeting of her board the other day she served this good "hot bread" with a social cup of coffee.

Mrs. Lester's Nut Bread
3/4 cups flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 small teaspoon salt
1 cup of sugar
1 cup of chopped nuts
Mix all together. Beat in one egg. Mix 1 1/2 cups of milk. Let stand half an hour in some warm place placing in oven. Bake in moderate oven for 45 minutes.

Obituary

MRS. FLORENCE L. LARKINS

The whole community was deeply touched by the death of Mrs. Florence L. Larkins, who passed away at the home of her son, Royal B. Larkins, early Sunday morning, September 18, following an illness of three weeks. Active up to the very time of her last illness, Mrs. Larkins is said by her friends to have literally "died in the harness" as she would have wished.

Her last work was for the church she loved, the Baptist church, when she spent all of her energy in helping serve meals at the recent fair. Even when urged to go home and rest, she worked on and gave up only when her strength failed entirely.

Florence Lockwood, daughter of Wesley and Maria Lockwood, was born June 19, 1853, in Northville in the old house just off Center street on Fairbrook. She was married on March 5, 1873, to Peter Larkins and to them two children were born, Royal B. and Lotie (now Mrs. John Trumbull) both of this place.

For 38 years, almost consecutive, she presided over the Ladies Aid society of her church and homemaker yet with it all gave herself unreservedly to her church and to her community.

"She was a wonderful neighbor," says one who lived beside her for years. It is a well known fact that she assisted with her gentle motherliness in welcoming into the world many a Northville child. Dr. J. M. Burgess, it is said, called her his "right hand man."

At one time she was instrumental in starting a church in the old church building on the Seventh Mile road. Here Prof. Palmer of the Northville school and Dr. Swift, an old Northville physician, used to come out and speak in turn. For years this organization continued with Mrs. Larkins to back it until it was finally purchased by another church.

Outstanding among her activities was the Baby Show at the Northville fair into which she heartily threw herself and managed very successfully since its beginning until last year when the responsibility was shared with Mrs. Bertha Neal.

Since the death of her husband in 1910 Mrs. Larkins has made her home with her son, Royal, and his wife, first at Salem and for the past 12 years at the present location on Eaton drive and he it said to the credit of both that through all these 38 years the daughter-in-law pays this loving tribute "We never had a harsh word."

Mrs. Larkins was a member of the Baptist church for at least 60 years and attended it since she was four years old. She could say very truly

"To her my prayers and toil be given
Till toil and care shall end."

The funeral was held at the church she loved at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon with her pastor, Rev. W. Roscoe Barbour officiating, assisted by Rev. Joseph Priest, of Ponton, a former pastor here. Interment was made in Rural Hill cemetery.

Only the son and daughter of her immediate family survive. Chas. Sessions, her only living cousin, who has been almost as a brother to her throughout their life, also survives.

Accounts of a trip to London, down through Sussex, to Oxford, and to the English Channel were especially interesting. Among her visits was one to the new Shakespearean theatre in Stratford of the Avon, where she saw "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

Those present were Mrs. Dawn Holcomb, Mrs. Tina Casterline, Mrs. Helen Sweet, Mrs. Averill Green and Mrs. Helen Hammond.

Church of Our Lady of Victory

The September Bake Sale will be given tomorrow morning, (Saturday) in the Ambler store building, (corner Fordy street). It is in charge of Mrs. J. Norton, Mrs. C. Taggart and Mrs. A. Funk.

A meeting of all the Catholic high school students will take place tonight (Friday) at 7:30. We shall begin the training of these students as teachers of our local Catechism classes.

Our weekly classes in Christian doctrine, commonly called Catechism, will start this Saturday morning, Sept. 24, at 8:30. All children under the ninth grade in school are obliged to attend.

Next Sunday, the fourth Sunday of September, is set aside as the Ladies Communion Day. Confessions, Saturday at 11 a. m. and from 10:00 a. m. to 1:00 p. m. All the men of the parish are invited to attend a discussion of the St. Vincent de Paul society at 9 a. m. this next Sunday, Sept. 25th.

Sunday, Sept. 25th, is the last Sunday for the 7:30 Mass. Beginning the following Sunday the first Mass will be at 8 a. m. Why crosses surmount our churches is well intimated by "Zion's Herald" for Sept. 13. "The Cross is raised in the sight of the crowds. Its appeal is made every day, whether men respond to it or reject it. Jesus is being made manifest—yet only to them who have eyes to see, and ears to hear."

Fat folks should take one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts just a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it's the SAFE, harmless way to reduce as tens of thousands of men and women know.

For health's sake ask for and get Kruschen at C. R. Horton's drug store or any drug store—the cost for a bottle that lasts 4 weeks is but a trifle and if after the first bottle you are not joyfully satisfied with results—money back.

Printing that pleases at the Northville Record office.

Hotel Fort Shelby is more than a truly great hostelry. It embodies veritably all the facilities and accommodations to be found in the downtown area of a metropolitan city: Barber Shop, Beauty Parlor, Swedish Bath.

Cigar Store and Haberdashery, Drug Store, Western Union Office and Flower Shoppe. Each of its 900 rooms is equipped with servitor, circulating ice water and private bath. Radio for every room. Fort Shelby rates are attractive not merely because they are so reasonable, but because they give so much for so little... beginning at $2.50.
