STUDENTS GIVE PLAY AT H. S. THIS EVENING

Local Actors Will Present "What Anne Brought Home"

An evening of real entertainment is in store for the people of Northville tonight when the Northville high school players present the interesting and humorous three-act play "What Anne Brought Home" by Larry E. Johnson. This will be given in the high school auditorium beginning promptly at 8:00 and will run about two hours.

A trio composed of Francis Cousins, Ernest Race, and William Cousins, will play the first and second acts. Ernest Race will play several roles. A quartet composed of the four actors, Leslie Lee, Carl Harris, and Alfred Smith, accompanied by Mrs. Flora Brennan, will sing a group of numbers between the second and third acts.

This play will be repeated Friday evening, October 28, by a different cast of girls and the same cast of boys. Admission to either of these performances will be 30c for adults and 20c for students. It is hoped that two large audiences will witness this first play of the school year.

The cast for this evening will be: Maurice Glen, Florence Johnson, Gertrude Deal, Dayton Deal, William Cousins, Henry Hoffman, Madeline Haystead, Alfred Parmeter, and Melvin Fraser.

The play will be given under the direction of Leslie Lee.

NORTHVILLE PROS WIN SECOND GAME OF YEAR SUNDAY

The Northville professional football team played their second game last Sunday at the fair grounds and defeated the team from Ecorse 14-0.

The contest was a very close and interesting one, the outstanding features being a number of injuries and a safety made by Northville.

The game went quickly at first. Just before the end of the half, however, the first of the injuries occurred. Orson, a player of Ecorse, broke his shoulder blade and was taken out. Following this a number of substitutions came in, all slowing up the game considerably.

In the third period, one of the Ecorse players hurt himself severely, preventing him from walking, and another Ecorse man had his nose broken. Besides, quite a few minor cuts and bruises were attended by doctors present.

The only touchdown of the game was made by quarterback Eddie Wood, following which the safety was made when the Northville team stopped Ecorse behind their own goal line.

The weather was perfect and over 75 people turned out to witness the game. Sunday, Oct. 16, the professional team will again play here.

COOPER-BANKHEAD FILM ON DISPLAY

"Devil and the Deep," the Tallulah Bankhead-Gary Cooper film will be at the Penniman-Allyn Theatre Wednesday, Oct. 13.

The picture, which marks Cooper's return to the screen after several months spent hunting in Africa, is set in a port on the north coast of Africa. Miss Bankhead is cast as the wife of a submarine commander, who is insanely jealous of her. She meets Cooper and falls in love with him, to discover later that he is a new member of her husband's crew.

When the husband discovers the situation, he gets the two of them aboard his vessel, heads it for a freighter, and turns the controls over to Cooper just as it crashes. The sub sinks, and while it is lying crippled on the ocean floor the two men battle with their wits for the woman.

The role of the husband is played by Charles Laughton, noted British stage star, who makes his first screen appearance in this picture.

NOVI CHICKEN DINNER

The ladies of the Novi Methodist church are giving one of their famous chicken dinners Thursday night, October 20. The price for adults is 30c and special tables will be arranged for children at 10c. You are invited to come and enjoy your family.

NORTHVILLE SURE TO BOOM ENGINEER SAYS IN TALK HERE

It will be of interest to our readers to know that a government engineer, Harry Lieber of Detroit, who spoke with a background of experience to a company of 90 representatives of real estate salesmen at the local library on Tuesday evening, Oct. 4, spoke very encouragingly of the outlook for this locality. Mr. Lieber, who has travelled widely with President Hoover, has a knowledge of industrial conditions and predicts that Henry Ford has an immense project just ahead which will materially benefit this section.

Mr. Lieber believes that in the near future Detroit will operate its own steel plant on a large scale and that oil refining companies will be established there also. He feels sure that the St. Lawrence waterway is "onched" and that when this is opened the future of this Detroit area will know no bounds in its development.

Northville surely hopes the engineer is correct in his predictions.

MILFORD BAKER NOW AN OCTOGENARIAN

Milford Baker celebrated his 80th birthday anniversary Sunday with a family party at his home on West street. With his only brother, E. H. Baker of Huntington, Ind., present and his two sisters, Mrs. Addie Neal and Mrs. (Dr.) Triestdale, of Lake Orion, as well as his son, Ray, and his wife, who made their home with him, it was a pleasant occasion.

A fine birthday dinner was prepared by his daughter-in-law, who added as a finishing touch a birthday cake.

While not in his usual health for some time, Mr. Baker rallied to the occasion and enjoyed the day with his family.

Born in Morenci eighty years ago, Mr. Baker came to Northville in 1908, when he purchased a large farm south of the village, which is now a part of the Wayne County Training School property. Mr. Baker has operated this farm while living in town. After the death of his wife a year and a half ago, his son, Ray, and his wife came to his home to care for him in his declining years.

Many Northville folks, to whom Mr. Baker has been a fine neighbor and friend, extend to him their hearty good wishes.

Forty Years of Activity of the Northville Woman's Club Outlined At Luncheon by Past Presidents

The years were turned back for the members of the Northville Woman's club last Friday afternoon when its fortieth anniversary was observed by the annual club luncheon in memory of the founders of this society. Reviewing the outstanding events of these forty years representatives of the five periods related experiences when "The years should be as merchantmen, sailing home, laden with wealth from many lands."

Freeding the five speeches Mrs. C. M. Chase, the present president, welcomed the members of the club and paid high tribute to the pioneer women who started this organization. Of the 24 past presidents, 16 are living. All except four of these were able to be present and were seated at the table of honor. In this "row of dignity" were the following: Mrs. Barton Wheeler, Mrs. W. G. Lapham, Mrs. Della Harmon, Mrs. Chas. L. Dubur, Mrs. Marvin Sloan, Mrs. Sophie Benton, Mrs. John Tinkham, Mrs. Wm. Cattermole, Mrs. Floyd Northrop, Mrs. J. W. Christensen, Mrs. Edward Lapham, Mrs. D. B. Dunn, Mrs. Waldo Johnson and Mrs. Bruno Freydl. Those not able to be present were thoughtfully remembered with a bouquet of flowers at the time of the luncheon. They were: Mrs. Sarah Parsons, Mrs. Camilla Dubur, Mrs. Flora Babbitt.

Mrs. Wheeler gave the invocation before the luncheon. First to bring her story was Mrs. W. G. Lapham, who spoke with queenly dignity of the "Maiden Voyage" of the club. "I represent my dear mother, Mrs. Lucy Stout-Dowd," said Mrs. Lapham, who was one of the founders of the club in the year 1892. These were the years when it took courage and no little foresight to stand for women's position in society. For years Mrs. Dowd worked the nearest her heart, "You are invited to come and enjoy your family."

NORTHVILLE FAIR FOR '32 'BREAKS EVEN'

Appropriation of $2,500 by Supervisors Prevents Loss This Year

An appropriation of $2,500 for the Northville fair for 1932 was voted this week by the board of supervisors of Wayne county. The board of supervisors of Wayne county makes it possible now to announce that the fair for 1932 will break even. In view of all the unusual conditions, this is a remarkable showing.

Credit to the securing of the appropriation was given to the local fair from going into the red goes largely to Supervisor W. A. Ely, whose unflinching loyalty to the fair has continued through the years. Only those who do the work of the fair associations know the extent of Mr. Ely's hard work and continuous devotion to its interests.

According to Mr. Northrop, the bills that are payable to the association total about $700 and if all this is paid it will be possible to pay the balance of the total of $2,500 in premiums that was given to exhibitors. In addition to this large sum that has been and will be paid out, the sum of $2,600 went to the horsemen in the race events.

One big local benefit that came from the fair this year was the payment of over $500 to local labor for work at the fair grounds before and during the annual event.

With many far-reaching money the past year, the showing of the Northville fair is most encouraging and augurs well for the future prosperity of the local institution. At the annual meeting in January, plans will be made for the 1933 fair.

WATTS NAMED TREASURER

Ted Watts, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Watts, of Northville, has been named treasurer of the senior class at Albion college. This is a fine honor for the Northville young man.

Ted continues to gain football fame at Albion. He is his 45-yard run that enabled Coach "Bud" Daugherty's team to be Hope college in an M. I. A. game last week. Albion meets Detroit Tech tomorrow at Albion.

Exchangites Enjoy Splendid Film Showing Perils of Alaskan Trip And Scenery Along St. Lawrence

Northville Exchangites enjoyed a complete cinema program, which was assembled guests and members Wednesday at the Methodist church house. Exchange Robert G. Yerkes showed moving pictures of Alaskan perils and landscape together with views of the beautiful scenery of Niagara Falls and the St. Lawrence river.

Guests at the exchange meeting were: John A. Boyce, Redford, Oliver, Goldsmith, Plymouth, Clinton Wilber and E. H. Lapham, Northville and E. W. Nelson, of Lansing. The Alaskan pictures followed the travels of John Young, a world champion archer, who with a companion ventured into the wilds of the picturesque north carrying only as weapons a bow and arrow. The two adventurers killed only a few necessity, but the sheer nerve of attacking huge bears, moose and other large animals with such primitive weapons, held the exchangites spellbound in their chairs as the flickering film unfolded the story.

The pictures depicted the hunters slaying their prey, and incidental shots revealed the rugged beauty of the northland, the like of which is approached nowhere else in the world.

The most stupendous of nature's mighty cataclysms takes place yearly in Alaska when the mighty ice jam begins to break up with the advent of spring. Pictures taken from a high spot of land showed the ice as it began to crack up and move down the river, throwing thousands of tons of ice on the banks of the river.

Following the intrepid explorers, the winding reefs showed them catching birds, aided only by a net and the end of a long pole. A skiff and a sample was necessary for this sport and the ease which the hunter caught birds made a highly interesting episode for the audience.

Mr. Yerkes, following the Alaskan pictures, showed the screen a record of a trip which he took to Alaska via Niagara Falls and the St. Lawrence river. Many of those watching the picture had taken the trip themselves and the scenic view brought back many treasured memories.

A hearty round of applause at the conclusion of the picture conveyed the thanks of the exchangites and their guests to Mr. Yerkes for an unusually entertaining program.

Exchangites are planning a "hard times" party for their Ladies Night program the date of which will be announced shortly.

Membership in Exchange was increased by a vote from $200 to $100 and it is expected that this step will keep the cost of joining the club more in keeping with the times.

Scott Montgomery played a piano accompaniment to the songstest enjoyed by Exchangites and then played several numbers which added materially to the pleasing program.

MRS. OLIVE CHARTER DIES AT HER HOME AT THE AGE OF 88

Mrs. Olive Charter passed away at her home here Monday morning after having rounded out a long life of 88 years. Unwilling to yield to her declining health, she kept up courageously and even a few weeks ago was seen in her garden enjoying the flowers she loved.

Because of her failing strength, it was thought advisable to take her to the Atchison hospital recently where she was tenderly cared for for four weeks. But habit was too fixed and she longed to be taken back home where she was brought a week ago. Those who loved her best ministered faithfully to her needs until the end.

Olive Austin was born Oct. 29, 1844, in Fenton, Mich. Her father was a sturdy Scotchman, Jerry Austin and his wife was Hilda. Her last remaining sister preceded her in death only a few months ago.

When only a girl of 15 years Olive Austin was married to Leonard Charter and to this union were born four children, Leonard and Alice (now Mrs. H. A. DesAntels) surviving, and two sons, Edwin and Eli, who died in youth.

When the Civil war broke out Leonard Charter felt the call of his country, and bidding good-bye to a wife of 16 and their infant son, Leonard, (now hale and hearty man at 72), he marched off to war. Through three years and eight months of hard battles he served and was one of the heroes who marched with Sherman to the sea. Once he was cited for valor when he risked his life to carry aid to his comrades. Only once did he return on furlough to see his young wife who faithfully kept the home fires burning and cared for their child.

At the end of the war they settled down on their farm on "Charter Hill," at the crest of N. Rogers street, now occupied by the Ralph Hay home. Here they raised all their children and laboriously took by wagon loads over the turnpike to market in Detroit. Throughout these years Mrs. Charter worked hard helping him and raising their four children.

A period of the life of this worthy couple was spent in a cozy cottage on High street and later they came to the present home on Dunlap, where the flowers of the Charter garden, especially its roses, have given pleasure to many.

Mrs. Charter was a devoted Christian woman. She had four distinct interests in life: her church, her family, the W. R. C. and the Eastern Star. She was an active member of the Presbyterian church during her years of strength. To her family she gave untiring devotion and her social nature enjoyed her relations with the Orient chapter of O. E. S. which honored her when she last attended in February, 1930, by making her a life member. Small wonder that this woman who knew well the stern duties of war should throw herself heartily into the work of the Woman's Relief Corps. She was a charter member of the order here and never lost interest. In tribute to this soldier's wife it was not fitting that stalwart young men of the local American Legion uniform should bear her to her last resting place beside her soldier in Rural Hill.

And the death of her husband in 1918, her daughter, Mrs. DesAntels, with her husband, came to care for her. No daughter or son could have devoted themselves to a mother with more tender thoughtfulness. Knowing her love for her flowers her son-in-law picked the last red rose of summer in her garden Sunday morning and brought it to Mrs. Charter, who enjoyed it thoroughly. "I'm just tired," she said, and fell asleep quietly Monday morning.

The funeral service was held at the home Wednesday afternoon with her pastor, Rev. H. G. Whitfield, speaking very appropriately from a text which peculiarly described the life just closed: "At eventide there shall be light."

Seven grandchildren survive Mrs. Charter: Eugene of Detroit, Leo of Wyandott, Raymond DesAntels of Northville, Olive Finch of Milan, Edwin Charter Stevens and Irving Charter Sheldon of Redford, and Glenn Charter of this place. One granddaughter, her namesake, Olive DesAntels, is deceased.

Fourteen great-grandchildren also survive of this family.

35 NEW STUDENTS STARTED SCHOOL HERE THIS YEAR

This year Northville can boast of more new students than in many previous years. Over 35 "new" faces were seen by the students who have been here before. Some of the students know what a trying situation it is to start in a new school, to see new students, new teachers, and adjust themselves to new rules and regulations. It is not an easy task, and sometimes not a pleasant situation.

However, Northville, with the reputation for getting quick acquaintance with its new students, there will be no "new pupils."

The new students are the following:

Mary Munro, Janice Gotro Shirley Van Norman, John Shinn, Irene Modus, Bernice Blum, Verna Little, Ellen McCallan, Nancy Forsyth, Ina Goddard, Pauline Foreman, Lulu Lyke, Isobel Greive, Savaris Leone.

Hattie Brunner, Bill Black, Anthony Lemetta, Edith Barley, Rex Smith, Violet Booth, Eleanor Booth, Harold Booth, Lucy Dickinson, Duane Greenlee, Mary Hestetter, Gilbert Osbourn, Melvin Stromski, Donald Hines.

Lois Reed, Hilda Garchow, Howard Oim, Marjorie Pierpont, Royal Snow, Harry Kreeger, Louise Paedie.

HARVEST FESTIVAL

The Woman's Union and the Nellie Yerkes' Auxiliary will hold their annual harvest festival at the Presbyterian church house Wednesday, Oct. 19. A 2:30 luncheon will be served at twelve o'clock. During the day jelly, jam, canned fruit, pickles, baked goods, candy, fresh vegetables and fruit will be on sale. We aim to make this a friendly occasion, so we ask you to co-operate with us. Come and have lunch, test our "goodies," chat with your friends and enjoy a cup of tea during the afternoon.

BERKLEY HIGH MEETS N. H. S. ELEVEN TODAY

First League Game Will Be Played at Fair Grounds at 4 P. M.

After winning the opening game of the season from Detroit Country Day School 19-6, last Friday, the Northville high school football team meets Berkley in its second game, contest here this Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, at the fair grounds.

As this is the first suburban league game, excitement runs high at the school as everyone is eager for a victory.

The game today will be harder than the one with the Detroit Country Day School last week, according to Coach Harold Ruggles, as Berkley has proven her mettle by holding Farmington to a scoreless tie. The Northville eleven is in good shape and has a fighting chance to come out the victors.

In the game last Friday, Northville's last charging line, opening up holes in their opponents' forward wall, proved that the team's offense was better than the defensive tactics. However, once in the last period, the Northville defense was above criticism when it stopped Country Day from gaining a single inch in three downs.

As today's game is the first of the season with a team in our newly formed league, we very much desire to win it, says Coach Harold Ruggles, and we hope that a large number of townspeople, as well as students will turn out and support the home team.

HINCHMAN ACQUITTED ON HOLD-UP CHARGE

Frank E. Hinchman, 422 E. Base Line road, Northville, athlete who was held for investigation and released on bond two months ago by police for complicity in the hold-up of two businessmen on the Ridge road, was acquitted Tuesday in the Wayne County Circuit court at Detroit.

Hinchman declared that he was at his home when the hold-ups were alleged to have occurred. He was discharged by the court on the grounds of insufficient evidence.

KING'S DAUGHTERS

A regular meeting of the King's Daughters will be held at the home of Mrs. Mary Brendt, 850 Orchard Drive, Tuesday evening, Oct. 18, at 7:30.

RIDERS HELP CLOTHES NEEDY

At High Hollow Hunt on the Newburg road horsemen from far and near will ride Saturday afternoon. Added to the sheer joy of riding will be the generous motive of philanthropy. Each rider will bring with him a bundle of clothing for the needy. These garments will be distributed at the judgment of the Red Cross and local charity, will be given its share. A charge of 25c will be made for each entry. Any riders will be welcome at this gymkhana.

"Gold Standard of Service" for Life Needed, Dr. B. H. Douglas Tells Audience at Presbyterian Church

At the Presbyterian church last Sunday Dr. B. H. Douglas, superintendent of the Maybury Sanatorium, occupied the pulpit, having kindly consented to do so in order that the pastor, Rev. Harold G. Whitfield, might accept an invitation to conduct services in his former church in Ontario.

Dr. Douglas talked upon the subject of "The Values in Life," pointing out that just as the gold standard is the basis of the monetary structure of many nations so there should be a gold standard of true purpose and worthwhile endeavor as the ultimate attainment sought for in life by all humanity.

A most notable example of this was the greatest of all missionaries, Paul, who might have used his talents as ambition so often dictates. Just for self, but casting all aside he gave his very life for the cause of Christ.

Peter, the great Hebrew apostle, thought not of silver and gold, or equivalents, but sought naught less than to build up the church of Christ upon earth.

BANK RESULT TO BE KNOWN IN FEW DAYS

Mr. Nelson Examines Banks Here Wednesday for State

Following a report on the condition of Northville's two closed banks, W. W. Nelson, state bank examiner, who spent all day Wednesday examining the banks here, the state banking department will announce within a week whether the banks are in such shape to be reopened.

This information was given to The Record by Deputy Banking Commissioner Taylor on Thursday morning in a long distance interview.

Mr. Taylor was asked directly whether Northville banks will reopen.

"I can't tell you that until I have seen Mr. Nelson's report and discussed the situation with him," he said.

Mr. Taylor said that the announcement would be made in time for next week's issue of The Record and that the decision will be final either to go forward with the reorganization plan or to continue liquidation of the banks' assets.

There are four banks besides Northville's bank, said Mr. Taylor, in the state which are on the verge of reopening if the banking department gives its consent. He said it will take probably 30 days before the reorganized banks are able to open their doors for business.

Mr. Nelson, the examiner, made no statement regarding the condition of the Northville banks but it is known that the long awaited verdict hinges on the result of his findings and a conference with the banking department.

A. R. MARZ IS 230TH ROTARIAN IN WORLD TO GET GOLF HONOR

The Northville Rotary club has the honor of having in its membership the 230th man in all the Rotary world to make a "hole in one" in golf. Obviously, most of these 230 star golfers are found in the United States.

That man is Arthur R. Marz, local Ford dealer, and Tuesday evening at the ladies' night gathering when the teachers of the Northville schools were guests, he was duly honored for the unusual prestige he has brought to the club.

Prof. Percy Angove, Rotary president, called upon E. C. Langfield to present Mr. Marz with the framed poem, "He Made a Hole in One." Then Prof. Angove called the local golfer to the front and presented him with a certificate from the International Rotary office at Chicago, which gives him membership as the 230th member of the International Rotary "Hole in One" Hall of Fame. Mr. Marz was also given a congratulatory letter from Emmett Richards of Alpena, district governor.

Mr. Marz achieved his unusual distinction when he shot 195 yards for the hole in one on the sixth hole at the Plymouth Hills Public Golf club Sunday, Sept. 25. Three witnessed the drive that landed in the cup.

ELY VOTES FOR LIBRARY

At a meeting of the board of supervisors at Detroit this week an appropriation of $3,000 for the Plymouth public library was voted. Supervisor W. A. Ely of Northville not only voted for the appropriation but talked in favor of it. The appropriation is more than last year's.

TIM MCCOY A TEXAS RANGER IN NEW FILM

"The Western Code," Tim McCoy's latest Western picture, which was produced by Columbia will be shown at the Pennman-Allyn Theatre, Saturday, Oct. 15. "The Western Code" presents Tim in an adventurous, dramatic role of a disguised Texas Ranger.

Adapted from an original story by William Colt MacDonald, "The Western Code" has one of the finest casts that any Western has ever boasted, notwithstanding the superior cast that McCoy had in his previous Western, "Two Fisted Law." The present cast includes even prominent players as Nora Lane, Wheeler Oakman, Matthew Betz, Mischa Auer, Dwight Frye, Gordon DeMaine and Emilio Fernandez. John P. McCarthy, who directed about 250 features for M-G-M, handled the megaphone on "The Western Code."

OUR BROTHER'S KEEPER

Although there is a distinct trend toward better times and indications point to the end of our three-year crisis, we shall not get back to normal living for some time. Even with more men going to work, and better business for many, the coming winter is going to be tough.

More than for some time we shall have to be our "brother's keeper" for the next few months when the problem of food and clothing will press hard on many families.

Here in Northville we have a wonderful example of a fine spirit of brotherhood in the providing of milk for the children of our school. The Parent-Teacher association could have nothing better than this caring for the children. The child who gets sufficient milk is able to withstand the rigors of winter and not only that, but to provide a strong body for the later period of life. And by the same token, the boy or girl who is robbed of a sufficient amount of milk is robbed of part of his birthright—the right of every child to have an even chance in the battle of life. So it is a great contribution to our own community when our leaders see to it that no child goes without a sufficient amount of health-giving milk.

When we provide milk for these kiddies there is no chance for our money—and much of it is given with sacrifice—to be wasted. No father who is shiftless can take the money for the milk as it goes direct to the child himself.

Another fine thing about putting a new glow of health into kiddies' cheeks with milk is the fact that parents who see their children made strong and well will have their own "morale" strengthened for their own struggle.

We can be glad that our P. T. A. leaders are giving such a fine contribution to community welfare.

"IT COULDN'T BE WORSE"

In every political campaign we expect to hear a lot of wild and foolish statements. Both sides seem to try to outdo the other in some baseless statements that sound bright but which are really too stupid to be believed.

Of all the unthinking slogans that have been heard on the street corners of Northville and in every part of the land we think the most absurd and untrue is this: "It couldn't be worse."

Now do you who live here in this beautiful community believe any such tragic nonsense as that?

Of course, there has been suffering and distress—no one knows it any better than the publisher of a newspaper whose business it is to know the heart of his own community. When people go without work for months and even years, to them it seems that conditions couldn't be worse but with few exceptions, every one of these families will admit that it could have been a lot worse. And yet, the strange thing is that some of these folks who have been saying the loudest, "It couldn't be worse," are comparatively well off. They have health and strength and jobs.

It took President Hoover the other night in his remarkable Des Moines speech to point out that conditions might have been incomparably worse. Millions of people sat in their homes on October 4 and heard their president tell how close to going off the gold standard we had come and of how near to national collapse we had been. No truer thing was ever said than this statement from Hoover the other evening:

"Thousands of persons in bitter distress and their losses are saying that things could not be worse. Let no man tell you it could not be worse. It could be so much worse that these days now, distressing as they are, would look like veritable prosperity."

SLANDERING OUR PRESIDENT

Such a non-partisan newspaper even as The Detroit News carries an editorial protest against the slandering of our president during times of campaigns. What a pity it is that we cannot have a presidential campaign without the spectacle of mudslinging!

In this very community the other day a certain person had the temerity to tell us that she was against Herbert Hoover because "he gassed the children" during the war. Could you blame us for protesting against such a cruel slander. Of course, only blind ignorance or unreasoning bigotry could make such an outrageous statement.

In the Middle West the slanders against the president were carried to such a point that President Hoover had to take notice of them. Here is what he said:

"I shall say now the only harsh word that I have uttered in public office.

"I hope it will be the last I shall have to say.

"When you are told that the President of the United States, who by the most sacred trust of our nation is President of all the people, a man of your own blood and upbringing, has sat in the White House for the last three years of your misfortune without troubling to know your burdens, without heartaches over your miseries and casualties, without summoning every avenue of skillful assistance irrespective of party or view, without using every ounce of his strength and straining his every nerve to protect and help, without using every possible agency of democracy that would bring aid, without putting aside personal ambition and humbling his pride of opinion, if that would serve—then I say to you that such statements are deliberate, intolerable falsehoods."

The whole country will applaud Mr. Hoover for putting these slanders of our country "on the spot."

After the election of Hoover in 1928 a systematic campaign was started to ridicule and vilify him. It covered the whole country and became the object of numerous articles by well known writers. It was apparently a well financed campaign to blackmail our president. Through a strange circumstance it just happens that the writer of this column knows a man who has talked often with one of the leaders in this campaign to "get" Hoover. In substance this is what the last named man said: "What we started out to do against Hoover has gotten out of our control; it is like a big snowball that has started downhill and we can't stop it. Our campaign to hurt Hoover and make him look foolish in the eyes of the people is doing him more good than harm."

Knowing what the president of the United States has to contend with, can any add to his troubles by saying things, the truth of which he knows nothing?

WANDERING THOUGHTS

If there are any "rotten men" in business one of the reasons is that they failed to use newspaper advertising.

The straw votes are going against Hoover. It will be interesting to notice whether his Des Moines speech will cause a turn in the voting from now on.

A good republican asks us: "Why doesn't Senator Couzens get out and work for the success of the republican national ticket?" That question ought to be answered. Maybe the senator will tell us.

Gov. Roosevelt certainly "got a break" when Al Smith joined him in the winning fight against Tammany. It makes it now possible for Roosevelt to win New York state and if he does that, the Hoover cause looks hopeless. But Roosevelt has not yet answered Smith about the bonus question.

BUSINESS? OR POLITICS?

(Walter S. Kennedy in Algonquin Evening Recorder)

"I have just returned from a 2500 mile trip through the Mississippi Valley," said a voice over the radio the other evening. "I expected to find an improvement in business but what I found exceeded expectations."

Crop prospects are generally good. Prices of grain, cotton and live stock have advanced. Prices of most of the things that farmers have to buy have declined. Enhanced prices of securities have served as a tonic to build up confidence in the business outlook. This and more to the same cheering effect the voice carried to its invisible audience.

"Whose voice was it? That of some Republican, seeking to win confidence for the Hoover administration?" That of some Democrat, in a sudden spasm of fairness determined to tell the truth even if it elected Hoover?

No, it was neither of these. It was the voice of L. A. Downs, president of the Illinois Central Railroad company, speaking with no thought of politics, just reporting business conditions as he found them upon a business trip.

At the same time when President Downs, head of a great railroad system, was making this optimistic report, Democratic orators and newspapers all over the land were telling people that there is no such thing as business recovery and cannot be until the Hoover administration is thrown out and another administration put in. "The depression is certain to elect Roosevelt," one Democratic orator declared with unaccustomed frankness.

Which shall we follow—business, or politics?

Business tells us—for this is the inescapable deduction—from such statements as those of President Downs and similar declarations from business leaders everywhere—that the depression is definitely stopped, that recovery has begun, and that the road back to normal business lies straight ahead, that all we need to do is to see to it that the measures and policies which have brought us through the economic storm are carried steadily forward under the same strong and steadfast leader who devised them. That is the voice of business.

Politics, Democratic politics, tells us that the economic improvement we seem to be seeing is all an hallucination, that it isn't there at all, that our only hope for recovery is to take an entirely different road, adopt new measures and follow new leaders.

Business, or Politics—which shall we follow?

It is good news to hear that 20 men have been working at the Ambler foundry. Northville will probably never be an industrial town but one of these days we are going to get another small factory or two.

No one can realize what a vast amount of good the management of the Penniman-Allen theatre and our own business people have done in providing "shows" during the past months of hard going. The chance to play, to forget troubles and to see the bright side in these weekly entertainments has been a great thing and we all appreciate it.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

Would it be better for the United States to have three political parties, along sharper lines of division than we now have?

DO YOU REMEMBER WHEN—

Jones Wilcox and Stark Bros. sold shoes?

Sands & Porter were the furniture men hereabouts?

John Neilson was the harness man and John Hirsch built carriages?

Thomas G. Richardson was the clothing, dry goods man, and shoe salesman?

Ass. M. Randolph and Charles R. Stevens were our authorized drug dispensers?

Edwin N. Root and James H. Root did the dental work for the town hereabouts?

Elias S. Woodman and W. Worth Wendell were the legal advisors for such as went to law?

Gibson & Brown photographers, all and sundry who wanted to see themselves as they were?

Drs. Jos. M. Burgess, John M. Swift, Charles C. Kingsbury and John R. Avery were our staff of physicians?

Charles M. Joslin & Co. and D. B. Wilcox and Son, Barton A. Wheeler, Dennis Knapp and Stark Bros. supplied groceries?

William H. Ambler and Albert E.

In spite of the proverbial affinity of persons for chicken, it is rather unusual for one of them to celebrate Thanksgiving twice in the same year. As will Rev. H. G. Whitfield, our local Presbyterian minister, last Saturday Mr. Whitfield, in company with his wife and little daughter, made their way back to the "old country," Canada, to be the guests of friends in a former parish of his. One of Mr. Whitfield's friends, who is a resident of the Northville, was quite easily persuaded to stay over and join in the festivities. With a company of friends the Whitfields set down to a beautiful Thanksgiving feast. With equal zest they expect to feel thankful again in true American fashion along late in November.

ATTEND SALINE CONFERENCE - Rev. and Mrs. Frank N. Miner plan to attend a three-day session of teacher-training classes to be held in Saline next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. This is really a normal school for Bible school teachers and will be attended by pastors and teachers. A fine program is prepared and others interested may take advantage by applying to Mr. Miner for information.

Methodist Church

Public worship at 10:30 a. m., the Sunday school at 12 noon, and the young people's service at 6:30 p. m. This is the schedule of services at the church for next Sunday.

On November 8, Tuesday, election day, the Ladies Aid will give their annual chicken pie dinner which is enjoyed so much by the people of Northville and vicinity.

The Sunday previous, November 5, will be a special go-to-church day with special services all day. It will be a daily day for all our church members and activities.

The church will hold a visitation week when all church members will call at the homes of all of the Methodist members and friends.

The next monthly meeting of the official board of the church will be on Tuesday evening, Nov. 1. Important business, election of officers, reports of committees.

The Epworth League or Young People's departmental service next Sunday evening will be a synopsis on the prohibition problem.

The pastor's sermon next Sunday morning will be "Who are to do our task?"

St. Paul's Lutheran

Divine worship and Sunday school Sunday, October 16, at the usual time, 10 o'clock. Text: Matthew 9.9. Theme of discourse: "To be a Christian means to be a follower of Christ"

Catechism instruction on Saturday morning, beginning at 9 o'clock. The half hour of faith and fellowship as broadcast every Sunday afternoon from 1:30 to 2 o'clock over station WXYZ.

Because of the inclement weather, the last Monday evening, our quarterly meeting of the voters has been postponed until this coming Monday evening, October 17 at 9 o'clock. Every voter as well as those who have not yet joined, are kindly asked to be present at this meeting.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to worship with us.

Church of Our Lady of Victory

We want to thank all the patrons of our last night's sauer kraut dinner. Our appreciation goes out to all who co-operated.

The attendance at Catechism classes on each Saturday morning is encouraging. The teachers are working faithfully and hard. Classes are held every Saturday at 9:30 a. m.

The school authorities are to be commended for permitting the opportunity of studying religion in the high school. It is still a tryout, giving the public and churches a chance to consider this experiment from every angle.

Whether can a man turn in these times who does not believe in God? All other leaders are failing him. Psalm 52 says: "The fool said in his heart: There is no God." Of course, he would not say that unless he was a fool. A fool's mind cannot or will not fathom such things.

Salem Federated Church

Morning worship at 10:30 o'clock, Oct. 16, the theme will be "High Thinking." Set your mind on the things that are above, and not on the things that are on earth. Colossians 3:2.

The men of the church are urged to stay for Bible school on Sunday, as the men's class will discuss the father's responsibility and influence in the home.

In the P. O. M. class, the young people will answer assigned questions, among them being: How far should Christian parents go in exercising authority over their children? What sort of discipline is effective with modern children? What can a football coach tell about a boy's home training? If you have a definite answer to any or all of these questions, come and help in the discussion.

Remember the Dr. Daniel Poling luncheon to be held on Wednesday, Oct. 19, 12 o'clock, at the Michigan League Building, Ann Arbor. Tickets have been reduced to 50c. Our people may obtain tickets from Olio Curtis or Robert Letyard.

West Point Park

The church service was largely attended last Sunday morning and all listened to a comforting sermon by the pastor, Rev. Miller, after which the Lord's supper was partaken with members and friends. Next Sunday the subject of his address will be "The Medicine of Laughter."

Dear Sir:

We are fully aware of the fact that you once attended the U. of M. You old frog!

"Signed, A Reader"

Looked! The big sciolist spells frog!

What our anonymous critic isn't aware of is the fact that we attend at the college for two years also and we're just as proud of that.

Attending the best little college in the state in one state isn't anything to be ashamed of if one has any sense or loyalty. We have.

Northville high school hit the line

McCardie, Shipley, Campbell, and Bender distinguished themselves by a constant fighting spirit which won games in any sport. More power to 'em!

Marshall Herrick's red umbrella

Here's a sample:

Salsinger, a critic from Detroit,
At football thinks he is adroit;
He punts and he blows
As he squeaks thru his nose.
And he practically never is right,
Now if you can't do better than that you're pretty terrible!

Dr. Steele contributed this one

A young writer called Salsinger Is an expert sport mud-flinger. When he opens his trap He gives Newnam a rap He thinks he's quite a humdinger. Not bad for a beginning between the entire and the main course at Exchange club meeting: A gent who posed as a writer, Was really a terrible blighter; At Newman he raved, Said he was depraved. That writer should have been brighter.

Bob Yerkes penned this one

FOUR SCOUTS GO ON CAMP BRADY HIKE

Over 50 Scouts attended the overnight hike held Saturday and Sunday at Camp Brady located near Pontiac. Included were four Scouts from Northville: Junior Cole, Dick Jund, Jack Duguid, and Keene Bolton.

After camp detail Saturday upon arriving at their destination the Scouts on the hike had supper and then gathered in the club house for an indoor campfire meeting. First nighters were initiated, Junior Cole rendered several piano selections, Dick Loomis, Wayne County Training School Scoutmaster related several of his justly celebrated "Pawnee" stories and Field Executive F. J. Heavener explained the future program of the Boy Scouts of America.

Sunday, setting up exercises, a nature hunt, and church services occupied the morning. Gene Brock, Durdard Jewell, of Plymouth, Jack Duguid, and Keene Bolton, of Northville, led the church services with a "Tree Sermon".

Announcement was made of a district rally and a court of honor to be held at Plymouth during December, the exact date to be announced soon.

Four scouts out of 47 in Northville troops attended the hike and none of the parents accompanied the boys, declared Scoutmaster Owen, although they were all invited. The showing was not, he said, an excellent one.

Homemaker's Corner

A DAY OF SILENCE

Not that we do not love our family—dear me, no. They are the very "apple of our eye" but we will honestly admit, fellow homemakers, that it is with a sigh of genuine relief that we wave them off with their "Dad" to spend a day in the city. One day of silence! How refreshing to rest our nerves from the squealing and teasing, the blatant jazz of the radio, the necessity of settling disputes.

Ever since we heard of Gandhi's "day of silence" we have longed to try this experiment—and here it is! No, we will not follow this Indian leader's example and swear ourselves in a sheet and sit spinning and meditating. It's too good a chance to let slip. We'll do our best to keep our mouths shut and our tongues tied. We'll do our best to keep our mouths shut and our tongues tied. We'll do our best to keep our mouths shut and our tongues tied.

The minutes seem hours as imagination runs riot and pictures the mangled forms of our loved ones beneath a wrecked car. Who ever thought silence could be pleasant?

What's that? Hunk hunk hunk! A car stops and it's bound, hunk hunk, happy, all talking at once and safe. A day of silence! Never again!

ANOTHER RECIPE

Some more of the good things they fed us down on the farm. Cousin Marie's Yum Yum Cakes. One package raisins, 2 cups of sugar, 2 tablespoons butter, one-third teaspoon salt, 3 teaspoons cinnamon. Boil the above together 5 minutes and cool. When cool add 3 cups flour and 1 heaping teaspoon baking powder. Bake one hour in moderate oven. Top with chocolate icing.

Very Good Chocolate Icing. Melt 1/2 squares of chocolate. Add 1 teaspoon butter, 2 teaspoons top milk, little salt. Stir in 1 beaten egg yolk. Vanilla. Add sifted confectioners sugar until thick enough to spread (about three-fourths cup)

Novi News

Report cards for the first month were given, but Tuesday the following pupils on the Honor Roll had no marks below B: Wilma Chafy, Dorothy Stubbs, Thelma Gog, Margaret Hill, Bernice Sperkowski, Jean Munro, and Eddy Elyo, of the primary department; Raymond Beatty, Vincent Beatty, Raymond Sperkowski, Thelma Keen, and Nina Wenker of the Intermediate grades; Mervin Trotter, Edwin Hill, Elmer Toietine, Dorothy Tyler, James Munro, and Eleanor Stubbs of the high school.

The high school party held Friday night was attended by nearly everyone. The playing of some old fashioned games was greatly enjoyed as well as the sandwiches, doughnuts, and cider furnished by the losing side in the magazine contest.

The baseball team defeated the team from West Point Monday night by a score of 3 to 2. Gerald Trotter pitched a very good game for Novi, and the playing of Sperkowski was especially good. Joe brought in two runs with a long hit and his fielding of some hard grounders saved the team from certain defeat. Hanson also made a nice hit which brought in the winning run.

The ninth grade English class were so successful in writing news stories of school events that the pupils decided that they would like to publish a school paper. The Student Association, recently organized, will sponsor the paper. Elmer Toietine was chosen editor and Mervin Trotter business manager. More details concerning the publication will be announced later.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen and family of Detroit have rented the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. John Huffman, and will take possession about Nov. 1. Mr. and Mrs. Huffman expect to leave for Hillsdale next week.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Bates of Buchanan, Mich., are staying with Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Munro.

Mrs. Wm. Mairs and Mrs. J. O. Munro attended the Home Economics training class at Walled Lake Tuesday.

Edwin Andrews, who was injured in a traffic accident about a month ago, left the hospital Saturday and is convalescing at the home of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Andrews.

Report cards for the first month were given, but Tuesday the following pupils on the Honor Roll had no marks below B: Wilma Chafy, Dorothy Stubbs, Thelma Gog, Margaret Hill, Bernice Sperkowski, Jean Munro, and Eddy Elyo, of the primary department; Raymond Beatty, Vincent Beatty, Raymond Sperkowski, Thelma Keen, and Nina Wenker of the Intermediate grades; Mervin Trotter, Edwin Hill, Elmer Toietine, Dorothy Tyler, James Munro, and Eleanor Stubbs of the high school.

The high school party held Friday night was attended by nearly everyone. The playing of some old fashioned games was greatly enjoyed as well as the sandwiches, doughnuts, and cider furnished by the losing side in the magazine contest.

The baseball team defeated the team from West Point Monday night by a score of 3 to 2. Gerald Trotter pitched a very good game for Novi, and the playing of Sperkowski was especially good. Joe brought in two runs with a long hit and his fielding of some hard grounders saved the team from certain defeat. Hanson also made a nice hit which brought in the winning run.

The ninth grade English class were so successful in writing news stories of school events that the pupils decided that they would like to publish a school paper. The Student Association, recently organized, will sponsor the paper. Elmer Toietine was chosen editor and Mervin Trotter business manager. More details concerning the publication will be announced later.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen and family of Detroit have rented the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. John Huffman, and will take possession about Nov. 1. Mr. and Mrs. Huffman expect to leave for Hillsdale next week.

SCHOOL FOOTBALL TEAM WINS FIRST GAME OF YEAR 19-6

Shipley, Bender, McCordie Score Points Behind Strong Offense

Coach Harold Ruggles' high school gridiron warriors in a spectacular game last Friday, defeated the team from Country Day, 19-6. The fast charging line completely overpowered the defense of the visitors, enabling Shipley, Bender, and McCordie to follow up Northville's score. Bender made the only touchdown for Country Day.

Opening the first quarter, Country Day fumbled and Northville recovered. They then began a march down the field which ended in a first score of the game. Beginning with a twelve yard gain by Campbell, Shipley smashed through the center of the line, for the touchdown. Schrader rushed for three, missed the placement. He made up for it, however, by booting a nice kick-off down the left side of the field. The situation was then reversed, and Country Day began her march. After a series of constant gains, a touchdown was made, following which they failed for the after point.

Early in the second quarter, Bender skirted the right end for a long gain, but as in the next series of downs, Northville was unable to make her yardage, the ball went to Country Day. The home team, however, quickly recovered the ball and following a penalty of five yards for being off-side, Kerr ripped through his own tight guard for a first down. This was the start of another touchdown drive. After a completed pass from Bender to Ware, Bender plunged across the goal line. The half ended with the ball in Country Day's possession on the 40 yard line.

Beginning the third period with a determined team, Country Day advanced the ball on the kick-off to the fifty yard line after which she was forced to kick. After two plunges and another penalty, Bender punted. Country Day carried this back to Northville's ten yard line and on a smash through tackle, brought the ball within inches of the

N. H. S. JOURNALISTS TO REPORT NEWS OF LOWER GRADES

The grades are one of the most interesting as well as important divisions in our school. Their activities are also of interest to a good many people and so from the 50th room on up an accurate account of the doings in the first six grades will try to be presented each week.

The B section first grade has 42 pupils with five new children. One A and two B, both of which are in the same room, have two new children, Sam Hines and Mary Vanallen of Detroit.

Miss Jarvis in the two A and three B room has Shirley Carick, Harriet Shatt, and Frederick Miral for beginners, while Miss E. MacDonald in the first grade has Phyllis Murphy, a new pupil, and forty-nine others.

Coming back to the fourth grade, Maxine Lemmon and John Dickson are the new pupils among Miss Wilson's 50 third graders.

It was then that the Northville defense was at its best, preventing the visiting team from gaining single inch of ground in three downs. After a kick by Northville, Country Day again was stopped by the strong defense and another time by Northville, the ball fell in again in the middle of the field.

With the time growing short, Country Day began an aerial attack which, however, was unsuccessful. With Northville again getting the ball, two line plunges were followed by a punt. The Detroit school tried passing again, and completed one short toss for a gain of a few yards. Following this, Country Day attempted a smash off right tackle, when the final whistle blew ending the game.

The line-ups were as follows:

Baldwin	L. E.	Cornwall
Kohler	L. T.	Lubolt
Neal	L. G.	Yorkick
Steenchen	C.	Simon
Haas	R. G.	Haas
Schrader	R. T.	Knight
Ware	R. E.	Harris
Bender	L. H.	Stevens
McCordie	Capt. R. H.	Medowh
Campbell	Q.	Gagner
Hicks	F. B.	Hicks

Substitutes for Northville: Kerr, Deal Marburger, Moffitt, Bray, Dundas, Greenlee, Bray, Boyd, Strautz, Matthews, Vradenburg, Nurdar and Gregory.

ROUND THE SCHOOL

Learned from Mrs. Chapman's English literature class that Francis Bacon, famous English writer, was in reality a "big ham".

The traffic jam around the school seems to be getting sticky. We even hear that one car from the vicinity of Nov. had some spread on.

We keep this column away from such people as "Ad" Schwenger of the Record, and Mr. Knapp. They would tell us that we either had omitted the verb or used the word ungrammatically (of which there ain't no such animal).

We were simply overwhelmed by the cheers given for the team last Friday. The only trouble was we couldn't hear them. We would suggest that the cheerleaders and spectators really cheer this afternoon and we mean, yell.

We missed the band last week. A part of every school activity, especially football games, they were conspicuously lacking.

We learned that the reason for their absence was that they had not been asked. Now that they have been, we trust that they will be on the job this afternoon. And don't you dare trust that patron, Beverly!

FOOTBALL

Our fighting football team breaks into spirit! And from a daily paper, too. The following headed "Country Day Bows" is taken from the Detroit Free Press of Saturday, October 8.

Northville's prep gridder defeated Detroit Country Day School, 19 to 6, here this afternoon. Eddie Bender, Dick Shipley, and Capt. Geo. McCordie scored touchdowns for the winners. Capt. Nelson Leibold made the only touchdown for the visitors.

This is certainly very fine and we (and the football team) appreciate the fact that it was sent in by our local correspondent. We do not blame him for the "George" in McCordie.

We would like to say that for an opening game, Northville certainly showed plenty of fight. Throughout the whole game, everyone was putting up a battle. It seems to us, though, that the best part of the whole afternoon was the marvelous defense put up by our orange and black clad warriors in the last quarter when they stopped Country Day from gaining a single inch in three downs. The ball (and we hope you saw this) was right on the goal line, D. C. D. S. plunged, three times he banged the line and three times hit a stone wall. The defense of Coach Ruggles' "nature in the rams" may not have been exceptional during the rest of the game, but their amazing air-tight holding in that fourth period, seems to us to have made up for the rest.

The Northville "tiger" (and we are going to have a tiger, too, you just wait and see) is now going after Berkley's skin right this afternoon. And do we want it? Well if you had just seen those boys practice.

SCHOOL LIBRARY OPENS UNDER THE CHARGE OF MRS. RAY

The high school library, in charge of Mrs. Martha Ray, opened last Monday, October 10. The girls who will assist her, as they have done in past years have not yet been named.

About $262.80 has been paid to the students for used books. These books were sold at second hand at approximately half price, and credit on new books was given to the student who sold them. This system saves the students a considerable sum of money.

The school bought new books amounting to $311.98. More new books have been ordered and though not here yet, are expected to arrive some time next week.

DID YOU NOTICE

The three dignified seniors who were sent out of the assembly last Friday?

That the band was absent at the football game last Friday? Maybe they need some boosting too.

And also that the cheering section was pretty weak last Friday at the football game? I wouldn't blame the football team for losing all of the rest of the games of the season—but our team is not made up of quitters.

That post graduate who was told by Mrs. Chapman that even he could not talk in assembly? Better be careful Mr. Ex-President of the senior class of '32.

That none of the football squad wore their football jerseys over the week end? Smatter Eddie?

That the whole of the French II class is never in the room at the same time? I wonder why.

The smile on the faces of the students in the assembly when they found that an offer had been made by a fountain pen company to give one pen in good condition (built over) for two fountain pens that were of no value and would not write?

That the first senior dance is a long time in coming?

Who picked up the information for this column? Of course not, you were not supposed to.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT PLAY SKETCHED AT ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

Nearly every other Wednesday programs are held in the assembly for the entertainment and instruction of the student body. This Wednesday, three sketches of the play "What Anne Brought Home" were given. The first was very ably given by Florence Johnson, Gertrude Deal, Madeline Haystead, Maurice Giles, Winifred McCordie, Henry Hoffman, and Alfred Parmenter. In this sketch Anne was showing the family what she brought home.

In the second sketch, Herp, the high-powered salesman, was selling Anne and Alma, all characters, how he managed to get into Raymond's office and sell him the old mill. The people who took part in this were: Winifred McCordie, Henry Hoffman, Dayton Deal and Gertrude Deal.

The third and last presentation, given by Alfred Parmenter and Henry Hoffman, showed Duke Henry trying to type a letter. Duke just happened in so he had to type the letter for him. The manner in which Uncle Henry dictated the letter was very amusing.

Everyone will have an opportunity of seeing the whole play either Friday, October 14, or Friday, October 26. The play will start at 8 o'clock and will be held in the high school auditorium.

LOCAL QUARTET TO APPEAR VERY SOON IN FIVE CONCERTS

After several weeks of rehearsing, the quartet, composed of Pierre Kanyon, Leslie G. Lee, Carl Byrre and Alfred Smith, accompanied by Mrs. Flora Brennan, has built up a fine repertoire of the better grade of music. These singers have already made two appearances and have five more scheduled for the near future. The quartet will present a full evening concert during the coming winter. The selections are varied and new numbers are being continually added.

At present the quartet has the following repertoire: "Dedication," "Franz," "Now Farewell Thou Village By Way," "Sleher," "On the Sea," "Buck," "The Drum," "Gibson," "The Long Day Closes," Sullivan, "The Feller Gal That Winked at Me," Hernandez, "A Travesty on the Quarter from Rigoletto," Verdi, "Gay Days," "Bugle Song," "Buck," "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers," Leon Jessel, "Passing By," Purrell, "Cherubim," Hyner, Bortniansky, "Carol of the Russian Children," Harvey Gaul, "Carol of the Birds," Paul Zahn Weaver, "Lo, How A Rose E'er Blooming," Paeonius, "Bless the Lord O' My Soul."

A CAPPELLA CHOIR BEGINS PRACTICE

Possibly sounds have been heard emitting from the music room the sixth hour. If so it is the newly organized class that will be known as the A Cappella Choir. It is composed of members from the Senior Girls and Senior Boys Glee Clubs. This organization meets four times each week.

The purpose of the choir is to develop a superior singing group among the high school students. They will be heard often this season in a number of school programs and at social affairs in Northville.

Points to be stressed are a smooth sustained tone, quality, good pronunciation, a balance of parts and interpretation.

The choir is composed of the following: First soprano—Margaret Hay, Madeline Haystead, Mary Jane Denne, Mary Louise Boyden and Marion Turnbull. Second sopranos—Gertrude Deal, Eleanor Grosvenor, and Violet Johnson. Alto—Jane Lester, Florence Johnson, Marie Lemmon, Winifred McCordie and Eunice Cousins. Tenors—Henry Hoffman, Dayton Deal, Maurice Giles, Leo Kohler, and Monroe Weston. The bass section is made up of Ernest Racz, Merle Fraser, John Steenchen, Paul Beard, Bob Lyke, Howard Latta, and Don Keeney.

SOCIETY NOTES

Roy Warner's sisters arranged a pleasant surprise party to honor him on his 18th birthday last Thursday. The evening was spent in playing cards and refreshments were served. Those present at this occasion were Harold Booth, Merle Fraser, Kenneth Eichen, Albert Vradenburg, Ward Vanatta, Wayne Thompson and Jack McLoughlin.

The Misses Arline Richardson and Esther Parmenter motored to Lansing Saturday afternoon to see Michigan State play Grinnell.

Madeline Haystead, Helen Christenson, and Catherine McKenna spent Friday night with Eleanor Eaton.

He—I have killed five flies, two masculine and three feminine.

She—How do you know that?

He—Two were on the table and three on the looking glass.

SUPT. KNAPP AND PRIN. AMERMAN ARE HEARD AT ASSEMBLY

During the first period Monday morning, the classes were called back to the assembly in order for Supt. T. J. Knapp to make an announcement. Prin. R. H. Amerman followed him, explaining briefly the schedule and various other arrangements.

The students were informed by Mr. Knapp that by bringing two old fountain pens to school Thursday, they would receive a good sized one in return. He warned against taking the "new" literally, stating that the pen received would be one that had been used before, though still in good condition. "These pens are to be taken in by a company whose business is re-conditioning old fountain pens," said Mr. Knapp, "and will be used in their business. From the parts of the two old pens, the company can afford to give opened ones in return. The pens given, the company is quoted as saying, 'warning should not be in good condition as the pen received will not warrant it.'"

As a result of this offer, a large number of fountain pens came pouring into the principal's office yesterday. The used pens are expected to arrive within a couple of weeks.

Mr. Amerman also talked at the gathering. He said that the seating arrangements in the assembly would be completed in a day or so, and that due to the large attendance, in a few days, several persons might have to sit together.

Emphasizing again as he has in the past, the splendid co-operation on the part of the faculty and students in the opening days of school, he concluded by explaining the fire drill regulations.

"As no one wishes to stay in a burning building," stated the principal, "all should make it a point to know where he or she should go at the sound of the fire alarm." Numerous fire drills will be held throughout the year and a list of the regulations and precautions to be followed will appear soon in the Orange and Black.

SENIOR ACTIVITIES MANY TO PRESENT LECTURE ON HEALTH

The Seniors have begun their work for the year with a bang. They had a fine start with their booth at the fair, and at the last football game they sold hot dogs and did very well. They plan to do so again this afternoon. It is hoped all will buy hot dogs and help the Senior class.

Next Monday, October 17, an interesting talk will be given in the high school by H. P. Tull on "Health and Natural Foods." If the Senior class can find fifty couples who will attend they will be given $15, otherwise they get 25¢ a couple. The admission is free and a delicious lunch will be served. Everyone is urged to attend because it will benefit all as well as the class with no cost to either. This is at 7:30 p. m.

The first Senior dance will be held soon. More will be written about this so watch for it.

Society Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Lapham Entertain at Dinner

Last Thursday evening, at their home on West Six Mile road, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Lapham entertained at dinner and bridge. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Fraser Spemann and Miss Geraldine Heft of Northville and Mr. Alburn Salow of Detroit.

Mrs. Atchison Entertains Informally On Short Notice

Mrs. R. E. Atchison is a woman who can get up a party "while you wait." At 10:30 last Thursday morning she decided it would be a fine day to invite in a few friends for a good time. Invitations were issued post haste by telephone and that afternoon a company of friends enjoyed very informally a good time together with delicious refreshments served at the conclusion of the event.

Mrs. Thompson Is Hostess Twice During the Week

Mrs. Frank L. Thompson entertained her bridge club very pleasantly last Thursday afternoon when the usual two tables of ladies played bridge. Refreshments were served following the games.

On the following Monday afternoon, in spite of the rainy day, a delightful time was enjoyed at the Thompson home when the members of the Fleur de Lis club gathered for an afternoon at bridge. This club of long time friends is especially congenial. The hostess served a dainty lunch during the afternoon.

Nan McLoughlin Celebrates Twelfth Birthday

Reaching twelve years of age is occasion enough for a little girl to have a party, so Miss Nancy McLoughlin invited in a few girls to help her make merry last Friday evening. A delightful time was heartily enjoyed in this hospitable home and a dainty supper, with a birthday cake lighted with twelve candles, was served by Nan's mother, Mrs. J. M. McLoughlin. Besides her two sisters, Patricia and Tom, other guests were Barbara Phillips, Betty Schrader, Ida Altman of this village and Jean Baldwin of Ann Arbor.

The Hinkleys Open Their Home With Hospitality

In spite of the blustery autumn night "it's always fair weather when good fellows get together." So thought the club of husbands and wives who gathered to enjoy the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hinkley Monday evening. Potluck supper began the good time and the rest of the time was informally spent at bridge.

Wednesday Bridge Meets First With Mrs. Stewart

After a long summer vacation the Wednesday bridge club resumed its activities with its first meeting of the year with Mrs. L. C. Stewart as hostess. The eight ladies who make up this group are Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. John Walker, Mrs. E. B. Cavall, Mrs. J. N. McLoughlin, Mrs. Fred Broad, Mrs. H. H. Burkart, Mrs. R. H. Soley and Mrs. E. R. Eaton. Dessert luncheon was served.

Mrs. Power Hostess to Contract Club

A prettily appointed luncheon at one o'clock prefaced the afternoon of contract bridge enjoyed by a company of Northville women at the country home of Mrs. Sumner Power, Tuesday afternoon. These women have graduated from auction to the intricacies of contract, some having become very proficient. Those enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. Power were Mrs. E. E. Miller, Mrs. E. C. Hinkley, Mrs. Mae Perkins, Mrs. Scott Lovewell, Mrs. Sherwin Hill, Mrs. H. York and Mrs. Margaret Curtis, the last named from Grosse Pointe.

Methodist "Dorcas" Stiff Sociably Together

In preparation for their annual pre-Christmas bazaar a company of Methodist women gathered at the parsonage Tuesday to sew for this evening. Gay aprons of many designs and other useful articles were made to the music of four sewing machines and about forty tongues. Small wonder that the preacher escaped to the farthest corner of his study, emerging only long enough to enjoy a potluck dinner with the ladies at five. Much was accomplished by the many hands at work directed by the chairman, Mrs. Samuel S. Slater. A brief program was a part of the afternoon enjoyed together.

Rotarians Are Hosts To Teachers of Our Schools

The teachers of the Northville public schools, together with their husbands or wives, were guests of the Rotary club and the Rotary "Anns" at an excellent steak dinner at the Presbyterian church house Tuesday evening. The guests were introduced to the group following the dinner and welcomed to the community. Prof. Percy Angove, Rotary president, was in charge.

Speaking for the teachers, Craig Harold L. Rugles expressed appreciation for the hospitality. Utmost informality prevailed throughout and a deeper understanding and acquaintance between the teaching staff and the local citizens was brought about through the gathering.

Following the dinner a quartet composed of Leslie G. Lee, Carl H. Bryan, Pierre Kenyon and Alfred Smith rendered a program of two groups of three songs. Especially appreciated seemed to be the "Travesty on Rigoletto."

A play by a group of high school students directed by Mr. Lee was well chosen for the players who took their parts remarkably well.

Honor paid to A. R. Marz for his "hole in one" is mentioned elsewhere in this issue.

Laboratory Staff of Maybury Tie Them to the Open

Gathered about a campfire at Rocky Point, on the Huron river, near Ann Arbor, fifteen members of the Maybury Sanatorium laboratory staff, accompanied by their director, Dr. H. S. Willis, and his family, enjoyed a late autumn campfire last evening (Thursday). Steak never tasted better than under the pleasant circumstances.

Mrs. McKenna of Northville was also among the guests.

First P. T. A. Largely Attended Last Evening

With a fine attendance of interested parents of school children the first Parent-Teachers' association opened with great interest last evening. At 7:30 the group spent a half hour or more in visiting the rooms of their respective children when they met the teachers and saw the school environment.

The formal meeting was called in the high school gym with the new president, Mrs. E. W. Lester, presiding. Mrs. T. P. Brennan led a very thoughtful discussion on the subject "The Psychology of the School Child."

A community sing directed by Mr. Lee put everyone in good spirits.

Mrs. Washburn Hostess At Benefit Bridge

At her pretty home in Oakwood Mrs. C. B. Washburn entertained very pleasantly a company of sixty guests at a bridge tea for the benefit of charity last Saturday afternoon. Most of the guests were members of the A. D. A. club of Detroit to which Mrs. Washburn belonged when she lived in Detroit previous to her residence in Lansing before coming to Northville recently.

One Table Was Complicated of Northville Friends, Mrs. H. S. Willis, Mrs. N. F. McKinney, Mrs. L. C. Stewart and Mrs. J. F. Busby

Tea was served in the course of the afternoon and the guests from the city thoroughly enjoyed the autumn beauty of the woodland location.

Mrs. Roy Booth Gives Dinner In Honor of Son, Harold

Eighteen friends and relatives of the Booth family sat down to a delicious dinner Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Booth on the Seven Mile road, honoring their son, Harold, whose 19th birthday had occurred the day previously.

In the party were Harold's grandfather, Robert Crosby and his uncle, Jas. Crosby, both of Dearborn. Among the Northville guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Long and son, Billy, and Mr. and Mrs. John Moore and little daughter, Dianne. During the evening other callers were Chief of Police Wm. Safford and Mrs. Safford.

Harold is a graduate of the Redford high school and is this year continuing his study with post graduate work in the Northville high school.

Wohn-Nelson Nuptials Celebrated Tuesday

At nine o'clock Tuesday morning, Oct. 11, Miss Jessie M. Nelson, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John K. Nelson of Northville, and John J. Wohn, son of Mrs. L. Wohn of Plymouth, were united in marriage by Rev. Father Schuler, before an assembly of more than 200 relatives and friends at Our Lady of Victory Church in Northville.

The bride wore a beautiful formal gown of white point d'esprit net over white taffeta. Her veil was finished in cap effect and held in place by a coronet of pearls. She wore a three strand necklace of pearls, with a diamond clasp, the gift of the groom. A shower bouquet of white rosebuds and baby breath, completed the lovely costume as she was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Margaret Turner of Farmington is maid of honor, wore an ankle length, form-fitting gown of new rough crepe in palest pink with velvet turban and other accessories to match. She carried an arm bouquet of pink rosebuds tied with wide pink streamers.

Miss Bernice Delvo of Plymouth, as bridesmaid, was clad in an ankle length, form fitting dress of deep peach taffeta, trimmed with velvet ruchings, a tan silk turban and silver slippers. She carried an arm bouquet of pink rosebuds tied with peach streamers.

Miss Esther Egge of Plymouth as second bridesmaid, wore a powder blue gown with a short velvet jacket of darker blue, a close fitting tan fur-trimmed and two-tone blonde slippers completed her costume. She carried yellow roses tied with wide yellow streamers.

Mrs. Wohn was attended by Raymond Levanowski of Newburg, as best man. Harold Nelson, a brother of the bride, was usher.

Miss Norma Miller of Northville played the organ while John Schuler, pastor of Plymouth, sang the high mass also sang, "On This Day."

The altar and communion rail of church were made beautiful by large baskets of white asters and baby's breath.

Following the church services a wedding breakfast was served to 35, at the home of the bride's parents, which included only the bridal party and the immediate families. A reception was held from 7 to 10 in the evening for about 125 guests who came from Flint, New Hudson, Detroit, Dearborn, Wayne, Adrian, Plymouth, Valiant and Northville.

Forty Years Activity of WOMAN'S CLUB OUTLINED BY PAST PRESIDENTS

anxiety as they knit for their soldier boys over seas.

Speaking of the history of the past ten years, Mrs. Christensen brought her "Cargo of Pearls" in a very significant manner. By this time the club had become a real factor in community life. Voicing the sentiments of the various presidents of this period Mrs. Christensen stated that the "pearls" gathered on their voyage were "loyalty" of club members, intimate friendships formed, the fragrance of kind deeds done and pride in service rendered.

Mrs. B. Freydl, in the "Cargo of Pearls" green for the anniversary of the club, gave a general survey and appreciation of the work accomplished. By this time the club has become federated and has broadened its vision in contact with other clubs and by the frequent presence of speakers of note.

Adding to the spirit of reminiscence a quartet composed of Mrs. W. Johnston, Mrs. Sherwin Hill, Mrs. Lesie G. Lee and Miss Reva Schrader, accompanied by Mrs. N. F. McKinney, sang groups of old songs, favorites of other days. These songs were rendered the more effective by the quaintly beautiful gowns worn by these ladies. These songs revived old memories and were received with appreciation.

The luncheon was lovely in all its appointments with vases of pink flowers with their foliage carrying out the club colors, pink and green. The affair was one of the outstanding events in the club's history and presages a good year about to begin. The club is estimated as the largest in its history now numbering about 125 representative women of Northville.

SESSIONS HOSPITAL

Mrs. May Hofstall underwent a major operation Friday and is recovering well.

Mrs. Elizabeth Grehnan, mother of Phil H. Grehnan, is a patient in the hospital receiving medical care.

Nick Delmaris, local restaurateur, was brought to the hospital Wednesday suffering with an attack of appendicitis.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Price of Detroit, Oct. 8, a son, Jack Richard Mrs. Price was Miss Ellen Stevens of Wixom.

Little Billy Holcomb will be able to return to his home in Walled Lake Saturday after recovering from a serious illness with a ruptured appendix.

The numerous lovely gifts which they received showed the esteem in which they are held by all their friends.
