

COMSTOCK TO TALK AT RALLY ON SATURDAY

Democrats of Northville and Plymouth Meet Here Tomorrow

Northville and Plymouth democrats will hold a rally here tomorrow. Wm. A. Comstock, democratic candidate for governor will be the main speaker at the democratic rally to be held in the auditorium of the high school tomorrow (Saturday) evening beginning at nine o'clock.

Other speakers will be Thomas C. Wilcox, former Detroit police commissioner, now candidate for the office of sheriff of Wayne county, and George Bushnell, candidate for the office of Wayne county prosecuting attorney.

The Northville community band will furnish music for the occasion. According to sponsors of this meeting, additional leaders of the democratic campaign have promised to be present but their attendance is not certain so no speeches by them have been scheduled.

M. J. Murphy, prominent Northville democrat, will preside over the meeting as chairman.

ROTARY CLUB HAS ROUSING DISCUSSION ON THE AMENDMENTS

Northville Rotarians had a lively debate at their meeting Tuesday on the "pros and cons" of the seven amendments and one referendum that will be presented to the voters of the state next Tuesday, Nov. 8.

The discussion was preceded by talks on the eight proposals by Rev. Harold C. Whitfield and R. T. Baldwin. Then the "fur began to fly" as the members took up various angles of the amendments and finally President Percy Angove closed the session nearly half an hour after closing time.

Due to the controversial nature of some of the amendments, the club thought it best not to vote on any of the measures.

Readers of the Record who wish to get the exact meaning of the proposals will find them all on another page of this paper.

A. E. ANDERSON OPENS STORE IN PLYMOUTH

Plymouth is to have a new business place on Saturday, Nov. 5, when the A. E. and Gift shop, under the management of A. L. Anderson of Northville, opens in the building formerly occupied by the Willoughby shoe store.

The new store will carry a complete line of art goods, greeting cards, costume jewelry, bridge prizes, plaques, tally cards, and other art shop stock.

"Andy," Northville friends wish him success in his new venture.

BEHRENDT HAS FINE RECORD

Law and order cannot prevail in a community as long as hoodlums and racketeers are allowed to operate and that is why Sheriff Henry Behrendt has done Wayne county a service and has performed his duties well during his first term in office.

The sheriff, who seeks re-election as the republican candidate, Nov. 8, promised the citizens of Wayne county two years that if elected he would make Wayne county clean.

Sheriff Behrendt proceeded with a constructive program of administration in the sheriff's office developing Wayne county's criminal identification bureau to one of the best in the United States.

Standing on his record, Sheriff Behrendt says: "I promised the citizens of Wayne county that if elected I would make Wayne county clean. I have done so. If re-elected I shall continue to keep the county clean."

APPLE THIEVES SENTENCED

James Vass, Paul Tulak, and Alex Orban of Delray appeared before Judge Wellington Roberts Monday morning on a charge of stealing apples from the Ralph Gibson farm, south of town.

Al pled guilty and were given the alternative of a $20 fine and $10 costs or 30 days in the House of Correction. Vass paid the fine and the other two took the jail sentence.

FINAL PLANS COMPLETED FOR SATURDAY, MONDAY AND TUESDAY DOLLAR DAYS

Merchants Place Fall and Winter Stocks On Sale Tomorrow at New Reduced Prices

Thrifty shoppers are planning on doing much of their Christmas shopping during Northville's three big shopping days, Saturday, Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 5-7-8.

New stocks opened and placed attractively on store counters reveal a wealth of fall and winter merchandise that is "seasonable and inexpensive." Prices have dropped to the point where a ten dollar bill will go a long way toward buying a fairly large quantity of buying groceries for a considerable time.

Merchants are sampling the sensible Christmas shopper who does not wish to wait until the last minute when prices have gone up and the stocks are shop worn and "picked over" by the judicious buying.

This enables them to place on sale real quality goods at rock-bottom prices.

Northville's Dollar Days will begin on Saturday with the usual Saturday crowd participating in the bargain event. Those unable to shop on Saturday will have Monday and Tuesday to "reap a harvest" on the wonderful values.

Tuesday being Election Day it is probable that many of the rural shoppers will come into Northville at that time in order to cast their ballots and participate in the Dollar Days at the same time.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE IS EFFICIENT

Pioneer work is being done these days in the offices of the state attorney general, East W. Voorhies, former Plymouth high school graduate.

Mr. Voorhies, aided by his capable assistants, Sidney A. Brown and John H. McPherson, has had charge of preparing the petitions for reopening Northville's two closed banks. All legal work in connection with reopening closed banks throughout the state has been handled through this office and much of it has been of a pioneering nature.

According to John A. Boyce, chairman of the Depositors' Committee, practically no petitions prepared by the state attorney general's office have been refused by any judge, a tribute to the efficiency and thoroughness of the state's legal department.

REPUBLICANS HOLD RALLY ON TUESDAY

Strong appeals to the voters to compare the men on both party tickets, and to stand by Governor Brucker, and President Herbert Hoover in one of the greatest times of crisis the nation has ever known were made in rousing speeches at a republican rally at the Fenland-Allea theatre Tuesday evening.

William Gaudin, county auditor, Herman Lau, treasurer, and Harry S. Toiv, prosecutor, spoke in behalf of the county ticket. John H. McPherson of the attorney general's office, made a plea for support of the state ticket and George A. Dohdoro, candidate for congress in the 17th district, and Attorney Joe Levinson of Chicago, brought the meeting to a splendid climax with rousing speeches in defense of the policies of President Herbert Hoover.

Supervisor W. A. Ely, presided.

After numbers by the band, a male quartet from County Clerk Farrell's office, through the courtesy of Chas. Blackburn, sang several numbers much to the pleasure of the audience.

The first speaker to be introduced by the chairman, Mr. Ely, was William Gaudin, county auditor, who advocated the apportionment bill as an amendment to the state constitution, whereby the state senate would be changing one-half its members for four years, the balance two years, and thereafter every four years.

Herman Lau, county treasurer, next spoke of the reduction that had been made in taxes since he was in office, and asked the voters to return him to office that he might further carry out his work.

Prosecutor Toiv, who is a candidate for re-election, discussed the crime situation and told his hearers that the prosecutor's vigorous efforts had reduced murders from 16 per 100,000 to 8 per 100,000 in Detroit and that there had been no kidnapping in Detroit for two years.

Praising his remarks by appealing to the thinking voter to disregard the slanderous handbills which have been distributed on Northville (Continued on Page Four)

The Danger of Change

Everyone in Northville and surrounding territory will be interested in the following significant clipping taken from an editorial in The Detroit News of Nov. 2. In view of the fact that The News is an independent newspaper, its statement has unusual meaning for the thoughtful voter. Here is what The News said:

President Hoover has proved his breadth, a great executive capacity and the courage to stand against dangerous extremism when rampant in a hostile Congress. That would still be true if he confronted another hostile Congress.

As to the NOW, we must wait for months if Roosevelt is elected, until his Administration can be formed, take charge and get to work. Changing Presidents at this time does involve risks, a possible change of public psychology, an interruption of Hoover's great reconstruction labors.

Crowd Hears Ann Arbor Lawyers Debate the Issues of Campaign At the Salem Federated Church

Several Northvillites were in attendance at the chicken pie supper and good old-fashioned political campaign debate in the Salem Federated church last Friday evening when Attorneys George Burke and Roscoe Bonsteel of Ann Arbor were defenders respectively of the democratic and republican parties. The church was filled to capacity.

Mr. Bonsteel found much to praise in the administration of Mr. Hoover saying "that President Wilson appointed him to join his cabinet, having and courage thought highly enough of him to have Hoover or grace their cabinets." He further stated, "that the nations looked to Hoover for constructive guidance and leadership."

Mr. Burke, the democratic standard bearer, thought the republicans relied too much on their illustrious leaders long since dead and made an appeal to the working man by arousing his fears. He further stated that "Henry Ford and his wife showed poor wisdom in failing to register" and further remarked that "Ford evidenced a high grade of subtle propaganda in advising his men in their pay envelopes to vote for Hoover."

Coda Salvay was the chairman of the evening and introduced the speakers. The pastor of the church, Miss Cord Bennett, opened the evening with songs by the congregation, scripture reading, and invoked a prayer for a blessing upon those gathered there that they might profit and benefit from what the speakers had to say.

Mrs. Sarah Stanbo 85 years of age, who has played the organ at this church for 65 years, was the accompanist as the big audience joined heartily in the singing.

Mrs. Catherine Gibson, Robert Gibson, Miss Louis VanValkenbark attended the Friendly Neighbor society at the home of Mrs. Merle Roebacher in Plymouth this week.

Vicious Election Circulars Prove To Be a Boomerang

Intense resentment has been aroused in Northville the past two days by the circulation of vicious propaganda here against President Herbert Hoover and George A. Dohdoro, republican candidate for congress from the new 17th district, in which Northville is located.

One of these circulars is headed "Tear Gas Hoover" and the other is a pink sheet making a violent personal attack on Mr. Dohdoro. The Hoover attack carried at the bottom, "Vote for Harry Mitchell, democratic candidate for congress in the 17th district."

Both local democrats and republicans have joined in condemnation of these unfair tactics. Both circulars seem to have been designed to aid Mr. Mitchell, but according to many comments that are heard here they are a boomerang against the Pontiac man.

Members of both parties should certainly beware of "last minute" election stories. Such methods of campaigning are contemptible and will be resented by all fair-minded and thinking people.

CAMPAIGN WILL END TUESDAY

NORTHVILLE HIGH MEETS PLYMOUTH

This afternoon at 3:30 o'clock sharp, rather than the former time of 6 o'clock, the Northville high school football team will play its biggest game of the year at the fairgrounds, with Plymouth high.

Plymouth has won twice in succession, in 1930 and 1931, and Coach Harold Ruggles' orange and black clad warriors are going to "give everything they have" to prevent them from winning again.

Northville won its first game from Country Day school and has lost two since, to Berkley and Trenton. While Plymouth's schedule, with the exception of Country Day, to whom they lost, does not include any of the schools that Northville plays, the teams they have played have been very good. Though beaten in all except the one game with Wayne last Friday, Plymouth has shown up so consistently, and especially so in their game last week that Northville is not expected to suffer from overconfidence, and the teams will be very evenly matched as they go on the field this afternoon.

Schradet, who severely hurt his ankle about three weeks ago, has recovered sufficiently to permit him to be in uniform today.

It should be particularly noted that the time of the game has been changed from the customary four o'clock to three-thirty p. m. The price of admission is 25c.

There will also be two large bands present at the game.

Both Sides Claim Victory As Election Day Brings Heated Debating to a Close

The four-year struggle between republicans and democrats will be climaxed Tuesday, Nov. 8, election day, at the polls throughout the country.

Assuming titanic proportions, the struggle extends from national politics to state and county areas, with both sides predicting victory, democrats claiming a landslide in their favor and the republicans believing they will triumph on a rising tide of Hoover votes.

LEADERS HERE LOOK FORWARD TO NEW BANK

Northville awaits only the legal hearings in Detroit before plans are laid to complete the opening of the new bank.

According to John A. Boyce, chairman of the Northville Bank Depositors' Committee, steps following the hearings before Detroit Circuit Judges Joseph A. Moynihan and Dewitt H. Merriam with regard to opening Northville's closed banks will include: (1) a date set for the termination of the receiverships, (2) elimination of numerous legal technicalities, (3) a date set for the consolidation and opening of the two banks as one going institution.

Much of the work of reorganization, he stated, will have to be completed by means of meetings with stockholders in the new organization. Personnel of the bank, a financial program, final approval by the banking department as a part of the work that is "cut out" for the members of Depositors' Committee.

Examiner E. W. Nelson, of the state banking department, Mr. Boyce indicated, would visit the two banks here Tuesday and Wednesday for the final inspection before the hearing in Detroit on Thursday, Nov. 10.

KING'S DAUGHTERS HEAR GOOD REPORT

A bit of the inspiration of the State convention of the King's Daughters was brought back to the local society Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Ida Hendryx and Mrs. G. J. Alexander, who attended the recent gathering in Howell.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Harry Blake, Fairbrook avenue, and was well attended.

Their reports were vivid accounts of the events at this convention which was this year even more full of reports of activity than ever. Each local society made full reports of the activities during the year and it was evident that, as always, the King's Daughters rise to the emergency in this time of greater need and meet the crises.

The mayor of Howell in his address of welcome, paid high tribute to the organization in his city, which he said, had been a great help in the welfare work of the city.

Many of the King's Daughters are doubting their energies to provide for the suffering.

REPUBLICANS WILL HOLD SALEM RALLY SATURDAY, NOV. 5

There will be a big Republican Rally in Salem town hall Saturday morning, Nov. 5, at 9 a. m. Men from Washenaw county and the state will be speakers, and good music will be a feature. Everybody welcome.

W. R. C. MEETING

A regular meeting of the W. R. C. will be held at the Legion hall on Wednesday evening, Nov. 9. This is the annual inspection, and all members are urged to be present. A potluck supper will be served at 6:30. Bring your own dishes and silver and something good to eat. On Thursday, Nov. 10, meet at the Legion hall at 1:30 p. m. and go with the patriotic instructor to present a flag to the school on the Seven Mile road.

Prominent Republican Leaders Seeking Re-election at Polls on Tuesday, November 8th

For county surveyor Harry B. Miller, republican incumbent; Heinrich F. Cushing, democrat and Axel O. Londa, socialist are vying in three cornered battle.

In the race for county road commissioner, W. F. Bauer republican incumbent is being opposed by Michael J. O'Brien democrat and Kurt H. Sell socialist.

Harry I. Dugman republican county diem commissioner is seeking re-election against Leo J. Nowicki, democratic candidate, and Ethan E. Edloff, socialist candidate.

The state race centers around the contest for governor between Wilbur M. Brucker, republican incumbent and Wm. A. Comstock, democratic candidate.

Climaxing a heated campaign President Herbert C. Hoover will seek re-election over the candidacy of Franklin D. Roosevelt, democrat. It is expected that Norman Thomas, socialist candidate for the presidency will poll an extremely large vote.

Authorities expect a large vote to be cast barring inclement weather.

THE ADVICE OF PROF. IRVING FISHER

There is no finer economic authority in the United States than Prof. Irving Fisher of Yale university. Last week he came out for Herbert Hoover, stating that he is going to vote for President Hoover, because he can "bring us out of the depression quicker than Gov. Roosevelt."

Is it better to follow the advice of a nationally known authority like Prof. Fisher or that of the mithering man in the street who votes the way the Hearst papers tell him?

HENRY FORD AND HOOVER

The future prosperity of this Northville area for at least some time to come is bound up to a great degree with the progress of Henry Ford and his giant organization. Therefore this community is vitally interested when Mr. Ford makes a statement, as he recently did, that in his opinion, business recovery will be hastened by the election of Mr. Hoover.

The Ford Motor Co. is one of the greatest institutions on earth and Mr. Ford, as its head, has the absolute right to follow the policy that he sincerely believes will be for the best interest of his thousands and thousands of workers. The democrats criticize him because of this statement that he favors the re-election of Mr. Hoover. Does any thinking man believe for a moment that the democrats would accuse him of "coercion" if he had come out advocating the election of Gov. Roosevelt?

If the mighty Ford interests need Hoover to bring back good times, is it not possible that Northville needs Mr. Hoover to get us back to normal times?

Would it not be better for Northville to follow the advice of Henry Ford than that of Wm. Randolph Hearst who would saddle a five billion dollar bond debt on the people?

HOOVER OR ROOSEVELT?

It will be pretty serious business for the voter here in Northville, Novi or Salem when he or she goes into the ballot booth next Tuesday and votes for President Hoover or for Gov. Roosevelt.

It will be a vote that will affect us for not a few months or a year but for four years. It will be a vote that will affect every home before the next election rolls around in 1936.

A vote for Herbert Hoover is a vote to continue the policies that are leading the United States out of the grasp of a world-wide depression. A vote for Franklin D. Roosevelt is a vote to "take a chance" on what will happen. A change now of national leadership might delay for an indefinite time the economic recovery that is now under way. Dare we take that chance?

The vast majority of business leaders, big and little, predict that the re-election of Hoover will mean a certain prosperity in the very near future. These same leaders say that the election of Roosevelt will delay the return of good days.

The statesmanship of Herbert Hoover has saved us from collapse. His leadership is bringing the dawn of a new day.

Stand by Herbert Hoover next Tuesday and you will have no cause for regret in the next four years.

WHAT ABOUT THE AMENDMENTS?

The citizen who goes to the polls next Tuesday, Nov. 8, will be called upon to vote for or against seven amendments to the state constitution and a referendum—eight proposals in all.

How shall we vote on these amendments and referendum?

This is a puzzling question, since the eight proposals cover such a variety of issues. The first one is on the wet and dry issue; the second amendment limits taxes to one and one-half per cent of the assessed valuation; number three concerns reapportionment for the lower house of the state legislature according to population; amendment number four would exempt homesteads (homes and farms), to the extent of $3,000 and personal property to the value of $1,000; number five provides that that township electors may vote at a polling place inside the limits of an adjacent city; number six would prohibit the pardon of persons convicted of first degree murder; amendment number seven would provide that only those who have property assessed for taxes (or the husbands or wives of such persons) could vote on questions which concern the direct expenditure of public money or the issue of bonds. Proposal number eight is a referendum on Act. 55, P. A. of 1931 which would impose taxes and restriction on the sale and manufacture of oleomargarine.

All right, friends, there are the seven amendments and the one referendum—eight proposals in all. What shall we do with them?

Frankly, there is so much involved in the study and careful examination of these eight proposals that it is undeniable that not more than five or ten voters in one hundred can intelligently tell what these proposals are all about.

After a somewhat careful study of these proposals, the writer is going to vote "Yes" on only two of these and "No" on the other six.

Our first "No" is on the amendment to establish a liquor control commission. We favor a referendum to find out the attitude of the people regarding prohibition but this amendment goes far beyond that and in our opinion nullifies our national constitution. As a "liberal" dry who admits some of the weakness of the present prohibition law, we are opposed to this amendment. It goes altogether too far.

Our first "Yes" vote would be for number three which provides reapportionment for the state legislature on a basis of population. This is only fair and square. The senate control is not changed but will remain in the rural sections.

Our other "Yes" vote is simply explained. Amendment number five would permit voters of a township to vote in a city which had been incorporated from the township. For example, voters of Plymouth township could vote in Plymouth city, taken from Plymouth township.

The two proposals for limiting taxes to $15 per thousand and for exempting homesteads are altogether too complicated and too dangerous, in our opinion, to be approved and made a part of our state constitution. There is no doubt that taxes must come down and that real estate must bear a less load but it seems to us that the only cure is to cut the budget and not get all involved in a new maze of difficulty.

Amendment number six would forbid forever that the governor could pardon persons for first degree murder. We think this amendment is dangerous.

Another "No" is on number seven. Here again, the principle looks right but there are so many complications involved that it seems unwise to put it into the basic laws of our state.

The unfortunate thing about these eight proposals is that they are so involved and far-reaching in their consequences that the average voter has not the time or the means to study them and form an opinion. In the meantime we have to pass on them Nov. 8 and do the best we can to give sincere and fair answer to them.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

THE MENACE OF HEARST

(The Utica Sentinel)

"If Mr. Roosevelt enters the White House," says the Christian Century, he will go there under enormous obligation to the most sinister figure in American public life—William Randolph Hearst. The McAdoo-Garner-Hearst deal by which Mr. Roosevelt was nominated has tremendous implications for American foreign policy. The yellow, muck-taking journalistic tricks and the lurid jingoism to which the Hearst papers continually stoop warn us that sort of hands the country may be in if the Democratic candidate is chosen.

GUARDING THE PRESIDENT

(Rae Corliss in The Parma News)

What a travesty on the consistency of the modern civilization of which we boast when our public officials must be protected by armed guards from the very people who name them to office. When President Hoover visited Detroit Saturday night 1,500 policemen in uniform, 250 Detroit detectives, 200 Washington secret service agents and 100 state police were felt necessary for the protection of his life. Henry Ford was present at the address, accompanied by a guard. Many other lesser dignitaries, who have become widely known through election to high office or by the acquisition of wealth, must be protected from their fellow citizens. And yet we talk about being civilized and joke about conditions in Mexico and some of the South American republics. America! The land of the free and the home of the brave!

UTTERANCE OF A GREAT MAN

(Frank Bryce in The Grand Ledger Independent)

Following is one of the utterances given at the Olympia last Saturday evening in Detroit by the president of the United States. Mr. Hoover's modesty is clearly portrayed in the following, but not only his modesty, also his bigness of heart and wish for his country. Of this statement, the Detroit Free Press says: "The President said something that should be read and re-read by every American." "The future of individuals is of no great importance in the life-stream of the Nation. Not one of us has the right to stand in the light of the nation's progress. Change in my personal position from command to the ranks is of trifling importance in the life of this nation. What is of vast importance are the measures, and policies you adopt by your vote, and the men and forces who in front and behind the scenes, will dominate our national life. I am anxious to see that these present sound policies and measures shall be continued, only because I am anxious to see that my Country shall come safely into harbor from dangers that few men not occupying my responsibilities will ever appreciate."

WANDERING THOUGHTS

Keep your eye on Northville.

"Think for yourself" is a good motto in these closing days of the campaign. No one should be fooled by "eleventh hour" propaganda.

We are for Hoover for one of the same reasons that Henry Ford is, viz., we think our own business will recover more quickly and more surely under Hoover than under Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt whose policies are so vague.

As interesting and lively a political discussion as we have ever heard was that between Democrat George Burke and Republican Roscoe Bonistell at the Salem Federated church last Friday evening. Both men showed a fine, friendly spirit which kept the discussion on a high level.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

If Roosevelt should be elected, what would the influence of Wm. Randolph Hearst be in the administration?

The statement that has brought so much unjust criticism follows:

"The Ford Motor Company is not interested in partisan politics. We do not seek to control any man's vote."

"We feel however that the coming election is so important to industry that our employees should know our views."

"President Hoover has overcome the forces that almost destroyed industry and employment. His efforts to start the country back to work are beginning to show results. We are convinced that any break in his program would hurt industry and employment. TO PREVENT TIMES FROM GETTING WORSE AND TO HELP THEM TO GET BETTER, PRESIDENT HOOVER SHOULD BE ELECTED."

"These are our convictions and we submit them to the serious consideration of all Ford Motor employees and their families."

"Ford Motor Company."

It is barely necessary to repeat the fact that Mr. Ford is one of the greatest employers of labor in the world, that he is vitally interested in the recovery of business and when he gave President Hoover his endorsement, he did so because he believed it was for the best interest of thousands that secure their living by accepting his pay checks. Probably few people are in a better position than Mr. Ford to know about world commerce and world business and no one can dispute the fact that whatever recommendation he might make is for the best interests of those that work for him as well as for the country at large.

When the time has come in America when the management of an industry cannot suggest to its employees its ideas of public matters that involve the interests and welfare of every individual, we had better close down our factories and go back to the stone age way of living.

The criticism of Mr. Ford in this matter is extremely unjust and uncalled for—and if there is an employee in Mr. Ford's factory who represents what he has done, he should be given an immediate opportunity to find a job with some industry that is not concerned with the economic recovery of the world.

FOUR MARX BOYS
PRESENTED SATURDAY
IN NEW COMEDY

"Horse Feathers," latest of the mad, merry comedies of the Four Marx Brothers, opens tomorrow at the Fenniman-Allyn theatre.

Groucho, Chico, Harpo and Zeppo again team together in a picture that affords them opportunities for the same type of nonsense they presented in "Animal Crackers," "Monkey Business," and "The Cocoanuts," their three previous movie efforts.

An amusing plot holds the picture together. Groucho is a college president because that's the only way it seems, he can get his son, Zeppo, out of college. Zeppo has been there twelve years.

With the co-operation of Chico, college dogcatcher, he ultimately accomplishes his object.

Upon this frame is built many a comedy situation. Groucho talks at his usual rapid-fire rate; Chico puns in dialect; Harpo says nothing and chases every blonde in sight; and Zeppo makes love to the best-looking girls available.

S. J. Perelman, Bert Kalmar and Harry Ruby, well known humorists, wrote the book. Music and lyrics are by Kalmar and Ruby, and Norman McLeod, in charge of direction of "Monkey Business," directed the new picture.

JUDGE CARPENTER
ENDORSES FARRELL
FOR COUNTY CLERK

Judge William L. Carpenter, former Wayne County Circuit Court Judge, and a member of the State Supreme Court Bench, in a statement yesterday, added his endorsement to the candidacy of County Clerk Thomas F. Farrell, who is running for re-election at the November election.

Judge Carpenter said, "Thomas Farrell entered my employ as an office boy when he was 15 years old in 1888; he worked for me several years and we have been close friends since that time, some 48 years. I therefore, know him well. I know that he is thoroughly honest, efficient, and devoted to the discharge of his duties."

He was elected as County Clerk in 1908, and has held office with the exception of two years until this time. He has been a very faithful and efficient public servant, and his tenure in office deserves highest commendation, and continuance. No whisper of scandal has ever tarnished his reputation. He has been wise in choice of assistants, and seen to it that each of them performed his duties faithfully, efficiently and courteously.

I am very much concerned in Tom Farrell's campaign, because I believe he ought to be elected in the interests of efficient government. He is one office-holder who has honestly and courageously fulfilled the duties of a responsible public position, and should not be replaced by a man who is not experienced or who has not given any demonstration of his fitness for office."

Judge William L. Carpenter is a well known figure in Detroit, and especially to members of the legal profession, because of his years on the bench. He was a judge of the Circuit Court from 1894 to 1902, and was appointed to the State Supreme Court as judge in 1902. He resigned from this position in 1908, and resumed his law practice in Detroit. Judge Carpenter has been a resident of Detroit for over 54 years.

LISTEN TO BOTH SIDES

(Joe Haas in The Holly Herald)

If President Hoover is not re-elected on Nov. 8, it will be because the people do not understand—because in the face of a world wide depression, they do not realize that they are really enjoying prosperity as compared to conditions anywhere else on earth.

Demagogues, orators, and yellow newspapers who have caused more unrest and misery than the depression itself, may sway a great many votes among people who allow somebody else to do their thinking. But to that fortunate greater class who think for themselves, it is pointed out that never has it been shown, even in a remote way, that the present administration can be blamed for the present lack of employment, low prices or any of our other ills. Nor has its opponents offered anything tangible to remedy these ills. It has been proven beyond a doubt that the peak of the depression has now passed; in this country let us not swap off the tried and true for fantastic promises that mean nothing. There are a great many people who have not decided how to vote. We ask those only to listen to both sides of the argument between now and Nov. 8; weigh all the evidence carefully, and we are sure they'll do nothing to retard the return of prosperity, jobs and contentment.

L. J. McLean told the story of this spruce. It has 21 whorls, and by adding this number to the original name which it required to graduate out of the seedling class into that of a full fledged tree, you arrive at the age of this lovely spruce.

EXPERT DISCUSSES
SPRUCE TREES' AGE

How do you tell the age of trees? Up until Monday of this week, the writer would have been obliged to get the tree down to find out. Counting the rings in the stump was the only method she had ever heard about.

There is another simpler and infinitely more desirable way to count up the years a tree has lived. First the speaker, after knowledge should have information about how old a seedling is when it first puts out a set of branches. After that it is simple—just add a year for every whorl of branches.

Take a white spruce a lovely symmetrical tree, sturdy, graceful, beautiful. This one year old when the branches began to arrive in "whorls" of sets one above the other. For every year that the spruce has lived since then, there is a whorl of branches. The specimen in mind has just moved from somewhere around Little Traverse Bay, close to the tip of the lower peninsula of Michigan. It was brought by truck to its new home on Plymouth road, just west of Menominee road, where with a number of beautiful companions, it is taking root and preparing to adorn the landscape through months of winter as well as those of spring, summer and fall.

HOMEMAKER'S CORNER

By MRS. EDITOR

"Putting 'Polly in Politics'" and his gang of out office, and put "Sure I believe in woman suffrage, and the old man shook his head with emphasis. "Let 'em suffer, the men have to."

Such an agitation as there was to give us woman equal suffrage, with men twelve years ago and now in that we have it, honestly, do they know what to do with it? With election just around the corner are we really informed in our voting or are we just following along in blind prejudice as our fathers or our husbands vote? Like the little boy do we take what papa takes without a murmur?

Lucky we are if, like Portia, we are "well fathered and well husbanded"—otherwise let's think for ourselves. The time is past when women should meekly echo their husband's opinions.

To the most of us women politics is a deep and forbidding subject. Chibly our smart husbands discuss vehemently with equally smart men in high-sounding phrases "the gold standard" and "for once we are struck dumb with the depth of their understanding."

One of the most intelligent women of Northville confesses frankly that she is "so ignorant." And what's more, she adds, "I don't trust my husband's opinion, he being of democratic descent and I of republican. Nevertheless I'm going to vote for Hoover for I believe it would be a wicked waste not to let such a leader carry out his program."

An editorial in the November Ladies Home Journal makes the following statements:

"We urge that you investigate and study the records of each of your candidates for Congress. Not present promises, but past records of performance. In public office, has he voted for extravagances or for economies? How does he spend his own money? You can find out if you will and it will be worth your while to know."

But, "some of our readers have asked, 'Just what can we do?' If we go to the polls and vote to turn John

STOLL NOT TO BE CONFUSED WITH DEMOCRATIC NAME

For many years the name of Otto Stoll has stood in Wayne county for a level-headed business administration of the Register of Deeds office where deeds, mortgages and other documents affecting the County and townships are recorded.

As far as politics are concerned, there are no issues between republicans and democrats in an office of this kind. Ability to administer the office on a sound and economical basis is the sole qualification in the eyes of the average voter. Otto Stoll has given his ability. He has incriminated the office in every respect to keep pace with the rapid growth of Detroit and the changing times. He introduced photographic recording, remodelled the indexing system, started the practice of informing the public by monthly reports of all affairs in his office, and obtained missing records of early French and British rule from the Canadian government, thus completing the county's chain of records.

The Northville Record in order to protect its readers from confusion at the polls, points out that Otto Stoll's opponent has the same last name. The two candidates are not related in any way. As pointed out recently in an editorial in an afternoon daily, Otto Stoll is entitled to re-election because of "his work as Register of Deeds has stood out and he has shown himself to be a faithful and conscientious public official."

The Tide has Turned!

America is aroused!

As the devastating deflation subsides, HOPE arises in the stunned consciousness of a harassed but victorious nation

CLEAR THINKING again becomes possible.

CONFIDENCE has been restored.

And with return to sane thinking comes sudden realization of the destructive end toward which the nation had been drifting.

Demoralized by depression, with its morale shaken by three years of increasing adversity, the United States was easy prey to the voice of the demagogue. The lowest type of political chicanery found ready listeners among the millions of unemployed and other millions concerned over the security of their jobs or other sources of income.

Political office seekers embraced the opportunity to prey upon the misery of the people.

Attempt was made to ride into control of the government of the United States upon the back of SLANDER and HATE.

A BASE FALSEHOOD was adopted as the slogan of a once great political party.

"It Couldn't Be Worse" was a phrase manufactured to deceive an unsuspecting American public. It was bred and fostered by the Democratic leaders to capitalize for their own selfish purposes, the suffering of millions of men, women and children.

AND IT CAME NEAR SUCCEEDING!

Sullen dissatisfaction, which was only natural in many breasts as a result of long suffering from the effects of the world depression, was fanned into bitter resentment by the misrepresentations and cunning proposals of Democratic party leaders.

"SMEAR HOOVER," they whispered to one another.

TURN TEARS INTO VOTES!

Vilify the President. Becloud the truths regarding what he accomplished in the face of the most serious handicaps that ever confronted a national administration.

And the traducers made apparent headway. The unsuspecting were impressed. They were misled UNTIL they saw and heard the FALSE PROPHET.

When it became necessary to substitute a program in place of blasphemy, the head of the Democratic ticket failed dismally.

He was lost in the wilderness of hysterical panaceas and quack nostrums. He uttered ridiculous nothings where serious discussion and honest proposals were expected.

He openly accused the President of deceiving the people, a falsehood of such magnitude that it branded its author as insincere at the outset of his campaign.

The original strategy of the Democratic campaign—to spread hate and discontent over the country and ride into power on a wave of unreasoning resentment—has proved unavailing.

The sins of omission and misrepresentation have caught up with the traducers of the administration.

The People of America Demand Plain Facts

The voters cannot longer be fooled by harangue.

THE TIDE HAS TURNED!

Examination of the official record of the Democratic candidate proves that as governor of New York he has led his State into an appalling financial deficit, failed to check the evils about which he talks so loudly when condemning the national administration and that he has demonstrated none of the qualifications essential in a statesman or safe leader.

Now that the tide has turned against him, he decries what he terms the campaign of fear inaugurated by his opponents.

Al Smith, within the last few months, has twice branded the Democratic candidate as a demagogue unworthy of support.

Millions of farmers, merchants and professional men in large and small cities, industrial leaders and workers everywhere, dismayed by the discovery that they have been following a political will-o'-the-wisp, are flocking to the banner of President Hoover.

The President, they now realize, has worked unceasingly to save the United States from the dismal fate which has befallen dozens of foreign nations. He has fought and planned in silence.

He has emerged victorious.

He has given an accounting of his stewardship.

A grateful nation again acclaims him its rightful leader.

The country now realizes that IT MIGHT HAVE BEEN WORSE. MUCH WORSE!

IT COULD STILL BE WORSE!

The Democratic candidate, goaded to despair by the spectacle of millions of voters turning to the President, now cries out for REVOLUTION.

This demagogic appeal will fall upon deaf ears.

THE TIDE HAS TURNED.

A new voice has swept across the country: "DON'T GAMBLE WITH THE DESTINY OF YOUR NATION."

America has responded.

Its faith in Herbert Hoover will be demonstrated at the polls November 8.

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS

10 YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Vradenburg left for Sherman, California. R. E. Schrader, J. A. Huff and C. R. Ely have gone hunting in Canada. The Messers—Glenn and Lewis Stewart have become the owners of the Northville Drug Company. Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Lapham; Miss Elizabeth Lapham and E. A. Chapman attended a football game in Toledo Saturday. Two immense smoke stacks are being erected at the Northville Condensary.

25 YEARS AGO

Miss Lydella Murdock entertained a party of little friends at her home Saturday. B. G. Finkins, acting foreman at the Northville fishery has gone to Grassy Island with Clyde Van Atta and Ed Fuller. "Well, Johnny," said the teacher, "suppose you had ten potatoes and had to divide them between three persons. What would you do?" "Mash 'em."

30 YEARS AGO

The annual fair of the King's Daughters occurred at the rink, Nov. 11 and 12 in the rink. Judge Edmund Haug, a former principal of Northville schools, is a candidate for prosecuting attorney of Wayne county. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Yerkes attended an anniversary surprise at the home of Washington West in Nov. last week. A worthy article on "The Presidency" appears this week in the Youth's Companion, written by Theodore Roosevelt.

K. H. STARKWEATHER GIVES HIS VIEWS ON SUGAR-BEET ISSUE

To The Record Editor: An article in the Oct. 7 issue of the Northville Mail has just been brought to my attention. It is about beet sugar. It may have been a syndicated article, and if such is the case, then of course the matter has already appeared in various Michigan newspapers. Anyway, the story goes on to say that chemists and specialists in nutrition at Michigan State college assert that there is no difference, neither chemically, nor in actual use, between cane sugar and beet sugar; that the two come from identical plants and are identical when properly refined, and finally that edible products prepared with either cane or beet sugar are identical in appearance, in taste and in keeping qualities. So now the question arises—why waste valuable newspaper space in telling the people that kind of stuff? The story acts as a bribe for the Michigan beet sugar industry and for Michigan-made products, but alas and alas, the story comes too late. Does not the Plymouth Mail know that Franklin D. Roosevelt is already elected and that, as a consequence, there just ain't GONNA BE NO MO' MICHIGAN BEET SUGAR? In 1893 the United States Department of Agriculture showed in a published report that certain sections of Michigan were adapted to the growing of sugar beets. The Michigan Agricultural college, oldest and foremost agricultural college in the country, immediately took up the cue and consummated several successful experiments. Today, as a result, the eleven Michigan sugar factories have opened up again and are now engaged in a 90 to 100-day campaign to process this year's bumper crop of beets. But alas and alack! This year is going to see the last, or nearly the last, of Michigan's great sugar beet fields. Although it is hoped that some way may be found to salvage the sugar factories—turn them into apple butter or sauer kraut factories or something, the chances are that soon they will become relics of the past. As such, or until they completely tumble down, they may become great play houses for Michigan neighborhood boys. Now, of course, I do not entirely claim my own authority for such prediction. The result is easily arrived at, however, by putting two and two together, or just by looking at the facts. The Michigan beet sugar industry has been steadily declining for years. The beet sugar industry in the United States is now producing 1,185,000 tons of beet sugar in 1932. That represents a beet tonnage of 65,561,000 tons. 1931 figures are not immediately to hand but reports indicate that 1932 has been a very good year for beets. However one may look at it, some one is going to get badly "beet" on election day. You pay your money, and takes your choice—beet sugar or beet steak. And yet, after all, the gracious and melodious Governor may be a wise, more clever, more patriotic man than some. Who's to know? After he has been retired from the White House, hereafter, he has brought prosperity to the Cubans, that to Cuba he could migrate and that would be his welcome. And you can bet your sweet cookie that in Cuba he could be elected President for life. In his heart let it be assumed that he might still be an American, and as such it is conceivable that his President of the Pearl of the Antilles he might exert such an influence there that its citizens would insist on annexation to the United States. After that Cuban taxes would flow into the treasury of the United States and we wouldn't need that sugar tariff. It's an ill wind that blows no evil. Karl H. Starkweather

The talkie entitled "The Night of June 13" was distinguished with its portrayal of sensational events which occur within a commonplace restricted locality beneath what appears to be a severe exterior of community life. A man, played very ably by Olive Brook, is falsely accused of murdering his wife on circumstantial evidence and none of the neighbors quite take the truth, as each neighbor has his own reason for keeping still. MERCHANTS' SHOW WEDNESDAY NIGHT

The show Wednesday night at the Penniman-Allen Theatre sponsored by the local merchants proved to be one of the best entertainments shown there in a long time if one is to judge by the effect on the audience. As one person remarked on leaving the theatre, "That picture is true to life. It could happen anywhere. It could happen in Northville." The talkie entitled "The Night of June 13" was distinguished with its portrayal of sensational events which occur within a commonplace restricted locality beneath what appears to be a severe exterior of community life. A man, played very ably by Olive Brook, is falsely accused of murdering his wife on circumstantial evidence and none of the neighbors quite take the truth, as each neighbor has his own reason for keeping still. Brook with many notable roles in his credit gives a remarkably fine performance. Mary Boland and Charles Ruggles take a few honors Charley Grapewin, Lila Lee and Adrienne Allet also contribute their share of histrionic ability to this distinguished show.

NOVI SCHOOL NEWS

The Honor Roll of the school for the month of October is as follows:

Primary department, Mary Ann Ayala, Wilma Chafy, Margaret Ann Hill, Erick Shady, Bernice Sperkowski, Jean Munro, Dorothy Stubbe, Eddy Baljo, Walter Lohman, Evelyn Wenker, and Barbara Spicer.

Intermediate department, Charles Tricky, Nina Rose Wenker, Doris Shinn, Dorothy Sperkowski, Raymond Sperkowski, and Thelma Kent.

High School, Elmer Toletine, and Mervin Toletine.

The high school had the highest percentage of attendance for last month with 93.4 per cent. The average for the whole school was 92.8 per cent, which is slightly less than for the first month. The drop was caused largely by severe colds in a few families and the hunting season which tempted two high school boys to stay out several days.

Handcraft club work under the direction of Brent Munro was recently started. This activity will be carried out in connection with the county club work. Participation will be limited to those who have a real interest and some ability in wood-work.

The Halloween party held by the high school Friday night was attended by a large number. Many came costumed in formal and fantastic styles. Most of the evening was spent playing bingo, and Geraldine Kison and Frederick Johnston received first prizes.

ELLISWORTH BUYS

RED ARROW CAFE

G. R. Ellisworths has the new proprietor of the Red Arrow lunch room purchased of Nicholas Telmanis. Possession was taken Tuesday evening and the place was closed for a few days for a thorough rearrangement. Mr. Ellisworth comes to Northville from New York City where he was engaged for twelve years in a similar business. He was attracted to Northville while visiting his father-in-law in Detroit, when he read the advertisement for the sale of this place of business.

Mrs. Ellisworth will assist her husband and they will make their home in one of the Frank Perrin apartments.

He was very happy to present petitions for the opening of the re-organized bank, and wished Northville the best of luck and success in its new adventure.

Joe Levinson, an attorney of Chicago, representing the republican national committee, brought greetings from the republicans of Illinois to the people of Michigan.

Mr. Levinson mentioned the value of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation program in enabling business, banks, manufacturing, insurance companies, and railroads to get on their feet and renew confidence in themselves and concluded with a plea to return President Hoover to the helm of national affairs that the country might regain prosperity and a return to normal times for all.

He further stated that this was the United States that was the first to recover from the measure from the world-wide depression. Sales and employment have increased appreciably since August and bank failures have ceased in Michigan on account of President Hoover's Reconstruction Finance Plan. Mr. Dondero discussed the merits of the Smoot-Hawley Tariff Law, and told of the great advantages it had for agriculture, the manufacturer and industry for the working man as with this protection the employer could pay higher wages.

The speaker said the democrats advocated an international trade conference board of 57 countries to determine trade relationships and that this would give the U. S. only one vote as against 56, which would leave her powerless to establish and protect home industries with a tariff.

In conclusion, Mr. Dondero urged the voters to return the republican administration nationally, and in the state and locally, as it was vital that they be allowed to carry out the plans already perfected in order to restore us to normalcy.

The state attorney general's office was represented by John H. McPherson, who co-operated so efficiently with Northville people in re-organization plans for the new bank. Mr. McPherson stated that the people are on trial rather than the candidates in the coming election, and advocated the return of the republican party November 8 to continue their plan of re-organization for economic safety. The speaker

OBITUARY

FLOYD FREEMAN

The many Northville friends of Floyd Freeman will regret to hear that he passed away Sunday evening, Oct. 23, at St. Joseph hospital, after an illness of two weeks.

Mr. Freeman's youth was spent in Northville. When twenty years of age he went to Tecumseh to work for Jake Miller. On Nov. 30, 1899, he was married to Miss Ida Hunt, of Tecumseh, and they made their home there until seven years ago, when they moved to Ann Arbor.

Three years ago last summer he lost his limb and had not been able to do much work since. He served as township treasurer the last year, and was elected to that office last March for a second term. Though handicapped as he was, he was always cheerful and had a kind word for everyone he met.

The funeral was held last Wednesday morning from Belding's funeral home in Tecumseh. Rev. D. D. Nagle of Hudson officiating. Interment was made in Tecumseh.

He leaves to mourn their loss an invalid wife, his aged mother, Mrs. Eva Freeman, a sister, Mrs. Frank Dicks of Plymouth and a brother, Clarence of Detroit.

EUGENE LARSON

Eugene, the seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Larson, Fairbrook avenue, died Monday morning at three o'clock as the result of a complication with pneumonia following scarlet fever. Little Gene had never been well during his whole life. The burial service was held Tuesday morning, Nov. 1, in Riverside, Plymouth. Dr. Wilbur H. Johnston accompanied the quarantined family. Rev. Cera Pennell and Ray Osterline officiated. The little boy leaves his parents, a brother, Lyman, and two sisters, Marian and Mrs. Jas. Morrison.

Dr. Edward A. Fisher, Dearborn, seeking re-election on the republican ticket as state representative from the fifth district, is an old-time ball player, whom many of the older residents of Northville and vicinity will remember.

Close friends of Lyle and Harry German, Jr., and Harry German, Sr., Dr. Fisher has been active in politics for over 15 years. He has served on the Dearborn school board, been president of that village, and has the added distinction of having served for six years, during his career as a surgeon in the west, on the Wyoming legislature.

Dr. Fisher has served this district for two terms and has always supported constructive legislation. He was prominent in the fight to relieve taxpayers of the Covert road tax. He has advocated revision of banking laws in order to aid closed banks.

He states that his interests are bound sincerely in the fifth district in which he has lived for the majority of his life.

PHILLIPS DESERVES SUPPORT FOR GOOD WORK HE HAS DONE

Many public spirited Oakland County citizens are making a special effort to focus attention for the coming election on one of the least conspicuous, but nevertheless one of the most important offices in the county. The office is that of circuit court commissioner, one seldom in the public eye, but one which handles matters of the greatest moment to large numbers of citizens. Because the office is one of this nature, men and women in various parts of the county are active in urging the continuance as a circuit court commissioner of Earl L. Phillips, of Pontiac. Although he is serving in his first public office, Mr. Phillips has proved himself to be a sound judgment, the thorough legal experience and the high integrity which the position demands.

His standing as an attorney and as a public official is of the highest. Mr. Phillips is one of the best known members of the Oakland county bar, having been a practicing attorney in Pontiac for 15 years. He is a republican.

Walkers Give Barn Dance On Halloween

The large new barn on the Russell Walker farm was the scene of an old fashioned barn dance on Halloween when the neighbors from all around as well as from Detroit and other surrounding towns were gathered masked merry-makers. REFERENCE LIBRARY HELPS STUDENTS IN DAILY ASSIGNMENTS

The reference library, located in front of the assembly, is a great help to students in preparing their daily assignments.

Looking up various topics and subjects enables one to get a much broader viewpoint, to increase one's knowledge, and to teach one to be able to find what he is looking for, no matter what it is.

The following people take charge of the reference library during their respective hours: Harold Booth, first hour; Eleanor Eaton, second hour; Aileen Kensing, third hour; Peggy Blake, fourth hour; Eleanor Booth, sixth hour; Harold Booth, seventh hour; Eleanor Booth, eighth hour; George Ulrich, ninth hour.

PUPILS ARE SAD; GRADES BEING SENT DIRECT TO PARENTS

There were probably various reasons for the woe begone expressions on the faces of a large number of the students yesterday. The biggest one, however, was the fact that the grades were issued; the grades were not only issued, but in such a way that Johnny and Mary were not able to get hold of them and either lose them or erase some blot of ink which, erroneously of course, happened to look like a D or E.

The marks were put on slips of paper and were mailed directly to the parents. Johnny and Mary were probably very late coming home Thursday.

The next marking period, it is not known how the marks will be distributed, but it is hoped by the more ingenious students that they will be issued in such a manner so as to permit them to have a chance at least.

SENIOR AND JUNIOR HIGH STUDENTS ARE GIVEN HALL DUTY

The Junior and Senior high school have started hall duty again this year. The persons who are chosen for this job consider it an honor, because of the great responsibility that rests on their shoulders. Those chosen must show themselves to be good and honest citizens.

They are on hall duty eight periods each day. Each person is allowed one period a day. Students may keep the job for one week only.

The duties are to watch the wraps hanging in the hallways and to preserve at all times quietness and order. If there is any boisterousness shown on the part of any person, a slip is sent in to the office. When a boy or girl has a certain amount of slips they may be forced to join a special citizenship class.

Mrs. Cooke chooses the boys and girls for this job from the Junior high school. They have charge of the first floor hall duty. Robert Power, chosen by Mayor Christensen and the student council as chief of police, selects those to serve on hall duty on the second floor.

ACTORS OF HIGH SCHOOL GIVE PLAY FRIDAY, OCTOBER 28

Last Friday, Oct. 28, the Northville high school players again presented the play, "What Anne Brought Home," by Larry Johnson, this time with a different cast of girls and directed again by Leslie G. Lee.

The play was very humorous and was marked by the excellent acting of all members of the cast who were carefully selected by Mr. Lee. Mary Louise Boyden, who portrayed the part of the trouble maker, Anne Brought Home, with her superb had the audience weeping with her. Margaret Lay, part time to life, supplied part of the humor of the situation. Eleanor Grosvenor's love-sick expression made the audience feel sad and lonely until in the end all turned out well and the spectators went home thoroughly satisfied and happy.

Alfred Parnes, Dayton Deal, and Maurice Gies, who played the play with their friends while Henry Hoffman and Merle Fraser supplied the drama.

Preceding the program a duet by Miss Frances Cousins and Ernest Race and two solo numbers by the latter accompanied by Miss Eunice Cousins, were appreciated.

A girls' trio, composed of the Misses Florence Johnson, Gertrude Deal and Eleanor Grosvenor also favored the audience with numbers.

Mr. Lee is to be congratulated upon this first production of his students this year.

PLANS FOR SENIOR DANCE IN DOUBT AS O. and B. IS PRINTED

When the Orange and Black went to press, the plans for the proposed senior dance to be held tonight, were not completed. Tickets had not sold as well as had been expected and it was not definitely known whether the required number was reached or not. If the dance is not held, the money for tickets sold will be refunded.

Another very important notice concerning this dance is elsewhere in the Record.

FOOTBALL PLAYED BETWEEN CLASSES

So far in the intramural football games the following games have been played. The Freshmen versus the Sophomores, the Freshmen being the victors; the Sophomores versus the Seniors, the Sophomores the victors; and yesterday the Sophomores were to have again played the Seniors. The result of this game is not yet known. So far, no future games have been scheduled.

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

BEATING PLYMOUTH

With everyone calling on them to "beat Plymouth", Coach Ruggles' orange and black football squad will go out on the field this afternoon with a dog on the spirit. They will put up the hardest battle of their careers and if Plymouth is not beaten, it will not be the fault of the team.

Win or lose, the school, the town, all, should be proud to know that the boys tried their hardest—fought to the end, be it bitter or sweet.

Win or lose again, (and we're praying for victory) everyone should turn out and witness the real football classic that the game this afternoon will be. With Plymouth having won four years in succession, they will try desperately to win the third time. We will put up an extra hard fight to prevent it and win ourselves. Rivalry between the towns normally high, the excitement and spirit of contest this afternoon will be at its zenith, and everybody should take part in it, boosting Northville.

After our article last week, we were criticized by a few seniors. It's funny, but we always thought that only innocent persons could be critics or resent criticism.

Both casts of "What Anne Brought Home" performed exceptionally well. However our recommendation for a movie contract goes to Alf Parmenter. He certainly, as far as we are concerned at least, carried the show.

We would seriously suggest that the seniors start soon to consider a play. They ought to give two during the year and seem to forget that they have a wide awake junior class right on their heels.

With ad Schwenger lecturing to us every week, we are trying to get him to take the blame for the "Orange and Black" or credit.

We note that the Juniors had an orchestra last Saturday.

The senior committee on photographs and pictures has not only to cope with the problem of securing a reliable photographer, but also where to hide the pictures after they are taken.

A few of the boys and girls who received pens on the offer of two weeks ago, are trying to figure out who got typed, themselves or the pen company.

Speaking of the absent-minded professor, which one of our teachers was it who looked at his watch to see if he had time to go home and get his timepiece which he thought he had forgotten? Or was it the one who forgot to mark the eligibility list before the big game?

The Army was to have played the Navy in practice again last week, but due to the rain and typical gobby weather the Army probably retreated.

The more these N-Glub imitations go on, the more we agree with our civil war ancestors in being against slavery.

GOODFELLOWS CLUB APPRECIATES PLAY BY H. S. STUDENTS

October 31, 1932.

Editor,
Northville Record,
Northville, Michigan.
Dear Editor:—

The patrons of Maybury Sanatorium were entertained on the evening of Oct. 26 by a dress rehearsal "What Anne Brought Home," presented by the Northville high school players.

Throughout the play gales of laughter filled the auditorium and a roar of applause followed the close of each act. Interlude of songs by the two trios was an added enjoyment to the audience.

The able directing of Leslie G. Lee was no doubt responsible for the smoothness of the evenings program.

Extending thanks to the entire group, we are,

SENIOR'S WHO'S WHO

This week we have for our minute senior biography, Marie Humphries, or "Murphy." Marie was born May 28, 1915, in Detroit, Michigan. The teachers there found her such a smart little person that she was allowed to take the kindergarten and first grade in the same year.

Marie then moved the "country" where she attended a little red brick school. After attending country school for four years, she tried Plymouth school for a year. Then she came to Northville, to finish her education.

Marie was the jumping center on the girls' high school basketball team during her freshman and sophomore years here. She now plays center for her grade team. Marie has been a member of the orchestra for three years. This year "Murphy" is treasurer of the senior class. Her hobbies are riding horses and swimming.

Next year Marie plans to take a post-graduate course and then study for teaching at the Michigan State Normal college at Ypsilanti.

AN ALARMING ROBBERY

(Note: Last week some of the English Literature students tried telling modern events in the language of Chaucer. Here is one story written by Catherine McKenna.)

A brave knight was named y-cleped James Hackbarth, and he was from busye, Lincoln Parke. He hadde been to his home carryed by his moder, and in the house they founde wayting a burglar dressed in overest courtesy of browne.

Shortly it befel that the burglar robbed James's father of dollars eight and the saddle to an ambler. He then rode away on the family horse, carrying with him a dagger at his side, and a mighty home he held in his hand.

----The Public Cordially Invited

Amendments to the Michigan Constitution to be Voted On November 8th

No. 1 on the Ballot TO ESTABLISH A LIQUOR CONTROL COMMISSION

Section 11.—The legislature may by law establish a liquor control commission, who, subject to statutory limitations, shall exercise complete control of the alcoholic beverage traffic within this state, including the retail sales thereof; and the legislature may also provide for an excise tax on such sales; Providing, however, that neither the legislature nor such commission may authorize the manufacture or sale of alcoholic beverages in any county in which the electors thereof, by a majority vote, shall prohibit the same.

The language of the above amendment is easily understood. It provides for a commission to handle the manufacture and sale of alcoholic beverages in Michigan. It is a proposed amendment to the constitution of this state. In other words it sets up the machinery to handle the manufacture and sale of alcoholic beverages.

It does not take into consideration, in itself, a very significant fact, viz., that the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States has not been repealed. It provides for something that does not exist.

It would seem that it should have provided "when and if" the 18th Amendment is repealed. Otherwise there can be no legalized liquor traffic—no manufacture and no sale.

No. 2 on the Ballot LIMITING TAXES TO ONE AND ONE-HALF (1½%) PER CENT WITH PROVISIONS AND EXCEPTIONS

Section 21.—The total amount of taxes assessed against property for all purposes in any one year shall not exceed one and one-half per cent of the assessed valuation of said property, except taxes levied for the payment of interest and principal on obligations heretofore incurred, which sums shall be separately assessed in all cases; PROVIDED, that this limitation may be increased for a period of not to exceed five years at any one time, to not more than a total of five per cent of the assessed valuation, by a two-thirds vote of the electors of any assessing district, or when provided for by the charter of a municipal corporation; PROVIDED FURTHER, that this limitation shall not apply to taxes levied in the year 1932.

We understand that this amendment was introduced and sponsored by a popular farm publication. It has its most ardent supporters among farmers. In other words, it has been quite generally "sold" in rural sections.

Its provisions are plain. It limits the amount levied for taxes to one and one-half per cent (1½%) of the assessed valuation under ordinary circumstances for ALL PURPOSES.

The average tax rate for all Michigan is $32.36; this amendment proposes to levy $15.00 (1½%).

Perhaps an income tax is contemplated. The federal income tax in Michigan yielded 127 millions in 1930, 67 millions in 1931, 30 millions in 1932. There is no stability in the income tax—a feast, a famine—Government and schools must be run every year.

An expert who has studied the possibilities of this amendment estimates that it will cut 121 millions from local governments and schools in Michigan and 15 millions from the state government.

If the amendment goes into force, how will the smaller amount of tax revenue be divided among the townships, counties and the state? Where will the schools come in, and for how much?

It is estimated that this amendment will reduce the primary school funds about 40%.

There is no doubt that a new tax of some sort will have to take the place of the present tax if this amendment is carried. Will it be the unstable and twice defeated income tax? Will it be a sales tax? Certainly it will be some kind of a tax.

There is no denying that real estate (homes and farms) have carried too great a share of the burden in the past. It appears to us that the 1½%, or $15 an assessed $1,000, is too low. The amendment would have been nearer right had it named 3% or $30 a thousand.

There is one other provision in the amendment which provides that the 1½% may be increased by a two-thirds vote of the people. This we would guess will be a rather difficult, if not impossible undertaking. Further it limits the increased rate to five years.

It would be impossible to build a new school house, or any public building of considerable size and pay for it in five years even if a two-thirds majority were secured. At the end of the five years, if we could amend the amendment correctly, it will be necessary to get another two-thirds vote.

In conclusion, we would say that this amendment has gone too far, it is too radical, it will either result in big deficits and crippled school systems, or it will result in heavy taxes in another form. The best argument for this amendment is the fact that for fifteen years there has been effort after effort to get relief to tax-ridden real estate. This amendment will force that relief. It will also force some as yet undetermined form of new taxes. The new tax may cost the people more than the relief afforded by the amendment. If, however, it is an income, sales, or some other form of hidden tax, its collection might be less painful.

No. 3 on the Ballot PROVIDING THAT REPRESENTATIVES TO THE LEGISLATURE SHALL BE CHOSEN ACCORDING TO POPULATION

Section 3.—The House of Representatives shall consist of one hundred (100) members elected for a term of 42 years from representative districts established as follows: A ratio shall be obtained by dividing the population of the state, as ascertained by the last preceding United States decennial census, by one hundred. Any county containing less than the ratio of population shall be attached to a contiguous county or counties to form a district bounded by county lines and containing not less than one full ratio of population. Each such combination shall constitute a representative district. There shall be apportioned to each representative district one representative for each full ratio of population. Any representation then remaining to be apportioned shall be assigned to those representative districts having the largest unrepresented fractions of the ratio of population. In each representative district containing but one county and entitled hereunder to more than one representative, the board of supervisors may, and, if the number of representatives exceeds four, shall at its first regular session following each apportionment of representatives hereinafter provided for, divide such representative district into house districts composed of compact and contiguous territory; Provided, that not more than four representatives shall be elected from any one house district, and each representative shall, as nearly as may be, represent an equal number of inhabitants. In each representative district containing more than one county and entitled hereunder to more than one representative, the chairmen of the board of supervisors of the counties included in such district or a majority of such officers shall, and in the event that a majority of such officers do not agree then the secretary of state shall forthwith, after each apportionment of representatives hereinafter provided for, divide such representative district into house districts formed on the same basis and subject to the same restrictions that are hereinbefore provided for in the formation of house districts within representative districts containing but one county; Provided, that such house districts are not required to be bounded by county lines. For each representative district containing more than one county, the secretary of state shall file in his office a description of the house districts therein, specifying the number of representatives to be elected from each district and the population thereof.

No. 4 on the Ballot EXEMPTING HOMESTEADS (homes and farms) TO THE EXTENT OF $3,000 AND PERSONAL PROPERTY $1,000

Section 7.—All assessments hereafter authorized shall be on property at its cash value. To the value of $1,000, the household goods, provisions, livestock, tools and stock of his trade, owned by any household, shall be exempt from all taxation other than to pay public debts heretofore incurred; and the homestead owned and occupied by any household shall to the extent of $3,000 be exempt from all taxation other than to pay public debts heretofore incurred, and for benefit assessments for ways. Until thirty days after any assessment roll is completed, filed and the fact so announced in the newspaper believed by the assessing officer to have the largest circulation in the taxing district, any person having an interest in any property assessed may determine the assessed value of such interest by depositing with the assessing officer a duly executed offer to sell such property interest (describing it) at any named price, which price shall thereupon become the assessed value of such interest; which offer may be accepted at any time within 60 days after the roll was announced by any person first depositing such price in cash with the county treasurer of the county where such property is located, payable to the order of the offeror upon deposit of a duly executed conveyance of such interest to the acceptor, who may have a decree of specific performance, and the state shall be responsible for the money so deposited.

What is proposed in this amendment is easily understood. What the effect of it might be can only be guessed. Any person knows that it will exempt a large amount of property from taxation.

Personal property to the assessed value of $1,000 would be exempt from taxes except to pay public debts contracted before the amendment went into effect.

Homes and farms would be exempt from taxation except for public debts contracted before the amendment went into effect, or "public debts heretofore incurred."

The amendment provides that taxes may be assessed for "benefit assessments for ways." We construe that to mean assessments for roads, or streets, paving, graveling, etc., where the farm or home is in the district benefited by the improved road or street.

Apparently this is intended to exempt every farm owner and every home owner to the extent of $3,000 on his farm or home and $1,000 on his personal property.

The language of this amendment says the exempt property shall be owned and occupied by the household. Does that mean that the home he lives in shall be exempt and the house rents shall not? If so, would it not unfairly penalize the person who rents a home or farm?

Coupled with the amendment limiting the tax levied to 1½%, it is believed that these two amendments, if both were passed, would do away with from 60% to 90% of the present tax levy. School, township, city, county and state government would immediately be forced to find some new and untried method of taxation—likely an income or a sales tax or both.

This amendment also provides that if the property owner is not satisfied with the assessment he can offer his property for sale, naming the price at which he values it. His price will be the assessed value, PROVIDED that he must accept the price and sell his farm or home if some person is willing to pay the price he names.

This amendment, coupled with the 1½% limit provided in another amendment, is the most drastic tax measure ever proposed in this state. It is generally agreed that the two amendments, if both passed, would leave all forms and kinds of public business without funds and that the 1933 legislature would immediately be forced to put into force some hastily-formed tax measure to continue schools and other public institutions.

No. 5 on the Ballot PROVIDING TOWNSHIP ELECTOR MAY VOTE AT POLLING PLACE INSIDE LIMITS OF ADJACENT CITY

Article III—Section 1. In all elections, every inhabitant of this state being a citizen of the United States; every inhabitant residing in this state on the twenty-fourth day of June, eighteen hundred thirty-five; every inhabitant residing in this state on the first day of January, eighteen hundred fifty; every male inhabitant of foreign birth, who having resided in the state two years and six months prior to the twentieth day of November, eighteen hundred ninety-four, and having declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States two years and six months prior to said last named day, and who shall have completed his naturalization prior to January first, nineteen hundred twenty-four; the wife of any inhabitant of foreign birth who, having resided in the state two years and six months prior to the eighth day of November, eighteen hundred ninety-four, and having declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States two years and six months prior to said last named day, and who shall have completed his naturalization prior to January one, nineteen hundred twenty-four; and every civilized inhabitant of Indian descent, a native of the United States, shall be an elector and entitled to vote; but no one shall be an elector and entitled to vote at any election, unless he or she shall be above the age of twenty-one years and has resided in this state six months, and in the city or township in which he or she offers to vote twenty days next preceding such election; PROVIDED, that no qualified elector in the actual military service of the United States or of this State or in the army or navy thereof, or any student while in attendance at any institution of learning, or any person engaged in a business, profession, or occupation, or any regularly enrolled member of any citizen's military or training camp, held under the authority of the government of the United States or the state of Michigan, or any member of the legislature while in attendance at any session of the legislature, or said member's immediate family during such time, or commercial traveler, or any qualified elector employed upon or in the operation of railroad trains in this state, or any sailor engaged and employed on the great lakes or in coastwise trade, shall be deprived of a vote by reason of absence from the township, ward or state in which he or she resides; and the legislature shall provide by law the manner in which and the time and place at which such absent electors may vote and for the canvass and return of their votes; PROVIDED FURTHER, that the legislature shall have power to pass laws covering public elections which may be necessary absent from other causes than above specified; And PROVIDED FURTHER, that there shall be no denial of the elective franchise at any election on account of sex; And PROVIDED FURTHER, that the legislature may provide by law that the electors of a township may cast their ballots at a township polling place located within the limits of a city which has been incorporated from territory formerly a part of the township.

The above amendment provides certain changes regarding the voting precincts in townships which have become a part of the city. It applies particularly to that territory adjoining Detroit, Grand Rapids, Flint and other fast growing cities.

If we understand it correctly, the entire significance of the change lies in the last paragraph and there is nothing objectionable in it.

No. 6 on the Ballot LIMITING THE POWERS OF THE GOVERNOR TO RELEASE CERTAIN PRISONERS GUILTY OF TREASON AND MURDER

Article VI, Section 9.—He may grant reprieves, commutations and pardons after conviction for any crime except FIRST DEGREE MURDER, and GRAY MURDER AND CASES OF IMPACHMENT upon such conditions and with such restrictions and limitations as he may think proper, subject to regulations provided by law relative to the manner of applying for pardons. Upon conviction for treason, he may suspend the execution of the sentence until the case shall be reported to the legislature at its next session, when the legislature shall either pardon or commute the sentence, direct the execution of the sentence or grant a further reprieve. He shall communicate to the legislature at each session information of each case of reprieve, commutation or pardon granted and the reasons therefor; PROVIDED, HOWEVER, that at any time upon the discovery of new evidence a person may move for a new trial in cases of conviction for first degree murder.

This amendment limits the power of the governor of Michigan in granting reprieves, commutations and pardons in certain crimes.

gan in granting reprieves, commutations and pardons in certain crimes.

It specifically removes treason, first degree murder and impeachment from his pardoning power.

The reader and the voter are best able to decide whether or not he believes the Governor should have power to pardon or shorten the sentence of any person convicted of these crimes.

A "yes" means that you favor the amendment and favor denying the governor power to pardon such criminals.

A "no" vote means that you do not favor the amendment and wish the governor to have power to pardon people convicted of these crimes.

No. 7 on the Ballot WHO MAY VOTE ON EXPENDITURE OF PUBLIC MONEY

Section 4.—Whenever any question is submitted to a vote of the electors which involves the direct expenditure of public money or the issue of bonds, only such persons having the qualifications of electors who have property assessed for taxes in any part of the district or territory to be effected by the result of such election or the lawful husbands or wives of such persons shall be entitled to vote thereon.

The above is the language of another of the amendments which the voters will be asked to "yes" or "no" upon in November. There is already a similar provision applied to school districts. Only people who pay taxes in the district may vote upon a bond issue of the raising of money by taxation.

This sounds reasonable, and probably is a sane safeguard. Its provisions are not complex and are easily understood unless some of the other amendments which are to be voted upon in November change the status of a great many property owners.

For instance, the amendment which provides that $3,000 of real estate shall be exempt from taxation and $1,000 of personal property passes, it would exempt considerable property from being "assessed for taxes" as the above amendment recites.

That being true, would these people whose property paid no tax have any right to vote on raising money for taxes? If they did not, would not this responsibility fall upon a comparatively few people?

When coupled with other amendments there might be some nice questions raised as to who would and who would not have a right to vote.

TRAVELLERS

By Grace Sprenger

Travellers all are we with fate,
Drifting with the sands of time.
Some have massive deeds to do
Some have only words and rhyme.

Travellers on the wind-strewn sand
Seeking to our hearts content
Pacing onward on the land
Plying on a continent

Makers, shifters, rich men we
All are born some work to do
All are born some load to bear
Some broad highway to pursue

Shifters of our heavy toll
We would shirk, each all of them
Rich men in one sense alone
Naught of his wealth his neighbor knows

Some have money free to spend
Some are rich in heaven's wealth
Some have but the gift to love
Some are richer still in health.

Travellers travelling each a road
Some with pain and care abound
Some travel but to bear a load
Seeking all, some new, some grand

Let us hear our neighbor's prayer
Let us loosen fettered hands
Make the burden sweet to bear
Help the swimmer to the land.

Then our lives will richer grow
And our hearts expand a bit
If we know we've borne a load
Or done our best to lighten it

Ph. 119 J

This Week By H. H. WHITE

The other day here in Northville in talking with a local resident concerning the qualities of our presidential candidates he remarked that "Roosevelt had great personal charm, a winning personality, and was a most astute politician." This is all very well and commendable as far as it goes, but what we need along with these characteristics is a man who is not so much a politician but a statesman also to fill the presidential chair for the next four years. A statesman who is above party politics of partisan control. A man who has had experience in world-wide affairs of an economic nature and whose breadth and vision is not narrowed and confined to the limits of the land over which he is the chief executive.

Breadth and vision can only be gained by travel, experience and knowledge of other countries can only really be acquired by actually living there and learning the customs, ideas and views of those who inhabit such countries. Such has been the experience of Herbert Hoover when in his earlier days in the capacity of engineer and later as the Belgian relief executive during the first part of the world war. He is blessed with a rugged honesty and with his well-trained mind from many experiences both as an engineer, relief promoter both on the other side of the Atlantic and thus as Secretary of Commerce in two administrations, which would further bring him into contact with international affairs by virtue of this very office, the president is unusually well equipped to carry on the ship of state out of its present economic chaos and disaster.

What we need as a nation more than anything else in the next few years at the helm of our country is a man who is not a politician.

Both Hoover's admirers and critics admit this fault and it is a commendable one, for thus no time for party politics. I am not a party man and I hope I will never be, but I am out for the best man for the job and I think that Hoover is one of the greatest statesmen of our times and probably will go down in the cold light and analysis of world civilization and progress as one of the outstanding figures of contemporary history.

It is an established fact that the financial center of the world was removed from London to the United States during and following the recent international conflict, and that we are the leading nation of the world as a result of this along with the other recognized factors which the world at large acknowledges us to be foremost in and looks up to us for leadership in. We are a very great nation by virtue of this, therefore we have great responsibilities and duties as a nation that we are entrusted with and we should not fail in that leadership in this great need and hour when civilization is at the crossroads seeking which way to turn.

This is no time for bigotry, no time to think of party politics, but rather a time to forget we are lepublicans or whatever our party affiliations may be, whether we are advocates of the Volstead act or opposed to it, whether Protestants or Catholics, (someone has been stupid enough to raise this question), but it is a time to think carefully and well how we are going to vote on November the eighth and why.

Every American old enough to vote has this prerogative invested in him by our constitution and it is the determining factor by which he can voice intelligence on his grasp of the affairs of the nation and the world at large and his vote indirectly assists or retards the progress of this nation, and thus the entire world. It is a great challenge and test to Mr. American Citizen as to what he will do with his vote on next election day.

Partisanship never seemed more violent or ridiculous than it has in the past few months. We are in a most perplexing time and the electorate is well aware of it. We should think a long, long time before we go to the polls next month to mark our ballots. I think we should do it prayerfully, if we have never prayed before about civic affairs, we should do it now.

"Bickerings or faultfindings" will not work the millennium we are all hoping and looking for, but good intelligent voting for the right man to lead the destinies of this nation will go a long way to solve our present difficulties and save our neighbors.

You, Mr. Citizen, as well as Mr. Hoover stand at the crossroads, these perplexing times, and if you put the president back into the chair, as head of our nation for another term and then stand by him, as we all put our shoulders to the load and help a little it will lessen the burden for him.

He has proved his merits and they are well established. The world knows of him and as to how far he can be trusted to help them back on to a firm economic and financial basis and it is our bounden duty as good American citizens to continue the present incumbent in the presidential chair that he may carry on and lead us back to a good safe economic harbor and normal prosperity.

The male quartette, consisting of Messrs. Bryan, Larson, Angove, Van Valkenburgh, rendered two numbers, "Can the Lord Depend on Me," and "I Want My Life to Tell for Jesus," which harmonized with the theme and lent force to the appeal of the message.

Diversity Club Brings Program to Woman's Club

The Northville Woman's club had a special treat at their meeting last Friday afternoon when six members of the Diversity club of Detroit entertained them and contributed their talent to the program. These women came in courtesy to Mrs. C. C. Verkes, who is also a member of the Diversity club, and whose luncheon guests they were previous to the afternoon meeting.

In a clever little one-act play these women presented the humorous side of the serious problem of getting up a club program and showed how two women solved it very simply. The play was refreshingly natural and well acted.

Full of wit, it was greatly enjoyed by the attentive audience, who laughed to see themselves as others see them. The characters were represented by Mrs. Don M. Simpson and Mrs. C. R. Cook, the club program committee. Mrs. Leonard K. Wilton, the librarian, and Mrs. Willard K. Bush, (President of the Diversity club), and Mrs. Wellington Logan, library patrons.

In addition to the play, further pleasure was given by two vocal numbers beautifully sung by Mrs. Bates, who also played her own accompaniment.

Mrs. Verkes presented to the club some very vivid and intimate glimpses of the "Outstanding Women of Official Washington" in a paper previously read to the Diversity club. Very surprising and enlightening were the revelations of the characteristics of these women who stand at the pivot of national affairs. Among them were Mrs. Herbert Hoover, Ruth Bryan Owen, Alice Roosevelt Longworth, Grace Abbott, George Chiniquet's Bureau. About George Chiniquet's Bureau. About her hearers was the erstwhile Swedish immigrant girl, Mary Anderson, who has risen to a position of dignity and responsibility in Washington circles.

A social time concluded the afternoon when the Northville club expressed their appreciation of the visit of their guests.

Sessions Hospital Doctors Dine Socially Together

At the close of a busy day eight doctors laid aside their professional cares, closed the doors of their offices at nine o'clock and gathered for an evening of relaxation and social pleasure as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Sessions, the latter the matron of the Sessions Hospital, and Nurse Irene Fennel, Friday.

The guests gathered at the home of Mrs. T. E. Henry, Dunlap street, where an elaborate four-course dinner was served with fried chicken and all the good things that doctors enjoy. In keeping with the Halloween season the table was artistically decorated with a huge hollow pumpkin filled with fruit as a centerpiece, with yellow candles on each side. Dainty place cards at each cover seated the guests pleasantly as a means of furthering mutual acquaintance and sociability.

Forgotten were pain and patients, no "shop talk" marred the evening's pleasure and these medical men enjoyed their comradeship in a pleasant quiet out of the ordinary among men of the same profession.

Rising in the course of the dinner the hostess, Mrs. Sessions, paid high tribute to the fine spirit of co-operation in this group of physicians which means much to the welfare of their community. Objects responded heartily and naturally with wit and wisdom. A serious note was struck when it was recalled that this event marked the anniversaries of the death and interment of two former members of this circle, known affectionately to Northville as "Dr. Tom" and "Dr. Dan" Henry. Both of these men were pioneer advocates of the hospital movement here. Appreciation of their loyalty was expressed by those who are carrying on the work.
