NORTHVILLE TO GET "DEM" P. M. IN 1934

Three Are Suggested As The Successor to Thos. C. Carrington

The rules of political patronage will in March, 1934, give the position of postmaster of the village of Northville to a tried and true democrat...

M. J. Murphy, democratic candidate for congress from the newly formed seventeenth district in the primary election...

Fred Van Atta, a quiet and amiable man, has received a large share of favorable comment from townsmen...

Nelson C. Schrader has also been active as one of the staunch democrats in Northville...

He has been the head of the furniture store bearing his name and also the funeral home for many years...

The new postmaster, when appointed, will probably take over the position in March, 1934.

MURPHY TELLS OF FAMOUS DR. LOCKE

Exchange Mr. Murphy, former democratic candidate for congress, entertained members of the club and their guests with an account of his trip to Canada following the primary election...

We left Northville on the morning of Thursday, Sept. 29, by way of Windsor and took route 2 traveling through Brantford, Gannon, and finally arriving at Williamsburg where we found hundreds of people...

Dr. Locke was raised on a farm in the village of Williamsburg and graduated in medicine at Queens University...

It is said that prior to his recent publicity Dr. Locke treated ten to fifteen patients each day. Now he treats a patient every ten seconds...

As fast as each patient is treated he or she is taken out of the line and to the shelter house where a chiropractor manipulates the arms or legs...

The treatment is exactly alike for all entering the line regardless of the nature of the ailment. Dr. Locke is reputed by the people of the vicinity with whom we talked to be a very charitable man...

TEACHER TRAINING CLASS TO BEGIN ON NOVEMBER 21

Much interest is being manifested in the approaching series of classes in Teacher Training which will begin on the evening of Nov. 21...

The registration fee is only 50c and the cost of the text books is very low. These may be shared with others.

It is a fine commentary on the spirit of unity which exists between the denominations when churches may unite for study.

The classes will begin Monday evening, Nov. 21, at 7:30 o'clock. They will be held in the First Presbyterian church...

JACK MINER IS COMING

"If it were not for children, music, flowers and birds, I would have no desire to carry on," says Jack Miner. "If you ever expect to be a big man you must entertain big, clean thoughts."

Three judges were chosen to make the selection in the persons of J. P. Cruern, Rod and Gun Editor of the San Francisco Examiner, California; Judge George W. Wood, of Supreme Court of Iowa and National Director of Izak Walton League, and Carlos Avery, President of American Game Protective Association.

VILLAGE CLOCK WON'T STRIKE

Northville residents who have been accustomed to hearing "Old Faithful," the town's "Big Ben" in the Methodist church steeple, strike the hours of time have listened in vain this past week for the "toll" of hours.

VIADUCT AND BRIDGE ON SIX MILE ROAD

Working through the winter, Wayne county engineers have already started pile-driving for a separation under the railroad tracks at the junction of Six Mile and Northville roads.

The grade separation will be located approximately 200 feet north of the present crossing on the Northville road which is about a half mile south of Cass Street and which adjoins the Farm Creek project owned by P. H. Greenman, head of the Farm Creek Baking Company.

Material for both the grade separation and the viaduct is on the ground and the work will progress as quickly as weather permits.

DANCE TO BE HELD NOV. 29 FOR WELFARE

Hard Times Party Proceeds Go To Charity Fund

Northville will be asked to combine recreation and philanthropy by attending the Hard Times dance on Tuesday, Nov. 29, at the high school gymnasium which will be sponsored by the Northville Welfare Association.

The Welfare association, representing all of the charitable organizations in Northville will get the proceeds and will appropriate the same to the societies on a ratio determined by the amount spent by the societies on charity during the past year.

All those coming to the dance will be expected to wear their oldest clothes in keeping with the spirit of a Hard Times party. A free lunch will be served and there will probably be entertainment in the way of vocal numbers.

Scott Montgomery's orchestra will play the music for both the old time dance numbers and for the more modern fox trot numbers.

An appeal for the citizens of Northville to support this evening's free lunch has been made by Merrill Sweet, chairman of the Welfare Board, and Dr. Linwood V. Snow, village president.

THE FACE AGAINST THE WINDOW

A dreary rain was falling as we drove by the house where the little fellow lived. He had his face pressed against the window, looking out and trying to find some comfort as the rain kept coming down.

SUNDAY MORNING IN THE CHURCH

It is none of our business whether or not people go to church, yet we often think that a lot of people miss much from life by not going there.

Take last Sunday morning, here in Northville. In our own church we had an especially fine and helpful talk by the pastor, giving to the discouraged new hope and to the optimistic even more reason for their good cheer.

WHAT COACH YOST SAYS

Over at Ann Arbor the other day we stood with a little group and heard Coach Fielding H. Yost give some of his views on the election. He had some thought-provoking, if sarcastic words, which ran something like this: "Well, things ought to be pretty near perfect now."

BUSINESS IS BETTER

One of Northville's most level headed business men was in the Record office this week, predicting that business is already on the up-grade and going to be much better. Practically all the experts agree with him.

MORE TAXES COMING

We folks here in Northville, along with the rest of the state, can get ready for some new taxes. As we write this on Monday, the indications are that amendment No. 2, limiting the property tax on a thousand dollars of valuation to $15, has been written into our state constitution by a very narrow vote.

At the present time, the average tax in Michigan for a $1,000 of valuation is over $32. The amendment which has been apparently adopted simply means that we shall have to go out somewhere else and raise the $17 over the limitation of $15.

The outlook is serious and we hope that our lawmakers are able and conscientious enough to solve the overwhelming problem. The legislators will have to adopt either an income tax or a sales tax—or both. Then they will have to devise a plan whereby the various funds can be distributed fairly.

We wish them "good luck."

WANDERING THOUGHTS

Buy Michigan beet sugar.

"Cling to that which endures."

Started your Christmas shopping yet?

Yes, friends, we have taken out from our windows all those republican pictures—our "rogues' gallery" as Mike Murphy said.

Al. Smith says the democrats must "purge" their party of some of its leaders. They have our permission to commence on William Randolph Hearst.

Let's all back Hoover until March 4 and then stand back of President Roosevelt for the following four years. Better days are surely ahead if we all co-operate.

If Governor-elect Cömstock does a few more things like promising to remove all the prohibition prisoners he can get ready for a place in history as a "one-term" governor. There won't be any "tidal wave" to save him in 1934.

The man who wants to make a success of his business can take a tip from Frank D. Fitzgerald, sole state republican survivor. "Fitz" is still secretary of the state of Michigan because he makes friends and stands by them.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

A HECKLER HECKLED

(Richard Cook in The Hastings Banner)

Talking about bitter politics of other days, we are reminded of an incident that once happened to the late William Howard Taft when he was delivering an address in "enemy territory" while campaigning for the presidency.

LET'S GO

(Walter S. Kennedy in The Albion Evening Recorder)

Now that the election is all over, a lot of partisan voters will be looking either for the country to go to pieces, or for an unexcelled prosperity. They are going to be surprised, my friends, when neither happens.

YOUR BROTHER'S KEEPER

(Fred Veith in The Laingsburg Press)

Winter is not far away. It is bound to come, if for no other reason than that it always has. But what kind of winter it will be, beyond the characteristic ruggedness, nobody knows.

LOCAL NEWS

Mrs. Lily VanBonn of Redford is at the home of her son, Leon, making the acquaintance of her new grandson.

"Well, you took a good licking," said a democratic friend—and we couldn't blame him for that, as we had it "coming to us." And yet, if you have to take one, why not take a good big one, like we did? There was no fooling about our wallop on the chin the night of Nov. 8.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

Whom would you like to see as new postmaster of Northville, a year from next March?

WE ARE COMING OUT OF THE TRENCHES

(Bill) Canfield in The Livingston Republican Press

A new victory is ours—the victory of regained optimism, of remolded morals, of Americans again with "chins up." Business is brisker and there is a freer circulation of money. Yet, somehow, these things don't loom up so important as we had dreamed they would.

We've again found the old front stoop and fireplace-friendliness that most of us loved in the days before the war. We've learned to cherish people just for the joy that's in their presence and the warmth that's in their hearts.

Indeed, "peace" hath her victories no less renowned than war. We've learned to be folks again. We've gained a truer value of that type of democracy so bravely strived for by those to whom we pay homage today.

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS

10 YEARS AGO

Northville is to have a new health resort. Dr. A. B. Wickham has become the owner of the beautiful W. E. Scotten home, locally known as "Broadview". Mr. Scotten purchased the place some time ago from Buchanan.

25 YEARS AGO

Washington West of Novi died at the age of fourscore years. Mrs. D. F. Harmon of the Record Staff is taking a vacation in Novi on account of illness.

30 YEARS AGO

Mrs. M. N. Johnson and Mrs. Chas. Gardner gave a party in honor of Mae Starkweather, whose marriage is soon to occur to Bert Phillips.

West Point Park

The election passed very quietly in L'Annis. Voting in the hall was from early in the morning until evening. A few minutes' night counting took place.

Barbara Middlewood is in a hospital in Cairo, where she attended high school. She was operated on for appendicitis and is improving at this time.

Rev. Miller and Mrs. Miller were in the church here Sunday morning. There is a friend that stocketh closer than a brother.

Mrs. Albert Nacker entertained the welfare workers for two consecutive Wednesdays. Potluck dinner was served both days.

The high school senior class was chaperoned by Mrs. Marvin Addis on Tuesday evening. They all enjoyed a weenie roast on Thirteenth Mile road.

THIS WEEK

Recently in conversation with a man who styles himself an economist he asked me "If I thought that the great mass of American people had been getting a square deal?"

I continued, "this is apparent more and more so to the rank and file of our American citizens in general, and the depression which we have recently gone through has brought home the fact to a greater degree than ever before."

Whether we are blind to the fact, whether we like it or not, no matter how unpleasant it may be either the economically privileged group will have the reins of the government more and more within their control.

Other good things we learn, are on the way in The American Boy-Youth's Companion for 1933. Adventures in all parts of the world; stories of school and college; helpful stories of the professions; sports interviews with famous coaches and players; vivid articles on travel and science.

We suggest The American Boy-Youth's Companion as an ideal present for that son, nephew, cousin, and neighbor. It's a character-building, imagination-stirring present that renews itself every month in the year.

AT THE THEATRE

"MADISON SQUARE GARDEN" EXTENDS SUCCESSFUL RUN

"Madison Square Garden," drama set against the colorful background of Manhattan's world-famous center of social, civic and athletic activities, will be at the Pennington-Allyn theatre, Saturday, Nov. 19.

While the story of the arrival of a manager and two proteges at "The Garden" in search of fame and the romances of the latter with two girl telegraph operators, binds the picture together, it concerns itself in general with the kaleidoscopic activities of the institution. And, like other pictures of the one-location variety, it deals with a group of people of widely diversified backgrounds, who glide briefly into the action, and then out again; their lives changed by the events in which they have participated.

"The Garden" is cast as President of the Pennington-Allyn theatre, McCoy is cast as a son who travels with a band of Texas cowboys to a town where his mission is to reclaim land purloined from his father. He finds hostility on every hand, as he and his band of peace-loving cowmen enter. Conquer. Even the girl McCoy meets and falls in love with, discloses dislike. Gun-play finally brings matters to a climax and it is only after the girl's kindly old father has been murdered and McCoy accused, that his hard-riding band of Texas "roughs" bring about peace and McCoy's triumph.

The leading woman of "Fighting for Justice," is lovely Joyce Compton. Hooper Alchebe a stage and screen villain for twenty years, plays the grafting lawyer, who in connivance with William W. Mong, would out McCoy from his father's land, the Apache-Maud range. Late McCoy, a veteran western player, is Frasser Compton's father and Robert Frasser has an important role in the picture.

The story of "Fighting for Justice" was written by Gladwell Richardson and adapted to the screen by Robert Quigley Otto Brower directed the production. Others in the cast are Wm Norton Bailey, Murdoch MacQuarrie, Tom London, Walter Brennan and Henry Sedley.

Novi school had a short program in observance of Armistice Day last Friday. Margaret Pratt gave the poem, "Poppies in Flanders Field." Laura Tollette read a paper on "The Meaning of Armistice Day." While Mervin Trotter gave a speech on "World Peace," to conclude recognition of the special day.

The girls of the Service Squad invited several boys of the school to a party at the school last Friday. The evening was spent as usual, visiting and playing games, and all seemed to enjoy a sociable time.

FIRST PLACE GOES TO CHEVROLET IN CAR SHOW RANKING For the sixth consecutive year the Chevrolet Motor Company has won first place at the annual automobile shows sponsored by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, according to the drawings made here last week. This honor, one eagerly sought by the industry, carries with it the right to first choice of exhibition space at the two automobile shows to be sponsored by the N. A. C. C. at New York and Chicago early next year. Relative positions are awarded by the chamber on the basis of dollar volume of member companies in the twelve months ended June 30. In this period, Chevrolet led all member companies of the N. A. C. C. having built and sold more cars than any other manufacturer in the association. First place at the N. A. C. C. drawings was taken by Chevrolet originally in 1927 when the company was building a four cylinder car, and every year since then the award has gone to this largest producing division of General Motors by a constantly widening margin year after year.

Langfield Discusses Manchuria

The following is a part of the talk that E. C. Langfield, head of the Northville Laboratories, gave before the Rotary club Tuesday. Our readers will find it full of interest. He said: The whole difficulty in Manchuria originates from a long series of the open disregard by China of the Treaties which are essential to the security of that region. Its immediate cause is well known to be the violent attack of last September 18, 1931, made by Chinese troops on the railway zone under the protection of the Japanese Army. We are all too apt to forget that between 1895 and 1904 China had allowed Russia to get Manchuria completely into her grasp. It was practically Russian province. By the war of 1904-5, Japan wrested it from the control of the Czar and handed it back to China, only stipulating for the extension of the South Manchurian Railway and the right of military protection for the line together with the lease of "wanting." All the time China was secretly the ally of Russia and had this fact been known Japan would have had every justification for replacing Russia in Manchuria. In 1915 she did obtain some extension of her rights, in particular, the recognition of the right of her people to lease Manchurian land, and her civilizing efforts resulted in enormously increasing the prosperity and population of the country. After Japan had gained the South Manchurian Railway she invested a billion dollars in Manchuria. About a million Japanese subjects, mostly Koreans, and some thirty million Chinese have settled in the territory. Police powers have been exercised by Japanese soldiers up to an agreed maximum of 16,000 men within the South Manchurian Railway zone, and by local Chinese authorities outside the zone. What Caused the Trouble Nationalism has been increasing among the Chinese, expressing itself by boycotts of Japanese goods and by irritating refusals to settle local disputes. Finally, it appears that a Japanese, Capt. Nakamura, was murdered by Chinese soldiers, and some portions of the South Manchurian Railway were torn up. What Then? Then came the explosion. On September 18, 1931, Japanese troops poured out of the concession in Mukden, occupied the city, and gradually seized various other towns and strategic points outside the railway zone. The whole world was stunned. Even from Tokyo came confused reports indicating that the Japanese soldiers were out of hand. But rapidly the situation changed. Japanese public opinion rilled behind the army. China appealed to the League of Nations. The council was in session at Geneva and immediately took up the matter; a cable was sent to both China and Japan asking them to refrain from further acts and to withdraw their troops. What Happened Next Instead of improving, the situation rapidly became worse. Japanese airplanes bombed Chinchow on Oct. 6, 1931, and Japan began to send certain fundamental principles that must be fulfilled before she would withdraw her troops. The League had failed to control a great war. The area which we call Manchuria looks small on the map, the total area exceeds that of Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, and the Dakotas combined. The population is more than twice as great as that of these six American States; all current estimates place it above 25,000,000 and some above 30,000,000. A generation ago Manchuria was largely an empty country, inhabited by the scattered bands of Mongols and by the remnants of the Manchou tribes which had conquered China in the middle of the seventeenth century. Today there are still some Manchou tribes and some Manchou among the bulk of the population, but nearly 100,000,000 Chinese, 100,000 Japanese and a number of Russians and other nations. The key to the problem of Manchuria is the system of transportation. The country is served by two main lines of railroads, the Chinese Eastern, which runs across northern Manchuria from West to East, connecting Vladivostok and the far Eastern Province of the Soviet Union with Central Siberia and Russia, who still dominates its operations. The other is operated by the Japanese. A few short lines are built and operated by China. The climate is about the same in summer as Iowa and the Dakotas, but much colder in winter. Cold wind and flurries of snow could not keep the Northville women at home last Saturday when the opening of a new dress shop was announced. Quite early in the morning customers began to arrive both old and young and continued throughout the day until as late as 10:30 that evening. The shop was artistically arranged with its clean interior and shining show cases tastefully arranged. Gay chrysanthemums added a note of festivity to the opening day. Among the visitors were those who came merely as interested spectators and many who came to purchase. Both classes were equally welcomed by Mrs. Jennie Cousins, the new proprietor, who was assisted by her daughters, Misses Marion and Eunice. Discriminating buyers expressed themselves as pleased with the variety of stock and glad that their gowns and other apparel may be bought right here at home. Mrs. Cousins was gratified with the beginning of her enterprise and is grateful to her friends for their patronage. EATON BREAKS BONE E. R. Eaton is still using a crutch. A bone in his ankle was found to be broken and Mr. Eaton has suffered great inconvenience from the accident, when he slipped on the curb two weeks ago.

YOUTH GREET'S AGE AT CHELSEA HOME A company of about forty young folks from Northville invaded the stillness of the Methodist Old People's Home at Chelsea last Sunday afternoon binging with them good cheer. The party was escorted in cars driven by Chas. A. Dolph, Rev. E. N. Miner, Sherrill Ambler, Wayne Neal, Mrs. E. M. Bogart, Mrs. C. E. Turnbull and R. T. Baldwin. In the auditorium of the Home all of the old people who were able gathered to greet the young visitors. The superintendent, Dr. W. J. Baier, voiced the gratitude of the residents for the pleasure of the visit and from the heartiness with which the young folks threw themselves into their contribution to the program it was evident that the pleasure was mutual. Never did they sing with more spirit than when they realized that they were bringing joy to lonely hearts. Miss Wilma Rattenbury, president of the Epworth League, had the program in charge and in her opening devotional service spoke, very feelingly of the close relation between youth and age. Mrs. Miner followed with a prayer. A sextette of young girls, partly from Mrs. Miner's Sunday school class, sang several numbers accompanied by Mary Elizabeth Elkington. These girls were Marion Turnbull, Mary Louise Royden, Violet Johnson, Marie Lenton, Winifred McCardie and Avis Perry. Merle Fraser, accompanied by Miss Eunice Cousins, sang three songs especially appreciated by the listeners. In two brief impromptu talks Mr. Miner and Mr. Baldwin emphasized the mutual inspiration in the association of youth with age. After the program the young folks went about the building dropping in at various rooms along the corridors where shut-ins were unable to leave. With songs and words of cheer the visitors graciously brought smiles to wrinkled faces and left for home with their own hearts warmed by the love of service. A generous supply of jellies and fruits were left by the young folks. This effort was a part of the social service department directed by Miss Florence Johnson.

NEW DRESS SHOPPE DRAWS THE LADIES Cold wind and flurries of snow could not keep the Northville women at home last Saturday when the opening of a new dress shop was announced. Quite early in the morning customers began to arrive both old and young and continued throughout the day until as late as 10:30 that evening.

TRUMAN GARFIELD NOW 84 YEARS OLD

Not every birthday deserves a double celebration as did the anniversary of Truman Garfield, who reached his 84th milestone in life Sunday, Nov. 6.

On this day, at a family dinner at the home of his son, Grant, in Redford, the event was properly celebrated in a quiet manner.

On Nov. 13, Mr. Garfield was again honored at a joint celebration of his own birthday and that of his namesake, his son, Truman Garfield, Jr. At the home of Truman Jr., 707 Tuxedo avenue, Detroit, there gathered a large number of the family and friends, who felicitated both Trumans with gifts and good wishes.

The birthday dinner was made festive with a lovely centerpiece of chrysanthemums in russet and yellow shades. A huge birthday cake with lighted tapers added to the occasion.

Four daughters, two sons, two granddaughters and two grandsons met to honor Mr. Garfield. His daughters present were: Mrs. Ida Cooke and Mrs. Flora Maloin, and Mrs. M. D. Taylor, all of Northville, and Mrs. J. H. Fackett of Detroit. His sons, Truman and Grant, and grandchildren, Harry and Juanita Fackett, Yvonne Taylor and Jimmy Garfield. A few close friends were also included in the happy party: Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Clark and Geo. Bowles of Detroit.

Contrary to all that you read in the daily papers, there is a strong possibility that Michigan will play the University of Southern California in the annual Rose-Bowl game played on New Year's day at Los Angeles, if they whip Minnesota tomorrow.

MARLENE DIETRICH STARS IN SHOW AT PENNIMAN-ALLEN

It was one great picture that Marlene Dietrich had as a starring vehicle at the Merchants' Show, Wednesday night, at the Penniman-Allyn theatre in "Blonde Venus."

It was an unforgettable performance and the audience was tense in its admiration and fascination over the role which Miss Dietrich depicted of a woman who first portrays a wife's love centered on husband and son. Because of the illness of her husband she encounters many vicissitudes, and discovers she is in love with two men. In this portrayal of the dilemma the woman finds herself in, Dietrich essays, probably her greatest screen role.

With a cast of such well-chosen actors, as Cary Grant, Dickie Moore, Herbert Marshall, Gertrude Short, Gene Morgan, Robert O'Connor, Maude Truix, and Rita LaRoy, here is a good entertainment that the local management can be congratulated upon in securing.

Eldon has an aunt living there with whom they expect to live. Ronald Beasley motored with his mother, Mrs. Leonard Beasley and Doris and Bob, to Britton last Friday where they remained until Sunday, when Mr. Beasley joined them for the day and the family returned home.

Mrs. George White of Flushing, who has been visiting relatives in Northville returned home, Saturday, accompanied by her nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. White, Jr. The latter visited relatives and friends in Flint.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Glenzer of Detroit called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cook last Sunday and gave Mrs. Cook a beautiful bouquet of roses. They were sorry to learn that her eyesight is so bad that she could not see the roses much as she loves flowers.

NORTHVILLE A. C. DEFEATED SUNDAY AT WAYNE, 12 TO 6

The Northville Athletic club was beaten by Wayne in a football game played there last Sunday afternoon, 12 to 6. Due to a last minute change in arrangements, the Northville team was sent to Wayne instead of playing here with the St. George A. C., as previously scheduled.

This change contributed largely to Northville's defeat. Team members said, as many of their regulars were absent. The outstanding feature of the game was the remarkable 10-yard passing of Mick Keeler, the Northville fullback. In the last half he completed 10 out of a possible 20 passes. The Northville touchdown was scored by Lawrence LePetere, an end, on one of these passes.

This Sunday, Northville is scheduled to meet the Northwestern Athletic club here. The game will be played, however, only if weather permits.

JACK MINER COMING HERE NEXT TUESDAY

Ontario, Canada, which is not only a distant honor to Jack Miner, but to Canada as well, in having such a medal awarded by Americans to a Canadian.

"Jack Miner, known throughout the world as the father of the waterfowl refuge idea, has done more than any other person to encourage the establishment of sanctuaries where migratory fowl may rest and breed. By his excellent example in harboring thousands of geese and ducks of his sanctuary in Kingsville, Ontario, which he started and maintained for many years at his own expense, by writing books and giving talks at numerous large meetings, Miner has spread the story of the duck refuges, particularly small, protected spots that are so necessary along the migration routes.

"Through his untiring efforts and by his co-operation with sportsmen and other public-spirited individuals throughout the country, many duck, geese and swan sanctuaries have been established, and wherever one such refuge has been set aside and the sportsmen and general public see the results that are obtained, other groups in nearby communities are imbued with the idea of having similar waterfowl sanctuaries. In time Miner's idea will be adopted along and near all of the migratory bird fly-aways, and the sportsmen will be the direct beneficiaries; for with the numbers of hunters growing rapidly, the present supply of waterfowl can be maintained only with sensible killing privileges, and the creation of many refuges.

"Jack Miner has shown the way not with theories alone, but by excellent example of what can be accomplished toward perpetuating our ducks and geese, and thereby providing for pleasure of future generations of sportsmen, and this committee feels proud of this opportunity to give due recognition through Outdoor Life's annual award, to Jack Miner, the leader of the duck and goose refuge plan."

Signed,
Judge Geo. W. Wood, Iowa,
J. P. Crunen, California,
Carlos Avery, New York.

JOHN DUKE EFFECTIVE IN WILCOX CAMPAIGN

A good deal of credit is being given to John Duke of Livonia township for the splendid vote-rolled up for Sheriff-elect Thos. G. Wilcox, in his own township and in Northville and Plymouth townships. Mr. Duke worked early and late for Wilcox and he was a big factor in Wilcox's fine showing in this area.

Not a "showy" politician but a quiet, friendly worker, Mr. Duke began boosting for Wilcox for sheriff way back last May. He never made any speeches but he made friends here and there and always put in a good word for Wilcox, for whom he has had a great deal of admiration. Apparently this kind of a campaign pleased the voters for they gave Wilcox a fine expression of confidence.

Howard A. Taylor was also another very effective worker for the Wilcox cause.

N. H. S. LOSES LAST CONTEST OF YEAR, 12-9

Farmington Offensive Good; Score in Last Period Wins Game

Scoring a touchdown in the first four minutes of play and another in the final minutes of the last quarter, Farmington turned back Northville, 12 to 9, last Friday in the final game of the year.

Due to the snow which covered the field and a cold wind blowing from the northwest, the game was a struggle. Farmington's offensive was the key to their success. They scored a touchdown in the first quarter and another in the last quarter. Northville's defense was unable to stop Farmington's offense.

The game was played in difficult conditions. The snow made it hard to see the ball and the cold wind made it difficult to breathe. Despite these conditions, Farmington managed to win the game.

SCOUTS TO HAVE OWN NEWSPAPER

The Northville Boy Scouts have turned journalistic Monday night at the meeting of the troop. Ad. Schwenger, Scoutmaster, talked to the possibility of having a Scout newspaper. The idea was to have a paper that would be of interest to the Scouts and the community.

The Scouts elected for editor, Tom Carrington, Jr., associate editor, Roland Morris, and feature editor, Jack Stubenolt.

The paper will be published weekly. It will contain news about the Scouts and the community. It will also contain articles of interest to the Scouts.

ANNUAL STAFF APPOINTED BY THE COUNCIL

Seniors Choose Photographers To Take Pictures for Palladium

The first plans for the 1933 Palladium have been made in the appointment of the annual staff by the council. The staff was chosen by the seniors.

The staff will be responsible for the production of the Palladium. They will take pictures for the year and write the articles.

The seniors chose the photographers for the year. They will take pictures of the school and the community.

BASKETBALL TO COMMENCE SOON

With the football season over, the attention turns toward basketball. Due to complications which have arisen during the past week, it is not known exactly when the first practice will be held. It is expected, however, to be very soon.

The basketball season will begin in a few days. The teams will be practicing and playing games.

The school will have a basketball team. They will play games with other schools.

SENIOR DANCE HELD TONIGHT IN GYMNASIUM

To Start at Eight P. M.; Class Considers Giving Play

The third senior dance of the year will be held at 8 o'clock in the high school gymnasium this (Friday) evening. The gym will be brightly decorated and Patterson's orchestra, which rendered such delightful music two weeks ago, will be present.

The dance will last until twelve midnight. There will be a class play after the dance.

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

Dishonesty Appears Prevalent - Accurate reports as well as disastorous personal experience lead us reluctantly to believe that there is some, so say the least, dishonesty in the school. Money being stolen, athletic equipment being taken; students being robbed of books and lunches; these and many others are the instances to which we refer.

Grade Notes - Miss King's Mrs. Babin's and Miss Wilson's grades for the first prize P. T. A. picture. They have decided for each grade to take the picture for their room a certain number of days during the month. That way they can all have the honor of having the picture.

Society - The 8th grade held a class dance Saturday evening in the Scout building. Melvin Mitchell spent the week-end in Detroit.

DO YOU REMEMBER WHEN...

Cady street was set aside in memory of Daniel L. Cady, whose farm went into farming our town.

Griswold road was named to remember the life and character of Uncle Clark Griswold, farmer and friend of man.

Randolph street was a name of a prominent family consisting of L. G. N. Merritt and Asa M. Randolph.

Yerkes avenue was given the name for Judge W. Furdy Yerkes.

Beal avenue was so designated in honor of Francis R. Beal, nationally known school furniture man.

Horton avenue was named for Edward S. Horton, postmaster for more terms than any other incumbent?

Dubarr street was to honor James A. Dubarr, manufacturer and former village president.

Thayer boulevard was so-called for William W. Thayer, fish culturist.

Butler avenue was named for Orange Butler, mine host of the Park Hotel and farmer.

It is indeed an opportunity to visit the highest endowed schools in the world. All DeMolays should observe this day and plan now to invite your parents and friends to Christ Church, Cranbrook, Lone Pine-Road, Bloomfield Hills on Sunday afternoon, November 20.

Metropolitan DeMolay News Fellowship chapter will hold its annual public dance at the 19th Wyld Golf Club on the Five Mile Road on Friday evening, Nov. 25. Patterson's orchestra will furnish the music.

'BONER' SECTION WILL BE STARTED NEXT WEEK

Next week the Orange and Black will run a section of humorous "boners" and misstatements that are taken from examinations and essays written by students.

It will be appreciated if all teachers finding these will give them to Kenneth Eichen of the Orange and Black staff.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

Mrs. May Filkins entertained the Big Whist club at her home on Dunlap street, Tuesday evening.

Harry Sedan, accompanied by Mr. Downing of Plymouth, plans to leave soon on a fishing trip in the north.

Mrs. Perry-Brown accompanied by her brother-in-law, Frank Brown, of Rosedale Gardens, spent Friday with relatives in this village.

DeMOLAY NEWS

DeMOLAY OBSERVES PARENTS' DAY AT CHRIST CHURCH

The James S. Haseberger Chapter, of Birmingham, have invited all chapters in the Metropolitan district to their Parents' day observance. This invitation should be enthusiastically received.

Just north of Birmingham in Bloomfield Hills is a beautiful church. To it all DeMolays, their parents and friends are invited, Sunday afternoon, November 20, 1932.

The program includes the following: 3:15-3:45 p.m. Carillon Recital; 4:00-5:00 p.m. Address-Rev. W. Hamilton Auld; 5:00-5:30 p.m. Organ Recital. However, if anyone would enjoy a trip around and through the grounds of Kingswood and Cranbrook Schools, guides will be furnished immediately after the service. This

SCHOOL OBSERVES ARMISTICE WITH PROGRAM FRIDAY

Supt. Knapp and Esther Bacon Give Talks; Trio Reads Songs

Friday, Nov. 11, a program was given in the assembly. It was held to honor those who took part in the World War. At the opening Mr. Lee led the assembly in the singing of America.

Esther Bacon then gave a very interesting talk about the Armistice of 1918, of which very little is known. This was the agreement, given by the Turkish government to their soldiers during the course of the talk she gave us a very vivid picture of the soldiers going to war.

Following this, a group of war-time songs was delightfully sung by Gertrude Deal, Florence Jackson, and Eleanor Grosvenor.

After this part of the program the chairman, Robert Christensen, introduced Supt. T. J. Knapp, who gave a very interesting talk.

He discussed quite thoroughly the European situation at that time and pointed out how the conditions over there have changed but slightly in the years since the war. He also showed how the tariff walls make the feeling more bitter between the countries.

He stated, however, that conditions are more favorable all over the world due to science and peace treaties, and perhaps men will soon realize that nothing will be gained by fighting.

Then, since Friday was the last of the football season for Northville, four interesting pep talks were given by Mrs. Chapman and Miss Huff, former graduates, and by Kenneth Eichen and Jane Lester.

HONOR ROLL FOR LAST MONTH HAS MANY STUDENTS

With the grades being sent out during the past week an honor roll has been computed, with the names of students who did not receive any mark below C. They are divided into two groups of A's and B's, and C's which are as follows:

- A and B, Grades 11 and 12
- D. Ash, P. Blake, B. Broad, P. Beard, E. Clark, C. Deal, C. Gibson, M. Humphries, M. Haystead, M. Harper, M. Hay, P. Johnson, E. Kimmel, M. Lewis, A. Parmenter, W. Rotterdam.
- Grades 9 and 10
- F. Alexander, I. Alkman, F. Ambler, M. J. Boyden, E. Barley, L. Coo, M. Douglas, B. Duguid, J. Greene, M. Hills, T. McLoughlin, J. Spreng.
- B and C, Grades 11 and 12
- R. Angell, M. Bennett, R. Christensen, A. Cook, C. Duguid, M. J. Denne, O. Fossate, M. Fraser, E. Grosvenor, V. Horsfall, H. Lafla, J. Lester, C. McKenna, J. McLoughlin, D. Meissner, W. Neal, M. Pierpont, R. Reed, M. Steiner, R. Spow, D. Shoebridge, J. Steenchen, R. Shipley, N. Schrader, D. Sears, J. Shinn.

P. T. A. Listens to Fine Talks

"Have the child checked up frequently" was the burden of the talk given by Dr. B. H. Douglas at the regular meeting of parents and teachers at the high school last Thursday afternoon.

"Take your child to a physician at least every six months for examination," said this authority on health. "Much trouble, he said, may be avoided by early recognition of danger signals known only by the physician. It is to be regretted that so small a number of parents avail themselves of the opportunity to hear this fine talk as well as the reports of the recent State Association of Parents and Teachers held in Ann Arbor. Mrs. J. H. Bolton reported an enlightening discovery made by an authority who discussed "Recreation and Vocation" in which, throughout years, of experiment he had proved that the future vocation of the youth may be determined by his early choice of recreation."

Mrs. Boyden brought a report of a talk on "Mental Security" in which the speaker urged having the child co-operate in his punishment making it corrective rather than penal. Altogether it was a most helpful meeting and those who "missed it, missed it." The president, Mrs. E. W. Lester, was in the chair and a community song, led by Leslie G. Lee, added to the pleasure of the gathering.

The prize for largest attendance of parents was led for by the rooms of Mrs. Reag, Miss Wilson and Mrs. Babbitt, who will share the picture for the coming month.

HAROLD JORDAN, 3rd GRADER, BREAKS ARM

Last Thursday afternoon, Nov. 10, Harold Jordan, a 3rd grader, while playing on the merry-go-round in the school yard fell and broke his left arm.

While the merry-go-round was revolving at a rapid speed, he lost his balance and was thrown off, landing on his left arm. The fracture was a serious one, below the elbow. He was immediately taken to Sessions hospital and he is now in school again.

FOOTBALL SQUAD TURNS IN SUITS

The uniforms appeared to be in fairly good condition in spite of the hard season which they have been through. It is desired by Coach Ruggles that anyone still having school equipment would turn it in immediately.

It was brought out at our pep meeting last week that we are not the only Republican in the school. Three cheers and congratulations!

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

L. L. L. CLUB

Mystery! What does L. L. L. mean? Nobody knows. We go know that this club meets every other week. The members draw slips to see at whose house they will gather.

They often play bridge and five hundred to pass the evening after their business has been discussed. Refreshments are served.

President of this club is Gertrude Deal; vice-president, Madeline Haystead; secretary, Margaret Hay; treasurer, Marie Humphries; secretary, Eleanor Grosvenor. Their guardian is Miss Reva Schrader.

Eleven members make up this club. To vary their meetings the members have progressive dinners and later go to the show.

The mystery is still unsolved. L. L. L. could mean just loads of things. Look out all ye members, we're all going to play Sherlock Holmes from now on. Be on your guard.

A negro cook came into a Mississippi bank with a check from the lady for whom she worked. As Mainly, the cook, could not write, she always endorsed her checks with a big X. But on this occasion she made a circle on the back of the check.

REMEMBERING THE ARMISTICE

It was a fine thing that the entire Northville school system could honor their heroes of 1918, both dead and living, by maintaining a three minute silence at eleven o'clock last Friday. It was also fine that they could hear their superintendent deliver a message of liberalism and of optimism on the subject which the day commemorates. Northville is not the kind of a school that would allow a day like Armistice to pass unnoticed.

Mrs. "Ed" Attends Press Club

We are guests of the university at the annual "Press Club" and at the Michigan Union building...

"Oh, yes," they say to us. We'd like to begin on a small town newspaper. It would be an easy start to something bigger...

What wonderful editors wives those girls would make! Now the chances are that they'll marry the butcher, the baker, or what not...

Out in a corner of a study room in the woman's league building a group of us students and editors...

UNION SERVICES AT BAPTIST CHURCH
Those who came in large numbers last Sunday evening to the Union services at the Baptist church...

The W. R. C. will meet with Mrs. Nellie Freyld Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 23, instead of with Mrs. Shalder, as announced last week.

And wasn't it fun to sit in the lap of luxury for a few days, to be pushed up to the table by a dapper little Jap and be served food you hadn't prepared!

Edgar Guest was there with his sweet homely philosophy. Coach Post, the beloved veteran coach, snappily prominent press reporters, economists who talked glibly of world affairs...

We glanced about during this talk to see these men of affairs leaning eagerly forward (not one of them was smoking) as the speaker started them in the words of Kipling: "Go beyond the ranges, hunt for something hidden, go and find it."

Obituary

JOSEPH M. TRAYNOR

Joseph M. Traynor was born in Syracuse, N. Y., Dec. 15, 1859, and passed away last Wednesday, Nov. 9, at his home on the Nine Mile road at the age of 73 years after an illness of several months.

Mr. Traynor was married in Toledo, O., to Miss Dora Scholtz and to this union were born five children, two of whom died in early youth. Three sons survive, Albert, James and Mortimer, who still maintain the old homestead and care for their mother.

To his farm Mr. Traynor gave 23 years ago when it was almost completely wooded. With arduous labor he worked untiringly clearing and getting this land into its present fine condition.

He was not only a kind husband and father, but a good neighbor, always ready to lend a helping hand. He will be missed by a large circle of friends.

VERNON PROCTOR CARLEY
Verna Mae Proctor was born in Dearborn township, Wayne county, Michigan, on Tuesday, March 26, 1907. She was called home by her Heavenly Father on Friday, Nov. 8, 1932.

She was the second oldest daughter of Harvey and Pearl Proctor. On May 1, 1929, Verna Proctor was united in marriage to Harold Carley. She leaves behind her husband, father and mother, and four sisters: Mrs. Benjamin Barnstable, Mrs. Florence Stark, Mrs. Mabel Pidd and Emma Proctor.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Foreman sang "Rock of Ages" and "Jesus Lover of My Soul" interment was made in Dearborn.

LORRAINE FRENCH
Little Lorraine French, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold French died at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Conklin, in Ann Arbor, where Mrs. French made her home.
