STOCKHOLDERS APPROVE NEW BANK PLANS

Unanimous Support Given
At Separate Meetings
Monday

Stockholders brought Northville's new bank closer to realization Monday.

By a unanimous vote of approval, stockholders in Northville's two closed institutions voted to go forward with the reorganization and consolidation of the closed banks to form a new bank which will probably open about Jan. 1 under the reorganization plan. The meeting was held in the Northville bank building, and in the Lehigh bank building.

W. L. Lanning was appointed chairman of the Lehigh bank stockholders and E. M. Bogart was named as temporary secretary. Clinton W. Wilber was named temporary chairman for the Northville State Bank stockholders and Harold Bloom as secretary.

Both groups passed identical resolutions favoring the reorganization and consolidation plans. Also approved by both groups was the voting trust agreement by which the Depositors' committee, composed of John Boyce, Oliver Goldsmith, and C. R. Horton, will have the responsibility of drawing up plans and putting the bank into operation subject to approval by the state banking department.

Tuesday afternoon the court order calling for the opening of the banks along with a schedule of the objects and the assets allocated to them was forwarded to Circuit Judge DeWitt Merriman and Joseph M. Sullivan for their signatures. It is expected that the order will be signed by the courts shortly. Following this it is probable that the banking department will name a date for the receivers of the closed banks to render their final accounts. The next step, members of the Depositors' committee affirm, will be the election at an early date of the board of directors by the stockholders of the merged institutions. As soon as this is done the personnel of the new institution will be selected and the bank will open for business probably soon after the first of the year.

MOTORISTS GIVEN UNTIL FEBRUARY TO GET '32 PLATES

Lansing, Mich.—The time limit for the legal use of 1932 motor vehicle license plates has been extended to Feb. 1, 1933, according to announcement by Secretary of State Frank D. Fitzgerald.

A further extension to March 1, may be made in the future unless there is a decided change in economic conditions, it was announced. Power to extend the time for using license plates is granted the secretary of state under the 1931 law which provides that "The Secretary of State may for good cause extend the time of renewal for not to exceed sixty days from and after the said first day of January."

In 1931 and 1932 the use of the previous year's plates was extended the entire 60 days under the law. This year the decision to extend the legal period for 1932 plates only 30 days was influenced by the fact that the state highway department, which receives motor vehicle weight tax fees, needs the funds for construction projects that will provide employment.

"The highway department has an acute need for all funds due it," Mr. Fitzgerald said. Any delay in receiving funds will seriously hamper that department. On the other hand, automobile owners have their January tax bills to meet a week after Christmas.

CHAS. HARMON DIES AT AGE OF 77 YEARS

Chas. Harmon died at his home in Greenville, Thursday, Dec. 8, at the age of nearly 78 years. Mr. Harmon will be remembered as a native of Northville, where he spent many years of his life. He was an only brother of the late Frank S. Harmon, and they lived at the old "Harmon home" near the U. S. Fishery.

After leaving Northville Mr. Harmon worked as a carpenter in Greenville for years until obliged to retire because of poor health.

BABY CLINIC POSTPONED

There will be no Baby Clinic this week, January 25, will be the next date.

N. H. S. GIRLS COOK HOT LUNCHES FOR 68 HUNGRY KIDDIES

That no little child in Northville may go hungry a very fine plan was conceived in the heart of Mrs. Claude Zimmerman, teacher of Home Economics of the local school. While the girls are learning to cook, why not cook for some purpose, thought she, food for little ones at noon lunch.

So unexpectedly hearty has been the response by hungry little folks that the high school girls who are helping Mrs. Zimmerman have been fairly "swamped." On the second day 68 youngsters flocked in to be filled, empty down to their toes, it seemed. By quick maneuvering they were all sent away satisfied and all for the paltry sum of five cents. "Nourishing soup and sandwiches for five cents."

Mrs. Zimmerman has found it necessary to send out an S. O. S. for volunteers for help even generously offering to do down into her own pockets to pay for help, so urgent does she feel this cause.

Back of her stands the Parent-Teachers' Association, announces their president, Mrs. E. W. Lester, who will help in working out a plan whereby this worthy enterprise may be continued.

REV. WALTER NICHOL BRINGS CHRISTMAS STORY TO ROTARIANS

From the lips of Rev. Walter Nichol, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Plymouth, the Northville Rotarians at their weekly luncheon Tuesday heard a vivid dramatization of the spirit of Christmas.

Seated informally at the table, Mr. Nichol in his own words told the immortal story of Henry Van Dyke, "The Other Wise Man." Sketching the high spots of the experiences of the fourth Wise Man, as he sought to offer his three gifts to the Christ child, the Plymouth pastor held the keen attention of his hearers.

A profound impression was made as the speaker told of how, one by one, the Wise Men parted with his precious jewels, always to help human need, and of how he heard at last in his dying moments, these words from the master, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, ye have done it unto me."

Appropriate setting of the story of the "Other Wise Man" was had in the singing by the club of a number of Christmas songs, with Leslie G. Lee at the piano.

Prof. Percy Angove was in charge of the meeting and guests were Dr. Paul R. Alexander and Elton R. Eaton.

Ladies' night will be observed at the Meadowbrook Country club Tuesday, January 3.

CHRISTMAS PAGEANT

The annual Christmas festival at the Baptist church takes the form of a pageant this year. The Christmas story is set forth with a modern home as the scene from which the episodes of shepherds, Wise Men and lowly manger are pictured. The characters are to be portrayed by members of the various classes of the school.

The Primary department contributes some special songs. The Young People's class furnishes decorations and a good part of the treat. Everybody will be welcomed to this entertainment.

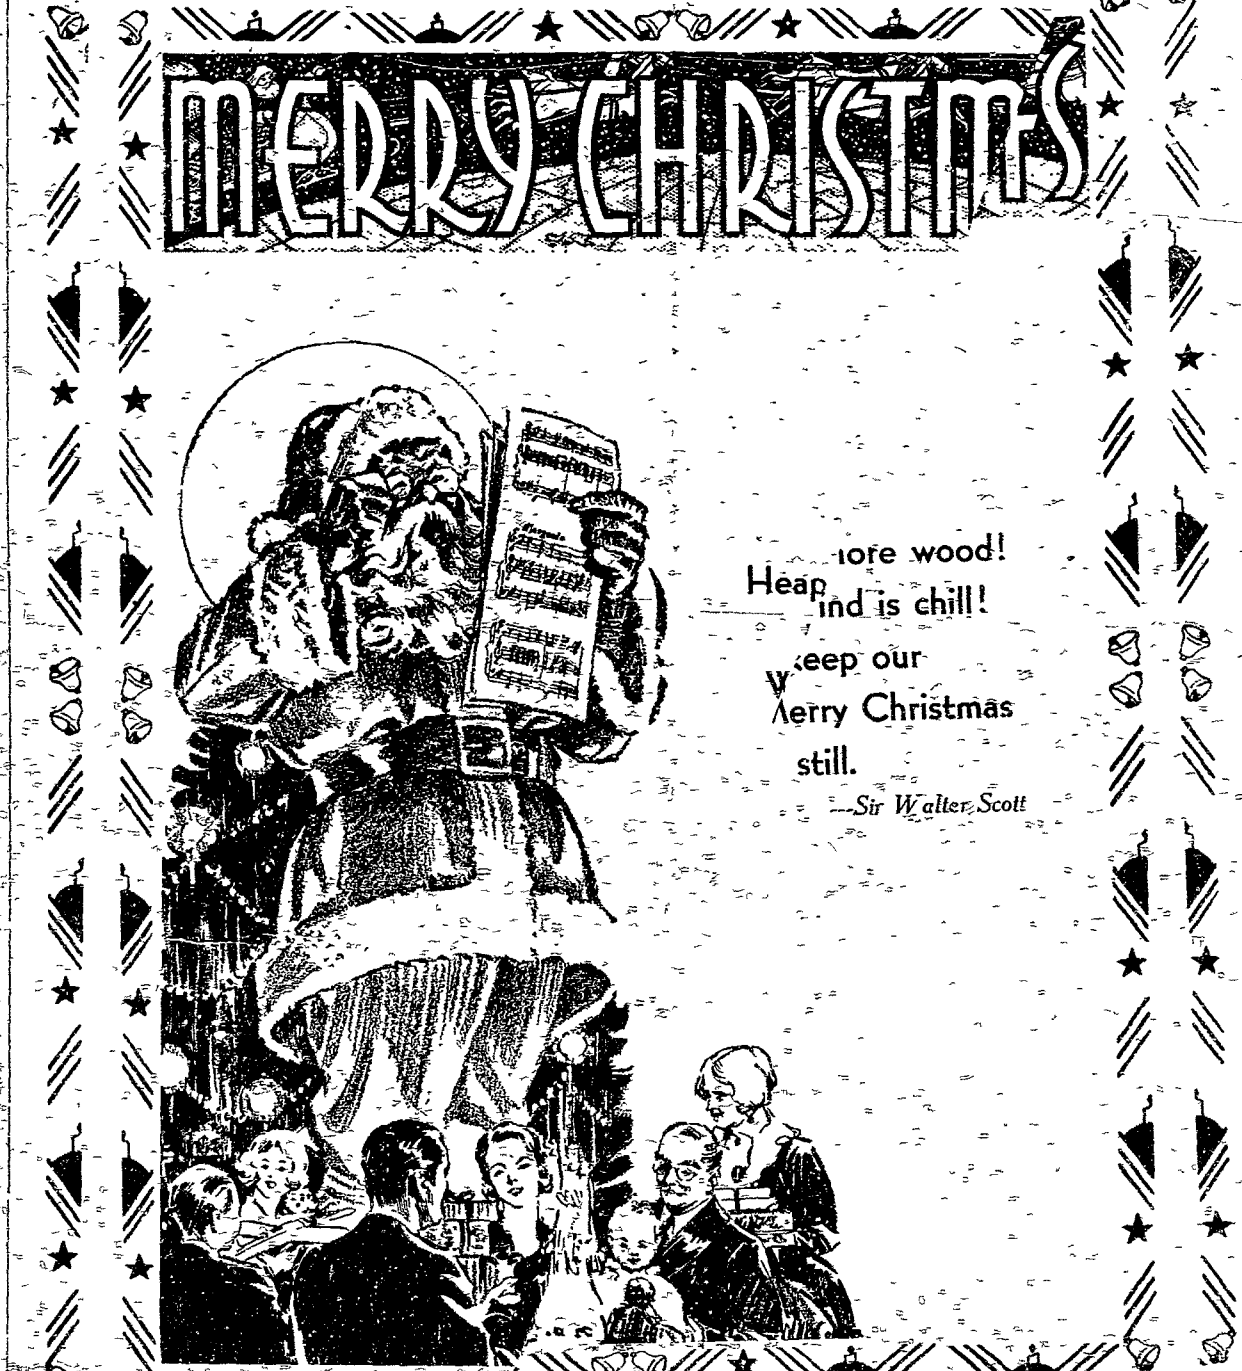

The hour is 7:30 o'clock, Friday evening.

New Bank Speaks to Community Prophecy Era of Mutual Growth With Town As a Valuable Partner

(By Chas. A. Dolph)
I am born of necessity and want. My forebearers were depression, error and mistakes. Suckled in distress may be less attractive now but I will be good looking after awhile. I am to have days of nourishment in the sunshine of confidence together with liberal drafts of coin all of which will make me wholesome and attractive to my fellow townsmen.

I am deeply imbedded in the soil of this community. Those who cradled my brothers through many a period of storm and stress are watching the course of events from the sidelines.

I am here to help forward the business revival which is on the way. Expanding trade life is to be felt in many forms. Co-operate with me on this laudable undertaking. I shall lead the forces of rebuilding in this Switzerland of Wayne County so that the tramp of doubt and disaster shall be heard less and all.

Welfare Workers Help to Make Provision for 100 Families

Want to Have a Merry Christmas? Those in response made by Reimburse Northville's less fortunate. It will be a "boomerang" to yourself.

The Welfare room below the Babbitt store is veritable Santa Claus headquarters these days with supplies for the Christmas baskets coming in steadily. But more are needed—much more.

With 103 families to supply it will be a case of "all hands on deck" to see that all of these are able to have a bit of festive cheer on the one day in the whole year when there should be genuine merry-making.

FARMINGTON SEEKS $5,700 LOAN FROM THE FINANCE CO.

(From the Farmington Enterprise)
A Reconstruction Finance Corporation loan of $5,000 for farm purposes is being awaited. A resolution requesting the local meeting by the board at a required time. Of this sum, $5,300 by the Township, and $200 by the Finance Co.

The application for a loan for the city was made through the Board at the request of their officials.

HOME SERVICES SUGGESTED

A Family Fireside Service for Christmas Sunday evening has been suggested by three of the local pastors. Rev. W. R. Barbour, Baptist church; Rev. F. N. Warner, Methodist church; and Rev. H. G. Whitfield, Presbyterian church.

Your Bible, your song books, your Christmas stories, supplemented by what is given hereafter, will furnish you with material to each member of the family circle can participate in this simple service.

Try it this once and see if such a service will not add much to the spirit and worthwhileness of your Christmas day.

This material is provided by a few of the clergy of Northville, and they will be glad to know who will have tried it out. Telephone or write to the Record office or to one of the pastors.

Christmas is not merely an event which can be observed and forgotten. It is a spirit which ought to pervade the whole year. Long before Jesus came into the world holy men of old hoped for such a friend and Savior to come.

POSTOFFICE OPEN TILL SIX O'CLOCK SATURDAY NIGHT

Postmaster T. R. Carrington announces that the Northville postoffice will remain open Saturday night until 6 p. m. to accommodate all late mailers of Christmas packages. There will be no Sunday or Monday service outside of special delivery packages, which will be delivered. This is in compliance with the Federal postoffice regulation and rules sent out from Washington.

Postmaster Carrington urges late mailers to send their packages "special delivery" in order to insure delivery on Christmas day.

The lobby of the postoffice will be open Sunday and Monday, but there will be no service.

NORTHVILLE TEACHER TO WED WESTERNER

A wedding of great interest to Northville people will take place Saturday, December 24, when Miss Etta MacDonald, local fifth grade teacher, will be married to Mr. Norman Love of Redwing, Minn.

Miss MacDonald left Northville Thursday for the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. MacDonald, in Fickford, Michigan, where the wedding will take place.

The ceremony will be informal with Miss Irene MacDonald, a sister of the bride, acting as bridesmaid. Following the ceremony the newly weds will leave Christmas day for the East and will be gone about ten days. Upon returning, the couple plan to reside in Redwing, Minnesota.

EXCHANGE CLUB HEARS DOCTORS

Three visiting physicians, who are learning the system employed at the Wayne County Training School were guests of the Exchange club Wednesday noon. They were Drs. H. J. Heston and Robinson of Lansing and Dr. Beattie of Edinburgh, Scotland.

After the business items were disposed of Dr. Steele, president, called upon Dr. Colin Beattie to give some of his impressions and personal views.

In opening his remarks Dr. Beattie said that the luncheon club was rather a mystery to him until he began to see how they operated. He touched upon phases of the depression, banking situation, the debt taxes and other problems. Interesting talks to America and Great Britain.

So far as the depression is concerned he said the one in Great Britain began in 1915 and they are getting used to it. As to taxes he said the standard income tax was 25% and earnings of $4800 were exempt. To run a car of the value of a Ford cost $100 per year direct tax and sixteen cents per gallon tax on gasoline; property tax was as heavy in proportion.

The doctor is in this country on a tour to learn the new ways of dealing with illness of various sorts.

A cold Christmas is in store for Northville and vicinity, say local weather prophets.

PROF. TEALDI MARRIED

Those who heard the talk by Prof. Aubrey Tealdi of the University of Michigan at the recent dinner of the Northville Woman's club will be interested to know that he was married on Dec. 17 to Mrs. Wm. Gerns Beale of New York, a society woman of Bar Harbor and Newport.

Prof. Tealdi is a graduate of the Royal Technical Institute of Italy and organized the department of landscape designing at the University of Michigan where he has taught since 1909.

Christmas Carol Program Heard By Northville Woman's Club and Guests at Library Friday Night

With a typical Christmas setting, glowing logs in the fireplace, mantle bedecked with green and only the subdued light of many candles to shed their gleam, an audience of reverent listeners heard a program of rare worth at the public library last Friday evening.

This was the Christmas program of the Northville Woman's club and guests and was skillfully arranged by the chairman of the program committee, Mrs. T. P. Brennan.

Mrs. Brennan introduced "with affectionate pride" this quartet, Bryan Kenyon, Leslie G. Lee, Carl H. Bryan and Alfred Smith, with whom she has worked wholeheartedly during their early efforts and whose sympathetic accompanist she has been.

Sitting at ease, as at their usual rehearsals, this group of singers, forgetful of their audience, poured forth their very souls in the music they loved while their accompanist united the whole with skillful modulation so that it seemed one grand song.

AUTO ACCIDENT PROVES FATAL TO VAN ATTA

Northville Man Dies Sunday
At Redford Following
Collision

Donald M. Van Atta, 34 years old, well-known Northville electrician, died Sunday afternoon in Redford Receiving hospital from the injuries received when the automobile he was driving crashed into a safety zone post at the corner of six mile road and Grand River early Saturday morning.

A native of Northville, Donald had lived here all his life and would have celebrated his birthday on Tuesday, Dec. 27.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Van Atta, Randolph street, and with the exception of a few years when he lived in Plymouth, he was a resident of this community. He was an electrician by trade.

Besides his father and mother he leaves a wife and young son, Donald, Jr., and three brothers and two sisters, Lee and James of Grand Rapids, and Roy of Northville. His sisters are Mrs. Loyce Germain and Mrs. A. J. Jaska of Northville.

The Masonic funeral was held at the Schrader funeral home Wednesday afternoon with interment in Rural Hill. Rev. Frank N. Miner officiated at the service.

LAST LOCAL VETERAN PASSES AWAY DEC. 20

Taps sounded early Tuesday morning, Dec. 20, for the last remaining Northville veteran of the Civil war, when Leonard H. Cornwell passed away at his home on Dubuque street at the age of 96 years and 23 days.

Mr. Cornwell was born in Wayne county, N. Y., Nov. 16, 1836. At the age of two years he came with his parents to Michigan when this country was new and untried, settling on a farm east of Walled Lake.

Here his boyhood and early youth were passed. In 1878 he was married to Miss Jennie Clute and to their one son, L. C. Clarence, was born. He has been the support of his fatherly old age.

When the war between the north and south broke out Leonard Cornwell was among the first to enlist in the 9th Michigan Cavalry and throughout the whole four years of encounter he was active, coming through all his experiences unscathed by battle. His only near-accident was being thrown from his horse in battle. Having served out his first term, he re-enlisted and kept at it heroically until the strife was ended.

For 44 years he has been a resident of this village. Five years ago he was bereft of his life companion and under the care of his son he has passed the intervening years in declining health, being confined to his home for the past two years.

For fifty years his friendship with Chas. Sessions has remained true and staunch and together these old friends talked over the experiences of the past. He was a staunch republican and never missed casting his vote. When sight failed he asked, "Where is Chas. Sessions?" and trusted his friend to make his ballot right.

The funeral will be held at the Schrader Funeral Parlor this afternoon (Friday) at 2 p. m. with Rev. A. K. McRae officiating. Interment will be made in Walled Lake beside his wife. His son, Clarence, and a few distant relatives alone survive.

MERCHANTS' SHOW

Richard Cromwell and Arline Judge as representatives of the young generation give an excellent performance in "The Age of Consent," the talkie sponsored by the local merchants Wednesday night at the Penman-Allyn theatre.

With an all-star cast of featured players the house was well-filled at both performances to witness this excellent entertainment. The business houses sponsoring this Wednesday night show are to be congratulated along with the theatre staff in giving such a high form of entertainment at so low a cost.

Northville is getting first-rate shows and features for a nickel and a dime.

CORRECTION

Due to an error either on the part of the Orange and Black or of the school officials, the name of Alice Masters has been twice left off from the honor roll. The name of Leslie Perpoint was also neglected in the honor roll of last month's marking period.

THE GIFT WITHOUT THE GIVER IS BARE

Straightening up our desk at home this morning we ran across a little last year's Christmas card. Like a "last year's bird nest" I suppose it must make way for the new greetings that are beginning to come in—the kind that are too beautiful to throw away yet too clutter to keep. (What under the sun shall we do with them?)

This little card did not cost a cent. It was just a message written on an ordinary correspondence card. To make it "Christmasy" a seal had been pasted on one corner with a bit of gay ribbon stuck jauntily through it.

Of all the cards that came to us last year this alone has kept a place within reach to be read and reread—always with a feeling that we had grasped a friendly hand, or more likely had a motherly hug from an old friend since girlhood days. Into this little card the writer had poured herself—her warm personality. She had known life, its pain as well as its joys and had come through it all with chin up. Perhaps this is why this card meant more than an elaborate engraved sentiment. The giver had put herself into it. In funny contrast we recall the six-up "one Christmas when" a wealthy friend had ordered gifts bought and wrapped professionally at some gift shop. They were hopelessly mixed with little tags labelled "Boy," "Girl." We doubt if the giver even knew what was sent.

The most Christmas spirit we ever put into a gift was when we picked for friends when a child-embroidering a finger mark for our father. (Maybe you would like to know the sentiment of the card we saved.) "A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!"

Wish you joys to heal it if the new year must hold pain—and quite a lot of rainbows if you do have rain. I wish you heaps of roses so the thorns won't hurt at all and ladders made of little hopes to climb each hampering wall. I wish you work and its reward. Until the New Year ends, And peace and rest and happiness, And friends and friends—and friends.

"Drop in and have a bite with us after church Sunday evening." Could anything ring more hospitably? Anything is a supper on this informal, friendly occasion. One Northville woman has this sandwich-leaf all ready in her refrigerator and with calm confidence she can say casually to friends, "Come on home and have a bite with us around the fire-side." And then she brings forth this achievement of culinary artistry.

Mrs. Wilbur Johnston's Sandwich Leaf

Slice a loaf of bread lengthwise in four or five slices. Spread between each layer the following fillings with which all kinds of liberties may be taken for variety.

(1) A sweet filling, any kind of jam or preserves.

(2) Hard boiled eggs, chopped, seasoned with salt and pepper and moistened with cream.

(3) Grated carrots and peanuts put through the food chopper, mixed with salad dressing.

(4) Chopped ham mixed with chopped pickles and celery and moistened with salad dressing.

Stack and press together and spread all over (as you would ice cake) 3 packages of cream cheese moistened with cream. Put in the refrigerator and leave several hours.

Place on a platter and garnish with individual molded salads on lettuce leaves. Use crushed pineapple, (reserving the juice in the gelatine), 1/2 cup chopped almonds and six small sweet cucumber pickles. Any other kind of salad may be used.

This is a whole meal on a platter and may be all prepared in advance.

THIS WEEK

By H. B. WHITE

It would seem to this writer as if the breweries that are being organized and the brewery plants being prepared for the manufacture and sale of beer are a little previous.

Most of the states are legally dry, including Michigan, despite the fact that the people of this commonwealth repealed the dry section of the constitution. The legal sale of beer will depend upon the regulations which the Legislature will adopt under the new amendment.

The Volstead Act is still on the panes and allied interests bringing pressure on the Legislature and the appointed commission, which might prove a boomerang, like that which the brewers brought to bear in the former wet days of the saloon, much to the dissatisfaction, disgust, and annoyance of the great proportion of the electorate.

It would seem as if the future holds the danger of brewing companies and allied interests bringing pressure on the Legislature and the appointed commission, which might prove a boomerang, like that which the brewers brought to bear in the former wet days of the saloon, much to the dissatisfaction, disgust, and annoyance of the great proportion of the electorate.

Hem I telling! The most exclusive Jewish club in the city of Detroit held a testimonial football dinner for Harry Newman, Abe Marovitsky, of U. of M. and Abe Elowitz of Michigan State I was a slow-away at the dinner.

I missed a trip to California by inches. What a Christmas and New Year's celebration that would have made!

Well, half of Northville is in either Florida or California now, anyhow. I could have sent back news on how the boys and girls were behaving themselves.

"SIGN OF THE CROSS" TO OPEN AT WILSON ON CHRISTMAS DAY

The man who shot lightning from the skies in "The King of Kings," and parted the waters of the red sea in "The Ten Commandments," now touches a flaming brand to the pagan city of Rome in "The Sign of the Cross." This is Cecil B. DeMille's first contribution to the talking picture screen, and by it, it is said, he has demonstrated that the talking picture is as adaptable to mass spectacle as was the silent screen.

"The Sign of the Cross" commences in Detroit a tour of the legitimate theatres of the country prior to being shown in regular motion picture theatres, at the Wilson theatre on Christmas Day, at 2:30 o'clock. There will be two performances daily during this engagement, and all seats will be reserved.

The story of "The Sign of the Cross," Mr. DeMille wrote, all to know, is not a strictly religious one, as was "The King of Kings," and "The Ten Commandments." Its background deals with the clash between the pagan ideals of the Romans and the religious ideals of the Christian martyrs. Against this is set the romance of a Christian maiden, and a Roman noble whose love for her undergoes a mighty transformation.

For the leading players in the production DeMille has selected Fredric March to play the young Roman noble, Eissa Landi as the Christian girl, Charles Laughton as Nero, and Claudette Colbert as Nero's exotic wife. The production cost upwards of a million dollars, and in addition to the extensive cast supporting the four stars, there are some 7,500 extra players used in the lavish scenes.

Mr. DeMille spent a year in research in preparing his spectacle for production, building of the sets, designing the costumes, and finding exactly the right persons to portray the characters. One scene—the trial of Rome—looked four months to build, and was destroyed by fire during the burning of Rome scene.

While Mr. DeMille believes the Sign of the Cross demonstrates that spectacle has as distinct a place on the talking screen as it had on the silent screen, he contends that it is absolutely necessary for the talking picture spectacle to contain a powerful and gripping story, which many of the spectacles in the silent days did not have.

LOCAL NEWS

Mrs. Ella Leonard will spend the holidays with relatives in Detroit.

THINK THIS OVER

(Robert D. Gifford in The Eaton Rapids Journal)

Congress is now in session. There will be a hundred and one suggestions for farm relief, unemployment relief, etc. Most of the suggestions will be at the expense of the taxpayer who, in turn, needs relief unless the sources of taxation are to be dried up.

Suppose that instead of new schemes to soak the taxpayer, Congress would urge that five million individuals well able to do so, one-twenty-fifth of the population of the United States, should spend in the next thirty days, an average of $200 each for needed improvements to their homes or places of business. This would put one billion dollars ($1,000,000,000) into immediate circulation, would create new taxable income and property, and start an endless chain of buying and production.

The public should recognize that relief for itself can come only from itself. Congress can give no relief as it takes from one person and gives to another. Instead of having our money taken from us, we are getting only a tax receipt in return, why not spend it wisely so as to get value received and at the same time start business going, which, in turn, will return our expenditure through increasing the business of each of us instead of killing it by exorbitant taxation.

CASTLES IN SPAIN

(Edna Draper Bell)

What do I care for a castle in Spain With its towers and wall of stone, When I can have just the dearest place— A cottage to call my own.

A budding rose is the soldier there Close to the door to guard; And a picket fence is the stone wall Enclosing a small front yard.

Childish fear on the cottage floor— A man's clear song in the lane; While love will watch that happiness stays In my miniature castle in Spain.

After a siege with tonsillitis Dr. B. H. Douglas is again greeting his friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Calhoun will spend the Yuletide holidays in Detroit with Mr. and Mrs. Jules Burg.

Mr. and Mrs. Petreque of Detroit were guests Sunday of the Carl Hunts. Mr. Hunt is a nephew of the Petreques.

Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Hunt were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Corren and daughter, Catherine Anne, of Detroit.

Mrs. Anna Chilton is planning on a trip to Inlay City to spend the holidays with her daughter, Mrs. Judd Hammond and her husband.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Bogart and three sons will go home to mother's on Christmas day and enjoy dinner with Mrs. Minnie Schoof and her daughter, Marie.

Win Brand, an employee of the Detroit Edison Co., has moved with his family from the Ed. Ballo house on South Wing to the house vacated by the Widmeyer family.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Partridge of Bathing, N. Y., have arrived to spend the winter with Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Blowers. Mrs. Blowers is a daughter of the Partridges.

Do we feel at Christmas time that the family list is pretty long? Let's be glad it is. A number of our friends are saying, "No, we'll be alone this Christmas. We have no family."

On Saturday last week Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Masters attended the second Northville-Carlson bridge club party. It was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Paul Boushelle of Carlson.

Little Dianne Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Moore, was quite ill for a few days during the past week with an attack of flu at the home of her grandparents, Chief of Police and Mrs. W. H. Safford.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Seward of Detroit were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Blowers, Eaton Drive. The Blowers will return the compliment and spend Christmas with these friends.

In trying to start a car in the garage of the Wm. Beyer home last Saturday morning a fire broke out when the car became shorted. The fire department promptly responded but the garage was badly damaged before its arrival and also the car.

T. G. Richardson left Sunday evening for his Palm Park Inn at Clearmont, Florida, where he will spend the winter. As was noted recently in The Record, the Inn is having a fine increase in business. On a recent Sunday there were 29 dinner guests.

Dr. A. B. Wickham is a "gentleman farmer" as well as being the nationally known head of the East-lawn sanatorium here. At way the Record hears that the doctor had a crop of 500 bushels of potatoes this year at his Grand View Acres property out on the Seven-Mile road.

Christmas will be celebrated at Dr. Paul Alexander's home by relatives from both sides of the house. The family of Dr. Alexander's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harry McGraw of Ypsilanti, and cousins of the doctor, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stewart and Edgar Jones of Lansing will make up the party.

Introducing a novel feature in the way of family gatherings, Mr. and Mrs. J. Murphy will extend hospitality to their guests at the home of Mrs. Lucy Perkins. Present on this happy occasion will be the hostess and her son, Guy, and daughter, Mrs. June Perkins-Smith and her husband and Mrs. Mae Perkins of this place, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wellwood and daughter, Barbara, of Detroit.

There will be a real family gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Cleaver at Christmas time when kindred from far and near will be present to join in the celebration. From far off Saskatchewan will come a brother, Jas. Milne, who has lived in the northwest for 20 years. His last visit was two years ago. From the east will come a sister-in-law, Mrs. John Milne, of Swansea, Mass., and Miss Christine Milne of Evanston, Ill., a sister of Mrs. Cleaver. Also included in the group will be the family of Philip Anderson, a nephew of the Cleavers.

Not everyone can be as fortunate as Mrs. L. A. Babbitt will be on Christmas day in attending the family gatherings of both of her children on the same day. By a happy arrangement Mrs. Babbitt will have Christmas breakfast with the family of her son, K. H. Babbitt, when the little grandchildren, Louise and Mary Ellen will have their tree, and later in the day she will be accompanied by Mrs. H. E. Brown, a sister-in-law from Detroit, and will go to Plymouth to join in another family party at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John J. McLaren. Other guests at the K. H. Babbitt home at Christmas breakfast will be the parents of Mrs. Babbitt, Dr. and Mrs. A. T. Holcomb of Nov, who will later join the family in a gathering of relatives in Redford.

Mrs. Chas. Johnson has been ill with tonsillitis.

Dr. B. H. Douglas was able to be down town Tuesday after his illness.

Business must be getting better, said Elmer E. Perrin yesterday. "The Pere Marquette freights have been unusually heavy the past couple of weeks." Mr. Perrin takes the local mails to the P. M. station and thus has a good chance to check trains.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Bunn will have a double celebration this year, spending Christmas day with the family at the C. L. Smith home in Pontiac and the following day with the parents of Mr. Bunn in Holly, where a family gathering will convene.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Fuller are looking forward to the homecoming of their daughter, Mrs. R. F. Meaker, with her husband and son, Meritt, Jr., of Syracuse, N. Y., and their son, Russell, and his wife and daughter, Gwendolyn, and son Gordon, of Detroit.

Combining the celebration of Christmas with the wedding anniversary of their parents, which occurs two days later, Mrs. H. P. Blake will entertain at a family dinner on Christmas day her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Newman of Pontiac, and Mr. and Mrs. N. F. McKinney and little daughter, Patricia.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Eber Ward Lester, which already is quite "some family" will be augmented on Christmas day by a number of relatives, who will join in the merry-making Mr. Lester's mother, Mrs. Sprague-S. Lester of Detroit, a sister, Mrs. McDonald, and her family, and an uncle, Herbert Ward, all of Detroit, will be among the number.

Mrs. Margaret Payne and her niece, Mrs. Fred Broad, will join as hostesses in welcoming to their home a family company this Christmas. Around the festive board will gather Mr. Broad's mother, Mrs. Mary Broad, a brother, C. H. Broad and his wife, and aunt, Mrs. Rhoebe Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Peters and two children. All of these guests are from Detroit.

Mrs. Lucy Brooks of Kansas who was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Boyden this past summer, has been called back to Michigan by the serious illness of an elderly sister, Mrs. Sarah Wheelock, in Plymouth. She was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Dudley West, and son, Major, who will spend the holidays and some time after in various parts of the state visiting relatives.

Those women who were privileged to hear Mrs. Alex Brade of Royal Oak at the home of Mrs. H. S. Willis recently, will be interested to know that she, together with her husband and children, visited at the Willis home Sunday. Mrs. Brade promises to send a contribution to the "Homemaker's Corner" of The Record after the holiday rush is over. This will be welcome news to her many admirers here.

The household of Mrs. E. C. Christensen and Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Johnson on the Novi road will ring with the merriment of old and young on Christmas day when these guests will gather around the trees together as is their annual custom. Mr. and Mrs. C. Ipiand, Mr. and Mrs. Cortland Neilson and son, Bob, Dr. and Mrs. Wilbur Kamm and children, Susanne and Billy, all from Detroit and Grosse Pointe.

Chas. F. Murphy is a victim of the flu epidemic.

Miss Mary Ellen Barbour of Hillsdale college is at the home of her parents Rev. and Mrs. W. Roscoe Barbour for the holidays.

Mrs. Helen Parcells of Detroit underwent a major operation at Sessions hospital to correct an injury caused by her recent auto accident.

G. W. Carlson celebrated his 77th birthday on Tuesday, Dec. 13, by visiting his son and daughter in Belleville. Mr. Carlson states that he had a "bully good time."

CHRISTMAS PAGEANT IMPRESSIVELY GIVEN AT UNION SERVICE

It was a program of real Christmas spirit that a large union audience of Northville citizens attended on Sunday evening at the Methodist church when the pageant, "Adoration" was presented by a group of young people. The story of the nativity was enacted very realistically by the characters in costume and a deep feeling of sincere adoration pervaded the presentation.

With Mrs. John Tinham at the organ, Christmas songs were sung in union by the audience and a brief devotional service followed, led by the three pastors, Rev. Frank N. Miller, Rev. Wm. Roscoe Barbour and Rev. H. G. Whitfield.

The pageant opened with a beautiful candle-lighting ceremony when young women of the high school age, wearing white robes representing angels and carrying lighted tapers, proceeded up the aisles and gracefully lit the candles placed in the various windows.

As the story of the nativity was enacted a quartet from the gallery sang selections appropriate to the scenes. A junior chorus also sang, and Wilma Rattenbury as "reader" told the scripture story.

Before a manger, where sat the Mother Mary, the maidens in white, the shepherds and the three Wise Men came in turn to make their obeisance.

At each side of the manger knelt two little angels. The parts of these cherubs were taken by Maxine Perkins and Jean Atchison. Mary was represented by Madeline Haystead, who sang the impressive, lullaby while sitting by the improvised cradle.

The shepherds were James Hochkins, Ralph Bogart and Barney Brogman. The Wise Men who entered singing "We Three Kings of Orient Are" were Robert Cousins, Maurice Giles and Merle Fraser. The part of Joseph was taken by Roy Warner.

The lovely chorus of "angels" who took their parts with such grace were Betty Greer, Evelyn Ambler, Leila Haystead, Frances Cousins, Katherine Dugan, Mary Elizabeth Eikington, Martin Tufibull, Dorothy Richardson, Florence Johnson, Margaret Ray, Mary Louise Boyden, Donna Ferguson, Isobel Tobbe and Violet Johnson.

Adding to the effectiveness of the pageant were the soft strains of the carol played by Ernest Racz, accompanied by Miss Eunice Cousins.

Altogether this Christmas pageant was one of the most beautiful in all its details that has ever been given in the village and the audience joined in the spirit of reverence.

Much credit for the production goes to Mrs. F. N. Miner, who directed the pageant, assisted by Leslie G. Lee, who arranged the musical setting.

secretary; A. L. Ross, chaplain; Joseph Hummel, marshal; Charles Diamond, senior steward; Raymond Milburn, junior steward. A musical program was enjoyed; given by the Farmington quartet. Past Grand Master Mr. Newton gave a splendid address on "masonry." The officers followed with short talks. A light lunch was served consisting of ice cream and cake, a large birthday cake made by A. L. Ross in honor of Harry Wolfe and officers, Harry cut the cake and each one had a piece.

Obituary

MRS. MARY BURTON

Mrs. Mary Burton, wife of John Burton, residing two miles south of Milford, died Monday noon after an illness of about two months. She was 51 years of age.

Mary Nora King was born Feb. 21, 1882, and has been a resident of this village most of her life. She was married to John Burton in Traverse City in Nov., 1899. Five sons and two daughters survive. She was a good, conscientious wife and mother and led a rather quiet home life, devoting her greatest energies to the care of her family.

She was a member of the local Baptist church and was a good Christian woman. For the past year she has lived in Milford where poor health has forbidden much active life.

The funeral service was held Thursday afternoon in the Milford Baptist church with her former pastor, Rev. Wm. Roscoe Barbour of this place officiating, assisted by Miss Susie Olsen, of Milford. Her surviving children are Lawrence, Harold, Ernest and Glenn, Ruth and Grace.

MRS. FORREST DICKINSON

Mrs. Forrest Dickinson passed away at her home on North Center street Tuesday afternoon. The Dickinsons moved to Northville only a

DO YOU REMEMBER WHEN—

There was a cabinet shop where the Bunn Garage building stands? There was a pound just west of the Wilcox place on Cady street, where stray animals were kept until their owners claimed them?

Albert Benbrook, All-American football star went to school here and lived with his parents on Dunlap street?

The Ford factory location was a pasture land and swamp and your huge elms were alongside the roadway?

There were frequent floods which gave trouble to the Ambler, Argo and Terkes mill dams and often washed out the Phoenix and Wilcox dams in Plymouth?

Woods covered the hills on South Center street from the creek on south?

A very active congregation was in charge of the old church building at Tisbury road and the Washenaw county line?

A few months ago from Detroit. One daughter, Lucy, is a junior in high school here. Funeral arrangements have not been completed as we go to press.

TWO COUNCILS MEET JOINTLY AT PLYMOUTH

Committee Appointed to Investigate Report Due Soon

The Northville student council met with the Plymouth student council at Plymouth last week Thursday to discuss the matters of violence, such as taking the posts after the games, as concerned with athletics.

The meeting, which was advised by Principal O'Donnell of Plymouth and Superintendent of Northville, resulted in the appointment of a joint committee of which Mayor Christensen was elected chairman to work out a plan acceptable to both schools.

Have Trophy
A general discussion took place during which members of both councils expressed themselves freely. After this it was finally agreed upon to have a football trophy for the football games. The ball is to be the one used in one of the games and is to be painted with the colors of both schools. The scores of the games are to be put on it and the team winning the game will keep it. It was left to the joint committee to decide how many successive victories a team would have to win before the ball became theirs for good.

This trophy has in reality been in use this year and was won by Plymouth in the football game November 4. The Northville council, however, was not aware of this and sanctioned it officially for the first time last week.

Committee Meets Soon
The joint committee, consisting of three members of each council and headed by Mayor Christensen, is expected to meet as soon as possible. It was said Tuesday the meeting is to be called by the Mayor and will take place in the Northville high school.

The council as a whole, expressed general satisfaction with the progress made and indicated their belief that the matter would be cleared up completely.

SENIOR'S WHO'S WHO

Blanche Tomaszewski
June 30, 1914, was an 'eventful day for the Tomaszewski family, and the reason is this—Blanche Mary arrived.

At the age of four she left her home in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, for Detroit, where she attended school for five years. The country called to her family, so they packed up their belongings and moved out onto the Beck road. From the fifth through the eighth grades she went to the Putnam County School near her home.

Her aunt residing in Detroit invited her in for a short visit, but Blanche, who enjoyed it immensely, didn't return home for a year. During this time she attended the Northeastern high school. Finally she got around to coming to N. H. S., and says she wishes she had done so sooner.

Blanche has been student librarian for two years. Mrs. Cobb has benefited greatly by her help this year. Last year writing ability plus hard work won the second prize in the D. A. R. history contest for her. After graduating, Blanche plans to attend U. of D. and study to become a teacher and a librarian.

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

Smile: As long as the last dance when you are not dancing with "her."

We wish to take this opportunity to wish you, everyone, a very merry Christmas.

Was it the assembly that was embarrassed when they didn't stand up last Friday, or was it?

So Irvy Ware spoke in front of the assembly. Well, well, well! May be revengeful plans are taking form.

It was rumored that the seniors thought at first that there might not be a crowd at their dance last week.

COMMERCIAL NOTES

The Shorthand I Class is going to spend a day or two this week making Christmas greeting cards. These greetings will have figures made from shorthand characters and all the decorations on the cards will be in short hand.

The advanced shorthand class is trying to reach its goal of 80 words a minute with perfect accuracy. Very little time remains in which to accomplish.

SCHOOL OPENS JANUARY THIRD

The students of Northville high school will be given ten days vacation over the Christmas holidays. The last school day of the year is today, Friday, the 23rd, and school will begin for the year 1933, on Tuesday, the third of January.

Northville To Play Champions

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

The Inquiring Reporter represents the views of members of the school on questions and topics of interest which come up from time to time.

Five members of the school have again been quizzed. Keeping in mind the time, the question asked this week is: "What would you like for Christmas?"

The persons interviewed were Blanche Tomaszewski, Eleanor Eaton, Junior Dundas, Jabez Bacon, and Paul B. Thompson.

Here is Santa Claus' job: Blanche Tomaszewski: "I would like to have a dresser set, some money, and a car."

Eleanor Eaton: "I would like Santa Claus to bring me a typewriter, a fur muff, and a skiing outfit."

Junior Dundas: "The things that I want for Christmas are all 'a's' on my report card, lots of show, and to be able to go home after school without waiting so long."

Jabez Bacon: "I want Santa Claus to bring me a radio some books, candy and some money."

Paul B. Thompson: "The enjoyment of Christmas is what you make it not what you receive. We should not think of it in dollars and cents or presents."

DID YOU NOTICE

Pussie Weston's acting? We didn't. Mr. Ruggles' galoshes? Just like Charlie Chase.

Paul Baldwin's white shoe strings—spriffy, eh what?

Richard Shipley making eyes at a certain red-headed girl? Better look out Ruth!

Please look that wasn't on Warner Neal's face? Where are those journalism articles?

Where Don Bray was Monday afternoon? Oh, no! Better come across or we'll tell the coach.

The U. S. History students returning to the assembly Friday? Better start behaving, Juniors, if you intend to be seniors!

GRADE NOTES

Christmas is here again. All the grades will have their Christmas trees and parties Friday afternoon, except Miss MacDonald's class who had its party yesterday.

Mrs. Eaton's Kindergartners made popcorn balls yesterday in preparation for their party, Friday morning. Both groups in Kindergarten attended the morning party.

In Mrs. Ring's second grade, the walls are decorated with Christmas pictures. The children in that grade will draw names for presents for their party. In Nature study they have been studying the pine tree and Christmas tree, their needles, cones, etc.

Arline Blake, a pupil in Miss MacDonald's 5th grade, has been confined to her home with a cold.

Miss Jarvis' class drew names for gifts. They have been painting some "surprises" for Christmas presents for their mothers.

Mrs. Cooke's 7th and 8th grade girls had a basketball game last week. The 8th graders were victorious with a score of 14 to 5.

COURT SQUAD TO HAVE FIVE HOME GAMES

The Northville basketball schedule this year is unusual in that there are still four home games. This does not include the Plymouth game, the date of which is pending on the action of the student council. However, it is expected that there will be one.

The names of the schools with whom Northville plays are as follows:

Dec. 23—Trenton—here.
Jan. 6—Alumet—here.
Jan. 12—Melvindale—here.
Jan. 20—Lincoln—Consol—here.

Jan. 27—Farmington—here.

TRENTON TO MEET N. H. S. TONIGHT

Varsity Falls Before Tight Defense 28-16; Reserves Win 22-5

Tonight the Orange and Black court squad will meet Trenton in what is expected to be their hardest game. The reserve team game, which is to be played first, will begin at 7:00 o'clock.

Last year Trenton swept under fifteen consecutive opponents, winning the league championship as well as the regional tournament and so far they have been successful in winning all of their games. Determined to take out last year's defeat on Trenton, a hard fought contest will be expected.

The Orange and Black team, in their first game, proved that they could play basketball, and Coach Ruggles has drilled them thoroughly. The whole team is now " keyed up " to defeat the triumphant Trenton "basketballers."

In practice and in reserve team games, the second team has shown up remarkably well, winning their first game from Berkeley second team, 31 to 16, and trouncing the Farmington "B" team, 22-5.

Coach Ruggles has announced that there is likely to be a shift in the varsity line-up, in which several second team members may replace the regulars.

The starting varsity line-up, which was in doubt Wednesday, will be selected from the following, with the possible exceptions of several second team members: Forwards—Kerr, Campbell, or Hoffman; center—Baldwin; guards—Westphal, Marburger, or Kohler. The referee will be Owen Stemmeln of the University of Detroit.

BONERS

He was speeding like the wind toward the opponent's goal. His was clear. The ball was tucked snugly under his arm, but he lost his head and kicked it across the field.

Who said, "Give me liberty or give me death!"

Nathan Hale: He got what he asked for, they hung him.

What did Julius Caesar say when he was about to be murdered, by Brutus and his accomplices?

He said, "You two brutes—"

What is the purpose of a birth certificate?

You can't prove you were born without one.

Do you think the St. Lawrence is of more importance to the United States or to Canada?

Yes.

CHRISTMAS GIVING

(Agnes Calhoun)

Let us make our Christmas giving. Just a time of Christmas living. To our loved one—and the rest. Make each package bright and gay. Make each day a holiday.

For the wrappings, we'll use smiles. And words for ribbon—miles and miles.

Make each bead a pearl of joy. A faith in others, none can destroy. A merry Christmas to your neighbor is sharing play and sharing labor. A Happy New Year to your friend is sticking by him to the end.

For these gifts you don't need gold. They are neither bought nor sold.

Honesty is the best policy; even for high school students.

Bang! And another good physics class exploded.

Smile: As dumb as the algebra student who after hours of mathematics still did not know what X equalled.

DID YOU NOTICE

The new check room window at the senior dance Friday? You can't turn this one over, Bill!

YULETIDE PROGRAM TO BE GIVEN

According to the program committee under the head of Chairman Wilma Rattenbury, a pleasing entertainment will be presented before the assembly this (Friday) afternoon.

The main feature will be a musical play, "Little Christmas," with Gertrude Deal, Eleanor Grosvenor, Peggy Blake, Marie Humphries, and Florence Johnson as the chief characters.

There will also be a song dancing by Ida Altman and Tom McLoughlin which is to be followed by several selections by the well known trio, Gertrude Deal, Florence Johnson, and Eleanor Grosvenor. The Glee Club, under the direction of Leslie Lee, will sing a string ensemble, with Mr. Lee directing, will also play. Mrs. Ida Cooke's junior assembly will also have a part in the program.

SUPP. KNAPP ASKS ADVICE OF PARENTS

For the past two weeks Superintendent Knapp has endeavored to get in touch with the parents of the Juniors and Seniors. The following questions were asked:

1. Do you favor a Senior Prom with perhaps a $1.25 admission per couple?

2. Do you favor a Junior Hop with perhaps a $1.25 admission per couple?

3. Or would you prefer some attempt on the part of the school to substitute a Junior-Senior week in which the number of good times will be increased, but the expense decreased?

4. Do you favor having all Seniors expected or tempted to order individual photographs at $3.50 or $7.50 per dozen?

5. Do you favor having the Palladium published every year, with accompanying expense of 75c to $1.00 in each home and the tax on merchants for advertising and "compliments?"

The results of the answers will be made public as soon as they are tabulated.

SOCIETY NOTES

Kenneth Eichen spent the week-end in Detroit with his aunt.

Sally Richardson stayed with Madeline Haystead Friday night.

Blanche Tomaszewski visited her aunt in Detroit over the week-end.

Nelson Schrader, Kenneth Kerr, Alleen Honsinger, and Eleanor Eaton went ice skating near Milford, Sunday.

Ted Watts visited school Monday.

Maryanna Condit entertained several friends Sunday at a skating party. They were Ida Altman, Evelyn Ambler, Frances Alexander, Tom McLoughlin, Tom Carrington, Bob Lyke, Edward Angove, Robert Angove and Marie Angove.

NORTHVILLE BREAKS EVEN WITH F. H. S.

Ruggles May Shift Line-up; Second Team Greatly Improved

In a rough and tumble game under a low ceiling, Farmington downed the Orange and Black tigers of Northville, 28-16, last Friday, but the second team overwhelmed the Farmington "B" team, 22-5, making up somewhat for the varsity's defeat.

In the first period Northville was startled by a fast-hand passing team who, in spite of the Orange and Black's stubborn defense, flipped in seven hard fought points while Farmington was held scoreless.

The second quarter opened with Hoffman breaking the ice for Northville by sinking two nicely directed foul shots followed by another foul shot and a near "pivot" play Kerr flipped in a dog-shot bringing Northville's total to five. The Blue and White team retaliated with a couple of baskets and then Northville answered with a neatly arched shot by Hoffman. In the strapping Kerr, who had accounted for another point and a foul, and a half Farmington leading 13-8.

Refreshed by the rest at the half, Farmington forced ahead six points swinging through before Campbell scored for Northville. Marburger and Campbell accounted for four more points and after a few hard fought points by Farmington the quarter closed with Farmington leading by 21 points.

In the last period the scores were even and far between although the opposing team scored three points off the ball. With the assistance of a Farmington player another basket was obtained in an exciting mix-up. Another foul shot finished the scoring for Northville and the final whistle blew a few minutes later with the score, Farmington 28, Northville 16.

The game was a fast and thrilling one for the spectators with many fumbles, fouls, and freak shots, including a shot tipped in from a jump and a overhead shot by Spallier, the Farmington court star, who scored nearly half of the Farmington baskets.

One of the reasons for the large score was the low ceiling and the small playing space allowed by the small gym. The floor itself is ten feet under the regulation size.

However, the tight defense of Farmington also played an important part in the Northville upset.

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

Petty Jealousies

No one or anything is perfect. Everyone and everything can be improved. One individual is better than another along a certain line of work. That individual is inferior in some other occupation or activity.

And so it goes on, one person good here, another better there. Which proves the age old maxim that it takes all kinds of people to make the world.

What then is the cause for all these petty jealousies that undermine our lives? John is very accurate at adding and good at figures; therefore he is made treasurer. Why should Bill feel slighted because he is chosen? If it were the choosing of a secretary, one who must write well and neatly, Bill would be appointed or elected, and John would feel hurt.

Is it egotism, not wanting to believe that there is anyone better than yourself? Is it selfishness; wanting all honor and glory for yourself alone? Is it plain meanness; just causing trouble to spite someone?

If someone is given a task to do and can do it better than you, for heaven's sake, let him alone and if anything help him, without continually crying because it is not yourself.

Thus if petty jealousies could be thrust aside; if egotism and selfishness could be banished, the individual, the organization, all would profit.

Let's all try, not waiting for the New Year, but beginning now to turn over a new leaf in that respect. Let's all cooperate with and promote enterprises that will benefit not one individual, but many individuals, and cause enjoyment rather than hard feelings for all.

The "Why" of Christmas

Christmas vacation is here. School is out, the teachers go home, many students go away, college students come home. Everybody is happy and gay with the Christmas spirit. And what does it all mean? And why do we celebrate give gifts and be merry?

It is all due to the birth of a baby one thousand, nine hundred and thirty-two years ago.

During the merry-making, during the holiday festivities, we ought to pause, at least once, to think and wonder about the "why" of it all. And when we do, it ought to make us feel just a little bit better, and enable us to come back to school with a principle, with an ideal, that if not new is greatly strengthened and rejuvenated.

Basketball and the Student

Playing Trenton this evening, Northville, if the game is won, will have a good chance to win the championship. Therefore the game will be of the greatest interest to basketball fans.

Everyone does not like basketball. That is to be expected. But even if a student does not care for the game, and is not willing to back the team, is there anything that will stop him from liking his school and giving it support?

Basketball, like all sports, is more important than just the game itself; it is a battle in which the glory is not the honor of the school is at stake. Our team, any team, can play better before a large crowd of their own supporters; therefore it is really a duty, no matter how we try to look at it, to support the team.

But cheer-up, yes, loyal students. Watching the Orange and Black team play will not be such a hardship as some imagine. Everyone likes fast, fair and brilliant competition. That is exactly what our basketballers furnish.

We urge that everyone, young and old, turn out tonight and not only help the team and the school, but give yourself much enjoyment as well.

Church News

First Presbyterian Church

Harold G. Whitfield, minister. A service of public worship will be held in the First Presbyterian church, Christmas day, Sunday, December 25 at 10:30 a. m. A message in sermon and song, appropriate to the occasion will be presented. As Christian people and church members, let us honor our Savior by being among those who worship in His house.

In wishing his people joy and happiness at Christmas, and prosperity in the truest and highest sense during the New Year, your minister believes that no better way can peace and joy and confidence be assured, than by the birth and rule of Jesus in the life.

In place of the evening church service, endeavor to have some little observance in your homes, perhaps the singing of the Christmas hymns and carols. Perhaps the Christmas story or article you may have read, just some little reminder of the true significance of the Christmas event. It will be impressive and effective if you adopt it to your several circumstances.

The church school will meet at 11:45. The members of the school are urged to be present. The study of the Christmas there will be helpful.

Church of Our Lady of Victory

In a joyful but spiritual union with the angels and shepherds of that first Christmas day, we shall usher in a welcome to the newly born Babe of Bethlehem with services beginning at 12:00 o'clock midnight of Christmas day.

Children should not attend the midnight Mass. Their services will be at the 8 o'clock Mass. A Mass will be celebrated at 10 a. m. Christmas to Catholics must be a Christmas Day.

The hours for confessions will be on Saturday, Dec. 24, as follows: At 9:30 a. m. for all the children; for the rest confessions will be heard from 2 to 5 p. m. from 8 to 9 p. m. and 11 to 11:45 p. m. The Altar Society had a merry Christmas party at the home of Mrs. D. Martin, last Tuesday, Dec. 20. Santa Claus, his tree, and everything else were there.

Baptist Church

The services for next Sunday, being Christmas day will reflect the sentiments of the season. At 10:30 the hour of morning worship, the pastor, Rev. W. Roscoe Barbour, will preach on the subject, "The Unveiling of Jesus Christ."

Contrary to the announcement at the M. E. church last Sunday evening and in response to a widespread desire, there will be an evening service to which the entire community is most cordially welcome. This service is at 7:30 o'clock. After this service the young people of the church, under the auspices of the E. Y. P. U. will gather for a trip around town to sing carols at the homes of shut-ins. Their devotional service comes at 6:30 p. m. as usual.

A special invitation to all those interested in evangelism is extended to attend the Wednesday evening meetings of the church. They are held in the rear room at 7:30 o'clock. Next Wednesday the church will elect the nominating committee. This committee will meet and make nominations for the officers to be filled at the annual meeting of the church Monday evening, Jan. 2, 1933.

The indications are that a very large number of pastors will attend The Retreat at Hillsdale College, Dec. 27-29. This Retreat is primarily for prayer and conference. The pastor of this church will be accompanied by the Rev. W. R. Shear of Ypsilanti.

St. Paul's Lutheran

The pastor extends to all the most cordial wishes for a full and unfeigned happiness at Christmas time. May your Christmas observance find you in spirit in Bethlehem, kneeling at the manger-bed where lies the Christ who is the star of our life and the hope of our eternity. May the angel's song of praise find a joyful response in your hearts. May the blessings the Christ-child has brought be yours in fullest measure.

In wishing you a "happy Christmas," we do not have in mind the uncertain carnal happiness which figures the underlying sentiment in the conventional greetings of the world. But that abiding happiness which comes to souls at peace with God and which is proof against all vicissitudes of life. For this reason we can make our greeting general and include also those whose hearts are sore with grief and burdened with the weight of a heavy cross. The Christmas joy which the Christ-child brings is not dependent upon the fluctuating experiences of life. May the peace which the Christ-child has wrought and which the world cannot give, fill your hearts anew during the happy Christmas season, and may your visit to the manger inspire you with zeal in bringing peace to others.

A well prepared Christmas program will be rendered by the Sunday school children on Christmas eve, Dec. 24, at 7:30 o'clock. They will render the program: "Praise Ye the Lord," which will consist of the old familiar songs and others, recitations, responsive readings and the like.

Join the children in this celebration. Your own hearts will rejoice and your Christmas season will be one of true happiness.

Christmas Day proper will be celebrated with a special service at the customary time, 10 o'clock. The pastor will speak on the text: Luke 2: 1-14, choosing as the theme of his discourse: "Unto YOU is born this day a Savior." In both services special music will be rendered by our organist, the Miss Hanna Strasen. Several solos will also be sung to help beautify the service.

A special service will be held on the last day of this year, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

Our New Year's Day service will be held at the usual time, 10 o'clock. In connection with this service the Lord's Supper will be celebrated. Announcement is to be made on Dec. 31, after the service.

The Ladies Aid of the congregation will give a Christmas party for the Sunday School children on Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 28, beginning at 2:30.

Let us all with glad voice praise the God of Heaven, Who bids our hearts rejoice His own Son hath given.

Methodist Church

Next Sunday morning at 10:30, Mr. Miner will preach on the theme, "The Child Jesus in the Temple." The choir under the leadership of Roy Clark, will furnish special Christmas music.

The Sunday school meets at the noon hour.

German "Tannenbaum," a Russian "Cradle Song," the child's dream of the toy shop come to life in the "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers," and "Stille Nacht." The finest singing of the evening occurred in this group. The "Cradle Song" was sheer poetry of sound, an unusual effective contrast to sparkling "Parade" which followed it. The final group of two well-known Christmas hymns was a call to all people of every nation to join in celebration of the birth of Christ. The entire audience joined the quartet in the singing of "Adeste Fideles."

The only regret expressed was that a larger audience could not have been permitted to hear this fine program and it is hoped that it will be repeated at a later date in a larger hall.

A trumpet solo will sound the call to worship and Mr. Harry will play the Ave Maria. Little Christmas Sermons is the subject to the children and appeal to grown-ups as well.

The Sunday school program will be given on Saturday evening. After a miscellaneous program by the children, the adult classes will present "The Pageant of the Kings" assisted by the choir and Mrs. Melow, reader. There will be a tree with gifts and candy for the children of the Bible school. The parents of the cradle-roll babies are especially invited to this program.

May the joy of the angels, the faith of the shepherds, and the peace of the Wise Men be with you through the Christmas tide and future days.

Vacation Paragraphs

(From the School Paper)

The faculty of the Northville high school has been interviewed as to where they expect to spend their Christmas vacation. Many will have to hurry as their destination lies a considerable distance from Northville, others will stay right here and all will enjoy themselves greatly.

The results of the interviews are as follows: Leslie G. Lee, the music instructor, his wife and daughter, Mary Louise, will visit relatives in Pontiac and Flint.

Miss Etta McDonald and Miss Helen Leonardson will spend their vacations in Pickford and Pitsford.

Miss Ione Palmer the French teacher, will be at her home in Ann Arbor.

Miss Ellen Reinke, grade teacher, will go to her home in Jonesville.

Mrs. Reng, a grade teacher, will go to Royal Oak for Christmas.

Mrs. Martha Ray, librarian, will be at home during the Christmas week.

If weather permits Harold I. Ruggles, the coach, will go to his home in Oden, near Petoskey, with his family. If it is too snowy he intends to spend his vacation fishing through the ice at Walled Lake.

Mrs. Starr Bray, school nurse, will spend Christmas at home with her family.

Hillsdale will be the destination of Principal R. H. Amerman and family.

Mrs. K. H. Babbitt intends to spend Christmas day in Bedford.

Mrs. Ida Cooke is planning to stay in Northville during her vacation.

Mrs. Sterling Eaton will enjoy Christmas visiting between the Cavell and Eaton homes.

Mrs. Elizabeth Chapman, English instructor, is spending her holidays in Northville.

Miss Grace Hawkins, grade teacher, is going to Dearborn for Christmas.

Miss Geraldine Huff will assist her mother with the family dinner.

Supt. T. J. Knapp expects to be home on Christmas.

Mrs. George H. Stalker, with her husband and son, will spend Christmas in Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Wilma Taylor will attend a family dinner in Plymouth.

Addison is the destination of Paul B. Thompson, manual training instructor.

Miss Nora Wilson, grade teacher, will spend the holidays in Kalamazoo.

Mrs. Mildred Zimmerman will visit in Albion with Dr. and Mrs. Nell.

Junior League Enjoys Christmas Party

A merry group of youngsters of the Junior League, comprised of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades, gathered in the league room of the Methodist church Tuesday afternoon to have their annual Christmas party. A lighted tree was the center of attraction and around this the children listened to their Christmas story and played games. Popcorn and candy, a treat from the mothers, concluded the good time.

Mrs. F. N. Miner is leader of this group and Mrs. Wm. A. Liebetreu is her assistant.

Service League Tie Quilt At Pleasant Gathering

Combining pleasure and work 25 members of the Service League met with Mrs. Sherfill Ambler Tuesday evening. Sewing was planned by Mrs. Lee and Mrs. Boyden. A quilt was tied and mending done for a needy family. At the close of the work cake and coffee were served.

The young women are much gratified by the results of their recent bake sale and thank those who cooperated.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Claude Zimmerman on the evening of Jan. 3.

Five-Town Club Sews For Needy Children

The members of the Five-Town club spent a happy and profitable day at the home of one of their members, Mrs. Lovejoy in Milford. Instead of their usual needlework the ladies cut and made a number of garments for needy children. Guests were present from Northville, Milford, Detroit, Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills. From Northville Mrs. C. C. Yerkes, Mrs. W. H. Yerkes and Mrs. T. Glenn Phillips were present. Mrs. Harvey Whipple was a guest.

At noon the ladies stopped for lunch together.

Old-Time Quilting Bee Meets With Mrs. Blowers

It was like "Aunt Hannah's Quilting Party" at the home of Mrs. H. E. Blowers last Thursday when a group of friends dropped in to quilt socially together. These women comprise an organization known as the "True Blue" club.

As they visited these women made their fingers fly as the two completed quilts at the close of the day can testify. These quilts are to be given as Christmas gifts by the hostess and her guests agreed that it was a pretty "smart" way to get the job done.

At noon the guests enjoyed a good dinner together. Those present were Mrs. Iva Casterline, Mrs. Ethel Casterline, Mrs. Dawn Holcomb, Mrs. Orie Deal and Mrs. Iva Bauman.

O. E. S. and Families Have Christmas Party

It was family night at the O. E. S. on Monday evening when their families were invited in to enjoy with them their annual Christmas party. With husbands and children their number was 85 who sat down to a bountiful cooperative dinner.

The tables were festive with small Christmas trees, greenery and tapers, and a lovely lighted tree was the center of attraction for the youngsters, who could hardly wait for this part of the program to begin.

The youngsters furnished for their parents a delightful Christmas program arranged by one of them, Mary Jane Denne. Three numbers by the girls' glee club, a piano solo by Frances Alexander, and a violin solo by Frances Cousins, accompanied by her sister, Miss Eunice, were part of the varied program with a series of songs and recitations by the following: Catherine Biery, Jackie Holcomb, Florence Jean McCluskie, Douglas McCluskie, Vivian Grosvenor and Maxine Perkins. The young folks all did their parts well and their parents swelled with pride.

Santa Claus then appeared and presented each child—there were no old folks there that night—with a treat, candy and oranges.

MEN'S CLUB MEETS DEC. 15

The December meeting of the Men's club of the Presbyterian church took place Thursday evening, Dec. 15, in the church house.

Ample justice was done to the excellent supper served by the ladies auxiliary.

In the absence of Robt. Coolman, president of the club, who is ill, Rev. Harold G. Whitfield presided.

A number of motion picture reels were shown depicting winter scenes in Alaska and Northern Canada.

For this entertainment the club was indebted to Robert G. Yerkes and Norman Denne.

MINISTERS SUGGEST HOME SERVICES

millions in all lands, we lift our voices to thee in praise. We, too, would join in the heavenly acclaim, "Glory to God in the Highest, and on Earth Peace Among Men of Good Will."

"May this be a true Christmas in all our hearts. On this day of all days, save us from all spirit of selfishness. May our hearts be freed from all hatred and enmity and jealousy and ill will. May only loving thoughts occupy our minds."

While we gratefully receive the blessings of this Christmas season, may our hearts be opened toward our neighbors and toward all the world in sympathy and brotherly love.

"We pray for those to whom Christmas brings rejoicing, that their joy may be enriched by gratitude for the gifts of thy love; for the multitudes of children everywhere to whom this day means so much. We pray also for those to whom the day brings little joy—the poor and the neglected, the burdened and the oppressed, the lonely and the solitary, for many who are away from their homes their hearts filled with loneliness; for prisoners in their prisons, sailors upon the sea, and for the multitudes who know not the Father's love."

"May the spirit of Christmas find its way to all hearts this day and may the kingdom of thy Son, our Saviors, whose birth we celebrate, come among all men, everywhere. In his name, Amen."

NEW CHEVROLET IS GREETED BY MANY.

The long-awaited Chevrolet, 1933 model, appeared in the showrooms of the Rathburn Chevrolet Sales on Saturday, Dec. 17, and made its bow to auto fans in Northville and vicinity.

Kenneth Rathburn, dealer, is more enthusiastic than ever about the splendid lines of cars Chevrolet, the leader of the industry, is introducing for 1933 and feels that the public will share this enthusiasm now that they have seen this new line.

According to Rathburn the new Chevrolets present a distinctly new body styling which offers new features revolutionary in the low priced field. The cars are larger with more powerful motors and represent a substantial step forward in modern automobile safety engineering.

New Chevrolets Add Over 85,000 People to Payrolls of Nation

LEFT: New Fisher "No-Draft" Ventilation system illustrating how each passenger may have individually-controlled ventilation instead of being subjected to a sweep of air through the car, with resultant discomfort and danger to health.

RIGHT: New rear-end of all closed models screening all unsightly underparts of the car.

Chevrolet's public showing of its new 1933 line means a material spur to national employment and materials consumption, since this company is the largest manufacturer in the largest industry in the world.

More than 85,000 people are back at work, 30,000 in the company's twenty domestic factories, 21,000 more in Fisher body plants working exclusively on Chevrolet-Fisher bodies, and more than 36,000 in dealerships throughout the nation. As many more are indirectly benefited by the announcement, through making their livelihood by building parts for the car which Chevrolet buys from independent suppliers.

Chevrolet's 1932 volume totals nearly 400,000 cars and trucks with a retail value in excess of $200,000,000. This is said to be one of the greatest contributions made by any company this year to the economic welfare of America.

In the new line, now on display at all dealers, is a variety of models featuring longer wheelbase, new Fisher "No-Draft" Ventilation and many other features which the company has designed to retain for it the leadership in the industry it has enjoyed for four years out of the past six.

Other features included in the new line are more power and speed in the engine, which is newly cushion-mounted; improved free wheeling plus Eynoro-Mesh transmission with Silent Second gear; a new "Starterator" that greatly simplifies starting, such safety elements as shatter-proof glass in the windshield; larger and lower bodies by Fisher, in the new "Air-Stream" mode; three fewer controls, with really automatic features in some of those retained; an Oritane Selector that insures the highest possible operating efficiency from all grades of gasoline, besides a uniform gasoline cost per mile; dash instruments of airplane type, for instant, easy reading; "positive" brakes; and still easier steering.

With all these, and many more, the price range continues to be mindful of the buyer's pocketbook. It has been found possible to equip the new Chevrolets with many features that used to be confined to cars selling at several times Chevrolet's base price.

Since October first, trained former employees have been going back to work in Chevrolet's widely distributed manufacturing and assembly plants, with welcome additions to the general purchasing power, made possible by more wage money in circulation. Throughout November, the increase in employment continued to a seasonal peak to the middle of December, when concentrated operations incident to prompt dealer stocking were in full swing. More than twenty million dollars worth of the new cars were in dealers' hands when the national introduction was made.
