AMOS' ADVICE IS GOOD

The other evening Amos of the nationally advertised twins, "Amos and Andy," gave some good advice that should do us all good.

"If you just do the very best you can you are piling up something inside of you on which you can collect some day. You just quit your worrying."

"Piling up something inside you, on which you can collect some day"—provided you do your best. Isn't it literally so?

WHO ARE THE "TECHNOCRATS?"

Well we have something else to worry about. The papers are talking more and about the "technocrats" and "technocracy."

In brief, the technocrats seem to be a group of economists and engineers who think that the machine age is running us and that we shall have to evolve a new kind of civilization to meet the machine and power problem.

The technocrats have something to theorize about, all right. Things are bad—but they are not nearly as bad for most of us as they claim.

And we are not all going to be ruined, either. And we are not going to set up a supercommunist state as predicted. Human nature is going to stay as it has been since Job had his camels on the hills of Palestine.

SPEAKING OF DEBTS

"Borrow cheap—pay dear" is a headline which just struck our attention.

The big burden of debt which has been on the backs of just about every last one of us (we know of few exceptions) has been one reason for our troubles the past three years.

Many of us cut down some of our debts in 1932. If we can keep up the good work in 1933 we just have a theory that things are going to go better for all of us.

At the end of 1931, according to the Christian Science Monitor, the current debts of American families were: Open account debts, three billions, installment debts, two billions; short term cash credit, two billions and six hundred and twenty millions; life insurance loans, four billions.

If we can all cut down the debt load in 1933 and then do this other—equally important thing: Not hope to get rich quick in the next two years or so, we see no reason why times won't get better for all of us.

CUTTING EDUCATION COSTS

A two million dollar cut for the University of Michigan and one of three-quarters of a million for the Michigan State college were suggested in the recent report of the commission which was named by the state legislature.

The educators are said to be very indignant at these proposed cuts. They have no right to feel that way.

Education is a wonderful thing, yet the demands of education in recent years have been a vital factor in increasing our tax burden to the breaking point. We have made a god of education and have forgotten that there are some limits beyond which it cannot go.

When home owners are seeing their homes swept away, when workers are getting two or three days work a week—or maybe none at all—they have a right to protest that our educational institutions "take their loss" along with the rest of us.

Some actual-costs at the university are given by Vernon J. Brown, editor of the Ingham County News at Mason and a member of the commission which recommended these cuts. Discussing the criticism of the report made by educators, he pointed out this:

"As late as July of 1932 it is found that 10 administrative and department heads at the university were down for salaries ranging from $10,000 to $16,200 per year, some of these also drawing substantial residence and maintenance allowance. Thirty-five enjoyed salaries ranging between $7,000 and $10,000; 90 between $5,000 and $7,000; 225 between $3,000 and $5,000; and an unmentionable number ranging well up toward the $3000 mark.

"According to information taken from university records, 38 of these high-priced servants never see the inside of a class room or are expected to teach a single class. Of these faculty folk 375 are down for less than 10 hours of teaching a week. In fact, more than half of the $15, regular faculty professors and instructors do less than 10 hours of teaching a week during a short college year. A few fired and the rest set at work might be a good thing to try.

From the same reliable source the information comes that last year the university had an enrollment during its regular session numbering 9707 students with 815 faculty professors, a ratio of 11.9 students to each teaching member of the staff. Some courses run as low as four students to one professor.

We see no reason why education should be made an exception to the leveling process that has hit everything around us.

WANDERING THOUGHTS

A bit of cheery business news. Chas. T. Thornton of the Gordon Baking Co says: "Practically all of the travelling men who come in say that business conditions have definitely become somewhat better. Not much better but a little and that all helps."

FAITH

(Herbert Hoover)
I cannot conceive of a wholesome social order or a sound economic system that does not have its roots in religious faith. No blind materialism can for long engage the loyalties of mankind. Economic aspiration, tho it strongly marks the American system is not an end in itself but is only one of many instruments to accomplish the profound purposes of the American people, which are largely religious in origin. This country is supreme.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

HAPPY DAYS ARE ON THE WAY
(Chas S Seed in the Rochester Clarion)

The curtailment of consumption cannot go on forever. There will come a time when the last pair of shoes, the last suit of clothes, the last old hat will be worn out and when the last machine and implement must go into the scrap pile. When all these things happen then production will come into the picture and happy days will come again.

RADIO BLAH!

(W H Becker in Cassopolis Vigilant)
The voice of a United States Senator drawing ten thousand dollars per year salary from his government for giving his time to being a Senator is heard over the radio promoting the sale of a constipation remedy. What we think about this sort of thing is probably just what the reader also thinks, so comment is probably unnecessary. We take some pride, however, in the fact that he is not a Michigan Senator.

TECHNOCRACY AND THE NEWSPAPER

(Robert D Gifford in the Eaton Rapids Journal)
The plan of technocracy experts would increase the force of the Journal office fourfold, and also the pay roll. It would also increase the advertising rate fourfold and everything else. The employees would get the same wages, but would pay four times the present day price for everything they use. And how in the devil can it be done? Maybe they will place an Aladdin lamp or a mystic wand in every man's hands, which might help some.

We attended the funeral, on Monday, of a relative—a young man of only 24 years of age. A fine lad he was, stricken by pneumonia while carrying on a medical course. The passing of such a young man, with all of life before him, stirs the heart to the depths and makes one feel that things we have called losses are nothing in the face of such a crushing blow to family and friends. Truly "in the midst of life we are in death."

We like the way Governor Wm. A. Comstock starts off at Lansing. He seems to be filled with the idea of doing a fine task of public service and certainly he is in the presence of a mighty opportunity to help the state of Michigan. Our state-problems are nothing short of terrific and it is profoundly hoped that our new state legislature, with all its new faces, will be equal to one of the keenest emergencies in many years.

The sound of the hammer heard on Main street this week is the best music in some time. We really think that you are going to see some houses built in and around Northville before snow flies again. And by the way, did you notice that a national plan is on foot to make it possible for everyone who wishes, to have the financing of a new home, costing from $1,500 to $3,000, done for them? That is another piece of good news the daily papers have been carrying.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

What is Northville's biggest need for 1933?

By dedicating not to the pursuit of material riches, but to the pursuit of a richer life for the individual.

COMING BACK TO THE FARM

(Senator Marshall in the Clinton County News, St. Johns)
One of the large life insurance companies which has many farm mortgages in their list of securities reports an increased sale of farms. Their figures verify those of the report of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics which predicted that 32,000,000 would be living on farms by January 1, 1933. While a percentage of the dirt back to the farm has been people who have either found it distasteful or impossible to live in the towns and cities, the insurance company claims that there is an increasing number of bonafide sales. Men who, originated on the farm and who have saved providently, it says, are now investing their savings in the most secure property they know of. It is this latter class that are desirable and an asset to the farm communities into which they move. The destitute southerners who camp in abandoned farm buildings, in desperation have done nothing but add to the welfare problems of their adopted townships.

UPHOLSTERING FURNITURE REPAIR M. J. BOELEN'S NORTHVILLE, MICH. NICE WORK — BUT CASH

HUNGRY CHILDREN CROWD THE LINE AT SCHOOL LUNCH

Soup and More Soup Served To Kiddies Daily The huge Kettle summers Savory odors of carrots, onions and all kinds of vitamin-filled vegetables float out upon the corridors of the Northville high school building. It is nearly noon and here they come—the hungry school children—shoving, scuffling, greedy.

Nearly one hundred strong they crowd into the hall. Only fifty can be fed at one time so the others wait impatiently.

"If anyone doubts if they are hungry," he ought to hear them eat. Each child takes his tray from the table by the kitchen door, with a bowl of steaming, nutritious soup, crackers, peanut butter sandwiches and a bottle of milk.

Waiting on the children are four members of the cooking class, four each day, who are the "substitute mothers" for the day. Over them all rules the presiding genius, Mrs. Claude Zins, mermaid, who smoothly manages the "menagerie."

In the kitchen is the motherly Mrs. Larson, who comes each day to do the "hardest part" of the work, assisted by the girls.

"Moose soup" and empty little bowls are repeatedly poked before the white-capped girls. Some of the bowls come back three times and occasionally as many as four times. The size of their stomachs is the only limit.

No anxious mother hovers around urging. Now be a good boy and drink your milk. Every bottle comes back empty, sucked to the sweet dregs through a sizzling straw. Children who have been undernourished are waxing plump.

And the remarkable fact is that the enterprise is going to, break even, says Mrs. Zimmerman. Those children who can afford it pay the small sum of five cents. Over thirty-five have their lunches gratis.

Many of the vegetables are provided by the Community Welfare committee and at times the bread now and then other supplies are donated.

Northville has no philanthropy which goes to the very root of need as does this feeding-its youth.

Society Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Waterman Entertain-Get-Together Club— The Get-Together club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Waterman Thursday evening, Dec. 29th. Thirty-three people were present.

The guests enjoyed a cooperative supper and progressive pedro. The next meeting will be with Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Watson in two weeks.

Willis-Boys Invite Playmates To Holiday Party— Kenneth and David Willis, young sons of Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Willis, were hosts to a group of children at their home in Oakwood subdivision, Friday afternoon.

The fun ran high in the recreation room of this hospitable home whose hosts are of southern cordiality. Carrying out their theory, "Come let us play with our children," Dr. and Mrs. Willis entered into the good time and made the guests happy. A generous dinner completed the occasion.

Cover Club Enjoys Hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Ely— The Cover club opened the New Year with a pleasant gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ely Tuesday evening.

Covers were laid for sixteen, husbands and wives, and a delicious cooperative dinner was served at six o'clock.

Bridge occupied the remainder of the evening with four tables playing. Mr and Mrs. E. C. Hunsley went home with high honors for gentlemen and ladies, and Mrs. E. H. Saley and N. C. Schrader won second honors.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyden Entertain At Family Gathering— A family gathering was held at the H. A. Boyden home on New Year's day.

Guests included Mrs. Boyden's aunt, Mrs. Ruby West and cousins Mr and Mrs. Wesley Dawson and four sons of Ypsilanti, and another cousin, Mrs. Bessie West and son, Major, and mother, Mrs. Lucy Brooks of Manhattan, Kansas.

The feminine members of the party are all former residents of Northville. Mrs. Bessie West is now head of the Home Economics Department of the Kansas State college at Manhattan.

Mr. Goodale Honored On His Birthday— Honoring the fiftieth birthday of A. J. Goodale a big surprise party was given Tuesday evening Jan. 3, at his home on the Base Line.

It was also the celebration of the 26th wedding anniversary of Mr and Mrs. John Miller. Potluck dinner was enjoyed together with an evening of 500 following. Those present were Mrs. Julia Goodale, mother of the guest of honor, Mr and Mrs. John Miller of Plymouth, Mr and Mrs. Vernon Goodale of Phoenix, Mr and Mrs. Loren Goodale and daughter of Plymouth, Mr and Mrs. J. S. Goodale, Bert Seals and two sons, Russell and Robert, and Miss Eva Goodale.

Mr. and Mrs. Plant, also of Ann Arbor described the welfare work of their former home, Midland. Altogether these talks were very timely and helpful.

Following the program the ladies were invited to the dining room where a daintily appointed tea table was presided over by Mrs. Ida Hendryx and Mrs. A. E. Fuller. A pleasant social time was spent over the tea cups.

Hillcrest Is Scene of Merry-Making On New Year's Eve— A jolly company of twenty-eight old friends of Northville climbed to the heights of Hillcrest Saturday evening to watch the old year out at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Elton R. Eaton. The rugs were rolled back as were the years for this party of merry-makers as they danced the old fashioned dances of their youth.

Real musical talent there was in the party as Dr. R. H. Saley and his wife took turns at the piano, with Mrs. H. F. Blake playing the violin and E. C. Hinkley the drum. The "Raye Waltz," quadrilles and square dances were heartily entered into until the clock struck midnight and the New Year was ushered in. With zest they enjoyed the delicious lunch served informally "a la buffet." In the early hours of the morning they returned home.

Northville Women and Daughters— Guests of Ypsilanti Friends— A party of women were guests of Miss Althea Staman at the Hotel Huron, Ypsilanti, where she is secretary. The guests were received in the apartment of Miss Staman, where the evening was delightfully spent, either sewing, visiting or playing cards. A dainty luncheon concluded the evening. Those comprising the party were Mrs. Herman Behrendt, Mrs. Alex. H. Johnson and daughter, Violet, Mrs. L. L. Vredenburg and daughter, Janet, Mrs. Anna Staman and daughter, Fedora, and Miss Amelia Damm.

These friends frequently meet together for mutual pleasure. They hope soon to find a name for their club.

King's Daughters Favored By Visits from State President— A large attendance of members of the King's Daughters assembled at the home of Mrs. Ray Castelfrue, Tuesday afternoon to greet the State President, Mrs. Lila Crittenden, of Ann Arbor, who honored the chapter here with a visit.

Mrs. Crittenden brought an inspiring message to her hearers on "The Joy of Service." "We are all happy," said she, "if we do something to make others happy. I like amusements but they do not bring the deep and lasting pleasure that service for others brings."

Mrs. Crittenden was accompanied by two friends who also brought helpful thoughts to the women. Mrs. Hunt, custodian of the children's ward of the University Hospital, spoke of the children's Christmas party and the part the King's Daughters played in making it successful.

Mrs. Plant, also of Ann Arbor described the welfare work of her former home, Midland. Altogether these talks were very timely and helpful.
