ALL UNITE IN WELFARE AID IN NORTHVILLE

Loyal Co-operation Results in Effective Help To Many

So large has the Northville Welfare society grown and so numerous are its activities that to read its financial report is like wading through the ledgers of an industrial institution. That the welfare organization is "getting results" goes without saying.

So effectively has the organization been managed and so generous has the public been that the welfare authorities were able to show on January 3 a balance in cash of $416.00. The total receipts recorded since July 1, 1932, were $1,553.88, and the total expenditures $1,137.88.

In addition to the "cold cash" handled by welfare workers an amazing quantity of food and clothing has been distributed by welfare workers. Approximately 1,000 sacks of flour were obtained from the American Red Cross, by the township supervisor. Over 3,000 dozen of Parker House rolls, 2,340 dozen fried cakes, 400 dozen cookies, and 2,000 cakes were donated by P. H. Grennan of the Farm Crest bakeshop. Approximately 400 loaves of bread have been obtained from the A. & P. store through the local manager. At present the Wagner Baking company donating 75 loaves of bread each week.

The number of families who are entirely dependent upon these benevolent sources are 49, while 60 families are partially dependent upon them. In the class of families having able bodied men who can engage in welfare projects 40 are listed. In this latter class the men are giving their time and labor in payment for foodstuffs and fuel. Through this "work system" the taxpayers of Northville have been secured approximately $1,000 of welfare activities during the period beginning July 1 and ending January 1, 1933.

Without the complete co-operation of all those who have their part in welfare activities success would not have been possible, say welfare workers. Since early last spring when the Central committee, composed of the King's Daughters, St. Vincent De Paul, American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary, was organized the charitable work has been carried on "without a hitch."

Once the organization headed by Councilman Merrill Sweet got under way, one after another of the knotty problems of welfare work was untied, and food, clothes, money and fuel were distributed to those who needed them. The local merchants were consulted about "prices" on foodstuffs and all displayed a willingness to co-operate in every way possible.

The basement of the Babbitt hardware store was then obtained for use as the dispensary. Donations from the above mentioned stores and bakeshops filled the shelves of the store and Northville's needy began to enjoy a relief they had long felt.

Then came the donation of land by Mrs. Mary Yerkes for use of the welfare department. Because the season was late for "garden truck" such staples as potatoes, turnips, etc., were planted with welfare dependents doing all the work.

In October the welfare department launched a drive for clothing which culminated in a liberal donation of shoes, underclothing, dresses, suits, coats, hats and numerous other garments.

There followed a dance which netted the diligent workers $130.00. All the food which made up the lunch served at this affair was donated by local merchants.

The fuel problem was greatly relieved when a farm owner gave permission enabling welfare workers to cut 500 cords of wood on her property. To further relieve the fuel situation the council voted to purchase 100 tons of coal.

Still short of the required amount to consummate plans for relief work, the welfare authorities decided to launch a drive for money. Headed by Sidney Fris, who was not officially associated with the organization, but who volunteered his services, the drive netted approximately $600.00. Next came a keno party which brought $60.00.

Thus the Northville Welfare organization has assumed the burden of taking care of the needy in this community.

Heading the list of subscribers were P. H. Grennan and Robert G. Yerkes with donations of $100 each. The complete list follows:

NEW BANK HEAD

John A. Boyce, new president of the Depositors State bank, is a veteran of the World War, has been a practicing attorney in Detroit for eight years, and is married.

In his own words that about completes the story of his life.

"To this record can be added these facts: He suffered a gun shot wound while in action at St. Mihiel, on Sept. 12, 1918. His family is small being composed of but himself and his wife. He has three brothers and his mother living in different parts of the United States.

Concerning his new position he has this to say: "I believe that we have a good deal of work ahead of us. We know what problems we have to meet and we're prepared for those we know are coming. As to those which will arise, we ask the people's co-operation and good will. With these forces to aid us we are certain to succeed."

COUNCIL CONSIDERS AERATION PROPOSAL

The village council decided at its Monday meeting to stand pat on its decision to enforce the ordinance pertaining to the payment of delinquent water taxes. Unless the taxes are paid the water will be shut off, the council determined.

Discussion of a means of aerating the village water supply because of its heavy iron content was carried on by the councilmen. While not injurious to the health the water has caused considerable inconvenience to the housewives of Northville who find that the iron clings to sink and tub with annoying "tenacity."

If sufficient funds can be obtained to finance this project the council believes action can be taken by spring to relieve this condition. The cost of installing a means of "aeration" would be small and the work could be done through welfare help, members of the council declared. Payment of water taxes would be one means of acquiring the necessary funds.

W. R. C.

The Woman's Relief Corps will hold their installation of officers at the Legion House on E. Main street, Wednesday, Jan. 25, with pot luck supper at 6:30. Mrs. Ina Bauman will be the installing officer and Mrs. Ina Casterline the installing conductor. A good attendance is desired.

MANUAL TRAINING CLASS

The Manual Training class at the high school under the direction of Paul Thompson has been making fine progress. Due to the flu epidemic, though, some of the members have dropped out and there is room for a few who would like to join this class and have not been able to do so before. Anyone is welcome who enjoys working with tools and lumber and making things.

With Background of Wild Woods, Hunters' Ball Wednesday Evening Will Be Informal and Enjoyable

Those who attended the Hunters' Ball last winter have not yet forgotten the good time they had at this unusual event. The same appointments will be carried out this year with a few attractive innovations.

No formal affair this. Dress suits and fine togery will be out of keeping with the typical "happy hunting ground," to be represented in the high school gym on Wednesday evening, Jan. 25. Real trees will make one think that he is in the wild woods with here and there a deer's head lurking in ambush. Through these woods honest-to-goodness hunters will stalk in rough garb.

With this setting as an enticing background Northville will make merry to the music of Patterson's orchestra. For the benefit of all a varied program of old and new dances will be played while Arthur Lamb of Farmington will call the dances.

SCHOOL BOARD REPLIES TO PETITION

Following is a copy of the petition asking for the reduction of school expenditures signed by about 35 business men and others which was presented to the members of the school board at their January meeting last week.

No action was taken on the petition by the board. A copy of the letter sent to each of the signers by S. W. Ambler, secretary of the board, appears directly after the petition.

PETITION

We, the undersigned taxpayers Request the School Board of the Northville Public Schools to reduce the current expenses for the balance of the school year at least $5,000.00 and to eliminate the so-called Contact Teacher, as we deem the latter unnecessary.

Our delinquent taxes at the present time amount to approximately $22,000.00, and the probabilities are that they will amount to approximately $42,000.00 before the close of this year. This, together with the low low rate that was just passed in regard to taxes, is creating a situation that none of the school authorities or government officials know how to meet.

In regard to the so-called contact teacher, wish to advise that this employee has a full time program caring for assembly room, library book store, census records, and duties of truant officer. This work was formerly done by teachers and others that we employed at a larger expense, and if we were to discontinue her services it would be necessary to employ someone else to take her place. If, however, you have any reason for wishing any employee removed, or if you have any suggestions in regard to reducing the costs of operating our school we shall be very glad to have you come to any meeting of the Board and give us the benefit of your suggestions and any facts that you may have.

Very truly yours,

S. W. Ambler, Sec'y.

Copy of Letter Mailed in Reply Dear Sir:

We are in receipt of the petition

LOCAL NEWS

Cheer up! Several folks have reported the first robin—in January! Maurice Lapham's many friends will be glad to know that he is reported as "past the crisis in his attack of pneumonia and is now gaining daily."

The sale is a cash raising proposition and the large amount of quality merchandise will be thrown to the crowds for whatever it will bring, say those in charge.

The store has been closed Thursday, and will remain closed today (Friday) while preparations for the huge selling event are being made. Many who remember the sale Mr. Middleton put on for the Stark Bros. store will be on hand to share in the bargains available beginning tomorrow.

Mrs. Jehny Cousins wishes to announce to her friends that she will be a candidate for township treasurer at the coming election.

Accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smith of Plymouth, Mr. and Mrs. Roy G. Clark visited the WJR broadcasting studios in the Fisher building in Detroit Monday evening and enjoyed the half hour broadcast of the "Hi-Speed" program. They were the guests of Wayne Van Dyne, well known here, who is one of the WJR artists. Needless to say, it was a delightful experience for the visitors.

The chairman, Mrs. Harry F. Blake and her assistant, Mrs. Scott Lovewell, and chairman of the ticket sale, Mrs. R. H. Saley, are the efficient prime-movers of this event, but each member is expected to do her part.

P. T. A. HEARS TALK ON TEACHING TRUTH

Before a very good attendance of parents and teachers estimated at nearly one hundred, Prof. Percy Angove presented a subject of very vital interest to those caring for children, "How to Teach Truth to Children." With a background of wide experience and much study Prof. Angove treated the problem with mastery strokes and his hearers listened with eagerness Thursday evening, Jan. 12.

"Do not accuse the very young child of lying," said the speaker. Natural imagination is so closely linked with apparent truth that it is a most delicate matter to handle.

Very young children have no sense of right and wrong and must be taught. It is a wise parent who knows how to deal with apparent falsehoods correctly.

Lest a child be in self-defense, parents and teachers must avoid bringing a matter to an issue in severity of attitude. Fear often prompts a lie.

Altogether it was a very thought-provoking talk and every parent who listened felt enlightened.

Two piano solos by Miss Katherine Rink were additional features of this program.

For the first time in the history of the school an honor banquet will be given to the students of highest standing. The P. T. A. feels that those who do good scholastic work should be recognized and takes this way to show it. Athletics, this association feels, are not the only cause for cheers.

Early in June, sometime before commencement, this banquet will be given to those in high school having all As or Bs. It is hoped that parents and friends may join in this happy event, the details of which will be announced later.

The course of study in child training with able speakers is being appreciated by the parents this year and all others are urged to take advantage in this opportunity.

CROWDS AT SHOW

The Wednesday night Merchants show at the Penniman-Allen is keeping up to standard both in excellence of production and attendance.

The picture entitled, "Okey Dokey," with Leo Carillo heading the cast, proved to be an excellent picture for involved situations. Carillo in the role of a barber, gains a reputation for generosity and square dealing among Italians.

In the neighborhood there is a political boss who seeks to gain control of the community and hereby hangs the tale.

Saturday night a first-rate comedy entitled, "Blessed Event" is scheduled for those who enjoy good fun.

THE KING'S DAUGHTERS DO MUCH GOOD

Mrs. Walker Named as Head For the Coming Year

Rounding out another year of achievement, Northville's oldest organization of philanthropy, The King's Daughters, gathered at the home of one of their number, Mrs. Bertha Neal, Tuesday evening, for their annual meeting.

First in order was the cooperative dinner, served buffet style, with the guests seated at small tables throughout the rooms. As always this is one of the very pleasant social gatherings of the year with friends of long standing united in interest in the common good.

Then came the backward look over the past year with its achievement. A hard year it has been and the heads have never been so great but, "In His Name," this body of women have worked at various tasks and have met the demands with readiness.

Following is the annual report: Balance on Hand — $379.53 Total receipts — $733.63 Disbursements — $1,046.12

Paid Out: For Shoes — $93.31 For Groceries — $425.13 For Coal — $285.14 For Meat — $33.18 For Milk — $37.45

At Thanksgiving and Christmas the King's Daughters, cooperated with the Community Welfare committee in sending out baskets of supplies for dinners for a large number of families.

To the Community Welfare they contributed over $106. Gifts from individuals have been received amounting to $88.04.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Julia Walker; Vice President, Mrs. Mary Alexander; Secretary, Mrs. Jerry Schrader; Treasurer, Miss Ruth Gillis.

Appreciation was expressed to the retiring president, Mrs. Cavell, for serving so faithfully for two terms when she "ploied the ship" through its storms so successfully. The support of the organization was pledged to the new incumbent of the chair, Mrs. Walker, and the King's Daughters face the new year with unwavering fidelity.

A note of tenderness was struck during the session of this society when tribute was paid to one whose recent death left vacant a chair in this circle, Mrs. Arabella Tinnham. A committee was appointed who drew up the following appropriate resolutions:

Whereas, The door into the other room of life has opened once more and our former leader, Mrs. Arabella Tinnham, has passed within:

Be It Resolved That: The order of King's Daughters, who mourn her loss and who treasure her helpful co-operation in the work of this circle in Northville, do order that these sentiments be spread upon the records of our Order and a copy sent to Brother John Tinnham and be published in the Northville Record.

Hubbel of Milford will talk informally on the subject, "Old Glass and Other Hobbies" at the meeting of the club this afternoon, (Friday) at 2 p. m. in the library. A few pieces of old glass will be on exhibition. An explanation of the authenticity of these rare pieces by one who knows promises a most interesting afternoon. Each member may bring a guest.

Technocracy Is A Warning, But "It Is Too Good to Come True," Dr. H. Handorf Tells Rotarians

"Technocracy is too good to come true," Dr. H. Handorf told Northville Rotarians Tuesday in a very illuminating discussion of the new philosophy that has aroused a great deal of interest in the whole country.

Dr. Handorf went into a very clear analysis of technocracy and what it stands for. The technocrats, he said, are simply scientists who wish to find out the truth. They constitute 25,000 engineers and scientists who have concentrated their studies at Columbia University. The technocrats believe that wealth comes not from gold and material things but that wealth is actually in the use of energy. For example, one-half pound of coal, when utilized in the best way possible through modern machinery will produce as much horse power as one man would working eight hours.

RED CROSS ASKS FOR MORE AID IN MAKING CLOTHES

Need Garment Cutters to Keep Up With Fast Sewers

And still the calls come for sewing to be done for the Red Cross. Almost faster than the women at headquarters can cut out garments, women of the village are coming for sewing to do at their homes. All this is appreciated and is being passed on to those who need it.

Right now it is help in cutting out that is most urgent. If those who are willing to bring their scissors and help cut out garments, will come to the third floor of the village hall any afternoon after two o'clock their service will be a great help.

So far Chairman Mrs. Eliza Wagenschultz says she has handled out nearly 200 yards of material of all kinds to those who are in need and who will do their own sewing. Gradually the idea is getting across to those who need it that this material is for their use gratis. Public spirited Northville women are for the time laying aside their "quilt-plecing" and "crochet" hooks and are falling in line in this work of "pulling together."

LOCAL PEOPLE IN PLAY ON SUNDAY

"Who killed Earl Wright?" No, this is not a prop of a murder that may have occurred in this murderless town of Northville. It is merely the very pertinent title of a play, free admission, to be held at the Presbyterian church on Sunday evening, January 22, at 7:30 o'clock.

"Who Killed Earl Wright?" is a reproduction of part of the actual trial of a young man in Iowa, who murdered his best friend while under the influence of liquor—just one-sixth of a pint of it. The play is being presented under the direction of the Michigan Anti-Saloon League.

The cast of characters in this drama contain some of Northville's most influential citizens. Here they are:

Judge Ray Valkenburgh; sheriff Earl Montgomery; defendant, C. B. Turnbull; defendant's mother, Mrs. Robert Thompson; Mrs. French; Mrs. Paul Alexander; bootlegger, R. T. Baldwin; coroner, Dr. W. H. Johnston; bailiff Robert Pickel; Mrs. Earl Wright; Mrs. E. M. Bogart; court reporter, Miss Alice Barbour; prosecuting attorney, W. V. Walkman (President of the Detroit District Michigan Anti-Saloon League); defense attorney, G. W. Morrow (Detroit).

The jury will be composed of: Michael Nagg, Don F. Yerkes, Charles E. Rogers, W. B. Horsfall, T. R. Carrington, Dr. B. H. Douglas, Mrs. Roy Larkins, Mrs. E. S. Beard, Mrs. Fred W. Lyke, Mrs. George Starr, Mrs. Bertha Neal, and Mrs. Sherrill W. Ambler.

NEW BANK IN NORTHVILLE IS PIONEER

Institution Will Open On Jan. 28 Without Ceremony

The Depositors' State bank, Northville's new institution, which has arisen from the ashes of the two closed banks to open on Saturday morning, Jan. 28, is a pioneer in the new banking history which is being written throughout the country today.

Inquiries from banking departments in other states, particularly New York, it is said, indicate that Michigan is ahead of these commonwealths in reorganizing and re-opening closed banks.

The Depositors' State bank is unique, officials declare, in that nowhere in the United States have any two closed banks in the same community been merged and re-opened by mutually "leaning on each other" as have the closed banks here.

Almost exactly a year's time has elapsed since the depositors' committee, composed of: John A. Boyce, chairman, Oliver Goldsmith, Plymouth, and C. H. Horton, Northville, took charge of the situation as a result of the final meeting of the depositors of the two banks on Feb. 4, held in the church house of the Presbyterian church.

Working with the banking department, heads of which are Rudolph E. Reichert and Max C. Taylor, and the attorney general's department represented by E. W. Nelson and John A. McPherson, the depositors' committee waded through a mass of legal red tape and walked in virgin territory in attempting to re-open the banks.

No precedents were available. The situation at present has no parallel in banking history and an immense amount of legal work was worked out by John A. Boyce, president of the new institution. The state banking department officials say that they have gone a long way in re-opening the banks here under one head and the precedent will be watched closely by authorities in this and other states.

The Farm Act, otherwise known as Act No. 8, bill 17, which was passed in the special session of the legislature called by former governor Wilbur M. Brucker, enabled Northville to get its bank.

This act made it possible to re-open by getting 85 percent of the depositors' signatures on the moratorium agreement which had been worked out by the banking department and others as a means of putting the closed banks back into business. The Depositors State bank is the first instance, officials say, in which two banks have been re-opened and consolidated under this plan.

The charter to be used for the Depositors State bank will be the one used by the former Lapham State Savings bank, articles being amended to change the name.

The opening of the new bank will be marked by the lack of pomp or display. Depositors who come into the new bank which will be housed in the Northville State Savings bank building, will be greeted by the new president, John A. Boyce, members of the board of directors and the personnel.

The depositors will be entitled to draw up to $10.00 against their accounts which may be placed to their credit on the books of the new institution if they desire.

TERRIER IN SOUTH SCENTS HOME IN LETTER

From the News-Journal of Daytona Beach, Fla., comes the following interesting story which will be of interest to friends of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ravie Brown, of Arrowhead Farm. Mrs. Brown is spending the winter months in the south.

The story goes that Mrs. Brown received a letter from her husband, in Detroit, and tossed the epistle upon the bed after reading it. In trotted Terry, her wire-haired fox terrier puppy, who acted in a way which aroused much interest and speculation. The dog ran up to the bed, seized the letter and held it under his paws, scenting it and whining in a very knowing way.

Septics may say that dogs do not think but Mrs. Brown insists that Terry was homesick and knew from the scent of the letter that his master had something to do with it. Who knows?

WHAT BUSINESS NEEDS

We stepped into the office of the advertising manager of a newspaper about twice as big as the Record. He was one and a half times the size of the writer. We fell to visiting about business and then about conditions in general and finally about the outlook for Northville's bank and conditions in his own town.

Then he said something we hadn't been looking for. It was this: "I'll just tell you, Dick, we don't need more technocrats or any more plans to get out of the depression—we just need some religion; some honest application of the Golden Rule. If we would get together on the philosophy of good will and cooperation and all that stuff, we could lick this economic upset."

Isn't the hardheaded business man who said this just about right? If he is right, why haven't all of us the sense to try the plan? It might work.

COMSTOCK AND THE LAW

Governor Comstock was quoted in the daily papers last week as saying that he had not filed the amount of his campaign expenses, as the law requires him to do, and further that he did not expect to do so. He said something to the effect that he did not think much of this particular law.

The Detroit News editorially rebukes the governor—and properly so—for his attitude and tells him that even a governor has no right to break any law and that he had better "think again."

What kind of a governor have we, anyway? If he is going to pick out the kind of a law—no matter how trivial it seems—that he chooses not to obey, what is to prevent every citizen from having his pet law for violating? If the governor keeps on like this, he is going to have a lot of explaining to do in two years when he again goes before the people. Some of his words will be there to meet him as a boomerang.

SLOWING DOWN IN TIME

A thoughtful reader of the daily papers must be impressed with the number of prominent business and professional leaders who pass out of life at the age of about 60. The latest and most outstanding one, of course, is Calvin Coolidge, who died at just this age.

The age of 60, in this day and age of medical knowledge, is altogether too young for men to be dying. The lessons of all these passings would seem to be that men must learn to slow down when they reach middle life, learn their limitations and adopt a tempo of living which will keep them on earth for another score or two of years. That it can be done is shown by the increasing number of men who have gotten out from under part of their burden, slowed down a bit and let their doctor tell them how to spend a happy old age. In the case of President Coolidge, no one can state how much the terrific burden of the presidency took its toll from his physical energy. With the average man, there is no such crushing load and if we are wise we will plan to live longer.

A HOME PROBLEM

The school dance closes at one o'clock (in the morning) and by the time the young man takes his girl friend home or she has dismissed him, it gets around to two o'clock. In the meantime father and mother—most certainly the latter, unless she has too blind a faith in the ways of young people—can't seem to get to sleep and wonder just when the young boy or girl of the home will get to bed.

So comes two o'clock and perhaps nearly three, and the front door opens softly and then comes the sleep that just wouldn't come when one of the young folks wasn't tucked in. Of course father and mother have the day's work to do tomorrow and probably they can do it on a few short hours of sleep. Of course the boy or girl may be able to sleep late but sleep from 2 a. m. on is hardly a night's sleep.

Well it hardly seems a square deal that at least three folks have to be robbed of a fair night's sleep—all for the sake of a little pleasure. Will you tell us, please, why we allow this kind of hours for school dances?

NORTHVILLE'S OPPORTUNITY

The eyes of this part of the state of Michigan are going to be on Northville and its new bank in the months just ahead. More people than we realize will be asking: "What kind of a town will Northville be now?" More folks than we realize now will be coming to town to inquire how the new moratorium bank is working. Northville will be in the limelight.

Northville's new bank will be one of the most solid banking institutions in the entire state of Michigan. There can be no "run" on it; every safeguard will protect the interest of the depositors. The five-year-plan, with the trust fund, makes it a bank that is as safe as any bank on earth can be.

The growth and progress of the new bank will be "up to" Northville people themselves. If good will, cooperation and a kindly spirit are shown on the part of all our people, the new institution is bound to prosper—it can't fail to prosper. After a year and more of a bankless town, all will see that our community prosperity is linked up very closely with banking success. Certainly we are ripe for an era of good will that will bring unbounded prosperity and co-operation to us all. The community itself must make this response of good will. Northville's opportunity is before it.

The president of the new institution, John A. Boyce, sets us all a good example in good will and in the spirit of "pull together." He has the spirit that will make the bank a great success if we "hold up his hands." Back of him are scores and even hundreds of other good citizens who will leave no stone unturned to make Northville's new bank the foundation of our new and better community structure. We say it again: "Forward with Northville."

WANDERING THOUGHTS

Only a few weeks to tulip time.

There should be some folks in town, Saturday, January 28.

Friends are still the best asset one can have. We appreciate all that our Northville friends have done and are doing for us.

It is a wise person who doesn't believe all he hears. We have just smiled at hearing how one local happening was exaggerated like a big snow ball. It reminded us of the old saying: "You find the most sticks under the best apple tree."

Very rarely do we run into any Northville folks when out on our walks Sunday. But Sunday, ever near the new

CHALLENGE TO DEMOCRATS

(Chas. S. Seldin in Rochester Clarion)

Just to be mean the members of the out-going Republican state legislature prepared a drastic economy program for the new Democratic legislature and governor to struggle desperately over. The situation is a challenge to the Democrats and will give them an opportunity to make good their pre-election economy promises. If they make good their fate at the polls two years hence will be safe.

BRUDER LEAVES REDFORD

(From Redford Record)

The resignation of A. A. Bruder as secretary of Redford Exchange club is announced this week by means of the weekly bulletin sent members. Mr. Bruder recently accepted a position as cashier of The State Savings bank in Lincoln Park and in his note to fellow Exchanges he states that he will take up residence in Lincoln Park immediately. He adds "I deeply regret leaving Redford after 24 years of pleasant associations here."

CHOOSING YOUR SERMON

(Redford Record)

Woodrow Wilson once said that man is incurably religious.

This statement seems to be borne out by the choice of the Redford Baptists of ten sermon topics offered them by the pastor. Without exception the ten preferred topics indicate a discussion of the mystical side of religion.

Perhaps the only topic dealing with modern problems of living is the one-third in the list, "How Shall I conquer fear?" The remaining nine apply to all time—they were important to the Christians who died in the Roman arena they are important today. One might have thought that the problems confronting so many people today would pavement and parkway we met Cyril Frid and his children. We couldn't help noticing how fine they all looked and got to thinking how much good that kind of walk does for both the parents and the "kids." Incidentally, we often wonder how many people have missed climbing "Balden's Hill" and getting that airplane view of the fair-ground and the village. We dare say that half the population doesn't know what a marvelous sight it is.

One man objected to us that people had no right to send the petition to the school board, asking for the cutting of the budget and the elimination of one place on the staff. He said that the school board should settle all such matters and that if people wanted to come in person before the board, well and good. We don't agree with this statement at all. The petition method is proper, dignified and the one universally used. In fact, it is far superior to the "mass meeting" plan by which people have sometimes tried to settle public issues.

DEMOCRATIC JOBS

(Hyman Levinson in Farmington Enterprise)

One day last week we walked across Cadillac Square in Detroit with an active young professional man of the big city. As three men passed us he called out to one, "Hello Andy." Then as we went on he said, "There goes one of the few real, old-time Democrats left. I mean one of the real, honest-to-goodness, old-fashioned Democrats that has been one for many years, all his life—in fact. Pretty near everybody knows him."

"What job," we asked, "did he get?" "None," came the answer. "He didn't get any job." To our questioning expression he replied, "No, he didn't get anything. Very few of the genuine old-time Democrats, the fellows that have been Democrats year in and year out, got any job. It's all the new fellows, most of them not many people know. That's what's hurting the old-timers. Here they've been going through all the lean years, sticking to it year in and year out when they didn't have a chance, and now when the upset comes, they're left off in the cold. Of course they're glad to see it go Democratic, but actually, it's no better for them than if it had gone Republican once more. Worse, in one way, because while everybody feels sorry for them, and even the Republicans admit they're entitled to something after all these years, still some people 'kid' them about it, and that hurts. It's tough that a vote of thanks of the entire on them."

MELVINDALE BEATS N. H. S. LAST FRIDAY

Northville Comes Close To Winning in Dramatic Last Period

Last Friday a powerful Melvindale basketball team overcame the hard-fighting Tigers of Northville by a close score of 24 to 19. The second team was again nosed out by one point, 15-14.

Play during the first quarter by both teams was very ragged. Easy dog shots were missed and passes were inaccurate and failed to reach their mark, consequently the score at the end of the period was only three to two in favor of Northville.

The second quarter opened with Melvindale rallying and sinking five points before the only Orange and Black basket of the period was scored. The opposing team cooperated heavily in improving their aim, and before the half ended they ran their score up to thirteen in spite of the stubborn defense of the Tigers' guards, Capt. Westphall, and Marburger.

In the next period the tall Melvindale players continued to overwhelm the Northville five, again allowing only two points to swing through their basket, and the quarter ended with Melvindale leading by the seemingly hopeless score of 22 to 7.

After taking three quarters to warm up, the Orange and Black team finally hit its stride. They rallied, nearly and gave the overconfident Melvindale team the score of their lives. Hoffman started the scoring by sinking a well-directed foul shot followed by another by Marburger. By accurate passing and excellent teamwork, Hoffman and Baldwin were able to score two more baskets each, bringing the score up to 17 to 22 before the opposing team was able to pierce the Tigers' tight defense. With very little time left, Northville was unable to overcome Melvindale's lead, although they accounted for two more points before the game ended to make the final score Northville 19, Melvindale 24.

The game was typified by the clean sportsmanship of both teams. Very few fouls were committed. Northville sank three foul shots and Melvindale two. Another exciting angle of the game was the courage with which the Orange and Black Tigers fought to avert a decisive defeat and their efforts were rewarded by almost overcoming the tremendous lead of the Melvindale team.

For the second time during last week the reserve team was edged out by one point. The Northville 'B' team held the lead over the Melvindale reserves by one or two points throughout the game. Late in the last quarter a Melvindale forward sank a long shot giving them a one point lead which they held in spite of the Orange and Black's aggressiveness. The final whistle blew with the score Melvindale 15, Northville 14.

The industrious way in which Junior Dundas studies? He actually read geography all one lunch hour.

The nickname, Mata Hari, that has been given to the treasurer of the student council? Maybe it's because of what she wears at basketball practice. But it's all right, Gertrude. It might have been Charlie Chaplin.

The scowl on the face of a certain very red-haired young lady one day last week? Careful, Marion. Remember your high blood pressure.

How formidable Roy Warner looks when dancing is mentioned? He just doesn't like it. Margaret, you'll have to sit this one out.

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

I AM THE TEACHER

(Before Chas. A. Dolph Beats Us To It)

I am the teacher. With a hard earned education, I endeavor to teach to the students, that which will help them in life. My path is hard and often my efforts are not appreciated. I always try to do my best.

I am the teacher. I often have to discipline unruly students. I am pleased at their apathy. I despair at their dullness. I am the upholder of the biggest and best principles on which our country is based and by which it is governed.

I am the teacher. I often grow weary of my endless task, but always I carry on.

I AM THE STUDENT

I am the student. I go to school to learn that which will help me to earn a living. I usually try hard to please teachers and do what is right.

I am the student. Often my studies and teachers bore me, beyond words. I then rebel. I am disciplined and told where I am wrong. I am the student. I tire of school and look forward to graduation. I dream of the future and the time when I will be my own boss.

Basketball

Though Northville lost the basketball game Friday, the boys in the line-up the last few minutes of play proved that they could play basketball and play it well. With the score 22-7 in favor of Melvindale at the beginning of the last period, Northville brought it up to 24-19 before the end of the game and gave their rivals quite a scare.

"Those boys in the game at that time," said spectators, "played the best basketball that any Northville

SENIORS SECURE GOOD MUSIC FOR PROM, FEB. 10

Ted Nole Is Hired By Senior Orchestra Committee

Plans for the Senior Prom, to be held Friday, Feb. 10 were definitely gotten under way with the selection of Ted Nole's six-piece orchestra last week.

Known throughout the United States, and especially nearby, Ted Nole is an outstanding dance band. They have played at dances for the University of Michigan, Michigan State College, Fordson high, Groesbeek high, and Dearborn high schools. They are regularly heard over the National Broadcasting stations, and often play for fashionable organizations such as the Garden club of Palm Beach, Fla. The Nole orchestra is presented by the much-heard-of Del-Ray combination of Del-Delbridge and Ray Gorrell.

Senior orchestra committee chairman, Leo Koffler, is quoted as saying that the senior class is exceptionally fortunate to get such a distinguished group of musicians for the Prom. However, he goes on to say, that even Ted Nole is not too good for the biggest social affair of the Northville high school (meaning the senior prom).

The decorations committee, headed by Mayor Robert Christensen, met during the week and discussed their plans. The present idea is to use the valentine motif. The gymnasium is to be decorated with red and silver hearts, the orchestra pit and delightful corner nooks being transformed into huge valentines. These and many other beautiful frills will transform the gym into what is hoped to be the best decorated dance floor that the school has yet known.

The seniors believe that rather than putting on the party for the good time alone, they can make a profit from it, as well as having it an outstanding social success. The price of $1.00, unusually low for formal dances, is expected to draw a large crowd, senior officials say.

Seniors—Hand in Dance Tickets and money.

PLAN FORMED TO RECOGNIZE YOUNG CITIZENS

It has been suggested to the school board that much attention is paid to foreigners becoming citizens, giving them a diploma, etc., while many young Americans become of age and therefore citizens, and go entirely unnoticed by the public.

Accordingly Supt. T. J. Knapp is instructed to prepare plans for the publication of recognition of young American people that have become or will become of age between July 1, 1932 and July 1, 1933.

Though no details can be given at present, all knowing anything at all of the project, claim its worthiness of purpose. The superintendent would appreciate notifications of all whose twenty-first birthdays come between July 1, 1932 and July 1, 1933.

SOPH GIRLS WIN FROM FRESHMEN IN INTER-CLASS GAME

The sophomore girls' team triumphed over the freshmen girls in a score of 16 to 8 in the inter-class basketball tournament Monday, in the high school gym.

This game is the first in a series of twelve. The purpose of this inter-class tournament is to decide the champion of the school. Each grade has a team and each team meets twice. The winner of the greatest number of contests is awarded a trophy and basketball suits.

The game was very interesting and the girls of both teams gave a good exhibition of basketball. The referee was Miss Helen Hacking of Northville.

The Line-up

Freshmen: Tibble, Ware, Altman, McLoughlin, Dundas, Tewksbury.

Substitutes: Ferguson for Johnson; Osborn for Ferguson; Tibble for Dundas; Dundas for Tibble.

N. H. S. PLAYS AT LINCOLN THIS EVENING

Championship Chances May Be Decided at Rural Ypsi School

This evening Northville will fight one of its hardest court battles of the season, against Lincoln Consolidated High School at Ypsilanti.

To show the strength of Northville's opponent, Lincoln Consolidated, a large rural school outside of Ypsilanti, came within two points of beating University High of Ann Arbor, one of the strongest teams in the state. They have an entirely new team and one member, the center, scored 29 points, alone against Dundee Coach Rugles states.

"Lincoln Consolidated is probably the strongest team that we will encounter this season," said the coach. "The squad has been practicing hard all week and much improvement has been made. The coach also stated that the squad is handling the ball much better. Hoffman and Deal have improved to a great extent and now possess regular places on the first team. Bray and McLoughlin are also shifted, having been promoted to the first team uniforms."

The starting lineup for the first team tonight will probably be Hoffman and Deal at forwards, Baldwin at center, Marburger and Capt. Ray Westphall, guards.

The team's chances of winning the championship have been stated as being fair. Four league games have been played. Northville breaking even having won two and lost two.

The games lost were with Farmington and Melvindale. Those won were the Berkley and Trenton games.

BAKERY ROUTE POSTPONED ONE WEEK BY SENIORS

The bakery route to have been started last Monday by the Senior class has been postponed until next Monday.

Due to the numerous activities scheduled for this month by the seniors, and being much pressed for time as well as a scarcity of students who could devote themselves to the route, it was decided best to postpone it until the following week.

SENIOR PLAY TO BE GIVEN AGAIN NEXT THURSDAY

New Cast Will Act; Play A Success Last Thursday

After one successful performance last night, the senior play, "The Attorney for the Defense," will be given again next Thursday evening, January 26, by the other cast.

Starring Gertrude Deal as Dorothy Hampden, and Howard Latta, again as Jimmy Carlyle, the new faces that will appear are Dorothy Shoenberg in the dramatic part of Beth Winters, the defendant; Richard Shipley as Mark Nelson, her lover and friend of the Carlyles; Florence Johnson, playing Alice, the seventeen-year-old girl next door; Monroe Weston, as Freddie, a clerk in the Carlyle office; and Edith Clark as Elsie, the Carlyle maid. Warner Neal, portraying the villainous Prosecuting Attorney, Hampden, John Steencken as the unsuspicious malted milk king, and Bob Power, Judge Carlyle, Jimmy's father, appear again next Thursday and are expected to perform even better than last night.

Playing beautifully as they did between acts last evening, the instrumental trio composed of Ernest Racz at the cello, Eunice Cousins at the piano and Francis Cousins, at the violin, will furnish further entertainment. Gertrude Deal, Florence Johnson, and Eleanor Grosvenor, the well known trio, will also sing again. The audience, through the medium of applause, expressed their approval of the performance.

SUPT. ADDRESSES SCHOOL PATRONS AND TAX PAYERS

To Patrons and Tax-Payers: It seems that you would be interested to know that the school authorities are doing whatever they can to continue to increase the money savings in school operation for this present year and the future. Any time that anything can be eliminated safely, I believe that it will be done.

At the suggestion of an interested patron of the schools, the office of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction has been urged to send a representative to this school for the purpose of pointing out to us any and all additional retrenchments that can be made without losing the approval of the State Department, and consequent financial losses in the way of primary fund, etc.

SCHOOL LIBRARY GETS NEW BOOKS

Thirty-one new books were received January ninth by the Northville School Library. Eight of them are biographies, eleven of them are best fiction, seven are stories of adventures and travels and two famous animal books were also received. "The Story of Manikma," by Van Loon, and "The Believing World," by Browne are two famous books added to Northville School Library. Another interesting new book is the edition of Aesop's Fables.

These purchases are made possible by a library fund supplied through certain fines that are assessed throughout the state.

SENIOR'S WHO'S WHO

Robert Reed, who was born in Detroit, Michigan, August 18, 1913. He came to Northville when he was three years old, and has resided here ever since. N. H. S. being the only school he has attended.

He has been active in athletics and has won two letters in football with a letter in track, which puts him in the N. C. club.

Bob's hobby is art and he is Art Editor on the Palladium Staff. He also amuses himself by playing on the bass horn in the N. H. S. band.

He has had a very uneventful life to date but he is a very successful student with lightning once and occasionally he cuts himself badly while shaving.

J-HOP SAID BY PATRONS TO BE A BIG SUCCESS

The J-Hop, which was held last Friday night, was said by the many who attended to be a complete social success.

The dancers were presented with a dainty dance program of black and white. At 10:30 the grand march was held—a beautiful sight, forming an intricate line and then melting into dancing couples.

The Juniors were pleased to see their efforts so much appreciated by the crowd which attended. Everything from the beautiful music of Bert Milan's orchestra to the refreshments, was a success. The gym was decorated gayly and lent an additional pleasure to dancing.

Eleanor Eaton stayed Thursday night in Lansing with friends. Harold McCordie and Herbert Ware spent Sunday fishing at a nearby lake.

CAMPFIRE NOTES

Mrs. Cook's Campfire group have planned a hike for Monday, Jan. 23, after school.

Edith Bailey, Dorothy Vroman, and Thyrza Lester, are going to give reports on wood products on the way. The girls are going to study birds and trees during their hike and have been requested to bring bird books and field glasses along on the trip.

The group intends to go to Detroit soon, for Campfire material. Mrs. Reng, Campfire guardian, gave a farewell party at her home for her campfire group Saturday, Jan. 14.

Various games were played throughout the evening. The one who got the most points for all the games played, would receive a prize. Mary Jane Boelen won the prize.

Refreshments, cake, ice cream, and cocoa were served and the Campfire group ended the happy evening by having a good romp outside.

Mrs. Orlov G. Owen is going to take over the group in place of Mrs. Reng.

GRADE NOTES

Mrs. Eaton's kindergarten won the first P. T. A. picture by having more parents at the meeting than any other room.

The pupils in Miss Leonardson's first grade are learning how messages are carried. The children have built a post office and have made stamps and money. Geraldine McKenna brought her stamp book. The children are bringing letters with different kinds of stamps. They have learned a postman song and have collected pictures of the way messages are carried. The children hope to visit the telegraph office in the near future.

Jump' Van Alta, who was a pupil in Miss Reincke's 5th grade, has moved to Plymouth.

The children in Miss Hawkins' 6th grade gave a play for the other children of that grade. The play was "King Alfred and the Woodcutters' Wife." The following children took part: Jack McCrum, King Alfred, Donald Armstrong, the woodcutter, Patsy McLoughlin, the woodcutters' wife. The following boys were soloists: Billy Schoutz, Alfred Cousins, John Angel, Robert Rumbowski, Richard Larkin, George Barnhart, and Gerald Preston.

For health work last month Miss Wilson's third graders paid special attention to brushing their teeth. Marilyn Rinck, Philip Baldwin, Junior Holms, Shirley Musolf, Lowry Snipes, Evelyn Elliott, Richard Parmalee, and Louis Hernek kept records for the month at home and brought them to school for exhibition. The school nurse says that this class shows the best care of teeth in the school. Lowry Snipes, Dorothy Jane Oingo, Helen Dixon, and Marilyn Rinck are the only students in the class, who had A in every subject.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

The Inquiring Reporter asked: "Do you think that 'outside' activities of the school affect (help or hinder) the students?" By outside activities we mean sports, dances, social affairs, clubs, etc.

Melvin Chrysler—I think that outside activities of the students, such as sports, help their studies because they work hard in school to keep their grades up so that they may be allowed to take part in the sports.

Alice Boelens—"It is my opinion that students wouldn't care nearly as much about gaining an education if there were no incentive besides studying."

Tom McLoughlin—"I think 'outside' activities help the students because they make school much more interesting."

R. H. Amerman—"Outside activities may or may not affect one's school progress. If indulged in with moderation they assist and become a valuable part of one's education."

December Honor Roll Issued Monday, Contains Names of Many New Students; One Has All "A" Standing

With the December report mailed out last week, a large number of students will be pleased to see their names on the honor roll for the first time.

There is again one student, Mabel Douglas, who has the unusual all A standing. This is an outstanding accomplishment and deserves much recognition.

Occasionally, a name or two is unintentionally omitted from the honor roll. This is often due to a misunderstanding or overlooking of marks at the school and often to a mistake of the Orange and Black. The paper will be glad to make a correction if either the editor or principal are notified.

TEACHERS ALLOW GRACE IN MAKING UP OF BACK WORK

Due to the unusually large number of students of the past two weeks on account of sickness, teachers are giving them extra grace in getting in their make-up work. Ordinarily a student on being absent must make up his work within a day or so. Though many cards bore incompletes this last month, teachers were instructed to change that as soon as the back work was handed in.

HOW MODERN WOMEN LOSE FAT SAFELY

Gain Physical Vigor—Youthfulness
With Clear Skin and Vivacious Eyes
That Sparkle With Glorious Health

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Every morning take one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast—cut down on pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar—in 4 weeks get on the scales and note how many pounds of fat have vanished.

Get a bottle of Kruschen Salts—the cost is trifling and it lasts 4 weeks. If even this first bottle doesn't convince you this is the easiest, safest and surest way to lose fat—if you don't feel superb improvement in health—so gloriously energetic—vigorously alive—your money gladly returned.

But be sure for your health's sake that you ask for and get Kruschen Salts. Get them at any drug store in the world.

BE A BOOSTER
If you think your church the best, Tell 'em so!
If you'd have it lead the rest, Help it grow!
When there's anything to do, Let them always count on you, You'll feel good when it is through, Don't you know?

If you're used to giving knocks, Change your style; Throw bouquets instead of rocks, For a while. Boost your pastor and your church; Knock the knocker off his perch; Lift the stumbling from the lurch, With a smile!

A woman who regularly attended public worship with great punctuality and always took care to be on time, being asked how it was she could always come so early, answered that it was part of her religion never to disturb the religion of others.

The hour of worship and Sunday school for this Sunday morning will be 10 o'clock. The pastor will preach on the theme: "How do you love your God?" Catechumen instruction on Saturday morning from 9 till 11 o'clock. The half hour of Faith and Fellowship is broadcast every Sunday afternoon from 1:30 to 2 o'clock over station WXXZ.

To all who mourn and need comfort, to all who are lonely and want companionship, to all who love to sing God's praise, to all who seek a Savior, to all who seek salvation, St. Paul's Lutheran church opens wide her portals and in the name of Jesus Christ bids you welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. McCullough Celebrate Anniversary of Sixty-Five Years Together

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. McCullough celebrated their sixty-fifth wedding anniversary Monday, Jan. 16. The happy couple received many callers and cards, bringing congratulations.

They were super guests of their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. McCullough.

A beautiful and delicious wedding cake was the gift of a friend and was shared with others with enjoyment.

Both Mr. and Mrs. McCullough will celebrate their birthdays in March, when Mr. McCullough will be 60 and his wife 61.

Northville friends congratulate this worthy couple on this long life together.

They are able to be around the house, but are not so active as they were a year ago this time.

Young Women's Service League Fly Needles and Study Together

While they sewed at the home of Mrs. O. F. Reng, on their voluntary task of repairing the choir vestments of their church, thirty-four young women of the Service League of the Methodist church listened to the beginning of their study of the American Indian as reviewed by Miss Lone Palmer, an instructor of the local high school, Tuesday evening.

This report was preceded by a devotional service conducted by Mrs. Viola Lockart.

With the president, Mrs. Mildred Zimmerman, presiding, the young women reported a generous amount of clothing and supplies that this organization has been able to contribute to two very worthy families.

The big catch of the day was a seven-pound pike. On Monday evening the Armstrongs were invited to share this at supper with Mr. and Mrs. Marsh.

Dr. Nalbant is Surprised By Friends On His Birthday

Dr. John P. Nalbant, of the Maybury Sanatorium staff, was very pleasantly reminded that it was his birthday last Saturday evening, Jan. 14, when sixteen members of the contract club, including husbands and wives, walked into his home and surprised him.

After hearty congratulations the party played contract bridge during the evening and at the conclusion of the games a huge, beautifully decorated birthday cake was brought to the honored member for him to cut and share with his friends.

With the doctor seized the knife and attacked the lovely cake. The knife refused to penetrate the cake and Dr. Nalbant blushed at the failure of his wife's cooking.

When everyone had enjoyed the joke at the doctor's expense they confessed that the cake was a fake made of layer tins iced, another cake, this time a most beautifully decorated triumph of the culinary art of Mrs. T. B. Henry, was passed and pronounced perfect. Other delicacies accompanied the cake.

The most amusing part of the evening was the showering of gifts upon Dr. Nalbant, who opened them with interesting comments.

New plans were discussed. Besides sponsoring the music supplies of the church and caring for the laundering and repair of the vestments, other responsibilities are gradually being assumed by this new society which has "Service" as its motto.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mothers and Teachers Discuss Matters of Interest Over Teacups

It was an animated group of mothers who gathered in the Home Economics room at the high school Tuesday afternoon after school hours to discuss with some of the teachers who are other members of the membership committee, ways and means of increasing the efficiency of Parent-Teacher Association.

As chairman of this committee, Miss Helen Leonardson presided over the discussion and Mrs. E. W. Lester, president of the association, was also present.

Among the matters considered were, first, a plan to have young women of the high school take charge of a nursery for young children while their parents attended the P. T. A.; second, to have separate meetings of mothers of the various rooms so that they might become better acquainted with each other and with the teachers; third, to have children make their own invitations to the P. T. A. so that they will be sure to carry them home to their parents.

As tea was served, a surprise treat from Mrs. Lester, the discussion gained in interest and better things are anticipated for these gatherings of parents and teachers for mutual benefit.

TECHNOCRACY IS WARNING

Lars could be hoarded—it would all have to be used. It would be taken out in energy and would not be good after a certain time. "The electric dollar" could not be saved for the technocrat believes that wealth is only wealth as it is used to benefit mankind.

Although technocracy is trying to teach us how to master the machine, said the doctor, and it would be possible for men to have all desirable material things by working only eight hours a week, this goal is not likely to be reached because the ordinary person would not know what to do with all the leisure time he would have.

Dr. Handorf has made a deep study of technocracy and his talk was greatly appreciated by the Rotarians. The meeting was in charge of the president, Prof. Percy Angove, and the head of the program committee, Leslie G. Lee. Elton R. Eaton of Plymouth was a guest.

Womac's Club Has Full Program At Meeting Friday

At their regular meeting, Friday, the members of the Northville Womac's club listened to two very clear reports of the recent federation held in Detroit.

Mrs. H. F. Wagenschütz covered comprehensively a talk by Tony Miala on, "Where Are We Going?" who predicted national bankruptcy unless we pull a halt.

Mrs. B. E. Larson covered two reports, Indian Art and Literature. Mrs. R. J. Gibson gave a very spicy review of "Heat Lightning" by Miss Bull.

In respect for the "vacant chair" in the club left by the late Mrs. Arabella Tinsam, a charter member, the women bowed their heads in silence for a moment.
