

VILLAGE TRIES TO AVOID THE USE OF SCRIP

Councilmen Are Faced By A Serious Financial Emergency

How to meet the problem of paying village bills without resorting to the use of scrip was the bugaboo that reared its head threateningly at the first council meeting of the month held Monday evening in the city hall.

According to the monthly report of the village treasurer, John Litsenberger, the village now has in its coffers approximately $3,500 of which $3,000 belongs to the sinking fund which must be kept intact to meet the interest and payment on village bond issues.

The remaining $500 must pay all debts arising between now and the end of the year's business for the village, Tuesday, Feb. 28. Village officials indicated that a special session will be called to meet the emergency and declared that it is entirely possible that scrip may be issued to village employees.

In the meantime, the commissioners are stretching every penny to make ends meet.

The problem of delinquent water bills was introduced and approximately 80 names of those who have not made arrangements to pay with the clerk were read.

Faced with the problem of either cutting off the water supply or giving it away free, the councilmen rendered the following solution:

The delinquents were divided into three classes: (1) delinquents on the welfare; (2) delinquents who are struggling to keep off of the welfare and not become a burden to the taxpayers; (3) delinquents who have consistently ignored all notices and who have failed to make any arrangements with the clerk's office.

Councilmen expressed themselves as being in sympathy with the first two classes, but the third class they added will be summarily dealt with. Water Commissioner Earl Montgomery has been instructed to turn off the water supply of the third group of delinquents and was preparing to do this beginning the middle of the week.

Henceforth, village officials stated, the water bills will be mailed and will be sent directly to the "home owners of their representatives."

A counter offer made by the Michigan Federated Utilities company to the one made by the village a few weeks ago calling for a reduced gas rate, revealed Dr. L. W. Snow, president, was refused by the committee representing Plymouth, Wayne, and Northville, the three villages negotiating. The counter offer called for a rate of $1.66 for the first 1,000 cubic feet and the committee's offer asked for a rate of $1.50. Further arrangements, with E. A. Angley, Michigan Federated Utilities representative, will be made, he added.

Councilmen approved the Riley bill, now in congress, which provides for regulations covering the activities of vendors and hawkers, and sent a resolution to that effect to Congressman Geo. A. Dondero, representative from the seventeenth district.

The Northville Welfare association on account of depleted funds requested a donation from the village with which to carry on its work. After a discussion embracing the entire welfare situation the request was denied because of the lack of funds in the village treasury.

Reports were heard from Chief of Police Wm. Safford, who declared that throughout January only one arrest has been made, that of Otto Planert, who had been sentenced to 30 days in the House of Correction. Two breakings and enterings had been reported, one at Peitz's Gas station and at the Wadsworth bakery. The total loss amounted to approximately $15.00. The village treasurer, John Litsenberger, and the village health officer, Dr. Wilbur H. Johnston, turned in short reports.

The council voted to accept the offer of a representative from Wintertaler and Glazer to audit the village books at the close of the year's business, Feb. 28.

SESSIONS HOSPITAL

W. L. B. Clark of Fowlerville is a patient in the Sessions hospital recovering from pneumonia.

Mrs. Clyde Casterline has returned to her home after a major operation.

Mrs. Barron of Milford has returned to her home convalescing from a surgical operation.

Mrs. Howard Anger of the Seven Mile road has been discharged from the hospital.

GAS RATES WILL BE DROPPED HERE

Dr. L. W. Snow, village president, was notified Wednesday morning that the new low gas rates drawn up by a commission representing Northville, Wayne and Plymouth had been accepted and would go into effect on March 1, 1933.

The notice terminated negotiations extending over a year and will mean a saving to gas users of close to $3,000 each month.

The new gas rate will be $1.00 for the first 300 cubic feet of gas used and $1.25 for each 1,000 feet thereafter. This makes the average rate per 1,000 feet approximately $1.50.

EFFORT TO DEFRAUD WELFARE OFFICIALS PROVES UNAVAILING

Welfare authorities are checking the cases on their rolls carefully because of a case of attempted fraud which was recently discovered by an investigator of the Northville welfare association.

The man who ordered a cord of wood ran into an investigator with an excellent memory. The welfare official remembered that the man had recently been given two cords of wood and knowing the size of his house he reasoned that the fuel supply had not been exhausted this soon. He insisted on examining the man's woodshed and found under lock and key two cords of wood.

The welfare charge, caught in a lie, stated that he wanted to store enough wood so he wouldn't have to ask for any next winter.

Officials say that although the man has made himself liable for a stiff penalty on a charge of defrauding the welfare no action was taken.

Any similar instance arising again, however, will be summarily dealt with, they say.

THIEVES ATTEMPT TO ENTER STEPHENS GROCERY ON SUNDAY

Providers in the rear of the Stephens grocery Sunday evening tried to break into the store by crashing a window. The breaking glass must have made more noise than the would-be thieves expected for evidently they took to their heels and made their escape before Night-watcher Wm. Wain hastened to the alley in search. A large stone lying at the foot of the shattered window was the only clue left.

Nothing was missing in the store, reports B. A. Stephens, who says they might easily have reached through the broken window and unlocked the door.

James Spagnuolo, Born in Italy, Celebrates His 47th Birthday After 30 Years Spent in America

By R. T. Baldwin
Seventeen years spent in his native land, Italy, and thirty years lived in the United States—that was the record that James (Jim) Spagnuolo completed on Saturday, Jan. 28, when he celebrated his 47th birthday.

Fifteen years of Jim's life in the United States have been spent right here in Northville, where he is the proprietor of the Northville confectionery. He is one of the town's best boosters and can always be also figs, olives and grapes—the characteristic products of sunny Italy. James was one of a family of 12, only three of whom are now living and his boyhood days were filled with work and play, like those of any good American lad. Not only did Jim do his regular work, but once in a while, with some of the family he would take his father's team of mules, after getting up at midnight, and drive 20 miles to get charcoal from a pit up in the mountains. "I just remember once that my father spanked me," says Jim, "and he was very strict, especially about our being home at night."

At the age of 14 or 15 the young James began to hear of great America and to have a burning desire to go there. At first his parents would not hear of it but finally when he was 17 his father gave his consent. Jim had to borrow the money from an uncle to make the start for the land of promise.

Landing in New York in 1903 the young son of Italy spent only a day there before going to Pittsburgh, where he had relatives. After a week of looking around, he got a job helping mix concrete and the next two years were spent at this.

Lansing, Mich., was the next stop in Jim's American career. It was a big jump but he made it and found Lansing so friendly that he spent five years in and around the capital city. "What did I do there?" said Jim when questioned. "Oh, I did everything that came along—sometimes on a farm and sometimes in a store—anything to get work."

For a short time he ran a store in St. Johns.

After nine years in America, Jim felt the call of his homeland after he heard of his father's illness and he returned to stay there 14 months. During this time he took a bride and when he left for America in 1913 he left behind his wife and a month-old daughter, Marian, who since the death of her mother in 1924, has helped in the store and has been mother to the two boys, Pete and 20-YEAR-OLD BOY KILLED AT W. C. T. S.

Jay Terry Meets Death As He Is Drawn Into Windlass

Jay Terry, 20 year old inmate of the Wayne County Training School, was killed early Monday morning in the heating plant of the school when he was caught in a rope and drawn into a windlass attached to an endless belt coal feeder.

Instructed to descend into one of the huge coal bunkers and shovel coal into the release trap, according to Dr. Robert Haskell, head of the training school, the boy started machinery which he was expressly forbidden to touch.

The accident, according to training school officials, occurred some time between 1:30 and 2:00 a. m. just before night lunch hour. Terry had been gone but a few minutes when Leon Gilligan, resident engineer, ascended to the coal bin to find the boy inextricably tangled in the windlass.

Terry has been an inmate of the school for the past four years and would have been eligible for a release soon.

His father, Charles Terry, lives at 38 Smith street, in Detroit, and he has a sister, Mrs. Alma Henry, living at 50 Collingwood avenue.

ELMER L. SMITH IS NAMED TRUSTEE FOR LOCAL BANK GROUP

Elmer L. Smith, real estate dealer and township clerk, was named last week by the depositors committee as trustee of the assets of the former Northville and Lapham State Savings bank which were allocated to a group of depositors who objected to the merging of the two institutions forming the Depositors State bank, which opened Saturday, Jan. 28.

Mr. Smith will liquidate these assets which were selected by a system of decimation and allocated to the objectors. This group has now definitely severed all connections with either of the old banks or the new institution and their claims will be filed by liquidation or the assets allocated to them.

Mr. Smith's office is at 115 W. Main street.

Nelson C. Schrader Appeals To Citizens to Pay School Taxes

It's up to us now to get back of the Northville School Board if we expect to keep the schools running!

With the economies proposed and passed by the school board this week the board has done everything possible to supply our children with an adequate education and keep our schools open.

Wages have been slashed, a rigid thrift program instituted and now it's up to the taxpayers to cooperate by immediate payment of all, or a portion of their school taxes.

Northville must have schools, we're all agreed to that. I think a special effort should be made by each and every taxpayer to pay what he owes toward the school tax fund in order to keep our educational institutions open for the balance of the year.

The board has cooperated in every way and so have the teachers, even to accepting a mere living wage despite increased work thrust upon them.

In all fairness we cannot conscientiously ask the teachers to take any more cuts in their pay.

So it's up to us! We've got to "dig down" and make a special effort to pay at least a portion of our delinquent school tax.

Let's start today! Go into the Depositors State bank and tell the township treasurer that you want to pay your school tax anyhow and if you can't pay it all, pay part of it. This will enable us to keep Northville schools open for our children.

KING'S DAUGHTERS MAKING PLANS FOR COMMUNITY BALL

A lively activity in their plan to throw a party for the King's Daughters as their regular meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Cora Murdoch.

With the demands for increasing need, as the winter advances, the women plotted for further means of adding to their fast-depleting funds.

So successful was the recent fund-raising party that the committee hoped that the Pastime club will sponsor the affair backed by the King's Daughters. It will be called a "Community Ball." The time will be announced later.

A baked goods sale will be an other profitable enterprise soon. With seriousness of purpose, these women are working hard to do their share to help relieve all possible suffering in the community.

A talk by Merrill S. Sweet, general chairman of the community welfare committee, was deeply appreciated.

TOWNSHIP ROADS CLEAR

Township roads were all clear Thursday morning, reported Herman Kreeger, Northville highway commissioner, but the possibility of blocked roads continued owing to high winds causing the snow to drift.

BENNY ZAYT INJURED HAND IN CORN CUTTER

Benny Zayt, a member of the sophomore class, severely injured his hand when he crushed several fingers in a corn cutter Monday.

On account of this accident, Benny was out of school and missed his semester examinations. He will be permitted to make them up when he recovers sufficiently to return to school.

CONGRATULATIONS NORTHVILLE

(An editorial by Mrs. Lois Hisey in The Wayne Dispatch)

Last Saturday was a great occasion in Northville. After more than a year of hard work and constant effort, backed, incidentally, by the editorial support of The Northville Record, the community finally succeeded in obtaining a bank. The new institution is a merger of the two closed banks of the village, depositors of which signed moratorium agreements to permit the reopening. The new bank is known as the Depositors State bank.

A little over a year ago, Northville, like Wayne, lost both of its banking institutions. Business became paralyzed. Gloom and discouragement spread over the community. Preliminary efforts effecting reopenings met with little success. There were several factions warring against each other, making cooperative action an impossibility.

Much credit must be given to the Northville Record for helping in restoring the much needed cooperative action that finally resulted in success. This newspaper adopted a forceful editorial campaign that did not mince words but placed every fact before the citizens. It advanced convincing arguments as to why it was essential that definite cooperative action be taken if the community was to have banking facilities. In other words, it waged a war of its own for the best interests of the community it served. The people of Northville should be, and undoubtedly are, proud of the Northville Record for its clear presentation of this civic problem.

Great credit also must be given to that group of Northville men who, despite antagonism, carried on to bring the task of merging the two closed banks into one institution with the consent of the depositors. It was a gigantic task. But it is a credit to the community of Northville that it was brought to a successful conclusion.

DISPLAY NEW FORD V-8 HERE ON SATURDAY

Car to be 112-Inches Long
With 75 H. P. Says
Marz

The first of the new Ford V-8 cylinder, 112-inch wheelbase motor cars will be displayed here Saturday, Feb. 11, in the showrooms of the Marz Motor Sales, Ford dealers in Northville. It was announced here Wednesday. The showrooms will be opened from seven in the morning until nine at night.

Because of the unusual public interest in the new Ford cars crowds are expected to attend. The showrooms have been decorated for the occasion. Attendants will be on hand to explain the many important features of the new cars, said Arthur R. Marz, owner of the sales room.

The new V-8 is the largest and most powerful Ford ever built, he said. It has new and distinctive modern lines—a most attractive front end, longer wheelbase, larger and roomier bodies, faster acceleration, increased power and speed and is exceptionally economical in operation. With its 75-horsepower V-8 engine, the new Ford is capable of a sustained speed of 60 miles an hour.

The styling of the 14 body types expresses the new mode in motor car building, he added. The modern note is found in the sloping Vee radiator grill, the skirted fenders, newly designed headlamps, cowls and bumpers, the curve of the hoodside ventilators, the 20-degree slant of the windshield, the curved roof header, the reverse curve of the rear quarter and the backward sweep of the apron masks.

Further improvements, said Mr. Marz, are the new all-steel bodies which are materially wider, almost a foot longer and consequently much roomier. The attractive instrument panel is directly in front of the driver, with a large package compartment at the right side of the instrument board. Front seats in closed cars are fully adjustable. Interior fittings are luxurious. Options in upholstery and a wide choice of colors are available.

BANK WON'T CHARGE FOR CASHING CHECKS

The Depositors State bank, for the time being, will make no charge for cashing checks, announced John A. Boyce, president, Thursday.

Although Detroit banks are planning to make charges against commercial accounts beginning March 1 the local bank has committed itself to no definite policy as yet.

The following announcement was carried in the columns of The Detroit News last week:

"Standardized service charges on commercial accounts with balances running up to $999 monthly will be put into effect by banks which are members of the Detroit Clearing House association beginning March 1. When the new rates are placed in effect, the service charge will be determined by the number of checks written and deposited as well as the balance maintained instead of balance alone.

The following charges will be made on items deposited or charged against accounts above the free items: First 100 items, 4 cents each; next 100 items 24 cents each; next 100 items 2 cents each; next 600 items 1 1/2 cents each, further items 1 cent each."

"Until the situation in large banking circles has crystallized," said Mr. Boyce, the Depositors' bank will take no further action.

Owen Emmons, Detroit Principal, Will Be Speaker at Father-Son Banquet Next Thursday Evening

Every father and son in this community is invited to the Father and Son dinner to be held at the Presbyterian church house on Thursday evening, Feb. 16, at 6:45. One of those good dinners will be served for fifty cents a plate.

This is the finest event of its kind during the year when all denominational lines will be forgotten and fathers and sons will sit down together as one big family.

Most appropriate is it that Owen Emmons, who is not only a father but a real "boy" himself, will be the speaker. Mr. Emmons, principal of the Cooley high school at Detroit, will talk in a way which will appeal to all fathers and sons.

Besides his wide teaching experience, Mr. Emmons has for years directed a boys' camp, Camp Algonquin, in the northern part of the state. He was for a period the football coach at Detroit Northern High. He is now teaching a Sunday school class of fifty boys and even now gets out and plays with all the boys with all the zest of youngsters in their teens. He knows boys—and likes them.

It is hoped that all men who do not have a son will borrow one for this occasion and have a taste of that rare relation of citizenship, a father with his son. There are plenty of boys who would be glad to be adopted for the evening and the fun will be mutual.

Tickets may be procured from any of the pastors.

SUB-ZERO COLD HITS NORTHVILLE

Errr! The icy grasp of winter Thursday held Northville tight in the coldest spell of weather this village and vicinity has encountered in some years.

Home thermometers registered as low as 15 below zero Wednesday night and Thursday morning and the automobile garages were filled to capacity with cars as red-faced, bundled-up motorists struggled with frozen radiators.

Stocking caps, a few fur caps, and heavy underwear were dragged from the attics as Northville families prepared to combat the chill winter winds. Many households were without water as the cold froze water pipes shutting off the supply.

Weather experts made no prediction as to when relief from the sub-zero weather would arrive.

THE SENIOR PROM THIS EVENING WILL BE BRILLIANT EVENT

This evening at nine o'clock in the Northville high school gymnasium, amid beautiful red and white valentine decorations, the 1933 senior prom of the Northville high school, the biggest social event of the year, will get under way.

The grand march will begin around 10:30 o'clock and will be led by senior president Richard Shipley, and his partner, Miss Mary Bennett. Class officers are expected to follow.

Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Cavell, Mr. and Mrs. Russell H. Amernman, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Zimmerman, and Mrs. Elizabeth Chapman will be chaperones.

Ted Nole's orchestra has been selected and its reputation is expected to prove a large drawing card. Much time has been spent on decorations. The committee, consisting of Chairman Robert Christensen, Miriam Dundas, Gertrude Deal, Harold McGaffey, John Steencken, Margaret Hay, and Kenneth Kerr, has done fine work in transforming the gym into a "cloudburst" of valentines. The entrance and two corners of the gymnasium are in the shape of big hearts. In the corners, a settee is against the wall, and, stepping through the hearts, couples may sit between dances. The orchestra pit, too, is fixed in a unique manner, and a shining, glistening valentine will hang from the ceiling.

The publicity committee, composed of Chairman Bob Power, Florence Johnson, Harold Booth, Herbert Ware, Myrtle Lemmon, Royal Snow, Robert Reed and Warner Neal, has also done its task well. "In fact," as President Richard Shipley says, "the whole class has cooperated in an endeavor to make the Prom a success."

The other committees are Orchestra—Leo Kohler, chairman; Wilma Rattenbury, and Mary Bennett.

Refreshments—Charlotte Lester, chairman, Edith Clark, and Blanche Tomaszewski.

Invitations—Marie Humphries, chairman; Dorothy Snodgrass.

Items: First 100 items, 4 cents each; next 100 items 24 cents each; next 100 items 2 cents each; next 600 items 1 1/2 cents each, further items 1 cent each."

"Until the situation in large banking circles has crystallized," said Mr. Boyce, the Depositors' bank will take no further action.

The trouble with our politicians today," said Arthur S. Nichols, Northville's new attorney, who gave an address before members of the Northville Exchange Club and their guests at the weekly meeting Wednesday noon at the Methodist church, "is that they are more concerned with vote catching than anything else."

Mr. Nichols declared that ever since the Civil War there has been a dearth of politicians who stand for what they think to be right rather than for what will catch the wet or dry vote, the Legion vote, or the farm vote.

"I think we're going to get out of the difficulties that we are now engaged in," he said, "and we'll see boom times again. The struggle today just takes a little more heart, a little more courage."

"Today we've got to learn to do without the frills in our political and educational systems. I don't say that the frills aren't all right. They frequently serve a very worthwhile purpose but when we haven't the money—then let's do without the frills."

Today I'm doing without things that a few years ago I never would have dreamed of eliminating from my regular routine. But—I'm living with my income!"

Mr. Nichols lived in Northville 10 years before he moved to Detroit and there, with his son, attended the Detroit College of Law from whence the two graduated in 1912.

Mr. Nichols was introduced by Carl Ely. Present as a guest was Scott Lovewell, real estate dealer.

TEACHERS GET A PAY CUT OF 20 PER CENT

Position of Librarian Is Also Abolished By School Board

Faced with insufficient funds with which to operate Northville schools for the balance of the school year and prospects of not enough money to start the fall session, the board, at its meeting Monday evening held in the high school, passed several resolutions effecting further drastic economies in addition to those made since June, 1932 when the financial situation first became critical.

The economies passed are: All employees will have to take a 20 percent salary cut; the school librarian will be eliminated; her duties to be assumed by the principal, R. H. Amernman; the salary of the band leader has been cut to a nominal figure which will make the organization practically self-supporting.

The board has at present approximately $9,000 with which to operate the schools. An estimate of the amount needed to finish out the school year figures close to $25,000 stated Sheriff W. A. Ambler, secretary of the board. "About $43,000 in back taxes he said, is the chief cause for the financial emergency."

"The members of the school board in co-operation with several tax payers are contemplating a drive to bring in at least a portion of the money due the schools for back taxes. If this sum is not forthcoming, officials say, the schools may have to close as the resources for borrowing are practically exhausted."

"We are passing the responsibility for running the schools onto the tax payers," stated a member of the school board. "We have cut salaries and dismissed the fifth employee since last June until we are now operating with a staff lower than the number of students in our schools would call for."

"The state superintendent of education says that we are running one of the most economical schools in the state and since we are now educating each student at an average cost of $80 where the normal cost is $84 that fact is easily apparent."

"We have slashed costs wherever possible—and borrowed until our resources are practically exhausted. Now, we must appeal to the tax payers to pay up their back taxes. Unless they respond, we must close the schools."

"The superintendent and all of the school employees have evinced a willingness to co-operate to the fullest extent by accepting the extra work and reduced salaries. If the tax payers will only do their part we will be able to keep our schools open."

The proposed economies will take effect beginning next week with the opening of the new semester.

THE COST OF CIGARETTES

M. H. DeFoe, editor of The Charlotte Republican-Tribune, quotes a couple of smokers, as saying that the average user of cigarettes spends 15c a day for them. As a non-smoker, we thought at first that such a sum is far too much to spend for something that gives as little returns as a cigarette but got to wondering that maybe we spend more than that on something equally foolish. Our flower bill for the last six weeks was close to seven dollars yet we have no doubt that the flowers meant more to the world than that same sum spent for smoking.

ROOSEVELT'S TENNESSEE PROJECT

Streaming headlines in the daily papers tell of the plan of President-Elect Roosevelt to give work to 200,000 men by harnessing the Tennessee River and the great area in its valley. Mighty power plants, with great industrial development, is a part of the picture. The prevention of the destructive floods that have been so common is another part of the mighty scheme.

In view of the fact that Roosevelt has been so vague on other national policies, many people are sceptical of the whole project and think it is only a visionary dream. Yet such an influential newspaper as The Detroit News editorially commends the plan, as being practicable and states that it will mean the beginning of a new prosperity.

Certainly if the plan will do half of what is promised for it, it will be well worth trying. We have sunk millions and billions in less worthy plans and maybe this may be the one that will bring real values to a desperate people.

It is cheering to hear of some plan that may pull us out of the economic slump. With ten millions of men and more still out of work, the leaders of this nation cannot afford to lose much more time in giving a pay check and an adequate one to men and women. In a land as rich as ours, it is tragic beyond words that we are literally "starving in the midst of plenty."

The nation will await with eagerness more of the Roosevelt plan.

FLOUNDERING AROUND

The people of the state of Michigan probably will pay heavily for their unthinking and resentful action last fall in turning out of office many good men and in replacing them with men of little or no experience of government.

Take the legislature now in session—and unless they get going faster the lawmakers will be there for most of the summer. Observers come back from seeing the legislature and shake their heads and say: "What they are going to accomplish I don't know, the situation is pitiful."

In the state senate we find 24 new members out of the 32 who have seats. According to Detroit daily papers of a few days ago this "dignified" body is just floundering around. The lieutenant-governor is a funeral director who has had little or no knowledge of parliamentary procedure and of course as long as he holds the position the voters wished on him, he has to try to do the job for which he is pretty much unfitted.

In the house we are told there is a group of eight or nine legislators from Wayne county who are practically young men without a suggestion of lawmaking experience. It doesn't take any statesmanship to be elected to office from Detroit and we have the spectacle of these unfitted men holding up our lawmaking.

And yet this situation prevails at one of the most desperate times in the history of the state. Level-headed, wise men of experience are needed to find a way out of our tax muddle, to correct conditions of extravagance and unrest, to bring about a new era of prosperity. We have, of course, many such men in the legislature but what a pity that so many men are there without preparation, without experience, without vision and wisdom. Had the voters been able to see what is going on now, they would not have been so reckless in their balloting last November.

BANKING READJUSTMENTS

Northville and Plymouth have vivid reasons to know that the banking system of the state is readjusting. In these two towns we have seen in the past year or so complete changes in the banking outlook. Northville two years ago had two banks; today it has one which is on a five-year moratorium plan which makes it as safe and solid a bank as can be found in Michigan. Plymouth has one bank on the same moratorium plan and the other is about to go to it: when our neighboring city has both of its banks on the moratorium plan they will be safe and solid and the Northville-Plymouth area will be ready for a new and sane financial future.

Now to the banks near us and you will see again that the banking system is being re-built, whether we like it or not. Take Farmington and Wayne, towns of 1,200 and 4,000 population. Neither has a bank, despite desperate struggles to get one. They will, however, have banks in time and when they do get them it will be on the new re-adjustment plan.

The pity of this whole banking readjustment is that so many people have wrongly diagnosed the collapse of banks all around us. They have attributed it to the mistakes of local bankers, when this was farthest from the cause. In talking over our local bank troubles we have often used this expression, "You can't sweep back the ocean with a broom." Our banks have had to re-adjust not because of the frailties of our local bankers but because a tide of ocean strength, built up by nationwide and even world-wide conditions, has swept in over them and nothing could stop it. How unfair and how cruel it has been to blame men for a collapse in which they had a small part and which no human power could have stopped.

Yes, the re-adjustment had to come. In the case of Northville it has been a hard and heartbreaking struggle to adjust but we can all be profoundly grateful that we have gone through this re-adjusting period which has cost us all so much. We are now at the top of the hill, after the long climb and the way ahead should be much easier. We have had a testing and refining of fire time but the experience may be worth all it cost.

WANDERING THOUGHTS

"There is already a better spirit around Northville," says a good observer to us. And why not? Better days are here—and here to stay if we all do our part.

Governor Comstock is reported as still keeping his beer stein as a paper weight on his desk. That isn't making a hit of any kind with a lot of people who are wondering what the governor and the legislature are going to do about the tax situation in Michigan. This appeal to beer is pretty cheap politics at a time when people are desperate for bread.

Now let us start planning for our new hotel," says a good Northvillian to us. He is right. We don't need a big hotel but a wonderful asset would be a modest hostelry in modern architecture that would care for the stranger in our midst. We should not "overbuild" as some other towns have done, but certainly we must in time have a place to offer to the folks who want to stay overnight in our town.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

A REST FOR HOOVER

(Orion Review)
"About the only change of anything new in the depression is that if it keeps on next summer we can blame Mr. Roosevelt for it instead of Mr. Hoover."

RICH PRAISES PRISON

(From the Utica Sentinel)
Listen to this from Arthur D. Rich, and hold your head a little higher for penology as we have it in Michigan. "While I was in prison I was treated like a man—not a dog," he said. "Prison officials were fine and so were the inmates. Don't say I'm not glad to get out. But I'm not ashamed to say that tears came to my eyes when I bade my buddies in there good-bye. And tears came to their eyes too. The world might call some of them hard-boiled. But I guess I've changed some of my ideas."

"DOUBLECROSSING" THE STATE

(W. H. Berkey in The Cassopolis Vigilant)

"History repeats itself," is an old adage. Sometimes it takes three to four thousand years to get around to it, but it repeats—so we are told. When Abraham and his good wife Sarah went down into Egypt, Abraham thought it would be a good idea to tell the Egyptians that Sarah was his sister and to conceal the fact that they were married. It was a rather dumb idea in Abraham and came near getting him into serious trouble.

Nearly four thousand years later a new Democratic state senator from Detroit—presumably as great a nabob in his land as Abraham was in his—journeyed up to the state capital and, like Abraham of old, didn't let the folks know that a certain lady for whom he had secured a job in the capitol was his wife. He had her on the payroll under another name and it is said that when they passed each other in the halls of the capitol they didn't even speak for fear someone might think they knew each other. But, like Abraham of old, the evil day came; a meddling, some republican senator found it out, let the proverbial "cat out of the bag" and exposed the double dealing, double crossing or double something right before the senate, much to the embarrassment of the senator. If the senator and his wife both wanted to draw pay from the state, it would have been much better to have done it openly.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURES ARE TABOO!

(From the Milford Times)
The Oak Hill Farmers' Club at Clarkston has adopted a resolution pledging its members not to "neighbor with change work" loan tools, machinery or otherwise assist anybody who has acquired property by mortgage foreclosure. The resolution fails to say anything about the mortgagor who lets the taxes run until they amount to about as much as the property is worth.

The club should add to their demand for a two year moratorium on mortgage foreclosures a provision that the taxes on the property should be kept paid.

THOMAS MAY BE PRESIDENT

(Muriel H. DeFoe in the Charlotte Republican-Tribune)

The country swept the republican party out of power. If the democrats fail to improve present economic conditions, the next president of the United States will be a socialist. If he is a socialist most likely his name will be Norman Thomas.

Hundreds of people were turned away from the Prudden Auditorium in Lansing when Thomas spoke there. No republican or democrat outside of President Hoover, and President-elect Roosevelt would have proved the magnet that Thomas proved himself to be in getting people out to hear him.

Secretary of State Frank D. Fitzgerald says that the cost of license plates for automobiles must come down. He is right. The cost of plates for our own car will be around $17 or $18 this year—when we pay. To save that much money now is a task for anyone. Yet, as the secretary points out, if the motorist pays out that much over a period of time on gasoline tax he does not mind as he pays it as he goes along and gets the use of the machine.

We are still strong for sentiment. In the morning mail came two letters: one from the man we regard as the best country newspaper editor in Michigan, and the other from a friend to whom we sent flowers. The editor says in part: "You are publishing a corking good paper. The Record has an abundance of freshness." The friend thanked us for the flowers and says they did some good. "Kind words can never die"—why do some people use the other kind when they would get a lot more fun saying pleasant things?

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

When and how should parents allow their children to drive the family automobile?

With the campaign over, thought-ful men and women turned out to hear this Princeton graduate who has been the acknowledged leader of the socialist party since the death of Gene Debs; the mention of whose name resulted in a wave of applause in all parts of the hall. Thomas came to the hall directly from Detroit where he made some investigation into the strike in the Briggs Body plant. A few of his statements about this strike, especially, the amounts he quoted as wages paid certain employees, were positively dramatic in their power to influence the emotions. We learned long ago that there are always two sides to every story. If Mr. Thomas is correct, what he said is a great tribute to the ability of our workers to continue law abiding and orderly in these tragic times.

He cited the great educational system of the nation as an example of what the people might do in the operation of the coal mines, utilities, etc., for the benefit of all, which is the socialist goal.

The speaker said eight New York banks and their interlocking directorates control the wealth of the country. One of many startling claims is that the nation pays one hundred million dollars a day in profits to private owners of public utilities. Whether we like it or not, people are getting restless. Human beings are hungry and yet we have everything in an abundance. It is an easy time to win converts; in these days of doubt and confusion, Capitalism is on trial in America.

PILGRIMS

St. Peter addresses the readers of his first epistle as "strangers and pilgrims." This, then, is the proper title for the Christians living in this world: they are "strangers and pilgrims."

One can be a citizen only in one country; he can have but one country which is HIS country. Outside of his country he is a "stranger and pilgrim" and not at home.

The homeland of the Christian is heaven. To that home the Scriptures direct our minds; for instance, when the writer of the epistle to the Hebrews says: "Here we have no continuing city, but we seek one to come."

To that home the Savior directs our attention when he says: "In my Father's house are many mansions. I go to prepare a place for you."

But if heaven is our home, we cannot be anything but strangers and pilgrims in this world. Here we are living in a strange land in which we neither are, nor ever can become citizens, as long as we really are God's children, God's people.

As God's people in the Old Testament were strangers in Egypt and in the wilderness, so, too, God's people in the New Testament must through tribulation pass from this world, in which they are strangers, to their home above.

In the experience of Israel the lot of all believers is foreshadowed. In the New Testament the true believers are "a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people."

God has called them out of darkness into His marvelous light and has chosen them as His people, the Christians must be strangers and pilgrims in this world. Their home, the house of their Father, is in heaven. "Our conversation is in heaven," the apostle tells us. "Knowing and believing this, the citizen of heaven sings:

I'm but a stranger here, Heav'n is my home; Earth is a desert drear; Heav'n is my home.

Danger and sorrow stand Round me on every hand; Heav'n is my fatherland, Heav'n is my home.

Even the inclement weather of last Tuesday did not keep a goodly crowd away from the sauer kraut dinner. We wish to thank all the sponsors and patronizers for their kindly considerations.

Packed churches in and about Detroit give evidence of the popularity of the novena to "Our Lady of Perpetual Help." Arrangements are in the making. We again seek the cooperation of all concerned to make this another free dinner, the same as last year.

Packed churches in and about Detroit give evidence of the popularity of the novena to "Our Lady of Perpetual Help." In these times of stress and strain thousands have not yet lost their confidence in God's providence. Haughtiness usually blunders and loses; humility plods on to victory. Blessing God with an humble disposition cannot be rejected by Him—This novena of nine Tuesdays will be begun in our church on Tuesday, February 21, at 7:30 p. m. It will endure throughout Lent.

Church of Our Lady of Victory.

Even the inclement weather of last Tuesday did not keep a goodly crowd away from the sauer kraut dinner. We wish to thank all the sponsors and patronizers for their kindly considerations.

The men are reminded that next Sunday is Holy Name day. A lax Catholic man keeps the blessings of God away from his home and family.

The Sacraments should be received by all the men again on the following Sunday, when the parish celebrates Father and Son Day. That evening the men and boys will gather together for dinner. Arrangements are in the making. We again seek the cooperation of all concerned to make this another free dinner, the same as last year.

Children Wish Mary Ellen Babbitt a Happy Birthday—

Little Miss Mary Ellen Babbitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh K. Babbitt, played hostess to a company of twenty young friends at her home on South Rogers street Thursday afternoon on the occasion of her fifth birthday.

All during the afternoon the large living room at the Babbitt home rang with the merriment of this swarm of children while Mary Ellen did the honors of the occasion with the grace of a much more mature hostess.

Over it all presided her maternal grandmother, Mrs. A. A. Holcomb of Novi and Miss Violet Sheppard.

After school Mrs. Babbitt joined the ranks of commanders and small tables were laid with a dainty supper in which the gay valentine motif was carried out. At each place were heart-shaped boxes filled with candy, ice cream and a great pyramidal cake (made by Grandmother Holcomb) lighted with five red candles called forth cheers from the kiddies.

Novi School News

An assembly of the entire school will be held on Friday afternoon, Feb. 17, in recognition of the birthdays of Lincoln and Washington. A program of speeches, recitations and songs is being arranged. The public is cordially invited to attend the program which will begin at 2:30 o'clock. Parents and patrons are welcome to come early so that they may have an opportunity to visit some of the classes in which they are interested.

The cast has been selected for the play "Lookin' Lovely" as follows: Persimmon, Dorothy Kent; Winnie, Bordine, Daan Granzow; Amarilla, Leila Tolettene; Jennie, Margaret Pratt; Esther, Dorothy Tyler; Budde, Billy Hanson; Clyde, Elmore Hill; Speed Hawkins, Bayne Pratt; Bill, Lloyd Holmes; Jim, Frederick Johnston; Golly, Gerald Trotter; Moe, Elmer Tolettene.

Classes are being held twice each week in a course in baseball technique. The work is being done after school for the benefit of the boys who are interested in baseball and who would like to learn some of the finer points of the game. The boys are learning what is the best form for good batting, holding, and base running. When the weather is warm enough to go outside they will have a better idea of what is expected of them and will undoubtedly improve quickly.

DISPLAY NEW FORD V-8 HERE SATURDAY

The improved V-8 engine is fitted with all-aluminum cylinder heads, one of the most noteworthy steps in motor design in many years.

Because aluminum dissipates heat more rapidly, explained Mr. Marx, the use of the aluminum cylinder head permits higher compression pressure and results in increased speed, power and smoothness, faster acceleration and added fuel economy.

Smooth engine performance, results from the basic 8-cylinder design and the 3-point rubber mounting. Cylinder blocks are set at a 90-degree angle. The crankshaft is fully counterbalanced and the crank throws are at 90 degrees, reports Mr. Marx. Opposing pistons and connecting rods are even in weight, he said. All of these features, he declared, combine to place all moving parts in natural balance, resulting in exceptional smoothness of operation. The engine is fitted with down-draft carburetor, air intake silencer and a diaphragm-type fuel pump.

Features of the 112-inch wheelbase chassis include an extremely rigid double channel double drop X-frame, torque tube drive, a straddle-mounted rear axle pinion, transverse cantilever springs, internal expanding mechanical four-wheel brakes, 17-inch welded steel spoke wheels and tires of 5.50 inch section.

In the new three-quarter floating rear axle, the driving pinion is mounted in a double-taper roller thrust bearing at the front and a straight taper roller bearing at the rear. This maintains permanent alignment of the pinion with the ring gear under all driving conditions, said Mr. Marx, and results in extremely quiet axle operation.

The frame, he said, is cushioned by four Hotchkiss double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers which are both automatically and thermostatically adjusted for every variation in weather or road surface conditions. The shock absorber links are insulated in rubber. The rear fuel tank has a capacity of 14 gallons.

The transmission is of the synchromized type, says Mr. Marx, with helical constant mesh gears, and functions unusually quietly both in second speed and during speed changing. The clutch is of the double-disc type and is spring cushioned for soft engagement.

TWENTY-SEVEN MEN WIELD SNOW SHOVELS

A heavy fall of snow Tuesday afternoon and evening called out a crew of men who worked all night clearing the business district. Fifteen men were used by the village welfare committee who worked until they were replaced in the morning by another crew of twelve men. This work was done without expense to the village according to the scheme worked out by the welfare committee for mutual benefit. Besides the business district these men cleared all of the cross walks of the village.

"I'm sorry, I can't go to the Smith's Tuesday evening, Feb. 21. I'm planning to attend the Boy Scout benefit show at the Penniman-Allyn theatre. The Lloyd H. Green post of the American Legion is sponsoring it. They're having a real talented show and besides it'll help the new Scout Drum and Bugle corps to get new uniforms and I'm strong for that."

5 NORTHVILLE BOYS HELD IN DETROIT JAIL

Five Northville boys, between the ages of 18 and 25, were taken to the Cooley police station, Detroit, Monday afternoon, where they are held for investigation on a robbery charge growing out of the hold-up of a blind pig located at Fenkell and Blackstone streets in Brightmoor at approximately three o'clock Sunday morning.

Conflicting stories, according to police, reveal that the boys either stole a quart of whiskey from the barkeeper and ran from the store with him chasing after, or one of the boys pretended to have a gun in his pocket, which he trained on the blind pig operator while a companion relieved him of about $4.00, in change.

Detroit police, up to Wednesday night, were unable to secure a warrant from the prosecutor's office, although the boys were detained at the downtown police headquarters where they were put on view each 30 minutes throughout the day at the "show-up" where criminals are daily identified by their victims.

The names of the boys are being withheld at the urgent request of a close relative of one of their number.

THE DEKAY SCHOOL ENJOYS ADDRESS BY MISS NELLIE HUGER

About 40 people enjoyed a most delightful evening at the Dekay school, which was sponsored by the P. T. A. Saturday, Jan. 28, when Miss Nellie Huger of the Hardland School of Music led in a happy hour of community singing.

This was followed by an inspiring talk on "The Value of Music in the Life of the Community" in which the speaker asserted that everyone can talk and sing, and that we must never tell a child he cannot sing, for he can learn to.

Miss Huger further pointed out that we must not discourage the teaching of music because all of our youngsters cannot be great musicians.

The speaker pointed out that we owe to every child the musical training which will enable him to join in group singing and the appreciation of the beauty of music.

She also made some practical suggestions to the teacher and parents on music activities possible for happy experiences for children of our rural schools.

OWEN CASTERLINE ESCAPES INJURY AS HIS CAR HITS CURB

Orrin Casterline, who was sworn into duty by Sheriff Thos. Wilcox last Tuesday as deputy at the Briggs Mack Avenue Plant during the strike, escaped serious injuries Tuesday evening, Feb. 7, on his way home when he was crowded into the curb by three men in a sedan. To avoid overturning Mr. Casterline turned his car over the curbing wrecking three wheels of his car. Fortunately he was not injured, just missing a large power pole.

THIS WOMAN LOST 35 LBS. OF FAT

Miss M. Katner of Brooklyn, N. Y. writes:

"Have used Kruschen for the past four months and have not only lost 35 pounds but feel so much better in every way. Even for people who don't care to reduce, Kruschen is wonderful to keep the system healthy. I being a nurse should know for I've tried so many things, but only Kruschen answered all purposes." (May 12, 1932).

To lose fat SAFELY and HARMLESSLY, take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—don't miss a morning—a bottle lasts four weeks costs but a trifle—but don't take chances—be sure it's Kruschen—your health comes first—get it at any drug store in America. If not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back.

H. S. SINGERS ARE HEARD AT ROTARY CLUB ON TUESDAY

Bringing unusual pleasure to the Northville Rotary club members, one section of the capella choir of the Northville high school, led by their director, Leslie G. Lee, gave a delightful program at the weekly luncheon-meeting of the club Tuesday noon. Director Lee had his singers give a demonstration of how the unaccompanied singers set their "pitch" and then led them in some delightful numbers.

Mr. Lee prefaced the short program with a little talk on the work of the choir. He told of the unusual opportunity that the school has in having in its student body a young man who is one in two or three thousand able to give "absolute pitch" with his own voice. This is Ernest Racz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Racz, a modest lad with great musical ability who attended the national music assembly at Interlochen last summer. The director had Ernest hum the note for the pitch and then each section of the choir in turn struck the right notes. The demonstration was intensely interesting.

The numbers given by the pupils were rendered with real artistry. Singing together perfectly with great harmony, clear enunciation and fine spirit, the young people won sincere praise from all the Rotarians. The group that appeared was only a part of the whole choir.

The following singers were heard: Dayton Deal, Merle Fraser, Francis Cousins, Maurice Giles, Bob Lyke, Howard Latta, Ernest Racz, R. Cousins, George Richardson, Henry Hoffman, Winifred McCordle, Eleanor Grosvenor, Violet Johnson, Jane Grosvenor, Jane Lester, Florence Johnson, Marie Lemon, Helen Johnson, Madeline Haystead, Margaret A. Hay, Mary Louise Boyden, Eunice Cousins, Betty Haystead, Marion Turnbull, Gertrude Deal, Isabel Tibble, Evelyn Ambler.

The president of the club, Prof. Percy Angove, was in charge and guests were Arthur S. Nichols and John A. Boyce.

JAMES SPAGNUOLO CELEBRATES 47TH BIRTHDAY JAN. 28

Joe, and sister, Terese. The outbreak of the World War kept Mrs. Spagnuolo and baby in Italy and it was not until 1919 that they were able to join the husband and father here.

In the meantime events had been moving fast for the father. He had returned across the ocean in 1913 by the way of Canada, where he spent one year, working on building roads. The year 1915 brought James Spagnuolo to Northville and to a permanent home here, the only sadness of which was the death of his wife.

His cousin, Frank Coscarelli, had a fruit store here and persuaded Jim to come here. For three years he worked with the D. U. R., most of the time at Farmington Junction.

In 1918 Jim bought out his cousin and went into business for himself. He has expanded the business from time to time and made many friends who have added to his success. He is very appreciative of his home town and of his friends. "Tell them," he says, "that Jim appreciates all they have done for him and his family." And when Jim, whose picture is shown herewith, says that he means every word of it, Northville wishes for him and his "kids" many more happy years in our community.

No More "Clinging Vines"

"Women are much better sports than men." What! and it was a man we heard saying it. And a married man at that.

And then we led this man on to further comment. We inquired casually of others their opinion. Who have braved the storms of depression with more courage, men or women? Almost without exception the palm has been handed to women.

Many years ago the apostle Paul called women "the weaker vessel" (but he was a bachelor and little he knew about it). If the apostle Paul had lived today and could see how many wives are bolstering up the downcast spirits of dejected husbands he would surely reverse his simile.

Harder for a man out of a job than for the wife at home? Not much! More than the world could ever guess have brave women smiles to cover hurt pride, bitter disappointment and agony of spirit. Many a mother has feigned joy to keep up the family cheer in times of want. With ingenuity many a mother has used all her skill to "outwit poverty and protect her little ones from its sting."

"Here children," she has said with spirit, "here is the newest gravy I made to put on your bread" and the kiddies have snatched their lips over the delectable and never missed the butter.

From Northville mothers have we heard secrets of self denial whispered. One woman smiled and said: "It has really done us good" when she told us of her slashed budget. Busy with their usual housework, caring for their little ones, working at church suppers, baking for King's Daughters' sales, engineering benefit parties, entertaining their friends, visiting their children's school and taking part in the P. T. A., hustling around with petitions, sewing for the Red Cross, listening to Johnny Shakespear, reading Shakespeare with Mary, mending ad infinitum—and when there's nothing else more urgent, playing bridge or working jigsaw saws. Why, we women haven't time to gather in little doorknocker groups in the rear of stores and work ourselves up into a disagreeable furor over some empty rumormonger. Whatever reacts on the welfare of our families we're for it and no quibbling.

Yes sir, we admit it. Women are better sports, aren't they? Just yesterday the first woman to be appointed a member of the new cabinet, Frances Perkins-Wilson said: "Women are more unselfish than men so far as politics is concerned. Generally, when a woman enters political life, it is only because she has some object in view which she is eager to accomplish. Most men go into politics for diversion or because they want a job."

"Here's a tribute to 'Great Wives' worth quoting as further stimulus to wives whose courage may lag for a time."

"If I were a goldsmith I would design a medal for heroic wives. There are many today who would deserve it. When men have come home with heads bowed and hearts broken by failure, these wives have lifted up the heads of their men, mended their hearts and sent them out to face the world with courage again. They have understood. They have patting the heads of their men as they would pat the head of a little boy with a broken toy. When dark clouds have obscured the sun they have seen the silver lining. 'We'll manage somehow,' they have said.

"Men may lose faith in us, we may lose faith in ourselves, but a great wife loses faith—never. Though we walk through the valley of the shadow of failure she still believes. Her faith lights the way up the slope to the mountain top."

"The following poem, written by an author whose name I do not know, might have been written by any man, to a great wife."

"If you will keep your faith in me, though life be like a stormy sea, and difficult my task may be."

Listen to This Mother

"I will succeed!"

Chief Justice Arthur P. Rugg, of the Supreme Court, in addressing a memorial service in Washington, in his tribute to the late Calvin Coolidge made one statement that we hastened to jot down to remember: "The destiny and hope of America lie around the hearthstone. Look well therefore to the ideals of the home for therein lies the destiny of the nation."

Fresh Fruit Filling

Here's new cake filling said to be unusually delicious.

1 cup of slightly crushed fruit, 1 cup granulated sugar, white of 1 egg, 1 teaspoonful cream of tartar. Put all in a bowl and beat well until it will stand alone. Strawberries, raspberries, peaches, cherries or grated raw apple may be used.

CARL LINDEGREN WILL

BE HEARD SUNDAY AT

HARTLAND MUSIC HALL

Carl Lindgren, basso-cantante, will sing at Hartland Music Hall Sunday.

Carl Lindgren, oratorio and concert singer, has made extensive appearances from coast to coast. His voice has an exceptional charm and his interpretations are regarded as very unique. He sings with a fine style and rare musical appreciation.

All those who have been privileged to hear him with The Detroit Symphony Orchestra, or in Ann Arbor at the presentation of "The Messiah," or in Ypsilanti, where he is head of the voice department, will be enthusiastic listeners next Sunday.

Mr. Lindgren will be accompanied by Miss Clara McAndrew and will be assisted by Miss Grace Emery, pianist, of the Michigan State conservatory faculty.

Death missed Mr. Reeves when as a boy fifteen years old, he battled German flares in the skies in Belgium, and was shot down six times during his war career. As a youth of eighteen he was captain of the youngest squadron commanders in the British air forces. He was decorated personally by King George of England with the distinguished flying service cross for leading thirteen successful bombing raids over the German lines within five days, bringing down four enemy planes.

Capt. Reeves is survived by his widow, a son, Desmond, and daughter, Joyce.

Services were held Monday at the Heene funeral chapel, Farmington. Burial was in Memorial Park cemetery.

Friends and neighbors extend sympathy to the bereaved wife and children.

NORTHVILLE DEFEATED BY TRENTON 32-19

Off Form, Local Quintet Is Overpowered and Loses
Title Chances

Northville lost all hopes of winning the suburban league championship when the local squad was overwhelmingly defeated at Trenton last Friday evening, 32 to 19.

During the first quarter the teams appeared to be quite evenly matched, although Trenton's offense was slightly better than her opponents'.

Northville took time out at the beginning of the second quarter so Leo Kohler could change his shirt. Both he and Captain Westphal had the number 20 on their jerseys, and had any fouls been called on either one it would have been very confusing for the score-keeper.

Trenton had a peculiar and effective style of defense. This proved to be a very important asset. It was quite impossible to dribble through and often passes failed to be of any assistance in getting Northville in a position where she could score. With five minutes to go in the first half Trenton led by a score of 9 to 3. At the end of the half the score was Trenton 14, Northville 3. In this period Trenton had the edge in both offense and defense.

Even though the Orange and Black defense began to function more smoothly in the third quarter, Trenton was still able to score. The "Rugbies" broke through to make several points.

In the last quarter Trenton displayed some beautiful shooting. Her players shot from almost any place and were fortunate enough to "sink" the ball nearly every time. The final score was 32-19.

Although they have been doing splendidly in practice, the second team boys failed to play their usual game. They were slow in getting started and their defense was not up to par. The final score was Trenton 27, Northville 20.

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

Too Much from a Little

We are firmly convinced that "making a mountain out of a mole hill" is bad policy. It is bad policy no matter in which line of work it is done. We have made the same mistake by giving too much space to an unimportant event. Others often do it in different fields. It is never helpful.

For instance, this exaggerating or making a lot out of a little may give you a bad reputation; it may hurt your business, or your team, or your school. It is done sometimes through ignorance, sometimes by mistake, sometimes out of maliciousness and desire for glory. Let us therefore beware of exaggeration, whether in speech, in actions, in attitude, or in whatever way it may be.

"Columns" Versus Space

We appreciate all the suggestions that have recently come to us, to have different "columns" in the Orange and Black. Every suggestion was worth while considering and we hope we have more. However, we are afraid that we cannot use any of the ideas on the account of the scarcity of space. It has been suggested that the O. and B. have a personal opinions column; that we have a "yesterday's" column; that we have a "let's explore your mind" column; that we have a scandal column (what an insult to our "Did You Notice?" writers); that we have a sports column, and that we run a junior high column.

It must be remembered that in the Orange and Black we have not eight pages, but only one. And bringing you the news of the week, along with our present "columns" fills it to the maximum. Of course if it is the wish of the students that we change our present policy, we will gladly do it. We will appreciate further comments.

Deaths and Injuries in High School Football Can Be Remedied Says Dick Hyland, Famous Star

In an article in last week's Liberty entitled "Football—the Killer", Dick Hyland, former All-American half-back, gives a reasonable explanation of the many deaths caused by football in 1937.

In spite of the fact that football is several months distant, the article should be of interest to all students in the high school. Northville has been exceedingly fortunate in the scarcity of serious injuries to gridiron players. However, if Mr. Hyland's article is correct, the first time may not be very far away. The main cause for fatal injuries that is given is the immaturity of players. Northville, on her 1933 squad will have a large number of boys who will appear in a football uniform for the first time. The article says the reason that so many more deaths occur in high school than in college is that the boys have not yet their full growth and development. They play hard at the first of the season and then are "burnt out." The antidote for this is more gradual conditioning. The Northville team last year probably owes her ill-fated season to the fact that the school starting late, the team was not in condition to stand the gaff.

Also in high school, boys are playing football for the first time. Therefore, they need, as is not necessary in college, detailed instruction in fundamentals. One man must do this, while in college, with not so much work required, there often is as high as eight coaches to do the job.

The second factor quoted in the Liberty story, is "inadequate training and supervision." In high school it is not possible as in college to have a staff of coaches; one man must do the work alone. Such is the case in Northville. Besides this, the team does not have regular medical supervision. The local doctors kindly do their bit, but that is

DID YOU NOTICE?

All the worried looks on student's faces? No wonder, exams this week. Paul Baldwin's new sweater? Quite sporty. Can anyone tell us what the name of the song is that C. M. has been singing? If she would supply the right words it might be recognized. Kenny Kerr walking down Main

And They Call Themselves Rooters

It seems to us that the school could save money by doing away with carrying a cheer leader along on away from home basketball games. And we are not slamming the cheer leader, either. It is the majority of the so-called Northville "rooters."

An example is at the game at Trenton last Friday. There were at least twenty-five of our local people present. Esther Bacon, cheer leader, was on the job. And what response did she get? Absolutely none. And there were people there whom you would think would support the team.

Twice did the gallant little cheer leader brave the Trenton "razz" and twice did the Northville people let her down. If cheers and yells are ever needed, it is when the team is away from home in a hostile crowd, and losing. And that was exactly the situation last Friday.

Rather than to give a half-hearted yell, if it can be called a yell, it would be better to keep quiet altogether. It is not the fault of the cheer leader; the trouble lies with the most of the people she is supposed to lead. Rather they suffer an inferiority complex, have weak vocal cords, or are ashamed to admit that they are from Northville.

Too most beautiful words around examination time: "Excused, quarantined, easy, brief, sitting, next, to, all—A, student, passed."

No use talking about it; the school officials are getting easier. Now they are letting students carry their own report cards home again. How trusting.

It would seem more natural to have our chief of police inquire about dog kennels than incubators. Incubators, imagine—and he looks so sane, too.

January Honor Roll Is Large

In the last marking period of the first semester, the grades, if the honor roll is any indication, were quite high. The cards for January were issued last week.

For this last month, three students have all A's. They are in the ninth and tenth grades, Alice Masters and Mabel Douglas, and in the eighth grade, Margaret Nagy.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

What is your opinion of the remedial classes—such as penmanship, spelling, citizenship, English, etc.?

Kenneth Calkins, 10th grade—I think they are all right for students who need help.

Myrtle Lemmon, 12th grade—I think that it is a very good idea for those who need it.

Adelma Boyd, 10th grade—I think they come in very handy in making up back work, and help out in graduating.

Rose Mary Bedore, 10th grade—I think everybody should know how to spell and to write so anybody reading others' papers know what it's all about.

Harold Booth, 12th grade—Where would anybody get if they did not know how to spell, write and speak properly? They wouldn't have a chance in a country as far advanced as ours.

Nelson Schrader, Jr., 11th grade—I think remedial classes are very beneficial. If they didn't have remedial classes many students would be handicapped in later life by not being able to write and spell correctly.

Catherine Gibson, 11th grade—I do not favor these classes because I think in most cases the students do not have the time to take them. If the students would just be a little more careful they would have no trouble in keeping away from them.

Ruth Angel, 11th grade—I do not think these special courses would be necessary if the students taking these special classes had mastered the work when they first had it in the lower grades. Students should be able to get these subjects by themselves with a little more effort outside of school.

MUSIC STUDENTS PRESENT FINE CONCERT FRIDAY

By H. H. White

The concert given by the N. H. S. A Cappella Choir, Girls' Glee club and Boys' Quartet last Friday evening at the high school auditorium was a program of high merit and was greeted by a large and sympathetic audience.

It would be a little difficult to pick out any outstanding number offered by these young musicians in their varied and well-balanced program of popular and classical selections.

A note of high artistry and fine feeling of musicianship and interpretation was evident as these young singers combined their beautiful free tone and accurate pronunciation in rendering their numbers.

Kathleen Rinck was the accompanist at the piano for the Girls' Glee Club and Frances Alexander for the Boys' Quartet, while Dorothy Meisner played the violin obligato, which was done in a most creditable manner.

An unusual feature of the choir's singing is the way in which pitch is secured. One of their members, Ernest Racz, has absolute pitch. He hums the note and each section then starts humming its part in the chord and the singing begins.

Leslie G. Lee directed in his usual capable manner and seemed to draw a crescendo or strong sustained tones from his pupils at will with just a slight gesture of his hand or movement of his fingers.

NOONDAY LUNCH TO COST SIX CENTS

Announcement comes from Mrs. Mildred Zimmerman, home economics instructor, that the price of the exceptionally reasonable noonday luncheon, served at the school, will be raised from five cents to six cents. This change comes as a result of the fact that the dairy which was furnishing the milk to the school free, will be unable to do this any longer.

The six-cent lunch consists of soup, crackers, milk, and two sandwiches. Mrs. Zimmerman says that there have been as high as 135 students from both the high school and grades, served there in a day.

The lunch room was closed Wednesday, Thursday and Friday on account of examinations.

Paul Steencken and Elmer Gene Perrin, N. H. S. Alumni, Perform Feats in Their Different Fields

Reports often come in concerning the successful accomplishments of Northville high school alumni. Here are two about Paul Steencken, who graduated in 1930 and is now in the U. S. Navy, and Elmer Gene Perrin, a member of the class of '31, now attending the Michigan State College at Lansing.

After graduating from Northville high school three years ago, Paul Steencken, a former local boy, entered the U. S. Navy. In the past two years he has been on the U. S. S. Colorado swimming team and last week Paul took second place in the 220 yard swim in the Pacific fleet meet.

In the past he has won many prizes in meets with his shipmates of the Colorado, but this is his first marker in a big meet and he turned out to be the second best in the entire west coast battle force, which is a great honor and for it he received a silver medal. In preliminary matches Paul won a third place in the same race with a time of 2 min. 51.9 sec. His time of 2:47.9

COMMITTEE STARTS PLANS TO RAISE $60 FOR BASEBALL

With less than two months in which to raise $60, the baseball committee has started its campaign to reach the required amount.

The committee consisting of Leo Kohler, co-captain of the basketball team, and councilmen, Marian Turnbull, Howard Latta and Bob Power, has been for the past week discussing various plans, which if found satisfactory, will be put into effect in the near future.

Leslie G. Lee, music director, has kindly consented to put on a benefit concert for baseball. An added attraction at the program will be a double quartet of boys from Albion college. Two Northville boys are in the quartet.

The committee has also consulted Harry Lush, manager of the Northville theatre, about putting on a show. A favorable report was brought back and it is the light that if a show is to be put on, it will be within the next month.

A number of minor projects are being worked out and the committee is fairly confident that the $60 program will be carried out in time for baseball this spring.

SENIOR'S WHO'S WHO

Charlotte F. Lester

Opheim, Montana, claimed Charlotte Frances Lester as a new resident on March 13, 1915. There she lived until her parents moved across the border into Saskatchewan, Canada, where Charlotte began her education in a rural school.

In 1922 the Lester family moved eastward to Detroit and settled for a short time until a new home was completed at Farmington. While living there, Charlotte returned to school. When she moved to Northville in 1931 she was a junior.

While attending Northville high school, Charlotte has been active in various social functions. She served on the J-Hop committee last year, the senior dance committee this year, and is a member of refreshment committee for the senior prom as well.

She is a sports enthusiast, tennis being her favorite game.

Charlotte expects to attend college after graduation, but is undecided as to where she will go. She will take a general course in preparation for a professional shopper and buyer or designer, she says.

N. H. S. PLAYS TONIGHT WITH BERKLEY FIVE

Local Court Squad Expected
To Be Out of Slump
For Game

The Northville high school cagers travel to Berkley tonight to meet the latter on their own floor.

Defeated in the first game, Berkley is coming out strong to get revenge. Northville's defeat by Trenton last week dropped them into second place in the league, while Berkley is near the bottom.

Although the team was in a slump at the first of the week it was expected they would pull out of it and give a good account of themselves. Coach Ruggles states there will probably be no change in the starting line-up for the game tonight.

Mr. Ruggles was unsuccessful in an attempt to arrange the game for Thursday night so it would not conflict with the Senior Prom. Also there is no school today and it would have been preferable to play it yesterday.

The second team game starts at seven o'clock and the first team game will follow immediately.

MRS. GROSVENOR GIVES NEW FLAG TO HIGH SCHOOL

A new American flag was given to the school, replacing the old ragged one, by Mrs. Earl B. Grosvenor, last week.

The flag, which is of very sturdy material and is four by eight feet in size, was flown at the top of the steel flag pole in the school yard for the first time, Thursday, Feb. 9.

School officials wish to express their thanks to Mrs. Grosvenor for her kind gift in supplying the school with a necessary need.

Cashing checks is one of the banking services to which we feel the people of Northville are entitled. In accordance with that policy, no further charge will be made for that service.
