Hear these splendid musicians. They'll surprise you.

BAND CONCERT THIS EVENING TO BE TREAT

A Cappella Choir of H. S. Will Assist in the Program

Free band concert at the high school tonight (Friday). Hundreds of folks will greet this news with cheers as the reputation for dispensing good entertainment borne by the Northville high school and community band has spread far and wide.

The concert will start at eight o'clock in the evening and the band, directed by its capable leader, Edward Head, will play many new numbers which have been added to its extensive repertoire.

Added features to the program will be the singing of several numbers by the cappella choir of the high school, directed by Leslie G. Lee, and several tenor solos by Pierre Kenyon of the Northville quartette. A silver collection will be taken, states Fred W. Dyke, efficient business manager of the community band.

Following is the program:

March "On the Quarter Deck" Alford

Overture "Prince of India" King

Tenor Solos "The Bells of St. Mary's" Pierre Kenyon

Pastorale "In Cooland" Myrtleton

Serenade "O Sol Mio" Capua

Waltz "Strawberry" Air by Lake

Collection

Flgim Chorus "Tannhauser" Wagner

"The Heavens Resound" Beethoven

A Cappella Choir

Waltz "Blossom Time" Romberg

MRS. S. M. TAYLOR DIES

Mrs. Mary Sanford Taylor, 75 years of age, a former Wallied Lake resident, died at her home, 125 North Marguerita Avenue, South Pasadena, Tuesday. She was the widow of the late Prof. Fred M. Taylor of the University of Michigan.

Surviving her are a daughter, Margaret C. T. Farrell of Alhambra, Calif., and a son, Edward C. Taylor, Milford.

Funeral services were held this morning at Alhambra, and interment will be private.

MAY POLE TO BE PART OF STYLE SHOW, APRIL 20

The style show, which is to be presented before the Parent-Teachers meeting April 20, is provoking an intense interest among the junior high and high school girls who, under the direction of Mrs. Mildred Zimmerman, will take part in it.

A special feature, says Mrs. Zimmerman, will be the May Pole winding, which is to be the share of the freshman girls. They are working hard on it.

MASONS AND STARS WILL DINE TOGETHER

An event anticipated with interest by a large number of Northville people is the dinner to be given at the Masonic hall on Monday evening, March 27, when the Masons and their wives and the sisters of the Eastern Star and their husbands will join in a fine social evening together.

By happy coincidence the Worshipful master of Northville lodge, No. 77 is Dr. Wilbur H. Johnston and his wife, Catherine Johnston, is worthy Matron of Orient chapter of Eastern Star.

The dinner will be cooperative and is expected to be up to the usual high standard. Following dinner an interesting program will be provided. Among the numbers will be selections by the popular male quartet, moving pictures of the Amazon river shown by W. L. Reeves, Blakely of Detroit who has been a traveler in South America for four years, and a slight-of-hand performer, Mr. Ferren, who will perform tricks of magic.

The event will begin at 6:30 p. m.

ANNOUNCEMENT

FOR TOWNSHIP TREASURER I have been nominated at the Democratic caucus. If elected I promise to give faithful service and be on the job at all times. I shall appreciate your vote on April 3, 1933.

Catherine W. Johnston.

JAS. ELY HONORED

In a recent all-school election held at the Institute, Big Rapids, James Ely, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard A. Ely, was named second on a ballot of three names for the position of student president. Named on the same ballot were V. E. Vandenberg, first, of Coldwater, and Clyde Foster, third, of Flint. Each of the three will hold office for one month of the present school term.

The duties of the student president will be to take charge of all student assemblies, provide stage attractions, and introduce speakers to the students.

Ely is also president of the fourth year pharmacy class and president of the Kappa Alpha Phi fraternity. This new step in student leadership has grown from President E. E. Brown's experience with the plan in other schools. He believes the students should largely assume the responsibility for the morning assemblies, and the election of leaders to act as chairmen is the first step toward handing over that responsibility to them.

HOW TO USE SCRIP

Much confusion and inconvenience has arisen with the use of scrip incorrectly, and the following rules are set forth by F. J. Cochran, village attorney, in order that scrip may be exchanged uniformly and without loss to anyone:

"Scrip should be stamped across front, left to right."

"It should not be stamped up and down."

AMERICAN LEGION PLANS AUCTION TO AID THE WORTHY

The furniture auction sale for charity sponsored by the Lloyd H. Green Fest of the American Legion, which will be held probably during the latter part of April, is already gathering momentum under the direction of Irving J. Ulrich.

Many furniture donations have been placed in the windows of the Ambler store on E. Main street to advertise the bargains which will be available.

The Legion is also accepting furniture to be auctioned off on a commission basis. All proceeds will be turned over to welfare work.

Those who wish to donate furniture please phone Mr. Ulrich at 57.

Worship of Wealth by Americans Has Brought Collapse and Chaos, Bishop Blake Says in Sermon Here

Eloquently warning against the chaos and disaster that come from the worship of material things, Bishop Edgar Blake, general superintendent of the Detroit Area, spoke Friday evening to a large congregation at the Methodist church. This was one of the special services of "Methodist Week," which was arranged by the pastor, Rev. Frank N. Miner.

Taking as the foundation of his sermon the story in the Bible which tells of the man who had torn down his barns to build larger, because of his overflow of crops, and then planned to "eat, drink and be merry," only to be called in death, the bishop earnestly drove home the thought that "he who makes an end of things will find that things will make an end of him." Stirring lessons of the value of co-operation and of regard for one's fellowmen were also given as the bishop analyzed the picture of the man with bursting barns who lived only for self.

Vivid pictures of the collapse brought in the United States by our chase for mere material things were given by the bishop. "For 15 years we have estimated everything in terms of speed and power. We have become a nation of neurotics; we have lost our sense of values. Reading, thinking and conversation have become a lost art in America. For 15 years we scrambled, pushed and got—we doubled our wealth—Oh God, forgive our foolish boasting. We builded high but the whole structure has collapsed. Now we can't find our way out. We have no zipper

DEPOSITORS BANK GIVEN ITS LICENSE

Institution Now Connected With Federal Reserve System

Although the Depositors State bank here has been operating for some time with the tacit consent of the state banking department, formal permission to open was received only Tuesday morning, according to John A. Boyce, president of the institution.

The regulations governing this license, according to Mr. Boyce, are the same that the bank has been regularly observing, viz., to guard against the issuance of cash for the purpose of hoarding and to turn in all gold and gold certificates to the Federal Reserve bank in Detroit.

To date, said Mr. Boyce, better than $3,000 in gold and gold certificates has been pushed through the tellers' window of the Depositors State bank from whence it has been taken to Detroit and turned over to the Federal Reserve bank there.

The Depositors State bank he said is continuing to do a normal banking business unhindered as to restrictions on withdrawals or deposits. Local checks are honored and out of state checks which are collectable are cleared through the Federal Reserve bank of Detroit. The Depositors State bank, said Mr. Boyce, has taken advantage of emergency Federal Reserve bank legislation to open an account with that system and is entitled to all of the privileges accorded a member bank.

Future prospects for the Depositors State bank are decidedly encouraging, said Mr. Boyce. Withdrawals are not too heavy, he said, and considerable new business is inspiring confidence in the permanence of the institution.

LENTEN SUPPERS STARTED AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH

Something entirely new in the history of the local Baptist church as far as is known, was inaugurated last Monday night when the Pastor, Rev. W. R. Barbour, for the remainder of Lent, began a series of lectures on church history, doctrine and ordinances.

Twenty-two boys and girls were present with ages ranging from 12 to 17 years who are interested in religion and Christianity. These youngsters will unite with the church Easter Sunday when a baptismal service will culminate the Lenten lectures.

Mr. Barbour states that anyone interested is invited to join this group each Monday night at the church house at 6 p. m. for supper and instruction without charge.

Each night certain ladies of the church will be the hostesses. Mrs. Barbour, Mrs. Elliot Larson and W. E. Beauthen were hosts for the first meeting.

MRS. A. B. McCULLOUGH DIES AT HOME WEDNESDAY

Northville residents were shocked to hear of the death of Mrs. A. B. McCullough Wednesday morning at her home on Cady street. She had been ill since last Friday with pneumonia and was being cared for by Miss Eleanor Sutton from Mercy hospital in Ann Arbor. Funeral services will be held at two o'clock today (Friday) at the Schrader funeral parlors. The obituary will be printed in next week's issue of the Record.

BABY CLINIC WILL BE HELD ON MARCH 28

The Baby clinic will be held Tuesday, March 28, in the village hall. All babies up to school age will be admitted for examination and advice by a specialist, Dr. Bradey, of Detroit. The April clinic will be omitted on account of shortage of funds. The room will be open from 10:00 a. m. to noon.

With Faith In Our Country With Faith In Our President With Faith In Ourselves. LET'S GO!

MANY ASSEMBLE AT SUPPER-MEETINGS TO AID CHURCH WORK

As the Record went to press a majority of the church membership of Northville were sitting down together in groups to eat supper sociably and then discuss serious ways and means of increasing the efficiency of the church.

Northville is to be congratulated upon the unity with which the pastors of its Presbyterian, Baptist and Methodist churches cooperate harmoniously. It is a fine commentary on their genuineness.

So successful were the results of the first series of supper-meetings planned by Rev. H. C. Whitfield among his membership that other pastors, Rev. W. Roscoe Barbour and Rev. F. A. Miller, are carrying out a similar plan.

A decided increase in interest has been the result of this better understanding of problems, maintains Mr. Whitfield. Real frank criticism with wholesome suggestions for improvement in various lines has worked out for good. The aim has been to group together miscellaneous so that natural "chequing" could be avoided and wider acquaintance would be made.

Because of plans previously made the members of the Baptist church will not meet in groups this time, but all together in their regular "church-night" when a social time will follow the devotional program.

The following homes were to be thrown open to the Presbyterian: Dr. and Mrs. H. G. Willis; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ray; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Schults; Mrs. Georgia Yerkes; Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Old; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Baker; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur H. Johnston; Mr. and Mrs. Roy and Mrs. Don P. Yerkes; Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Carrington; Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Todd; Mr. and Mrs. Claude Ely and Mrs. Margaret Yerkes.

Readers of these groups, who met on Wednesday evening with their pastor for a conference and instructions are: Dr. B. H. Douglas, T. J. Knapp, C. E. Bryan, Dr. J. H. Todd, Mrs. E. H. Lapham, Mrs. H. D. Dean, Vm. H. Yerkes, D. P. Yerkes, Dr. Mrs. Archie Kerr, Mrs. May Van Aken, Mrs. Eber Ward Lester, Mrs. C. M. Chase and Mrs. Chas. Blackburn.

The largest group, around forty, will gather at the Willis home. The others will range in number from twelve to twenty.

The Methodist homes where these supper-meetings were to be held are Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Bogart; Mr. and Mrs. Behrendt; Mr. and Mrs. Roy G. Clark; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Greer; Mrs. Bertha Neal; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Rogers; Mr. and Mrs. Orlov G. Owen; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Richardson; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Stalker; Miss Ethel Seelye; Mrs. Recka Salvo; Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Baldwin.

WALLED LAKE PRAISES NORTHVILLE MUSIC

Northville will be pleased with the fine "bouquet" presented to its two musical organizations, the male quartet and the high school cappella choir. The fact that it was Chas. Hutton, a man who knows music who makes these remarks makes the more appreciated, Mr. Hutton comments thus on the appearance of these two music organizations in Walled Lake recently:

"I am sure it will be of interest to you to know the reaction of the people of our community to the concert presented here by your high school vocal organizations and the Northville male quartet. While we had anticipated a fine program, we could hardly conceive that it would be as glorious as it really was. It left us all a little breathless, but after returning to earth, as it were, we went about shouting its praises, as well as of those participating, not the least of whom was Mr. Lee."

"I certainly hope the people of Northville fully appreciate what they have in their high school choir, and their men's quartet. Solely from the standpoint of actual fact, you possess in these vocal groups something outstanding, something rare. There are few schools in Detroit or elsewhere that can boast of such a finished organization."

"The fact that the choir sings a cappella and from memory, has excellent tone and balance, and maintains its pitch and rhythm so expertly is enough to gain for itself serious recognition from any authoritative source."

CRITICS OF RIVERA'S MURALS DENOUNCED BY R. G. YERKES

Editor Record—Edsel Ford, thinking to perpetuate in Detroit a great mural pageant of the city's dynamic progress, cast about for a man capable of its execution. After listening to authorities and viewing artists' works, Mr. Diego Rivera was chosen. Mr. Rivera's works are internationally famous. He is beyond question one of the three greatest living artists in this peculiar and most difficult medium. Symbolic and forceful in the extreme, murals cannot be judged by mere comparison to ordinary things. Mr. Rivera has labored long and faithfully. Months of preparation were spent studying Detroit, its men, its machines, its tremendous social organization was then raised to his mind for the work. More months were spent actually placing Rivera's interpretation of Detroit on the walls. As his tastes were ready, the doors were thrown open to the people of this city could see Mr. Ford's magnificent gift and what happened. A little busybody of a curate saw something in a picture of a vacation that nobody else with any sense has been able to see. Mr. Schudlich probably the only time he ever had his picture such as it is on the front page, said the mural was vulgar, incongruous and grotesque. Mr. Schudlich can be personally dismissed—but, and here's the rub, these United States are overrun with little people who have no brains wherewith to judge such a work; little people who are never seen inside the institute doors except at yapping time, little people who firmly believe that they are the custodians of the world's morals, tastes and mental reactions, little narrow-minded yappers!

The development of tremendous America's creative ability has been greatly retarded by these yappers. The utter colloquialism of this class of little people is something to be wondered at in this day of almost instant transportation, yet there are those who will not avail themselves of advantages in anything, and of this great number of people, a certain percentage are also extremely vociferous. It is a great but sad truth in this land of ours that most often those who set themselves up as judges of everything and anything are least qualified to judge.

Robert G. Yerkes

FARMERS NOT AFFECTED BY VENDERS' LAW

Dr. Snow Makes Explanation Of Ordinance Passed By Council

The new village ordinance published last week regulating vendors and hawkers' licenses, which goes into effect Tuesday, March 28, has occasioned a good deal of needless worry, according to Dr. L. W. Snow, president of the village council. Farmers in the surrounding countryside who grow their own produce for sale in Northville are exempt from paying license fees, said the president. The ordinance, he stated, is aimed at the large number of house to house salesmen from Detroit and other cities who "work" the small towns regularly reaping a large harvest from the sale of their merchandise without paying any of the village taxes or assessments to which the local merchant is subjected.

An extremely short meeting Monday evening the commissioners passed the bill on hand and after a discussion of several problems facing the village, adjourned. The new budget, which is practically made up, will receive official approval of the council at the next meeting, it was stated.

The budget is reported to be several thousands of dollars under last year's allowance. The 15 mill property tax limitation amendment to the general constitution affects only the general obligations of the village, according to legal advice received by the council, and does not affect the highway and the sinking fund.

Announcement will be made shortly, declared Dr. Snow, of the appointment of a new commissioner to take the place of Ross Dusenbury, whose resignation is being held in abeyance until the new appointment is confirmed. Mr. Dusenbury has moved to Detroit and is resigning because he is no longer a resident of this village.

GRADE NOTES

(From the Orange and Black)

Mrs. Ida Rose Eaton's kindergarten won the Parent-Teacher picture by having the largest number of parents present at the last P. T. A. meeting.

The B first graders of Mrs. Eaton have been writing stories to read later about "Mother's Work."

In art, the class of Miss Helen Leonardson's room, are making a booklet of the Dutch Twins and are writing stories to put in the book.

The children in that grade have some new seatwork books.

Last Friday, the 2nd grade mothers, Mrs. Donald McLean and Mrs. Wilbur Johnston, and Mrs. Reng held a mother's tea. The tea was a St. Patrick's affair and was well attended by the mothers.

E. V. Jolliffe and E. R. Eaton Of Plymouth Are Candidates For Membership in State Convention

A group of 21 wet and 21 dry delegates nominated as Wayne county candidates for membership in the State convention for the ratification or rejection of the Twenty-first Amendment, repealing prohibition, Friday signed pledges committing themselves to vote for either the continuance or abolishment of the Eighteenth Amendment.

The two slates of delegates were nominated by a committee composed of Probate Judges Henry S. Hubert, D. J. Healy, Jr. and Edward Command, County Clerk Elmer B. O'Hara, and Prosecutor Harry S. Toy.

The names of the 42 nominees will be placed on the ballot for April 3 elections. The elected delegates will convene April 10 in the House of Representatives at Lansing and officially ratify or reject the Twenty-first Amendment.

EXCHANGITES HEAR INTERESTING TALK BY CHEVROLET HEAD

"Civic clubs have a definite place in community life," declared G. E. Halwig, Wayne county sales manager for Chevrolet motor cars in an address before Exchangers and their guests Wednesday noon at the Methodist church house.

The luncheon clubs provide a period for the free exchange of ideas and opinions, said the speaker. Mr. Halwig launched into a detailed analysis of the stock crash in 1929 but stated that he was certain the organization of a new bank under the sponsorship of the General Motors Corporation of Detroit would go a long way toward the solution of the problem.

The situation, he said, is not one which has sprung up immediately. The roots were unbedded deeply in the world war, he stated but history shows us that it is just one more of a long line of periodic disturbances. The aftermath of war inflation in commodity prices, wages and credit, he said, crashed and the Reconstruction Finance corporation, which poured 900 million dollars into wavering business, proved to be a temporary buffer between merchants and the slump in their business.

In concluding his talk Mr. Halwig stated that the General Motors corporation feels that the re-establishment of commodity prices, the balancing of the budget, together with drastic curtailment of governmental expenditures augured for a swift return to normalcy.

LETTERS TELL OF LOSS BY COAST QUAKE

People in Northville Hear From Relatives In California

Following the period of devastation and terror in California during which an earthquake worked much damage and caused many to lose their lives, Northville people began to receive letters from relatives and friends describing the catastrophe. A few of these are given below.

Smocks Tell Experiences

Mrs. Chas. Smock reports that she and Mr. Smock were in their sitting room, one reading and the other listening to the radio. "There came a quiver, a twist and a wave," and they knew they were in for a shake-up. The day following Mrs. Smock walked out to their garden seat and could see and feel the ground moving. The birds were frantic in their calls and the humming proceeded. One man of Los Angeles said to the Smocks that he stood leaning against the pillar of one building when it gave him a shove outward and then a building across the way nodded to him. He now is uncertain as to whether it was the building or himself that did the trembling. Redondo beach was damaged heavily, but no lives lost, say the Smocks.

Mrs. Belle Knox Writes

The following extract of a letter received from Mrs. Belle Knox, sister of Chas. A. Dolph, was received by Mrs. A. M. Whitehead, an aunt, and will be of interest to our readers.

Anaheim, Calif., March 13, 1933.

My Dear Auntie—We are all quite well, considering the terrifying experience we have all just gone through. I expect you have read about our big earthquake, the worst one we ever had on this coast. Did considerable damage in Los Angeles, San Francisco, and other buildings will have to be rebuilt and quite a number were slightly damaged and quite a few windows were shattered. Our house has only a few minor cracks. Had quite a heavy shock this morning and one or two slight ones since. I guess they are just settling shocks. Long Beach and Compton were the most badly damaged and I guess they are both a mess. Hope we don't have any more, they are certainly nerve racking. We stayed up most all of Friday night, but since then we have gone to bed and forgotten about the earthquake.

P. S. Tuesday a. m. I didn't get my letter finished last night, so will add a few lines this morning, it is a lovely morning, nice and warm in the sun. We had a couple of rather heavy shocks this morning, we are getting used to them, however, I hope they do not come too hard.

Mrs. Sadler's Arm Broken

Another letter of interest comes from Mrs. E. H. Sadler to her mother, Mrs. Thompson. Mr. and Mrs. Sadler will be remembered in Northville, having spent last summer in this village. Mr. Sadler built the stone home now occupied by the J. N. McLoughlin family. The Sadlers are planning to move to Detroit soon. Huntingdon Park, Calif., March 16, 1933.

Dear Sister and Family: All of the great excitement is mostly over. It certainly has been terrible, so many people without homes and a great many badly injured. Ed was not injured. I was getting dinner when the first shock came. I ran outside and as I reached the porch the big shock threw me bodily onto the cement walk. I suffered a broken arm and many bad bruises, but can be very thankful I am alive.

My dinner was all over the dining room floor. All the dishes were broken in the kitchen cupboard. The Kelvinator was thrown lengthwise on the floor and all the electric lights were broken. It moved the house two inches off of the foundation.

I could not get my arm set until the next day as the X-ray machine (Please turn to back page)

Mr. Halwig invited Exchangers to set a date and visit the General Motors proving grounds at Milford. The next program will be in charge of Nelson C. Schnader, president of the Northville Wayne County Fair association.

Guests for the day included E. F. Quinn, former Detroit newspaper man and Edward H. Williams, democratic candidate for the office of Wayne County auditor.

KNOWING YOUR NEIGHBORS

That was a splendid thing for 20 Northville Exchangees to go over and visit the Farmington club. Getting to know one's neighbors is one of the best things anyone can do. We should do more of it among individuals and among towns. "Get to know your neighbor—you might like him."

BENDING TO PUBLIC OPINION

The past two weeks have given a powerful demonstration of what public opinion will do when it becomes fully aroused. Politicians bend before it like the trees before the storm.

President Roosevelt asked for support of his half-billion cut in the federal budget. There were lobbyists at Washington to try to block this much needed slash but when the members of Congress heard from the folks back home, they heard the roar of a mighty surge of protest from a paralyzed people, then the lobbyists began to slink back into their corners. The cut was made by an overwhelming vote and those few who voted against it—democrats as well as republicans—are having a hard time.

Public opinion, however, is that it is necessary to make major calamities—such as the one now facing the automobile industry—people to the point where they will remain.

THE CHURCH STANDS

In spite of the fact that the church is the most stable factor in the community, the one thing that is of any community. The doors of business houses close, the church doors are open. Sunday and during the week. Here in Northville the churches have held and are having their struggles but they continue to carry on.

It is the faith and loyalty of little groups of people that keep each and every one of our churches going. These men and women through the years have shown the sacrifice and devotion that have held high the Christian ideals. Every community owes them much. Take away the stabilizing power of the church from any town and every material value will suffer immeasurably.

The enduring power of the church is due to the fact that down deep in every man's heart, spiritual values are to be found. To that spiritual urge the church gives expression and as long as human beings have the instinct to look up to their Creator, the power of the Christian church will continue.

NORTHVILLE FARM RELIEF

Here is how one Northville man is getting farm relief for himself and the tenant on his 100-acre farm.

The owner—a local business man—went out to the farm and looked around. The mows were full of hay and the corn cribs were high with piled corn. There were hundreds of bushels of grain in the granary. If all of this had been sold at present price it would not have paid the taxes on the farm.

The farm owner looked around and saw that it would be foolish to sell the produce and take away all the farmer's chances for a comeback. So he said to the tenant: "Say, here we are going to go out and buy a couple of pigs and start putting some of this grain back into them and then maybe next fall we'll get some money rolling back."

So the pigs were bought and established in a new home with new floors. The farmer has a new spirit in working the farm and the farm owner will have some chance to get his rent within a few months.

This is what we call intelligent farm relief. And speaking of farms and farmers, there are plenty of reasons to think that conditions will soon be looking better for both.

DETROIT TAKES LOSSES

Along with the rest of the state, the people of Northville have been shocked by the bank crashes in Detroit. To have two great bank chains, with 800,000 depositors—that's almost a million—go down is a tremendous shock and one that has brought sorrow and immense loss to many. The staggering damage that has been done may be seen when one realizes that these two bank groups had 92.5% of all the bank reserves of Detroit.

The big consolation coming out of all this debacle is that the worst has come and the only thing to be done now is to rebuild. Detroit was perhaps the most highly inflated city in the United States during the years before that eventful 1929 and that is one reason why the banking collapse has been so overwhelming. When we go up so far, the descent is harder. Then too, Detroit has been a "one-industry city" and banking practices crept in that brought great loss when the automobile industry slowed down. But now that the crash has toppled over the structure, rebuilding is all that can be done. As we write this, it is not known what new plan will be found to bring Detroit out of its banking chaos, but certainly some way out will be found. With the United States government in charge, we can rest assured that the way out will be the best and safest way and that no repetition of the crash can ever come again in our generation.

WANDERING THOUGHTS

Will you tell us why some grapefruit are white and some pink on the inside?

Now that we are to have beer, let us watch and see if the flow of good old lager will bring in the half billion dollars that some of our wet friends predicted. Our own guess is that it will be nearer 150 millions.

A neighboring business man who has been under a heavy load for months is wise. He tells us that next summer he is just going to forget business for a while and go fishing. Why not? The business will be there when he gets back. If we don't live as we go along, when shall we ever live?

One of the most vivid shocks of our life was the first reading of the earthquake news from California. We spent one year near the affected area and could visualize the great damage that came when man's puny structures trembled under the shaking of nature's hand. After all, how powerless is man when the forces of nature are aroused. The earthquake, the cyclone, level all before them and nothing that man can do avails. Yet when the blow is over, men rise and rebuild—such is the sublime faith of humanity that tomorrow will be good. We shall never forget one happy day spent at Long Beach, Detroit friends wintering there gave our whole family the time of their lives back in 1929.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

What would be the status of the United States now had Congress passed the $2,300,000,000 bonus bill a year ago?

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

DON'T BE HASTY

(Joe Hass in Holly Herald)

While most of us were somewhat surprised and disappointed when our congressman voted against President Hoover's plan to hold back any more severe criticism until the end of the year, we must not think that we made a mistake in sending him to Washington, and that the congressional district in the whole country is any better represented there than the 17th Michigan.

GOLD FOR A NEW CAR

(Fred Keister in Ionia Co. News)

This is not a "someone said" story but came to us direct from the automobile salesman who handled the deal. He had a customer who was ready to change cars, it would involve a payment of some hundred dollars. When the time for payment came, the customer took the salesman to his home and handed him the amount in gold coin which the customer had been hoarding until he read where the hoarders would be prosecuted unless they put their gold back into circulation again. Rather than put it back in the bank he had taken this out. We hope the idea spreads.

FALL UPON YOUR KNEES

(George Averill in the Birmingham Eclectic)

In Oakland County today there are 226,357 lots that are delinquent in taxes. In all, they cover 282,088 acres of land. Once they grazed fat and sleek cows, which gave milk to the populace. Now the populace, having expected more than an extra million of people to move into this county, realize how, through hope and optimism, they have in a large part been "milked" as once were the cows.

Tonight, in Oakland County, one in every seven men and women, boys and girls, is "living on the welfare." The story of Oakland County may be duplicated in hundreds of other areas in metropolitan centers of America. Back of this sort of speculation are the streams of finance controlled by "banksters." Gaze upon Michigan's present tax delinquency, ponder the State's ill-supervised banking system, meditate upon the quantity of rotten "security" that have been legally manipulated from the thread-bare pockets of those who trusted their government and then get down upon your knees; bow your head before the Cross of Good Citizenship, and repeat these words: "Rather forgive me for I knew not what I did, give me the greater desire to show my government and its problems better, and incline within my life's purpose the action necessary to reflect these in human relationships. Amen."

ADVICE TO DRYS

(W. S. Kennedy in Albion Evening Recorder)

A sane expression from the dry side, on the movement to repeal the eighteenth amendment, comes from Stanley High, former editor of the Christian Herald, says the Holland Sentinel.

"Mr. High sees ratification not as a national menace. A greater danger would result, he says, if ratification should be blocked. Defeat of the resolution, he believes, would mean nullification, 'which would just as effectively release the country from the provisions of the prohibitory amendment as outright repeal.'"

"What the dry cause needs," he states, "is not more pressure in Washington and at the state capitals, but more conversions among the constituencies," and, "If such a program comes out of the present situation, then I believe the drys will one day look upon the defeat for prohibition as a victory for temperance."

In temperance by choice rather than by force of legislation lies the

"This view represents a sane approach to the question. If the drys finally come around to it and make it their future business, they will stand some chance of correcting the evils connected with liquor."

entered in traditional lion-like fashion and shows every indication of going out like a pack of lions.

Tsk! Tsk!

Are we in a mess!

My, my. All unintentionally we asked our readers, in a Forney Coal company advertisement, to avoid expensive prescriptions by keeping their houses warm with coal.

The druggists, bless their hearts, descended on defenseless Bill Forney in a menacing mob (both of them) and threatened to sue him for no less than a million dollars.

Bill protested that he didn't write the ads that we did here in the office. Then the pharmacists tried to get hold of your humble scrivener, but we weren't in town.

So then they cooled off—they're only going to sue us for $50,000.00 now. Believe us, it's a relief to know that we won't have to pay out a million. Fifty thousand iron men will hurt, of course, but a million—whew!

S. O. S.

We've got a chance of escaping punishment though. Our opposition hired George Rattenbury as attorney, so we gave Claussie Murdock a retainer's fee (a lemon coke) and he's going to defend us in the approaching suit.

Any loopholes whereby we can escape punishment our readers can contribute will be appreciated.

F. S. We just called our attorney to inquire how the case was progressing and he was in bed (as usual).

So Why?

If the worst comes to the worst, we can pay off in scrip—so. Why worry?

Now. Believe us, it's a relief to know that we won't have to pay out a million. Fifty thousand iron men will hurt, of course, but a million—whew!

Wednesday Bridge Club Meets With Mrs. Walker

Mrs. John Walker was hostess to the Wednesday bridge club at her home when two tables were played. Mrs. N. C. Schrader substituted for Mrs. McLoughlin. High honors were won by Mrs. H. H. Burkart and Mrs. E. B. Cavell.

Independent Twelve Are Guests Of Mrs. Abi Myers

Mrs. Abi Myers extended hospitality to the members of the Independent club at the home of her nephew, Earl Montgomery, Wednesday afternoon. Five Hundred was played during the afternoon and after this pleasant diversion the prizes were awarded to Mrs. Blanche Lyke, Mrs. Daisy Martin and Mrs. Pauline Cole. Mrs. Lyke was a substitute guest.

A dainty lunch was served at the close of the afternoon.

City Men Enjoy Country Hospitality At Davis Home Sunday

Ten Detroit men, engineers of the Lincoln and Cadillac Motor companies dropped in at the country estate of Clarence Davis Sunday to look over his sugar camp.

Dressed like lumberjacks, these city men roved for three hours around the woods and thoroughly enjoyed the out-of-doors in spite of the sleet storm. When they returned to the house, cold and wet, the doors of the Davis home were thrown hospitably open and, boots and all, they were invited within.

Summoring the help of her good neighbor, Mrs. Harry B. Clark, Mrs. Davis rallied to the emergency, stretched the table to its limit and fed this bunch of hungry men pan-cakes and maple syrup, fresh from the kettles. Then in utter contentment these men stretched before the cozy blaze of the hearth and spent the afternoon hours visiting and enjoying moving pictures shown by Mr. Davis of the camp in northern Michigan which they all visit.

Mothers of Second Graders Take Tea Together in School Room

It was a pleasant gathering of mothers who met in the school room of the second grade, to greet the teacher of their children, Mrs. O. F. Reng, Friday afternoon. Mrs. Wilbur H. Johnston and Mrs. Don McLan, the "room mothers," acted as hostesses introducing the mothers to each other. As the mothers and teachers visited sociably tea and small cakes were served.

It being St. Patrick's day, the cakes were shamrock shaped and the tapers lighting the tea table were green. This gathering was one of a series to encourage interest in the Parent-Teachers' Association.

Mrs. Stark Entertained the Merry Go-Round Club Wednesday

What matter if the bleak March winds blow? It's always fair weather when the Merry-Go-Round girls get together. Wednesday was no exception when fourteen of these friends gathered at the home of one of their number, Mrs. B. C. Stark, for another good time.

Dinner at noon was first in order, then out from their sewing bags came their needlework of all kinds. Some are beginning new and intricate patterns of quilts like our grandmothers made in their days of domestic peace. While they sewed together these friends enjoyed the best kind of a visit.

Mrs. Ada Ambler from Detroit completed the circle with her presence.

South Lyon Couple Are Wed. at Vogtin Home Saturday

A quiet home wedding was solemnized Saturday afternoon at four o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Vogtin, Grandview Ave., when the latter's niece, Miss Frances Carpenter, of South Lyon, became the bride of Geo. Armstrong, also of that place.

The bridal party were unattended, taking their places informally in the living room where their vows were read by the Rev. Wimberly, Presbyterian minister of South Lyon. Only the immediate families of each were present. The bride was becomingly gowned for traveling and after a wedding dinner the newly married couple left on a motor trip. On their return they will make their home on a farm north of South Lyon.

Mrs. Armstrong is a sister of Mrs. Elmer L. Smith of this village.

Poultry Men and Wives Enjoy Pleasant Evening Together

A chop suey supper with other good things to go with it was the occasion of a happy gathering of friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Black of the Fishery road, Friday evening. The party was made up of the men who have worked together in the poultry department of the State fair and the Northville fair for years. These men with their wives some time ago surprised one of their number and the evening proved so enjoyable that they decided to repeat the pleasure often. After supper Five Hundred was played. Those comprising the group with Mr. and Mrs. Black were Miss Gladys Black, Rose Bush, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Richardson, all of Northville and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Tyler and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bowman of Novi.

Northville Women Shine As Stars In Play at Club

Such hearty good laughs as the members of the Woman's club and their guests, enjoyed at the meeting Friday afternoon when a very clever little play by local cast of characters, "No Trouble at All," was given.

Everyone agreed that "Aunt Ida Hendry" missed her calling when she failed to go on the stage. She was the "star" of the cast, representing the bustling old aunt who was "no trouble at all." Other characters were Mrs. Harold Bloom, Mrs. Arthur H. Steele and Pierre Kenyon. Mrs. Scott Lovewell deserves great credit for her capable management of this play which would have done credit to much more experienced players.

It is said, "there wasn't a dry eye in the house" when Mrs. Lovewell rendered in the realistic costume of an old lady, "Old and Useless." In direct contrast, in the next number she appeared as a boy going fishing as she recited "Jage Jones," by Ben King. Both were equally appreciated. Additional features of interest on this program were vocal solos by Mr. Kenyon, accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Sherrill W. Ambler, and Mrs. Sterling Eaton, accompanied by Miss Beva Schrader.

A pleasing preliminary to the play was a group of Irish numbers rendered by Mrs. H. F. Blake, accompanied by Mrs. Ambler.

Basketball Boys of High School Feted By Their Mothers

Eighteen basketball boys of the Northville high school sat down Friday evening to a fine chicken pie supper served by their mothers at the school cafeteria. Additional guests were Principal R. H. Amerman and Coach H. L. Ruggles, the latter being the guest of honor on this occasion.

The dinner was all that hearty boys could desire; the delicious individual chicken pies were made by Mrs. Ray VanValkenburgh and Miss Jessie Clark.

Following dinner Mr. Amerman, as toastmaster, paid a very appreciative tribute to the record of the boys in basketball during the past season and called upon Mr. Ruggles who spoke feelingly of his pleasure in his professional relation with the boys, promising that he would always follow their careers with interest. Impromptu responses were made by the returning captain, Raymond Westphal and the captain-elect, Paul Baldwin.

Pierre Kenyon, accompanied by Mrs. Sherrill W. Ambler, sang a group of songs which the boys enjoyed and as another pleasant surprise the three "Drifters" drifted in and sang in their informal manner. A bevy of girls were then escorted into the hall. They had previously dined with Miss Marion Turnbull at her home, the cafeteria being limited in capacity, and the remainder of the evening until ten o'clock was spent dancing to the music of a youthful orchestra which was making its first appearance for a dance. The members of this creditable organization are Miss Katherine Duguid, Otis Tewksbury, Edward and Bob Angove, Raymond Westphal and Franklin Knight.

The Official "Family" Greets Bishop And Celebrates Birthday

At the close of the address by Bishop Edgar Blake at the Methodist church Friday evening, the members of the official board and their wives dropped in at the parsonage next door to meet the Bishop and Mrs. Blake who were dinner guests of Rev. and Mrs. F. N. Miner.

By happy chance it was the birthday of Mrs. Miner and a number of her many friends had wished her to be reminded of this by the customary birthday cake. In the center of the dining table it stood, a lovely pyramid cake, decorated with pink roses and sparkling with lighted candles.

Around this center of attraction the whole group gathered singing "Happy Birthday to You" and then, in a more serious strain, Bishop Blake led in singing "Blest Be the Tie that Binds."

Everyone enjoyed a piece of the cake which was as good to eat as it was beautiful. Adding much to the pleasure of Mrs. Miner's birthday was the unexpected arrival of her daughter, Elizabeth, from Albion college who reached home just in time for dinner.

Cosmopolitan Group Visits Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cobb

Week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cobb and Miss Lucille Webster at their home on Grace avenue were, Miss Mary Block and Dr. Berneta Block of Alma, Miss Gladys Atwell of Filby, O., Miss Evelyn Hay of Roanoke, Va., Miss Mary McClaren, of Detroit, and Miss Barbara Burr of Oakland, Calif. The guests represented many different parts of the country and are engaged in a wide variety of pursuits. Miss Block, Miss Atwell and Miss Hay are students at Whitmer high school, Toledo. Miss McClaren is a compositor, Miss Burr is attending the Merrill Palmer school in Detroit for a year, and Dr. Block is a missionary on furlough from Korea. Dr. Block, Miss Burr, and Miss McClaren were enabled to enjoy the gracious hospitality of the Cobb home a few days longer by reason of their vacations.

Dr. Handorf Reminded of Birthday By Several Friends

Surprising their friend, Dr. H. Handorf, at his home on Wing court Tuesday evening, March 19, a number of friends from this village and Plymouth dropped in to enjoy a cooperative dinner together in honor of the doctor's birthday. Even Mrs. Handorf was not in on the secret. A pleasant evening was enjoyed together.

Northville Down at the Court House

We have always thought here in Northville township that it was a good idea to have a man as supervisor who knew the officials down at the courthouse and was of their political faith.

So we always saw to it that we had a Republican supervisor to deal with these Republican officials—thinking it was for the best of our township.

Now they are nearly all Democrats down there and a Republican has got about as much chance to get along with them as a Democrat would back in the days when the Republicans had everything. We know that the Democrats are going to be down there for at least two years.

So why would it not be for the best interests of Northville township to have a Democrat supervisor to deal with them? It looks to me like good logic—the same logic the Republican supervisors have used in past years.

You may know your vote will be appreciated Yours for a New New Deal

Township election April 3

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Young visited Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins.

Mrs. Clarence Pettys recently moved to Wikom where she will make her home.

Jack Junod is confined to the house with scarlet fever at his home on Plymouth road.

David Martens was a week-end visitor in Detroit at the home of his sister Mrs. Robert Elliot.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Wagenschütz spent Saturday, Sunday and Monday with the latter's sister, in Lake Orion.

June Reichenbach spent the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frazer Staman. She returned to Detroit Monday.

Mrs. Ellis Avey underwent a serious operation last week at the Highland Park General hospital. Mr. Avey is farm foreman at the Anna Young farm.

Miss Charlotte Swanson and Jack Shrook of Albion college were guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. White of North Center street.

John Norton, Cecil Taggart, Walter Bales, and Charles Marshall received notice last week to return to the Chevrolet factory in Detroit to begin work Monday morning.

The King's Daughters held their regular business meeting at the home of Mrs. Floyd Snider Tuesday evening. On account of the bleak March winds only a small number were present.

The Northville Braves are working hard on plans for their dance to be held Friday, March 31, at the high school gym. The proceeds will be used to defray baseball expenses of the team.

A little daughter weighing 14 pounds was born Sunday, March 19, in the University hospital in Ann Arbor, to Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Busby. Dr. Busby is a member of the staff of the Maybury Sanatorium.

Mrs. W. H. Johnston, formerly of Northville, and now living in Detroit, attended a dinner given by State of Zion chapter of Detroit at the Eastern Star temple Monday evening.

John Scipio, accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Elena Scipio-Evans, of Adrian were visitors in Northville Wednesday. Their mother, who has been an invalid for a long time, is being cared for in the former's home.

Mrs. Howard Bouffard, formerly of Northville, but now living in Detroit, has been very ill for the past two weeks and was taken to Memorial Hospital, Owosso, Sunday night, March 19, to undergo a serious operation.

The many friends of Fred Miles, who has been living on the Wabec farm near Pontiac, will regret to learn that word has been received at the Record office, stating that Mr. Miles does not improve. Some time ago it was necessary to amputate a leg in order to save his life from fatal gangrene poisoning.

Miss Margaret Haskell, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Haskell, Wayne County Training School, is among the girl swimming stars at Lake Erie College, Painesville, O., who are fighting for class honors in water polo. Miss Haskell is a member of the freshman team competing for water polo inter-class championship.

Ralph Foreman, well known orchardist, states that the outlook for the peach crop is not at all favorable, according to all reports. He also says that most fruit growers feel that the Burbank plums will also probably be a complete failure this year, due to the below-zero weather of midwinter. Fortunately, Mr. Foreman thinks that the apple crop may be as good as last year's.

The second annual banquet of the N. Club of the high school will occur on the evening of Thursday, March 30, in the gym. The dinner will be served by the mothers of the club with the fathers, board of education and men members of the teaching staff included as guests. It is expected that around 90 will be seated at dinner. Harry L. Newman, of football fame, will be the speaker of the occasion.

Joseph A. Baldwin, brother of Richard T. Baldwin of this place, and for ten years associated with him in the newspaper business at Albion, has established an office at 406 Capitol Savings and Loan Building in Lansing for the practice of law. After four years of study at Washington, D. C., he has been made a member of the bar in both District of Columbia and Michigan. During his stay at the national capital he was a doorman in the senate.

The regular meeting of the W. H. M. S. will occur at the home of Mrs. A. E. Fuller, Fishery road, on the afternoon of Tuesday, March 28, when a potluck luncheon will be followed by the Lenten meeting. The speaker will be Mrs. Nelson Butler of Wayne, who has had social training in missionary work. Mrs. Butler is a sister of Mrs. Wm. Wain of this place. An interesting program is planned and a good attendance is desired. Members will please bring their own table service for dinner.

Mrs. L. M. Eaton has been ill with sinus infection for the past week.

Mrs. Mary Wadsworth is continuing the bakery business at the same place with some assistance.

Leo J. and Eugene Arthur, the small sons of Rev. and Mrs. Leo Rickstaedt, have recently recovered from a siege with measles.

Miss Annabel Withey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Withey of Plymouth, underwent appendectomy at Sessions hospital, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Koldyke, former Northville residents, now of Detroit, attended the Pastime dance held at the high school Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schulte and daughter, Donna Jean, spent Sunday at Wyandotte as guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. Schotter and Rev. A. F. Schulte.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Yerkes returned this week to Northville, following a three months' stay in Caro, at the home of A. D. Gallery, editor of the Tuscola Advertiser.

Returning to Lansing Sunday with friends, Miss Bernice Clark writes home that the car skidded into a ditch and it took over three hours to reach their destination from Northville.

The young people of the Methodist church, led by Mrs. E. N. Miner, have been holding prayer services at various homes during Lent. On Wednesday evening they met with Dorothy Richardson on First street.

Mrs. Abi Myers and Mrs. Amelia Ford were in Detroit Friday, March 17, calling on Mrs. Roy Calhoun, who is ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Binger, Washburn ave. Mrs. Calhoun is better at present.

The newly organized Westminster Guild of the Presbyterian church will hold its first real meeting at the home of Mrs. Ralph Ayers, south Rogers street, tomorrow afternoon (Saturday).

The Michigan State college students, Miss Bernice Clark, Ted Cavell, Fred Kerr, Foster Van Alta and Herbert Berendt, are expected home today for their spring vacation of a week.

The many friends of Mrs. Mary Christensen, Novi road, will be gratified to learn that she is recovering well from a recent heart attack. She is still confined to her bed as she has been for nearly two weeks.

The death of Mrs. Spencer L. Houghton, at their winter home in Alabama was announced by the Dearborn Record. Mrs. Houghton was the wife of Prof. Spencer L. Houghton, superintendent of our school in 1887-1891.

Miss Elizabeth Miner surprised her mother on the occasion of her birthday, Friday, by coming home from Albion college in time to join in the celebration, and eat dinner with Bishop and Mrs. Edgar Blake, of Detroit, their guests.

Rev. and Mrs. W. Roscoe Barlow are driving to Hillsdale today to accompany home their daughter, Mary Ellen, who will spend the spring vacation here. Miss Ethel Stern, who is also a student in Hillsdale college, will be at home during the week.

Activities at Arrowhead will soon be resumed according to word received from Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Raleigh Brown who says that they expect to arrive home April 1. They have been spending most of the winter at Daytona Beach, Fla.

Word is received from Mrs. Norman Loye (nee Miss Etta McDonald), a former teacher in the Northville public school) that she and her husband are nicely located in Red Wing, Minn., where Mr. Loye is an engineer.

The Woman's club will visit the Wayne County Training school this afternoon (Friday) when they will be conducted through the buildings of that institution. They will meet at the main office building. Those wishing transportation will call Mrs. Harold Blom.

Miss Lois Brookman, who is taking a course in nursing at the University hospital, Ann Arbor, underwent an emergency operation for appendicitis Sunday evening. Reports received by Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Clark are that she is in good condition.

The Record was very glad to welcome as a visitor one day this week, James MacDonald, who has been a patient in Eastlawn San since last November. This visit was James' first time out since his confinement, but he reports that he is making good progress and hopes soon to be out permanently.

Octette Club Spends Pleasant Evening With Mrs. R. L. Lee

The congenial company of eight ladies comprising the Octette club joined in a happy evening together at the home of Mrs. R. L. Lee, who was assisted as hostess by Miss Ellen Reinke, Monday.

Bridge was the diversion and after an interesting tournament prizes were awarded to Miss Reinke and Mrs. K. H. Babbitt. A dainty luncheon was enjoyed at the conclusion of the games.

Included with the two hostesses in the party were Mrs. Babbitt, Mrs. Chas. Wilson, Miss Grace Hawkins, Miss Helen Leonardson and Miss Irene Fennell.

Dr. Block Speaks Before Nellie Yerkes Auxiliary

The regular meeting of the Nellie Yerkes Auxiliary was held Tuesday evening, March 21, at the home of Mrs. Vance Masters. The special speaker for the evening was Dr. Bernita Block, superintendent of the East Gate hospital, Seoul, Korea, who presented the work of missions in Korea from the standpoint of an adventure in Christianizing. Her talk gave a personal and direct touch to the mission work being done by the Auxiliary.

The Auxiliary is sponsoring a church kindergarten, where young children may be left, under supervision, during the time the parents are attending the church service. It is hoped that many parents will take advantage of this service.

A social hour followed the meeting with Mrs. Vance Masters and Mrs. Genevieve Vogt as hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Van Valkenburg Celebrate Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Van Valkenburg celebrated their fourth wedding anniversary at a family gathering last Sunday at their home on the Beck road. The group sat down to a sumptuous dinner at one o'clock at a long table attractive with its centerpiece of sweet peas and maiden-hair fern. The gleaming white wedding cake was tastefully decorated with little shamrocks and hearts, and was the gift of Mrs. C. H. Young.

Those present were the hosts' two sons, Franklin, who lives at home, and Ross Van Valkenburg, and wife of Detroit, Miss Reta Van Valkenburg of Ferndale, Mrs. Emma Ley and Mrs. John Bissell of Redford, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Van Valkenburg and Charles Van Valkenburg of Northville.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Valkenburg were the recipients of a host of good wishes and were presented with a number of lovely gifts, among them being a choice box of confections from Anne Joyce and Shirley Jean, the two little daughters of Mr. and Mrs. George Hopkins, and a beautiful bouquet of snapdragons from the Friendly Neighbors club, of which the hostess is a member.

Romance Begun On Ocean Liner Lasts Happily Through 25 Years

On Wednesday, March 22, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Claessen happily celebrated their silver wedding anniversary at their home on Grand River road, Novi. Fifteen friends and relatives came out from Detroit to join in this happy event. In the party also were their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Kohlheim, of Pontiac, and Ole Kleophas, a brother of Mrs. Claessen, was unable to get back from Florida in time for the anniversary.

At dinner with Mrs. Claessen, an expert cook, assisting in the preparation of many of the dishes, was served at the long dining table where the bride and groom of twenty-five years occupied places of honor.

It was twenty-five years ago that this romance budded on board the steamer Kionia Prince Wilhelm of the North German Lloyd line, when young Frank Claessen met and wooed the rosy cheeked German maiden, Olga Kleophas. By the time the steamer sailed into the harbor of New York this young couple had decided to "sail on through life together." Hunting up a clergyman in New York was not too difficult and "they were married and lived happily ever after" as all their many friends testify.

Some years later a trip back to the fatherland was made and in 1923 they sailed back again to the land of their adoption making their home in Detroit, where for years Mrs. Claessen was kitchen chef in the Fort Shelby hotel until forced by ill health to retire to a quiet community.

Greetings from a host of friends reminded Mr. and Mrs. Claessen of their hearty good wishes for "many happy returns of the day."

Miss Iola Rose and Mr. Harold Benjamin Wedded Saturday Evening, March 18

The Salem Federated church was the scene of a wedding of much dignity and beauty on Saturday evening, March 18. Miss Iola Rose of Detroit became the bride of Mr. Harold Benjamin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Benjamin of Salem. The preliminary program delighted the audience which crowded the church.

Mrs. Cora Gale, the church pianist, played "Whither?" by Carl Kolling. "I Love You Truly" was sung in an exceptional way by Charles Van Vleck of Plymouth. The pastor of the church read several scripture passages on marriage. Mr. Carl Haray, church violinist, played "The Bohemian Girl." Mrs. Fred Myer sang "O Promise Me." Then Mrs. Gale played the Mendelssohn wedding march from "Midsummer Night's Dream." The six young men who acted as ushers preceded the bride party down the aisle. They were Earl Roberts and Russell Gale, Knowles Buers and Russell Wallenmaier, Owen Curtis and Donnell Merritt. Mrs. Ralph Shackleton, aunt of the bride, was the matron of honor. She was gowned in pearl gray trimmed with wine colored velvet. She wore a tiny turban, and carried a very striking bouquet of Talisman roses. Miss Helen Allenette Rose of Detroit was her sister's bridesmaid and she was escorted by Mr. Leon Curtis. Miss Rose wore a pale blue formal and small close fitting hat to match. Her flowers were pink roses and delicate blue delphinium. Ralph Shackleton escorted his niece to the altar to give her in marriage. The dainty little bride was the traditional vision of bridal loveliness in her white satin gown and long veil. Her bouquet was white roses, freesias and double baby's breath. Mr. Benjamin awaited his bride at the altar and was accompanied by his brother, Mr. William Benjamin, of Detroit. Ferns, hibernus trees and white cathedral tapers made a beautiful background for the wedding party. Rev. Cora M. Fennel read the marriage service. Mrs. John Mellow acted as mistress of ceremonies. Following the service a reception was held at the groom's home on the Five Mile road. May we extend to Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin our best wishes, hoping that they may have a long, happy and useful life together.

HEIRLOOMS DISPLAYED AT MRS. CURTIS' TEA

Mrs. E. E. Curtis entertained the ladies of Salem at an heirloom tea on the afternoon of March 18. Mrs. Curtis is a direct descendant of Robert Burns and has many family treasures of great value. These were most attractively displayed in several rooms, with heirlooms brought by the guests. In a bedroom on a four poster bed were shown hand woven coverlets, beautiful shawls and most exquisite needlepoint. A silk framed picture of a bride of several generations ago was greatly admired. In this room also was a clock with works all of wood, running and keeping time. This was shown by Mr. and Mrs. Bert Stanbury. Another interesting exhibit of theirs was an old bed-warmer. The latter bore a blue ribbon from the Northville fair.

In the living room a library table was filled with old Bibles and records, very old scrap books, photograph albums and a diary. Here, too, one could see a piece of old parchment signed by John Quincy Adams, the original deed to the farm where the tea was held.

One cabinet contained the old jewelry and silver exhibited by the various families. Many very old silver spoons were displayed, and among these were some lovely monogrammed tea spoons owned by Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Hartman, Sr. Mrs. Fred Foreman brought a Chelsea tea pot bearing a Northville blue ribbon, and in a cabinet Mrs. Curtis displayed a complete set of Chelsea in perfect condition.

On the walls were priceless samplers, some male finery of a past generation, an exquisite lace shawl and well-worn by Mrs. E. Geraghty and family portraits. Frank Buers showed a colored picture of his father in the full dress uniform of the German army.

Mrs. Henry Whittaker and Mrs. George Roberts dressed in old time costumes poured tea. They served cheese suet, tiny cookies and raspberry tarts. Mrs. Fred Myer sang old songs with Mrs. Curtis at the organ.

In the sun porch an oil portrait of a loved grandmother held the attention of the guests. The eyes seemed wise with the wisdom of many years of victorious living. They seemed to question whether we are true to the splendid heritage of faith and hope and love, and the ability to overcome great obstacles handed on to us by our forebearers. The heirloom tea was good for us in that it made us realize that we murmur and complain over what would have been undreamed of luxury to our ancestors, and yet they had a wealth of material and spiritual beauty to pass on to us.

Pussy Walks 21 Miles for a Chicken Dinner

Luray, Va.—A Luray resident decided to get rid of his cat when it developed gastronomic fondness for chickens.

Shunning the sack and stone method of disposal, he took the cat in his automobile 21 miles across the mountains, and left it.

Forty-eight hours later the cat came back, tired, hungry—and looking for more chickens.

NEWS AROUND NOVI

Path-Master System

Because 40% of the highways in Novi township have been taken over by the county, the question of repealing the present path-master system will be submitted to the voters at the coming spring election April 3rd. The change would provide that the roads would be under the direct supervision of the highway commissioner and not less than one or more than four overseers. This change would effect a substantial saving in the cost of maintaining the highways.

Mrs. Judd Hammond and Mrs. Earl Tyler were Detroit visitors Tuesday.

Mrs. Bessie Leitch of Hollywood, California, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Pulla Harnden.

C. W. Hamilton and George Simmons were in Lansing last Thursday on a business trip.

Mrs. Naomi Kent Wilson has moved from rooms in Mrs. Alice Spencer's house to a house on W. Grand River, owned by Mrs. Judd Hammond.

Mrs. Earl Tyler and Mrs. Earl Bowman were guests at a birthday dinner honoring the former's sister-in-law, Mrs. Earl Betts, in Detroit, Wednesday.

Joe Tracey of Plymouth, Miss Margaret Stillwell, Miss Dawn Granzow, and Miss Dorothy Tyler attended a dance at the campus ballroom in Detroit Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Harnden and daughter, Miss Ruth, have moved from Philadelphia, Penn., into a cottage home adjacent to the home of the former's mother, Mrs. Julia Harnden, East Grand River.

Mrs. Marie Tyler entertained 12 ladies Tuesday of last week at noon dinner and afternoon 500 party. The prize winners were: 1st, Mrs. Clara Hicks of Northville; 2nd, Mrs. Sue Watson; 3rd, Mrs. Grace Hammond; and 4th, Mrs. Anna Stillwell.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Granzow entertained Mr. and Mrs. Earl Tyler, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bowman, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stillwell at a jig-saw puzzle party Saturday night. The men of the party won the honors. Following the hard work lunch was served.

Vincent Beatty, Raymond Beatty, Neida Cramer, Thelma Kent, Earl Holmes, Billy McCowan, Helen Smith, Raymond Spierkowski, and Edith Trotter were guests at a birthday party Tuesday evening given by Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Gaffney in honor of their son, Patrick Jr.'s 13th birthday. The guests and their young hosts were entertained with games, followed by refreshments, a feature of which was the birthday cake with candles.

The Rebekahs and Oddfellows gave a card and dancing party at the T. O. O. F. hall last Saturday night, March 18th. Eight games of progressive bridge were played at 21 tables. The following won prizes: Ladies—1st, Mrs. Frank Clark, Novi; 2nd, Miss Shirley Carter of Detroit; 3rd, Ruth Hammond, Farmington. Men's 1st, C. W. Hamilton, Novi; 2nd, Lehr Bishop, New Hudson; and 3rd, George W. Hunt of Detroit. Royal Snow, Novi, drew the lucky number and won the door prize. After lunch dancing was enjoyed.

Novi School News

The grade spelling bees held last Friday created much interest and resulted in several upsets. All of the pupils were rather nervous but many survived several rounds of hard words. The following pupils won dictionaries: Fifth grade, Thelma Kent; sixth grade, Marjorie Poole; seventh grade, Raymond Spierkowski; eighth grade, Maxine Shirliff.

Several pupils have caught the chicken-pox and will be forced to remain at home for three weeks or more. They are: Loree Trickey, Irene Kenner, Harvey Feile, and Frederick Johnson. Parents are urged to keep their children at home if they do not feel well because much care must be taken to prevent the spread of the epidemic.

Arithmetic achievement tests are being given through the elementary grades. The teachers will be able to compare the results with the tests given last fall and thus obtain a fairly good idea of the progress of the pupils. Tests in other subjects will be given later.

The tenth grade English class is working on a debate concerning the question of whether or not city life is better than that in the country. This is the pupils' first work in debating and they are taking pains to get real proof for all statements. They expect to be ready to give the debate at the regular meeting of the Student Association, Friday afternoon.

VACATION FOR SPRING TO BE APRIL 10-17

Supt. and Faculty Decide; School Will End On June 23

Notice came from the offices of the board of education Wednesday noon to the effect that spring vacation will start Monday, April 10, and continue one week. School will start again on Monday, April 17. Though it was previously announced that there would be a vacation, it was not definitely decided until Wednesday. The school board invested full power along this line in the hands of Supt. E. J. Knapp, who before making his decision, consulted all faculty members. In soliciting the teachers' opinions on spring vacation, the superintendent asked them to look at it from the students' viewpoint as well as their own. The results were nearly unanimously in favor of the spring vacation. With a week's vacation in the spring, school will close for the summer on June 23, school officials said. If it had been decided not to have a vacation now, the term would probably ended June 16. In the opinion of the officials it is almost certain that school will stay open until June 23.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

Do you think the freshmen and sophomore classes should be allowed to give public dances?

Evelyn Ambler, freshman—Yes, it helps them financially and affords pleasure for the other students.

Monroe Weston, senior—Yes. It will give them experience in making money for their trip in their senior year.

Peggy Blake, junior—I don't think they should give dances until they become juniors. There are plenty of other ways in which to make money that are more suitable for those two classes.

Edith Clark, senior. Yes. It will give them experience which they will need when they become juniors and seniors.

Jaber Bacon, freshman—Yes. I think the classes should start to earn the money for their trip before they are seniors.

Ward Vanatta, post graduate—Yes. It will give them experience they can use when they are juniors and seniors.

Frances Cousins, sophomore—Yes. I think it is alright for those two classes to do this. It helps them to earn money if they wish to take a trip when they become seniors.

Eddie Bender, sophomore—I think they should have a chance to make money. It will give them much valuable experience for their J-Hop and Senior Prom.

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

The Awarding of Letters

It should be, and is, a very high honor to be awarded an athletic letter in the Northville high school. The boys receiving them should be, and are, quoted Coach Ruggles, "the cream of the school, both physically and mentally." In order to engage in athletics they have to be physically sound and in order to stay eligible for them, they have to maintain at least an average academic standing.

The awarding of these letters therefore, should be a very serious task. No student should be given one who does not absolutely deserve it, and who will not be sure to uphold the honor of the school. We believe that this high standard has been maintained at Northville. We wish to compliment those in charge of the awarding of athletic letters and we hope that in the future the same restrictions will be placed on the awarding of the much coveted N.

The Palladium Dilemma

At times like these when everyone is so hard up one hesitates asking for the financial support of any activity. Thus it is with the editor and staff of our proposed 1933 Palladium.

They face a difficult dilemma. The student body of the high school has enthusiastically expressed itself in favor of the Palladium. Many of the Northville merchants have done likewise, and just as enthusiastically. The staff, therefore, is under obligation to attempt publication of the book. But it costs money to publish an annual even when expenses are

Northville High School Will At Last Have the Much Needed Lockers in Which to Keep Books

N. H. S. is going to get the much needed lockers for books, etc., which have been promised for quite some time.

The first set of lockers to be made are nearing completion in the Manual training room of Paul B. Thompson. The manual training classes have been working strenuously during the past few weeks to put out the lockers as soon as possible. Melvin Mitchell and Kenneth Eichen with the aid of Mr. Thompson, have done the bulk of the work.

As far as the present plans go they moved to Northville, where "Al" is now a senior in the N. H. S. Albert is a member of the N. club, having earned his letter by participating in football and track. This year he is captain of the track team. "Al's" hobby is making and riding in airplanes.

His future is a little uncertain, but he says in all probability he will return to school and take a postgraduate course.

There will be two sections made. Each section will accommodate 36 students, and will be given first to the seniors and then down the grades as far as they will go. The lockers at present are constructed primarily to hold books.

Because of the seats which were removed from the assembly to be placed in class rooms, there has been a shortage of space in which to place the books of the students. It is not uncommon for two or three students to use one desk together for their books. The new lockers will probably be placed in the back of the assembly, or if that is not possible, in the hall. After a time, when it is possible to obtain more lockers, the shelves in the present ones may be removed and thus afford a place for depositing students' coats and hats. This system is followed in all of the Detroit schools and some of the more modern schools in small cities and villages. The students will place their own locks on the lockers.

Baseball Benefit Dance Saturday

GRAVITY WINS, EVEN OVER A CLASS HEAD

Breaking the silence of a Tuesday afternoon assembly came the crash of a falling seat and a falling senior president.

For some time the seat where President Shipley sits in the first row in the assembly has been dangerously loose and out of position. Friends had warned him that it could not last, supporting his presidential form forever. But he did not heed these warnings. Then one day, the seat became so bad that Dick nearly fell out. But even this "writing on the wall" was not enough.

Finally, however, the law of gravity to which even senior presidents are not immune won. The seat gave way, fell, and "his presidency" slid to the floor awakening with a none too gentle bump.

PALLADIUM WORK IS PROGRESSING

Book Will Give Townspeople An Inside Track Of School Functions

The 1933 Palladium is becoming more of a reality day by day. The book, say members of the staff, will be a great improvement over last year's annual in many ways. Business Manager John Steencken even goes so far as to say that it will be "one of the best, if not the best, ever published in Northville."

Next week, Tuesday, the all-important group pictures will be taken by the Camp Photography of Ypsilanti. Beginning in the morning, the photographer will be on the job until late in the afternoon. A schedule for the taking of the various groups, which will be done in the gymnasium appears in this issue of the Orange and Black.

Will Connect School and Town
The 1933 Palladium explains Warner Neal, editor of the publication, "will, more than that of any other year, connect the town and the school. This is so because by showing pictures the work of the school is really shown."

"For instance," went on Mr. Neal, "there will be photographs of the boys at work in the manual training shop, of the students busy on experiments in the physics laboratory, of the girls at work on sewing and cooking; of a gym class, of commercial students typing; of a typical grade room, and of many other departments. These pictures, as well as explanations of the work, will do much, we feel, to give the people of Northville an inside track of what really happens at their school. They pay for it and they should know about it. Yet how many really do?"

To have many features
According to present plans of the staff, there will be many other features. Prominent among these will be the popularity contest, in which the students will elect the most popular girl and most popular boy in the high school. The pictures of the popular winners and a full account of the contest, which is going to be kept strictly secret will appear in the Palladium. The contest will be run, faculty and staff members assured, in such a way that there will be "absolutely no chance for anyone to have his feelings hurt."

A picture showing the present senior class in the kindergarten will also be printed in the 1933 annual. This, as well as snapshots of various students will be both interesting and amusing to all concerned.

There will also be numerous jokes on students and faculty members scattered throughout the book and particularly in the advertising section.

As has been the custom in the past, the 1933 Palladium will be dedicated to some teacher in the school, some teacher who has been there for a number of years and has rendered outstanding service. Last year the honor of dedication went to Mrs. Ida Cooke. Two years ago it went to the senior sponsors, Principal R. H. Amerman, Miss Helen Leonardson, and Mrs. Sterling Eaton, and in 1930 it was dedicated again to Mr. Amerman. So far this year it has not been announced to whom the annual book will be dedicated. It is said that the choice lies between a very small group of teachers, and much interest is being given to the selection. "Information concerning the dedication," said Miss Peggy Blake, assistant editor, "will probably be made public shortly."

WILL BE BIGGEST OF ALL PROJECTS

20 Cents Per Person Charge Is Expected To Draw Large Crowd

As the "good project" of the student council baseball committee in their drive to raise $60 for baseball by April 1, a dance will be held in the high school gymnasium tomorrow, Saturday, March 25. It will last from eight to twelve and admission is to be 20c per person.

Bob Power, chief of police on the council and a member of the committee, is the general chairman of the dance and has appointed sub-committees from among the students to help out the party. The baseball committee besides Power includes Leo Kohler, Howard Latta and Marion Turnbull.

A very good orchestra has been engaged, says Miss Gertrude Deal, member of the council and chairman of the orchestra committee. It is composed of five college fraternity musicians who have been extremely popular around Ann Arbor, Lansing and Ypsilanti. There will be a saxophone trio, drum, and piano, committee members said.

The gym will be prettily decorated under the direction of Miss Eleanor Eaton, chairman of the decorations committee, though as the paper went to press, it was not known exactly what design would be followed.

"We urge everyone to attend this dance," said Howard Latta. "We plan to make it a really big one and all will not only have a good time but will support the baseball team, as well." The committee members appeared to believe that whether or not they would make their required $60 within the set time, depended largely on the success of this dance, their biggest enterprise. They said they are throwing themselves into the project wholeheartedly and would concentrate every effort to make it successful.

The committees are:
Publicity—Chairman, Robert Christensen; Robert Reed, Miss Florance Johnson, Kenneth Eichen, and Warner Neal.

Orchestra—Miss Gertrude Deal, chairman; Howard Latta, Miss Marie Humphries and Leo Kohler.
Decorations—Miss Eleanor Eaton, chairman; Miss Peggy Blake, Richard Shipley, Richard Nash, Jack McLoughlin, Essie Nunder, and Miss Marion Turnbull.

"The dance is to be chaperoned," said Chairman Power, "by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Taylor of Plymouth and Paul Thompson representing the faculty; and Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Lyke, representing the school board."

POWER ANSWERS EDITORIAL ON THE COMMITTEE

Humorous Article Says The Editor Was Wrong In Opinion

To "Orange and Black Readers:
It seems that a certain young man, who runs a certain large column in a certain small portion of a certain large paper overstepped his territory.

Just to give our gentle readers a small tip as to the identity of this certain young man, his column is "Round the School" and his initials are F. W. N. Can anyone guess who he might be?

Now for the dirty work! "Murder will out." He makes insinuations it seems to the effect that the baseball fund is at a standstill. Well, Mr. Editor, it seems that when you went "Round the School" you did not quite complete the circumference of your circle.

Just, Mr. Editor, what do you mean when you say "Now, however, it appears that the interest is entirely forgotten?"

"Did You Notice," F. W. N. that the Student Council is giving a dance this Saturday night, the 25th of March; to be exact, and charging 20c admission?

"Did You Notice" that the hours are from 8 till 12? "Did You Notice" the sign on the bulletin board to that effect? No! Most emphatically you did not!

And at the time you wrote your opinion the committees were picked and the dance held the official sanction of our school officials.

Now, gentle reader, the truth is out, but watch that villain he'll do anything to get material for a story. Bob Power, Chief of Police, Student Council, Editor's Note—Bob Power, a member of the baseball committee, refers in his article to an editorial in last week's Orange and Black headed, "Our Baseball Committee."

PICTURES COST A NICKEL

The Palladium staff warns that every student who wishes to have his picture taken next Tuesday, March 28, must pay five cents.

PALLADIUM GROUPS WILL BE TAKEN ON TUESDAY, MARCH 28

The schedule on page 7 for the taking of the Palladium group pictures Tuesday, March 28, has been made out by the staff and as far as possible will be adhered to. However in some cases, annual officials said, changes may be necessitated. Groups who have their time changed will be notified before hand. All group pictures will be taken in the gymnasium. Pictures of the various departments in action, will of course, be taken in the rooms.

The Palladium staff decided with the consent of the student body to charge each person who has his picture in the annual, five cents. Thus, one five cent payment will enable any student to have his picture in any number of groups. The nickel must be paid before any person can be included in any picture, staff members said. This also will apply to faculty members.

COACH CALLS ALL CANDIDATES FOR BASEBALL

Will Practice in The Gym Until Weather Permits Outside Work

The first call for baseball candidates was issued Tuesday when Coach Paul B. Thompson met all prospective pitchers and catchers in the gymnasium. The call for other men was made Thursday.

Practice on both Tuesday and Thursday was held in the gym due to unseasonable weather. A large number of boys came out including both veterans and new material. A light workout was held and Coach Thompson says that the team will continue practice in the gymnasium until the weather and ground permit playing outside.

The money which is being raised for the expenditures in baseball is coming in steadily and the total sum necessary to carry on baseball is being approached. The season ticket sale is also going well and promises to be a success.

The schedule for the season has been made out conclusively except for the home game with Plymouth, the date of which has not been definitely set.

The schedule is as follows:
April 21, Lincoln; here; April 28, Country Day, there; May 2, Melvindale, here; May 9, Country Day, here; May 13, Melvindale, there; May 23, Plymouth, there.

JAPANESE TALKS TO HIGH SCHOOL

Says United States Is "The Greatest Country Under The Heavens"

The high school assembly was entertained in a very interesting manner Wednesday afternoon, March 22, by a talk given by A. Icyda, a native of Japan, on the differences and likenesses of his country and the United States.

Mr. Icyda, who has with Rogers as a sort of unofficial guide will ambassador, "brought down the house" with his humor and again. But all of his jokes had a point and with them he combined much common sense.

After giving a pointed description of Japan, in which he said it was as small as the state of California and was inhabited by 75,000,000 people, the little Japanese eloquently exclaimed in his characteristically short sentences, "the United States is the greatest country under the heavens." A poor farmer boy can go to the White House. That is not so in Japan. There royalty and the class system prevail. He also told how he had braved a group of Japanese professors, telling them he preferred the more democratic American handshake to the Japanese form of greeting, a bow.

In very polite terms, Mr. Icyda said that his countrymen were more aristocratic than Americans. And to prove this, he exhibited a very beautiful and valuable piece of tapestry as well as several hand painted drawings.

The girls in Japan, said the interesting Nipponese, do not kiss or chew gum. He jokingly said that in the first they probably did not know what they were missing.

He concluded by praising Principal R. H. Amerman of whom he said he had not contacted a better man in many months, and saying that rarely had he had better attention than that given by the Northville students. As he finished, he received much applause.

Mr. Icyda, who is middle aged, has for years spent alternately one year in the United States telling Americans about Japan, and the next year in Japan, telling his people about the United States. He has lectured at many high schools and colleges all over the nation.

HIGH SCHOOL INSPECTED BY U. OF M. MAN

Professor Is Expected To O. K. School For The University List

Though Northville's three year term on the University of Michigan High School list expires June 30, 1933, it is altogether probable that it will be renewed, school officials said Monday. This came after an inspection of the high school by Professor Kenyon of the University inspection bureau last Thursday, March 16.

Professor Kenyon, who is connected with the Romance language department of the college of liberal arts, visited nearly all classes of teachers in the high school during the day. For the most part he did not appear to either student or teacher but sat near the back of the room and observed the proceedings.

The professor expressed himself to Principal R. H. Amerman saying that you have an all-around good school, and seemed pleased with his findings. He also was overheard to remark that he liked the very few oral members of Mrs. Elizabeth Chapman's morning English literature class entered into discussion.

The University can O. K. a school for one, two, or three years. This means that for that period of time graduates of the school may enter the University or any of its associated colleges, which include nearly all in the state, without having to take an entrance examination. This is a great help to all students and to be on this list is a coveted honor. Principal Amerman says, "If we are again put on the University list, it will be an honor to all school officials including the board, who have maintained such a high standard in these times of depression."

The requirements that a school must meet in order to get on this University list include the following: All teachers of academic subjects, such as English, history, science and mathematics, must have at least an A. B. degree. They are expected to teach in their major field, and are not supposed to teach any course in which they have had fewer than 10 college hours credit. The ratio of students and faculty must be around one teacher to every 20 pupils. All teachers must have at least 15 semester hours of professional training in education. All four year schools must employ at least five full time teachers. And the records of all students must be safe kept and in such a manner as to be easily understood.

In this last item it is said, the inspectors are very strict. Principal Amerman has entire charge of the records at the Northville High School.

SOCIETY NOTES

Eddie Bender and Arthur Cook enjoyed an afternoon of entertainment at the Fox theatre in Detroit on Saturday.

Frances Alexander played hostess to a few of her friends Friday evening. The guests were Evelyn Ambler, Robert Lyke, and Ed. Angove.

Catherine Duguid and Donna Ferguson attended a wedding of a friend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vogt in on Orchard Heights, Saturday afternoon.

The Sophomore and Senior girls' teams held a banquet on Wednesday evening. A lovely dinner was partaken of after an exciting game of basketball. Later all departed with a real feeling of good-fellowship.

Margaret Hay and Frances Cousins were guests of Ina and Dennis Goddard of Palmer Woods in Detroit on Saturday. Ina was a former student of Northville high school, and a pleasant time was had in renewing old acquaintances.

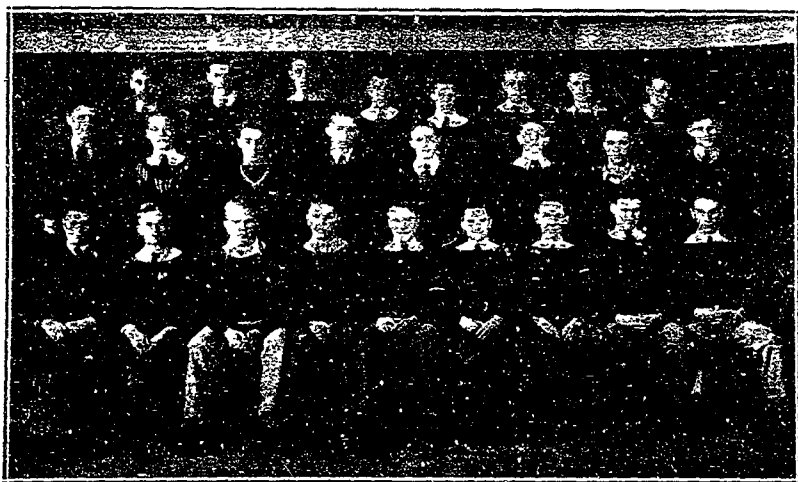

One of the brilliant affairs of the month was the J-Hop at Plymouth, held last Friday evening. The gymnasium was transformed into a beautifully decorated Southern garden. Among those who attended this function, from Northville high school, were Winifred, McCordie, Wilma Rattenbury, Paul Baldwin, and Eleanor Grosvenor.

Thursday evening, March 16, Mr. and Mrs. Lee, accompanied by four music students, Violet Johnson, Kathleen Rick, Mary Louise Boyden, and Isabel Tibble, had a very pleasant time at the Bach Festival held at Peace Auditorium in Ypsilanti. This was quite a rare treat because it was the first concert of its sort to be held in Michigan.

victorious, having won all eight games played.

Mitchell's, Van Valkenburg's and Turnbull's teams were all tied for second place, with four victories and four defeats and Reed's team came last with eight losses.

N-Club Holds Banquet March 30

Though several in the above picture of the 1932 N-club have now graduated, there are many who will along with other new members and their fathers, take part in the second annual N-club banquet, to be held in the high school gymnasium, next Thursday, March 30.

A big feature of the banquet, which is being put on by the mothers of the members of the N-club, will be Harry Newman, All-American quarter back, as speaker. There will also be several other speakers, President Irvin Ware said, besides an orchestra which will be hired soon.

The N-club is an organization formed by Coach Harold L. Ruggles when he came to Northville three years ago. As the coach is leaving within a few days of the banquet, it is expected some sort of ceremony will be performed.

The ladies who have charge of the dinner are Mrs. Archie Kerr, Mrs. Tom McCordie, Mrs. Starr Bray, Mrs. Walter Ware, Mrs. N. C. Schrader, Mrs. Mildred Zimmerman, Mrs. J. Campbell, and Mrs. E. A. Kohler. Other mothers will also be called in to help.

Homemaker's Corner

By MRS. EDITOR

Don't They Care?
 "My children do not seem to love me the way they used to," we heard a mother complain lately.
 "They never seem to come and tell me little things like they used to and I do want to keep close to them now that they are growing up."
 When she was through, an older and wiser woman said quietly, "No real mother allows herself to feel hurt by lack of appreciation or show of affection. The woman who emphasizes these, loves herself more than her child. If there is an apparent lack of understanding between mother and child it is time for the mother to search her own heart. Chances are that she is at fault by being too critical of her children or their friends, too 'stiff' in her own ideas or too serious about things she is interested in. Lumber up and laugh more with your children if you want them chums. Don't work for them so hard that you get tired and cross. Let them do some of the work. You dress up and play with them a bit."
 The woman in the corner sniffled a bit in self-pity but said nothing and the rest of us went on our way to do a bit of thinking too.
 Come to think of it, what children ever did appreciate their mothers while they were children? Haven't we all remembered our mothers with the first real pang of gratitude when we have come to the experiences they had when we were young?
Butterscotch-Rice Pudding

A Northville mother sends in this recipe which her children like:
 1/2 cup rice, 1 1/2 cups evaporated milk, 2 1/2 cups water, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 eggs separated, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla.
 Wash rice; blend milk with water and add 3 cups of mixture to rice and cook in double boiler until rice is tender. Melt butter in sauce pan, add 1 cup brown sugar and stir until it boils. Do not let it burn. Add rest of milk and water stirring until sugar is dissolved. Pour slowly over well beaten egg yolks. Add salt, cook 5 minutes and add vanilla. Pour into buttered baking dish. Cover with meringue made with egg whites and rest of brown sugar. Bake 15 minutes in slow oven.

Worship of Wealth by Americans Has Brought Collapse and Chaos, Bishop Blake Says in Sermon Here

Dr. Howard A. Field Addresses Men
 The Christian church is going to have a big part in the new day that is breaking, the greatest in the history of the world and a challenge to every one. This message driven home in a most human and appealing way, was that given to 60 men Thursday evening, March 16, at the Methodist Fellowship supper by Dr. Howard A. Field, pastor of the Westlawn Methodist church of Detroit.
 A pleasing background for Dr. Field's stirring address was a splendid musical program given by the members of the men's quartet of Westlawn church. Dr. Halmhuber, one of the singers, also was heard in an inspiring talk, given from the angle of the layman.
 Despite the leveling process that has been going on, said the Detroit pastor, and in spite of the tremendous losses that have been taken by thousands and thousands, "we are still rich if we have our family and friends left." Our recognition of values is changing, Dr. Field continued, and more and more we are going to put more emphasis on the human values.
 The visiting minister declared in a sincere and convincing manner that the church is the most vital institution in any community. "On Grand River avenue in Detroit, near my church," he stated, "there are hundreds of stores that are closed but show me one church that is closed." In a personal way he told of going recently to Tecumseh, in Lenawee county, to take part in a program celebrating the 105th anniversary of a church there. "That whole town," went on the speaker, "was not a single business place that was going after 65 years. The sustaining power of the Christian church is the greatest force among men."

An appetizing dinner preceded the program. The committee in charge was: Roy G. Clark, Chas. E. Rogers, Sherill W. Ambler, Orlow G. Owen and R. T. Baldwin.
 The pastor, Rev. Frank N. Miner, acted as chairman of the evening.
Dr. Phelps Closes Week
 As a climax to the week of special "Methodist week" activities came the talk by Dr. Wm. H. Phelps, editor of the Michigan Christian Advocate, Sunday morning.
 With great effort Dr. Phelps made his way over the icy roads from his home in Royal Oak, accompanied by his wife. The service had proceeded up to dangerous nearness to the time for the sermon before Dr. Phelps put in his appearance to the relief of the pastor, Rev. F. N. Miner.
 In a straightforward talk Dr. Phelps developed a thought thrown out by Will Rogers, "I never knew a man I didn't like," and from the biblical text, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."
 Before his hearers passed in review his own neighborhood—the folks who passed his door—little children, an old man, a working woman, a cripple—just a typical neighborhood, yet "a world in itself."
 "Every neighborhood is good," if we look for the interesting personalities in it," said Dr. Phelps. "We are linked together for good or evil, either lifting each other up or dragging down. It is only by serving our neighbor that we can carry out Christ's ideal 'inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these.'"
 "Everyone is homesick part of the time," concluded the speaker. "It will be the regret of your life if you let a neighbor go unhelped."
 In the Sunday school which followed Dr. Phelps spoke to the young people of the high school age.

LETTERS TELL OF LOSS BY THE QUAKE

 Will not write any more as it is difficult for me to write with my left hand and probably you will have a hard time reading this much. Don't worry, everything is alright. Love, Kate.

From Willard J. Dolph
 The following letter was received from Willard J. Dolph, brother of Chas. A. Dolph of Northville, and Mrs. Otis Tewksbury. Mr. Dolph has been for 18 years an instructor at the Polytechnic Institute of Los Angeles.

March 17, 1933
 Dear Folks:
 Doubtless by this time, Lily (Mrs. Otis Tewksbury) has received the letters which I wrote earlier in the week, and you have probably heard from her that we are all safe and sound. At the time I wrote her I expected to send you some newspaper accounts and pictures, but father beat me to it, by saying that what he intended to do. So I shall have to fall back on writing.
 It's just a week tonight when the trouble occurred. We were all going about our usual affairs when suddenly without a word of warning, the house began to rock and break and books and bric-a-brac began to tumble about. I was in the front of the house reading. I jumped and ran towards the kitchen as I reached the dining room, Colleen, who was setting the table, was just picking herself up from the floor. We rushed into the kitchen where we met Viola. We all stood there hanging on to each other and bracing ourselves against the door jamb, listening to the groaning of the roof timbers and wondering if the old house would stand it. Thus all happened quicker than I can tell it, but it seemed to last several minutes. Really, it was only a little more than a minute. As soon as it was over we rushed out of doors to look for Shirley, who had gone around the block on an errand. We thought she would be frightened to death. We were much relieved to see her calmly coming down the street. She got a great kick out of the trees and houses swaying back and forth. It wasn't until later that she began to realize all about it. Gladys was on the street car coming home and did not feel the full effect.
 When we found all were safe, we began to survey the damages. Fortunately our damage was slight. Our chimney was badly shaken, seven bricks having fallen into the fireplace and some more just ready to fall. A vase and a bottle were broken on the back porch and a bottle in the bath room. Nothing else was harmed, although several books were thrown from the book case and landed in the middle of the floor without doing it any harm.
 We realized that some place near by must have been worse shaken than we were, so we turned on the radio and in a short time had the news that Long Beach, about 20 miles southeast had the worst of the shock. We were located on the edge, but plenty close to that. The residence section of Los Angeles escaped with little damage, except to chimneys and some plaster. The smaller business places which were built of brick, suffered more. Part of walls and cornices which were unsupported being shaken down. Many plate glass windows, both in the downtown area and in outlying sections, were broken.
 The schools suffered most severely and after an inspection the board of education closed all schools for a week to give time for thorough inspection. This week will take the place of the usual Easter vacation. We expect to go back next Monday. We tried to get in touch with mother and father Dolph, but were unable to get anyone over the phone, although several got in touch with us. So after a burned meal, we hustled down there. The shocks had been going on at fairly regular intervals and continued to do so for several days, although with decreasing intensity. Some of them were quite sharp and felt as though a big truck had struck the house, others were tremors as if the house was shaken by the passing of a train. The effect of it all is very hard on the nerves. One feels that something is impending, which it is im-

G. C. DILLMAN MAKES REMARKABLE RECORD IN HIGHWAY WORK

The people of Michigan will have an opportunity to vote for State Highway Commissioner at the election to be held Monday, April 3.
 One of the two candidates has gained national recognition for his accomplishments in Highway Engineering. In 1927 he was awarded the honorary degree of Master of Highway Engineering by Michigan State College. He is a member of the Executive Committee of the American Association of State Highway Officials and member of the board of directors of the American Road Builders Association.
 This man is Grover C. Dillman, present state highway commissioner. Upon his graduation as a civil engineer from Michigan State College in 1913 he accepted a position at the bottom of the state highway organization. Since that time Mr. Dillman has held the position of Division Engineer in charge of the Upper Peninsula, Maintenance Engineer for the entire state, Chief Engineer, Deputy Commissioner in 1929 to fill the unexpired term of Frank F. Rogers, who resigned as Commissioner.
 Any man who has proven the ability to work himself up from the lowest to the highest position in an organization comparable in magnitude to the Michigan State Highway Department certainly deserves our recognition and support.
 We know of no other man in the entire State of Michigan who is better qualified by his experience and past record to serve the people of Michigan as State Highway Commissioner than Grover C. Dillman.
 Mr. Dillman has not only given the State a good honest and efficient administration but has been a leading factor in developing one of the finest highway systems in the country.
 During the past two years, thousands of unemployed men have been given work under a work relief program directed by him.
 Every man and woman voter in this State should welcome the opportunity to cast their vote for a man who is so well qualified to hold the office of State Highway Commissioner as Grover C. Dillman, republican candidate.

BRINGING BACK BEER MEANS THE SALOON, SAY DRY WORKERS

The following presents the views of Michigan dry leaders in asking support for their 21 delegates to the state repeal convention to be held April 10.
 The situation in Michigan has changed since the people voted against prohibition last fall. Special emphasis was then made against the return of the saloon. Congress in proposing the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment refused to include a provision safeguarding the country against the saloon but left the way open for its return. According to recent newspaper reports the law drafting committee of Governor Clegg's Advisory Liquor Control Commission has agreed that the following provisions shall be incorporated in the liquor control law which is to be presented to the legislature in harmony with the wet amendment adopted last fall:
 That beer is a food and should be available for public consumption in hotels and restaurants with meals.
 That if it is available to classes who can afford it are accustomed to get in public places it should also be available to the working classes in public taverns, under proper supervision and license.
 That malt must be taxed at its source if bootleg beer is to be eliminated.
 That the right of the private citizen to brew beer for his own consumption in his home cannot be abrogated.
 That local option should be vouchsafed the 83 counties permitting them any privileges of the liquor act to bar sale entirely according to the majority sentiment of the population.
 That counties which choose to remain "bone dry" should not be permitted to interfere with transportation of beer, saving the thirsty citizens of such counties the right to import beer to their homes and drink it.
 It will be seen by the above that the only difference between the old-fashioned saloon and what is here proposed is that under the proposed law it shall be called a "tavern" instead of a saloon. The liquor traffic cannot be successfully conducted without the retail sale of liquor in public drinking places. Campaign pledges against the saloon are ignored when liquor legislation is enacted. Repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment not only makes possible but it makes certain the return of the saloon.

Body of Drowned Girl Located by Quicksilver

London.—The ancient belief of a lost child with quicksilver is placed in a river or canal it will stop over the spot where the body of a drowned person lies has been tested with dramatic success at Bedford, England. A girl named Edith Wright, aged fifteen, of Bedford, disappeared. Later her purse was found on the bank of a canal, but dragging of the water failed to reveal her body. An "uncle," remembering that "ancient superstition" put a quantity of quicksilver in a loaf of bread and, accompanied by police, threw it into the water. At the spot where it came to rest near a bridge the girl's body was located and dragged ashore.

U. S. Names Are Added to British Who's Who

London.—Several new American names were listed in the 1933 edition of the British Who's Who, published recently.
 Among those included were Clarence Darrow, attorney; DuBois Heyward, novelist; Rockwell Kent, artist; Anne Parrish, novelist; Carl Laemmle, motion picture producer, and Phyllis Bottome, novelist.
DID YOU NOTICE
 (From the Grange and Black) How playful Junior Dundas is? Must be love.
 The forlorn look on a certain couple's faces? Another romance shattered.
 How busy Wilma is lately? Howard Latta, Paul Baldwin and Junior Dundas? Some more "Drifters?"
 How busy the Student Council is? They're gonna have a dance.
 Doris Sears far away look? What's the matter Doris?
 Richard and Warner wearing bright red ties? Some class.
 Did you know that we have Royal blood in our school? Ask Ethel.
 How popular "Ernstine" is?

EVERED V. JOLLIFFE DRY CANDIDATE FOR NORTHVILLE AREA

Dry candidates from Wayne county for election to the state convention on the Eighteenth Amendment met at the Hotel Statler Monday night to plan their campaign. Among these candidates are a large number of outstanding Detroit leaders. Among them is Dr. M. S. Rice, pastor of Metropolitan M. E. church; Dr. H. C. Gleiss, pastor of the First Baptist church; Henry Long, prominent business man; Ben Marl, Mrs. Grace Neils Fletcher; Arthur T. Tull, head of Detroit Business Institute and many others.
 The following facts concerning the present situation were brought out, first, that it is now proposed to bring back the saloon, thousands voted wet last November with the assurance that the saloon would never come back, and these will now vote dry because the American people are solidly against the saloon. The second thing is that by act of congress beer is to be sold to minors without restriction. Under proposed legislation transportation into dry territory is unrestricted.
 The dry delegate in this district is Evered V. Joliffe of Plymouth. The vote will be taken April third and the convention will meet April tenth.
