MAIRS WINS OVER RIVALS IN NOVI VOTE

Bernhardt and Brooks Lose in Race for Highway Commissioner

William Mairs was the winner in a three-cornered race for highway commissioner which featured the election in Novi township Monday. Mr. Mairs, the regular nominee at the republican caucus, had 289 votes out of a total of 624 cast. Henry Bernhardt, candidate on stickers, was given 160 votes to 152 for Ford S. Brooks, the democratic nominee.

The vote in favor of repeal of the 18th amendment carried by more than three to one. Clarence Seery, the wet nominee to the state convention had 460 votes to 141 for Mrs. Sadie Patten, the dry candidate.

The contest for highway commissioner was the only one in the township election. Charles W. Hamilton, veteran supervisor, led the ticket with 530 votes, followed closely by Earl S. Banks for years the clerk, who had 508. George R. Simmons, running for his second term as treasurer, polled 501 votes. Scott A. Lovell, was named justice of the peace for the full term by a count of 478 and Albert I. Hill for the same office. To fill vacancy, had the same vote. Frank Martin, for the board of review, had 490 votes.

By a count of 625 to 235 the voters discarded the pathmaster system of caring for township highways. The first overseer of highways, to assist the highway commissioner, will be named by the township board this week. It is expected there were 26 districts in the old pathmaster system.

BOY SCOUT BENEFIT TO BE ON APRIL 12

On Wednesday evening, April 12, a Boy Scout benefit show will be put on in the high school auditorium, the entire performance to be played by local men, women, boys and girls. The show will consist of six acts of vaudeville and a one act comedy. The price is 15 cents.

The performance will begin with "The Original Footwarmer Orchestra," and will be followed by a tap dance by Tom McLoughlin and Ida Altman. Next will come a selection by the Scout Drum and Bugle corps.

Ad Schwenger will then give his own version of an interpretative dance, as taught by the Red Shaver and Ruth St. Denis school of dancing, which says Scout officials will be the first to give to the community.

A humorous skit by Robert Yerkes and Orlow G. Owen, "The Vaudeville Act," will be concluded with several selections by the Dribblers, well known vocal trio, composed of the Misses Gertrude Deal, Eleanor Grosvenor, and Florine Johnson.

The one act play which will come next, ending up the evening, is entitled "What Love Can Do." The story concerns Billy Gale, a famous explorer, played by Howard Letta, who has his friend, Tommy Dennis, a writer portrayed by Pierre Keiyou, protect him from all his bad names. Dr. Theodore Gale, Billy's bachelor uncle and a "died in the wool" woman hater, acted by Harold White, will stop his nephew's allowance if he becomes engaged. After Billy returns from the wilds of Sopoloe, a country in the Orient, the king sends him "another wife," Mirra, played by Margaret Hay. Her lover, the villainous oriental killer, Spraghet, played by Warner Neal, follows her and tries to murder as many people as possible.

Then, one after the other, Billy's former sweethearts come on the scene: Louise, played by Gertrude Deal; Elsie, taken by Florence Johnson; and Ruth, Tecla Owen. Following these "ex-engaged" to Billy, girls, Mary, the hero's "present engaged" enters. Tommy temporarily gets rid of the girls for a time, but "Uncle Ted" finally finds them. In addition to all other complications, the villainous Spraghet comes for his Mirra. Scout officials would say nothing as to the climax and conclusion of this comedy, but chose to leave all in suspense.

The money made by the show, it was said, will go toward the improvement of the Scout building and for the Drum and Bugle corps. Scoutmaster Owen said he expected a large crowd, "due to the unusually small admission charge of 15 cents." Tickets for the event are being sold by all Northville Scouts.

LEGIONNAIRES HEAR NATIONAL COMMANDER

Louis Johnston, national commander of the American Legion, spoke at the Cass Technical high school on Tuesday night, and attending the meet were 50 members of the Lloyd H. Green Post 147 of Northville, and the Myron H. Beals Post 32 of Plymouth. Representatives of the Northville-Plymouth posts acted as guard of honor for Commander Johnston.

In his speech Commander Johnston attacked the activities of Communists, and pledged the loyal support of the American Legion to President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

A parade of 3,000 Legionnaires marched downtown, accompanied by the drum and bugle corps, and then returned to the high school.

VILLAGE CUTS ITS BUDGET OVER $8,000

Expenses for 1933-34 Are Placed at $46,700 By Commission

A cut of $8,300 in the 1933-34 village budget as approved by the commissioners Tuesday evening indicated that the "pruning knife" of economy had dug deeply into employee salaries and other expenditures.

Last year's budget totaled $55,000 and the proposed list of expenses for the ensuing year amounts to $46,700. The proposed budget will be on view at the village hall tonight, Monday evening, April 24, for explanation and comment by the taxpayers, states Frederick Hedge, village clerk. At the meeting on the twenty-fourth, the council will vote on acceptance of the budget and it will be adhered to for the year.

The savings, says Dr. J. W. Snow, president, have been effected in salaries of a cut of approximately 20 per cent having been passed. In addition, through renewal negotiations and the fact that no accidents have occurred during the year, through practical elimination of the monthly bill of $100 for power at the Fairbrook pump, savings on township light bill, and through the trading in of Northville bonds for bonds of other communities which this village has held.

To fill the unexpired term of commissioner left vacant by the resignation of Ross B. Dusenbury, John W. Perkins was appointed by the commissioners and held the post for the first time Tuesday evening.

Reports by the village clerk, Fred Hedge, by the chief of police, Wm. Sanford, street commissioner, Earl Montgomery, and health officer, Dr. William H. Johnson, were received by the commission.

The report which consisted of the audit of the village books for the past year. The report is published in this week's issue of The Record.

Fred E. Vanatta and Edwin Byron were appointed to the village board of review, to take the places of Harry German, Sr., and Ray Baker.

President Snow indicated that with regard to village salaries, the employees would be given 25% of their salaries in scrip until the banks in which a considerable amount of village money is held, passed an additional dividend.

The next meeting will be held on Monday evening, April 17.

WETS WIN OVERWHELMINGLY

The wets won decisively at the polls last Monday when they swamped the dries in a three to one victory at Northville, Salem and Novi. The Plymouth dries, however, showed more fight, the vote in that city resulting in a two to one vote for repeal.

The issue was the election of delegates to vote on the repeal of the eighteenth amendment, in convention at Lansing on Monday, April 10.

Elton R. Eaton, publisher of the Plymouth Mail, was the delegate chosen for the Northville-Plymouth district, having won over the dry delegate, Evered Jolliffe.

In Northville the vote polled for the wets was 901 and the dries, 351. In Novi township the wets walked away with the vote, 460 for repeal and but 141 against. In Salem township the wets led 173 to 86.

The Plymouth city vote showed 856 for and 479 against repeal, while the Plymouth township results were 145 for and 68 against repeal.

PLYMOUTH CHOOSES OLIVER GOLDSMITH ON CITY COMMISSION

The many Northville friends of Oliver Goldsmith of Plymouth will be glad to hear that he was named one of the five commissioners of our neighboring city at the election Monday.

Mr. Goldsmith is very well known here for his invaluable aid in the establishment of the Depositors State bank. For many months he served as a member of the depositors' committee and worked night and day in making it possible for Northville to have its re-organized bank. With his energy, enthusiasm and ability he should prove to be a valuable member of Plymouth's city commission.

While serving as a member of the depositors committee, Mr. Goldsmith was often called upon by the state banking department for suggestions. His unflinching determination was one of the big factors in the final success of the re-organization plan.

One of Mr. Goldsmith's hobbies is the wearing of a flower in his coat lapel—in the winter time as well as summer.

Three Speakers at Rotary Club—Predict that the Roosevelt Plan of Employment Will Do Much Good

Three members of the Northville Rotary club gave the program at the Tuesday meeting and each advocated that the United States "go off" the gold standard. "Our money is too high," he continued. "Our gold is not doing us any good. Leave the man who came out of Death Valley with his pockets full of gold and lay down to die because he lacked water, we are finding our gold is making us poor."

Dr. Handorf characterized the plan of President Roosevelt to put the unemployed to work in government camps as "one of the greatest benefits of a century." The protest of organized labor against the plan he went on to say is only a formal protest and has no great significance. The discipline of these camps, he stated would be very valuable to the men in them. "I am an anti-militarist," said the speaker, "but one of the benefits of the Prussian system was that every young man in his two years in the army received a strict discipline that fitted him for the battle of life. Our young men today stand in need of some such discipline."

For the second time in succession the club had a 100 per cent attendance. In the attendance contest between "The Hornets," captained by Harry B. Clark and "The Wasps," led by Arthur R. Marz, the former are out in front by a small margin. President Percy Angove was in charge of the meeting.

TOWNSHIP TO USE $10,500 COMING YEAR

Economic Situation Causes $1,000 Increase in the Poor Fund

A budget of $10,500 for the coming year was named for Northville township at the township meeting held in the library on Monday afternoon, April 13. Supervisor Willard E. Ely presided over the meeting.

It was voted that $2,250 be raised as a contingent fund for the coming year; $4,500 was voted for the poor fund; $1,000 for the Ladies' Library, and $750 was voted for road repair.

Supervisor Ely gave a brief resume of the township business of the past year.

Last year the poor fund called for $3,500 but widespread unemployment made the larger amount necessary this year. The road fund last year was $1,000, which was a reduction of $200 over the year 1931.

Mr. McDonald, who is a man about fifty years of age, had begun his fourth day at the Red Rose farm.

Ely Leads 11 Republicans to Victory

Northville Township Votes Wet By Large Majority

Republicans here came out strongly to the support of their ticket at the election Monday by placing in office 11 out of the 12 available candidates. A majority of 184 votes retained republican Willard A. Ely as township supervisor.

The "solitary" democrat to win was Harry Blake, who beat out Joe Beck, incumbent justice of peace for the long-term.

Heading his ticket for the sixth consecutive year, Mr. Ely defeated Dr. E. B. Cavell, democratic nominee and gained the largest majority of any supervisor elected in Wayne county who was shown opposition. A large number of split tickets gave Dr. Cavell his strong support.

In the closest race of the township election here, Elmer L. Smith, was re-elected to the office of clerk after running a close race with Miss Ruth Gillis, democratic candidate. Mrs. Jennie Cousins, candidate for treasurer, an office which she has previously held, overwhelmingly defeated Mrs. Catherine Johnston. E. A. Kohler held a comfortable margin all the way through over his democratic opponent, Lester D. Stage, for the post of highway commissioner.

Wellington Roberts, republican incumbent retained office as justice of peace, but his colleague, Joe Blake, was beaten by the democratic nominee, Harry Blake, for the long term.

Guy Martin beat out Charles Knight for highway overseer and G. L. Duhany was retained as member of the board of review over E. C. Bryan. The republican constables elected were Frank Forgan, James Black, The Tibbits and E. B. Perrin.

Northville township registered strong wet sentiment, 62 per cent of the voters casting their ballots for repeal of the eighteenth amendment and for ratification of the twenty-first amendment making the day of beer-legal. The vote was 901 for repeal, the delegate being Elton R. Eaton and 351 against repeal, the city delegate being Evered Jolliffe. Both delegates are from Plymouth.

In the state ticket Northville township gave each republican candidate a comfortable majority.

The total vote cast in Northville township, officials state, was extremely heavy with 573 ballots in the second precinct and 764 ballots being registered in the first precinct for a total of 1,337.

A GOOD HARD FIGHT

We like the fine feeling shown in the political campaign over our Northville township offices. It was hard fought—but clearly fought. For example, a good democratic candidate was over at republican headquarters Friday morning passing the time of day just as though he were running on the same ticket.

Now that election is over we can be glad that no great amount of "hard feeling" was stirred up. We have too much to do in the year ahead to get divided on politics. If we'll forget our little political differences and "jazz ahead" on community projects we can do great things before the next township election rolls around.

STRAIGHT THINKING

Did you ever stop to ask: "How many people think straight?" That is, how many can take a situation, analyze it and give sensible conclusions?

One has only to listen to comments on radio speeches to find out that there is a lot of half-way and careless thinking. Some speaker makes a dramatic and appealing speech, quoting few facts and figures—but using plenty of rhetoric and stirring up the emotions, and a lot of his hearers will rush out to quote him as the final authority on about everything.

The use of half-truths has always had a strange way of fooling people and there has been plenty of example of this in the past few weeks of hectic up-set in our economic life. The straight thinker is not fooled by this but a lot of others are. The result is that there is a lot of going around in circles. Luckily the straight-thinker sooner or later is allowed to work things out.

CALIFORNIA PROTESTS

California—especially Southern California—is protesting that the damage done by the recent earthquake has been grossly exaggerated by the eastern papers. Leaders of the Los Angeles area are said to be sending propaganda experts east to prove that the loss is not as bad as reported.

After a year spent in California and the rest in Michigan, we are perfectly willing to admit that California protestors might be right.

The earthquakes are a natural disaster. They do great damage. But the automobile does a thousand times more. As one paper points out, the deaths from automobile casualties on a pleasant Sunday afternoon are greater than those suffered in the quake zone.

Judging by the damage of earthquakes to date, we must admit that our Michigan cyclones—and more especially those in the South and Southwest—bring about as much terror and fear as an earthquake. And certainly death by lightning in Michigan is just as fatal as death by a brick, shaken down by a quake, falling on one's head in California.

To be fair to California, their earthquakes come only at long intervals. Just like the banking disaster, it may be another 50 years before they have another.

If fate should decree that we spend our sunset days in California, we think that we shall sleep as soundly amid the fear of earthquakes as we do through the fear of our Michigan cyclones and lightning.

WE MUST HAVE BANKS

Our banking system is being rebuilt—there is no doubt of that. Maybe it won't be "bigger and better" but it certainly is going to be safer. We are to imitate our brothers over in Canada where bank failures are unknown, due to the fact that the banks are practically run by the government.

The past few weeks of chaos in the banking business in Detroit and the state of Michigan have shown how utterly dependent on the service of banks we are. So close are the contacts of this little community of Northville with Detroit, that we have no doubt at all that our citizens have lost hundreds and perhaps thousands of dollars, directly and indirectly, because of the crashes in Detroit. Northville is vitally interested in the return of a safe banking system in our state.

bank" are finding that if they don't put money in the bank we won't any of us be doing very much business and without business going on all around us, there will be no prosperity. Yes, we must have banks—but we must have our banks safe. And, profiting from the lessons of the banking disasters of the nation that have been going on for the past two or three years, we shall re-build a safe banking structure.

Northville can be proud of the fact that it weathered the economic breakdown better than many places and that our new re-built bank is now ready to face the new era—that is certain to be just ahead. It looked pretty hard when we were going through our pioneering of closed banks but it might have been a lot worse had it come later. Better banking days are ahead.

WANDERING THOUGHTS

Planted your sweet peas?

Northville has had its coal thieves. And now someone has been stealing wood from the village pile. We have often wondered if any thief really enjoyed the stuff he stole.

Editor-State Representative Vernon J. Brown of Mason is over six feet tall and smokes big, long, black cigars. Read his comment on co-ed smoking at the University of Michigan, quoted in another column.

The University of Michigan is said to be due for a cut of one million dollars in its budget. This is said to be less than a fen per cent cut. Well that is much less than the rest of us have taken. We can still be educated on 90 per cent of the former costs. Wouldn't the average Michigan school be highly pleased if its budget had been cut only 10 per cent?

We agree with Bishop Gallagher that it is most unfortunate that Father Chas. E. Coughlin made his speech attacking banks and bankers, on Sunday, March 26. Our impressions after reading the whole speech Monday morning were that it was a bitter, unfair and very vitriolic speech for one in his position. To be sure that we were right in our own mind, we sat down again at noon and read the whole speech through very carefully. At this second reading we were even more impressed with the fact that the address was far more full of insinuation, innuendo and suggestion of wrong doing than it was of real facts and concrete cases. It is one thing to make a bitter tirade and another thing, to have back of you enough fact and truth to justify making such a tirade. Of course, we shall grant that Fr. Coughlin may have some truth in his address but we seriously question his right to make such sweeping, bitter and malice-stirring statements as he did. He who poisons the public mind has something for which to answer. To brand all bankers as thieves because a very few are is not just. What Detroit and Michigan need right now is building of confidence and a straight-forward facing of all the facts in a judicial and fair manner. Time will show that Fr. Coughlin's bitter attack was far too vituperative. Time will also take care of the counter charges of the Detroit Free Press which state that the speaker himself "had played" the stock market and lost thousands of dollars.

(Chet Howell in Chesaming Argus) Dr. Preston Bradley, noted Chicago speaker, said at a conservation meeting in Kalamazoo that the morals of the duck are better than ours. He pointed to the fact that the duck mates and stays married. One out of seven divorces go wrong.

DETROIT'S WAY OF PASSING THE BUCK

(Joe Haas in Holly Herald) We don't know anything about one Maynard D. Smith of Detroit, except that he has a lot of nerve and quite evidently thinks that people out in the state are as gullible as his city folks. He is seeking the aid of state papers in a "back to the farm" movement that looks like an extension of Detroit's present system of dumping its indigents on the rural communities, even furnishing the transportation to some deserted farm where a real farmer has starved out, and there is absolutely no hope for a city bred yokel who doesn't know which end of a cow to manure at milking time.

"DE SWEETES' MUSICK"

(S. E. Marshall in Clinton County Republican News) There was a lot of pounding going on in the Downey House in Lansing one day last week. A newspaperman asked one of the porters what the racket was all about. "Bess, dat's the sweets' music mah ears has heard for years. Dey a puttin' the bar back in the grill room." Hotel men are looking forward to a return of the bar room which in the old days was the most profitable branch of the hotel business. We are wondering just how long after it comes back—if it does come back—that the old-fashioned barkeep will be up to his old tricks. Those sponsoring the Wet cause and those who expect to engage in it should not be so shortsighted as to commit the same errors that put them out of business 13 years ago

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT AGAIN

(Geo. R. Averill in The Birmingham Eccentric)

"What have the opponents of capital punishment done to stop murder in this state?" asks Harry Nimmo, in Detroit Saturday Night. Well, as one humble spear-carrier in the army of anti-capital-punishers, we've tried to rouse an apathetic citizenry to the necessity of electing better law-enforcing officers thus insuring swift and more certain justice; we favor stricter vigilance in the sale of fire arms; we try to urge parents into being better parents, thus setting good examples for their sons and daughters; and we've done, from time to time numerous other public and private acts that we felt are much better than encouraging a State to personify hatred and vindictiveness to the point of legally killing people. What have you done, Mr. Nimmo?

LET THIS BE THE LESSON—

(Time-Herald, Port Huron) There is one lesson the public ought to get out of this banking holiday—that without a bank there can be no community activity, no real business, no employment or anything else worth while. The bank is an absolute necessity to the life of every city of any size. Without a bank we would revert to the old days of barter. Without a bank every factory and institution would have to be its own banker. Every individual would have to hide his money in tin cans and under beds. Without a bank it would be absolutely impossible to keep industry going. The lesson we should get out of this is to keep these things in mind when banks open again. It is a lesson for all of us, from the humblest working man to the capitalist and the banker himself. It ought to be plain now that when some demagogue gets up and rants about how government is helping the banks and the bankers, but is not helping the people, he is a plain unmitigated and conscienceless liar unworthy of either confidence or respect. This applies whether he wears the garb of politician, priest, or pulpit orator.

The banks must be maintained in sound condition, not for the benefit of the bankers, but for the benefit of the people. When you hear someone denouncing bank and bankers, just remember he is aiming at you and your property and your job. Let this be the lesson of this banking holiday.

NAMES SHOULD BE CHANGED

(Vernon J. Brown in The Ingham County News, Mason)

Betsy Barbour has finally capitulated and now the girls domiciled at the University of Michigan dormitory may smoke in peace. Girls housed within the "cistered walls" of Martha Cook and Helen Newberry dormitories have been allowed to smoke for several years.

Well, let 'em smoke. There's nothing we can do about it. But the names of the dormitories should be changed. Such simple and forthright names as Betsy Barbour, Martha Cook and Helen Newberry seem out of place above the entrances to smoking dens of cigaret-smoking co-eds at our state-supported university. Betsy Barbour should give way to "Boxer Annie. The name of Martha Cook should be changed to "Black Meg. Some such name as the Blue Front should grace the building now known as Helen Newberry.

We dislike to see a girl or woman puffing a cigaret. There are so many other and better ways by which they can assert and use their emancipation. But we realize we are living in a new day and that if a woman wants to worship Lady Nicotine, that's her privilege. However, we should expect a little more of those who are being given an education at so great a cost to the state. To us, and we confess to being old-fashioned, the names of Martha Cook, Helen Newberry and Betsy Barbour have too honest a ring to be used in connection with such non-essentials as smoking cigarets. If the co-eds would turn to snuff or would light up pipes, the names of the dormitories might well remain as they are but such feeble efforts at haughtiness as smoking cigarets seem just a little dishonest beneath such stalwart English names as Martha Cook, Helen Newberry and Betsy Barbour.

SPEND MILLIONS TO ADORN WASHINGTON

Work Now Progressing on 13 Buildings in Capital.

Washington—Out of $145,000,000 set aside by congress for public buildings construction in all the states this fiscal year, the sum of $30,000,000 will be expended within the confines of the National Capital, official government figures disclose.

At the present moment work is progressing on 13 buildings located in the city of Washington. Most of them are in the triangular development of public buildings located within a mile of the Capitol building.

One of the buildings, that for the Department of Agriculture, will cost the taxpayers $12,000,000 when completed. The cost of four others will exceed $10,000,000 each. Three others will set the nation back $5,000,000 or more. The total cost of all those under construction and under contract is estimated at $80,000,000. This figure compares with $384,000,000, the aggregate estimated cost of all buildings now under contract or under construction throughout the country, including those in the district.

Huge Commerce Building.
A building, the largest of its kind in the world, was completed for the Commerce department last year at a cost of $17,000,000.

The labor department estimate of its 1932 needs are $13,393,000. That of the Interstate Commerce commission is $9,661,000. The building being erected to handle the work of these two groups, the latter one now under attack in many quarters as an agency of government that might well be abolished, will cost $11,250,000. Its cornerstone recently was laid. The post office establishment, still operating in a stately building, is to be housed in a new building costing $10,300,000. The old one is to be razed.

The centerpiece of the new gigantic public works now under construction in the district is the so-called triangle, literally in the heart of the city. With this goes the collateral development of the Mall, which borders the triangle on the south. The triangle development includes all the land between Pennsylvania avenue, Third street, Michigan avenue and Fifteenth street N. W.

The ground contains 70 acres, and beginning with an apex where Third street crosses Pennsylvania avenue it gradually widens to 5,000 feet at Fifteenth street, 18 blocks to the southward. All this development borders Pennsylvania avenue, the historic highway connecting the treasury and the White House with the Capitol.

Gazing Into Future.
Washington as it will be when the government has completed its work, is thus described by Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Perry K. Heath.

"In the years to come the occupants of the modest fluster or the great national parades will start from the plaza at the Capitol, flanked as it will be by the Supreme court building, the Library of Congress, the enlarged senate office building and the house office building with its new annex—sweeping down a new Pennsylvania avenue past one of the most beautiful architectural commissions to be found anywhere in the world, including the massive structures that at present house the archives, the Department of Justice, the internal revenue bureau, the Post Office department, the great plaza with its Department of Commerce, Labor department and Department of Interstate Commerce, past the old treasury, the White House and monument, the rehabilitated State department, and on to the Lincoln Memorial bridge across the Potomac and to Arlington and the tomb of the Unknown Soldier."

"The Mall, dominated by the Capitol at its head, flanked by magnificent governmental groups, cut by three-shaded drives, with gardens, fountains, reflecting pools, cascades and terraces, will form a picture that would be enshrined in the heart of every justly proud American, the symbol of America—the Capital of our country."

She's Mother of 26
Plancken, Germany.—Mrs. Katie Haezel is the type of woman esteemed by governments that stand at the specter of declining birthrates. She has had 23 children, all living today. What's more her eldest daughter, age twenty-nine, has had ten babies, and her second daughter has had seven.

Learns to Fly by Selling Own Blood
Chattanooga, Tenn.—C. H. Franklin, who sold a pint of his own blood five years ago for his first flying lesson, finally has realized his ambition and has taken his first solo flight.

When a pre-medical student at the University of Alabama Franklin sold a pint of his blood for $25 for a blood transfusion, and spent the money for his first flying lesson.

He has been taking flying lessons at various times since then.

Lights of NEW YORK

Before the recent Presidential election there were more corrugated brows on Broadway than there were movie patrons or auction sales of cut-glass diamond rings and brass watches.

I just wonder whether this broad land of ours knows how many times it was saved during the campaign. There was scarcely a citizen who was not willing to rescue the United States, and the North American continent in general, if it took his last vocal chord.

It probably still is going on, but it's different. Nobody is worrying about the country any more. Each voter figures that he has done his patriotic duty, and if there is any further worrying to be done concerning our fair land, let Franklin Roosevelt do it.

If you were asked to name the most beautiful woman in New York, you would have a hard job. New York is full of beautiful women, and beauty, as they say, is in the eye of the beholder.

A Manhattan business man, who has started home in his car. The streets at that hour were empty, and he did pretty well. He was outside the city and his house has a driveway. He made the turn into that nobly, but when he had circled around to the back, he had his car stuck in a hole.

In a moment it became evident that it was a good thing he hadn't slept any longer, for there, close ahead of him, in the glare of his headlights was another car. It seemed plain that he was in traffic. He waited patiently for the car ahead to move, but there it stayed. Finally he blew his horn. Still the car didn't move.

Frank Mason recently discovered something concerning a Japanese who works for him that he didn't know before. He wanted to wear a blue suit, but found there was a button off the coat. He asked the Japanese whether he knew how to sew on a button and could do it in a hurry.

Theft of 1,000 Loaves of Bread Stumps Police Nashville, Tenn.—Police confess that they are slightly mystified as to what Frank Green, twenty-two, a former bakery employee, wanted with 1,000 loaves of bread. A bakery truck, which he is charged with stealing, was found wrecked on a highway seven miles out of town. No trace of the bread has been found.

Capt. Ashley McKinley has been telling me of the downward voyage made by the Eleanor Bolling, one of the ships of the Byrd expedition, from New York to Little America. It seems that the entire crew—with the exception of Captain Brown, the first mate and the chief engineer, were strictly volunteers.

The ship got out of New York harbor all right, with the captain on the bridge, the first mate at the wheel, and the chief engineer dashing back and forth between the engine room and the stokehold. One of the volunteer stokers had once had some experience with an oil furnace in a suburban cottage, but the other had never done more than turn a radiator on and off.

This had a bearing on something which happened off Atlantic City. There a revenue cutter took the ship for a run, in spite of the fact that the "Byrd" expedition printed plainly in various places, and signed her to stop. Captain Brown was highly indignant and whether he would have stopped or not is somewhat of a question, but some one pulled the whistle cord.

Naturally, the mate couldn't spend all his time at the wheel and when he was relieved by the first volunteer, strange things happened. The ship began to do a sort of combination lunge and barrel roll. Uttering loud supplications to all the gods of mariners, the captain reeled his way on deck. When he spoke feelings to the helmsman, the latter was both astounded and hurt.

Meanwhile, the first volunteer stokers had given their best and their all. They were tenderly laid in bunk and Captain McKinley and the doctor took over the steering job. They stoked a large part of the way to New Zealand. They did well and would have done better, if the furnace doors had not formed the habit of swinging shut just when they wanted to throw coal in.

Entering the New Zealand harbor, Capt. McKinley had been promoted to the wheel. If the ship had been in airplane or a dirigible, he would have been an expert pilot. As it was a small misunderstanding arose between him and the captain. "Port" ordered the latter, meaning apparently that he wanted the wheel turned to port. But Ashley McKinley naturally thought he was referring to the ship. The captain was so surprised at the result of his command that the ship, like a cat chasing its tail, made practically a complete circle to port before he recovered his power of speech.

NICARAGUA HAS NEW RAIL-LINE TO SEA

Outlet for Products From Mountainous Interior.

Washington.—With the opening of a 17-mile railroad between San Jorge on Lake Nicaragua, and San Juan del Sur, on the Pacific ocean, Nicaragua now has a second rail outlet to the sea. For coffee, cattle, sugar, and other products raised in its mountainous interior.

The new line pierces the Continental divide at one of its lowest points and cuts diagonally across the route of the proposed Nicaraguan canal, says a bulletin from the National Geographic society. "At its narrowest point this strip of land between Lake Nicaragua and the Pacific is about 14 miles wide. The railway parallels the route of a stage-coach line that in 1849 carried hundreds of prospectors to the California gold rush.

Nicaragua also has come into world news lately with the gradual withdrawal of forces of American marines, who have been maintaining law and order in the former revolution-torn nation.

Nicaragua is the largest of the Central American republics, and many acclaim it the most beautiful. It has vast forests of precious woods, untold resources of valuable minerals, and soil so fertile that it has been said "if you tickle the ground with a hoe it smiles back with a grain."

After a century of almost perpetual civil war Nicaragua has settled down to comparative peace in recent years, and already has begun to reap the dividends in amazing progress toward prosperity. Has Lacked Atlantic Doorway. The country has about the same area as New York state, but its total population is only a little larger than that of Pittsburgh, Pa. It has two mountain ridges which nearly enclose the Great Lakes of Central America, Lake Nicaragua and Managua. There is also another railway line connecting its three chief cities—Managua, the capital, Leon and Granada—with the Pacific port of Corinto.

A glance at a Central America map tells the story of Nicaragua's backwardness in bygone days. Costa Rica, to the south, and Honduras, to the north, are accessible from the Atlantic ocean, all of Nicaragua's important cities are near the Pacific, although they stand on the Atlantic watershed. At the foot of the mountains lie her lakes, but she presents to the Caribbean a very unprepossessing back yard with the world's worst real estate designation, the Mosquito coast.

Today, with Los Angeles, San Francisco and Seattle to tap her markets, Nicaragua's land frontage is a blessing. But yesterday when the Atlantic ports of North America and Europe were doing the world's shipping, she was severely handicapped.

Named for Indians. "Curiously, too, her Mosquito coast was appropriately named by error. The appellation was not intended for the insect, which abounds there, but is a corruption of the name of the 6,000 Indians, the Tzuc-koots whose descendants make up most of the population of the region.

The country's northernmost Caribbean headland, Cape Gracias a Dios, is a headline of geography. Columbus explored the Central American coast on his last voyage and, cruising east from Cape Honduras, was compelled to take shelter from a storm at a point where the coast abruptly turns to the south. He named the cape "Thanks to God" and took possession of the country for Spain.

At the foot of Mount Masaya is a lake of that name, and near the lake is the little town of Masaya. Were it not so remote one might suspect the writer of a once popular American song had stolen the cry of the women fruit vendors who drone:

"But Nicaragua also has bananas—she exports between a million and two million dollars worth yearly. Only one other crop nets her more. It is coffee."

MICHIGAN WOMEN GIVEN VAIL MEDAL

TWO TELEPHONE OPERATORS CITED FOR OUTSTANDING ACTS OF PUBLIC SERVICE

Two Michigan telephone women have been awarded the Theodore N. Vail medal in bronze for outstanding acts of public service during 1932. It is announced by Barbara Foraker, president of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company and chairman of the Michigan Committee of Vail Medal Awards. They are Olive Johnson, chief operator of the Elmira Telephone Company, a small company operating at Elmira, near Petoskey, and Mrs. Eleanor Purdy, 746 East Ferry street, Detroit, who was an operator in the employ of the Michigan Bell Company in the exchange at Centerline until she left the service last fall.

Both are cited by the committee for initiative, good judgment and prompt action in an emergency. Miss Johnson was summoned outside help when her village was threatened with fire, and Mrs. Purdy was instrumental in saving the life of a Centerline telephone subscriber who had been overcome by fumes from a heater.

Awards of the medal are made under a fund created thirteen years ago in memory of Theodore N. Vail, formerly president of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company, whose life work was devoted to the development of universal telephone service and who inaugurated into the Bell System many of its best ideas of service.

AP telephone men and women are eligible to receive the Vail medal for the performance of acts of outstanding merit. Since the establishment of the fund 54 Michigan people have been awarded the medal, 49 of them employees of the Michigan Bell Company and five employees of connecting telephone companies.

Miss Martin was aroused by smoke early in the morning of last July 11 and discovered that fire had broken out in two of a group of four large potato warehouses in the center of Elmira, endangering the business section and several residences. She quickly summoned a neighbor who aroused the community's fire brigade. They proceeded to the telephone office, which was in the path of the fire, she discovered that the Michigan Bell Telephone Company's long distance pole line, the town's only avenue of outside communication, was in flames. Reaching the office, she called the Michigan Bell Company's operator at Petoskey before the wires went down, and asked her to send the fire department from three neighboring towns and to notify the state police. Miss Martin then turned her attention to calling local residents for additional help, to fight the flames. The local and outside aid she summoned prevented a wide spread of the flames, confining the fire to the two warehouses and the railroad station.

Mrs. Purdy, while on duty in the Centerline telephone office during the evening of February 4, 1932, handled a call placed to a Detroit number by a hysterical woman, and learned that she was being overcome by gas. The woman's voice ceased suddenly, but the receiver was not replaced. Ascertaining the name and address from the company records, Mrs. Purdy transmitted the information to the Centerline fire department, which arrived in time to resuscitate the unconscious woman.

Letters of commendation for meritorious public service also were authorized by the Michigan committee of award for William Managosa, cableman in the Detroit Construction department. Earl H. Baker, installation foreman, Detroit, Herbert A. Cain, switchboard man, Ironwood, and Mrs. Vera Hadley, plant department, Benton Harbor.

X-Ray Makes It Possible to Read With Eyes Shut Detroit.—If you want to see with your eyes closed or read through the back of your head, you can visit an X-ray specialist and do it. The stunt is not so crazy as it sounds, for it was demonstrated at the American Roentgen Ray society's convention here recently by Dr. A. H. Pirie of Montreal.

Doctor Pirie uses lead letters and pictures in his experiments. These block the light from the X-ray machine, and the shadows of these blocks fall upon the retina of the eye, even with your eyes closed, making the impression.

"The value of this," Doctor Pirie explained, "is that it enables a physician to tell whether or not a cataract operation will be successful. If the retina of the eye is unharmed, the cataract sufferer will be able to see the letters by means of the penetration of the X-ray machine."

Doctor Pirie explained that the same apparatus, placed at the back of the head, will register upon the retina. The letters or images must be placed upside down in the machine because our eyes reverse the images they see.

Obituary

MRS. SARAH EVANS The death of Mrs. Sarah Evans, widow of the late DeCoursey R. Evans, occurred in Brighton Mich., March 11, 1933, at the age of ninety years.

Interment was at Romeo, Mich. When living in Northville the family home was at the corner of Yerkes and Hutton streets, where the greenhouse now is. About twenty years ago they sold this home and have since lived with their daughter, Laura, Mrs. Edwin Taylor, who at one time was an employee of the Northville Record. Besides Mrs. Taylor, she leaves to mourn her loss, two sons and three daughters, Mrs. L. D. Evans and Mrs. Kate Fern of Tacoma, Washington; Mrs. Bertha Raymond, Detroit; Mrs. Lila Garrett, of Los Angeles, California, and J. Walter Evans of Ypsilanti, Mich., who was also an employee of the Record.

Marion August Johnson, Miss Marion A. Johnson passed away Monday afternoon, April 3, just as she was about to leave for a hospital in Detroit. Miss Johnson had been declining health since last September when, after a period of time spent in Grace hospital and a sanatorium in Detroit, she returned to her mother's home on the corner of Center and Cady streets, where she has since been confined almost continuously to her bed. Courageously she hoped to get well and on Monday she suggested the trip to the hospital for further treatment. The Schrader ambulance was called and Miss Johnson visited cheerfully with Ray Casterline as he helped to lift her out into the car.

Before they could start her spirit had left her pain-racked body and she was at rest. Marion Augusta Johnson was born September 23, 1895. Her parents were George and Eliza Johnson, the former preceding her in death ten years ago. A sister, Mrs. Cecil Ebbins of Marquette Beach and a brother, Charles W. whose home is next door to his mother's, survive.

Thirty years ago the Johnson family came to Northville and for the past 18 years have occupied the present home. Marion attended the public school and graduated in the class of 1914. Further study at the Detroit Business University prepared her for years of competent service in the law office of the late C. C. Yerkes, the Northville State Savings Bank, the Northville Laboratories and the Detroit Edison Co. consecutively.

From March, 1928 until her illness last fall Miss Johnson held this last position with the Detroit Edison Co., working with utmost faithfulness and business like ability.

She was a member of the Eastern Star, a former member of the Northville Woman's club and an attendant of the Methodist church. Of a quiet, retiring disposition, Miss Johnson was rather conservative in her choice of friends and those who were included in her circle of intimates found her true and loyal. Her leisure hours she loved to spend in her home. Exquisite needlework was her great pleasure and her appreciation of the beautiful was one of her marked characteristics. Her flower garden was her great pride.

One of the outstanding events of Miss Johnson's life often recalled with pleasure was the trip west to Colorado Springs in company with her good friend, Miss Cecil Elder. The summer cottage at Grass Lake where she worked tirelessly building a lovely vacation home was her beloved refuge for days of rest.

The funeral was held at the home Thursday afternoon with Rev. P. N. Miner officiating. Interment was made at Stony Creek cemetery, Rochester, the former home of her parents.

Novi School News

The epidemic of chicken-pox and measles seem to have been fairly well checked and only one new case has been reported in the last two weeks. Some of those who have been confined are returning to school so that the teachers expect that the attendance will be much improved before the end of the month. Over 10% of the pupils have been absent since the middle of February.

Dorothy Kent and Billy Mansor, secretary and treasurer, of the Student Association are working on an audit of the accounts of the organization. They are being assisted by Irene Gombay, who recently entered the school from Detroit and who has had some work in book-keeping. This is an interesting and practical experience for all concerned.

A review of the penmanship accomplishments of the pupils in the lower grades was undertaken this week. Pupils whose ability shows little improvement and whose writing is below standard will receive special attention. The geometry class made a practical application of the study last week when it surveyed and laid out a tennis court. The boys will prepare the ground for use as soon as the soil dries out.

THIS WEEK

By H. H. WHITE

I was quite interested to read a comment the other day made by that great industrialist, Henry Ford, which said: "The panic was three years ago; we are now in the recovery."

Will we as a nation dance along without thinking only to trip into a greater slough of despond or is it possible that we have learned a great lesson from our long suffering? Have we gained wisdom enough to avoid another pitfall?

I am confident that our immediate need is to thoroughly realize the nearness of prosperity and if we really gain this enlightenment we will find our good times ahead are based on the same old economic philosophy and with this in mind it is just possible that our new prosperity will be short lived.

Our hope lies entirely not in a few leaders blessed with wisdom, intelligence, and forethought, but with the great mass of humans that comprise our United States.

Thus the parents of today's children have a great responsibility and challenge put up to them and let us hope they will not be found wanting.

If a permanent and established achievement is to be gained education is the instrument whereby mass intelligence can be harnessed up to a social level necessary to cope with the new prosperity.

A permanent prosperity can only be realized by an intellectual equality of economic matters that most assuredly will always confront the generations to come and if we want to hand on to posterity any lessons that we have gleaned from our present economic dilemma ignorance must be rooted out.

What is our great need then? I see it we must blend morals with the laws of economics and establish a new science and if I may be so bold as to dare to suggest it, have this new science taught in our educational institutions all up and down the breadth of our land.

It should enter even into the very heartstone of our American life, our homes.

Thus the parents of today's children have a great responsibility and challenge put up to them and let us hope they will not be found wanting.

There are some 500,000 of you, in those cities, villages and townships. We have a lot of things to tell you which are of interest because you are our customers. We might get your attention by circulars delivered at your door, or by radio broadcast. At this time we think the best way to reach you is by successive letters in the newspapers, of which this is the first. This is not a hard luck story. We have money locked up in closed banks and trust companies, just as many of you have. But we are not broke—nor are we grumbling about that.

Woman's Club Hears Mr. Chase On Gardens Friday

"In the quiet of the Garden" was the theme of a very fine talk given by C. M. Chase at the Woman's club Friday afternoon. The party was a larger audience to listen to this timely talk when thoughts are beginning to turn garden-ward.

Mr. Chase's talk was not a scientific treatise on how to grow a garden, but a fatherly intimate talk on the benefits of gardening to the worker. After a hard day's work the speaker says he finds great refreshment and relaxation in digging among his flowers. All the hard work which a garden demands is well repaid, said he, in the lovely blooms which result from good care.

There is nothing more pleasant than to help Nature work her miracles. There must be toil, and hard toil, to produce results, he asserted, and many who go out to the land for a "rest" will come back disappointed.

"Rock gardens are beautiful," he said, "but I like more plants than rocks."

A few selections from "Edgar Guest, among them "A Dime's Worth of Miracles," added a finishing touch to Mr. Chase's talk, which the women heartily appreciated.

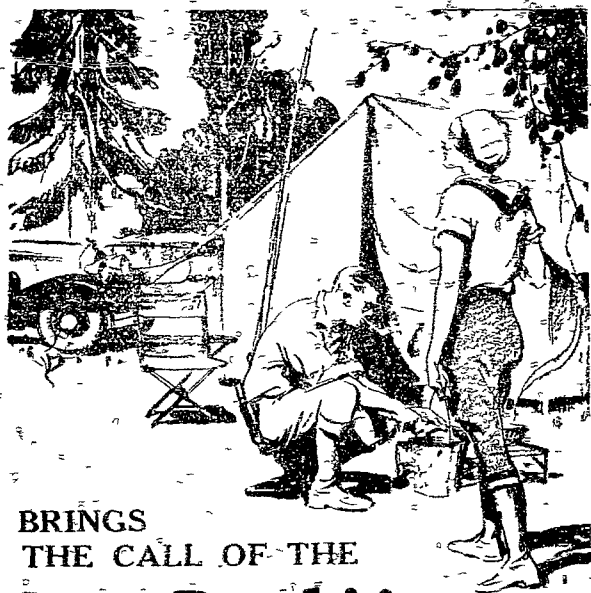

Mr. Wronski of Detroit was introduced to the women. He spoke of a series of operas to be given early in May in Orchestra hall. Many will look forward to hearing Carmen, Robin Hood and Jack-in-the-Bean-Stack.

HUGH R. O'CONNOR

Hugh R. O'Conner died at Eastlawn Sanatorium Thursday morning, April 6, after a losing battle with tuberculosis.

Hugh O'Conner was born in Peekskill, N. Y., Oct. 8, 1899. Here he spent his boyhood years, graduating from the Peekskill high school.

Coming to Northville when a young man he worked for the Ford Motor Company for three years where he made many friends by his quiet, industrious habits and friendly manner.

On April 29 1922, he was married to Miss Florence Taggart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Taggart, and to them one son, Robert Hugh, was born. For a number of years Mr. O'Conner was employed by the Stinson Aircraft Co. while the factory was here in Northville, until compelled by failing health to give up this work. Nine years ago he went as a patient to Eastlawn sanatorium where, after a period of rest and treatment, he apparently recovered.

Three years ago Mr. O'Conner and his family joined Mrs. O'Conner's parents on the large Taggart chicken farm on the Six Mile road and assisted them.

The out-of-door life seemed to be beneficial to Mr. O'Conner until January 28 of this past winter he was again obliged to go to the sanatorium for care, where he passed away yesterday. In the meantime his wife worked faithfully at her employment with the Wayne County Training school. To her and to the 11-year-old son, Robert, the sympathy of the community goes out in their bereavement.

Besides the widow and son, the father, mother and one sister, in Ohio, survive.

Funeral services will be held in the Schrader funeral parlor, but the time has not been set.

Blower and Faked 'Smoke' Demonstrate New Fisher Ventilation

Blowing "smoke" without fire, and most of the sensations of motoring, without turning a wheel—these are two of the synthetic effects achieved by the Fisher Body Corporation at its Auto Show exhibits, featuring the new Fisher No Draft (L. C. V.), Individually Controlled Ventilation. Driving conditions are simulated by means of this big blower, hurling a blast of air at the rate of 53 miles an hour. The "smoke" which this artificial breeze is drawing so promptly out through the ventilator is the vapor given off by solidified carbon dioxide immersed in hot water. Generated in tanks specially devised for the purpose, the vapor imitates the movement of cigar smoke, and is free from the objections which prevent the use of real smoke in demonstrations at the show. Note that the ribbons, hung inside the car as wind indicators, all hang straight down, although windows are open.

Get ready for beer.

A son, Robert Edgar, weighing 7 1/2 pounds, was born March 30 to Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Prom, 116 Randolph street Mrs. Prom was Miss Katherine Kellar.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Schuette and their daughter, Donna Jean, spent the latter part of last week at Saginaw visiting Mrs. Schuette's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Dirser.

shots take preference over farm relief. Politics faded into the fog of obscurity as he speculates on what his chances for "breaking a 100" are this year.

King Golf is preparing to don his mantle of green and sit in state on his earthy throne. At the Meadowbrook Country club, greens-keepers say that the soggy condition of the course will be cleared up by a good April wind. Late snows covered the fairways with snow and the rapid thaw poured moisture into the ground but April 15 is the tentative date set for the opening of the course.

The Northville Golf club on the Seven Mile road will open under the management of V. E. Morse. The same policy as last year will be followed, according to the manager of this course. One of the improvements planned for this year is the resodding of one green. The course is in exceptionally good condition for this time of the year, said the manager.

The official opening of the Brae Burn golf course will not occur until May 1, according to Howard G. Hall, manager of the club. However, playing will start in early April. The club houses will be opened as soon as the weather gets warmer. Numerous improvements have been made on this course and in the club house.

It is not known when the Plymouth golf courses will open to the public.

CALIFORNIA LOVERS MINIMIZE DISASTER

Still staunchly loyal to California (as is the way of folks who have adopted that state) Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Oveis, formerly of Northville, write from Santa Monica, Calif., minimizing the reports that have come east about the recent earthquake there.

"We were glad to note in the Record that one of our friends was so thoughtful as to let you know that the recent earthquake did not annihilate us, but, as a former Californian, you know that whatever she does is on a big scale."

"The cheaply built brick and masonry structures in the Long Beach, Compton and Inglewood areas suffered, while the large steel and concrete buildings and well-built frames were scarcely touched. It will result in an entire revision of Californian building code for there was no possible reason why competent engineers should not have used quake-proof construction for all schools and other public buildings."

"Mrs. Oveis says that after her former home on Main street was struck by lightning and later burned down, a little earthquake shock wouldn't phase her. Personally, I never felt it while driving the auto. Eastern papers magnify it ten times. I failed to find a single crack in our walls. Of course Santa Monica is 35 miles from the worst zone. Compton business section was very soon back on the road to prosperity. Long Beach is likewise doing business and the large hotel is opened as though nothing had happened."

(It's plain to be seen that Mr. and Mrs. Oveis are "died in the wool" Californians now and sing with these Southland optimists "The sun always shines in California.")

So much has been said about "complexes" and "unhindered inhibitions" that it has just about wrecked all sense of discipline. This feeling has crept into our homes, our schools, even into our churches. Authority, respect, and true refinement are fast disappearing. The courtesy of "Why?" has deteriorated into a caustic, skeptic "Oh Yeah?" Well-financed education, highly systematized in all branches, can produce a generation of clever rascals if a strict sense of discipline is not inculcated along with it.

Homemaker's Corner

Just as we were feeling proud of the many fine women we know who are standing by their husbands in this financial crisis along comes this bump in opinions expressed by Kathleen Norris, well known authoress, who says—

"There are women today, thousands of them, who are laying up available regret; bitter regret that while the children were at home, while the man of the house was patient and hopefully trying to extricate the family from its new difficulties and hardships, they sat by idly complaining and fretting, wishing that things would go back where they were a few years ago, and 'everything be lovely again.' All they want is the money they used to have for a pretentious rent, and too many clothes, too much food, beauty treatments, bridge prizes, matinees, lunches. They just can't see why the said money isn't forthcoming.

"There are thousands of women who have yet to find out what this woman has discovered; that there are troubles it is easier to face than to dodge. Just so long as you are after me let him defy himself, and take up his cross and follow me."

On Sunday evening at six o'clock the young people are serving a tea to the members of the F. O. M. class and their friends, and they expect some guests from Detroit, also. All young people who care to make the acquaintance of a big group of Christian young folks are invited to the tea. During the hymn sing which begins at 7:30 o'clock, the pastor plans to answer a number of questions that young people have asked about spiritual things.

The North and South circles are giving a hard times party in the church dining room on Friday evening, April seventh. Supper will be served from six to eight o'clock for 10 cents a person. The gentleman and lady looking the most poverty-stricken will be given prizes.

Practice for Easter at the church on Saturday at one o'clock.

The church school meets at the hour of 12:00 noon. We are hoping to see a new attendance record; each and every pupil is expected to do his part. Seven new pupils were introduced to the school last Sunday.

The Union evening service will be held in the Baptist church at 7:30. We strongly urge the whole-hearted co-operation of the members in these evening services.

The regular meeting of the Woman's Union will be held in the church house Wednesday, April 12. A luncheon will be served at 12:30 for which a charge of 15c will be made. This is the Spring luncheon and at this time the identity of each member's Capsule friend will be disclosed.

The ladies who attended the Presbyterian in Detroit Tuesday and Wednesday of this week will give short informal talks. Please bear in mind the community Good Friday service to be held this year in the Methodist church.

Kindly refer to more detailed account in this issue of last Sunday's evening service. Many have called expressing their gratitude for the message of Miss Florence Ben-Onel.

Russian Workers to Be Put Back in Uniforms

Moscow.—Local authorities have decided to put postmen, telegraph delivery people, and congreers into uniforms again. It is believed to be a first step toward uniforming other types of employees.

Uniforms, except for policemen and firemen, were abolished soon after the revolution, as a measure for avoiding the class distinctions of employment. Their gradual revival thus has a certain social interest.

In the pre-revolutionary times Russia was perhaps the world's most-uniformed country. Practically every profession, every clerk in government offices, had their prescribed apparel.

In the reaction against this system the Bolshevick regime abolished uniforms wherever possible. The special types of hats and insignia distinguishing engineers survived for many years, but finally also were abandoned. Today railway employees, street car conductors, and motormen and other workers usually uniformed in other countries have no distinctive clothes.

The decision to put uniforms on letter-carriers, telegraph carriers, janitors therefore marks the beginning of what may be a new policy in this connection. In justification it is pointed out that the absence of uniforms gives thieves and other criminal elements a chance to enter strange houses under the pretense of delivering letters.

trying to save appearances, unwilling to admit even to yourself that the time has come to cut down, to accept humiliation, and—that is so infinitely harder—to get the children to accept it, then you are wretched.

But the little money that won't stretch over the old extravagances any more, that is merely a drop in the bucket of expense and debt, will go an amazingly long way under different circumstances, in a different neighborhood, with a different standard behind it.

"When you come to the Red Sea place in your life, and in spite of all you can do, there is no way round, there is no way back, there is no other way but through —" then get what fun and adventure you can get out of it, take pencil in hand and work it out on paper, face it. Life is saying to many of us now "There is no other way but THROUGH" and no man with the right woman beside him is going to take the wrong way out, and no woman with any red blood at all in her veins is going to fail her husband when at last he needs her again."

We are sure Kathleen Norris never visited Northville when she counted the women who were not being "good sports" these days. Even if she did come she would never know half because most of this heroism is carried out quietly.

More than ever women are using their brains and ingenuity to figure out their problems. And, best of all, they are doing it all cheerfully. No martyr-like, self-pitying air for them!

HE'S "TOO-NICE" SO RICH BRIDE SUES

Cleveland.—If the decision of Judge Alva Corlett in an annulment case involving a wealthy society girl is to be taken as a criterion, it's just as much an offense against a wife to smother her with kindness as it is to shower her with blows.

The unusual ruling arises out of the annulment suit involving Marlon Conolly and William Graham Abell, of Warren, Ohio, who married in haste and apparently repented soon afterward.

Marlon, daughter of Brig. Gen. L. S. Conolly, of the Ohio National Guard, and popular debutante, married young Abell last March. She quickly found out it was all a mistake.

Her young husband, she complained to her parents, simply was "too nice" to her. He gave her everything—and did everything, whether she asked for it or not. Marlon cried—Why didn't he stop it? was her wail to her parents. She preferred that he give her nothing and do nothing.

"They spoke to young Abell about it, but there was no change. The young man just couldn't help himself. Being kind was his particular fault, he told her parents. Marlon would just have to take it, or leave it."

Marlon preferred to leave it. She got her parents to go to Judge Corlett's Domestic Relations court and institute suit for annulment of her marriage.

They did, alleging young Abell had been "too nice" to her, and that Marlon had tired of her youthful husband as a result. Those were the only grounds Marlon's parents could offer for the broken romance.

Naturally, dignified Judge Corlett was astounded at the unique plea for annulment. But apparently he was convinced later that an annulment should be granted.

He granted it, at the same time telling Marlon's father that both the former wife and her husband should be spanked. The stern militaristic brigadier general agreed with him.

Famous Old Mines Are Reopened in Wyoming

Saratoga, Wyo.—Operations have been resumed at the Alma and Meta mines in the Sierra Madre range, southwest of Saratoga, after many years' idleness. The mines were the first patented claims in the region, but had not been worked for nearly 30 years until last spring, when they were leased by O. C. Johnson, a veteran miner. A carload of ore which ran largely to lead content, but which also assayed some gold and silver, was shipped recently to a Utah smelter.

House Boat Colony Makes Life Holiday

Monroe, La.—Life is just one long holiday for a hundred Red colonists who have banded in house boats on the Ouachita river here to sit out the depression. They have found Utopia in almost the true sense. There are fourteen boats, each comfortably equipped with a bed or two, some chairs, a stove and a few dishes. They spend their days fishing. There is no social caste, no unemployment. There are fish enough for all.

"They are the happiest people in the world," declares Mrs. O. W. Perkins, Jr., of the Monroe unemployment relief bureau, after she inspected the settlement.

Chocolate Cake

This is Mrs. Chas. E. Rogers' delicious chocolate cake for which she is famous at every church dinner.

2 eggs, 2 cups brown sugar, 1/2 cup sour milk, 1 cup hot water, 1/2 cup butter, 2 cups flour, sifted three times with 1 teaspoonful soda, 2 teaspoonful baking powder, salt. Two squares butter chocolate (melted). Bake in large dripping pan or in layers.

300,000 FEWER AUTO PLATES ARE ISSUED IN 1933

Lansing, Mich.—Despite efforts of state officials and the legislature, approximately 300,000 fewer Michigan automobiles had secured license plates on April 1, 1933 than on April 1, 1932.

Records of the department of state show that on March 28, 1932, a total of 789,252 motor vehicles had been given license plates. On March 28, 1933 a total of 416,680 vehicles had been given 1933 plates and stickers—good until August 1, 1933, had been issued for $3.104 vehicles.

During the last three days of March, most of the branch offices of the department reported an increased sale of the half-price permits for use with 1932 plates, but accurate statistics are not available. It is believed that many motorists had been awaiting another extension of time and will secure proper license plates during the first week of April.

The act of the legislature, allowing use of 1932 plates until August 1, 1933 when accompanied by a permit fastened to the windshield showing that one-half of the weight tax had been paid, was adopted late in February. An extension of time for 15 days was granted in order that the stickers might be printed and distributed. On March 15, another extension until April 1 was granted by the Secretary of State at the request of the legislature, after unnumbered citizens had informed officials that their funds were tied up in banks closed because of the state and national bank holidays.

"It was thought that a large number of motorists would take advantage of the half-price permit but the number of sticker-permits sold on March 28, was 28,989. This is far below expectations."

BASEBALL IS SURE FIRST GAME ON 18TH

Ticket Sale Is Under Way; Prospects Bright, Says The Coach

It was definitely decided at the beginning of the week that Northville will have a baseball team this spring, and the first game is with Plymouth here, April 18.

This announcement came from the office of Principal R. H. Amerman, who in spite of the fact that the Student Council baseball committee has not yet raised the required $80, believed that enough had been made to justify his decision. So far they have realized $265 from a dance, $355 from the benefit concert given by Mr. Lee and $17 donated by merchants. In addition to this amount about $30 is expected from the sale of season tickets.

The boys are practicing diligently for the opening game but this far for the most part the weather has been against them. Nevertheless the boys are grasping and making use of every opportunity to get into form. The suits are going to be given out during Easter vacation and there will be practice during that time. The team is going down to the fair grounds as soon as possible.

The team will be given more or more new bats to use this year and the supply of balls will soon arrive, so that when the season starts everything will be quite ready. The batteries are working hard every night getting into condition and each pitcher reports that the arm feels fine.

There are at least two men out for each position, all of which are hotly contested. Some of those in the battle for positions are: Little, Howard Latta and Bray for pitcher; Kohler and Hartman for catcher; Neal, Ware and Bender for first base; Deal and Secord for third base; Cuyler, Fosgate and Campbell for shortstop; Bulmon James Latta, Dickinson and Steencken for the outfield.

The starting line-up will be picked for the first game during spring vacation, says Coach Thompson. He also states because of the contest for every position we should have a very good team. We are going to have a lot of batting practice this year.

Season tickets are already on sale. They are being sold by the members of the baseball team and the N-Club and may be purchased from any of them. There are four games at home and a season ticket will admit any person to all of them. They are priced at 40c for adults and 25c for students of N. H. S.

SENIOR DANCE TO BE HELD ON APRIL 22

The senior class will commence the post Lenten social season by giving a dance in the high school gymnasium Saturday evening April 22.

They have engaged Patterson's orchestra of Plymouth for the occasion, which has played at their former dances. The dance will begin at 8 and close at 12 o'clock. The price of this dance will be 20c per person or 40c per couple if the tickets are purchased before hand, or 30c and 60c if purchased at the door. The seniors are selling the tickets. As yet no information has been given out as to the committees or chaperon to facilitate the event.

HOFFMAN TO RETURN FROM HOSPITAL SATURDAY

Henry Hoffman, popular Northville athlete who underwent an operation for an injury sustained in basketball is doing very well at the Ann Arbor hospital.

He will be taken home Saturday April 8.

GRADE NOTES

The first graders of Miss Helen Leonardson are making a collection of bird pictures for their bulletin board. In the future the children hope to take a bird walk.

The children in Miss Jarvis' grade have also been talking about birds. The children have a list of the names of birds which they have seen around Northville. There are 22 birds on the list.

The 5th and 6th graders of Miss Ellen Reincke are making free hand drawings of Greeks and Romans for the border around their room.

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

INTERCLASS FEELING

It is absolutely necessary to our school system that the four high school classes maintain a feeling of harmony and an attitude of good will toward each other. The Orange and Black looks with alarm upon several incidents, all of small importance, which may tend to disrupt this friendly disposition.

It must be remembered that, following a precedent of several years, starting the senior class has certain rights and monopolies which cannot very well be denied them. And it is only fair, as the seniors have the most immediate need for money for any of the classes, and have a better and more immediate use for it. We believe the present senior class is only justified in insisting on its rights as the same impositions, if they must be called such, were forced upon them in their preceding three years and especially last year.

Let us all work for a common unity, care as well as give and strive to make the Northville high school a better place.

Making It Public

We have known persons who object seriously to having disagreeable facts made public through the medium of a newspaper. We object to their attitude just as seriously as they object to ours. Any person, any organization, any system makes honest mistakes. One of the best ways for the correction of such errors is to have them made public, so that all may recognize them and be given a unified effort toward remedial action. And if the mistakes are not honest, then they most certainly should be made public and their perpetrators condemned.

The Orange and Black, or any other publication, cannot exist as a newspaper at least as the kind of a paper all clear minded and liberal people want and need, if it meets opposition along this line.

Interview With Newman At N-Club Banquet Makes A Big Hit With Large Crowd Present

Following a delicious dinner and several interesting speeches, the second annual N-club banquet was ended last Thursday night in the high-school gymnasium with an interested audience taking the place of "master inquisitor" from Ad Schwenger, and asking Harry Newman every question from "Are players intentionally rough," to "What was your greatest thrill?"

The invocation by the Rev. F. N. Miner opened the banquet. Orlov G. Owen was the witty and competent toastmaster. During the meal, the room and square of the horns, which were favors placed at every plate, were mixed with the hum of pleasant conversation. Before the program proper started, the All-America quarterback was autographed with requests for autographs, but the ever-watchful Mr. Owen put off the souvenir seekers.

Finally Irmn Ware, president of the N-club, introduced the toastmaster, who after making several appropriate wisecracks presented the first speaker, Supr. T. J. Knapp. Mr. Knapp congratulated the N-club and spoke in praise of Coach Ruggles. Pierre Kenyon then sang two tenor solos and was followed by a few remarks from Principal R. H. Amerman.

After two fine selections on the violin and banyo by Elmer Reed and Wayne Keller, Coach Harold L. Ruggles delivered what might be termed his farewell address. "I will feel well repaid," said the coach, "if I have taught the boys of Northville high school sportsmanship, which after all is the biggest thing in athletics." He said he expected many of Northville's athletes to rise to great heights. Mr. Ruggles finished by saying that his three years in Northville had been very pleasant and that he was sorry to leave. After receiving much applause upon his but as he was as good as gone.

A football was centered back by John Steencken, N. H. S. center, and conclusion, Toastmaster Owen on behalf of the N-club presented him with a little gift, as a token of gratitude.

COACHING JOB HERE IS MUCH SOUGHT AFTER

Officials Not Yet Certain That Position Will Be Filled

Ever since the resignation of former Coach Harold L. Ruggles was made known, a swarm of applications for his job poured into the offices of the board of education. Among them are those of Abe Eblowitz, Michigan State College graduate; Ted Watts, a graduate of Northville and one of the mainstays of the Albion college football team for two seasons; and Raymond Dockson, who was coach here in 1927.

The superintendent, T. J. Knapp, said that he was not at all definitely decided that the coaching position, vacated by Mr. Ruggles, would be filled. "If we do not get state help," he said, "it will be extremely difficult to carry on the school system in its entirety."

The superintendent waited against the forming of premature opinions in this matter. "It will be the duty of the Board of Education to choose the person whom we think is the best fitted for the job, and not necessarily the one who might be the most popular among students and towns people," he said.

If a selection is to be made, it was indicated at the Board of Education offices Tuesday that more information would be obtainable later.

DEPARTMENTS OF PALLADIUM SHOW PROGRESS

All departments of the Palladium are in action slowly obtaining their data and facts and getting them whipped into shape for the publication which is to appear this June.

Definite plans for the popularity contest will be made next week for the Palladium, states Editor Warner Neal.

"A dummy for the Palladium has been made up" state the staff "and it promises to be something unique and unusually interesting."

The snapshots have all been turned in and they in themselves should make a humorous and interesting factor in the Palladium. Seniors have been requested to hasten and send in their lists showing their activities during their high school careers. Jokes have been slowly obtained on the unsuspecting innocent students of the high school and the society department has obtained also many interesting articles.

KENYON SAYS THE TRACK PROSPECTS LOOK VERY BRIGHT

The first track meet will be a non-league meet at Plymouth on Wednesday, May 3, and will open, says the track coach, Pierre Kenyon, "what promises to be a very successful season for the Northville track team."

The two outstanding prospects for this season are Capt. Albert Vradenburg, hurdler and broad jumper, and Kenneth Porter, miler. Besides these two men there are many more who promise to do them bit towards making the track season successful. They include Bray and Ulrich, half-milers; Reed and McGee, who are good for the quarter mile; Baldwin and Fraser high jumpers; with the weights are Schrader, Strutz, Bender, Baldwin, and McGee, who puts a 12 pound shot. The broad jump includes Vradenburg and Ulrich.

Meloughlin, Bender, and Kacz are the sprinters and also Carrington, Duguid and Warner. Hurdlers are Racz, Ware, Sheller, Tewksbury, and Vradenburg, and lastly the pole vaulters are Marter, Toussaint and Hoffman.

"With all of this material, we should make a very good showing against any competition that we run up against," Mr. Kenyon said. Practice has been held three nights a week indoors and regular practice will be held outside, starting next week.

Parents have been asked to help, says Mrs. Ida B. Cooke in charge of the spelling bee and will act as judges and pronounce words.

The two winners will compete again on April 28, when at the Plymouth high school, they will try for the district championship.

Senior Man: "Mad! I'll say I was mad. Why, I frothed at the mouth."

Mysterious Triple L Club Makes People Wonder As To The Correct Meaning Of Its Name

Is there anyone who has not been a little puzzled over the meaning of these three simple letters, so mysteriously applied to the nine members who compose this sacred organization? It seems to me, that for girls, the secret has been kept very honorably, and that boys could do no better. (Each member was pledged to secrecy when the name was first submitted.)

Of course, many meanings have been suggested by various scholars of N. H. S., but so far, the correct interpretation has not yet been hit upon. Some say, "Could it be Lean, Long, and Larky?" Others hint at "Learned, Lazy, Loafers," and Editor Neal, even went as far as to remark that "Ludicrous, Leisurely, Liabilities" might be it.

The LLL is really a branch of the old Camp Fire Group which originated several years ago. The main reason for changing the name was because of the lack of time of the girls to devote to Camp Fire activities.

Since its beginning with Rev. Schrader as its head, good times have been the main creed (Hikes, parties, etc.)

SENIOR OFFICIAL QUESTIONS CLASS REPRESENTATIVE

To the Editor of the O. & B.: May I have your kind permission to ask, through your page a few questions of Howard Latta? And may I say before I go on, the questions do not necessarily represent my own personal opinion, but represent certain facts which are established and can not be changed. If he can answer these questions with straightforwardness and authenticity, and without "beating about the bush," I am sure myself and the persons who requested that I write this, will be satisfied.

The questions which are to be asked are in connection with the recent election held by the Student Council to choose the managers for the coming baseball season.

To Mr. Latta: As the senior class alderman, elected by the senior class to represent them and act for them, do you represent the senior class of yourself?

When complaints were brought to you by members of this class concerning your and other members of the Student Council's part on the recent appointment, why did you then, and still, ignore those complaints as far as attempting to clear them up and give some satisfaction when you are supposed to be representing those students?

Why, when you became enlightened to the fact that a petition was being circulated by members of this class, to be presented to the Student Council demanding that one of the two seniors up for election for the position of baseball manager be in some manner elected to that position, did you immediately on your own resources and through your own efforts circulate a petition contrary to the wishes and desires of the members of the senior class and other students and their petition? And why are you going out of your way to oppose the wishes of the seniors whom you represent?

Signed,
The President of Senior Class

GOLF TEAM WINS MATCH WITH NOVI

Though the elimination golf games have not yet been played, the team is expected to be completed soon.

A practice match was held with Novi last week, in which Northville won a decisive victory.

Kenneth Kerr says, "If we don't go to the state meet this year, I'll eat my shirt." Captain Louis Campbell said that the schedule would be completed next week.

DID YOU NOTICE

How strong Kenneth Kerr is? Almost too strong in fact.

How well a certain senior can toss wise remarks? You tell 'em, Murphy.

An unusual commotion in the assembly the seventh hour one day last week? Oh, what a pin will do!

The furrowed brows of the freshmen girls? Wouldn't it be dreadful if the maypole fell during their dance?

That spring fever has gotten into some of the students? One, in particular, yawned for two consecutive periods.

That Vera Dundas intends to be an important figure in the theatrical world? She's making plans now for her cupid dance.

That some of our new athletes, track and otherwise, will soon have to purchase new hats as their heads are swelling to untold proportions? What a hard time the editor has in giving out journalism assignments? Try a megaphone, Warner. Or perhaps if you used a gag on a couple of the members of the staff.

Signed,
Howard Latta.

I hereby promise that I, Tony Bongiovanni, will live up to the standards set by the school in regard to an athlete or a manager, to the council and to Howard Latta in regards to studies and discipline. And that upon my first failure, I will drop the position as baseball manager.

Tony Bongiovanni.

N-CLUB MEMBERS THANK MOTHERS FOR THEIR WORK

The members of the N-Club express their thanks to their mothers for their work in putting on the banquet last Thursday, as follows: "We wish to thank all the mothers who so successfully put on the N-Club banquet last Thursday, especially Mrs. Walter Ware, chairman of the committee, and Mrs. Mildred Zimmerman, home economics teacher."

P. T. A. POSTPONED

The report of the District Council of the Parent-Teachers Association will be given at the meeting of the organization on April 20. A style show, to be given by the Home Economics department, will be another interesting feature. This program is postponed one week on account of the Easter vacation.

Petitions Requesting Change In Baseball Managers Are Presented To Student Council

Councilman Latta Fights to Retain the Present Managers In Position; Answers The Editorial

SENIOR PRESIDENT QUESTIONS REPRESENTATIVE

Two petitions, signed by about 75 students of the high school, were presented to the Student Council Wednesday and were laid on the table for consideration next week.

The petitions which were gotten up by interested parties in the school read as follows: "We, the undersigned students of the Northville high school, object to the recent election of baseball managers and request that the Council appoint Richard Nash to one of the two positions. The petitions were presented to Mayor Christensen by Richard Shipley, the president of the senior class and were presented in turn to the Council by the Mayor.

Early Tuesday afternoon a "counter petition" was circulated among the students by Howard Latta, senior representative to the Student Council which read to the effect that "We, the undersigned, have no objections to the recent election of Tony Bongiovanni and Spencer Van Valkenburg as baseball managers and agree that they should be kept in their present positions. As the and-b went to press the petition had not yet been presented to the Council.

Upon receiving the petitions Tuesday, Mayor Christensen conferred with Principal R. H. Amerman, faculty advisor to the Student Council. Mr. Amerman first advised the Mayor that an action should be taken by individual classes along the lines of reprimanding or recalling their respective representatives if they were displeased with the actions of those representatives. It was, however, called to his attention that a paragraph in the school constitution provided that "The council shall consider and act upon all petitions and other communications from the Student body of a reasonable part thereof." He then advised the Council to act accordingly.

Appearing in this issue of the school paper there will be found an answer from Senior Representative Latta to the editorial of last week on the election of baseball managers. There is also an article written by Senator, President Richard Shipley, in which, on behalf of the Senior class and others, he asks the Senior Councilman various questions pertaining to the managerial election.

Mayor Christensen, on behalf of the Student Council, makes the following statement: "The Student Council will give the petitions due consideration and will act accordingly with fairness to all parties concerned the earlier part of next week."

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS PERFORM IN SCOUT BENEFIT

The Boy Scout benefit, which will consist of five vaudeville acts and a very humorous play and will be presented in the high school auditorium at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, April 12, will include acting by "Northville's best."

Among those who are assisting in the big evening, the price of which is 15 cents, are Gertrude Deal, Florence Johnson, Eleanor Grosvenor, Margaret Hay, Tom McLoughlin, Ida Altman, Howard Latta, and Warner Neal.

"KITCHEN BAND" WILL PLAY AT STYLE SHOW, APRIL 20

Another one of the many features that will be a part of the home economics department's style show will be a "Kitchen Band" put on by the seventh grade girls.

Other divisions of the program, which is being directed by Mrs. Mildred Zimmerman and will be presented at the P. T. A. meeting April 20, in the high school auditorium, will be a parade of gowns and a maypole dance.

You Try It

"It isn't so easy to drive a bargain," said the collegian as he rolled underneath the used motor vehicle he had bought for $10.

Down to Soft Pan

We know a banker's son who says he doesn't scratch matches on the bottom of his shoes any more because it tears his socks.

Too Soon They Parted

The man with the suitcase checked the train to the end of the platform, but failed to catch it. As he slowly walked back, mopping his brow, an interested onlooker volunteered:

"Miss the train?"
"Oh, not much," was the disarming reply. "You see, I never got to know it very well."
