The tax rate for the village of Northville for the year 1933 will be $18.06 per thousand dollars of assessed valuation, states Village Assessor Charles A. Sessions. The tax rate last year was $19.45, making a reduction this year of $1.39.

The board of review confirmed the tax and assessment figures at their meeting on Tuesday, May 2. Members of the board are Charles Sessions, Fred Van Atta and Edwin C. Bryan.

The assessed valuation of $2,605,840 for 1933 is $224,790 less than it was last year. The total reduction in valuation in the past two years amounts to $528,395.

Of the total assessed valuation, $2,605,840, for this year, the assessment on real property is $2,248,600, while the personal property valuation is $357,240. Last year the real estate assessment was $2,469,580 and the personal assessment was $375,450.

The village budget stands at $47,000, with the following divisions: Smiling fund—$16,233.33; highway $15,600.00; general fund $15,166.67.

MASONS ENTERTAIN DeMOLAY BOYS AT DINNER WEDNESDAY

The local "Fellowship" DeMolay chapter was entertained at a dinner in the Masonic hall Wednesday evening by the Royal Arch Masons, Union chapter 55.

Nearly forty Masons and DeMolay boys from Northville, Farmington, and Plymouth were present. Following the dinner, the Masonic High Priest Joseph Himmelspach, of Farmington, acted as toastmaster and called on several diners for speeches. DeMolay Councilor Marylin Tibble of Northville, Frank Beckwith and Chase Willet of Plymouth also gave telling of the work and problems of the DeMolay chapter.

Carl Hildner of Plymouth then praised the Northville boys as the DeMolay work as a whole. "It is absolutely the best boys' organization there is, excepting none," he said. High Priest Himmelspach concluded the brief program saying that the Northville Masons would be glad to cooperate and help the boys in any way.

In a business meeting immediately following the dinner, the Masons decided to appoint William Duguid, well known Northville citizen, as DeMolay "dad," and Floyd Lanning as assistant. The "dad" is the general supervisor and adult leader of DeMolay activities.

MARZ SALESROOM TO HOLD CONTEST

Marz Motor Sales will hold a gasoline mileage contest beginning Thursday, May 18, and concluding Thursday, May 25. Three prizes totaling to $50.00 in value will be offered.

The gas contest, which is similar to the one held by the same firm last year, will necessitate the motorist bringing his car to the Marz garage at 117 West Main street where a mileage test will be held to ascertain how many miles per gallon of gasoline the owner can get from his Ford V-8. In the contest held last year some astonishing mileage records were made by many motorists in this vicinity.

Starting a new spring drive, the Marz Motor Sales is offering, announces Mr. Marz, a complete wash and a thorough greasing job on every car for $1.25. Commercial cars, he says, are not included in this offer.

The new Ford V-8, says Mr. Marz, possesses big car performance with style, comfort, and economy.

"The new Ford V-8," he states, "is the finest car ever built by the Ford Motor company. It's the greatest automobile value today. It's modern, beautiful, and comfortable."

All Ford V-8 owners, says Mr. Marz, are invited to participate in the fuel contest which starts Thursday. The nature of the prizes will be announced by a display in the windows of the Marz salesroom and an advertisement next week in The Record.

CAMPFIRE GIRLS SELL 473 DOZEN DOUGHNUTS HERE

Mrs. Owen, Campaign Manager, Appreciates Splendid Cooperation

"We sold them by the dozen" was literally true of the Northville Camp Fire Girls, who last week launched a doughnut selling contest under the direction of Mrs. Orlov G. Owen, their leader. So diligently did the girls work that when the final count was made it was discovered that 473 dozens of doughnuts had found their way to Northville's digestive apparatus.

The entire group of sellers and the people of Northville were very cooperative, stated Mrs. Owen in reviewing the facts of the "drive," and special thanks are offered to the E. M. B. Grocery, the C. F. Smith store, and the B. A. Stephens store.

The girls who entered the campaign and the order of their salesmanship in terms of dozens is as follows: Patsy McLoughlin, 161; Kathryn Marburger, 116; Maxine Ware, 56; Louise Alexander, 25; Vivian Grosvenor, 23; Jean Atchison, 21; Allene Blake, 21; Jean Sales, 21; Lucille Lapham, 14; Betty Anne Baldwin, 6; Betty Armstrong, 8.

The Northville group placed third in the Metropolitan area of Detroit in which this contest took place, and Patsy McLoughlin was among the first ten selling the most doughnuts.

ROAD COMMISSION WILL EMPLOY MEN

The welfare rooms under the Babbitt Hardware store closed Thursday (yesterday) because of the new ruling that all men who have been receiving help from the township and village will be given the opportunity to go to work for the Wayne County road commission beginning next week. This is the result of the special appropriation of $8,000,000 granted the state highway commission by the R. F. C. last week.

The men will be paid one hour and will work time and a day, but the number of days they will work each month will be governed by the size of the family. The schedule arranged is as follows:

- 2 in a family, 3 days a month.
- 3 in a family, 4 days a month.
- 4 in a family, 5 days a month.
- 5 in a family, 7 days a month.
- 6 in a family, 8 days a month.

A special meeting of welfare dependents will be held at the city hall on Friday at 9:30 (today) so that the men can fill out their applications. It is expected that 50 men from Northville will apply for jobs with the road commission.

The men will be picked up by a truck every morning at the Northville springs near the P. M. depot and will be brought back every evening.

No help will be given as long as the men are employed by the road commission.

DISTRICT W. H. M. S. MEETING CONVENES HERE ON MAY 18-19

All those interested in missions will look forward to the district meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary society to be held in the Methodist church Thursday and Friday, May 18 and 19. This is the first time for a number of years that Northville has been honored by having representatives from Ann Arbor district make her a visit and the women of the Methodist church are making plans to welcome these guests and enjoy with them a fine program.

Outstanding on this program will be the appearance of Miss Elizabeth Guthrie from Browning Home, Camden, South Carolina. Miss Guthrie speaks on both Thursday and Friday evenings. Mrs. Walter Fruit of Detroit, the conference president, also will be present and speak at 10:30 Friday morning. Mrs. Fruit will give a glimpse of the conference work in the various homes supported by the society.

To the young people of the district, the banquet for them on Thursday evening at 6 o'clock will be most interesting with a program put on by Northville young folks under Mrs. F. N. Miner's direction.

Many officers of the W. H. M. S. will be present at this two-day session and their coming will be helpful and inspiring. The general public is welcome at any of these sessions. Meals will be served by the local ladies at the small cost of 25c and everyone is invited.

The young folks who plan to attend the banquet are asked to make reservations to Mrs. A. A. Holcomb or Mrs. Fred W. Lyke.

SONNENBERG BADLY HURT IN ACCIDENT

Postman Has Leg Broken As Auto Hits Truck On Novi Road

Harold Sonnenberg, well known Northville postman, received serious injuries early Sunday morning, when the car which he was driving crashed into a repair truck on the Novi road, just a repair truck on the Novi road, just a repair truck on the Novi road.

Sonnenberg's left leg was broken between the knee and the hip resulting in a compound fracture, say physicians, that will prove extremely hard to set. Severe flesh wounds around the fracture, they say, aggravate the injury to a considerable extent.

According to witnesses, the wrecker belonging to Walter Peole was engaged in pulling a car out of the ditch and was situated in an angular position across the road. Sonnenberg, driving south on the road, had his attention distracted by the lights of the car in the ditch and failed to see the red tail light on the wrecker. Making his statement, Sonnenberg said that he tried to go around the left of the wrecker when it loomed up suddenly in front of him but had to swerve to the right to avoid hitting people standing by the ditched car.

The automobile Sonnenberg was driving struck the repair car in the rear with considerable force and the crane on the back of the truck went through the windshield. Sonnenberg was immediately rushed to Sessions hospital where treatment was rendered.

Tuesday, Sonnenberg was taken to the University hospital at Ann Arbor where he will stay until his injuries have been healed.

ELY COMPANY ADDS NEW EQUIPMENT FOR ITS ICE BUSINESS

Regarding the installation of new machinery and remodeling in the Ely Coal and Ice company, Carl Ely, proprietor, has this to say:

"After 12 years in the manufacture of ice we have sold our ice-making equipment. With the improvements we have made for the storage of ice in our store house in the rear of our office on North Center street and with the addition of new machinery keeping the ice cold we believe we are ready to serve our patrons this summer in the finest and most up to date equipment obtainable.

"Our close affiliation with the Detroit City Service company of Detroit places us in a position to serve residents of Northville and the surrounding countryside with a quality ice that cannot be equalled. Our prices are adjusted to suit both wholesale and retail trade."

SPRING BRINGS BEAUTY TO THIS FAVORITE SPOT

Nature is devoting a lot of time these days to the beautification of the park adjacent to the village hall on Wing and Cady streets.

The trees are displaying their greenest leaves, the grass is rapidly forming into a thick carpet, birds in increasing numbers are making the park a visit, and children are more and more using the park for playground purposes.

The park is one of the outstanding beauty spots of which Northville can boast.

Recreation Plans Discussed

"We're young only once," and the mature heads of the eleven representatives of as many organizations in Northville nodded their heads in approval of plans to give the young folks of our village all possible wholesome outlets for their activities.

Called together Monday evening by the president of the Parent-Teachers' association, Mrs. E. W. Lester, the following persons sat in council at the high school on the problem of providing adequately supervised recreation facilities for our youth: representing the King's Daughters, Mrs. J. R. Walker; the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, Mrs. Orlov G. Owen, the Exchange club, Dr. B. H. Douglas; the school board, Sherill W. Ambler; the school, R. H. Amerman; the Presbyterian church, Mrs. L. M. Bolton; the American Legion, J. H. Bolton; the town officials, Elmer L. Smith; Our Lady of the Victory church, A. S. Heatley; the American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. Claude Ely; the P. T. A., Mrs. P. R. Alexander.

Representatives from various other organizations were invited but it is hoped that at least two members of each society in the village will be present at the meeting on Wednesday evening, May 17. So that this may be a real community movement.

With great freedom the plans were discussed and with Mrs. Lester and Mrs. Alexander bringing to the meeting a full report of the discussion held at the recent state council of parents and teachers.

It was the consensus of opinion that Northville needs tennis courts, croquet grounds and a safe place for roller skating. As the discussion progressed the ambitions of the committee rose until even a swimming pool and wading pool were dreamed of as possibilities. Mrs. Lester announced that she has a secret scheme which will be divulged later.

To bring matters to some definite conclusions three committees were appointed which will work on various phases of the enterprise: To make plans for tennis courts: Elmer Smith, Sherill Ambler and Mrs. Owen. Dr. Douglas and Mr. Amerman will consider finding proper supervision of these recreations grounds and Mr. Heatley and Mr. Bolton will study the roller skating and shuffle board possibilities.

As the plans develop it is thought that new interesting projects will be worked out, some even suggesting vocational training during vacation months.

At any rate, the cooperation of the entire community is needed to put across a worthy movement which may prevent a lot of customary mischief which comes during the idle vacation time.

The big idea is to keep Northville youngsters in Northville with enough amusement facilities right here at home. Even folks without children may find their encouragement to this scheme which will make this a better place to live.

Presbyterians' "Capsule Friend" Plan Given Pleasing Publicity In The Detroit Free Press

Northville again bumps into publicity when in the Detroit Free Press of Friday May 5, appeared the following in the column by Jeanette McCall called "Silhouettes."

"If you haven't a 'capsule friend,' you ought to go right out and get one. We weren't too sure what kind of a friend that might be, until we heard the particulars of the group in Northville which has an interesting little tradition. The Woman's Association of the Presbyterian Church out there has a unique scheme. At the beginning of the Association year, the name of each member is enclosed in a capsule and jiggled in a hat. Then each member draws a name, keeping the result a deep secret, not to be revealed until the following spring, if she can hold out that long.

Then, all through the year, she must do little acts of friendship for the person whose name she drew—her 'capsule friend.' But the object of her attentions must not be allowed to catch on as to the source of the kindnesses. At Christmas time a gift is given, though the amount which can be spent wisely is limited.

NORTHVILLE VAN DYKE GAME WILL BE PLAYED HERE TODAY

The game between the Northville high school and Lincoln Van Dyke today (Friday) will be played in Northville at 4 o'clock owing to a last minute change of plans.

NEW WATER SYSTEM IS A POSSIBILITY

The vote of the council on May 1 to improve the village water supply was rescinded at the special meeting held at the city hall last Monday. Only two objectors to the present condition of the water came to the meeting.

Also present at the meeting was Raymond J. Faust, assistant engineer of the state health department, who spoke briefly on the water supply here, solely from the standpoint of health.

Mr. Faust revealed that practically all of the water tests from Northville had shown negative but that occasionally a positive test was found, and this he claimed was due to the reservoir being open or exposed. Mr. Faust declared that the only way to insure perfectly safe water was to enclose the reservoir.

He said that Northville could finance a water improvement project by receiving an appropriation which was rightfully theirs for the asking, since the passing of the recent $2,000,000 federal bill, $10,000 is the amount available to Northville for improving the water system, here. Mr. Faust later revealed.

Something will have to be done to remove every hazard of contamination because of the open reservoir here according to the state engineer, but just how soon steps will be taken is not definitely planned by the council.

The two objectors to the present water system—Mr. Edmond Monday's meeting were Cyril Fied and Dr. H. S. Willis of Maybury sanatorium. Mr. Fied complained that the heavy iron content of the water was raising havoc with the equipment at the Northville Laundry, C. which he is part owner with his brother, Sidney. Dr. Willis discussed the problem from the health standpoint.

RED FLOWERS FOR POPPY DAY REACH NORTHVILLE UNIT

Poppies, row on row and box on box, the headquarters of Lloyd H. Green unit of the American Legion Auxiliary of Northville today after the arrival of the memorial flowers to be distributed by the Auxiliary on Poppy Day, May 27.

The little red blossoms were received from Battle Creek Veterans' Hospital where they were made by disabled World War Veterans employed by the Auxiliary.

Auxiliary members are putting in busy hours at their headquarters counting and arranging the flowers in readiness for the women who will offer them on the streets on Poppy Day. The poppies are exact replicas of the wild poppies which grew in such profusion along the battle front in France and Belgium during the World War. Each little paper flower has been painstakingly shaped by the hands of some disabled veteran.

"Only disabled men who are in real need are given employment making poppies," Mrs. Ethel Casterline said. "Men receiving sufficient government compensation to provide the necessities of life for themselves and families are not employed. Preference is given to men with no compensation who have families to support.

"For shaping of the little flowers and attaching the official American Legion and Auxiliary label, the veterans is paid one cent. A limit of from 200 to 300 is placed on the number of poppies each man can make in a day in order to prevent the veterans from overtaxing their strength and to spread the work among as many men as possible.

"The Auxiliary supplies the materials and advances the money to pay the veterans as the work goes forward through the winter and spring.

LEGION WILL BACK TEAM IN LEAGUE

The cry that sends a thrill through every red-blooded American boy will soon be heard on a local diamond at plans discussed by the Lloyd H. Green post of the American Legion at their regular bi-weekly meeting at the Legion home Tuesday night are completed. The Legion plans to organize a Legion Junior League of eight teams in the 17th congressional district.

Junior Leagues of this type are being organized all over the country as a part of this great sport program. District, state and national champions will be chosen at the end of the season.

The Legion decided to give every boy between the ages of 14 and 16 and a half years a chance to swing a bat and run bases in real big league style, regulation rules and regular equipment at everything.

It is the plan of the Legion post to organize one team in Northville, one in Plymouth and the other six from the rest of the 17th district, and to arrange a schedule that will not only be interesting to the boys themselves but will prove an incentive for the general public to attend the games.

The committee in charge of this project are Ray A. Altenberg and Dr. Wilbur H. Johnson; Mr. Altenberg will act as chairman. Paul B. Thompson of the high school staff will assist in the selection of the players.

Uniforms for all the teams will be furnished by an unnamed donor, but it is expected that part of the expense for other baseball equipment will be defrayed by the sale of seasonal tickets to the games.

To make sure that no boy either over or under the required age limit will be accepted on the Legion Junior League, each boy will be required to bring his birth certificate, or his school birth record. Any boy who will be not over 16 and a half by June 30, that being the deadline set for the final selection of players, is asked to apply for a place on the league.

The tentative date set for the play-off is May 26, and this event will take place in Northville. Chairman Altenberg declared that he hopes to get a player of the Detroit Tigers to "preside" at the play-off, but if this is not possible he will secure a veteran baseball player from some other organization.

Any boy interested in joining this league should get in immediate touch with Dr. Wilbur Johnston or Paul Thompson, of the high school staff. Mr. Thompson volunteered his service in organizing the league.

The organization of the Junior Baseball League, said Chairman Altenberg, is a part of the American Legion's "Americanism" program carried on throughout the country to encourage fine qualities in the youth of the nation. Sports they consider as one of the best means of encouraging fair play, comradeship, etc.

Chairman Altenberg promises more details for next week's Record.

TWO LICENSED BEER TAVERNS TO OPEN HERE

John Norton and "Bud" Newton Start Business

Two licensed beer taverns have opened in and close to Northville and will start serving beer immediately if their orders can be filled, according to the proprietors.

John Norton has his equipment all in place, his tables all ready, and is merely waiting for fulfillment of his order by Detroit breweries before he starts serving "schmoosers" at his place next to the former Globe Furniture company at 216 Plymouth avenue.

"Bud" Newton will open "Bud's Inn" for dancing, barbecue parties, dinners, and also will serve beer as soon as his order for the commodity is filled at his place just outside of Northville at 719 Plymouth avenue.

These two are the only places at this time which have fully prepared for the 32 per cent beer, which became legal Thursday evening at 6 o'clock. Some grocery stores have signified informally that they will soon dispense the product but they will not have beer for sale for at least another week.

Various dents laid down for beer taverns according to two inspectors who visited Northville Tuesday are: don't serve beer at a counter, it must be served to table parties; don't serve beer to anyone under 12 years, don't serve beer from the hours of two a. m. to seven a. m.

Applicants must pay $150.00 for a license and post a bond. Five references must be furnished and the applicant must have evidence of a good clean character. Applicants outside of Detroit must apply at the County building and those dispensing within the city must apply at the city hall for their licenses.

Several here expressed doubt that the Detroit breweries could fulfill the many orders they have on hand for at least a few days.

ROTARIANS ATTEND DISTRICT MEETING HELD AT WINDSOR

The Northville Rotary club lifted the weekly meeting on Tuesday to give members the opportunity to attend the sessions of the annual convention of the 23rd district which was held at the Prince Edward hotel at Windsor, Ont. Clark, E. M. Bogart, W. E. Forney, E. H. Lapham, Dr. H. Handorf, E. C. Langfield, Arthur R. Marz, John McCully, Chas. A. Schultz, Father Jos G. Schuler, Chas. T. Thonston, the Rev. Harold C. The program over which Dr. Haskell presided consisted of music by Braille students, a talk entitled "The Board of Education Is Concerned With Every Child," by Frank Gorman of the Detroit department of education, and a demonstration of Braille reading and writing, under the direction of Gladys L. Dunlop, supervisor of the Braille sight saving classes.

CONGRATULATIONS TO PLYMOUTH

Northville is glad that Plymouth now has both its banks doing business. That is good for Plymouth and good for Northville—what is good for one neighbor is good for the other.

This bank rebuilding has been a difficult time for both communities but both have survived it in a courageous and progressive way and both towns are now ready to face the future with optimism and faith. Sound banking facilities are at the base of any community's progress and hence both Northville and Plymouth are now set to go.

Forward, Northville and Plymouth! Maybe some day we shall grow together into one fine community. Who knows?

AFRAID TO DIE?

Don't know how the subject came up, but the other day one of our good friends got to talking about death. "I am indifferent to the coming of death," he said. "Would you be afraid to die?" we asked him. "Not at all, Dick," he replied, "I think it would be a great adventure."

"Well I want to live quite a while yet," the writer continued. And we do. There are a lot of things we want to do yet, a lot of places we want to visit and some more friends we want to know. With all of its bumps, life is good. We want to live long enough to spend a few weeks in Florida after just enough of winter to make us appreciate the change. And we'd like to live long enough to see how grandchildren behave.

THE BEER LICENSES

Even though the state liquor commission has complete charge of granting licenses for the selling of 3.2 per cent beer, we hope that our village commission will have some advisory right to protect us against the wrong kind of vendors. Legal beer selling is going to have too much effect on the community for it to be sold by anyone who can get the money for a license. Beer selling is going to have a great influence on our boys and girls and young people and certainly the former bootleggers should have no part in a legalized traffic.

Our Northville officials should have the right to protect our community in the sale of 3.2 beer. If beer selling is not handled in a decent and law abiding manner, sentiment against the traffic will be quick to show itself. The beer business is on probation—and no one knows it better than the leaders of the wets in Michigan who have been taking so many weeks to work out the details so that the traffic will be placed on the highest possible ethical level.

CHEAPER AUTOMOBILE LICENSES

The people of the state of Michigan will back Frank D. Fitzgerald, secretary of state, in his efforts to do away with the present weight tax and substitute a cheaper license plate. He suggests a fee of $3 for small cars, $6 for medium sized ones and $9 for the larger ones.

Right now in Michigan there are thousands and thousands of people whose cars stand idle in their garages because they cannot afford even the half-year license, much less one for the whole year. The state is losing on these cars a great deal of money, through failure to get the gasoline tax that would come in if the cars were running.

The Michigan automobile is taxed far beyond what it should be. The gasoline tax we pay is enough to maintain our present highway system, the experts tell us, and even add to it. Why the extra tax?

A three dollar tax for the average man is enough to pay for the privilege of driving an automobile in Michigan.

The time for cutting costs is here. The Michigan motorists have been overcharged long enough. They should descend on the capital city of Lansing, Michigan and demand that our license plate cost be brought down to earth.

GREATER QUESTIONS THAN BEER

This is the headline that catches our eye this morning as we sit down to read exchanges and get a few ideas for editorials!

"A Greater Question Than Beer."

That set us to thinking. We got to wondering this (Friday) morning what questions are greater to us personally than beer. A few of them came hobbling into our mind at once. They went something like this!

"How am I going to meet that insurance premium due next week?" (The extra 30 days of grace are gone—now is the showdown.)

"What is the Record going to do about Detroit scrip that is offered us?" (This scrip seems about as welcome as a hot potato in one's hands.)

"With all the worries that a business man has these days, how am I going to be a better father and a kinder husband to a very fine and loyal family?"

"How are we going to plan it out so that Mrs. Baldwin can go East soon to see her sister who has been ill for the past two years?"

"What work are we going to plan for our children this summer?"

"Where are tomorrow's wages coming from?"

"How can we adjust a busy, bustling life so as to get more time for reading, leisure and for working in the garden and among the flowers?"

Greater questions than beer! Plenty of them. Beer has had altogether too much publicity. Let's talk about the Detroit Tigers or President Roosevelt's splendid plans or the neighbor's tulips.

WANDERING THOUGHTS

The village should cooperate with the 3.2 beer drinkers. Our street signs need repainting.

One of Northville's big assets is the district headquarters of The Detroit Edison Co. here. We know of no finer folks anywhere than "Edison" people. And the considerable number of them employed here adds greatly to our community prosperity. We certainly should appreciate all that the big building over on the corner of North Center and Dunlap streets means to Northville. In this connection, did you notice in one of the recent ads run in The Record that the company last year answered half a million service calls—and exchanged five millions of new lamps for burned-out ones? Take the air we breathe, we take the Edison service just for granted—it is that good.

Standing in line at the First National bank at Redford the other day next to Dr. B. H. Douglas, the masterly head of the Maybury sanatorium, we again learned for the thousandth time that the world is small. While visiting and waiting for our $7.15 check—a hangover from the days when Northville had no bank—we learned that the good doctor formerly lived in Whittier, Calif., and went to a Quaker college there. Whittier is a familiar name to us and we have visited there several times. Rex B. Kennedy, the editor of the daily paper there, is a brother of Walter S. Kennedy, with whom we were formerly associated as a partner in the newspaper business at Albion. Back in the turn of the century these two Kennedy brothers were in partnership at Albion. Rex heard the call of the West and has made a splendid success on the Coast. Walter stayed in Albion and there is no man in that city now whose word has more weight than his.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

BEWARE THE BOOM

(E. O. Gildart in The Utica Sentinel)

The stage is being set for another drive to shear fools of their money with a land boom. And where, do you think? Why, Muscle Shoals! Think of all the busted booms you've known of in your lifetime to say nothing of the teachings of history—and go mighty slow in letting your hard-earned cash go into somebody else's control.

IT'S YOUR MOVE

(R. D. Gifford in The Eaton Rapids Journal)

Do something! says the Edison company (East Orange) in a bulletin to its thousands of employees. "Buy something, anything, anywhere. Paint your kitchen. Send a telegram. Give a party, get a car, pay a bill, rent a house. Fix your roof. Get a haircut, see a show, take a trip, sing a song, get married."

"It doesn't matter what you do, only get going and keep going. President Roosevelt has done his part, now you do something. This old world is starting to move!"

MR. HEARST

(Hastings Banner)

William Randolph Hearst, czar of "yellow journalism," was almost violent in his support of Roosevelt, champion of low tariffs, last fall. Now Hearst newspapers come out with the following: "If the Democratic party, with its exploded principles of free trade or tariff for revenue only, is not going to protect the American people from foreign trade and tariff aggression, it must make way for a patriotic party which will." Mr. Hearst was well acquainted with this phase of the Roosevelt policy during the campaign but said nothing. It appears to us that would-be Democratic Boss Hearst has found out who the Democratic boss really is and doesn't like it. Perhaps he and Huey Long can console one another.

THE GOVERNOR'S BEER

(Ray S. Corliss in The Parma News)

The Detroit Free Press made political capital from one of Governor Comstock's indiscretions Sunday.

The photograph section carried two large pictures of the Governor, one showing him pouring something supposed to be the new 3.2 beer from a bottle into a glass, and the second depicting him guzzling the stuff down with a satisfied gleam in his eye.

The publishers of that paper which has held Republicanism up as the salvation of the state and nation for some years past, knew full well the significance of publishing such pictures. Thousands of dregs and church people, seeing the pictures will immediately condemn Governor Comstock and seek his defeat for reelection some 18 months from now. Many others who like beer and are sympathetic to the wet cause, weren't particularly proud of the fact that their Governor readily posed for a "beer ad" even though he might drink the suds in private. If Mr. Comstock likes liquor and wants to drink it legally, that's his business. But when as the executive of 5,000,000 people he quaffs 3.2 or any other per cent as the official representative of his constituency then it becomes everybody's business. Poor policy, Governor.

BEER AND BANKS

(Cheboygan Observer)

Judging from the pictures and first page stories in the Detroit papers it is more important to get the beer bars open than it is the banks. In fact the legislature of our own state seems to have been more concerned about the bars than the banks. But every day in every way new attractions to the beer business are being added and in the end some of our old fashioned guys will surely get a big kick out of a nickel glass of beer, because it can now be brought to us by a comely beauty queen who will sing and dance for us while we sip our non-intoxicating but exhilarating beverage. We are not obliged to stand up while we sip that soothing potion, instead we are privileged to be seated and if the example of the Soo hotel keeper is followed we can take that 3.2 trouble dispenser laying down. You understand the Soo hotel keeper has arranged the first floor of the hotel for a reception room, the second floor the serving parlor and the third floor the beds. With all those promises to thrill one it is no wonder the bank opening matter excited so little interest in the minds of the learned country savers.

Record Liners Pay

BUBBLES FROM THE TEMPERANCE SPIGOT

(E. O. Gildart in The Utica Sentinel)

Beer ads are back this week in Michigan.

Rhode Island is the third state to vote for repeal.

Hopes for beer at 5c a glass are said to be glimmering in Detroit. Beer gardens will have to charge 10c it is claimed.

The liquor commission has started in at work on the beer regulations. It occupies an entire floor in a Lansing office building.

The state administration rules that, since the 3.2 is technically non-intoxicating, there will be no women, either serving beer or as entertainers, in the licensed drinking places of Michigan.—Times

Grocers and druggists will constitute a majority of the "specially designated merchants" who will sell 3.2 per cent beer and wine for home consumption, according to Frank A. Picard, chairman of the liquor control commission. He doesn't think that candy and confectionary stores should sell beer, and he abhors the idea of having it dispensed at gasoline stations. Candy men are beginning to holler.

MOTHER'S DAY

To those who have mothers next Sunday to them can be one of the grandest in the year. Let's hope that none neglects to call on their mother this day if it is humanly possible.

To those whose mothers have gone before, they still have the memory of the dearest friend in the world to keep their heads up and their path right.

While in Detroit last week I saw Babe Ruth come waddling down the avenue. He was wearing his usual turtle neck sweater, while at his side dressed in the best was his wife. He didn't look very good natured after the beating that Detroit had handed the Yankees that day.

Practically everyone you come in contact with hereabouts is loaded with Detroit scrip. Some are carrying it around as if it were nothing more than "just paper." That is just about all it would mean to me. Time will tell. Time will tell!

And so our little playmate Ad had to venture forth the other day and come trotting home with a sackful of it. "How we cherish that man!"

Speaking of our friend, his column isn't out yet and that is why ours is so weak. Well, it all goes to show that he may publish the truth once in awhile. Who knows?

A Helping Hand? ? ?

If Bill Eaton or Scornor Heel can make drastic improvements on this column they will immediately be given the credit. We know how crude some of our articles sound, but there is still nothing accomplished without trying. Thanks for the awakening.

At least we can be told!

"Sunburned Grandpa"

"Grandpa" Sheller forgot his bonnet the other day when we were out golfing and one would have thought that the E. M. M. sun was rising as he plodded his way up the hill by Horton's and we could just catch a glimpse of his head.

The Fun of Being a Mother

Mother's Day again! On Sunday everyone will pay loving tribute by wearing either a red flower or a white one. It will be a day of memories and homecomings and through it all a deeper appreciation of mother.

There will be tears shed on Mother's Day. But deep down, motherhood is joy. The only mother who needs tears is that one who is neglected and alone on her day of days.

We always grow reminiscent at this time of year. "Mother" always brings back a blurred mental picture of three individuals who have meant this to us. First, that little "dream mother" who was carried out of that northern parsonage home, leaving a tiny babe to nurse her always.

Next, that sweet-faced woman whom the "Ladies Aid" drilled us to be ready to call "Mama" when she should return from the church wedding next door. Her duties as "second mother" to an overbearing brood were not easy, and only maturity and life's experiences have taught us to appreciate it all.

And then that dear mother-in-law whose heart was big enough to hold not only her own seven "but each successive daughter-in-law as she joined the family. We were her real daughters and with characteristic candor she handed out impartially correction or praise with anfinite patience teaching us "thrill" to our children she was the beloved, white haired grandmother and around her knee they crowded listening to her stories about "When Daddy was a little boy" the while her fingers were always busy knitting endless sweaters and mittens for their comfort.

There have been other women along the pathway of life who have been big enough to extend their motherliness beyond their own. There was "Mother Burns," our chum's mother, whom we always picture as welcoming us with outstretched arms and gentle, little "Mother Phillips" who lived next door to our first little bungalow, who was the comfort of early home-keeping days.

On Mother's Day mother will be praised for her sacrifice. Mother sacrifice? Perhaps, but what real mother wouldn't do it all again for the glorious joy of it! Every mother line with little white things fluttering on it, every baby carriage with a pink baby inside the dainty coverlet make memories tug hard at her heart.

A letter from a friend recently says, "I don't want anybody to feel sorry for me for it's evidently my business to be a homemaker and I believe I'm loads happier than so many of my friends who have no children and are 'bridged to death'."

With Anne Campbell (of radio fame) we mothers can say:

"I am so thankful, Lord, that You have given Me on this earth, a little taste of heaven. With children's laughter, and their swift-dried tears; With young feet running through my crowded years."

I am so thankful that You have allowed Me to extend my life to these three proud Young lives that I have nurtured Nothing more Exalted can be gained from heaven's store."

Mother's Cookies

Were there ever such cookies as Mother used to make? Here are two recipes that are especially good.

Graham Cookies

2 cups sugar, 1 cup shortening, 2 eggs, 3/4 cup coffee or water. Mix stiff with 1/2 graham and 1/2 white flour and roll thin. Spread between two layers the following filling. Grind equal quantity of figs and raisins. Boil with 1 cup sugar and 1/2 cup water. Cut cookies in squares and bake. Lift onto tin with pancake turner.

Brown Cookies

1 cup brown sugar, 1 cup white sugar, 1 cup molasses, 1 cup shortening, 1 cup coffee, 1 teaspoon soda, 2 eggs, cinnamon, ginger and nutmeg to taste. Salt flour enough to knead stiff. Roll.

THE DETROIT EDISON COMPANY

GENERAL OFFICES
2000 SECOND AVENUE
DETROIT, MICHIGAN

May 8, 1933

TO THE CUSTOMERS OF
THE DETROIT EDISON COMPANY

This is the sixth of a series of weekly letters addressed to our 500,000 customers in 29 cities, 58 villages and 130 townships in the southeastern corner of the State of Michigan.

To meet the electric requirements of the people we serve, requires us from time to time to build extensions to plants, substations, distribution systems, warehouses, etc. Since the return on our investment is limited by State Commission regulation we cannot pay any great part of the cost of extensions out of earnings, but must get new capital. We secure this new capital by issuing new stock or bonds. Unless the credit of the Company is excellent, we will not find a market for these securities. When the prospective requirements of our customers call for new plant, we cannot delay. We must be ready to serve. Do you wonder that we are somewhat fussy about our credit?

At present, the relation of our stock and bonds is nearly 50-50. Since the beginning of the Company's service, the total return paid on money invested in the business by the stockholders and bondholders has averaged only 6.31% per year. During the last ten years this total return paid on our capital has averaged 6.42%. Last year it was 5.86%. This year it will be still less. And that is on money capital. It is not on all the money or value, only on real money.

This Company has never paid a stock dividend, even in the boom days when dividends of 200 per cent were far from rare. In the early years of the Company's history, the stockholders received nothing for the use of their money. Dividends were first paid in 1909, at the rate of $4.00 per share. This dividend was gradually increased until it reached $8.00 in 1916. Because of decreased earnings during these hard times the dividend was reduced to $6.00 for the last half of 1932. Continued poor business has caused a further cut to $4.00 per share per year at the present time.

Much has been said and written lately about a so-called "Power Trust." This is something which is perfectly safe for politicians and the press to discuss and condemn because no such organization exists. It is all a myth and myths cannot talk back. No one has named the officers of the trust, or even published its post office address. The Detroit Edison Company, however, is an entirely independent company. Contrary to the conception that every large public utility is controlled, this Company stands squarely on its own feet and has been locally managed from its beginning.

Wake Up Your Liver Bile -Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blotches. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up."

They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. 25c at all stores. ©1931, C. M. Co.

Wednesday Bridge Club Entertains Husbands at Dinner

As a grand finale to their social program of the past season, the members of the Wednesday bridge club invited their husbands to join with them in a cooperative dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Eaton Wednesday evening. The four hostesses who planned the pleasant affair were Mrs. Eaton, Mrs. E. B. Cavell, Mrs. J. N. McLoughlin and Mrs. H. H. Burkart. The other members were Mrs. Fred Broad, Mrs. L. C. Stewart, Mrs. J. R. Walker and Mrs. R. H. Siler.

Northville Friends Join in Surprise For Fred Fenn

A jolly group of relatives and friends, including Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Willis, Miss Pearl Willis, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Sorebings and family of Redford and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Humphries and family of Northville, went to Wilkom Monday evening where they were joined by several other friends and then all made their way to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fenn in that village, where they announced to Mr. Fenn that they had come to help him celebrate his birthday anniversary. The host was very much surprised and yet delighted at this sudden invasion of his home. Mr. Fenn quickly recovered from his surprise and was the leading spirit in the fun that followed. The evening was pleasantly spent in visiting, dancing and cards, and on departing the guests all wished Mr. Fenn many more happy birthday anniversaries.

Woman's Union Holds Final Luncheon of the Year

A good attendance of members of the Presbyterian Woman's Union gathered at the church house Wednesday afternoon for the final regular meeting of the year. At the next meeting in June the Plymouth society will be guests.

The afternoon began with the luncheon which was so appetizing that "will the wonder grow" that a paltry 15 cents was the charge. Mrs. Harry F. Blake was chairman of the luncheon committee.

Mrs. E. B. Cavell was presiding officer and called upon Mrs. F. J. Cochran, who gave a very able discussion of the negro problem, tracing his history and emphasizing his valuable contributions to society. Mrs. Cochran spoke with authority having frequently visited in the south while her uncle, the late Prof. Adam T. Spence, a former instructor in the University of Michigan, was a teacher in Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn. Prof. Adams was the organizer of the famous Fisk Jubilee singers.

Owen Birthday Celebrated At Braeside

A party of friends helped Orlov G. Owen celebrate his birthday on Sunday May 7 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Yerkes, Braeside Farms, on Base Line road.

Friends of Mr. Owen were invited to the surprise party by his wife during the day preceding the party and Sunday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Owen drove into the driveway to the Yerkes home the group was awaiting them.

Presents were given to Mr. Owen to open before the assembly. Among these were a ping pong ball, a bar of soap, a mechanical canary in a tin cage, a red bandanna handkerchief, a complete set of collar buttons, a set of garters (ladies), a pair of red socks, and a tiny pair of pants.

Guests enjoyed the opening of the presents only a trifle more than did Mr. Owen.

A delicious buffet luncheon was served with Mr. and Mrs. Yerkes as the charming hosts.

Guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Jack Burkman, Starr Northrop, Pierre Kenyon, and Ad Schwenger, of Northville, Miss Barbara Bake of Plymouth, and Miss Ruth Grabowsky, of Detroit.

Miss Lela Roberts Weds Percy E. Pelley Saturday

On Saturday evening at eight o'clock Miss Lela Irene Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Roberts of Northville, became the bride of Percy E. Pelley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Pelley of Plymouth. The ceremony was performed at the Methodist parsonage in Saline with the pastor, Rev. Bert Ede, formerly of Walled Lake, officiating clergyman. The double ring ceremony was used.

The bride was becomingly gowned in a powder blue flat crepe. Attending were Miss Esther Halladay, niece of the bride, and Geo. McGhee, both of Pontiac.

Following the ceremony the party went to the new home in Plymouth where a daintily appointed wedding dinner was served. Mrs. Roberts, mother of the bride, joined the young folks at this pleasant occasion.

reliable character and holds a position with the Fisher greenhouse of Plymouth. The bride is a graduate of the Northville high school in the class of '24 and has occupied a number of positions in the village since her graduation. She has many friends here who join in extending best wishes for a happy wedded life.

Mother and Daughter Banquet Enjoyed by Many

Two hundred mothers and daughters banqueted together Tuesday evening at the Methodist church house. It was a lovely sight to glance down the long tables, bright with bowls of yellow buttercups and tapers, and see this intermingling of mothers and daughters, that sweetest of all human relations. More than one daughter, gay in her party gown, with quaint puffed sleeves, leaned perceptibly toward her mother that evening as the program advanced, and more than one mother was seen to steal an arm softly over the back of daughter's chair with a sense of special ownership.

If, here, and there, some mother sighed secretly for the far-away daughter, no one guessed it as she paid a little more attention to the "borrowed" daughter who sat beside her.

Yes, it was a happy occasion when mother and daughter could lean back leisurely and let the brother and "Dad" pour the coffee and bring on the dessert. (And they did it with grace and efficiency too.)

In keeping with the May-dime theme, violet, stood at each place. Small capers in alternating yellow and green carried out the color scheme.

The banquet was prepared by young women of the Service League and was as attractive as it was delectable. Now and then during the dinner songs appropriate to the occasion were sung with Mrs. R. M. Groomer leading and Mrs. Sherill Ambler at the piano. Most heartily sung was "Mother MacInnes."

At the close of the banquet Mrs. Claude Zimmerman, president of the Service League, performed the office of toastmistress in happy manner, who expressed the desire that this be not "just another Mother and Daughter banquet" but that it bring a higher ideal of this relationship.

In a symposium, four girls paid tribute to their mothers. "My First Sweetheart" was voiced by Evelyn Ambler who said that she found her first sweetheart, "there waiting for me!" "My Best Comforter" maintained Ruth Broad, was the one who had always soothed bruises and hurts—and "only mother understands."

In praise of "My Best Counselor," Wilma Rattetbury deemed mother the safest and wisest advisor because most truly interested.

To honor one who had mothered six, left fatherless, fell to the lot of Marion Cousins who spoke of her mother as "My Truest Friend, the heart of justice and serene the harbor of safety and peace in life's adventure."

Brahm's Lullaby was sweetly sung by Mrs. Wilbur H. Johnston and Mrs. Leslie G. Lee with Frances Alexander accompanying. Mrs. Lee's little daughter, one-year-old,

Mary Louise, was no doubt the youngest daughter present.

Introducing Mrs. F. N. Miner as the "ideal of the Service League," Mrs. Zimmerman presented the speaker of the evening, who talked on "Ideal Womanhood." Figuratively, life was represented as a "crystal stream" and Mrs. Miner urged every girl to be strong enough to stand alone and make her own choices. Especially did the advice of a wise friend ring in the hearts of her young listeners—"Keep yourselves so fine that when you come to your 'Knight' you will have no regrets."

Two violin solos, "Songs My Mother Used to Sing" and "London-derry Air," rendered by Mrs. Harry F. Blake with Mrs. Ambler at the piano, were followed by an encore.

An impressive candle-lighting service closed the program. Representing Comradeship, Confidence, Trust, Patience and Sympathy, Mary Louise Boyden, Lela Haystead, Donna Ferguson, Dorothy Richardson and Helen Johnson lighted their candles from Love (Mrs. Ambler) upon which all the former virtues depend. These candles lighted the small tapers of the mothers, who in turn passed the light on to their daughters. With mutual pledges repeated by mothers and daughters and a closing prayer by Mrs. Herman Brendt, the event closed.

Patience

Patience is the guardian of faith, the preserver of peace, the cherisher of love, the teacher of humility. Patience governs the flesh, strengthens the spirit, sweetens the temper, stifles anger, extinguishes envy, she bridges the tongue, refrains the hand, tramples upon temptations, endures persecutions, consummates martyrdom. Patience teaches us to forgive those who have injured us, and to be the first in asking forgiveness of those whom we have injured; she delights the faithful, and invites the unbelieving; she adorns the woman and improves the man; is loved in a child, praised in a young man; she is beautiful in other sex and every age—Bishop Horne.

Trapping Raccoons

Raccoons are not hard to trap, particularly in swamps. One of the best methods for taking them there is to set traps on all logs crossing streams. If sod grows on the log at each end, as is usually the case, make an excavation in the sod the size and shape of your trap and set your trap there. In setting traps on such logs it is best to use a trap at each end; otherwise, if only one trap is used, on a notch in the middle of the log for the trap and cover it with a wet leaf.—Montreal Herald

A Truthful Honest Lawyer

In the thirteenth century in the district of Huguier, in French Normandy, there lived a famous lawyer, named Yves, who always acted as a buttress between rich overlords and the deserving poor, whom he protected. Evidently lawyers in those days were not in high repute, and the people with a sense of humor, have written on the lawyer's tomb, "Advocatus sed non latro—res notando populo"—(A lawyer but not a thief—a wonder for the people!) After his death he was canonized as Saint Yves-de-Forie, and at his tomb crowds gather on May 19 each year, his name day, and a pious tradition obliges the faithful to crawl beneath it.

Is Glass a Liquid?

We are growing accustomed to professors who make astonishing statements, but a pronouncement from Leipzig is a little more startling than most.

According to it, "glass windows are actually liquids, but of a very high stickiness."

This theory commends itself to maids, charwomen and husbands who help with the housework; but whether the housewife, surveying broken glassware, accepts it as a reasonable explanation of the smash is a little doubtful.

Other doubters are those who wear tortoise-shell spectacles. They know that lenses will often survive a fall which smashes the frame. If glass is a liquid, they ask, what is tortoise-shell?—Answers.

EXCHANGITES HEAR ROTARIAN PRESIDENT

Percy Angove, president of the Rotary club, on very short notice, spoke before the Exchange club, Wednesday noon.

The regular program for the day was postponed a week because of unforeseen circumstances.

The Educational Committee of the Exchange club called on Mr. Angove to tell of the aims and purposes of Rotary, that the members might make comparisons between the two.

After briefly describing the District Rotary meeting at Windsor, Mr. Angove presented data of the beginning of Rotary and their program set up.

Mr. Angove was especially enthusiastic regarding the 700 men who were in that meeting and of the opinions which they expressed. Canadians said they were most appreciative of President Roosevelt and affirmed that he was a God sent man. Others voiced the hopes of the future of both countries and the fine business prospects ahead. Many other details of the meeting were reserved for his report to his own club.

Mr. Angove gave a short history of Rotary, its founding in 1905, the present membership of 165,000 in the 4,000 or more clubs scattered in all countries of the world. He also explained the organization of the local club and what were the national objectives for combined clubs of the world.

DRAMATIC FESTIVAL AT ANN ARBOR WILL BRING NOTED STARS

Interesting distinguished artists have been added to the list of stars to be presented this spring at the Ann Arbor Dramatic Festival, to be held from May 22 through June 21 in the beautiful Lydia Mendelsohn theatre in Ann Arbor. For the production of Shakespeare's gay comedy, "Twelfth Night," which climaxes the Festival season with Jane Cowl as Viola, the brilliant English character-actor, Mr. Walter Kingsford has been selected for the role of Sir Toby Belch. Mr. Kingsford played the part with Miss Cowl in New York.

In fact, many of the cast for "Twelfth Night" will duplicate the Broadway production, which scored such a sensational success two years ago. In addition, Robert Henderson, director of the Dramatic Festival, has received permission from Kenneth MacGowan and Carl, the New York producers, to bring to Ann Arbor the costumes and original "book" setting for "Twelfth Night" used in the original production. This stage setting, designed by the distinguished artist, Jo Metzinger, shows a huge "book," labeled "Twelfth Night," in the center of the stage at the rise of the curtain. The clown comes forward and turns the pages of the "book," which as they open on each side are painted with various scenes of the play.

In addition to Walter Kingsford as Sir Toby Belch with Miss Cowl as Viola in "Twelfth Night," the Ann Arbor production will include Joyce Carey as Olivia, Lewis Martin as The Clown, and Jerry Bow as Sebastian; all of whom played these roles with Miss Cowl in New York.

Joyce Carey, the daughter of the English star, Lillian Braithwaite, appeared as Chrysesthemis with Blanche Yerke and Mrs. Patrick Campbell in Robert Henderson's production of the "Electra" last winter in New York. She also was one of the three sisters with Katharine Cornell in "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," and she played a feature role with Miss Cornell this year in "Lucifer."

Lewis Martin as The Clown in "Twelfth Night," due to the unusual nature of Miss Cowl's "book" setting has much of the action centered about him. J. Brooks Atkinson of The New York Times called Mr. Martin's performance "the most delightful and lively performance of the New York City can recall in many years." Jerry Bow, as Viola's twin brother, Sebastian, bears a striking physical resemblance to Miss Cowl herself, which is vital to the plot of the comedy.

Miss Cowl will arrive in Ann Arbor on Wednesday morning, May 31, accompanied by her secretary and her maid. In addition she will bring a special lighting expert with her from New York to install the Rembrandt lighting system from the front of the theatre, which she uses in all of her productions.

An important addition to the cast of "Another Language" has been the engagement of Raymond VanSickle for the part of Walter Hallam, the smart-aleck member of the family. Mr. VanSickle is a New York actor of distinction, and also the author of "Best Years," which was produced in New York this winter with a splendid reception. Mr. VanSickle came on to Detroit this winter to stage and play in "Best Years" at the Bonstelle Civic theatre. He proved so popular that he was held over to appear as Major Duquesnois in the Detroit production of Peter Ibsen's "With Rollo Peters and Jessie Royce Landis.

JUST 46 POUNDS OF FAT GONE

Feels 20 Years Younger

"I surely can recommend Kruschen Salts. I reduced from 156 to 110 lbs. my natural weight and I feel 20 years younger! A pinch a day keeps the fat away." Mrs. Vale Walter, Seattle, Washington (Dec. 30, 1932).

Once a day take Kruschen Salts—one half teaspoonful in a glass of hot water first thing every day, every morning. Besides losing ugly fat SAFETY you'll gain in health and physical attractiveness—constipation, gas and acidity will cease to bother you'll feel younger—more active—full of ambition—clear skin—sparkling eyes.

A jar that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle at any drug store in the world—but demand and get Kruschen and if one bottle doesn't joyfully satisfy you—money back.

HIGHWAY REPAIR

Seventy per cent of all automobiles in America are operated in states which protect their citizens by a Safety Responsibility Law. The American Automobile Association presents such a measure to the Michigan Legislature this session under the sponsorship of the Automobile Club of Michigan and other organizations interested in the prevention of accidents. A Safety Responsibility law keeps the irresponsible driver off the highway until he has proved himself willing and able to pay for the damage which his driving misconduct causes. The law does not work a hardship upon the careful driver.

Polished Clergymen Find

Slip of Tongue Is Easy

Lingual lapses in the pulpit have sometimes created amusing situations. A clergyman in the effort to endow the words with fitting dramatic solemnity, once "forcefully declared": "Now Rahababba was a bobber." Another, in intimating that a certain meeting would take place in the church hall informed the congregation that it would be "hailed by the hell beneath."

Rivals of Spooner have at times appeared in Scottish pulpits. A North-country divine once gave out his text as "the Duke of Bb." Another of the old Scots school prayed that "the naked might be fed and the hungry clothed." It was a preacher in Morayshire who, reading of the shriveled fig tree, gave vent to the "astounding words": "And the wog tree filtered away."

A tongue-tied pulpit orator once announced his text as from "the Epistle of Paul the Colossal to the Aposians."

A would-be very dramatic pulpit-er who seemed a kind of proverbial Shylock, gravely inquired: "Shall I lay surgery upon my pole?" He went on to represent the king of Denmark as having desired his nobles to "suck them a-plunder." He intended, of course, to ask "Shall I lay perjury upon my soul?" and he meant that Hamlet and Laertes should be plucked asunder at the grave of the fair Ophelia.—Montreal Herald.

Sleepwalker Disproves

Old Sudden Shock Myth

The popular myth that sleepwalkers will be damaged or even killed by the sudden shock of waking them while they are walking has been sufficiently disposed of by a British incident in which the "walker" actually lived to tell about it.

As the story goes, the steam trawler Avonside was on her way to the Scotch port of Aberdeen. During the night the mate in charge of the deck saw what he thought was a man climbing over the stern of the boat. He called the captain and announced that the ship had been boarded by some mysterious being out of the sea. The captain found wet footprints on the deck and traced them to the forecabin where he found a water-soaked sailor climbing into his bunk. The sailor explained that he was a sleepwalker, that he had evidently been walking in his sleep and fell overboard. The shock of the cold water immediately awakened him. Seeing a rope hanging from the moving vessel, he grabbed it and climbed back on board.

The epidemic of measles is keeping down the percentage of attendance but the membership is the highest of the year. Among those who have recently entered are the McFee children from Walled Lake.

THIS WEEK

By H. H. WHITE

Again Mussolini's plan for a four-power peace club has bobbed up again over in Rome, after a somewhat dubious and adventurous journey to Berlin, London, Paris and other important places in Europe. When the French and the British got hold of it they amended it to such an extent that the original was barely recognizable. Of course this much is encouraging, as it indicates the plan is still alive and going on. Mussolini still has heart, however, for he is continuing to pool some sort of political agreement among the major powers of Europe.

While Hitler attempting a proposal of the pre-war triple alliance between Austria, Italy and Germany, the situation in Europe is still far from being tranquil. But the report comes from Rome that Mussolini has refrained from entering such an alliance, and that his discussions with France are on a most friendly plane. This strikes a very hopeful note.

Apparently Italy is fully awake to the fact that a major European catastrophe may be supercharged by the present, nationalistic regime in Germany, and that this will act as a restraining hand, rather than an exciting issue, on Hitler's part. For that Europe is indebted to Italy.

Should France persuade itself, and Poland and the little entente, that modifications were made without benefit of warfare, the world at large would be greatly in debt to France.

Progress along these lines would have a benefit effect on the economic and disarmament conferences and discussions in the future when and wherever they are held among the capitals of the world.

WALLED LAKE HEARS

Among the parents who escorted the young folks to Walled Lake were Dr. and Mrs. Paul R. Alexander and Chas. Altman.

TEN HIGHEST SENIORS ARE NAMED MONDAY

Wilma Rattenbury Is First And John Steencken Second

It was decided Monday that Miss Wilma Rattenbury is to be the valedictorian of the senior class and that John Steencken will be salutatorian. The information came from the offices of Superintendent R. H. Amerman and also contained the names of the ten highest in the class.

To be valedictorian, a student must have the highest percentage of his class through the four high school years, not counting the last semester of the senior year. The honor points, such as A, B, etc., are divided by the hours credit earned. The resulting fraction determines the percentage or standing. The perfect standing is 1. Miss Rattenbury attained .823, while John Steencken averaged .760.

The next three highest are: Warner Neal with .754; Richard Shipley, having .753; and Florence Johnson with .751. Following these in the order that they place are: Marie Humphries, Edith Clark, Charlotte Lester, Miriam Dundas and Gertrude Deal. Dorothy Ash was eleventh.

Miss Rattenbury will therefore deliver the valedictory address on class night and John Steencken will give the salutatory address.

The work on these percentages has been going on for some time now and as several complications came up, it was not until this week that they were released.

"It is a great honor to be named either valedictorian or salutatorian," said Supt. Amerman, "and I wish to congratulate both Wilma and John upon their fine work."

HIGH SCHOOL LIBRARY NOW HAS SEVEN NEW BOOKS

In the past few weeks several new books were added to the reading list in the high school library.

Some have to do with history, travel, and others are good wholesome fiction books. The books that are now to be had are: "Jo Ann Tomboy" by Butler and Kent; "Ephraim" by Isadore Lhévin; "With Hearts Courageous" by Gordon King; "Young Lafayette" by Jeanette Eaton; "Round about America" by Pack and Johnson; "Silver Chief" by Jack O'Brien; and "Deep Water" by Mitchell.

NINE HISTORY STUDENTS DO NEARLY PERFECT WORK

There are nine pupils in the U. S. History class of which Mrs. Vivid Cobb is the teacher who have done nearly perfect work for the month of May.

Besides having done excellent work they have finished ahead of the schedule. The pupils are Mary Jane Denne, Merle Fraser, Ernest Racz, Ruth Angell, Catherine Gibson, Ernestine Parmenter, and Geo. Ulrich.

Ruth Angell has maintained the highest record of the class for the first semester. In doing this, she did not receive less than 96 on any of the work.

GRADE NOTES

Tommy Cursl, Marja Hatchett, Jane Ann Lanning, Shirley Lyke, Eleanor Mitchell, Arlene VanSickly, Shirley Sheller, Betty Snow and Linwood Snow were not absent during the month of April from Mrs. Eda Rose Eaton's kindergarten.

The Elephants, a group of Miss Helen Leonardson's first graders, are having a contest climbing a ladder. Each child has a doll to represent them on the ladder. Every afternoon they draw a picture of the story on the blackboard. The five people to have the pictures which tell the most about the story, move up a rung on the ladder.

Robert Beasley, a pupil in Miss Jarvis' 3B grade, fell from a horse and hurt his ankle very badly. James LeRue, another member of that grade, has gone to Missouri to spend two weeks with his grandmother.

Mrs. Marie Congo's 4th graders have a new set of child library readers. A spell-down was held in that grade and Bernice Lanning and Lloyd Clark were captains.

Miss Ellen Reincke's 6th grade is holding two classes in current events every week.

The pupils in Miss Grace Hawkins' 6th grade took the Monroe Standardized Reading Test last week and 18 members of the 6th grade group got 8th grade reading scores. The children of this 6th grade class are making posters for Clean-Up Week.

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

Congratulations, Supt. Amerman

The Orange and Black wishes to express what it believes is the congratulations and well wishes of the whole student body to our new Superintendent, R. H. Amerman. We believe that there is no one better fitted to carry on in the steps of our late beloved leader, Thad J. Knapp. Mr. Amerman had worked with Mr. Knapp for three years and knows intimately all of his plans for the future. Moreover, he has the respect and confidence of the students over whom he has charge, and that, we believe, is extremely important.

For the rest of the year, at least, Mr. Amerman's road will be rough and his task difficult. In attempting to overcome problems that will confront him, he will need the cooperation of every student and of every citizen. In the end, however, we feel confident that his ability will triumph and that he will bring the Northville school through with flying colors.

The Popularity Contest

The popularity contest, sponsored by the Palladium staff, to be held next Wednesday, is an affair like the one which has never before been seen in the Northville high school.

The two winners, a boy and a girl, the names of whom will not be made public until the Palladium comes out, will be the best liked students in the high school. They will be the winners because more students like them better than any other two students. This does not belittle the two hundred and forty other high school students who do not win. It merely means that they are not so well acquainted with the majority of their fellows as are the two winners. This may be because they have not had the time to be familiar with the public so much in extra curricular work, it may be because they have not wished for the publicity that comes with public activities; it may be any number of things, but it is not that these other students are not the equal of the winners.

Of course we are not trying to belittle the satisfaction and glory that will come to the two most popular students; and that they will feel satisfied is only human. We are merely trying to show how it is possible for any two students to be more popular than any other two.

And we would advise that in voting, students go a little beyond their own likes, and consider, just a little, certain qualities such as leadership, ability to mix socially, straight forwardness, etc. This can be done in such a manner that it will not detract from the popularity idea of the contest. The outside public is going to form an opinion of the school by its choice in this matter, and that opinion should be a good one.

The Council Should Choose the Managers

The recent controversy over the baseball management has caused much unpleasantness, that, though necessary in this case, could have been avoided. And if the plan of Spencer Van Valkenburg is carried out, the recurrence of such an episode will be impossible.

Spencer, one of the present managers and the boy whom former Coach Ruggles called "the best athletic manager in school," has figured in the center of the manager question. Now he has a plan whereby the coach and team will choose their own managers. As it is now, the task of selecting athletic managers is performed by the student council. The only obvious fault with that is that the council representative though it may be, cannot determine the likes and dislikes of the team as well as the members themselves.

"They and their coach know who they want and should be given a chance to choose," says Spencer, "as they are the ones who have to work with the managers not the council."

We believe "Manager Van" is right. And it strikes us rather humorously that it would be much more pleasant for the council, as well as the team, if his plan is adopted.

What's worrying the editor of the Palladium is whether or not the teachers he picks to count the votes can keep the result a secret until the darn book is published.

Fairy story. The student came into the assembly without a permit and the teacher told him that it was all right as a permit wasn't really necessary.

Bill Eaton says he wants to start a column. All we hope is that it's not as bad as "Every Monday Morning" and "The Comeback."

Chief Power certainly is on the job. He doesn't even let people go in the library without first questioning them.

At least, no one can say our baseball games are dry. Neither are they so hot. In fact they're all wet.

We hope all the kids of our enemies grow up to be columnists.

Signale. As changeable as some women or the high school clocks.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT TO PRESENT PLAY ON FRIDAY, MAY 19

"The Valley of Ghosts" Reported Very Mysterious

The music department under the supervision of Leslie G. Lee, is preparing another play. This time it is a mysterious one, full of action, suspense, humor and drama. It will be presented on May 19 in the high school auditorium.

The scene for "The Valley of Ghosts" is a dark, lonely house with a sole occupant, a superstitious old woman who believes that the spirits of persons who have been murdered there return to talk to her.

Throughout the entire production lights go on and off, a locked door plays; characters disappear, screams are heard continually, and a clock that has been silent for a number of years strikes. Special sound and lighting effects are being used and tend greatly to add to the mysterious effect of the play.

Jacob Lear, the author, has contrived a clever plot, and as the direction is in competent hands, it is certain to be presented at its best.

N. H. S. IS TO PLAY AT VAN DYKE TODAY

Ball Team Expected to Have Good Chance In Return Game

Today the Northville High School baseball team will play Lincoln of Van Dyke there, in a return game.

Northville's first league game was lost to Lincoln, 6-4 at the first of the season when N. H. S. had been wanting for practice which was, so sorely needed. Northville has had a chance to get in much practice and experience since then, and she will now have her chance to come back at Lincoln.

Although the practice this week has been cut down because of the bad weather, and wet grounds, the game is expected to be hard fought. Coach Thompson stated that the Van Dyke team was a good team and able to put up a stiff battle.

It will be remembered, that Niemiensheim, Van Dyke pitcher, gave the Orange and Black batters some trouble when he opposed them here. Even though he will probably again start in the box, Northville has had more experience against fast ball pitching and stands a good chance of hitting him considerably.

There are only three league games left, two games with Melvindale and one with Van Dyke. This season there are only three schools in the league who have baseball teams: they are Melvindale, Lincoln of Van Dyke, and Northville.

The schedule remaining is: May 12 (today) Van Dyke, there; May 15, Melvindale, here; May 19, there; May 23, Plymouth, here; Country Day School, May 29.

Students Are Urged To Consider Carefully In Voting For the Most Popular Two In The High School

By Florence Johnson

Just what is "popularity"? You ponder on that question many times, yet you let it go by with a shrug of impatience. Why worry? Of course one must be a leader, you tell yourself. You must be full of pep, personality and, well, maybe ambition counts some too. Also, you add, one must possess the several citizenship requirements, such as honesty and so forth. (That is taken more or less for granted.) One does not necessarily have to be good looking either. (Lucky perhaps.)

With the oncoming Palladium popularity contest, these things should be considered very seriously. I realize that it has been well advertised, written about, and spoken of around the school. But do you really know whom you are going to vote for? If so, is the person you have in mind all he or she should be? Will their popularity be lasting, if they should actually win?

Think back a couple of years. Are the students who were considered popular at that time still so? If not, what has happened to them? Was not their popularity the enduring type? Or was it more like a passing "fad," here today and gone tomorrow?

Wouldn't you like to know that the person who wins in this event,

MAYOR PRESIDES AT THE STUDENT COURT TUESDAY

One "Victim" Is Sentenced; The Other Gains Her Acquittal

Exceedingly judicial echoes from the official "court room" resounded down the hall in the local high school Tuesday when His Honor, Mayor Robert Charles Christensen, presided over the first student court held in several years in the science room.

A complaint made by hall duty officer, Monroe Weston, was presented to the court by chief of police, Robert Grant Power. The complaint was against William Dundas, Jr., for an action of contempt against Officer Weston. The defendant was defended by Fred Warner Neal and prosecuted by Howard Roy Latta. Defense Attorney Neal endeavored to show, by proving the evasiveness of the defendant was defective, that the action was justified. Prosecutor Latta won, however, and Defendant Dundas was sentenced to make a public apology to the student body in the assembly meeting Wednesday.

"Hear ye, hear ye," intoned Chief Robert Grant, who acted as clerk. "The next case is that of Eleanor Eaton versus the Northville high school student union." It was brought out that Miss Eaton was accused of shooting with a squirt gun Hall Duty Officer Cook, and loitering in the halls.

Fred Warner, again acting as the gallant defender, this time scored a victory and got his client acquitted on both charges. His Honor then adjourned the court "until the need of its existence is again necessary."

Today the Northville high school golf team travels to Trenton where it will engage in a championship league meet with the other golf teams of the league.

The meet is to be held at the Island Golf club. Play will commence at 2.00 p. m. The league champions will be decided here. Medal play, where the score of the teams players are totaled and compared with the same of the opposing team, is to be used.

Last Thursday the Northville golf team was again defeated at the hands of Plymouth by a decisive score in medal play at Meadowbrook C. C. The scores of both teams were high due to the wet weather. Last week the team overwhelmed the Alumni in match play, 16-2.

SUBURBAN LEAGUE MEET IS DOUBTFUL FOR THIS AFTERNOON

Today the track team will probably go to Ypsilanti to the suburban league-track meet, however, it was not definite as the Record went to press. Coach Kenyon was doubtful that they would although the meet was scheduled for today, since he had no notification to the effect that the meet would be held. If not, Kenyon is going to try to schedule the suburban meet at Northville June 3.

POPULARITY VOTE PLANS READY FOR NEXT WEDNESDAY

Thompson, Lee, and Miss Palmer Picked To Have Charge

With the whole school seemingly excited over the Palladium popularity contest to be held next Wednesday, May 17, the Palladium staff is busy completing plans for the feature.

A committee consisting of Assistant Principal F. B. Thompson, Leslie G. Lee, and Miss Ione Palmer has been appointed by Editor Warner Neal, which will have complete charge of the contest. Their duties will consist of passing out the specially printed ballots, collecting them after the voting, counting the votes, and generally supervising the affair.

As has previously been explained, each student will write on his ballot the name of the boy and the girl whom he likes the best. The two students receiving the most votes will win the contest.

The result of the vote is to be kept strictly secret and appear with pictures of the winners in the Palladium when it is published the first part of June.

TRACK TEAM WINS IN RAIN FRIDAY

Beats Melvindale 61-25, And Takes All the First Places

Last Friday the Northville track team in a meet with Melvindale did not allow their opponents to take a single first place and overwhelmed them 61 to 25. The meet was run on a muddy track which handicapped both teams and made records practically impossible.

Capt. Vradenburg set a good example for his team mates by taking the first event on the program, the high hurdles with a time of 20 seconds. He later captured first in the low hurdles and captured ten points for N. H. S. Melvindale took second and third in both these events since Vradenburg was the only Northville entry; however, he alone took more points than the whole Melvindale hurdlings squad.

McLoughlin took first in a dramatic finish of the 400-yard dash with a time of eleven seconds, and Tewksbury took third. Unfortunately, Ernest Racz was out of this event due to an injury received in a meet a few days before. In the 220 yard dash Tewksbury and McLoughlin placed first and second, respectively. Billy McGee outran a field of Melvindale runners to win the 440 dash with a time of 58 seconds.

In the mile run, Porter, proved himself durable and took first (time—57:17) and Cook added to the total by taking third. In the half mile run first and second were won, respectively by Ulrich and Bray, Melvindale taking third. Evidently Northville is good in a long run after all.

Baldwin easily won the high jump, being the only Northville entry, jumping four feet, ten inches. Baldwin also won the shotput with push of 30 feet 7 inches; followed with Straitz a close second.

The meet was climaxed with the 880 relay in which Bender, McLoughlin, Carrington, and Tewksbury carried Northville to an easy finish and finishing a perfect afternoon.

Broadjump and pole vault were left out of the meet.

The following are the points won by individual members of the team:

Person	1st 2nd 3rd Tot.
Capt. Vradenburg	2 0 0 10
Baldwin	2 0 0 10
McLoughlin	1 1 0 8
Tewksbury	1 0 1 6
Ulrich	1 0 0 5
Porter	1 0 0 5
McGee	2 0 0 5
Straitz	0 1 0 3
Bray	0 1 0 3
Cook	0 0 1 1
Relay Team: Bender, McLoughlin, Carrington, Tewksbury	1 0 0 5
TOTAL	10 3 2 61

RAIN STOPS TWO BASEBALL GAMES HERE

Melvindale Game on May 15 And Country Day On May 29

The rain is not only hurting local crops but is raising havoc with the Northville high school baseball season as well.

The game scheduled here last Friday with Melvindale was called in the third inning due to the down-pour that had been getting under way; even before the game started, Northville was leading by one run. Coach Paul B. Thompson arranged to have the game played Monday, May 8, but another shower of "cats and dogs" in the morning made the diamond unfit for play to say nothing of the slight drizzle that fell during the day. This game will be played here next Monday, May 15.

The Detroit Country Day school was to have played here Tuesday, May 9, but a rain falling all morning made the contest impossible. The entire fair grounds were so wet there was not even baseball practice Tuesday. This game has been postponed until Monday, May 29.

The team members meanwhile, are keeping in good condition, but the possibility of growing state threats. The players say that they do not see the need for practicing. It is going to rain on every game. One even was so pessimistic as to believe "that there is going to be a flood."

Today, the team is supposed to play The Lincoln school at Van Dyke. In the middle of the week Co-captains Kohler and Bulmon, Coach Thompson, and others, said that "it is probable that we will not play as rain is practically inevitable; at least if past experience is any basis for judgment."

Unheard of, say you again. Well, unheard of or not, right or wrong, the seniors are going to skip, (now that the secret is out, we must use the quote marks) and they will have the permission of all concerned.

LATTA RESIGNS AS SENIOR ALDERMAN TO STUDENT COUNCIL

It was announced in the student council meeting Monday that Howard Latta, senior alderman, had resigned.

Mayor Robert Christensen read to the council Latta's letter of resignation which is printed below. The council then decided to submit the names of Florence Johnson and Melvin Steiner to the senior class and have the seniors choose between them for alderman to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation.

This was not in compliance with the constitution which states that "in case any member of the said council shall have for any reason resigned, the said council shall have the power to fill the vacancy."

Howard Latta's letter to the council is as follows:

To the Mayor and The Council:

I wish to tender my resignation from the student council to you for the reason that I cannot see how a student council can operate when not in harmony. I wish to thank each of you who helped me as far as I went in the face of this worthless controversy over baseball managers. My class has brought such pressure to bear upon me that I feel it best to resign if that is what they wish.

I have tried all year to do the best that I possibly could for the school and I believe that we as a council have accomplished everything possible that any council could do.

I am very sorry to have to resign but I feel it is best for all involved. If, however, at any time you wish to call upon me to help you I will be only too glad to do so.

Respectfully,
Howard Latta,
Senior Alderman.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

What form of commencement do you prefer, the old-fashioned type in which the speaker talks to the graduates or the "modern activities" type that has been used in the past few years?

Alfred Parmenter—I prefer the modern activities as they are more interesting.

Wilma Rattenbury—The activity program is much more interesting and pleases both the audience and the players.

Florence Johnson—The modern activities provide more opportunities for each member to participate in the program.

Leslie G. Lee—I believe it would be a good idea to vary the program each year, activities one year and a speaker the next.

Marian Turnbull—The activity program shows what the students can do and portrays their special gifts, such as acting.

Charles Strautz—I prefer the modern activities type since after all it is the seniors who are graduating and they should provide the program.

"Old Man of the Mountain"

Chief of Assassins Order

The "Old Man of the Mountain" was the chief of the order of Assassins.

The Assassins were founded by Hassan ben Sabah at the end of the Eleventh century, and they had their capital and stronghold at Alamut in Persia.

Their chief was known as Sheikh el-Jabal, "Prince of the Mountain." The Arabic word "sheikh" however, may be translated either as "prince" or "old man."

"Old man" is the first and literal meaning. A powerful branch of the Assassins became established in Syria with its headquarters at Massat. Ultimately it became independent of the Persian establishment. Rashid ed-Din Al-Uthasir Sinan was chief of the Syrian Assassins at the time of the Third Crusade, and he is the specific "Vetus de Monte" or "Old Man of the Mountain" best known to European history.

The Assassins murdered Moslems and Christians impartially, and contemporary chroniclers charge that Richard Lion Heart, king of England, bribed Sinan to kill Conrad of Montferrat, his rival and foe in the Crusade.

The Assassins or Hemp Eaters, were not a nation. They were an "imperium in imperio," a secret order defying all nations. They were nominally Moslems, but scoffed at the laws of the Koran. By promising their novices ineffable bliss in heaven and probably feeding them on hashish the Assassin chiefs commanded eager obedience and their emissaries seldom failed to do what they were dispatched to do.
