SMALL SCALE WATER FILTER PROVES WORTH

Engineer Hamill Ordered To Continue With Plans

Reinstatement of Engineer Herald F. Hamill, Plymouth, with instructions to continue the filtration experiments on village water was ordered by the city commission which met Monday evening at the village hall.

According to Wellington Roberts, associate engineer, in the rear of whose yard on Randolph street has been constructed a small-scale filtration plant, recent tests show that the model, using local materials, will eliminate 80 per cent of the iron content in the water and reduce the bacteria count by 50 per cent. This is done, stated Mr. Roberts, by aeration of the water to remove the iron although the plant itself was not designed to remove bacteria. With but a few changes, he said, considerably more of the bacteria could be removed.

Commissioners listened with considerable interest to a short talk by Mr. Cameron, of the Aeromix company, who passed out leaflets describing the machine, his company's products, designed to aerate the water to eliminate iron content and to purify the water.

Reports from the state health department show, said Dr. F. W. Snow, president, that the Northville sewage disposal plant, installed by the engineering firm of Hubbell and Roth, of Detroit, is only 25 per cent efficient. He stated that the $30,000 government proposed to loan this community was probably based on the needs of the water system and $30,000 for an efficient system of sewage disposal. Discussion of this subject was not lengthy but the commission decided to go into debt for a larger sum of money than it could afford. Approximately 30 per cent, it was brought out, of the sum to be loaned by the government for public works would not have to be repaid.

Dr. William H. Johnston, health officer, advanced the idea of borrowing sufficient money from the government with which to build a sanitary wading pond for Northville youngsters in view of the fact that no swimming facilities are available here. In this he was supported by R. I. Gerould, affiliated with the Parent-Teachers Recreational program. Dr. Johnston also recommended that public laboratories be installed in Northville, preferably somewhere near the intersection of Main and Center streets, and that the drinking fountain be remodeled. The council took this proposal under advisement.

Northville has already paid $30.00 to Professor John S. Worley, U. of M. investigator who worked for this town and also Wayne and Plymouth in the fight to reduce gas rates, which was won. In addition to this sum the commission ordered the treasurer to complete the payment with $22.50 and the township will give a similar sum. Wayne and Plymouth, each have given $180.

Delinquent water bills were mailed this week, reported Fred Hedge, village clerk, and the commissioners decided that those who were making no effort to pay all or a part of the account would be dealt with severely. A bill presented by Loyle German for $150.00 for the loss of a valuable coon dog which was shot on the complaint of the family of C. W. Westphal, High street, by Chief of Police Wm. Safford was denied.

VIZNACK BOY HURT RUNNING INTO CAR

Louis Viznack, 511 Carpenter, narrowly escaped serious injury Saturday evening when he ran ahead of his mother across the Dunlap-Center street intersection and into the side of a car driven by Clarence Cornwall, Dubur street.

Picked up and taken to Sessions hospital by Chief of Police Wm. Safford, the boy was found to have a severe forehead bruise but was otherwise uninjured.

Cornwall was not held.

T. G. RICHARDSON'S HAT RESCUED AFTER A 13-STORY FLIGHT

Head Gear Is Recovered Amid Woodward Avenue's Bustle

T. G. Richardson isn't given to telling fish stories, but this one could beat any whale in the Seven Seas.

Mr. Richardson, just back from Florida, was using up his surplus scrip for a haircut the other day on the 13th floor of the Penobscot building in Detroit, and before getting into the chair laid his hat on the window sill. Whether or not the number "13" had anything to do with it remains unknown, but a playful breeze lifted the hat from the ledge and whirled it out over the throngs on the street. The miniature parachute crossed Griswold street, sailed blissfully away, and landed on Woodward avenue a block and a half from the Penobscot building. Meanwhile, one of the attendants in the barber shop jumped into the elevator and made a record-breaking, nonstop flight to the ground floor. Dashing out into the street, he could see the hat sailing around and finally landing over on Woodward avenue. The boy rescued the runaway and found it none the worse for its escapade.

Before the barber had time to finish clipping Mr. Richardson's hair the colored boy came into the room looking much like the "Greeks bearing gifts." As he handed the hat back without blot or blemish to "T. G.," its Northville owner.

"SAN" EMPLOYEES GET THEIR PAY IN CASH AUG. 15

Employees of the Maybury sanatorium will again enjoy the "feel" of money, instead of the usual scrip.

For the first time in several months the sanatorium will meet its payroll of $13,000 in cash on August 15. When scrip first came out people were fearful of it but recently it has come into more demand because of the fact that the city of Detroit has been redeeming the scrip and paying the interest on it.

S. L. A. MARSHALL TO BROADCAST THE EAST-WEST MATCHES

S. L. A. Marshall, of the Six Mile road and well known member of the Detroit News editorial staff, will broadcast the East-West polo matches which begin Sunday at Onwentsia club, Lake Forest, Ill., it was announced Wednesday by the secretary of the United States Polo Association.

Many polo enthusiasts are planning to attend the matches among whom are Phil Gremman and Bobbie Nicholds.

GERMAN WINS

Harry German, the one man in baseball who never worries about his legs giving way or about coming age, pulled his famous "iron man" stunt again last Saturday, Aug. 5, by pitching the Carleton Independent to a 7-4 victory over the Detroit Eagles as a part of the New Hudson Homecoming celebration. Supporting were his son, Loyle behind the bat, and Harry German, Jr., in the outfield.

Northville Business Men Must File Report at Detroit Office Of Tax Board By August 15

Northville residents will be interested in knowing some of the details concerning the sales tax which affects about a hundred business people in this vicinity. Facts concerning the tax have been made known here only this week.

The first return of the general sales tax, which went into effect July 1, must be filed in the Detroit office of the State Board of Tax Administration at 1214 Griswold street by August 15, accompanied by one dollar for a license to sell at retail. The necessary blanks for computing the tax may be had at The Record office. Blanks will not be sent out from the Detroit office.

Neither scrip nor postage will be accepted in payment of the tax. The Detroit branch office will serve the counties of Wayne, Macomb, and Oakland. No office or representative of the tax administration board is likely to be established in Northville.

Those in Northville who are required to account for the collection of the sales tax by themselves must each make out their own returns and pay the tax to the Detroit office.

SCHOOLS HERE WILL OPEN ON SEPTEMBER 18

Mrs. Sterling Eaton Resigns Post, Miss Annie Richards Is Successor

Northville schools will open September 18. This date was definitely decided upon by the school board at a meeting Monday night. Opening two weeks earlier than last year will mean cutting short a part of the vacation but it will also mean an earlier closing in the summer to escape the warm weather.

The faculty for 1933-34 will have three new members, according to Superintendent R. H. Amerman. Two have already been contracted and a third will be decided upon very shortly.

Miss Annie Richards, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Richards, of Belleville, formerly of Northville, has been appointed to fill the vacancy in the kindergarten. Mrs. Sterling Eaton's resignation from that position was accepted by the board. Monday, Ted Watts, former Albion college student and football star, will assume the duties of athletic coach and instructor in mathematics this fall. A complete list of teachers, and details regarding the opening of school will be published in an early issue of The Record, Mr. Amerman said.

The board also decided to look into the matter of one or two textbooks which have become antiquated in subject matter. Teachers will present the new texts to the classes for their consideration when school begins. Students and their parents will decide whether they want the new books or not. If they do, it is possible that the old books will be accepted for credit on the purchase. Arrangements have already been made with one book company to accept the old books on credit and it is expected arrangements will be made with one or other book company.

Mr. Amerman also stated that in compliance with the state law in regard to high school courses, twelfth grade civics will be required of all seniors from now on. A mathematics review has been taking the place of this course the past few years. Citizenship, formerly presented in the eighth grade, will become a ninth grade course this fall.

In regard to school scrip, Mr. Amerman said that the board voted to redeem one thousand dollars of it within the next two weeks. Details concerning this move will be made known later.

DR. B. H. DOUGLAS NAMED MEMBER OF BANK COMMITTEE

Northville people and Maybury sanatorium folks will be much pleased to learn that Dr. B. H. Douglas, medical superintendent at the "San", has been named a member of the depositors' committee of the Depositors State Bank. He takes the place of the late C. R. Horton, who did a vast amount of work in assisting in the organization of the new bank. Dr. Douglas was selected by the other members of the depositors committee, John A. Boyce and Oliver Goldsmith and the appointment has been approved by the state banking department.

CASH FOR PART OF SCRIP

Part of the Northville school scrip is to be redeemed. Through the kindness of the Depositors State Bank of Northville, holders of school scrip, series A-1 to 500, B-4000 to 4100, may present same at the bank and receive the principal and interest to date. About $1,000 dollars of the $5,000 issued may be redeemed. This is made possible by the collection of one thousand dollars in delinquent taxes. In the future the amount of scrip redeemable will depend entirely upon the amount of tax money turned in. It is hoped that more scrip can be redeemed by the first of the month, although it may still be necessary to issue another thousand dollars Sept. 1 to meet the pay of teachers who are paid each month of the year.

LOCAL MERCHANTS BACK NRA EAGLE

With but few exceptions, according to proponents of the plan, Northville merchants favor shortening business hours down to a schedule of from 8:00 o'clock a. m. to 8:30 o'clock p. m. on week days and from 8:00 a. m. to ten p. m. on Saturdays.

At a meeting of the businessmen held Saturday afternoon at the village hall, a majority of those present signed an agreement to regulate their business hours according to the NRA and to co-operate unanimously with the new schedule.

The blue eagle is looking in most of the store windows in Northville and Postmaster J. R. Carrington reports that 53 agreements have been handed to his office.

Each businessman in Northville is busy working out the details of putting the act into effect in his own organization. The month of August has been designated the time allowed for the merchants all over the country to reorganize. Nowhere is there more effort to meet with the act than in Northville and while the question of closing hours is not definitely settled there is every indication that the "chaos" will be settled to the lasting satisfaction and benefit of all. While the new hours mean the reduction of working hours to some extent, it will eventually mean more money put to work and that is the solution decided upon by the government to eradicate poor business conditions.

According to newspaper exchanges, some communities are going further than mere written compliance with the NRA by organizing consumers' leagues in order to bring pressure to bear on those merchants who are unwilling to fall in line with the blue eagle. Oakland and Genesee counties are said to be in accord with the early closing program and plans are believed to be under way to line up Detroit merchants for a unanimous decision to keep no stores open on Sunday except those absolutely unable to close.

DETROIT HOPES TO KEEP STINSON PLANT

Northville residents will be interested to learn that a determined effort is being made by Detroit interests to prevent the moving of the Stinson Aircraft Corp., formerly located in Northville and now established in Wayne, Michigan, to Connersville, Ind. It is believed because of inadequate facilities of the County Airport, the Cord Corp., of which the Stinson firm is an auxiliary, has ordered removal of the plant's operations to the base factory at Connersville.

A special meeting of the Board of Supervisors Ways and Means Committee was called Tuesday by Chairman John S. Hall to consider the possibility of persuading the Stinson Corp. to establish a plant at the Wayne County Airport.

Councilman John W. Smith, member of the committee called attention to the fact that the annual payroll of the Stinson firm has been $450,000 even in times of depression. He urged that the company be offered free use of the airport as an inducement to continue operating here.

YOUNG WOMEN TO JOIN IN THE FUN

And now the young women are to have their "innings" in the recreation program. With Mrs. Odow G. Owen and Mrs. J. E. Sehaday as directors of the activities for the young women's games—both in groups and teams, will be played.

There is no age limit to this group. Any woman who longs for a bit of real fun to make her lose her cares and perhaps a few surplus pounds may "get into the game."

The first meeting will be held at 7:30 on Monday evening at the high school. It is hoped that many will join in the program to be planned. Hang up the dish pan early and come out.

The funds for carrying on the recreation work are coming in so slowly that it has been decided to pass the hat at the ball games held at the high school evenings, where the interest runs high.

Children are still meeting each morning for their good times directed by Paul B. Thompson.

FAIR PLANS BIG NIGHT PARADE

FRUIT GROWERS ASKED TO ASSIST AT LOCAL FAIR

Fruit growers are urged to get their choicest pears, plums, apples, and other fruit for the Northville Fair. Ralph Foreman, head of the horticulture exhibit at the fair, expects to make this year's exhibit the best ever. The fair has always had a good display of fruit but plans are under way to surpass previous displays.

Fruit growers are asked to have their exhibits at the fair grounds by Wednesday noon of fair week.

EXCHANGITES HEAR B. A. BALDWIN ON NRA POSSIBILITIES

Exchangites heard a far-reaching and thought provoking talk by Ben A. Baldwin of Detroit, guest speaker at their weekly meeting, Wednesday in the Methodist church house.

Mr. Baldwin traced briefly the history of business from the early times down past the World war through the spending orgy of 1929 which brought on the depression to the modern day and the National Recovery Act, the latest development in the business world.

Mr. Baldwin pointed out that the NRA has three fundamental principles to perform, to give employment, provide a living wage, and create leisure time. He stated that the act with these three objectives was passed quickly and without time for analyzing.

The act is temporary, Mr. Baldwin said. When the pain of economic disorder has been alleviated it will be discarded. It is being forced upon the people for another. Merchants who don't sign the agreement are subject to boycott and why should we boycott a merchant into submission, Mr. Baldwin asked.

The act is doing a good thing in that it is creating employment for many who are out of a job. But there is danger in the fact that employers in the huge industries are liable to put the maximum wage at the minimum prescribed by the NRA. Mr. Baldwin pointed out that to live on the minimum wage prescribed by the act is almost an impossibility for a man with a family and his to meet each month.

Other phases of the act and resultant effects were brought up by Mr. Baldwin before he concluded. Guests present were Gordon Gage of Detroit, J. R. Lyons, and John Mills.

APPLICATION BLANKS FOR LOANS ON HOMES

Congressman George A. Dondero has provided this office with a limited supply of application blanks for loans under the New Home Loan Act. These are available to home owners who have lost their homes through foreclosure during the past two years and to those whose homes are now in the process of foreclosure.

At the present time the Home Owners Loan Corporation is concentrating on assisting home owners who come under the above classifications.

Applications for loans must be made out in duplicate and a picture of the home must accompany the application. A kodak picture will be satisfactory.

NRA Will Help Put 12,000,000 Unemployed People At Work, Geo. W. Bird Tells Rotary Club

That the cure for the country's economic ills is on the way in the form of the President's National Recovery Act is the belief stated by George W. Bird of Dearborn at the weekly meeting of the Northville Rotary club in the Presbyterian church Tuesday.

Mr. Bird, guest speaker at the Rotarians' weekly meeting is closely allied with activities of the NRA in Dearborn. He has studied it no more than anyone else since the act was first made known, but his interpretation of the blanket code was enlightening to say the least and welcome information to the assembled business men of the town.

Mr. Bird described the NRA as a tonic for a country deep in the clutches of economic disorder. It will provide relief, he said, for the unemployed, laborers receiving starvation wages and long hours of work, and other maladjustments of industry.

The National Recovery Act was born because the President realized that no one man, no industry, could foster the necessary uniform attack upon the economic ills, Mr. Bird stated.

Every Type of Horse Drawn Vehicle Will Be on Display Wednesday Evening, Aug. 23

Fireworks, Pie-Eating Contest, Free Acts and Band Concert Will Also Be On Program

The Wednesday night opening of the four day Northville Wayne County Fair, August 23 to 26 inclusive, will overshadow any previous fair opening ever staged here before.

Without waiting for any preliminary features, the entertainment will begin Wednesday evening with a giant parade in which every farmer with a rig and every horse man with a mount will participate. Prizes are to be awarded for the best looking rig, for the most ramshackle rig and for the best costumed rider.

There will be every type of old-fashioned horse drawn rig present that can be gathered. Covered wagons, stage coaches, buckboard wagons, top buggies, double surreys, all drawn by mules, jennies, ponies, and some of the most famous sway-backed horses in the country. All drivers may use whatever their imaginations dictate for costumes, fair of ficals say, and they can try for prizes at either extreme—the most handsome outfit award, the most outlandish get-up award, or any of the intermediary awards. Judges will consider both the driver's costume and the rig when giving out the prizes.

"GOOD WILL TABLE" IS BIG ATTRACTION AT WORLD'S FAIR

The "American Good Will Table," which Northville residents will remember seeing on exhibition here about a year ago, is now being exhibited in the horticulture building at the World's Fair. This table, an unusual piece of workmanship involving 75,288 pieces of unadorned wood, is the handiwork of George L. Hathaway, one time patient at the Maybury sanatorium.

This remarkable table is attracting its share of the huge crowds that mill about the exposition grounds daily.

Mr. Hathaway has had several offers to sell his unusual table but he, as declined so far. One person in Detroit offered him $25,000 for the table. Ripley, creator of "Believe It or Not," wanted to purchase the table for his "Believe It or Not Museum."

Mr. Hathaway is the only member of the American Legion and only war veteran to have an exhibit at the Century of Progress.

PAUL THOMPSON HAS LEFT EYE INJURED BY MOLTEN SOLDER

If you see Paul Thompson wearing a patch over his left eye rest assured that he is not trying to emulate Floyd Gibbons or Wiley Post.

Paul was working with William Horsfall, janitor at the high school, last Saturday. They were doing a bit of soldering when three pieces of the hot solder flew up and hit Paul in the eye.

While the experience was painful no complications have set in and Paul will be observing with both eyes in about ten days.

PASTE IN YOUR HAT

Northville fair dates are August 23 to 26.

NORTHVILLE BAND TO PLAY AT "SAN" AND DOWN TOWN AUG. 19

The band is tuning up. On Saturday afternoon, August 19, the Northville community band will give a concert for the children of Maybury Sanatorium on the lawn in front of the children's unit. They will play from 3 to 5:30 p. m., when the little folks will enjoy the treat of music.

In the evening the band will play on the corner of Main and Center streets. This will be the first band concert of the summer. Forty-five strong, they will play with leader Edward Head directing. The public will welcome this coming concert.

Tentative features of the fair will be a group of genuine Russian Cossacks with a dazzling display of European horsemanship, and several other specialty acts. In an endeavor to cram the show full of as much entertainment as possible, fair officials are opening the fair Wednesday evening with their best possible features. Opening night will be celebrated in a form never before attained and patrons are assured more than their money's worth if they attend that night. (See Entry Blank on Back Page)

WHO'LL BUILD A HOUSE?

The other day a friend pointed out that any one who starts a building job gives work to a lot of people. We hadn't thought about it just that way but it is so.

Suppose some one starts a new house in Northville within a month or two. Look over the folks who will be helped: Carpenters, painters, plumbers, laborers, truck drivers, plasterers, and electricians. Consider the business places that get some business when a new home is built: The lumber merchants, the furnace seller, the nail man, the paint vendor, the hardware proprietor, the electric supply store, the glass seller, and maybe even the drug store—for they sell a lot of things.

Then if you furnish the house, what a lot of good you can do for these people. The furniture man, the radio seller, the variety store, the dry goods stores, the window shade man and so on down the list.

Yes sir, building a house gives work to a lot of people and they in turn will give business to some one else.

It would be fine to hear the sound of the hammer on some new homes in and around Northville.

THE WHEAT SURPLUS

We got to wondering why Ralph Carr, the Wayne county farm agent, could offer our county farmers $17,000 as a bonus for cutting their wheat acreage. Well here is one big reason for this action: We are sending abroad only about one-quarter of the wheat we formerly did. Look at the figures and then you will see why we don't need so much wheat raised:

A few years ago we used to send 200 millions of bushels of wheat to Europe. Then lately Germany, France and Italy put up very high tariff walls; the German duty, for example, being $1.62 a bushel. Of course this cut down the amount we could send abroad. Last year we exported only 45 million bushels and this year it will be even less. Certainly it would be foolish to go ahead raising that extra 150,000 millions of bushels of wheat if we have no market for it.

Whether the government's plan will work or not, no one knows, until it is tried. Many farmers will figure that the price will be higher and they will, therefore, not take the bonus but put in more wheat. Of course that will be their privilege but if too many do that, the price of wheat next year will be pretty low. It is up to the farmers to help solve the problem.

THE SPIRIT OF NRA

As we see it, the plan of NRA is to put more people to work and thus increase the buying power of the nation. The president's plan is fine and should be honestly and fairly tried by the whole nation. So far, the general sentiment seems to be that all should stand by in this time of crisis—even though one hears that some employers hope to "slide out" and evade the plan through some subterfuge. Whoever does that, after the various codes are adopted, may find that it will be pretty expensive business for him.

Until the new plan gets fully into operation, it will undoubtedly in many cases work hardships, especially on the smaller employers who have been having a hard enough time paying the employees they already have. But as the NRA plan sweeps into full power and more go to work and our purchasing power is enlarged, we shall all—large and small—get more business and be better able to pay the additional employees. One blessing will be that the "cut-rate" business man, no matter in what line, will be compelled to do business on a fair and square basis. The man who sells below cost will find that he can be punished for doing that. Printers, for example, will no longer have to meet the competition of the "bed room" shop where the amateur printer, who perhaps has a job somewhere else day times comes home and does printing in his spare time, at prices that are unfair.

If NRA puts millions more to work in the next few weeks we can all put up with some of the inconvenience and loss that it will bring us. In the long run, we shall all gain.

NORTHVILLE'S WATER

Like Banquo's ghost, the question of what shall be done about Northville's water will not "down." Every once in a while we hear about the iron in the water—how it discolors the plumbing—and then now and again we get the reports that those harmless, yet potentially warning bugs, the "B-coli," are too numerous for comfort. We hear about filtration and of the need of a new reservoir. We see lots of our townspeople going to the springs by the Pere Marquette station to get the splendid water that emerges there. So, from all angles, we are "water minded."

The village commission is doing its best to solve the perplexing issue. It is not an easy task to tell what is the thing to do where there are so many angles to be considered. As far as the iron content is concerned, there need be no worry about health. The iron doesn't make the plumbing look pretty to the housewife but it does not harm the human system if drunk. But the "B-coli" might mean that there are possibilities of contamination to the water, and of course that possibility is what is sending some of our people scurrying to the Pere Marquette springs. We would all feel a lot better if we did not have this possibility of contamination.

As we understand the water situation, chlorination will do away with all danger from the B-coli. When the Fairbrook springs are not used, there apparently is not so much need for chlorination. And of course, chlorination costs money and if you get too much chlorine in the water it may be all right for your health but it doesn't taste so good.

There should be in Michigan some expert opinion—either at Lansing or Ann Arbor—that will determine just what is the thing for Northville to do to get water that will be as safe as water can be made. Once we find out what should be done to settle the issue, it should be and can be done. In the meantime we should give our village officials every help possible in their effort to do the best thing for us.

WANDERING THOUGHTS

How many of you can remember who John Nance Garner is?

Not shorter hours for the business place but more workers is the aim of NRA.

A "benevolent" nationalism now rules us all. Who would have thought a few years ago that in 1933 the government would tell us when and how long millions of people would work? NRA is here with autocratic powers.

There is no more loyal and beautiful an animal than a fine horse. Yet at Chicago cruel men have been found to have been "doping" horses so that under the spur of the needle they could race harder and faster, no matter how it tore out the hearts of the faithful horses. Jail is too good for men who will do such dastardly acts.

The level of preaching in Northville's churches is high. Yet in our Protestant denominations here, a large part of the membership is content to let the faithful few carry the responsibilities. Maybe we would appreciate our churches more if they would all close up their doors for a year and let the people see what a churchless community would be like.

Speaking of swimming pools, a lot of Northville people are thinking how fine it would be to have one "over" at Birmingham this summer one of the schools has opened its pool to the public. This did so much good that the local paper there made editorial comment to thank the people who had made possible the opening of the pool for ten weeks. Editor George R. Averill of the Eccentric says that a swimming pool is "rightfully entitled to a position among the chiefest of civilization's blessings."

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

How many extra men will NRA put to work in Northville business places?

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

THE SUCKERS PAY

(Fred D. Keister in Ionia News)
Michigan is about to take its place as one of the boss-racing states of the nation. For a long time we let them race to their heart's content, but put the soft pedal on public betting on the hags. Now the sky's the limit and we shall see what happens. I don't presume betting is such a horrible sin, but in that game the suckers never get a look-in for their money. However, it's all set to try out racing for eighty days in Detroit and after that we'll have a more complete picture on which to base our opinions.

PROFITS AND PROSPERITY

(C. S. Seed in Rochester Clarion)
Sound prosperity cannot arrive till it comes riding in on the back of profits. Every sales and every purchase which does not carry with it a legitimate profit only prolongs the happy day when prosperity is going to come around that corner. Price cutting and chiseling in on competitors has gradually affected everything which is sold and until goods have been placed on the market at bare costs or even below. Common sense can only suggest one remedy—profits—and where is there a fair-minded man on earth who can object to fair, honest profits?

JAPAN GETS THE BUSINESS

(W. H. Berkey in Cassopolis Vigilant)
The dowel works at South Bend had an order for a half million wooden novelties ordered by concession holders at the Century of Progress in Chicago, but after making up 25 per cent of the order the order was cancelled because the novelties could be bought in Japan for less money. Thus, for want of a tariff that would protect, a lot of American workmen lose the opportunity to make these goods. Seems to us that this is a matter worthy of thoughtful consideration by those who are trying to put over the national recovery program.

praise when they raise them five or ten per cent. Other concerns have gone along paying honest wages without taking advantage of the over-supply of labor. They are not being praised for raising wages. They have not been praised for keeping them at honest levels. The praise goes to concerns that in many cases should have been ashamed of the wages paid.

"When you hear of some company raising wages don't be misled by a percentage figure. A five or ten per cent raise may only mean a jump from 25c to 28c an hour while another company in the same block may never have dropped below 50c an hour. Find out what the wages were and what they are now. Don't be fooled by percentages."

UNTIL WE LEARNED BETTER

Until we learned better, we used to mix wood and steel in our car bodies and wheels.

It was the best way to make bodies—then. But the state of the art has advanced.

Of course, it is more expensive to make an all-steel body than to make a wooden frame and nail steel panels on to it. The better way involves an initial expenditure of several millions of dollars for new dies, which renders a change very costly. Cars, especially large expensive cars which are produced in small volume, cannot afford this, because the dies cost as much for one car as for a million. That alone explains why all-steel bodies are not used in all cars.

But our basic policy from the beginning is to make a good car better, regardless of cost.

For example, when we discarded wood-steel body construction, it was not because we lacked wood. We still have some thousands of acres of the best hard wood in America. Economy would urge us to use up the wood first, and then adopt the better all-steel body. But we decided that quality was more important than expense.

We weighed the reasons, for and against, before we made the change.

We could see only one reason for retaining a mixed wood-and-steel body—nailing the metal on, instead of welding an all-steel body into a strong one-piece whole. That reason was, it would be cheaper—for us.

Our reasons for adopting an all-steel body were these: A wood-steel body is not much stronger structurally than its wooden frame. In all American climates, wood construction weakens with age. Every used car lot gives evidence of this. Rain seeps in between joints and the wood decays. A car may have a metal surface, and yet not be of steel construction. Under extreme shock or stress the steel body remains intact—dented perhaps, but not crushed.

Steel does not need wood for strength or protection. Wood is fine for furniture, but not for the high speed vehicles of 1933.

In the Ford body there are no joints to squeak, no seams to crack or leak.

The all-steel body is more expensive—to us, but not to you.

By all odds, then, steel bodies seem preferable.

Wheels also have become all-steel. No one argues that an electrically welded one-piece steel wheel, such as the Ford wheel, needs to be "strengthened" by adding wood to it.

The one-piece all-steel body is the strongest, safest, quietest, most durable body made. That is our only reason for making them.

BUDGET SAVINGS ARE LOST IN TANGLE OF OVERDRAFTS

NEW FUNCTIONS OF STATE GOVERNMENT CAUSE
CONFUSING INCREASE IN TOTALS

Provisions of Administration Sales And Gross Income Taxes
Are Considered Along With Deficits And Divisions Of Revenues

By V. J. Brown of the Ingham County (Mason) News

Now that the matter of "political payrolls" has again been disposed of, at least for the present, suppose the attention of the reader be turned for the moment to a consideration of the 1933-35 budget and the special appropriations as finally adopted by the legislature and approved by the governor. Considerable confusion appears to exist in the minds of the citizens of this state as to just what occurred to require more money to be raised by the state than ever before.

For the purpose of this discussion let round numbers be employed for the sake of a better understanding. Also for the purpose of a better understanding let the items be divided into groups, in order that appropriate comparisons may be made. The reader is cautioned to remember that two new fields of state spending were created by the 1933 legislature, both of these functions having been heretofore entirely supported by local taxes on local property. These two new purposes demand the raising of $27,000,000 not heretofore included in state tax or other state revenues. They are: Emergency welfare aid, $12,000,000; state aid to local school districts, $15,000,000.

The current purpose budget covering state departments, institutions, colleges and the university adopted by the 1933 legislature amounted to approximately $29,000,000. All of this sum being provided by a state tax levied against the properties of the state. The 1933 legislature for these same purposes appropriated $19,000,000 but was forced to add to this sum to make up for deficiencies in the revenues of the previous two-year period which amounted to approximately $10,000,000. These deficiencies were the direct result of two causes; namely, failure to appropriate sufficient sums to meet actual demands and inability of the taxpayers to pay the taxes levied for state purposes. A slump in miscellaneous revenues also had its part in the creation of this deficit. Therefore, without any new spending of any kind any possible economies written into the 1933-35 budget were wiped out by reason of the deficits created during the previous two-year period. Had there been no new taxes created and had there been no allocation of funds back to the counties and municipalities and schools as contemplated under the welfare and school aid bills, the state tax for 1933 would of necessity have been just about as it stood in 1931 except that the legislature in making its appropriations, for 1933 to 1935 made an honest effort to avoid a repetition of deficit-creating fiscal policy. In other words had the state continued to have operated on a property tax basis, and had the tax levy for 1933 been in the same amount as in 1931 and if all had been collected, Michigan would just about have climbed out of the red ink mire in which she has wallowed during the past several months.

Property Tax Broken Down
However the property tax system had broken down. The people of the state were virtually upon a taxpayer's strike. They had adopted a constitutional amendment to the effect that not to exceed 15 mills of tax could be levied against the assessed value of any property. Something had to be done. Not only was it necessary to create new revenues for state purposes, it was also deemed necessary to provide state money to help out local units of government in the relief of the destitute, unemployed. Many local school districts also found it impossible to operate their public schools within the 15-mill tax limitation, and state aid seemed unavoidable.

After months of discussion and debate and conflict of interest the straight three per cent retail sales tax was decided upon. This tax was estimated to yield about $32,000,000 annually. When all the demands upon the state treasury had been computed and all the revenues from sources other than the sales tax had been estimated, it was found that not sufficient money was in sight to wipe out all the state property tax as the governor hoped. Consequently $3,500,000 was levied for the partial support of the university and Michigan State College eight tenths of a mill having been reserved by the state for just this possible emergency. This left then $16,000,000 as the possible revenues to be derived from the retail sales tax.

Cost of administration of the sales tax must be calculated and possible leakages in collection estimated, thus bringing the probable revenues from the bill as drawn and then intended to be administered down to around $28,000,000 for the first year, possibly less. Adding the $13,000,000 to the $12,000,000 demanded for welfare and insisted upon by the federal authorities before a cent of federal aid would be promised, made a total of more than $25,000,000 to come from the sales tax revenues before anything could be made available for public school aid. The sales tax must yield more than $40,000,000 in order to assure the schools their full share of state aid as provided in the Sias-Thatcher act.

To Sum Up
To sum up, the 1933 state budget for actual current necessities amounts to $19,000,000 annually. Deficits which must be covered within the next year amount to $10,000,000, a total of $29,000,000 if the state was operated as under the old regime and no money was provided for diversion to local municipal units for school and welfare aid. With these two new demands included, the budget immediately jumps to $56,000,000 to which must also be added to get the grand total a sum no one yet dares to estimate which will be required to administer the beer act, the sales tax act and other new state ventures.

It is no wonder there is confusion of mind in respect to the budget and new taxes and deficits and new spending. "It's as clear as mud", one member was heard to remark to the director of the budget after a lengthy discussion and an attempted explanation.

The Administration Measure
The original administration bill providing for a gross sales and gross income tax was intended to yield from $45,000,000 to $60,000,000. The sum of $31,000,000 was expected from a three per cent sales tax upon the purchase of necessities by the public; $7,500,000 from a three per cent tax on personal services of doctors, lawyers, dentists, repairmen, plumbers, blacksmiths, cobblers, carpenters, painters, and every other individual in the state who holds himself out for service other than one who draws a salary; $5,500,000 from a three-tenths of one per cent tax on manufactured products.

Imagine, the great corporate industrial interests of the state having their state tax wiped away and their local taxes cut in the middle and more by the 15-mill limitation and then being taxed to the tune of only $5,500,000 under the proposed 3-10 of one per cent tax while the individual who bends over his bench to resole worn shoes, the motor mechanic who crawls around in the squalor and grease and their co-laborers in other fields dig into their meager earnings for $7,500,000. The legislators rejected the manufacturers' tax, not in response to the lobby as charged but because the members could not see the equity of such a tax and so agreed to leave them out along with the garage mechanic and the watch repairman until a better plan can be worked out.

Facts Sought
Right now facts are being gathered from every industrial center to determine just how much the industries of Michigan have been benefited from the elimination of the state property tax and from a compulsory reduction in local taxation under the 15-mill limits. From early returns from this survey, it is already apparent that not three-tenths of one per cent is going to balance this saving.

Another fact which bothered those who sought to produce an adequate and equitable taxation measure is the mandate of the state constitution which leaves out of the picture entirely the salaried person and also the restrictions which prohibit the legislature from levying a collectible tax against intangibles such as stocks, bonds and mortgages as well as against tangible personal properties and similar evidences of wealth now entirely off the tax rolls. Still another forbidden field for tax revision is the income tax. An attempt to submit the revision of the constitution in this respect passed the house early in the session. It languished in the hands of a senate committee until too late for submission at the 1933 April election and then was dragged out and killed. Unless submitted by initiative petitions it cannot again be submitted before the general elections of 1935.

Limitations Must Yield
Under existing constitutional limitations the legislature is stopped from touching the salaried person. A person may be engaged in business for himself; say he is operating a service station and garage. Suppose he employs five helpers. Under the Southworth bill he would have been taxed on his gross receipts of say $10,000 for the year. His neighbor working for a corporation on a salary of $10,000, would have paid nothing except a three per cent tax on his purchases which would apply also to the garage owner.

A $10,000 professor would pay nothing but the dentist who graduated under him and practiced his profession would pay on his gross receipts even though his rent and supplies would have taken most of his income.

People Demand Services
Another point which should be remembered in connection with state expense and state taxes, whether property or sales or any other form of tax, is the fact that while the demand for retrenchment of the taxing power continues, there is no cessation in the demand for new and added ways of spending. In this the people themselves take the lead. There was not a single effort to halt the mad race of spending last winter which did not meet opposition. There was not a single effort made to cut a payroll, reduce the number of employees, or tone down a state service, which did not meet with violent opposition. And in addition to these there came the demand for state aid for schools, sums as high as $50,000,000 as urged by some, and the demand for state support of the unemployed which many would have tilted to twice the $12,000,000 finally made available.

Indeed the people have not yet learned that whatever government provides, the people must in turn provide the government. Government is an everlasting pauper. It has nothing and can have nothing except it takes it away from the avails of private endeavor, in the form of taxes or licenses or privileges or some other form of tribute.

Relief Yet Unknown
Such is the situation regarding the regular budget and the new functions taken over to be supported by the state and which heretofore have been supported locally from taxes imposed upon the lands and structures of the folks back home. Until the property owner has his 1933 tax bill he will not know to what extent he has been relieved. In many counties and in many townships and school districts his relief will be substantial. In other localities where local public officials have ignored their responsibilities to the taxpayer, he will find himself burdened almost to the point he labored under before he was forced to pay a tax on all his purchases.

The reader is cautioned again to consider the fact the current expense for running the state government was reduced by approximately one-third but the balancing

By H. H. WHITE

In the makeup of the human nature and its needs there is no element that comes in for greater condemnation than human desires, yet the most fallacious and destructive doctrine which mankind has to face is the Fall of Man with its picture of man being born good, and subsequently becoming sinful, for it has greatly colored and tempered our culture, education, and religion, and thus we have taken for granted that most of our impulses are basically evil.

A more ghastly and terrible picture cannot be imagined for the human race to conjecture with and fight against, and if there is anything in auto-suggestion, a man is doomed to start with, and the most certain means of aiding and abetting in making him evil, is to hold up as an example this destructive doctrine of an evil man for him to live up to. Mankind has for centuries past, been of the budget came too late for the taxpayer to receive immediate and equal relief. There is a big hole in the general fund deficit which must be filled from current revenues and that puts the demands upon general fund revenues back to 1931 figures. In making comparisons with former totals for state purposes, this comparison should stop right at this point. The remaining $27,000,000 is a direct replacement of the local property tax from funds raised by the state and paid out for municipal units.

made susceptible by a great abundance of negative suggestions as to his evil and immoral nature.

Thus desire has been turned into a negative and suppressed thing, by man's continual repetition of his potentialities as being nugatory, and a corresponding neglect of man's possibilities.

Modern industry, not in its most remote conception, can ever be considered Christian or ethical, for the economic forces which move industry are hardly at any single or given point qualified by ethical considerations.

For instance, not so long ago I walked through a huge industrial plant, and while in the foundry, I encountered a heat that was terrific even at my distance from the furnace.

Here manual labor looked like drudgery and only a little short of slavery. I wondered as I walked along how much satisfaction and joy these men found in their work. I could reduce it only to one point, they simply toiled in the heat and sweat to make a living, and life must seem to them little beyond a mere existence.

I was reminded of that immortal poem of Edwin Markham's, "The Man with the Hoe." For a man with a hoe in his garden was a most happy creature in comparison to these souls bowed with heated drudgery, and yet Markham tells us of

"The emptiness of ages in his face." and "A thing that grieves not and that never hopes, Stolid and stunned, a brother to the ox?"

Garden Party at Grennan Home
Is Brilliant Affair—

About 250 guests were entertained royally at the garden party given by Miss Evelyn Grennan, assisted by the Misses Elizabeth and Gretchen Kanter, Miss Delpha Hill and Edmund Yerkes, Friday evening at the P. H. Grennan Farm Crest estate on the Six Mile road. Attractively decorated, the grounds presented a gala air of festivity with Japanese lanterns strung around the specially constructed dance floor. The guests arrived early from all over the Detroit metropolitan district and as the strains of music first opened, the dance floor filled nearly to capacity. Feature entertainment included the Golden Tower Quartet, of which Wayne Van Dyne, a former Northville boy, is a member, and Ann Walker, popular society debutante, who entertained with several vocal selections which as usual evoked a generous burst of applause.

Perhaps the entertainment that proved to be most enjoyable to the guests was the exhibition of Mr. Grennan's famous bucking mule, an animal which actively resisted several attempts by guests to ride it. Some succeeded but many more were given a one-way trip through the air to finally come to an unhappy three-point landing on the ground.

The entire affair was generously enjoyed by all of those present and the party was a tribute to the hospitality of the hostesses and host.

East Novi District Gathers 80
Strong at Angel Home—

The ninth annual reunion of the East Novi school was held Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. L. Angel at her home on South Wing street. Over 80 old pupils and teachers gathered to greet each other, many meeting only at these reunions.

After a bountiful picnic dinner served on the shady lawn and to which all did full justice, the meeting was called to order by the president, Lulu M. Becker.

Six former teachers were present, among them Mrs. Lena McKinley-Sloan, of Northville, who taught here fifty years ago, Frank Lamb of Lansing, who taught here forty-six years ago, Mrs. Nettie Marshall-Bentley of Walled Lake, a teacher here forty years ago, Mrs. Lucy Severance Moore, Mrs. Edna Banks-Bogart of Pontiac and Mrs. Margaret West-Dawson of Ypsilanti, were other former teachers present.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Lamb were also present. Mr. Lamb being a son of Emma-Bassett-Lamb and Perry Lamb, both of whom taught at East Novi, now residing in Colorado.

The election of officers resulted in the reelection of Miss Becker and Mrs. Bogart.

An invitation was accepted to meet next year with Mr. and Mrs. John Green at their home on Farmington road Aug. 4, 1934.

Following the adjournment of the meeting ice cream was served while old friends visited. All left for their homes feeling that the bonds of friendship had been drawn closer and love for the old home district had been renewed.

And She Did
Speaking of "Remember Whens," as we weren't, Mrs. E. J. Cobb remembers when Sam Stalter was a little boy who shyly asked her to play Mumbley Peg.

Miraculous
Our vast public asked us concerning the identity of the marooned mysterious gallant, of whom we spoke last week, but we kept the faith and the secret.

In Re Advertisers

Speaking of "Codes of Honor" as they are these days in connection with Nira, we have our own particular Honor List, the members of which we should like to applaud. The list is composed of about 25 advertisers, local businessmen who have "stuck to their guns" by placing their advertising regularly in this paper. They have consistently fought for business by going after it in a dogged, determined fashion and if they ever failed (they won't) at least they would be able to say, "We went down with flying colors."

The Young People's Week at the

THE LEAN DOG

By Robert G. Yerkes

Lansing

Out of the storm of criticism leveled at Governor Comstock there is just one circumstance that might be held to be political acumen. No matter how we may stand on increased taxes, sales taxes, thousands of employees added to the payroll, we must admit that he was politically smart in this respect. How? The banking situation. He has kept thus almost entirely in Republican hands. Never can Republicans, looking back on the Black Days of Democratic control, blame the Democrats for Michigan's throttled banks. Never can they use the suffocating of credit as campaign material against their opponents. Smart, I'll say it is, in one sense. On the other hand the Democrats can't use it either, for when they do—the comeback will always be—"Well, you were in power, you could have done something about it, but you didn't!" No, there probably will not be much talk about the banks in the next campaign.

Salem Federated church will come to a climax this evening with a banquet in the dining room of the church. Edward Denniston, Superintendent of the House of Correction, will address the young people and their older friends. Mr. Denniston holds a position of great responsibility and his talk will prove interesting and entertaining to all. The program is scheduled for 8:15.

In speaking for the pastor, Mrs. Cora M. Pennell said that the Young People's week has been a great success and tonight's program will round it out nicely.

Last year the state government took out of your pockets the sum of $124,000,000. What did we get for it? This year they want some $135,000,000. And we get less every year!

More NIRA

Under a recent ruling of the Big Board certain service workers are listed as "white collar workers" and come under the blanket code of 40 hours a week and the minimum wage of $14 to $15. Beauty operators, filling station employees, elevator operators, barbers, drivers, janitors, dish washers, restaurant workers, watchmen, delivery boys, and porters. This may answer more questions I've heard.

Although she has lost out 7 lbs of her overweight, this woman finds that 7 lbs has made a remarkable difference to her.

Her letter reads: I am 53 years old and my height is 5 ft. Last year I weighed 154 lbs I have been taking a half-esspoonful of Kruschen Salts, making no change in my diet. Now I am less round the hips, and only weigh 147 lbs dressed but I feel lighter and can now run upstairs, which before used to make me gasp for breath. Everyone says how well and fit I look."—(Miss J. H.)

Kruschen is an ideal blend of 8 separate salts which help body organs to function properly and maintain a splendid degree of health—it builds up energy and strength while you're reducing to normal weight. Get Kruschen Salts at any live druggist in the world—a jar lasts 4 weeks and costs not more than 85 cents.

OCTANE

A Statement by the President

In all my experience, no refiner has ever packed more ANTI-KNOCK quality into any regular priced gasoline than we are now putting into Phillips 66.

With the same special process which up to now has been used only in premium priced motor fuels, we are making our gasoline 70 Octane. I know that I can safely assure you that this figure will not be exceeded by any other gasoline selling at our price.

To car-owners who rewarded our policy of giving more for the money by purchasing five hundred and twenty-nine million (529,000,000) gallons of Phillips 66 products, in the last twelve months—I want to express the thanks of our independent, fast-on-its-feet organization. We are grateful for such tremendous recognition of the new standard of value in gasoline which we created.

Now that we offer not only higher test but also higher anti-knock, at the price of ordinary motor fuel; I hope that you will try a tankful of the gasoline which bears my name.

"FEARLESS FOLKS DO THINGS"

SAYS THE REV. F. N. MINER

Homemakers' Corner

MRS. EDITOR

"SALUTE YOUNG MARINERS" WRITES ANOTHER MOTHER.

Because the only purpose of this little corner is to talk over those intimate problems which all of us have sooner or later, we are going to let you read a letter, fellow-homemakers, that brought us good cheer.

Those who know Mrs. T. P. Brennan will recognize these expressions as decidedly "Brennaneanque." Those who do not know her so well will equally enjoy the reply of a mother of unusually broad vision to our comment recently in this column on the painful process of the growing up of our children.

Mrs. Brennan writes thus from White Plains, N. Y.:

"Your weekly column is a new letter each week, and I can sense what you are thinking, and what your family is doing by reading the Record. It must be sobering experience to have the children growing up on you as fast as yours are.

The comforting thing is that this, also, is only a phase, and a normal one, and after it is over, you would not have wanted to miss living through it, any more than you regret any of the other things you have shared with them. And another thing you know, is that however anxious you may feel at their initial stages of breaking away, no child who has grown up in a home where he is loved will ever fail to come back to it, bringing eagerly the riches he has gathered on his own private expeditions. The child may choose curious ways of indicating to you that his maiden voyage has begun, and he may not be any more certain than you the ports he will make on the trip, but that he will return—oh, that you may be sure of! After all, if your teachings to him have been true, he must have a chance to find it out for himself. And the chief aim of your teachings has been to make him a Master Mariner. So that to your anxiety, I propose a counter attitude, a salute to the brave young things flying their first colors at the mast, and grace to you who must bide on shore, watching the barometer, and praying for mild storms at sea.

"Perhaps my nautical simile—I mean metaphor!—is a product of our expedition last night to the County playground, Playland, at Rye Beach. It is a lovely stretch of beach, wonderfully well run, and visited by a splendid class of people. The star concession there is an old clipper ship, the Benjamin F. Packard, which has been anchored in this harbor after fifty-two trips around the Horn. You can go through it from hold to poop deck, including the cat-walk, if you are a brave soul, you may watch the gorgeous display of fireworks on the promenade which takes place every Tuesday night. I am not a brave soul, I sat comfortably on deck. But some of the romance of the days when ships were made of wood and men were made of iron seeped into even my sedentary comfort, and I was glad to have shared the feel of the vessel. (I can't say the exercise is doing Corona's disposition any good. She is getting balky on me, and is making my spelling appear worse than it really is.)

"I have been so heartily interested in the things you have had to say about the advantages of a child growing up in a village of Northville's size and opportunities. I agree with all of them. But I have also been interested in some of the opportunities for growth a different environment has offered our children."

PRIZE PEACH CAKE

From the Jonesville Independent we borrow this recipe of a friend who took a prize of $100 for this.

Peach Cake
Sift 2 cups of flour with 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1/4 cup sugar.

Mix beaten egg with 3 tablespoons melted butter (not too hot). Add 1/2 cup Rye Rabbit molasses and 1/4 cup sweet milk.

Gradually add molasses mixture to dry mixture, stirring gently until batter is smooth. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla and scant 1/2 teaspoon almond extract. Spread in pan, arrange sliced canned (or fresh) peaches on top, pressing slightly into dough. Sprinkle 3 teaspoons granulated sugar mixed with 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon. Bake in a moderate oven 350 degrees. Serve hot with cream or pudding sauce.

Says Mrs. Henry Ford: "The secret of happiness is to lead as natural and as kindly a life as one can."

West Point Park

Mrs. James Eastman and sister, Anna Thayer, attended a club meeting Thursday at Cass, Benton Park.

Mrs. Charlotte Wolfe left Sunday with two nieces to attend a homecoming at her former home among relatives and schoolmates at Laurier, Ontario.

L. B. Gilbert, who was seriously ill, enjoyed a visit from Mrs. A. E. Judd, late Mrs. C. E. Judd and wife of Lansing. Mrs. A. E. Judd is a sister of Mrs. Gilbert.

The two baseball pitchers from West Point report one game won for Farmington against Hazel Park, 3-2. Plymouth won from Farmington Legion team 10-3.

West Point's pick-up baseball team and the Salvation Army team from Plymouth, had a good time Tuesday on the diamond here. The score was 4-3 in favor of Plymouth.

Mrs. Edna Painter and niece, Betty, left Friday morning for Mackinac Straits to visit with her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Gillespie and children, who are spending the summer there.

West Point Park's baseball team won one of the two ball games with Ypsilanti, Sunday. Hartner pitched for West Point and shut out the opponents 4-0. The second game was lost 2-3.

Mrs. Thomas J. Alderman, former school teacher in this district, now a resident in Florida, is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bradley, her two sisters, Eva and Helen, and her brother, Mahlon.

Beulah Gillen has returned to her home from the University hospital in Ann Arbor. She will return to Ann Arbor in a few weeks for an operation. Her many friends wish her a successful one.

The Community club has postponed its meeting here for two weeks on account of the absence of the president. They will meet at the home of Mrs. C. Wolfe, Thursday, the seventeenth of August.

Mrs. Charlotte Wolfe received a pleasant surprise Friday when her niece, Mrs. Allen Boyd, from Durham, Ont., with her daughter, Marion Boyd, a school teacher in Toronto, Canada, a nephew, Laverne McCallum, and three children from Detroit spent the day with her.

The New Anti-Sludge Motor Oil

means fewer quarts between drains

Why shouldn't Iso-Vis "D" last longer? It forms no sludge to stick piston rings—even tends to loosen up rings already stuck by ordinary oils. And next to high speed, stuck rings are the most important cause of high oil consumption. The use of Iso-Vis "D" actually tends to reduce the oil requirements of even an old car. Start now to cut down your motor oil costs by draining the crankcase, flushing clean, and changing to Iso-Vis "D".

The building has for years been used as a second hand furniture and antique store. One purchasing the property could continue such a business in the place and without doubt make a fairly good income from it. The building is also suitable for an automobile repair shop, wholesale beer warehouse, feed store or storage place. If this property can be disposed of within the near future, it will be offered at a most attractive cash price. There is a large amount of storage space around the building. The lot has something like a 50-foot frontage and runs back nearly 100 feet. No other piece of real estate in the downtown section of Northville can be purchased at such a low price. E. R. Eaton, Northville, phone 18, or inquire at The Plymouth Mail office. 3-tfc

Church News

Methodist-Presbyterian Churches

Sunday public worship at 10:00 a. m. and the Sunday church school at 11:00 a. m. Mr. Miner will preach. The public is cordially invited to attend divine worship.

"What should we desire most in life—friends, health, leisure, a life of accomplishment, an intellectual environment? I'd say growth."

"Isn't that the end and aim of life—to grow? Of course, all these other things are greatly to be desired, but aren't they subsidiary?"

"Some would say peace of mind. I don't know that that always comes from growth. One may grow when not at peace."

"It would seem, therefore, that peace is not the chief end and aim of man but, if necessary, battle, strife, struggle, provided it leads to growth."

"Yes, I think I'll stick by my answer that growth is the chief end of man." (The Rev. Burns Jenkins.)

Christian Science Churches

"Soul" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, August 13.

Among the Bible citations in this passage (Lev. 26-11, 12): "And I will set my tabernacle among you; and my soul shall not abhor you. And I will walk among you; and will be your God, and ye shall be my people."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 510): "The sun is not affected by the revolution of the earth. So Science reveals Soul as God, untouched by sin and death, as the central Life and intelligence around which circle harmoniously all things in the systems of Mind."

Baptist Church

Although the church granted the pastor a two weeks' vacation, last Sunday at Communion on account of special spiritual reasons, he has decided to be in his pulpit next Sunday, both morning and evening. At 10:00 a. m. the subject will be "Christ's Judgment," the "Greatest Motive for the Christian's Labor."

At 7:30 he will speak on "True Evangelism."

Dr. Wm. S. Abernethy, president of the Northern Baptist convention, exhorts all pastors to follow a program in the local churches which will lead the last member to—1. worship God with others; 2. Read the Bible with others; 3. win others to discipleship; 4. serve others for Christ's sake.

Come and help us do this.

Church of Our Lady of Victory

Next Tuesday, August 15, is the Catholic holy day of the Assumption. In Catholic localities these holy days are observed as any national holiday would be kept. At the Northville church there will be two Masses at 6 and 7:30 a. m. At the Walled Lake chapel but one Mass will be held at 9 a. m.

Another of our monthly public card parties will be given on the afternoon of Tuesday, August 15, on the large lawn of J. L. Taylor, on the north shores of Walled Lake. All the settings of this location are ideal for an afternoon of entertainment and rest. Each table will bear its own prize. Refreshments will be served. Twenty-five cents is the attractive admission price.

Regularity is usually a guarantee of continued fitness. The church asks regularity in the practice of religion. For this reason the second Sunday of each month is set aside for the men to receive the aids of their religion. August 13 is Holy Name Sunday.

St. Paul's Lutheran

Leo C. Ecksdaedt, Pastor. The Apostle Paul exclaims: "God forbid that I should glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom the world is crucified unto me, and I unto the world." Gal. 6:14.

We glory in that which means much to us. If we think much of what we are, or have, or can do, we shall glory in it and boast of it. St. Paul declares with great emphasis that he finds nothing worth boasting of in himself, but that he glories in the salvation which he enjoys as a sinner redeemed through the cross of Christ. How few of us have reached this height of faith and spiritual satisfaction! How prone we are to boast of and glory in the vain things of this world! How proud even of the filthy rags of our own good deeds! How often ashamed of Jesus and His Word!

Let us think daily of the many sins which we commit in thought, word and deed; by commission as well as omission. Let us never forget how helpless and hopeless our condition for time and eternity would be if Jesus had not given Himself for us on the Cross. When we have once learned to see clearly our own worthlessness and the great excellence of the spiritual treasures in Christ Jesus, we shall not only find in the cross of Jesus our only boast and glory, but we shall, as did Paul, have done with the world and all its hollow shams and faithless promises. He who glories in the cross counts all other things but loss.

This Sunday morning at 10 o'clock a sermon will be delivered preparing us for our annual Mission Festival. Strangers in the village and people without a Church home are cordially invited to our services.

Next Sunday morning we will celebrate our Annual Mission Festival. Two services will be conducted. The first, beginning at 10 o'clock, in which the pastor will preach, the second at 3 p. m. when an outside speaker will occupy the pulpit.

Let the Apostle's motto be our own: "I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ; for it is the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth."

Salem Federated Church

The worship hour commences at 10:30 o'clock. On Sunday, August 13, the pastor will bring a message on "Religion That Counts."

Bible school is held at 11:45 a. m. Study the first and second chapters of First Samuel for the lesson on Hannah, and learn the golden text: "A woman that feareth the Lord, she shall be praised." Proverbs 31:30.

"I will meet you at the hymn-sing at 7:30, Sunday evening."

The Young People's banquet will be served in the church dining room on Friday evening, August 11, at 7:00 o'clock. This banquet, as well as the program, following is free to all the Salem young people and their friends. Supt. Edward Denniston of the House of Correction will address the young people and their older friends in the church auditorium at 8:15.

Both circles of the Aid will meet with Mrs. Fred Foreman on the afternoon of August 17. Supper will be served at five o'clock.
