

COUNTY MAKES NEW PARK IN NORTHVILLE

Greatly Improves Vicinity At East End of Main Street

Northville is one of the bright spots in the unusual progress the Detroit-Wayne County Road Commission is making with its parkway system program.

In addition to the splendid new road and parkway extending from here to the Riverside Park in Plymouth, the road commission has now nearly completed the making of a "parkway" or a "park" at the foot of East Main street, leveling off and generally improving the natural amphitheatre recently purchased from the Bell Foundry, improving the conditions around the Pere Marquette spring, and cleaning up the branch of the river Rouge that runs near that part of Northville.

To Have Real Park

The work in charge of Assistant Engineer Hill has progressed rapidly and is now at a point where results can be easily ascertained. The tangled and unsightly area on the northeast side of the river as it goes into Plymouth avenue has been cleared and leveled and when the trees, which are the next step, are put in, the place will look as good as any park around Northville. That is not all, for Mr. Hill told of plans to put in swings, "teeter totters," and slides. When all this is completed, as it will be soon, Mr. and Mrs. Northville can picnic with their families almost as easily as they can walk down town.

Could Have Tennis Courts

Over the low area to the right of the road, really a natural amphitheatre, has come another surprising change. Always a "birth in Northville's crown of beauty," the formerly damp, uneven, tangled site is now smooth and neat looking, with green sodded banks. The road commission had planned to build two tennis courts here, together with other recreational equipment. This project unfortunately had to be abandoned, due to the limited funds. Even now, Mr. Hill suggested, the site furnishes an ideal spot for the village to build courts. Several other townsmen also remarked that they hoped the village would take advantage of the opportunity.

Add Beauty to Spring

The Pere Marquette spring, the haven of thirsty folks for miles around, did not escape the eye of the county engineer. The bank in back of it has been widened, an unsightly pile of girders hauled away, the flagstone floor around the spring proper extended, and the surroundings in general improved. Plans have also been considered to keep cars from crowding up too close to the spring.

Clean Up River

By no means the least of the work of the commission, was the cleaning up of the stream running near the spring. In the past there have constantly been stagnant pools of water, unsightly and breeding disease. The progress of the stream has been hampered by weeds and brush. All this at least on the east side of the bridge, has now been eliminated. The water flows, clear and unimpeded, to the river Rouge.

Engineer Hill added that the county made it a habit to take care of the work that it did, but urged that all citizens of Northville cooperate in keeping the park site neat and clean.

In addition to this right in the village, Northville is greatly benefitted by the parkway system and new road which begins at the South Center street bridge and goes clear through to the Riverside Park in Plymouth.

A new and far more sightly bridge is also under construction. This will replace the old rattling, unsafe structure that bridged the river on South Center street. This and the whole drive will be a fine addition to Northville's thoroughfares.

BUS SCHEDULE CHANGES ARE ON INSIDE PAGE

An article, giving the changes in the bus schedule will be found in an inside page of this issue of The Northville Record.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

The regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary will be held at the home Sept. 12, at the usual time.

BETTY, BRAVING TRAFFIC, EATS CANS AND BOXES

Who has seen Betty? That is the cry often resounded around the vicinity of Northville's main corner "Betty". "Oh, she's back of the post office nibbling tin cans, or back of The Record office eating boxes."

Strange food for a little girl say you. And you're right because Betty's not a little girl, but a goat. Often seen marching proudly down Center street, she has acquired the knack of dodging traffic almost as well as the cleverest pedestrian.

Officially Betty belongs to Joe Mike and Teresa Spagnuolo, but she is so well known around town that stores that they have nearly all their cans and pasteboard boxes for her.

REV. FRANK MINER CHALLENGES FUTURE IN SERMON SUNDAY

Speaking in a very progressive frame of mind, Rev. Frank N. Miner, of the Methodist church, last Sunday, openly challenged the future by asking, "What is going to take place?"

Using as his text, the quotation from Matthew that "Blessed are those who feel their spiritual need (Goodspeed)", Mr. Miner said that the old order must go. The structures of our present system are crumbling. A change must come, but what?

Saying that the church must be influential in the formation of a new plan, the preacher asked, "Men are you afraid to face the problems of today, from a Christian viewpoint?" "What does church membership mean?" These and many other questions, Mr. Miner propounded to his congregation consisting of both Methodists and, as the Rev. H. G. Whitfield was at that time not yet back from his vacation, Presbyterians, as well.

CAMPBELL TAKES FOURTH PLACE IN CADDIES' MATCH

In the state caddies' tournament, held Tuesday at the Birmingham Golf Club near Birmingham, Louis Campbell, captain of the crack 1933 Northville high school golf team, came in fourth, although he had the second lowest score, 80.

This came about due to the fact that three contestants tied for first with 79. The first, second, and third places were decided by drawing.

The Meadowbrook team of which

Louis was a member, took third place in the tournament.

STUDY CLUB IS PLANNED FOR THE MOTHERS OF PRE-SCHOOL CHILDREN

Plans are being completed for the organization of a study club for mothers of pre-school children for the coming year. The meetings will be held once a month and will probably take place at the school house. The date of the first meeting is not definite and there will be an announcement at a later date to this effect.

The subject matter of the programs will be those programs that are promoted by the Parent Magazine.

All mothers of pre-school children who are interested in joining this club are asked to call or see Mrs. E. B. Lester.

RECREATION ALLEYS WILL OPEN SEPT. 22

The opening of the bowling season at the Recreation Bowling alleys Friday evening, Sept. 22, will be the signal for a host of enthusiasts to don their soft soled shoes, chalk their fingers, and roll the heavy mica down the gleaming lanes for a ten-strike.

Several local teams are in the process of formation to compete with squads from Farmington, South Lyon, Salem and other surrounding communities.

The opening of the season at the Recreation Cafe will be marked with a dance, an orchestra having been engaged for the occasion and it is expected that there will be a large turn-out.

METHODIST MEN'S CLUB MEETS NEXT WEDNESDAY

A meeting of the Men's Club of the Methodist church has been announced for next Wednesday, Sept. 13, at 8:00 p. m., in the Methodist church house.

Those in charge say the meeting is important and urge all men who are members of the church or those who are interested in it, to attend. Young men above the high school age are especially invited.

15,000 MAY BE SPENT ON WATER PLAN

Village Commission Hopes To Get Aid From Government

Convinced that Northville residents are sincerely attempting to pay their village taxes, councilmen at their meeting Monday evening at the village hall, extended the time of payment from Sept. 1 to Monday, October 2.

Treasurer John Litsberger, in his report, stated that approximately 50 per cent of the taxes have been collected and that a majority of those who owe on their taxes are earnestly striving to meet them. He recommended that the time extension for one month be granted. The councilmen, after a short discussion, agreed to work with the taxpayers by placing the time limit for payment of taxes on Monday, Oct. 2.

At their meeting councilmen greeted the proposed $25,000 water works improvement plan with skepticism. Although they passed a resolution for a new reservoir, elimination of dead ends and laying a water main to Oakwood subdivision at an estimated cost of $15,000 which will be borrowed from the national public works program funds, the council decided that the sum of $25,000 constituted too much of a public debt to assume at this time.

With the construction of a water main to Oakwood subdivision and subsequent elimination of the Fairbrook springs, the source of B-coli, the council expects to be able to clear up the water and to save at least $65.00 each month in pump power costs. The $25,000 program called for a water softener and filter, but present plans do not include these features.

Reports of the street commissioner, Earl Montgomery, and chief of police, Wm. Safford, were received.

DR. J. W. HOAG AND REV. W. R. BARBOUR EXCHANGE PULPITS

"Christianity should be presented in a more fascinating way," stated Dr. John W. Hoag in a sermon of unusual human interest at the Baptist church Sunday morning. At the request of Dr. Hoag, the local pastor, Rev. W. Roscoe Barbour, went to Detroit to occupy his pulpit at the Woodward Avenue Baptist church at the same time.

Some of Dr. Hoag's sparkling sentences were:

"One of our needs is for church members to be lifted a little higher."

"Can anyone buy with confidence a used car? People are more interested in foundations than in what is built above the ground."

"We see many sweet thither and yon—I wonder if we in this day really have any convictions."

"Ask the man who has been caught in the quicksand what it means to be established."

"Do you sing a song that men can see?"

CONFERENCE OF THE METHODIST PASTORS STARTS WEDNESDAY

The Detroit Conference of the Methodist church, including all the Methodist churches in the eastern half of the state of Michigan, will meet in annual session at Ypsilanti Wednesday noon, Sept. 13.

The conference is to be attended by the Rev. Frank N. Miner of Northville and at the Friday session, by Chas. E. Rogers, the Northville lay delegate. Charles A. Dolph is the alternate lay delegate. The conference will be presided over by Bishop Edgar Blake of Detroit and will include, as a special feature, an address on Sunday evening, by E. Stanley Jones, the noted Methodist missionary to India. The conference will adjourn officially Sunday afternoon.

The Michigan Conference, which includes the western half of the state, will convene at Benton Harbor, Sept. 21.

CAR CATCHES FIRE ON STREET LAST FRIDAY

While going down Center street last Friday, Sept. 1, a car owned by Miss Helen Fisher of Novi, caught fire in front of the B. A. Stephens store.

Miss Fisher quickly stopped the car and a bystander rushed into the nearby store and taking some flour, threw it on the flaming engine. The fire was easily extinguished and no great damage was done.

District Governor Jos. B. Mills Tells Rotarians of Plans For International Meet At Detroit

Northville Rotary will have a part to play next June at Detroit, when Michigan Rotarians will be hosts to 10,000 people at the annual gathering of International Rotary. District Governor Joseph B. Mills told the local club Tuesday on the occasion of his first visit as head of the 23rd district.

Said Mr. Mills to his hearers: "This will be a convention that will leave something behind." President Chas. E. Rogers, who had charge of the gathering, assured the district governor that "Northville will be back of you one hundred per cent at the Detroit convention." It will be attended by delegates from 163 countries of the world.

Telling of the plans of the district for the coming year, District Governor Mills, who is one of the executives of the J. L. Hudson Company at Detroit, linked the activities of Rotary with the great changes in the economic system that is now going on in the United States. "The various clubs, he stated, are not primarily for relaxation and enjoyment but members must have a large part in the affairs of the country which is now going through the greatest experimental year in its history."

Exhorting Rotarians to "try anything, once don't be afraid of criticism," the speaker said, "The country is marching to a new tune."

Northville High School Football Team Holds First Practice Under Coach Watts Wednesday Afternoon

Fail is here. One of the surest indications of this is that football is in the air and the Northville high school gridiron team held its first practice under its new coach, Ted Watts, former Albion college star, Wednesday afternoon at the fair grounds.

With 25 men out the first day, Coach Watts was able to get a fairly good glimpse of what kind of material he would have to work with. He appeared greatly pleased with the turnout, and the enthusiasm displayed.

The suits were handed out Wednesday morning and the afternoon practice, as well as that Thursday morning, was taken up with calisthenics, general limbering up, and handling the ball. The Wednesday practice was not long because of the heat. Coach Watts said that the team would practice regularly from now until its first game which is to be played at Melvindale on Sept. 29. Thursday afternoon was devoted to a "skull session" or theoretical talk. The boys, the coach said, needed conditioning, but he believed they would "come around."

Coach Watts plans to change the

NORTHVILLE BAPTISTS WILL BE PRESENT AT ASSOCIATION MEETING

The Wayne Baptist Association meets next Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 12 and 13, at the Bethany Baptist church of Pontiac. A missionary from Africa and one from China are among the speakers. A number from the Northville church will attend. This association met here a year ago when it had one of the largest meetings in its history.

Schools will open Sept. 18.

and it is our duty to get on the band wagon of the new movement that is carrying the nation forward to new goals."

Talking in an intimate and very earnest way Mr. Mills discussed the "A. B. C." of Rotary which he stated was never more firmly entrenched than today. "Rotary is not a cure-all," he said, "but it appeals to thinking men and its ideals, if carried out, will make better men and a better world."

Of all the 53 clubs of the 23rd district, said the Rotary executive, no two are alike. He paid high tribute to the Canadian clubs and to the one at Hamtramck where there are members of many nationalities. The Northville one, he characterized as a "home club" and said that no other in the whole district had its business affairs in better condition. Local members state that much credit for this showing is due to the work and efficiency of E. L. Mills, secretary-treasurer.

The club singing was conducted by Percy Angove, with Miss Geraldine Ferguson as accompanist. The address by Mr. Mills made a very deep impression on the members. Guests were Milton J. Conn and Samuel E. Umans of Cleveland, and Supt. R. H. Amerman. The Presbyterian women served one of their finest dinners.

system somewhat from that of his predecessor, Harold L. Ruggles. Formerly a double wingback formation was used, whereas Mr. Watts will now use the single wingback. He will continue with the huddle system and the same style of charge for lineemen. He will stress fundamentals, he says.

There are still two or three suits left and the coach said he would be glad to see any boy who contemplates going out for football. Coach Watts emphasized the fact that nobody had any position on the team as yet. Regardless of who it is, he said, winning a position will depend entirely upon ability.

Those who were out for the initial practice are: Captain Nelson C. Schrader, Jr., Charles Strayt, Dayton Deal, Irvin Marburger, Paul Baldwin, Donald Bray, Robert Bray, Bill Duguid, Cloice Meyers, Endie Bender, Adeline Boyd, David Martin, Jack McLoughlin, Kenneth Porter, Charles McKenna, Essie Nider, Robert Lyke, Junior Dundas, Fred Casterline, Norwood Dickinson, David Hay, Herman Toussant, Bill McGee, Francis Woody, and Nick Feenckho.

BELLE COVERT REUNION WILL ATTRACT MANY AT REUNION SATURDAY

The annual Belle Covert Reunion will be held Saturday, Sept. 9, at 2:00 p. m. at Cass Benton Park, with a basket lunch in the evening. This reunion is in honor of Belle Covert (Mrs. W. C. Adams) of Detroit, who was formerly an eighth grade teacher in the Northville schools. The committee in charge is William McCullough of Plymouth and Mrs. Sarah Wolfe of Detroit.

A great many of Mrs. Adams' former pupils and friends will attend.

CLOSING OF HATCHERY IS NOT SETTLED

Senators and Congressmen Unite to Prevent Action

Rumors with regard to the closing of the Northville Fish Hatchery, the largest in the mid-west and the only government hatchery in the state, have drawn a barrage of letters and telegrams to Frank T. Bell, commissioner of fisheries at the Department of Commerce in Washington, protesting this action.

Frank L. Stipes, superintendent of the fish hatchery here, has little information to give on the situation except to state that he has recently received a letter from the department asking him if he had any preference as to where he would like to be stationed, in event the hatchery should be closed owing to lack of funds.

It is known that most of the hatcheries in the northern states have been closed while construction of several in the south has been started. Two sub-stations of the Northville hatchery, located in the northern part of the state, have been closed but it was formerly thought that because this hatchery was the largest, in the mid-west, supplying over a million and a half trout to lakes in Michigan, Ohio, Illinois, and Wisconsin, it would be one of those left open.

The Northville hatchery is one of the oldest in the states, if not the oldest, having been in operation for the past 60 years. At the present time it is in the best state of repair that it has been for 20 years, although operating on a greatly curtailed budget.

On a pleasant Sunday afternoon as many as 2,000 persons visit the station to get an idea of how the trout eggs are hatched and the tiny fingerlings raised to a fighting game fish size.

Telegrams have been sent to Commissioner Bell by Representative Geo. A. Dondero, Senator James Couzens, Senator A. H. Vandenberg, Carl E. Mapes, Joseph I. Hooper, Representatives Clarence J. McLeod, Harry W. Musselwhite, J. C. Lehr and Jesse P. Walcott.

Many Northville supporters have written and others are planning to write to Commissioner Bell protesting the hatchery closing.

THE METHODIST LADIES' AID SOCIETY WILL MEET

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist church will hold its regular meeting beginning the new year's work, Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 12, at 2:00 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Harold Greer, on the Nine Mile road. Those who wish transportation can meet at the home of Mrs. Neal at 2:00 o'clock and a way will be provided. Also, those having cars and who have room for others are asked to meet at Mrs. Neal's at the same time. Everyone is urged to be there as there is a great deal of important business.

Look forward to Harvest Celebration here in October!

TENNIS COURTS TO BE BUILT AT THE CASS BENTON PARK

Word comes from the Detroit Wayne County Road Commission that construction will begin immediately on several tennis courts at the Cass Benton Park.

This is good news to Northville tennis fans, who at present have to go to the Riverside Park in Plymouth to play. The courts, which will be concrete, are to be built in a level field to the northwest of the park. They can be easily reached by turning east of the new parkway drive on the only dirt road in that direction.

The building of these courts is in keeping with the County Road Commission's policy of adding recreational equipment to all of its parks.

E. M. BOGART MARKET GETS STEAK MACHINE

The addition of a cube-steak machine to the meat market equipment of the E. M. B. grocery in Northville was announced by E. M. Bogart, proprietor, last week.

By slicing the meats in cubical form, although keeping the cut in one piece, it is possible to cook it more quickly, he states, and obtain a more delicious and tender flavor. The cube steak machine at Bogart's is the only one in Northville.

S. L. BRADER SALE STARTS TOMORROW

A speaker has been engaged for the afternoon and a paper regarding an old time Walled Lake debating team will be read. Also there will be a ball game which will begin at 3:00 p. m.

Those in charge of the program are Mrs. L. M. Phelps, Mrs. Mae Rhodes, and Mrs. Barbara Cornell.

NORTHVILLE DELEGATES WILL ATTEND BAPTIST ORDINATION SERVICES

Friday afternoon, Sept. 8, at 3:00 o'clock, an ordination council will be called at the First Baptist church of Ypsilanti. By Order of President.

SCHOOLS TO OPEN DOORS HERE ON 18TH

Noon Hour Lengthened; Rev. Mr. Whitfield To Teach Bible Class

With everything in readiness for the start of school on Sept. 19, Supt. R. H. Amerman issued two announcements Wednesday, regarding the noon hour and the class in Bible literature, which is to be taught by the Rev. Harold G. Whitfield.

Realizing that 25 minutes is rather a short time in which to eat and return from any considerable distance, Supt. Amerman said, "the noon period" is being lengthened to 60 minutes. The morning classes, he continued, will dismiss at 11:30 as usual, but in the afternoon, they will begin at 12:30 p. m., instead of 12:15, as previously. To make up for this, school will close at 3:30, rather than at 3:15.

A course in religious education, organized by the State Department and favored by the Board of Education and the late Fred J. Knapp, was put into operation last year by the Rev. Father Joseph G. Schuler and the Rev. Frank N. Miner. Both taught classes of over 20 pupils, giving their time generously.

This year the Presbyterian minister, Rev. Harold G. Whitfield, will conduct a similar class in Bible literature during the first semester. Mr. Amerman urged students desiring to make an inquiry concerning the nature of this course to get in touch with either Mr. Whitfield or himself. "We strongly urge," he said, "that a considerable number avail themselves of this opportunity. The ministers donate their time to the work and are glad to do so when a class of 20 or more enroll." The class will be taught the second semester, but as yet no instructor has been decided upon.

Three New Teachers

The only new members of the teaching staff, this year will be Coach Ted Watts, who, replacing Harold G. Ruggles, will teach mathematics; Miss Annie Richards, replacing Mrs. Ida Rose Eaton, will handle the kindergarten, and Miss Gladys Ludwig, who replaces Mrs. Etruna Stalker, teaches Jr. High science and history. Miss Ludwig, as in the cases of Coach Watts and Miss Richards, is a graduate of the Northville high school, and was recommended from the Ypsilanti Normal college with an A-1 standing.

Leslie G. Lee, will again act as librarian, besides teaching music and acting as coach for all dramatic productions at the school. Paul B. Thompson will act as assistant principal and teach manual training, and Mrs. Mildred Zimmerman will teach both home economics, domestic science, and ninth grade English.

More Courses Offered

Several years ago, as a measure of economy, physics and chemistry were alternated one being taught one year, and the other the next. The same was true of American and English literature. It was found, however, that nothing was saved, so this year both physics and chemistry, as well as American and English literature, are being taught. The teacher for the first two subjects is Miss Geraldine Huff, and for the latter two, Mrs. Elizabeth Chapman. Supt. Amerman urged that all high school students wishing to attend college take either or both subjects in these two classes.

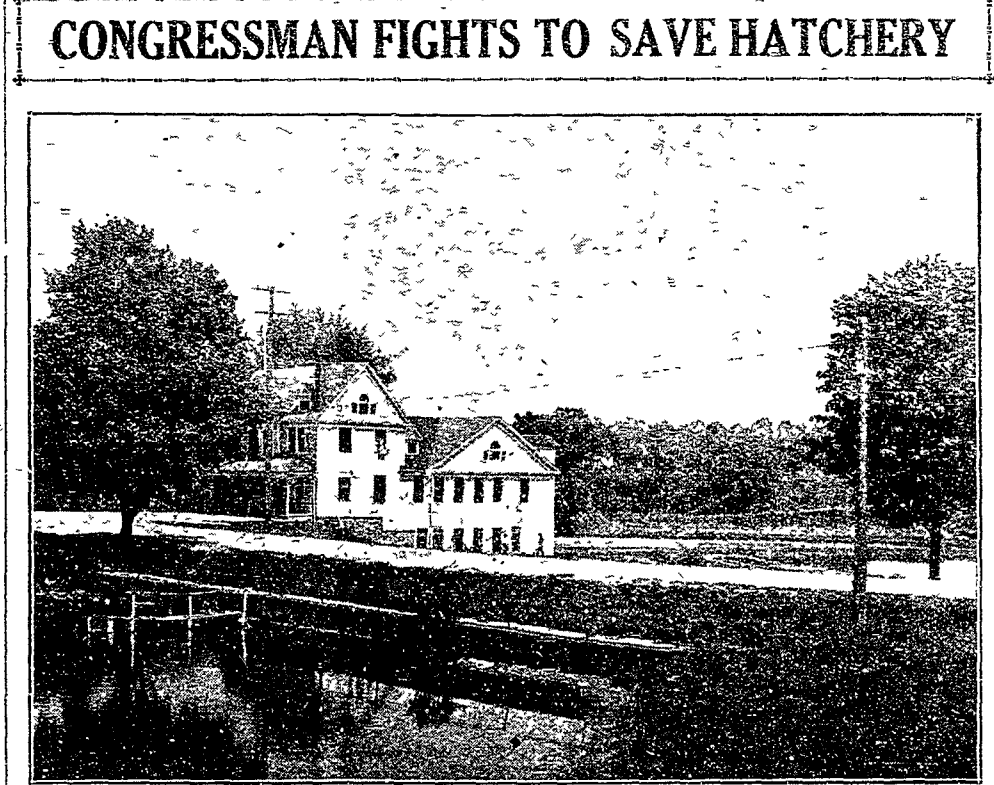

With this exception, the same teachers will teach the same subjects as last year. In this list fall Mrs. Vivid B. Cobb of Plymouth, who teaches history, Mrs. Ida B. Cooke, junior high arithmetic; Mrs. Wilma B. Taylor of Plymouth, teaching commercial law, typing, book-keeping, and commercial arithmetic. It was again urged that all students register during the coming week so as to avoid confusion and last minute rushes. High school students can register all during the week and junior high pupils on the 14th and 15th.

For the convenience of all, a list of the Board of Education members and school teachers, with their addresses, has been prepared and will be found elsewhere in this issue.

SCHRADER TAKEN HOME

Neelson C. Schrader, well-known Northville merchant, has improved so rapidly from his recent appendicitis operation that he could be taken to his home at 312 West Main street yesterday (Thursday).

According to his physicians Nelson has been the perfect patient, obeying orders perfectly and undergoing some necessarily stringent hardships without a murmur.

Congressman Geo. A. Dondero is making a most earnest fight to prevent the closing of the United States fish hatchery here. In this he is being aided by both our U. S. senators and by practically the entire delegation of the Michigan congressmen.

HOSIERY WILL COST MORE

You Northville woman can get ready to pay more money for your hosiery—and you should be glad to do it. Thank the NRA for raising the price of stockings! For years the workers in many of the textile mills of the South and East have been paid literally starvation wages, as low as three and four dollars for a 54 or 55 hour week. The NRA has boosted these wages four and five hundred per cent—the workers will get their pay raised to $12.00 and $13.00 a week for 40 hours. Can you imagine the new joy that has come into the wretched lives of some of these workers?

Isn't it fine that hosiery is up?

WHY WILL THEY "CRACK DOWN?"

With one of Henry Ford's factories located in Northville, giving employment to many of our people here, as well as elsewhere, this community has considerable interest in the statement of General Hugh S. Johnson, NRA head, that the American people would "crack down" on Mr. Ford in case he did not sign the NRA code to get the blue eagle. (As this is written, the Ford company has not yet signed the president's automobile agreement.)

Before the American people "crack down" on Henry Ford they are going to ask one big question and to insist on an answer. That question will be: "Why?"

General Johnson in making this statement about Ford has talked in terms of force and coercion and those are the things that the American people will not tolerate in making the NRA a success.

Now, why does General Johnson want the American people to boycott—that's what "crack down" means—the Ford company?

Henry Ford has his faults but General Johnson, if he is smart enough to head the NRA, should know the Dearborn genius, who is well-known personally to many of our people here in Northville, is the one man in America who has brought the automobile within the reach of the common people. The millions who got their first Model T, the millions who have bought the Model A and the millions who are now buying cars certainly are fair-minded and they will not boycott the man who made it possible for the average man to drive a car. These millions of cars sold by Mr. Ford, incidentally, have made possible the marvelous highways of the United States. Would General Johnson "crack up" our vast network of highways that followed in the wake of these millions of cars?

The Ford company is now paying the wage scale of the automobile code. It is in many cases paying more. In fact, anyone who knows industrial history at all, knows that Henry Ford was the pioneer in raising wages for industrial workers. Is General Johnson going to "crack down" on him for helping thousands upon thousands of workers to buy their own homes and enjoy some of the comforts of life?

No, General Johnson made a very tragic mistake when he talked in terms of coercion and the boycott. The American people are open to persuasion and kindly discussion but they cannot be driven to injustice. We are not in Russia.

DETROIT'S GRAND JURY

For weeks we have all been reading the pages and pages of testimony in the grand jury banking investigation at Detroit. If the deposits of nearly a million people were not at stake, the hearing would not be so tragic—it would be a good show.

Our own convictions are these, after weeks of reading rather carefully the proceedings:

1. The banks were solvent—not liquid, as Senator Vandenberg testified.

2. The banks should have been given help by the R. F. C. and not closed. (Many banks out in the state are still closed because their reserves are tied up in these banks and the depositors out in the state have suffered pitifully.)

3. The national government did grave injustice in the way it allowed officials to handle the Detroit situation. It should recompense for this injustice—although in many ways it is too late, the terrible damage is done.

4. Two men, Senator Couzens and Fr. Chas. E. Coughlin stand in one class, opposed practically to all the other witnesses, in their unsupported charges of wrongdoing. (Is it reasonable to think that two alone are right and all the others wrong?) In our humble opinion, it was an outrage that a man of such destructive tendencies as the radio performer should have been allowed to testify in the wild manner he did, deceiving the unthinking, the irresponsible. As for Senator Couzens, we regard him as honest and courageous—although some of his courage is simply selfish stubbornness—but we believe that his personal animosities and prejudices have driven him from the position of judicial and careful statements. (What right had he to government records which he refused to disclose, in view of the fact that the government refuses to allow its officials to take the stand?) Couzens said he could not approve a six million dollars additional loan by the R. F. C., which according to several witnesses would have saved the banking holiday, but he has nothing to say about the many times six millions of loss the people of the state of Michigan have suffered since that tragic bank holiday (which was to last only a week.)

5. Judge Keidan, the presiding judge, is fair and honest and he will sift the chaff from the wheat and in his findings we shall know more about the actual situation than we now can.

6. It is wise to read more than one Detroit newspaper if you wish to get both sides of the discussion. (We would not recommend the Hearst organ as one of the two.)

WANDERING THOUGHTS

Is "inflation" coming? We expect it. But if "easy money" does come, remember what going into debt too much before did to you.

Did you notice Judge Arthur J. Lacy's testimony in the grand jury hearing—how constructive it was and fine spirited, and quite a distance away from the finding of his client, Senator James Couzens?

With so many schools near the point of bankruptcy, we can be grateful that the Northville schools are able to face the coming year with the assurance that our children will probably get a full year of education. Our board of education and our teaching staff have worked together with a fine spirit of cooperation and harmony. It is an honor to graduate from the Northville schools.

It is a truism among newspaper workers that more folks come in to tell you of the mistakes you make than of the thousand things that were right. If we get a date or name wrong, we get instant corrections from all over town. Yet this very week, we received a very fine letter of appreciation from one of the fair officials for what we had tried to do for our fair. Well, it touched us and made up for a lot of criticism. We thank you.

"Mrs. Editor" and red-headed Phil are in New York City, at the home of Mrs. Baldwin's sister, who has been ill for three years. The house here isn't the same but she and Phil are giving cheer and comfort down in Queen's Village and we are glad for that. What a perfect world it would be if good health could be the common possession of all! Do we take enough time and thought to aid those who have lost their former health and strength?

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

THE "BRAIN-TRUST"

(R. G. Jefferies in The Lowell Ledger)

Politicians have derisively spoken of President Roosevelt's group of advisers as a "brain-trust" because they happen to be college professors. Professors are supposed to be thinkers and as such are referred to as theorists. It is true that they are largely idealists but we cannot see just why professors should not have something to say about this government of ours. If we were to choose between a capable, sincere theorist and a "questionable politician" we would take the professor.

MONEY DIDN'T DO IT

(The Lapeer County Press)

A local citizen was overheard to say recently: "My father raised five boys and four girls to respectable maturity without ever having possessed $200 of his own money at one time, and we never did receive anything from the county or Red Cross or any other charitable institution." This is a cross section of a great many homes in this country today. Money is desirable but it never has produced good citizens and good character—often the opposite. The home described above is typical of thousands of American homes and is one of the things that gives the country and society its solid foundation today.

SALES TAX IS CHANGED

(Chet Howell in Chesaning Argus)

The features of the new state sales tax, assessing farmer, manufacturer and wholesaler, bitterly opposed by thousands in those classes, was changed at a meeting of the tax board in Lansing Wednesday.

A resolution by Secretary of State Frank D. Fitzgerald, member of the board, was adopted by the other members and retroactive to Aug. 1, farmers, wholesalers and manufacturers are exempted. Fitzgerald is the only Republican member of the board. If there is any politics in his action it undoubtedly has given him a great boost for his reputed candidacy for governor next year.

THE HEART OF HOOVER

(Time, News magazine)

To San Francisco reporters, John Wade Gordon, 21, said that he was hitch-hiking on a California highway, got picked up by a shiny automobile whizzing by. Occupant of the automobile was Herbert Clark

Hoover, who speedily learned that Hitchhiker Gordon, a jobless mechanic, was a relative of one-time Governor Earl Brewer of Mississippi. Said Hitchhiker Gordon: "He bought me a meal when we got to the Sausalito Ferry, and then he said: 'Well, son, I'm going to take a chance on you. You have an honest face. I'll give you a little money for a new outfit. Get yourself some new clothes and put an advertisement in the newspapers. You say you can drive a car, perhaps you could find work as a driver.' Then I almost fainted when he gave me a $100 bill."

TO INSPECT THE INSPECTORS

(W. H. Berkey, Cassopolis Vigilant)

We need more inspectors. In this grand old state of ours, we want more inspectors with unlimited powers; we have enough inspectors.

To inspect our 3 point 2, and plenty of inspectors.

To watch what barbers do. Enough inspectors have we.

To test the grocer's weights. Inspectors for the honey bees.

Beside the garden gates. Inspectors for the factories.

Inspectors for our meat. Inspectors for our orchards.

And the hotels where we eat. Inspectors for most everything.

But not enough, as yet. For we are scarcely satisfied.

With the service that we get. So now we need a few more men.

To be the State's protectors. Men we can send about the state.

To inspect the State's inspectors.

LAWYERS AND CRIME

(M. H. Deffe in the Charlotte Republican-Tribune)

The annual meeting of the American Bar Association in Grand Rapids this week has called up, in many newspapers, the fact that possibly the lawyers of America are in position to help defeat organized crime in this country.

The strongest link, aside from the pay off by crime for political influence, is its ability to buy legal protection. Back in the old days if a truck load of liquor was nabbed in this country, a Detroit lawyer would be here on the morning to put up a cash bond or do whatever was necessary to release the prisoner.

In other words, all such violators knew this protection would be forthcoming as fast as high-powered motor cars could deliver lawyers and cash to the scene of the arrest.

If the bar association can make such law business respectable, it will have made a distinct contribution to the government's attempt to defeat organized crime. Confiscating, even to the control of the manufacture of fire arms, and doing away with the gangster lawyer are both necessary before the government's campaign can be in any sense successful.

THE STRENGTH OF THE WEEKLY PAPER

(Herald-Statesman, Columbus, Mo.)

Of late years there has been a growing realization of the permanent value of the community newspaper. Those who read them have always realized their worth. But time was when those who viewed with disdain upon the weekly press as compared with the daily, particularly the large city daily.

It cannot be wholly accidental that during the past decade there have been so many articles in the national magazines and so many studies which call attention to the growth, both in size and influence, of the community newspaper.

The great daily newspapers of the cities have been forced to give more and more of their space to national and international affairs. Their readers have demanded this coverage. These dailies have responded to the demand with thoroughness and intelligence. Today they are printing more and better news of the world at large than ever before in the history of journalism.

But because of this very development the town and countryside news has had to be neglected. Side by side with the demand for national and international news is that for knowledge of one's friends, one's acquaintances, one's neighbors. This is the particular field of the community weekly, and it is in the fulfilling of this demand—neglected by the dailies—that it has risen to new heights of achievement.

It is doubtful if the country publishers have availed themselves to their opportunities as yet. The community newspaper is destined to enlarge its audience steadily, thereby inevitably increasing its own stability and influence. It is no longer a choice between the city daily and the community weekly. Readers need both.

SUCKER MONEY

(Iron River Reporter)

A prominent state official, careful to see that everybody is looking, reaches around to pat himself lovingly on the back because Michigan has just entered into a lease of the state fair grounds at Detroit, which promises to pour hundreds of thousands of dollars into the state coffers during the life-time of the lease. Part of this money, he says, will go towards educating the young people of the state.

Horse racing, pari-mutuel betting, slot machines, beer, all are expected to produce this huge amount of money besides netting a substantial profit for the promoters. One wonders, says the Menominee Herald-Leader, if this is an economical venture that should receive state sanction at a time when we are being tossed and turned by financial storms. Detroit and Michigan will be called upon to pay most of the bills. Sucker money will be attracted from city streets and country lanes, and whenever a dollar of this kind of money finds its way into a gambler's pocket, some municipality or some individual suffers. We doubt the wisdom of the great State of Michigan entering into such a partnership.

NOTICE

CAR OWNERS and DRIVERS

Michigan's new Motor Vehicle Responsibility Act goes into effect on October 17, 1933. It is designed to prevent the recurrence of accidents and serious violations of the motor vehicle laws. It works adversely toward individuals who once prove their inability to pay for the personal injuries or property damage which they may cause.

JUDGMENTS MUST BE MET

After the effective date of the law, the owner or operator of a motor vehicle in Michigan who causes any personal injury or damage to property in the amount of $300.00 or more must, if he wishes to continue to drive, do the following:

- Pay within 30 days any final judgment up to the amount of $5,000.00 for injury or death of one person.
- Pay within 30 days any final judgment up to $10,000.00 for the injury or death of two or more persons.
- Pay within 30 days any final judgment up to $1,000.00 for damage to the property of others.
- In addition, for a period of three (3) years, give proof of his ability to respond in damages to the extent outlined above.

In the discretion of the court, the judgment debtor may arrange to pay any judgments as above in installments.

The Financial Responsibility Law also requires that car owners or operators must give proof of financial responsibility for a period of three years if they are to continue the operation of motor vehicles in case of conviction for violation of any of the following sections of the Michigan Motor Vehicle Laws:

- Manslaughter with a motor vehicle.
- Driving under the influence of drugs or liquor.
- Perjury or false affidavit under the laws for registration and regulation of motor vehicles.
- Any crime punishable as a felony under the Motor Vehicle Laws or other felony in which a motor vehicle is used.
- Conviction of, or forfeiture of bail upon, three charges of reckless driving in twelve months.
- Failure to stop and render assistance, etc., after an accident in which someone has been injured.

LAW DEFINES "PROOF OF FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY"

Whenever the "proof of financial responsibility" shall be required, either as a result of accident or after conviction for violation of the Michigan Motor Vehicle Laws, such proof may consist of one of the following:

- A policy of insurance for claims arising out of any one accident in amounts of:
 - $5,000.00 for one person injured or killed.
 - $10,000.00 for two or more persons injured (with limit of $5,000.00 for any one person).
 - $1,000.00 for property damage.
- The bond of a surety company in the amount of $11,000.00.
- The bond of an individual surety owning real estate in Michigan in the same amount.
- A deposit of cash or securities with the State Treasurer in the same amount.

Each person required to give proof of financial responsibility must give such proof in the specified amounts for each vehicle owned or registered by such person. If the operator of a motor vehicle was at the time of the offense, which gave rise to the conviction in the employ of the owner, or a member of his immediate family or household, with no motor vehicle registered in his own name, and the owner gives proof of financial responsibility, such operator may be relieved of the necessity of giving proof in his own behalf.

PENALTIES UNDER THE FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY LAW

After an accident involving injury or damage to property as specified by the Law, the failure to pay or satisfy final judgment or judgments will result in the revocation of the privilege of operating a motor vehicle upon the highways of this state by the judgment debtor. Under the Act, an offender must thereupon surrender his operator's license, chauffeur's license and all registration certificates and license plates on all cars owned by him. It is to be noted that this provision does not take effect until a judgment has become final, either after affirmation on appeal, or if no appeal has been taken, after the time prescribed for appeal has expired.

Revocation of operator's license and registration of those convicted of Motor Vehicle Law violations is also mandatory unless proof of financial responsibility is given.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

When accidents occur outside the state or offenses are committed outside the state which, if committed in Michigan, would require revocation of operator's license and registration, the provisions of the Financial Responsibility Law apply. Non-residents also come under the provisions of the Law. Revocation of registration for all vehicles owned by an individual who fails to comply with the Law is mandatory upon the Secretary of State.

THIS WEEK

By H. H. WHITE

Not so long ago I read a book, "The Behavior of Crowds," by Everett Dean Martin of New York City, who is at the head of Cooper Institute in which he made a statement to this effect as I remember it: "Men in the mass, and nations or races, are obsessed with certain passions, fears, and instincts which are somewhat below the standard level of best intelligence in the individual."

It was such a striking statement that it made its impress upon me and I have been going over it in my mind for some time and now and then when I have been in or near a crowd I have watched each group so assembled and the thing is overwhelmingly true. You stand on any street corner or wherever someone is speaking and watch the speaker as he cajoles, persuades or even frightens those whom he is addressing before he can get any reasonable reaction or result. It is necessary for him to make some sort of compromise with the attendant herd instinct.

In crowds there is quite likely to exist old racial enmities, perhaps even national pride and prejudices to say nothing of traditional notions or ideas.

It is a known fact that fear, often lurks in the tribal mind because of ancient, fears and sometimes arrogance manifests itself which is paraded as patriotism. One particular group or crowd is quite apt to feel that their enemy nearby is just a little less than they are.

We must go on further and say that the individual spirit is far more generous than the national one, for the national spirit is always a little more greedy for the "spoils" at the expense of the enemy and will under organized propaganda do and say things the individual would never think of.

I sincerely believe that one of the future problems of mankind will be to bring the highest intelligence of the mass up to a higher level and into quicker and better action. To direct a race, a nation or any organized group into inspired action of the highest sort, to bring their sympathy and understanding, their honor, their love of truth and fair play quickly into being to cope with the problems that confront civilization and mankind in his problem of tomorrow.

Since the youth of today is the ruler of tomorrow, such a task is theirs, and please God may they not be found wanting when their opportunity of leadership comes.

Keller-Upthegrove Nuptials
Solemnized Saturday Evening—

On Saturday evening, Sept. 2, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Lester, who live at 520 Grace St., was the scene of a very pretty wedding when their daughter, Verna Eileen Upthegrove, was united in marriage with Wayne W. Keller of 116 Randolph St.

The bride was charming in a gown of blue satin and white organdie. After the ceremony with the Rev. Frank N. Miner as officiating minister, the couple adjourned with their friends and relatives to the home of the groom's mother, Mrs. Emma Keller, where a dainty luncheon was served.

The many friends of the bride and groom wish them happiness and a prosperous married life.

RECREATION PROGRAM FOR THE SUMMER IS BROUGHT TO A CLOSE

The Northville Recreation Commission, the group of civic-minded citizens who carried on a recreation program for both adults and children during the past two months, has announced an end of its activities for the summer.

Supt. of School R. H. Amerman, who acted as treasurer, said that a total of $141.65 was taken in, all by subscription, either volunteered or canvassed, and that including all bills, the total expenditure amounted to $140.35, leaving a balance of 80c. Officials of the commission stated that considering their funds, they were well pleased with the results of the program. This included the indoor baseball tournament for adults and for youngsters, recreational activities for young girls as well as older women, and manual training work for those interested.

Mrs. E. W. Lester, president of the enterprise, while she did not appear overly pleased with the cooperation given as a whole, paid fine compliments to Paul B. Thompson, R. H. Amerman, and the canvassing committee, composed of R. L. Gerould, Richard Shipley, Mrs. P. R. Alexander, Mrs. John Walker, Mrs. Orlow & Owen, Mrs. E. B. Cavell, and Warner Neal.

A winter recreational program is being mapped out, Mrs. Lester said, and will be announced before long.

BRAVES WIN LABOR DAY; PLAY SATURDAY
AND AGAIN SUNDAY

The Northville Braves defeated the Wixom Independents 4-3, in a hard-fought Labor Day game at Wixom.

The batteries for Northville were Elmer Westphall and Ward Riley, and for Wixom, Doyle and Abraham. Westphall allowed eight hits, and Doyle six.

The game was very close all the way. With the score two to two in the eighth, Westphall really won his own game by hitting a single which drove McCordle and Cavell in for two runs.

The Braves play tomorrow (Saturday) at the Home Coming celebration at Walled Lake. Walled Lake is leading its league, and has several players who have had try-outs with the Philadelphia Athletics, and the game is expected to be a close one. The game starts at 3:00 p. m.

The Braves also will play here at the fairgrounds the following day, Sunday, in a game with the South Lyon Cardinals. Alex Johnson is expected to occupy the mound.

The line-up for the Northville-Walled Lake game will, presumably, be the following:
"Bullman, If; Lemmon, cf; McCordle, 2b; R. Westphall, 3b; Cody, ss; Cavell, 1b; Johnson, rf; E. Westphall, p.

THE OTHER DAY

By Miss "19"

Did you notice Eddie Bender's new knickers? ... Their color is somewhere between pink and orange—call it whatever you like.

Warner Neal would like to meet Coach Watts in a dark alley some night for making him stop and back his car up at least a half a block so that Ted could say "hello" to him.

Warner hopes it isn't a habit the new coach has acquired. "Ad" Schwenger is on the committee for the horse show but nobody seems to be able to "remember when" he last rode a horse.

Wayne Thompson and Bob Strachan were home over the week-end for a little vacation from their hard labor at the C. C. C. camp—anyone feeling inclined to make some fudge might do it.

That's a weakness in them "darling boys." Ward Van Atta and "Dugie" hunched up to Lansing Tuesday the "hitching" bad, but hiding's very good this year.

Hugh Horton's horse looks so lonely as it stands hitched to a tree out in back of Deal's house while Hugh is in visiting Gertrude.

Shirley Ballard of Detroit has returned home after spending last week with her grandmother, Mrs. E. J. Cobb. Betty Miner is looking forward to returning to Albion this fall.

Marshall "Dookey" Hyde visited at his home in Charlotte last week-end and over Labor Day.

Headline in the Charlotte paper: "Charlotte Wonder Boy Who Made Good in Big City Returns to Give Hometown a Break."

What's become of Ned Jurood? We seldom see him around these days.

Alex Milne, Bob Strachan, Helen Strachan, Richard Nash and several other Northvillites were over at Plymouth the other night to see "Gold Diggers of 1933."

Dan Carmichael of Plymouth was a dinner guest at the Baldwin home Monday night.

Football practice has begun in earnest now the players walk as though they belong to the cavalry.

Richard Shipley spent the week-end at the World's Fair with his parents—quite different from the senior trip.

We hear reports that Bob Power is much worried about Wilma riding to school with a bunch of boys.

The lowdown on the college situation is that Warner Neal is trying to decide between the University of Michigan and Albion.

Richard Shipley is going to Ypsilanti. Howard Christensen is returning to Albion.

John Stencker and Melvin Sterner are planning on being roommates at Ypsilanti.

Bernice Clark is going to Ypsilanti.

Arline Richardson will go to Michigan State.

Wilma Rattenbury is considering either Albion or the University.

Bob Cousins and Eunice Cousins are going to the University.

Foss Van Atta will return to Michigan State.

Margaret Hay will attend the Detroit Business Institute.

Gertrude Deal, Florence Johnson, Marie Humphries and several others are going to take P. G. courses at the high school.

Glenn Salow and his bride from Novi were in Northville Saturday night.

Jane Lester and Catherine McKenna are back from the north.

See you next week.

IT HAS KEPT FAITH

While country papers have been suffering financial difficulties the past few years, and in 95 per cent of the cases surviving them, there has been a distinct improvement in the quality of news and editorial service. No line of business probably has kept faith with its customers as courageously as the weekly press.—Wisconsin Press.

Literal Instructions

The Pullman conductor one night saw a red lantern hanging on one of the lower berths so he looked up "George, the porter, and said: "Say, George, why is that red lantern hanging on that lower berth?" George replied: "Well, boss, rule 23 in my book says that you should hang up a red lantern when the rear end of the sleeper is exposed."

Hastings—That was some wreck up the street—a man in a reverie ran into a woman in a tantrum.

Goings—So? And were the two machines badly wrecked?

"$4.00 Higher, You Say!"

Yes ma'm! and yes sir! Mr. and Mrs. Homeowner, that $4.00 rise in the price of mohair covering is merely a sample of how furniture materials are rising in cost. This raise of material cost gives rise to a corresponding increase in the price of your household furnishings.

Bed mattresses have risen as high as $3.00 each. Bed springs are going back to their old prices. The inflation is on! Be wise and thrifty. If you are in the market for any furniture at all—buy now. You are certain to save money and your purchase is just like putting dollars into your pocket.

We have as fine a line of all styles and periods of furniture as you will find anywhere. To keep pace with the high quality, our furniture still carries "depression prices." Take advantage of these prices—this very day!

WITHOUT MOTHER

"I wonder how they will get along without me!" It's the age-old cry of every mother-heart when she must leave her children. To a mother, they are always her children—little children who need her. And there stood that wistful little group waving goodbye as our train pulled out for the annual visit to the chum-sister who needs us.

The "Littlest-one" is with us, gay in the prospect of a train trip to the big city. From his enthusiasm we catch the spirit of adventure and the rails seem to sing gayly as we explore the train. We sit on the observation car watching the shining track lengthen behind us and later dine with untroubled luxuries.

Finally our little companion gets drowsy and is glad to fold his clothes into the tiny hammock overhead and falls asleep. Quiet—except the regular ring of the wheels below, beating time with the thought that goes round and round in our mind, "Wonder what they'll do without us—wonder what they'll do without us."

How familiar these words seem! With poignant recollection a picture all comes back to us.

It is a dull afternoon in November—almost dusk. A family group is gathered in the "setting room," quieter than usual for mother is lying on the couch sick. With the carelessness of youth no one seems too greatly concerned. Mother never makes much fuss about it.

Someone plays "Softly Now the Light of Day" to the air of "The Last Hope." One of us goes casually over to the couch and finds mother softly weeping. "Oh, what is it, mother?"

Not of herself, but of us, she has been thinking, "I'm wondering how you'll get along without me."

Never will we forget those words. All too soon we learned what it meant to do without her. In bewildered distress we sisters and brothers huddled together and vowed everlasting allegiance. Overnight older sisters' hearts expanded to mother younger brothers and throughout the hardships of maintaining a motherless home and keep all in school, developed something of mutual loyalty and self-reliance that the tender coddling of mother affection could never have stimulated.

Perhaps, after all, if mothers could now and then, like the eagles teaching their young to fly, swoop out from under them and leave them to try the strength of their own wings, they would surprise us with the sureness of their flight.

We expect to be happily surprised.

The house has liens upon it With past payments on it And we'll have to pack and go away. Unless the state relaxes We'll be sunk by taxes.

But Michigan is Comstocked And recovery is deadlocked, And soon we'll all be nibblin' hay Our creditors are dunnin' But a new deal is comin' It's just around the corner so they say.

But while the world's improv'ing To Elmore we'll be moving On our golden wedding day.

DETROIT BUSES ARE NOW RUNNING ON A CHANGED SCHEDULE

The schedule for Northville busses printed some time ago in the Record, has now been completely changed.

Detroit busses leave Detroit from the Barium Tower and come here by way of Wayne and Plymouth. An exception to this is the one bus that runs direct between Detroit and Northville on Tuesdays, Thursdays, Saturdays, and Sundays, and makes stops at the "Sar," the House of Corrections, and the Wayne County Training School.

DO YOU REMEMBER WHEN?

Peter Connell was the tinsorial artist of the town?

T. J. Perkins was a dry goods merchant in Northville?

Ryder, Wheeler, Huff, Murdock, White and Gorton were store keepers in our midst?

James K. Lowden, Axel Blair and William W. Blair were leaders in carpenter work here?

The principal stone masons were Marvin Bovert, Wm. H. Brigham, Ephraim M. Brigham?

There was a homecoming in 1908? 386 out of town, former Northvillites, registered. 101 of that group have died during the interval since.

That group of molders, "sand rats" as they were named, held forth in the old foundry—Charles Van Valkenburg, Milt Withee, James Sayag, Henry Priest, Clay Calkins, Ira Dames, Will Hilborn, Frank Goodnow, Will Slater, Charles and Ben Fukins and "Doc" Hastings. They settled all the prominent questions of their day. Their work day was strenuous and they had their own code.

Pungent Paragraphs

A wizard is the person who can keep up with the neighbors and the installments, too.—Chicago Times

Many who ask for your candid opinion really mean candid.—Braymer (Mo) Bee.

JOHN McCULLY NO BALL FAN

The many Northville people who have long looked upon John McCully as a baseball fan, now that the astounding truth is out, have been not only mistaken, but deluded.

John, who, when he is not selling shoes, has often been seen smoking his pipe and playing with the Rotary indoor team or watching other teams play, has never seen a big league game—and is proud of his "record." This information came out in the Record office Wednesday, when John was discussing the Rotary club's trip to the Tiger-Yankee game at Navin field in Detroit, last week.

Asked why he did not attend with the other Rotarians, John replied, "I've lived in Northville for 43 years and have never seen a league game yet. I'm proud of my record and I don't intend to break it." The many friends of John will be surprised if not shocked.

THE WOMAN'S CLUB WILL STUDY AMERICA

The programs of study for the coming season of the Northville Woman's club are issued. The topic in general will be "Progress in America" with discussions of various features of historical interest concerning our country. A number of outside speakers will contribute to the value of the program at intervals.

The year will open with the "Presidents' Day" with a luncheon to be served at the Presbyterian church house October 6.

Those serving on the program committee this year are Mrs. C. C. Yerkes, Mrs. D. F. Yerkes, Mrs. Wilbur H. Johnston, Mrs. L. M. Eaton, and Mrs. Harold Bloom. The club will meet only once in two weeks instead of weekly as formerly.

Little Wonder

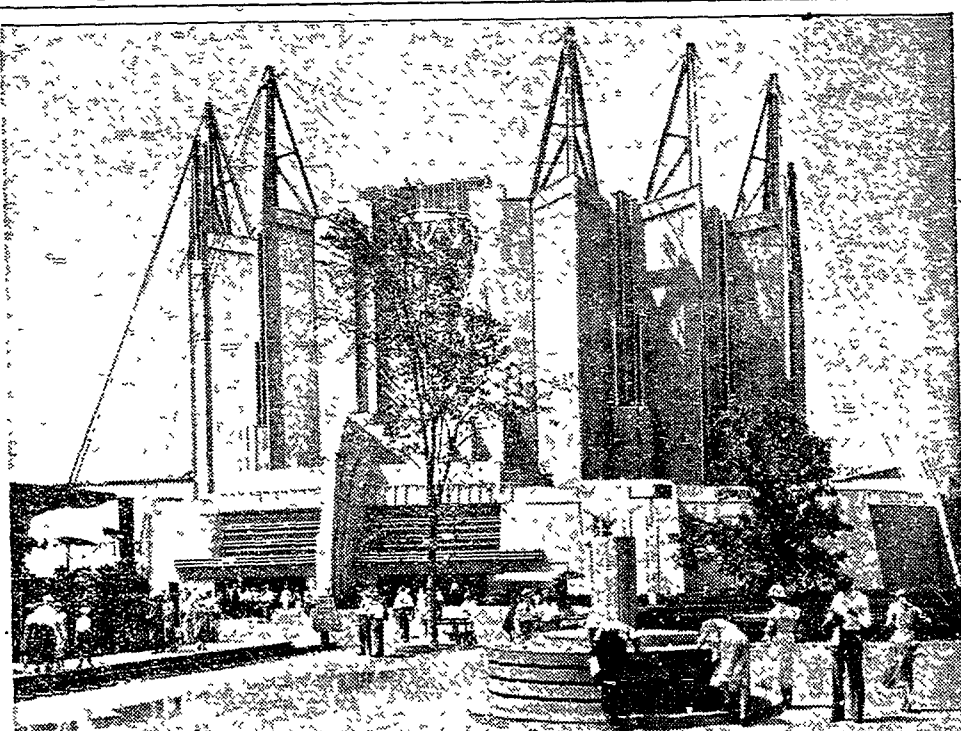

"Your methods of cultivation are hopelessly out of date," said the youthful agricultural college graduate to the old farmer.

"Why, I'd be astonished if you ever got ten pounds of apples from that tree?"

"So would I," replied the old farmer, "it's a pear tree."

The Travel and Transport Building at the southern end of A Century of Progress—the Chicago World's Fair, is the mecca of thousands of visitors daily. Under its unique cable-suspended dome, and throughout its long exhibition halls are hundreds of displays dramatizing the story of man's achievements during the past one hundred years in transporting himself and his goods. All modes of travel are depicted, there being something of interest for everyone. The Travel and Transport Building is one of the many which are free to the public after the 50-cent gate admission is paid.

Don't Burn Money!!

Sounds like useless advice—but it isn't. Hundreds of furnaces are literally "burning" money because of waste induced by dirty flues and furnaces. More coal is consumed, repairs are apt to be more expensive. Avoid this!

The subjects to be considered are "Stewardship" and "The Roll Call of Our Missionaries," under the leadership of Mrs. D. P. Yerkes. This is the first meeting of the fall. Let us make it a really meeting with a large attendance.

Christian Science Churches

"Substance" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all the Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, Sept. 10. Among the Bible citations in this passage (Ezek. 28:4) "By humility and the fear of the Lord are riches, and honour, and life." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 229): "If divine Love is becoming nearer, nearer, and more real to us, matter is then submitting to Spirit. The objects we pursue and the spirit we manifest reveal our standpoint, and show what we are winning."

Baptist Church

The time of services will continue through September as at present, 10:00 a. m. for preaching service, and 11:15 for Sunday school. The morning worship for Sunday will be in charge of the ladies of the church, assisted by Miss Lottie Livingston, of Detroit.

St. Paul's Lutheran

"Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy." Matthew 5, 7. By the grace and mercy of God we have again been permitted to come near the close of another week. "The Lord is very pitiful and of tender mercies." Follow the footsteps of the Savior and see how His pathway was fringed with mercy. Go to Calvary and behold the most eloquent scene of mercy ever seen in this world. Read your Bible and you will find mercy, mercy written on every page.

And now take stock of yourself. A week of your life has sped into eternity. A week of opportunities. A week in which you might have practiced and been blessed in practicing mercy. What does the record show? Were there poor whom you might have clothed; hungry whom you might have fed; sorrowing whom you might have comforted; sinners whom you might have set aright? Were there members of your own household, of your church, your community whom you might have shown love, sympathy, compassion, mercy? "To whom little is forgiven, he loveth little." Do you find that there is very little mercy in your heart toward your fellowman? If so, you will also find that you believe yourself guilty of only a few sins which need forgiveness. The more highly you think of yourself and your goodness the less you will think of God and your needy fellowman. Do you understand the force of St. Paul's words: "The love of Christ constraineth me." Why? Was St. Paul filled with fervent love for Christ and his fellowman. Was it not because he had learned to say, "I am the least of all the apostles." "I am the chief of sinners." St. Paul realized that much had been forgiven him and therefore he loved much. Mercy, love, was a fruit in his faith.

What shall we then do that we may grow in love and mercy? Go to the Ten Commandments and see yourself as God sees you, and repent; go to Calvary and behold your Savior atoning for your manifold sins and also the sin of being unmerciful, and believe. Knowing your sins and the mercy of God, can you be unmerciful? In you, then, too, mercy will be a beautiful fruit of your faith. And if you have faith in Jesus then are you truly blessed, then will the just judge on that day for Christ's sake to be merciful to you.

Divine service will be held this Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. In connection with this service the Sunday school will again be held.

The Ladies' Aid will meet on next Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Emma Hamilton.

Confirmation instruction for children between the ages of 12-14 will again begin on the third Saturday of this month, Sept. 16, at 9:00 a. m. in the church hall.

Holy Communion will be celebrated on the third Sunday of this month, Sept. 17. Announcement at the parsonage on Thursday evening, Sept. 14, from 7:30 to 9 o'clock.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to worship with us.

Salem Federated Church

Are you trusting in the Lord? Come Sunday morning, Sept. 10, and let us meditate on this question together. The worship hour begins at ten-thirty o'clock. Try to be on time to hear the voluntary, as Mr. Harary and Mrs. Gale plan to play the air from violin concerto in A minor by Goldmark.

You will enjoy the Bible school lesson on David and Jonathan and gain more from it, if you read all of the book of First Samuel. Memory verse, "A friend loveth at all times" Proverbs 17:17.

"I will meet you at the hymn-sing on Sunday evening at 7:30."

Salem Congregational Church

Lucia M. Stroh, Minister. Service next Sunday at 10:30 a. m. Sunday school following. Lesson First Samuel 18:1-4-20: 35-42. "The Great True Love and Friendship Between Jonathan and David."

Rally Day will be held in October. The exact date will be given later. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Kehrl, leader: Rev. C. W. Lewis.

The Ladies' Auxiliary society will hold their meeting for September at the Lewis home, west of Salem on Six Mile road. The afternoon meeting begins at 2:30. There will be an important business session followed by the third quarterly missionary meeting led by Miss Elizabeth Wittich. Then supper will be served by the hostesses, Mrs. C. W. Lewis and Mrs. LaVern Lewis. All friends and neighbors of the community are most heartily invited. All the men and children are urged to join the ladies for the delicious supper. Table committee: Mrs. Jas. Clark and Mrs. Fred Rider.

Eph. 5:16. "Buy up your opportunities." Weymouth. Waste is purely a comparative term. For instance let us consider an hour's time. If I use that hour for cooking a dinner the result of that hour's work lasts only four hours. If I use it in sewing a shoe it lasts a few months. If I use it in building an automobile it lasts a few years. If I use it in building a house, it will last fifty or sixty years. If I use it in lowering a highway grader or developing a water power that has been running to waste for millions of years, then that hour's time goes on making for eternity—Roger W. Babson. So with the human soul—what we build in life and in character for God and by His Grace and enabling power goes on, not only in this life, but through all the ages to come. Jesus said: Build on the rock—that when the storms and the flood come, it will stand. Jesus Christ is Our Rock, The Rock of Ages.

INDOOR BASEBALL TOURNAMENT TITLE IS WON BY SALEM

The softball baseball tournament sponsored by the Northville Recreation Commission, has ended with the Salem team finally beating out the Men's Shop.

The tournament, which started in July, has been very popular, drawing large crowds in the early evening to the diamond on the school playground. Some very good games ensued, producing much enthusiasm. The tournament was in charge of Paul B. Thompson, playground supervisor.

The teams were divided up into A and B Leagues. They are with their final percentages as follows: A League—Salem, 1500; Edison, 750; Men's Shop, 600; Baptist, 500; A. & P., 200; Presbyterian, 100; B League—Maybury Seniorium, 1000; Lutheran, 800; Rotary, 500; House of Correction, 400; Methodist, 400.

Then the three highest teams in each league were pitted against each other in the semi-finals. As soon as a team lost two games it was eliminated. The scores for the semi-final play-offs were: Salem 25, Edison 3; Maybury 16, Rotary 9; Men's Shop 12, Lutheran 0; Salem 7, Maybury 5; Edison 16, Rotary 15; Men's Shop 7, Salem 6; Edison 15, Lutheran 2; Men's Shop 13, Edison 7; Salem 13, Maybury 3.

Then Salem and the Men's Shop, the two survivors, played for the championship. Salem won last Thursday, 6 to 3, and again Tuesday, 21 to 3. As if this were not enough, the gallant "Owenmen" insisted on more slaughter and accordingly were whipped Wednesday 14-3. This game was called in the sixth inning by Umpire "Butch" Lefevre on account of darkness and some argument followed as to whether or not it was a legal game. As the game was not really necessary, no official decision was given.

Until We Learned Better

UNTIL we learned better, we used to mix wood and steel in our car bodies and wheels.

It was the best way to make bodies—then. But the state of the art has advanced.

Of course, it is more expensive to make an all-steel body than to make a wooden frame and nail steel panels on to it. The better way involves an initial expenditure of several millions of dollars for new dies, which renders a change very costly. Cars, especially large expensive cars which are produced in small volume, cannot afford this, because the dies cost as much for one car as for a million. That alone explains why all-steel bodies are not used in all cars.

But our basic policy from the beginning is to make a good car better regardless of cost.

For example, when we discarded wood-steel body construction, it was not because we lacked wood. We still have some thousands of acres of the best hard wood in America. Economy would urge us to use the wood first, and then adopt the better all-steel body. But we decided that quality was more important than expense.

We weighed the reasons, for and against, before we made the change.

We could see only one reason for retaining a mixed wood-and-steel body—nailing the metal on, instead of welding an all-steel body into a strong one-piece whole. That reason was, it would be cheaper—for us.

Our reasons for adopting an all-steel body were these: A wood-steel body is not much stronger structurally than its wooden frame. In all American climates, wood construction weakens with age. Every used car lot gives evidence of this. Rain seeps in between joints and the wood decays. A car may have a metal surface, and yet not be of steel construction. Under extreme shock or stress the steel body remains intact—dented perhaps, but not crushed.

Steel does not need wood for strength or protection. Wood is fine for furniture, but not for the high-speed vehicles of 1933.

In the Ford body there are no joints to squeak, no seams to crack or leak.

The all-steel body is more expensive—to us, but not to you.

By all odds, then, steel bodies seem preferable.

Wheels also have become all-steel. No one argues that an electrically welded one-piece steel wheel, such as the Ford wheel, needs to be "strengthened" by adding wood to it.

The one-piece all-steel body is the strongest, safest, quietest, most durable body made. That is our only reason for making them.
