

DR. SUNDWALL SEES GOOD IN RUSSIA'S PLAN

U. of M. Professor Tells Rotarians of Changes Going On

Greatly misunderstood by Americans because of unfavorable newspaper publicity, and eligible to stand with the great nations of the earth, were the critical "tags" placed on Russia by Dr. John Sundwall, University of Michigan faculty member, in an intensely interesting talk offered Rotarians at their regular meeting at the Presbyterian church house Tuesday night. As Dr. Sundwall has not only been a keen "long distance" observer of Russia but has the added qualification of traveling extensively in that much discussed country, Rotarians felt that he knew "whereof he spoke."

In blaming newspapers for the bulk of antagonism felt against Russia Dr. Sundwall said that because of the journalistic custom of printing only "the irregular things, the bizarre things," a bad impression had been formed. "Wherever I go I try to see the best things, the good things, and from what I have observed I see no reason why we should not recognize Russia," said Dr. Sundwall.

Termining what he called the "bright and mortar" of the Five Year plan Dr. Sundwall told Rotarians about the amazing progress in education, industry, government, and the social and physical welfare of the Soviet. "I think that every visitor to Russia today should be trained to get hold of the intangible things, the spirit of things," he said. Dr. Sundwall warned against any attempt to compare conditions in that country with ours, for, he said, "Russia's way is different from our way of doing things."

"To my mind the greatest thing that has come out of the Five Year plan," said Dr. Sundwall, "is discipline, the spirit and the passion of the people." He declared that the extreme misery of 15 years ago does not prevail today because of the new regime. Unafraid of experimentation the Russian leaders are eager to modify their plans to meet certain conditions. "There is the most flexible government on the face of the earth," he said. All governments in Europe have changed during the past fifteen years, he said, but the Russian government has had an almost unchanging personnel.

Russia's facilities for school and adult education are unequalled anywhere, according to Dr. Sundwall. The whole purpose seems to be bound up in the theory that progress depends on education and service, he said.

Every form of social and industrial insurance is provided for Russians, he said; health and sickness, incapacitation, old age and unemployment insurance are essential parts of the program.

A common criticism against Russians, said Dr. Sundwall, is that they show visitors only the best and hide the worst. "I think that is a splendid human characteristic that they should want to show the best they have and can," was Dr. Sundwall's answer to such criticism. "We do the same thing here in this country," he went on. "When people come here we show them our Empire State building, our Washington; we do not take them to our sweat shops nor to the bleak prairies of the west."

Communism, said Dr. Sundwall, has become the religion of Russia. The whole thought of the people is turned toward the betterment of the country. The slogan of school children is "What can I do for the future glory of my country?"

So well has the health program of Soviet Russia succeeded that the mortality rate today is only 13 per 1000 in comparison to the 25 and 26 per 1000 of 15 years ago. Dr. Sundwall declared that it was the unreserved opinion of a group of doctors with whom he traveled through Russia that the children were the best nourished in all of Europe. Mothers are given special attention and care, an important phase of the health program.

Guests at the Rotary meeting were Walter A. Harms of Plymouth, Chet Stumhoff of Howell, A. L. Anderson of Detroit, W. C. Carlyn, W. H. Sloan, Rev. Frank N. Miner, John A. Boyce, and S. S. Stalter of Northville.

PUBLIC CARD PARTY

A card party will be given by the Eastern Star Friday evening, Oct. 6, at 7:30 p. m. at the Masonic Temple. Twenty-five cents per person, including prizes, entertainment and lunch. You may play any kind of card game you prefer.

LEAVES EXCHANGE

DR. BRUCE H. DOUGLAS

Dr. Douglas, recently appointed tuberculosis controller for the Detroit Board of Health, last week was elected president of the Michigan Tuberculosis association. Because of Wednesday conferences necessitating his presence in Detroit, Dr. Douglas resigned as president of the Northville Exchange club this week.

DEPOSITORS BANK RELEASES $20,000 IN SECOND DIVIDEND

Withdrawal of over $20,000 has followed the latest five per cent dividend announced by the Depositors State Bank on Friday, Sept. 15, stated John A. Boyce, president Wednesday.

The call for the dividend was steadier this time than previously when in April the bank made its first allowance. Depositors did not all come at one time, said Floyd Lanning and Harold Bloom, tellers.

New business composed of checking accounts and savings accounts have grown since the institution, a merger of two former banks, The Lapham State Savings Bank and The Northville State Savings Bank, was opened in January.

NORTHVILLE BOYS AT C. C. C. CAMP DINE ON CHICKEN

Forestry Lads Repay Treat By Catching Fish For Ladies

The following letter from Northville boys at the reforestation camp at Kenton will be read with much interest.

"Mrs. Ware, Mrs. B. Schoutz, Mrs. Lanning of Northville, and Mrs. Lanning's sister of Lansing, who have been spending the last few weeks at the World's Fair at Chicago, and in the Upper Peninsula, stopped at Kenton Camp Co. 312 to see the Northville boys and to invite them to a chicken dinner. The boys all accepted the invitation. They had a very nice dinner, which was served by the four ladies. After dinner the boys all went fishing in Rock river and caught a very nice string of fish for their supper.

The boys will never forget the wonderful time they had and the kindness of the four Northville ladies.

Bridal Gowns of the Long Ago Contrast With Those of Today As Young Ladies Give Pageant

With memories of years ago mingling with those of today and with beautiful gowns yellowed with age contrasting with the more modern wedding attire, the pageant, "Brides of Yesterday," was presented under the auspices of the Service League of the Methodist Episcopal church Friday evening, Sept. 22, at 8:00 p. m., at the church. A large crowd enjoyed the impressive event.

The auditorium of the church was beautifully decorated with palms, flowers, and lighted tapers making a lovely setting for the gowns which portrayed the styles from 1882 until the year 1933. To the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March the first group, composed of styles of the 19th century, walked slowly down the aisle to the platforms where they displayed their gowns. In this group were Miss Wilma Rattenbury wearing the wedding gown of Mrs. Susan Eaton of the year 1882, Miss Bernice Clark in that of Mrs. Sumner Powers of the year 1888, Mrs. Alex Lyke in the wedding gown of Mrs. Thomas Murdock of the year 1897 and Miss Margaret Norton wearing the bridal dress of Mrs. Carl Ely of the year 1901.

NORTHVILLE SENDS SIX TO STATE CAMP

Additional Group To Leave For Reforestation Enrollment

Six more boys will be sent Monday from Northville to join the reforestation ranks throughout the state.

Although swamped with applications from youths in this district who wish to go, officials indicated that those who show the most willingness to cooperate with companions, who realize the benefits to be gained, and who make the best health records are to be chosen.

The tentative list of those who will leave for Fort Wayne Monday morning at nine o'clock accompanied by Chief of Police Wm. Safford are: Richard Nash, Yale Conroy, Elmer Eugene Pettin, Harry Larkins, Jacob Morgan, and Rollin Hollis.

One of these boys may be sent with a group from another township. In this case there will be room for another Northville boy who will be chosen from the two or three alternates sent along with those named. The boys will be sent from Fort Wayne to Camp Custer, near Battle Creek, for final enrollment.

MATTHEWS WILL SPEAK AT ROTARY "LADIES' NIGHT"

"Ladies' Night" for Rotarians will be held, honoring the wives of the members of the Rotary club, at the Meadowbrook country club Tuesday evening, Oct. 3, with dinner at 6:30 o'clock.

Those attending will be honored to have W. E. Matthews of Detroit as the speaker. His subject will be "Most Typically American." Mr. Matthews has appeared in Northville before and has made an exceptionally fine impression.

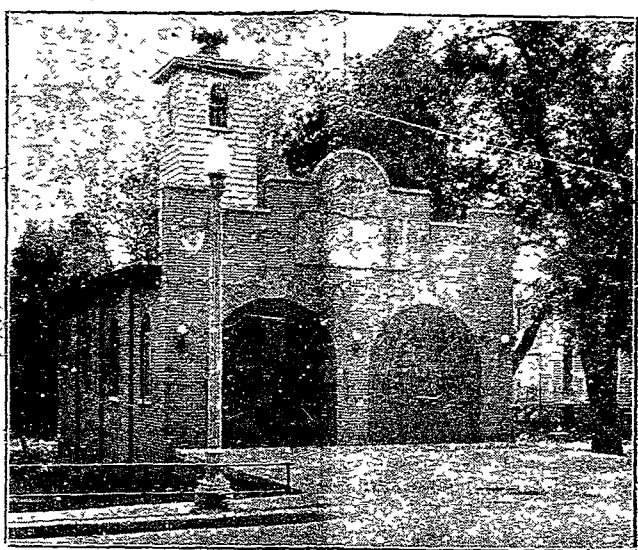

L. OF V. CHURCH WILL GIVE UNIQUE "DINNER EXCURSION"

A "See America First" excursion is being sponsored by Our Lady of Victory church on Wednesday, Oct. 11, during which passengers will be treated to an elaborate chicken pie dinner served in three "states," the boundaries of which are all contained in Northville.

Beginning at 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon from the Ambler store on Main street the passengers will be taken in automobiles provided for the purpose, to 304 West Dunlap street, where they will partake of noodle soup and wafers in the state of "Pennsylvania." Following this the state of "Kentucky," the next stop for the passengers, will be at the Catholic church hall where they will be served with chicken pie and all of the "trimmings." The final stop will be at the Ambler store "Michigan" where apple pie and coffee will be served.

Tickets for the excursion have been printed with stop-over privileges in each of the three beautiful "states" and are now on sale. A bazaar festival will be held at the Ambler store following the excursion, which will continue until all of the dinner passengers are served.

FIREMEN EXTINGUISH 12 BLAZES

NORTHVILLE FIRE HALL

Northville has been exceedingly fortunate in having only 12 fires so far this year. The department, manned by a competent staff and equipped with a chemical truck and a hook and ladder truck stands ready to cope at any time with any type of fire emergency that could arise here.

M. E. MEN'S DINNER WEDNESDAY DRAWS CROWD OF OVER 80

The potluck dinner given by the Men's club of the Methodist church in honor of the ladies of the Service League, Wednesday evening, Sept. 27, at 6:30 at the church house, was a very successful affair with a large crowd of approximately eighty men and women present.

After the dinner informal talks were given by George H. Stalker, president of the Men's club, Mrs. Claude Zimmerman, president of the Service League, the Rev. Frank N. Miner, and Charles E. Rogers. The "Drifters" a trio composed of Misses Gertrude Deal, Eleanor Grosvenor and Florence Johnson, sang several selections. Roy Clark acted as master of ceremonies for the evening.

The event was concluded with the playing of games. It is important to note that in the memory contest the laurels were given to the ladies—the logical conclusion.

At the close of the gathering the Men's club held a brief business meeting.

FOURTH EDITOR OF RECORD, E. R. REED, DIES AT CHELSEA

E. Roscoe Reed, once editor and owner of the Northville Record, died at the Old Peoples Home of the Methodist church in Chelsea, Michigan, at the age of 86 on September 14.

Mr. Reed was a son of Rev. Seth Reed, famous preacher of pioneer days who lived to the ripe old age of 101.

Mr. Reed was born at Bemington, Michigan in August, 1847. Mr. Reed took an active part in village affairs here and besides his career as an editor he was village clerk in 1888 and 1889. He was editor of the Record in 1889 when the village was incorporated. His home was the present Kalbfleisch residence.

He was the fourth in the succession of Record editors.

In 1889 Mr. Reed married Miss Della Cook, who died in 1916, and again married in 1922 to Mrs. Harry Emery whose death occurred ten years later. He is survived by three children, Mrs. Mimmie Coogan, Mrs. Exrnie Meyersahm and Charles R. Reed, the latter a broker. Dr. Wilbur F. Reed of Cheboygan is the last survivor of the family of Seth Reed.

Burial was made in the Woodlawn cemetery, Detroit.

sent Kalbfleisch residence. He was the fourth in the succession of Record editors.

MOTHERS PLAN FOR CARD TOURNAMENT TO HELP THE SENIORS

At a meeting of the mothers of members of the senior class of Northville high school Monday evening plans were made for a card tournament to begin Thursday October 19th.

This tournament which is for the purpose of helping the seniors to earn money for their annual trip will be sponsored by the mothers of these students and will include such games as auction and contract bridge and five hundred. As nearly as can be determined the tournament will be held on Thursday evenings beginning October 19 and continuing for six weeks. Prizes will be given each evening for the highest score in each of the three games.

At the end of the tournament a grand prize will be given and also three silver cups to the winners. Tickets for the six evenings are priced at $1.00. Refreshments will be served each evening by the senior boys and girls.

For information call the chairman Mrs. J. N. McLoughlin.

EDMON W. LOCKWOOD DIES WEDNESDAY AT AGE OF 83 YEARS

The charity and open heartedness that distinguished the life of Edmon Warren Lockwood, 125 Randolph street, who passed away at his home Wednesday afternoon at the age of 83 years was reflected in the large number of friends who called at the Lockwood home to pay their condolences to his daughter, Ella, who has been ill several weeks.

Mr. Lockwood had been ill for nearly two years but not seriously until about six weeks ago when his condition became grave. He leaves his daughter, Ella, and an adopted son, Fred, now residing at Buffalo, N. Y., and three grandchildren.

Born at Spring Mills (Highland) on April 24, 1850, three miles east of Milford, Mr. Lockwood was the fourth child of John O. and Hulda Lockwood. After 46 years residence there during which time he married Ada Belle Newsome on July 2, 1874, Mr. and Mrs. Lockwood made a farm on the Fishery road near their home. They lived on the farm for 12 years and then moved to Northville. Mrs. Lockwood died on Feb. 22, 1920.

Mr. Lockwood had at various times during his career followed the occupations of farming, building, painting; his father was a stone mason and he was qualified in that field of endeavor. He was known throughout the community as being "handy" with tools and a competent jack-of-all-trades.

Until his death he was an active Mason, belonged to the Knights of Maccabees and was formerly a member of the Knights of Pythias and the Odd Fellows lodge.

He was extremely sympathetic and his thoughtfulness in aiding those who appealed to him was well known throughout this community. During the twilight years of his life he took a keen interest in the children on the street where he lived. They all knew and loved him for his kindness. He was known never to ill-treat any animals that he owned and his gentleness to stray cats and dogs which he found was still another evidence of his generosity.

The funeral will be held this afternoon (Friday) at 2 o'clock from the home. Masonic services will be held and the Rev. Wm. Roscoe Barbour and the Rev. A. K. MacRae will officiate. Interment will be at Highland.

NORTHVILLE GROUP GO TO LEGION MEET

Mrs. Chas. F. Murphy Is 17th District Auxiliary Delegate

A group of Northville Legionnaires and their wives will represent this community at the four day Legion convention, Oct. 1-4, at Chicago, where they will also attend the Century of Progress.

Those who plan on going are: Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Barber, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Boltog, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Sweet, and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Alexander. Mrs. Murphy is the auxiliary delegate from the 17th congressional district.

Some of the couples will leave on the "Fun Special" train which leaves Detroit Saturday night shortly after eleven o'clock. The train is made up of Legionnaires of the Detroit metropolitan area. Mr. and Mrs. Boltog are planning on driving to the Fair as are Mr. and Mrs. Murphy.

WOMAN'S CLUB WILL HOLD FALL LUNCHEON FRIDAY, OCTOBER 6

The annual fall luncheon of the Northville Woman's Club will be held at the Presbyterian church house Friday, October 6, at 1:00 o'clock p. m.

The luncheon is in honor of the past presidents of the club and the president, Mrs. C. M. Chase. There will be a novel program and special music. Members may bring guests.

Tickets are fifty cents and are on sale with Mrs. Bruno Freydt at the Freydt Dry Goods store. Members must either have purchased tickets or have called Mrs. H. F. Wagon-schur before Thursday noon, October 5th.

15,000 UNITS TURNED OUT IN SEPTEMBER AT MARZ FACTORY

Working for more production the Marz Motor Sales factory on West Main street turned out 6,000 Ford water pump housings and over 9,000 water pump impellers since Sept. 8, when the factory first started manufacturing.

Eight men are now employed at the factory and more will be placed when additional equipment is secured. This is not likely to take place, said Arthur J. Marz, head of the concern, until capacity production is reached on the present machinery. Normal output calls for 10,000 housings and 20,000 pump impellers each month, he said.

KING'S DAUGHTERS MAKE AN APPEAL FOR MORE CLOTHING

"Calls are coming in every day for clothing from parents who do not have enough garments for their children to go to school. The King's Daughters wish that anyone having any articles of apparel that they cannot use would call Mrs. Wm. Safford or leave them with her. Children's clothing is especially needed."

METHODIST CHICKEN PIE SUPPER AND BAZAAR ON TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 14

The annual chicken pie supper and bazaar which is sponsored by members of the Methodist Ladies Aid will be given Tuesday evening November 14th.

Everyone is asked to keep in mind the date of this large affair and to come and enjoy the dinner.

The Exchange Club Says Farewell To Dr. Douglas and Frank Snipes And Hears Talk by John Sunday

The Exchange Club meeting Wednesday was an important one for two reasons, first came the resignations of Dr. Bruce Douglas as president and Frank Snipes as third vice-president. Both men are loath to leave the club but the advancement in their respective fields made it necessary.

Dr. Douglas will take up his residence in Detroit and is compelled to hold important conferences Wednesday.

Frank Snipes goes to Fayetteville, Tenn., to have charge of the Fishery station there.

Minor affairs were taken up and disposed of and the proposed programs for October outlined.

Samuel Wilkinson was in charge of the day's program and introduced John Sunday of the Wayne county

JOHN KALBFLEISCH IS LAWN BOWLING CHAMPION AT 75

(Reprinted from the Detroit News, Sept. 22)

His 75 years haven't dimmed John Kalbfleisch's enthusiasm for the sport of bowling on the green and he seldom misses an opportunity to engage in this pastime on the green at North-western Field, where his Detroit business and the care of his flowers surrounding his home in Northville permit him to bow in Ontario, Canada, Sept. 22, 1933, he came to Detroit, 52 years ago and for 26 years was in the wholesale grocery business before founding the Pioneer Laundry & Cleaning Co., of which he is still president, surrounded by his three sons and son-in-law as associates. Fraternally, Mr. Kalbfleisch is past master of Corinthian Lodge No. 241, R. & A. M. He is also a member of Detroit Commandery, the Detroit Consistory and the Shrine. He got his start selling candles but you'd never suspect it, for his 75th birthday today finds him with the figure of a youth and a nimbleness that would do credit to a man of 50.

Close to $1,500 was turned back to the local schools by county authorities for their taxes. They received the scrip in payment of back taxes from Northville residents and merchants. School authorities estimate that about $9,000 in the scrip is outstanding.

ROY MATHESON GETS EVEN WITH CATFISH THAT STEALS LINE

Roy Matheson isn't going to let a bullhead get away with his line and look No. 100.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Matheson who live at 322 North Rogers spent the week-end at their cottage on Silver Lake four miles the other side of South Lyon. Roy devoted all Saturday afternoon to casting tangle bait before the fish who consistently refused to bite. That evening, Roy, being a bit persistent about his fishing, decided to try his luck with the bullheads and again he went forth. This time he had better luck with bites. According to the story Roy told his wife, nothing less than a sea serpent, made off with his bait, hook, line and Roy barely escaped with his life.

He came back to shore for another hook and line, determined to land the "serpent." He did but instead of the monster it was only a teeny bullhead still carrying Roy's line with the hook firmly imbedded in its mouth.

Ralph Wood, 1932 club golf champion, repeated his triumph recently by defeating Jack McLoughlin, Northville high school star in a 36 hole match. McLoughlin lost by three strokes.

ALL-STAR PLAY AT "SAN" TODAY; FREE ADMISSION

Goodfellows Club Invites Fans From Northville To Attend

Harry Helman, former Detroit baseball player, will bring his team of All-Stars out to the Wm. H. Maybury sanatorium today (Friday) to play the Detroit American Sox team, a semi-pro aggregation of considerable ability, at three o'clock, weather permitting.

Helman's team is composed of former big league players—whose names have crashed the headlines many times. Barnstorming throughout the state, the All-Stars have won a majority of their games and have been given several close battles by Harry German's team, well known in this vicinity. The American Sox team is well up in the Detroit Sand Lot league and the contest will be well worth watching.

The Goodfellows club of the Maybury sanatorium extends a cordial invitation to the residents of Northville and vicinity to attend the game. There will be no admission fee, states Irene Sawick, secretary of the club.

CLOSEOUT SALE—On ladies' leather and fabric purses. Low prices. The Art Shoppe, Penniman Allen Bldg., Northville 13-c.

MRS. RHODES SENDS WALLED LAKE NEWS TO RECORD WEEKLY

Mrs. Mae Rhodes, Walled Lake, whose first column of correspondence from that community in The Record will be found on an inside page, is an active civic leader.

She heads several community organizations and is interested in the welfare of Walled Lake. A leader in the community she is well liked and her weekly column of news promises to be interesting both to Northville residents who have friends at Walled Lake and to citizens of that town.

Residents of Walled Lake who have news, either local items or stories of fraternal activities, parties, births or deaths, or anything of an unusual nature are asked to communicate their information to Mrs. Rhodes by calling Walled Lake 32-F3, her telephone number.

KING'S DAUGHTERS MEET ON TUESDAY

The regular meeting of the King's Daughters will be held Tuesday afternoon, October 3, at 1:00 o'clock p. m. at the home of Mrs. E. B. Cavell. The afternoon will be spent in sewing and everyone is asked to come prepared to sew. It is important that everyone be present promptly at 1:00 o'clock.

An entertainment and card party is being planned for Tuesday evening, October 10, at 8:00 o'clock p. m. at the Northville High school.

Mr. Sunday gave a brief description of the organization of the staff and of the methods used in handling law cases. He paid tribute to the work of Prosecuting Attorney Toy and the thoroughness of his preparation of cases in his office.

"The time has come," declared Mr. Sunday, "when we must stamp out the criminals and whip them thoroughly or else let them run things entirely."

Mr. Sunday was also very emphatic that real enforcement is up to the public at large and when they really want criminality routed they can make their wants known and insist on a clean-up.

Guests were Elmer L. Smith and James Richard Patrick Lyons.

NO STATE SOCIALISM YET

We like the ringing protest of Governor Ely of Massachusetts when he says that we must not think that the NRA is going to run us into state socialism. He says that the control of business and industry by our government must not be allowed to become a permanent thing. If it does that, he says, we have state socialism and a nation that has cut loose from the rugged individualism that has made this country what it is.

The United States needs no dictator—not even the friendly kind, yet. And this talk that our nation is ready to fall off the cliff into the deep gulf of conditions like those in Russia and Italy is absurd. We have plenty of troubles but we can solve them without going Soviet.

WHAT ARE TROUBLES?

The other morning we spent a couple of hours and rolled up a nice telephone bill, trying to get an extra Record worker to meet the NRA code under which we now work. We complained a little because of the inconvenience.

In a few minutes we were shamed out of our complaining mood. We heard of a good friend flat on her back with illness. When we thought of her lot and ours we said: "What right have we to complain?"

What are troubles? They are comparative. If placed alongside real troubles, they disappear like dew before the morning sun.

If we turn the sunlight on our blessings, our troubles will, in most cases, fold up and disappear.

"A CENTURY OF PROGRESS"

It seems that half of Northville has gone to Chicago to see the "Century of Progress." Part of the other half still has until November 1 to go and see the mighty exposition.

We have been greatly interested in the reaction of many visitors to the fair. Our own trip—if made—will be some time in October.

One thing on which all seem agreed is this: The fair is so imposing, so vast and offers so much to see that one gets surfeited, as it were, with all the assembly of things to see, and three or four days are enough to go the first time. A return trip, many say, enables one to get the most of the fair.

All visitors say that the fair is hard on the feet and that the wearing of comfortable shoes is essential if one is not to get footsore and weary. There are 85 miles of streets within the fair.

The World's fair—and some say it should be called a Chicago fair or United States fair—is supposed to show the progress that has been made in the past century. And in a marvelous way it does. The transportation and science buildings, the planetarium and all the other marvelous buildings could keep one enthralled for weeks if he wanted to stop and understand it all.

"Century of Progress" they call it. But as one looks around at the people of the United States—and of all the world, stumbling their way along the pathway of life surrounded by disorder, chaos and untold suffering, he wonders just what our progress means. Are we to be engulfed by the mighty material structures that we have built over our heads and all around us? We were quite impressed by these closing paragraphs from an article written by Emerson O. Gildart, editor of the Utica Sentinel, on his return from the fair:

"Then you turn and look at that great stream of holiday humanity; you watch them, watch especially how their women behave, and you wonder 'Shall we Americans meet the highest test? Will man in his last and greatest day of opportunity achieve mastery of himself—or must he go down like all the rest of past creation, crumbling amidst his own mighty works, his bones sunk in the morass of his own unfitness?'"

"Who can tell? The answer to this is the answer to the question, 'A Century of Progress'—but where?"

FLEEING FROM TAXATION

Well, well, finally we have found someone who is able to stop the tax grabbers when they come around to take his shirt.

The stock exchange at New York (as this is written) is apparently going to carry out its threat to leave its expensive quarters in New York City and cross the river into New Jersey, to get away from an overbearing tax that has been placed on them.

Ordinarily we don't have much sympathy with the stock exchange but this time we have to admire their defiance of the tax grabbing gentry.

What is happening in New York is liable to happen elsewhere. Michigan is liable to lose many of its small factories because of our tax grabbing here and there—the Detroit papers say that some factories have already left for other states.

The revolt that is taking place in New York City is liable to break out here in Michigan. Take, for example, the outrageous taxes that are heaped on the automobile owners of the state. We—all of us—are now paying as much for various kinds of auto taxes as once would run the whole state government. Yet our lawmakers keep on heaping on the taxes—but before long there is going to be a day of reckoning. Every time we buy a gallon of gasoline in Michigan we pay four and three-quarters cent of tax—counting all the various items. Think of that burden—47 and a-half cents every time you put in ten gallons—all for taxes.

The way to stop high taxes is to stop high cost. Just as one example, we in Wayne county are meekly letting an unnecessary sheriff's department take half a million dollars a year from us—and then on top of that we have to have a grand jury to investigate alleged corruption in the office. And the people, whose backs are breaking with the tax load, pay the shot. How long shall we stand this injustice?

The three per cent sales tax may be the means that will bring some relief from the tax load. Promised relief from the real estate tax burden, people are finding the sales tax a daily and mighty costly tax that practically puts a three per cent income tax on the man making $25 a week and under. People are getting "tax-minded." Every time a man or woman spends a dollar and pays his three cents he is reminded of the tax burden. One of these days the taxpayers are going to rise up and start a revolt that will really mean lowering of taxes—instead of the customary promises that are broken the minute elections are over.

WANDERING THOUGHTS

As a tonic for discouragement ride out (or better still, walk) among the hills of Northville and notice how sublime colors of autumn are being painted on a thousand trees.

Don't the Detroit bank jury findings of Judge Harry B. Keidan show the high cost of unjustified gossip and of scattering insinuations and character stabs, without knowing what you are talking about?

The NRA gets the credit for a big advance in the price of paper used by newspapers and printers. And three per cent goes on job work for the state sales tax. We thank you for not blaming us for the higher cost of printing—we don't make the laws.

Anyone who will build some cozy modern homes in Northville and rent them for a reasonable sum should get a good return on his investment. We know of two or three families who have gone to Plymouth just because they couldn't find here the kind of a house they wanted to rent.

After he had been on the witness stand for four days (count 'em) Senator James Couzens had the nerve to come back after the banking grand jury was closed at Detroit.

(LaGrange, Ind., Standard)

Here is some balm for our wounds received in the wet-dry scrap in which it seems that we have been completely flattened out. Wets who licked us will have the fun of paying for us a chunk of our general property tax, our federal gasoline tax, our corporation stock tax and other nuisance taxes we do not particularly relish.

OLD FOLKS AT HOME

(Fred W. Veith in The Laingsburg Press)

How many times we have witnessed the scene enacted in real life—the old folks turning their property over to the children under the mistaken idea that they would be cared for during the rest of their days. and ask to talk some more. The senator seems to be having a hard time justifying his opposition to the loan that might have saved the bank holiday. Does anyone envy him?

If you have high or low blood pressure read this true story and write your own editorial. In a doctor's office (not in Northville) a young man came in to be examined for life insurance. "Would you mind laying aside your cigarette while I examine you?" said the M. D. as he proceeded with the physical survey of the prospect. The physician found that the blood pressure was low. "Please light a cigarette and smoke two or three," then said the examiner. The chap did so and when the blood pressure was taken it was up 20 points.

handling. Then the children forget their promise and there is tragedy for the elders—the tragedy of being homeless just at the time when they are nearing the eternal sunset. Moral: Keep the old homestead until the end. It will provide shelter and comfort when the snows of age are overhead.

BANKS WERE SOLVENT

(R. G. Jefferies in Lowell Ledger)

The one-man grand jury investigation of the reasons for collapse of Detroit's national banks was concluded Monday with the findings by Judge Keidan that there was no evidence of criminality on the part of the bankers and that the banks were solvent at the time they were closed.

The findings of the grand jury coincide with the conclusions that had been drawn by a vast majority of the people of Michigan. No greater hardship was ever brought upon the people of this Commonwealth than the closing of its banks by order of the Governor. And this hardship was further increased through the action of Senator James Couzens, who undoubtedly is primarily responsible for the blocking of financial aid from the R. F. C.—aid which doubtless would have kept practically all of our banks solvent and open for the benefit of all. The people of this state who stand to lose practically one-half of hundreds of millions of dollars on deposit in banks will not soon forget those responsible for bringing this great calamity upon them, and that is putting it mildly. When we needed a leader on a white horse we didn't have him.

THE LEAN DOG

By Robert G. Yerkes

A couple of the Exchange club lads were fined for horseplay while the National Anthem was being rendered. That's a sure sign that we've turned the corner at last. It won't be long now! Maybe, though, they were imitating Paul Revere.

Never again will we let horses in the house. Our dog Liechen has been returned to her native wilds of Ann Arbor. There goes potential damage to the tune of broken tables, smashed ash trays, cups-saucers and anything-else you can put on low tables, a dollar per day in food, about three dollars a week in rewards for the return of the dog. We should have offered a reward for anyone to keep her and no questions asked.

Do We Have It?

Stumbled onto something that jarred us into thought as we browsed in the Queen's library the other day. Without comment we pass it on to other housewives who will do well to put it up over their sinks to read and reread as they wash the dishes.

"No need of charm! How many a foolish little brain has shipwrecked things by this unreason."

"The silly woman who expected all her arts to draw a suitor drops her efforts when he becomes her husband. She has caught her train, is safely aboard, why run any more? She gives frank expression to her peevish whims and ailments. She is capricious, critical."

"She is dowdy at breakfast. She is unkempt and sloppily dressed when they two are alone."

"Exert oneself to woo a husband? Why, there are women who seem to think it's hardly decent "And right here is the cut for 'the other woman.'"

"Many a man, too, thinks the game's up when he has halted and altered the woman of his choice. The excitement of the chase is over. It's 'married and done for.'"

"Then if the woman be strongly human, as she generally is, and a bit weak and sensitive, marriage breaks down. Possibly enter 'the other man.'"

"People speak of having 'tried marriage and found it a failure. Most of them have not tried it at all. That's the trouble. They didn't try.'"

"External vigilance is the price of love, as well as of liberty. Success in marriage also means keeping everlastingly at it."

"To sit down, once married and expect to be cooed, waited on, served, and pleased, you a king on a throne and your mate a servant, is rather sure to bring on swift ruin."

"There is not one wife in a thousand that could not keep her husband if she would keep working at the job. The wife has a thousand advantages over the other woman."

"And if a husband will only not stop making love he need fear no rival."

"Most of the unhappy marriages are due to selfishness, plus pure boneheadedness."

"The love and devotion of a good woman and of an honest man, is worth working for."

"And the beauty of it is that it is the most delightful work in the world, once it gets established as a habit."

America can't be fooled when it comes to spotting the best "buy" in any field. America knows too much about motor cars for that. So when one certain car wins almost as many buyers as the next two put together, you know the answer: IT MUST BE BETTER. And that's what the new Chevrolet Six most certainly is.

Better looking—it has long, sleek, aer-streamed lines—Fisher's smartest styling. Chevrolet has better bodies—they're built not just of steel alone, but of steel reinforced by a sturdy hardwood frame. Chevrolet has a better engine—six cylinders for lowest gas and oil consumption, cushion balancing for killing vibration. And Chevrolet gives better value—a long line-up of features, including the Starterator, Synchromesh gear-shift, Free Wheeling, which no other low-priced car can match.

Now, in September, is the time to start thinking about a new car for winter! And when you do so, think of the way Chevrolet is leading all other cars in sales. What more could you possibly ask as a recommendation for a car than that?

Masonic Dinner Held Monday Evening

Honoring the past masters of the Northville lodge No. 186, F. & A. M., a large number of Masons gathered at the Masonic temple Monday evening for a dinner sponsored by the members of the Eastern Star. Eleven past masters were present.

After dinner initiation in the first degree was held.

Mrs. Emil Taska Honored By Birthday Surprise

A very delightful birthday surprise was given last week, Sept. 21, in honor of Mrs. Emil Taska of Howell.

A group of friends from Northville motored to Howell last Thursday, arriving at noon time, all bringing baskets filled with goodies including a birthday cake.

The afternoon was spent in a social way. Those visiting with Mrs. Taska this day and expressing their hearty wishes for many more happy years were the following: Mrs. F. Foss, Mrs. F. Keeger, Mrs. Chas. Mesnwe, Mrs. James Copeland, Mrs. Charles Hamilton, Mrs. Arthur Schante, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Louise Miller, Mrs. Fred Balko, and Mrs. George Suchsniard.

Members of Young Family Hold Birthday Celebration

In honor of the birthdays of Mrs. Anna Young and her son, Charles "Bud" Young which occur on the same day, members of the family were entertained at the home of Mrs. Young on the Six Mile road, Thursday, Sept. 28.

A beautiful dinner was served at noon and the remainder of the day was spent in a social way.

Mrs. Eberole Is Hostess To Get-Together Club

The afternoon of Sept. 21, the Get-Together club was very pleasantly entertained by Mrs. Lydia Eberole at Mrs. Henry Baker's residence on Sheridan avenue, Plymouth.

Mrs. Grace Hunt of the Seven Mile road invited the ladies to meet with her the afternoon of Oct. 5. It is hoped the main topic will be "Hallowe'en Party."

Merry-Go-Round Club Holds Meeting Wednesday

Fifteen members of the Merry-Go-Round club were royally entertained at a delightful luncheon Wednesday noon by Mrs. Lucy Filkins and Mrs. May Filkins at the home of Mrs. May Filkins on Dunlap street. Mrs. Adeline Knapp was the guest of honor. After the luncheon the afternoon was spent in sewing and visiting.

Ely-Tank Nuptials To Be Solemnized Sunday

The marriage of Charles R. Ely and Miss Margaret Tank, both well-known young people of Northville, will be solemnized Sunday afternoon, Oct. 1, at 1:00 o'clock at the home of the bride in Rogers City.

Miss Eleanore Tank, a sister of the bride-to-be, will be the maid of honor. Ivan Ely, brother of the groom, will act as best man. Only immediate members of the family will be present at this happy event.

Eatons Entertain for Teachers of The Presbyterian Sunday School

On the evening of Sept. 26, the teachers and officers of the Presbyterian Sunday school were the guests of their superintendent, L. M. Eaton, and his wife at a cooperative dinner held in the church house at 6:30 o'clock. During the course of the delicious meal musical numbers were interspersed. Mrs. Whitfield, acting as mistress of ceremonies, called upon an impromptu quartette, composed of C. R. Van Valkenburg, Berge Larson, Don P. Yerges, Sr., and Carl Bryan, who sang a selection from the Rotary song book. At the conclusion of the dinner Percy Angove sang "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes." Mrs. Joseph McCluskie also sang two Scotch numbers which were received with great delight. A few short talks were given by L. M. Eaton, Rev. Harold G. Whitfield and Dr. B. H. Douglas. In his talk Mr. Eaton stated that the purpose of the gathering was that the teachers become better acquainted with each other, to welcome those who were new on the staff and to bid farewell to Dr. Douglas, Mrs. E. S. Beard and to Mrs. Hopkins who are soon to leave Northville. Rev. Whitfield gave the fine work the Douglas family had done as a whole and wished them great happiness in their new home. Dr. Douglas responded and promised to come back to Northville often.

The remainder of the evening was spent in playing games and doing stunts under the direction of Mrs. Harold Whitfield.

American Legion Auxiliary and Legionnaires Hold Joint Supper Meeting

A group of 47 Legionnaires and members of the American Legion auxiliary were present at the joint supper meeting held Tuesday evening, Sept. 26, at the home. There was a good turnout and everyone enjoyed seeing some of the old members back again.

After the dinner separate business meetings were conducted. At the meeting of the auxiliary Helen Reiger reported taking 362 magazines to the ex-soldiers at the Maybury Sanatorium. There are now twenty men at the sanatorium who are being remembered by members of the American Legion auxiliary. The election of officers for the coming year was held and the results are as follows: Helen Reiger, president; Florence Alexander, second vice-president; Ethel Casterline, secretary; Mary Jones, treasurer; Marjorie Lanning, chaplain; Mabel Wilkinson, sergeant-at-arms; Clara Alexander, historian; Bertha Peters, Dora Lapham, and Katherine Todd the executive committee, and Helen Bolton and Helen Reiger of the house committee.

A report was made at the meeting of the fact that the auxiliary and the Women's Relief Corps presented the Northville high school with a flag at the first assembly last week. Also the auxiliary will be glad to have the services of any boys or girls to help clean the hall Saturday, September 30th.

Anyone having extra fruit or vegetables will please let the auxiliary know as they will be very glad to have them to can for the veterans at the Battle Creek sanatorium and the children at the Outer Lake blit.

BASE LINE SCHOOL

The officers of our Citizenship club were inaugurated at the Plymouth high school last Tuesday. They are as follows: Margaret Zay, president; Marie Becker, vice-president; Jean Anderson, secretary and treasurer; Julia Modos, girls' health officer, and Irving Becker, boys' health officer.

For art last Friday we drew fall flowers.

BAPTIST MISSIONARY CIRCLE

The Baptist Ladies' Missionary circle will meet in the church parlors Thursday, Oct. 5, at 2:30 o'clock p. m.

All members are urged to come.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

RETURNING to our days give the business of feeding a family added importance. Children's needs must be carefully planned in order to make up for the decreased amounts of sunlight and fresh air. That means giving them not only enough food for energy and growth but also food which is rich in health protecting elements. Of these foods butter and milk are most important. In addition egg yolk, liver, leafy green vegetables yellow and red vegetables, all fruits, whole grain cereals and bread are especially important. In addition children may have the foods they like such as peanut butter, preserves, hermit cookies and gingerbread.

There are plenty of fruits and vegetables available for canning, pickling and preserving. Chef among these are tomatoes, pears, crab apples, cucumbers, green peppers and fresh plums.

Here are the menus from the Quaker Maid Kitchen.

"INTELLIGENT BUYING" CLASS IS OPEN TO NORTHVILLE WOMEN

The Birmingham branch of the American association of University Women is sponsoring a class in "Intelligent Buying" which meets on Monday afternoons at two o'clock in the Baldwin Public Library, Birmingham.

Mrs. Mason Barr, educational chairman of the branch is in charge.

Nowadays, we cannot, as our grandmothers did, buy our goods from a certain house and know that because it came from there it is bound to last us a lifetime. Most of us must shop around for blankets, sheets, silk underwear, etc., and select what we "guess" to be the best quality for the least money.

In recent years various agencies have been at work trying to set up standards and tests for the protection of the consumer. Such agencies are the Bureau of Standards, the Federal Trade Commission, the Consumers League and the Consumers Research Bureau. From all

WOMEN'S GYM CLASS

The gym class for women in charge of Mrs. H. Handorf will be held every Monday evening at the high school gym from 7:30 o'clock to 8:00 o'clock.

A fee of ten cents will be charged each time and the class will be under the direction of Miss Gladys Ludwig, who is the director of athletics for girls in the high school.

These agencies and many other sources the Association of University Women has gathered material for this course which is designed to teach women how to purchase intelligently.

The course is free to all women interested in wise buying. Women eligible for membership in the American Association of University Women are asked to get in touch with Mrs. Louis Kahn, membership chairman of the Birmingham branch. The group meets once a month in addition to various study courses which are entirely optional.

NATIONAL FARMERS' MEET IS POSTPONED UNTIL NOVEMBER 15

The greatest gathering of farmers from all states will be held Nov. 15-18 at Chicago, Ill.

All rank and file farmers belonging to the Farmers' Union, the Grange, Farm Bureau, Gleaners and others, are urged to hold meetings and elect delegates to represent the farmers of their communities at the second national farmers' relief conference. We call especially on the members of the Michigan Milk Producers' Association. Milk will be one of the main topics at this conference. Calls explaining the purpose of the conference can be had by writing to Stanley Hanatyk, Route 4, Romeo, Mich. Names of delegates should be sent in as soon as possible. Michigan Farmers' League, Stanley Hanatyk, President.

Glenn Cogsdall, Arnold Robinson, Elmo Lemmon, and Eddie Hodgkins escaped from what might have been a most serious accident as they were returning last Saturday night from a dance near Wolverine lake. Without any warning they came upon a hair pin curve with such suddenness they were compelled to drive over the embankment for safety's sake. The car turned turtle with little injury to it and the boys escaped with nothing more than a shake-up.

Robert Y. Masters, a loyal member of The Northville Record staff for nearly three years, has resigned his place and will be succeeded by Garnet Grant, who has been connected with The Eaton Rapids Journal for the past six years. Mr. Grant lived here as a boy and is well remembered by a number of his former schoolmates. Mr. and Mrs. Grant and son will reside in the Earl Montgomery residence on North Rogers street, next door to the home that Garnet occupied with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Grant.

Mrs. Chas. A. Sessions has so far recovered from her accident of three months ago, that she was able to leave Tuesday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Olmstead of Battle Creek for an indefinite stay at their home there, which is owned by Mrs. Sessions. These Battle Creek friends have been coming to see Mrs. Sessions every few days since her injury. The cast has been removed from her hip and for the past two weeks she has been at her home on High street. Mrs. Sessions will be in good hands at Battle Creek, since Mrs. Olmstead is a nurse.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Yerkes are attending the World's Fair at Chicago.

TAX BOARD SAYS
IT CANNOT GRANT
ANY EXEMPTIONS

The State Board of Tax Administration announced yesterday that it no longer has authority to grant exemptions under the General Sales Tax Act and that the new ruling would go into effect immediately. Below is a copy of the resolution adopted in Lansing and sent to the Northville Record by the Board.

"At a regular meeting of the State Board of Tax Administration held Monday, Sept. 25, the Board was advised by the Attorney General of the State of Michigan, that it had no authority to grant exemptions under the General Sales Tax Act and that such action would invalidate the Act, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED by the State Board of Tax Administration that its resolution of August 30, concurring in the concurrent resolution of the Legislature, regarding Public Act 167, known as the General Sales Tax Act, be hereby rescinded, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the State Board of Tax Administration calls upon the Governor to include in his special message to the first special session of the Legislature, to amend the General Sales Tax Act to conform to concurrent resolution of the Legislature

CORN BORER REPORTED

(South Lyon Herald)

J. H. Sayre says his corn is afflicted with twice as many corn borers this year as last, and thinks the pest has no doubt multiplied in all fields in this locality. He says farmers should take it upon themselves to do all possible in warding against the spread of this destroying insect. He would do away with all corn stalks and stubble as well as other pithy or hollow weeds and plants. Early corn, including sweet corn, seems to be the worst afflicted.

Spilling the Beans

A man was a witness in a hog-stealing case. He seemed to be stretching a point or two in favor of the accused, and the prosecuting attorney roared:

"Do you know the nature of an oath?"

"Sure."

"Do you know you are not to bear false witness against your neighbor?"

"I'm bearin' false witness again him, I'm bearin' false witness for him."

DO YOU REMEMBER WHEN?

Black diphtheria prevailed and the whole town was scared out of its wits?

The Record was edited and printed on the second floor of what is Schrader's store?

A white shirt was a sign of luxury and few there were who could afford the distinction?

The Northville Star was an active competitor of the Record and was printed at a private house?

The snow fell plentifully all winter and remained until the spring and melted and caused floods hereabouts?

A clay pipe was the common means of smoking and he who could have a meerschaum well colored was a notable?

Newspapers were not as plentiful as now and that the favorite New York daily was a long time reaching its readers here?

Northville was just a four corners—just a meeting place for neighborhood exchange of news—just a place to bargain and trade and dicker?

N. H. S. MEETS MELVINDALE IN INITIAL GAME

Line-Up Not Yet Selected; Injuries Weaken Team, But Battle Assured

Melvindale will be the first to meet the onslaught of Northville's crack football team this year. The game is to be played there and will begin at four o'clock. Since this is the opening contest of the season and since Melvindale is an especially strong rival, an unusually large crowd is expected.

The starting line-up has not at present been ascertained but will be chosen from the following:

Center—Myers, Bray, L. Tackle—Schrader, Hay, L. Tackle—Strutz, Toussaints, R. Guard—Dundas, Boyd, L. Guard—Dickenson, McGee, R. End—Owen, Porter, L. End—Minder, Lyke, Quarterback—Marburger, Duguid, Halfback—Jumod, Himes, Halfback—Deaf, Woodley.

The injuries of Schrader, Strutz and Baldwin will weaken the team considerably, but it should be one of the outstanding games of the year.

COUNCIL HAS ITS SECOND MEETING

Football Managers Chosen; R. H. Amerman Explains Dance Ruling

One of the first things discussed at the second student council meeting of the year, Monday, Sept. 26, was the purchasing of season tickets. Two hundred and fifty student tickets (to be sold at forty cents each) and one hundred adult tickets (sixty cents each) have been ordered. They will be sold by the N. Club.

The distribution of complimentary tickets was brought up and the council decided it would be only fair to give them to the faculty members and to other people whom they thought deserved them.

The council voted for the two football managers, James Hotchkiss and Ralph Bogart, highest, their votes ending in a tie. It was also decided that there would be no distinction between the two managers (meaning no assistant) this year, as both would have an equal amount of work to do.

The date of the student council dance was set for Oct. 20, but no other definite plans concerning it were made. Supt. Amerman dropped in before the meeting closed so Mayor, Blake asked him to explain his plan for future dances held by any organization in the school.

Mr. Amerman gave his opinion very fairly, taking all points into consideration. He said that he thought the dances should include only the school students and Northville townspeople. It wasn't the type of dance given which he objected to, but the type of dancers present. He thought that there shouldn't be so much advertising done in other towns because some of the "wrong elements" were bound to show up only casting a bad reflection on our school. If the dances were confined to those in our own town alone, there would be no such trouble. If one of the students desired his friends to be present he should be able to vouch for their good behavior. Mr. Amerman went on to say that he realized that the school organizations wanted to raise money by having their dances, but he had learned from experience that it wasn't the best way. One night a profit is made, but the next time you might go in the hole, so only break even in the end.

Ticket selling and football equipment were discussed and the meeting was adjourned.

SOCIETY

Doris Sears was in Detroit Sunday. Gertrude Deal stayed Friday night at Marie Humphries.

Catherine McKenna and Jane Lester were in Detroit Saturday.

Ida Altman and Maryanna Condit spent the week-end together.

Otis Tewksbury attended the auto races in Detroit Sunday afternoon.

Dorothy Richardson was in Ann Arbor Sunday with Wilma Rattenbury.

Jane Lester went to Ann Arbor Sunday with her family to get Charlotte settled in her new quarters.

Mr. Lee went to Ann Arbor Saturday and registered in two Saturday morning classes at the University.

ROUND THE SCHOOL

School Spirit

If no more spirit is displayed at the football games than there was at the pep-meeting last Friday afternoon, the field might as well be boxed up with a board-fence ten feet high. The cheerleaders tried earnestly to get a yell and to argue a spark of enthusiasm, but no response could be heard. In the past there has been more or less, pardon our temporary indulgence in the jargon of the modern, "kicking" about the cheerleaders. Well, you see now why they don't get before the spectators more, don't you? You who condemn them might take an inventory of yourselves and your questionable cheering.

Some of you may say that you did cheer and that you did display school spirit. Think back, now. Were you cheering because you wanted the team to go into battle feeling inspired or because your neighbor was endeavoring to make more noise than you did?

And to you who never fail to favor the assembly with your cheering, we say that it is just evidence of your imbecility or lack of intelligence, and, in some cases, both.

For the sake of the school, the team, the coach, the cheerleaders, and even yourself, find some spirit somewhere and then show it!

Thanks, Warner

We wish to take this opportunity to thank Warner Neal for his kind assistance during the preparation of the first edition of the Orange and Black. Without his aid it would never have even gone to the press, although it was a sorry-looking sight after it did get there.

A certain young lady wishes to revolutionize wedding ceremonies by initiating the fashion of wearing white riding breeches and boots. Can we be a bridesmaid and carry the saddle, Gertrude?

The civis class is very interesting even though some of the pupils aren't Democrats.

And still another smile: As readily as the O. and B. reporters get their assignments in.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

Do you believe that students could master their school work to as high a degree if study periods were eliminated and all assignments were prepared at home?

Arthur Cook—This would be all right for a few, but I think most students can study better under a teacher's guidance.

Ernest Rice—I believe this would work satisfactorily, providing the student realizes that unless he studies his grades won't be passing.

Roy Warner—in my opinion I think they could because in the study hall there is always someone who persists in having fun at the expense of the entire assembly.

Evelyn Kimmel—No, I do not. If each student did his own work there would be no annoyances; whereas, at home there is always more or less to distract your attention.

Mary Harper—Yes, I am certain this could be successfully accomplished. First, it teaches a student that valuable lesson of self-reliance which is demanded in higher education as well as in the business world. Secondly, I believe anyone can study a great deal better in his own home where entertainment isn't so plentiful.

Miss Irene Palmer—in one way, yes, because a great many students do not concentrate in the study hall and consequently are a disturbing factor not only to themselves but to others. Then again, if all assignments were prepared outside of school, reference books, dictionaries, and opportunities to consult teachers would not be available to many students.

Sam Lawrence, Violet Sheppard, Monroe Weston, Eleanor Eaton, Herbert Ware, Madeline Lemmon, Peter and Mable Maurice all enjoyed a picnic at Cass Benton Park Friday evening.

Scene From "Tug Boat Annie" Reminds Graduate of Taxicab Ride While in Chicago at Fair

By Florence Johnson
One scene from the picture "Tug Boat Annie" brought to my mind an incident which occurred to some of us ex-seniors at the World's Fair. You who have seen this picture will recall the part where Annie and her erstwhile husband were in the taxicab watching the fare rise on the meter. Well, we were in a somewhat similar predicament ourselves.

There were about six or seven of us, who, tiring from walking around the fair grounds, decided, after much deliberation, to take a taxi-cab back to our quarters. Feeling quite ritzzy, we crowded ourselves into the rear seat and gave the driver the name of our hotel. We were all giggling and talking when we chanced to look up and notice the meter, and to our horror saw that it registered sixty cents. I believe that we had only gone a couple of blocks. We laughed it off and pretended to look at the scenery, or traffic, or what-have-you, but our eyes kept stealing back to the meter which had been rising rapidly. We became suspicious of the driver, then and decided among ourselves that he must have thought we were a bunch of "hicks" and was taking us out of our way so that the fare would be larger. We felt like getting out and walking but we had no idea where we were. We tried to act nonchalant, but the fare was then over a dollar, rapidly approaching two. We strained our necks, looking for familiar landmarks, but could discern none. One of the group made a motion with his walking cane, which he had purchased as a souvenir, as if to hit the hated meter—and the driver as well. The suspense was becoming awful! "Why didn't we approach the hotel?" we asked each other. It wouldn't have been so bad but we had asked the driver before we started how much he thought the trip would amount to and he had said about a dollar and sixty cents. You can visualize our relief when we finally reached our destination. We didn't linger any longer than necessary—fearing the meter might rise higher still. As a matter of fact, the fare was only a little over two dollars, but our imaginations had risen so high that we saw ourselves trying to get six or more dollars together.

Moral: Do not enter a taxicab if you are inclined to be nervous, unless you have plenty of money.

"PRIZE PIGS" GIVEN TONITE IN ASSEMBLY

Large Crowd Attends First Performance; Play Well Received

The play, "Prize Pigs," a farce comedy in three acts, written by Wilbur Braun, presented last night in the high school auditorium with great success. It will be given again this evening at 8 o'clock by the same cast under the direction of Leslie G. Lee.

The story centers around the Conley family who are having their financial troubles. Mrs. Letitia Conley (Eleanor Grosvenor) who adores dumb animals, becomes attached to three pigs, much to her daughter Ruth's (Mary Louise Boyden) disgust. Hamilton Conley (Maurice Giles), the son, is quite in love with himself and provides much amusement with his egotism. He is forever being tricked by Ambrose Wakely (Alfred Parmenter), a practical joker. Opie Jones (Florence Johnson), a colored maid, only adds to the confusion and complicates matters still more. Mrs. Ada Barker (Peggy Blake) does everything within her power to exploit her daughter's interests. Winnie Parker (Marion Turnbull), the daughter, falls in love with the hero, thinking him a great movie star. Carey Stanton (Henry Hoffman), of the Apex Moving Picture Company, causes more excitement when he continually comes after the pigs. Orestes Ulysses Bean (Robert Lyke), a business man, comes to the relief of the families' financial difficulties. Things happen quickly from there on.

Verena Lyons (Violet Johnson), who lives in town, almost upsets the calm again, but Aunt Deborah Conley (Gertrude Deal) saves the situation and all ends well.

You will enjoy an evening of entertainment if you attend this play tonight. The admission prices are fifteen cents for students and twenty-five cents for adults.

Also Are Selling Candy; Mary Jane Denne In Charge

The senior class is going to have a card tournament to discover the champion bridge (auction and contract) and five hundred players of this district. The parties, six in all, will be held three weeks apart. A prize will be given each night to the high scorers; the grand prize of the tournament will be a "loving" cup, presented to the winner at the last party. Unless all contestants complete this cup, they are ineligible for this cup. Anyone wishing information may call Mrs. J. N. McLoughlin, general chairman.

The affairs of the able management of the mothers of some of the senior class members. Committees in charge are: refreshments, Mrs. E. B. Grosvenor; Mrs. W. Duguid; Mrs. Pierpont; ticket and tally, Mrs. H. P. Blake; tables, Mrs. E. R. Eaton; Mrs. N. C. Schrader, publicity; Mrs. Geo. Harper, Mrs. E. T. Baldwin; and reception, Mrs. E. W. Lester. The tickets are six for a dollar and may be paid for in installments before each party.

Another activity of the class is the selling of candy, which has been carried on since Monday. Mary Jane Denne has charge and has chosen room 28 as the place for distribution, rather than the table in the hall, as has been the practice previously.

They also intend to have a bake sale on Saturday, October 7, at Babbitt's hardware, beginning at 9:30 o'clock. Evelyn Kimmel will supervise this and all following bake sales.

Archery subject of speaker's talk

First Program Success; Skits And Trio Were Also Presented

Two short skits from the play "Prize Pigs," directed by Leslie G. Lee, the "Drifters," Florence Johnson, Gertrude Deal, and Eleanor Grosvenor, accompanied by Scott Montgomery, who sang "In the Valley of the Moon," "If I Could Be With You," and "Who," and Mr. Straud from the Wayside Archery Shop in Wayland, Michigan, comprised the first assembly program of the year. Judging from these two skits the play tonight will be quite a success. They were enjoyed by all the students and instructors present, as were the selections by the trio. Mr. Straud gave an interesting talk on archery. In the last few years this sport has been coming more and more to the foreground and, as a result, many clubs have been formed. Mr. Straud's purpose in giving these talks is to create an enthusiasm for archery and, naturally, to stimulate sales. He would be glad, he said, to assist any organizations interested in this pastime in getting started.

These programs, which will be presented every two weeks, are in charge of the Student Council. Plans are being formed for the one to be given October 11.

Mrs. Caroline W. Sulkowski

Funeral services Wednesday for Mrs. Caroline W. Sulkowski at the farm home northeast of Novi, were largely attended. Mrs. Sulkowski, who spent all her married life here, died Monday, Sept. 18.

Deceased was born August 13, 1869, in Detroit, and was married April 27, 1892, to Michael Sulkowski. Fourteen children were born to them. Mr. Sulkowski died five years ago.

Mrs. Sulkowski was a member of Salem Evangelical church. She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Mabel Kahn, Mrs. Anna Gensler, Mrs. Elsie Session, and Mrs. Clara Hazen, seven sons, Albert, William, Oscar, John, Fred, Ernest, and Edwin; two sisters, Mrs. Louise Wisler and Mrs. Rose Pelletier; a brother, William Seiffer, and 20 grandchildren.

Rev. W. Breitenbach officiated at the funeral services which were held at the home and at the German Salem Evangelical church at Farmington, and interment was in the Farmington cemetery. The floral offerings were many and beautiful, which testified of the esteem in which Mrs. Sulkowski and family were held.

How adept some people are in blowing bubbles?

Paul Baldwin's knickers? It's okay, Paul, they're cute.

The scars of football on Eddie Bender's face? What a man!

The depressed look of the geometry students after the third hour? My, my, how that does get one down.

That it will be tough on a person whose name begins with an "E" after the seats are assigned alphabetically? Too bad that "E" and "L" aren't closer together.

STUDENTS FIND PLACES AFTER SOME CONFUSION

King Confusion reigned briefly Tuesday morning when students entered the assembly and found their books on top of the desk they had been using, and someone else's in it.

Shouts of "what's the big idea?" and "say, who did this?" could be heard all over the school. The noise quieted down, however, when they discovered that their places had been assigned to them.

The seats were given out in alphabetical order, the "A's" beginning in the row nearest the door. Because of crowded conditions, several are sitting together.

THIS WEEK

By H. H. WHITE

There was an accuracy and timeliness in the recent statements of a Detroit clergyman when he remarked that "There is a rapidly increasing population in America that worships the miraculous. These ingenious souls confidently expect some cataclysmic event to change the face of society and solve our problems."

The clergyman further stated that "The friends of recovery are the men and women content with small gains, earnestly solicitous for reconstruction upon sounder principles and striving for right ideals. The longer road is the shorter road. We cannot cut cross lots to the millennium. We cannot restore the national health by rhetoric."

Here are some pertinent truths that must constantly be borne in mind by the citizens of these United States if we are to climb out of our present economic maelstrom into the land of security and permanent prosperity.

Today you hear so much of hulla-balloo and hysterical back-wash by the man in the street. So much of this is explosive talk for revolutionary measures which only invite confusion and defeat, its own purpose.

We need as fellow citizens to remember at all times the basic fundamentals of our constitution that "we are a free governing people."

We should always bear in mind the fact that we have well-tried institutions which we cannot, too quickly, abandon. They are and will be our future guarantee of progressive freedom and happiness, and thus should not be jeopardized by any momentary hysteria of rhetoric and action.

Never at any time in our present hour should we take a short cut to prosperity. We should at all times be content to gain our ends slowly, by sobriety and good common sense despite the fact it may seem like a long, hard pull.

The baseball team was defeated by the West Point team Monday afternoon by a score of 4-3. The hitting of a home run by Latta of Novi and the excellent pitching of Lawrence of West Point were outstanding features of the game.

The "Westward Ho" crew won the Crowell magazine subscription contest and will be treated to a party by the "Flying Cloud" crew.

Dear Madam:

Do you have difficulty in making breakfasts interesting rather than monotonous? Here's a way to put new interest and new life into them. Serve Doughnuts. They're simply great with coffee. Your whole family will like them.

Maybe Grandma could make Doughnuts, but we've combined her methods with modern, scientific baking skill, and the result is simply marvelous!

Every Doughnut we produce is golden-brown—light—sugary—and full of tender goodness. If you like to get by yourself in a corner, and "dunk"—or if you prefer eating Doughnuts right out in the open in a socially correct manner—you'll find our Doughnuts fill the bill.

We have doughnuts fresh every day in the week.

Be sure to serve our Doughnuts if you want to give your family a rare treat!

MORTGAGE SALE

Default having been made for more than thirty days in the conditions of a certain mortgage made by Minnie McGowan, Mortgagee, to Lapham State Savings Bank, a corporation organized under the general banking laws of the State of Michigan, of Northville, County of Wayne, and State of Michigan, on the 17th day of November, A. D. 1927, in Liber 2067 of Mortgages, on page 277, and on which mortgage there is claimed to be due and unpaid at the date of this notice, for principal and interest, the sum of One Thousand and ninety-three and 23/100 Dollars ($1093.23), and no suit or proceedings at law or in equity having been had or instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, Notice is hereby given that on Thursday, the 21st day of November, A. D. 1933, at twelve o'clock noon, Eastern Standard Time, said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale at public auction to the highest bidder at the southerly or Congress Street entrance to the County Building, Detroit, Michigan (that being the building where the Circuit Court for the County of Wayne is held), of the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount due, on said mortgage as aforesaid with six per cent interest thereon and all legal costs, charges and expenses, including the attorney fees allowed by law, and also any sum or sums which may be paid by the undersigned mortgagee at or before said sale, necessary to protect his interest in the premises, which premises are described as follows:

ARTHUR B. RANSOM, ONCE OF NORTHVILLE, DIES SEPTEMBER 26

Arthur B. Ransom, formerly a resident of Northville, died at his home on Stoepele avenue, Detroit, Tuesday, Sept. 26.

Mr. Ransom came to Northville in 1918 and purchased the Knapp home, now owned by John Kalbelsch. At that time he was with the Jenks and Muir Mfg. Co. and went back and forth to his work. Some months after coming to town he interested Robert C. Yetkes in the manufacture of fair cushion springs and in July operations were started at the Globe Furniture Mfg. Co. This department continued until Oct. 1925.

Mr. Ransom retired at that time and engaged in the retail furniture business on Grand River avenue. Mr. Ransom was a charter member of the Northville Exchange club and was regular in his attendance and interest.

Mrs. Mary Ransom a daughter, Ruth, and two sons Louis and Charles, survive.

Stairs Made Her Gasp For Breath

Penalty of Excess Fat

Although she has lost but 7 lbs. of her overweight, this woman finds that 7 lbs. has made a remarkable difference to her.

Her letter reads: "I am 53 years old and my height is 5 ft. Last year I weighed 154 lbs. I have been taking a half-teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts, making no change in my diet. Now I am less round the hips, and only weigh 147 lbs. dressed. But I feel lighter and can now run upstairs, which before used to make me gasp for breath. Everyone says how well and fit I look."—(Miss) J. H.

Kruschen is an ideal blend of 6 separate salts which help body organs to function properly and maintain a splendid degree of health—it builds up energy and strength while you're reducing to normal weight. Get Kruschen Salts at any live druggist in the world—a jar lasts 4 weeks and costs not more than 85 cents.

THE FIRST PRINCIPLES OF PRAYER

"Whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in My name, He will give it to you. Hitherto have ye asked nothing in My name: ask, and ye shall receive that your joy may be full." John 16, 23-24.

The Bible urges us to pray. Yet many complain that their prayers remain unanswered. They have not obtained the results for which they were looking. Has God failed in His promises? Are Jesus' words empty and meaningless? Never. If there is no answer to our prayer the fault lies with us. Therefore, let us like the disciples, ask the Lord to teach us how to pray. God has laid down certain principles of prayer which, if we follow them, assure us God's answer to every petition that we make.

The first principle of prayer tells us to pray according to the will of God. One who prays must recognize that God is Lord of all things. Therefore prayer dare not be a dictating to the Almighty and All-wise

God. God knows better than we what the future has in store for us. Often we think that we cannot live unless we have our way. Therefore, as we go to God in prayer asking Him to give us the many things we need for this life, let us always pray: If it be Thy will.

The second principle of prayer requires that we pray in Jesus' name. Between us and God are mountains of sin. These sins must be removed before God will be inclined to listen with a friendly ear. But we cannot remove sin. We cannot go back into our yesterdays and live our life over. We cannot by the tears that we shed, wash away sin. Jesus must remove our sins, and He has done this by the shedding of His holy, precious blood. Therefore, in the name of Jesus we can approach the throne of God. If we come to God through Christ we shall find a loving Father, who will hear our prayer and lift our burdens or give us strength to bear them.

The third principle of prayer demands that we pray believing. Prayer should not be done mechanically or automatically. It is not like dropping a prayer in an automatic machine, and out comes an answer. A prayer must come from the heart. We must believe that God will answer. But in order that we may pray with such a believing heart, the Holy Spirit must dwell in us and give us this confidence and faith in God. If we pray according to the will of God, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, and with a faith created by the Holy Spirit, we shall never complain of unanswered prayer. As we ask, we shall receive, and joy shall fill our hearts.

Divine worship and Sunday school is held every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

Christian Science Churches

"Unreality" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, October 1.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Gen. 2:16,17): "And the Lord God commanded the man, saying, Of every tree of the garden thou mayest freely eat: But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Eddy Baker, include the following (p. 256): "The first mention of evil is in the second chapter of Genesis... The 'tree of knowledge' stands for the erroneous doctrine that the knowledge of evil is as real, hence as God-bestowed, as the knowledge of good."

Salem Federated Church

Some of our young people have said that they are going to try to be in church every Sunday morning. How about you older folks? In the worship service at 10:30 o'clock on October first, our pastor's subject will be "Remembering Jesus."

Are you doing all that you can to help Hugh Means, our Bible school superintendent, in the splendid work that he is doing in our Sunday school? The lessons in all classes will be about Paul for a time, and on Sunday the topic will be "Saul in Tarsus." Read Acts, chapters 21 to 27. The memory verse

Carnival of Fire at Fair

North Lagoon at the Chicago World's Fair swells with the flare of a million colored lights on nights when fireworks are presented free before thousands of visitors. The displays are said to be the most complete and magnificent the world has ever seen. The Fair closes on October 31.

is, "Study to show thyself approved not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth." Two Timothy 2:15.

"I will meet you at the hymn-sing," Sunday evening at 7:30. Save Friday evening, Oct. 6, for the play at the Salem town hall. Folks of all ages enjoy a home talent play, and we are glad to announce that players from the Dixboro Methodist church will present "Yummy Benson's Yob," a three-act play sponsored by the Federated church. Tickets may be obtained from members of either church or at the door. The price for adults will be 25c and for children 15c.

"Tit for Tat" She—"You certainly do keep your car nice and clean." He—"It's an even dear—my car keeps me clean, too."

Oh, Promise Me and the Fans "What now?" "The radio marriage." "A National hook-up, eh?"

Keep the Dirt Rolling "You can't believe everything you hear."

Bess—"No; but you can repeat it."

That Man you saw today...

whose springy step you admired, whose shoes you wished you could afford—that man had just left out store. "I saw one of your ads about tested Fortune Shoes," he told us. "If you don't mind I think I'll test them."

You can bet your life we didn't mind! We wouldn't mind, Sir, if you'd test them too!

* Every piece of leather that goes into Fortune Shoes is tested. Extensive laboratory tests insure the best in quality and comfort. Nothing is left to chance.
