

DR. H. S. WILLIS
IS APPOINTED
AS "SAN" HEADFormer Laboratory Head
Will Succeed Dr. Bruce
Douglas

The appointment was made by the Detroit Board of Health at a meeting in Detroit on Friday, Sept. 29. Dr. Douglas was appointed controller of tuberculosis by the Detroit board several weeks ago, a position which carries with it supervision over the Maybury institution, Herman Kiefer hospital, and the outpatient tuberculosis work.

The name of Dr. Willis appears in the American Men of Science, which is the equivalent of "Who's Who." Among the many accomplishments of Dr. Willis is his literary work among which are two volumes on tuberculosis and numerous contributions to medical journals.

Dr. Willis was born in High Point, N. C., in 1891. He is a graduate of the University of North Carolina in 1914, and of the Johns Hopkins University Department of Medicine in 1919. Since then he has been associated with the Johns Hopkins University and hospital. For a time he practiced medicine in Baltimore.

DIES SUDDENLY
MONDAY EVENING

The many friends of Barney Schultz were shocked to learn of his sudden death which occurred Monday evening following a heart attack. Mr. Schultz had complained of not feeling well while at his work at the Maybury Sanatorium and asked to be taken home. His son, Ward, drove him to his home on Lake street, but death came before he could be taken into the house.

Barney Schultz, son of Herman and Frederica Schultz, was born in Novi township on the old Thornton homestead in 1885. Here he spent his boyhood, attending the Thayer school.

On Sept. 26, 1905, he was united in marriage with Miss Amelia Witt and to them were born four children—Marie, Carl, Ward and Helen. Helen died just one year ago.

Barney Schultz lived a quiet, unobtrusive life faithful to his duty, honest with his fellowmen, generous to his neighbors and kind to his family. He was a great lover of the out-of-doors and had been planning to go soon on a hunting party.

Mr. Schultz had been an attendant of the Methodist church for years, a member of Northville Lodge No. 186, F. & A. M., and was also a Modern Woodman.

For the past twelve years Mr. Schultz had been employed at the Maybury Sanatorium where he had held the responsible position of foreman of outside work, faithful to his duty to the last hour in spite of failing health for the past year or more.

The funeral service was conducted by the Masons Thursday afternoon at the home, with Rev. F. N. Muner officiating. Clergymen, pallbearers were six associates of Mr. Schultz in his work at the sanatorium: Henry Franklin, Chas. Chapel, Jas. Jensen, Norton Green, Francis Wilkinson and Frank Baiden. Interment was made in Rural Hill. Surviving members of the family are his widow, his mother, Mrs. Frederica Schultz, three children, Mrs. Marie Secor, Carl and Ward, and one sister, Mrs. May Lanning.

LOCAL RED CROSS
PLANS FOR WINTER

With the approach of cold weather comes the demand for warm clothing. To meet this need the local Red Cross has been active for the past three weeks giving out garments and materials to those in need of clothing.

Each Thursday afternoon the chairman, Mrs. Eliza Wagenschutz, has been at her post in the rooms on the third floor of the village hall doing her utmost to supply all worthy demands. With tact and sagacity she has answered the calls made.

Of great help in this work have been a number of warm adherents to the cause, among them the secretary and treasurer of the local work, Mrs. Ada Bloom, Mrs. Vance Masters and Mrs. Ida Casterline.

On Nov. 1 will begin the annual drive for memberships at one dollar each. Half of this amount will remain here for local needs and the other half will go into the national fund. Any donations made will be used explicitly for local needs. It is hoped a hearty response will be made.

SESSIONS HOSPITAL

Don P. Yerkes, Sr., underwent an emergency operation for appendicitis Wednesday morning and is making good recovery.

NORTHVILLE
TO PAY NRA
LABOR RATECommission Sets 40 Cents
As Hour Wage; Bonds
Are Discussed

Northville joins the NRA. At a meeting of the village commission held Monday evening at the village hall it was voted to pay all labor a wage of 40 cents per hour. This action moved by Commissioner Wm. Gregory and supported by Commissioner John Perkins will comply with the rules under which Northville's proposed $21,000 loan from the government will be expended on water supply improvements.

The commissioners also discussed the possibility of trading their bonds which are in default with those of other communities, also in default, which are holding Northville bonds. An agent has been given authority to proceed on this project and if it goes through it may enable Northville to "get out of the red" a little, say village officials.

Turning their attention to traffic regulation the members of the council passed a new ordinance to take effect on Monday, Oct. 16. The new ordinance makes Main street west of Rogers a stop street for Rogers. Main street, on the east side, will be marked "Slow Curve." The new traffic rule was drawn up by Chief of Police Wm. Safford who states that it will be strictly enforced.

Repaying loans taken from the paving and sinking funds the council voted to transfer from the general fund the sum of $254.50 to the paving fund and $1,300.84 from the general fund to the sinking fund.

A donation of $25.00 was voted to be made by the village to the Northville high school and community band.

The council did not vote to extend the date for payment of village taxes. Monday, Oct. 2, was the final date for payment without penalty.

FREE SATURDAY

Free greasing of your motor car is the special offer made for this coming Saturday, October 7, by the Plymouth-Dodge Sales and Service garage, 118 Church street, announced by Roy M. VanAtta, owner.

The purpose of this free service, said Mr. Van Atta, is to invite the public to get acquainted with his new mechanic, Ed Squires, formerly of the Joe Thompson garage at Ypsilanti, where he is known as a highly skilled automobile mechanic.

Mr. Van Atta assures the public that this offer stands alone, and no other purchase or car repair is necessary to take advantage of the free greasing service. Equipment for high pressure greasing has been installed for this service.

NORTHVILLE BAND PLAYS AT REPUBLICAN RALLY

The Northville high school and community band received high praise at the Republican rally which was held Saturday near Wayne.

"Members of the committee in charge," reported W. A. Ely, Northville township supervisor, "couldn't say enough regarding the excellent of the band. They put me in charge of the music and my first thought, of course, was that our high school band would be just the thing. As it turned out the audience was extremely enthusiastic about their playing."

The 55 piece band, in gay uniforms, proved to be a colorful sight and were warmly applauded time and time again as they finished playing their numbers. The committee petitioned Mr. Ely to secure the band's services for future rallies.

Booth Farm To Be Golf Course

"A natural golf course laid right in our laps."

So do Wm. and Roy Booth describe the 7,100 yard golf course that is nearing completion on their 280 acre farm on the Seven Mile road, three miles east of Northville.

Work on the course was started three years ago but after 16 months, construction was halted and then resumed after a short delay. The Booths, father and son, expect to have the 18 hole course completed by the fourth of July next year.

Abounding with natural hazards the course requires little building up of hills and mounds in order to present a "sporty" workout for golfers. There will be seven water hazards and the wide greens, all of which have been seeded this week, promise some real putting problems for golfers.

The course is rich in trees, says Roy Booth, in charge of construction work, and we expect that when we get through we will have a course on which a golfer will be forced to use every club in his bag. The club will be a semi-public affair and we have elaborate plans for a club house, a swimming pool, a large dance floor to be 36 feet, and possibly tennis courts.

"We have not selected a name yet although we are thinking favorably of 'Northville Hills Country Club' as an appropriate title."

A dining room and grill will be features of the club as well as locker rooms, showers, and the rest of standard equipment of any modern club-house. The course is coming along in good shape now and the layout, so experts have told us, is extremely attractive. Shrubbery surrounding each hole will add to the appearance of each hole. We are naming each hole after a prominent golfer—Gene Sarazen hole, Walter Hagen hole, Tommy Armour hole, Bobby Jones hole—and several of the pros so honored are personally aiding in building of the holes named after them.

We have 20 men now working steadily on the course and we are making good progress. As we stand now we will probably stand the first golf ball soaring down the number one fairway on or about July 4, 1934.

The Booths have 40 acres of apple, peach and pear trees and three of the trees are located in the orchards and also three of the greens. The golf course will cover approximately 221 acres of territory. E. J. McDonnell, Plymouth Hill "pro" this year who has been mentioned as a possibility for the position as "pro" on the new course says that the average course takes in about 80 acres.

Wayne County Training School
Seventh Annual Report Shows
Great Strides in Child Guidance

The seventh annual report by the administrative board of Wayne County Training school, submitted to the Wayne county board of supervisors, calls for full support of the work going on at the institution.

Dr. Robert H. Haskell, superintendent at the school, submitted a complete record of training methods used at the school for children of low mentally housed there, showing how favorable have been the results of this training, and emphasizing the necessity of continual institutional care for them.

Admissions at the school were higher this year than at any time since the second year of operation, the report reveals. 204 children being admitted. The present population of the school is 784, while the high point of population was 716.

While the average residence of training for this type of child averages seven years in other institutions throughout the United States, the report shows that the average period of residence at the Wayne County Training school is only 2.7 years. This remarkable result in training methods here is offered as ample justification for the establishment of the school.

The average age of admission has dropped from 12.41 years to 12.08 years. "Social behavior of the individual rather than any diagnosis of mental defectiveness" determines admission, according to the report.

During the past year 155 children have been placed on technical parole in contrast to 133 children of the previous year. Of these only 12 returned to the school, two being boys and ten being girls.

After supervision and assistance are vital phases of the work carried on by the training school officials. The report reveals that 233 children have been "looked after" outside of the institution.

192 children have remained on parole the report reads, 11 boys and 81 girls.

The system of remedial reading inaugurated at the school by Dr. Hegge (the only man in the world to carry on this work), is proving remarkably successful, the report reveals. The findings of Dr. Hegge may mean "the challenge not only to teach reading, even to normal children, but recasting the whole educational approach and method." In training the mentally deficient child.

The report outlines the work conducted in vocational training, the Boy Scout movement, religious instruction, farming activities and general health. Only six contagious diseases were reported at the school, two being cases of facial erysipelas in the same child, two cases of measles, one of scarlet fever, and one of cerebra fever.

MARY E. HASKELL
WINS CLASS POST

DISTILLERY AT
IS EXPECTEDLocal Equipment Will Be Taken to LaGrange,
Indiana

Rumors that the Gordon Baking Company plant on East Base Line road has been sold and will become a distillery were confirmed this week.

A $500 option has been taken on the plant, it was learned; the balance of the payment to be paid when the deed to the property has been brought up to date. The sale price of the plant has not been revealed.

The baking company has been moving its equipment to LaGrange, Ind., where its plant will be set up there, officials having decided that this station is more centrally located between Detroit and Chicago for trucking operations. All equipment is expected to be moved within the next 60 days.

Blue prints for the proposed distillery call for a long row of grain bins to be constructed and for stills to be placed in the plant. Several other building operations will have to be made before the distillery is ready for production. Most of the machinery to be used is automatic and it is not expected that there will be a large personnel. The purchasing company is a new one that has been recently organized.

DON P. YERKES, SR.
HAS OPERATION

The many friends of Don P. Yerkes, Sr., will be glad to know that he is making excellent recovery from an emergency operation for appendicitis performed Wednesday morning.

In apparently his usual health, Mr. Yerkes had attended the dinner of the Rotary club at Meadowbrook the previous evening. On Sunday before he had complained of an attack of "indigestion," but suffered no acute pain until late Tuesday night. His condition, on latest report is good.

BEER BRINGS $71.25
TO THE TOWNSHIP

$71.25 was added to the Northville township treasury this week through a voucher from the state liquor control commission. This represents 35 per cent of the fees paid by user license holders in Northville township under the provisions of the state beer act. This percentage of all license fees is returned to the community from which they come.

In forwarding the voucher, Wm. J. Nagel, managing director of the commission, pointed out that the people of the state, through reduction in state taxes derive revenue from the excise stamps on legal beer, in addition to the license fees paid by retailers and wholesalers. Every bottle of illegal beer deprives the state of badly needed revenue," Nagel said.

He also called attention to the fact that the sale of beer by unlicensed vendors works a hardship on those who have paid the state for a license. Nagel asked the co-operation of local officials and the public generally in preventing the manufacture and sale of illegal beverages.

PAY RENTS FOR WELFARE PEOPLE

Checks to landlords from the the $415 received by the village this week from the federal government funds for welfare relief were being distributed by Chief of Police Wm. H. Safford.

The checks are for rents owed by welfare families who have been unable to earn any income and are totally dependent upon the village for support.

BANK AT CARLETON
GETS NEW FURNACE
FROM NORTHVILLE

Never forget the old home town, says Harry German, now of Carleton, and once a very familiar figure on Northville's Main street. When the bank at Carleton, of which Mr. German is conservator, needed a new furnace the former Northville citizen insisted that it be bought in this village, so Sherrill Ambler, head of the Independent Furnace and Foundry Co., got a nice order, and there were smiles all around.

MISS FENNEL BUYS
SESSIONS HOSPITAL

On Sept. 20 Sessions hospital changed hands, Miss Irene Fennell taking over the ownership from Mrs. Ed. Sessions who has owned and operated the institution successfully for the past 13 years.

Miss Fennell had been connected with the hospital for nearly four years, having worked for Mrs. Sessions for two years, later renting the institution for a year and finally purchasing it. She is a graduate nurse of the hospital in Winnipeg, Canada, coming to Northville from North Dakota.

Miss Fennell will keep the old name, Sessions Hospital, which has stood for much in the community. Both Miss Constance Lee and Mrs. Fred Hicks will be retained as nurses.

A few important changes and improvements have been made under the new management, among them the addition of a new three-bed ward, a new laundry in the basement, a new autoclave sterilizer, and Sessions hospital beds and Beautyrest mattresses on every bed.

The hospital has a capacity of ten patients, though "in a pinch" they have accommodated as many as fourteen. An average of one major operation per week is performed while during the year there are about 20 births.

The three physicians who come out from Detroit at call for surgery are Dr. A. J. Font, Dr. Wood and Dr. Friedinger. The hospital has an open staff of local physicians. Miss Fennell's friends wish her success in her enterprise.

PLANS DUAL EVENT
FOR OCTOBER 11

Open to the entire populace of this vicinity is the chicken pie dinner and bazaar of the local O. L. V. church to be held on Wednesday, Oct. 11. The dinner is in the form of a progressive affair at which all who desire free transportation by auto will be picked up at the Ambler store, (formerly Freydl's) beginning at 5:30 p.m. They will be brought to all or any of the three stops where the three courses of the dinner will be served.

The first stop is the Heatley home at 304 W. Dunlap, where noodle soup and wafers start the meal. Thence the "caravan" will proceed to the church hall at 239 Thayer. Here will be served real chicken pie, mashed potatoes, cabbage salad, squash, pickles, jelly, rolls butter, and coffee.

After such a meal a little exercise and fresh air are needed, and so the passengers get both in the ride back to the Ambler store where Michigan apple pie and coffee will complete the dinner.

To make this trip more realistic the three stops represent three States, namely, Pennsylvania, where they know how to make soup; Kentucky, with chicken in a mixture of northern and southern style; then Michigan, the home of the best apples.

The NRA cannot complain of the low price 50c for adults for the entire trip, and the entire dinner. Children under 12 can come for 35c. A convenient place for obtaining tickets is Jm. Spagnuolo's store where they are on sale.

A bazaar display will be held in the Ambler store where fun and bargains may be had throughout the evening.

Dr. H. I. Sparling, president of the club, before presenting a resolution drawn up by Mr. Cochran asking for whole hearted endorsement by the Exchange club of the proposed water improvement and loan plans, addressed a few pertinent remarks to the Exchanges.

"Northville water," said Dr. Sparling, "has grown steadily worse instead of better during the past year despite improvements that were made last fall to the system. We know that we cannot grow as a community until we do obtain better water and the situation that faces us at the present time is serious."

Dr. Sparling urged Exchanges to consider the problem carefully and called on several members of the club to give opinions. After a warm discussion in which Mr. Cochran answered several questions, members of the club voted to table the resolution for one week. Members of the club stated that if it could be shown without a doubt the plans pointed the right road to the solution of Northville's water difficulties they would be in favor of the loan. They stated that past expenditures have not improved the water and that unless the village could reasonably prove that the plans were the right solution they would not be in favor of the loan.

EXPLAINS NEW
WATER PLANGovernment Loan Project
Discussed at Exchange
Club Meeting

A discussion and brief explanation by F. J. Cochran, village attorney, of the water supply improvements that are planned for Northville, if this community receives its proposed $21,000 loan from the federal government, was given Wednesday room in the Methodist church house before members of the Exchange club gathered for their weekly luncheon.

"Northville has a fine supply of water," said Mr. Cochran, "but due to the fact that the springs were covered last fall for protection from water pollution the water has no way of becoming aerated. The result is that the iron content, which was formerly oxidized out of the water when it came in contact with the air, has now no means of freeing itself and is in the water that comes through your taps. This causes discoloration of the porcelainware, a sometimes foul odor, and is the source of many complaints by residents of Northville."

The improvements last fall were made because of demands by the state health department that we "clear up" the water. That is, we were told to get rid of the B-coli bacilli contained in the water. We were able to do this in all except the Fairbrooks springs which we were forced to use this summer in order to get enough water pumped up to the Eastman sanatorium. The state health department is of the opinion that there is a sewer break near the Fairbrooks springs, which has contaminated this source of water supply.

The new improvements call for covering of the reservoir and would seek to eliminate Fairbrooks springs. A filtration plant to purify the water supply and an aeration device to eliminate the iron content would solve our water problem. In order to fulfill these plans we estimate we will need $21,000 which we can borrow from the government at four per cent interest to be paid back over a period of 20 years. Of this sum thirty per cent or $6,300 is a grant on which we will not have to pay interest. The $6,300 is given outright. The balance of $14,700 will be repaid by a bond issue to be voted on by residents of Northville in a special election some time this fall.

The plans will have to be approved by Dean Cooley of the University of Michigan Engineering school and have already been recommended by the state department of health. We are urging that this project be put into action immediately in order to give employment to Northville's welfare dependents who will otherwise have to be supported by village and township funds which are low. The minimum wage limit will be forty cents per hour for labor, and $1.25 for engineering labor. The $14,700 will be paid back to the government at the rate of about $1,000 per year. The $1,000 each year will be added on the village budget and will be paid by the taxpayers. Revenue derived from the water department at present is used in the village general fund. If this is used to liquidate the bond issue then a similar sum must come from the taxpayers to meet village expenses.

Dr. Sparling, president of the club, before presenting a resolution drawn up by Mr. Cochran asking for whole hearted endorsement by the Exchange club of the proposed water improvement and loan plans, addressed a few pertinent remarks to the Exchanges.

"Northville water," said Dr. Sparling, "has grown steadily worse instead of better during the past year despite improvements that were made last fall to the system. We know that we cannot grow as a community until we do obtain better water and the situation that faces us at the present time is serious."

OUR INCONSISTENT GOVERNOR

Let's see, governor, who was it that refused to turn in his campaign expense account, as required by law, last year?

A GOOD MAN "FIRED"

The Plymouth Mail very rightfully makes a vigorous protest against the action of Governor Wm. A. Comstock in discharging superintendent of schools, George A. Smith, of our neighbor city, as a member of the Michigan State Institute commission. Supt. Smith had given his heart and soul to the work of the Coldwater state school, and no official in the state did more for the handicapped boys and girls than he. His work was so highly regarded by four previous governors, who had never asked whether he were a republican or democrat, that he was reappointed term after term.

Verily, the "new deal" at Lansing is costing the people of Michigan not only much money but a tremendous loss in public service.

"CHRISTIAN BUNK"

According to the interview of Senator Couzens in the Detroit Free Press he does not believe in "Christian Bunk." That is the tragedy back of the senator's actions. He has millions of dollars but we would rather be a humble ditch digger than to admit that hate and revenge ruled our life.

This United States of ours right now is in a bad way—put there by human selfishness and greed. We face a graver issue than that of mere money in getting our so-called "prosperity." All of Senator Couzens' millions have not made him happy, apparently, and they never will unless he gets some "Christian bunk" inside him.

And this nation will never get a permanent prosperity until the qualities for which the Christian church stands—the brotherhood of man and the rule of the Golden Rule—control the lives of our people.

The depression which still holds us in its grip has proved nothing more conclusively than the fact that we have found out what money won't do.

"To make this a livable world, we have to build up what religion is intended to build, and that is character."

NRA PROGRESS

It is hard for one little part of the country to answer the question often heard: "How is the NRA coming?" In smaller communities like Northville there is the feeling that the smaller business people are suffering inconvenience and loss because of conformity to the Blue Eagle. In the industrial centers the NRA has undoubtedly helped many and has caused some additional employment, although not as much as had been expected. Doing away with child labor has been one of the finest achievements of the National Recovery Act.

The feeling persists that inflation of one kind or another will follow the NRA. The blanket codes will "run out" the last of December and in the meantime many of the various groups affected have not had their codes adjusted. What the outcome after January 1 will be no one can predict. One big complication that had not been expected, apparently, has been the number of strikes that have arisen in connection with carrying out the observances of the codes. It is hard to put men at work when thousands are called out on strike.

Another discouraging feature of the whole situation nationally is that the government, for some reason or another, has been very slow to put the millions of the public works fund into action. Very little of the three billions allotted has actually been put to work. "Red tape" seems to have strangled the outlet of the money so badly needed to put men on jobs again.

Here in Michigan, of course, the pitiful bank holiday and the tragic failure of the government bureaucrats to open our banks, have overshadowed any good that the NRA could possibly do. If the closed banks of Detroit could be opened and credit again flow freely, the improvement would be such as to make the Blue Eagle wish for more wings.

And the feeling is growing among thoughtful people that mere material success is not going to make this nation prosperous again. Small and large racketeering, dishonesty in public office, grafting, large and small, sex sins, social and economic injustice, cynicism of all good things—all of these have too large a part in our national life. There must be a return to character—the kinds of righteousness that built this nation.

COUZENS SHOULD RESIGN

One of the most severe indictments ever made in Michigan against a public official was given last Thursday, Sept. 28, in The Detroit Free Press in a three-column article, written by Malcolm W. Bingay, in which he told of a three-hour interview which he had with Senator James Couzens.

Here are the headlines of the article:

"Couzens Admits Revenge Spurs Him On In Attack Upon Banks of Detroit."

"Says He Is Moved by Personal Hate."

"Tells In Interview He Doesn't Believe in 'Christian Bunk.'"

"Feels Safe Because of Wealth and Position."

For months the best leaders of Detroit and thousands upon thousands of people out in the state have been trying to account for the strange attitude of Senator Couzens in the bitter way in which he has attacked banks, bank directors, newspapers, government officials and others. His opposition to an R. F. C. loan to the Detroit banks which might have prevented the tragic bank holiday is believed by many to have been one of the chief causes of the terrific losses that have been sustained in Michigan by bank closing. (Thirty-four per cent of the money in closed national banks in the United States is in the banks of Detroit and Michigan.) For four days Couzens was on the witness stand in the grand jury investigation, during which time he made bitter but unproven attacks on those associated with the Detroit banks. He did bring out one very damaging fact—damaging to our government officials, bureaucrats, if you please. This was that the federal examiners had two reports, a white one which went to the bank officials, and which in the Detroit case, said that the banks were in good conditions and a "yellow" one which went to the Washington officials and which, according to Couzens, showed that the banks were insolvent.

Following his appearance before the grand jury, Couzens claimed he had been "gagged" by that highly honorable jurist, Judge Harry Keidan and when he failed to get the chance to testify some more, he held a public meeting in a Detroit school in which he vented his rage again at the bankers. Every paper in Detroit—even the Hearst organ—agreed that his talk was a rehash of what had previously been said. Couzens went so far in his wild charges that The Detroit News in an editorial on Sept. 28 asked the senator to apologize to the newspapers of Detroit and of the United States for his statement that advertisers controlled the columns of the newspapers.

All right. Enough for the background of the strange attitude of Couzens toward the bank closings. He was in the position to help keep them open and save millions of dollars. He did not do it. The public which elected him to his high office has the right to know why he failed to help. We wonder how the men and women of Michigan, whose servant Couzens is, whether he admits it or not, like this, quoted from Mr. Bingay's interview:

"Nobody can get me," he said, "I'm in the United States Senate until 1937. I know I'm through politically, but they can't do anything to me until 1937. Meanwhile I'll have my say. And by the end of my term I will be satisfied to give up public office anyway. I've got all the money I need and I've got the office. At the end of my term I plan to quit anyway."

It is the sincere conviction of many that Senator Couzens should resign his place in the United States Senate and let some one go there who will not be guided by his hates and prejudices. He won't do it—for he prides himself on his courage—which has at times degenerated into a bitter stubbornness.

The people of Michigan are indebted to Mr. Bingay for his putting the motives of Senator Couzens out in the clear daylight where all may know why he has done what he has. It would seem to us that he has a good deal for which to answer.

WANDERING THOUGHTS

A Detroit solicitor for a religious magazine and the writer had quite a visit about religion. "The prophecies are being fulfilled," she (a nice looking young woman) said. "Well," replied we, "if that means we are all having tough going, the prophecies are surely being fulfilled. When do you think the end of the world is coming?" To that she replied: "I don't know but I do believe that the second coming of Christ is near." And when we told her that we respected the believer in any religious faith and grew more tolerant as the years roll over our head, we were sincere. We never could see how anyone could sneer at any sincere believer in religion—no matter of what faith. We are all—as the Negro spiritual has it—"standing in the need of prayer."

Some glorious October days are ahead.

The vast majority of people are honest and decent. If they weren't the Northville Record would have quit quite a time back. Our business in its three departments, advertising, job work and subscriptions, is practically all

"THE UNITED STATES has given more consideration to building and loan associations than any other type of an institution and for the very good reason that these associations have accomplished the most wholesome results in thrift and home ownership, and the promotion of these objects is absolutely essential to the welfare of the United States."

The above is taken from an address by HORACE RUSSELL, COUNSEL FEDERAL HOME LOAN BANK BOARD. Delivered September 15, 1933, to Annual Convention of UNITED STATES BUILDING AND LOAN LEAGUE, Chicago, Illinois.

"on the books." In nearly three years of business we have managed to keep going, even though collections have been slow. But our actual loss from failure of people to pay will be comparatively small. That is a tribute, we say, to the all around honesty and square dealing of the average man or woman.

We are feeling better, thank you. "Mother" and Phil are home after a month's absence. Can you pile up any amount of money that could be compared to a happy home?

We have to pass along the little kindnesses of life. "Take me home quickly," we yelled to a passing friend the other day. He stopped his car and went out of his way to do so. In just half an hour a good friend said to us: "Drive me down, will you?" We did. "We pass this way but once. If therefore, there be any kindness that I can show or any good that I may do, let me not defer or neglect it, for I shall not pass this way again."

OUT AND AROUND THE CENTURY OF PROGRESS

The lighting effects are beyond description, the electrically made Anoua-Borealis is actually an improvement on the original. We never saw a drunken person. The fair will positively close October 31. The high priced concession privileges have been big money makers, especially the parking space privilege. The performance given at the Wings of the Century depicting the advances in transportation from Daniel Boone to the modern airplane is historically instructive. Chevrolet are made in front of you at the General Motors building. The specially designed General Motors Busses within the grounds are a big convenience, in fact it is hard to conceive a satisfactory survey of the big show without this speedy form of transportation. We vote California the best state exhibit, Florida second and Michigan third; many of the states paid little attention to this great advertising opportunity. The price for food on the grounds is reasonable. It would be some satisfaction to know how many of the concessionaires in the Belgian village ever saw this delightful land of King Albert. The Enchanted Isle is a great show for the kiddies; patrons may leave the youngsters there under perfect supervision while they visit the fair. The radio has been a big contributor, it is possible to reach every person on the grounds with emergency news; over Labor day week-end Thos. Ditchfield Jr., who has charge of this "lost and found" information bureau had 52 lost youngsters under his supervision. If one wants to get some idea of how really ignorant he is we recommend a visit to the Hall of Science; the most profound scholar could spend days here and not begin to cover this greatest scientific collection of all time. Guard mounts, parades and other military ceremonies are daily occurrences, participated in by infantry, cavalry and artillery of the United States army, located on the grounds.

The A. & P. Gypsies, the oldest sponsored orchestra program on the air, play two or three concerts a day at the A. & P. carnival, and always to capacity crowds; Frank Parker, tenor soloist and well known to all radio fans, is a delightful personality suggesting the former Mayor Frank Murphy of Detroit; he has an infectious smile—Chicago went back to standard time Sunday night, a movement to extend daylight savings time through October, given approval by the city council judiciary com-

(Crystal Falls Diamond Drill). Senator Schall, Republican, of Minnesota, is credited with saying that after January 1, "We shall witness the destruction of all newspapers that attempt to criticize the gods controlling our national political administration."

We doubt that this is the sentiment of President Roosevelt or of any one authorized to speak for him. We have just enough confidence in our President to believe that the suppression of free speech is the last thing that he would consent to. President Roosevelt knows that an effort to throttle the press would result in a struggle the result of which is hard to foretell at this time. A free press is necessary to a free American.

DOUBLE PUNISHMENT

(W. H. Berkeley in Cassopolis Vigilant)

We agree with our good friend, Jas. H. Breece of Jefferson township, who says that the man who commits a crime while drunk should pay two penalties, one for being drunk and one for the crime committed. When he starts drinking he will know in advance just what his danger is, and if he proceeds to get drunk in the face of that danger he should not complain if the penalties are imposed.

The afternoon was spent in visiting and in listening spell-bound to the anecdotes told by Mr. and Mrs. Carroll of their recent cruise to the South Sea Islands. Most interesting was the account of a visit inland when they were received at tea by the King of Abyssinia. No further kind of entertainment was found necessary.

The afternoon was concluded with dainty refreshments Mr. and Mrs. Carroll are enroute to Chicago to attend the fair.

Luncheon for 20 members was served at the Presbyterian church house by the Nellie Yerkes Auxiliary in a most commendable manner. The long table was beautifully decorated by Florist Jones. Pink carnations, snap dragons, ferns and ivy, with tall pink tapers and other accessories gave a charming effect. The color scheme was carried throughout the delicious menu.

Following the luncheon a short business session was conducted by Parmenas' new president, Mrs. Ralph Ferguson, with roll call responses, suggested by "Since last we met." The party then visited the Wayne County Training school, finding it most interesting.

Thursday, Sept. 28, being the birthday of Mrs. E. C. Langfield, 42 guests from Detroit took occasion to come out for a pleasant afternoon and evening with their old friends at their home on Fairbrook. A veritable banquet was spread at three long tables and after dinner the rest of the time was happily spent visiting and singing. To show their warm friendship, Mrs. Langfield was showered with gifts and flowers. Expressions of good will were voiced by C. J. Netting and John Nietz to which both Mr. and Mrs. Langfield made fitting response.

Noteworthy among the guests was H. L. Koppin, 82 years old, who has held his membership in the Bethel Baptist church to which the Langfields still belong, since the early days when Detroit was a city of only 30,000. In his talk Mr. Koppin reviewed the history of the Bethel church through the years.

This pleasant affair was a complete surprise on the Langfields.

Edward L. Milus presented his friend, W. E. Matthews of Windsor, Ont., educational director of the Detroit Edison company, who thrilled his hearers with a far-sighted summary of the economic outlook of our country today.

"Most Typically American" was Mr. Matthews' theme. Not American "lather" or great achievements or tall structures, said he, are most typically American, but a fundamental faith in freedom under law.

A student of social problems, Mr. Matthews declared that the eyes of the whole world are upon America now awaiting with interest the outcome of her economic experiment. Without attempting to say when the clouds of depression will lift, the speaker emphatically expressed a

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By ANN PAGE

AFTER an interval when it has been scarce and high, Iceberg lettuce is again plentiful, cheap and of very fine quality. Hearts of lettuce with a variety of salad dressing are popular throughout the fall and winter.

Many kinds of apples are in market—Jonathan and Delicious for eating, McIntosh for either eating or cooking and Rome Beauties for baking. Cranberries are again in market. They are priced extremely low. Cranberry juice cocktail is a pleasant change from tomato and is easily made.

Fall vegetable markets are well supplied with both native produce and some from other growing sections including the far south and west. Potatoes are fine and plentiful but even so, the variety offered by macaroni, spaghetti or noodles is often appreciated.

FINAL TOUCHES SOON TO BE PUT ON PARKWAY HERE

The only work yet to be done on the new parkway drive leading into Northville from the Seven Mile road is the building of shoulders, according to workmen. The pavement now lies under the customary covering of wet dirt and straw, which in road building parlance is called "curing the pavement." The covering is usually removed within a week or ten days, workmen said.

ISLE ROYALE PARTY ENJOYS REUNION AT ROSENBERGS' HOME

To "The Cascades" at Jackson, the marvelous series of water falls, lighted by changing colors, come every season thousands upon thousands of people—many from distant states. This matchless spectacle represents an expenditure of over three millions of dollars by its generous donor, Capt. William Sparks, of Spartan radio fame.

Half a mile distant from "The Cascades," set in several acres of oak trees, is the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Adrian J. Rosenberg. There last Saturday evening, Sept. 30, was held a most unique gathering—a reunion of fifteen people who made a memorable trip to Isle Royale, in the cold waters of Lake Superior, last June. The remarkable thing was that every person who made the trip—even the guide and captain of the boat—was present for the happy get-together. And most of them brought their wives—even though the latter had to gaze on the moving pictures of their grizzled husbands marching through the woods or eating around a camp fire.

Mr. Rosenberg, a leading attorney of Jackson, and his wife, proved to be perfect hosts. Following a bountiful dinner in the recreation room, during which meriment ran riot as the Isle Royalers recounted their adventures, the whole party enjoyed a walk to the Cascades, where they marveled at the fascinating beauty of the vari-lighted falls. Then, back at the Rosenberg home, the guests enjoyed an exceptionally fine program, including music by real artists.

BUSY DAYS ARE HERE AT THE LEGION HOUSE

While the pungent odors of cooking tomatoes filled the air of the American Legion house last week six members of the Auxiliary pared and canned two bushels of this wholesome vegetable to be sent to the Otter Lake billet and to the Veterans' hospital at Battle Creek. Fifty-one cans stood in rows when the ladies removed their stained aprons and called it a day.

Not to be outdone in ambition, the Legion boys rolled up their sleeves and scrubbed the woodwork of the whole house, washed and dried the windows and polished the floors. With all the curtains done up and span by the "girls" the house is all ready for its season's activities.

Movies taken by Dr. H. B. Weinberg of Lansing, Winfield Lanes of Howell and Mr. Rosenberg vividly recalled the trip. Cello solos by Prof. Alexander Schuster, of Michigan State college, a member of the party that invaded the island, were entrancing. Superintendent of schools, E. H. Chappelle of Charlotte, literally "brought down the house" with a poem, describing each camper with a fidelity and touch of humor that made the poem a classic.

SENIOR MOTHERS PLAN TOURNAMENT TO AID TRIP FUND

The mothers of the senior class of the high school have taken pity on their children and will try to help them out in their enterprise to raise enough money during the year for their annual trip at commencement. There's no telling how long this trip will be but the mothers are determined that there shall be a trip.

A committee under the direction of Mrs. J. N. McLoughlin has been at work making plans and has concluded to hold a series of six card parties in the high school gym with the small charge of $1.00 for all six or 25 cents for single admission.

At these parties action, contract and 200 will be played with prizes for each and a grand prize at the end of the tournament.

The first event will fall on the evening of October 19, with the remaining dates being Oct. 19, Nov. 2, and 23, Dec. 3 and 21.

The games will begin at eight o'clock. Refreshments will be served. While you are planning a party your patronage of these events will be appreciated by the seniors and their mothers.

A trip to the World's Fair and $150.00 in cash.

Such was the reward won by Sam Stalter, local Atlantic & Pacific Tea company meat manager, for having the largest increase in sales in this district over a period of six weeks.

The increase in sales, says Mr. Stalter, was over 33 per cent. Leaving Sunday, Mr. Stalter enjoyed the Century of Progress at Chicago until Wednesday, when he returned to Northville. During his absence Geo. Calkins resigned capably over the meat department.

NORTHVILLE BAND IS WELL RECEIVED AT POLITICAL RALLY

The Wayne county republican rally took place last Saturday in a grove near Wayne, an interesting part of the program being the playing of the Northville high school community band. Republican officials expressed appreciation for the fine musical performance of the band.

Ex-governor Wilbur M. Brucker was the principal speaker at the rally. Other important republican figures at the meeting were Judge Homer Ferguson of Detroit and Senator Charles H. Culver.

"DINNER AT EIGHT" IS COMING TO THE WILSON THEATRE

The largest number of stars ever assembled for a single dramatic picture, an even bigger name cast than "Grand Hotel" are to be seen in leading roles of "Dinner at Eight," coming Sunday, Oct. 8th, to the Wilson Theatre, Detroit, for a limited engagement.

When Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer acquired picture rights to this Broadway stage hit by George S. Kaufman and Edna Ferber, plans were at once inaugurated at the studio for a cast that would excel the brilliant one of last season's "Grand Hotel," as well as all previous casts in the history of stage and screen.

Twelve stars were recruited for the leading roles of the new production. They include Marie Dressler, John and Lionel Barrymore, Wallace Beery, Jean Harlow, Lee Tracy, Billie Burke, Edmund Lowe, "Maggie" Evans, Karen Morley, Jean Hefson, and Philip Holmes. Cast in prominent supporting roles were such outstanding players as May Robson, noted character actress, Grant Mitchell and Elizabeth Patterson of the New York stage, and the late Luce Closter Hale.

Marie Dressler was the first player selected for the cast of "Dinner at Eight." She was picked out for the role of the retired actress, "Carlotto Vance," within twenty-four hours after a company executive had seen the premiere of the play "Dinner at Eight" at the Music Box Theatre, New York. After securing an immediate option of the film rights, it was agreed that Miss Dressler would be the right party to play Constance Collier's stage role.

John Barrymore was the next player to be selected for the cast to play the role of the fallen movie star in which Conway Tearle scored on the stage. The rest of the cast was selected during the ensuing six weeks.

Today, if such pictures as "Dinner at Eight," "Grand Hotel" and "Night Flight" are to be taken as criteria, only one thing counts—has the story sufficient vivid characterizations to support a number of outstanding stars? If so, in they will go. Such stories are rare, but Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's current production of "Dinner at Eight" happens to fall in the category.

NORTHVILLE A. C. BEATS ANN ARBOR IN 13 TO 0 GAME

The Northville A. C. football team completely shut out the Ann Arbor eleven in a contest at the fair grounds here last Sunday, the final score being 13-0. A good crowd attended the game.

"Mickey" McCordie, right half, scored a touchdown, on an 11 yard plunge, first down. Kenyon Miller, left tackle, blocked a punt and ran 40 yards for a touchdown. Eddie Wood successfully lifted the ball over the horizontal bar for the extra point.

The next game scheduled for the A. C.'s will be played against New Boston at the local fair grounds on Sunday, Oct. 8, at 2:30 p. m. New Boston boasts a speedy offensive and with the Northville boys in fighting shape an exciting contest is promised.

THE CALL TO PRAYER

"Let us therefore come boldly unto the Throne of Grace that we may obtain mercy and find grace to help in the time of need." Heb. 4:16

Here we have the call to prayer. The days of trouble are the days when we ought to pray often. In our distress we learn to pray earnestly. The strongest men and the most heroic women, the calmest and most unruffled, pray in the trying hours of life. Jesus Himself was a man of prayer.

But how can we who are sinful pray to face God as our transgressions come to our remembrance. We are unworthy of answered prayers. We dare to come because God's throne has become a Throne of Grace through our Lord Jesus Christ. Boldly we can come and make our petitions because the blood of Jesus Christ cleanses out all our sins and thus takes the darkness out of the face of God.

We should come boldly. That means confidently. We dare to come confidently because God invites us to come. When he says through his Son Jesus Christ, "Ask, and it shall be given you," for every one that asketh receiveth, a boldy means coming courageously. We are not afraid of God. We know that he will not smite us down or close the door upon us. Through our Lord Jesus Christ, God is friendly towards us and loves us with an undying love.

If we come boldly in the name of Jesus, to the Throne of God, we shall find mercy and help in the time of need. God is the Lord Almighty with Him everything is possible. I do not know how He is going to answer prayer, but I do know that He does answer. To the penitent who comes pleading for mercy, He gives full forgiveness. To the troubled who is being crushed under the burdens of the day, He gives strength. To the sorrowing out of whose day the light has gone He brings hope. Who severs comes will find that God is ever ready to listen to his plea.

Since God offers us such riches and blessings and gives us such promises, let us heed this call to prayer and day after day boldly come unto the Throne of God with all our sins, our burdens, and our troubles, confidently believing that we shall find help.

Christian Science Church

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, Oct. 8.

Among the Bible citations in this passage (Ps. 107: 20, 21). "He sent his word, and healed them, and delivered them from their destructions. Oh that men would praise the Lord for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 297): "Sickness, sin, and death are the vague realities of human conclusions. Life, Truth, and Love are the realities of divine science. They dawn in faith and glow full-orbed in spiritual understanding."

Church of Our Lady of Victory

Catholics do not believe that Christ "sleaved." His mother and used her merely to suffer the pangs of His birth. They believe that she is as near Christ as any mother is near her son. Acting on the doctrine of the "Communion of Saints" as expressed in the Apostle's Creed, Catholics believe that their communication with her must reach her Son. Only a degenerate would ignore his mother's honest pleas. Why shouldn't God heed the requests of those near and dear to Him in heaven if He hears the prayers of us sinners here on earth? The combined pleadings of both ought to be a greater force. In the local church Rosary devotions for relief and recovery will be held every Saturday night during October at 7:30 o'clock.

Catechism is taught each Saturday morning at 9:30. It lasts for one hour and fifteen minutes. The attendance this year is pleasing. We ask the teachers to report this Saturday at 9 o'clock.

Presbyterian Church

Sunday, Oct. 8, service will be held in the Presbyterian church at 10:30 a. m. Church school meets at 12 noon. We are greatly heartened by the response of last week. Nothing succeeds like success. "We do our part" applies in the N. R. A. and interpreted is the National Religious Awakening.

The Woman's Union will be the guest of the Plymouth Union of the Presbyterian church of Plymouth, Wednesday, Oct. 11, at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Wilbur H. Johnston will have charge of the music.

Mrs. H. A. Lichtwardt from Persia is to be the guest speaker. She will talk informally of that country and her work there.

Transportation will be provided for all who wish to go. Call Mrs. W. H. Yerkes or be at the church not later than 2:15.

"Yassah," said the little colored boy, "Ise named fum my parents." "Daddy's name was Ferdinand and Mammy's name was Liza." "What's your name then?" "Ferdiliza."—Rotary Reminder.

Salem Federated Church

Our Sunday morning worship service is held at 10:30 o'clock, and on Oct. 8 the theme for meditation will be "A Wedding Invitation."

MRS. MARION G. BERCHEM

Mrs. Marion G. Berchem died very suddenly after only one-half hour's illness at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Irving Stoneburner, Plymouth Avenue, Wednesday afternoon. Death was due to embolism of the heart.

Mrs. Berchem, who was 56 years of age, was born in England about 40 miles from the famous Stratford-on-Avon.

Twenty-five years ago she was married to Alfred Berchem and two daughters were born Mrs. Stoneburner and Miss Alice Berchem, the latter a student in the Michigan State Normal at Ypsilanti, Michigan. Three step-children also were mothered. Miss Marie Berchem of Grosse Pointe and Walter and Robert of Detroit. Five grandchildren also survive, together with the two children, the husband and three sisters who live in Ireland, Pittsburgh and California; respectively, also one brother, Edward H., of Detroit.

For five years Mrs. Berchem lived in West Point Park coming to Northville two years ago to make her home with her daughter.

Of a quiet, home-loving nature, this mother preferred the care of her children to more public affairs. Since her stay in this village she had made friends.
