

NORTHVILLE SADDENED BY FIVE DEATHS

Two Of The Number Are Caused By Auto Accidents

The community is saddened this week by the loss of three of its best known citizens who passed away peacefully while fatal traffic accidents cost the lives of two others.

Leon Gilligan and James Cull were the tragic victims of automobile accidents, while Leo W. Wood, Mrs. William J. Cornell, and Gust Fred Wagner, three long-time residents here, passed away because of long standing illness.

In addition to the above, Herbert G. Teeples, of Fowlerville, a former resident of this village, father of Mrs. Fred Wendt, died Tuesday in the University hospital at Ann Arbor.

GUST FRED WAGNER

Gust Fred Wagner, well-known resident of Northville for 18 years, passed away October 16, at the age of 62 years. Since suffering a stroke four years ago, Mr. Wagner had been in gradually declining health, becoming seriously ill two weeks ago.

Gust Fred Wagner, son of Minnie and John Wagner, was born in Detroit August 17, 1871. His boyhood was spent in that city.

After his marriage to Miss Minnie Rush on December 13, 1895, the new home was established on a farm near Farmington.

Two daughters were born to this union, Clara Wagner Munby and Alice Wagner Rathbun.

Later the family moved to West Bloomfield and later to the west Baseine, thence to the present home on West Main Street.

During his years spent in Northville, Mr. Wagner has worked industriously at his carpenter trade making many friends by his honesty and business. As a neighbor he was beloved for his kindness and in his home he was a devoted husband and father.

Quiet and unassuming, Mr. Wagner's only public activities were faithful attendance upon his church and his lodge. He was a member of the Northville lodge, No. 166, Union Chapter No. 55 and Northville Commandery.

To honor their deceased brother the Knights Templar acted as escort at the funeral and the lodge conducted the service at the grave.

Rev. Wm. Richards, of Belleville, officiated at the funeral and interment was made in Rural Hill.

Surviving in the immediate family are the widow, two daughters, Mrs. Munby and Mrs. Rathbun, of Plymouth, and two brothers, Wm. Earl and Albert. Two sisters, Martha and Minnie preceded their brother in death. Three grandchildren also survive: Lila Munby and George and Corinne Rathbun.

Mrs. Wagner will make her home with her daughters in Plymouth.

LEO WEBSTER WOOD

Following an illness of over three years Leo Webster Wood, 26 years old, passed away at his home on 415 Yerkes avenue at 1:30 o'clock Sunday morning.

His condition became serious Thursday evening when his illness, against which he had so valiantly fought for so long a time, took a turn for the worse.

He had been a resident of Northville all his life having been born here on June 1, 1907. He was graduated from Northville high school in the class of 1925 and was active in school affairs where he was exceedingly well liked by his classmates and a large circle of friends composed of townspeople who knew him.

He leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wood, three brothers, Ralph, James, and Edward and a sister, Hazel. James Wood is a cadet at the University of Michigan.

Funeral services were held at the Schrader Chapel Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. Rev. William C. Richards of Belleville officiating. Burial was made in Rural Hill cemetery.

Leo Wood was of a loving, cheerful disposition. He was prominent in the athletic activities of Northville schools and in the town. Although ill he partook in athletic competition up to a week before he passed away.

He spent some time as an employee for the Pere Marquette railroad at Plymouth, and also spent a few early years in Texas where he grew to young manhood.

He had a large circle of friends, one of whom said of him: "Leo was a good man, a good friend, and a good citizen."

TEACHER OUTWITS 56 HORNETS THAT VISIT AT SCHOOL

When a swarm of buzzing hornets invaded the school room of the fourth grade of our local school Monday, the plucky little black-eyed teacher, Mrs. May Babbitt, did not scream her call for help, but attacked them one by one with strokes that laid out 56 lifeless hornets on the floor.

Confusion reigned for a time as 36 nervous little nine and ten-year-olds squirmed and squealed whenever an insect buzzed around their heads.

Thanks to the quick action of Mrs. Babbitt, not one child was stung.

When the last winged enemy had been slain and quiet was restored the class in geography was called and school routine went on as usual.

LAY-OFF STARTS AT FORD PLANT HERE MONDAY MORNING

All but a half of the day shift and a few members of the night shift at the local Ford valve plant in East Main street, were laid off Monday morning. It was learned this week.

According to officials, approximately 100 men are now employed at the plant although more will be put on as soon as economical conditions become more settled.

Eight men are being kept busy at the Marz plant on West Main street which manufactures Ford water-pump parts.

ACCIDENT VICTIM DIES AT SESSIONS

Leon Gilligan, 38 years old, died Saturday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock as the result of injuries suffered in an automobile accident at the corner of Beck and Fishery roads, three miles west of Northville, on Thursday evening, October 5.

Gilligan was a passenger in the car driven by George Lutz of Plymouth who escaped with scalp wounds and bruises. Walter Holman, occupant of the car which was struck by the Lutz car, is recovering from his injuries at Sessions hospital.

At the inquest held Saturday evening at the village hall, county authorities found no cause for charges and Lutz was unconditionally released. Deputy Sheriff R. J. Baetz, county officer for this district, gave the testimony following his investigation of the case.

Gilligan, who lived at 2066 Clarkdale avenue, Detroit, leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Gilligan, and a sister, Mrs. Dolores Loveless, all of the same address. He was buried in Detroit following funeral services held at the home Tuesday afternoon.

NORTHVILLE FANS SEE WOLVERINES HUMBLE CORNELL

Northville was well represented at the University of Michigan-Cornell game Saturday held at Ann Arbor.

Among those who viewed the game were Victor Cole, of the Northville Laboratories, Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Yerkes, Orlov G. Orlov, R. T. Baldwin, of the Record, Charles Riffenberg, Paul Baldwin, Jack McLoughlin, and Edmund Yerkes.

Many from Northville will attend tomorrow's game when the Michigan Wolverines clash with Ohio State in what promises to be the stellar attraction of the football season. Midweek statements from Ann Arbor predict a "sell-out" of over 60,000 attendance for the game.

NORTHVILLE TEAM MEETS TRENTON TODAY GAME HERE TODAY

Today's (Friday's) football game between Northville high school and Trenton high school at the Northville fair grounds, at 4 o'clock, promises to be a close, strenuous contest all the way through.

The Trenton team is a well drilled aggregation, versed in fundamentals, and confident in the knowledge that it has defeated Northville several times during the past few years.

Northville, under its new coach, Ted Watts, former M. L. A. star for Albion college, has tucked two scalps in its belt and is thirsting for revenge against Trenton. Northville has defeated both Berkley and Van Dyke and has a good chance of adding another to its string of triumphs.

JAMES CULL KILLED AS HE CROSSES ROAD

Local Resident Is Victim Of Sad Accident Saturday

James Cull, age 65, was killed when struck by a car driven by Orlus Batts while crossing the road at the Pere Marquette springs Saturday evening about 6:30 o'clock. Mr. Cull was carrying firewood at the time of the accident. Batts was released after being questioned by Chief of Police Wm. Stafford. Batts made a statement of facts to Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Gage of Wayne County at 10:00 o'clock Wednesday morning.

According to members of the family, Mr. Cull had gathered the firewood earlier in the day, and after having supper at his home on East Cady street, near the Plymouth-Northville road, set out to get it and was returning home when the accident occurred. The death of Mr. Cull is the first break in the family circle.

James Cull was born on the Barre Islands, Newfoundland, on April 15, 1868. At the early age of ten he started in as a carpenter's helper, and worked for 45 years.

Ten years ago, when times became hard in Newfoundland, he came to Windsor, Canada, where he resided for four years. From there he moved to Detroit where he lived three years. In 1930 the family moved to Northville. He was an employee of the Wayne County road commission.

Surviving the deceased are his widow, three daughters Mrs. Melinda Godwin of Newfoundland, Mrs. Lucy Hatten of Thompsonville, Mass., Miss Leah Cull of Northville, and three sons, Lemuel of Detroit, and Edgar and Simon of Toronto, Canada. All but Mrs. Godwin were able to attend the funeral.

The funeral was held at the Schrader chapel at 3:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, the Rev. Frank N. Miner officiating. Interment was made in the Rural Hill cemetery.

EXCHANGITES BACK PLANS FOR WATER IMPROVEMENT HERE

A unanimous endorsement of the resolution to back the plans for improvement of the water system of Northville was the local Exchange club's reply in supporting Dr. L. W. Snow, village president, who gave a short talk on the situation at the club's weekly meeting held Wednesday noon at the Methodist church house.

The club had, at a previous meeting, tabled the resolution for further consideration.

Members of the club who had declared that the "water supply had become worse during the past year following improvements made last fall" told the president that by this they did not mean an increase in pollution but rather, an increase in the iron sediment caused by covering the springs which prevented proper aeration. The iron content they said, has made the water unsuitable for cooking purposes, and many Northville people have resorted to using water from the railroad springs which has been certified by the state health department.

Village plans for water improvement call for the construction of a covered water reservoir which would hold 330,000 gallons and a filtration plant to insure water purity. It is planned to borrow $21,000 from the federal government with which to carry out this project, 30 per cent of the loan being a grant-by the government to facilitate public works programs.

Roy Crowe, district manager of the Bell Telephone company, gave a report to Exchangeites, before Dr. Snow's talk, on radio construction work in progress at the Maybury sanatorium. This project is being sponsored locally by the Exchange club.

President of the club, Dr. H. I. Spaulding, proposed that Northville Exchangeites visit the Ann Arbor club at their meeting soon and a date is to be arranged.

Guests at the meeting were A. L. Anderson, Detroit, and J. R. Lyons, Northville.

W. R. C. ATTENTION

The afternoon meeting of the W. R. C. will be held at the home of Mrs. Madeleine Parmenter on Wednesday, Oct. 25. Meet at the home of the president, Grace Trumper, at 2 o'clock and transportation will be furnished.

Northville Band Takes Part In Detroit Waterway Procession

Northville's high school and community band formed an integral part of the great parade held Wednesday evening in Detroit to publicize the St. Lawrence Waterways project which will make Detroit a seaport.

Leaving Northville, accompanied by Fred W. Lyke, manager, in a city bus which was sent solely to accommodate the band, the members of the prominent musical organization assembled in formation at 7:30 p. m. on Henry avenue where they awaited their turn to join the parade. While waiting they were afforded an excellent opportunity of viewing the many floats, military formations of policemen, postmen, soldiers and civic organizations which turned out in force for the evening.

The parade started at Chicago Boulevard and wound down Woodward avenue, where the various companies and parts of the procession fell into line from the side streets. Over 100 bands were in the parade, six of them being from Canada; nine divisions of soldiers, Boy Scout contingents, and a large number of industrial floats and exhibitions added to the colorful and picturesque parade.

Participants marched to East Jefferson avenue, where they were met by their busses and transported back to their homes.

Noted among those from Northville who enjoyed watching the parade from the sidelines were: Mr. and Mrs. Chubb Smith, Harry Bolton, Harold White, and Dr. Wilbur H. Johnston.

Pageant Showing Elements Used In The Manufacture of Ford Cars Being Staged This Month in Detroit

A pageant depicting the part science and industry have played in motor car development since the advent of the first automobile is to be presented in a national Ford Exposition of Progress which will open next Saturday in Convention Hall here. The Exposition, which will continue through Oct. 28.

Not only the Ford Motor Company but more than 175 other industries—some of them among the greatest in the industrial world—will participate. The exhibits, costing hundreds of thousands of dollars, will portray vividly how farms, mines and factories in all parts of the United States and in many foreign countries contribute to the manufacture of the modern motor car.

Staged in the heart of the motor industry, the exposition will picture for the first time to the people of Michigan the vast ramifications of this industry.

The focal point of the exhibition will be a replica of the historic engine-drivework workshop where Henry Ford built his first motor car back in 1893, together with the original lathe, drill press and other tools used in building the first Ford. The historic motor cars, depicting the motor manufacturer's collection of progress of motor car transportation down to the present, will also be shown.

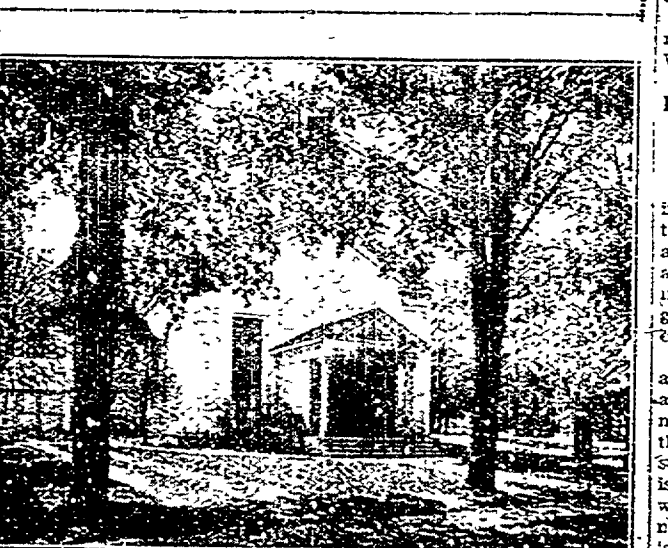

All around the historic motor car is the splendor of giant welding machines, the whirring machinery, the rumble of conveyors and the clanking of heavy presses will add to the realistic atmosphere of the exhibition.

An entire assembly job is being moved into the hall so that Ford steel bodies can be assembled to full view of visitors. The fabrication and vulcanizing of tires will be demonstrated by other crews of workmen, close by a miniature Sumatra rubber plantation, with flowing rubber trees. In another corner of the great hall, state-of-the-art wheels will be made by a battery of eight welders.

Exhibitors of the new styles and other products of years of painstaking research will be shown in connection with exhibits of the safety devices used in the Ford plant to guard workers from harm. The whole panorama of industries which have grown up around the motor car also will be presented. A modern service station will be exhibited side by side an old-time blacksmith shop, used as the first service station.

One of the most interesting exhibits for children will be the display of the Ford Trade School which will depict the progress of students from entrance to graduation.

Baptist Church Is Brightened

That cleanliness is next to godliness is the firm belief of members of the Baptist church, and they proved their convictions this week by giving their place of worship on Wing street a thorough cleansing. Mrs. Roy Matheson was chairman in charge of the work.

Floors, windows, walls, pews, curtains, in fact every part of the church received its share of attention with vigorous and generous applications of soap and water, brush and cloth. On Tuesday a score of workers gathered at the church and on Wednesday a dozen continued their efforts. The older members of the Ladies' Aid for whom the work would be too arduous did their bit by serving an appetizing potluck dinner.

BEER BRINGS CITY $570 IN LICENSE FEES

Village Commissioners Hold Short Business Meeting

Five hundred and seventy dollars were added to the village treasury last week through a voucher from the State Liquor Control Commission.

This sum represents 95 per cent of the fees paid by beer license holders in this city, according to commissioners who held a meeting Monday evening at the village hall.

Distribution of the check for $570.50 which the village received was made as follows: Northville township, $201.25; Livonia township, $75.00; Village of Northville, $570.00. The Livonia township check was included with the Northville check could not be accounted for by local officials. There are four beer license holders in Northville and three in the township territory.

Under the provisions of the state beer act 95 per cent of all license fees is returned to the community from which they come and the remaining five per cent is kept by the state.

State officials point out that the people of the state, through reduction in state taxes, derive revenue from the excise stamps on legal beer, in addition to the license fees paid by retailers and wholesalers. Every bottle of illegal beer deprives the state of badly-needed revenue, they say. The sale of beer by unlicensed vendors works a hardship on those who have paid the state for a license, declare state officials who are asking free cooperation of local officials and the public generally in preventing the manufacture and sale of illegal beverages.

Commissioners held a short meeting and adjourned shortly after hearing the bills read and passing a motion that they be paid.

NORTHVILLE WOMEN VISIT HORSE SHOW

Mrs. Wm. H. Breen, chairman of the Junior Horse Show of the Northville-Wayne County fair, accompanied by Mrs. Russell H. Walker, will attend the big horse show at the Century of Progress.

This show begins Saturday and extends through the following Sunday. Both of these ladies, who are horse enthusiasts, plan to spend several days in Chicago, when they will make their headquarters at the Chicago Beach hotel.

NORTHVILLE GROUP HUNT SMALL GAME

Small game, especially partridge, leotiering in the vicinity of Cummins, Mich., are in grave danger this week of losing their lives, because that's the spot receiving a four day scouring by a group of Northville hunters.

The hunters comprising the group this year are Edward L. Mills, Elmer Smith, D. B. Bunn, Nelson C. Schrader and E. R. Eaton. Dr. Paul R. Alexander and Sherill W. Ambler joined the party on Wednesday.

BANK OBJECTORS GET ONLY PART OF DIVIDEND IN CASH

The impression given by the story in last week's Record to the effect that objecting depositors who were allocated separate assets to liquidate in lieu of keeping their deposits in the Depositors State bank were given $10,782.16 in cash was erroneous.

The objecting depositors received a percentage of the dividend in cash and the rest in mortgages from Elmer L. Smith, trustee in charge of the liquidation proceedings. The sum paid out by Mr. Smith in cash is said to be considerably less than was stated. The exact figure could not be obtained because Mr. Smith is away on a hunting trip and the books are in his charge.

HARVEST FESTIVAL

Attention is again called to the annual Harvest Festival to be put on by the women of the Presbyterian church, Oct. 25.

All kinds of fruit, vegetables, home-canned fruits, pickles, jellies, in fact, anything good to eat including baked goods, will be on sale.

Besides the fair, luncheon at 20c will be served at noon and supper at 25c.

This is the big enterprise of the year and the generous patronage of the public is requested.

$1,200 IN SCRIP TO BE REDEEMED BY THE SCHOOLS

The Northville school board is ready to redeem $1,200 in scrip. Holders of series A-1 to 1232, inclusive, and B-1000 to 4588, inclusive, will receive payment by presenting their certificates at the Depositors State bank, Superintendent of Schools R. H. Amerman announced this week.

Approximately $8,000 in scrip was originally issued by the school district, and of this amount $3,800 is still outstanding. The redemption of $1,200 worth of scrip at this time is made possible through payment of delinquent school taxes for 1931 and 1932, according to Supt. Amerman.

Teachers are being paid their salaries in cash and being paid in full at the present time.

METHODIST MEN'S CLUB FORMS TEAM TO BOWL MONDAYS

Announcement of a meeting of the Methodist Men's club to be held Wednesday evening, Oct. 25, at the Methodist Church house, at eight o'clock was made this week.

At the last meeting after a short business session the members of the club adjourned to the Recreation Bowling alley where they competed for the remainder of the evening.

All members interested in forming a bowling team to compete in the C. L. B. League Monday evenings are asked to get in touch with Claude Zimmerman, 622 West Main street, or phone 42. The volley-ball season will start soon and club officers are hoping for a large turnout at the next meeting.

RED CROSS PLANS RELIEF FOR NEEDY

Red Cross activities are on with fall coming chilly fall weather making the demand for warmer clothing heavy and to meet these wants the local headquarters are stocked with these various articles of ready-to-wear clothing, men's and boys' coats, overalls, undershirts and socks, girls' and women's underwear and hose, and infants' shirts and hose. The total valuation of these articles is roughly estimated as $2,514.75.

In materials for dresses, shirts, underwear and sheeting the Red Cross has on hand 7,031 yards valued altogether at $1,085.75.

While it does not seem to be necessary to urge folks to take advantage of these things, the authorities wish it to be known that these goods are for the use of those who are in need. Let no undue modesty keep anyone from taking the comfort necessary.

One hundred and forty-six families have already been supplied. New memberships are urged, one half of the dues ($1) are kept here at home for local use. All gifts are kept here at home. Even small donations of ten or fifteen cents are not to be ignored and will all help in the aggregate. These donations are used for local needs.

Winter is coming and with it greater suffering unless it is relieved in part by the "Mother of the World."

NORTHVILLE A. C.'S LOSE TO DETROIT IN SUNDAY GAME

The A. C. S. Northville's professional football team suffered defeat at the hands of the Nodame eleven of Detroit, the contest taking place at the fair grounds last Sunday. The score ended 7-0, the touchdown being made in the first quarter. A moderate sized crowd attended the game.

At the end of the first half the crowd grew excited when Hinchman threw a fifteen yard pass to Berry, bringing the ball within a foot of the goal line. The whistle ended the possibility of a touchdown.

A Detroit player, whose name was not ascertained received a deep cut over the eye when he "connected" with the elbow of an A. C. man in a fast play.

The next game scheduled for the local eleven will be played at the fair grounds this Sunday, Oct. 22, against the Grims, a fast going, hard hitting team from Detroit.

WALLED LAKE MEN NEARLY BURIED AS GROUND CAVES IN

(From The Record Walled Lake Correspondent)

Quite an excitement took place Saturday at the home of M. E. Ault, when Clinton Ault, M. E. Ault and Wm. Sherman were nearly buried alive. They were laying tiles from the basement to the sewer, and from the vibration of the cars passing the ground caved in, covering the other two as they were standing in the trench. Help being available they were dug out with but few bruises, although somewhat lame and sore.

WELFARE AID TO BE GIVEN BY NEW PLAN

Committee of Three Will Assist in Federal Project

Under the new ruling which goes into effect November 1, welfare activities in Northville will be virtually out of the hands of local authorities. Willard A. Ely, township supervisor explained to the group of welfare workers in a meeting here last Saturday.

Welfare work here will be under the supervision of L. P. Cookingham, city manager of Plymouth, who is one of a committee of three appointed by the federal government to handle the work throughout Wayne county. Mr. Cookingham has charge of all welfare activities outside the Detroit city limits. Mr. Ely revealed.

Complete details of the welfare program under the new ruling are not known, according to Mr. Ely, but it is definitely determined that case workers under Mr. Cookingham will make personal visits to welfare charges at regular intervals to see that all families in need are properly cared for.

Whether the food dispensary located under the Babbit hardware store will remain in operation under the new schedule is not definitely known.

Heretofore the bulk of the burden of welfare work in this community has rested upon the shoulders of township and village officials and voluntary workers. Last winter the problem of providing food to needy families was solved by the planting of welfare gardens in and near Northville.

Large amounts of food were obtained when needy families offered to weed on their own lot of charge to what they would call and haul it away. Village officials furnished hauling facilities.

In an inquisitive drive for clothes, welfare workers were successful in gathering much clothing for needy families. A group of volunteer women mended and altered all torn or worn garments.

Donations of bread and biscuits by the Grimsin bakers and local grocery stores added materially to the welfare state of food.

Although the welfare program is entirely under federal supervision, urgent and immediate needs of local families can be taken care of by township and village officials. Mr. Ely stated.

Ninety tons of coal and 700 pounds of pork have already been issued this fall to needy families. Mr. Ely stated. Potatoes grown by township workers on the several acres of land near Fishery road will probably be distributed soon, but whether these will first be turned over to federal welfare authorities is not certain.

IMMORALITY AMONG YOUNG PEOPLE

Every once in a while we hear some shocking stories regarding immorality among young people of our neighborhood. Such topics are usually taboo in the newspaper but we wonder sometimes if parents and leaders of the community should not get together, run-down the rumors and gossip and then look the facts in the face and see if anything can be done about it.

There is one thing that is certain. That is, parents who let their children "run the home" and come in at all hours of the night have much responsibility in the development of good morals.

The sex problem is age old. But no one who knows the facts will deny that we have had a let-down in the relations of young people which is in many cases shocking. Shall we be indifferent to it? Or shall we protest that the best way for boys and girls to grow up is to be clean and decent? What thinking father or mother wants their child to become one of the ten per cent of the nation who are syphilitic?

THE GLORIES OF AUTUMN

Among the inheritances of autumn put down the "cold in the head." In the shift from warm weather to real winter there seems to come a tide in the affairs of men and nations, when these colds lay low a good part of our population. In one Northville office building (figure that one out) one day last week there were five absent, pretty much on account of colds. As we write this on Friday, our iron advertising man, "Ad." Schwenger, is in bed at his home in Detroit knocking the spirit out of one of these fall colds.

After living a few decades and watching the antics of the "cold in the head" bugs, we believe that the best way to cure one is not to get one. That is done by getting plenty of sleep and exercise and by keeping out of the way of folks who don't mind sneezing the germs all around you until you get the bugs on the run. That is better than taking a chance on pneumonia.

AT LAST IT COMES

Comes Friday morning and with it the first white frost on the roof. That was Friday, the thirteenth, but no bad luck—for no good Michigan farmer or flower grower can hope for frost to hold off much past the first of October.

What meaneth the frost? Firstly, a look ahead to at least six months of coal shoveling into the family furnace. But that is not bad. Six months of cosy evenings in the home and real bracing weather that makes one feel fit. Six months when the bugs and insects get killed off—in certain parts of the U. S. the people live in terror of the black spider which lives on through the mild winters. Well, it gets good and cold in Michigan and no black spider could live through our winters.

What means the frost? Six months to make friends with the books and magazines. Six months to find out our friends. Six months of happy family life around the fireside.

"RAILROAD JACK"

At the age of over 70 "Railroad Jack" died of heart trouble in a barn near Coldwater. He died as he probably wanted to—"pass out"—on his wanderings around the country, with his little wagon which he pushed along in his later years, at his side.

Northville knew "Railroad Jack." So did Albion, where the writer was editor for a decade and well do we recall how he used to dazzle the Albion college students with memory stunts, as he did students on the campuses of many other colleges and universities. The University of Michigan was home to him and he had friends among the learned members of the faculty. Jack had a truly amazing memory. He had 10,000 dates of history stored away and could flash them out to his hearers, when questioned, at comet speed.

The last time "Railroad Jack" was in Northville he did the architect of this column the honor to call him at our home on the phone and for five minutes we had a good time talking back and forth.

Now that "Railroad Jack" has gone and left as his estate his little wagon and probably something else—we don't know—we have just been wondering what he got out of life. As success goes, judged by the money standards which have become foolishly our yard stick for measuring whether men have succeeded or not, Jack was a dismal failure. We never heard that he had a family or home, but always heard of his travels around the country, first under the brake rods, in his little hammock, where no trainman who knew him ever molested him.

With his genius for figures and facts, this traveler might have become a learned professor at one of the universities, instead of coasting. He gave this up and became a nation-known traveler. Why? Well, we just have a theory that Jack loved folks and found much joy in meeting people. And if he found content in that, who shall say that he lost out in life's battle? The rich have lost their millions but none could take from this memory genius the memories of his friendships across the country.

What did he get out of life? Much. What did he give back? A lot. He liked to "grandstand," perhaps, but who doesn't? He liked to "show off" his remarkable ability but who isn't proud of his achievements? But Jack scattered smiles and good cheer with his quaint philosophy and who shall deny that he was a benefactor?

"Railroad Jack" is gone. We shall miss his calls. Train that he was, he made life a little brighter for many. And isn't that true success?

WANDERING THOUGHTS

"Put 'er there, Northville high." Two victories in a row are fine.

Is there any prettier spot in Michigan right now than little old Northville?

The world is getting better. We had two invitations to go to the Michigan-Cornell game Saturday.

What do you think about the state of Michigan going into partnership on the race track business?

We "take a bow." A Detroit, once a resident here, says that The Record is doing much to create community good will. That is certainly what we try to do, week in and week out, and we thank the hundreds of our community who are helping us to do this. We know of nothing finer than a loyal, united community.

Speaking about men smoking. The other day we sat beside a university professor during a meal. In some way we happened to tell him the reason for not smoking was because in early years, a truly great father kept us from smoking and in later years the memory of that fine father was the biggest factor in our not taking up with smoking. As we finished this personal word, the professor said: "There are no virtues in smoking."

Speaking of women smoking, we read that "they have set aside a smoking room for co-eds at Olivet college." That doesn't change our idea that half the college co-eds smoking is pure "swank" put on to keep up with the crowd. And there is no doubt in our mind that cigarette smoking chains a person's habits so much that in years to come, many of these girls will bitterly regret that they ever "fell" for the habit. If the time isn't here, it will be before long, when it will be "smart" not to smoke.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

Would you like to own your home even though it costs less to pay rent?

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

HARD TO EXPLAIN

Yet we (as a government) throw millions of dollars of the first pork meat in the world into the grease vats just to get rid of them. And our people are hungry. We plow under millions of acres of cotton and yet our fellow townsmen are naked and cold.

"STEPPING OUT"

Speaking about domestic infelicity—and not all of it is Hollywood bound—the Lapeer County Press tells of the farm couple that cooked with gasoline—the stove exploded and blew them both out into the front yard. One of the neighbors said it was the first time they had gone out together in 10 years.

WELL STATED AND WELL RECEIVED

(Ann Arbor Tribune)

When the President told the Legionnaires that anyone who is injured in the service of his country deserves every consideration, but that those who were not deserve only the consideration extended other citizens, no more and no less, he said all there is to say. Thinking Legionnaires recognized its truth and thus made the President's hurried trip worth while.

"THE UNITED STATES has given more consideration to building and loan associations than any other type of an institution and for the very good reason that these associations have accomplished the most wholesome results in thrift and home ownership, and the promotion of these objects is absolutely essential to the welfare of the United States."

FIRST MAYOR OF FARMINGTON TO LEAVE THE CITY

(From The Farmington Enterprise)
Next week will mark a change in possession of one of the most picturesque residences in this vicinity, and also the departure for Detroit of a leading figure in Farmington's seven years as a city. Former Mayor and Mrs. Wells D. Butterfield will leave to make their home in Detroit.

The Butterfield residence will be taken over by Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Ragnall, the former a leading figure in the electrical industry of the state. Mr. Ragnall is superintendent of all overhead lines in Michigan for the Detroit Edison Company, with over 300 men under his direction.

Mr. and Mrs. Butterfield will occupy the home the Ragnalls will vacate at 2181 Eastlawn, which is near Gross Pointe, the transaction having been a trade of the two residences.

Mr. Butterfield, Farmington's first mayor and elected to succeed himself, retired voluntarily in 1929, but has since maintained a keen interest in community and civic affairs.

Mr. Ragnall is active in church work, being chairman of the Congregational Society of Michigan.

capitalist, big industry, etc., but did you ever hear any one say a word against the excess profits, and the tax the smoker has to pay, as the result of the pyramiding of wealth by the big tobacco manufacturers?

Gave heed to the plight of the tobacco farmers, you smokers. Pyramided on his efforts to eke out a living growing the weed is one of the most amazing profit-taking structures of industrial history.

Did you know that last year the "Big Four"—American Tobacco, Liggett & Myers, Lorillard, and Reynolds—paid more to their stockholders in cash dividends than the farmer got for his entire crop?

Were you aware that during the dark years of 1930 '31, and '32 while all other industry was foundering the tobacco industry marched steadily ahead to the greatest extent profits of its existence?

While the farmer got less and less for the raw product?

THE SMART MR. GROESBECK

(M. H. DeFor in The Charlotte Republican-Tribune)
Senator Couzens is going to have an opportunity to present additional proof which might be claimed was denied him in the grand jury investigation of Detroit banking practices, recently completed before Judge Keenan.

Former Governor Groesbeck who knows the psychology of politics as well as the practical workings of the game, is far too smart to have it said that evidence collected by the senior senator had been suppressed. No matter if Couzens' new proof comes dynamite in every sentence it is not good business to let the public believe that something is being kept back. In other words, the public is always going to mullify that about which it is told to keep away from. It was this same psychology that finally whipped prohibition. The public bankers for what it cannot get without a battle of wits.

The authorities in the beginning, were able to make out quite a respectable case for the prohibition law but a gradual increase in the percentage of folks who figured it was smart to beat the law won the day. We're not saving their judgment was sound but the old law of psychology had to be served. So Governor Groesbeck has set up another legal machine to take down what Mr. Couzens has to say.

It is not likely that Senator Couzens will, at this stage of the proceedings, change the opinion of many people but Mr. Groesbeck knows it's best to write the latest Couzens proof into the records regardless of whom it helps or hurts. Ultra smart, Mr. Groesbeck.

RESPONSIBILITY LAW BRINGS INSURANCE TO LOVEWELL & SMITH

The financial responsibility law which became effective through the state Tuesday, Oct. 17, states Scott Lovewell and Elmer Smith, insurance and real estate agents in Northville, has been the stimulant for a flurry of business during the past few weeks.

Motorists who realize that they will be barred for life from driving if they are unable to pay the bills resulting from their accidents are hastening under the protective wing of public liability and property damage insurance, they say.

Society Notes

Mrs. Wagners Is Hostess To Contract Club

One of the pleasant informal occasions in Northville society was the contract bridge given by Mrs. H. P. Wagners at her home Wednesday afternoon.

Contract was the pleasure of the afternoon when the following young women made up the party: Mrs. James Harold Bloom, Robert Coolman, A. H. Steele, Sterling Eaton, George H. Stalker, W. Masters, and Miss Reva Schrader, with the hostess.

Mrs. Douglas Is Again Honored By Northville Friends

Mrs. Carl Bryan, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Thayer, extended hospitality to a group of close friends of Mrs. B. E. Douglas Thursday afternoon, Oct. 12. The occasion was planned to afford these friends another pleasant afternoon together.

before Mrs. Douglas leaves for her new home in Detroit

A charming three-course luncheon was served at one long table in the dining room with fall flowers used effectively as decoration.

The hours following were passed informally in visiting and enjoying certain guessing contests planned by the hostess.

Regret was expressed on all sides that Mrs. Douglas, who has taken such an active interest in affairs of the community, is to leave Northville.

Mrs. Dora Coe Is Honored On 33rd Birthday

Mrs. Dora Coe, who lives with her daughter, Mrs. Don Hamilton, on Beck road, West Nova, was honored on her 33rd birthday by a family gathering at the home of her son, Arthur Coe, North Farmington, last Wednesday evening. The home was handsomely decorated with autumn leaves and fall flowers for the occasion. A banquet was spread at long tables and enjoyed by 53 members present, including children, grandchildren and close friends of Mrs. Coe. The center piece of the table was fashioned from a large pumpkin shell which was filled with fruit and surrounded with autumn leaves.

Mrs. Coe was presented with many tokens of the love and appreciation of her family and friends. The evening was happily spent with games and visiting.

Mrs. Coe is the mother of twelve children who grew to maturity, nine of whom are living.

All of Mrs. Coe's friends join with her family in wishing her many happy returns of the day.

P. T. A. Opens Year With Round of Visits

Offering a pleasant opportunity for the parents of Northville students to become better acquainted with the teachers of their children, the teachers were all present in their class rooms on Thursday evening, Oct. 12, for a round of visits. The occasion was a social hour with Mrs. E. M. Bogert in charge.

activities proved an interesting and enlightening round of visits for the parents.

This was the opening meeting of the Parent-Teachers association and began the year's program with a fund raising drive.

At eight o'clock the large group of 125 gathered in the gym where the president, Mrs. E. W. Lester, called the meeting to order, introducing Mrs. Percy Angrove, who in turn introduced Leslie G. Lee, who led a round of "pep" songs which put everyone in a merry mood of sociability.

Ernest Racz contributed two well-rendered violin solos and minus an accompanist, carried off the numbers alone.

A talk by Supt. R. H. Aimerman on the present-day emergency in our school system, due to shortage of funds, was followed up by the appointment of a committee, comprised of Mr. Aimerman and Mrs. O. P. Beng, who will draft appropriate resolutions.

If there had been any stiffness in the meeting thus far it was all forgotten when, after matching numbers for partners, every one joined with happy hilarity in a grand march led by Miss Geraldine Huff and Miss Helen Leonardson.

Refreshments were served during a social hour with Mrs. E. M. Bogert in charge.

An invitation was extended to the parents to join with the teachers in a program to be given Friday, Oct. 27, at 9 a. m. at the Hotel Statler, Detroit, as a part of the Teachers' Institute.

At this time Dr. Jos. Arfman of Chicago will speak on the influence of religious education on the community and on the spiritual and ethical life of the child.

Four persons, narrowly escaped serious injury one evening last week when the Ford sedan owned by Frank Freydl overturned at the Freydl farm on the Seven Mile road.

Mr. Freydl unknowingly left his car in gear and when he attempted to crank it the car jerked forward, the wheel "buckling under" in soft gravel, and turned a complete somersault landing multi side up. In the car were Mrs. Frank Freydl and small daughter, Jean, and Mrs. Bruno Freydl, none of whom was hurt. A wheel passed over both legs of Mr. Freydl as he tried to jump out of the way of the advancing car, bruising them severely.

The occupants of the car felt they were very fortunate in escaping more serious injury.

NEW CLASS STARTED FOR YOUNG PEOPLE.
A class for older young folks has been organized in the Methodist Sunday school which will supply the need for some worth-while study and social activities for the "neglected age" of the village, viz. the age between high school and marriage. The course of study to be followed is Principles of Social Relations. All young folks not associated with other churches are cordially invited to join this class. The leader at present is Mrs. R. T. Baldwin, but others will from time to time contribute to the interest of the class with discussions of these problems. The time of meeting is at 12:45 and the place is the vestibule of the church house.

Rule of the Sea.
The new play was a failure. After the first act many left the theatre; at the end of the second act most of the others started out. A cynical critic, as he rose from his seat, raised a restraining hand.
"Wait!" he loudly commanded. "Women and children first."

Success of the N.R.A. Must Come Through Spiritual Regeneration, Declares Wellington Roberts

By Wellington Roberts

I am frequently asked my opinion of the N.R.A. as a method of lifting us out of the industrial bog in which we have been floundering. I will illustrate my views by telling how my father and I pried out stumps on a pioneer farm.

A stump is an obstinate fact, and its removal requires almost as much ingenuity as that of lifting a nation out of the doldrums. After exposing a root as far from the stump as possible I would insert one end of a stout lever beneath it and clamber out on the other end. If the ground were soft the lever would sink and my labor wasted. My father would be likely to find my efforts and then show me how to prevent the lever sinking, by placing a fulcrum (my father called it a bait) beneath the lever close to the root. If the leverage were ample and our combined weights sufficient the root would be raised a little and blocked. A larger bait would be used and the root raised another short distance. By applying larger and larger baits the stump was finally raised from its bed and hauled away.

As I see it, the N.R.A. is the first bait used in an effort to raise our economic structure out of the bog of depression. As the structure is raised larger baits will be needed before the structure will be raised high enough to under pin with a permanent foundation. It is merely a temporary expedient to tide us over until more powerful forces are marshaled and brought into action.

There is no economic salvation included in the creed of the N.R.A. It is but a preliminary bait to amuse us before the big fight starts.

The bait and the levers may be changed in stump raising and economic lifting, but in both tasks one must be sure to have firm ground for the foundation of the bait and well-seasoned levers. The foundation on which the N.R.A. must rest is public confidence. An effort will undoubtedly be made to patch up and use some of the badly cracked levers lying around such as the banking system, the protective tariff system, the development of our foreign trade, and even a system of deliberate waste. While both the bait and levers may be changed as the structure uses the need of a secure foundation for the bait and the combined application of labor and capital are constant.

Almost any kind of a scheme, reasonably sound, may answer for a bait. It is more or less of a hidden affair anyway, but the lever is a very important tool. It may be used successfully a long time, and then without warning fail—as any pioneer knows. In fact the pioneer learned by experiencing many nasty falls to have a number of well-seasoned levers handy and used, the one best fitted for the load to be lifted. Now with a big load to be temporary expedient to tide us over raised we find ourselves with a lot of broken levers, a new bait and a doubtful foundation on which to work. The old levers have failed and the very ground on which the bait rested has given way. The administration has the task of raising a structure from a bog while standing in the bog. A foundation must be made, a bait tried and one of the old levers patched up in the hopes that it will stand one more lift.

Archimedes contended that he had no resting place for a fulcrum, else he could move the world. We find ourselves in the same predicament; we need a secure foundation for a resting place for the N.R.A. In other words the whole philosophy on which modern production is based is doubtful. Until recent years it was confidently assumed that the free play of individualism was a secure foundation for an economic society. The economic anarchy, commercial pravity and wage slavery that grew out of this philosophy compelled governmental interference. It has been completely demonstrated that unrestricted individualism is unworkable. As a safe foundation for a bait it has been proven unreliable.

FRIENDSHIP

Friendship is a thing that's holy. We should never discard the jewel. Into which our heart's blood flows. A friend who shares our gayness with us. A sunny weather friend. But a friend who shares our sorrows. Is a friend until the end.

A new friend brings a gladness. That sometimes blooms into the rose. Of a true and lasting friendship. Into which our heart's blood flows. --Violet Copland, Ingleswood, Calif.

We remember last election time how Gov. Cossack raved and ranted about the incumbent, Gov. Erickson, "forever planting crowns on the heads of peach queens, cherry queens, cauliflower queens, onion queens, etc."

Well, between having a photograph taken crossing an attractive queen and having a photo snapped standing beside the end of a race horse, we'll pick the queen any time. Governor Cossack. It shows better taste.

The boy had a quarter inch gash over his eye which the physicians plastered so expertly with adhesive tape that the gridiron warrior was unable to see and hence had to withdraw from the game.

DO YOU REMEMBER WHEN?

All the streets were dirt highways and there was dust and fumes? Every sidewalk was of wood, four and six foot wide, depending on the density of traffic?

Fences adorned the property lines of all homes?

Some fences were highly ornamental but for the most part of the fences were of wood. Is there still a rail fence in the village limits?

You swung on the old front gate? Memories may rise at this suggestion.

The preparations for the winter included a barrel or two of salt pork, several barrels of apples, a few bushels of potatoes and a variety of vegetables? All in a cool cellar?

It took three to six tons of chestnut coal for the base burner stove? And were there ever a more cheerful fire than those fine Garland stoves?

The wood shed was a needed part of domestic economy? There was wood aplenty which had to be placed in the wood box for the next day?

Correlative passages to be read from the "Christian Science text-book, 'Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures,' by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 66): "Trials are proofs of God's care. Spiritual development germinates not from seed in the soil of material hopes, but when these decay, Love propagates anew the higher joys of Spirit, which have no taint of earth."

NORTHVILLE GRIEVED BY DEATH OF FIVE WELL-KNOWN PEOPLE

Leo, who believed in a life of love, who in the fresh morning of his youth.

The loyal love of faithful friends who go with him unguided into the darkening shadows of life's closing day.

Mrs. Wm. J. Cowell

Mrs. Wm. J. Cowell passed away at her home on East Duinlap Street, Monday, October 16, at 3:30 p. m. following nearly two weeks' serious illness with heart trouble. She was 63 years of age.

Mrs. Cowell was known in Northville as the genial wife of the proprietor of the Cowell House which these two had operated continuously for the past 20 years in this village.

For 15 years this hostelry occupied the former Macomber house on Main Street until its recent move to the old Yerkes home, its present stand.

Here Mrs. Cowell greeted her many friends with a cheerful smile and genuine friendliness.

Little M. Witherby was born in Washington, Macomb county, February 14, 1865. On December 27, 1881, she was married in Rochester, Mich.

To Wm. J. Cowell to whom she has been a true helpmeet for almost 52 years.

To them were born four children: Wesley J. Cowell, of Mr. Morris, and Mrs. May Day, of Detroit, and two sons, Clare and Chester, deceased.

Mrs. Cowell's life was one of quiet, faithful industry. She had no time for public activities, preferring to give herself to her children to whom she was a devoted mother. Not only to her own children but to many transient guests of the Cowell House was this warm-hearted motherhood extended.

In younger years she was an active member of the Methodist church and continued to live a life of deep faith and courage, as evidenced in a conversation with a friend. She said: "Whenever I get discouraged, I look up and say 'Onward Christian Soldiers' and the day looks brighter."

The funeral service was held at the Schraeder funeral parlors on Wednesday evening with Rev. H. G. Whitfield officiating and the remains were borne Thursday morning to Gladwin to be laid to rest in the former home for 25 years previous to coming to Northville.

Surviving are the husband, one sister, Mrs. J. E. Spencer, one son, Wesley J. Cowell, Mrs. Day, three grandsons, Clifford and Cico Day, Wesley Cowell, Jr., and one granddaughter, Marjorie Cowell.

Her Northville friends will regret to learn of the passing of Miss Alice Hinman, at the home of her niece, Mrs. Metta Lowden-Nash in Venice, California, October 10. Miss Hinman was 81 years of age.

Until about three years ago, Miss Hinman had always lived in Northville and was a consistent and loyal member of the Baptist church.

For seven years previous to her going to California she made her home with Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Harmon.

She was of a quiet, retiring nature and had lived a long life of devotion to others.

For the past few months she had been a great sufferer and had the loving, devoted care of both Mrs. Nash and her daughter, Mrs. Lucile Simmons, formerly of this place.

FRED A. SECORD

Fred A. Secord, son of Albert and Loretta Secord, was born in 1879 in Almar, Ont.

At the age of 13 years he came to the United States and spent most of his life in Milford and Plymouth.

On Jan. 19, 1934, he was married.

TEACHER LOSES HER POCKETBOOK AND $37

No little excitement was caused around the grade school building last week when Mrs. K. H. Babbitt, teacher of the fourth grade, missed her purse containing $37.50, besides a number of valuable papers and keys.

The children were thoroughly searched for days. Chief of Police Wm. H. Safford being called to help.

Mrs. Howard Greer is the general chairman of the enterprise. The Service League will have charge of the dining room and of the bazaar with the cooperation of the older members.

THE WRONG YERKES

With the great variety of Yerkes families it is small wonder that in the account of the Woman's club last week credit for planning the entertainment was given to the wrong member. It was Mrs. Don P. Yerkes, Sr. who conceived the idea and worked hard to help "put it across." Due to her husband's sudden illness she was obliged to delegate her public appearance to Mrs. W. H. Johnston, but she was on the job behind the scenes and to her is due much of the credit for its success.
