

A. V. JACOBSON
HELD AS SPY
IN FINLANDFormer Northville Teacher
Is Alleged Communist
Plotter

The appearance of a Detroit newspaperman in Northville Thursday afternoon, Nov. 2, with a wire report that A. V. Jacobson, former Northville high school teacher, was to be executed that evening in Finland for alleged Communist activities, created considerable excitement among Jacobson's friends here.

Jacobson, a mathematics teacher, left Northville with his wife, Sally, approximately a year ago for New York. Previous to his departure he was vague to friends about the nature of his new position. He stayed in New York until the spring of this year when he journeyed with Mrs. Jacobson to Finland. He sent no word of any kind back to friends here with whom he had corresponded while in New York, it is said.

Following is the account of Jacobson's arrest in Helsinki, Finland, where he is now held:

Arvid Werner Jacobson, twenty-nine-year-old University of Michigan graduate and former teacher of mathematics at the Northville high school, is under arrest at Helsinki, Finland, with his wife, Sally, as a member of a gang of international spies.

A cablegram to this effect was received by Detroit police Thursday when they were asked to look up his police record and Communist activities. He never has been arrested.

SAFFORD SENDS WIRE

Chief of Police Wm. Safford received a telegram from the Finnish consulate located at Duluth, Minn., asking that he forward any information pertaining to Jacobson's character here and possible Communist activities while a teacher at Northville high school. Chief Safford replied Wednesday by wire stating that Mr. Jacobson was highly thought of here and that he knew of no Communist activities that he had engaged in while a teacher here.

ed here, but he is a registered member of the Communist Party and has addressed several Communist meetings, Detroit police cabled back Jacobson and his wife are well known in Northville where he taught mathematics in the Northville high school for three years, according to R. H. Amerman, superintendent of public instruction. He left there a year ago to take a position in New York. Mr. Amerman said, but he did not say what kind of work he was going to do.

He was born in Watton, Baraga County, in the Upper Peninsula, of Finnish parents, according to police. His wife, whose maiden name was Sally Halana, was born at South Range, which is close by.

Jacobson was one of ten persons arrested in Helsinki in a raid Oct. 27 on a house party attended by several persons prominent in Finnish society. Helsinki police say they have information that those under arrest cooperated with a Finnish staff lieutenant who apparently now has fled to Russia with Finnish military information.

As a result of the raid, the Finnish authorities said, several other persons accused of espionage activities have been arrested in Finland and Estonia as suspects in an alleged spy ring said to be active throughout the Baltic states. One of these is Mrs. Selma Tenosch, a Latvian subject and sister of Miss Mary Martin, hostess of the party who is believed to be a Briton carrying a Canadian passport. Authorities said they learned Miss Martin recently visited Russia by airplane.

SUPERVISOR ELY IS SHOWING PROGRESS

After a serious siege with illness, Township Supervisor W. A. Ely is rallying very satisfactorily from a major operation performed Tuesday, Oct. 31, and is on the road to recovery. He has been in the care of two special nurses, Mrs. Ed. Sessions, day nurse, and Mrs. Lela Moshers at night. Mr. Ely is now able to receive very brief calls from friends.

LEGION MEN HEAR
FORMER HEAD AT EXCHANGE DINNER

Thirty-three men heard Colonel Heinrich A. Pickert, deputy collector of customs for Detroit, explain the intricacies of his duties at the weekly meeting of the local Exchange club, Wednesday noon. Colonel Pickert was present through Chas. Murphy, who, during the World War, served under Pickert. The Lloyd H. Green post of the American Legion were guests of the day, those attending included: Chas. Murphy, Claude N. Ely, Robert G. Yerkes, Merrill S. Sweet, Scott Montgomery, L. C. Stewart, F. Alton Peters, J. R. Lyons, F. Lynn, Charles A. Schoultz, Ray Casteline, Earl Montgomery, Irving J. Ulrich, Dr. H. L. Sparling, Howard Atwood, and Mr. Munn.

Before telling of his experiences in the customs service, Colonel Pickert said that to him, Armistice day shouldn't be a day of rejoicing, because of the terrible things that happened during the war. The average person is mistaken in thinking that soldiers are anxious and ready for another war, but on the contrary, he affirmed, they are the best enemies of peace.

The United States customs service has been going since June 1929, he continued, and was hailed at that time as the next most important thing to the Declaration of Independence.

Since the first tariff bill was passed here, but he is a registered member of the Communist Party and has addressed several Communist meetings, Detroit police cabled back Jacobson and his wife are well known in Northville where he taught mathematics in the Northville high school for three years, according to R. H. Amerman, superintendent of public instruction. He left there a year ago to take a position in New York. Mr. Amerman said, but he did not say what kind of work he was going to do.

Two men from the Salvation Army were also guests, Captain Evans of Plymouth, and Captain Rock, of Detroit. Captain Rock made a plea for local assistance, asserting that Northville had never given anything to the Salvation Army—not as a community, at least.

Sam Stalter was also a guest.

ALUMNI DANCE TO BE HELD AT SCHOOL
ON FRIDAY, NOV. 24

The Alumni association of Northville will hold a dance at the high school, Friday, Nov. 24. At the present writing there has been no orchestra chosen, according to Jane Lawrence, treasurer, but anyone who has been to any of the Alumni dances knows that the music will be good. The purpose of this dance is to raise money in order to make up for a deficit from last year. Admission will be fifty cents a ticket. A note complete notice will appear next week.

SESSIONS HOSPITAL

W. A. Ely is making good recovery. A daughter was born Sunday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Gules Meritt of South Lyon.

Miss Marion Shinn was discharged and returned to her home in Northville, Wednesday.

WATER BILLS
DRAW FIRE OF COMMISSIONDelinquency of $400. Must Be Paid, Councilmen
Say

A campaign to clean up delinquent water bills is under way, backed by the village commissioners and the water commissioner, Earl Montgomery, according to plans laid at the commissioners' meeting at the village hall Monday evening.

Delinquent water bills total approximately $400 and councilmen are determined to clean up this balance or resort to drastic measures in forcing payment. Names of the delinquents were read at the meeting and commissioners left no doubt as to their determination in this direction.

Chief of Police Wm. Safford read his report for the month of October which included two arrests for assault and battery and a fatal accident occurring to James Cull on the Northville-Plymouth road at foot of Main street. Chief Safford recommended a rearrangement of the fighting facilities at this point for the protection of both pedestrians and motorists.

The Northville police chief thoroughly excoriated the Wayne county coroner's office for laxty charges that frequently when fatal accidents occur here the body lies in the open for five or six hours before a deputy coroner arrives on the scene. According to the 1931 Michigan law it is forbidden to remove a corpse from the scene of the accident before a representative from the coroner's office arrives which frequently, he says, is from five to seven hours.

He suggested that a licensed Northville physician be elected to the office of justice of the peace, which would automatically give him the power of a deputy coroner. The village attorney will be asked to give a ruling on this before the spring election here.

Strict commissioner Earl Montgomery, suggested to councilmen that if they had any plans for laying new water mains to eliminate "dead ends" they could obtain funds from the R. F. C. for this purpose to be used for labor payments. Councilmen replied to this by stating that if the loan of $2,000 for which the village has applied comes through much of this work can be done. Otherwise, they said, the expense at this time would be too costly.

LEGION AUXILIARY
PLANS BOX SOCIAL
FOR NOVEMBER 17

An old-fashioned box social will be held by the Legion Auxiliary at the American Legion home, Friday, Nov. 17, beginning at 7:30 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to the committee says, "We will also have a fish pond so come on you good fishermen and see what you can catch. Bridge, five hundred and pedro will be the games of the evening with no extra charge for playing. Ladies just bring your boxes with lunch for two inside. There will also be big saw puzzles to work for those who do not wish to play cards. Boys, don't forget your pocketbooks to buy the boxes."

ONE KILLED IN AUTO
ACCIDENT NOV. 3TH

One man was killed when a car skidded off the road at Seven Mile and Farmington roads during a snow storm at approximately seven o'clock Wednesday evening.

Julius Wysocki, 53, who lives at Seven Mile and Inkster road, was a passenger in the car driven by Vincent Jodak of Detroit. There were no witnesses to the accident but, according to officials it is believed that the car skidded off the road and turned over several times killing Wysocki instantly. Jodak was not injured. The two had been gathering firewood and were returning to their homes.

PROF. DONALDSON TO SPEAK HERE

Prof. Bruce M. Donaldson of the Fine Arts division of the University of Michigan will give an extension lecture under the auspices of the Northville Woman's club on Friday, Nov. 17, at 2:30 p. m.

Prof. Donaldson will discuss early American Art and will illustrate his talk with slides.

The public is most cordially invited free of charge.

Northville Theatre Opens Wednesday
Night, Nov. 15, With Bargain Prices;
"Saturday's Millions" To Be Featured

Theatre opens Wednesday night! That good news is gladdening the hearts of Northville children, and their parents who like the movies and like to attend them; like to know that if their children are pinning for an evening's entertainment, they'll be able to get it safely at the show at a small cost because bargain prices of ten cents for children and fifteen for adults will be in effect on Wednesday nights.

As announced last week by Manager Harry Lush, the Northville Penniman Allen theatre will be open twice each week, on Wednesday and Saturday nights. Later, if attendance warrants a Sunday performance will be added to the schedule, promises Mr. Lush. The theatre will be under the local management of Sam Streimlich, also projection operator, who is well known in Northville for his services before the house was closed because of small attendance. Assisting Mr. Streimlich will be Kenneth Beach.

NORTHVILLE TEAM
PLAYS FARMINGTON
HERE TODAY, AT 3:30

A keen rivalry that has existed for years will make the Farmington and Northville game a hard fought battle when the teams meet here this afternoon. Farmington is reputed to have a strong team, having held Walpole Lake to a tie, and defeating the Pontiac high reserves. The game will be no walkaway and whoever wins will have a hard fight.

As the local boys have had, an extra week of practice, without the taste of battle, they should be ready to push Farmington right down the field. Coach Wats has been working on some new formations and the boys will probably show some flashy plays, and they will give us an idea of some of the names that will be seen in the future college line ups.

Ray Westphall is a new addition to the local squad. He is trying out for the local team with lots of support. Let's go and see them play.

LEGION AUXILIARY
PLANS DINNER FOR
TUESDAY, NOV. 14

At the next regular meeting of the auxiliary Nov. 14, a dinner will be served at 6:30 for the Legion and Auxiliary. Two guests, Mr. Wall, district committee man and Fred Lyons, department chief will be present. Officer, who is in charge of the event, will be present to talk.

Auxiliary girls, don't forget to bring your Armistice boxes to the home Friday afternoon Nov. 10 between 12 and 2 o'clock for the ex-soldiers at Maybury sanatorium.

We are also asking for donations for the service basket at Maybury, thread, darning cotton, buttons, tooth brushes, pencils, stationery and socks.

Each Auxiliary girl is asked to bring or send ten cent articles to the next meeting for our fish pond.

SCHOOL TO CASH
$1,000 IN SCRIP
AT LOCAL BANK

There is over one thousand dollars at the Depositors State Bank waiting to be claimed by those having redeemable school scrip. The redeemable numbers are those from A1 to 1238, and B4000 to 4283. The principal and interest are waiting for those holding any of the above numbers. The rest of the scrip will be taken care of just as soon as more of the tax money comes in, according to Supt. Russell H. Amerman Tuesday evening.

Although Northville has no set Armistice Day program and no activities except for the annual Legion dance to be held tomorrow evening at Meadowbrook Inn, Nov. 11 will not go unheeded.

Many from Northville who served in the World war will recall the thrill that came from hearing the announcement that the war was over. Many civilians will recall that dramatic day in 1918 and many who loved ones will never come back will also remember with sadness and a touch of pride. One and all they hope that the sacrifices have not been in vain—that war has been abolished from the annals of history.

NORTHVILLE
VOTES 48 TO
41 FOR PORTElection Here Is Lightest
Held In Many Years

Northville township voted yes on the county port play, 48 to 41, in the lightest election vote this district has polled in years. The county as a whole voted for the plan by a substantial majority.

A total of 56 votes was registered at precinct one, the village hall, 33 favoring the plan and 23 rejecting it. At the booths under Horton's drug store, precinct two, 14 votes were registered against the plan and 15 declared themselves for it.

ARMISTICE DANCE BY LEGION PROMISES TO DRAW LARGE CROWD

Legion Dance tomorrow night! For most of Northville this announcement is sufficient to explain the joy and fun that will come to those who attend the annual event. For those who are not acquainted with the efforts that the Legionnaires put forth in staging a dance, let us give a word of explanation.

The annual Armistice Day dance this year will be Saturday evening, Nov. 11, held at Meadowbrook Inn on the Ten Mile road, one mile east of the Ten Mile road, where King Henry's Broadcasters will play for the dancers on the spacious ballroom floor. There will be three star artists for variety entertainment, coffee and sandwiches for refreshments, and other sundry amusements. All of this is to be paid for the small sum of 75 cents per couple.

In charge of the committee are "Pete" Ely and Bob Yerkes, who have spared neither time, labor, nor expense in securing attractions and accommodations for the dance. The place, Meadowbrook Inn, on Meadowbrook Country club, is easily accessible and within a few minutes drive of Northville. It is on the Ten Mile road and one mile east of the Ten Mile road, and any Northville couple is without transportation they may make arrangements with any Legionnaire to secure a ride to the scene of the merry making. The event will start at one o'clock sharp in the evening. Northville will turn out freely to attend the Armistice Day dance.

THIEVES GET LITTLE AT THE HOME OF
MRS. EVA JOHNSON

During the absence of Mrs. Eva Johnson, N. Wing street, thieves entered the house by prying open a window. Evidence of their having searched the house was found out strange to relate, valuable silver was untouched and only a few bits of jewelry, gloves and silk stockings were taken.

Mrs. Johnson returned home Tuesday evening.

Several members of the local Rotary club attended the annual convention of the clubs in the twenty-third district at Windsor, Ontario, Monday. The principal speaker of the day was H. Scott-Largely Cheltenham, member of the Navy during the war, also a director of International Rotary for the British Isles. His talk was very interesting and dealt with the international aspect of Rotary.

On Tuesday, E. C. Langfield gave a very enlightening talk on the international activities of Rotary, to the local members of the club at their meeting Tuesday noon. At the suggestion of Mr. Langfield's talk, Ned Mills gave a short talk on the World's Fair as he saw it.

TREASURE HUNT TO
THEATRE OPENING

Northville business men are holding a "Treasure Hunt" Wednesday evening, Nov. 15, to celebrate the opening of the Penniman-Allen theatre here.

Tickets will be given out free by all merchants beginning today (Friday) and until Wednesday evening. Lucky numbers will be called at the show and the numbers will be displayed in the merchant's windows. The prizes will be given out the following day, Thursday, Nov. 16.

CONDENSERY WILL BE ALL MOVED IN TWO MORE WEEKS

The transfer of equipment from the local condensery to the new headquarters at La Grange, Indiana, will have been completed within the next two weeks, according to Chas. Thornton, manager of the local branch, and with the exception of three or four machines the new plant is ready for operation; these will probably be ready within the next two weeks.

"La Grange is more centrally located than Northville, being about half way between Detroit and Chicago, and will do away with several of the trucking jobs. It will result in a saving of about sixty dollars a day," stated Thornton. "As our new location is in the center of a very fertile district, we will have all the milk we need."

"It is about one hundred and forty miles from here to La Grange and that haul will be eliminated, the milk will probably be transferred to some other place, although there is nothing definite yet."

When asked if he intended to leave town, Chas. Thornton said that he had a home in Northville that he hated to leave. "For the present, at least, I intend to be in La Grange during the week and come back to Northville every week-end. There are three or four firms now negotiating for the use of the building but at present there is no definite information to be had as to the future use to which the building will be put," he said.

The condensery uses approximately forty tons of milk a day in the making of bread," concluded Mr. Thornton.

DENNISTON ON PROGRAM

At the Saturday morning session of the University Press club of Michigan at Ann Arbor, Captain Edward Denniston, superintendent of the House of Correction here, will be one of the speakers. The forenoon session will be given over to a discussion of the general topic, "Crime and Racketeering," and among the other speakers will be Malcolm Bangs of the Detroit Free Press, Albert M. Ewert, chaplain of the Michigan State prison and Peter F. Grey, warden of the Michigan State prison at Jackson.

HEALTH LECTURE

The health lecture which was to have been given by Dr. Ida Alexander Wednesday morning, was postponed one week. Dr. Alexander having been called to Lansing. A large attendance is urged next Wednesday as the speaker says she has "so much valuable information to give which cannot be otherwise obtained."

METHODIST WOMEN

STATE HELP
FOR SCHOOLS
NEEDED HEREFunds for Operation Will Be Exhausted Early
Coming Year

School money from the primary fund assures the running of the local institution until January, according to Russell H. Amerman, superintendent of Northville schools. "After that the local taxes should come in, in sufficient amount to assure continuance for two months more," he continued. "After that it will be necessary to have State aid if we are to keep the school open until June."

At present, Supt. Amerman stated, the operating expenses are taken from the primary school fund which amounts to about fourteen dollars per child for all those between the ages of five and twenty, living in the district.

CHRISTMAS DISPLAY
HELD AT SCHRADER'S
FURNITURE STORE

An advance showing of Christmas furniture stock now on the floors of the Schrader Furniture store on North Center street. Furniture of the Schrader store will be given away during the Christmas season.

The Schrader store has a number of new pieces of the occasional variety, furniture, and other home accessories. Furniture for the gifts to be given during the Christmas season.

With the introduction of that Schrader Furniture store at Plymouth has closed its door recently. Northville now has the largest furniture store in the Northville district.

SERVICE LEAGUE

The young men of the Service League will sponsor the bazaar to be held in connection with the chicken-pie supper, Tuesday, Nov. 14 at the church house.

After 3 p. m. goods will be on sale in a specially decorated booth. There will be fancy work, dolls, clothes, baby items, stuffed toys, holders, both kitchen and fancy aprons, tiny potted plants, cakes and other baked goods and delicious candies—all marked with "depression prices." There will also be a "grab bag" for the children or grown-ups, full of surprises and fun.

Proceeds from the sale will go into the relief and church work done by the League. This organization, though comparatively new, has already met with considerable success in their ventures and hopes for the same hearty support from the public.

VACATION DATES SET
BY SCHOOL BOARD

At the monthly meeting of the school board, this past Monday evening, the vacation dates for the year were set. Thanksgiving vacation will include November 30-31. Christmas is beginning at the close of school Friday, December 22 to January 2.

Individual chicken pie parties from December 22 and continuing until Monday, April 2. The commencement exercises will take place on Thursday, June 7, and school will close Friday, June 8.

The complete schedule of all school vacations will appear in the Orange and Black section of next week's Record.

FACING DISCOURAGEMENTS

This morning, as we write this, there are many business men who are low in spirits. We know, because they tell us how they feel and we know how we feel a good many times. The other day, in another town, a man told us there were three or four business men in the city who were seriously considering quitting their business. They felt that with all the burdens pressed down upon them, they simply could not carry on any longer.

The same worry that the business man feels comes to the factory worker, to the farmer, to the clerk, to the young man who is starting out for himself. The same discouragement comes to the mother and housekeeper who looks to her pocketbook and finds it thin or entirely empty.

How are we all to meet these discouraging days? We can do two things: "Keep heads up" or slump down and take it "lying down." A factor sometimes overlooked is that our physical condition has a lot to do with our fighting spirits. If we are full of vigor and life, it is much easier to keep optimistic than it is when our physical frame is limping along at less than one hundred per cent. In driving in and around Northville we have sometimes almost envied the welfare workers out in the open air, doing fine physical exercise that must put them in good spirits to battle the worries that surround themselves and their families. If they had to be just sitting around the house and wishing for something to do, their spirits would drag down themselves and everyone around them. Plainly it is our duty to keep physically fit.

Perhaps the best way to meet these discouraging days is to learn a little as possible on material things and then in the second place to remember that there must be light ahead. Of course we have for these four years of hard times been told that it would be better very soon. The "just around the corner" formula has made us all more or less resentful of futile promises that faded out like the mist before the sun. And yet, all our previous depressions have come to an end and this one will do the same. Good business men are saying that "Next spring you will see things moving." Let's believe they are right and maybe one of these days, not so far off, things will be swinging our way. "Heads up!" everyone! A better day must come.

BUILDING A HOME

If you were going to build a home, what would you want it to be? Some folks say that people who are building homes now—or shall we say, planning to build?—are getting more discriminating. We got to wondering just what that means.

Here is part of what we should like in the house:

Lots of sunshine. Months ago we slept in a room and woke up in the morning to find that it had fourteen windows. Outside of the washing of that array of glass, those windows looked very cheery to us.

A large living room. One twenty-five feet long with plenty of width. Space enough for a group of friends to come in and talk together, without having to "park" part of them out in the hall.

A fireplace. One makes dirt for the housewife but life has its compensations and if there are things that are more consoling to man than a cheery fireplace, fed by Michigan beech, maple or oak, we don't want them. We think more kindly thoughts around the blaze of the fireplace than anywhere else—except, perchance, it be out among the flowers that Friend Wife has so carefully planted and nursed along.

A room for books, pictures and papers and a personal desk.

An outdoor sleeping porch, even though such do not seem to be the vogue any more.

Two bathrooms (as a boy we grew up with no bathroom—save the family tub).

Insulated walls that would make it cool in the summer and warm in the winter.

An intimate connection of the garage with the house, without the garage being half the house.

A little land around the house.

GENERAL JOHNSON, THE SOLDIER

Some one points out that one reason General Hugh S. Johnson, NRA head, gets into so much trouble is that he thinks he is heading an army and that the American people are his soldiers. The general is a former army officer and he thinks in terms of the army. He believes he can command men and they will jump at his orders—for that is the way they do in the army. Most army men we know who hold high office are that way—give them power and they can't resist taking toll from the poor private who can't talk back without going to the guard-house.

The NRA general is finding out that the people of this United States are not soldiers but individuals with their rights and they won't be coerced. They can be led but not driven. That is the reason that one of these days you will be hearing that, for some reason or other, General Hugh S. Johnson will not be the NRA chief any longer.

APPENDICITIS WARNING

If you think you have signs of appendicitis, do not use cathartics, warns Dr. F. A. Collier, director of the department of surgery at the University of Michigan. Of the 20,000 who die annually in the United States from appendicitis, he says, the majority could be saved by prompt recognition of the disease, by leaving purgatives alone and by an operation in the early stages.

If you think you have appendicitis, lose not a minute in seeing your family doctor. Time is not money then but it may prove to be life.

WHAT WILL AL SMITH DO?

Reading of the political news shows that gradually but surely there seems to be a rift rising between President Roosevelt and his former close friend, Al Smith of Brown Derby fame.

The administration is said to be worried over the coolness of Smith and his opposition to the president's plans. He may well worry. Smith will never be president himself but he is going to have a lot to do with the election of our next president and no man knows that better than President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

WANDERING THOUGHTS

Forty-four more days to Christmas!

"Never morning wore to night but some heart did break," we thought the other day as we passed the house on our street where the baby had slipped from life into eternity.

The NRA isn't making the Detroit barbers rich. Picked up one in the outskirts of Detroit the other day and he thanked us very sincerely, we thought, for saving him six cents in care fare. The previous week he had made $6.45.

"I always think I have won the argument when the other fellow bangs the telephone receiver down on me," says a friend. In other words, "He that is slow to anger is better than he that taketh a city." And yet we have great respect for the man who has some temper.

Our boy Paul has been a football cripple all the fall. First wrenched fingers, then torn muscles, neck broken ribs and injured knees. What we didn't look for, was for him to come home with a stitch in his tongue after it had been cut. "Well, don't worry," said a friend. "Hurt tongues heal in a week." We couldn't help but think how fine it would be if the wounds that come from some tongues could be healed in a week.

The easiest thing in the world to criticize is a newspaper. The reason is that any good newspaper tries to serve all kinds of people and it is simply impossible to please them all, all the time. If you get the true story back of any criticism of most any newspaper, you will usually find the story of some one with an axe to grind. We just got to thinking this, not because of what anyone said about this newspaper, but because of what a good friend—who should have known better—was saying about a paper in another town.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

Would you steal rather than see your children go hungry?

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

THE A B C OF CREDIT

(Schuyler Marshall in The Clinton County Republican-News)

We have often thought that it would be a good idea to have business men in every town where there is a high school talk to the junior and senior classes on certain subjects. If we can't teach old dogs new tricks it seems impossible then why not teach young dogs old tricks?

There are certain simple fundamentals that every young person should become conversant with. One is the matter of credit. People who deserve credit generally get it. Those who fail to get credit become bitter, despondent and sometimes desperate.

Let us illustrate. One of the government farm appraisers just recently said "Get another man on that farm and we will loan you double what you are asking. With your present tenant, we refuse to loan a cent." In other words, credit today in every line of business is hanging more and more upon the individual. In the particular case mentioned above farm implements were scattered about the premises, barn doors were flapping up, a hundred holes in the roofs, and a hundred evidences of indolence and waste told the government appraiser that no matter how fertile the land, a loan was a poor risk with this individual on the job.

Young boys who will later become farmers should hear this presented by some capable business man. There are a score of other subjects, each sound and pertinent, and entirely within the comprehension of young-

"THE UNITED STATES has given more consideration to building and loan associations than any other type of an institution and for the very good reason that these associations have accomplished the most wholesome results in thrift and home ownership, and the promotion of these objects is absolutely essential to the welfare of the United States."

HOOVER ANSWERED HUMANITY'S CALL

(Howard City Record)

J. N. Darling, the cartoonist, told this story after his return from a fishing trip with former President Herbert Hoover:

"On the second morning in camp an old-timer from the place gold mining territory along the mountain stream came up to our door and knocked. He looked troubled and said he had a girl who was sick."

"Mr. Hoover grabbed his hat and went with the man to his home after having telephoned for a doctor."

"When he arrived at the home we found one girl dead from starvation and seven other children sadly undernourished."

"Mr. Hoover had the seven children taken to a hospital, then he telephoned a friend and told him he wanted $1,000. He finally raised a fund of $3,030 and then found a school teacher whom he instructed to administer the fund and told her if more was needed to let him know."

"Mr. Hoover did not fish that day."

GIVING

("I Thought to Myself" Column in The Dearborn Press)

"I am a great believer in the truth that the man who likes to give, and does give, will always have something to give. Personally, I have never been able to understand persons whose souls are so tightly grown to their possessions that any gift to another is like tearing off pieces of skin with a pincher."

There are such people, and they are neither to be hated or damned, they are to be greatly pitied. Some of them are so because of their congenital pinchedness of nature, others because of some experience in their lives which compelled them to watch the pennies, and they contracted a habit they cannot dislodge. And there are others who simply have never been taught to give.

VANDENBURG FOR PRESIDENT

(Frank Bryce in The Grand Ledger Independent)

It surely is pretty good when a man like Senator Vandenburg is mentioned first for the presidency, on the Republican ticket by one of the highest officials of the democratic party. James A. Farley, postmaster general the man who ran the democratic campaign last year is wronged, and hopes to find some way of beating Vandenburg for the senate in the coming election. He hopes in this way to remove him from the political picture as he regards him the most formidable Republican presidential timber. The Independent knows of no man who would make a greater president of these United States than our own Senator Arthur H. Vandenburg!

WHAT KIND OF POLISH?

(Vern Brown in Ingham County News)

Magazine readers are now having the matter of nail polish placed before them. Whether the polish should be red, yellow or other varying shades appears to be an issue of the hour.

After glancing at one of the advertisements in a current magazine we are reminded of Will Rogers' remark that what the country needs is dirtier finger nails and cleaner minds and another quip that the only women who look good in make-up are those who look good anyway.

Why any woman of average intelligence believes that her beauty is enhanced by gobs of color smeared on her nails is something we can't answer.

GERMAN GIRLS CAN'T SMOKE

(M. H. DePoe in The Charlotte Republican-Tribune)

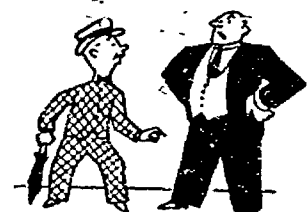

Attorney-Pisk Bangs in a very interesting talk, told the Rotary club Tuesday noon that Hitler has absolutely stopped smoking by German girls.

The premier justifies his action on the admittedly correct biological premise that the first duty of a nation is to perpetuate the race in the highest possible physical state. Cigarette smoking mothers, as far as official Germany is concerned, cannot produce the type of German youth that can endure.

In Italy, Mussolini has made an edict correspondingly drastic. In America we find the government more interested in revenue than the future physical strength of the nation. In fifty years from now imagine the contrast between the youth of Germany and America! Germany knows that in the race for self preservation the first step is manpower. Private greed has been swept aside for the good of the state.

We favor dictators who are courageous and intelligent enough to put national health and well being ahead of the prosperity of a favored few who have no regard for the nation's safety as represented in human bodies.

No nation (or governing class) that lives upon unearned incomes can be other than weak at the vitals.—Ferguson.

The most crying need of today is to build creative character that will serve the world's new life.—Basil Mathews.

An advertisement of liquor is a distinct appeal, through increased consumption, to increased intemperance.—Bishop C. W. Burns.

Under our present form of education Americans as individuals are great men; but collectively we are a failure.—William J. Mayo.

The Crown Prince of Germany asked Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., according to the Red Book Magazine (June, 1933), "What do you think of Hitler?" The brutal reply was, "Have you ever heard of Senator Huey Long and Billy Sunday? Hitler impressed me as a cross between the two. Ruthless as Huey Long, hysterical as Billy Sunday."

The more interesting question is not why the Great War was begun, but why the Great War was not anticipated and prevented.—Wells in his Short History.

Our generation is a generation which is pleasure loving. It resembles more the Roman Empire in the period of its decadence than any other period in history. And it will go that way unless good people try to do something about it.—A. Lawrence Lowell.

We have overcome physical environment, so now we must study relations with one another. The challenges and responses of a further growth should come from within our civilization, rather than outside it.—Prof Arnold J. Toynbee, of the University of London.

This nation still has time to choose between guided recovery and unguided revolt. The ghost of social revolution is at our windows, and whatever immunities may be found in the NRA program, it is deserving of the unwavering support of the nation.—Glenn Frank.

An Opportunity

TO PROVE TO YOURSELF THAT ELECTRIC COOKERY IS WHAT YOU WANT

During the trial period, you pay for the service as registered by your meter, plus a monthly charge of $1 for the Waldorf electric range or $1.25 for the Electrochef. If you decide that you do not want the stove, it will be removed—the range and the wiring—without charge to you. If you decide to keep the range, your monthly payments will be applied toward the purchase price of the range.

Electric cooking is modern and most desirable and not expensive. Once you have learned of its advantages—the delicious flavor it imparts to foods; its cleanliness, coolness, and convenience—we feel that you will be converted to Electric Cooking.

Applications for ranges will be filled as quickly as possible in the order that they are received. Send in your request early to avoid delay in delivery. Call any Detroit Edison office.

Read What One Electrochef User Says:
 "I like the Electrochef more each day and find it economical to use. Electric cooking is not at all expensive. Everything is just splendid, and I cannot praise the range too highly."

Enjoy These Advantages of Electric Cooking!

CLEAN. Electric heat is as clean as sunlight. Imagine a stove that supplies only PURE heat from a glowing wire! There is no smoke or soot to blacken stoves or scorch kitchen walls and curtains.

WATERLESS COOKING. With your electric range you use no water for roasts and only half a cup for vegetables.

MODERN. Unusually attractive in design, these modern electric ranges do much to brighten and add a feeling of newness to your entire kitchen. They are finished in smooth, lustrous porcelain. They are metal—features of special importance to the woman who likes to keep things clean.

HEALTHFUL. Electric cooking seals in nourishing fats and natural elements in meats and vegetables.
Important minerals are retained, instead of being lost in steam. Half a cup of water is ample to cook vegetables, and there is no flavor-laden residue of water to be poured down the sink.

...when the cooking

FLAVORED. Electric cooking has a deliciously different flavor—a natural flavor in foods. Meats and fishes cook to melting tenderness in their own juices, and cakes are light and fine-grained, with a crisp, even texture. You must TASTE the golden, flaky biscuits and flaky pastries that one can bake

Society Notes

Mrs. Neal Entertains

Between-Ourselves Club—

Mrs. Bertha Neal was coronal hostess to a party of fourteen friends to the Between-Ourselves club Monday afternoon. Following lunch, the group gathered for a game of bridge. Mrs. John R. Walker was a guest.

Mrs. and Mrs. Balder Entertain

Party of Friends—

Mrs. and Mrs. Frank Balder were hosts to a party of fourteen friends at a Halloween party at their home on North Center street, Tuesday evening, Oct. 31. The guests came in costume and were ushered to the garage where jack-o-lanterns and autumn leaves and gay decorations had transformed the place into a bower of beauty.

Laying aside their dipping, the company bobbed for apples and played customary games of youth. Refreshments were served.

Friendly Club Surprises Mrs. Payne

On Her Anniversary—

Shortly before noon on Saturday, Mrs. Margaret Payne was about to prepare lunch a party of neighbors banded in laden with all kinds of good things to eat. The table was stretched to its full length and a company of eight, who call themselves the "Friendly Club" sat down together sociably.

The occasion was the birthday of Mrs. Payne and she was showered with the kind greetings of these friends. In the party were Mrs. Payne, Mrs. A. E. Whitehead, Mrs. A. M. Whitehead, Mrs. A. K. Dolph, Mrs. S. S. Staller, Mrs. Fred Miles, Mrs. Ethel Seely, all of Northville, and two guests, Mrs. Phoebe Williams of Detroit and Mrs. Mae West of West Branch.

The afternoon was spent visiting and playing "cooey."

Miss Hamilton Honored

At Grennan Ranch Home—

Due to an oversight, an account of the Halloween party given in honor of Miss Gretchen Hamilton, of Farmerest Farms, last Tuesday, Oct. 31, was omitted in last week's issue.

The party was held in the Grennan Ranch House and was attended by some twenty-five young-folks from Northville and Plymouth.

Dancing occupied most of the evening and refreshments were served. Although not a masquerade, a mysterious Halloween motif was used. Mrs. Joe Denton acted as emcee.

Service League Takes Up

Study of Music—

A large group of Service League members met at the pleasant country home of Mrs. Josephine Kuehn on the Beck road Tuesday evening, with Mrs. Bernice Denton assisting hostess.

Following the business routine and devotional period a new phase in the program—the study of music was taken up. Mrs. Louise Wagner gave a very excellent paper on Brahms, sketching his life and works and comparing him with other noted German composers. To illustrate his type of music Miss Frances Cousins was present to play the "Cradle Song" as a violin solo.

Dainty refreshments served by the hostesses and sewing for the bazaar completed a very successful affair.

Octette Club Meets for First Time

With Mrs. Wilson—

The Octette club held its initial meeting of the season at the home of one of its members, Mrs. Charles Wilson, Wing street, Monday evening. Bridge was played during the evening with honors being won by Mrs. K. H. Babbitt and Miss Helen Leonardson.

A delectable lunch was served at the close of the games.

Young Women's Bridge Club

Dines With Husbands—

At the end of a tournament at bridge the four losing members are treating the winners at dinner this evening. The hostesses are Mesdames A. H. Steele, Geo. W. Staller, H. F. Wagenschutz and Sterling Eaton and the guests are Mesdames Harold Bloom, Robert Coolman, Ward, Masters and Miss Reva Schrader. The "gentleman friends" will be included in the party.

Carman Family Is Surprised

At Farewell Party—

Mrs. L. Q. Carman and three children, Eugene, Cyrena and Grace were happily surprised on Wednesday evening when a party of seventeen members of the Sunday school class and the World Wide Guild, dropped in for a farewell good time together before the Carmans leave for the south. Mrs. Carman has been leader of the Guild and both she and her family will be missed.

Refreshments were served at the end of the evening.

Mrs. Todd Entertains

Nellie Yerkes Auxiliary—

The Nellie Yerkes Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. Katherine Todd, on Tuesday evening, Nov. 7. With a large number in attendance the evening began with a pot-luck supper at 6:30 after which the regular business meeting was held. Mrs. Fred Whitfield sang some of the songs from the book of Psalms and a report of the recent musical service and social fund activities were discussed. The new members were welcomed into the society during the evening. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Lillian Ely, Goddard avenue, Nov. 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Richardson

Entertain at Southern Supper—

A party of "colored people" enjoyed an old-fashioned southern supper at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Richardson, Friday evening.

The guests came in grotesque evening costumes and spent a merry evening after a sumptuous chicken supper.

Mrs. Newman of Pontiac

Visited by Friends—

A number of former neighbors of Mrs. A. G. Newman, who lived on South Wing street, some years before the family moved to Pontiac, motored to that city Thursday to help celebrate her birthday anniversary and to enjoy a pleasant reunion as a group. Included were Mrs. C. B. Turnbull, Mrs. Inez Brock, Mrs. Lally Angell and Mrs. H. P. Blake, a daughter of Mrs. Newman.

Senior Mothers' Card Party

Another Pleasant Event—

Another pleasant and successful card party was given at the high school gym on the evening of Thursday, Nov. 2, when the mothers of the seniors sponsored the affair for the benefit of the fund for their annual trip next June.

Thirty tables played, interest in the tournament is increasing and the scores are posted and watched with interest.

The door prize, a beautiful casserole, a gift of Fred Lyke, was won by Mrs. McKenna. Delicious refreshments concluded the evening. Mrs. E. B. Grosvenor in charge.

The next party will occur on Nov. 23. Save the date.

Mr. and Mrs. Carman Are Given

Farewell Dinner—

To bid farewell to their friends, Mr. and Mrs. L. Q. Carman, before they leave for their new home in Louisville, Kentucky, a company of 15 officers and teachers of the Baptist Sunday school met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Montgomery Tuesday evening.

Dinner was served at six o'clock with a signboard in the center of the table a relief map indicating the way to Louisville. A toy car was loaded with the fare Carmans en route to their home in the south. Place cards were tag catches containing verses which were read aloud. Games and a pleasant social time concluded a parting visit with the friends.

Northville Woman's Club

Welcomes Teachers—

The Northville Woman's club welcomed the teachers of the public school at a reception at the public library on Friday evening, Nov. 3. The affair was most informal in every way, affording a pleasant opportunity for both teachers and townfolks to become better acquainted.

Mrs. C. M. Chase, president of the club, welcomed the teachers in a few well-chosen words.

Following a social time a short program was given. A one-act play, "Joint Owners in Spain" facetiously representing an old ladies' home, was presented by a cast of four characters. Miss Florence Johnson was the matron and Mrs. A. H. Steele, Miss Eleanor Grosvenor and Miss Gertrude Deal were the "old ladies." Miss Reva Schrader directed the play which was greatly enjoyed causing much merriment.

The appearance of the male quartet, Messrs. Pierre Kenyon, Leslie G. Lee, Carl H. Bryan and Alfred Smith, also gave pleasure in several numbers.

During the informal social time of greeting each other ice cream and cake were served. The affair was planned and carried out by the social committee of which the following are members: Mrs. H. S. Willis, Mrs. D. B. Soley, Mrs. Scott A. Lovell, Mrs. T. G. Phillips, Mrs. H. Handorf, and Mrs. Rural Clark.

THE OTHER DAY

By Miss "15"

A new pledge of Phi Kappa Sigma on sorority at Yps is Bernice Clark. Sally Richardson has joined the Presbyterian church choir. Florence McKee sang in the Methodist choir Sunday. Sam Staller is thinking of buying a yo-yo. Kenneth Kerr and Kenneth Marlin took in "Tim No Angel" Monday evening. Esther Parmenter will be in charge of the ticket booth at the Penniman-Alles theatre when it opens next Wednesday. What could Bill Dundas have been working so industriously at in the Chemistry lab room Tuesday? Hope he wasn't playing with fire. Mabel Fleischman and Myrtle Lemmon look very unifty in their green and white uniforms they wear while serving at Fry's. Tom Carrington was industriously washing the windows of the post office one day while he was at home over the week-end from Ypsilanti. Orlin Fossate is enjoying his studies at M. P. Pleasant.

Harry Cassie was visiting in town Saturday. Ella Tibbo has decided to follow in her brother's footsteps and will become a teacher.

woman. She has entered a school of beauty culture in Detroit. Violet Sheppard was a visitor in Detroit, Sunday. Esther Parmenter and Ruth Mary Baldwin were shopping in Detroit Tuesday afternoon. Monroe Weston's last day at home will always be memorable to him—his last time at playing football with serious consequences (ask him how serious). Monroe and Ronald Basley left Thursday for California, where they will stay for a number of weeks. The trip will be made in Monroe's car.

It is hoped that Coach Daugherty from Albion college will be present at both the pep meeting and the Northville-Farmington game this afternoon. Gertrude Deal and Florence Johnson were in Detroit Saturday. While there they heard the Mills Brothers at the Michigan theatre.

Alex Milne is a new addition to the Record staff. George Richardson is in the collecting business. Sylvia Hassenzahl is a newcomer to the younger group of Northville and is living with her parents at the former Willis home in Cakwood. Sylvia is a graduate of the U. of M. and we are glad to welcome her to Northville's social circle.

At present she is interested in the G. L. Scott work in Royal Oak.

It looks as though George Basley will have to be the mainstay at the C. P. Smith grocery store now that Ronald has left.

Are you all coming to the Northville-Farmington game this afternoon? Stand by your team!

Advertising is a less expensive method of salesmanship. Use it!

BAPTIST LADIES' AID

The Baptist Aid will meet at the church on Thursday, Nov. 16, at 2:30 p. m. This is one week ahead of the regular date and was necessary because of special business. All members please be present.

Wee! Wee! Wee! Wee!

A newly married couple were entertaining and among the guests was one whose conduct was rather flippant. At supper he held up on his fork a piece of meat which had been served him, and in a vein of intended humor, remarked, "Is this pig?"

"To which end of the fork do you refer?" asked a quiet-looking man sitting at the other end of the table.

Fairly running over with solid contentment are the pages written by a young mother of a little family to which a new one has been added and is "the most kind of a plaything" to its elders.

Still another describes how she arose to the emergency and staged a hurried-up wedding when daughter dashed home from the city with the man of her choice announcing that they had "come home to be married."

Flighted with tears is a brief note telling of hopeless illness in our family. Very tenderly we handle several. We just can't burn them now for the hands that wrote them are forever still.

Another writes of falling leaves and the saving of cooking chili sauce on an autumn day and from another we catch the "boom of the Pacific" from the mountain cabin.

Through all there runs a thread of affection and courage. Letters, though minute, must not depress.

One writes of the loyalty of the youngest daughter in their broken home; another hopes to keep her home in old age.

"One motherly soul urges us not to overdo. 'I suppose I worked hard when I was young,' she says, 'but I always had time to play. My brother always called our home the 'play house!'"

From the far West one former neighbor writes of having found our friendship too late and of writing a year away when she looked across into the yard next door "where an empty little swing swayed loneliness."

When the pangs of homesickness are gnawing at our hearts in that strange land can this word from our father, "Cheer up, brave soldiers have had this same malady. And don't I know? Haven't I gone many a time out to the barn to hitch up old Major, to take some dirt ore to the train! Then the storm broke over my head and the rains fell there alone." Oh, no, we can't burn this letter!

And then three painfully written, crooked, little notes—the first efforts of our children—We'll keep these, I guess.

DO YOU REMEMBER WHEN?

Northville was officially named in April, 1922.

There were 600 people in Northville as far back as 1871.

Wm. Carlton, the poet, was a poet of Northville in 1872.

Cord oil street lamps were installed in the village in November, 1879.

Who the village officers were after the election in March, 1873? Pr. J. A. F. Bedford, trustees, Eli K. Simonds and Charles Smith; treasurer, Darwin E. Northrop; clerk, Charles B. Horton; assessor, Chas. E. Clarkson; and marshal, Harry M. Harrington.

Who were the business people in 1874? They were Michigan School Furniture Co.; L. W. Hutton & Co. carriages and wagons; Northville and the Argo Mills; William P. Hungerford and Lapham & Swift, and L. G. N. Randolph, general merchants; Randolph & Ambler and Chas. R. Stevens, druggists; Albert E. Rockwell, jeweler; Beal & Northrop, hardware; John Sands & Co. furniture; V. O. Whipple, harness maker; Miss Mary Wheeler, millinery; H. B. King, lumber; A. S. Lapham & Co. bankers.

We had a pure food factory here managed by Dr. Ramage?

The shade cloth factory was considered for a cereal food factory?

An open mill race ran alongside the lower end of East Cady street?

Many of these letters are from casual friends who were like "ships that passed in the night." We hate to lose them but there isn't time to keep up correspondence. Slowly, regretfully, a heap of these are dropped into the fire and we reach out our hands as if again to be warmed by friendships too beautiful to lose.

But, besides, is there a little pile that we will keep till some other day—not now!

Yellow Cake

Mrs. Chas. E. Rogers

Mrs. Rogers' birthday cake called forth much praise from her guests who asked for the recipe.

One and one-half cups sugar (small) half, 4-cup butter, 3-cup milk, 2 cups flour (sifted before sifting), 2 teaspoons baking powder, 3 eggs. Put together in the usual order. Bake in a round loaf tin. (Mrs. Rogers used "Seven Minute" icing.)

FINAL HOME GAME WILL BE PLAYED TODAY

Farmington Is Last Foe To Meet Northville Here

Northville meets Farmington today at 3:30. Since several boys, because of injuries, may or may not play, the line-up has not been selected.

Second in importance to the Plymouth game is the Farmington game. "We have long been rivals of the latter school whose teams are usually way above the average."

Coach Watts predicts a hard battle with Farmington today. They have an excellent backfield, a good line, and are an all around tough team.

The officials, Mr. O'Leary and Mr. McCullough, will come from Ypsilanti.

Turn out and see Northville in this last home game.

SOCIETY

Eddie Bender attended the football game between Michigan State and Kansas State last Saturday at Lansing.

Peggy Blake entertained a bridge club consisting of Marie Humbricht, Dick Shipley, Henry Hoffman, Marion Turnbull, Kenneth Eichen, Mary Elizabeth Ekman, and Robert Christensen, last Saturday evening. Stanley Taylor, Nick Peckham, and Harold and Violet Booth went to the Ford Exposition, Tuesday.

Betty Keckin spent the week-end with Mary Jane Lester.

Eleonor Booth and Norma Van Blyke went to the Detroit Health Sunday.

HELP CHILDREN GET THE MILK THAT THEY NEED

Your child has come! In the kindergarten there are several children whose parents cannot afford to give them that milk-essential food for building milk. The little tots will be helped by the fact that the milk is free if their health is impaired in the kindergarten.

Wouldn't you like to perform an act of kindness by helping these tiny youngsters? The cost is very small; only fifteen cents a week per child. Surely, that is not too much to ask.

If you are interested, please call the school office or get in touch with Miss Anne Richards, instructor of the kindergarten.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

Question. Do you think German should be taught in public high schools?

Miss Palmer—Yes, provided the school is large enough. The German language is just as valuable to scientists and professional men as French or Latin. However, in small schools there are not enough students interested in languages to warrant two modern languages at the same time.

Tom McCullough—Yes, I think so. Because it is as educational as French and is as necessary.

Ida Altman—It was once taught and I can see no reason why it should not be taught now.

Robert Reed—Yes, in view of the fact that it is the language of a highly respected and intelligent people.

Alice Boelens—French and German rank about the same in importance but most probably a student would have little need for either language unless he expected to educate himself in a scientific or a certain professional field where these courses would be beneficial, and such courses demand higher education—so why couldn't German be studied in college?

Jane Lester—It would be well if we could have it taught in our school, but I don't think it is as important as French, for that is the language that is spoken at the League of Nations.

Dorothy McKner—I believe German would be just as valuable, and in many instances a great deal more practical than Latin. Lots of progressive schools are offering German in the place of French, and I think it would be wise if our school did the same.

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

Stubbornness

Stubbornness, obstinacy, or just plain "mushiness" makes many enemies for anyone who practices it. In an argument the person may be wrong but, because of this vice, won't admit it. Then again, it is sometimes a good fault. It has helped us (we, by the way, have a superabundance) out of many difficulties. Everyone should so those who know, say, try to conquer stubbornness, try to give up gracefully when one is wrong, and try to do many other things to make himself more agreeable.

Well, we have tried—quite extensively too, we might add in our own defense—to swallow the words which were wont to pour forth when we're angry, and we've tried so diligently to be more or less pleasant to others even though we were very sure that they were wrong. But we confess it just doesn't work. Maybe some of you have more will power, more perseverance, more character, than we have, so you will be successful. Anyway, good luck when you try it.

Conceit

Since we are reforming the world, it might not be unwise to cite the harms of conceit.

It really does make anyone hampered by it practically intolerable. There are several in N. H. S. who are afflicted by it—not mentioning any names, of course. Theodore Roosevelt said that "to be patronizing is as offensive as to be insulted." Conceited people are inclined to patronizing or condescending, so take the hint you've got and you'll be just a "regular fellow."

We were going to expound our theories on hero-worship, but when it became necessary to admit that we thought Greta Garbo was the star supreme, and that a certain teacher was quite perfect, we stopped.

"Gracious, the athletic department is getting expensive," said one of the Student Council members when adding up the bills that need to be paid. Quite true, dear member, quite true.

COMMERCIAL NOTES

Ruth Grotz is the new typewriting student in the 3rd hour class. Betty Randall holds the 4th accuracy record to date. She typed 22 words a minute with only one error.

Helen Cannon and her most class in the Class Work Honor Roll in typewriting with first place. Grace a class second. On the Practice Work Honor Roll, Vera Horsfall, with first place, Grace, Marie Johnson, Eddie Bender and Anthony Lamotte next in line.

The Shorthand One Class is really writing quickly and accurately. The majority of the class can write 10 words a minute on repeated matter. It looks like Mr. Grotz's standard too.

The Bookkeeping One Class began Set One this week. If you see the expressions on their faces, it's because Cash went balance or Mr. Allen the proprietor withdrew too much money from the business for what he had in it.

Alvin Ruman, Alice Masters, Stanley Taylor and Harold Booth have a record of 100 over a group of four subtraction tests given in the Commercial Arithmetic class.

Mr. Armerman is a very able mechanic as well as a good superintendent. He has fixed typewriters several times and saved us the trouble of waiting for a repair man from Detroit.

Each student in typewriting is going to have a graph upon which he can keep track of his increase in accuracy and speed. The blue error line becomes a dangerous red line when it climbs above 5. When the error line climbs, the accuracy line will drop. A low error line always means a high accuracy line.

Many Good Times Had At Camp Interlochen By Northville Girls

(By Florence Johnson)

It was one of those beautiful summer evenings (you read of them now and then) and the place was Camp Interlochen. Three of us girls were wandering along the narrow paths which wound their way through the woods. We had reached a section where cabins were sprinkled here and there, when to our ears came the most beautiful music we had ever heard. From one of the cabins floated some beautiful strains from a violin and all the pent-up emotions of the player seemed to be poured into the solo. It was almost uncanny to hear the song when the rest of the woods was so dark and mysterious looking. It sounded more like the song of some woodland sprite. We paused as long as we dared, and then slowly wended our way back to the hotel, the sobbing of the violin still faintly echoing in our ears. This was only one of the many delightful experiences which we encountered during our stay.

It was fun listening to some wonderful artist, known throughout the world, in a concert, and then accidentally bumping into him the next day in some informal manner. (Perhaps in a bathing suit or in the regular Camp regalia.) How it amused us to hear a group of the head counselors practicing chromatic scales in a singing class.

(We didn't think we were so bad after that.)

Much merriment was caused by one of our group, who persisted in gathering sea shells to take home, and can that girl get. Just come up and ask us sometime!

One night all of us Northvillians were gathered on a hillside singing all the songs we knew or had ever heard of. We were right in the middle of "He sat on her tombstone and boo hoo he cried," and were drawing out the "boo hoo's" when we heard a regular war whoop and the first thing we knew we were surrounded by almost all of the State Chorus. I don't know how long we would have continued, if Mr. Giddings hadn't come along just then, right in the midst of "Sweet Adeline." He made some remarks about barber-shaving.

It was just having all the girls from our town in one section of the hotel. The counselor didn't seem to agree though when she came down and reproved us for making too much noise. We quieted down when we heard the "slumber music" for who wouldn't when you could hear "Mood Indigo" or "Indian Love Call" come through his windows? We felt rather sad on our last morning. We hated saying goodbye to all our newly made friends and to the Camp itself, from which we had derived such good times.

INDUSTRY AND TRADE DEMAND GOOD CHARACTER

(By Paul B. Thompson)

Having worked in the engineering department of a large manufacturing company in the state, it has been my privilege and opportunity to observe the character of other men at work.

I have seen good, capable men dismissed from their work because they had a certain weakness in their character.

In some cities it is almost impossible for a person to obtain employment with another firm after being dismissed by his employer; the employment department of the firms all cooperate for the purpose of having a good check on all employees. Most employment departments of today keep a very complete record of their employees. Even others go so far as to make secret investigations as the character of their workers.

I know of one company that makes a business of investigating sales people. They will send buyers into a large department store to make purchases and in doing so they are rating the ability and character of salesmen. Later a report is made to the manager. This is merely one example of how workers are investigated.

Such qualities of Honesty, Ability, Loyalty, Dependability, Courtesy, Reliability, Accuracy, Speed, Thoroughness and Personality are only a few of the traits one should possess.

I will give a few examples which I have personally observed. The names used are fictitious. First we will take the case of George. He was a capable draftsman of a pleasant personality. His work was excellent in detail, but he was slow. One day the chief engineer and the superintendent of the experimental departments were discussing a drawing that George was working on. Instead of listening, George at once began expressing his opinion on this particular job, which was a fatal mistake, because a day or two later he was looking for another position.

The thing he should have done was to have kept quiet while his superiors were talking and when they had finished he should have discussed or expressed his beliefs with the chief engineer.

This is a good example of lack of courtesy when your superiors are discussing the job you are working on.

Now we will take the case of Jack, another draftsman of ability. A draftsman has a certain amount of material and parts that are trusted to his keeping. He has them for reference for doing his work, and it is therefore it is necessary that he be allowed considerable freedom around the shop.

Jack took advantage of this and within a very short time he was seen going out to his car in the parking lot. Nothing was said then, but when he started home at night he and his car were searched at the gate and a transformer was found.

The result was evident. Jack went to another city to look for work, and other employees suffered the humiliation of being searched before they left for home.

Anyone must be very stupid to attempt to get away with parts from a good manufacturing company. They have a way of proving how many parts are produced, regardless of how minor they may seem. This is an example where the employee practiced dishonesty at a very high price. I might add that in this case it is probable that a note was sent to many other engineering departments in that district concerning this individual.

Now this last example concerns something I shall never forget. This person, whom we'll call Bill, had the kind of a job which many draftsmen wish for. He had his own room, and was given much freedom. He was speedy, accurate, and his drawings were always neat and well done. I have yet to see his equal in these qualities.

I never knew what happened to Bill, but most likely his position went to his head, because he was soon taking more liberty than was necessary and could never be depended upon to do the correct work. Finally one day the plant superintendent ordered him downtown and a check-up showed that Bill was out of place. He was dismissed from the company and a capable individual was given his place.

Why do some people work for years to get up the ladder of success and then in some foolish way jump off?

Anyone who has the opportunity to go to high school or college has the finest chance to train and develop his character, and he should not fail to make the very best of it. You only have to compare the advantages offered a student of today with those of yesterday and you will surely appreciate our present day educational system.

I know that all of you will not agree with this article, but just the same it is a fact. You might just

SECOND CARD TOURNAMENT BIG SUCCESS

F. W. Lyke Donates Door Prize Won By Mrs. G. McKenna

On November 2 the seniors had their second, in a series of six, card parties. The next one will be held the twenty-third of this month and will begin promptly at eight o'clock.

One hundred and twelve people (twenty-eight ladies) attended and were served coffee and cake by some of the senior boys and girls. The cakes, chocolate, white, almond layer, fruit and coconut, as well as the coffee and cream, were furnished by Mrs. Grosvenor, head of the refreshment committee, who stated that the food will be different at the following party. The prize for the table was a pack of Hamilton playing cards. These, too, will be changed next time.

F. W. Lyke donated the door prize, a lovely black and white casserole, for the evening. Mrs. Gerald McKenna was awarded it. Jane Lester, president of the class and Paul Thompson took charge of the drawing.

In the tournament those who won and received two decks of cards were: five hundred, Mrs. Charles Westphall; auction, Mrs. Bennalack; contract, Sigmund Northrop; Westphall and James Spangola were the tie and had to cut for the prize Mr. Northrop played for Robert Yerkes.

A lady who deserves honorable mention and thanks is Mrs. Edith McKenna. She has sold over forty-one dollar tickets for the class.

SENIORS THANK THOSE WHO ATTEND PARTIES

The senior class wishes to take this opportunity to thank the townspeople and all others attending the card parties for their continued support. It especially wishes to thank the mothers for their wonderful cooperation. It is certain that without their excellent help the affair would not be a success.

Cutting Out the Compensations

A resident of Bolivar, Missouri, who was formerly blind and could play the harmonica, banyo, bass drum, triangle, cymbals and Swiss bells at one and the same time; has regained his sight but is no longer able to play the harmonica, banyo, bass drum, triangle, cymbals and Swiss bells at one and the same time.

We could call this a complete recovery. George W. Carlton in the Cleveland News.

GRADE NOTES

The 7B class of the junior high is preparing to give a play on the subject, "Colonial Life."

A new pupil in the eighth grade is William Rotz from Pennsylvania. He was a pupil in the seventh grade last year.

Norman Grotz is a new pupil in Mrs. Hawkins' 6B class.

Mrs. Babette's 4B grade has a new pupil, Florence Grotz.

Mrs. Conroy's 3A grade is making little booklets, and in them the pupils are putting their individual lists of books they have read each year.

Miss Leonardson's first grade gave a Halloween party. Peggy's mother sent little home made pumpkin cookies, and the first grade wishes to extend its thanks. All of the children wore masks and the masks were quite spooky, being lit by many Jack-O-Lanterns.

The Kindergarten, taught by Miss Richards, had a Halloween party, Tuesday. It also wishes to thank the Second Grade for the ivy plant.

SENIOR WHO'S WHO

Mary Jane Lester, (Jane preferably), was born in Ophelim, Montana, exactly sixteen years, seven months, two days, and three hours ago this Friday. She lived for one year in Montana and then moved to Sault Ste. Marie, where she remained until the tender age of six, when she went to Detroit. Then to Farmington, where she lived for eight years.

They took up residence in Northville following that, and Jane has attended Northville high school since her sophomore year. Last spring she was elected president of the senior class, an honor rarely obtained by a girl.

Her favorite pastimes are hiking and reading. She also collects insects and fossils.

After graduating Jane intends to study forestry at the Michigan State College.

YEAR'S FIRST CONCERT TO BE NOVEMBER 17

The first musical concert of the school year will take place Friday evening, Nov. 17, when the Northville high school a cappella choir of fifty-seven voices, and the Girl Glee club appear in the high school auditorium at eight o'clock.

Since the opening of school these organizations have been practicing diligently for this event. As usual, compositions of the masters will be intermingled with more recent numbers.

Several new members will appear for the first time, Stefania Condit, Hilda Garbow, Robert Reed, Catherine Duguid, Manjivie Norton, Edith Barley, Leslie Pierpont, Doris Teakapour, Constance Burgess, Scott Cole, Ronald Morris, Gilberta Osbourne, Harold Rogow, and Jack Stettinall.

Special numbers will be given by Frances Alexander on the piano, and Ernest Ratz on the violin. Kathleen Rinick will accompany both the singing groups and Leslie G Lee will conduct them in his usual capable manner. There will be no admission fee but a collection will be taken later in the evening.

THIS WEEK

By H. R. WHITE

It was fifteen years ago that the Great World war was ended by the signing of the Armistice and yet I am sure any observer will agree that great waves of liberalism have recreated the life and thought of the American people since that time.

Militarism has increased and if you have any pronounced views on peace you are considered a little peculiar and sometimes disgraceful.

The execution some years ago of Sacco and Vanzetti, the uproar between the fundamentalists and the radicals of the church and the anti-evolution feeling of teaching such doctrines in the public schools are indications that curiously enough the idea of liberty has slumped a little.

It would look today as though the liberal leaders are a little confused and bewildered and had entirely forgotten their great predecessors, for instance those who wrested the Bill of Rights from unwilling monarchs.

It would seem that as we approach this Armistice day we had forgotten those great benefactors of the human race who sometimes were compelled to live in exile because they dared to give humanity new truths and challenged old ideas.

Every person who achieves self-criticism or discrimination in matters of thought, intellectual honesty and skepticism of popular beliefs and slogan is really a friend of liberty.

These are the sort of people who are carrying out the spirit and idea intended by the signing of the Armistice in 1918.
