THE CALIFORNIA LYNCHING

A California community last week lynched two men who had kidnapped and then killed a man. The mob spirit reigned like wild-fire. The hideous details were flashed from coast to coast and then Governor Rolph of California came out with a statement, condoning the lynching and promising that if the lynchers should be arrested he would pardon them.

It will be a tragedy, far worse than any depression, if this nation follows the California governor in believing that lynch law is going to solve the issue of proper punishment of criminals. There is no defense for mob law and there is terror in the possibility that mob law may ever take the place of legally constituted judicial procedure.

Mob law is simply the law of the jungle. Suppose, for example, the San Jose mob had taken the wrong man from the jail—as they might easily have done. Suppose again, that the sheriff who tried to fight off the crazed mob and was injured while trying to keep his oath of office, dies—he is then guilty of his murder?

Mob law is a tearing off of the veneer of civilization and decency that has been built over us all. Anyone who ever sees a mob in action never wants to see another and prays that he himself may never become crazed by the mob spirit so that he will do as the mob does.

If there is any compensation for the California outrage it lies in the possibility that the American people will be up in the height of indignation and demand that the trial-like process of a criminal procedure be done away with and that the people punish as they do in Canada and England. Then there will be no defense for some road men to be defending by a law and some are going to be defended by their bitterest. That the criminal law at other times is a time in this country.

ATTACKING GOOD MEN

Chas. H. Campbell, the chief editor of the Argus in Waterbury, Conn., in his letter attack on Alfred E. Smith, four years ago, pointed out for the first time the "Royal Oak" policy of the enemy of some of the biggest leaders of his own church by his vicious attacks and their attempt to buy who pretend that he will be found in the pocket of a woman's low heels.

In the opinion of many the Royal Oak broad sheet is one of the most vicious and malicious of all the organs of the "Royal Oak" group. It is a paper which is attached to it and it is not only a paper which is attached to it but it is a paper which is attached to it.

THE FLAW-FINDING SPIRIT

Every teacher, every preacher, every official, every newspaper man, every leader in life, has felt the sting of unkind criticism, the hurt of bitter and sometimes cruel words. We are all human and feel the effects of these unfair criticisms, often thoughtlessly spoken.

Fortunately, the flaw-finding spirit seems to reside only in a minority in any community. Yet sometimes the kind remarks of one person will spoil the day for another to whom a hundred folks have been courteous and kind. If that one person could be made to cure the hurt which (or her) words, there would be less of this fly-specking of each other's motives and deeds.

Our observation is that flaw-finding is a bad habit. We notice that the person who "knocks" the school teacher will find fault with the neighbor a block away; the man or woman who says mean things about the home paper or she should support loyally will turn around tomorrow and criticize the business man down street.

If you are free from the flaw-finding spirit you are one of Northville's finest folks and you get a peace out of life that your fault-seeking friend doesn't and can't know. Finding the good in folks is a thousand times more than finding fly-specks on someone's reputation.

"YOU HAVE TO TAKE IT"

What a nine-year-old football player said after coming into his home the other day with a bad bump, from the rough and tumble of play, has remained with us. His mother started to comfort him when he looked up with a wan grin and said: "Well, Mother, you have to take it."

On the football field of life we are all having or with a complaining spirit. You all know the kind of folks who have had all sorts of trouble the past two or three years, yet who refuse to be licked and who show good cheer and optimism far beyond their circumstances. Then the other kind is, like the poor, always with us. They discourage themselves and others.

To follow up the football simile, this football battle that has thrown a lot of us for a loss isn't going to last forever. And the game is going to be won, for most of us, if we show the spirit of the football player who gets battered and bruised but who fights for the sheer love of the game and who says with a smile: "You have to take it."

THAT LIFE INSURANCE CHECK

Contemplating the number of deaths that are constantly recurring in every community, we just have this thought (in these tough times): "What a wonderful help is life insurance to the home when some one slips away." That one or two or three thousand dollars comes as a godsend when a loved one passes away. Never could insurance money become more gratefully received than then.

What a great blessing it would be if the older generation, many of whom are passing beyond, had had the same faith in life insurance that prevails now among thoughtful people! The moral would seem to be that, regardless of a few minor failures among stock companies, it is the wisest possible thing to consider life insurance as a part of one's budget—no matter how tight the times.

WANDERING THOUGHTS

No better way to give your guests a good time than to take them to the Penniman-Allyn theatre.

"A little better" is the business report from Detroit the past few days.

Someone points out that there won't be saloons on all corners—the filling stations have them.

Prohibition died this week. Look out for the drunken driver. If prohibition does come back, he will be one of the reasons for it.

"Business is better"—Just looked out and saw a load of furniture leaving the Schrader Bros. store. And by the way, nowhere in Michigan in a town of this size can you find as fine a store as this. Northville is proud of it.

More than one of the Christmas presents this year should be utilitarian. And it shows the spirit of good will to give the Northville merchant the first chance to sell you good, sensible, practical gifts. When you buy at home you help a lot of folks.

Some out-of-town people who attended the presentation of "The Holy City" by the Presbyterian and Methodist choirs Sunday evening were deeply impressed by the high grade of this musical event. It was the sort of music that one expects from a college town. Northville is beginning to realize what exceptionally fine music is being given here. The work of Leslie G. Lee with the pupils of our schools is something for which we should all be grateful. The worth-while music that we are getting here would do credit to a city four times as large as Northville.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

How many men would be put to work for how many weeks if Northville should build ten houses in 1934?

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

CWA WAGES ARE O. K.

Mrs. H. DeFoe in Charlotte Republican-Tribune

The CWA idea is more psychological than practical. As we see it the government is majoring on the mental side of the welfare problem. You will hear that this or that percentage isn't worth the cost; that isn't the question. It has nothing to do with the government's main objective, which is an attempt to improve the morale not only of the man and the household being directly benefited but everyone else.

most everything from hair curls to Christmas presents. And it is just as important—and remember this—for the welfare family to have a Christmas present or two as it is for the year-round payroll man to have an extra suit for Sunday. So don't complain about the wages. What the welfare man wants is not half as important as the greater fact that he is a human being with the same hope for the future and love for his family that you have.

And don't let it worry you about all—that the foreign war debts will never be paid. Is there anything wrong with the principle of self-preservation for our own people in times of great stress? We poured $1,000,000,000 into the war slaughter to see paid out locally in wages for ten weeks is $10,000, which means own folks. Go ahead, America.

Ask the Man Who Has Saved! He will tell you how comforting it is to have money safely invested during the days when needed.

TALKING WITH WILBUR BRUCKER

(Chas. H. Howell in the Chesaning Argus)

The press stand at a big football game such as Ann Arbor Saturday finds a lot of well known folks many of them from outside the state. I took my seat in the press box last Saturday afternoon and soon came a booming voice, "hello, Chet" and I said behold, right back of me was Wilbur Brucker, the ex-governor of Michigan and his wife and a few friends from Detroit. "It was the first time that I had had a chance to talk to the ex-governor since the special session of the legislature was last December. Naturally, we talked about politics, folks always do now-a-days. Brucker said that he had not committed himself to any candidate for governor and was not going to, but was vitally interested in the success of the party and the working together of all the factions rather than the mere success of any one individual. He said he thought that was in the minds of the thinking Republicans of the state who are interested in the best in government."

FATHERS, AND THE SCHOOLS

(W. H. Berney in Cassopolis Vigilant)

Monday evening we went to Buchanan to talk to the Parent-Teachers association of that city, and we couldn't help but notice that there were about four times as many mothers present as there were fathers. The question that arises in one's mind is as to whether fathers are not as much interested in the schools where their children are being trained as are the mothers? Is it possible that fathers are not so much interested in education and training of children as the mothers are? And is it possible that one reason so many boys in America have gone wrong is because fathers have failed to do their job? Boys are interested in things that fathers are not interested in and are so largely interested by fathers that the latter are being their active support in every organization that makes for their welfare.

THIS BUSINESS OF LIQUOR CONTROL

(A Seed in Reels for Clarion)

What a shame it is that they are making a business of liquor should be handled by the theory of making liquor hard to get means that the consumption of moonshine liquor will continue. It is all wrong to say that price alone will solve the problem. It will with the drinker who possesses wealth for he can discriminate and buy the best. He has money to buy liquor by the case of a quart. It will not deter the man who spends only a dime or a quarter to spend for liquor now and then. He will be glad to step into the hardware and buy his drink for he can't afford the best. After all, the liquor is through at closing their doors, and how they will work, you find it is going to be a hard job to control this liquor business. It never has been regulated perfectly and obviously never will be.

HUMAN VALUES

(Fred D. Kaefer in The Ionia County News)

The most serious indictment that can be brought against our present civilization is that it has placed production above humanity, material wealth above mankind. We have frequently tried to increase our material resources at whatever cost to human life. "There is," said John Ruskin, "no wealth but life—life including all its powers of joy, of love, of admiration. That country is richest which nourishes the greatest number of noble and happy and human beings; that man is richest who has the widest helpful influence over the lives of others."

Lazy Thinkers Don't Read!

Gangsters are not feeling the reaction of a country fed up with crime; lynching is merely the logical outgrowth of a public indignation which began with the Lindbergh tragedy.

Let criminals and those who ally themselves with crime, beware. The old Mosaic law of "an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth" is coming into its own. Many of those in the mobs who are storming jails today have ancestors who ruled this country's frontiers with vigilance committees which waited swiftly and drastically on "tough customers." The so-called "tough customer" is swiftly becoming very untough.

While mob rule cannot be justified, the average American, a thorough defender of his home, is in no mood toicker or think in terms of logic now of kidnapers, "thrill" slayers, ranton murderers and others of their ilk. If the Ypsanti Torch murderers had committed their atrocity today their lives would not be worth a cough in a windstorm. And the revulsion that decent citizens feel for kidnapers is not temporary; it will increase and last for

Mob law is a tearing off of the veneer of civilization and decency that has been built over us all. Anybody who has ever seen a mob in action never wants to see another and prays that he himself may never become involved by the mob spirit, so that he will do as the mob does.

If there is any compensation for the California outrage it lies in the possibility that the American people will rise up in their righteous indignation and demand that the small-like processes of our criminal procedure be done away with and that we punish criminals as they do in Canada and England. Then there will be no defense for some good men to be defending lynch law—as some are being now, moved by their bitterness that the criminal has although a too easy a time in this country.

ATTACKING GOOD MEN

Chas. E. Conzella, the radio performer, is again in hot water, as the result of his bitter attack on Alfred E. Smith, former Democratic nominee for president. The Royal Oak preacher has aroused the enmity of "one of the strongest leaders of his own church" by his vicious attacks and there are not a few who predict that he will be found outside the precinct within a few years.

In the opinion of many, the Royal Oak broadcaster takes on the role of a demagogue. He aroused bitter antagonism in Detroit when he attacked one of its fine and best high school teachers, Peter Monahan, a man above reproach. Now Conzella turns on Al Smith, one of the nation's most courageous and able men and a man of great honesty of purpose. How can one condone such bitter attacks on good men? Certainly to permit such a man to use the radio to stir up malice and bitterness against one's fellow citizens is unfair and unjust. This is not a time for demagogues to be ranting; it is a time for everyone to be putting his shoulder to the wheel to help rebuild the country. It is a time to build and not tear down.

The tragedy of these radio and platform attacks is that they appeal to a class of people who are incapable of thinking for themselves and who are easily led by sensationalists. It is easy to arouse the spirit of the mob but far more difficult to stop the harvest of its madness.

THE FLAW-FINDING SPIRIT

Every teacher, every preacher, every official, every newspaper man, every leader in life, has felt the sting of unkind criticism, the hurt of bitter and sometimes cruel words. We are all human and feel the effects of these unfair criticisms, often thoughtlessly spoken.

Lazy Thinkers Don't Read!

Gangsters are now feeling the reaction of a country fed up with crime; lynching is merely the logical outgrowth of a public indignation which began with the Landbergh tragedy.

Let criminals and those who ally themselves with crime, beware! The old Mosiac law of "an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth" is coming into its own. Many of those in the mobs who are storming jails today have ancestors who ruled this country's frontiers with vigilance committees which waited swiftly and drastically on "tough custom-more than a decade at its present fever heat.

Addenda

And the fact reported by Prosecutor Harry Toy, that Governor Comstock has turned loose over 2700 prisoners since he took office, will do little to add to that executive's dwindling popularity. Ask "Cap" Denniston what percentage of released prisoners find their way back to the jail and give off of the taxpayers!

Just ask yourself why there are so many now in Jackson prison, which is reported to have a larger "enrollment" than any other penal institution in the country. Then reflect that many of you do not have moves two or three times each week; that you do not have always at your command, a radio; that you do not have football, baseball, and other recreation at your bidding unless you pay out good, hard cash; and, YOU HAVE COMMITTED NO CRIME!!

From the Heart

The above oration is spontaneous; it comes from the heart. It springs from a growing conviction that we've been too soft, too sentimental. A boy in his teens who bashes in his idolizing mother's head should be put away as should a 15-year old boy who shoots down a 68 year old lady who catches him thieving.

Maybe it is only a mistake on the boy's part. Maybe he, himself, is not responsible; and as certain psychiatrists claim, it is his ancestors, or a bump on the head or some other such reason that makes him do any one of these terrible things. However, he is only one boy while there are millions of mothers, neighbors and other unarmed, unprotected people. There are millions of other boys, who on reading that boy after boy is winning himself notoriety and sympathy by shooting, maiming and bashing in heads, may yield to impulse and commit some such crime himself.

This Christmas is Different —

Q You are not going to spend as much this year as in the late "prosperity age." You are going to spend a little less, make every dollar go farther; you will buy presents for the children first, then members of your immediate family and your closest friends. These are the truthful facts as we know them today.

Northville Merchants can help you do this with a minimum amount of trouble and cost to yourself. While we do not boast the large stocks that metropolitan areas do, we can point out that: (1) we are within easy shopping distance and open every evening for your convenience; (2) we do carry a complete assortment of stocks in trade, of new and original Christmas gift ideas; (3) our prices are as low, or lower, than the prices displayed in metropolitan areas (4) we do not add to the total cost of your purchase by making it necessary to travel 40 miles at the cost of approximately $1.00; (5) that you do not need to expose yourself to endless fatigue, irritation and attendant discomforts common to metropolitan Christmas shopping crowds.

Shopping in Northville, the community in which you live, pay taxes, earn your wages and educate your children, has it all over buying out of town. You can always do better, SAVE MONEY, and make more friends by using NORTHVILLE as your trading center.

Northville "Dairy Farmer" Gives Figures To Show That "New Deal" Has Brought Loss To Producers

Editor Record: "How the A. A. A. helps the farmer," on page three of The Detroit News of Sunday, Nov. 26, a very great light on how the officials of the Michigan Milk Producers' association have helped the producer back to prosperity (?) or "equality of purchasing power," as the "new deal" boosters love to call it.

To prove the advantage it states that 12,000 milk producers produce 1,000,000 pounds of milk daily for which in April they received $12,000 or $4,333,000 a year—60¢ per lb. Now let us figure that up another way. $12,000 per day gives the farmer $105 per day for the feed, labor, rent of land, and taxes (it will pay the 3% sales tax at least).

But, now counting all factors involved, farmer average $1,831 a hundred weight for his milk. That's all that he gets for his milk. At the present time they receive for their product $1,530 a day, $475,500 a month or $5,706,000 a year. That's a difference of $270,000 a year.

But let us estimate the record and figure it up as we are able to do it. 12,000 men get $15,000 or one million dollars to provide feed for his cows, rent, etc. (not forgetting the 3% tax he pays when he buys milk) and who else to feed three cows to produce the milk to sell at wholesale to the dealers and pay him for the 12 (more or less) hours he must spend doing the work.

Hot stuff, but pay $132 for feed and labor to go to the city to buy the product of NRA labor that is paid from 40¢ to 70¢ more per pound.

How many of the welfare workers would work for that—$132 per day, $24 per week of from 70 to 105 hours or about $308 for the 30 hour week for the NRA worker and personally I would like to see three of these that could take care of a herd of cows.

Later he says, "In a sense the increase actually, however, means only more money is being put into circulation by the farmer. It has not given him any more money in the bank, because of his increased costs, and has not improved his net income."

Well, will someone explain what good the farmer has got out of this wonderful raise in price. It is plainly stated that his costs have raised more than his income, his only benefits are that he will not have to carry as much stuff home from the store and will not need to visit the bank and will not be able to say, "I lost so much in the bank," the latter being his only chance for satisfaction.

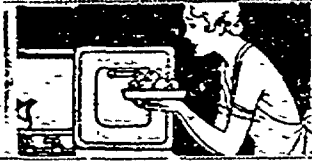

There is a lot said about parity "with the dear dead days beyond reunion," but what we want is parity with other workers of 1933 and the future not $924 for an 80 to 100 hour work week to buy the product of 30-hour workers that get from 40¢ to $1.00 or more per hour.

It is admitted that the dairy industry is the largest of the consuming industries. In 1929 the cash income of farmers from milk was $1,247,235,000. In 1932 the cash income of farmers from this product was $865,669,000 or only about 53% of a loss of $381,566,000 in buying power and as 1933 prices were lower than 1932, the loss this year will be even greater. Then with the expected increase in prices on account of the NRA a considerable decrease in units purchased may be expected of the dairy consumers.

Now, will some of the NRA advocates tell who is going to take the goods the dairy farmers cannot take? Mixed up with a lot of "parity" chatter he states, that the farmers got $1.49 3/4 per hundred for all milk delivered "in the dear old days, before recall" and that the various charges that are deducted from the farmers in this "new deal" are about 50¢ on the average and vary from about 25¢ to 75¢ so whatever prices given as prices paid include from 25¢ to 75¢ more than the actual price received.

Remember—No farmer gets what the city papers say he does. Now, let's look at the record. Above it was stated that the farmers received $126 per hundred, in April, on the average. A statement issued from the nearest hauling station shows the base milk was paid for at the rate of $1.00 per hundred, surplus milk at 63¢.

A June milk statement shows that base milk was paid for at $1.11 per hundred, surplus 67¢; July base milk, $1.23 per hundred, surplus 72¢; August base milk, $1.34 per hundred, surplus, none sold; September base milk, $1.39 per hundred, surplus, 67¢; October base milk, $1.39 per hundred, surplus, 62¢.

So like a real baby that it is a joy to any little girl's heart to dress it in baby brother's cast-off clothes. And so huggable—and unbreakable.

We have hunted up this pattern and will cut out several from you so that any mother who wishes to use it may call at our desk in the Record office. And we will show you the trick of putting it together too.

Yours for the fun of getting ready for a little girl's Christmas, "Mrs. Editor."

If any man, woman, or child can find when anything in the A. A. A. or the N. R. A. that has done any single thing that has not worked to the disadvantage of the farmer and the more you study the effects of the various codes the more apparent it will be that the disadvantages are greater than the advantages in every case.

If one of the largest classes is penalized by false benefits which turn out to be disadvantages what are the NRA boosters going to do with the increased production at increased prices?

(Signed) Dairy Farmer

It is claimed that the price was raised 25¢ per hundred on the 27th day of August but the checks for August, September and October fail to show it. On August 18th the city price of milk was raised from 5¢ to 10¢. The code calls for three cents. Class 1, $1.35 1/2 of class 1 to be added class 2 $1.25 to balance of 31 and 1/2 but that price.

The $1.15 is the price advertised as the price paid the farmer, but he never gets that for his milk. He gets 15¢ as much milk as class 2 as class 1 and another point at a still smaller price surplus milk.

Then there are various charges to be deducted.

The Ford only price, what becomes of the money out the mill, producers that never make a cent and look after the other milk producer's interest in Washington and the draft high priced cars and pay toll without a doubt.

By the way, I never have been able to figure my statement within 2¢ per hundred of the published rates, so I think that a part of the "other charges" spoken of as 20¢ that these milk producers take out as their share of the producer's money.

At this rate 2¢ per hundred on 1,000,000 pounds equals $200 per day $73,000 per year. Pretty soon!

Now let us refer to the record again. It was always supposed to be against the law to skim milk before sale. Now see how these producers' representatives all went to Washington to help get the farmers' "Party," "Increased Buying Power," etc., etc., did the job.

Exhibit D — Rules of Fair Practice. It shall be considered unfair practice: 1. To sell as standard milk in which the butterfat content is less than 3.5 per cent or more than 3.6 per cent.

Looks innocent enough doesn't it? But what does it mean to the dealer? He must not sell milk without skimming it for very little milk reaches the city that is not higher than 3.6. 100 pounds of milk testing 3.5 contains 3.5 pounds of butter fat. If the milk tests more than 3.6, say 3.7, the dealer must take from 1 to 2 of a pound of butterfat out of the milk. A pint of cream or 1 pound contains 17 to 20 pounds of butterfat. So the dealer must take about 1 pint of cream out of each 100 pounds of 3.7 milk before he sells it. See how it works? It is illegal for the farmer to skim his milk but it is illegal for the dealer not to skim it. The dealer pays 6¢ premium for the 3.7 milk but sells a pint of cream to get his money back and then some—or about 20¢ profit on the deal.

This wonderful farmers' representative goes to Washington to help the farmers by legalizing the skimming of the farmers' milk by the dealer so that the dealer gets about 26¢ worth of cream for 6¢.

Another way of figuring this—One large distributor said his milk all tested 4 per cent or better. (He was honest enough to object to the code.) If all the 1,000,000 pounds tested 4 per cent the distributors would be compelled to take 5 per cent out of one half of their milk and we will see what the effect of this would be.

Now, will some of the NRA advocates tell who is going to take the goods the dairy farmers cannot take? Mixed up with a lot of "parity" chatter he states, that the farmers got $1.49 3/4 per hundred for all milk delivered "in the dear old days, before recall" and that the various charges that are deducted from the farmers in this "new deal" are about 50¢ on the average and vary from about 25¢ to 75¢ so whatever prices given as prices paid include from 25¢ to 75¢ more than the actual price received.

milk to sell at 10¢ and 5,000,000 of 4 1/2 per cent milk to sell at 12¢. See how it works?

Before the code went into effect the 1,000,000 pounds of milk sold for 9¢ per quart or $13,200. Now 24,000 quarts sell for 10¢ or $24,000; 24,000 quarts sell for 12¢ or $28,800; a total of $52,800; or a code profit of $3,900 per day or $5,502,000 per year.

The base price for August was $1.85 less pool fee of 25¢ and "other charges" which on check netted $1.34. Sept. and Oct. the net price was raised to $1.39. So perhaps we should allow them 5¢ per hundred although the smaller amount of surplus and increased price of butterfat may have accounted for the raise.

If any man, woman, or child can find when anything in the A. A. A. or the N. R. A. that has done any single thing that has not worked to the disadvantage of the farmer and the more you study the effects of the various codes the more apparent it will be that the disadvantages are greater than the advantages in every case.

If one of the largest classes is penalized by false benefits which turn out to be disadvantages what are the NRA boosters going to do with the increased production at increased prices?

Admiral Byrd Takes Three Guernseys on Second Pole Trip

Admiral Richard E. Byrd, polar explorer, is making dairy history. He is taking three Guernseys—the first cows ever to accompany an American polar expedition—on his second visit to the Antarctic. Hoisted under shelters on the deck of the Endurance, the 11,000-ton freighter Jacob Ruppert, these sturdy milk-producers are now on the high seas bound for Dunedin, New Zealand.

These Admiral Byrd will organize for the final leg of his 10,000-mile ocean journey which will end only when he and his party have fought their way through the "fast ice pack" that encloses Antarctica to the Bay of Whales and Little America. Arrived there the cows will be unloaded onto the great Ross Ice Barrier and ushered into the winter quarters which they will occupy during their two-year stay. Admiral Byrd does not hold title to these Guernseys. He has merely borrowed them and fully expects to return them and expected progeny to their owners—Edmund Emmaline Farm, Howell Station, N. Y. It is leading him Forest Southern City, Detroit Farms, Southboro, Mass., have contributed the services of six-year-old Deerfoot's Guernsey, Mabel. The third, Nire Polar Guernsey, a four-year-old, comes from Klondike Farm, Elkin, N. C. This latter cow is due to freshen shortly and careful preparations have been made to assure this milk supply. The ship carries a supply of Larro Galt Milk.

THE GIFT OF GIFTS One that will serve her for Years. And you can let her try it out before Christmas! Of course you want to give HER a worth while gift—one that will please her Christmas morning and one that will be the joy of her heart for years to come. Surely an ELECTRIC range fills both these requirements. It is a gift of wisdom—one that will become more modern, year by year, with the trend to electric cooking. And fifteen years from now, her electric range will look practically as new as it does today. You need not buy the range. We will install an electric range without initial charge, and let you use it for six months, removing it without charge if you do not like it. During the trial period, you pay for the service as registered by your meter, plus a monthly charge of $1 for the range. If you decide to keep the range, your monthly payments will be applied toward the purchase price. If you decide that you do not want it, the range will be removed at our expense. Send in your application for a trial range today. THE DETROIT EDISON COMPANY

In their study of music this winter, Carole Jaccos-Bond, the song writer, was considered with Mrs. Shirill Ambler, who was in charge of the program, placing two of her compositions. In closing the entire group joined in her most famous song, "The Perfect Day" Mrs. R. T. Baldwin, a guest, renewed the life of this song.

A birthday cake, made by Mrs. Marshall Hermon, was the attractive centerpiece on the table at which Mrs. W. T. Jones poured. Mrs. Hermon wished Mrs. Bogart as hostess.

Miss Evelyn Mar Smith Becomes Bride of W. C. Richardson— Miss Evelyn Mar Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Henry Smith, who were formerly residents of Northville, but are now living at Ann Arbor, and Walter C. Richardson, son of Wilham C. Richardson of Oakland City, Indiana, were married at Christ Church, Dearborn, on Wednesday, Nov. 23.

The wedding was informal, with only near relatives attending. Mrs. Richardson, who was born in Northville, received her A. B. and A. M. degrees from the University of Michigan. Since her graduation in 1925 she has been on the head of the language department of the Fordson high school. Mr. Richardson has been connected with the University of Michigan, where he is studying for his degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

Also a bit of a husband. A man who has the reputation of being a bit of a husband, but who is actually a very good one, was the guest of honor at the first meeting of the Northville Auxiliary.

Mr. and Mrs. Benton Welcome Kindred Thanksgiving Day— The home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Benton on the Seven Mile road was very happy on Thanksgiving day by the presence of a family gathering. It enjoyed the usual big feast and a day of visiting together. They were especially pleased to have present Mrs. Benton's mother, Mrs. Elma Crocker, of Detroit, who is nearly 80 years of age. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Crocker and son, Bill, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Evans, Mrs. Mrs. John Young and Mrs. Schroeder, all of Detroit, and Mr. E. Benton's sister, Mrs. Frank Leslie and Mr. Leslie and their son, Benton, of Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Family All Together Thanksgiving Day— "We are all here," said Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miles as they looked down the length of the stretched-out table during table on Thanksgiving day. There sat all of their children, grand-children, with the exception of one grand-son.

In the family party with Mr. and Mrs. Miles were Mr. and Mrs. Perry Miles and son, George, of Pontiac, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Miles and daughter, Robert, Betty and Dick, of R. at Oak; Mr. and Mrs. Edna Miles and son, Sammy, of Wakefield Farms, Pontiac, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Voorhees, of Walled Lake, Mrs. Florence E. Pentecost, and Miss Nella Severance, Detroit.

Mr. Whitehead Honored By Chapter of G. E. S.— It is hard to be welcomed by old friends, says Mr. A. M. Whitehead, who has just returned to Northville from a trip to Detroit. It was while in the city that Mrs. Whitehead was honored by the chapter of the G. E. S. by being given a life certificate having been longed to this chapter for twenty-five years.

The worthy patron under whom Mrs. Whitehead served when chairman of the order for several years made the presentation and six of the 35 charter members of which Mrs. Whitehead was one, were present to give her a warm welcome. "I had a glorious time," she said.

With several other guests Mrs. Whitehead was present at Thanksgiving dinner at the home of her niece, Mrs. Nellie Barker.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Thompson Are Welcomed by Teachers— Honoring Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Thompson who were married on Thanksgiving day in Algon, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Barker were hosts to a group of thirty-two members of the teaching staff of the public school, with their wives or husbands as they home on South Rogers street Monday evening.

The occasion gave Mrs. Thompson a pleasant introduction to the teaching "family" with whom she will be more closely associated in the future. Following greetings and proper felicitations to the bride and groom, the company enjoyed an informal evening of progressive games.

A buffet lunch was served from the table in the dining room which was attractive with a centerpiece of yellow mums and tall yellow tapers. Mrs. T. J. Knapp, who was a guest of honor, and Mrs. R. H. Amerman poured. The ice cream was daintily molded in the shape of wedding bells.

Voicing the good will of the whole group, Leslie G. Lee, president of the Teachers club, presented the newbride with a lovely silver-plated flower holder and a silver tureen of which latter he said something like this: "In former times a single dish would answer without trouble; but now we sit at our table and make the tureen double."
