A GOOD OATH FOR NORTHLVILLE

"We will never bring disgrace to this our city, by any act of dishonesty or cowardice, nor ever desert our suffering comrades in the ranks. We will fight for our ideals and sacred things of the city, both alone and with many. We will revere and obey the city's laws, and do our best to incite a like respect in those above us who are prone to annoy them and set them at naught. We will strive unceasingly to quicken the public sense of civic duty. Thus in all these ways we will transmit this city not only not less, but far greater and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

Oath of the Youth of Athens.

IT LOOKS THAT WAY

"Is the political honeymoon over?" asks someone. Reading about those 800 republicans who gathered over at Pontiac the other day and listened to the party orators and then noticing about the democratic clubs that are being organized here and there, we suspect that the truce, due to the great emergencies, is over. Certainly there is a lot of political war paint being put on. We shall see what we shall see.

EUROPE'S POWDER KEG

Even the most casual reader of the newspapers sees that Europe is seething with unrest and that war over there might easily be tomorrow's news. Vienna, Austria, has been the scene of bloodshed and rioting the past week or so. The Socialists seem to have been defeated. Yet there are so many angles to the whole picture that only the very best informed minds can predict what the outcome will be. Will Austria join with Germany? They might have, a few years back, but will they now, with Hitler in the saddle? We can be glad that 3,000 miles of salt water lie between us and the boiling cauldron of unrest over there.

"HOW LONG WILL I LIVE"

If you are 32 years of age, say the experts, you may reasonably expect to live 31 years longer. We won't tell you our age, but we have an expectancy of 12 years more on this good earth. Probably by slowing down a bit and taking life easier, we might tack on a few years more. We have all known men or women who should have lived to the age of 75 who die at 50 and also those who surprised you by living on to 80 when everyone said they wouldn't get past the 30-year milestone.

No matter how long you live, life is good today. Some men live more in a week than others do in a month. One who lives in this glorious era gets more of a year's living than some formerly did in a decade.

ATTACKS ON THE GOVERNOR

Horatio Abbott of Ann Arbor, national democratic committeeman, appeals to the sense of fair play of both democrats and republicans alike when he asks for a cessation of the vicious gossip that has gone around the state for months that Governor Wm. A. Comstock is building a "mansion" at Ann Arbor. In spite of the fact that these charges have been disproven again and again, the malicious stories have still been bandied around.

No one has ever seen this $100,000 house that the governor is building either at the University city or elsewhere. These stories are plain, dishonest slander and all good citizens should join in stopping the source of such malicious talk. There are plenty of good, clean issues on which we can disagree with the governor without resort to the vilest kind of muck-raking. One of the curses of modern politics is that good men have to be the targets of back-alley mudslinging.

THE GREATNESS OF LINCOLN

Even though we are past the birthday of Abraham Lincoln and the time of special observation, we can always—at any time of the year—warm our souls by consideration of his great life.

We have just been reading something that Dr. Edgar DeWitt Jones, Detroit pastor, said of him last week. It was this:

"Lincoln lacked the gallantry, scholarship, social polish and suavity of the many college-bred men about him, but he was temperate, patient, long-suffering and kind to the end."

"A thousand years from now, no poet, orator or painter will complete his work without a tribute to Abraham Lincoln."

And Dr. Jones also adds that it is wrong to say that Lincoln "came from nothing". His grandfather owned 4,000 acres of land in Tennessee but he was killed by the Indians before he could claim title to it. Wouldn't it have been strange had the grandfather lived and had Lincoln become a great landowner, like Washington? Plain man that he was and lover of the great outdoors, Lincoln might have risen above the down pull of wealth—as so seldom happens to the pampered children of affluence—and become a gentleman farmer, like the Father of His Country. To have another shrine like Mt. Vernon would be doubly blessed.

COL. LINDBERGH AND THE ARMY

It was just like the army—and army men.

After Colonel Chas. A. Lindbergh, the nation's hero, wrote a letter of protest to the president regarding the cancellation of airmail contracts, some army man rushed to the president with a request that Lindbergh be ousted from the army. For what? Making a record as one of the finest aviators the world ever saw? No, but because he dared to exercise the right of an American citizen and make a protest to our government regarding what he thought was unfair.

For this action, some of these haughty army men were ready to "crack down" on Lindy. That is typical of a lot of army officers. Give them a uniform, a few brass buttons and they think they are the lords of creation. They have physical power and they propose to take toll from all who pass their way. Often they get away with this toll-taking, because they are officers and can discipline a soldier. If anyone disagrees with them, use the old army methods and send them to the guard house if necessary.

Luckily for Lindbergh, they found that he could not be punished for his action because he is not in army duty but in a civilian's position. That will be a great disappointment to some of these bureaucrats and army men who like to step on those beneath them. Luckily, also, this is not yet Russia and better sense would have prevailed among the better army men than to try to punish Lindbergh for writing his honest convictions.

As a matter of fact, among the friends of the president even there has been considerable resentment and disappointment at the summary action taken in cancelling the airmail contracts. If there are some guilty—and undoubtedly there are—why penalize all the innocent men who have been engaged in the air mail business or have invested in it? There are always two sides to every question and the right of a fair trial is still the inherent right of an American citizen.

It will be a sorry day for the United States when any of her citizens, high or low, lose the right of personal appeal to our president.

And it will be a sadder day for us all when the bureaucrats and the uniformed men with haughty ideas lose some of their power to punish those beneath them.

WANDERING THOUGHTS

Did you know that one of the big mail order houses of Chicago has gone into the life insurance business?

We see no harm in calling President Roosevelt a "clever politician." That is not what Abraham Lincoln and Theodore Roosevelt were.

Take a minute to think about the folks who are crowded around one little stove, of the men who sleep without blankets, of the kids whose underwear is as thin as paper. Then look around the home and see what you can give to the Boy Scouts in their local campaign.

Cigarette prices are going up. As a non-smoker, that is the least of our worries. Incidentally, how many cigarette smokers can go for a month without smoking? You will save a nice tax contribution to your government if you can go that long without your smoke.

Real community spirit was shown by the American Legion and the Auxiliary when they banqueted the Boy Scouts last Thursday evening. Whoever puts his hand on a boy's shoulder to turn him in the right path, does something that may affect the destiny of thousands. Who knows the power of these Boy Scouts, once they grow up and become our leaders?

As we write this, the sun is shining on the back of our neck in warming fashion; birds are singing; we look over and see no snow on Northville ground. Yes, verify the back of winter is broken and soon the tulips will look up from the cold ground and smile at us. How would it be to plan to plant some shrubbery around the house this spring? Or put in a tree?

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

Why not try giving the radio a rest part of the day and night?

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

AND "WE STAND FOR IT"

(LaGrange Ind. Standard)
We are told that crime takes one dollar of every four or five. When the nation is wrestling desperately with the problem of making dollars, reach to all the hundred and twenty-five million, is there not ample reason for losing all patience with all of the things that contribute to crime?

CONSIDER THE HANDIER

(Chet Howell in Chesaning Argus)
A writer says of that:
It keeps its head.
It doesn't fly off the handle.
It keeps pounding away.
It finds the point, then drives it home.
It looks at the other side, too; and thus often clinches the matter.
It makes mistakes, but when it does, it starts all over.
It is the only knocker in the world that does any good.

HITS THE NAIL ON THE HEAD

(R. G. Jefferies in The Lowell Ledger)

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg struck directly at the biggest cause of war in a speech before the U. S. Senate on the advisability of making all munitions a government monopoly. In the speech he is joined by the greatest minds in the country that the making of arms should be strictly a government affair to eliminate the lobbying and the direct attempts to force wars by the vested interests of the munition manufacturers.

HIS FAME GROWS

Here is an extract with interest for Michigan people from Robert B. Smith's "Daily Mirror" of Washington, printed in the Philadelphia Public Ledger:

"Arthur Vandenberg's political career, one of the most highly sensitized in the Senate, is beginning to hear the faint, far-off buzzing of the presidential bee. If things go right for Mr. Vandenberg when he runs for re-election to the Senate in Michigan next fall, the buzzing immediately will become much louder and nearly so far away.

"Mr. Vandenberg is Michigan's junior Senator, the colleague of cantankerous Jim Couzens. No two Senators could be more dissimilar. They have little in common except that they both come from Michigan and call themselves Republicans. Where Couzens is radical, Vandenberg is conservative. They are as far apart as the poles on most of the important issues which come before the Senate. Couzens is pugnacious. Vandenberg is pacific. Couzens rarely enjoys stirring up trouble. Vandenberg likes to avoid it. Couzens is brusque. Vandenberg is always statesmanlike.

Vandenberg was appointed to the Senate by the Governor of Michigan in 1920 to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Woodbridge K. Kellogg. A few months later, his appointment was confirmed by the voters and he was elevated by a majority of 601,000. He is 50 years old and he spent most of his life in newspaper work in Grand Rapids, the furniture metropolis. Always genial and pleasant, with a "gift of gab," he has made his way forward rapidly among the younger members of the Senate, and now has the title of assistant minority leader."

Responsibility of Parents
(Vern J. Brown in The Isham County News)
Parents have not been assertive enough in the face of the competition that moves and radio programs offer some influences. Most of the violent radio programs, and movies that are suggestive, vicious and sinister. We would forbid our sons or boys to associate with brawlers, girls or men who are bad, bad and are like characters of radio, programs or of movies. But we allow them same boys and girls to come under the influence of gangsters, bartenders and moral perverts of the street and screen.

The boys and girls are not to blame. Boys and girls of 20 years ago would have had no more judgment or discretion than do some present day juveniles had their parents furnished them with high powered cars and no admonition as to behaviour. Youth should have freedom 20 years ago had parents allowed juvenile minds to become polluted with the filth of the radio and screen.

There are many good movies and many good radio programs just as there are many good books and many vicious ones. Most of us concern ourselves over what our children read. But we are too shiftless to stand up and fight for radio and screen decency. We have tolerated radio and screen garbage because we have been told that it is smart to be sophisticated. But it isn't smart when that sophistication drops out in your own family.

A man's home is his castle. It should be a place where decency and manners prevail. It has always been the keystone of character. It still will possess those tributes, if parents do their duty.

Sir Isaac Newton had just been in his orchard and discovered the law of gravitation. When he told his neighbor about it, the neighbor exclaimed: "Well, thank heaven, there is one law that won't take an army of office holders to enforce."

THIRD SKI MEET ON BRIGHTON SLIDE SUNDAY, FEB. 25TH

On Sunday, February 25, at 5:00 o'clock in the afternoon, the Michigan State Ski club will inaugurate its third tournament of the current season. The gigantic 130 foot steel slide at Brighton has been placed in excellent condition and an abundance of snow has been secured and stored, insuring the meet regardless of snow conditions elsewhere. The last meet on February 15th was a thriller and uprooted 3,000 people witnessed the marvelous riding of such "Sid-lights" as Henry Hall, present Michigan professional champion; Bert Wilcheck of Ironwood, former Michigan professional champion; Anders Haugen, three times National champion and U. S. Olympic Skating team's world champion; Ted Zobarski, the Polish boy, who is going places in this man's sport; his 9-year-old brother, little Raymond Zobarski, without doubt, the most sensational boy champion of all time; and a group of amateur riders from Ann Arbor, Rochester, and other towns of the state. The same galaxy of talent with a number of additional riders, will participate at Brighton this Sunday, Feb. 25, and the enthusiasts in this entire lower part of the state are planning on driving to Brighton on this date, regardless of the weather, to see this third meet. The mammoth slide is located just one mile north of the city limits of Brighton on US-23.

Famous Farms HIGH & MIGHTY

Loyle German landed an 18 pound pike while spear fishing through the ice at Duck lake Sunday afternoon with Lee Ruckok. The huge pike measured 44 inches in length and when cut open had a seven inch black bass inside of him. Loyale after landing his catch sold up his equipment and called it a day figuring that 44 inches of fish, all in one piece, was a good afternoon's work for anybody.

BUY Pedigree
1934

Under present economic conditions you cannot afford to buy second rate chicks that will develop into just ordinary laying stock. It costs just as much for feed, fuel and labor in raising a poorly bred pullet as it does a well bred one. For the sake of 10 or 20 difference in chick costs, don't waste the whole year trying to get eggs out of stock that lacks breeding for efficient production.

How can you prove "Foreman Strain Chicks are Better?" Official evidence from eleven contest entries in 1934 laying contests prove that Foreman Strain Leghorns are not only Michigan's best bred strain for large eggs and high production but are the leading strain in the Middle West and ranks among the five highest strains in the United States.

Visit Foreman Poultry Farm and see for yourself what a difference careful pedigree breeding will do in developing larger and more rugged birds that will give you a higher production of larger eggs.

IT'S INCONVENIENT AND EMBARRASSING FOR BOTH

Repeated requests to use a neighbor's telephone soon prove embarrassing and inconvenient for both persons. The "borrower" has to leave her house, even in bad weather, to use the telephone. The accommodating neighbor is interrupted in her work or rest. And sometimes she even is asked to deliver a telephone message!

You can have your own telephone at a cost of only a few cents a day! It will pay its way in the convenience and protection it provides for the entire family. Any Telephone Business Office will furnish complete information, and take your order.

WINTER:

I hate winter, the woman grumbled and huddled closer to the fire shivering. Why, winter's the time to do things. The time when you feel peppy and like accomplishing the things that the lazy laziness of summer makes you keep putting. And the other woman, slow with the vigor of a walk in the cold wind stretched her hands gratefully to the blaze and sat down to talk it over.

Yes, winter is the time to read, to catch up on all the mending and replenishing of the household effects, and best of all, the time for families to draw closer together. Summer is the god-about time. But in cold weather cars and roads are a bit uncertain, and it's easier to gather round the fire—content to let the north wind roar.

Well do I remember that year in California when it was always summer. Scarce an evening at home together did we have and new books did we read. It was too easy to go to bed.

Winter is the time to sit down and savor memories that will last long after we are gone. One book read aloud together will do more toward bringing about family unity than anything else and that book will stand out for the rest of life as a fine boy. It arrived a day late but was acceptable nevertheless.

Rathbun & Starkweather sniped in a carload of high grade Clydesdales from Huron county and sold them this week. They expect another earload the first of next week.

The new furniture for the Lapham bank has arrived and will soon be put in place.

Mrs. Jane Tousey has returned from Linden and will spend the balance of the winter with her daughter, Mrs. E. M. Starkweather.

Mrs. Clarke Thornton is entertaining her mother and sister of Ypsilanti.

AT THE FIRESIDES

By Edgar A. Guest

No riches nor the pomp of fame entice,

The splendor of a hearth-fire's happy glow.

Where, fairy kings and princes come and go and all the people of our stored past.

How would you like to lose 15 pounds of fat in a month and at the same time increase your energy and improve your health?

Re vive their glad adventures, and the blast.

Of winter is forgotten, and the snows in the sunshine which the blazes throw.

And in the pictured shadows which they cast.

Who gives his children scenes like this to keep?

Shall be remembered when his gold is spent.

Though winds may blow and true storms may sweep,

They shall not rust or stain his monument.

Though never mentioned in the books of fame,

The home he loved shall treasure long his name.

"FLINT IS BOOMING," SAYS LETTER FROM
MRS. C. D. WRIGHT

A letter received from Mrs. C. D. Wright, formerly Elizabeth Van Valkenburgh of Northville, tells of her husband's transfer from Buffalo, New York, to Flint, Michigan. There is a great deal of activity in Flint, according to Mrs. Wright, with all of the automobile plants running at top speed. In trying to find a house she called all of the rental agencies and after failing to get a house in Flint she took one at Long Lake.

The city of Flint is 1400 water meters short of being able to connect up houses, so there are more houses rented in Flint at the present time than there have been at any other time, including 1929.

Her new address is 620 Fern, Long Lake, Fenton, Michigan.

TRIAL RANGES

We can tell you about the delicious natural flavor electric cooking retains in foods. We can tell you that meats and vegetables cook to melting tenderness in their own juices, with all their goodness SEALED-IN. We can tell you how easy it is to bake light, fine-grained cakes and flaky pastry in an electric oven. We can tell you how simply you can secure fluffy, golden-brown biscuits time after time. We can tell you these things, but the best way to convince you is to let you actually TRY AN ELECTRIC RANGE FOR YOURSELF.

That is what we want you to do. And to enable you to do it, we are making a special trial offer. We will install an electric range in your kitchen without initial charge, and let you use it for six months, removing it without charge if you do not like it. This permits you to try electric cooking in your own home without making any investment. During the trial period, you pay for the service as registered by your meter, plus a monthly charge of $1 for the range. If you decide to keep the range, your monthly payments will be applied toward the purchase price. If you decide that you do not want it, the range will be removed at our expense.

We believe that once you have tried electric cooking, you will never again be satisfied with any other kind. Send in your order for a trial range today.

LIVONIA TO HAVE PRIMARY BATTLES

(From Farmington Enterprise) Livonia township is to have two election battles this year, as last with contests on both republicans and democrat tickets as a result of petitions filed up to expiration time Tuesday.

Jesse Ziegler and John Harlan, supervisor and clerk, have no opposition for the republican nomination. However, Fred Schmidt and Albert Tyrell seek the democratic nomination for supervisor, while John Autama, democrat, will oppose Harlan in April for clerk.

Four aspire to the republican nomination for treasurer, Daniel McKinney, incumbent, and Arthur Trapp, Levi Clemens and G. A. Bakewell. Frank H. Soop is the only democrat candidate. Charles Wolfson, republican, and John Trevena, democrat, are the candidates for highway commissioner.

For board of review, Samuel McKinney is republican candidate and Raymond Grimm, democrat aspirant.

Ten men seek the four places as constable. They are Edward Howard, Walter Trapp, John Whitehead, Leon Mertiman, and Charles Canfield, republicans, and the following democrats: Maurice Hornbrook, Herman Gaas, Harold Hoppe, and Isaac H. Fuller.

Henry Bradley, republican, is the only candidate for overseer in district No. 1, but in district No. 2, T. J. Lewandowski, republican, has an opponent in April in James Gorard and democrat.

We have an inexpensive line of pleasing and instructive gifts for children. Crayon sets, paint sets, gifts for both boys and girls. The Art Shoppe, Penman-Allen Building, 311-C.

Food Market Advice

By ANN PAGE

The housewife marketeer should have an easy time finding what she wants at prices she wishes to pay this week with the possible exception of trees. It's a severe winter storm, however, carries the supply of trees so it may be difficult to find exactly what she desires. However, there is always something and there will be something new, particularly, fresh salmon and dried fish together with oysters. Scallops are also delicious and make a pleasant change from trout.

Any of the meats will be moderate in price. This week's pot roast may be from the round, chuck or rump. It's a chip and different when "Frenched" and served with a finely paper cover over the bone. There are a favorite uncooked dish with many toppings. A fresh pork shoulder may be roast either whole or boned. The Quaker Ham reminds you that a boned and rolled or boned and stuffed roast needs longer cooking than one in which the bone is left. This sarce will be well liked for breakfast or with some of the luncheon meat.

The more attractive dish comes on the home table than a glazed, clove-baked ham. It takes a whole ham to make all the delicious dishes of cooked ham you could want but at the same, it's not bad.

Call all the fruits are ripe grapes, is considered in quality. Grapes are sweet and juicy and eaten with great pleasure. California grapes are as good as Florida. Virginia apples are many varieties, for early cooking and eating are available. It is moderate cost. Bananas are sweetest and as such low in price. New grapes are becoming scarce but the supply will soon be supplemented by grapes from the Argentine.

Strawberries are news in the fruit. They are not big considering the season. Use them for flavoring and garnishing until they are more abundant.

The list of available vegetables is about as it has been in recent weeks.

Carrots, onions, celery and turnips top the list. They make a colorful salad when picked, as well as a delicious vegetable. Mushrooms add flavor and combine well with other vegetables.

Green beans and spinach continue to be the outstanding green vegetables, both for quality and price though the cabbage family still occupies a large part of all vegetable stands.

Tomatoes are again fairly plentiful and of good quality. New potatoes are

MELVINDALE IS BADLY BEATEN BY NORTHVILLE

Varsity Wins 21 to 9; Reserves Win By Score of 22 to 19.

Again the Northville High quinesters have chalked up victories. This time it was over the Melvindale eagles. The score for the Varsity game was N. H. S. 21, M. H. S. 9; the score for the reserve game was N. H. S. 22, M. H. S. 19. The combats took place over there last Friday, Feb. 16.

First Quarter

Opened with fouling and fast playing on both sides. Northville's defense was going well. Teams appeared evenly matched in this period. Score at end, Northville 3, Melvindale 1.

Second Quarter

Marburger injured knee while preventing an opponent's making a basket and was replaced by Myers. Hyderman, in for Keecher on the other team, N. H. S. began to click in good style and ran up their score to 12. M. H. S. had 5 when this period stopped.

Third Quarter

Melvindale's chances for winning seemed to keep decreasing every minute. Marburger came back in and, with his valuable assistance, our boys held M. H. S.'s gain in points down to two. Zacher, of Melvindale, replaced Collins. Score at duration of third period, Northville 15, Melvindale 9.

Fourth Quarter

Pokrywko was removed because he had played too many quarters. This gave Deal, the acting captain, a free throw. Keecher came back; he was a very speedy rival. Westphall did some outstanding defense work. Deal was taken out—he had three personals. Final score, Northville 21, Melvindale 9.

The line-ups were as follows:

Northville: Hoffmann and Deal, forwards; Bryn, center; Marburger and Westphall, guards. Substitutes: Myers and Hyderman. Melvindale: Collins and Hungay, forwards; Duguid, center; Pokrywko and Keecher, guards. Substitutes: Hyderman, Kuhl, Hultun.

Hoffmann had 7 points and was followed by Marburger with 5, Westphall with 3, Deal with 3, and Myers with 1.

As the total, N. H. S. 21, M. H. S. 19, denotes, the second team game was much more exciting than that of the first team. The initial half was fast, ending with a score of 9 for our representatives and 7 for those of Melvindale. The speed continued throughout the rest of the game.

Line-up: Forwards, Duguid and Carrington; guards, G. Westphall and Schrader; center, Bender. Substitutes: Lake, Angove, Hochkins, Turnbull.

F. Colucci was the referee.

CORNER FOR BOOK LOVERS

By Rita Springer

Autobiographies are particularly interesting because the reader knows that the adventures, places, and characters are real and not the products of some author's vivid imagination; and what is more fascinating than to be able to read them while their writers are still alive?

"Lone Cowboy" by Will James is an outstanding story which, immediately upon its appearance in 1931, became a best seller. It is the author-co-publisher's life's saga.

His father was a Texan and his mother, a Californian. They were travelling from Texas to Canada when they intended to make a new start in cattle raising. They never did get there.

In Montana they stopped their covered wagon beside a small creek which emptied into the Judith River, and there "Little Bilee" was born.

As soon as possible they moved to the nearest cow camp, and Will, Sr., got a job breaking broncos. But happiness was short-lived. When the boy was a year old, his mother died of the flu and his dad began breaking the "rough string." Fast action and danger made him forget the ache in his heart. During the three glorious years spent with his father, the youngster learned the "feel" of a horse by climbing behind the cantle of the saddle and hanging on to his father's cartridge belt.

One day his father was killed by a mean long-horn steer—one horn had pierced his stomach. The little boy wasn't told right away. When he'd ask for his dad they'd evade by saying that "he took some cattle over the border and we don't know when he'll be back." Trapper Jean Beaupre, known to the boys as "Bopy," was left in charge of the lad. Will missed his father (and his mother too); nevertheless, the days with the trapper were happy ones. He and Bopy were "pards."

He was eight or nine when he first saw a real town and another child. "I sure was surprised," he said. "I never figured there was little people like me!" But he didn't know what to say to them, so they didn't get acquainted.

When he was thirteen years old, Bopy was drowned; since then Will has been on his own. He learned to roll cigarettes with one hand, rope steers and "blast broncs."

All this time he was drawing horses feeding, roping, bucking, saddle horses and pacific horses. Once he had drawn the body of a horse, but couldn't make a leather fit. What did he do? He erased the horse and, then drew another to go with the leg. He still does that sometimes.

He married the sister of one of his western friends and she encouraged him to write, "Anyways," he remarked, "there was a lot of things in them pictures I wanted to say, but couldn't." He now lives in a 15,000 acre ranch in Montana, where he writes and illustrates his own stories.

GRADE NOTES

The kindergarteners had their valentine party and each one made the valentines themselves.

Mrs. Eaton answered the letter that Miss Leonardson's first grade wrote to her about Cynthia. The people in the post office were very busy last week stamping and sorting the mail.

Miss Jarvis' first grade has a new member, Dorothy Avril. Mary Ellen Babbitt is home with the mumps. Alice Steele has returned to school after having an operation for appendicitis.

Joyce Neely, Pete Spagnolo and Gerry Nelson of Mrs. Reng's third grade have perfect attendance records this year. The Tigers and Lions had their spelling contest and the Lions were the winners. Consequently the Tigers entertained them to a party.

Seven people are absent in Mrs. Congo's room on account of the mumps. The fourth graders have new geography books. They are also starting an Indian museum.

Mum's have entered Mrs. Babmitt's fourth grade also. Nine are absent.

The Egyptian village belonging to Miss Corrin's fourth and fifth grades has been completed. They are now engaged in a spelling contest between the two grades.

Mrs. Hawkins' fifth grade has an exhibit now topics from a ton of coal. Phil Chase is the chairman. Both sides were chosen and each side tries to bring in more words from newspapers than their opponents. The division bringing the most words to spell wins.

Richard Ambler is back in school after a bath with the mumps.

Mary Jane Boelen, Louise Alexander, Grendlyn Jones, Eber Lester, Albert Boelen, and Kendall Willis enjoyed the Shrine Circus last week.

The eighth graders have made booklets in General Science. The junior assembly desks are being refinshed.

ROUND THE SCHOOL

Just As They Came

what notes the left hand will strike. It really makes a grand noise—especially as we do our own compositions. The other evening we were murkering a piece and were rendered some excellent advice. It was: Stick to the clarinet.

Self-respect, self-knowledge, self-control.—These three alone lead life to sovereignty power."

Amen, Lord Tennyson, amen. But pray, where dost one gain such noble virtues?" What, and thou dost not know? Why, at Northville high school, of course.

(Rah, rah, rah)

If we were Walter Winchell, we'd certainly send Mr. Dooley an orchid. Those in school need no explanation for they know how easy it is for him to open a door, put up mirrors, and a hundred other things.

Food Market Advice

With the exception of Lent is a time when the creation of various kinds of food and drink and the consumption of meat, fish, fruit, vegetables, etc. is at its height. This is due to the fact that the weather is warmer and there is more time available for outdoor activities. The result is that there are more opportunities for sports and recreation, and there are many more social occasions, such as picnics, barbecues, and picnics, which provide good opportunities for eating out-of-doors.

For the average dinner, however, there is no need to have a special pot pie or fritter, or even a large meal, but a good choice, other meat offerings, which are good everyday fare, are available in the market. These include, for example, steaks, chops, roasts, etc. The best part of the day's shopping is in the morning when the meat counters are open and the meat department is well-stocked. This is particularly true in the case of lamb, which is very popular and is well worth the extra cost.

For dessert, fresh fruit is excellent, and there are plenty of choices available. For example, there is always a large variety of fresh fruit available, such as apples, peaches, plums, and so on. Fresh fruit is also excellent for snacking, and can be eaten raw or cooked. It is also good for breakfast, as it provides a quick energy boost.

Island of Tavalora Has Two-and-Half-Mile Area Considerable confusion exists over the question of just what is the smallest republic in the world. Newspapers and magazines have mentioned both Andorra and San Marino in this connection. As a matter of fact neither of these does the honor of being the most primitive being. Andorra has not been a republic for centuries, and the fact that this country, in the Pyrenees mountains on the Franco-Spanish border has 191 square miles in contrast to San Marino's 35 certainly puts it out of the running.

But even San Marino is eclipsed by another Italian state, the Island of Tavalora, which is off the north coast of Sardinia, and which has an area of two-and-a-half miles.

Tavalora's independence has not been uninterrupted, but its beginnings go back to Roman days when it was used as a concentration camp for condemned gladiators. The people on this Isle still speak Latin, with the pronunciation aided by German scholars some 75 years ago.

During the years 1328 to 1329 the Island was not independent, being owned by the Barberini family—a gift of King Carlo Alberto.

The latter's rights of this family were contested and Tavalora regained her freedom, probably electing a president and six councilmen who governed the 100 people of the island without law.

A tie through Charlemagne exists between the two states of Andorra and San Marino, for it was in the rear of St. George when Charlemagne granted the state in the Pyrenees her independence. San Marino declared war on that mighty monarch.

The latter's Latin secretary reported that the ruler died without learning the location of the state which declared war on him.—Pathfinder Magazine.
