CAMPAIGN IN TOWNSHIP IS HARD FOUGHT

W. A. Ely and Dr. E. B. Cavell Lead the Opposing Forces

In what experts predict will probably be the most exciting township election held here in many years, Northville's republican incumbents on Monday, April 2, will oppose a complete slate of democrats who have waged an aggressive pre-election campaign.

Headed by Supervisor Willard A. Ely the republicans' ticket is comprised of the following members who will run for election: Elmer L. Smith, township clerk; Mrs. Jeanie Collins, treasurer; Ernest A. Kohler, highway commissioner; Arthur J. Gotts, overseer of highways; G. C. Benton, member of the board of review; constables, Philip Dohon, Ole A. Tibbits, James Black, and Frank N. Parrin.

Dr. E. B. Cavell heads the democratic forces who offer the following candidates on their slate: M. J. Murphy, clerk; Mrs. Lillian Blake, treasurer; Franklin D. VanValkenburg, highway commissioner; John R. Walker, justice of the peace; Charles P. Knight, overseer of highways; Bert C. Stark, member of the board of review; constables, Harvey VanValkenburg, Arthur E. Lyke, Fred H. Hicks, Louis A. Launing.

The voting booths for precinct two, under Horton's drug store at the corner of Main and Center streets, and for precinct one, at the village hall, will be open from seven o'clock in the morning until eight o'clock in the evening.

RELIEF COMMISSION ASKS TOWNSHIP FOR $1,200 IN BUDGET

The voters of Northville township will be interested in the following letter that Elmer L. Smith, township clerk, has received from the Wayne County Emergency Relief Commission:

March 27, 1934.
Mr. Elmer L. Smith,

115 W. Main Street,
Dear Sir,

In order to properly care for the indigent, it is necessary that each subdivision of the relief committee bear its share of the relief cost.

The state authorities demand that the community contribute one-third of its relief cost.

Therefore, the Wayne County Emergency Relief Commission respectfully requests you include your Township budget for the next fiscal year an amount that will show cash collection of the following estimated one-third contribution toward your actual relief costs.

Please acknowledge this letter and set forth your contemplated action in regard to the definite inclusion of one-third of your relief cost in your Township budget for this next fiscal year.

MASTER!

MARY will forever stand for all those who come to tombs with aching hearts and with eyes dimmed by tears. Hers was a personal Easter message. She was alone; the others had left. But faithful following after Jesus, when surroundings are dark, or hard to explain, brings its own rich reward. Jesus never fails those who love Him. There in the midst of her questionings and grief He spoke her name in tones that thrilled her to the heart. A new sublime conviction and a new comfort came. "Master!" she cried. And He will do that for each one of us."

RECORD SNOWFALL HITS NORTHLVILLE MONDAY, MAR. 26

Over a Foot of "The Beautiful" Ties Up Traffic of Automobiles

Winter gave its last dying, such all hope! Monday, March 26, when the heaviest snowfall in years gently but persistently descended upon Northville and surrounding territory until it had covered the ground to a depth variously estimated at 12 to 15 inches.

The snowfall, which began Monday morning, continued all day and night and residents woke Tuesday morning to a spot bound world. Scores of cars were stalled in their garages until some kind neighbors came and although causing great inconvenience to city inhabitants the snow was a blessing to the farmers due to the small amount of precipitation the past few months.

ROTARIANS HEAR U. OF D. DEAN AT MEETING IN WAYNE

Half of the members of the Northville Rotary club batted the snowdrifts and treacherous roads Tuesday noon to attend a meeting held jointly with the Wayne chapter. The program was in charge of Father Jos. G. Schuler of the Northville club, who had secured Father Jos. A. Luther, S. J., dean of men at the University of Detroit, as the speaker.

"We are in no real danger from Communism," said Fr. Luther as he touched on the present changes in our economic system. "The bloody revolution through which we are going will mean social justice for all and when this comes we shall have found the way to a permanent peace and prosperity."

The present local library association was established in 1889 and has been in continuous operation since that time. Under the new plan the township will have to maintain the building only and will not be responsible for the payment of the salary of the librarian or the repair of the books.

CAST YOUR VOTE FOR CONSTABLE PHILIP H. DONON

Cast your vote in the Northville township election for Philip Donon as one of the four constables for this township. Mr. Donon has the experience necessary to perform the duties of his office in a competent, efficient and economical manner.

As a present holder of the office of constable, Mr. Donon has given steady, reliable service. He is known throughout the Wayne county building in Detroit by officials in charge and has performed many duties to their satisfaction. If you have business which comes within his jurisdiction as Northville township constable you may be sure of courteous attention. To keep him for his term on Monday, April 2.

LIBRARY MAY BE BRANCH OF COUNTY PLAN

Proposal for Affiliation To Come Before Township Meeting

One of the things that voters of Northville township will have to consider this evening on at the town meeting Monday, April 2 will be the forming of the present library into a branch of the Wayne county library system. The local library board has asked that this honor be incorporated under the county system.

The Wayne county library board met in Detroit Tuesday, March 20 and approved the plan. It will be up to the voters to make known their opinion in the matter when they gather for the annual township meeting.

It is the plan of the Ladies' Library association to turn over the building and the books to the township. The proposition suggests that the township maintain the building, and until Dec. 1, it also will be asked to pay the librarian. As the plan stands at the present time the library will be open the same hours but will not be closed during the supper hour.

If the plan goes through the library will have access to 90,000 volumes through affiliation with the Wayne county system, and every two weeks approximately 100 new books will be brought to this branch.

As yet there is no provision made for the establishment of a local library board.

The Wayne county library association was established in 1889 and has been in continuous operation since that time. Under the new plan the township will have to maintain the building only and will not be responsible for the payment of the salary of the librarian or the repair of the books.

G. EBERSOLE HANGS SELF ON MONDAY

Despondency Causes Tragedy at Home of Waterford Farmer

Charles Ebersole, 37 years old, hanged himself Wednesday afternoon from the rafter of a barn located near his house on Bradner road at Waterford, between the Five and Six Mile roads.

Mr. Ebersole had been despondent over business reverses and ill health for some time according to reports. His body was found by his wife, Gladys Irene, 31, who became alarmed when he did not come into the house for supper.

He leaves besides his widow, four children, Howard, 12, Dorothy, 10; Claude, 8, and Keith, 2. His mother, Mrs. Albert Ebersole, made her home with him. Two brothers, Wilbur of Ann Arbor and Orval of Pontiac, also survive him.

The death of his father, over a year ago, the loss of his home by fire and a series of financial distements are thought to have contributed to a mental depression started by those who knew him best.

Less than an hour before the tragedy occurred, Mr. Ebersole called on his neighbor, Oliver Herreid, an attorney from the state. He had just joined a local club, "The Get-Together Club" to be their guests Saturday, indicating that his fatal step taken in a moment of sudden despair.

Charles Ebersole was born near S. S. He was a member of the F. A. M. No. 132 Northville a good enough to be able and have drawn it.

The funeral will be held Saturday at 1 p.m. at Wilkins' Chapel in Plymouth.

This is the second as the township board has recently been informed by the deputy administrator of the Works Progress Administration. Mr. Ebersole was involved in the recent reorganization of the state government.

The proposal of reorganization these voters has been taken up with the corporation counsel of Wayne County and also with the attorney general of Michigan. These two men differ in opinion but some candidates of the democratic ticket insisted that the CWA workers be retained.

In introducing their candidate, Mr. Scully stressed the needs of convicted criminals that all democratic candidates in the state of Michigan were plied to the reduction of the existence of democratic failures. The candidates were also asked to keep the proposed reduction of taxes instead of increasing them.

Approximately 150 democrats and friends attended the political rally and open air meeting sponsored by the Northville Booster Club.

Meeting in the high school auditorium, the democrats introduced their candidates for office and presented three speakers of state and national importance including Lee Novak, chairman of the Northville Community Improvement Association.

THE HAPPIEST PEOPLE

"Who are the happiest people?" asks Dr. Joseph Fort Newton in his daily column in the Detroit Free Press.

There are a lot of answers to that. It depends a good deal on your status in life.

In these days of financial worry, with the way looking dark ahead, a lot of us think that we should be very happy if our money worries could be removed. We doubt it. Freedom from financial cares won't make you happy very long. Happiness comes from within and it is a fleeting thing that doesn't always come according to formula.

Personally, we find that we are happiest when we forget ourselves in doing something for someone else, in bringing a new joy to our family, in keeping the Ten Commandments and in doing the day's work the best we know how. Do you know of any better way to gain content?

THE PRESIDENT GOES FISHING

For over three years now, the staff of the Northville Record hasn't dared take a lengthy vacation—two or three weeks to "forget business." We all thought that none of us dared go away and leave the problems.

Yet we just read that President Roosevelt is planning on a week's fishing off Florida in Vincent Astor's yacht (who said Wall street?). If the world's most important man and the United States' most worried man, in many ways, can leave all his mighty problems behind for a week, guess the rest of us can safely plan on a little fishing.

Any kind of a vacation is a good thing. We find that none of us is indispensable and we come back to work better fitted to tackle the job.

We are glad that the president has showed us how to get away from our job.

OUR PARKWAY SYSTEM

Those who know say that there are two great parkway systems in the United States—that in Westchester county, New York and the one that starts at Northville, Michigan and ends to the Rouge Park in Detroit.

That ought to give Northville a great distinction, as it will also Plymouth, our next door neighbor.

With the coming of spring, we'll see what a marvelously lovely spot this parkway plan offers. Connecting the various parks, such as Cass Beaton, and the paved way brings the beauties of the great open spaces right to the motorists. The drive from the bridge at the Northville fairgrounds toward Plymouth is surpassingly beautiful as the pavement winds past the wooded spots, over the hills, alongside the river and vast stretches of green grass.

The parkway system is a thing of great beauty—we are sure that its loveliness will be an incentive to all of Northville's people to make their homes and surroundings more attractive.

THE TAXES WE PAY

The passage of the 15-mill amendment was supposed to cut down our state taxes. We were promised that. And the men who went into office on the Roosevelt landslide in 1932 promised to do great things in the way of slashing costs. Have they?

As Smith would say: "Let us look at the record."

Take Eaton county—any county would very likely show about the same result. Former congressman John C. Ketcham of Hastings, gave the figures on Eaton county in a speech the other day. Here they are: In 1932, before the "New Deal" came in, that county paid state taxes of $192,000. This year, counting the sales and other taxes, the total will be around $143,000. Only a 40 per cent advance.

And yet, as many have pointed out, we do little protesting on these "hidden" taxes that are higher than we used to pay. We pay the gasoline tax and the sales tax, day in and day out, in small sums, and take it for granted. But the total we pay is higher than ever. Don't forget that, if you get to discussing the tax question.

WHEN TO SLOW DOWN

A good friend of ours has had to take to his bed because for years he has been refusing to obey the orders of his physician to slow down and take it a little easier. A man with a great deal of energy and ambition, he could not see why he should quit driving himself as long as he could keep going. Now the physical frame balks and he will have to take weeks to build up the resistance and vitality so he can go to work once more.

How are men who work hard, plan big things and push their ambition to the limit, going to learn the lesson that after middle life begins they will be wise not to try to take all the hills in high gear? We don't know. Men who get things done by working to the limit themselves hate to be called easy-going or lazy, and hence they are very loath to start a process of moderation. Perhaps if these men do slow down a bit they get into the predicament in which our friend now finds himself—he has to stop everything.

If all men past 50 could cut down their work one-third, it probably would bring longer life to everyone of them. But the tragedy is that the average man at 50 has to keep fighting to keep his financial head above water. Yet, in the new era in which we are finding ourselves—with our hours and ways of living being set for us by our government—the man in middle life is not wanted in many places. Even the man of 45 finds that when he goes out now to seek a job, they look for the gray hairs in his head and wonder if he is not too old. Of course, this is all nonsense, for a man of 45 or 50 should be at the peak of his usefulness. But our surplus of men gives the younger man the advantage over the one who has turned the half-century mark.

In the new day that seems to be dawning for us, there will have to come means of social security, both for the man, like our friend, who has his own business and can't slow down, and for the man who has no job, no business, and yet who has to carry on some way. For both types of men, it is a problem. If all worthy men could be assured of a modest income after they start toward the sunset years, the problem would be pretty well solved. Maybe the new social order will bring us this solution. Here's hoping.

WANDERING THOUGHTS

The old time saloon was paradise compared to the beer gardens of Detroit," states a "hard-boiled" man of the big city who knows what he is talking about.

If Northville Protestants are not more loyal to their churches, the time is not far off when we shall have fewer preachers in town.

When you spend a few pennies for White Cross seals you may help some boy or girl to walk. Those 10,000 shouldn't last long. Plymouth has set out to sell 15,000.

That the hearts of men are hungry for religion is shown by the increasing numbers who attend Lenten services or listen to them over the radio. The churches will all be filled Sunday. If they were filled all through the year, you could have a transformed community, with less of meanness, graft and cruelty.

As we write this (Friday, the 23rd) it seems as though the automobile strike will be called off. Had the 250,000 auto workers and those associated with them walked out you would have seen the NRA recover program knocked into a cocked hat—and no one knew this better than President Roosevelt. Organized labor has gained more from the NRA than any other one group and there had to be a stop somewhere. "Class governments never succeed." No matter what you may say of the injustice of the big employer class, there is no denying the fact that agitators—and even racketeers—have had a lot to do with stirring up the great labor unrest of Detroit and other parts of the country. The great mass of the people will not submit to such domination. Even such authors as Walter Lippmann points out that you can hardly expect the automobile industry to go under a code of compulsion as to hours and wages and then quickly submit to domination by the American Federation of Labor. With the strike threat out of the way, we should be ready for a further forward sweep of prosperity.

LEARN TO LGAF

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt in Cosmopolitan

Sometimes it is extremely good for you to forget that there is anything in the world that needs to be done and to do some particular thing that you want to do. Every human being needs a certain amount of time in which he can be peaceful. Peace may take the form of exercise, or reading, or any congenial occupation; but the one thing which must not be connected with it is a sense of obligation to do some particular thing at some particular time. I had 200 letters waiting a few days ago, and any amount of work which had to be done, and I deliberately went out for the afternoon and spent two hours reading poetry. This was entirely outside my schedule, and you will probably raise your hands in horror at the thought of breaking up a well-arranged day, but... believe me, it makes for better quality of work.

MEMORIES OF MEN WHO WALKED OUR VILLAGE STREETS

WILLIAM G. YERKES, "Little Bill" because of his medium stature and to identify him among the several William Yerkes. A kindly man, happy dispositioned, a sportsman, the business man and enjoyable to deal with.

JOHN GUTHRIE, an amiable citizen. Civil war veteran, attentive to his home and his public responsibilities.

JAMES SMITH, solidly built, a ruler, odd job man, boarding house keeper and obliging in his dealings with the public.

JERVIS PALMER, strong of arm and body, always attentive to the business of blacksmithing a honest, keeping man, ever a gloom-chaser, a good public citizen and as cheerful as the ringing forge at which he worked.

OSSIE E. COLDREN, farmer and stockman, pioneer descendant, village dweller and always the friend of man.

JOHN LOCKWOOD, "Freddy," as mates would call him, farm worker, horse jockey, alert, friendly, agreeable and a winner in life's handicaps.

L. NEWTON BLACKWOOD, farmer for many years, returned to village life and rendered public service especially in rebuilding the streets of the town in the old horse and carriage days. A worker and a man, well liked.

LYMAN E. McROBERTS, a man of experience, only of medium size, fiery temperament, aggressive for his ideals, courteous with his public but unwilling to be rapped on.

ANDREW O. COLBURN, variety store owner slow and deliberate, rather self-contained, unstrung by political or moral upheavals, ordinary in outdoor, indoor, ambitions.

J. MORRELL SIMMONS, a man of stout build, a farmer for most of his active life, village dweller for some time and ever pursuing the even tenor of his ways.

GEORGE H. CALKINS, a New York state man who came in before the Civil war and became a part of village life until his death.

JEREMIAH B. LINDSAY, Captain by birth, factory worker in the machine department, a quiet citizen ready to help where he could.

LIPPMANN AND THE NRA

the Tucola County (Wyo) Register

In his speech at the inauguration of Walter Lippmann, famous political writer, he called an enemy of President Roosevelt. Most of the time the latter's inauguration, Mr. Lippmann has defended the President and his works.

Mr. Lippmann has an essential ability which will not permit him to approve the President's actions when he thinks he sees that these actions are leading the American people into trouble and possibly worse.

Mr. Lippmann in a recent article, in speaking about the troubles of the administration, says that the NRA is the real grid to the national government. He says that there are two great trouble makers in the program. The first is that propaganda has taught the people that the NRA is a wonderful instrument in restoring prosperity, and the second is that NRA has started many things which it can never finish.

He speaks also of the fact that the program is raising the cost of things faster than it is raising the ability of people to buy, and says finally that the theory is false.

Continuing, he says: "Administered on this theory, NRA must be set down as a brake upon the recovery which is being brought about by natural forces, combined with other measures being taken by the government. It is as now set up, a serious disturber of the peace."

The whole article should be read carefully by all interested in business of any kind. It calls a spade a spade, and indicates as many business men have already thought, that the NRA will not work, at least as now administered.

Many politicians cling to the antiquated theory that a weekly newspaper must be a partisan political organ. Some of them just can't seem to be able to get through their heads the conception of a community newspaper as a non-political, quasi-public community institution. They can understand that a man who happens to vote the republican ticket can still conduct the public library on a strictly non-partisan basis, but they can't seem to the fact that an editor who happens to vote the democratic or the republican ticket, can run a newspaper on a policy which rises above partisan politics. Herein we discover another difference between the politician and the statesman.

YOUR BREAD AND BUTTER

(C. S. Reed in Rochester Clarion)

If you talk to a business man today about problems that are worrying him, nine chances out of ten he will bring up the subject of taxation. He knows that government must be supported and is anxious and willing to do his part. But he is beginning to question whether too many things are being done in the name of government; which are outside the functions of governing and in the realms of business.

The tax question is not yet as personal to the employer as it is to the employee because he has not yet seen his position in the picture as clearly as the employer.

As a matter of fact, the employee has more at stake than the employer. Take the case of a factor employing ten or a thousand persons. The tax burdens of the employer, local and national, are reaching a point where his earnings, which he would like to spend for expansion, are in many cases absorbed by taxation. Taxes discourage the investor from making improvements that would give employment. Who is the greatest loser here?

If an employer is finally forced to cease operations, he and his family suffer as one unit in the community life. But ten employees or one thousand employees will suffer just as much as he does, by the loss of their jobs. Therefore, employees really have a greater interest in conditions that create and maintain employment, than has the employer.

That is why employees have a greater interest today in taxation and legislative questions that encourage or discourage business, than ever before—because jobs become harder to get as opportunities are reduced for successful operation of industry.

Charitable Lady (to Panhandler)

But, my dear man, there must be plenty of generous persons in the world.

EXTREMELY COLD WEATHER BLASTS HOPES FOR MICHIGAN PEACH CROP THIS SEASON

Prospects for a peach crop in Michigan are bad and the crop from other fruits will be more or less reduced due to the extreme cold according to investigations made by the department of horticulture at Michigan State College.

All fruit buds on Elberta peaches in this state appear to be killed except a few, perhaps, in Berrien county. South Haven's and Rochester's are in a little better condition, and Gold Drops, New Prolific, and a few other varieties may produce a light crop.

All pruning on the varieties which may have some live buds should be delayed until it can be determined what portions of the tree show any promise of fruit bearing. Two weeks of temperatures above the freezing point will give the discolorations caused by freezing time to appear in the woody portions of twigs and branches.

Pots and pans used on an electric range are as easy to wash as any china dish—even after long use. You do not have to scour utensils after each cooking operation and there is no caking of grease to discolor them. An electric range cooks with pure, concentrated heat—without flame or smoke or soot. There are no products of combustion as in a fuel-burning stove—nothing to blacken pots and pans or soil kitchen walls and curtains. An electric range supplies only PURE HEAT from a glowing wire. Electric heat is as clean as sunlight.

We want you to try electric cooking in your own kitchen—without making any investment or being under any obligation. So we have arranged a special trial offer. We will install an electric range in your kitchen without initial charge, and let you use it for six months, removing it without charge if you do not like it. During the trial period, you pay for the service as registered by your meter, plus a monthly charge of $1 for the range. If you decide to keep the range, your monthly payments will be applied toward the purchase price. If you decide that you do not want it, the range will be removed at our expense. Since this trial plan was begun short time ago, over 1500 of our customers have taken advantage of the offer. Send in your application for a trial range today!

W. H. WHITE HAS A 100-YEAR-OLD PAPER

A newspaper published just one hundred years ago was brought into the Record office Wednesday, by W. H. White. Yellowed with age and worn at the folds, this paper was published March 27, 1834, in Geneva, N. Y., and was the property of John Morse, grandfather of Mrs. White.

And what a strange newspaper! Occupying a prominent position on the front page is a long "Chapter on Offers" by the "Young Man About Town," who ventures to comment on the difficulties and best methods of asking the young lady of his choice for her hand.

On another page a contributor describes a visit to Washington. Such a trip was a real event in those days and one sees in this description the glamour of the new nation's capital and the popular promenade of men, women, children, slaves and free blacks, gone on horseback, some in carriages, on a Sunday afternoon in Pennsylvania Avenue.

In this paper Lorenzo Dow writes vehemently: "Don't give up, the ship" and urges the nation to "preserve the Union."

The advertisements are amusing. Among them are merino shawls, liver oil by the barrel or quart, snuff and a church pew.

The death of a Revolutionary commander, Simon Tucker, is mentioned, who was selected by Washington to convey John Adams, first minister to France.

These days started of leisure and slow moving enjoyment of things crowded out in this machine age.

America - here they are!

To fill the record-breaking nationwide demand, Chevrolets are being produced at a record-breaking rate of

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

CHEVROLET factories are breaking records, trying to give America all the cars it wants—4000 units a day are rolling off the assembly lines. In fact, more Chevrolets are now being produced than any other make of automobile in the world.

Naturally, Chevrolet is proud of the record its factories have made this year. Especially so, in view of the fact that the 1934 Chevrolet is not merely last year's model improved, but a basically new automobile throughout. Producing so many of these cars in the season, and producing them all up to Chevrolet high standards of quality, is nothing short of a real accomplishment!

Chevrolet takes this opportunity to thank the American public for the wonderful way it has received the 1934 Chevrolet car. And Chevrolet is happy to report, that with over 4,000 cars a day being built, dealers everywhere will soon be in a position to make immediate deliveries.

Every Monday Morning
By "AD" SCHWEINGER

We heard the other day why Mr. Armour walks so slowly through his meat packing company. It's because he doesn't want to be known as Swift.

The horsemanship of Kenny Martin and Eddie Verkes would bear investigation. It is said that they wore out two pair of horses.

It all came about, this recent blizzard, we mean to say, because of the fact that we inserted a paragraph in the paper a few weeks ago stating that "an early spring is expected."

Well, if spring has shown up in Northville it was here for an extremely short stay.

Once upon a time not so many years ago, Paul Baldwin, then a mere infant, took his basket in hand and made a tour of the neighborhood in Albion. He collected plenty of booty and a neighbor, Mr. Stockmeyer, has never forgotten it. Not even to this day.

Come and see Paul some time. Mr. Stockmeyer, he's a trifle over six feet tall now and can smack a foot ball like pretty hard.

And dipping into the past there was the time that Henry Schmitz, music teacher, was called by Father Jos. G. Schuler to come and tune a piano. Art Schmitz then a youth, took the call and kidded Father Schuler along, thinking all of the time that it was Charles Alfman trying to put over a "fast one."

After Father Jos. had hung up Arthur called Charley, who informed him that he hadn't been near the phone all day.

In company with Mr. and Mrs. Martin Koldyke, Saturday evening, we journeyed over to Ann Arbor to view the finals of the National Inter-collegiate Wrestling tournament. "Dutch" Koldyke used to do quite a bit of the "grunt and puff" sport for Purdue not so many years ago. We suspect that it would still be

GARDEN HINTS (By Jessie F. Malmberg)

Kolkwitzia Amabilis (Beautybush). Although of recent introduction, has become a favorite with tree gardeners, for its hardness, beauty, charm and adaptability. It is allied to the Weigela and Honeysuckle and resembles them somewhat. It is an arching shrub, growing to the height of six feet, with the center branches always upright.

The flowers are somewhat lipped and bell shaped, pale pink with orange vein in the throat, the bracts deeper colored. The flowers bloom in June and are produced in pairs forming a cluster system of about twenty-five flowers.

This graceful and pleasing shrub is worthy of its name Beautybush. It is found in Central China high up in the mountains and was named after R. Kolkwitz, professor of Botany, Berlin.

The Beautybush must have a well-drained soil and should be planted where the air will circulate freely around it in the winter. The Beautybush does not blossom freely until it is well established. This shrub improves with age.

During the past 30 years this big company has paid losses amounting to $4,022,884.15. This is an average of over $134,000 per year. If the year 1934 keeps up this average, there will be much property destroyed in the state.

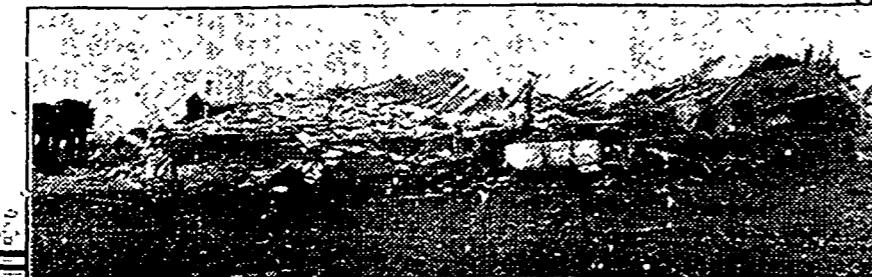

The time to get insurance is before the loss. The cost in this company has been but 7c on each $100 insurance for 48 years.

This picture shows the result of a cyclone which struck Michigan April 30, 1933. The owner of this once fine property, Gladys Vick, promptly received $1,700, the amount of policy. In addition to the barn a fine cement stave silo was completely destroyed. This property was located in West Branch township, Missaukee Co.

pretty hard to pin his shoulders to that, even today.

We'd like to know who authored the sign put up in the street by the workmen who labored near the city hall a week or so ago. It read:

SLOW
AT WORK
HERE

THIS WEEK
By H. H. WHITE

Not so long ago I heard a sermon, a very good and learned one, on the inherent problems of evil. As I listened to this discourse I could not help but think of the parallel, the problem of goodness.

As I followed the discourse, on evil running counter to it in my mind was the wonderment of goodness in this world of ours. We find, above us so much sacrifice of this that nature and shining instances of unselfishness and noteworthy and highly commendable examples of love.

When we remember that just a few thousand years ago our ancestors and forbears were hardly on a much higher level than beasts, we are lead sometimes to ponder what miracles of enlightenment and revelation of growth mankind has risen to the height whereby he will lay down his very life for his loved ones and neighbors if need be, and in some instances sacrifice himself for a cause.

As the sermon was concluded and I left the church, I wondered if mankind and civilization as it progressed was becoming more tolerant and sympathetic with the new order of things, economically, socially, and religiously, as against those of yesterday?

Did we as a community and as a nation have a higher regard for the nobility of our fellowmen?

For it is such thoughts and virtues as these that are the true test of development and growth of race of mankind.

All nature quickened by the breath of spring, is awakened unto newness of life. Every member and friend of the church of our risen Lord should feel the same stirring of energy, the same quickness unto newness and joyousness of living.

Easter is a day of flowers, of bright, glad music, and helpful gifts. It is also a day of new consecrations and decisions.

Help us to make this a great Easter day in our church. Plan to be at the services, bring four friends, lend your flowers, and it will be a day of great spiritual refreshment for you.

Ever cordially yours,
Rev. E. L. Carless.

EASTER RESOLUTIONS

(By Lucy Linton)
Did you make all your resolutions on New Year's day? Why didn't you wait for a more propitious season?

January is such a hard month on tender, growing things — especially resolutions. In the first place, the Christmas joys are just over, and we are all suffering from that slump which follows strenuous good times and the winter, the dull, ugly, uncompromising part of it, is just setting in. We know there is likely to be a blizzard when we are planning to attend a party or club meeting.

It is hard to get up the morning of the day you had planned to make a lettuce bed, and put out your spring flowers, to find a vigorous snowstorm in full session. Be still for minute and listen to a redbird in your neighbor's cherry tree piping merrily: "Here, here! With you with you, with you!"

To be sure it is with us, the blossoms are entertainings at home. The dash of crimson joy, and he will smile as getting thicker as the cold save the day for that resolution begins to strengthen, and soon creeps Suppose you've resolved to stop at every service. Ah, January is grousing and then the brisk winds, a hard month to be good in!

February comes our winter, throw your tiny rose garlands have lost their freshness, and trample your grass into the mud. That resolution would snap been through the flint mill. (That's like glass in January, just as if a pioneer saying and I don't know what a flint mill was, but isn't it robust calls to you from the telephone?) If February can't get through overhead: "Cheer up, cheer up, cheer up!" And you just can't help cheering up.

Oh, you get all sorts of encouragement in the resolution business at the season! If you resolve to grow in heart and mind and in soul, there is the example of the green grass that rises in spite of the rude trampling feet, and the birds that sing in spite of the beating spring rains, and the flowers that bloom because of the rains and buffering winds. And think of all the help you will get from the Easter music!

It is so sweet and tender and glad and triumphant! How could you help being better and stronger and truer after hearing it? It's the sweetest, finest season of the whole year—the Easter season, with its message of rising and growing and doing and being. If your New Year's resolutions are broken or even nicksed here and there, why not get a fresh set when you get your Easter clothes and when you array your body, put some of the newness of life into your mind and heart and soul? And even if we haven't new Easter clothes, and a precious lot of us won't have, why can't we deck our minds and hearts and souls a bit more lavishly, so that the steady, happy light shining through our eyes from within will prove to the world that Easter is not entirely a time for outward adornment? Why not try making a few resolutions at the blessed Easter time?

Kalamazoo, where they visited Mrs. Cook's daughter.

The supper entertainment and games last Friday evening were a success. The eats were good and served in first class style. The Ford Dixie Eight gave the program and everyone enjoyed it. The negroes voices blended harmoniously with a good hot dinner.

Pedro followed the hall and tables were full to the door. This entertainment was sponsored by the Ladies' Association.

Mrs. Edna Painter, while on her way to Evorse to take care of a patient, met with an accident at Middle Belt and Plymouth roads. A man with a big automobile ran into her car, completely destroying it.

Mrs. Painter was taken to Redford Receiving Hospital where she had her last two fingers of the right hand amputated. Flowers were sent to her from members of the church in West Point Park where she attends.

The Republican Township Ticket

When you take under advisement the kind of a person you would hire for a BIG job, QUALIFICATIONS, ABILITY and PERSONALITY would be the three major things you would consider most. If you were hiring that person for your own business advancement those three things would unquestionably count most. Should you not apply the same rule when you are confronted with the task of helping select people to carry on your township business as you apply in your personal affairs? Do not let prejudice, politics or friendship bust up your better judgment. Just measure up the candidates you will find here nominated for office on the township ticket this spring and ask yourself if they do not qualify for those three things we have mentioned.
