

REPUBLICANS WIN OFFICES IN TOWNSHIP

W. A. Ely Defeats Dr. E. B. Cavell in Race for Supervisor

Polling an even larger majority over his opponent, Dr. E. B. Cavell, than he did last year, Supervisor Willard A. Ely and his entire republican ticket swept into office in the Northville township election held here Monday, April 2. The majority was 232 votes—Mr. Ely gaining 775 votes to Dr. Cavell's 543.

In the only race of any consequence Mrs. Jennie Cousins, republican candidate, won over her opponent, Mrs. Lillian Blake, by a majority of 38 votes.

When the election clerks had finished counting the straight ballots early Monday evening it was found that out of a total of 679 straight ballots the republicans had garnered a lead of 183 votes over their opponents. This proved to be the deciding factor in the election as the republicans, with the exception of one candidate, held their own when the split ballots were counted.

Elmer L. Smith, republican candidate for re-election as clerk, carried a majority of 224 votes and Arthur S. Nichols, candidate for the office of justice of the peace, headed the republican ticket with a majority of 487 votes.

As exciting an election as this community has seen in several years brought out the exceedingly large vote of 1,315 electors, five more than made their appearance at the polls last year. Supporters of both parties were busy throughout election day carrying voters to and from the voting booths located at the village hall on Main and South Wing streets and under Horton's drug store on Main and Center streets. Handbills were distributed bearing the signatures of Dr. E. B. Cavell, early Monday morning and throughout election day.

'OLD PEABODY PEW' IS COMING TO TOWN ON TUESDAY EVENING

Northville has always been very partial to home-talent plays probably because everyone likes to see his neighbor or friend in a play character far removed from his every day one. "The Old Peabody Pew," to be given by the Methodist Service League next Tuesday evening, promises to be no exception. Can you imagine Mrs. Mildred Zimmerman, teacher of domestic science in the Northville high school, as Mrs. Burbank, president of the Dorcas society which is meeting to sew on carpeting (each piece a different color and kind) for the church pews? Or Mrs. Mary Jones of the Jones Floral company, as the preacher's wife, or Sam Stalter, manager of the A. & P. meat market as the aging beau of Mrs. Martha Koldyke? Other characters taken by local people promise as much as those already mentioned. All are to be costumed also in fashions of 1800.

A musical program will also be offered as part of the evening's entertainment. Those who are to sing or play include: Mrs. Lillian Blake, Mrs. Legia Ambler, the Northville Male Quartet, Ida Altman and the "Drovers" (Florence Johnson, Eleanor Griffey and Gertrude Deal).

A small admission of twenty-five cents for adults and ten cents for children under twelve, will be charged in order to finance service work for the League.

The time is eight o'clock, the place the auditorium of the Methodist church, and the date, April 10.

NOVI REPUBLICANS HAVE NO OPPOSITION AT MONDAY ELECTION

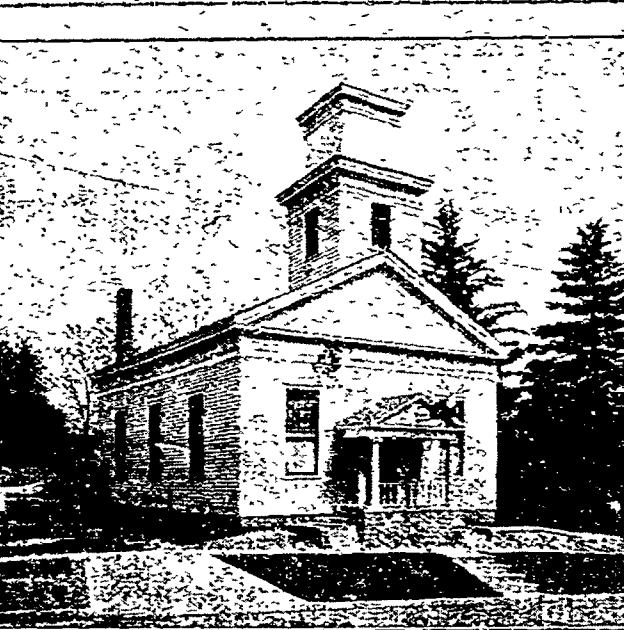

Election day in Novi township was very peaceful, since the republicans had the only one ticket in the field. The following were elected by a vote ranging from 80 to 86:

- Supervisor, Charles W. Hamilton.
- Clerk, Earl Banks.
- Treasurer, George R. Simmons.
- Highway Commissioner, William Mairs.
- Justice of the Peace, LaRue N. Bogart.
- Board of Review, Frank E. Durfee.
- Constables, Steve Hicks, Frank Martin, John Boyd.

At the township recommendation of Highway Commissioner Mairs that no tax be spread for highway improvement was accepted.

GEO. EVENICH KILLS FORMER WIFE AT HOME

Tragedy Takes Place at Plymouth Saturday Evening

A bullet ended the life of Mrs. Margaret Evenich, 22 years old, in the home of her parents at Plymouth, Mich., Saturday night. It was fired, police said, by George Evenich, whom she divorced six weeks ago and who had pleaded guilty for a reconciliation.

After the killing Evenich returned to a hotel room where he was arrested an hour later by policeman Charles Zhurme. At the time he was found, he was drinking, police said, with the avowed intention of drinking himself into oblivion. He shot his wife, he said, because he loved her.

FLOYD A. KEHRL IS NAMED AS HEAD OF THE COMMANDERY

Results of the election of officers of the Northville Commandery No. 186, held Tuesday, April 3, are as follows:

Floyd A. Kehrl, Plymouth, elected commander; Russell T. Tolson, Plymouth, generalissimo; James N. Vandyne, Northville, captain general; James VanHagen, Redford, senior warden; Joseph Hamel, Rev. H. G. Whittield, Northville, preacher; H. D. Dean, Northville, treasurer; C. R. VanValkenburgh, Northville, recorder; Fraser E. Mann, Northville, sword-bearer; E. M. Bogart, Northville, standard-bearer; Sidney Smith, Redford, warden; and Dean P. Griswold, Northville, sentinel.

BACK UP THE VILLAGE COMMISSION

(By The Record Editor)

The village commissioners of Northville have started a relentless campaign to "clean up" disgraceful affairs in local beer gardens. For the sake of a decent and attractive Northville, every good citizen should rally to the support of our Northville officers. This newspaper pledges its support and we believe that all thoughtful men and women, with their children in our schools and with the true ideals of a home community, will back up the fight to clean house once and for all.

That a small group of drunker men (and an occasional woman) is going to bring reproach on our village is unthinkable—if proper aid is given our village heads.

Northville is too beautiful, too valuable, too intelligent and too resourceful a community longer to tolerate the acts of drunkenness and rowdiness, whether on the part of so-called "nice people" or just ordinary "bums."

These disgraceful conditions have been going on only a short time. Our streets can be made fine and attractive once more for the humblest woman and for the smallest child if good citizens—who are, far and away the vast majority of our people—give their cooperation to the village officers.

This "clean-up" simply had to come. Let's get it over with quickly. Call up or see your mayor or the commissioners and tell them you are with them in their battle for civic decency.

Village Commission Will "Clean Up" Beer Gardens; Officers Get Pay Boost

ADVANCE OF 10 PER CENT IS APPROVED

Appointments Made By Dr. Burkart Unanimously Accepted

Village employees will get a ten per cent raise in pay, with the exception of one whose pay was never cut, according to a notice passed Monday evening at the council meeting.

The following salaries and appointments, recommended by Dr. H. H. Burkart, president, were confirmed at the meeting: William H. Safford, chief of police, $1,320; Earl Montgomery, superintendent of streets, $1,335; Rhenold E. Kaker, chief of fire hall, $1,175; Max Leonard, village engineer, $975; J. Cochrane, village attorney, $110; Dr. Wilbur H. Johnson, health officer, $375; Fred Hicks, fire chief, $150; Clarence Schwab, night watchman, $1200. The appointment of Dr. Schwab as night watchman with his own salary, to be paid by the village, will be a saving to business of an amount equivalent to his salary. Finally the night watchmen's wages were contributed by the village.

The appointment of a board of review composed of the following members: Fred Van Atta and E. C. Lizan, was confirmed. On the commission these committees were organized: Finance committee: Geo. Miles, chairman; Merrill Sweet, and Elmer Purum, public utilities committee—Wm. Gregory, chairman; Wilson J. Beckus and Lyle I. Purum, public works committee—Merrill Sweet, chairman; George Hicks and Wm. Gregory.

Northville reported John LaBarry, who had been elected to the office of justice of the peace, to be held on Tuesday, April 10.

SENIOR CLASS WILL GIVE PLAY TONIGHT AT HIGH SCHOOL

The senior class of the Northville high school is presenting its annual play this evening at the high school. It is planned to give the play two evenings, Friday, April 6, and April 20. The play, "Boots and Her Buddies," a three-act comedy, deals with the trials and tribulations of young love.

Boasting a wealth of talent, the play promises to be one of the best given in this community in recent years. The plan is to give the play with two different casts, this evening the cast consists of Doris Seay as Boots; Professor Ned Boyd played by Merle Fraser; Albert Stevens, played by Nelson Schrader; Mary Jane Deane as Mrs. Stevens; Joe Harding played by Harold Booth; Arthur Cooke as Bill Thompson; Jack McLaughlin as Percival Manners; Vera Horsfall as Jane Nelson; Lucille Cavel as Mary Roland; Mary Harper as Mrs. Hemmway; Marjorie Porport as Mandy; and Otis Tewsbury as Howard Nutt.

The humorous element is furnished by Jack McLaughlin as the Englishman. Not merely revokes around the effort of Joe to revenge himself for the mean way in which he has been treated by Boots. Through trying to gain revenge many interesting and surprising situations develop—the outcome of the play is somewhat surprising.

Under the capable direction of Miss Dorcas Corrin who did so much to make the Junior play a success, the Senior play should be one of the best given here. The play will begin at 8 p. m. in the high school auditorium. Admission 15 and 25 cents.

JACOBSON CASE IS MENTIONED BY NEWS MAGAZINE

Article in Time Says Former Northville Teacher May Get Light Sentence

A. V. Jacobson, former Northville high school teacher, now held in Finland on charges of espionage, received mention in the Foreign News section of the weekly news magazine, Time, last week.

The article stated that Mr. Jacobson was adopting a policy of complete confession, and thereby hoped to get the maximum sentence of two years, four years less than the maximum.

FRED F. FOREMAN ADDRESSES ROTARY ON AMERICAN FLAG

Northville Rotarians knew of the reputation of Fred Foreman as an orator and a student of public affairs but when they heard him speak at the weekly meeting Tuesday at the Presbyterian church here, they realized that he is a full of poetry, eloquence and patriotism.

Taking as his topic, "The American Flag and Patriotism," Mr. Foreman gave a most interesting and expounding talk to the group of men in the hall, with the first flag made June 14, 1777, in the first place, to the flag from his first public work committee—Merrill Sweet, chairman; George Hicks and Wm. Gregory.

Northville reported John LaBarry, who had been elected to the office of justice of the peace, to be held on Tuesday, April 10.

EXCHANGITES HEAR TAXIDERMIST ON PREPARING TROPHIES

James Wood prominent Ann Arbor taxidermist, spoke before Exchangers and their guests Wednesday noon at the meeting held at the Methodist church here.

Mr. Wood, who is connected with the University of Michigan, has had much experience in his field and was able to give the Exchangers an interesting talk.

He told of the preparation, stuffing and mounting, needed to transport birds and mammals into life-like poses for permanent trophies. There are over 375 different species of birds with which a taxidermist must be familiar in order to pursue his calling.

Many of the Exchangers are enthusiastic sportsmen and the program in charge of Elmer L. Smith, was well received.

ENFORCEMENT OF NEW LAW AUTHORIZED

Clarence Schwab, Husky Wex. Veteran, Named as Nightwatch

Approved by public indignation at disgraceful conditions in beer gardens of Northville, the village commission at its meeting of Tuesday evening April 3 laid plans for a campaign that it is hoped will bring an end to rowdism and disorderly conduct.

Directed by Dr. H. H. Burkart, newly elected mayor, the commission voted Tuesday to "put teeth" into the enforcement of the liquor law in the village.

Referred to by a ruling of F. J. Cochrane, village attorney, the local officials have complete authority to preserve order and around these drinking places. Its committee members are ordered to Chief of Police Wm. H. Safford that the new state law regarding conduct in beer gardens should be strictly enforced.

At one of the steps to make Northville a safe place for a man's daughter to work downtown, Commissioner W. J. Gregory expressed it Clarence Schwab, a 21-year-old veteran, was named night watchman and will not get any of his pay from the village people as he will be on duty as a volunteer. He will, however, be responsible only to the commission. Mr. Schwab was called to duty after his appointment had been confirmed by the commission as that he would be backed to the limit in his effort to bring about better conditions. He received the responsibility of the place he stated once expressed confidence that he would have the ability to do the job expected of him. He began his work at once.

People "Fed Up," Says Mayor

Dr. Burkart, who has been investigating disgraceful conditions in beer gardens, said in a speech recently, and in speaking of the situation, "The time has come for the law enforcement officers to step on some dealers in liquor in this town. We are through fooling. There has been a lot of blame placed on the CWA and these men are now gone and from now on there will be no alibis.

"The people are 'fed up' on conditions in the village and the commission is also 'fed up.' From now on there is going to be different. We have everything here to help make this a splendid community, and we are going ahead to make it so. The vast majority of the citizens will be with us in this effort."

A possibility of a "dry Northville" was pointed out by Commissioner Gregory who said emphatically, "There has been a lot of unnecessary rowdiness. If we don't clean it up, the people will surely vote the town dry."

Sweet Gives Opinion
Commissioner Merrill S. Seay was also outspoken in regard to the absolute necessity of a "clean-up" that will end the conditions that have aroused the citizens of the community—some of their people of so-called "liberal tendencies." Said Mr. Sweet:

"We have a great number of people who expect us to make this an orderly town and a good town in which to live and it is certainly up to us not to disappoint them."

In addition to the campaign outlined above the commission passed a resolution asking for complaints against the proprietors of these beer gardens, whenever any rowdiness occurs and in the event of this being done, full co-operation will be given by the commission. It was pointed out that it would need only a few of such complaints to bring about a "clean-up."

A SENSE OF HUMOR HELPS.

Nothing helps more than a sense of humor. We noticed that during the political campaign just closed. It was easy to get tense and be "on edge" but we noticed that the man or woman who kept good natured certainly made everyone else feel better.

THE STRIKE SETTLEMENT

The settlement of the threatened automobile strike was a marvelous blessing. We can thank President Roosevelt for his high courage and vision which brought about peace. We can also thank both the employers and the employees for a spirit of compromise which resulted in the agreement to let the board of three men take charge of the whole situation.

All fair-minded men are agreed that the workers should have the right of collective bargaining. With the power of the national government pledged to back this arbitration board of three and with its further assurance that no union shall dominate the workers, the automobile industry should have ahead of it its greatest period of prosperity.

THE TRAGEDY OF THE BEER GARDEN

You would say that liquor was pretty bad business if it killed the father of the home.

All right, for all right, that is just what happened in St. Clair last Thursday night. Here is the terrible story:

The father and mother and two boys went with other friends to a beer garden. At midnight one of the sons, aged only 15, was sent home by the father. When the parents came home, the boy was on a rampage. He and his brother, aged 17, had drunk a quart of wine, so the daily paper said. The 15-year old had become so wild that a physician was sent for and he finally got the boy to stop, apparently to bed but instead the lad got a sawed-off shotgun and came downstairs and shot his father who died in a hospital at Port Huron a few hours later.

This didn't happen during the days of prohibition but during the days of the beer garden, some of the revenue of which goes to help our schools.

POLITICS IS (ARE) GRIEF

The home newspaper surely gets "put on the spot" at election time. The republicans want their side boomed to the skies and the democrats want the same. Both forget that the home paper is trying to be as fair as possible to both sides, even though in personal life the editor has his political convictions—and why shouldn't he, the same as the doctor, lawyer, store clerk, or Ford worker?

So the paper comes out on Friday morning and the republicans read it and get "peevish" and then the democrats read it and they are not pleased at all—at all. Both sides thought the home newspaper should be the official organ for each and both forget that instead, the paper is just the mouthpiece for the whole community, regardless of political views.

Well, the next time election rolls around, all this election publicity is going to be paid for by the inch—instead of given away, as it was last week—and then the editor won't get blamed for not being fair to everybody.

Fortunately, however, these election differences are for most people, soon forgotten—as they should be. If the party labels could be removed and we could all be stood in a row, we should look alike. We have to live together through the years and co-operate in a hundred different ways so it is fine that we can forget election frictions a few days after the polls close and go to work together for a common Northville.

ROOSEVELT TAKES NOTICE

The big sensation of the past ten days was the charge of Dr. W. A. Wirt, nationally-known head of the schools of Gary, Ind., that certain members of the "Brain Trust" (the president's inner circle of advisors) had conspired to overthrow our American system of government and bring in Communism or something like it.

While Dr. Wirt's charges were not taken any too seriously, it is hard to get around the fact that he spoke a great deal of truth. There is no denying the fact that in certain intellectual circles there is a trend to the very thing the educator mentioned. There is also no denial of the fact that "parlor pinks" are in our colleges in large numbers and some of them seem to have overrun into the government. These men do not represent the great bulk of the people who still believe in the institutions that have made this the greatest nation on earth. Personally, we are getting a little more of this kind of talk from those who have been the recipients of the great blessings of America. While we are not unconscious of the social changes that are going on around us, it is time for loyal Americans to do a little "talking back" to these so-called liberals who would like to make ours a Soviet government.

It was only a few days ago that President Roosevelt took notice of the uproar that accompanied Dr. Wirt's charges. At least we assume that he took notice, for a review of his new book was given in which the president states that we are not to go "Facist" or Communist but that we shall still remain America, the republic, with a change that will bring a new social justice. No one has thought that Roosevelt has any Communist leaning but there has been some suspicion that some of his college "brain trusters" bordered on too liberal a view.

So we thank the president for straightening out the Brain Trust. We thank Roosevelt for the assurance that America will still be the land of the constitution and of a democracy in which every man has a chance to become a president.

WANDERING THOUGHTS

"Batter up" is next. Life is still good.

"You find the most sticks under the best apple tree."

Builders' show opens at Detroit today and runs until April 15. See it—then build a house in Northville.

Will you be ready to vote on the state thirty-million bond issue April 30?

"If conditions keep on as they are, we'll have prohibition back in about two years," some of our liberal friends tell us.

Here it is April 6th and the farmers certainly haven't planted any oats yet. The average city man never thinks of what weather means to the man on the land.

"Roosevelt" personally, leads Easter devotions on yacht.—Headline in the morning paper of Monday. That is assuring to men and women of all faiths. A man of Christian ideals and life is at the helm of our ship of state. There is no better news than that. It is a tribute to Christianity that practically all our presidents have been active church members.

The CWA is new history. Just what kind of history we shall know better later. Now we should like to see the PWA go into high gear. Regardless of the great waste and inefficiency that went with CWA, we are inclined to think that its general effect was good. It certainly distributed a nice bunch of money in Northville at a time when it was greatly needed.

An "eleventh hour" political handbill distributed around the community early Monday morning said that The Northville Record had been unfair and biased against a certain candidate. Maybe so. But deep down in our heart we know that we mean to be fair to all the elements of a cosmopolitan community such as Northville. So if we fail to hit the mark, we are sorry. Yet we wonder if our critics would be quite so critical if they had to run the home newspaper for a few weeks.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

Do you try to get both sides of the story?

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

"CHANGE THE RECORD"

(R. C. Sibley in The Springport Signal)
Eddie Cantor should try and get a new joke—he has not had a new idea in a year.

"PASS THE BUTTER"

(R. D. Gifford in The Eaton Rapids Journal)
And speaking about the preacher, that reminds us of one who ate dinner at the "parsonage" when butter was selling for 50c a pound. Using plenty of it, the bossess, in order to show him up a little, remarked that butter was worth 50c a pound nowadays. Not to be forgotten so easily—the minister said, "It's worth it," and slapped another ounce on his mashed potatoes.

WHO SHOULD GET THE BONDS

(Ray Corliss in The Parma News)
I have never felt very sympathetic toward the idea of giving a cash bonus to thousands of young men who spent several months in a college S. A. T. C. camp or remained at Camp Custer or a similar camp for a period during the war.

Nearly all of these chaps came out of the service much better physically than they entered it. They had received their meals, lodging, clothing and a small monthly pay check while in army training. I don't believe they have anything else coming.

"GIVE BUSINESS A CHANCE"

(Malcolm Bingham in "Good Morning" column in Detroit Free Press)
"Give business a chance" is a phrase that is heard at ears who never felt a wound.

It is easy for a youth who has never had to meet a payroll to glibly talk about how business should be conducted. It is not recorded that Rousseau ever faced and solved a practical problem in his whole life, but spent his days running away from himself. Almost every business man has known the agony of having his son walk-in from school and tell him how to run the plant.

I agree with Mark Sullivan that Mr. Roosevelt is at heart a conservative with liberal inclinations; that four-fifths of his advisers are sound. But this does not get away from my belief that the other fifth is anything else but sound.

We've had one whole year of experimentation, of breaking down the barriers, the inhibitions, the fear complex of the depression. Now the time has come when the program should begin to sell.

It will be easy for him to meet the onslaughts of the professional republicans. Their attacks and the reasons therefor are obvious. It was asked the other day at the Harvard Club what is the difference between the two old parties, and I said that as far as I could see they were mere labels on two empty bottles. The danger to Mr. Roosevelt's whole career are to be found within his own ranks. Nothing can injure him except his friends and their vagaries. Let him do a little "cracking down" on the self-appointed monopoly of intellect. Give business a chance to go ahead without faltering from terror of the unknown. Slay the goblins by muzzling the local vanities.

WHY DEMAND EVERYTHING?

(C. H. Hemmingway in The Ann Arbor Tribune)

Union labor has been given many a healthy boost by the NRA. While labor should enjoy and appreciate what has been done for it, it should not seek to over-capitalize what it has received. The rebuff received in the settlement of the auto industry matter should be a warning to go slow.

The so-called Wagner bill now before congress appears to be specifically designed to make the American Federation of Labor Supreme in this country. If it becomes a law it will have the effect of forcing the employees of any establishment employing two or more into an organized labor union. This would include farm employees where two or more men are employed.

Are we ready for a compulsory unionization of virtually all employees in this country? While conceding the great good that unions have done in improving labor conditions it does not follow that compulsory unionization is desirable at this time. Labor has just won the right to bargain collectively through representatives of its own choosing. That would be a good place to stop—for the present at least.

A DEFEAT FOR DEMOCRACY

The Christian Science Monitor asks the American dictator now? Isn't that busy fishermen off the coast of Florida. Certainly not that undisclosed "Stalin" of the "leftist" revolution. Most certainly not that harassed commander of the Blue Eagle brigade. In the light of Harlan Washington heading up the anti-union movement and the whole revival of post-war veterans' agitation, the great American dictator is the veterans' lobby. It has defeated six Congresses and ridden through three Presidents and now once again it has proved its power above party or principle.

Mr. Roosevelt had planned himself for by against fresh efforts to de-

GARDEN-HINTS

(By Jessie F. Malmberg)

Veronica—Speedwell. Ofttimes we wonder how various plants receive their names. Alfred C. Hottes, professor of floriculture tells the story of Veronica.

When Christ was laboring beneath the cross, he filtered and a maiden rushed forward to wipe the perspiration from his brow. The impression of his face was found on her nape. Such is the story of Veronica, and because the markings of some species resemble a face, this flower was named after St. Veronica.

Veronica are superb for the perennial borders and rock gardens, not only for their beauty and hardiness but because they are disease resistant, and will stand considerable neglect.

Veronica are of easy culture; as a rule they prefer a moist soil. The tall growing sorts are improved with the use of bonemeal as fertilizer. Veronica, Pectinata is a grey leaved dense creeper, with double rosy flowers in May. A splendid ground cover for dry banks and graves.

Tom—Did Millie fall catch anything when he went fishing? Bill—I understand he caught when he got home with no fish.

In his discourse on the Easter theme, the Father Jos. G. Schuler deviated from the usual course and emphasized the resurrection of new and higher ideals of living. His talk was highly practical and impressive.

At ten o'clock mass was celebrated with the senior choir singing.

Methodist Church

Very early in the morning the bell in the Methodist church tower rang out its call, not only to members but to many visitors who answered its summons and came to worship at a sunrise service. Six o'clock found the auditorium well filled with those who came to enjoy this unique form of observing Easter.

Soft lights were shed upon a lovely garden scene with banks of green making an effective background for brightly Easter lilies, jets of tulips and other blossoming plants. A large cross which on Friday had been shrouded in black was now draped in white.

From the depths of the garden scene came first the soft, wailing of more than twenty canons whose songs swelled to a full chorus as the notes of the organ were sounded.

Looking upon this scene, so suggestive of beauty and eternal life more than one heart in the audience took courage in the thought that there everlasting spring nooses and never-withering flowers.

Again at 10:30 worshippers enjoyed this beautiful background for the special music rendered by the choir and the impressive Easter message brought by the pastor, Rev. H. H. Mallinson. Merging into the Sunday school hour many of the audience remained to witness the baptism of fifteen young children and infants brought by their parents.

SENIORS WILL PRESENT PLAY TONIGHT AT 8

Comedy Affords Many Humorous Situations; Well Cast

For this year's presentation the graduating class has chosen a comedy play entitled "Boots and Her Buddies" by Frances Huntley. The cast consists of six boys and six girls who have been well chosen and are displaying unexpected talent. This comedy is a very exciting and entertaining one. The cast is as follows:

Boots Boyd—a spoiled young "high-hat" who rules everyone from the Professor to the Englishman—played by Doris Sears and Eleanor Grosvenor.
Professor Ned Boyd—The typical meek book-worm who would like to see if Boots would permit it—played by Merle Fraser.

Albert Stevens—a care-free bachelor who allows himself to be captured—played by Nelson Schrader of Otis Tewksbury.
Mrs. Stevens—a thrilled new bride—played by Alice Boelens and Marjane Denne.
Harding-Boots—cave-man—played by Harold Booth.
Bob—a smart guy who helps out—played by Merle Fraser.

Pat—a bally sporting Englishman—played by Jack McLoughlin.
Miss Nelson-Boots—side-kick in school—played by Lucille Cavell.
Miss Beverly Stannum.
Miss Audrey Hemingway—a clever girl who is looking after the well of the professor.

Dr. Cobb—the colored housekeeper—played by Marjorie Perpont and Jean Eufon.
Harold Nuzz—a young gentleman who seems to stand in favor with Boots—played by Paul Baldwin.
Pat—plays starts promptly at 8 in the high school auditorium. The price of admission are 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children. A capacity crowd will attend.

ASSEMBLY PROGRAM PLEASES STUDENTS

The assembly program held on the day before spring vacation was a novel and entertaining one. It was assembled by Stanley Taylor and was more than well received by the students.

Eugene Fenby, a cousin of Stanley's from Detroit, decidedly stole the show. "Vase" by Livinski and "Gavor" by DeAlbert were the first two piano selections he gave, but he was forced to play several encores. Virginia Washburn did a tap dance. "Horath" was recited by Louise Alexander, followed by a song and a tap dance by Vivian Grosvenor. George Bonia rendered a very pleasing harmonica solo. Helen Winter and Hilda Garchow each sang a solo. Dorothy Heaton and Helen Winter tapped. Maryanna Condit gave the very amusing recitation of "Ma and the Auto" by Guest. Again Mr. Fenby played for the delighted audience.
It is hoped that more students will take it upon themselves to arrange for as fine a program as Stanley's.

CORNER FOR BOOK LOVERS

(By Rita Sprenger)

Sometimes, just when I'm beginning to slump down to dull routine books, I stumble on to a perfect gem. It was like that I came across the "Count Luckner" books. "The Silent Force" and others that I found it was also just like that I found Irvin S. Cobb's rick of humor.

I first read his short stories in current magazines. ("Long Pauls," an essay, is to be found in the American Literature books.) "A Laugh a Day Keeps the Doctor Away" has to be exact, a good hearty laugh for every day in the year plus one extra for leap-year.

Then not long ago I found in the March Reader's Digest an article titled "Lament for the Duke Novel" which was condensed from "A Plea for Old Cap Collier" and I knew I had to read that book along with the "Count Luckner" books. I found "Speaking of Operations" a book respectfully dedicated to two classes: those who have already been operated on and those who have not yet been operated on. The contents of the book being mainly the author's own operation.

After being bothered some time by an elusive sort of pain, Cobb went to a doctor. He thought that the practitioner, whom he calls Doctor X, would do something about the pain immediately and that would be the end. Such, however, was not the case. Doctor X took his temperature and fifteen dollars, and informed him that it called for an operation. Naturally Cobb inquired how soon it must be—he was perfectly willing to wait several years. Doctor X smiled at his ignorance and said: "I never operate, that's entirely out of my line. I am a diagnostician."

"He was a good, keen diagnostician, too," says Cobb, "or how would he have known I had fifteen dollars on me?"
The rest of the book is the laughter producing, hilariously funny account of the fears and tremors of the prospective patient.

In "A Plea for Old Cap Collier," Cobb tells of the erroneously called "Dime Novels" which really were "Nickle Libraries," and a clandestine circulating library of them which every boy maintained in shed or hay-loft. These books were often found by the mother of the home at house-clearing time. Sometimes she came on them hidden under furniture or tucked away on the back pantry or closet shelves. The small owners were then paddled until they had the feelings of a piece of hot, buttered toast, slightly scorched on the under side. But as freely and frequently as these padings came, the circulating libraries were never stamped out.

The chief attractions about the "Nickle Libraries" were that the authors never wasted their (or our) valuable time on description of scenery. One or two paragraphs were more than plenty and having rid this system of it the author gave you spicy action—action with reason and logic behind it. Also he never wrote in words that were long enough to run in serials.

Neither book has any more than sixty-four pages, the type is plain and they are well illustrated. My only criticism would be that the covers are too close together.
Cobb ends his plea by saying that if he had a son, perhaps fourteen or fifteen years of age, he would refer him to two special books, those which were noted for their brisk and stirring movements and ones that really are dollar-sized dime novels. They would be a book called "Huckleberry Finn" and a book called "Treasure Island."

"I understand that that movie hero just escaped a divorce by a hair."
"Yes, he found it on his coat sleeve and took it off before his wife could see it."

The Forgotten Men's Club will sponsor a dance Thursday evening, April 5. This is the third in the series of dances given. A jazz orchestra and a lunch are always included. The dance will be held in the community hall.
Easter was observed in the church here Sunday morning. Easter breakfast was served in the dining room at 8 o'clock. The church service started at ten o'clock. Rev. Roy Miller gave a good talk on the risen Lord. Sunday school followed.
Mrs. Edna Painter is still in Redford receiving hospital. She is making the best she can out of the misfortune that came to her through no fault of her own. We will be pleased to welcome her back to West Point Park.
Tuesday morning was one long to be remembered in West Point Park. Men and boys, little or big, hunted their shoes to try and make a road so their automobiles could be used to take them to school. It was an impossibility in many cases to get there. Only seven pupils in one room could get through the drifts.
The Democratic party gave a "caper" in the community hall last Wednesday evening. Fred Schmidt, who is running for supervisor, sponsored the program. A large number from all over the township filled the hall. Good music made the evening an enjoyable one for the dancers. A lunch was served. The evening's program was free to all. Those who attended report a good time.
The Metropolitan Spelling Bee took place Wednesday afternoon. A large number of boys and girls lined up prepared to do their best. Edwin E. Johnston, principal of the high school, was the pro-mover. A great many had studied hard and many hopes were high, and yet one by one they dropped out until six were left. And then the real battle started. A slip of the tongue, a past tense mistake, and down they went until two remained, Velma Woodley and Margaret Mills. Then the contest became more exciting and the pupils held their breaths. Velma Woodley won the championship of Pearson school. She is in the sixth grade. Well done, Velma, you earned first place.
Mrs. Tallmone—I was out-taken in my sentiments at the club today.
Mr. T. J. Can't believe it was so out-taken.

Grand Opening April 29

The event for which the younger set here has been anxiously waiting since the new casino closed last September, will arrive when Louis Toletene opens the Casino for the grand opening Friday night, April 29. Mr. Toletene reports that Red Nichols and his nationally known orchestra will provide music and entertainment for the Casino guests. The orchestra will broadcast through a Detroit station three times a week direct from the ballroom.
"My husband is a deceitful fellow; sometimes I almost lose patience with him."
"What's he done now?"
"Last night he pretended to believe me when I could see very well that he knew I was fibbing."
"Do you think it is possible for a man to love two girls at the same time?"
"Not if they know about it."

It STEPS RIGHT ALONG until the Job is done

DEPENDABILITY—that's what you need in your tractor plow, especially when you are racing against time and weather. You can't afford costly, exasperating delays—stopping to make adjustments and repairs in the field. And you won't have to when you own a Case Tractor Plow. Just set your Case as you enter the field... for depth, and line of draft, to suit your individual needs. Then watch it step right along until the job is finished. It for even minor adjustments few and far between. Drop forged frog, reinforced by heavy steel brace, (exclusive Case feature) gives Case bon ununsual strength and durability. Fast, Clean, Deep plow that's its specialty. In thick or stubble, in light or heavy soil, the Case is right at home. It's a cost-cutter and a booster, all in one. See it in our display floor; also our complete line of plows in all popular sizes and types of bottoms. Drop in soon.

CHURCH NEWS

Baptist Church

After an illness of six weeks the pastor expects to be back in the pulpit this Sunday.

Morning service of worship at 10:30 a. m.

Sunday school at 11:45.

The B. Y. P. U. meets at 6:30 p. m.

Evening service at 7:30 p. m.

Christian Science Churches

"Unreality" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, April 8.

Among the Bible citations in this passage (Gen. 32:28): "Aid he said, Thy name shall be called no more Jacob, but Israel: for a prince hast thou power with God and with men, and has prevailed."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 28): "To mortal sense, the unreal is the real until this sense is corrected by Christian Science. Spiritual sense, contradicting the material senses, involves intuition, hope, faith, understanding, freedom and reality."

ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN

Leo C. Eickstaedt, Pastor

The Lord that made heaven and earth bless thee out of Zion—Ps. 134 3.

The Lord our God, in whom we hope and trust is not an idol made of wood and stone by the ingenuity of sinful men nor the product of man's puerile imagination. The Lord our God is the true God revealed in the Holy Scriptures. He is the God who made heaven and earth by His almighty Word. He is the God who created us. He is the God who created us with His precious blood. He is the God who saves us through the Gospel, which is His Word, and which is the truth. He is the God who forgives the sins of those who believe in His Word, who are baptized and who are in the truth. He is the God who forgives the sins of those who believe in His Word, who are baptized and who are in the truth. He is the God who forgives the sins of those who believe in His Word, who are baptized and who are in the truth.

And thus our God is with us in the flesh as in body and in soul, and He is with us in the world. The Lord bless thee out of Zion—Ps. 134 3.

The Lord our God, in whom we hope and trust is not an idol made of wood and stone by the ingenuity of sinful men nor the product of man's puerile imagination. The Lord our God is the true God revealed in the Holy Scriptures. He is the God who made heaven and earth by His almighty Word. He is the God who created us. He is the God who created us with His precious blood. He is the God who saves us through the Gospel, which is His Word, and which is the truth. He is the God who forgives the sins of those who believe in His Word, who are baptized and who are in the truth. He is the God who forgives the sins of those who believe in His Word, who are baptized and who are in the truth. He is the God who forgives the sins of those who believe in His Word, who are baptized and who are in the truth.

And thus our God is with us in the flesh as in body and in soul, and He is with us in the world. The Lord bless thee out of Zion—Ps. 134 3.

Salem Federated Church

"Christ Our Passover" will be the theme of the quarterly communion service to be held April 8 at 10:30 o'clock.

In Bible school at 11:45 a. m. the lesson on "Children and the Kingdom" will be taken from the eighth and ninth chapters of Matthew. Memory text: "Suffer little children and forbid them not to come unto me: for of such is the Kingdom of heaven." Matthew 19:14.

We welcome you to enjoy with us the evening hymn-sing hour at 7:30 o'clock.

James Ernest, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Waterman was dedicated to the Lord in the Easter service at the Salem Federated church.

Church of Our Lady of Victory

We understand that there is to be a joint meeting of all the Northville broadcasters of the Goodwyn plan at the Presbyterian church hall next Tuesday, April 10, at 1:30 p. m.

Catechism classes in Christian doctrine will be held for all of our children up to the ninth grade next Saturday at 9:30 a. m.

The day after tomorrow is the second Sunday of the month. It is Holy Name Day for all the men. Reserved seats are kept for them at the 8 o'clock mass.

Sunday services consist of two masses at 8 and 10 o'clock.

We urge upon all Catholic high school pupils to hand in their suggestions for a Young People's club next Sunday. We have already had several very practical suggestions.

The April group of ladies have set the date for their card party to be held at the church hall on Wednesday evening, April 18. Tickets should be obtained from the group after each service next Sunday.

First Methodist Church

Our church school offers to the community a full course of religious education for the entire family. You need not leave the church and the school behind you. Why not arrange to bring your children instead of sending them to some other school? We are organizing a class for the younger parents. Mr. Mallinson will teach this group.
