LIPPMANN IS OPTIMISTIC

Amidst all the gloom and doubts regarding the future of our businesses, our homes and even our government, it is good to get an encouraging word from such an authority as Walter Lippmann. There is no better authority than he. Well, here is what he says:

"For 100 years, we never doubted the promise of American life. We need not doubt it now. Thank you, Walter. Now we feel better."

AN ANGLE ON THE STATE BOND ISSUE

What do you say about the $38,000,000 bond issue? Are you for it or against it?

Frankly, many people are still "on the fence" regarding it. They do not know how to vote. And here is one reason why they are afraid to vote "Yes" for it: They are afraid of the politicians who will handle the millions. They are afraid of the waste of public money at the hands of men whose ideal of public service are none too high.

The way the politicians have spent the money of the people of Michigan has not inspired much trust in recent months. Shall we trust these men, who have made such a mess at Lansing, to handle these millions?

Will the good that the passing of the issue will do, be offset by the evil that will come from the supervision of vast funds by a non-too-scrupulous political machine?

That is the question that tax payers will have to settle for themselves before April 30.

NO BRIDGE ACROSS THE STRAITS

The federal government isn't going to let Michigan build a thirty million dollar bridge across the Straits of Mackinac. That is, officials have ruled that the federal government would help only under condition that Michigan would guarantee the bonds and the state can't do that.

Most thoughtful students of state affairs have called the bridge idea a fantastic one, to say the least. It is not feasible. The fact that how like people across cost the state an annual operating expense of $750,000. The interest on thirty millions of dollars for the proposed bridge would be much higher than that.

Most people are going to the upper peninsula enjoy the ride across the Straits. For those making long automobile trips, it affords a very enjoyable break in the journey. Even if the bridge were built, a lot of folks would still want to go by boat. A thirty million dollar bridge (or maybe a hundred-million dollar bridge by the time you get through adding for it would surely be a "Jonah" or to use a hand metaphor, a white "elephant."

PECULIAR PEOPLE

"Well, I guess I must be 'peculiar' or 'goofy' or something like that," said a good friend to us, after taking some rebuffs along the pathway of life.

After knowing hundreds of people in all walks of life, we are ready to say that most of us are a little strange or "peculiar" or even "goofy." Make a list of ten people and see how many of them are anywhere near ideal. You will find, first, that nearly all of them have a selfish bent to them—they are looking out for Number One. In some of the ten this trait will be very slight but in some of the others it will be so strong as to make you feel sorry for the persons. In the second place, you will find that of the ten, nearly all of them have peculiar traits—at least at times. You will like them, however, in spite of this, because they have so many good traits.

Some of these so-called odd people are our very best citizens. They do not seek office and are not given office. They "saw wood" day in and day out, do the job at hand to the best of their ability, take the jibes of the world for being a little strange. As we have seen them, they're good to their families and are among the builders of the community. True, they do not move in "society"—whatever that is—but they have their loyal friends who are probably more loyal to them than are the fair-weather friends of some of the people who seem to be "big shots."

Well, it is still a good world for all of us—even if all of us are a little "peculiar."

WILL GROESBECK RUN?

Former governor, Alex J. Groesbeck, still has the politicians guessing as to whether or not he will be a candidate for governor at the fall primaries.

Petitions for Groesbeck are said to be circulating around the state and some think that this surely means that his hat will be in the ring soon. In the meantime, friends of Frank D. Fitzgerald, with the naming of him as the general chairman.

Lossing in the ranks and tightening their belts for the campaign, Fitzgerald has a great host of friends throughout the state and will be a very hard man to beat, no matter who runs against him. Some of the knowing ones maintain that Groesbeck and Fitzgerald are such good friends that the former will refuse to be into the

The best leaders of the republicans are making great pleas that there be no battle for the governorship at the primaries but that, instead, a united front be formed to battle the democrats next November. In addition to the possibility that Groesbeck may run is the threat of Congressman Clarence J. McLeod of Detroit seeking the place. His banking bill to repay all depositors has brought him out of comparative obscurity into considerable prominence and the fact that he is from Wayne county might make him a strong candidate.

Another three or four weeks will do much to clarify the situation.

WANDERING THOUGHTS

If you are doing anything worth while, let the critics criticize. No worth-while man or woman escapes the lash of criticism.

Washington has called off the bank investigations that have cost thousands and thousands of dollars and that have accomplished little else than stir up suspicion and bitterness. Senator Corzens must feel badly.

It has been our observation in a dozen different towns that the people who belong to the churches are the ones who carry the big end of every philanthropic enterprise in the community. Run back in memory through the years and see if it isn't so.

So the man who has been the leader of one of the attempted strikes in Detroit came from England only six years ago. What business has a man like this coming to Michigan to stir up trouble? There ought to be some way for an aroused public opinion to mete out punishment to those who would stop the return of prosperity that seems to be on the way for us all. We know of few worse things than the racketeer who tries to stir up labor troubles. Those who are trying to ferment trouble now are a menace to all of us.

The left wingers tried to laugh Dr. Wirt out of court—and of course the whole affair, of the brain trust dinner was more or less of a "tempest in a teapot." Yet it was a good thing for the country to slow down a little on this brain trust stuff. We can thank the Gary, Ind., educator for showing us where some of the present tendencies might lead us. We are not yet ready to turn the running of the country over to smart college men who couldn't get out in practical life and run a saw mill or a grocery store but who think they know all about running the government.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

What can a community do to broaden the lives of its stingy people?

Springs the time for:

1. Tying up the premises

2. Removing all the cases, on cases and rubbish

3. Making preparations for some respondents green lawn

4. Planting flowers and shrubs

5. Planting up

6. Putting out a good vegetable garden

7. Coaxing the wife to adopt some new housewifery

8. Throwing off the grouchiness of the winter and substituting spring good cheer

LOVE AND SPRINGTIME

Editor M. H. DeRoe, of the Charlotte Republican-Tribune, who also happens to be village postmaster, announced in his last week's issue that due to rigid economy by the postal department, the office would close at noon on Saturday hereafter.

"But," adds the postmaster "the lobby will remain open as usual, which would not prevent a certain married lady in the community from holding that little love trust as usual with her husband's best friend."

And mind you, this is down in Eaton county where they are trying to hear the high sheriff of the shirt out on his neck for some alleged infraction in the conduct of his duties.

"TIGHTWADS" HURT A TOWN

(Dearborn Independent)

There are families in Dearborn that never spend one nickel from year's end to year's end on anyone but themselves. It never enters their minds that money can be used any other way.

In their estimation everything that appeals to them for assistance is a "grat." They resolutely abstain from association with any group of people, and are content to remain in their own little world.

It is a pity that such a small group of people should be so much of a burden to the community.

A BLOW TO PROSPERITY

(C. S. Seed in Rochester Clarion) Why shouldn't the people feel discouraged and up in arms against industry and capital if these two are controlling factors in price regulation? We were greatly interested in the opinion expressed by Henry Ford, motor magnate, recently, about rising prices. We agree with Mr. Ford this is no time to boost prices and such action has been the greatest blow to prosperity since Roosevelt started us on the road to recovery. We can't expect greater consumption when prices are going higher and people stop buying because they haven't got the money.

We are of the belief that prosperity and better times would return a lot faster if prices were to be decreased. Cutting prices would be one of the greatest incentives for buying. People just haven't got the money now and they are only buying what they actually need.

Virtually everything is going up in price. The prices on automobiles, clothing and foodstuffs are being raised. This, we feel, will put a great kink in President Roosevelt's program of recovery. It will only make times a lot harder when prices are raised and it will tend to promote hunger and unemployment for consumption controls production and the latter has control of employment.

PRESIDENTIAL POSSIBILITIES

(Ray Corbiss in The Parma News)

Ex-president Hoover has been making a trip through the Middle-west meeting some of his old-time republican leaders and friends. Don't let anyone fool you into believing this doesn't have political significance. As it looks now, and unless some republican governor may be elected this fall, who will make an outstanding record, it is a fair guess that either young Theodore Roosevelt, son of the late president or Ogden Mills, or Jimmy Wadsworth will be nominated as the republican standard bearer in 1936. Of course Mr. Hoover is constantly in the background as a possibility.

Yesterday I received a letter from a former congressman, who has resided in Washington for many years. He writes: "There is a rumor going the rounds in Washington that a strong group of men are planning to get Gov. Al Smith as a candidate against Mr. Roosevelt next year. I have heard this from many sources and by people who are well about political conditions. Thought that of these men who are better known to the public than the President. The writer of that letter is himself a democrat and a close friend to Mr. Roosevelt."

"CLIP THEIR WINGS"

(The Detroit Free Press) The Country has its fill of the Brain Trust. Rightly or wrongly it distrusts its legislative contingent, it distrusts its executive and pedagogical sources and its courts, and is suspicious of its arms and purposes. The feeling that some of its leading lights have schemes and designs which threaten the integrity of the Republic and lean toward the substitution of a measure of communism will not do, and is supported by public statements of the personages themselves.

This feeling has been increased by the Dr. Wirt episode, and no more by what the Doctor said in his letter and in his testimony before the Congressional Committee than by the extravagant, rather absurd and in some instances, not very creditable efforts to retaliate.

Unquestionably there is a mounting belief that however beneficial the work of some members may have been in the beginning, the Brain Trust has become the evil genius of the Administration, and if the Country is passing out of the depression, as it unquestionably is, the recovery going on is in progress not because of Brain Trust activities but in spite of them.

The rising of a demand that the wings of the Brain Trusters be clipped.

ped and the purely temporary and emergency nature of the NRA, the AAA and all the other extraordinary alphabetical activities in Washington be made clear is very real; and if he is as wise as we think he is, President Roosevelt will provide a definite assurance of the approaching end of the present condition of quasi-dictatorship.

If he does this, and leads the Nation back to a condition normal for a free republic and a self-governing people who consider officials their servants, not their masters, the President will be taking the best possible way to consolidate his leadership, maintain his moral ascendancy and help the United States.

FARMINGTON WILL GET NEW BANK SOON

(From the Enterprise)

A new bank in Farmington is now a certainty, as a result of the reaching of the quota of $37,500 in local stock subscriptions for the establishment of a new financial institution, one-half owned by the Federal Government. Application for a charter is to be filed soon and it is hoped that the opening of the bank and distribution of a 35 per cent dividend to depositors of Farmington State Savings Bank may be realized within the next 30 days.

With the stock subscription out of the way, greater speed can be made in disposing of details and all efforts will be directed toward an early opening of the bank. Much of the preliminary work has been completed, having been started when the success of the plan seemed likely. The remainder consists in ironing out a number of minor matters of various kinds.

Reaching of the quota comes within two weeks after the inauguration of a campaign by the Farmington Exchange club on the initiative of its president, Earl Grosvenor, Detroit Edison company manager in the community. At the club's meeting Wednesday, April 11, when President Grosvenor called for a report, it was stated that only $190 remained to be obtained, as compared with about $1,000 that was needed when the drive opened; also that the subscriptions that had come in were all in connection with the club's campaign.

It is expected that distribution of the dividend which will amount to about $25,000 will be the first function of the new institution.

NuREXFORM The Improved Arsenate of Lead

Remains in Suspension
Mixes Readily with Lime Sulphur
Won't Clog Screens or Nozzles

NuREXFORM is a more effective control for Codling-Moth because it—

Remains in Suspension: All Arsenate of Lead gets onto the foliage and fruit... No waste to scrape out of the tank.

Spreads uniformly: NuREXFORM leaves no unprotected gaps for chewing insects to attack.

Mixes well with Lime Sulphur: because the reaction between Lime Sulphur and Arsenate of Lead is definitely minimized.

For a better pack of fancy apples, use NuREXFORM—the Improved Arsenate of Lead—in your orchard.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE NORTHVILLE RECORD

Vol. 63, No. 42 Northville, Michigan, Friday, April 20, 1934 $1.50 Per Year in Advance

Homemaker's Corner

Why They Like Northville
"How can folks stand it to live in a place like this?" and the "snooty" Detroit woman riding in the bus passing through Northville, turned from looking out the window and busily powdered her nose, pitying the "poor, benighted folks who had to live in this lovely place."
Like the man on the city corner who interviews passers-by on questions of interest we asked those we talked to, "Why do you choose to live in Northville—or would you prefer to live in the city?"
Not one of them preferred the city. Here are some of the reasons why folks like this village.
Mrs. H. H. Burkart: "I like Northville because people are real here—they don't keep up a false pretense. Even during these hard times we have gone on enjoying real friendship in simple pleasures instead of the elaborate affairs city folks think necessary."
Mrs. Elizabeth Thayer: "I have lived in Detroit and like it, but Northville is such a beautiful little town and I like it here."
Mrs. Harold Bloom: "I would feel lost in a big city where I could not go down the street and greet my friends. Here we have a friendly interest in each other."

Mrs. Jennie Cousins: "Northville is one of the most beautiful and picturesque towns in these parts and I enjoy the people who have, on the whole, high ideals and are of a conscientious type."
Mrs. Floyd Northrop: "City folks needn't think life is dull here. In fact, there is something doing all the time. One is expected in a small town to be interested in all the affairs of the community. People are more interested in helping each other in a small town."
Mrs. E. W. Lester: "I prefer Northville to any town around here. It is a quiet, homey old town with lots of nice, sociable people. It is a better place to bring up children than the city."
Of course Mrs. Carrington would think of her fine garden which she couldn't have in a crowded city. "I'd a hundred times rather live here than in the city. Here I have room for my flowers, the air is better, and it doesn't take so long to get places. I like to know people I meet and not be lost in the crowd. No, there's nothing drab about living in Northville."
Mrs. Alton Peters: "I met past an apartment house in the city recently and saw the children playing in the streets and felt glad that my own child can have a big yard to enjoy with safety."

Mrs. E. M. Egan: "I would much rather live here than in a city. I have lived in the city but enjoy friendship, church relations and neighbors more here. It is far better for children."
Mrs. J. N. McLoughlin: "In spite of the fact that living in the city would be much more convenient for our business, Mr. Mac says that living out here is worth the long ride. We just love Northville. It's such a friendly, homey town, clean and wholesome for the children to grow up in."
Personally, in addition to all the above sentiments we would add that we always find "The Hills of Home" whenever we come out from the crowded city to the "lovely little town in Michigan." And then too, the easy access to the fourth great university in the world at Ann Arbor is another big advantage where all kinds of opportunities are to be had.
(We'd like to send a marked copy of this Record to Mrs. Rose Powder of the Detroit bus.)

POLICE HEAD TALKS ON PREVENTION OF CRIME IN DETROIT
It was an interested audience of parents and teachers who listened to the experiences of Miss Huitel, head of the Women's division of the Police Department of Detroit at the Parent-Teachers association Thursday evening at the high school gym.
The Women's department undertakes the prevention rather than the cure for crime. In all cases where delinquent children are investigated it is preferred that they be kept with their own parents if at all possible.
Much practical help was gleaned from the talk of this woman experienced in dealing with child problems.

DRAIN OUT IL-EATING SLUDGE NOW

Change to anti-sludge Iso-Vis "D"—keep sludge out—save oil.

It is time to change to a heavier grade of motor oil. Any time you change, remember this: The greatest cause of high oil consumption in automobile engines is sludge—sludge that foaks filters, makes valves sluggish so you lose gasoline power and mileage, and causes rings to stick and pump oil.

Also remember this: You can keep sludge out of your motor by using Iso-Vis "D", the anti-sludge motor oil. Because it does not sludge, Iso-Vis "D" keeps rings lively and free, reducing oil consumption to the minimum. That's why Iso-Vis "D" wears one less oil—add fewer quarts between drains. It's the most economical, fine lubrication you can buy.

Get-Together Club Will Enjoy Dance—

The members of the Get-Together club and their invited guests will meet at the Jewell and Blanch hall in Plymouth, Friday evening, April 20, and enjoy food and old-time dancing. "Hot dogs" and coffee will be sold during intermission. Everyone come and enjoy the fun.

Joanne Witte Invites Young Friends To "Circus" on His Birthday—

In celebration of his seventh birthday, Joanne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Witte, West street, was host to eight young friends.

The children were delighted with moving pictures of Mickey Mouse, Mutt and Jeff. To their surprise when invited to the dining room for supper they found a real circus on the table with a tent, elephants, balloons, and all the things that go with it. Under the cover of the big tent stood a pyramid birthday cake. The party was made up of the young host, Joanne, and Bob Morris of Dearborn, David Willis, John Stark, Linwood Snow, Billy Johnson and Alfred Bentley.

Myran Lyke Given Party
On His Birthday—

Myran Lyke was pleasantly surprised on his birthday, Tuesday evening, April 10, by returning home to find a party had been planned. An unusually beautiful birthday cake formed the center of the table with candles arranged to match it. All of the boys who took part in his wedding a year ago were present, also neighboring boys—twenty-four in all.

Professori bureau played an exciting part in the party. The prizes went to Geo. Atkinson, Harold Smith and Arthur Black, while Geo. Roberts was the guest of honor. When the games and fun were finished the candles were lighted and the music played. The evening was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Home Economics Class Will Study
Pictures, Monday, April 23—

"Living with Pictures" will be the lesson of the Home Economics class to be held Monday evening, April 23, at the home of Mrs. Arthur Schmitt, Thayer boulevard. This is the last meeting of the year and plans will be made for Achievement Day to be held in May.

A good attendance is urged and visitors are welcome.

Northville Women Spend Wednesday With Mrs. Cattermole, Ypsilanti—

On Wednesday Mrs. Chas. L. Day, Mrs. Cass Benton, Mrs. Chas. Bloom and Mrs. Cass Chase spent a most enjoyable day with their friends and neighbors, Mrs. W. H. Cattermole at Ypsilanti.

After a delicious luncheon these friends indulged in a good old-fashioned visit. One pleasant feature of the afternoon was a ride about the city with Miss Helen Cattermole, daughter of the hostess, as chauffeur.

Past Matrons Dine and Sew
With Mrs. Kohler—

Meeting at the home of Mrs. Celeste Kohler, Wednesday, thirteen past matrons of Orlene Chapter, G. E. S., enjoyed a delightful day.

Dinner was the occasion for a happy visit together and they were glad to have among their number Mrs. Mary Cassie, of Detroit, Mrs. "Dapper" of Plymouth, sister of the hostess, and little Miss Patricia, daughter of Mrs. Wilbur H. Johnson.

The afternoon was pleasantly spent at their needlework, sewing quilt blocks.

King's Daughters "Spring Spread"
Is Enjoyed Tuesday—

Every King's Daughter looks forward to the annual "Spring Spread" as one of the pleasantest occasions of the year. On Tuesday Miss Ruth Gillis was hostess to the chapter.

Although not as largely attended as on some occasions, the affair was delightful in every way. Pot-luck supper was very delicious and enjoyed with the customary fraternal sociability.

Assisting Miss Gillis were "Aunt Ida" Hordy, Mrs. Lily Angell, Mrs. Ruth Bryan, Mrs. Chas. A. Dolph and Mrs. Gladys Granger.

Little Jane Lanning Is Hostess
On Her Seventh Birthday—

Jane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lanning, marked her seventh birthday Saturday and invited in her young friends to help her make her first home on West Oak street.

Games and a happy afternoon were enjoyed with a supper served by the mother of the young hostess with a birthday cake twinkling with seven candles delighting the party.

Present were Virginia Lee, Shirley, Shirley Lyke, Dolph, Lyke, Dorothy Averill, Pops, Harold, Carol Reitzler, David Scho, Alice Steele, and Emma Jane Lyke.

Service League Meets With Mr. Boyd, Tuesday Evening—

Thirty-three interested members of the Service League of the Methodist church met with Mrs. Emma Boyd, Wing Court, Tuesday evening, with Mrs. Ethelwyn M. assisting as hostess.

At the business meeting a gratifying report of $20 received at the "Old Peabody" was heard. Plans are under way to repeat the performance in Salem and Parkington.

Miss Irene Palmer led devotions and Mrs. Ida B. Cooke presided over a program. Those participating were: Louise Alexander, Faith Labadie, Roy Groomer, Betty and Donald Armstrong and Miss Avis Perry.

Refreshments concluded the evening. Mrs. Jeannette Staman, owner of Main and Rogers, will be the next hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Arlo Hauger Give Wedding Reception—
Saturday evening, April 14, Mr. and Mrs. Arlo Hauger entertained about twenty guests at a wedding reception at their home in honor of Mrs. Hauger's brother, Harold Panikoff, and his bride, the former Miss Verna Witte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clare Witte of Clare, Michigan.

At 6:30 a delicious supper was served, the guests being seated at a long table attractively decorated in a yellow and green color scheme. A beautifully decorated wedding cake graced the center of the table. Games and music furnished the entertainment for the evening. The guests departed at a late hour, wishing the bride and groom a long and prosperous wedded life.

The happy couple were married in the afternoon at the Baptist parsonage at Ypsilanti and were attended by Miss Ruth Waldo, of Wayne, and Leo Panikoff, of Plymouth. The bride wore a gown of white net over pink satin and carried an arm bouquet of white roses. Miss Waldo wore a powder blue tulle gown and carried American Beauty roses. Mr. Panikoff wore a tuxedo and carried a sword.

Mrs. Myers Entertains
Thursday Afternoon—

Mrs. Abi Myers was hostess to a group of twelve friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Montgomery Thursday afternoon, when five hundred was played. Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the pleasant afternoon.

Maybury Sanatorium Women
Employes Are Birthday
Dinner Guests—

Two of the women employed at the Maybury sanatorium enjoyed a chicken dinner together at the Merritt hotel Monday evening when those living inside the "San" entertained those living outside. The event was in honor of those whose birthdays fell during the month of April. Mrs. Edith McKahan, housekeeper, and Mrs. Ida B. Cooke were among the guests.

Mr. Waldo Johnson Is Hostess
Honoring Melvin Sterner—

Ten young men sat down together Friday evening at the hospitable table of Mrs. Waldo Johnson, with Melvin Sterner, who has been a member of the Johnson household for a number of years, as host of the event.

The menu was heartily complimented by the appetite of the party who enjoyed, as usual one of their customary get-togethers. Present with Melvin, who is now a student in Michigan State Normal Ypsilanti, were Richard Shipley, Glen Carrington and Ted Wood, all fellow students in Ypsilanti, the last named of Corning N. Y. Warner, Neal, Bob Christensen, Bob Peter, Edward Sterner, Lyman, Melvin of Waldo Lake, and John Sterner.

Mrs. Sweet Gives Report to Nellie Yerkes Auxiliary
Tuesday Evening—

Mrs. Ralph Ayers was hostess to the Nellie Yerkes auxiliary at her home on Rogers street Tuesday evening. The devotional service was given by Mrs. Merrill Sweet, who read in a prayer for the work of the American Indians. Mrs. Ayers, who read the scripture lesson, and Mrs. D. P. Yerkes, Sr. were in prayer.

Missen study lesson was read by Fraser Staman and an interesting report was given by Mrs. Sterner on her recent attendance at the Presbyterian meeting in Ypsilanti.

Refreshments were served during the social hour. Mrs. Jennie White is hostess to many friends on her birthday. The Lone Pine Tea room is the scene of a very pleasant gathering of intimate friends and relatives of Mrs. Jennie White who was honored on the occasion of her ninety-fourth birthday, Saturday, April 14.

Yellow daisies made a cheerful centerpiece and the color scheme of yellow and white was carried out effectively throughout the four-course luncheon as a climax came the lovely birthday cake crowned with yellow daisies.

BASE LINE SCHOOL

The sixth and seventh grades have made a rock collection and are studying about different kinds of rocks for the science class.

We have been studying about birds. Each child selected his own bird and found out all he could about it. Then we wrote compositions about our birds and made a bird booklet.

Our school has been making a scrapbook for the children in the Maybury sanatorium. We are also sending a folder of short stories.

Neighboring Politeness

The story is told that when Bishop Candor was riding on a train out west, a big, strapping, rough fellow came in and sat down beside him. Springing up the Methodist prelate, he exclaimed, "Where in hell have I seen you before?" To which Bishop Candor replied, "I don't know; what part of hell are you from?"

Husband and Wife

with yellow roses and lighted candles representing the many years lived by Mrs. White.

Present with the hostess, Mrs. Allan Barron, were her mother, Mrs. Dean Griswold, Mrs. Albert Stockman, Mrs. Inez Bryan and the one honored.

At the close of a social time around the table the guests went to the home of Mrs. G. Waldo where Mrs. White was in her element receiving calls from many old friends who brought with them flowers and other tokens of love.

Ninety-four years are worthy of still further demonstration so Mrs. Cora Russell, Grace avenue, with whom Mrs. White has made her home all winter, entertained her friends, Mr. and Mrs. Willington Roberts at six o'clock dinner.

Not unusually tired after such a day full of pleasure, Mrs. White closed one of her happiest birthdays.

MRS. SHERWIN A. HILL
AND MRS. C. BRYAN
VISIT WASHINGTON

Mrs. Sherwin A. Hill and Mrs. Carl F. Bryan left Sunday morning by motor for Washington, D. C., where they will attend the forty-third Continental Congress of the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, which will continue through April 21.

Special events are the National Board of Management dinner to be given Monday at the Mayflower hotel, the Michigan dinner being arranged by Mrs. Harold C. Brooks, of Marshall, and Mrs. H. S. Gray, of Benton Harbor, at the Hotel Washington, April 17, and a tea to be given to the Michigan delegation by Mrs. Arthur H. Vandenberg, Wednesday at the Wardman Park hotel.

Following a brief state meeting after the dinner Tuesday, the Michigan delegation will attend the president-general's reception at 9:00 o'clock in Constitution Hall. Mrs. Roosevelt will address the Congress Friday morning and a banquet at the Mayflower hotel will close the meeting Friday.

Mrs. James H. McDonald, of Glenview Hills, Ypsilanti, retiring state regent of Michigan, and Mrs. Henry B. Joy, recording secretary general of the National Society, will entertain at a buffet-supper for the Michigan delegation to the forty-third Continental Congress at the Hotel Washington.

Mrs. Wm. Rarke, Brown, argued at Arrowhead Farm, her home northeast of town, Saturday morning after spending the winter, moving in Daytona Beach, Fla. Mrs. Brown made the trip alone. Mr. Brown, whose health is better, will remain another month in the south.

Mrs. Scott Lovell, Mrs. Don P. Yerkes, Sr., Mrs. Georgia Yerkes, Mrs. Ernest Kohler, and Mrs. Ida Hendry attended the annual meeting of the Presbyterian church held at Pontiac, Wednesday. Mrs. Cecil White and Mrs. Merrill Sweet attended a similar meeting held there on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hinkley, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Egan, were among the 1800 attendants at the republican banquet held in the Masonic Temple, Detroit, Saturday evening. Outstanding among the speakers were Hon. Geo. Clark, once member of the supreme court, and Congressman Dick R. of Illinois.

Attending the Republican luncheon among the other 600 or 700 guests at the Statler hotel, Wednesday were Mrs. A. E. Fulger, Mrs. E. W. Lister, Mrs. P. W. Doran, Mrs. R. Groomer of Northville and Mr. Chas. Hamilton and Mrs. Geo. Simmons of Novi. The highlights of the program were Ex-governor William S. Brucker, Representative Hamilton Fish, Jr., of New York, and Frank Fitzgerald, secretary of State.

Saturday evening a group of ladies from the First Baptist church attended the Springville Baptist church, Detroit, to witness the installation of the officers of the Woman's Missionary Union. Mrs. Bob O'Donnell, formerly of this village was installed as president. Those who attended were: Mrs. Red Matthews, Mrs. Geo. Buty, Mrs. Jessie Munkers, Mrs. Earl Montgomery and Miss Eleanor Westphall.

PLG YOUR PARDON

We wish to correct the error made in last week's Record to the fact that Miss Elaine Winter is not the new pianist for the Baptist church, but has been assisting since last September and is the regular pianist for every Sunday night.

2,000 MAPLE TREES ARE OFFERED FREE TO HOME OWNERS

Come and take away 2,000 young maple trees to help make a more beautiful Northville.

This number of trees is offered to anyone in or around Northville who will supply go to the Mrs. Grace Duganbury Oakwood subdivision and help themselves to the maples. They will be found in the stretch of woods east of the residence of Dr. H. S. Willis, and range from five to eight feet in height.

Now is the time for transplanting trees and certainly this fine chance to get free trees right at home should appeal to many of our home owners.

For more definite information about the trees see Lovell & Smith.

SENIOR PLAY IS PRESENTED AGAIN TONIGHT

Admission Prices: Are 25 and 15 Cents; Begins at Eight

The seniors will repeat their hilarious comedy tonight (April 20) at 8:00 o'clock. The price of admission will be the same as before, 15 and 25 cents.

The cast is as follows:

Boots Boyd — Eleanor Grosvenor
Mandy — Eleanor Eaton
Jed Harding — Harold Booth
Bill Thompson — Ned Cook
Percival Manners — Jack McLaughlin
Albert Stevens — Nelson Schrader
Professor Boyd — Marie Fraser
Mary Roland — Beverly Stannard
Jane Neider — Mary Jane Dunne
Mrs. Stevens — Mary Jane Dunne
Howard Nutz — Paul Baldwin
Mrs. Hemingway — Jane Lester

The plot deals with the affairs of young people of today. Boots is in love with Jed Harding, but is a very set person in her ideas and won't admit it. Jed, thinking to teach her a lesson, poses as her governess and will, you must as her and see what happens. Jed has many embarrassing moments which amuse his pals, Bill Thompson and Percival Manners, who are in on the secret of Jed's being the governess. But as the old saying goes—"All's well that ends well."

SENIOR WHO'S WHO

Alfred Charles Parmenter
March 27, 1916, was the day Alfred was born, therefore it was a red letter day. In 1919 the Parmenter family moved from Detroit to Northville. Alfred was born in Northville. Alfred started in the first grade in our Northville Schools and has faithfully stuck by us ever since. Alfred had the distinction of being Vice-President of his Junior Class. Skating and swimming are Alfred's favorite pastimes, while building model airplanes is his special hobby. Alfred has been a popular member of the Northville Community for many years.

Albert John Lowry
Albert Lowry was born in Detroit, Michigan April 25, 1915. In 1919 he moved to Northville, and as many of us, has spent all his school years in Northville school. We might say here, though it does not pertain to Albert's school work, that he has been a faithful member of the Northville Community for many years.

Albert has rather an unusual pastime—that of watching for good-looking girls. He has three things for his hobby—hunting, fishing and swimming.

Albert plans to work for a year after graduating and then to take a law course at Wayne University in Detroit. Let us give you some advice, Albert—look out for the girls!

Samuel James Lawrence
Sam (as he is preferred to be called) first opened his eyes in Northville, March 1, 1915. Goodness, I never knew there were so many Northville old timers! Sam held the office of president in his freshman year. In the eleventh grade, Sam served on the J-Hop committee.

Swimming is Sam's pastime and he seems to have no special hobby. Sam has no definite plans on what work he will take up after graduation.

GIRLS' PLAYDAY IS APRIL 24TH
Tuesday, April 24, will again bring the annual playday with Plymouth for the girls' basketball teams.

The games will begin promptly at four o'clock with the seventh graders matching their skill against the Plymouth seventh graders. Later in the evening supper will be served under the direction of Mrs. Mildred Zimmerman, assisted by the junior girls' team.

During the lunch a program will be presented by some of the students, the sophomore girls' team having charge of this phase of the evening's entertainment.

The senior girls' team will act as the reception committee, giving the Plymouthites a hearty welcome and conducting them to the locker rooms and seeing that they are attended to during the entire evening.

To the freshman team, being the underclassmen, falls the duty of cleaning up after the affair.

With the splendid showing that the girls made in Detroit, it is felt that they will again bring recognition and honors to the school and community.

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

Why "Lelawala"

In choosing an opera for a school performance there are many things to consider. For instance:

1. Will the opera chosen provide the best musical training for the pupils concerned?

2. Will it instill in them a love for good music?

3. Does it have dramatic possibilities?

a. Is the plot worth while?

b. Is the dialogue witty and above-reproach?

c. Are the dances interesting and characteristic?

d. Is there a good opportunity for costuming and pageantry?

e. Will it give experience in theatrical make-up?

f. Will there be a chance for originality in scenery?

4. Is it within the range and ability of the singers?

5. What will be its effect upon the school in general?

6. What will it cost to produce it?

After considering these points carefully and reading over some fifteen outstanding and popular operas, Mr. Leslie G. Lee, musical director, decided on "Lelawala" by Charles Wakefield Cadman, famous American composer. "Lelawala" does not contain the cheap music that is so commonly found in the average high school operas, yet, while difficult it is not beyond the grasp of students. Because this opera deals with a renewed Indian story, Mr. Cadman has used genuine Indian themes secured from reservations to provide the basis for his music. Since the songs are of a very good grade and because the pupils are thoroughly acquainted with them, they will probably appreciate and enjoy a better class of music now and in the future.

As to dramatic possibilities, the production itself is concerned with the beautiful legend of Niagara Falls. So many of the operas are based merely on some "litter" or motive which is too likely to give the audience an acute attack of ennui. The dialogue is clever and presents occasions for fine expression. The dances, although not numerous, are very effective. Naturally the possibilities for costuming are unlimited. Special scenery will be painted.

The expense for the production is fairly large, but it is hoped that the result will compensate for it.

This opera, in which one-fifth of the student body will take part, is undoubtedly an outstanding one and will, we hope, be a splendid showing that Mr. Lee has always made. When it comes to selecting the right play or opera, and directing both with understanding, he is ever in the fore. Those in the cast-like to work for him because he allows them to employ their own interpretations of the various roles assigned to them.

Here's luck to the feathery already in Mr. Lee's cap. Long may they be added to!

The name for the "Palla-Chron," which, incidentally will not be explained until its issuance, was truly an inspiration. Thanks for being ingenious, Dad.

The two other sources of revenue that are to help defray expenses are the sale of copies and advertisements. It is hoped that over 250 issues will be sold, and since the price is only forty cents, this should not be difficult.

Heading the staff in charge of the "Palla-Chron" are Editor Peggy Blake and Assistant Editor Dorothy Richardson. The remainder of the group and the subjects they will cover are as follows:

COUNCIL WILL DISCONTINUE "PALLADIUM"

"Palla-Chron" Will Replace The Customary Year Book

Due to the facts that the "Palladium" depended too much upon the advertising with which the merchants of the town supplied it and that its price of seventy-five cents was beyond the means of most of the Student Council has decided to discontinue it this year with a paper to be called the "Palla-Chron." It, taking all things into consideration, is a splendid idea, for every feature, with the exception of the cover, of the "Palladium" will be available for about half the cost.

In the "Palla-Chron" (the name will be explained when it is published) will be pictures of the basketball team, football, baseball, and golf teams of the seniors, juniors, sophomores, freshmen, and seventh and eighth graders, of Mr. American, of the school board, of the faculty, of the Council, of the Choir, of the "N" Club, of the girls' basketball teams, and of the school. A photographer from Camp's Publishing company took these pictures Thursday. Each class, the Choir, and the "N" Club paid $5 and each student 5 cents toward their cuts. The student's money was used as a deposit on this paper to be on sale sometime during the latter part of May or the first of June. The Council also voted to have a popularity contest, the results of which will be unknown until the paper is purchased.

The two other sources of revenue that are to help defray expenses are the sale of copies and advertisements. It is hoped that over 250 issues will be sold, and since the price is only forty cents, this should not be difficult.

MANY THANKS TO YOU

On behalf of the Junior Class and its sponsors I wish to thank all the chaperons and those who contributed articles for the Hop. Mrs. Carrington very kindly made an attractive rock garden for us.

The Kohlers, Ambler, Christensen, and Carringtons generously allowed us to borrow their wicker set. Mr. Schrader and the Kroger Store donated artificial grass and Clifford Turnbull and Kenneth Rathbun loaned their flood lights. We secured lattice work from Messrs. Floyd Northrop, John Christensen, Thomas Carrington, and Wilson and Mrs. Minnie Exles and Dr. Johnston.

Our orchestra platform was given to us by the Sanatorium. One more may I thank you all for your kindness.

Eddie Bender, President.

These candidates turned out last week for track: Capt. Cook, Ray Lyke, Arvill, Cole, Owen, Young, Gregory, Reebach, Straub, McGee, Hoffman, Packer, Schrader, Tegsbury, McLaughlin, Bray, Porter, Carrington, Giles and Duguid.

When the finished team is ready, N. H. S. will have men in the mile, half-mile, high and low hurdles, broad jump, high jump, 440, 220 pole vaulting, 100 yard dash, and shot putting.

The material is good and with careful training and by following the usual rigid health rules, they should make quite a showing against their competitors. The first meet will be some time in May.

"I Am Suzanne" Comes Saturday To The Penniman Allen Theatre And "Man of Two Worlds," April 25

Another Hollywood myth has been exploded. It is the one about the little extra girl who haunts the picture sets waiting for a director's glance to light upon her and open the golden gates of stardom.

It has long been a favorite theme among the sob sisters of the film colony, this tale of the sacrifices, the eager ambitions and the bitter disappointments of the wide-eyed youngsters in the mob scenes. Always these would-be stars are pictured as eking out a precarious existence as extras at the expense of security and happiness in some other field.

As a matter of fact, nine out of ten of the bright-faced young girls who fill the dance floors and cafe sets on the movie stages are there because they can make a better living wearing crease pants than selling it behind the drug store counter.

Listen to Lynn Kelley, pretty red-headed extra in Jesse L. Lasky's "I Am Suzanne," soon to be seen at the Penniman-Allen theatre, Saturday, April 21.

"Sure, we'd all like to be stars, driving big cars and swimming in our private pools, instead of as the beach. But it isn't ambition, particularly, that keeps us calling the casting directors. It's because extra work is a darn good way to make a living."

"I've been working in pictures for four years. In that time I've averaged about four days a week, making from $5 to $10 a day in the studios. I earn about $25 or $30 a week. I have a fairly amusing time, when I'm working, and plenty of spare time to play tennis, go to the beaches or the mountains."

"If I didn't work extra, I'd be standing on my feet all day behind a counter, or bending over a typewriter eight hours a day for $30 to $35 a week."

"I've talked with hundreds of other girls, and their angle is the same. Extra work is the easy and most pleasant way of earning."

A living that is open to a young girl without any special training."

Lillian Harvey and Gene Raymond have the featured role in "I Am Suzanne."

A new personality flashes brilliantly across the cinema horizon in "Man of Two Worlds," the RKO Radio Picture at the Penniman-Allen theatre, Wednesday, April 25. Francis Lederer brought an international reputation to American pictures, and to it he adds further with his performance in "Man of Two Worlds."

Elissa Landi, co-starred with Lederer in the production, gives a sparkling portrayal which is parallel to that of Lederer, although her role is briefer.

"Man of Two Worlds" is the story of a mighty Aretz hunter who is taken from Greenland to London by scientists for whom he has acted as a guide. He has conceived a strange worshiping passion for the photograph of the leader's daughter.

When he meets the girl in the flesh, in Mayfair, his hopeless infatuation grows until he forgets his native wife. A crushing and heart-rending climax results from this strange situation.

In the role of the unfatigued hunter, Lederer assumed a difficult and daring characterization. So skillfully has he played it, however, that his also will be remembered and loved by audiences, long after the most conventional characters are forgotten.

The Hungarian actress, Steffi Duna, creates the native wife with "sympathy" and understanding. Henry Stephenson, J. Farrell MacDonald, Sarah Padden, Wallace MacDonald, Emile Chautard, Forrester Harvey and other sterling performers contribute exceptional support.

Walter Ruben has done masterful work with his direction. The screen play by Howard J. Green and Ann-Margaret Morgan is based upon the latter's novel "Man of Two Worlds."
