

BOND ISSUE VOTED DOWN BY 15-1 RATIO

Light Ballot Cast As 220 Disapprove State Proposition

Northville township property owners gave the $37,874,000 Public Works bond issue a terrific beating at the election Monday by voting "No" on 220 ballots as against 17 in favor of the proposition.

It was the lightest ballot cast in years, say election officials, the total number appearing at the two voting booths being 243.

The proposition in which Northville voters opposed the bond issue was nearly 15 to one. The state of Michigan as a whole refused to approve the proposition in the ratio of five votes against it to each vote for it.

In precinct one, located at the town hall, a total of 154 votes were cast, ten for the proposition, 144 against it and three ballots spoiled.

At precinct two, under Herton's drug store, there were 89 votes cast, 79 opposing the bond issue, seven votes in favor of it, and three spoiled.

At Novi, property owners voted the proposition down in the same ratio of 15 to one. Out of a total of 159 votes, 149 were registered against the bond issue and ten votes were counted in favor of it.

GASOLINE BILL FOR BUS COMPANY IS $500 EVERY MONTH

Most persons are apt to think that they have large gasoline bills but a talk with Tunk P. Biddle, proprietor of the bus company which runs between Detroit and Northville, gives us a glimpse of what a real gasoline bill is like.

Mr. Biddle's monthly bill averages around $470 to $500 each month. His total expense account for himself and his two assistant drivers, Mr. Ahrens and Ed. Curd, totals in the vicinity of $600.

By standing by this bus company Northville-Detroit commuters will assure themselves of the finest transportation service at the lowest cost that can be had, says Mr. Biddle.

MAY 14 TO 19 ARE DATES FOR ANNUAL CLEAN-UP WEEK

Clean-Up Week in Northville will be held from Monday, May 14 through until Saturday, May 19, announced Superintendent of Streets Earl Montgomery.

"Refuse and ashes should be placed in containers on the curb in front of the resident's house," says Mr. Montgomery. "Do not, under any circumstances, place the containers out until Monday, May 14, for they will not be picked up. However, we expect to make only one trip through each street. If the containers are not placed on the curb, they will have to be disposed of by the home owners themselves."

EMERGENCY CROP LOANS AVAILABLE TO MAY 15

Word has been received by Ralph Carr, county agricultural agent, that the time for applying for emergency crop loans has been extended to May 15, 1934, and application must show a postmark prior to midnight of that date. A large number of Wayne county farmers have taken government crop loans and those who still need loans may apply at the county agent's office, 303 Calvin theatre building, Dearborn, Michigan.

N. C. SCHRADER INVITED TO DINE WITH ROOSEVELT

Chairman of "Birthday Ball" Honored by Washington Committee

Nelson C. Schrader has been unusually honored by an invitation to dine May 9 at the Hotel Shoreham, Washington, D. C. with President Roosevelt when there will be present the other members of the National committee for the "Birthday Ball" given on the President's birthday in February.

Mr. Schrader was chairman of the Northville committee and the ball staged here was one of the finest of its kind in the whole state of Michigan. The proceeds went to aid the Warm Springs, Ga. foundation to aid sufferers from infantile paralysis.

Nelson is trying on all the dress suits of his friends and attempting to make up his mind whether or not to pack his suitcase and go to Washington.

DANCE BENEFIT FOR O. L. V. CHURCH WILL BE HEARD ON RADIO

Proceeds from the local sale of tickets to the dance benefit, scheduled at Walled Lake casino for Wednesday evening, May 16, by members of the O. L. V. church will be turned over to the church treasury, it was announced by Father Jos. G. Schuler.

The music played by the nationally famous "Red" Nichols and His 14 Pennies will be broadcast over a coast to coast network of 67 stations from 11 to 11:30 p. m. The dance music is broadcast each Sunday and Wednesday evening from the casino at Walled Lake. Locally the program is heard over the Columbia broadcasting station CKLW.

Three hundred tickets have been printed to be sold by members of the O. L. V. church who are sponsoring the event. The proceeds from the sale of these tickets, 50 cents each, are to be turned over to the church fund.

"Just to watch the manner in which a large network, says Father Schuler, series to broadcast a program over 67 stations is an education. Announcers, Western Union men, electrical engineers, a veritable staff of men is maintained at the point of each broadcast in order to assure perfect operation and reception. I was amazed at the amount of preparation and care that was taken. Watching the broadcast is interesting entertainment in itself."

DANCE TO BE HELD BY ALUMNI HERE FRIDAY, MAY 11

To wipe out an indebtedness, the Alumni association of Northville high school will hold a dance on Friday evening, May 11, at the high school gym. Strasen's orchestra will play. Dancing from 8:20 to 12:30.

The bill will be only 25 cents a person.

Miss Grace Angell is chairman of this affair and is being assisted by Mrs. H. P. Wagenschutz, president of the Alumni association.

Nineteen People from Northville Guests at Michigan Masonic Home at Alma Saturday and Sunday

At the instigation of Past Master Dr. Wilbur H. Johnston, a party of nineteen Masons and their wives, enjoyed the hospitality of the Michigan Masonic Home in Alma Saturday evening and Sunday.

The home is located less than a mile north of Alma on a site of several acres with a sweeping outlook for miles. The new building was completed in 1931, replacing the old one. On a broad stretch of well-kept green stand the three buildings, the main building with administration offices and rooms for the residents, the hospital and the power plant and laundry. Across the street is the home for eight children, orphans of Masons with their teacher. Here they play and live normally as one big family.

Throughout the entire institution one is impressed with the absolute cleanliness, not one spot or blemish is to be seen anywhere. The furnishings are chosen with exquisite taste.

With royal hospitality the Northville visitors were greeted by Superintendent L. M. Tefreau and were shown to the guest rooms which were as comfortable as they were beautifully furnished. On many of the doors along the corridor were noted plates indicating the donors of the furnishings.

Here in this home 125 Masons, wives or widows find a home that provides all the comforts and luxuries one could wish.

DR. SNOW TO BE CANDIDATE FOR CORONER

Northville Republican Club Backs Former Mayor

Dr. L. W. Snow, formerly village president, received the unanimous support of the Northville Community Republican club at the meeting of that organization held Tuesday evening at the library here. Dr. Snow is campaigning for the office of Wayne County coroner.

Supporters of Dr. Snow are at present circulating petitions for his nomination as a candidate in the primary election to be held next fall. A capable executive, Dr. Snow has received the endorsement of many of the outstanding civic and business leaders in Wayne county.

Tuesday evening, May 8, another meeting of the Northville Republican club will be held at the library to prepare plans for a large affair to which all Republicans of this community will be invited. Committees are to be named and officials say that this will be one of the biggest events of its kind ever to be held here. The date for it has not yet been announced and will be decided upon at the next session of the club.

Under the able leadership of Supervisor Willard A. Ely the Northville Republican club has made great strides in forming an organization that will be a capable addition to this community. New members, says Secretary Charles A. Blackburn, are welcome. The only requisite to joining the club, he says, is that the prospective member be a republican and that he fill out a membership application which may be easily obtained from any member.

EDISON CO. PROVIDES REMARKABLE SERVICE IN NOVI EMERGENCY

Mrs. Wm. Mairs, whose home is on Grand River road, Novi, tells the following interesting story showing the prompt service of the Detroit Edison company.

Shortly after three o'clock Monday morning Mrs. Mairs was awakened by a sudden crash when a passing car hit a telephone pole, breaking the cross arm and disconnecting the electric wire leading in to the Mairs home.

Dependent upon electric power for light, cooking and pumpkin water, Mrs. Mairs called the Edison company and immediately Howard and Jas. Green responded and within 30 minutes the repair work was completed and Mrs. Mairs did her Monday washing and the affairs of the household went on without interruption.

"POPPY DAY" SET FOR MAY 26

With the coming of May we are reminded of the annual observance of Memorial Day and the practical demonstration of our appreciation of the sacrifice of the boys "over there" by the sale of poppies.

Mrs. W. H. Safford is this year taking up the chairmanship of the poppy sale which for a number of years was supervised by her old schoolmate, the late Mrs. Fred Simmons.

Memorial poppies, which the women of the American Legion Auxiliary will distribute here on "Poppy Day," May 26, have been a means of providing employment to hundreds of disabled World War veterans through the winter and spring months, according to Mrs. Safford, rehabilitation chairman of the local Auxiliary Unit.

The little red flowers have made possible earnings of approximately $100,000 for these disabled men, she stated. "Making of the paper poppies which the American Legion Auxiliary offers on 'Poppy Day' to be worn in honor of the World War dead is reserved strictly for the war disabled," Mrs. Safford explained. It offers a means of employment to

Fire Wednesday Destroys The Main Building at the Northville Fair Grounds

BOARD PLANS NEW BUILDING FOR THE FAIR

Stockholders' Hold Meeting Two Hours After the Fire

Northville's Wayne County Fair will be held here on Wednesday through Saturday, August 22-25, just as it has always been held, announced President Nelson C. Schrader, following the meeting of stockholders and officials held Wednesday evening, eight o'clock, at the village hall.

Far from being a down-hearted group the 14 men who attended the meeting laid plans for a bigger fair. The fair board plans to replace the ruins of the main building with a structure that is the last word in modern and scientific exhibit structure.

A four-day fair, and horse show will be held and the spirit of membership of the fair board indicates that it will be a triumph over the obstacles that the disastrous fire has placed in their path. Encouraged by the vigor and foresight of President Schrader, the board plans to clear away the ruins and begin the reconstruction work as soon as possible.

DOLLAR DAYS ARE TO BE HELD HERE ON MAY 11 AND 12

Northville's postponed Dollar Days will be held Friday and Saturday, May 11 and 12.

Because of cold weather merchants decided to put off the Dollar Days, which were to have been held last week, until the weather became more reasonable. This week the thermometer fell and the thermometer shot up to as high as 74 degrees with plenty more winter weather to the west.

Northville merchants have arranged their stocks, prepared their merchandise and are all set for the big week-end. Watch for the Dollar Days edition.

Every copy book news and silver tin is requested in order to avoid delay in sending the edition throughout this and nearby communities.

As such its property should be the common charge of residents it is said.

Dates for the work of cleaning up the ruins and starting the construction of a new main building have not yet been set, stated President Schrader, but the fair board is unanimous in its intention to rebuild and to start as soon as possible.

Speeches, Autobiographies And Presentations to Sam Stalter Feature Rotary Club Meeting

Five members of the Northville Rotary club presented the program at the regular Tuesday noon session at the Presbyterian church house and a spy eye it proved to be in the absence of President Chas. E. Rogers, East President, E. O. Langfield was in the chair. Leslie G. Lee had charge of the program.

Three autobiographies, a report of the recent district convention and a talk on the bond issue filled the session.

E. H. Lapham opened the program with an interesting report on the district meet held at Saginaw April 23 and 24. Two speeches about those of Chas. F. Keistering of the General Motors Corporation and Dr. Albers of Chicago, made the trip worth while said Mr. Lapham. Northville sent a group of ten to the big meet. A good meal was heard at the convention regarding the International convention of Rotary at Detroit in June when 10,000 guests will come from 77 countries of the world. Automobile manufacturers of Detroit are planning to pace 2,000 cars, with drivers at the disposal of the Rotarians.

Supervisor W. A. Ely spoke briefly of the bonding election on Monday when voters of the state snowed under Governor Cornstock's 38 million dollar project. The only redeeming feature of the election, said Mr. Ely, was that the decision was left to the taxpayers who were wise enough to repudiate it. If the issue had carried, he said, and if the millions had been spent as ex-

BLAZE DRAWS HUNDREDS OF PEOPLE HERE

Before the flames of the disastrous fire which destroyed the main building of the Northville Wayne County fair here late Wednesday afternoon had died out Nelson C. Schrader, president of the fair association, had called a meeting of fair officials to consider plans for rebuilding the lost structure.

The scream of the fire fired at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and the appearance of a dense cloud of black smoke over the fair grounds, located south of the business district, caused hundreds of business people and residents to hurriedly drop their work and follow the fire engines to the scene of the blaze.

Powered by a moderate southwest wind, the fire, according to early witnesses, had apparently started in the middle structure of the large main building which houses the fruit and vegetable department, and high school exhibits when the fair is in progress. The origin of the fire was unexplained. Because the building was of frame construction with tar paper roof it was easily consumed by the fire which completely destroyed it. Had the wind been blowing toward the west end of the east Northville fair grounds, and firemen estimated would have been also consumed by flames.

Valuable display equipment which included tables, lunchbox equipment belonging to the ladies of the Presbyterian church, and tables to show exhibits, scattered in the building, were destroyed. The measurements of the four buildings which were joined under one roof were one building approximately 100 by 100 feet; three of about 20 by 40 feet. They were covered by insurance to the extent of $3,000.

Located within a few feet of the fire were one of the main transformers and several high tension wires which imperilled firemen at work. Exploding in flashes of light as they short-circuited, the wires snapped and cracked viciously. Truss carrying workmen from the Detroit Edison company appeared soon and cut off the current which led to the fair grounds. Electric service to householders was not hampered.

Northville's fire department worked valiantly to extinguish the flames which poured from the building but were unable to cope with the hazards of dry wood; tar paper, fanned by a wind. Wetting other nearby buildings with a stream of water they were able to quench sparks which might have served to start new blazes. Had their streams of water struck any of the high tension wires the "kick back" current would have caused some severe injuries if not death.

Hundreds of spectators watched the spectacular blaze from the safety of the green lawn directly behind the grandstand. The grounds were dotted with cars and reports from people cut in the country that the smoke could be clearly seen many miles away accounted for this large numbers, which came to town.

The alarm was phoned into the fire hall by Henry Hoffman, who was with a group of Northville high school track athletes, practicing. Total damage was estimated to be approximately $5,000.

ALL SCHOOL SCRIP TO BE REDEEMED BY LOCAL BANK

All that remains in circulation of the school scrip, about $190, may be redeemed at the Depositors State bank, announced Russell H. Arnerman, school superintendent, this week.

Most of the scrip, outstanding in bills of one dollar denomination but there are several five dollar scrip bills which have not yet been turned in. These will all be redeemed when the certificates are turned into the bank.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES

Whether in the small country paper or in the great city dailies, the amount and character of advertising carried are an indication of prosperity or the lack of it.
National advertising in newspapers increased 21.6 per cent during the first quarter of 1934, as compared with the same months of 1933. On the other hand, radio advertising—with its many objectionable features—decreased 18.2 the past year.
When you see small or big concerns carrying progressive advertising and going after business in a real enthusiastic way—as though they believed in themselves and in their business—you will see times getting better. John Wanamaker became a great merchant prince because he put his whole first day's receipts in advertising. He has been going strong ever since.

SKATING TO DEATH

The Detroit daily papers carry pitiful stories of how a fine young man, skating in the street, was killed by a passing automobile. The tragedy seemed worse in view of the fact that the boy had been for years very careful about warning children crossing the street and about street skating—the very thing that cost his life. He had worked with the Boy Scouts guiding boys and girls across streets. Yet the terror against which he worked leaves his father and mother childless—for he was the only child.
We came down Wing street the other day and a bunch of kids was in the street skating down the hill. As they swung onto the street, no power on earth could have saved their lives had an automobile come roaring down that street as they often do just down it.
If it were wise parents who keep their children entirely out of the street for play, no child is safe on any street in this city always a car coming. If our children must skate on the streets, let's rope off a few blocks and let them skate without fear of being killed beneath the wheels of merciless automobiles.

AN UNFAIR APPEAL

An appeal has been made by the NRA authorities to the Toronto newspapers that they decrease hours and increase wages.
In the opinion of the vast majority of country publishers—high-minded and well-traveled men as a rule and contributors of real service to the community—this appeal simply cannot be met. As one of the publishers asks: "What shall we use for money?"
Running a country newspaper never has been and never can be, run on a time-clock basis, as is the plant of some big industry. To ask publishers to cut hours and at the same time raise wages is, to our notion, like asking the farmer to do all his farming forenoon and at the same time to add more hired men—even though he can't pay those he has now.

A DESERVED DEFEAT

The voters of Michigan should be congratulated on their wisdom in turning down the $38 million dollar bond issue. The whole plan was a haphazard project for running the state into further debt and its defeat will save the taxpayers further grief.
Even though this bond issue has gone down to a deserved fate, it is well to remind ourselves of the state's debt load to be ready for the next money spending plan. According to former budget director, Mr. Lord, Michigan governmental units owe between $50 and $60 million dollars in bond obligations. The fixed charges on these bonds are about 40 millions of dollars annually. And of course many of these bonds are in default. To have added another $38 millions to this terrific load would have been the height of folly.
There is just one way to get out of debt and that is to pay as you go. Until we pull out of the mud and get our incomes all around, bond issues should be kept under cover. Or if bond issues should become necessary to meet the economic demands, political juggling should be kept out of the picture. Putting in dozens of unnecessary projects just to win votes is an insult to the intelligence of the voters. It is also a menace to those who are on the border line of economic defeat, to whom further debts of any kind are a real disaster.

WHEN IT "WARM UP"

Just because we had winter weather all through the year 1934, it is no reason to think that there will be no spring of 1934.
We write this a cold north wind right off the ice blowing. Prairie fires burn merrily on screen doors, the cellar. Farmers must have sowed their oats wearing overcoats. Wise motorists are still draining their cars at night. Yes, "it has been a nice winter this spring."

Yet we would wager a thin dime against a doughnut that by the time you read this, spring will be here. The Good Book is right. "Seed time and harvest will come." They always have come in Michigan and they will come this year. The peaches have been blighted but June will bring Michigan strawberry shortcake, one of the blessings of the gods. Cass Benton park will soon be full of folks from the city seeking the great outdoors. The golf courses will be crowded. The week-enders will fill their cars full and will be off to the end of the earth for an outing away from the grind and routine of everyday life.

Yes, it was a wintry March and April, but there are six months to go before October rings down the end of Michigan glorious outdoor life. That always was the way of Michigan. "If you seek a beautiful peninsula, look around you."
P. S.—As predicted, spring came smiling in a day or so after the above was written.

WANDERING THOUGHTS

Pretty nice for the Northville Ford plant to be going full blast. Better days surely seem to be here.

The man who gardens a little will think better of the world after he gets to working with nature.

We have no government at Lansing. Prosecutor Toy of Detroit is reported as having said. And Mr. Toy can say plenty to back up this strong statement.

Newspaper folks will welcome "back to the fold" Mrs. Lois Hisey who has re-purchased the Wayne Dispatch, at Wayne. Mrs. Hisey always gave our neighboring city a good newspaper and will do so again.

You are getting out a wonderful newspaper for your size town," writes Editor Thos. O. Huckle of the Cadillac Evening News, a man nationally known for the worth of his own newspaper. We thank you, Tom. We always did think that you are a man of great discrimination.

Supt. George Smith of the Plymouth schools has a new idea of education. Crime, says he, costs five times as much as education every year. Therefore, he would keep every child in school, from the kindergarten on up, until he is either graduated from college or placed in industry. The added costs of such a plan would be more than met, he stated, if crime were cut only one-fifth. When we remember that a great deal of our crime is committed by youths from 16 to 26, there is much to be said for Supt. Smith's plan.

On the occasion of any funeral, the home of the departed person will be touched by the kindness and sympathy of friends. We do not fail as friends and neighbors at this time of great grief. But we wonder if we are as thoughtful and helpful in the days that follow the great loss. Do we get too busy with our own concerns and delay the kindness we planned to do?

HOW COME?
(Toa Conlin, Crystal Falls, Diamond Drill)
When at Ishpeming last week I met an employe of the post office department who told me a story that set me thinking of what is going on in the federal service these days. This man is a Republican. He is opposed to the measures of some of them that are being sponsored by the Roosevelt administration. In a discussion with a member of the opposition party some time ago he set forth his opinions. A short time after this talk occurred an inspector for the postoffice department visited him at his home announcing that he had come to investigate a complaint that "you have spoken disrespectfully of the President." Think of it, readers! Since when, in this nation, did it become an offense for anyone to criticize any official from the President down to poundmaster if one feels he has something to criticize. Is this part of the New Deal? Looks as if we're headed for a condition similar to that told of in the William Tell legend, where an Austrian official hung up his hat on a post and everyone who passed by had to bend his knee before it.

SO THIS IS THE LAW!
(Christian Science Monitor)
For weeks the law has been defied by John Dillinger, murderer who escaped from a so-called jail with a wooden gull and since then has been roaming the country. The police of at least four states—Minnesota, Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota—have been made to look silly by this one band.

EDISON CO. BUYS THE HURON RIVER PLANT

(From The Milford Times)
The Detroit Edison Company has purchased from Frank S. Hubbel the water power plant on the Huron River, west of Milford. The sale does not include the small DeGarmo and Pettibone plants, Mr. Hubbel retaining ownership of these as before.
The Edison Company has been taking the output of these plants for several years, paying for the current on a metered basis. The purchase of the plant will, therefore, make no difference in the operating routine.
The plant will now become part of the Edison Company's system falling into the same classification as the other power plants farther down on the Huron River, now owned and operated by the Edison Company.

A WASTE OF MONEY

(George K. Averill in The Birmingham Eclectic)
During the past 14 years two million dollars have been spent in auditing the books of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. at the request of Michigan's Public Utilities Commission. Now the state again demands some more expensive auditing. The Telephone Co. quite rightly asks: "Why do you want another audit when no substantial practical use has been made by the Utilities Commission of anything so developed?"
We believe that the Public Utilities Commission should have been doing during 14 years of effort, to come to some disposition of the matter other than merely providing some fat salaries for auditors, we get to where the audit has helped the people of Michigan in whose behalf the Utilities Commission is supposed to act. We do not presume to over the scientific and technical background of the present telephone situation in Michigan, but if it is so high or too low that fact should be established after 14 years of auditing. It is about time the Public Commission stopped playing politics and began determining

TOO STRIKE BADLY CONCEIVED

(By McGriff in Bedford Record)
The 1934 and die-makers strike in the automobile industry, promoted by an English immigrant who has been here only long enough to set the first citizenship papers, seems to have been poorly lined. The automobile plants already have their dies for this year's models. Work in the tool and die industry at this season always slackens; the directing brain that set off the strike agitation selected the worst possible time from the men's standpoint for action.
Clearly the public sympathy is not with a strike at this time. Folks want to see business revive, jobs continue and progress made toward re-establishing prosperity. Strikes slow down both business and wage payrolls; family men today want work and steady wages and not a lot of agitation. There has been provided the machinery needed for settling the wage and hour disputes. Why not use it?
A strike cannot be won without public sympathy and clearly the tool and die men do not have the public sympathy at this time.

NEW BLOOD NEEDED

(Fred D. Keister in Ionia County News)
Young republican voters all over Michigan are getting under way in an attempt to assist in building up more pressure in the boiler of the party engine. Young republican clubs are being organized daily at enthusiastic gatherings. Three have put in their appearance in Ionia county.
The republican party leaders quite rightly are welcoming this movement. New blood is needed to revitalize republicanism. The party's councils need to be liberalized somewhat.
We do not wish to be considered as advocating a "clean sweep" with the result that all new faces will be seen in the circle around the satchem's council table. Per, in spite of the war of New Dealism that has swept the country, we are not yet convinced that the past contains no merit.
Let the republican party of Michigan and elsewhere rebuild its structure using the cornerstone and keystone of experience that can well be supplied by the younger generation of voters.
Party leaders will secretly admit that they missed a bet by allowing a generation of young men and women to grow up without having a gesture in their direction.

THIS WEEK

By H. H. WHITE
It has been said it is the shell that gives character to one's self—and if this is so, in order to change one's self effectively should it be desired the most direct way is to adopt a different standard or basis or impose a different shell. Probably the easiest way to do this is to change one's concept of right and wrong.
There are the vacillating type of human beings and if their emotions are not stabilized they are the kind who forever live and act for the moment.
The strong characterized type are those who, because of their Heraclean strength of purpose, never swerve from their ultimate goal of pattern they have established.
Such a class or type of persons are not changed by some transitory emotion or passionate entreaty. In order to change they must establish a new concept and a new standard after much deliberative thought and speculation. There are of course changes that come from the awakening of new desires and experiences which affect the emotions.
Men do differ greatly of course in the strength of their feelings but this does not subsequently change the pattern of their character. Thus a man of strong feeling may have a character not unlike one whose emotions are not so easily stabilized and thus we would have a difference of face and similarity of pattern.
Anyone who arrives at a clearly defined concept of himself, who is certain of his likes, and dislikes and has definite conceptions concerning his environment and who feels positively what he must and must not do, has of course a well defined patterned character.
According to this if a man is an artist, a business or professional person, if he is an ardent church man, obviously many of his reactions are pre-determined. Thus a man's concept of himself is a revealed picture of his inner self and though it may not necessarily be accurate it does exercise a formative and definite power and by providing this emotional shell, his self is patterned into conformity with the outlines.
Such elements as these are called standards which subsequently determine a man's individuality.

GARDEN HINTS

(By Jessie F. Malmberg)
Hibiscus, Marshmallow, or Sea Holly has its place in every garden. It is a hardy perennial. Its flowers resemble a large single hollyhock bloom, three to four inches across the flower. The colors are soft and delicate and range from dark crimson to rose and delicate pink also white with red eye.
It grows to a height of five feet and is disease resisting; while it is not a refined perennial it has its place among group planting or among shrubbery.
As a Hibiscus is nearly the last plant to come up (about June first) it can be used to advantage if planted with hollyhocks; for they become shabby in July, and then it is a good plan to cut them to the ground and the Hibiscus will take their place, blooming through August and September.
Hibiscus prefers a moist soil, although they will do well in dry soil and partial shade; they grow very rapidly and do not require much care.

ALUMNI AND SCHOOL TRACK TEAMS MEET

School Wins But Alumni Enter Only Six Events

The high school track team met and defeated the Alumni team in the first meet of the year. It was held at the Fair Grounds last Saturday. The school had little trouble winning from the "old grads" because it had more entrants.

The Alumni men won first place in the half-mile, quarter-mile, high jump, and shot-put, tied for first in the pole vault, and took second in the 200. In the hundred yard dash the school competed against itself, Tewsbury coming first, McLoughlin second, and Carrington third. The order was somewhat reversed in the 220. Carrington captured first, Reed second, McLoughlin third, and Tewsbury fourth. Head of the Alumni group won the quarter mile and was followed by McGee and Bender who took second and third places respectively. Reed again took a first; this time it was in the half-mile. He was followed by Bray and then Gregory.

"There was only the school in the mile run. It was won by Gies, with Cook a close second. Wood of the Alumni took the honors of the high jump from Baldwin. He also tied with Hoffman for first in the pole vault. Hinchman managed to throw the shot-put farther than Schrader. The high hurdles, low hurdles, and broad jump were omitted.

The next meet will probably be this afternoon (Friday) at Melvindale.

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

Last week a very erroneous and misleading statement was made in this sheet of sheets. It said that Sally Richardson and Francis Woodley were "that way" about each other. This was embarrassing for both because a long acquaintance of Sally's asked a lot of questions and Francis' girl fr—that is someone whom Francis knows didn't like the idea either. In all humbleness the staff salams and asks forgiveness.

We read that the Arabs were the people who started the use of "we" as the editorial pronoun. They claim they chose it because it is impersonal, but perhaps their secret reason for doing the dastardly deed was to protect editors. If readers think that more than one has a hand in writing the articles, they won't attack.

When young, everyone thinks that playing follow-the-leader is great fun. It is then, but the after-effects are entirely harmful to some who had previously participated in the game. Those few never get over following the leader. They haven't the power to exercise their own mind—what little there is of it. Their personality is completely absorbed and they no longer are themselves. The poor things are to be pitied, for, although they don't know it, they aren't really living.

This malady is particularly noticeable in a group. The ones who shout the loudest, who sound right because their opposition can't be heard above the din, who almost intimidate the meek, hold the reins. Such a group is so uninteresting and hopeless. No individuality is shown, no friction is made by the clashing of different ideas. For the latter a very good explanation is found. There is no friction because there is no difference of opinion. The gullible are certain that they are right, but they have not decided for themselves. Where, then, did they get their decision? The answer is simple (how fitting!) they have been swayed by all the chatter and to top it off, don't know it.

Well, maybe they'll get to Chicago.

What is there about the wide-open spaces that so thrills the city-bred?

Sayre Morgan wasn't exactly city-bred; she'd lived in big cities and country villages, but somehow this trip west seemed to really mean a lot after all the years of her hard-scrabble life.

Sayre's father was a dreamer. So long as the seventeen-year-old girl could remember, they had moved from one place to another. Her father's eye was always in the distant, greener fields which never turned out quite so green as he had expected.

Three years before, in a little southern Indiana town, the girl's mother had died of pneumonia and Sayre was left as housekeeper for her father, twin brother (Charlie) and a younger sister ("Bitty") named for her Aunt Mchitabie.

While clerking in a Chicago hardware store Dad had heard from another employee about open homestead land in Arizona. Mr. Parsons, the other employee, had filed a claim for eighty acres, but because of the solitude, hadn't stayed long. He turned the claim over to Dad.

But, even the fields weren't green. In fact, they were white—with a fall. There was yet another blow-farming in the territory had proved so disastrous that the government was refusing land to homesteaders until the causes of their troubles could be analyzed. The Morgans were, however, welcome to stay on the land as long as they found it convenient.

But it was not for aught the girl had inherited from Aunt Mchitabie a stubborn determination and a bulldog tenacity. She was bound to make a "go" of the flighty Morgans' latest project. When a girl of Sayre's type makes up her mind to do something, neither untidy twin brothers nor bills (which were just as unmanageable) stop her.

Some dreams do come true and the Morgans' young housekeeper, were some that did—but suppose you read it and did not know.

MOTION PICTURES OF HERSHEY, PENN. SHOWN AT SCHOOL

Monday afternoon the students of the high school had the opportunity of seeing through motion pictures, the functions of the Hershey factory and the beautiful town of Hershey, Pennsylvania.

Come was not shown growing in the tropics where women and children were picking the bears. These bears are shipped from South America to New York and then taken by fast freight to Hershey. Here in the large, immaculate factory they are subjected to treatments of many and various kinds.

The milk which is used in the operation of making chocolate bars, etc. is thoroughly tested to prevent the dangers of any disease liquid getting mixed with the other.

Among the products that are turned out in this factory by the car load are almond bars, milk chocolate, cocoa, kisses, and chocolate for baking purposes.

Previous to his showing the picture Mr. Snyder summarized the career and work of Mr. Hershey, whose name, because of his products, is known far and wide. Mr. Hershey, the students learned, has accumulated one hundred and twenty millions of dollars during his life time. But instead of spending it selfishly he has been a good Samaritan in many ways. He has built parks, golf clubs, ball rooms, schools, and greatest of all, has established an orphanage for boys. There, boys from four to eight may enter and stay until they are eighteen. If they desire and have promise, they are sent to college, all expenses paid to learn a profession. If not, local employment is found for them.

Besides the high school students, the grade school attended this program.

DR. WICKHAM TELLS HISTORY STUDENTS OF PANAMA TRIP

Last Wednesday Dr. A. H. Wickham of the East Loan Sanatorium came out from his home in Detroit to talk to both sections of the U. S. History classes on his recent trip to Panama, the tip of South America, and the Panama Canal.

He left during the cold spell in February and nearly missed the boat because the trains were blocked by snow. When the ship had been out by fast freight to New York only two days everyone was playing games and walking without coats on deck. Dr. Wickham told of the ship by was traveling on the "Americana", one of the fastest ships of its time. This was to be its last voyage.

He told of a Dutch settlement in Curacao where approximately 2500 people lived in the crater of an extinct volcano. Their occupation is ship building. They draw their materials up into the crater and slide the products down slides into the ships in the sea.

He also mentioned Pich Lake, which is one mile wide and is the hottest volcano and place in the world. If a person stands too long in one place near it, he begins to sink. It is one of the few places where asphalt is found, a very desirable material. It is really bottomless in some.

Relating to the canal work before the canal across the Isthmus was built; malaria and yellow fever were so very dangerous. Dr. Wickham came up to the present by saying that the Panama Canal was one of the healthiest places in the world. He said, too, that Venezuela had the largest and most efficient leper hospitals.

Due to the lack of time Dr. Wickham couldn't cover all the class wished him to, but he did offer to come back again. They are looking forward to that visit with keen interest and through this paper wish to thank him for giving them such an enlightening and absorbing talk.

FARMINGTON BEATS N.H.S. IN BASEBALL

Final Score 1-3; Hochkins And Westphall Are Batteries

Farmington Beats Northville, April 27, Northville met Farmington there, in the second baseball game of the year. Although our boys fought through the seven innings, they lost one to three. Zimmerman was the umpire.

The positions were filled as follows:

Northville	Farmington
Hochkins	Wolf
R. Westphall	Hamilton
G. Westphall	Lanchester
Farmer	Catherman
Deaf	Wurehin
Himes	Taggart
Myers	Pare
D. Bulmon	Davis (Sub)
L. Bulmon (Sub)	Himmelspach
Marburger	Lynch
	Kelly (Sub)

Hochkins did very good work concerning his experience. He was cool, deliberate, and accurate, allowing only seven bases on balls. This may seem a rather large number, but counterbalanced with his record of striking out eight men, it is nothing. The opposing pitcher, a veteran, allowed three bases on balls and struck out eight men.

Deaf and Himmelspach each "bumped" a two base hit, while Marburger got a "three-bagger." G. Westphall, Catherman, and Taggart all made one base. Both of the Westphalls and Hochkins made double plays. Several times their catcher tripped and our boys were able to advance.

Here is the box score of the game:

Farmington Beats
	AB R H PO A E
Hochkins	4 0 0 1 1 0
Deaf	4 0 1 0 0 1

The scoring was done as follows:

Northville	1 2 3 4 5 6 7

The boys had everything but support last Friday. Besides the team there were exactly two from Northville. That it is disgraceful and unfair goes without saying.

CONTEST TO DECIDE MOST POPULAR OF STUDENTS IS HELD

Messrs. Thompson and Lee, and Miss Palmer Count Votes

Last Wednesday the students selected the most popular girl and the most popular boy in the Northville high school. Following the assembly meeting everyone went to the various classrooms where sponsors were waiting to hand out slips which read: "You choose _____ for the most popular boy and _____ for the most popular girl in N.H.S." No standards were set up and no rules were made governing their candidates; each wrote his choice for personal reasons only.

The ballots were then collected by the sponsors and turned over to Mr. Thompson, Mr. Lee, and Miss Palmer, who immediately counted them. The results were recorded and will be kept under cover until the "Palla-Coron" is published.

This is the second time any such action has been taken, being inaugurated last year when the outcome was printed in the "Palladium." The winners then were Gertrude Deaf, who is now a post-graduate, and Robert Christenser, who is attending Michigan Normal College.

The idea which prompted this contest in 1933 was that it should stimulate sales—the ultimate goal of all the enterprises—and with the same objective in mind the Student Council voted in favor of the "Palla-Coron."

DID YOU NOTICE

The new date of the Prom? The seniors have changed it to the twenty-fifth of May. Several thought next fall would be a good time to have it; others favored the thirtieth of July.

What excitement the popularity contest has aroused! Yes, the winners have been selected, but the five "Who know—don't know."

That it won't be long before the new mayor is elected? One of the juniors has noticed, so the rest of you had better hurry.

How anxious the teachers were to see the picture that was taken of them for the "Palla-Coron"? The picture was good and looked just like them. Wait a minute there; Uncle Ezra. Take that way it was meant.

Mary Harper's new blue dress and Beverly Stammers' new orange one? Very trim, girls, very trim.

That when Ralph Matthews' shoes scuffings, he "kills 'em dead"? Well, it's very final, to say the least.

That Bob Angore is collecting jokes about everyone for the paper? Be nice to him or else.

How glad some were to have last Monday's seventh hour taken up by the movies? And did you hear all the groans and sighs that filled the air whenever tempting pieces of Hershey candies were flashed on the screen? That afternoon Catherine Gibson, who has charge of selling candy for the seniors, says she had no less than fifty requests for Hershey bars.

Mrs. Cooke's new Plymouth car? She doesn't know how fast it will go.

That Marguerite Norton is afraid to say anything before the Orange and Black reporters? Don't worry, Marg. We won't tell that you use Har-shoot!

The hours that the casts of the opera "Laila-wala" are spending in rehearsal?

The rag around Earle's Grace's neck? Spring caught her unaware.

THE OBSERVATION COLUMN

This, frankly and to help you to read, is a teacher. She is about three feet five inches tall—no, five feet three inches. Her eyes have a greenish tinge and her hair is decidedly brown and wavy. There is usually a look of the latter dangling in the proximity of the former. Glasses with silver colored rims sit astride her nose.

At times she is rather brusque in her remarks, but really doesn't mean them.

She contends that during the three months vacation students have from school, they mature a great deal. She likes to have varied discussions in her classes and prefers seniors for them.

There are two things of which she is very fond—her husband and her hobby.

Cue for Calisthenics

A serious and hard working scientist has found that when a bee stings you, he uses twenty-four muscles. We forget how many muscles a person has, but when he gets stung he uses virtually all of them.

Wrong Relativity

A local oil man cut across country going to Jai awhile back. He got off his road over in Andrews County, and finally got to a desolate ranch house and asked an old fellow who lived alone how to get to Jai.

The rancher reflected, "Well, I believe I would go back about a mile and take the first turn hand road. No, I believe I would take the left hand road. Come to think of it, stranger, if I was trying to get to Jai, I wouldn't start from here at all."

And Was His Face Red?

In the congregation of an Oak Park church during Sunday morning service was a young bride, whose husband was an usher. Becoming terribly worried about having left the vows in the oven, she wrote a note to her husband, asking it to be brought under.

The bride's thinking it wasn't hot for the pastor, hurried down the aisle and laid it on the pulpit. She may remember the results of her errand to read the note, though the church pastor was not with her on that occasion.

These are some of the items of the week.

WAYNE COUNTY RURAL MUSIC PROGRAM REHEARSALS HELD

Rehearsals of the children connected with the county wide musical program for rural schools in Wayne county were held at Plymouth High School, Dearborn High School and Flat Rock during the week before Easter. The program is the first of its kind ever to be held in Wayne county.

A three-fold program is being used in the interest of cultivating music appreciation among the children of rural Wayne County schools. Miss Mary Ann Collins, music instructor, Michigan State College, East Lansing is in charge of the work. Miss Collins spends three days of each month in Wayne county schools giving instructions to the teachers in charge of the work and observing what results have been accomplished.

Three thousand children in grades ranging from the fourth to the tenth are studying eight songs. The list is made up of folk songs including German, Irish, Scotch, American, and Negro Spirituals, giving the children a wide range of musical experience.

Twenty-five hundred children from all grades of the rural schools have been studying folk dancing in the form of the Highball, Flim, Intensive drilling and a considerable amount of work on the part of the teachers in Wayne county, together with the excellent cooperation from the Wayne County School Commissioner's staff, have brought unusually good results that will readily be discerned when the music festival program is given. During the period of time the project has been in operation, Miss Collins has shown an untiring spirit. The Wayne county program is the largest rural music project of the Michigan State College.

The climax of the project will be a Wayne County Rural Schools Music Festival to be held on Saturday, May 10, in the Coliseum at the State Fair grounds, Detroit. This festival will be the event in which 2,000 children will sing the various songs they have learned during the year. On the same day 1,000 children, dressed in Scotch shawl uniforms will dance the Highland Fling. The music festival is being planned by Susan Hopkins. There will be numerous addresses and songs of the county high school bands will furnish music.

This festival, which is now well on its way, is one of the most interesting and important programs ever produced by the schools of Wayne county and will be attended by several thousand interested parents, teachers and children of the county schools.

NOVI NEWS

THE OTHER DAY

By Miss '19'

The Misses Mary Munro and Louise Paedle gave a miscellaneous soiree Saturday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Strong (the former Marguerite Huffman) at the home of Miss Munro. About 40 were present and the young couple received many pretty and useful gifts. Dinner was served during the evening. The music and games received first prizes and Brownie Selow and Billy Hanson were score artists.

Esther Parmenter is employed for a time in the Smith and Lovell Real Estate office. Tom Cunningham is janitor at the local post office while his brother, Chuck, is in college at Ypsilanti. We noticed Ed Christensen riding his horse down Peggy Blake's way Sunday. It was a grand day for riding, too. Congratulations and cigars are in order to Sam Stalder on his marriage to Helen Bridge of Plymouth. The same goes for Melvin Crosser and Gertrude Neely. Looks like the A and P Store could qualify for a matrimonial bureau. Florence Johnson is working part of the time in The Royal Annex cafe.

Bernice Clark and Charles Carlington were at their respective homes over the week-end to have a nice vacation from their studies. Miss M. Dundas of Detroit was a guest over the week-end of Harold McCormac at his home on West Cady street. Alben Homan and Berny Chicago were in Detroit Saturday night. It looks like Kenneth Martin was affected with the well-known golf bug Tuesday afternoon. Anyway, we noticed he was headed toward the golf club he golfed in his car and returned with Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Crosser, Mr. and Mrs. Duffon, Fred, with "Commie" in Detroit Sunday. A bunch of girls were at the party. They were very pretentious. Gertrude Dew was in the hospital Saturday to undergo an operation for a fall after she slipped on the trunkman way in the station. State Treasurer Collier is in Minn. What are the chances of a visit of William McCormac to the west-end.

NORTHVILLE PEOPLE VISIT MASONIC HOME

One of the real problems of the institution is to keep these people necessarily handicapped by age happily occupied. The women care for their own rooms if able and help with the sewing. Men are more content to just rest.

"It Happened One Night" and "The Crosby Case" Will Be Seen At the Penniman Allen Theatre

Motion picture fans who have been waiting with keen delight for the initial local showings of Columbia's "It Happened One Night," the widely-vaunted romantic screen comedy co-starring Clark Gable and Claudette Colbert, together on the screen for the first time in their distinguished careers, will be appeased with the news that the film shows Friday and Saturday, May 4 and 5 at the Penniman Allen Theatre for a two-day run. A Saturday matinee starting at 2:30 will be held.

Gable, today, is undoubtedly the most popular masculine stellar figure on the screen. He scored a historic rise to film prominence with outstanding portrayals in "The Easterner," "Strange Interlude," "Hell Divers," "The Secret Six" and others, but his performance in "It Happened One Night" is said to top them all for artistry and effectiveness—a fact for which he is deeply indebted to Director Frank Capra and Robert Riskin, who adapted the screen version from Samuel Hopkins Adams' novelette, "Night Bus," which appeared recently in Cosmopolitan Magazine.

Colbert on Ascendancy. Miss Colbert enjoys as great a following as Gable's, for her work in recent pictures has become a thing of immense size and she's straight up and down like a skyrocket. Fans will remember her sterling performance in "The Phantom of the Opera," "Sign of the Cross," "Tenth Singer," "Tonight Is Ours" and "The Smiling Lieutenant."

Ford Exposition Building To Be The Largest Individual Exhibit At 1934 Chicago World's Fair Grounds

What is described as the greatest estimate that 4,000 kilowatts will be required for lighting, and 2,000 kilowatts for the power load. More than 225 electric motors will be required to handle the power for the building and the 21 exhibitors displayed with Ford who will present displays in the mammoth Ford Building.

One of the most sensational lighting effects ever achieved will be a torch of light, 200 feet broad at its base, which will spring from the parapet of the open court on the building, rising under proper atmospheric conditions to a height of one mile. The powerful beam will be developed through the use of 24 thirty-six inch projector searchlights, resulting in a 3,000,000-candlepower display.

Lighting plays an important part in the scheme of the new Ford building, which is being designed to demonstrate the scope of the Ford World Empire. The building itself will be 500 feet long by 213 feet wide, terminating at the south end in a circular court, 204 feet in diameter. A mammoth lighting scheme is being constructed in the lower edge of the court, designed to develop tints and shades never previously produced with electric lights.

Very hearty appreciation was expressed by the auditors and the reaction in the hearts of the visitors was none the less satisfactory. Then, as the sun sank lower in the west, those in wheel chairs, those on crutches or leaning on canes, those whose cheerful vitality belied their years, joined with the visitors in "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," their slowly made their way down the long corridors, each to his individual small home.

Blessed Be Work

Housecleaning time again. Work looms up like a mountain with spring sewing and gardening piled on top of it all.

"Oh, how can we get it all done?" we say frantically as we jerk down the dusty curtains and souse them in suds.

For many women these days will end with a back ache and a few groans as they tumble wearily into bed to sleep soundly, ready for another strenuous day. But houses must be cleaned and blessed be the change to do it!

Here's another picture. We visited a home for old folks the other day, folks who had outlived the years of great activity to whom the health and strength to work as they used to would be like heaven.

Many of them walked with canes or crutches, slowly, painfully. Many could not see well, if at all; none seemed to hear well.

Time hung heavily. There was nothing that really had to be done so some just sat—and sat—and after long, dragging hours it was another day again and they sat some more while they brooded over the past.

For them the day was punctuated only by the three meals as a variety.

To pass the time some played cards. The more energetic found something to do with their hands. One blind man travelled with tedious patience the threads of "guinea socks" and wove rugs in patterns. Occupation was his salvation.

"Come into my room and see what I do to pass the time" invited one cheerful old lady and she spread broad rugs proudly on the floor.

Another tinted pictures and cared for a row of plants in the window. It seemed to putter around and imagine that one room was the real home that used to occupy her time.

We were touched to see the pictures of "little children" in many rooms. What would these women do to turn back the years to the time when these little children played about and when there was much cleaning, cooking, mending, and endless dishwashing to be done?

Were they their? Did it often seem too much? Yes, but that was life. This is waiting.

We came away thinking "Oh, blessed be work to be done and the strength to do it! Bring on that big day!"

Graham Cracker Pudding Mrs. A. E. Fuller makes the following pudding which is said to be very delicious and easy to make.

1 lb. dates, 1 lb. marshmallows, Cut fine with scissors, dipped in water. 1/2 English walnut meats, Cut fine. Roll 1 lb. Graham crackers fine and add to above mixture. Leave 1 cup of cracker crumbs to roll. Moisten the mixture with cream (about 1 cup) and put in cold place. Serve in slices with whipped cream and maraschino cherries on top. Let stand several hours before serving.

Chili Con Carni A Northville mother was enjoying Play Day at the school gym the other afternoon with a clear conscience. "Dinner's all ready for us when we get home," she said.

"There's a big dish of hot Chili Con Carni waiting which is a whole meal for my family. This is how she's too modest to reveal her name, makes it 2 lbs. hamburger, 2 cans kidney beans, 1 can tomatoes, 3 onions. Brown meat and onions, season well with salt, little red pepper and chili to taste. Add beans and tomatoes. Let simmer slowly a long time. Especially palatable on a cold night.

Spanish Rice Another mother said: "My family likes this dish for a 'one-dish meal'." Cook a cup of rice in boiling water. Brown 1 lb. of hamburger with onion. Add to rice and tomatoes or tomato soup to taste and season well. A little chopped celery makes a pleasant addition. Add enough liquid (water or tomato juice) to mix well. Either simmer slowly or top of stove or sprinkle with cracker crumbs and bake.

Brilliant Artists, Great Ensemble Organizations, Will Feature The Ann Arbor Festival, May 9 to 12

Sparkling programs performed by brilliant artists, supported by great ensemble organizations, conducted by distinguished musical leaders, all under the general musical direction of Earl V. Moore, will combine in presenting for the Forty-First Annual May Festival, a variety of offerings most worthy of inaugurating the first Festival in the fifth decade of the history of the occasion.

The May Festival will take place in Ann Arbor, May 9, 10, 11 and 12 with four evening programs and two afternoon concerts. Each program has been carefully built with a view to providing an evening of entertainment of rich musical value and of educational significance. Programs have been thought out not only from the standpoint of the professional musician, but very largely from the point of view of laymen and those who claim no particular understanding of musical form. The Chicago Orchestra will be present during the entire week. The University Choral Union will participate in two concerts, while the Young People's Festival Chorus and the Stanley Chorus, of women voices, will be heard in one performance each, with the exception of Saturday evening's concert, miscellaneous numbers will be interspersed in each concert.

Rosa Ponselle, the distinguished American operatic star of Italian ancestry, will be the stellar attraction of the inaugural concert Wednesday evening. She will be heard under the baton of Frederick Stock, on two occasions that evening, and will appear for the third time in a group of five songs with piano accompaniment, by Mr. Stuart Ross.

The second concert Thursday evening will be divided into two parts. In part one the most beautiful passages for chorus and soloists, in Hayden's "Seasons," an oratorio for soprano, tenor and bass soloists, with chorus, orchestra and organ, will be sung. Soloists for the occasion include Jeannette Vreeland, soprano, Paul Althouse, tenor, and Chase Baromeo, bass, with Palmer Christian at the organ. In the second half of the program, the orchestra with Mr. Stock, will perform Saint-Saens' "Concerto in G minor for piano and orchestra. Op. 22," with Mischa Levitzki, celebrated American pianist of Russian ancestry, as performer.

The third concert will take place Friday afternoon and in accordance with tradition will depart somewhat from the heavier program and following. In this concert The Young People's Festival Chorus, made up of four hundred school boys and girls, will have two spots on the program, first appearing in a group of German songs and later in a beautiful cantata entitled "The Ugly Duckling" by Granville-English. They will sing under the baton of Jeva Higbee, their trainer. The Stanley Chorus of women voices, will make their initial Festival debut by presenting Loeffler's brilliant work entitled "By the Rivers of Babylon." Interspersed between these several numbers will be selections by the orchestra under Eric DeLamarter, and also selections by Gaila Binstabo, young beautiful and brilliant American violinist, who will appear twice

"John, I bought some shoes, pillow cases and blankets to-day. Shall I put them down in my budget as cover charge or overdraft?" Answers

Saturday afternoon will present to Ann Arbor audiences, important numbers never before heard in Hill Auditorium. The Beethoven monumental, "Ninth Symphony" with choral finale, entitled Schiller's "Hymn to Joy" will be sung in the first half. The vocal roles will be presented by Jeannette Vreeland, soprano, Cos. Glaze, opera star of the Chicago Civic Opera, contralto; Arthur Hackett, tenor and Theodore Webb, distinguished American baritone.

In the second half of the program, Strauss' tremendous tone poem, "Ein Heldenleben" will receive its initial Ann Arbor presentation. This work portrays the Hero's life, telling of his' adventures, companions, his activities on the battlefield, mission of peace, and his escape from the world.

The Festival will be brought to a fitting climax in the final concert, Saturday evening, when Earl V. Moore, the Choral Union, and the Chicago Symphony orchestra, will present for the first time in America, a tremendous choral work, by Robert Heyer, the Viennese composer, entitled "A Song of Peace." This work was specially arranged in English by Dr. Moore and consists of five songs divided into parts for solo, chorus, orchestra and organ. Palmer Christian will preside at the organ, and Miss Vreeland, Miss Glatz, Mr. Althouse, Mr. Baromeo, will sing the respective songs.

The Festival programs have attracted unusual attention throughout the country. "Metropolitan papers, music journals, and other periodicals have given much space to the event, and distinguished musical critics, music lovers and others from far and wide will be in attendance. Orders for tickets have been received from New York City, Albany, Buffalo, Cincinnati, Chicago and other points. A limited number of season tickets are still available at $6, $7 and $8 each (if Festival coupon is returned the prices are reduced to $3, $4 and $5) and for single concerts at $1, $1.50 and $2 each.

When your furnace fire goes out for the summer

HOW WILL YOU GET Hot Water?

Hot water is indispensable for a dozen daily tasks — and with summer almost here, the furnace no longer supplies this needed convenience. Are you obliged to heat water on the stove or run up and down stairs to light a manually-operated tank? End this annoyance and waste of time—install automatic electric hot water service in your home!

A new low rate is being offered for water heating. This is a flat annual rate for year 'round service. You can enjoy automatic electric hot water service for as little as $2.34 a month. You may buy or rent an electric water heater, whichever you choose. Rental rates are low, and if you prefer to buy the heater, convenient monthly terms may be arranged!

With an automatic electric heater, you are assured an abundant and constant supply of water, steaming hot, at a turn of the faucet. Day and night, summer and winter, you have hot water instantly when you need it—for bath and for shower, for shaving, for washing dishes, for the laundry, for housecleaning. There is no waiting, no inconvenience. And you do not need to depend on a furnace coil for hot water, which—contrary to general belief—is an expensive method of heating water, due to the coal burned in the process.

In an especially practical talk to the congregation Sunday, Rev. H. G. Whitfield, pastor of the Presbyterian church, pointed out the close relation of religious faith to health. "God is the omnipotence of an all-wise God and a following of the teachings of Christ, said he, makes for a peace and steadiness through the ordinary troubles in life."
Cass Benton Park is again "open for business." Already crowds of picnickers from the city and vicinity are enjoying this spot which is becoming increasingly popular with tenting trees and cleanliness. Even Sunday, April 22, in a drizzle, the cold rain there were a number of picnickers enjoying a chance to get into the great out-of-doors, says Mrs. Cass Benton, who lives in the home adjoining the park.
The new shower baths are being installed in the check room adjacent to the bowling alley of the Recreation restaurant on West Main street. Lockers to accommodate tennis and visiting players of the Northville baseball team are to be installed before the season opens. A. J. Mitchell has charge of the installation of the showers. The showers will be opened for public use at a small fee, says this law projector.

MAIL CARRIER RETIRES AFTER THIRTY YEARS
Honoring Albert Gates of Plymouth who has served the public as rural mail carrier for 30 years, a company of fellow associates in Uncle Sam's service gathered at the Macabee hall, Plymouth, on Wednesday evening. Mr. Gates is retiring from the work he has continued faithfully almost without interruption through all these years when he has been a welcome figure all along his route.
Since the beginning of the rural mail service in Michigan in 1896 of 1898, Mr. Gates is the fourth retiree in Plymouth.
In recognition of his years of activity the post office department of Plymouth presented him with a gold watch to which the carriers and the Women's auxiliary of carriers added a watch chain and other gifts.
After a bountiful dinner served by the Macabees a program and dancing concluded the evening.
Mr. and Mrs. Roy G. Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Geraghty attended from Northville.
Mr. Gates will be succeeded by A. L. Zimmerman of Inkster.

RUSSELL FRID IS HIT BY MILK TRUCK
Russell, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney J. Frid, narrowly escaped serious injury Saturday morning when he ran in front of a milk truck driven by Lloyd Morse on North Center street.
Fortunately Mr. Morse stopped his car in time to prevent serious injury and Russell escaped with only a bruised foot and minor cuts.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS
By ANN PAGE
IT SEEMS probable that heavy rains in the South and central the ship some of the best of the season's green beans and potatoes. The supply of other fruits and green vegetables should not be seriously affected.
Navel oranges are attractively priced as are also large lime oranges. Sprouts are gradually spreading over the country bringing rich soil as the first native product of the gardens.
It is almost as desirable to have a cabbage in the house as to have onions, carrots and parsley. It is such a good vegetable, tends itself to variety in cooking and in salads and it keeps very well. Asparagus and even peas and beans come and go but cabbage goes round the calendar with us. Here are three Sunday dinners.
Low Cost Dinner
Pot Roast of Beef
