NORTHVILLE REMEMBERS WAR HEROES

Legion Plans Program For Memorial Day
Here

Northville's American Legion post and auxiliary will have charge of Memorial Day services in and around this community on Wednesday, May 30, the day when the entire nation unites in commemorating soldiers fallen in this country's wars.

Sunday, May 27, has been designated as Memorial Sunday and services will be held in the Methodist church at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. The sermon will be given by the pastor, Rev. H. H. Williamson.

Legionnaires will meet at the Legion building on Main street at seven o'clock to march to the church together with the auxiliaries and the Women's Relief Corps.

Tuesday, after the W. R. C. has completed making bouquets with which to decorate graves, members of the Legion, aided by Boy Scouts, will begin distribution of the flowers and flags to over 100 graves located at Walked Lake, Nisi River side park, Livonia Center, Grand Lawn cemetery, Yerkes cemetery, Knapp cemetery, Waterford, Union Cemetery, and Rural Hill cemeteries.

Wednesday, May 30, Memorial Day services will start at the Peacock Alley theatre at ten o'clock in the morning while Past Commander of the Department, Jack Gilmore, will be the main speaker.

The balance of the program will include the playing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by the Northville High school and community band, invocation, the reading of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, music by the Northville male quartet, the reading of the poem, "Flanders Field," by Miss Gasterlin, and the benediction.

From the theatre a parade which will include Legionnaires, Auxiliary members, Northville high school and community band, Women's Relief Corps, Boy Scouts, and old soldiers, the most famous locally of which are Marvin Bogart, Civil War veteran, and Frank Pontreys, Veteran Indian fighter, will form to march to the cemetery and back to the Legion house on Main street where a pot luck luncheon will be held.

It is requested by the national commander of the American Legion that all flags fly at half mast during the forenoon and be raised to top mast at noon. It is especially desired that the residence and business places of the village be appropriately decorated for the day.

The committee in charge of the arrangements for Memorial Day for the Legion is composed of R. L. Gasterlin, chairman; Ralph Altenburg, and H. Blodgett.

20 SUGGESTIONS ARE OFFERED EXCHANGITES AT WEEKLY MEETING

Twenty suggestions were presented to the Exchange club at its meeting Wednesday noon and others will be given at the meeting to be held June 6, and at that time they will be classified as to importance and a decision reached as to which ones will be sponsored.

The state Exchange program was discussed and members lined up for attendance. A good many have decided to go Monday, June 11, to enjoy the varied sports and others will go for the business sessions on June 12. Charles A. Kephart was chosen as the regular delegate.

George Keeling of the Grand River Lumber company was introduced as a new member and Lynn Sullivan of the Wayne County Training school was voted into membership.

Visitors for the day were Alton Peters and M. C. Gungel.

There will be no meeting next week as it is Memorial Day.

HIGH SCHOOL CHORUS GIVES "LELAWALA"

One of the very finest musical events ever presented at the local high school was the operetta, "Lelawala," an Indian song-drama, given in the auditorium on Thursday and Friday evenings, May 17 and 18.

A cast of 50 characters in striking costumes carried through the operetta with finish after several weeks of thorough rehearsals under Leslie G. Lee's direction.

The leading characters were Mary Jane Denne, Catherine Duguid, Esse Nider and Merle Frasier. Frances Alexander was accompanist. Full houses greeted both performances.

WOMAN'S UNION PLANS EXHIBIT ON OLD QUILTS

Display Will Be Held In Connection With Bake Sale

A bigger and better quilt exhibit is being planned by the Woman's Union of the Presbyterian church. Quilts of all kinds, old and new, frayed with years of use, and fresh from the needle, quilts from far and near, all will be on display.

At the previous exhibit of quilts by the King's Daughters, the rooms were crowded with 92 specimens of Memorial Day services in and around this community on Wednesday, May 30, the day when the entire nation unites in commemorating soldiers fallen in this country's wars.

VISITORS FROM GERMANY

Dr. and Mrs. H. Handorf returned to Northville Monday evening accompanied by the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willy Hess from Hamburg, Germany, whom they met in Baltimore, Md. While in the East Handorf took their parents on a motor trip to Washington visiting the capitol and other places of interest. Mr. and Mrs. Hess will remain throughout the summer. They are favorably impressed with the United States in general and with Northville in particular.

George Keeling of the Grand River Lumber company was introduced as a new member and Lynn Sullivan of the Wayne County Training school was voted into membership.

Visitors for the day were Alton Peters and M. C. Gungel.

ROGERS CONTINUE SCHOOL INTERESTS

School days are not over for Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Rogers by any means, with so many grandchildren doing active things these days.

Recently they watched Hester, daughter of their son, Charles, and Arthur's son, Donald, receive diplomas from Redford high school.

Charles' son, Roger, is graduating with honors from the University of Michigan having been elected to Epsilon Kappa Phi, a senior honorary fraternity, and has been offered the Cartwright Foundation Fellowship in Political Science next year.

Another grandson, Donald, son of Don Sr., is a student in Dartmouth, has been on the honor roll for the past three years and has been elected to the "Masque Gaumont," an honorary fraternity.

THE SENIOR CLASS WILL HOLD A BAKE SALE—Saturday, May 26, at the Babbott Hardware. We need your support for our trip. Thank you—Committee.

KIDNAPING DOESN'T PAY

California has sent to prison for life, the three men who kidnapped a man from his home. On their way to prison the criminals said: "Kidnapping doesn't pay."

Kidnapping is one of the most terrible of crimes and this vile sort of a criminal is going to find the going harder in the days to come. An aroused public sentiment that has heard of a little child being kept like a starved animal in a desert hole for days by murderous kidnappers is going to demand that kidnapping be made the most hazardous for these miserable wretches who try to extort money from their fellowmen by a cruelty that exceeds that of savages. If the kidnapper is shown no mercy for a year or two this breed of criminals will be whipped.

SELLING LIQUOR TO CHILDREN

Sentencing a bootlegger to hard labor in prison, Judge H. W. Rummel of the upper peninsula said that selling whiskey to 15 and 16-year-old boys is "one of the worst crimes a man can commit."

"We wonder what the judge would say if he could see some of the beer drinking that is done in Wayne county by young people. If some of the parents could hear what we hear of the night activities of some of these young people, they would not be able to sleep nights. Some of the stories of degradation are shocking beyond words and the tragedy is that the seeds that are being sown now will bring in a harvest of sorrow."

And speaking about parents, we have never been able to comprehend why some of them are so indifferent to the way in which their boys and girls spend the evenings (and nights).

Congratulations, FARMINGTON!

Northville extends best wishes to our suburban village, Farmington, on the opening of its new bank. That is good for that fine town, good for Northville, and good for everyone hereabouts, since no community lives to itself and since we must all go forward together.

No community can get along well without a bank, so we can look for Farmington to become an even better town than it has been. Like Northville, that village found out what it meant to get along without a bank and now that one is ready to serve the people, brighter and better days are ahead for all.

So, we all congratulate Farmington; its men and women, and boys and girls, on the bright prospects for its future. We also congratulate Editor Lynnay Levinson for the very constructive part that our neighborhood newspaper, The Farmington Enterprise, had in bringing the new bank to a fruition.

AFTER GRADUATION, WHAT?

In the old-time commencement oration the young men and women were exhorted to go to college because that would increase their chances for success in life anywhere from five hundred to a thousand per cent. A college degree was supposed to mean money success.

That day has gone. Along with the rest of the world, the university and college graduates have been walking the streets for work. Education failed at the point where it was supposed to be the strongest. The world has more workers trained and untrained than it can use.

Northville high school will graduate 48 young people on June 7. A few will go to college, maybe one-sixth of the number. The rest will try to find a place in the world's work. Where are they going to find their niche? Who can tell? And where are the others of the graduating thousands going to get their jobs?

Here is a problem for us all—parents, teachers and young folks themselves.

BEAUTIFUL NORTHLVILLE

Northville is certainly a beautiful place. This is what Detroit people and other visitors tell us every day or so. We wonder if we appreciate our own beauty.

For example, the other evening we went up to friend's house and were amazed to find what a beauty spot it was. Off to the south and west stretched a beautiful horizon—hills and valleys. In the yard were blooming trees—cherries and apples and the sight was something to make one forget his troubles. It was worth more than money.

Do we realize what a marvelous stretch of beauty the River Rouge Parkway system is becoming? Have we driven from the fair grounds past Cass, Benton park, down on the hills and looked over the surpassing vistas of charm that are ours without money and price? Have we found in and out on the pavements, past the river and over to Riverside park, Plymouth, and on by the new Newburg? If we haven't done this, we don't know what an attractive place we have.

Another thing, thanks to the Wayne county road commission, the Pere Marquette springs are being made really inviting. Hundreds are coming daily to this unique spot and not only enjoying the health giving waters but the beauty of the place. We surely thank the commission.

"DIRECT" CREDITS

In no nation of the world do "isms" and freak doctines get better hearing than in the United States. From religion to politics, we are treated yearly and monthly to so-called systems of "New Thought" or some kindred philosophy. Something comes along that has never happened before but is going to happen now and cure the ills of the world. The centuries that have gone before have all been wrong.

"Direct Credits" is one of the latest of these newly found philosophies that is going to revolutionize the world for us all. The Millenium is near at hand. Of course it's a bunch of theory and of course like thousands of other theories, it won't work. Yet a lot of misguided people see in this philosophy a mirage in the desert, the coming of a new city to men. So we were glad this week when there came to our desk a snappy communication from an unusually keen thinker who has made some considerable study of this new doctrine. You will find it interesting reading.

And incidentally, we notice that Norman Thomas, Socialist, rapped "Direct Credits" sharply in a recent address at Albion college. Thomas is a liberal thinker and this comment should mean a great deal. No, "Direct Credits" is not the cure for our ills. What we need right now is a turning back to good old Americanism and turning away from some of these false idols that are set up before us.

WANDERING THOUGHTS

Just try to rent a modern home in Northville!

Michigan has one elected official to every 100 people. Too many!

Did you know that Michigan has the finest highways of any state in the Union—78,000 miles of them?

Every person is entitled to work, rest and recreation," writes a Michigan editor. If we all had that, it would be fine.

Those who feel that the NRA has been injurious to the small business man can get a lot of comfort from the Pennsylvania senate election returns. Senator Reed, battling for the small merchant against the restrictions of the NRA, gave Governor Pinchot a bad beating.

Some of the world's greatest leaders have graduated from small colleges. In fact the percentage of those who have made "Who's Who" is said to be higher than that of the big universities. Business doesn't make greatness. A lot of nice people live in little Northville as well as big Detroit.

Unless all signs fail, the Roosevelt administration is going to do a wonderful thing in helping people build new homes and also remodel their present ones. If Congress does what the President asks, you can build a new home if you can raise only 20 per cent of the cost of the home and lot—and you have years to pay. Doesn't that appeal to you?

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

What is your biggest worry?

NORTHLVILLE'S YESTERDAYS7 YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Secord were among the large number of people who drove to Bath Sunday to see the school house that was partly blown up by an insane man.

Mr. Paul Dubar, of Seattle, Washington, is visiting at the home of her husband's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dubar, on West Main street.

Bud Young, who is attending Detroit City College, was fortunate in receiving a letter for his excellent work on the basketball team of that college. There were only five letters awarded.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Stark motored to Ettington last Friday via Sturges and Niles, and returned Saturday via Benton Harbor and Battle Creek. They were accompanied home by their daughter, Miss Doris Stark, who for the past three years has taught in the Bridgman high school.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Lovewell and son, Paul, arrived home from California Sunday, making the journey by auto. They visited Yosemite National Park while enroute here.

Charles Yerkes is building a new barn on his farm north of town, utilizing some of the timbers from the old one.

The Misses Lillian and Sara Hanes and Dillon Hanes of South Woodstock, Canada, have been guests of Miss Elizabeth Lapham, whose wedding to E. A. Chapman will take place in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Neal and James Savage visited at the home of Mr. Savage's sister-in-law, Mrs. Oscar Hesse in Detroit Sunday. Mrs. Hesse was formerly Florence Brown of this place.

30 YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Lapham are parents of a daughter born Tuesday, May 24th.

Will Barje, formerly of this place, has just been elected president of the Rochester fire department. Miss Grace Yerkes, who graduates from the State University this year, has accepted the position of assistant principal of our high school, as Miss Bedford does not wish to return another year. Miss Yerkes is one of the brightest and most popular young ladies in Northville and her appointment to an important place in the school gives general satisfaction.

Mr. Neal arrived home Monday from his visit to the World's Fair at St. Louis which he found to be of such interest that "the half has not been told."

Miss Irene Bryan started Saturday afternoon for home in Grand Junction, Colorado, accompanied by George Yerkes, who will remain there indefinitely.

Rev. W. S. Jerome of the Presbyterian church has gone to Buffalo to attend the General Presbyterian assembly in session there.

William Scott leaves today for a business trip through New York, New Hampshire, Vermont, and Connecticut.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUTRochester Gets a House

(Rochester Clarion)

For the first time in over a period of two years, a house is being built in Rochester. It is quite an unusual sight to see building going on within our village. Years ago it was coming to see five or six houses under construction at the same time.

They Don't Like Him

(The Durand Express)

John K. Stack, auditor general, who is to be a candidate for governor and in a recent statement declared that he may endorse himself irrespective of Gov. Constock of the Democratic convention. While Mr. Stack gets the big idea is anybody's guess. He can be sure of one thing, that he will have practically an "united press" around him.

How To Win Out

(Grand Rapids Pioneer-Tribune)

"What is the secret of success?" asked the Sphinx.

"Don't," said the button.

"Don't be lead," said the pencil.

"Always keep cool," said the ice.

"Be up-to-date," said the calendar.

"Never lose your head," said the match.

"Make light of your trouble," said the fire.

Whiskey Faces—Cigaret Teeth

(The Upland, Calif. News)

An article going the rounds of the daily press says that since repeal women are coming to have "whiskey faces," with their accompanying veins, hard lines and poor complexion. Many of them have already acquired "cigaret teeth." However, the same advertising daily which sold them on the proposition of maintaining a "youthful figure" by smoking cigarettes probably will convince them that the only way to clear up their skin is to down a pint of gin every day.

Aim to Build Up, Not Tear Down

(Pasadena (Calif.) Star News)

The world should be bettered, yes, but it should not be bettered by tearing down all the good that has been achieved, slowly through the course of the centuries. . . . The order of the day in the economic world and in industry is to retain that which is good—that which has been proven, sound by long experience—and to eliminate, and reject that which is unsound, and to add to that which is sound. Betterments which science and evolution of thought and experiment show to be real improvement.

There is no rhyme or reason in any scheme which contemplates ripping to pieces all that has been gained in economic development, and destroying the whole structure while offering nothing as a substitute which has been time-tested.

PAYING FOR OUR SPEED

(G. H. DePoe in The Charlotte Charlotte Republican-Tribune)

Speaking of the longevity of this horse and buggy era I was interested in some data I picked up on my recent visit to Independence Square in Philadelphia. Of the 56 men who signed the Declaration of Independence, three lived to be over 90; ten lived past 80; eleven were over 70, and the average of the entire group was 62, a remarkable record when compared to a time when the length of the lives of our modern-day statesmen.

Frank Harmon is improving his Dunlap street house by installing a "Great Bell" furnace and electric lights and adding a bath room.

Will Lanning has just completed a new porch on the south side of J. A. Dubois' residence on High street and it is one of the most charming in the village.

W. H. Cartermole has a new Buick automobile.

May Is A Moral Month

(Walter S. Kennedy in the Albion Recorder)

The other day we noticed in the news columns that Harvey Biggs had returned from China, where he is employed by the Standard Oil Co.

Mr. Biggs, just out of Albion College, stepped in at our home to say goodbye before stepping out into US-12 to thumb his way to New York City, where he was going to take waiting for work in the Orient. He elected to hitch-hike because he still owed a lot of money borrowed for his education.

Last week he arrived on the west coast on the finest ocean liner and came to Chicago by airplane. The debt for education has been paid off, incidentally, or probably important.

Miss Irene Bryan started Saturday afternoon for home in Grand Junction, Colorado, accompanied by George Yerkes, who will remain there indefinitely.

Rev. W. S. Jerome of the Presbyterian church has gone to Buffalo to attend the General Presbyterian assembly in session there.

William Scott leaves today for a business trip through New York, New Hampshire, Vermont, and Connecticut.

It was this same William A. Comstock that went to Chicago two years ago and fought through the democratic platform a "wet plan."

He had plenty of opposition in his own party and even the then Franklin D. Roosevelt was lukewarm.

It was this same William A. Comstock with Horatio J. Abbott, the party national committeeman, who made a "deal" to deliver the Michigan delegation to Roosevelt and in return to receive all the patronage in this state if the party was successful. Postmaster General Farley has submitted to Michigan congressmen that this was deal, but he and President Roosevelt have been unable to deliver the goods owing to internal party strife.

Now the good angel "Bill" is to be eliminated from the picture, upon direct orders of Roosevelt and Farley, because the Michigan legislature would not obey orders and furthermore owing to party disorders. The beneficiaries in the past (spending $250,000 to keep the party alive) are not fat on life and want the man who made this possible eliminated.

But here "Bill" himself has the final word to say and he doesn't appear to be in favor of the idea of allowing Washington to run the democratic party in Michigan. He proposes to let the pre-primary conference in June decide the matter and the little Gompnick machine itself will select the delegates to that conference.

Now to win in this kind of a game? And who does?

Prefers Comstock Nomination

(Al Weber in the Chippewa Observer)

The state press the past week has been filled with complaints about Governor Comstock's pardon of young Metzger, son of his state commissioner of agriculture, and all contend that his act will cost him the nomination for governor to succeed himself this fall.

Some of his so-called party leaders propose circulating petitions for his recall. Just think what that would result in if it were carried out. It would mean that Lieutenant Governor Allen E. Stebbins of Irons would step into the governor's job. Could you imagine a greater state calamity?

This hue and cry about his pardoning of young Metzger will blow over and Governor Comstock will be nominated again. He may not catch with different elements in his party, but it must be remembered that he has acted as party goat and has carried the party load for a long number of lean years. Governor Comstock is the party boss today. His leadership may be criticized but when it gets down to brass tacks he pretty much holds the inside track and any disruption that may arise in the party to overthrow him will only tend to lessen party chances at the polls this fall.

SENIOR TRIP PLANS NEAR COMPLETION

Those soon to graduate are planning to take the annual senior trip to Chicago, to visit the "World's Fair." Ever since their senior year started, the students have been working on class activities in order to get enough hours to go. That is, for every activity that brings in money they get credit. Students were not allowed to hand in any hours unless some money had been made by their work. For example, the senior play, selling Christmas cards, working at the class party last fall, and so forth.

A representative from the "Greyhound Bus" line talked to the class last week about the trip. The students would be picked up at the school at whatever time they set, have about a nine hour ride to Chicago, and be down to their hotel, An A-1 hotel will be provided. The activities included in this trip will be two admittances into the Fair, a sight-seeing trip around Chicago, either a daytrip or a moonlight cruise on Lake Michigan, admissions to two of the following, Fort Dearborn, Laram Temple, Colonial Villages.

Sunday night after graduating June 10, to be exact, they leave, returning the following Friday morning. This gives them four whole days in Chicago.

More information next week.

CORNER FOR BOOK LOVERS

By Rita Springer

Some time ago in this column I gave a review of "The Haunted Bookshop" by Christopher Morley. Reviewing "Parnassus on Wheels" now, is like putting the proverbial cart before the horse; or perhaps I should say, putting the spare tire on the front bumper because "Parnassus on Wheels" is really the first book. The title does sound odd because "Parnassus" is the name of a mountain, but I doubt if anyone has ever seen a mountain on wheels.

This Parnassus was a wagon which drove into Miss Helen McGill's New England farm house yard one fateful autumn day.

Miss McGill, let me explain, had been "rescued" by her brother from a dull life as a governess and taken to New England to an even duller one (or so I think), as mistress of an up-and-coming farm.

Her life was an endless routine of housework, feeding the chickens, and making Andrew's (her brother's) favorite foods for dinner. All would have been quite well if only great-uncle Philip hadn't died and left his niece and nephew a carload of books. To Andrew, who, though he had gone through college, had confined his reading, matter of fact, to the seed-almanac and the Sears-Roebuck catalogue, this carload of famous authors was a godsend, but to Helen, had she only known it, it was the beginning of the end.

Andrew took to wandering around the countryside — just tramping and writing down impressions of the scenery, and finally to writing a book!

It was called "Paradise Regained." "Paradise Regained," didn't worry Helen very much because she believed no respectable publisher would ever take it; but, strange as it seems, the very first publisher sent him a letter accepting it with much enthusiasm. "Happiness and Hayseed" followed.

(Andrew suffered from hay-fever.)

Then Roger Mifflin, with his traveling Parnassus, which was really an itinerant bookshop, blew up (or perhaps lumber would describe it better) into the McGill farmyard.

Helen knew that if Andrew got one look at the van he would be completely captured. He would not be immediately and probably wouldn't be home until Thanksgiving. So Andrew's sister, who had a mind of her own chose the only alternative — she bought it herself. Four hundred dollars gave her the van, a fat, cheery white horse named Pegasus ("Peg" for short), Bocaccio-Book, a small terrier, and every kind of an author from George Eliot to Kipling.

The rest of the book tells the adventures of only a few days and yet much happens in that time.

To some of us the book may sound rather foolish — being the romance of a woman thirty-nine and a man forty-one; but as Xiflin says — "Henry VIII was forty-one when he married Anne Boleyn, Shakespeare wrote 'King Lear' at the age of forty-one. There are many consolations for people over forty."

There are no illustrations to spoil the readers' mental pictures of the characters. Morley's books are never exciting, but combine a philosophical sort of humor with unexpected flashes of insight.

ROUND THE SCHOOL

The Candidates

When the electoral board met to nominate the candidates from whom we would be chosen the leaders of next year's student council, it was instructed to select only those possessing such virtues as fealty, efficiency, and integrity. Further, all members were told that if any unfit person were suggested it was their duty to enlighten the rest as to his shortcomings.

Abiding by these requests, the board decided upon the contestants for the offices. With the splendid material available the voters this afternoon can not but elect wisely.

Boo Hoo

The baseball boys are suffering horribly. No, they weren't injured in an automobile accident or anything like that, but their pride is hurt. This really shouldn't be told.

But a geman (ahem) has just two opinions about a secret — one that it isn't worth keeping and the other that it's too good to keep. Here is how we found out about the poor dear little lambs:

Now, fellow countrymen, you can easily see that drastic steps must be taken. This can't go on. Why, think of the condition the boys will be in if this keeps occurring. Perhaps if you would attend the baseball game.

The team said they guessed that no one liked 'em," wailed Spencer in a fresh burst of tears.

"Yes," Cloyce echoed, "no one likes 'em."

"Oh," gasped Darrell, "No one likes 'em. Oh, oh, oh."

Each voted more vehemently than ever.

The north hour this afternoon the boys will go from various class rooms and there will vote for their selections. Following this the votes will be collected and after school Mr. Anderson and Mr. Thornton will count them on the platform stage so that all may hear for their choices are being.

The next week papers for the results.

THE OBSERVATION COLUMN

By the Observer

This one is easy. She has black hair, brown eyes, a medium complexion. She is of medium build but very short.

Her school work is above par. In fact, in golfer's talk, it is an eagle. She is valedictorian of the Senior Class. She helps take care of the library. Her hobby is sewing, and the sport she likes is baseball. She was captain of the girl's class basketball team when she was a junior.

I'll bet I have you all guessing, haven't I?

The rest of the book tells the adventures of only a few days and yet much happens in that time.

BALDWIN, HOFFMAN QUALIFY FOR STATE

Although this is Baldwin's first year in high hurdles, he took third place in the regional meet held last Saturday at Ypsilanti. Both Race and Baldwin reached the finals but Race finished second while Baldwin reached the semi-finals.

At eleven o'clock in the forenoon Eastern Standard time said race contained 160 entries and the south side of Congress Street, entrance to the County Building, in the City of Detroit, Wayne County, Michigan, that being the place where the Circuit Court for the County of Wayne is held in said building.

The hundred yard run was fast. Tawsbury reached the semi-finals but failed to run in the finals. Perhaps it should be explained that those boys who make either first, second, or third in the regional have the privilege of going to the state meet.

In the pole vault seven were declared for third place. They drew lots and Hoffman won, thereby securing the opportunity to go to the state meet which is to be held at East Lansing Saturday, May 26.

Our men didn't make the finals in the 440 run, but Bender and McGee worked hard.

Gates was unable to do anything in the 100 yards and came in sixth. It was done in 14.52.

Brat, our only representative in the half mile, was fifth.

We failed to place in the broad jump, high jump, shot put, and relay race.

Mrs. Rogers Is Hostess to W. H. M. S. Tuesday Afternoon

The spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Rogers was the scene of a gathering of more than thirty members and guests of the Woman's Home Missionary Society, Tuesday afternoon.

A substantial potluck dinner was spread on long tables in the reception room and was followed by an informal program, the most interesting feature being an old-fashioned "spell down." Mr. R. E. Atchison was the "teacher" and several former school teachers were embarrassed by going down on the word "embarrassed."

Guests of the society present were Mrs. Chas. Christensen, Mrs. Norman Switzer, neighbors of Mrs. Rogers and Mrs. L. H. Spier of Farmington. The Service League were also present.

The proceeds from the patched aprons netted around $50.

Mrs. Johnston Hostess to Program Committee of Woman's C.I.O.

Mrs. Wm. H. Johnston extended hospitality to the members of the program committee of the Northville Womans Club, of which she is a member, at her home on West Main Street Wednesday afternoon.

The table was attractive in its color scheme of blue and gold, a bowl of yellow crocuses forming a centerpiece. The luncheon was most appetizing and was enjoyed informally as this group met together for the first time officially. Plans for next year were discussed and with a number of suggestions for improvements presented.

The general theme for this year will be "The World of Today" and through the various features submitted will be covered minutely to the satisfaction of all.

The speaker of the luncheon was Mrs. Lester Wagnerschutz, of the Wayne County Training School, who discussed with years of experience throughout Venezuela.

Among the outstanding problems in disciplining of children are truancy and future highschool work.

The meeting was opened with the singing of "Our Mothers' Prayer."

The speaker of the luncheon was Mrs. Lester Wagnerschutz, of the Wayne County Training School, who discussed with years of experience throughout Venezuela.

Many children are overprotected and result restrain. When given a chance to act independently much of their "troublemaking" disappears.

Mrs. Wagnerschutz's talk was very practical for the mother presented. Interposed throughout the program were musical numbers.

Vocal solos were sung by Miss Marion Hamilton and Miss Esther Krueger. Miss Emmaay Krueger gave a pianologue and Miss Dorothy Martin rendered a violin solo. Community singing added to the beauty of the occasion.

Credit for the success of the affair goes to those in charge. Mrs. Marion was assisted by Mrs. Emmaay Krueger in preparing the delicious dinner. Mrs. Eleanor Kraegel, the secretary, were included in the pleasant occasion.

Other members of the committee were Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Harold Bloom, Mr. J. H. Bell and Mrs. D. M. Eaton. Mrs. D. P. Verkerse was chairman of the luncheon.

Mrs. Earl Masters of Plymouth welcomed the members of Sarah Ann Cochran chapter of D. A. R. at her home Monday afternoon, May 21.

Mrs. Cass M. Chase was welcomed as a new member of the chapter. An interesting feature of the meeting was the presentation of the two papers on "The American Triumvirate Website, Clay and Calico" in which two young women of the 12th grade American history class of Plymouth high school won first prize titles. This competition is sponsored each year by the D. A. R. to encourage patriotism and it is to be regretted that Northville senior high school did not enter the contest.

A Northville boy, John Angell, son of Mrs. Harriett Angell, won the honor of winning first prize in the seventh grade contest, his subject being "The History of the American Flag."

This paper will appear in the next issue of the Record. The Plymouth winners were Marquette Ritchie and Ruth Meurin.

Nicely Mofers and Daughters Dine at Lutheran Church

Facts of interest concerning the Mother and Daughter banquet held at St. Paul's Lutheran church, Wednesday evening, May 16, come in too late for the previous issue of The Record.

The affair was unusually well-attended and full of interest, and those who made the effort to make it a success feel amply repaid. This was the fourth annual banquet of the mothers and daughters of that denomination.

Ninety guests sat down to the sumptuous repast. Mrs. Leo Zwick, wife of the pastor, opened the occasion with the invocation.

Following dinner Mrs. Elsie Giegel, as matron-in-chief, called upon Mrs. Arthur Schmidt to welcome the program committee of the Northville Womans Club, of which she is a member, at her home on West Main Street Wednesday afternoon.

The table was attractive in its color scheme of blue and gold, a bowl of yellow crocuses forming a centerpiece.

ADDITIONAL BOOKS BRING MORE READERS

Patrons of the library will be glad to know that affairs are moving along very smoothly under the new regime, according to Librarian Mrs. Jennie Cousins. Additional books bring in a noticeable increase in patronage, especially among the adult readers.

New screens for doors and windows are being placed and very soon reading tables will add to the convenience of those who enjoy dropping in for an hour or so of browsing.

The plan is that next year the county library service will be given through the library instead of the schools.

NEW BOOKS ADDED TO WAYNE COUNTY LIBRARY SHELVES

Are these books "new" for you? A good book is a good book when ever written, and a good book for you is one which in some way enriches your life by developing your mind, widening your experiences or enlarging your sympathies. If it does one of these, I would let it alone, says Mary Lamberton Becker in "Adventures in Reading."

The Northville library is open on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday from two until nine P. M. The volumes mentioned below are among those recently added to the collection.

AMERICA THROUGH WOMAN'S EYES, by Mary Beard; "Mrs. Beard's contribution is heartening book to read in days like ours. There is, in it much of course, so much of clear wisdom, so much of the faith that performs miracles, that one wishes for it a wide and attentive reading." —New York Times.

INDIAN OCEAN, by Stanley R. Rees; "Much zest in his job has evidently gone into the preparation of this book, for Mr. Rees is a lover of the sea and all that pertains to it. He is an artist who visualizes in sea pictures and his book teams with drawings that are robust of salt water." —New York Times.

MANCHURIA, THE COCKPIT OF ASIA, by Percy Ellington; "The author might have emphasized more strongly than they have done the impropriety of Japan's actions. On the other hand he has admirably explained precisely those facts which are most likely to be overlooked at a time when Japan's incorrectness has incurred foreign opinion against her." —London Times.

A NEW DEAL, by Suprit Chase, most readers will be stimulated by a new neat whether or not they agree with the theories put forth. The style is for the most part vigorous and honest though it tends now and again toward slangs.

—Chicago Daily Tribune.

SIX YEARS IN THE MALAY JUNGLE, by Carelth Wells; "His narrative of experience in 'Topy Turvy Land' contains animal tales of jungle exploits so striking as sometimes to suggest nature fakers' and travellers' tales, but the accuracy of his natural history is vouchcd for in the preface by no less an authority than F. A. Lucas of the American Museum of Natural History." —Book Review Digest.

England Gives U. S. Tips on Taxes (By Leslie Gould of the New York Evening Journal)

An interesting comparison with American methods of business recovery and government finances is provided by the budget speech of England's Chancellor of the Exchequer, Neville Chamberlain. His job compares with that of the United States Secretary of Treasury.

England is winding up its fiscal year with a surplus for the government expenditures of 39 million pounds or slightly better than 200 millions dollars. The American deficit this year will be around four or five billion dollars.

While this country is talking about piling more taxes on its citizens, the British Chancellor announced a reduction in income tax rates of 2½ per cent to 22½ per cent.

England's income tax is still the highest in the world, so it is not time yet to emigrate, but the significant thing is that the rate is coming down instead of going up as threatened here.

That tax reduction pays and sometimes increases the Government's revenue was proved in the case of Britain's levy on beer drinkers. The tax on beer last year was cut a penny, but the revenue from that source increased this year 25 millions of dollars.

On the income tax reduction, Chamberlain made this pertinent comment:

"I have no hesitation in saying that the relief which would confer the most direct benefit to the country and have the greatest psychological effect and impart the most immediate stimulus to trade and employment would be a reduction in the standard rate of income tax."

American legislators should take notice.

Egypt Does Not Change
Egypt, the cradle of civilization, was great before either Greece or Rome was born. The Valley of the Nile furnished the stage for the greatest drama of the past. Here were reared Egypt's stupendous pyramids, temples and monuments, in the highest form of architecture to honor her great, while the rest of mankind was living in rude huts. Time has made but slight changes in the land of the pharaohs. Egypt does not change.

Rest in Thorns for Safety
Above the thorny cactus flats, throughout both the desert mesquite, catclaw and lotus slopes leading up to the Santa Rita mountains seen from Tucson, Tucson had cactus wren nests, "the most conspicuous ornithological feature of the landscape." Their large straw-colored, torch-shaped forms stand out strikingly though well protected, by an armament of thorns from hawks' owls" and "other enemies." Of 61 found in thorn-clad bushes or trees, Nature Magazine, 35 were additionally surrounded by dense thorn inside, thick round clumps of the red-flowered mesquite, whose berries offer desert food to the black-throated sparrow.

Another Orange Grower

Lindsey Gazette: Mae West has turned orange grower. She says "I'm going to see how it is to wake up in the morning and hear a bird singing for a change instead of listening to taxis and trucks or mismen." Yes Mae, you will get the sweet breath of a well fertilized orchard, a fumigated grove, sulphur spray and in the winter smudge pots. But it is nice to dream.

For Better, For Worse
Does it wear off, Mother?
Does what wears off, child, lip stick?

No, no, I don't mean that. I mean does the romance of marriage wear off?

It seems to me some folks make it so cheap—they're so common with each other. Their jokes are so crude. Why, Mother, they're actually fit. It just spoils my ideal.

And the "reckless younger generation" was thus criticizing their mother.

That pass no mortal by. We have had gloomy days and sorrows hard to hide. But Love lights all my ways. When you are by my side."

THIS WEEK
BY R. H. WHITE

As one reads the motion picture reviews which have been shown late for public amusement and entertainment and, at the same time, witnessed, it has been evident that changes for better screen achievements are in established fact.

While there is still room for further improvement it is obvious that a distinct and highly healthful change from the barnyard moralities and felonious underworld life to matters more suitable for recreational thought of a fundamentally decent and intelligent populace is in progress. It would seem as if the producers have broken away from the old order of things where box office receipts were the only criterion for a successful picture.

A motion picture magazine recently in my hands contained a report by Will Hayes, president of the motion picture producers and distributors of America, saying this improved change is only a beginning. He further states: "The industry cannot under-rate with impunity the importance of the general level of public intelligence which determines popular acceptance or rejection of any type of motion picture."
