GRAFTING AT LANSING

Three Politicians are Jailed as State Charges Bribery Plot.

That is the headline that appeared in a Detroit paper as we write this on Friday. It is another of the waves of stories of graft and inefficiency that have been rolling over and around the state capital for the past few months.

There are, of course, some excellent men in our state administration, but anyone who knows anything about what has been going on at Lansing for the past year and a half realizes that there has been a pronounced spirit of "get it while the getting is good" among many of the office-holders.

Even though there has not been the "graft" that has been charged, there has been a tremendous amount of petty politics, a terrific lot of incompetence and poor administration.

The political upheaval that took President Roosevelt into office unfortunately carried along with it to our state capital many men who were utterly unqualified for public office. The "new deal" in Michigan has been a pitiful and costly venture. It has gotten now to the point where it is not a partisan matter at all but a matter of the public welfare. The "new dealers" at Lansing have no more bitter critics than some of our best democratic leaders.

The public conscience of Michigan needs some daylight thrown in on it.

THE TRUTH ABOUT RUSSIA

Thinking people are grateful to The Christian Science Monitor for its series of articles on Russia by William Henry Chamberlin, who spent ten years there and who is now facing the music of some of the hideous conditions in that vast empire. If anyone starts giving you propaganda about the beautiful experiments there, send and get some of these articles and learn the truth and then start talking back to these folks who have been fooled by the Soviet forces.

The sad story of how fewer than two million Communists rule with the iron hand of terror and propaganda, a population of 160 millions is one to stir the heart.

Just to give you an indication of the Chamberlin articles we quote from the article of June 5:

"It is creditably reported that when Lady Astor met Stalin in Moscow in 1934 she posed the blunt question: 'How long will you go on killing people?'" To which the Communist dictator retorted:

"As long as it is necessary."

"Perhaps this retort revealed more of the underlying Soviet philosophy than Stalin would have desired. For there are no 'inalienable human rights,' such as 'life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness' in the Soviet scheme of things. There is only the supreme right of the omnipotent state to arrest, banish and, in some cases, execute persons, with or without trial, often quite regardless of written law, 'as long as it is necessary.'"

THE PERIL OF PRICE FIXING

"That was a good point you made about building homes" says a thinking citizen to us, "but do you realize that it is pretty hard to do it, the way the NRA code has shot up prices, especially on material?"

The brother is right. And what he says emphasizes once more the dangers of price-fixing. Thanks to the NRA, and its "lifting yourself by your bootstraps" policy, we find competition smothered in many lines of business. Take this building issue. Building costs of 1927-29 were excessive and could not be endured now. They were, however, coming down nicely when business began to pick up a year or so ago. Labor costs were reasonable and material prices were fair. Then came the NRA, with its code, whereby all dealers everywhere must charge a fixed price for lumber and supplies. That pushed the prices higher—too high to make any inducement for people to build. Then along comes the government with its really commendable plan of helping people to repair their homes and of aiding others to build new homes. We look for Congress to pass this legislation so that people can build homes. But men and women are going to be discouraged if they can get no federal aid only to go out and find that material costs are over their heads.

Unless this price fixing is changed, what will be the result? Simply this: The lumber yards will be piled high with their lumber and the folks who want to build, with their spirits broken by high prices, will say: "Well, we guess it will be cheaper to pay rent for awhile. Let's not build until costs come down."

We second the motion of Owen D. Young that the "brain trusters" retreat to their laboratories to work out their theories and let practical engineers go to work managing practical affairs.

FRANK D. FITZGERALD FOR GOVERNOR

Education points to the fact that Frank D. Fitzgerald, secretary of state, will be the next governor of Michigan.

every side and it would not be at all surprising if he had no opposition in the primaries.

Fitzgerald is not an accident in state affairs. He has worked his way from a humble position on to the top and has given the kind of public service that citizens expect from those they trust with high office. He has been at the state capital 20 years and knows all departments of government thoroughly and through actual experience. He is honest and can be trusted. He is a worker. He knows the needs of the state as few men do and is familiar with budgets and state machinery. He knows the dire need of sane leadership at Lansing and can supply that leadership. Further he is aware of the crying need for economy in state expenditures and will be the kind of a leader who will not only promise to cut costs but who will actually slash them.

While there is much reason to expect that Fitzgerald will have a united party behind him, no such anticipation prevails among the Democrats. Hopeless antagonisms have been aroused and between the Gov. Copestock and Arthur J. Lacy factions there is "a great gulf fixed." The only possible chance the Democrats would have to defeat Fitzgerald, would be to get together and present a united front, but right now that seems to be the last thing that the party in power will do.

The demonstration given Fitzgerald at his home town, Grand Ledge, two weeks ago, was one of the finest tributes that ever came to a public servant. With people showing such faith in him, he can hardly fail to continue to serve his state well and faithfully. The administration of government needs more men of the sterling type of Frank D. Fitzgerald.

WANDERING THOUGHTS

Be thankful if you have six "true-blue" friends.

The Detroit Tigers, "are going places." And the leadership of Mickey Cochrane seems to be the dynamo that is driving them ahead. From all that we can hear he is a fine, wholesome man and we are glad to see him lead his men out in front. We all like a winner.

The wave of indignation against the evils that repeal of prohibition has brought continues to roll in. Among the most disgusted people are the "moderate wets" who didn't like prohibition but who think even less of present conditions. We are being more and more impressed by this economic fact, aside from any other consideration: The dollar that goes for liquor isn't buying groceries or shoes or tickets to the movies. And the man who owes others certainly has no right to be spending much money for beer.

Dr. Paul F. Voelker, head of the department of public instruction, was found guilty of criminal negligence for running a red light and fatally injuring a man in Detroit. We cannot understand that for all the facts pointed to the conclusion that Dr. Voelker became misled by confusing red lights and did what any of us might do. We should not call him criminally negligent. If men of the high caliber of Dr. Voelker are to be punished in this manner what shall we do with that wild crop of reckless drivers who run up and down our streets, around corners and in and out of traffic like mad men? And what shall we do with the potential killers who drive while drunk?

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

How many of the thousands who are graduated from our colleges and universities this year will find jobs?

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS

7 YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Larned spent the week-end with Dr. and Mrs. C. S. Larned at Battle Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blackburn are attending commencement exercises at Oberlin college. Their daughter, Barbara, is a member of the senior class of that school.

Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Miss Lucy Iris Bach to John I. Eisenberger on Wednesday evening June 29th, at 8:00 at the bride's home.

Mr. and Mrs. George Pickell spent last week-end with the former's aunt at Leamington, Ontario.

Mrs. Ada Johnson, of this place, and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Northrop and son, of Redford, will sail from Montreal on June 24th, for a European tour.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wither of Cambridge, Mass., and Miss Florence Loveland and Miss Virginia Briggs have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn A. Richardson for a few days.

Mrs. Ida E. Joslin, formerly of this place, arrived here Wednesday from Redondo Beach, Calif., and will spend some time with relatives and friends here.

Glenn Richardson returned Saturday from a four weeks' stay at Stratfordshire, Ontario, where he had been installing machinery for a dry powder milk plant.

Forrest Ball has gone "up north" for an extended stay with Charles Sessions, Jr.

Mrs. C. J. Ball, Mrs. Heston, Miss Pinkerton, Mrs. Macomber, and Mrs. Noel returned Monday from a few days' outing at Frankfort, where they were guests with the Eastern Michigan Press club.

L. W. Elliott is home from Tomahawk, Wis., for a visit during the vacation from his work as engineer on the Milwaukee & St. Paul R. R.

Mrs. Susan Clark and Miss Gladys Cobb are spending the week with friends in Salem.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

NOT COMPLAINING

Paul M. Riddick in The LaGrange, Indiana, Standard

It has been easy for many during the past few years to fall into a whining attitude.

It had its good this week to run across E. W. Armstrong, a farmer from LaGrange, who has a big farm and who has had some pretty hard stumps in his path during many years, and to hear the following story.

Back in Nebraska 30 years ago I had it harder than this and I am used to it. We always manage to get along. The children all had the advantage of a good year. School and passed, we are getting the wheat and oats ground that they out planted in corn. I believe when the rains worked around everything will come out all right.

WHAT IS LIBERTY

Former Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, quoted in The Rochester, Clarion

No man is free upon whose brain government can place a shackle. No man is free upon whose tongue government can place a bridle. No man is free who is restrained by government in the selection of his vocation. No man is free whose life, habits or opportunities are restricted by government. With equal force let it be said: No man is free who is obliged to rely on government for guidance. And no man is free who is dependent upon government bounty.

Paternalism is of necessity favoritism, and favoritism to one class can only be accomplished by the despoliation of other classes.

Peter's property or opportunity must be given to Paul. Both are injured. Peter is robbed, Paul is debased. The most foolish of all animals is the man who, because of temporary adversity, would tear down the temple of liberty in the hope he therein find refuge. Certain it is that the citadel will soon become a prison, where he will languish in chains.

BOOZE FIGHTERS

(Larry Towe in The Jonesville, Independent)

Well, the old fight with alcohol is on again, by the same old forces, and along the same lines that came so close to licking it about 18 years ago.

The news comes out that a campaign of temperance education is about to be begun.

The Department of Public Instruction of the state is to cooperate with the Women's Organization of Non-Partisan Reformers in showing school children what alcohol does when it is put into the human sides. The news item says, "The program stresses scientific research and character building as well as instruction in schools and colleges on the psychological, physical and social benefits of temperance."

Now that is fighting booze in the right way. If you persuade a teen age boy that he is a plain damned fool to monkey with liquor you've done more to lick rum than half a dozen prohibition laws could do. Maybe when we Americans grow up and will obey laws that are on the books, then we can legislate rum out, but until then we've got to persuade ourselves that we're better off and happier if we don't drink it.

This picture, though, of the state Department of Public Instruction working for temperance strikes us as funny. The last we heard the public schools for the state were getting money from the brewery and distillery trusts.

DARROW AND JOHNSON THUNDER

(Lansing State Journal)

Before the storm broke—meaning the inter-change of thunder and sharp bolts of lightning between Clarence Darrow and General Johnson—The State Journal saw it coming and made some comment. Now that the speakings of chain lightning are with us, not much more remains to be said. The storm is about as predicted.

It is doubtful whether much candid information concerning the workings of NRA may be had from such verbal goings on as are emanating from Darrow and from Johnson, supported by Richberg; but one purpose the present clash will serve, and that is, the NRA will be brought still further down into the arena of free discussion. For altogether too long a time, NRA was regarded as sort of a gut from heaven concerning which no questioning or argumentative word must be used. Now, whether or not we get much out of what Darrow and Johnson are hurrying at one another, we may at least have our own say on the basis of such facts as we, ourselves, have observed.

The American people had nothing to do with the creation of the NRA. It was handed to the people and they were told to like it. Strange to relate they accepted it at first without a whimper. They took it and never even paused to ask whether they liked it or not. But time has gone on and now, if we have the NRA, pericentrically, it is going to be such an NRA as emerges fairly satisfactory to the majority, out of hammer and tongs public discussion. That is as it should be.

General Johnson has considerably weakened his own position, because, considerably in advance of the Darrow report, he caused to be promulgated the information that NRA was to be withdrawn from small business and particularly from "service" industries. It is in these relationships that people in general, as well as Clarence Darrow, are finding the most cause for objection.

Long before the Darrow report or even before the Johnson proposal to partly withdraw NRA, people were beginning to observe that some concerns strictly observed the NRA while others paid no attention to it whatever and suffered no bad consequences. NRA has been supposed to have about the effect of law. It is certainly not the American way to have a law for some and not for others.

Let Darrow and Johnson bang away at one another. It will encourage people generally to get into the discussion. If NRA can stand full discussion by everybody, good and good. If it cannot let us slit it out.

Novi Gets Printing Shop

Thursday, May 31st, was Commencement Day for the printing shop of Rev. A. K. MacRae at Novi, in the Odd Fellows Building, as the machinery and equipment was moved from Walled Lake to Novi on that day.

A business of this type is a valuable asset to any community and the people of Novi welcome Mr. MacRae and wife. Their many friends in Northville and Walled Lake also wish them success in their new location.

Weight Reduced From 180 to 137

"Wonderful," She Says

Here's today's story of a woman who knew she carried too much fat and decided the right way to get rid of it—just a few words that wise fat folks should heed—worth reading.

"I use Kruschen Salts to reduce. It's wonderful. Take it daily and eat what I want and still lose. I did weigh 180, now 137. Want to get down to 125." Mrs. Leonard Bass, Ft. Atkinson, Wis., Feb. 6, 1934.

When you take one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water—you not only lose in weight, but you put healthy activity into your whole body—you feel younger and look it—get it at any drug store in the world.

Books for Younger Girls at Northville Library

The following books have been placed on the shelves at the Northville public library:

KATRINA VAN OST AND THE SILVER ROSE—By Elizabeth Gaskell. Katrina was twelve years old when she left Holland to come to New Amsterdam. Her parents were dead and she had been sent to live with a cousin whom she had never seen.

The story is of her welcome in the Dutch settlement, her life there for the next few years, and of her bravery which won for her the silver rose.

JANE HOPE—By Elizabeth J. Gray. The girl's characters are unusually fine and appealing in this story of days just before the Civil War.

SWIFT RIVERS—By Cornelia Meigs. Chris Dahlberg, the hero of this story, lived on Goose Wing River in Minnesota in 1835, when that region was populated only by a scattered colony of Swedish farmers.

When Chris realized that the only resource which his much-loved grandfather possessed was his vast timber tract, the boy determined to float logs down the river to the St. Louis market, hundreds of miles away.

THE APPRENTICE OF FLORENCE—By Anne D. Kyle. Neno, an apprentice to a silk merchant of Florence, is sent to Constantinople as a helper to his company's agent. There he takes part in the defense of the city against the infidels before he gets back to Florence again.

PETER, KATRINKA'S BROTHER—By Helen E. Haskell. This continues the adventures of Katrina and her brother in modern Russia. Peter, the young Pioneer who used cooking vanilla to smooth down his unruly hair, is now a handsome

BOYS! - GIRLS!

see the CHICAGO WORLD'S FAIR

BOYS and GIRLS of Northville and surrounding territory, here's the big announcement you've been waiting for. Here's complete information on The Northville Record's World's Fair Tour for 1934. Here's the big news that brings you the chance of a lifetime.

The chance of a lifetime for boys and girls living in Northville and territory served by The Record:

The chance to attend A Century of Progress Exposition—Chicago's new 1934 World's Fair.

The chance for that never-to-be-forgotten trip to the busy metropolis of the Middle West.

AND IT IS ALL FREE

All of this is possible through the campaign which is herewith announced.

The campaign is open to any boy or girl 19 years old or under living in Northville and surrounding country.

Several boys or girls will be sent on this wonderful tour.

Several lucky local lads or lassies will leave Northville on the Michigan Central railroad to embark on a romantic trip—the like of which is seldom enjoyed by any youngster.

Seldom before has it been undertaken to so richly reward the young men and women of the community for the patronage of their parents, friends and relatives.

Seldom, if ever, has a newspaper offered such valuable prizes to its boy and girl readers.

Seldom has such an enticing prospect been dangled before the eyes of the youth of Northville and environs—a prospect that lies within reach of any boy or girl.

And it is all very simple. Read the contest rules. Read the thrilling news of the trip. Clip the entry coupon which appears in this advertisement. Make up your mind to enter the campaign—IMMEDIATELY—because an early start may be a big factor toward a winning finish.

Read all about it and make up your mind that you are going to be one of the boys or girls to win.

THE PLAN

All any boy or girl has to do to be one of those to be sent on the World's Fair Tour by The Record is to combine popularity with a certain amount of ingenuity and hard work.

The campaign is simple, all you must do is to secure subscriptions to The Northville Record.

A fair field and no favors—and the best boys or girls will win.

There is no limit to the amount of help you can receive from your friends, neighbors, parents, relatives, Sunday school class, schoolmates, Boy Scout troop, Dad's and Mother's social, fraternal and business connections.

In fact, the boys and girls who show the greatest ingenuity in gathering subscriptions and in ORGANIZING EVERY POSSIBLE PERSON TO HELP THEM IN GATHERING SUBSCRIPTIONS WILL BE THE BOYS AND GIRLS TO WIN in the campaign and enjoy the wonders and marvels of the trip.

The campaign editor has a large list of suggestions along these lines which he will be glad to give to any contestant who calls on him.

But among all of the suggestions, the most important is for you to GET AN EARLY START.

Enter the contest TODAY—then lay your plans for a winning campaign.

Northville Record's World's Fair Trip Contest

(1) All contestants (both boys and girls) must be 19 years old or under on Friday, June 15, 1934.

(2) There shall be no limits or boundaries within which the contestants must live, or within which they may canvass.

(3) Each contestant not winning one of these trips will be given 20 per cent of the receipts he turns in on subscriptions.

The winners of the four day trip must each have secured, as a minimum, 65 subscriptions to The Northville Record.

The winners of the two day trip must each have secured, as a minimum, 40 subscriptions to The Northville Record.

Old subscriptions (those in arrears) as well as renewals (to date or in advance) and new subscriptions count alike. Each year's subscription to The Northville Record at $1.50 each shall count as one subscription. Any contestant turning in money on subscriptions of less than one year will receive 20 per cent as provided above.

(4) The contest shall begin Friday, June 15, and shall end Saturday, June 21.

(5) Each contestant shall report to the contest editor at The Northville Record office on both Tuesdays and Fridays of each week.

Contestants should especially note rule three (3) as it explains the actual requirements for winning the trips to the World's Fair.

The Service League has had a very successful year with the pleasure of realizing that they have done many "little deeds of kindness, that most folks leave undone."

Seventh and Eighth Grades Have Picnic at Middle Straits Lake

The members of the seventh and eighth grades, piloted by their mothers and accompanied by their popular teacher, Mrs. Ida B. Cooke, went to Middle Straits Lake near Pontiac Friday morning for a fine day's outing.

The children were guests at the Bolton cottage, Keene Bolton being a member of the eighth grade.

All enjoyed a good time swimming and boating with a big picnic dinner as the climax of the occasion.

CHILDREN PERFORM WITH CREDIT SUNDAY

Children's Day was observed Sunday at the Methodist church with a large attendance present to enjoy the performance of the littlest children of the church. The regular Order of worship was given over to the young folks which each particularly enjoyed the part taken by his own little Johnny or Mary looking through his "peep."

The platform was prettily decorated with baskets of garden flowers.

A welcome given by Joan Litsenberger, Lorraine Bigger, and Jane Lanning officially opened the program. This was followed by recitations with those given by tiny Dorothy Briggs and Eddie Lanning, who were so small that they experienced great difficulty in climbing the steps onto the platform as the most humorous. A violin solo by Lucile Lapham, accompanied by Faith LeBeau, was well rendered as was the vocal duet by Faith LeBeau and Vivian Grayson. Lorraine Lapham played her piano solo especially well for so young a girl and the children's day songs by the entire group showed faithful training of those having charge of the program. Special appreciation and credit should be given to Mrs. Horace Boyden, Mrs. Marshall Herrick, Mrs. M. J. Koskela and James Frederick for their time and labor in preparing the service.

The platform was prettily decorated by a few of the mothers with baskets of garden flowers and sprigs.

JACOBSON TREATED WITH KINDNESS BY FINNISH OFFICIALS

Word reached Northville this week to the effect that Alvin V. Jacobson, former Northville school teacher, now held as a political prisoner by the Finnish government, will receive his five-year sentence at Albo rather than in the political prison at Helsingfors.

Mr. Jacobson requested that he not be transferred, believing that the treatment of prisoners at Albo was more humane.

His "hard labor" as learning decorative penmanship. The prison authorities are reported to be very kind of him, among other things furnishing him with English books to read.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY NOTES

The unit extends to the family of the late Dr. Paul Alexander, their deepest sympathy. The annual picnic of the Legion and unit will be held June 26. More details will be in next week's Record.

With one million glasses of jelly and jam as their goal, the women of the American Legion Auxiliary are working in a nation-wide "jelly-making" bee to preserve the nourishing goodness of the summer fruits and berries for the country's needy during the coming winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Alker and family of Fort Wayne, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Loring of Coldwater were week-end guests of the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Taylor.

Department of state statistics indicate that as many motorists will take advantage of the two-payment plan of purchasing 1934 license plates as in 1933. Last year a total of 415,000 persons purchased plates, by making two payments. This far in 1934, a total of 352,000 have made use of the windshield stickers and it is estimated that at least 65,000 more will do so before August 1.

Gertrude Deal is employed in the offices of Lovell and Smith. Warner Neal is back from the U. of M. and so far as he knows he passed in all his final exams. Warner has heard from only one so far - Political Science - and in that he received an "A." By the way, Warner will be the generalissimo of the subscription campaign for this paper when the winners of the contest will go to the World's Fair.

The seniors have gone - left Sunday - to Chicago, and back Friday after getting stiff necks trying to look in all directions on their busy way through the World's Fair. From what they say, it was a grand trip. Margaret Norton has a very pretty new sports dress that looks especially nice on her.

While speaking in the line of dresses we'd like to comment on Mary Louise Boyden's blue pique suit. It's more than good looking. Jack Watson is back again putting around on his motorcycle. We hope he doesn't have any more bad luck. Alec Alfine attended the wedding of George Beard and Miss Eleanor Cooke at Detroit Tuesday evening.

Wilma Rattchey began her offer work at the Maybury Sanatorium Monday and tells us that she has had a very busy week. She has finished her final exam at the University too.

Small Boy: "Father, what's a commode?" Father: "A commode is a body that keeps manna and sassafras." - London Tid-Bits.

Recital to be heard June 15: Pupils from the piano class of Mrs. Mayne DeCenik and Mrs. Boehlers' dancing class will present a recital in the auditorium of the Walled Lake high school Friday night, June 15, at 8:00 o'clock.

Honor Roll Announced: Those students of the high school having an all "A" record for the year are: Eighth grade - Marjion Gardner, Vera Philp, Jean Stoffel. Junior class - Mary Dutton.

These students with a semester average of "B" or better than one "C" are: Seventh grade - John, Cuthbertson, Jean Travis, and Evelyn Van Epp. Eighth grade - Marjion Gardner, Vera Philp, Jean Stoffel, Freda Germain, and Bob Philp.

Ninth grade - Grace Carless, Junior Clark, George Heiker, John Mitchell, Betsy Ormsby, Constance Selby, Phyl Stimpson, and Eleanor Thompson. Tenth grade - Robert Butten, Kenneth Coe, Dale Farmwoit.

"I'll Tell the World" Comes To The Penniman-Allen Saturday and "Mandalay" Is Attraction June 20. Packed with the thrills of news correspondents in their mad quest for "red hot copy," filled with laughter provoking episodes and a hectic courtship, "I'll Tell the World" starring Lee Tracy, will be shown for the first time, at the Penniman-Allen theatre on Saturday, June 16.

Tracy is in his glory as Stanley Brown, staff reporter for the Allied Press, as he dashes to northern Canada to get the story of a disabled dirigible at the expense of his rival, played by Roger Pryor, and his quest to Europe to "horn in" on a revolution. The screen play was written by two men, one internationally known for their work on the United Press. These men, Lincoln Quarter and Dale Van Every, crowded many of their experiences into the picture. While cataloging the men who forget their own safety, their love problems and their personal comfort to rush wildly after a story, the picture is a masterpiece.

"Mandalay" June 20. One of the most spectacular settings seen in a picture this year serves as the background for dramatic scenes in the First National production, "Mandalay," which comes to the local theatre on Wednesday, June 20. It is the "Jardin d'Orient," exotic night club in Rangoon. While the setting is not an exact duplication of any particular Burmese resort, it combines the most spectacular features of several that are well known to travelers in the Orient. Ray Francis shares honors with Warner Oland and Lyle Talbot in the picture.

THE OTHER DAY

Inga Stannann returned to Flint Sunday after spending the week preceding commencement at her home here. Arthur Hill is about again after recovering from injuries received in an accident. We congratulate Ruth Taylor and Forrest Sammon on their marriage which will take place within a week or so. Ruth is being honored at a number of showers. Nelson Schrader and his son, Nelson, Jr., left Sunday morning for Mio where they will spend a week fishing. Herb Berendt is home (at last) for the summer. (We're been predicting it for at least two weeks.) Foster Van Atta has been home for the last few days but will go back to Michigan State for the graduation exercises. Ward Van Atta is still up at East Lansing, taking the last few of those trials - at least he was at this writing.

Gertrude Deal is employed in the offices of Lovell and Smith. Warner Neal is back from the U. of M. and so far as he knows he passed in all his final exams. Warner has heard from only one so far - Political Science - and in that he received an "A." Third and Fourth Grades: STORY OF LIVE DOLLS, STOWN SAMBES, CAT'S CRADLE FOR HIS MAJESTY, MY BOYS, NORWEGIAN TWINS, ALL ABOUT PETS, STORY OF DOCTOR DOLLITTLE.

Upper Grades: GAY SOURETTE by Darby, SHIP'S MONKEY by Morrow, WHERE IS ADELAIDE? by White, JANE HOPE by Gray, DUSKY DAVE by Means, YOUNG FU by Lewis, SWORDS OF STEEL by Singmaster, PETER, KATRINEKA'S BROTHER, by Hassell, WATERLESS MOUNTAIN, by Armer.

There is religion everywhere. (Century Magazine) Far from being discouraged about religion, I am amazed at all the religion I see everywhere. I see busy men and women in communities taking time to organize community chests for the poor, relief for the jobless, improvement in slums. It cannot be said either that such work is empty social services for such service, any service for others, has its reflex effect. It deepens the person who performs it.

There is such a thing as empty social service, and this is the service rendered by people who are paid to do it, who are professionals, and earn their living by the suffering of others. But I am speaking not of these. I am speaking rather of those men and women who cannot endure the suffering and who give out of their own longing to see the world better. Whether they are professionally religious or not has nothing to do with it. They have the spirit of religion, even though its name is not that of any known denomination.

We will more personally thank you at the next funeral. Mrs. Mary Alexander, Mrs. Frances Ann Jones.

Obituary

CARLOS E. PARDEE

Carlos E. Pardee died at his home on Yerkes avenue shortly after noon Monday, June 11, after an illness of only two hours. Mr. Pardee had been failing in health for the past two years but on the morning of his death was up as usual and out of doors in the yard when suddenly stricken.

The son of Andrew Pardee and Sarah Jones Pardee, Mr. Pardee was born in Plymouth township on the old homestead where he spent his boyhood days and two years of his young manhood, following his marriage to Miss Nellie Eckles of Livonia township in 1883.

For fifty-one years these two lived contentedly together, having observed their anniversary quietly on April 22. Having no children of their own they made a home for two girls whom they brought up as daughters, Betty Pardee, at the home now, and Mrs. Rosalie Marshall of Walled Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Pardee came to Northville 43 years ago and lived in the present home for 41 years. For a number of years during his active life Mr. Pardee was a mechanic in the Globe Furniture Co. and was a member of the old Northville corset band. He was an attendant of the Methodist church.

Mr. Pardee was a faithful worker, a kind husband and neighbor and preferred to live a quiet life among his many friends. The funeral service was held at the home Wednesday afternoon with only the immediate friends and relatives present. Rev. H. G. Whitfield spoke words of comfort, and Mrs. Harry F. Bibe played appropriate selections on the violin. Burial was made in Rural Hill.

Only the widow and two foster daughters survive of his immediate family.

BARN RAISING DRAWS THROUG AT WEDDOW'S SATURDAY AFTERNOON

(Continued from page D.) One unusual feature of the new barn is the basement with its wall of very large stone granite. The granite, under that rough-hewn appearance of beauty. The main work was done by Mr. Donald and James Stiles of Orchard Lake. The stones were from the old wall which was two feet thick. The basement has unusual depth.

As was the case in all the old-time barn raisings, the completion of putting the main frames into position for adding of siding and roof, came to a climax with the dinner. The wedding was held for the outdoor meal which was served on improvised tables that the carpenters built.

George Hicks and his wife are authority for the statement that Mrs. Wedow and her crew of assistants fed a host of 150 people. The hungry men made away with 50 gallons of potato salad and 7 hot dogs. Venison like dew before the sun. Fine traditional feasting marked the unique meal.

The novel event drew visitors from as far as Detroit. From Northville came Dr. A. A. Holcomb, who was right up on the beams helping as he did when a young lad; Wellington Roberts, who as a boy helped his father, a builder, at barn raisings in the upper peninsula; and Richard T. Baldwin of The Northville Record.

PROTECTIVE LEAGUE REJECTS PROPOSED STATE AMENDMENT

Claude Zimmerman, treasurer of the Outer Wayne County Protective League, was present at a meeting at Belleville Wednesday which he listened to William L. Lovett, secretary of the Citizens League and president of the Michigan Manufacturers Association, urge acceptance of the proposed amendment to the Michigan constitution to abolish and consolidate local officers. The League voted unanimously against the amendment.

METHODISTS' PENNY SUPPER A SUCCESS

Another large crowd enjoyed the "penny supper" given at the M. E. church house last Wednesday evening. More food was prepared than the week before, but even these preparations did not prove quite heavy enough to accommodate all of the people wishing to patronize them.

Everyone seems to be very well pleased with the menu as shown upon entering the serving line with their prices marked accordingly. The ladies of the Service League are going to put the supper on next Wednesday evening and they promise us a fine menu consisting of cold pressed meat and hot, Irish stew with escalloped potatoes, escalloped corn, buttered lima beans, various salads, gingerbread, pie and all the usual extras.

The usual prices will prevail and all are cordially invited to attend these weekly affairs. Thunderstorms occur on an average of 25 days of the year in Java, which is incidentally the most densely populated island on earth. The usual price of the record is $1.00.

NORTHVILLE TAKES TWO MORE GAMES FROM HAZEL PARK

Moore, Northville pitcher, in Sunday's game with Hazel Park missed baseball's hall of fame by virtue of the one hit that Hazel Park got in the fifth inning of the second game.

Northville's Wolverines are set to win in their with a record in the Michigan State League of ten games won and none lost. Sunday they whipped Hazel Park two games by the scores of 10 to 3 and 5 to nothing.

In the first game batteries for Northville were Wright and German and for Hazel Park, Steele and Anderson. Northville got 13 hits, scoring a run each in the first and second innings, three in the third and blasted out five runs in the fifth.

Hazel Park was held to seven hits which gave them one run in the sixth, one in the seventh, and three in the eighth. Wright struck out 11 men and Steele four.

In the second game Moore struck out nine men, held Hazel Park to one run and gave the base on balls. Beaver, for Hazel Park, struck out three men, gave 21 hits and walked six men. Northville got one run in the first inning, two in the second, and two in the third.

On the fourth of July ball fans have a real treat in store for them. The Wolverines are scheduled to play one of the leading Triple A teams of Detroit here at the fair grounds. The game will furnish some keen competition for the local team.

Sunday the Wolverines travel to Ypsilanti to play a team that is greatly strengthened by the addition of new players. Northville has whipped Ypsi in previous games, but may meet a different team in the revamped squad Sunday.

PIANO PUPILS PLAY IN RECITAL JUNE 22

The music students of Miss Grace Halverson will give a program at the Presbyterian church Friday evening, June 22, at 8 o'clock. They will be happy to have all interested present.

This recital will be unique in that it will be a demonstration of the piano work done by very young children and on up to advanced pupils. Some of the youngest children have been taking only a few months, others have been taking for two years and Miss Halverson will illustrate with their playing the interesting method used in teaching these children in groups.

A feature of interest in the advanced students' work will be the first movement of the Mendelssohn and Grieg concertos played by Miss Frances Alexander and Miss Ruth Mary Baldwin. Miss Halverson will play the orchestral part on a second piano.

The pupils who will take part are: Betty Snow, Irma Jane Busby, Barbara Handorf, David Amerman, Warren Bogart, Philip Baldwin, Edythe Amerman, Betty Saely, Robert Harbach, Clara Christensen, Frances Lester, Marjorie Chase, Thyrza Alexander and Ruth Mary Baldwin.

There will be no admission charge at this recital and the public is cordially invited.

Beating the Stork

"Mother," said Peggy, who had just seen a large roadstool sprouting, "do babies grow or can you buy them?"

"They grow dear," replied the mother.

"Well," replied the 4-year-old, "I think there's one coming up in our back yard now."

Baptist Teachers and Officers Have Picnic in Park

The teachers and officers of the Baptist Sunday school enjoyed a picnic at Cass Benton park Tuesday when the usual bountiful dinner was spread on long tables and partaken of sociably. The company was honored by having present as a guest, Mrs. Jeanie White, now 54 years of age, who entered into the good time as heartily as anyone.

The teachers conducted their customary business meeting.

The average family in North Carolina is larger than that of any other state.
