FITZGERALD TO BE HEARD AT BANQUET

Dondero, Krise Also Speak At Rally Here On Sept. 5

The women's committee of the Northville Republican club is sponsoring a "Candidates' Banquet," at which among the chief speakers will be Frank D. Fitzgerald, secretary of state and Republican candidate for governor, and Cong. Geo. A. Dondero, next Wednesday, Sept. 5, in the Presbyterian church house.

Additional speakers will be Mrs. Wilber M. Brucker, wife of former Governor Brucker; James Foy, republican candidate for secretary of state, and Gomer Krise, chief assistant prosecuting attorney for Wayne county, republican candidate for the office of prosecuting attorney.

Other candidates will be recognized from the floor, officials in charge of the banquet state. All Northville citizens are urged by those in charge to turn out and "find out" for themselves what candidates for office stand for.

The banquet is called for 6:30, 50 cents per plate being charged.

Tickets for the banquet can be had from Mrs. William H. Safford, Mrs. E. M. Casterline, and Mrs. E. W. Lester.

B. A. HODGE FINDS SUDAN GRASS GOOD FEED FOR CATTLE

Because of the exceedingly dry summer a few farmers in this vicinity have been experimenting with Sudan grass, a southern product which can stand extreme temperatures and grows heavily.

B. A. Hodge who has a farm on East Base Line road has samples of the grass which grows eight feet long on display at the Atlantic and Pacific store on Main street. Six pounds of grass came from three square feet of ground, he says.

When students come to the high school to register Sept. 11, 12 and 13, it is good feed for the cows and there used books on new ones in the high school library Leslie G. Lee, library director, in Lake, R. O. C. unit at the Michigan State College at Lansing, took second and third giving a splendid exhibition of horsemanship as he did throughout the entire show.

Perhaps the most outstanding event of Friday's show was the open jump, with 15 entries, won by Gerald Peterson of Detroit riding King High. Mr. Royce A. Drake, instructor, in Lake, R. O. C. unit at the Michigan State College at Lansing, took second and third giving a splendid exhibition of horsemanship as he did throughout the entire show.

Probably more interest was shown in the infants class of the junior horse show than any other. This was won by six-year-old Mary Lee Aldrich of Birmingham on Entry. All of the nine entries in this class received a trophy and a blue ribbon, the judges being unable to reach a unanimous decision. Mary Lee, however, was awarded a fine set of reins.

This class was typical of the entire junior show, which, under the capable direction of Mrs. Brown, was run off very smoothly.

Three classes of the senior show were shown before the grandstand Friday evening and aroused the interest of all. There were the three-gated combination class, won by E. J. Hoffman's Party Date; the five-gated gelding or stallion class, won by Jimmy Casson's Grand Peavine from Jackson; and the polo pony stake race, won by Bobby Nichols on Hands Up and Farm Crest, with young Phil Grennan second on Buck, famous Grennan polo horse, and Suzy Mc. All four horses were furnished by the Northville polo club. Class 30, polo ponies, was eliminated on account of lack of entries.

Saddle horses were judged by Harry B. Thornton of Bradfordsville, Ky., while D. O. Purr of Middleburg, Va., judged hunters and jumpers. Ruth Arner, on Boots; third, Mary Lee Aldrich, on her entry; and Jimmy Casson and Mrs. James Blackwood of Rochester, Mich., were junior show judges. No complaints were entertained by the committee.

Horse show officials were wholly satisfied with attendance, but claim that the several empty boxes Saturday were due to the fact that the Metamora Riding and Hunt Club opened its show on that day.

Members of the horse show committee are: Harry B. Clark, superintendent; Russell Walker, secretary; Mrs. William Rawle Brown, chairman of junior show; Charles H. Paul Baldwin, on Northville Record; third, Edward Cotter, on Silver Prince; third, Frank Jr., and Mrs. Hess, by their gentle manner, have made many friends who wish heartily that they might be persuaded to stay in this country and make their home. The call of the rest of their family, however, takes them back across the seas.

For the pleasure of these visitors Northville friends have extended hospitality in various ways and a number of pleasant social functions have been given in their honor.

To give them a chance to see Michigan, Dr. and Mrs. Handorf have taken their parents on a number of trips, the farthest being to the wilds of Isle Royale, where they were pronounced as "good sports" as the younger members of the party.

There we met a Northville doctor and his family. We cannot forget them, because they were not only sociable and pleasant, but they had just returned from a trolling trip and the doctor had hooked and landed a twenty pound trout. They possessed a "moving picture camera and in the excitement the good and pleasant scenes of the doctor landing the trout were captured on film.

Children's Saddle Class—First, Mary Lee Aldrich with her entry; Forest Kerr with Skeezix, and third, Lenore Cee with Stockings.

Musical Stalls for horses 122 and over—Won by Hal A. Horton, on Poppy Lou, and under 122 by Richard Ambler, on Toby.

Children's Saddle Ponies—First, Marilyn Cavell on Buddie; second, Ruth Arner, on Boots; third, Mary Lee Aldrich, on her entry; and fourth, Billy Zimmerman, on Ninnon.

Obstacle Race—First, Leo J. Davis, Jr., on Flossie; second, Edward Cotter on Silver Prince; third, Frank Jr., and Mrs. Hess, by their gentle manner, have made many friends who wish heartily that they might be persuaded to stay in this country and make their home. The call of the rest of their family, however, takes them back across the seas.

Splendid Exhibits and A Notable Horse Show Are Features

The 18th annual Northville Wayne County Fair, exhibits of which were reported larger and better than ever before, together with the notable horse show, which attracted entries from Michigan's finest stables, passed into history Saturday evening when Mr. Albert Earhart was awarded a new Ford V-8 before an audience of nearly 5,000.

The winning of this car by Mrs. Earhart, who lives at 345 North Center street, one of the highlights of the fair, took place before the grandstand.

The culmination of a long heralded event, it was an exciting moment when Miss Ida Aliman, little Northville band drummer, drew the deciding jacket. Mrs. Earhart received her ticket, the only one she had, but an hour before the car was given away.

Mrs. Emma Nichols, wife of Attorney Arthur S. Nichols, passed away Saturday morning at the home of South Center street, Saturday, Aug. 25, after a prolonged illness.

HIS NAME WAS DR. HANDORF

Al H. Weber, editor of The Cheyenne Observer, carried an interesting story in his paper last week telling of a visit to Isle Royale. The following paragraphs taken from it:

"But getting back to Isle Royale prompts me to return to another place we had visited before. That is Tobin's Harbor, another attractive resort place and seemingly well patronized. More of our state people there than at any other place."

"There we met a Northville doctor and his family. We cannot forget them, because they were not only sociable and pleasant, but they had just returned from a trolling trip, and the doctor had hooked and landed a twenty pound trout. They

HOMEMAKER'S CORNER By MRS. EDITOR

Lengthening Mother's Apron Strings

while she read to them a football story of a boy who was at first a "sissy" until his "coddling" mother allowed him to get into the game? Then he became a real "fellow."

The point was too plain. Did she want a "sissy boy"? Never! "Surely you may go, son!" It sounded very hearty but inwardly she quailed as she helped load the roll of bedding onto his young shoulders and watched him trudge off into the darkness with the gang, loaded with flashlights, water jug and even a B-B gun (for protection).

Just outside, his "gang" of eight equally expectant boys awaited the answer, impatiently.

You betcha, we're got a good tent," they argued, "and it's waterproof too."

"We got six cots, we lugged them way up on the top of the hill and see it's swell up there!"

Instantly the mother was ready to answer, "Oh, no child. You are so much better off in your own bed. That hill is so high and so far away. You would be so noisy and would not get to sleep early—and oh, a lot of perfectly good reasons." Summed up they all meant: "I just want you near me to know you are safe, my little boy."

But there he stood with many persistencies, red head standing up stubbornly, "Aw, please, Mom!" and behind him the eight wholesome, clear-eyed boys echoed "Aw, please!"

Wasn't this the same bunch of boys who had sprawled before her fireside last night nibbling fudge

Blueberry Muffins

For breakfast at the cottage at Indian Lake, near Manistique, our sister-in-law served these delicious muffins:

Two cups flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon baking powder, 4 1/2 cup sugar, 3 table-spoons shortening, 1 beaten egg, 1 cup milk. Add 1/2 cup blue berries.

Ice Box Rolls

Hot, home-made rolls! Another luxury she fed us. The dough may be kept on the refrigerator as long as two weeks and rolled out for use as needed.

Two-thirds cup melted butter and hard, 1-3 each, 1/4 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 2 beaten eggs, 1 cup lukewarm water, 1 yeast cake dissolved in 1 cup lukewarm water. Stir above and add 6 cups of bread flour. Put in refrigerator.

When ready to use roll or pat out 1/2 inch thick and cut with small cutter. May fold over like Parkerhouse rolls or leave round or may spread with melted butter, sugar and cinnamon and roll like jelly roll and slice for cinnamon buns. Don't crowd, set in warm place to rise 3 hours. Bake in hot oven 15 minutes.

This Farm Drudgery Was Never Meant for Human Shoulders . . .

CARRYING 50 TONS OF WATER 100 MILES A YEAR!

To the housewife falls much of the task of pumping and carrying water for household use. Under average conditions, in one year, she will pump from 25 to 50 tons of water and will walk a distance of 30 to 100 miles to carry this water. All this needless drudgery can be eliminated—all these countless steps saved—all this back-breaking toil forever ended by the installation of a running water system. If you have electric power on your farm, you may have your own completely automatic water system and enjoy the same comfort and convenience as if you were living in the city. The operating cost is but a few cents a week.

A running water system is a profitable investment for your farm. Consider these advantages that running water brings you: HEALTH—Plenty of water is essential for health. An abundant supply is a household necessity. It is the answer to the sewerage disposal problem. PROTECTION—Running water furnished by a dependable water system protects you from fire. PROFIT—Since milk is 87% water, a constant supply is necessary for maximum milk production. Hogs will also fatten more quickly if a plentiful supply of water is available.

The operating cost of a running water system is but a few cents a week. Install a water system NOW. Choose a pump big enough for your present and future requirements, and then install outlets or faucets for the kitchen, laundry, barn and garden.

Distributors of pumping equipment in this territory will gladly advise you as to the equipment best suited for your individual needs. Or call The Detroit Edison Company for a complete list of distributors. Attend to this matter TODAY.

"Little Man What Now" To Be Shown Here Saturday; Chester Morris Will Be In "Let's Talk It Over" Wednesday

MEMORIES OF MEN WHO WALKED OUR VILLAGE STREETS

All summer long I've watched a sort of the life of a town, complete in their problems. The New neighbor (old) is up again. Open as against distress, poor from the best. Best known in their way, too.

For the story of Little Man, What Now? Frank Borzage's Unter, a drama which comes to the Northville Permanent Allen Theatre on Saturday, Sept. 1, starring Margaret Boni booked into the local theatre Sullivan who is supported by Dolores Montague.

Marnie almost equally without savings, the youngsters, strategic, inventive of characterization play along the bare platform which are the role of a burlesque stage. The boy earns as a clerk, only to go to roughneck, who is violent, when he loses his job. Many difficulties arise in love with a beautiful heiress when he loses his job. Many difficulties arise in love with a beautiful heiress when he loses his job. Many difficulties arise in love with a beautiful heiress when he loses his job. Many difficulties arise in love with a beautiful heiress when he loses his job.

Let's Talk It Over stars Chester Morris in a comedy revue which the well known stage star spends almost his entire night on stage, on a single beautiful dressing room, and playwright has an important part and Irene Ware, Andie Devine, Russ Brown and many other popular screen favorites are in the cast.

On the first pay day, however, he spends almost his entire night on stage, wages, on a single beautiful dressing room, and playwright has an important part and Irene Ware, Andie Devine, Russ Brown and many other popular screen favorites are in the cast.

It's Talk It Over presents Chester Morris at his best. At times the story is uproariously funny, and the husband again loses his job, but others it is thrillingly dramatic.

The settings are varied and particularly attractive for the winter months, with beach and bathing scenes at Santa Monica, Calif.

Harvey Elliott, hardware dealer good merchant, public speaker, restful disposition kind, considerate and companionable.

Thomas B. Conner, tall slim man, kind face and attractive, kind, considerate and very likeable.

Adolph Beckman, plump, jolly, thoughtful good business man, kind, considerate and helpful, good disposed.

Monte Wetres, practical car mechanic, energetic, agreeable well dressed. Jeanette, kind and considerate and alert.

JAMES WHISLEY short, compact, active, alert, interested in many things outside, usually treading the lighter paths of life.

ARTHUR SCULLY, machine operator, skilled in many ways of mechanical height, rugged good worker and interesting talker.

HARVEY ELIOTT, hardware dealer good merchant, public speaker, restful disposition kind, considerate and companionable.

THOMAS B. CONNER, tall slim man, kind, considerate and thoughtful, amiable at times, a hard worker and ever attentive to his customer's needs.

JOHN BUCKLEY, medium built man, alive and aggressive, thoughtful, amiable at times, a hard worker and ever attentive to his customer's needs.

ROBERT C. YERKES, pleasant, tall and slender, a thoughtful student, keen mind, able manager, true friend, a fighter against health odds and devoted to the interests of his home town.

JUST A QUESTION

LaGrange Ind Standard

Hub Do you suppose that under the Hitler policies of the fixed dollar, unhampered endeavor and save and some progress, our nation might not be farther out of the depression without a thirty billion national debt hanging on our necks?

I shall not run for office again unless there is a demand," declared Senator Bobo.

"What are you going to do now?" asked his friend.

"Get busy and create the demand."
