FOUR YEARS IN NORTHVILLE

On Friday, February 1, 1935, the writer and his wife began their fifth year of publication of The Northville Record. It is natural to sit and muse a little and wonder what four years in this fine community have meant.

Any one in any position of responsibility has lived more in the past four years than for any other similar period of life. In fact, we have all lived twice the time we did in the days when heavy worries and money problems were not a big part of our life.

The home newspaper and the community have the right—the duty—to ask certain things of each other. If the community is composed of the right kinds of folks, and if the paper is built on right principles of civic righteousness, each has a right to ask certain loyalties of the other.

Readers of the Record can answer for themselves to what extent they think we have "kept the faith" in maintaining a high standard for Northville's home newspaper. There have been criticisms of the paper—and we hope that always there will be. Some of these criticisms have been fair and constructive and for those we are grateful.

Northville has suffered scars the past four years. Bitter winds of adversity, like the terrifying sand storms of the desert areas, have cut gashes in these physical and mental frameworks of ours.

The future of Northville looks bright to us. Sitting under our apple trees in the side yard of one of the world's greatest cities; living alertly under the eaves of one of the greatest universities of the United States, we have wonderful opportunities for the development of an ideal residential community.

We are at a loss just how to express it, but we sometimes think that Northville's biggest problem of the future will be the development of a broader and deeper social consciousness. We must be knit into a more united and progressive community.

Northville is in many ways a baffling community. We are truly and exactly a suburban community, developed in a generation or so from a bustling, industrial "country town."

Our community cosmopolitan make-up brings us a real problem, that of community co-ordination. How to weld all these differing groups into a common community that will live together, progress together and build a new and finer future—there is the task ahead of Northville!

vision, faith and a recognition of the abiding values of life, will make Northville literally a "city that is set on a hill" and that "cannot be hid."

What will Northville be and do in the next four years? You are the ones who alone can tell.

WANDERING THOUGHTS

A year ago today it was seven below zero in the early morning.

New Jersey has just thrown overboard its state NRA law. Just another sign of the times that the NRA has failed to do what the Brain Trusters thought it would do.

None of our state normal colleges will be closed. But, on the other hand, the costs of these big institutions will be kept down more than if the issue of closing had never come up.

Any defeated city worker who retreats to the land now and sticks there will be better off than if he stayed in the big city. Provided, that he can adjust himself to farming ways. Land won't be as cheap in two or three years.

According to a survey made by an advertising agency, for every 100 grocery stores in this country there are 59 gas stations, 49 restaurants, 19 drug stores, 13 automobile agencies, eight hardware stores, six women's apparel and six furniture stores, three florists and one book store.

Northville should be an ideal town in which to use the aid of the federal government in re-modeling and building new homes. We have the demand here for homes. This century-old town has plenty of old-fashioned places that would look "like a million dollars" if put in the hands of an architect and a crew of builders.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

What would it cost to widen Northville's Main street?

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS

1 YEAR AGO

A fire in the basement of the House of Correction, five miles southwest of Northville, did several thousand dollars worth of damage to food and caused four firemen to be overcome with smoke and gas late Wednesday afternoon Feb. 7.

Plans for the continuance of the GWA have become considerably brighter since Wednesday, when a meeting of the GWA board in Detroit was held. The government has extended additional funds to the cause and Northville's new projects, which consist of repairs on school buildings and grading of streets, have a good chance of being approved.

It was decided at the meeting of the village commission Monday evening to allow liquor by the glass to be sold in Northville in a restaurant approved by the commission.

The ten newly registered ten below zero early Thursday, according to early rises giving Northville the worst cold spell of the winter.

The Boy Scouts are planning to celebrate their 25th anniversary this week, and will attend church at the Rosedale Park Community church.

The Rev. Harold G. Whitfield was called to Peterboro, Ontario, Sunday, Feb. 29, by the sudden death of his mother, Mrs. Jane Whitfield.

5 YEARS AGO

Dr. Randall Schurler, the village health officer, and others are planning to open the 1929 clean-up program soon and their aim is to make Northville the cleanest town in the county.

Dr. S. W. Rao, one of India's leading medical men, was the distinguished speaker at the Father and Son banquet Tuesday evening, Feb. 11, at the Methodist church house.

Louis Balko, highway commissioner of Northville township, is critically ill in Sessio's hospital following an operation.

E. W. Lockwood and his daughter, Edna, are enjoying a winter vacation at Hixson, Florida.

The Lutheran Cemetery association has just purchased a large portion of Glen Eden memorial park.

20 YEARS AGO

Two hundred and thirty-five names were presented with a petition to the common council at a special session Wednesday evening, requesting that body to give the village an opportunity to vote on the question of whether saloon and hotel licenses should be granted, and bonds issued for the ensuing year, 1915-1916.

Rogers and Buckner hills are in the shape of "coasting" and are thronged with parties of both young and old every evening. Last Saturday night could go from the top of Buckner hill clear down to the race-track on South Center street.

The Farmers Institute will be held in the Baptist church on Thursday, Feb. 18. Prof. J. Pearl of Romulus, president of the Wayne County Institute, J. C. Pullen of Bellevue, secretary of the society, and Fred J. Cochran of Northville, will be among the speakers.

Invitations have been issued for the second of the O. E. S. series of parties which will be held next Friday evening, Feb. 19.

30 YEARS AGO

A fire at the Northville Condensing and Cheese Co. factory on Griswold street caused several hundred dollars' worth of damage Tuesday, Feb. 7. The blaze was principally limited to the curing room and the ice house, the roof of the latter being almost entirely burned off.

William S. Clark, a resident of this vicinity for 38 years, died Saturday after a short illness. He was one of the most respected long-time residents of the community.

The municipal snow plow had to be called into use again on Monday after a record snow fall.

W. L. Becker went to the Pontiac poultry show last week with some fine fowls and came back with two first prizes and one second.

Mrs. John Eganter was taken to Ann Arbor Wednesday for medical treatment.

Will Lightfoot, 38 years, died Saturday morning for influenza $700 worth of fish stands at the U. S. fish hatchery.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

HUEY AND HIS HOOEY

(Dearborn, Pa.)

States of Thomas Jefferson if he could see Louisiana now. But of course we cannot blame the State of Louisiana for purchasing Louisiana, because after all he could not have possibly anticipated the advent of Huey Long and his hooey.

What is happening in Louisiana, however, is more than a political farce. It again demonstrates what political cunning and demagoguery can do to a supposedly free people.

There are such things as minority rights, at least in theory, in these United States. But in Louisiana you are in favor of Huey and his hooey, or else your civil rights are circumscribed.

All of Louisiana has concurred in his dictatorship excepting those few parishes in the district around Baton Rouge. These people, feeling divested of their rights under the dictatorship of Long, rebelled and promptly faced guns and bayonets of Long's subsidized army—the state militia.

Only in Louisiana, with its French and Spanish heritage, could the Kingfish sustain his dominance. People of Anglo-Saxon heritage will never submit to the building tactics of a political dictator and demagogue.

HOW TO TELL COUNTERFEIT CURRENCY

(Clinton County Republican News)

It is disappointing to have a bank teller inform you that a ten-dollar bill is counterfeit. Sometimes it is almost tragic—to poor people. In recent months there has been more than the usual amount of counterfeit money in circulation.

Can you tell a counterfeit bill? Most people can't. Wouldn't it be wise for every business man to have his banker instruct everyone in his place of business who handles money how to detect spurious money? Might it not be wise to teach high school students how to distinguish between good money and bad? We imagine the youngsters would find it interesting. It should not be difficult.

Countersfeit money, it is said, is being printed in the east and marketed in the central west. It is sold, authorities claim, to crooks for 30 cents on the dollar. When some stranger offers you a large bill for a small purchase, be careful! It is the banker's duty to confiscate it when it comes to him—that, or mark it so that it cannot be passed on.

Suppose you met a lot of Greeks when you went to Athens? Oh!—Oh yes, they have them over there too.

JUSTICE BY SURGERY (Aurora (Ill.) Beacon)

Last March a Chicago woman filed a suit for divorce charging that her husband had married in January was cruel, irritable, and generally cantankerous to such an extent that there was no living with him.

Shortly after the suit was filed, the husband underwent a thyroid operation. And a short time later his lawyer begged the court to delay the trial, asserting that the operation had so changed the husband's disposition that a happy married life ought to be possible.

The court consented, and the wife returned to her husband for a two-week test period.

Now the divorce suit has been withdrawn. The husband, it seems, had been near and ugly because of a toxic thyroid condition. That condition having been relieved by surgery, his wife now finds that he is a pleasant and companionable sort of chap—and she no longer wants a divorce.

How many other "mean dispositions," one wonders, might not be remedied by a little timely medical attention?

TOWNSEND PLAN WOULD SCARE THEM

(Paul F. Corey in the Galesburg Argus)

I'm amazed at the naivete and seriousness with which Funditis Sullivan, Pegler and Lippman approach the Townsend Plan. The situation is really not serious. If everyone past the age of 60 were given $200 and ordered to spend it within 30 days the scurry of the aged to comply would bring about such a host of deaths from apoplexy, gout, paralysis, etc., that the majority of the aged would be eliminated within six months.

"America may lose its best brains before long," says B. C. Forbes, the prominent writer. He may be right. We haven't been feeling so well lately. But we're thinking it must be something we've done.

Johnny had a Thomas cat. That warbled like Caruso. A neighbor threw a baseball bat. Now Thomas doesn't do so.

NORTHVILLE CAGERS BEAT BERKLEY 36-8

Second Team Also Winners Over Opponents, Score 14 To 6

In an easy game here last Friday, Northville easily defeated the Berkley five, 36 to 8.

High point man of this game was scoring captain Henry Hoffman with 11 points. Bray following close behind with ten. This was Northville's tenth straight victory.

Marburger started the scoring for the Orange and Black. Hoffman made a foul shot and Bray continued with the third basket of the game. Puvogel, forward of the visiting team, made the one and only basket up until the fourth quarter. The score at the end of the first quarter was 14 to 2.

The second quarter was characterized by very little scoring on the part of the Orange and Black and none by the Blue and White. At the end of the second quarter the score was 19 to 2 in favor of Northville.

In the third quarter, Northville continued to pile the score up to 32 and held Berkley to 2.

Baker, forward of the Blue and White, broke the scoring streak of the Orange and Black by making the second basket of the game for Berkley. Westfall and Gerard followed with the only other baskets of the game for the Blue and White. Myers and Marburger wound up the scoring of the game for Northville.

The final score of the game was 36 to 8 in favor of Northville.

The reserves played very good ball the last half, but were a little weak at first. This strong team defeated its opponents fourteen to six to continue its winning streak.

Lineup:
Northville: Hoffman (Capt.), Puvogel (Cpt.), Deal, Marburger, Myers, Marburger, Marburger, Marburger, Marburger, Marburger, Marburger, Marburger.
Berkley: Westfall (Cpt.), Gerard (Cpt.), Deal, Marburger, Myers, Marburger, Marburger, Marburger, Marburger, Marburger, Marburger, Marburger.

ROUND THE SCHOOL

Dissension Among Seniors

During the past week the seniors have been discussing many questions which will decide for them where they will go on their trip. On Monday, the first hour a special meeting was called by the senior class to discuss many important questions.

New Reporters Come Out For Journalism

The second semester proved to be of much value to the Orange and Black. Approximately twenty new reporters were announced to be joining the staff.

Orange And Black Reporter Tells Many Important Details About The Origination Of Sending Valentines

There is a time and place for everything, but this is the place for "St. Valentine's Day" as "Soub" Giles says, but I think that it is the time for it every day of the year. I look at the old red hearts all over, so it must be almost Valentine's Day. If you happen to be one of the few who know how the custom of sending valentines started, when and where, you really know something!

SENIOR WHO'S WHO

Altha Hagemaster—Altha was born on July 2, 1917, in Leonard, Michigan. She lived in Leonard up to the time she was in the fourth grade, after which she moved to Pontiac where she lived until 1920. Altha was in the eighth grade when she moved to Northville. She has lived here since and attended the Northville school.

Maurice Soule Giles—Maurice was born on April 15, 1917, in Wabash, Mississippi. He lived in Mississippi until the year of 1925, when the family moved to Northville.

Society Notes

Among those from Northville who attended the President's ball in Plymouth were Jane Grosvenor, Bob Lyke and Ruth Goto.

THE OBSERVATION COLUMN

The Observer this week is going to observe a sophomore girl. This girl is small, in fact very small and has brown hair, dark eyes, fair complexion, and has a petite figure.

DID YOU NOTICE

Two senior boys exploring at the House of Correction?
M. L. B. starting a postoffice for T. G. and T. M.?
How willing the seniors are to put their play on at the instruction?
It must be the cats.
How quiet the 7th hour assembly?

CAN YOU IMAGINE?

Cloyce W. without muscles?
Northville boys liking Redford? Especially the junior boys.
Marryanna C. studding?
Don B. looking altogether happy within the last few weeks?
Leslie P. smoking a cigar?
M. Hill not being dogs?
Paul M. being a sissy?
Tom Mc. being a flapper?

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

Pop Taylor has two families to look out for.
If you don't get some digs in the Orange and Black, you haven't been noticed.
The seniors are going to have a chemistry class.
The assemblies are going to be a bit quieter!
Bob Lyke was asked to leave the chemistry class.
Eddie Angore, translating his French, said: "All the goats sat on the sidewalks."
P. F. and T. C. were really anxious to give the play at both sanatoriums.
F. C. is still writing letters to and from Ypsilanti.
H. R. lost one-eighth of a pound worrying about his Latin examination.
F. W. had to study because he couldn't find a book or magazine to read.

"Great Expectations" From Dickens' Novel; At Penman-Allen Saturday; "Caravan" Will Be Shown Wednesday

"Great Expectations" comes to the Penman-Allen theatre on Saturday, February 9th, with the real Dickens flavor untouched, right out of the pages of one of the most human, absorbing and dramatic novels conceived by this greatest of English novelists...

Based on a novel by Melchior Lengyel, the film was prepared for the screen by Samson Raphaelson from Robert Liebmann's continuity. Robert T. Kane is listed as executive producer.
